Singular Sentiments Expressed at the Grave of a Musician.

We gathered around the open grave, ten of us, and gazed down silently at the plain deal coffin. None of us knew any burial service, but something of the sort seemed necessary, so we stood puzzling our brains to recall some good action of the deceased. After a lapse of several minutes Jones mentioned how the corpse had once treated Cornish Joe to a big burst. The remark was better left unsaid, for we all remembered that the sequel to that action was his running through the traveler's pocket and abstracting all the contents thereof.

There was another silence of five minutes while we moved our feet about, shuffling the loose earth into rude circles. Then Darbyshire whispered that perhaps if we sang something it would be better than keeping dead silence. There was no answer to Darbyshire's suggestion.

By and by, Murphy could stand it no longer. "Boys," he cried, "d'ye moind the toime he did Ginger Smith outer a pen at Gerogery? A low, sneaking hound he was."

"Aye, he was that," chipped in McDougall. "Do you no remember him saltin' the South claim, too?"

We all remembered it well. Our tongues were loosened at once, and each of us had some anecdote to relate of the perfidy of the departed. For an hour or more we stayed, until the pauses got longer between the yarns, and ultimately conversation came to a stop. We shoveled in the earth and left a yellow mound to mark the spot. Then we made for the Miner's Arms to drink the corpse's health.

"Fill 'em up, mon," said McDougall. "He was a dom'd scoondrel, but, my oath, he could play the jewsharp."—Sydney Bulletin.

The Wrong Word.

Mrs. Querrel sat looking into the fire. Presently she chuckled a little bit.

"What are you giggling at?" kindly inquired Mr. Querrel.

"I was thinking of the time when you proposed. You told me to say the one little word that would make you happy for life."

"Yes, I remember. And you went and said the wrong word."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

—Australia has no rivers of any consequence. The interior of this vast continent is almost destitute of water.

Hope Chapel

Industrial Fair

And Loan Exhibition,

TO BE HELD IN

Hope Chapel,

TONIGT

AND

Tomorrow Night

Doors open at 2:30 p. m.

Full choir of Crescent Avenue church will render several choice vocal selections in the evening.

ADMISSION, 10 CENTS

Stages will run during the afternoon and evening from Crescent Avenue Church by way of 5th and 7th streets alternately to chapel commencing at 2 o'clock. 286

INSURANCE.

WM. H. ABBOTT,
171 North Ave.

If You Don't

READ THIS AD

You Don't

GET THE BENEFIT.

Van Emburgh

& SON'S

Fine Bleached Pillow Muslin

No. 246, 42 inch, 6½c. yard.
No. 246, 45 inch, 7½c. yard.

Fruit of the Loom, Dwight Anchor and Utica Pillow Muslin, 42 inch, 45 inch and 54 inch, all cut in same proportion.

Heavy Bleached Sheeting Muslin

2 yards wide, 14½c. a yard.
2¼ yards wide, 16c. a yard.
2½ yards wide, 17½c a yard

Fruit of the Loom, Dwight Anchor, Boston and Utica Sheeting, 2 yards, 2¼ yards, and 2½ yards wide, all cut in same proportion.

100 yd spool silk 4c.
200 yd machine cotton 2c.
Large spool basting cotton 1 cent.
Good pins, full papers, 1c.
Hair pins, full count, 1c.
Darning cotton on balls 2c.
Lyon's tooth powder 18c.

We are selling bleached yard wide muslins at 4c, 5c, 6c, 7c, 7¼c, 7½c Yd.

Cut This Out and Bring It With You for Reference.

VAN EMBURGH & SON,

Corner Store, Babcock Building.

Dogs

IRON AND BRASS

FIRE-DOGS.

Curtis M. Thorpe,

Y. M. C. A. Building.

"Everything for the Fireplace."

HEATH & DRAKE.

Established 1841. Newark's first-class Dry Goods House.

New Embroideries, Laces, Flouncings, etc.

Our assortment of these goods for the coming season is handsomer, more varied and complete than any we have yet shown, and embraces regular Cambric, Nainsook and Swiss Edges, Insertions and match sets in all grades and styles and a line of Exquisite Novelties which for new and original effects, exclusive and unique designs, are unsurpassed if not unequalled by any in the market.

Pretty Edgings and Embroideries Very Cheap.

A thousand lines could not tell the story any better. Great heaps of snowy Embroideries that first saw light in far off Switzerland are here.

In connection with our regular line we have purchased, direct from the manufacturers in St. Gaul, Switzerland, three large lots of Embroideries, which we will place on sale at one-third less than regular prices.

Lot 1, 4c Yd. Lot 2, 8c Yd. Lot 3, 12c Yd

The wise ones ask no questions, but take them away in huge quantities.

777 and 779 Broad Street,
Newark, N. J.

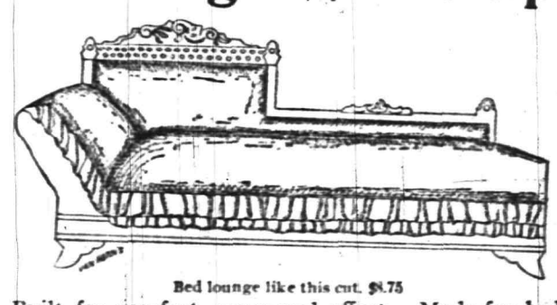
AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd.

2½ Acres Of Furniture

ASK TO SEE THE FAMOUS "PORTLAND RAGE"

Carpets, Stoves, etc.,—that's what we have—every square foot of it's well covered—no chance for goods to go to seed here—all new lines, new designs, new everything. All unique prices—here's an instance or two:

Bed Lounges $5.00 up

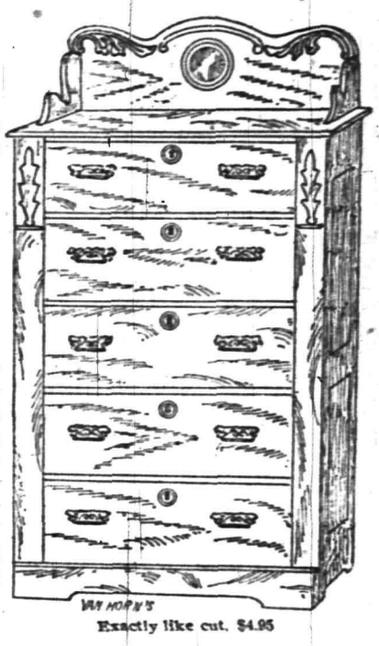


Bed lounge like this cut, $5.75

Built for comfort, wear and effect. Made for bed and lounge. Variety of coverings.

Chiffoniers at $4.95

We've a real good line—many patterns—this especial one is worth every cent of $10.00. It's yours for $4.95.



Exactly like cut, $4.95

Carpets All Weaves

It's true gospel that we're selling a mulitude of Carpet patterns never to be duplicated again—they're at prices low enough to make them go.

Goods delivered Free of Charge to any part of the State. Purchases made now held until wanted—no cash needed

AMOS H. VAN HORN Ltd. Note the Name "AMOS"

Carpets, Stoves, Furniture, Etc.
Low Prices, Easy Terms
TELEPHONE 580.

73 MARKET ST.
Near Plane St.
NEWARK, N. J.

STILLMAN MUSIC HALL.

Rich & Maeder.....Lessees and Managers.
John Daly.....Resident Manager.

All This Week.

MATINEES AT 2 P. M.

Waite's Comedy Co

Premium Band and Orchestra.

35---PEOPLE---35

Prices 10, 20 and 30 Cts.

MATINEES 10 CENTS.

LAST EDITION.

THE DAILY PRESS

LAST EDITION.

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1896. TWO CENTS A COPY—$5 A YEAR

THE LAST BEFORE LENT.

PARK CLUB JUNIORS ENJOYED A PLEASANT DANCE LAST NIGHT.

The Event Closes the Park Club Festivities for This Season Until After Easter—The Names of Those Present.

As far as the junior members of the Park Club are concerned, the social season is at a close until after Easter, for the dance given by them in the Park Club house last evening was the last before the beginning of Lent. There was a large attendance, as is usually the case with all the delightful affairs held in that charming little club house of Washington Park. The ballroom was brilliantly lighted and presented a gay scene with its whirling couples, the ladies in their beautiful evening gowns and the gentlemen in their more convential attire.

The dance was arranged by the junior committee, Edmund Rushmore and Charles S. Cook, whose efforts were crowned, as usual, with success. The patronesses were: Mrs. Charles A. Reed and Mrs. George T. Rogers.

Among the members and guests present during the evening were:

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Carman, Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Thiers, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Reed, Mrs. James R. Joy, Mrs. E. B. Williams, Mrs. Emma S. Brown, Mrs. O. B. Leonard, Mrs. Edwin Douglass, Mrs. George T. Rogers, the Misses Thompson, French, Kennedy, Fanwood, Gillespie, New York, Joy, Bogert, Walbridge, Miller, Elsberry, Long, Seward, Hasbrouch, Henderson, Whiton, Swayze, Long, Pond, Williams, Brown, Woltmann, Leonard, Dryden, Clark, Underwood, Overton, Clark, Barlow, Daniel, Dryden, Benjamin, Harrisburgh, Clapp, Douglass, Barlow, Tuzo, Sattell and VanDeventer, and the Messrs. Allen Laing, E. Albert Sprowl, J. C. Cottrell, Charles Kyte, R. Devens, Edward J. Waring, Jr., S. Hall, Leighton Calkins, Charles E. Faber, Robert Sutften, H. Oscar Nightingale, Ernest Swayze, Henry Wells, Warren Church, William L. McClure, Charles Stillman, John W. Kirkner, Edmund Rushmore, Charles S. Cook, Carl Brown, Charles Dupee, A. Willis West, Roger Erickson, Fred P. Taylor, Frank Frost, J. Frank Richards, Everett Peck, Clarence Peck, Wm. Theirs, Meredith Drypen, Albert Woltmann, James Leonard, Elston M. French, Carroll L. Runyon, William N. Runyon, H. B. Reed, Charles Lyman, Tuzo, S. Arens, Louis E. Waring, Percy Long, Carter, Fanwood, Walter Murray, Laurens H. VanBuren, Fred H. Freeman, Arthur Freeman, Walter Douglass, Peter Matthews, George Worth and Mac Cready Sykes.

MISSIONARY WOMEN ELECT.

The Annual Meeting of the First Presbyterian Church Held.

The annual business meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church was held in the chapel of the church yesterday afternoon and was well attended. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. J. Ramsey Blair; Secretary, Mrs. Gifford; Treasurer, Mrs. E. M. Shotwell; Secretary of Literature, Miss Kate Bond. The officers, which goes toward paying for a sholarship in the Asheville, N. C., missionary school, amounted to $19.

The Secretary's annual report showed that the society was in a good spiritual condition, and that the meetings had been very helpful. Two barrels of clothing was sent away last year, one to the south and the other to the west for the Indians. The treasurer reported that after paying all bills there remained in the treasury $9.

Special Inducement.

Wishing to fill its beautiful rooms with bright young men and women, the Plainfield Business College now offers to sell a complete scholarship for either commercial or shorthand course, for $60 in monthly installments or $50 cash. The holder can study day or night, and as long as necessary to complete the course. This new offer should be eagerly accepted.

The little daughter of Mr. Fred Webber, Holland, Mass, had a very bad cold and cough which he had not been able to cure with any thing. I gave him a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says W. P. Holden, merchant and postmaster at West Brimfield, and the next time I saw him he said it worked like a charm. This remedy is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases such as colds, croup and whooping cough, and it is famous for its cures. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

A TALK ON ICELAND.

Three Women's Clubs Listen to an Interesting Talk By Miss Adams.

By invitation of the Friday Afternoon Club, of North Plainfield, the Rasores Club and the Current Event Club met at the residence of Mrs. Clapp, of Mercer avenue, yesterday afternoon, to listen to a talk on Iceland by Miss Adams, of Brooklyn. Miss Adams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adams, and sister of Mrs. E. L. Suffern, of Linden avenue. Added to a most attractive personnel and clear voice, Miss Adams talks fluently without note or manuscript, and yesterday the audience of more than fifty ladies was charmed with the vivid accounts of her trip last year from Scotland to Farve Island and Iceland. She described the scenery, the plains of lava and lack of verdure in these places, and her analysis of the character of the inhabitants was most interesting. All are taught to read and write; no child of eleven years being without these qualifications. In Iceland, the educators are the parents and the pastor, the elementary schools not being in favor. While there is little wealth there are no paupers. Incidents of travel connected with stops at Icelandic farm-houses and the many inconveniences of journeying in so sterile a land, were very amusing, but interesting withal. Miss Adams' travels have taken her through Norway, the Sandwich Islands and the Azores, about which countries those who heard her yesterday will hope to hear at some future date. The entertainment concluded with tea and social chat.

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY PRANKS.

City Youngsters Disturb the Slumber of Borough Residents.

A party of lads from this side of the brook visited Washington Park last evening bent on mischief. As it was St. Valentine's Day, they prepared appropriate tricks to play on the unwary boroughites. They chalked letters on the piazzas and then fled after ringing the bell. Then when their victims attempted to pick up the chalk marks they laughed. An envelope attached to a thread was another pleasing way of teasing the residents of the Park. They had various experiences with watch dogs, bootjacks and other missiles and returned to Plainfield again, having many borough citizens in a state bordering on anger.

Free Hot Soda Tonight.

—Free hot soda to each purchaser at Edsall's tonight, and —Our 15c seamless black hose, spliced heel and toe, 9c.

—Our 6c black hose tonight 5c.

—Our 10c ladies h. s. pure linen handkerchiefs, 8c.

—Our extra heavy 5c seamless ½ hose, 4c.

—Our 15c gents' linen h. s. handkerchiefs, 11c.

—Our 10c extra suspenders 8c.

—Our 42 in. storm serge, 25c.

—Our $2.25 brilliantine skirts, $1.98.

—Our 50c fine nightgowns, 42c.

—Good 10c solid packed tomatoes, 7c.

—Good 10c tender sugar corn, 7c.

—Remember at Edsall's only, tonight.

Opening of the Epworth House.

The Epworth House, the new addition to Monroe Avenue chapel, will be opened and dedicated Tuesday evening, February 25th, when Dr. Ryman, of Elizabeth, will make an address. Friday afternoon, February 28th at 3:30, Marvin R. Vincent, a nephew of Bishop Vincent, will make an address before the women of the chapel. The young women are also planning to take same active part in the dedication.

Loan Exhibition of Portraits.

The loan exhibition of portraits to be held in the Congregational church, on the evening of February 20th, will interest some of the people of Plainfield. A large collection of the "old masters" will be a feature of the exhibition. Artists of the modern school will give sittings to all those who desire portraits. Souvenir catalogues can be obtained upon entering the gallery. Tea will be served.

A Healthy Revival.

The series of revival meetings at the Filmore Baptist church have resulted in the conversion of twenty-three persons, while twenty, who had heretofore professed to have religion and had fallen from grace, have been reclaimed. Rev. W. S. Taylor, of Richmond, Va., will preach tomorrow. The meetings close this week.

Free Souvenirs at White's Tonight.

To every purchaser in White's new housefurnishing and china department, a useful souvenir will be given free.

Minstrels in March.

The Crescent Wheelmen this morning set March 26th as the date for their minstrel performance.

BETTER MAIL SERVICE.

POSTMASTER HETFIELD TO MAKE SEVERAL DESIRABLE CHANGES.

Pacific Coast Mail to Leave Later—An Evening Delivery to be Made in the Business Section of the City Soon.

Postmaster Hetfield, with his usual energy and forethought, has prepared or is preparing several beneficial changes in his department. Commencing yesterday, the through mail pouch to the Pacific coast does not close until six o'clock in the evening instead of 4:30 o'clock. This change is made for the convenience of those that receive a letter on the morning mail from the west and south and wish to answer it the same day. The advantages of the through mail are many, as the delays and accidents of passing through the New York postoffice are done away with.

After Monday, storekeepers and business men whose places of occupation are on Front street and Park avenue in the business section of town, will enjoy the benefits of another delivery when the mail, received at 5:30, will be distributed.

By the eight-hour law, mail carriers can only work that number of hours, and Ed. Hann, who has the business portion as his district, has been kept so busy that he has not had time to make that delivery before. He will now give up his early morning collection and use the time in the afternoon delivery instead. The early morning collection in his district will be made by the other carriers, each taking a portion.

Postmaster Hetfield has offered to place letter boxes in front of all the public schools if the Board of Education will put up posts to hold them. The matter will be brought up at the next meeting of the Board, and there is little doubt but that they will accept the offer, as the benefit to teachers and pupils is plainly seen.

ENTERTAINMENT ARRANGED FOR.

Young Men's Association of Monroe Avenue Chapel Want to Raise Funds.

The Young Men's Association of Monroe Avenue chapel held a special meeting in the chapel last evening, to consider the advisability of holding two entertainments, and it was decided to give one Thursday evening, February 27th. It will consist chiefly of music and there will be a great variety, including selections by a quartette from the Plainfield Glee Club, zither solos by Mr. Van Eps and topical songs by Wm. N. Runyon. The admission will be fifteen cents or two for twenty-five cents.

Another entertainment will be held March 27th, at which time it is expected that the Syracuse University Glee, Mandolin and Banjo clubs will be present and render one of their excellent programmes. Next Friday evening there will be a regular meeting of the Association.

DEALING THE CARDS.

Young People's Progressive Euchre Party Entertained Last Night.

The members of the Young People's Progressive Euchre Club, of Dunellen and North Plainfield, were entertained last evening by Miss Carlotta Williams at the home of Miss Sallie Gray, of Dunellen. The evening passed very quickly, first with euchre and then with dancing. Miss Emma Marlow was winner of one of the first prizes while six young men were tied for the other. Charles Coriell won on the cut. The second ladies prize was won by Miss Carlotta Williams after playing off a tie with Miss Bessie Benton. There were three contestants for the second gentlemen's and Charles English won on the cut. A novel kind of tally cards were used. Dainty refreshments were served toward the close of the evening.

NO TROLLEY CONSOLIDATION.

President Young Thinks the Story is Without Foundation.

President E. F. C. Young, of the Consolidated Traction Company, denies the published report that all the trolley companies in the State are to consolidate and be operated under one head.

"There is no plan that I know of for uniting the several trolley companies," said Mr. Young, "and certainly none so far as the Consolidated Traction Company is concerned. I have attended no such meeting and do not know anything about the alleged plan. I do not think I would be left ont in the cold if there was such a scheme on foot, and I certainly have not been informed of it."

Ex-Sheriff Tunison Dead.

W. W. Tunison, ex-Sheriff of Somerset county, died at his home in North Branch last Thursday. His funeral will be held tomorrow. Mr. Tunison was well known in this city and the borough.

TALK BY W. D. MURRAY.

HE DEPRECATES RESORTING TO FAIRS, ETC., FOR RAISING MONEY.

Associations Should Do Good Work and Then People Will Willingly Furnish the Financial Means—Other Good Points.

The members of the New Jersey Young Men's Christian Association are patriotic as well as enthusiastic. The Hedding Methodist Episcopal church, in Jersey City, where the State convention is being held, was richly decorated with flags and the National colors yesterday. The second day's proceedings opened with a Bible session. Robert E. Speer, of New York, presided. William D. Murray, of this city, former president of the State convention, reviewed the reports of 1895. He deprecated fairs and similar attractions as a means of raising funds, and said: "I believe the proper way is for the associations to do such good work that the Christian people of the town will want the work to continue and supply the means." He was elated over the conversion of 485 men and 107 boys through the instrumentality of the associations. The work had been hampered, he said, by eleven general secretaries having resigned, and he expressed the hope that the secretaries would be recognized as leaders and receive the cordial support of the associations. This was regarded as an intimation that the retirement of the eleven secretaries was due to a lack of harmony.

O. C. Morse, of Springfield, Mass., gave an address on "The Means for Secretarial Equipment." Willard Smith, of Orange, in speaking of "Business Methods in Association Work," advocated the keeping of statistics and accounts. The financial management should be businesslike, he said, and bills should be paid promptly

The afternoon session began with an address on "The Relation of Our Association to Kindred Movements," by the Rev. E. Morris Ferguson, of Trenton. He solicited the aid of lay workers in the solution of practical problems.

In speaking of the "Better Utilization of Social Facilities," President Cowles in opening said: "The usual order of placing the departments of our work are the religious, educational, social and physical. I would have them religious, and next social, educational and physical work and all religious. A young man's social facilities are more highly prized by him than any other thing outside of his means of getting a livelihood. This is shown by his conduct. If we can meet his social cravings we can count on enlisting him. You cannot catch oysters without taking the shells. A fly-hook is needed for some fish, but only dredging tongs for oysters.

"You must adapt your tools to the work. The young man is our oyster. He is rough, that is why we want him, for he needs us. We have examples of how they are caught. The saloonkeepers do not ask the clean young man to come and try their whiskey. The hook is disguised with the bait of sociability. Our work is uplifting. Take the young man as he is, shells all on, and when he is in our boat we can trust to association with others to improve him."

Rev. Walter Hughson, of New York, delivered an eloquent sermon in a Bible lesson on "The Divinity of Christ." Secret sectional conferences were held during the afternoon. The subjects and presiding officers of these conferences were "Men's Meetings and Personal Work," H. A. Cozzens, Newark; "Railroad Work," Frank J. Griffith, assistant superintendent of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company; "Physical Work," Leonard M. Smith, of Newark.

In the evening a parlor conference was held at the home of Dr. P. J. Koonz, 273 Communipaw avenue, by the presidents and directors. Ex-Assemblyman W. E. Drake presided. A meeting was also held in the First Bergen Presbyterian church. A song service was led by Edward W. Dunham, of Trenton, and Miss Anna Park played the cornet. Colonel John J. McCook delivered an address on railroad work, and Rev. Dr. Amory H. Bradford, of Montclair, made an address.

A Quiet Marriage.

Miss Mary Zimmer and Martin Roth, Jr., both of this city, were quietly married last evening at seven o'clock by Rev. Cornelius Schenck at his home.

Our people are growing more and more in the habit of looking to Reynolds' pharmacy for the latest and best of everything in the drug line. They sell Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds, croup and whooping cough. When in need of such a medicine give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result.

TWO KILLED ON THE RAIL.

Bridge Builders Looking for Work Run Down by an Engine.

Two men were run down and instantly killed by a shifting engine on the Central Railroad, between Somerville and Finderne, about seven o'clock last evening. A third man, who gives his name as John Donahue, barely escaped with his life by rolling from the track.

The three men were bridge builders, and Donahue says they had been trying to get work at Bound Brook. The engine was backing upon the eastbound track and the headlight did not show. The men were not expecting a train from that direction. Donahue says that one of the dead men is Patrick Kelly, of Lawrence, Mass. The other he only knew by the name of "Tom;" he lived at Dover. The bodies were terribly mangled. County Physician Wagoner was taken to the scene of the accident on a special train. After viewing the bodies and inquiring into the circumstances he granted a burial permit, exonerating the railroad company from criminal negligence.

LOOKING FOR A WIFE.

Farmer Sullivan Wants One Over 30 Who Hasn't Cold Feet.

Farmer Daniel Sullivan, of Rahway, was at the Barge Office Free Labor Bureau in New York yesterday in search of a wife. Farmer Sullivan is a widower about seventy years old, with a whisker bush. He displayed to Mrs. Boyle, the matron, tax receipts and deeds to prove that he is possessed of a farm and two houses. The woman he would marry, Farmer Sullivan says, must be over thirty years old, and not have cold feet. She is at liberty to come to New York every day to work if she finds life on the farm too monotonous, but she must be home early every night.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Andrew Vanderbeek, of Duer street, is visiting relatives at Cherry Hill, N. J.

Miss Clara Dunham, of Sandford avenue, is able to be out again after an illness.

Miss Ida Dunham of Sandford avenue, returned yesterday after a short stay at Raritan.

Miss Alice M. Joy, of Groton, Mass., is visiting her brother, James R. Joy, on Willow avenue.

Miss Minnie Martin, of Bound Brook, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith, of Mercer avenue

Ivan Pearson, of West Front street, will give a dance to a number of his friends next Friday evening.

Jacob M. Higgins has the contract for the mason work of James H. Pope's new house on Duer street.

Mrs. John Weir has returned to her home at 19 Craig place, after a short visit with relatives at East Hamilton, N. Y.

Mrs. J. W. A. Bauersachs, of Grandview avenue, who has been seriously ill for the past few days, is very much improved.

John D. Higgins, of Howard street, has leased the house belonging to Miss M. E. McLoughlin, on Stone street, into which he will move March first.

The County School Tax.

Union county's school tax this year will amount to $98,192 on a valuation of $34,622,900. After this has been paid into the treasury, and 90 per cent repaid, the balance apportioned was $9,819. The county's special taxes was $150,324, of which $52,899 was for text books, $31,775 for buildings and repairs, and $65,650 for current expenses, teachers, etc. The regular appropriation is from tax levied at the rate of $5 for each child of school age. —Westfield Leader.

Favors the Court of Errors.

Alan H. Strong, who circulated the petition against the amendment abolishing the Court of Errors and Appeals, which may be introduced at the present session of the Legislature, said yesterday that he had secured the signatures of every lawyer in New Brunswick to his petition and that, practically, the whole bar of Middlesex county had signed it.

Knights to Convene.

Captain J. E. Flannery, First Lieutenant M. Turton, Second Lieutenant Jacob C. Blimm, Jr., and John H. Tier, Jr., of Crescent Commandery, No. 13, Uniformed Rank, K. of P., leave Tuesday for Trenton to attend the annual meetings of the first and second regiments and the brigade. An election of officers will be held.

A Cold Surprise.

Quite a number of young people visited Hyde's pond this morning and managed to find a little skating. One ventured too near the edge and was coldly surprised.

A CROWD AT THE FAIR.

A GREAT MANY PEOPLE ATTEND THE WEST END EVENT.

And the Chapel Will be Greatly Enriched Thereby—The Attractions are Varied and Arouse Very Much Interest.

The Industrial Fair and Loan Exhibition at Hope chapel has become so popular and attractive that last night there was hardly room for all who wanted to gain admittance, and it was impossible to move around to see the various booths. Thus far it was the banner night. The sales were large and everyone felt disposed to assist in whatever way possible to fill the coffers with the all-desired gilt. Friends continue to send articles in to be sold, and thus it appears that there is no decrease in the amount of goods to be sold. There are lots of useful and handsome things yet on sale and almost anything desired can be purchased.

Prof. Guttman's orchestra was present and discoursed popular airs, which put everybody in the best of humor. Those who had charge of the booths have lost none of their affability or persuasiveness and these qualities won many a dollar that will find its way into the treasury.

One of the great features last evening was the appearance of Prof. Hart, of New York, who for over an hour entertained the audience with his topical songs and witty remarks. Mr. Hart has the faculty of amusing and in this he did not fail.

Chairman McInnes is as active as ever and personally tends to the comfort and happiness of every patron, and those under him assist admirably in his respect.

The fair continues this afternoon and evening and fine programmes have been arranged for both times. This evening the full choir from the Crescent Avenue church will be present and render some of their best selections. There will be other features to amuse and delight all, and no one should fail to take in this great affair.

GUESSING WHO THEY ARE.

Novel Sort of Entertainment to Be Given by Presbyterian Young Ladies.

The young ladies of the Presbyterian Mission Band are arranging an interesting programme for next Thursday evening. Besides planning for music and tableuax, they have collected from many of the well-known people in the town, the clergy, physicians, lawyers, city fathers, etc., a large number of photographs which were taken in youthful days. These will be wired and numbered, and the fun consists in guessing the original. There will also be candy and cream for sale. After considering the matter the committee in charge thought it wise to charge twenty-five cents admission for the evening, but in the afternoon, when only the pictures will be visible, they have reduced the price to ten cents. The hours of exhibition and sale are four to ten o'clock; but the music and tableaux begin at eight o'clock.

Wingert Found Not Guilty.

Wesley Wingert, of Newark, was tried in the Union County Court, at Elizabeth, yesterday, on a charge of attempting to steal a horse and carriage belonging to Henry Keenan, an Elizabeth liveryman. The defence set up for the prisoner was that he was not in his right mind when he hired the rig, as he had got into a similar scrape before in Newark. On that occasion it cost $150 to get him out of the trouble. The jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.

An Ideal Summer Home.

J. Wesley Johnson, of La Grande avenue, has purchased a new summer residence in the Thousand Islands. He is also having another naptha launch built in place of the "Plainfield," which he sold. The new yacht will be larger and more complete than the old one.

Nothing is better than the best; some people are satisfied with nothing, but those who want the best go to Collier's, 103 Park avenue, where the best advice for all optical troubles is given and the very best glasses of all grades are to be had at the lowest rates. All examinations free.

Threw Away His Canes.

Mr. D. Wiley, ex-postmaster, Black Creek, N. Y., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that he was only able to hobble around with canes, and even then it caused him great pain. After using Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was so much improved that he threw away his canes. He says this liniment did him more good than all other medicines and treatment put together. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

THE OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Weather Conditions Still Hinder Trade, However.

BOND SALE IMPRESSES FOREIGNERS

Larger Investments Warranted by Better Railroad Earnings — Production of Pig Iron—Cotton and Wool—Demand for Boots and Shoes.

New York, Feb. 15.—Dun's review of the state of trade will to-day say: The weather still hinders business but despite continued closeness of money, and prolonged inaction of congress, confidence increases. The treasury has been placed on a safe basis for a time, the fears of silver agitation have been removed and foreign nations have been impressed by the spirit and power of the people displayed in the purchases of bonds. The British government virtually assures peace with regard to Venezuela, and apprehensions of other foreign difficulties distinctly lessen. There is a little more demand for some manufactured products. Exports improve with yielding prices of staples, and for the week from New York exceed last year's 30 per cent. January exports of the principal products increase; except for cotton, and were in value $59,797,193, against $59,030,900 last year. Considerable gold comes from abroad for bonds, Europe seeing that capital here best understands what the talk about silver amounts to, and better railroad earnings warrant larger investments in stocks than have yet appeared. Hope has therefore much to encourage it.

Production of Pig Iron.

The production of pig iron, 198,599 tons weekly Feb. 1, is 4.3 per cent. less than Jan. 1, and 8.6 per cent. less than Nov. 1, while the unsold stocks increased 63,188 tons in January, showing an output much exceeding the present demand, and moreover larger stocks than for a long time are carried by the great steel works. Pig iron at the east and at Chicago has not advanced, southern competition continuing at prices so low that several Alabama furnaces have stopped, but Bessemer is a shade lower at Pittsburg. The demand for plates, sheets and wire nails continues fairly good, and there are more orders for railroad cars and bar iron at Chicago, but no further sales of rails appear, and the demand for finished products keeps but about 70 per cent. of the capacity employed. The demand for boots and shoes is still disappointing, several factories have closed and few are working full time, belief in lower prices still prevailing, although further reductions have been made in most lines, amounting since Jan. 1, to 6 per cent.

Cotton and Wool.

Textile work shows little change, though the cut in print cloths to 2.75 cents and general concessions in brown and bleached staples, averaging for the whole list quoted 6 per cent. since January 1, induced more buying, which the known accumulation of goods ahead of demand has hindered. Many mills are reporting great profits last year from the rise in cotton, but the prospect of a larger crop this year does not promise repetition of such gains. Though goods still average 12.7 per cent. above their lowest point a year ago, cotton is 44 per cent. higher than it was then. Sales of wool have been small for two weeks of February, 9,320,700 pounds against 10,260,550 last year and 12,502,550 in 1893, but higher prices abroad, sustained by heavy shipments of goods to this country, incline holders of wool here to make no concessions, so that manufacturers have more difficulty in meeting competition. Many cancellations of orders for clay worsteds and mixtures are reported since the reduction in prices. Clothiers who have still to carry large unsold stocks of dealers, as well as their own, defer orders.

Railroad Earnings.

Stocks were first a little depressed by heavy realizing since the sale of bonds, and the money market has not yet fully settled. Railroad stocks average ten cents per share lower, though trust stocks average $1.36 cents per share higher. The business of railroads is large enough to justify better results. Eastbound shipments from Chicago, 159,440 tons in two weeks, against 121,788 last years and 149,948 in 1893, show a heavy movement of products. Earnings for the first week of February were 9.6 per cent. larger than last year, and January reports are the best since September, showing 10.8 per cent. over last year, though 5.0 per cent. less than 1893. London bought about 40,000 low priced shares more than it sold, in value $1,500,000.

Business Failures.

Failures for the first week of February were $4,079,680, against $2,909,890 last year, and $4,079,657 in 1894. Manufacturing were $2,372,253 against $729,348 last year, and $1,594,072 in 1894, and tradings were $1,626,427 against $1,934,894 last year and $2,485,585 in 1894. Failures for the week have been 321 in the United States against 270 last year, and 67 in Canada against 51 last year.

Mails for China and Japan.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The postoffice department has announced that the sailing of the mail steamer Miowera from Vancouver, B. C., had been postponed until March 1, next, and after that date the next mails for China and Japan would be carried on the 23d of each month instead of the 16th.

Treasury Gold Reserve.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The treasury gold reserve at the opening of business to-day stood at $70,180,870. The withdrawals yesterday amounted to $1,567,400, and the deposits on account of bond purchases to $7,684,000.

PRO-ARMENIAN SOCIETY.

Hagop Bogigian Pleased with Signs of Its Disintegration.

Boston, Feb. 15.—Mr. Hagop Bogigian makes the following statement regarding the reported disintegration of the pro-Armenian alliance: "True friends of the suffering Armenians will welcome the reports from Washington of signs of the disintegration of the pro-Armenian alliance. When I read that such a society had been formed, with such names as Dr. Sunderland and other prominent and highly intelligent gentlemen, it was hard for me to believe it, and especially hard for me to believe the report of the connection of the society with Miss Clara Barton and her work, as it was reported to be 'hand in glove with Miss Barton.' If I know Miss Barton, I am satisfied that she would not work with a society that would have 'on the front pages of its 2,000,000 copies of pamphlets' such words as 'Allah against God,' the 'Koran against the Bible.' 'Mohammed against Christ,' etc. I am glad to know that Dr. Sunderland and others have withdrawn their names from such a project. Such societies and movements do not bring good to the poor Armenians. The Armenian nation has suffered almost as much from its foolish and over-zealous friends as from its enemies. I sent a clipping from the papers to Miss Barton and wrote her not to worry about it, because such foolish movements never prosper. Such an assumed connection with Miss Barton will put her in a bad position and hinder her work."

JOHN R. GENTRY SOLD.

The Champion Pacing Stallion Now the Property of Wm. Simpson of New York.

New York, Feb. 15.—John R. Gentry, 2:03 3-4, the champion pacing stallion of the world, was sold yesterday afternoon at Madison Square garden for $7,600 to William Simpson of this city. The great stallion was sold to dissolve the partnership of Messrs. Holt & Scott of the Alamance stock farm, Graham, N. C. Bred and owned "Way down in Dixie," John R. Gentry's fame has gone broadcast over the world and his record and performances are matters of history. He has defeated the fastest pacers living, and it is claimed for him that he has gone the half in less than one minute and the 7-8 in 1:45. His late owners and many well-known judges think that he will yet go the mile in two minutes. Gentry made a perfect picture as he walked round inside the crowd of people—a thoroughbred every inch. The bidding was between John Turner, who was bidding for Frank Ellis of Philadelphia, and William Simpson. Turner opened at $4,000, and the duel advanced by five hundreds to the price stated above.

MURPHY TO STAY AT YALE.

Denial of the Reported Offer from the University of Pennsylvania.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 15.—The Yale News says: "The reports in some of the papers that Michael Murphy, the Yale trainer, has received an official offer to go to the University of Pennsylvania is without foundation." The News also says editorially: "We are told that great inducements have been offered him elsewhere. Whether these reports are true or no, one thing is quite evident: Yale cannot afford to lose the man who has done as much as anyone else to bring about our prominent position in track athletics and other sports. We are sure that there are many who would willingly subscribe towards increasing his salary if this seemed the right thing to do so as to keep him with us."

TO PROTECT FREE LABOR.

Congressman Southwick's Bill Limiting the Sale of Convicts' Productions.

Washington, Feb. 15.—In the house yesterday Mr. Southwick, N. Y., introduced a bill to protect free labor and the industries in which it is employed from the injurious effects of convict competition, by confining the sales of all articles manufactured by convict labor to the state or territory in which they are produced.

Vote of Confidence for Sheehan.

New York, Feb. 15.—The executive committee of Tammany hall met in the wigwam in east Fourteenth street and passed a unanimous vote of confidence in the leadership of John C. Sheehan.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Wheat—Spot market is dull, prices firmer. February, 73¾c.; March, 74⅝c.; May, 72⅛c.

Corn—Spot held firm, but slow February, 36⅝c.; May, 36¼c.

Oats—Spot held firm, but quiet. February, 25⅝c.; March, 25⅝c.; May, 25½c.

Pork—Spot steady with fair demand. Extra prime nominal, short clear, $11.50@$12.50; family, $10.75@$11.00; mess, $11.00@$11.25.

Lard—Contracts are dull and easy.

DINED BY MORTON

Prominent Republicans Entertained at the Executive Mansion.

THE MUCH TALKED OF EVENT OCCURS

Messrs. Platt, Miller, Depew, Bliss and Mayors Strong and Wurster Among the Twenty-eight Guests Present. Politics Not Discussed.

Albany, Feb. 15.—One of the most notable events at the executive mansion in years was the dinner of Gov. Morton which he tendered to the prominent republicans of the state last night. The affair has been more talked of than anything which has happened during Gov. Morton's administration. Every shade of political opinion within the republican party of the state was represented by the leading exponents thereof. Senator Cantor of New York and Assemblyman Stanchfield of Elmira, the democratic leaders in the legislature, and the proprietors of the republican and democratic newspapers in Albany, were among the guests. Gov. Morton has stated all along, from the time that the date of the dinner was first announced, that the occasion would be purely social, and but one of the many functions which are a part of the administration of the chief executive of the state. There were twenty-eight guests. Hon. T. C. Platt was among the early arrivals in the city. He reached here at 1 o'clock, accompanied by Edward Lauterbach, chairman of the New York state republican committee. Mr. Platt lunched with Gov. Morton at the executive mansion in the afternoon, where he remained for over two hours. When he returned to the hotel Kenmore he had many callers who included leading members of the majority of the legislature and prominent politicians. Later Senator Raines, who is the author of the Raines liquor tax bill now pending in the legislature, and Assemblyman Allds, chairman of the excise committee, held a conference with Mr. Platt in his apartments. Chauncey M. Depew reached here shortly after Mr. Platt in his private car, and with him were Hon. Warner Miller, Gen. Horace Porter, Hon. Cornelius N. Bliss, Mayor Strong of New York city and Mayor Wurster of Brooklyn.

How the Guests Were Seated.

The guests arrived at the executive mansion shortly before 8 o'clock, and at that hour dinner was served in the main dining room. The table was decorated with smilax and a bank of American beauties formed a centre piece. Gov. Morton was seated midway on the right hand side of the table with Speaker Hamilton Fish on his right hand and Mayor Strong on his left. Mrs. Morton occupied the chair across the table facing Mayor Strong. At her right hand sat Lieut.-Gov. Saxton, and on her left Mayor Wurster of Brooklyn. Hon. Thomas C. Platt was seated next to Mayor Wurster, facing Speaker Fish. Next to Lieut.-Gov. Saxton was the Hon. Chauncey M. Depew with the Hon. C. N. Bliss vis a vis. Charles W. Hackett occupied the extreme chair to the left of Mrs. Morton with State Engineer Adams, the Hon. James M. E. O'Grady, the republican leader of the house, and Gen. Horace Porter in the order named between him and the Hon. Thomas C. Platt. The Hon. Warner Miller was seated next to the last chair at Gov. Morton's left hand. Senator Cantor sat across the table from Gen. Porter. Senator Ellsworth, the president pro tem. of the senate, was seated between Mayor Strong and Mr. Bliss, directly opposite the lieutenant-governor. Hon. John B. Stanchfield rubbed elbows with Chauncey M. Depew on his left and State Treasurer Colvin on his right. The dinner passed off quietly. There were no set speeches, but the guests, who did not leave the mansion until after 11 o'clock, chatted with each other for an hour and a half after the dinner over their cigars. Politics was not discussed.

Car Burglars Sentenced.

Buffalo, Feb. 15.—The four car burglars, George Fremont, John Lynch, Christ Vernon and Daniel Carey, who have committed many robberies in the railroad yards during the past few months, were sentenced yesterday afternoon. Vernon, Fremont and Carey got seven years and nine months in Auburn prison and Lynch was sent to the Elmira reformatory.

Schooner Long Overdue.

Philadelphia, Feb. 15.—A great deal of anxiety is felt at Tom River, N. J., concerning the fate of the four-masted schooner Agnes Manning, commanded by Capt. Alonzo Hyers, which left Norfolk, Va., on January 27, bound for Beaufort, S. C., with coal. The Manning is now two weeks overdue, and has not even been spoken by any coasting craft.

Recommended by Physicians.

Horsford's

Baking Powder is itself a Nutritious Food.
No other powder has this quality.

Athletes ✠ Appreciate the benefits to be derived from Bovinine. A well-known champion bicyclist heartily commends it. Fred Titus, of the Spaulding Racing Team says, "I have been taking Bovinine while training, am surprised at the strength and renewed vigor I derived from its use. It is grand to take after hard riding, as it very soon restores the life you lose at such times."

Bovinine

is strictly and solely a food stimulant, prepared by a special cold process from lean, raw beef Its great blood and flesh creating qualities combined with the ease with which it is digested, makes it invaluable as a restorer of depleted tisues, and as trength-maintainer in all cases of exhaustion, whether caused by disease or over-exertion. All Druggists.

GEO. O. STEVENS COAL CO. 747 WEST FRONT ST.

Branch office with

G. A. HALLOCK,

109 West Front st.

A. Lusardi,

120 North Ave.,

will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c a qt. Branch store, corner Front and Somerset streets.

EXTRA FINE

Jersey Poultry

AT LOWEST PRICES.

Turkeys, Chickens and Ducks

Genuine Philadelphia Scrapple, Taylor's Prepared Ham, Pork Tenderloins.

Great Reduction

in price of all kinds of

MEAT

Headquarters for Jersey pork, bologna and Delacatessen. Jersey pork and Sausage 10c lb.

A. G. Vogeler.

131 West Front st.

NOTICE.

Special Reductions

—AT—

Neuman Bros.

on fancy brands goods. Full quart bottles table oil 60c, finest quality; whole canned ox tongue 45c; lunch tongue, whole, 25c; a special reduction given on Curtis' strawberry and assorted jams. 16c; fresh roasted coffees received every week, quality unexcelled.

NEUMAN BROS.

What! $30.00?

Yes, thirty dollars will buy a piano, in first-class condition, at

W. R. BROKAW'S

Piano Parlors, 311 Madison ave.
Tuning and regulating a specialty

Advertised Letters.

Plainfield, February 10, 1896.

Adams J H	Leonard A W
Barton A J	Neugem Agnes Miss
Codington B	McMann Thos
Duchene E Miss	Moore Elmer
Fell A P S	McEvoy Kate J 3
Fisk Clinton B	McKeef Lara Mrs
Hustner Jno	Palmberg Elen Miss 2
Johnson Charlie	Perine Chas
Johnson Wilder Miss	Prentiss S S
Kline Mellie Miss	Storme G W
King T P 2	Sneqiker Dare

Holiday Millinery Goods.

MRS. L. ADAMS,

114 EAST FRONT STREET,

Opp. First National Bank.
Dressmaking and Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns.

S. D. FRAZEE,

DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF

FRESH FISH.

Fresh every day. Terms cash. Goods delivered.

230 Park ave., ooo. North ave

Music furnished for all occasions.

California IN

THREE DAYS

without change of cars. All meals served in dining cars. Palace drawing-room sleeping cars and tourist sleepers are run through to San Francisco and Los Angeles without change, leaving Chicago daily via

THE NORTH-WESTERN LINE

Through Tourist sleeping cars Chicago to California daily and personally conducted excursions every Thursday. Variable route tourist tickets at

VERY LOW RATES.

Detailed information and descriptive pamphlets will be mailed free on application to W. B. Kniskern, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago. Agents of connecting lines sell tickets via the

Chicago & North Western Railway,

or address: H. A. Gross, G. E. P. A., 423 Broadway, New York, or T. P. Vaille, S. E. P. A., 112 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

WE HAVE NOW ON HAND A NEW AND FULL LINE OF OVERALLS.

Painter's, Carpenter's and Machinist's, never rip, white, blue stripe and brown check, with and without aprons. PRICES 50 AND 75 CENTS.

D. L. GULICK. G. A. HALLOCK.

Freshest Oysters

will be found at

Rogers' Sea-Food Market.

THE HALLET & DAVIS PIANOS

Have stood the test of over fifty-five (55) years

and are not surpassed by any in the world. Prices, $300 and upwards. Our special 3-year payment plan makes purchase easy. We have other makes of new pianos at $200. Good squares at $75, and we give a full 5-year warranty with everything we sell. Old instruments taken in exchange. Send for illustrated catalogue giving full information.

The Tway Piano Co.,

88 FIFTH AVE.,

near 14th st., New York.

"Tway's Musical Guest," containing 8 pages of music, interesting reading matter and theatrical news, mailed free on application. 10 3 6m

COAL

F. W. HAND.

132 North avenue.
929 South avenue.
197 North avenue.
Telephone No. 139.

"Ever Ready" PREPARED

Buckwheat Flour.

Home-made and sold on its merits. Sold by all grocers and made by

FRENCH BROTHERS,

City Mills. 24 Somerset street. Plainfield, N. J.

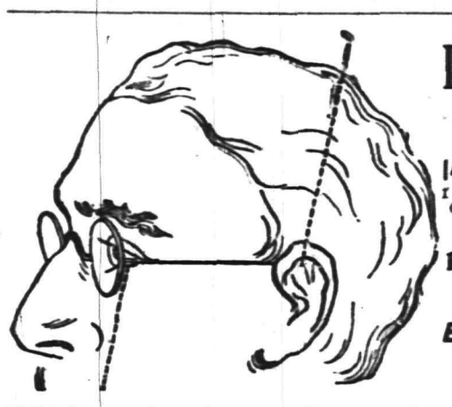
DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 WATCHUNG AVE.,

—DEALERS IN—

Lumber, Coal Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement for Walls and Ceilings.



Leech, Stiles & Co.,

EYE SPECIALISTS,

1413 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa.,

Formerly with Queen & Co. H. A. Stiles will be at

107 East Front Street,

Dunham's real estate office,

EVERY THURSDAY

from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Skilful attention given to all cases of eye strain, headache, etc. No charge for examination. All glasses guaranteed.

Bargains in Real Estate

For sale or to let.

MONEY to loan on first mortgage.

E. C. Mulford,

No. 169 North avenue.
Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.

BROKER.

Communications pertaining to the business mentioned, either by letter or otherwise, will receive prompt attention. Carriage service supplied.

Cure the Children by

Dr. Greene's Nervura.

Blood and Nerve Remedy. (Purely Vegetable and Harmless.)

LITTLE MARY McBAY.

Glad Parents Enthusiastic Over Wonderful Cures.

Charles L. McBay, a highly esteemed police officer, who resides at 14 Myrtle St., New Bedford, Mass., says:

"About two years ago my little daughter became run down in health and suffered from St. Vitus' Dance. She was treated for that disease, and after a time partially recovered, but soon after she was prostrated by rheumatism, which severely affected her lower limbs. This rheumatic trouble began in the fall of 1894.

"After trying various remedies without obtaining relief, in January, 1895, she began taking Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and experienced immediate benefit. She continued its use, and after taking five bottles her rheumatism was practically cured. Her appetite returned, her pains disappeared, she was again able to walk without lameness, her general health was restored, and she was able to attend school and to play like other children."

MASTER EVERETT HALLOWS.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hallows, of Peckham St., Globe Village, Fall River, Mass., thank Dr. Greene's Nervura for restoring the health and probably preserving the life of their little son, who, almost from infancy, was troubled with indigestion and nervous troubles. An attending physician, who was called, advised the parents to give the child such medicine as seemed best fitted to such a condition, and somebody recommended Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

The taking of a few bottles of Dr. Greene's Nervura effected a cure, and the little one is healthy to-day, enjoying play with the other children. Mr. and Mrs. Hallows say they must give the credit of the cure to Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

LITTLE ETHEL MAY WATSON.

Little Sufferer Cured.

Mrs. H. H. Watson, of 153 Bloomingdale St., Worcester, Mass. She writes for the sake of suffering children as follows:

"My daughter had twenty-six convulsions in two years. Our local doctors gave her up saying she could not be cured. Her nerves were very weak, her appetite very bad; could not sleep nights; her limbs would draw up, and she suffered, oh, so much! She was as yellow as saffron, and weak and delicate. Now she is perfectly well and healthy, and Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy did it."

Improvement in a Week.

A well-known lady, Mrs. S. J. Cornwell, of Perry Centre, N. Y., writes to our MAGAZINE:

"My little daughter Elva had been suffering for some time with a very severe attack of nervousness. It was almost impossible for her to get any sleep. She would kick and twitch, and some nights had severe crying spells.

"As she grew older she did not get over it as we had hoped she would. It got so bad we dreaded to take her away from home or have any one come here. I finally decided to give her Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and in a week I saw such an improvement in her nervous system that I was encouraged to keep on with it. I have been giving it ever since until recently, and I now consider her cured. She sleeps quietly at night and takes long naps through the day.

"I cannot say enough in praise of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and only wish I had given it to my daughter earlier."

LITTLE ELVA A. CORNWELL.

If your infants or children are not well, give that greatest of all children's remedies, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It is made from pure and harmless vegetable medicines, and strengthens the entire system, restoring healthful color to the cheek, refreshing sleep, strong nerves, stout limbs, and that bounding health and vitality which children should have.

THE BEST CHILDREN'S REMEDY,

Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy.

Makes Children Well and Strong.

Finest Assortment of Lace, Celluloid and Card

Valentines

in the city.

HARPER'S,

411 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.

W. N. Pangborn,

LICENSED AUCTIONEER. Residence, 33 Linden Ave.

Personal attention. Prompt service. 1 14 tf

GREAT SACRIFICE SALE.

The remainder of Fur Capes, Jackets and Boas from H. Kohn, 318 West Front street, will be sold at

Karet's Fur Parlor,

49 Craig Place. All fur repairing done.

William Hand & Son.

STAGES

For Picnics and Parties, 518 Park ave.

GEO J. TOBIN,

187 North Avenue.

Practical Plumber.

Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer.

Telephone Call 158a

TOWNSEND'S

Marble and Granite Works,

SOMERSET STREET.

Our motto—Good work, good material at fair prices.

THE GRANDVIEW

Meat Market.

George Egel, Manager.

Dealer in Fresh and Salted Meats. Game in season. Orders called for and delivered promptly. Cor. Grandview ave. and Somerset street. 6 12 tf

H. Eggerding,

121 Park ave., Manufacturer of the Celebrated

C. O. D. CIGAR.

The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars

CODDINGTON'S Furniture and Freight EXPRESS.

Offices 24 West Front st; 33 Park ave. Postoffice box 329. Piano moving a specialty. Large covered trucks; goods sent to any part of the country; charges reasonable; satisfaction guaranteed

Kindergarten Only.

FROBEL SYSTEM,

525 Madison Avenue.

Re-Opened September 25.

Children received from 3 to 6 years of age. For particulars address

MISS ELEANOR DEMAREST.

9 4 tf

Miss Fawcett's School

And Kindergarten,

25 WASHINGTON AVENUE.

North Plainfield, N. J.

Re-opened Thursday, Sept. 12.

Primary, Intermediate and Academic Dept's. Boys received until 10 years of age.

FISCHER PIANOS.

56 YEARS ESTABLISHED.

GRAND AND UPRIGHT.

Nearly 100,000 Manufactured.

EASY TERMS. EXCHANGED.

REASONABLE PRICES.

FISCHER PIANO WAREROOMS,

110 Fifth Ave., cor. 16th St., N. Y.

Write for Catalogue.

CLEANER COAL.

L. A. Rheaume

Agent.

Watchung Ave., Corner 4th St.,

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

Upper Lehigh and Honeybrook Coal

in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

Rough and Dressed Lumber.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for turning and scroll sawing, and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner and at short notice.

F. A. DUNHAM,

Civil Engineer and Surveyor

109 Park ave. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas. Telephone 87—F.

L. L. MANNING, Marble AND Granite Works,

Corner Central avenue and West Front street, opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

No Place Like Home

on Christmas day. No day like Christmas at home. Christmas will be merrier the more home like the home. Our great holiday sale of wall paper should attract all whose houses need papering.

Marsh, Ayers & Co.

CRISP VS. TURNER

Notable Feature of Final Debate on Free Coinage Substitute.

CONSIDERABLE INTEREST EVINCED

Many Senators Present When the Vote Defeating the Measure Was Taken. Extraordinary Quiet During the Roll Call.

Washington, Feb. 17.—The most notable part of the debate on the senate free coinage substitute yesterday, which was finally defeated by a vote of 215 to 90, was the spectacle presented of two democrats, Messrs. Crisp and Turner, both members of the ways and means committee and both from the same state, Georgia, taking opposite sides, Crisp for and Turner against the measure. The closing speech against the senate substitute was made by Mr. Dalzell, rep., Pa. The speeches were of unusual length, and throughout the speakers were heard with attention and apparent interest, the novel spectacle of Messrs. Crisp and Turner arrayed against each other being a strong factor in the case. While Mr. Crisp was speaking Senators Pritchard, Lodge, Burrows, Palmer, Tillman, Bacon, George, Cockrell and Mantle and Secretary Herbert were observed on the floor. When the debate had been concluded, the previous question was ordered pro forma, and at the suggestion of Mr. Dingley, rep., Me., in order that there might be no misunderstanding, it was put in this form: "shall the house concur in the senate substitute?"

A Study of the Vote.

The roll was called amid extraordinary quiet, and at its conclusion the cause of absence of those not present was stated by their colleagues, so great was the anxiety to have the record show the attitude of every member toward the proposition. A study of the vote shows that twenty-five republicans and fifty-eight democrats, one silverite and all the populists present voted in favor of free coinage, and that 184 republicans and thirty-one democrats voted against it. The democratic vote against free coinage was six greater than the republican vote for it.

Talbert Again Attacked in the House.

The attendance upon the evening session of the house was unusually large, a division upon a disputed point showing the presence of 116 members. Matters moved along smoothly for an hour or so when there were signs of a personal controversy between Mr. Talbert, dem., S. C., and Mr. Hardy, rep., Ind. The former objected to a bill restoring a pension to a widow which she had forfeited by remarrying, a case similar to scores of others which come before congress every session. Mr. Talbert has consistently opposed bills to restore pensions in such cases and last night renewed his objections to the pending bill, moving that it be laid aside by the committee of the whole with an unfavorable recommendation. This brought Mr. Hardy to his feet despite the efforts of several gentlemen to induce him to let the incident pass. "South Carolina," he shouted in angry tones, "has made trouble in the United States, ever since the days of John C. Calhoun, whom Andrew Jackson threatened to hang in 1832. Now, she stands without a parallel in the United States, represented in this house by the gentleman who has just spoken and in the senate by the senator who has recently attracted public attention. I am in favor of every pension proposition which is recommended to this house, but I am tired of coming here every night to be dictated to by the state of South Carolina, which has not had a constitutionally elected representative on the floor since 1872."

Talbert Undisturbed.

This outbreak failed to disturb Mr. Talbert's good nature, whose only response was "I do not intend to notice what has just been said, but rise merely to suggest that Canada (Hardy's native country) having been heard from, we now have a vote." (Applause.) On the very next case considered by the committee, Mr. Talbert won the hearty applause of the republicans by remarking in a speech in support of the bill: "It is not always, nor often, you find the old veterans who met each other in the red blaze of war fighting it over again thirty years after the conflict is over. Those who indulge themselves in this way are those who, while invincible in peace, were invisible in war."

BECOMING OSSIFIED.

Sad Fate of Edward Forrest, a Resident of Hudson, Mass.

Hudson, Mass., Feb. 15.—Edward Forrest, whose home is in this town, is becoming ossified. He was attacked last July and by Christmas time both legs were ossified to the hips. He suffers constant pain, which is relieved in a measure by the use of morphine. He is able to walk about a little, with the help of a cane, and has a very good appetite. His weight is about 110.

British Steamship Ashore.

Baltimore, Feb. 15.—The British steamship Fernland, Capt. Dogherty, from Girgenti for Baltimore with a cargo of brimstone, is aground in the Potapsco river off North Point. Although three feet out of water it is not thought that the vessel is damaged.

Kentucky Senatorial Deadlock.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 15.—The senatorial deadlock is still unbroken, the last ballot resulting: Hunter, 63; Blackburn, 63; scattering, 9; necessary to a choice, 68.

A Woman Robbed at Monte Carlo.

Monte Carlo, Feb. 15.—A quantity of jewels belonging to Miss Ward, an American, have been stolen from her apartments in a hotel here.

NEWCOMB DOUBTS IT

Does Not Believe Nansen Has Reached the North Pole.

SEVERAL REASONS FOR DISBELIEF

Until He Receives Positive News He Will Think the Jeannette Expedition Came Nearest To Solving the Mystery of the North.

Boston, Feb. 15.—Raymond Lee Newcomb of Salem, who was the naturalist of the ill-fated Jeannette exposition, was seen with regard to the probability of the report that Nansen had reached the North Pole, and sent back word of his accomplishment. Mr. Newcomb says that while of course he will not say positively that Nansen has not reached the North Pole, he will not believe it until he has some more satisfactory evidence that the attempt has been successful. There are to his mind two great and almost insurmountable difficulties to the story as it has been printed being true. The first is that there is no possible way in which, supposing that Nansen had reached the pole, news could be sent back to Keiymsk or any other place on the continent. This seems to dispose of the report at the outset, although the report may mean that the whole party has reached the pole and gotten back to the continent again, as it is couched in such ambiguous language that it may mean anything. The other great objection to the likelihood of the report being true is that it is hard to conceive that Nansen has had time to reach the pole and return to the continent, or even to reach it without coming back. There is, of course, the possibility that Nansen having reached a point which he considered the extreme northern one possible to reach in the ship, abandoned her, and has made the journey in sledges, but this also Mr. Newcomb considers almost impossible. He also says that in spite of the peculiar construction of the From and in spite of her behavior before reaching the Kara sea, he does not believe that she nor any other vessel can withstand the fearful pressure of the ice floes farther north when once fairly in their grip. He is deeply interested in the report, but says that until there is some more certain news he shall continue to believe that the farthest point north which has been reached by any explorer is 83 degrees, 24 minutes, at which point the stars and stripes were planted by Lieut. Lockwood of Greely's expedition.

SPORTS DISGUSTED.

Many of the Visitors at El Paso Leave for Their Homes.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 15.—There was a considerable thinning out of disgusted sports last night and this morning and more are going on the evening trains to-day and the prospects are that the crowd at the ring side on Monday, provided that Maher is in condition to get within the ropes, will be composed in the main of the local fraternity. The promoters continue to insist that the size of the crowd is a secondary consideration and that the chief point is to get the men together; but they wax indignant when it is suggested that this means more of an exhibition for the benefit of the kinetoscope than a straight out contest for the world's championship.

CLEVELAND TO ACT.

Will Be the Arbitrator of the Italian-Brazilian Disputes.

Rome, Feb. 15.—Baron Blanc, minister of foreign affairs, authorizes the announcement that President Cleveland, having decided to accept the position of arbitrator to settle the questions in dispute between Italy and Brazil, a protocol has been signed referring to his arbitration all claims that are not amicably settled by the two countries within two months.

Highway Robbers Sentenced.

Boston, Feb. 15.—Judge Richardson in the superior court yesterday sentenced to the state prison James Murphy alias Manning for a period of not more than twenty years and not less than ten years, and Joseph Williamson for a period of not more than twelve years and not less than six years. They were convicted of robbing Michael J. Boyle of a watch and chain.

Too Stingy To Buy Medicine and Food.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Feb. 15.—An Italian named Anelow died at Niagara Falls, Ont., last night because he would not buy medicine and food while sick, saying that he had no money. After his death it was found he had $2,500 on deposit in the Postoffice Savings bank and several hundred hidden about the house.

Yale Alumni Banquet.

Hartford, Feb. 14.—The Hartford Alumni association held its twelfth annual banquet at the Allyn house last night, president John M. Holcombe presiding. The chief speakers were President Dwight, the Rev. Dr. George Leon Walker, the Hon. Henry C. Robinson, Charles E. Gross and others.

The Palisade Park Bill Signed.

Albany, Feb. 51.—Gov. Morton has signed Senator Lexow's bill to cede jurisdiction to the United States over the Palisades, the same to be occupied as a military and national park.

Uhl's Successor Qualifies.

Washington, Feb. 15.—William Woodville Rockhill yesterday qualified as assistant secretary of state, succeeding Edwin F. Uhl, appointed ambassador to Germany.

Snow Blockade at Leroy, N. Y.

Leroy, N. Y., Feb. 15.—The branch of the New York Central running through here and known as the "Peanut Branch," was blocked last night by the heavy snow.

MUNYON'S REMEDIES.

Doctor Yourself.

Well-Known People Testify to Wonderful Cures—They Say Munyon's Remedies Cure Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, and the Most Obstinate Cases.

Get Munyon's Guide to Health From Your Druggist—It Will Cost You Nothing and May Save Your Life.

John Shultz, Twenty-sixth and Liberty streets, Pittsburg, Pa., says: "Had rheumatism several years. Treated by many doctors. Unable to work. Two bottles of Munyon's Rheumatism Remedy cured me, and I am again at work."

Munyon's Rheumatism Cure never fails to relieve it in 1 to 3 hours, and cures in a few days. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure is guaranteed to cure all forms of indigestion and stomach troubles. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Catarrh Remedies positively cure. Price, 25c. each.

Munyon's Kidney Cure speedily cures pains in the back, loins or groins, and all forms of kidney disease. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Female Remedies are a boon to all women. Price 25c.

Asthma Cure, with Asthma Herbs, $1.

Munyon's Nerve Cure stops nervousness and builds up the system. Price 25c.

Munyon's Headache Cure stops headache in 3 minutes. Price 25c.

Munyon's Pile Ointment positively cures all forms of piles. Price 25c.

Munyon's Blood Cure eradicates all impurities of the blood. Price 25c.

Munyon's Vitalizer restores lost powers to weak men. Price, $1.00.

A separate cure for each disease. At all druggists, 25c a bottle.

Personal letters to Professor Munyon, 1505 Arch st., Philadelphia, Pa., answered with free medical advice for any disease.

MUST COME INTO THE CITIES.

All Peasants Found in the Country in Cuba To Be Classed as Rebels.

London, Feb. 15.—A dispatch to the Imparcial from Havana says that Capt.-Gen. Weyler has decided to order all the peasants to concentrate in the towns and villages. Any of them found in the open country after a fixed date will be treated as rebels.

William L. Kingsley Dead.

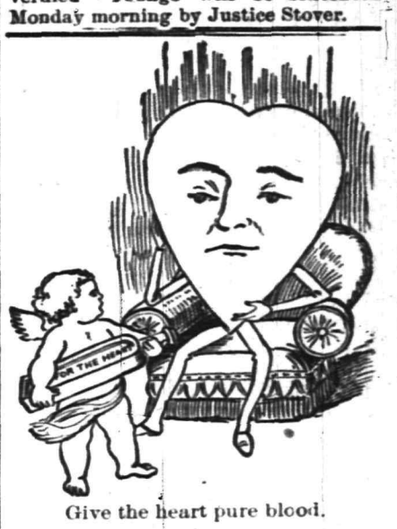
New Haven, Conn., Feb. 15.—Wm. Lathrop Kingsley, the well-known literateur, essayist and reviewer, died at his home in this city last evening. Mr. Kingsley was known chiefly through his connection with the New England and Yale Review. For about forty years he was the leading spirit and editor in the publication of that literary work, and it was through his efforts that the magazine attained its widespread reputation. Mr. Kingsley had always been a resident of New Haven. He was born here in 1824 and was graduated from Yale in 1843.

Fears for a Steamer's Safety.

Philadelphia, Feb. 15.—There are fears for the safety of the British tramp steamship Aswanly, which sailed from Hamburg on January 14 for Philadelphia. Nothing has been heard from her since January 19, when she passed Dunnet head, taking what is known as "north about passage," rounding the coast of Scotland instead of taking the English channel.

Youngs Convicted of Murder.

Fonda, N. Y., Feb. 15.—William Youngs, who since Monday has been on trial for the murder of his wife at Fort Hunter on December 14, was last night convicted of murder in the first degree. The prisoner was much affected when the jury made known its verdict. Youngs will be sentenced Monday morning by Justice Stover.



Give the heart pure blood.

Randolph's

Sarsaparilla,

A great blood cleanser.

Only 50c Per Bottle.

L. W. RANDOLPH,

Prescription Druggist,

143 West Front st.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE. Editor and Proprietor.

Published Daily, except Sunday, at 3:30 p. m.

108 North avenue. Telephone Call 61.

PLAINFIELD N. J., FEB. 15, 1896.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Fair and Warmer Tonight: Sunday, Fair and Colder

At 2 o'Clock Leggett's Thermometer Registered 52 Degrees.

COMING EVENTS.

Announcements of all meetings, etc., will be made in this column, free of charge, if copy is furnished by 10 a. m.

February 15—Hope Chapel Fair.
February 15—Basket ball at Y. M. C. A.
February 17—Masquerade ball at Sangerbund Hall.
February 17—Last Assembly at the Casin .

Senator Sewell in an authorized interview states that he favors no Presidential candidate in particular.

The new Constitutional amendments will cover the same ground as the old ones, except that the biennial sessions feature will be dropped, a radical alteration will pe made in the section referring to the Court of Appeals, and possibly a paragraph will be inserted authorising the creation of Assembly districts.—Tribune.

Hangman Van Hise, of Newark, is again knocking at the door of the Legislature for recognition in his high art of hanging people. He has discovered by experience that the average Sheriff is too tender hearted to let the drop fall on the doomed individual, and he has found enough of them to make a livlihood at one hundred dollars per hanging. He thinks it would be much better if the State would give him a monopoly on this gruesome work by making his tenure of office sure so that he could apply up-to date methods in the carrying out of the terrible sentence of the criminal courts. Van Hise wants a bill passed making him the power supreme over an establishment, specially dedicated to the taking off of undesirable members of society. He wants a part of the State Prison set aside where executions can be made privately and artistically. He wants the old form of the dangling noose retained, not having any experience in the use of the electric current.—Newark Advertiser.

New Market.

Mrs. Jackson is starting a kindergarten in town.

Mrs. Titsworth, of Prospect avenue, is entertaining Mrs. Newhall, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Butler, of Glen Gardner, is spending a few days with Miss Brown.

Miss Mary Williams, who has visiting friends on Grove street, has returned home to Finderne.

Mrs. Howard Wilson, who has been visiting her mother, has returned to her home in Philadelphia

Miss Kaiser, who has been visiting here for the benefit of her health, has returned home to New York.

The townmen are doing well in getting shares for the new public hall which is to be started in town soon.

The Misses Angleman, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Cain, of New Brunswick, spent Thursday with Mrs. VanMiddlesworth.

Evangelist Huffman, will go to Plainfield some time this month and conduct revival services in the Seventh Day Baptist church.

Nothing Like It.

Time brings many changes, but the climate of Calfornia, "The Italy of America," and the attractions of the many famous health and pleasure resorts, are the same yesterday, today and forever.

Tourists never will tire of speaking in praise of the soft and balmy air, the profusion of flowers, the magnificent display of fruits, the luxury of seabathing and the beautiful walks and drives.

Then, too, it must be conceded that with such excellent equipment, consisting of Reclining Chair Cars, Pullman Palace Sleepers and Pullman Dining Cars, all heated by steam and lighted with Pintsch Light, the Union Pacific, "The Overland Route," is the tourists favorite. Ask your agents for tickets via this route.

E. L. Lomax, General Pass. and Ticket Agent, Omaha, Neb.

—Ex-Marshal William Pangborn, of the borough, has made application in this city for an auctioneer's license.

—A Washington tea will be given in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church next Friday evening by the young women of the church.

—The North Plainfield Township Chmmittee met last night and audited the accounts for the past year. The treasurer reported a balance of about $900.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Ethel White, of East Front street, is kept at home by illness.

Edward O. Clark, of Newark, is visiting friends in this city.

Illness detains Mrs. B. R. Force, of East Front street, at home.

Miss Ella Fenner, of the borough, is entertaining friends from out of town.

Phillip Suffern, of Linden avenue, will spend Sunday with out-of-town friends.

Irvine Mills, of Grandview avenue, has fully recovered from his recent illness.

Mrs. Mattison, of Church street, has entirely recovered from her recent illness.

Mrs. D. N. Force, of LaGrande avenue, is confined to her home slightly indisposed.

Miss Susie Hubbard, of Dunellen, was the guest yesterday of her sister in this city.

Miss Fanny Vail, of Orange, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Phœbe Vail, of Church street.

T. O. Doane, Jr., of West Fifth street, has returned from an extended business trip.

Miss Laura Wyckoff, of West Seventh street, is able to go out again after her recent accident.

The funeral services of the late Wm Firstbrook will be held tomorrow afternoon from Hope chapel at 1:30.

Evangelist Hoffman, who is now located at New Market, has had a call from the Alfred church, at Alfred N. Y.

Miss Margaret Cave, of Sandford avenue, is spending Saturday and Sunday with Miss Helen Greves, of Roselle.

Miss Benjamin, of Harrisburg, who has been the guest of Miss Marie Dryden, of West Seventh street, returned to her home today.

Alexander Prentice, who has been in the Trenton Asylum, of whom mention has been made, died at that place Wednesday after a long illness.

William M. McCutchen, of Rockview avenue terrace, has been prevented from attending his duties at Leal's school by illness for the last week.

Mrs. Clicknor and her daughter, Miss Lillian Clicknor, of Manasquan, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry VanMiddlesworth, of Liberty street.

Miss Florence Dodge, of this city, who is studying to be a missionary in the Chicago Training School, is expected home in a few days for a short vacation.

Burdette Herr, one of the prominent lawyers of Flemington, was in Plainfield yesterday visiting his brother-in-law, S. S. Swackhamer, of the Babcock building.

Miss Clara Belle Harris, of Cranford, the smallest girl of her age in the country, is visiting her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Hope, of Richmond street.

Harold Whitney, son of Prof. Whitney, of Park avenue, who has been very low with typhoid pneumonia, has passed the critical point, and is now convalescing. Dr. Jenkins is in attendance.

Clarkson Mundy, janitor of Trinity Reformed church, who has been ill for the past weeks with the grip, will resume his duties at the church next week, having about recovered from his illness.

Dr. and Mrs. H. K. Carroll will give a tea and reception at their home, 95 Westervelt avenue, Saturday afternoon, Feb. 22d, from 4 to 7, and in the evening a salmagundi party will be given to those who assist.

Ernest French, aged 13 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. French, of Westfield, died in a New York hospital Thursday night after a long illness from rheumatism. The funeral will be held in the M. E church, Westfield, Sunday afternoon at 1:30.

Miss Carry Hyle, of Prospect avenue, Dunellen, and Thomas C. Skully, of LaGrande avenue, this city, won the prize for the best waltzing which consisted of a large basket of fruit and cake and two handsome bouquets at the valentine leap year party held at the Park Hotel, Dunellen, last evening.

Athletes

don't get their almost superhuman strength by resting, but by continual exercise. Tie up your arm and see how quickly it will lose its strength. Diet—rest your stomach and see how soon it becomes impossible to digest the lightest food.

Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills.

Eat good nourishing food, and take Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills, and see how quickly your stomach becomes willing and anxious to do its part. White wrapper if constipated, yellow if bowels are loose. Sample mailed free.

DR. J. A. DEANE CO., Kingston, N. Y

J. W. Pierce, Republic, Ia., says: "I have used One Minute Cough Cure in my family and for myself, with results so entirely satisfactory that I can hardly find words to express myself as to its merit. I will never fail to recommend it to others, on every occasion that presents itself." L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

THEATRICAL.

Large houses are still the rule rather than the exception during the engagement of the Waite Comedy Company at Music Hall. "The Galley Slave" last night drew a house only limited by the seating capacity. Tonight the famous sensational comedy "The Plunger" will be presented with Alfred Kiley in the leading role. This is one of the most popular of Oliver Byron's successes and has made a hit wherever produced.

Dunellen.

F. Elliott is entertaining friends from Garwood.

Mrs. Taylor, of North avenue, is visiting among friends in New York.

The Dunellen Gun Club will have a shoot at live birds on Washington's Birthday.

The engagement of Miss Essie Smith to George Taylor, both of this place, is announced.

Mr. Weidemeyer, who has been visiting his family on North avenue, has returned home to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Moore, of Chester, Pa., is spending a few days with relatives on Church street, for a few days.

Miss Sallie Gray, of Washington avenue, entertained the Progressive Euchre Club Friday evening. Dancing and games were enjoyed during the evening. Refreshments were served before the members went home.

Burge Anxious To Meet Lavinge.

New York, Feb. 15.—The Mirror of Life of London cables Arthur T. Lumley that Dick Burge has agreed to meet George Lavinge before the National Sporting club during Derby week for a purse of $5,000. Articles have been signed by the English champion and are now on their way to America for Lavigne's signature.

For Bank Examiner.

Albany, Feb. 15.—An open competitive civil service examination for the position of bank examiner will be held here Feb. 27. The examination will be technical and relate wholly to the duties of the position and to the law governing banks and banking.

More Troops for Cuba.

Barcelona, Feb. 15.—Further reinforcements to the number of 2,280 troops sailed from this port for Cuba this morning.

In the Morning

Dull Headaches and Pains

Sarsaparilla Perfectly Cured

Mr. R. A. Gouwens

Is well known as general merchant and postmaster of S. Holland, Ill. He writes: "Allow me to express my sincere satisfaction with Hood's Sarsaparilla. For years I was afflicted with sick headaches arising from disordered stomach and impure blood. Every morning I had dull Pains in My Head.

I tried family medicines of various names and descriptions, all failing to produce the desired result. I had heard and read much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, and

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

finally concluded to give it a fair trial. In a short time my appetite improved, my headaches ceased, and the dull and to a more cheerful spirit. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best known preparation to purify the blood, tone up the system and produce an enormous appetite." R. A. GOUWENS, South Holland, Illinois.

Despondent Feeling Gave Way

Hood's Pills act harmoniously with Hood's Sarsaparilla. 25c.

It not only is so, it must be so, that's what makes it go. One Minute Cough Cure acts quickly, and W. Randolph, 143 W. Front S

LIKE A THIEF IN THE NIGHT

Bright's Disease, Kidney and Bladder Troubles Steal in Upon s and Are Firmly Settled Before We Know It.

Kidney and bladder diseases are notably insidious.

They give but few outward manifestations before they are firmly seated and either hard to relieve or impossible to cure.

Hence, being the deadliest of all diseases, it behooves every man and woman of sense to heed the very earliest and slightest symptoms.

And to crush and exterminate them at a time when it is both possible and easy to do so. A man who could easily strangle a lion's cub just born would be quickly torn to pieces by the same animal when it had reached maturity.

But what are the symptoms of kidney disease? Kidney disease has no exact and specific symptoms. In its early stages it is liable to be mistaken for or confounded with a thousand trifling ailments.

A little headache, pain weight, soreness or aching in the back, some dyspepsia, trifling nausea or dizziness, restless sleep, dullness of the mind, a lack of snap, vigor and activity of the muscles lack of mental clearness, a dry harsh skin and irregular action of the bowels; high colored, scanty urine, very pale abundant urine, frequent calls to make water; although these latter symptoms are more often due to bladder disease.

But all cases are not alike. Some persons have all these symptoms; others have but one or two.

No matter how few or how slight, they ought to have immediate attention.

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills nip these symptoms in the bud.

Dr Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills heal and strengthen the kidneys and bladder.

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills filter out of the blood all poisons and impurities.

Malaria is due to a disease germ. They filter that out and thus cure malaria.

Rheumatism is due to uric acid in the blood.

They filter that out and thus cure rheumatism.

Lack of exercise, imperfect digestion, breaking down of the tissues, sedentary life, worry and nervous strain, all result in the clogging of the blood with impurities.

These impurities must be cast out or sickness will result.

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills make the kidneys strong, active and healthy and cause them to do their work and do it thoroughly and well.

They are a specific in bladder prostatic and urethral diseases.

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills are endorsed by the best physicians and sold by druggists at 50 cents.

A valuable book mailed free. Address Hobbs Medicine Co., Chicago or San Francisco.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for rheumatism and neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75c. Sold by H P. Reynolds, druggist, Park and North avenues. 2 12 y

Quick in effect heals and leaves no scar. Burning, scaly skin eruptions quickly cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Applied to burns, scalds, old sores, it is magical in effect. Always cures piles. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

MARRIED.

ROTH—ZIMMER—In Plainfield February 14th, 1896, by Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Martin Roth, jr., and Miss Mary Zimmer, both of this city.

DIED.

KINGSTON—In this city Feb. 14, 1896, Mary Elizabeth, daughter of Joseph and Mary A. Kingston, in her 26th year.

Funeral services from her late residence, 518 East 2d street, Sunday afternoon, Feb. 16, at 2:30. Friends and relatives are respectfully invited to attend. 2

TIEMANN—Thursday, February 13th, 1896, Doris Lindsay, infant daughter of W. Frank and Frances H. Tiemann, in her fifth year. Services at 323 Carlton avenue, Sunday, February 16th, on arrival of train leaving New York at 2:30 p. m.

HONEYMAN'S PRIVATE TOURS,

181 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

February 21, to Old Point; Easter week to Washington; June 27, Coaching trip abroad, with Switzerland and Italy; August to New England; December to Mexico.

VISIT BOEHM'S

CROCKERY DEPARTMENT,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

Everything in the housefurnishing line up to date. Prices brought down to the lowest possible notch. We guarantee satisfaction in every respect. It is therefore to your own benefit to visit this department—it will pay you.

Novelties in Dress Goods.

AT 19C—30 inch Brilliantines, were 25c.
AT 50C—38 inch extra heavy black mohair sicilians, cheap at 65c.
AT 25C—40 inch new spring novelties, changeable effects, were 35c.
AT 25C—36 inch plaids, silk stripe effects, were 33c.
AT 12 1-2C—A very handsome line of worsted plaids well worth 19c.
AT 50C—The very latest novelties in all-wool dress goods, suitable for spring wear, fully 40in. wide, a bargain at 65c.
AT 32C—38 inch wide black brilliantines.
AT 45C—40 inch black brilliantines, silk finished, regular 59c quality.
AT 50C—Silk finished brilliantine, 40 inches wide, the 65c grade.
AT 65C—Extra fine black brilliantine, 1¼ yards wide, with an extra heavy lustre, the regular 75c quality.
Our leader for this coming season—38 inch wide black figured brilliantine in a number of new and novel designs at the uniform price of 35c a yard, well worth 45c a yard.
AT 25C—Storm serges in black and blue, 3 in. wide, were 34c.
AT 45C—Beautiful fine black serges, 1¼ yds wide, a hummer, were 55c.
AT 19C—Light colored brilliantines, the very newest effects, reduced from 25c.

BOEHM'S, 113 WEST FRONT ST.

WISE PEOPLE

are Buying Their Wash Goods and Embroideries at Peck's. The Experience of Former Years Has Warned Them That Disappointment Follows Delay.

THE DALZIEL

GRAMMAR, MANUAL AND

ART SCHOOL, 309 East Front Street.

IS AN ESTABLISHED SUCCESS.

Free-hand drawing from the Antique, Pen and Ink Sketching, Clay Modeling, Painting, Designing and Mechanical Draughting. Directed by John Dalziel, late Professor of Drawing for Illustration, and Engraving at the Women's School of Design, Philadelphia, Pa.

WE are NOW preparing for Spring and Summer Outdoor Work.

EDSALL'S COMMERCIAL PALACE

1,200 Fine Brooms

Direct from the factory to Edsall's Commercial Palace. All the intermediate profits and freight, and even the ten day cash discount saved to our patrons. No such opportunity to buy first-class brooms cheap ever offered to Plainfield people.

15c Atlas 3-Sewed. VALUE 25C

23c Little Maid 3 Sewed. VALUE 33C

21 Champion 3-Sewed. VALUE 30C

24c Little Jewel 3-Sewed. VALUE 34C

26c Liberty 3 Sewed, Value 36c

27c Liberty 4 Sewed, Value 39c.

98 Cut Glass Water BOTTLES.

37 Cut Glass Finger BOWLS.

45 1½ lbs Ox Tongue Special for a Few Days.

18c Prime Shoulders The Best for the Money.

25c—Special Santos coffee, extra flavor.

7c—Solid packed tomatoes. Finest sold at the price.

69c—Ladies' 4-button kid gloves. Black and colored, worth $1.

29c—Warp print Dresden ribbons, 40, 40,40, big bargains

10c—Ladies seamless black hose. Best at price.

19c—Pretty new cretones, apple blossoms.

3c—2 000 new papered covered books Popular authors and titles.

22—New beautiful applique lace 5 in. 22c; 7 in. 28c; 10 in. 43c

Our stocks are filling up rapidly with the finest and most attractive goods for the spring trade we have ever shown. Come in and see them.

EDSALL'S

Shoe Notes.

If You Have Tender Feet Why Not Try a Pair of Our Common Sense Boots,

made on the same lines of the Kahler make. Our price $3 and $5. This is at least $1 a pair under New York City prices on the same goods. A woman's genuine dongola kid button boot for $1.19. One of our specials—woman's rubbers 24c and up. How can we undersell the other fellows? We buy direct from the manufacturers and give you the middleman's profits.

DOANE & EDSALL.

SPORTS

STRIKES AND SPARES.

TEAM POSITIONS IN STANDARD LEAGUE.

	H. S.	Won.	Lost.
Westfield	884	21	9
Roselle	893	18	10
Park	885	20	12
Union C. C. Club	831	9	19
Cranford	837	6	24

TEAM STANDING IN CENTRAL JOURNAL LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	Highest Score.
Crescent Wheelmen	6	4	1618
Elizabeth A. C.	6	4	1789
New Jersey A. C.	4	6	1631
Cranford C. C.	4	6	1557

TEAM STANDING IN DIOCESAN UNION.

	Won.	Lost.	Highest score.
Catholic C	7	2	1597
Elizabeth	5	2	1670
Orange Valley	6	3	1534
Plainfield	4	4	1506
Newark T. A. B.	2	6	1584
Institute	0	8	1516

A bowling match has been arranged between the teams of the Y. M. C. A. and Hope chapel to be rolled on the Y. M. C. A. alleys next Tuesday evening.

CYCLING COMMENT.

W. H. Rogers, the West Fifth street bicycle dealer, is expecting several Stearns wheels today.

Wm. Waters, of East Third street, has purchased an Outing wheel from C. C. Lister, the North avenue cycle dealer.

The office of W. H. Rogers, the popular bicycle dealer, is receiving a thorough renovating, and a number of improvements are also being made.

BASKET BALL.

A lively contest is assured at the Y. M. C. A. tonight, when the basket ball team of Co. E, 13th Regt., N. G. S. N. Y., will try to defeat the local Y. M. C. A. team. The two teams are:

Plainfield.		Company E.
C. Colthar	forward	F. Roberts
E. Moraller	right wing	G. Buas
A. Koechli	centre	C. Tate
H. Jessup	left wing	C. Gartzens
M. Moraller	guard	E. Lucius

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Perserverence Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., met last evening.

—Senate Lodge, No. 3512, K. of H., meets next Thursday evening.

Hood's pills are the best after dinner pill; assist digestion, prevent constipation. 25c.

—A horse belonging to J. P. Homan, caused a little excitement by running through Park avenue this morning without any harness on.

—A party of twenty-two from the Plainfield Lady Cyclers went to New York tsday to attend the matinee at Daly's Theatre and witness 'Countess Gucke."

—The horse, attached to Joseph C. Blimm's grocery wagon ran away on East Fifth street yesterday afternoon. The horse was caught after running several blocks before any damage was done.

Are you one of those unhappy people suffering with weak nerves? Remember that the nerves may be made strong by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which feeds them upon pure blood.

—All the Knights of Pythias in this city and Scotch Plains will attend services in the First Presbyterian church in a body on Sunday evening, February 23d, when Rev. C. E. Herring will preach them a special sermon.

—The right rear wheel of a buggy was dished in the car track on West Front street in front of Music Hall this morning. The wagon was dragged on three wheels to one of the carriage shops where a new wheel was borrowed.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be curred by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We the undersigned have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transaction and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.

West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggist, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

"Nothing Venture, Nothing Have."

Rev. John Reid, Jr., of Great Falls, Mon., recommended Ely's Cream Balm to me. I can emphasize his statement, "It is a positive cure for catarrh if used as directed."—Rev. Francis W. Poole, pastor Central Presbyterian Church, Helena, Mont.

It is the medicine above all others for catarrh, and is worth its weight in gold. I can use Ely's Cream Balm with safety and it does all that is claimed for it. B. W. Sperry, Hartford, Conn.

"Give me a liver regulator and I can regulate the world," said a genius. The druggists handed him a bottle of DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

A high liver with a torpid liver will not be a long liver. Correct that liver with DeWitt's Little Early Risers, little pills that cure dyspepsia and constipation. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

EARLY INTELLIGENCE

—Queen City Lodge, No. 226, I. O. O. F., will meet Monday night.

—Free hot soda at Edsall's tonight besides other big inducements.

—Make those sombre looking rooms smile with Edward Love's wall paper.

—Mrs. VanBuren, of Central avenue, had a telephone placed in her residence today.

—Eczema, boils, pimples, old sores, and other blood troubles are all cured by "Pura Blood." Try it.

—Revival services will be held in Dunellen next week under the direction of Evangelist Hoffman.

—Tax Collector Nevius, of Middlesex county, visited the farmers in the vicinity of Oak Tree yesterday.

—The Ladies Aid Society of the Monroe Avenue chapel will give a supper next Thursday evening.

—The Legislature may pass worthless bills, but good ones are what Peck wants for his spring goods.

—The building company of the German Reformed church met last evening. No business of importance was transacted.

—The Loan Committee from the Camera Club will meet this evening to complete arrangements for the coming exhibition.

—J. VanEps is working on several novel ideas for his duet zither. He is planning to have a piano action, consisting of twenty two keys at one end.

—Summons have been issued by Justice Mosher in the case of James P. Homan against Caroline J. Ohl, on contract, returnable on February 20th.

—Justice Crosley has issued summons in the case of Watson J. Tunison against Charles P. Sebring, on contract, returnable on February 21th.

—The three houses on West Front street corner of Washington avenue, which were slightly damaged by the storm last week, were repaired yesterday.

—Friday evening, Feb. 21st, the Ladies Aid Society of the Grace M. E. church will hold a sociable in the church. A fine programme has been arranged.

—Leggett, the druggist, received a fresh supply of Huyler's choice candies today, and everyone knows that there are no better. He has the sole agency for Plainfield.

—Those who are to take part in the Crescent Wheelmen's minstrel show will meet at the home of Charles W. Runyon, of East Fourth street, Monday evening, for rehearsal.

—Barnum Squires Mack, who assisted in stealing Ira Lambert's horse at Westfield, will come before the court at Elizabeth for sentence today. He entered a plea of guilty.

—Miantonomoh tribe, I. O. R. M., met last night and conferred the hunter's and warrior's degree on three candidates. Other business of a private nature was transacted.

—Justice Newcorn rendered judgment yesterday for the plaintiff in the contract case of O'Brien against Berbout, and adjourned for one week the case of Henry against Rogers.

—The first rehearsal for the "Shamrock and Rose," the new drama which is to be given by the Dramatic Association of the Plainfield Catholic Club, at Music Hall on March 17th, was held Thursday evening.

—The Camera Club members desire anyone having articles they would like to loan them for their exhibition to communicate with some of the members. The articles will all be catalogued and the best of care taken of them.

—Edward White will place on sale Monday morning at his store the Pargiter stock of dry and fancy goods that he purchased at 50 cents on the dollar. The stock is all new and desirable, consisting of hosiery, gloves, underwear, embroideries, etc.

—A number of excellent amateur instrumentalists have formed an orchestra of ten pieces, for the purpose of playing sacred music. These gentlemen will assist in rendering the music at the Park Avenue Baptist church; and in connection with the choir, will take part in the order of service tomorrow evening.

HAS HE FOUND IT?

Has Nanson really found the pole?
The pole from whose recesses roll
The icy blasts that chill the soul
And shatter comfort's bless'd control
And vex you with the season's dole,
And hasten you to ride or stroll
To winter's warmth-insuring goal
In quest of Geo. O. Stevens' coal?

Soothing, healing, cleansing, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the enemy to sores, wounds and piles, which it never fails to cure. Stops itching and burning. Cures chapped lips and cold sores in two or three hours. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

[Notices under this head are published by The Daily Press free of charge, when supplied fresh each week by authority. Copy must be in hand by 10 a. m. Saturday to insure insertion, and should be supplied Friday when possible.]

Reform Hall, 4:15 p. m.—Mr. Love will lead.

Boys' Bible class at Y. M. C. A. at 9:15 a. m

East Third Street Mission—H. R. Munger will lead tomorrow night.

Boys Meeting Y. M. C. A. Hall, 4:15 p. m.—John Dalziel will speak.

The Evangelistic Bible class at the Y. M. C. A. will be omitted for one Sunday.

Y. M. C. A. Building, 4:15 p. m.—Rev. A. A. Phelps will speak. L. S. Bond and a male choir will sing.

Mission Church of the Heavenly Rest—Morning prayer and sermon, 11 a. m.; Sunday-school, 9:45 a. m.

St. Joseph's (R. C.) Church—Rev. William H. Miller, pastor. Masses at 8:30 and 10:30 a. m.; Sunday-school, 2:30; evening devotions, 8.

St. Mary's (R. C.) Church—Rev. P. E. Smyth, pastor. Masses at 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30 a. m.; evening devotions at 8. Sunday-school, 2:30 p. m.

Congregational Church, Rev. C. L. Goodrich, pastor—Morning service, 10:30; Sunday-school, 2:45 p. m.; Christian Endeavor service at 4:10 p. m.

Warren Chapel—Rev. Joseph O. McKelvey, pastor. Preaching service, 10:30 a. m. Sunday-school, 2:30 p. m. Services will be resumed as usual in the evening.

Grace Church, Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector—Early Celebration of Holy Communion, 7:30 a. m.; morning prayer and sermon, 11 a. m.; Sunday-school, 3 p. m.; evening service, 4:30.

First Presbyterian Church — Rev. C. E. Herring, pastor. Services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Subjects, morning: "The Power of the Key." Evening: "Abraham Lincoln."

St. Stephen's Church, Rev. S. P. Simpson, rector—Holy Communion, 7:30 a. m.; Sunday-school, 9:45 a. m.; morning prayer, litany, and sermon, 11; evening prayer, 4:30. Free stages from railroad station at 10:30 a. m.

Trinity Reformed Church—Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor. Divine worship at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Morning subject, "Cometh not with observation." Evening theme, "Fearing the Lord greatly." Sunday-school, 2:30 p. m.

Park Avenue Baptist Church, Rev. J. W. Richardson, pastor—Morning, 10:30, preaching by the pastor, theme, "The doctrine of justification by faith illustrated:" evening, 7:30, theme, "Tomorrow! Tomorrow!" Sunday-school, 2:30 p. m.

Monroe Avenue M. E. Chapel, Rev. William C. O'Donnell, pastor—Preaching services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Morning subject, "Pardon:" evening subject, "A Man of the World." Sabbath-school, 3:30 p. m. Epworth League meeting at 7:30.

Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. Herbert F. Randolph, pastor—At 10:30 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. preaching. Morning subject, "The Joy of the Lord:" evening theme, "Is it a sin to be rich?" Epworth League, 7 p. m. At 2:30 p. m. Sunday-school.

First M. E. Church, Rev. C. R. Barnes, D. D., pastor—Services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Morning subject, "God's Morality the only Morality, for Man:" evening theme, "Where Are You Going?" Sunday-school, 2:30 p. m.; Epworth prayer meeting, 6:45 p. m.

First Church of Christ, (Disciples of Christ)—Rev B. W. Hand, pastor. Preaching at 10:30 a. m. Lord's Supper, 12 m. Sunday-school, 3 p. m. Christian Endeavor meeting at 7 p. m. led by Mrs. H. VanMiddlesworth, topic, "Loyalty to Our Church;" preaching at 8 p. m. on the same subject.

SUFFERING WITH HYDROPHOBIA

A Popular Lynn Officer Dying of the Dread Disease.

Lynn, Mass., Feb. 15.—Lieut. Nelson H. Doe, a well-known and popular member of the local police force, is the victim of hydrophobia, and the attending physicians say that his death is but a question of a few days. On the night of Dec. 30 Lieut. Doe was attacked by a large Newfoundland dog, which bit him through the lip and right cheek. The dog was not supposed to be mad and the wound healed up after a few days of faithful treatment and the officer returned to his post. Thursday night he went home feeling as though about to have an attack of the grip, but his symptoms rapidly developed into those of hydrophobia, and since he has had frequent spasms.

THE CHASE HOMESTEAD.

Purchased by Subscriptions and To Be Held in Trust for Mrs. Sprague.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The property known as Edgewood, the Washington home for many years of the late Chief Justice Chase, has been purchased by subscriptions among the friends of Mrs. Kate Chase Sprague, who intend to hold it in trust for her and upon good opportunity for its sale to present the proceeds to administrators for Mrs. Sprague's use. At public sale a year ago the property brought $46,954, which was only the amount of mortgage upon it.

ACETYLENE GAS.

A Petition Against the Dangerous Chemical's Use in Massachusetts.

Boston, Feb. 15.—A petition has been introduced in the Massachusetts legislature praying that the manufacture and sale of acetylene gas be prohibited on the ground that it is dangerous to life and property. It is also asked that the storing of the chemicals from which it is manufactured be forbidden. A committee of the legislature is suggested to investigate and report on the matter.

Don't invite disappointment by experimenting. Depend upon One Minute Cough Cure and you have immediate relief. It cures croup. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

THE

Camp Fire and the Trail,

By the poet scout,

Captain Jack Crawford,

IN

Crescent Avenue Church Chapel,

SATURDAY,

February 29, at 8 p. m.,

for the benefit of Marconnier Chapel.

Admission, 50c. Children, 25c.

2 15 17 19 21 26 28

A Corn Cure THAT CURES CORNS

We have never said much about our Corn Cure—though it is one of the best made—because the market is full of cures, so-called. But such positive testimony to its merits has recently been volunteered that we feel justified in "talking-up" this little specialty. Our COLLOID CORN CURE is easily applied, gives relief quickly and will cure every case of corns, hard or soft, that can be cured, if used as directed. Sold in square vials with brush for applying. REYNOLDS' PHARMACY, Park and North Avenues.

NOTICE!

To members of Friendship Lodge, No. 4, Daughters of Rebecca are requested to meet at the residence of Mrs. A. Sergeant, 131 East Second street, Sunday, February 16th, at 1:45 p. m. sharp to attend the funeral of Miss Lizzie Kingston.

A Card to the Public

For nearly 20 years the public of Plainfield and vicinity have given me the largest share of their patronage in the purchasing of hats and gent's furnishings, showing that honest effort, low prices and reliable goods are appreciated. I have now associated with me Mr. Charles Clark, of Westfield, N. J., who comes to us highly recommended as a competent, honest young man. We will add to our stock of hats and gent's furnishings, a full line of men's and youth's shoes and rubbers, keeping only reliable goods and selling at the lowest possible prices.

Thankful for past favors, we are yours for business, U. B. CRANE, 120 West Front st.

Succeeded by Crane & Clark.

R. H. Rushton. J. C. Hansen. A. Luthman.

Rushton, Hansen & Luthman,

PAINTERS & PAPER HANGERS,

P. O. Box 773, Plainfield, N. J.

Interior decorating a specialty. Our motto—first-class work. Estimates cheerfully given. Orders promptly attended to. 2 11 tf

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 cent a word each insertion. Less than 10 words 10 cents. Cash must accompany adv.

WANTED—A neat capable girl for general housework. Must have good reference. Address L., care Press.

WANTED—Position by an experienced butcher young and active. Will work at any kind of employment where good wages will be paid. Address "Work," care Press. 2

HORSE for sale or exchange; kind, gentle and sound; good roadster. Call or address C. J. Ackerman, Clinton avenue. 2 12 3

A CHANCE to buy a nice little home. Seven-room house on Manning avenue. Lot 52x125; ten minutes from railroad station. Seven-room house near the Pond Tool Works in first class condition. Will be sold on easy terms just to think, all you have to do is to pay your rent each month and you will have a deed to either of these very desirable properties in a little while. Apply C. H. Lyman, 151 North avenue. 2 15 3

GENTLEMAN wishes a furnished room with stove heat only close to bath room, without board. State size and location of room with full particulars and price. Howard, Lock box 61, Elizabeth, N. J.

WANTED—Nine room house, rent not to exceed $18. Address K.S., 336 East Fifth street.

LIGHT coupe wanted. Must be in good order and cheap. State price. 60 Sandford avenue. 2 15 2

WANTED—Two respectable boarders in a nice family, near Pond Tool Works. Inquire Henry Uhric's bakery, 902 West 3d st. 2 14 2

OFFICE to let; centrally located. Inquire 612 Park ave. 2 12 2 w s

TO LET—A corner store, 22x65 feet; suitable for dry goods or grocery; a corner flat of 6 rooms and bath; all improvements; a 12-room house on West 7th st; large lot with stable, chicken house, etc, house recently fitted up with all improvements. City Mills. 2 8 14 15

FOR SALE—Bull and fresh cows. Call Wm. A. Baldwin, Warreville, N. J. 2 12 6

VERY handsome flat; all modern improvements. Apply Manning's city marble works. 2 11 5

WANTED.—At once, experienced white cook. Apply 949 Central avenue. 2 8 tf

MONEY to loan on bond and mortgage. Charles L. Moffett, att'y, corner Park and North aves. 2 3 2w

TO LET—Store on Park avenue now occupied by G. Q. Packer, with or without floors above; a great chance to start a furniture business. Apply to C. A. Marsh, or Wm. M. Stillman. 2 4 tf-2aw

GOOD accommodations for horses; horses boarded by the month at reasonable terms. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville, N. J. 12 3 tf

FOR RENT—Two cottages. No. 830 and 832 West 3d st. Inquire of S. B. Wheeler, Netherwood Farm, Mountain avenue, North Plainfield. 10 30 tf

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker 2 21 tf

133 EAST 2d street to let a large sunny front room; also a hall rooms; furnished, 2 minutes from depot. 12 19 tf-m w t

TO LET—Stores, flats, dwellings. Bargains for sale. Mulford, Broker. 1 6 tf

TO LET—Stable on Sycamore street, from April 1st, seven stalls and a box stall, city water and electric lights, also three rooms over stable suitable for light house keeping. Apply P. Lynch 1 2 tf

Edwin B. Maynard,

Hair Cutting and Shampooing.

Tonsorial parlor, 204 Park ave., Plainfield. Ladies' shampooing and children's hair cutting a specialty.

We Ask

you to take nothing for granted. 'Tis easy to advertise, and the printer will print anything you say as long as you pay him for it. Once in awhile we hear a howl way back in the rear that tells us our low prices are hurting, but we are out for business and are getting it by offering such values as THESE.

CREPONS.

Tomorrow morning we place on sale fifty pieces of fine printed crepons, beautiful styles. The regular price has been 12c the yard, our price will be 5c.

PRETTY

edging and embroideries. A thousand lines could not tell the story. Great heaps of snowy embroideries from far off Switzerland come to you and ask only 3c, 5c, 7c and 10c the yard. The wise ones are buying for future needs.

CORSETS

and corset waists for ladies and children of the right sort the kind that fit and wear well. See our 75c corset as good a one as you would pay a dollar for if bought elsewhere. Ferris corset waist for children 47c, Ferris corset waists for ladies, 89c, the $1.25 quality.

UNDERWEAR.

Weather has been scarce this winter but it will come. We are making a clearing sale of fine warm underwear for ladies, gentlemen and children with prices cut in half. Men's $1.00 scarlet shirts, 50c; Men's $1 natural wool shirts, 59c; Men's $1.50 double breasted scarlet shirts, 69c; Ladies' vests and pants, 25c, 50c and 75c.

Snap shots 54 in ladies cloth, 27c, 45 in. black serge, 31c, 25c Turkish towels, 13c, 70 in. table damask, 47c, 20c hemstitched towels, 13c, lace curtains, 39c each, Men's heavy half hose, 3 pair for 25c; Children's heavy seamless hose, 10c; Ladies' heavy seamless hose, 10c; Large size dinner napkins, 98c doz. Fruit of the loom, Dwight Anchor and Lonsdale muslins, 7c the yard; Ladies' chamois gloves, all colors 75c.

Housefurnishing Department.

STOP A MOMENT?

Self-praise is poor recommendation. It aint necessary to tell you where or how we buy our goods. Its the price that sells them every time—so here goes! MATCH THEM IF YOU CAN!

CUT BRUSH | 500 Bust Brushes, like sample, Wire Fastened, Hardwood Back at | 7c. EACH.

WASH DAY REMINDERS—Smoothing Irons, all sizes, best quality, at 3c. pound. Clothes Pins, all perfect, per 100 7c. Jute clothes line, very strong, at 1-2c. yd. Solid Zinc Wash-Boards, hardwood frame 10c each. Heavy Tin Wash Boilers, No. 7, oval copper bottom, 59c. each. No 1 size Cedar Wash Tubs, free from knots, 39c. each. No. 2, do. 49c. No. 2 size Clothes Baskets, white willow, 29c. each. Mrs. Pott's patent Smoothing Irons, 3 irons handle and stand, plain, 69c. set. Nickle, 79c set. Handles extra for Mrs Pott's Irons, 19c. each. Clothes Wringers, hard rubber rollers, warranted, at $1.37.

WHITE OF PLAINFIELD.

Removal Sale.

These Are the Goods that Must Go.

Boy's reefers $5	now $2.45
Youth's overcoats $8	now $4.75
Youth's overcoats $10	now $6 50
Men's overcoats $10	now $7.75
Men's ulsters $10	now $6.00

SEBRING'S,

Park Avenue. April 1st, West Front Street.

SEE THAT CURVE IN HATS

on all the new spring styles

Shown in those sold by

HALLOCK, Hatter, 109 West Front St.

Highest of High Grades. Are the Most Popular in the World.

Evidenced by the fact that there were more of them sold in '95 than any other make. Be sure to see sample before purchasing your '96 wheel.

Made by Indiana Bicycle Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

F. L. C. MARTIN, AGENT. 1 27 eod

"He Never New"

We kept Hanan & Son's Shoes,
But what could the poor boy do?
His wife found it out—
He had never been on Park avenue.

A. WILLETT & SON,

107 PARK AVENUE.

HER CHECK WAS A CINDER.

There Was Enough Left for Identification, and She Got Her Money.

Many curious stories have been told concerning bank checks. Some of these relate to the largest drawn and others to the smallest. One of the largest checks ever drawn in this city was at the time that the capital of the Nevada bank was increased from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000. This check was by Flood & O'Brien for $5,000,000. As to the extreme, checks have been drawn to the value of a single cent. Other stories relate to the circuit made by checks before they are finally taken up and destroyed. Some of these migrations have covered different states and hundreds of miles. In these journeys checks have gone over ground several times. Checks are wonderful money-savers; that is, they save the handling of vast sums of money every day. They also serve to minimize the loss of money from mistakes, thefts, or other causes.

But one of the greatest curiosities in the check line has just come to light in this city. A lady brought it to the Bank of California to be cashed. It was in a paper box and had to be handled very carefully, for it was in two pieces and both were burnt to a crisp. There was not a decipherable word on either piece. The lady said the bits of crisp paper represented a check for $125, which she had received in a letter. The check, she said, was drawn by the national bank of D. O. Mills, of Sacramento. She had removed the letter from the envelope and had thrown the envelope on some live coal in the grate. Upon reading the letter she had found a reference to an inclosure of check for the sum named, and turned to the fire in the grate with sore disappointment. The fire had done its work. The crisp paper lay on the coals. She carefully removed the same, placed it in a box and hurried to the Bank of California to get the money before the pieces were further crumbled.

After listening to the story the officers of the bank made a careful examination of the burnt paper, and by the aid of powerful glasses, they were able to make out portions of words from the pen impressions made on the paper. There were enough of these lines left to show that "Ella" had been written, and part of the word "hundred" was also made out, with two or three letters of the name of the bank. These discoveries corresponded with the story of the lady, and the bank officers then communicated the circumstances to the national bank of D. O. Mills & Co., of Sacramento, and asked for a duplicate check in behalf of the lady. This was forwarded and the money was paid. The circumstance disproved the charge about the curiosity of women. Had there been more curiosity about the inclosure of the envelope the trouble would have been avoided. The practical application of the story is to be careful that what you throw into the fire has no further value for you.—San Francisco Bulletin.

LONGEVITY OF DEER.

A Century Is Not the Limit of Their Possible Age.

It is difficult, writes a Highland forester, to speak with certainty as to the age of deer, but we have undeniable testimony that there were in the old Glengarry forest stags upward of 80 years of age. Some maintain that deer attain the age of six and seven score years. In 1829, while Macdonnell, of Glengarry, and Lord Dunmore were hunting at Terrna-corra a huge stag, with gigantic antlers, darted out of the wood. Glengarry shot him. Finding that it had a certain ear-mark, he asked his forester to explain whose it was. "That," replied the forester, "(is the ear-mark of Eoghain Mac-Iain-Oig." (Ewen-son-of-John-the-young.) Ewen was a noted forester who had died 150 years previously! The antlers of the stag (we are told) were preserved in the old Glengarry family ever afterward.

The age of the deer is thus described in an old Gaelic saying:

"Thrice the age of a dog the age of a horse; thrice the age of a horse the age of a man; thrice the age of a man the age of a deer; thrice the age of a deer the age of the eagle; thrice the age of the eagle the age of the oak tree."

We have incontrovertible testimony that a white hind lived in the forest of Loch-Treig during the recollection of three generations. Every hunter in the district knew her well. She was white as snow, and so watchful and ingenious that no one ever got within gunshot of her.

It may be added that the old hunters and Sennachies in Badenoch and Lochaber still (1895) speak of this famous hind.

For 40 years a stag roamed over the Monadth-Liath, in Badenoch, and defied the best sportsmen of that district. "Many a brave man (to use the idiom of our Gaelic author) lost the sleep of the night and the skin of the feet in pursuit of him." Unfortunately, he was wounded, but not killed, by a gentleman of the name of Macdonnald. Thirty years afterward he was shot in Upper Badenoch, and the bullet fired into him by Macdonnald was then found in his shoulder! He could not have been under 140 years of age.—Scottish Times.

The Austrian Crown.

At intervals a rumor is frequently set going in the European press to the effect that the emperor of Austria desires to set aside the pragmatic sanction and settle the crown on his younger daughter, Grand Duchess Marie Valerie, married to her cousin, Grand Duke Franz Salvator, of the Tuscan house. The consent of both the Austrian and Hungarian legislatures, as well as of all in the male line of succession, would have to be obtained before so serious a modification of the constitution could be effected. Even then it is likely enough that at Franz Joseph's death the arrangement would be upset; nor is there any proof that Princess Marie Valerie is capable of administering so fickle an inheritance.—Boston Globe.

A Pathetic Appeal.

The poor lady was very ill and lying quite exhausted, while doctor and nurse were occupied in an adjoining room. Old black Nancy had watched her chance and, stealing quietly in, parted the bed curtains and whispered: "Miss Liza, I dun fotch yer up suffin' I know'll temp' yer appetite. There, honey; des open yer mouf an' I'll feed yer." And she fed her! Chuckling softly, as she slipped between unresisting lips, the crisp slices of cucumber and vinegar and bits of well buttered corn pone, she murmured: "I knowed I shouldn't git another chance. The stuck-up nuss 'll jes' giv her slops now, and Miss Liza allus did like suffin' tasty." As the cold, gray light of morning stole through the windows some eight or ten hours later, and doctor and nurse despaired of saving their patient, who lapsed from one convulsion into another, again the sable face appeared, this time not gleeful but tear-stained. As she forced her way to the bed wringing her hands and gasping, and hung over her beloved mistress: "Oh, Miss Liza, honey," she said, "die game! die game! Nebber split on ol' Nancy!"—Judge.

Eastern Unappreciation.

Miss Porkingham (seeing play of Romeo and Juliet in New York theater)—You New Yorkers can talk as you please, but you show no appreciation of real literary merit like we do in Chicago.

Miss Gotham—In what way?

Miss Porkingham—Why, you have encored the actors and actresses, but never once has there been a call for the author!—Puck.

--Get together a hundred or two men, however sensible they may be, and you are very likely to have a mob.—Johnson.

A writer in the Frankfurter Zeitung says that horseflesh is the most nourishing of meats and its taste is hardly distinguishable from beef.

Pura Blood!

PARALYSIS.

Under Grant From the United States Government.

PARALYSIS.—This disease was formerly considered hopeless, but the treatment which patients have received at Hot Springs, Arkansas, has cured so many cases that it has made Hot Springs, Arkansas, Famous the world over. Those who cannot visit this celebrated sanitarium can afford to buy "Pura Blood," which contains the healing waters of Hot Springs, Arkansas, under grant from the United States Government. "Pura Blood" will effectually cure Paralysis and all blood diseases, and can be bought for one dollar per bottle at druggists. Billups & Co., of 26 Cortlandt street, N. Y., are sole agents, and will send descriptive book free to any address.

See Our Name,

Take Our Number,

Call and See Our Goods.

Woolston & Buckle,

141 and 145 North ave.

CITY HOTEL,

Plainfield, N. J.

Corner Park avenue and Second street.

J. E. Beerbower, Prop

Stables attached

Eagle Meat Market,

35 Somerset Street.

Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Orders called for and delivered free of charge.

C. ARNOLD, Prop.

L. A. HUMMER'S

VARIETY MARKET.

Meats, fruits, vegetables, poultry, eggs, etc. Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge.

20 Park avenue. Telephone call 29-A

INSURANCE.

J. C. Pope & Co.,

INSURANCE AGENTS,

10 East Front st., Plainfield, N. J.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance,

197 North avenue

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter, 22c.

Best Dairy Butter 18c.

V. L. FRAZEE

151 West Front st.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. is on every wrapper.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Telephone, Brooklyn, 366.

COMINS & EVANS.

Acorn Brand

Asphalt Roofing.

Gravel and Metal Roofing, Tile and Brick Roofing, Water-Tight Cellars.

45 WAVERLY AVE, BROOKLYN, N. Y

New York office, 38 Dey st. 1 18 y eod

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

—Dealers in—

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Material, &c

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

Help the Blind Man!

To restore sight to the sightless is a miracle we do not care to attempt, but where the judicious application of glasses can aid the vision we can be of great assistance. The glasses themselves should be of the best, the lenses that is. The frame may be anything the taste and pocketbook prompt—but it's the fitting of the required glass to the eye that tells the story. Whether you shall continue to suffer pain and annoyance or be relieved rests with yourself. We are ready to do our part.

Collier, 103 Park Avenue.

Established 1869.

Putnam&DeGraw

THIS WEEK WE WILL SELL

SHIRT WAISTS—Ladies laundered shirt waists only 50c.
UMBRELLAS—Fast black, Paragon frame, only 75c.
HOSIERY—Children's 1x1 rib, extra quality, all sizes, 15c; ladies fast black seamless, extra quality, at 10, 15 and 25c; men's mixed half hose, extra quality 10c, 3 for 25c; men's mixed half hose, seamless, extra heavy, 15c, 2 for 25 cents.
WAISTS—Children's corded underwaists 25c; children's outing flannel waists 50c style for 40c.
NECKWEAR—A new and special line at 25 and 50c.
EMBROIDERIES—Our's are the talk of the city.
COTTON CREPONS—Evening shades at 12 and 15c a yard.

Creamery Butter

20c Per Pound at

J. F. MACDONALD'S

Uptown Grocery.

J. T. VAll, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 NORTH AVENUE.

THE

Bee Hive

Men's Unlaundered Shirts.

Lot 1—The Cast Iron Shirt, made of good heavy muslin, good 3 ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, patent facings, 38c.

Lot 2—New York mills muslin 3-ply fine linen bosoms, reinforced front and back, patent facing, 48c.

Lot 3—Our New York mills shirt, made of New York mills muslin, 2 and 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, continuous facings and hand made button holes, equal to the best custom-made shirt, 68c.

Boys' unlaundered shirts 38 cts. Laundered shirts 50c, 75c and $1.

Louis Callman,

222 West Front st.

PLAINFIELD SEMINARY

re-opened

SEPTEMBER 19, 1895.

(28th year.) Miss E. E. Kenyon, Principal.

IF

You take advantage of the great closing out sale of Wall Paper, Paints, etc., at Edward Love's, and will let him do your spring decorating, you will be money in pocket.

J. W. VanSickle, Dealer in all kinds of

FRESH AND SALTED MEATS.

Game in season. No. 122 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Telephone 148b. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

Carpenters and Builders.

JOHN P. EMMONS,

Mason and Builder,

Washington avenue and Prospect place,

North Plainfield, N. J.

Jobbing promptly attended to.

PEARSON & GAYLE,

Carpenters and Builders.

Residence—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine st. H. E. Gayle, No. 18 Vine st.

All work promptly attended to.

GEO. W. STUDER,

Carpenter and Builder.

985 Arlington avenue.

Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given, charges reasonable.

C. W. LINES.

Mason and Builder,

Plainfield, N. J.

Residence, 18 Elm place.
Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to

HOTEL Grenada,

NORTH AVENUE.

Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

New York Mails.

Arrive—7:30, 8:40, 11:15 a.m., 2:45, 5, 5:30 p. m.
Close—7 15 and 9:20 a. m., 1:30, 4 30 and 7:30 p. m.

Somerville and Easton Mails.

Arrive—8:40 a. m., 2:40, 6:00 p. m.
Close—7:15 a. m., 4:30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arr. 12 m; closes 9:30 a. m.

Sunday Mails.

Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6:15 p. m.

J. M. HETFIELD, P. M.

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Anthracite Coal Used Exclusively, Insuring Cleanliness and Comfort.

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street.

Time Table in Effect Nov. 17, 1895.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 14, 3 37, 5 38, 6 04, 6 29, 6 59, 7 26, 7 30, 7 53, 8 00, 8 15, 8 27, 8 31, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, 10 59 a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 9 23, 10 17, 11 28, p.m. Sunday, 2 14, 3 37, 6 04, 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 10 59, 11 16, a m; 12 53, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17, p m.

Leave New York, Foot Liberty St., at 4 30, 6 00, 7 15, 8 00, 8 40, 9 10, 10 00, 11 45, a m; 1 10, 1 30, 2 30, 3 30, 3 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 15, 5 30, 5 45, 6 00, 6 15, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 30, p m; 12 15, 1 00, night. Sunday, 4 30, 7 15, 9 00, 9 15, a m; 12 00 m; 1 00, 1 30, 2 30, 4 00, 5 30, 7 00, 9 00, 10 00, p m; 12 15 night, 1 00 a m

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield at 5 38, 6 29, 6 59, 7 30, 8 00, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 10 17, 11 28, p m. Sunday 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 11 16 a m; 12 33, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17 p. m.

Leave Newark at 6 15, 7 18, 7 55, 8 39, 9 05, 10 05, 11 35, a m; 1 15, 1 35, 2 35, 3 35, 4 05, 4 40, 5 04, 5 34, 5 50, 6 20, 7 15, 7 35, 8 40, 10 05, 11 25, p. m. Sunday 7 30, 9 05, 9 30, 11 35 a m; 1 10, 1 35, 2 35, 4 05, 5 40, 7 20, 9 25, 10 20

Passengers for Newark please change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 5 45, 7 10, 8 16, 9 54, 11 00 a m; 12 46, 2 11, 2 32, 3 35, 4 36, 5 05, 5 14, 5 34, 6 04, 6 19, 6 38, 7 12, 7 34, 8 21, 10 26, 11 23, p m; 12 38 night. Sunday 5 45, 8 28, 9 55, a m; 2 03, 3 43 5 14, 6 35, 10 15, 11 14 p m.

Leave Somerville at 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 25, 7 30, 7 48, 8 20 9 05, 9 48, 11 40 a. m; 12 50, 1 48, 2 05, 3 25, 4 25, 4 59, 6 35, 8 07, 8 45, 11 05 p. m. Sunday at 8 25, 9 45, 10 35 a m; 12 08, 1 20, 5 10, 6 35, 8 03, 8 05, 9 40 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield at 5 45, 8 16, 9 54 a m., 12 46, 2 11, 5 05, 5 14, 6 38, 8 21 p. m. Sunday at 5 45, 8 28, a m; 2 03, 6 35 p m.

Leave Easton at 6 05, 7 00, 8 53, a m; 12 22, 3 48, 4 49, 7 00, p. m. Sunday at 7 15, 10 52 a m; 6 40, 7 30 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield at 9 54 a. m.; 5 05 5 14.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

5 45 a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m.—For stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 a. m.—For Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 54 a. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch D. L. & W. R. R., Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Shamokin, Nanticoke, and Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. with buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 46 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 11 p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Tamaqua, Sunbury, Williamsport, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

5 05 p. m., way for Easton, connecting with High Bridge for stations on High Bridge Branch.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Scranton, Wilkesbarre, Tamaqua, Shamokin, (buffet parlor car to Scranton.)

6 19 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 38 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, and Harrisburg.

8 21 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

5 45 a. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

8 28 a. m. Sundays—For Easton.

2 03 p. m. Sundays—For High Bridge for High Bridge Branch Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading, and Harrisburg.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 35 p. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c., and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

FOR LONG BRANCH, OCEAN GROVE, ETC.

Leave Plainfield at 3 37, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, p. m. Sunday, (except Ocean Grove) 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 3 37, 5 38, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, 7 03, p. m., Sundays 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Atlantic City, 3 37 a. m.; 1 18 p. m.

For Freehold, 3 37, 8 00, 10 27 a. m.; 1 18, 3 51, 5 24 p. m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44 9 46, 10 44 a. m.; 2 17, 5 34*, 6 45, 8 21, 9 37*, 1 17 night. Sundays—5 17, 5 45, 9 55 10 44 a. m., 2 25, 4 55, 5 14* 6 45 p. m. 1 17 night.

For Trenton, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44, 9 46, a. m., 12 46, 2 17, 5 34*, 6 38*, 8 21, 9 37* p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays 5 17, 5 45, 9 55 a. m., 2 25, 4 55, 5 14*, 6 35*, p. m., 1 17 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 8 44, 10 44 a. m., 5 34*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays, 10 44 a. m., 5 14*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points West, week-days at 9 54 a. m., 8 21 p. m. Sunday 6 35 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked (*) change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rates may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN, General Superintendent.

R. P. BALDWIN, General Passenger Agent.

Jones & Co.,

EXCAVATORS.

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.

Cesspools Built.

Sewer Connections Made

Properly and Earth Replaced Carefully.

PLUMBING TESTED.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front street.

CLASSES FOR

Women and Girls

IN

Gymnastic Exercises, Swimming and Fencing.

Miss Elizabeth C. MacMartin, Inst'r.

will meet applicants for membership Wednesday afternoon from 2 until 3, at the Y. M. C. A.

M. Powers & Son. Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75 in the Yard.

A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office 763 South ave. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

E. H. Holmes,

Dealer in

Coal & Wood.

Yard—No. 208 Madison avenue. Office for coal orders with Woolston & Buckle, 145 North ave.

Telephone 49-A.

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the first and third Thursday eveningsof each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.
John Fellows, Dictator.
R. A. Frey, Reporter.

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays in the Babcock Building. C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Sec.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Babcock Building, West Front street. D. C. Adams, W. M.
Charles Yeager, Sec.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the second and fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward Building, Park avenue, at 8 p.m.
Harry C. Adams, Regent.
Frederick C. Pope, Secretary.

MONEY

Cannot buy better

Men's Suits,

in fine imported Black and Blue Chevlot, Diagonal or fancy weave, single or double breasted at $9.90.

reduced from $15, $18 and $20.

WERNER'S,

206 West Front st.

Valentines

IN

Lace, Cards, Novelties, and Comics.

R. C. RAND,
140 West Front street.

THIS IS

the season most people need a

TONIC,

and no better can be found than

Leggett's Malt Extract.

It is a pure concentrated extract of malt and hops.
Price 20 cents a bottle, $2 a dozen.

Leggett's Pharmacy,
Y. M. C. Building.

Your Valuables
will be safe in
Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.
Lock boxes from $3.50 to $10 a year.

RANDOLPH RUNYON
Funeral Director and Embalmer.
43 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.
Residence over office. 1 18 m

Scott's Emulsion

Will Cure a Stubborn Cough

when ordinary specifics fail. It restores strength to the weakened organs and gives the system the force needed to throw off the disease.

50 cents and $1.00 at all druggists.

Scott & Bowne, Chemists, New York.

Your Spring Clothing

Rather early to speak of it, but if it needs cleaning or dyeing, it isn't too early to have us do that work for you. This is our dull season—our employes are here ready for work. We'd like to have your goods now. We can give them better attention than in the rush of the spring season. Then we'll have to have more time or rush them at the expense of good work. Now we can take our time, do the work better than if hurried and you'll have the clothing all ready for warm weather.

Look in the closet or trunk and find your spring wear that needs cleaning and dyeing and bring it to us now, or better still, our wagon will call for it if you will send us word.

Hillier & Co.,
179 North ave., Plainfield.

McCullough's STEAM MILL,
21 Steiner place, North Plainfield.
R. H. McCullough, Prop.
Sash, blinds, doors, mouldings, scroll sawing, turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully furnished.

ERNEST BARRETT,
Sanitary Plumbing, Steam and Hot Water Heating
All work guaranteed. Estimates cheerfully given. Jobbing promptly attended to.
125 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

PROSPECT HILL Must Be Sold.

Azalias, Chinese primrose, palms, ferns, begonias and variety of blooming plants. Wedding decorations and floral designs and all equipments for church and house decorations. Southern smilax at 15 days notice
AT DENTON'S.

I had not listened, as I was at that moment astonished to see the saddle slowly slide under Chu Chu's belly, and her figure resume as by magic, its former slim proportions. Enriquez followed my eyes, lifted his shoulders, shrugged them and said, smilingly: "Ah, you see!"

When the girths were drawn in again with an extra pull or two from the indefatigable Enriquez I fancied that Chu Chu nevertheless secretly enjoyed it, as her sex is said to appreciate tight lacing. She drew a deep sigh, possibly of satisfaction, turned her neck and apparently tried to glance at her own figure. Enriquez promptly withdrawing to enable her to do so easily Then the dread moment arrived. Enriquez, with his hand on her mane, suddenly paused, and with exaggerated courtesy lifted his hat and made an inviting gesture.

"You will honor me to proceed."

I shook my head, laughingly.

"I see," responded Enriquez, gravely. "You have to attend the obsequies of your aunt who is dead at two of the clock. You have to meet your broker, who has brought you feefty share of the Comstock lode—at thees moment—or you are loss. You are excuse! Attend! Gentlemen, make your bets! The band has arrived to play! 'Ere we are!"

With a quick movement the alert young fellow had vaulted into the saddle. But to the astonishment of both of us the mare remained perfectly still. There was Enriquez bolt upright in the stirrups, completely overshadowing by his saddle flaps, leggings and gigantic spurs, the fine proportions of Chu Chu, until she might have been a placid Rosinante best ridden by some youthful Quixote. She closed here eyes—she was going to sleep! We were dreadfully disappointed. This clearly would not do. Enriquez lifted the reins cautiously. Chu Chu moved forward slowly, then stopped apparently lost in reflection

"Affront her on thees side."

I approached her gently. She shot suddenly into the air, coming down again on perfectly stiff legs with a springless jolt. This she instantly followed by a succession of other rocketlike propul sions, utterly unlike a leap, all over the inclosure. The movements of the unfortunate Enriquez were equally unlike any equitation I ever saw. He appeared occasionally over Chu Chu's head, astride of her neck and tail, or in the free air, but never in the saddle. His rigid legs, however, never lost the stirrups, but came down regularly, accenting her springless hops. More than that, the disproportionate excess of rider, saddle and accouterments was so great that he had, at times, the appearance of lifting Chu Chu forcibly from the ground by superior strength, and of actually contributing to her exercise! As they came toward me—a wild, tossing and flying mass of hoofs and spurs—it was not only difficult to distinguish them apart, but to ascertain how much of the jumping was done by Enriquez separately At last Chu Chu brought matters to a conclusion by making for the low-stretching branches of an oak tree which stood at the corner of the lot. In a few moments she emerged from it, but without Enriquez.

I found the gallant fellow disengaging himself from the fork of a branch in which he had been firmly wedged, but still smiling and confident, and his cigarette between his teeth. Then, for the first time, he removed it, and seating himself easily on the branch, with his legs dangling down, blandly waved aside my anxious queries with a gentle reassuring gesture.

"Remain tranquil, my friend. These does not count! I have conquer—you observe—for why? I have never for once arrive at the ground! Consequent, she is dissaapoint! She will ever that I should! But I have got her when the hair is long! Your onkle Henry"—with an angelic wink—"is fly! He is ever a bully boy with the eye of glass! Believe me. Behold! I am here! Big Injun! Whoop!"

He leaped lightly to the ground. Chu Chu, standing watchfully at a little distance was evidently astonished at his reappearance. She threw out her hind hoofs violently, shot up into the air until the stirrups crossed each other high above the saddle, and made for the stable in a succession of rabbit-like bounds, taking the precaution to remove the saddle on entering, by striking it against the door "You observe," said Enriquez, blandly, "she would make that thing of me. Not having the good occasion, she ees dissatisfied! Where are you now?"

Two or three days afterward he rode her again with the same result, accepted by him with the same heroic complacency. As we did not, for certain reasons, care to use the open road for this exercise, and as it was impossible to remove the tree, we were obliged to submit to the inevitable. On the following day I mounted her, undergoing the same experience as Enriquez, with the individual sensation of falling from a third story window on top of a counting house stool, and the variation of being projected over the fence. She reared before that innocent tree, she revolved around it, and then fled from it at the top of her speed

The lane passed before the rear wall of Saltello's garden. Unfortunately at the angle of the fence stood a beautiful Madrone tree, brilliant with its scarlet berries, and endeared to me as Consuleo's favorite haunt, under whose protecting shade I had more than once avowed my youthful passion. By the irony of fate Chu Chu caught sight of it, and with a succession of spirited bounds instantly made for it. In another moment I was beneath it and Chu Chu shot like a rocket into the air. I had barely time to draw my feet from the stirrups, to throw up one arm to protect my glazed sombrero and grasp an overhanging branch with the other, before Chu Chu darted off. But to my consternation, as I gained a secure perch on the tree and looked about me I saw her, instead of running away, quietly trot through the open gate into the Saltello's garden.

Need I say that it was to the beneficent Enriquez that I again owed my salvation! Scarcely a moment elapsed before his bland voice rose in a concentrated whisper from the corner of the garden below me. He had divined the dreadful truth!

"For the love of God, collect to yourself many kinds of thees berry. All you can! Your full arms round! Rest tranquil. Leave to you ole oncle to make for you a delicate exposure. At the instant!"

He was gone again. I gathered, wonderingly, a few of the larger clusters of parti-colored fruit and patiently waited. Presently he reappeared, and with him the lovely Consuelo, her dear eyes filled with an adorable anxiety.

"Yes," continued Enriquez to his sister, with a confidential lowering of tone but great distinctness of utterance, "it is ever so with the American! He will ever make first the salutation of the flower or the fruit, picked to himself by his own hand to the lady where he call. It is the custom of the American hidalgo! My God—what will you?—I make it not—it is so! Without doubt he is in this instant doing thees thing. That is why he have let go his horse to precede him here; it is always the etiquette to offer these things on the feet. Ah! Behold! it is he! Don Francisco. Even now he will descend from thees tree! Ah! You make the blush, little sister! (archly)—I will retire! I am discreet; two is not company for the one! I make tracks. I am gone!"

How far Consuelo entirely believed and trusted her ingenious brother I do not know, nor even then cared to inquire. For there was a pretty mantling of her olive cheek as I came forward with my offering, and a certain significant shyness in her manner that were enough to throw me into a state of hopeless imbecility. And I was always miserably conscious that Consuelo possessed an exalted sentimentality, and a predilection for the highest mediæval romance, in which I knew I was lamentably deficient. Even in our most confidential moments I was always aware that I weakly lagged behind this daughter of a gloomily distinguished ancestry, in her frequent incursions into a vague but poetic past. There was something of the dignity of the Spanish chatelaine in the sweetly grave little finger that advanced to accept my specious offering. I think I should have fallen on my knees to present it, but for the presence of the all-seeing Enriquez. But why did I even at that moment remember that he had early bestowed upon her the nickname of "Pomposa?" This, as Enriquez himself might have observed, was "sad and strange."

I managed to stammer out something about the Madrone berries being at her "disposition," (the tree was in her own garden), and she took the branches in her little brown hand with a soft response to my unutterable glances.

But here Chu Chu, momentarily forgotten, executed a happy diversion. To our astonishment she gravely walked up to Consuelo and stretching out her long, slim neck, not only sniffed curiously at the berries, but even protruded a black under lip at the young girl herself. In another instant Consuelo's dignity melted. Throwing her arms around Chu Chu's neck she embraced and kissed her. Young as I was, I understood the divine significance of a girl's vicarious effusiveness at such a moment, and felt delighted. But I was the more astonished that the usually sensitive horse not only submitted to these caresses, but actually responded to the extent of affecting to nip my mistress' little right ear.

This was enough for the impulsive Consuelo. She ran hastily into the house, and in a few moments reappeared in a bewitching riding skirt gathered around her jimp waist. In vain Enriquez and myself joined in earnest entreaty; the horse was hardly broken for even a man's riding yet; the saints alone could tell what the nervous creature might do with a woman's skirt flapping at her side! We begged for delay, for reflection, for at least time to change the saddle, but with no avail! Consuelo was determined, indignant, distressingly reproachful! Ah, well! if Don Pancho (an ingenious diminutive of my Christian name) valued his horse so highly, if he were jealous of the evident devotion of the animal to herself, he would—but here I succumbed. And then I had the felicity of holding that little foot for one brief moment in the hollow of my hand, of readjusting the skirt as she threw her knee over the saddle horn, of clasping her tightly—only half in fear—as I surrendered the reins to her grasp. And to tell the truth as Enriquez and I fell back, although I had insisted upon still keeping hold of the end of the riata, it was a picture to admire. The petite figure of the young girl, and the graceful folds of her skirt, admirably harmonized with Chu Chu's lithe contour, and as she arched her slim neck and raised her slender head under the pressure of the reins, it was so like the lifted velvet-capped toreadorcrest of Consuelo herself, that they seemed of one race.

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

Do not be deceived by infringements of name, package or cigarette.
THE ONLY GENUINE
Sweet Caporal Cigarettes
Bear the fac simile signature of Kinney Bros.
on the package and on each cigarette.
TAKE NONE WITHOUT.

CATARRH

COLD IN HEAD

ELY'S Cream Balm

Is quickly absorbed, cleanes he nasal passages allays pain and inflammation, heals the sores, protects the membrane from additional cold, restores the enses of taste and smell.

It will cure. A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50c. at druggists or by mail. ELY BOTHERS, 56 Warren st., New York.

In Buying a Piano or an Organ

do not fail to examine the latest Mason & Hamlin models. Recent improvements render them unexcelled. Old pianos or organs taken in exchange. Instruments sold for cash or easy payments.

Catalogues and full information free. Pianos of reliable makers from $200 upwards.

Mason & Hamlin Co.
136 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK.

Special Sale

—OF—

Muslins

SATURDAY ONLY.

Fruit of Loom, Hill Lonsdale and other standard brands, 10 yards 65c.
The best brands unbleached muslins at 6 cents per yard.
Good quality in bleached and unbleached at 5 cents per yard.
The standard brands of white sheetings at lower prices than quoted elsewhere.

LEDERER'S.

W.L. & J. M. Smalley,

—DEALERS IN—

HIGH GRADE

Me ts,

& Meat Specialties

Beef, Lamb, Mutton, Veal and Pork
Poultry and Game in season.

94 Somerset st., Plainfield N. J.
Telephone Call 42-B.

Telephone 29b. Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON.

Plumbing and Hot Water Heating.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system
Opposite Roberts's Livery. 132 North ave.

New Fish Market,

125 Park Ave.

E. P. THORN

solicits a share of the public patronage. First quality

Fish, Oysters, Clams, &c

TERMS CASH. 11 7 tf

PIANOS.

You can buy the best in the market at Factory Prices, at

J. C. DYER'S, 218 WEST FRONT ST.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Curtis, of West Eighth street, is confined at her home by illness.

Miss Lizzie Cullen, of High Bridge, is visiting Miss Kate Cullen, of East Ninth street.

G. F. Wallace, an old resident of Mommouth county, was a welcome visitor in town yesterday.

Mrs. Richard Warneck, of East Front street, has returned from a visit with friends in Westfield.

John Van Winkle, of Basking Ridge, paid a visit to his brothers, Nicholas and Charles B. Van Winkle, in the borough yesteeday.

The condition of Mrs. Charles Riederlin, of East Front street, is not improved. Her illness has turned to pneumonia. Dr. Carman is in attendance.

—A Martha Washington tea will be given by the women of the First Presbyterian church on next Friday evening in the chapel.

—The committee of arrangements in charge of the Gesang and Turn Verein masquerade ball met last evening to complete the final details for the ball.

Among the riders that will uphold Plainfield's honor on the track this year is Thos. A. Cuming. He will continue to ride the Stearns.

The delightful weather this morning reminded cycles that spring is not far off, and a number of wheels appeared. The mud made rather unpleasant riding, however.

Congenial Conditions.

"We might as well speak boldly," said the reformer as he opened up in the new town, "and I'm going to give it to you straight—"

(Sensation.)

"Your mayor is a drunkard—"

(Sensation.)

"Your school board are gamblers—"

(Great stir.)

"Your town marshal is a murderer—"

(Threatening looks.)

"And your town council is a gang of thieves—but I'll not despair. I feel that here is my place and my field!"—N. Y. Recorder.

A Misleading Picture.

Jimmieboy's picture stands on his father's desk, and, sad to relate, has in some way managed to get a few ink-spots on it.

"Humph!" said Jimmieboy, as he caught sight of one blot on his little white blouse in the picture. "That looks as if I'd been having a bully time, but it isn't so. Somebody else played with that ink."—Harper's Young People.

Poetry and Science.

"The last rose of summer's"
A silly pretense;
It blooms in a hot house
For twenty-five cents!
It blooms all the winter—
No room for a doubt;
And that is where science
Knocks poetry out!
—Atlanta Constitution.

A REWARD FOR THE GRINDER.

"Papa gave me two pennies to put in the plate in church."

"Do you know who those pennies were for?"

"Course I do; for the organ man. I heard the music."—Life.

Exchange of Civilities.

First Good Fellow—Have a cigar?

Second Good Fellow—Thanks. Try one of mine.

Each (to himself, a few moments later)—This miserable weed is even worse than the one I gave him.—N. Y. Weekly.

Uncle Allen at the Theater.

"'There's always room at the top,' of course," said Uncle Sam Allen Sparks, craning his neck, "but I don't think it's the fair thing for this young woman in front of me to try to occupy all of it with her hat."—Chicago Tribune.

Histrionic Hydraulics.

First Actress—I think I have the power of communicating a feeling to an audience.

Second Actress—Yes. When you wept to-night I noticed that everybody perspired profusely.—Life.

Keeping It Up.

Clara—It's really too absurd, this idea of anyone believing in ghosts in this age of electric cars and bicycles.

Tom—Not at all, when you consider what these inventions are doing to keep up the supply.—Harlem Life.

The Bare Truth.

Miss Wanterneau—What is a burlesque?

Mr. Meanitall—A take-off.

Miss Wanterneau—A take-off of what?

Mr. Meanitall—Clothes, generally.—N. Y. World.

Remarkable.

Mrs. Twickenham (to Mrs. Longlane on her twenty-fifth wedding anniversary)—What a young-looking man your husband is! I was just telling him that it didn't seem possible that he had lived with you for twenty-five years.—Life.

COL. JOSEPH L. FOLLETT.

One of Sheridan's Commanders Saved by Paine's Celery Compound.

Col. Joseph L. Follett of New York has a national reputation.

At the age of 21, Col. Follett enlisted in Battery G., First Missouri Light Artillery, and soon rose to its command. At Lookout Mountain, his was the only Battery that reached the summit.

Since the war he has devoted himself to mechanical engineering, and has invented several important improvements on the sewing machine, and a bicycle that promises to be one of the surprises of next season.

The tension on the nervous system of an inventor, kept up for months and months, seriously weakened the health of a busy brain worker like Col. Follett, and his constitution, which even the hardships of war did not weaken, threatened to succumb to nervous exhaustion.

What Col. Follett has to say in regard to his restoration to health, cannot fail to carry great weight. In a letter to Wells & Richardson Co. of Burlington, Vt., he writes:

"When suffering from mental exhaustion and a generally disorganized system and overwork, I used Paine's celery compound.

"The compound acted like a charm on my bowels and kept them in fine condition, and I experienced great relief from my brain troubles. "I have not used Paine's celery compound for six months, but I shall when in need of a tonic and general regulator of the system. I have recommended it to a great many, and every one who tried it got relief.

"It is the best general remedy I ever used or knew anything about."

When the nervous system has become weakened from any cause, Paine's celery compound builds it up as nothing else can. It makes people well.

People in every walk of life have reason to be grateful to Prof. Phelps of Dartmouth, the eminent scientist who discovered Paine's celery compound. He understood the peculiar needs of the nervous system; he knew that the backache, headache, sleeplessness, loss of appetite, and disordered blood all mean that the nerves are weakened and inadequate to the demands upon them. The experience of thousands has proven all over this broad country that only Paine's celery compound will give health to the nerves, and through them to the entire body.

Colleges conferred upon Dr. Phelps their highest honors for his invaluable investigations in medicine but all this seems insignificant in comparison with the chorus of gratitude that has gone up all over the world from men, women and children, who have outgrown weakness and the lack of health by the use of Paine's celery compound, the most wonderful nerve and blood restorative.

Improve
YOUR OPPORTUNITY!

Get Some of the BARGAINS

IN

FURNITURE and CHINA,

we are offering before removal to

Jackson Building.

G. Q. Packer. Jos. W. Gavett.

COSTS NOTHING

to see our immense line of wall papers—or to let us estimate on your Spring decorating. We are

GLAD TO DO IT!

Edward Love,

Corner North and Watchung Avenues.

Hope Chapel
Industrial Fair
And Loan Exhibition,

TO BE HELD IN

Hope Chapel,
TONIGHT

Doors open at 2:30 p. m.

Full choir of Crescent Avenue church will render several choice vocal selections in the evening.

ADMISSION, 10 CENTS.

Stages will run during the afternoon and evening from Crescent Avenue Church by way of 5th and 7th streets alternately to chapel commencing at 2 o'clock. 286

INSURANCE.

WM. H. ABBOTT,
171 North Ave.

VAN EMBURGH & SON,

Corner Store, Babcock Building.

We work for the GOOD WILL as well as the patronage of our customers.

Our prices are plain blunt arguments.

New Spring Flouelettes, 10c. yd.
Spring colors in Figured Valours, 12c yd.
New Mourning Sateens, 12c yd
New spring figured Cambrics, 12c yard.
We are the people for nice Outings, 10c. yd.
Boys' Derby Ribbed Hose, 10c., 15c., 18c. pair.
Plain colors, Windsor Ties 10c.
Extra Wind Windsor Ties 25c.
Extra size Windsor Ties, (hemstitched, 50c each.
Our Corset Covers are selling at 15c, 19c, 25c, 30c, 42c, 54c, 59c, 72c, 89c each.
P. N Corsets, perfect fit, 50c. 75c, $1.00 pair.
2 Turkish Bath Towels for 19c.
Roll Tape, all widths, 2c. each.
Attachable Corset Clasps, 5c pair.
Attachable Corset Clasps, (cork protector) 8c. pair.
Japanned Dress Steels, 5c. dozen.
Covered Dress Steels, 6c. set.
Safety Pins, all sizes, 3c. dozen.
Tooth Brushes, good ones, 5c. each
Fast Black Darning Cotton, 2c. ball
Zephyr Worsted, all colors, 4c. lop
100 yards Best Spool Silk, black and colors, 7c. Spool.

Read Sheeting Muslins. Read

1	yard wide,	bleached,	6c.	yard.
1 1 8	yards wide,	"	6 1-2c.	"
1 1-4	"	"	7 1-2c.	"
1 1-2	"	"	11c.	"
1 3-4	"	"	13c.	"
2	"	"	14 1-2c	"
2 1-4	"	"	16c.	"
2 1-2	"	"	17 1-2c	"

Dogs

IRON AND BRASS

FIRE-DOGS.

Curtis M. Thorpe,

Y. M. C. A. Building.

"Everything for the Fireplace."

HEATH & DRAKE.

Established 1841. Newark's first-class Dry Goods House.

New Embroideries, Laces, Flouncings, etc.

Our assortment of these goods for the coming season is handsomer, more varied and complete than any we have yet shown, and embraces regular Cambric, Nainsook and Swiss Edges, Insertions and match sets in all grades and styles and a line of Exquisite Novelties which for new and original effects, exclusive and unique designs, are unsurpassed if not unequalled by any in the market.

Pretty Edgings and Embroideries Very Cheap.

A thousand lines could not tell the story any better. Great heaps of snowy Embroideries that first saw light in far off Switzerland are here.

In connection with our regular line we have purchased, direct from the manufacturers in St. Gaul, Switzerland, three large lots of Embroideries, which we will place on sale at one-third less than regglar prices.

Lot 1, 4c Yd. Lot 2, 8c Yd. Lot 3, 12c Yd

The wise ones ask no questions, but take them away in huge quantities.

777 and 779 Broad Street,
Newark, N. J.

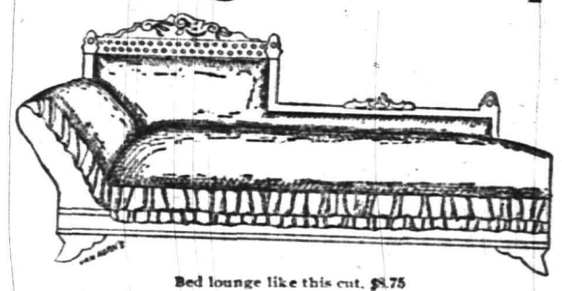
AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd.

ASK TO SEE THE FAMOUS "PORTLAND RAGE"

2½ Acres Of Furniture

Carpets, Stoves, etc.,—that's what we have—every square foot of it's well covered—no chance for goods to go to seed here—all new lines, new designs, new everything. All unique prices—here's an instance or two:

Bed Lounges $5.00 up



Bed lounge like this cut, $5.75

Built for comfort, wear and effect. Made for bed and lounge. Variety of coverings.

Chiffoniers at $4.95

We've a real good line—many patterns—this especial one is worth every cent of $10.00. It's yours for $4.95.

Exactly like cut. $4.95

Carpets All Weaves

It's true gospel that we're selling a mulitude of Carpet patterns never to be duplicated again—they're at prices low enough to make them go.

Goods delivered Free of Charge to any part of the State. Purchases made now held until wanted—no cash needed

AMOS H. VAN HORN Ltd. Note the Name "AMOS"

Carpets, Stoves, Furniture, Etc.
Low Prices, Easy Terms
TELEPHONE 580:

73 MARKET ST. Near Plane St. NEWARK, N. J.

STILLMAN MUSIC HALL.

Rich & Maeder ..... Lessees and Managers.
John Daly ..... Resident Manager.

All This Week.

MATINEES AT 2 P. M.

Waite's Comedy Co

Premium Band and Orchestra.

35---PEOPLE---35

Prices 10, 20 and 30 Cts.

MATINEES 10 CENTS.

LAST EDITION.

THE DAILY PRESS

LAST EDITION.

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., MONDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1896. TWO CENTS A COPY—$5 A YEAR

FONDNESS FOR GOSPEL.

THAT WAS ONE OF THE LATE D. F. RANDOLPH'S CHARACTERISTICS.

Dr. Yerkes Says That The Life of Christ Was in Him and Changes Did Not Unsettle Him to any Known Degree.

The funeral services over the remains of the late Daniel Dodge Fitz Randolph, were held from his late residence, corner of Seventh and Liberty streets, yesterday afternoon at 2:30. The was a large attendance of friends and relatives, and noticeably a number of aged people who had known Mr. Randolph for many years.

A quartette composed of Misses Nancy Randolph, F. May Grant, Mr. Smith and William Holmes, under the direction of C. W. McCutchen, rendered an impressive selection, after which Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes read appropriate scripture selections and spoke in part as follows: "We are summoned through the Providence of God to pay our respects to our brother, who is dead, yet lives. There is a feeling of satisfaction mingled with grief on an occasion like this when a child of God is permitted to live here awhile and is then taken home. There are great changes peculiar to human life and the world constantly taking place.

"There are many present today who can go further back in their acquaintance of our brother than I can during the three score and fourteen years that he lived. We are inclined to think of time as duration, which is more in years than in time. It is not measured in time, but by our acts and deeds. What enters into our lives and history is what affects us. These great changes are everywhere. The world is not the same today as it was a year ago.

"There are new theories, doctrines, etc., that come to us constantly. Every day and year makes changes, but there is something that doesn't change and that is Eternal Life. God don't change, He is always the same. In speaking of our departed brother there are many changes. He had trials and troubles, but he lived through them all. In 1843 he confessed Christ and from 1854 he was for years a deacon in the church. The life of Christ was in him and changes did not unsettle him. One great thing was evident, his fondness for the truth of the gospel. He also loved the Kingdom of God for his heart was given to his Lord and Master. He led a life of fidelity and trust in the church and in business, for his character was rooted in the christian faith, which was constantly budding and blossoming. The last time I saw him I remarked that 'the Lord would be with him' and he replied, 'the Lord is with me and that is the best of all.' The doctor closed his remarks by speaking words of comfort to the bereaved ones. He then offered a deeply impressive prayer, after which the quartette rendered "Beyond the Sinking and the Weeping."

After those present had taken a last look upon the form of the departed, interment was made in Evergreen cemetery. Those who served as pall bearers were officers in the First National Bank, of which the decedent was director. They were F. S. Runyon, William M. Stillman, J. Wesley Johnson and Mulford Estil.

Pulled a Drawhead Out.

The engine on the New York train due in this city at 6:58 pulled her drawhead out this morning at Grant Avenue. The 6:02 Washington train for New York was an hour late and came along just in time to take the disabled train in tow. Three of the cars were left at the North Avenue station and the rest were taken into Jersey City.

Ought to be Stopped.

Some of the residents of Sandford avenue are complaining that a number of their neighbors of the borough deposit their garbage and ashes on the bank of Green brook and spoil the appearance of the place, besides endangering the health of residents.

—Next Sunday afternoon at 4:15, the orchestra which has been playing at the Park Auenue church, will be present at the Y. M. C. A. men's meeting and render special music.

The little daughter of Mr. Fred Webber, Holland, Mass, had a very bad cold and cough which he had not been able to cure with any thing. I gave him a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says W. P. Holden, merchant and postmaster at West Brimfield, and the next time I saw him he said it worked like a charm. This remedy is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases such as colds, croup and whooping cough, and it is famous for its cures. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

AN AUCTION CLOSED THE FAIR.

Hope Chapel Will Gain Financially by the Event of Last Week.

The attendance at the Industrial Fair and Loan Exhibition which was held in Hope chapel, last week, was not very large Saturday evening when the event was brought to a close. The crowd present was a buying one, however, and a goodly sum was realized by those in charge.

During the evening Miss Carrie Dewey rendered favorite piano selections, which pleased all. The Crescent Avenue church choir did not appear, owing to a misunderstanding, and many expressed their regrets that they were unable to hear the choir sing.

About 9 o'clock F. H. Andrew's assumed the duties as auctioneer, and he made a good one, too. Nearly everything was disposed of at excellent prices, and here again the projectors reaped a good sum.

After the auction those in charge began to take down the booths and the decorations and clear the place for the Sunday services. The balance of the work will be concluded this week.

The affair throughout has been a great success both financially and socially, and everybody has had a most enjoyable time.

Miss Kingston's Funeral.

There was a very large attendance of friends and relatives at the funeral services of the late Miss Mary Elizabeth Kingston, held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 from the house on East Second street. Rev. E. M. Rodman officiated and after reading several appropriate Scripture selections spoke at some length on the life of the departed, telling of her Christian character. It was impossible for all who desired to be present, as the room was limited. The floral tributes were beautiful, and consisted of a pillow of roses from the sisters, a star of choice flowers from Rebeka Degree Lodge, No. 4, I. O. O. F., who were present in a body, and several smaller pieces comprising wreaths and bunches of the choicest flowers.

The bearers were Harry Denecklau, C. Thorn, B. Webster, Theo. Kurzhals, Jr., Harvy Thorn and Harry Ackerman. Interment was in Hillside cemetery.

A Theatre Party.

A number of the members of the Plainfield Lady Cyclers enjoyed a theatre party to New York Saturday afternoon where they witnessed the matinee performance of "Countess Gucki," at Daly's Theatre. The party consisted of Mrs. John M. Crane, Miss Arline Crane, Mrs. A. S. Fritts, Mrs. E. P. Williams, Mrs. Corres Pond, Miss Grace Langdon, Miss Millie Langdon, Mrs. F. S. Green, Miss Ethel Green, the Misses Hagen, Miss Mary French, Miss Lulu French, Mrs. Fritts, Miss Margaret Yerkes, Mrs. W. Stevens, Miss Ida Cook, Miss Phillips, Miss K. Manning, Mrs. Mary Brown, and Mrs. A. Wilcox.

Funeral of William Firstbrook.

The funeral services of the late William Fisrtbrook were held yesterday afternoon at 1:30 from Hope chapel, and there was a very large attendance of friends and relatives who came to pay their last respects to the departed. Rev. G. Kennedy Newell conducted the services and spoke words of comfort and love to the bereaved ones. He also spoke of the Christian life of the departed, and of his many excellent qualities. The Bible class of which Mr. Firstbrook had been a member attended in a body. Interment was in the Methodist cemetery on Plainfield avenue.

Pargiter Sale.

Tomorrow, White will place on sale the entire stock of Pargiter, of Park avenue, which he bought for fifty cents on the dollar. It means a dollars worth of goods for fifty cents, and that is what everyone is looking for these days. His advertisement gives a partial list of the many good things that will be sold.

A Concert by the Choral Ladies.

The ladies of the Choral Society will give a concert in Vincent chapel on Tuesday evening, February 25th, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First M. E. church. Mr. Fitzhugh will lead the singers. The concert is for the benefit of the carpet fund.

Agreeably Surprised.

Miss Minnie Nitschwitz, of Manning avenue, was most agreebly surprised Saturday evening, when more than thirty of her young friends unexpectedly called upon her at her home. The party was led by the Misses Agnes Morse and Carrie Kister. A general good time was enjoyed by all present.

A Birthday Party.

The W. C. T. U. will give a birthday party in their rooms on Watchung avenue, on Thursday evening, February 27th.

JACK FROST'S VISIT.

THE NIPPING FELLOW CAME SUDDENLY YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

The Thermometer Fell Forty-Nine Degrees Between 9 o'clock Saturday Night and 6 o'clock This Morning.

Jack Frost gave Plainfield a surprise party yesterday, but Plainfield was not prepared for it and consequently it was not very welcome. The guests that came were little sections of cold air. Word came to Weather Observer Neagle Saturday evening that a cold wave was at hand and the mercury began to fall rapidy. From nine o'clock Saturday night until this morning the mercury fell 49 degrees. At 6:30 o'clock this morning he registered the thermometer at 4½ below zero, and at eight o'clock at zero.

According to other thermometers it was even colder. At the North avenue station it fell to six below. Another thermometer in the east end registered the same, while one in the far west end fell to ten below at six o'clock. A wind that the warmest clothing would not keep out blew all night but this morning it gradually died away. It was cold enough for practical purposes without the wind and sundry ears and noses tried hard to freeze. The early rising commuters came down to the depot shivering in spite of their heavy coats and were glad to take advantage of the warm waiting rooms while waiting for their train. Those who had to be out of doors most of the day bundled themselves up until all that was visible was a pair of eyes and a red nose or perhaps the glimpse of a face of a like color.

It is glorious weather for the skaters and ice-cutters and if it continues long the ponds will all be gathering places for the young people of the city.

The cold wave was the coldest that has been experienced in this section this winter. Outside of the main part of the city it was more severely felt. Green brook and the other little streams passing through and near Dunellen are reported this morning as having been frozen solid for the first this winter. The cold was also felt among the farmers and their live stock suffered severely.

Scotch Plains also came in for her share of the chilly weather and the mercury fell to nine degrees below zero there this morning.

The stage that runs between Oak Tree and Plainfield contained a stove this morning to prevent its passengers from being frozen to the seats.

POLICE INSPECTION.

Metropolitan Methods Now in Vogue With the City Police.

A decidedly new feature has been introduced into the police department by Chairman E. T. Barrows, of the police committee. Every Saturday afternoon the regulars are called into the chief's office and put through a systematic drill by Mr. Barrows, who is a military man. At the same time a thorough inspection is held, when each officer is obliged to show his fire-alarm and station-house keys, and he is supposed to have all the buttons on his clothes, and his accoutrements are expected to be in first-class condition.

Thus far the men have done good work and it is thought that before long they will become proficient in the drills.

A Great Enterprise.

Plans for one of the largest retail drygoods establishments in the world have been filed by Kimball & Thompson, architects of the Manhattan Life Building, on behalf of B. Altman & Co., for remodeling the latter's present establishment on Sixth avenue, and for an addition running through the block from Eighteenth to Nineteenth streets. The addition will cover an area 150 by 184 feet, and to make room fifteen houses have been torn down. The entire building when completed will cover an area of 200 by 300 feet, fronting on Sixth avenue, Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets, New York.

Activity in Real Estate.

Through the real agency of Thomas M. Paff, the house and lands of Reinhart Sienburg, president of the New York Cotton Exchange, at Scotch Plains, have been sold to John G. Cook, of Scotch Plains, for $7,500. On Saturday last, Thomas M. Paff purchased the house and property at Scotch Plains of Mulford Cole, of this city, for $2,500.

Our people are growing more and more in the habit of looking to Reynolds' pharmacy for the latest and best of everything in the drug line. They sell Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds, croup and whooping cough. When in need of such a medicine give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result.

SOME LEGISLATIVE TALK.

PROPOSED RE-ORGANIZATION OF HIGH COURTS MAKES TALK.

The Legislature Has Done Nothing So Far, But Adjournment is Already Talked Of in Four Weeks Time.

There are to be a number of important committee hearings today and tomorrow in the Legislature, says the Sun. The most interesting feature will be that on Tuesday noon, before the Senate Judiciary Committee. The Supreme Court meets on Tuesday, and there will be many well-known lawyers in Trenton, from all over the state. The Senate committee will then try to get the sentiment on the proposed re-organization of the Court of Errors and Appeals and the Supreme Court, and if there is an agreement among the lawyers a constitutional amendment will be drawn and adopted by the Legislature. The objections against re-organization have been from the lay Judges of the Court of Errors and Appeals, the opposition of Supreme Court Justices who, after having been members of the highest court, do not want to be relegated to second place, and there has been objection on account of the increased cost of maintaining a new court. The petitions signed by the members of the bar indicates that a separate and independent Court of Errors and Appeals is wanted, and most of the speakers at the committee hearing last week referred to the influence which Judges who heard cases in the Supreme Court exerted when those cases were heard on appeal.

To-day hearings are to be given in a number of pending railroad bills, including Bullock's Three-cent-fare bill. On Tuesday the Committee on Education will hear the friends of the bill repealing the Township School of 1894. The law creates each township into a school district, with nine trustees, and makes possible township high and graded schools. By the old law there was a school district, with a Board of Trustees and clerk, in every little settlement, and the opposition to the new law comes from these petty politicians who formerly held places and wielded some influence in their localities. The State Board of Education and State Superintendent Polland favor the new law, and will oppose the proposed change.

In the five weeks of the session the Legislature has passed just two bills. This do-nothing record is said to be unparalleled in New Jersey history, but it is in accordance with the policy of the Republican legislators, who fear the effect on the approaching Presidential election of any mistake on important measures, while Gov. Grigg's opposition to the piling up of any unnecessary laws prevents action on the schemes of localities. There is already gossip concerning adjournment, and it is believed that the session will not last more than four weeks longer, possibly not more than three. The Legislature has 275 bills yet to act on, nearly equally divided between the two Houses.

Tonight the Senate will confirm the nominations sent in by the Governor last week; others are expected to be sent in tomorrow. The chief interest now centres in the Chancery clerkship and keepership of the State prison. The former office will not be filled until the Voorhees bill fixing its salary at $6,000, a year is passed. For the superintendency of the prison there are so many candidates as to embarrass the Governor. Those with the strongest backing are said to be ex-Congressman Brewer and ex-Sheriff Skirm, of Mercer, and ex-Senator Roe, of Gloucester. Col. Anthony R. Kuser, of the Governor's staff, has told the Governor that he does not seek reappointment as a member of the State Board of Assessors, and Mercer county has three new Democratic candidates in Mahlon R. Margerum, ex-Sheriff Bergen and ex-Mayor Joseph B. Shaw, all of Trenton. William Moore, of Gloucester, Alanson A. Vance, of Morris, and Tyler Parmly, of Essex, are seeking places in the State Board of Taxation.

The New Jersey Council of Junior American Mechanics have a grievance against Senator Rogers of Anti-Garb bill fame. They declare there is no truth in this assertion made last week that the American Mechanics asked him to press his bill. The order has a legislative committee to take charge of measures they are interested in, and the committee this week will make a statement setting the order straight on the Garb bill. Senator Rogers said in his speech that the 50,000 American Mechanics, members of the patriotic order Sons of America, and kindred organizations had asked that the bill be passed.

—The annual encampment of the New Jersey Division, S. of V., will be held in Trenton on Thursday next.

A PERFUMERY COMING.

XXX-Compound-Ray Process to Astound the Plainfield Public.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—After repeated interviews the officials of Plainfield fail to appreciate my plans or to ackowledge my greatness and I, therefore, turn to you for assistance in arousing public opinion to favor a public work of lasting value.

I am the Plainfield representative of the Bad Odor Remover and Perfume Manufacturing Co., Limited. The business of my company is to catch and to corner bad odors and by a XXX-compound-ray process convert them into a very delicate and delightful perfume.

My company is informed that serious legal complications are sure to follow the complete operation of the sewer beds.

Competent persons say the air around the sewer farm is apt to be filled with germs, bacteria and other frightful things; that people will shun the foul and unclean neighborborhood; that legal action will follow legal action until Plainfield will be in the hands of lawyers and receivers.

The purpose of my company is to help Plainfield to avoid the law and to turn the sewer beds into a veritable Garden of Eden by means of our XXX compound-ray system. We propose to change the disagreeable odors into the fragance of the flowers of June, to make the place healthy and exhilarating, to gladden the heart and strenghten the system so that all will make merry, to cause the waters of Green brook to become famous as a bracing tonic, renowned for properties of longgevity and peerless for sparkling purity and flashing beauty, and to make the spot a hygiene resort and the mecca of the world.

Carlsbad Nice, Baden-Baden, Scheveningen, Saratoga, Hot Springs, Florida and California will all be eclipsed by the Plainfield sewer beds.

Railroad advertisements will read Niagara Falls and the west via Plainfield sewer beds.

The Pennsylvania, Lehigh Valley, D. L. & W., Jersey Central and local electric roads will run into town.

Large, palatial depots will be erected. Hotels and mansions will spring up in the night. Plainfield real-estate will boom and property located nearest the celebrated retreat will be the most desirable and valuable.

Think of the air always charged with the aroma of flowers, think of the springs of water with their diamond-brilliancy, think of health, virtue and purity, think of the purling brook and listen to the gentle murmur of the fountain of youth—what a place!! Ponce de Leon was born too soon—he should have waited.

We will guarantee to do all these things if the Mayor and Common Council will advance $50,000 to pay our working expenses for the first year.

The XXX-compound-ray process is hereby respectfully submitted,

Chatham Lockinvar.

North Plainfield, Feb. 14th.

Rockaway Valley Road Sold.

The Rockaway Valley, Morristown Extension, Railroad, which is part of the Rockaway Valley Railroad system, whose total length is twenty-six miles, extending from the White House, on the Central Railroad of New Jersey, to Morristown, was sold under foreclosure on Wednesday, February 5th, at Mendham, Morris county, by Master in Chancery Lindley Rowas, and brought $15,500. At the last sale, which was in the railroad station, there were present bidders, hopeful stockholders and a few who knew in advance that the J. N. Pidcock faction would buy in the road. This is the third sale of the Rockaway Valley Railroad sections, and in each instance the Picocks have become owners. The Pidcocks say that they are going to build up the road, because it is a valuable property with a prosperous future.

His First Offense.

An elderly grey-haired man, who gave his name as James Kelly, was arraigned before City Judge DeMeza this morning on the charge of being drunk and disorderly on Park avenue Saturday night. As it was his first offence, sentence was suspended on him.

A Praise Service.

A special praise service was held at the Park Avenue Baptist church last evening, at which time an orchestra of ten pieces, under the direction of Wm. Townsend, rendered special selections. It is the intention to have the orchestra present every Sunday evening and thus make the services of interest to all.

—Chief Marshal VanHorn chased two picture agents from the borough this morning, as they had no license.

MR. MACPHIE TO LEAVE.

THE Y. M. C. A. TO LOSE AN EARNEST AND VALUABLE WORKER.

Announcement Made Yesterday that He Will go to Massachusetts to Become the Assistant State Secretary of that State.

Those present at the men's meeting in the Y. M. C. A. building yesterday afternoon were somewhat surprised when it was announced that Physical Director D. A. McPhie would sever his connection with the Plainfield Association March 1st. The change has been under consideration by Mr. Mac Phie for some time, and as a result he will leave to take a position as an assistant state secretary in Massachusetts.

During his stay here Mr. MacPhie has won many warm-hearted friends who will regret, exceedingly, that he is going away. He goes to a larger field to labor and one that will give him broader scope for usefulness in Christian work.

Next Sunday afternoon he will conduct a farewell meeting at the Y.M.C.A. building and there will be, no doubt, a large number of people present, who will wish him God-speed in his new field of labor. It has not yet been decided who will take his position as physical director at the association building.

CONTRACTS AND TRANSFERS.

Plainfield Matters Recorded in the County Clerk's Office Last Week.

The following transfers of property have been recorded in the Union County Clerk's office, from February 6th to February 13th, inclusive, as published in the New Jersey Contractor and Gazette:

David Bowden et ux., Plainfield, to Jacob Cose, lot Grant avenue, 14½ feet, $600; Sheriff Kyte to Rising Sun Brewing Co., et al., lot Park avenue, Plainfield, tract, Fanwood, 16.52 acres $8,252.40; Thomas Kane, Plainfield, to Cormick Canfield, 1et ux., Plainfield, lot 237.6 feet, West Third street, $350; Central New Jersey Land Improvement Co., to Sarah P. Potter, Plainfield, lot Second street, 360 feet, $400; Central New Jersey Land Improvement Co., to Sarah P. Potter, lot Second street, Plainfield, 235 feet, $1,860; Daniel H. Manning et ux., to James P. Homan, Plainfield, lot West Front street, 250 feet, $1,750; James P. Poman, et ux., Plainfield, to Daniel Manning, Piscataway, lot Morrison place, 137.41 feet, $1,750; Joseph T. Vail et ux, Plainfield, to Daniel S. Vail, Oyster Bay, N. Y., tract West Seventh street, Plainfield, 982 feet, $1; Charles A. Sturtevant et ux., Plainfield, to Jonathan Lyon, lot Orchard street, 101.55 feet, $1; Gertrude Vandenburg, Plainfield, to Mary M. Dunlay, Plainfield, two tracts Fifth street, $1. The following contract has also been recorded:—Jacob Cose, Plainfield, with John H. Cose, house 223 Grant avenue, carpenter, mason etc., $3,230.

Old Dominion Line Dinner.

The fourth annual dinner given by the Old Dominion Steamship Company to its officers, agents and underwriters, took place Friday evening, the 7th inst., on board of the steamer "Old Dominion," in New York. The president of the company, Captain H. A. Bourne, presided, and was supported by W. L. Guillaudeu, vice-president; C. P. Fischer and Wm. Rowland, directors. At the conclusion of the dinner the president reviewed the work of the company in general during the past year, and the vice-president spoke of matters relating to the traffic department. George V. Sloat, superintending engineer, referred to matters pertaining to the engineer's department, and many others of the officials spoke during the evening.

Newspaper Wins in a Suit for Libel.

D. P. Hall, of this city, has secured the reversal of a judgment against the Hotel Gazette, in an action by a hotel employe for libel. The jury allowed the plaintiff $300 damages. The decision setting aside the verdict was rendered by the Appellate Division of the New York Supreme Court, on Saturday, in the case of Donohue vs. Hungerford.

With Masks.

The annual masquerade ball of the Saengerbund will be held in their hall on Somerset street this evening. A big time is expected.

Threw Away His Canes.

Mr. D. Wiley, ex-postmaster, Black Creek, N. Y., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that he was only able to hobble around with canes, and even then it caused him great pain. After using Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was so much improved that he threw away his canes. He says this liniment did him more good than all other medicines and treatment put together. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

PRIZE FIGHT FIASCO

All the Contests Except One Officially Declared Off.

STUART WILL PAY FORFEITS TO-DAY

Believed Now That the Big Fight Will Also Be Abandoned Before To-night. Complications Between the Contestants Very Probable.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 17.—Late last night Dan Stuart announced to the crowd of correspondents and sports in his office that the Everhart-Leeds, Walcott-Bright Eyes, Marshall-Dixon and Barry-Murphy contests were officially declared off and that he would pay the forfeit of $500 on each contest to-day. The announcement was not accompanied with any reasons for this step, but this morning it was stated in Stuart's behalf by one of his associates as one of the fights was already due and another due to-day, he considered it useless to carry out the lesser features of the carnival so long as the big fight was undecided and that, moreover, as the little fellows were beginning to kick, the conclusion had been reached to sponge off the slate, beginning with the second line. It is now more likely than ever that the first line also will be wiped off before to-night. Some complications between the fighters are likely to arise as the result of the abandonment. Leeds and Everhart, who were to have fought to-morrow, should weigh in to-day under forfeit of $1,000. Everhart, however, recognizing several days ago that the game was up, has been taking things easy and gaining flesh, with the result that he tips the beam this morning at eight poundsoverweight. Capt. Glori, Leeds' backer, insists, however, that the weighing in shall take place, and says that he will claim the forfeit if Everhart fails to appear or if overweight. The consensus of opinion among expert sports remaining here is that the fight, having been declared off in advance of the weighing in, Glori's position is untenable.

Brutal and Disgusting Scenes.

The bull fights at Juarez yesterday afternoon attracted a crowd of 4,000, two-thirds men and women from the American side. It was a brutal and disgusting exhibition. The first two bulls looked more like milch cows and were as harmless as Septuagenarian cats. The prodding of the banderilleros instead of working them into a frenzy, only resulted in their getting down on their haunches and bellowing piteously as though they could not understand what was required of them or why they should be thus tortured. The matadors also were mere novices and one of them broke three spears in one of the helpless animals before giving it its coup. The remaining two bulls put up a lively fight with the result that two picadors were severely injured and one horse killed. Gov. Ahumada, with his staff, Collector Bauche and the entire force of Chihushua state officials were present. Lieut.-Gov. Cortez presided over the fights. The sight of a horse with entrails protruding was so sickening as to cause numbers of the American spectators to leave the amphitheatre. At the close of the fights, Fitzsimmons, who had occupied a box, asked Gov. Ahumada if he did not consider bull fighting more disgusting than prize fighting. The governor smilingly remarked that it was the custom of the country, but that he deprecated the use of horses in bull fights.

The Big Fight Also Off.

New articles of agreement are being drawn up for the fight between Fitzsimmons and Maher next Friday, which practically means that all the fights are off, and another proposed fight has resulted in a huge fiasco. It is now the opinion of sports in general that prizefighting is a a thing of the past in this country.

KENTUCKY DEADLOCK.

Democrats Appeal to Secretary Carlisle, But He Will Not Interfere.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Secretary Carlisle has received a petition signed by democratic members of the Kentucky legislature asking him to use his influence with the bolting democrats to induce them to vote for the democratic caucus nominee for United States senator. He will reply that he does not consider it becoming in him to interfere by interposing his advice in the matter.

Stampede Expected To-day.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 17. — There seems to be good grounds for the story that the Hunter forces are on the stampede and it is expected that another break in his ranks will occur to-day or to-morrow. There has been a good deal of dissatisfaction in the Hunter camp for the past week and the rank and file of the members seem determined to vote for a new man. The name of ex-Chief Justice Holt will be used for several days to see if there is any chance for his election.

Danielson Church Trouble.

Danielson, Conn., Feb. 17.—In the matter of mortgaging the Catholic church property here to meet current expenses as proposed by Father Souquat, Eli Getty of the board of deacons is willing to sign a mortgage, but James Dewice is strongly opposed to it. The position of the latter is upheld by nearly all the members.

Preacher Tarred and Feathered.

North Platte, Neb., Feb. 17.—Rev. William Bailey, a preacher, was tarred and feathered and ordered to leave town by a vigilance committee, consisting of 150 citizens, Saturday night. Bailey is an imitator of Schlatter, the Denver healer, and his conduct with members of certain families he visited got him in disfavor.

DARING NEW YORK BURGLARS.

Six Safes in One Building Blown Open and Robbed.

New York, Feb. 17.—Burglars gained an entrance to the building at No. 25 Park row, occupied by the Dennett Surpassing Coffee company, through a skylight some time between 12:30 o'clock Sunday morning and 4:30 o'clock last evening and blew open with dynamite six safes and stole the contents, which, at present, are estimated to have been $2,175. The interior of the restaurant is exposed to passers-by on the street by bright lights, and there are no curtains to obstruct the view. Park row, which is the newspaper centre, is always crowded, and especially at night. Notwithstanding this fact, the burglars removed the safe which stood beside the cashier's desk on the ground floor and in full view from the street and pushed it around under the stairway leading to the second floor. Here they blew off the door, the explosion almost wrecking the safe. The burglars then entered the office of the general manager of the Dennett company on the third floor of the building and blew open a safe which contained $175 in cash, stock in the Dennett company to the value of $60,000 and a check for $100. Only the cash was taken. Outside of the manager's office were four safes in which the clerks placed the money of the concern. These safes were all blown open and the cash removed. It is the belief of the police, although they do not appear enthusiastic in giving expression to it, that a gang of professional burglars has arrived in this city.

NEW YORK LEGISLATURE.

Matters of Importance To Be Considered During the Present Week.

Albany, Feb. 17.—Dr. Parkhurst, the New York city reform preacher, will be at the capitol during the present week to attend the hearing on Senator Pavey's bill providing for the reorganization of the police force of New York city at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon before the senate committee. Police Commissioner Roosevelt and the other police commissioners may also be present. The Raines excise bill is nearing completion and will be ready for report in each house the first part of the week. In the assembly Mr. Horton's anti-sparring bill will receive some attention, for it will be on the order of second reading to-night. The introducer claims that the measure will not be antagonized this year as it was last. The bill does not prohibit sparring absolutely, but allows it within the building of a duly incorporated athletic club. It is expected that to-night Mr. Butts will call from the table his resolution urgingcongress to make an appropriation for the purchase of Cuba.

DECISION AGAINST STERN.

Final Action of the Bavarian Minister in the Forfeited Bail Matter.

Berlin, Feb. 17.—Baron von Leonrod, Bavarian minister of justice, has rendered a final decision that it would be impossible to refund the 80,000 marks, the amount of bail forfeited by Louis Stern of New York by his failure to surrender himself and serve the sentence of fine and imprisonment imposed upon him by the court for insulting Baron von Thuengen, deputy commissioner of the Spa, at Kissengen. The pardon, which had been granted him through the proclamation of amnesty issued by the prince regent, only benefited Stern in so far as it enabled him to return to Bavaria without being compelled to serve out his sentence.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S SORROW.

She Thanks the Nation for Its Sympathy on the Death of Battenberg.

London, Feb. 17.—A message from the queen to the nation has just been issued. In it her majesty expresses her thanks for the sympathy extended to her on the occasion of the death of her son-in-law, Prince Henry of Battenberg, and says: "This new sorrow is overwhelming. I lose a dear, loved and helpful son, whose presence was like a bright sunbeam in my home, and my daughter loses a noble and devoted husband, to whom she was united by the closest affection."

Nansen Story Still Discredited.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Incredulity still reigns supreme among the scientists in Washington best qualified to form an opinion on the subject as to the reported return of Nansen, the Norwegian Arctic explorer and the still more remarkable story without details of his having drifted to the North Pole and drifted back again.

Accused of Killing His Wife.

Lancaster, Pa., Feb. 17.—John Herr, aged 50 years of Columbia, was arrested yesterday, charged with choking to death his wife, of about the same age. The dead body of the woman was found in her home Saturday night. Herr is supposed to have committed the crime while intoxicated.

Dog Club Reciprocity.

Toronto, Feb. 17.—The executive committee of the Canadian Kennel club has appointed a delegate to confer with the American club with the view of renewing the old reciprocity between the clubs. It was decided that dogs with cropped ears were notl eligible for prizes at shows.

Ebenezer Porter Dyer Dead.

Springfield, Mass., Feb. 17.—Ebenezer Porter Dyer, aged 56, managing editor of the Springfield Union, died at his home in this city yesterday of pneumonia and other complications Mr Dyer was born at Stowe, Vt., November 9, 1839, and was graduated from Amherst in 1861.

Twenty-two Below Zero.

Utica, N. Y., Feb. 17.—The temperature at midnight last night in Utica was 12 degrees below zero; at Fulton Chain, 15 below; Malone, 18 below, and at Saranac Lake, 22 below.

AID FOR ARMENIANS

Turkish Relief Commissions To Be Formed in the Provinces.

CLARA BARTON AT CONSTANTINOPLE

Moslems Killed by a Falling Veranda While Watching a Group of Refugees —Details of the Massacres at Ourfa.

London, Feb. 17.—The United Press correspondent at Constantinople sends the following information: When the three hundred refugees from Furnuz were in the third church at Marash, a large number of curious Moslems gathered on the veranda of a neighboring house to look at them. The veranda broke and several Moslems were killed. Similar to the relief commission at Constantinople, Turkish relief commissions will be formed in the provinces. At Smyrna two such have been formed: the one to give aid and the other for rebuilding the houses. This commission is under the presidency of Kiamil Pasha, governor of Aidin.

Massacres at Ourfa.

The following is a letter dated at Ourfa from Miss Corinna Shattuck: "We had often heard that the Moslems were dissatisfied with the attempt of October 28, which resulted in the destruction of only forty lives and about £150,000 worth of goods, the plunder of 600 shops and 289 houses. After this the Christians were all completely disarmed by the government. Some eighty men had been imprisoned, and it was feared that there would be another scene of terror. It came at last with great suddenness. On Saturday, December 28, the firing of a few guns in the Muslem quarter proved the signal. Immediately an immense multitude gathered on the hill on the side of the city. The guards in the streets went to meet the people, fired a few shots over their heads and then allowed the mass of wild humanity, thirsty for blood, to pass into the city and begin their work. The horrid work continued until dark. Three soldiers kept the mob back from a street which they wished to guard, constantly proclaiming: 'It is the house of a foreigner, whom it is forbidden to touch.' I saw one man beaten and then shot down on the roof just opposite to me on the other side of the street. The Syrians and Roman Catholics were also spared.

Probably 4,000 Butchered.

"All the Christians suffered complete loss of all home furnishings and some houses burned. The number of killed cannot be less than 3,500 and may reach 4,000. Of these it is estimated that 1,500 perished in the great Gregorian church. On Saturday that portion of the city was hardly touched, and great numbers of Armenians flocked to the church for safety that night. Sunday morning the work began again at daybreak, and when the men reached the church the soldiers broke open the doors. Then entering they began the butchery, which became a great holocaust. It was participated in by many classes of Muslems. For two days the air of the city was unendurable. Then began the clearing up. During two days we saw constantly men lugging sacks filled with bones and ashes. The dragging off of 1,500 bodies for burial in trenches was more quickly completed, some being taken on animals.

Bodies Taken from Wells.

"The last work of all has been the clearing of the wells. From one very large well it is said that sixty bodies were taken. It is well authenticated that twenty bodies were taken from another well. About 300 persons escaped from the church by way of the roof, which was reached by a narrow staircase on the inside. Shortly after noon on Sunday, some fifteen or more of the prominent citizens and government officials, not including the mutessarif, or the military commander, preceded by a military band and mounted guard, made a grand parade of the city. They entered the enclosure of foreigners and assured them of perfect safety and begged them not to be alarmed, as 'it was nothing that pertained to them.'

Caring for the Wounded.

"The work of plunder is complete. Literally naught remains. Our wounded are many. I have many under my immediate care. Most of these have several severe wounds. One has eleven, one has sixteen, ghastly sword and axe cuts on head and neck. There are few gunshot wounds. There is only one doctor for the whole city and he has 350 and cannot care for more, nor for these but in part. We dress most of the wounds in the church. The American schoolrooms (all but one used as head quarters of the guard) are crowded with some 250 or 300 of the most forlorn and needy. The government provides about 200 loaves of bread per day for the poor. But all this kindness will soon come to an end, and utter poverty will be the lot of most."

Miss White Dies in Turkey.

Constantinople, Feb. 17.—The representative of the United Press in this city learns that Miss White, a member of the family of Rev. George E. White, an American missionary at Marsovan, has died from small-pox.

Miss Barton Arrives at Constantinople.

Constantinople, Feb. 17.—Miss Clara Barton and her colleagues of the Red Cross society, have arrived here.

The Stranded Steamer Otranto.

Fire Island, N. Y., Feb. 17.—The stranded steamer Otranto is being closely watched by the wrecking tug Chapman, the crew of which launched a surf boat and laid two kedge anchors from the stern of the Otranto. Mr. Chapman says if the wind goes down by this evening and the tide is full, they will make a strong effort to float the Otranto.

HOOD'S PILLS Cure Biliousness

Tonight

If your liver is out of order, causing Biliousness, Sick Headache, Heartburn or Constipation, take a dose of Hood's Pills on retiring, and to-morrow your digestive organs will be regulated and you will be bright, active and ready for any kind of work. This has been the experience of others; it will be yours if you take Hood's Pills. 25c.

GEO. O. STEVENS OAL 747 WEST FRONT ST.

Branch office with

G. A. HALLOCK,

109 West Front st.

A. Lusardi,

120 North Ave.,

will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c a qt. Branch store, corner Front and Somerset streets.

Telephone 29b. Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON,

Plumbing and Hot Water Heating.

Have your plumbing system tested with the smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system

Opposite Roberts's Livery. 132 North ave.

W. L. & J. M. Smalley,

—DEALERS IN—

HIGH GRADE

Meats,

& Meat Specialties

Beef, Lamb, Mutton, Veal and Pork

Poultry and Game in season.

94 Somerset st., Plainfield N. J.

Telephone Call 12-B.

EXTRA FINE

Jersey Poultry

AT LOWEST PRICES.

Turkeys, Chickens and Ducks

Genuine Philadelphia Scrapple, Taylor's Prepared Ham, Pork Tenderloins.

Great Reduction

in price of all kinds of

MEAT

Headquarters for Jersey pork, bologna and Delacatessen. Jersey pork and Sausage 10c lb.

A. G. Vogeler.

131 West Front st.

NOTICE.

Special Reductions

—AT—

Neuman Bros.

on fancy brands goods. Full quart bottles table oil 60c, finest quality; whole canned ox tongue 45c; lunch tongue, whole, 25c; a special reduction given on Curtis' strawberry and assorted jams, 16c; fresh roasted coffees received every week, quality unexcelled.

NEUMAN BROS.

What! $30.00?

Yes, thirty dollars will buy a piano, in first-class condition, at

W. R. BROKAW'S

Piano Parlors, 311 Madison ave.

Tuning and regulating a specialty

Advertised Letters.

Plainfield, February 10, 1896.

Adams J H	Leonard A W
Barton A J	Neugem Agnes Miss
Codington B	McMann Thos
Duchene E Miss	Moore Elmer
Feil A F S	McEvoy Kate J 3
Fisk Clinton B	McKeef Lara Mrs
Hustner Jno	Palmberg Elen Miss 2
Johnson Charlie	Perine Chas
Johnson Hilder Miss	Prentiss S S
Kline Mellie Miss	Storme G W
King T P 2	Snediker Dare

Holiday Millinery Goods.

MRS. L. ADAMS,

114 EAST FRONT STREET,

Opp. First National Bank.

Dressmaking and Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns.

S. D. FRAZEE,

DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF

FRESH FISH.

Fresh every day. Terms cash. Goods delivered.

230 Park ave., 000 North ave

Musicfurnished for all occasions.

California IN

THREE DAYS

without change of cars. All meals served in dining cars. Palace drawing-room sleeping cars and tourist sleepers are run through to San Francisco and Los Angeles without change, leaving Chicago daily via

THE NORTH-WESTERN LINE

Through Tourist sleeping cars Chicago to California daily and personally conducted excursions every Thursday. Variable route tourist tickets at

VERY LOW RATES.

Detailed information and descriptive pamphlets will be mailed free on application to W. B. Kniskern, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago. Agents of connecting lines sell tickets via the

Chicago & North Western Railway,

or address: H. A. Gross, G. E. P. A., 423 Broadway, New York, or T. P. Vaille, S. E. P. A., 112 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

FOR GIFTS and LIGHT buy "MILLER" LAMPS

Elegant designs (a thousand styles), Beautiful finishes, and the best lamp made—up-to-date in every respect. Call and see it, also our Fine Brass and Onyx Tables. Buy only "Miller" lamps from dealers. We have been manufacturers since 1844.——made "The Rochester" Lamp.

EDWARD MILLER & CO., 28 & 30 WEST BROADWAY, (66 Park Pl.) bet. Park Pl. & Barclay St., N. Y.

Convenient to all "down-town" Ferries, and Elevated Stations at Park Place and Barclay St.

For Cool Weather buy a "MILLER" OIL HEATER.

FOR SALE BY W. L GAVETT & CO.

Freshest Oysters

will be found at

Rogers' Sea-Food Market.

THE HALLET & DAVIS PIANOS

Have stood the test of over fifty-five (55) years

and are not surpassed by any in the world. Prices, $300 and upwards. Our special 3-year payment plan makes purchase easy. We have other makes of new pianos at $200. Good squares at $75, and we give a full 5-year warranty with everything we sell. Old instruments taken in exchange. Send for illustrated catalogue giving full information.

The Tway Piano Co.,

88 FIFTH AVE.,

near 14th st., New York.

"Tway's Musical Guest," containing 8 pages of music, interesting reading matter and theatrical news, mailed free on application. 10 3 6m

COAL

F. W. HAND,

132 North avenue.
929 South avenue.
197 North avenue.
Telephone No. 139

"Ever Ready" PREPARED

Buckwheat Flour.

Home-made and sold on its merits. Sold by all grocers and made by

FRENCH BROTHERS,

City Mills. 24 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 WATCHUNG AVE.,

—DEALERS IN—

Lumber, Coal Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement for Walls and Ceilings.

Leech, Stiles & Co.,

EYE SPECIALISTS.

1413 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa.,

formerly with Queen & Co. H. A. Stiles will be at

1o7 East Front Street,

Dunham's real estate office,

EVERY THURSDAY

from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Skilful attention given to all cases of eye strain, headache, etc. No charge for examination. All glasses guaranteed.

Bargains in Real Estate

For sale or to let.

MONEY

to loan on first mortgage.

E. C. Mulford,

No. 169 North avenue.
Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.

BROKER.

Communications pertaining to the business mentioned, either by letter or otherwise, will receive prompt attention. Carriage service supplied.

THE
Bee Hive

Men's Unlaundered Shirts.

Lot 1—The Cast Iron Shirt, made of good heavy muslin, good 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, patent facings, 38c.
Lot 2—New York mills muslin, 3-ply, fine linen bosoms, reinforced front and back, patent facing, 48c.
Lot 3—Our New York mills shirt, made of New York mills muslin, 2 and 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, continuous facings and hand-made button holes, equal to the best custom-made shirt, 69c.
Boys' unlaundered shirts 38 cts. Laundered shirts 50c, 75c and $1.

Louis Callman,
222 West Front st.

CLEANER COAL.
L. A. Rheaume
Agent,
Watchung Ave., Corner 4th St.,

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

Upper Lehigh and Honeybrook Coal
in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

Rough and Dressed Lumber.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for turning and scroll sawing, and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner and at short notice.

H. Eggerding,
121 Park ave.,
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars

CODDINGTON'S
Furniture and Freight
EXPRESS.
Offices 24 West Front st; 33 Park ave. Post-office box 329. Piano moving a specialty. Large covered trucks; goods sent to any part of the country; charges reasonable; satisfaction guaranteed

PLAINFIELD SEMINARY
re-opened
SEPTEMBER 19, 1895.
(28th year.) Miss E. E. Kenyon, Principal.

Finest Assortment
of Lace, Celluloid and Card
Valentines
in the city.
HARPER'S,
411 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.

W. N. Pangborn,
LICENSED AUCTIONEER, Residence, 33 Linden Ave.
Personal attention. Prompt service.
1 14 tf

GREAT SACRIFICE SALE.
The remainder of Fur Capes, Jackets and Boas from H. Kohn, 318 West Front street, will be sold at Karet's Fur Parlor,
49 Craig Place. All fur repairing done.

William Hand & Son.
STAGES
For Picnics and Parties, 518 Park ave.

GEO J. TOBIN,
187 North Avenue.
Practical Plumber.
Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer.
Telephone Call 158a

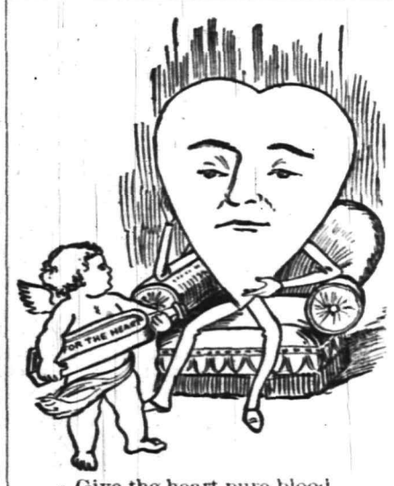
TOWNSEND'S
Marble and Granite Works,
SOMERSET STREET.
Our motto—Good work, good material at fair rices.

THE GRANDVIEW
Meat Market.
George Egel, Manager.
Dealer in Fresh and Salted Meats. Game in season. Orders called for and delivered promptly. Cor. Grandview ave. and Somerset street.
6 12 tf

Special Sale
—OF—
Muslins
SATURDAY ONLY.

Fruit of Loom, Hill Lonsdale and other standard brands, 10 yards 65c.
The best brands unbleached muslins at 6 cents per yard.
Good quality in bleached and unbleached at 5 cents per yard.
The standard brands of white sheetings at lower prices than quoted elsewhere.

LEDERER'S.



Give the heart pure blood.
Randolph's
Sarsaparilla,
A great blood cleanser.
Only 50c Per Bottle.
L. W. RANDOLPH,
Prescription Druggist,
143 West Front st.

PIANOS.
You can buy the best in the market at Factory Prices, at
J. C. DYER'S, 218 WEST FRONT ST.

New Fish Market,
125 Park Ave.
E. P. THORN
solicits a share of the public patronage. First quality
Fish, Oysters, Clams, &c
TERMS CASH. 11 7 tf

See Our Name,
Take Our Number,
Call and See Our Goods.
Woolston & Buckle,
141 and 145 North ave.

Eagle Meat Market,
35 Somerset Street.
Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Orders called for and delivered free of charge.
C. ARNOLD, Prop.

Miss Fawcett's School
And Kindergarten,
25 WASHINGTON AVENUE.
North Plainfield, N. J.
Re-opened Thursday, Sept. 12.
Primary, Intermediate and Academic Dept's. Boys received until 10 years of age.

FISCHER PIANOS.
56 YEARS ESTABLISHED.
GRAND AND UPRIGHT.
Nearly 100,000 Manufactured.
EASY TERMS. EXCHANGED.
REASONABLE PRICES.
FISCHER PIANO WAREROOMS,
110 Fifth Ave., cor. 16th St., N. Y.
Write for Catalogue.

Ornamenting
It recently occurred to Tiffany & Co., the New York jewelers, to ornament a bicycle elaborately with gold, silver, and precious stones, believing that some wealthy customer would esteem so handsome a mount. They preferred to pay $100 each for Columbia Bicycles
For their purpose to using any other make of wheel. There must be no question of quality in a bicycle selected for such ornamentation. Therefore they chose Columbias
STANDARD OF THE WORLD
Unequalled, Unapproached.
Beautiful Art Catalogue of Columbia and Hartford Bicycles is free if you call upon any Columbia agent; by mail from us for two 2-cent stamps.
POPE MANUFACTURING CO.
Factories and General Offices, Hartford, Conn.
Branch Stores and Agencies in almost every city and town. If Columbias are not properly represented in your vicinity let us know.

Carpenters and Builders.

JOHN P. EMMONS,
Mason and Builder,
Washington avenue and Prospect place,
North Plainfield, N. J.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

PEARSON & GAYLE,
Carpenters and Builders.
Residence—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine st. H. E. Gayle, No. 18 Vine st.
All work promptly attended to.

GEO. W. STUDER,
Carpenter and Builder.
985 Arlington avenue.
Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given, charges reasonable.

C. W. LINES.
Mason and Builder,
Plainfield, N. J.
Residence, 18 Elm place.
Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to

HOTEL Grenada,
NORTH AVENUE.
Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.

CITY HOTEL,
Plainfield, N. J.
Corner Park avenue and Second street.
J. E. Beerbower, Prop
Stables attached

J. W. VanSickle, Dealer in all kinds of
FRESH AND SALTED MEATS.
Game in season. No. 122 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Telephone 148b. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

L. A. HUMMER'S
VARIETY MARKET.
Meats, fruits, vegetables, poultry, eggs, etc. Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge.
120 Park avenue. Telephone call 29-A

No Place Like Home

on Christmas day. No day like Christmas at home. Christmas will be merrier the more home like the home. Our great holiday sale of wall paper should attract all whose houses need papering.
Marsh, Ayers & Co.

WORK IN CONGRESS

Appropriation Bills the Programme for This Week.

MORE TALK ON FOREIGN RELATIONS

The Dupont Case To Be Reported in the Senate This Week—Adjournment Talk Already Heard—Anxious To Get Through by June.

Washington, Dec. 17.—The present week in the senate will be devoted to action on appropriation bills and discussion on our relations with foreign powers. The better part of the week, not counting unexpected matters that may be injected during the morning hour will be given over to the consideration of the military academy bill, which now has the right of way, and the pension, and consular and diplomatic appropriation bills. These will exhaust the appropriations so far reported to the senate by the committee, but inasmuch as the consular and diplomatic bill may cause a general discussion of foreign affairs it is assumed that the entire week will be consumed in disposing of the appropriation measures now on the calendar. It is doubtful if Mr. Morrill will endeavor to call up the tariff bill again this week. Republicans who have carefully canvassed the situation say that such a motion would tend to complicate matters and that no good can grow out of it until they have brought about a cohesion of sentiment in their own ranks and secured the necessary one vote from the ranks of the populists. This, at present, seems impossible, and Mr. Morrill, it is believed, will not renew his motion until he is sure of its success.

Mr. Davis' Monroe Doctrine Speech.

To-day Mr. Davis, of the foreign relations committee and author of the resolution reported from the committee enunciating the Monroe doctrine, which has not yet been passed and possibly never will be passed, will address the senate upon that resolution. This speech has been anticipated for some time with a great deal of interest owing to the advanced ground taken by Mr. Davis and his familiarity with the whole subject. Mr. Davis is one of the closest students in the senate and his speech is expected to set forth the position of the ultra-radicals on the subject in a clearer light than has yet been cast upon it. The Cuban resolution, supplemented recently by an additional report from the committee on foreign relations declaring it to be the opinion of congress that this government should remain neutral and grant all parties in the struggle now pending in Cuba equal rights, has the right of way as the unfinished business, temporarily displaced by the appropriation bills, and it will doubtless call out a number of speeches during the time that appropriation bills may be under consideration.

The Delaware Contest.

Mr. Mitchell, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, will to-day submit to the senate the majority report on the Dupont (Delaware) case, in favor of seating Mr. Dupont. The minority report, in the hands of Mr. Gray, will soon follow, and this matter, involving a question of the highest privilege, may at any moment be called up for consideration. An early adjournment is already talked of. A few senators are hopeful that congress may get through by the first of June. Among some of the republican leaders every nerve is being strained to accomplish this result so that nothing may interfere with their attendance upon the national conventions and the campaigns that will immediately follow.

House of Representatives.

There is nothing in sight in the house but appropriation bills. When the house adjourned Saturday afternoon, general debate had just been concluded on the bill making appropriations for the agricultural department for the next fiscal year, but Chairman Wadsworth expects that a day or two more at least will be consumed in the discussion of the bill under the five minute rule. There are, it is understood, other members than those who expressed their opinion Saturday, who desire to say things about Secretary Morton's refusal to expend the appropriation made in the bill for the current year, for the distribution of seeds. Beside the agricultural bill there is on the calendar the army appropriation bill, and the Indian bill is ready to be reported. On Wednesday or Thursday the appropriations committee will probably have completed the preparation of the legislative, executive and judicial bill. The resolution from the foreign affairs committee regarding Ambassador Bayard's speeches will not be brought forward so as to antagonize in any way the progress of appropriation bills.

COAL OUTPUT LAST YEAR.

Over 8,000,000 Tons Mined in the Fourth District of Pennsylvania.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 17.—Mine inspector C. M. Williams of the Fourth district, anthracite region, has just completed his report for the year 1895. It shows the total production of coal to have been 8,066,412 tons. During the year there were 74 fatal and 221 non fatal accidents in the mines of the district.

Aosta Wants To Lead His Soldiers.

Rome, Feb. 17.—The Duke of Aosta, nephew of King Humbert, has begged his majesty and Gen. Mocenni, minister of war, to allow him to take command of the men of his regiment, the fifth artillery, who have been selected to reinforce the Italian army operating against the Abyssinians.

Fatal Fire in a London Suburb.

London, Feb. 17.—A lodging house in Soho, this city, was destroyed by fire yesterday. Eight persons were killed.

STARVED AND ILL-TREATED.

Awful Sufferings Related by the Crew of an American Ship.

New York, Feb. 17.—Conditions on board of the American ship El Capitan, from Japan, bid fair to produce serious trouble for the master of that vessel. The El Capitan arrived at Quarantine on Saturday last and is now held by Health Officer Doty pending an examination into the cause of illness among the crew. One seaman suffering from dysentery was removed to Swinburne island for treatment. Another seaman, Eric Lindsen, was in a very weak and emaciated condition and died shortly after the vessel came to anchor. Lindsen's shipmates informed the coroner that they had been badly treated and almost starved. Owing to the long time at sea, there was more or less sickness on board the El Capitan. Dysentery and scurvy broke out among the crew, and all hands suffered at times with these complaints. All of the crew are anxious to escape from the ship, and several said they would swim ashore were not the distance too great. A number of these men have been on board of the ship for fourteen months, and it is said have large sums due them for wages. Eight of the crew are suffering from an affection of the eyes known as moon-blink, caused by sleeping in the moonlight. The men can see during the daytime, but are totally blind at night.

CALLS IT PERSECUTION.

Diamond Inspector Keek Says Jealous Competitors Caused His Arrest.

Philadelphia, Feb. 17. — Herman Keek, of the Costormans, Heinrichs, Keek Diamond Cutting company, of Cincinnati, one of the largest importing houses of gems in the country who was held in $3,000 bail for appearance in the United States court to answer to the charge of complicity in an attempt to smuggle in about $10,000 worth of diamonds which were seized on board the steamer Rhynland last week, denounces his arrest in the severest terms and denies ever having known the captain of the Rhynland. He stated that his father was the pioneer in the diamond cutting industry in the west and that he was now his father's successor. "Jealous diamond dealers, who have a protective society, brought it all about," he said, "and are prosecuting me far and near." He also claimed to have paid $100,000 in the last few months for duties.

LILIUOKALANI PARDONED.

The Ex-Hawaiian Queen Must Not, However, Leave Oahu at Present.

San Francisco, Feb. 17 (Special correspondence of the United Press) Honolulu, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Liliuokalani Dominis, ex-queen of Hawaii, was yesterday granted an almost unconditional pardon for participation in the uprising of Jan. 1895. The document reads as follows. "With the advice of the cabinet, I take pleasure in modifying the restriction placed upon your freedom at the time of your release from confinement. Until further notice, only the observance on your part of the following conditions will be required by the government: Not to leave the island of Oahu without the consent of the president or a member of the cabinet. I desire to express my appreciation of the good faith with which you have observed the requirements of a former letter.

SANFORD B. DOLE.

KILLED AN INSANE PATIENT.

Brown and Swan, Hospital Attendants, Convicted of Manslaughter.

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 17.—After fourteen hours consideration the jury in the case of Daniel Brown and John J. Swan, charged with causing the death of Leon Pisa at the state insane hospital at Farnhurst, found them guilty of manslaughter, and Michael J. Lynch, who was indicted with Brown and Swan, was acquitted, but he is also charged with assault and battery. The penalty for manslaughter is a fine of from $400 to $4,000 and from one to five years in prison. Brown, Swan and Lynch were attendants in the hospital and Pisa was a patient. The men were charged with beating Pisa and inflicting the injuries that caused his death.

SUFFERED GREAT AGONY.

Police Lieutenant Doe Dies at Lynn, Mass., from Hydrophobia.

Lynn, Mass., Feb. 17.—Lieutenant Nelson H. Doe, after having suffered indescribable agonies for forty-eight hours, died at 6:30 last evening at the Lynn hospital of hydrophobia. The application of electricity, which was to have been tried Saturday evening, had to be abandoned owing to the intractibility of the patient. Prof. Elihu Thompson said that the application would have been purely experimental as electricity had never to his knowledge been applied in a hydrophobia case. He would venture no opinion as to the probable result.

Died in His Cell in Prison.

Hudson, N. Y., Feb. 17.—Charles McDarby, a prisoner in the county jail in this city under indictment for the murder of 80-year-old Caroline Proper of Gallatin, died sometime during Saturday night in his cell. His death was the result of a sickness contracted since his confinement in the jail last November.

Overdue Vessel Arrives.

New York, Feb. 17.—The German ship Freiburg, which was posted for several days among the overdue deep water ships, has arrived safely after a prolonged passage of 171 days. She encountered several gales and passed large icebergs, but came out all right.

Abandoned the K. of L.

Lynn, Mass., Feb. 17.—The first break in the ranks of the Knights of Labor in this city occurred yesterday when the members of Heeler's union, K. of L., were organized into Union 36, Boot and Shoe Workers' union.

DULL COURT SEASON

Kaiser's Latest Feud Interferes with Berlin Festivities.

OUT WITH THE FRENCH AMBASSADOR

Baron Berenberger Points Out One of the Dangers of the Roentgen Rays—Germany Recognizes Ferdinand as Ruler of Bulgaria.

Berlin, Feb. 17.—The Berlin season reached its climax on Wednesday upon the occasion of the annual subscription ball, which took place in the Berlin opera house. The present season has been in all respects the dullest of any social season since the accession of Emperor William to the imperial throne. This may be readily accounted for in the withdrawal from Berlin of such eminent social leaders as Prince Frederick of Hohenzollern, Prince Albert of Saxe-Altenburg, the Duke and Duchess of Ratibor, the Prince and Princess of Stolberg-Wernigerode and the Prince and Princess of Pless, all of whom have been moved to quit the capital through differences with the emperor, whose arbitrary manners have become intolerable to those who were accustomed to the social courtesy which prevailed during the reign of the old emperor, William I. These causes have combined greatly to reduce the number of aristocratic entertainments in Berlin, and the tradesmen have consequently suffered. The annual subscription ball is one of the functions of the year at which those who are in no way attached to the court circle and are not recognized as being eligible to association with the higher circles are permitted to mix with the court personages. At this function in the old days it was the custom of the king of Prussia to select a burgher's daughter for a partner and dance with her, but nowadays the court merely deigns to join a stately walk-around, the emperor, the empress and the officials of the imperial household marching in procession to the music of Strauss's polonaise. At Wednesday evening's ball the crush exceeded that of any that has been known in the experience of the oldest habitue of this function. A crowd numbering thousands, among whom were many ladies, respiendent with diamonds; bankers, manufacturers and other representatives of the wealthiest class of the community waited to view the imperial procession, but they waited in vain, and it was some time before anyone realized that there was to be no procession. Everybody was asking what had happened to cause the emperor, who is a stickler for traditional customs, to abandon the precedent which has endured for years.

Feud with the French Ambassador.

Though the public did not know, the court knew and the diplomatic circle also knew. The emperor has a feud with M. Herbette, the French ambassador, who was present in his double capacity as a foreign ambassador and dean of the diplomatic corps. It has been the unvarying rule at this function that at the conclusion of the court procession the imperial party pay a visit to the diplomatic group and be received by the dean of the corps. The emperor decided to avoid a reception by M. Herbette and therefore ordered that the procession be abandoned. This slight seems to be a personal one, but it may possibly have important political results.

Dangers of the Roentgen Rays.

Baron von Buol-Berenberg, president of the reichstag, issued invitations last week to the ministers and members of the reichstag, the bundesrath and the German press to be present at a special exhibition of the Roentgen rays, which was given by Prof. Speiss in the session hall of the reichstag last Thursday. The great hall was crowded and most of the ministers were present. Prof. Speiss, after making a number of experiments, delivered an explanatory address in which he suggested that science would soon be so developed that they would be able to photograph the contents of secret documents through the letter boxes. The only means of safety the ministers had, he said, was to use letter boxes made of lead.

Will Recognize Ferdinand.

Freiheer Marschall von Bieberstein, minister of foreign affairs, has informed the Turkish ambassador that Germany will recognize Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria as the rightful ruler of Bulgaria. Lieut.-Col. Ludlow, military attache to the United States embassy to Great Britain, passed through Berlin last week on his return from a tour of inspection of the Corinth canal.

French Cabinet Will Not Resign.

Paris, Feb. 17.—Prime Minister Bourgeois yesterday afternoon visited the Palace of the Elysee and informed President Faure that the cabinet had decided unanimously not to resign in consequence of the two votes in the senate blaming the government for the appointment of Judge Poitevin to conduct the inquiry into the Southern railway scandal.

Labor Trouble at Haverhill.

Haverhill, Mass., Feb. 17.—It is very quiet at labor headquarters to-day and there is a good outlook for a peaceful settlement of the turned work price list. It is not believed that a strike of any magnitude will occur. The list will probably be accepted by a large majority of the turned work manufacturers.

Fire in a Newspaper Office.

Erie, Pa., Feb. 17.—Fire in the Herald Publishing company's building yesterday afternoon entirely destroyed the box factory and some valuable machinery. The newspaper department was not injured but the damage to the stock was about $10,000.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

Published Daily, except Sunday, at 3:30 p. m.

105 North avenue. Telephone Call 61.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., FEB. 17, 1896

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Monday. Fair Tonight. Stationary Temperature. Tuesday. Fair and Warmer.

At 2 o'Clock Leggett's Thermometer Registered 23 Degrees.

COMING EVENTS.

Announcements of all meetings, etc., will be made in this column, free of charge, if copy is furnished by 10 a. m.

February 17—Masquerade ball at Sangerbund Hall.
February 17—Last Assembly at the Casin .
February 17—Lunch box sociable of Sons of Temperance.
February 20—Annual supper of the ladies of of Monroe Avenue Chapel.
February 21—Second lecture in Mrs. D. P. Hall's series at the Seminary by Prof. W. Hudson Shaw.
February 21—Martha Washington tea at First Presbyterian church.
February 21—Sociable at Grace M. E. church.
February 21—"Westerner" at Music Hall.

The Lazy Legislaturer convenes again this evening.

Lent commences next Wednesday. Seldom has the anti-lenten social season been as quiet in Plainfield as it has been this year. There has not been one real large society event thus far this season.

Since the introduction of the anti-cigarette bill in the Legislature The Newark Advertiser says that among others, Assemblyman Reed, of Somerset, now do all their their thinking with a briar wood stuck between their teeth.

There is no political trap laid in the anti-cigarette bill now before the Legislature, but a large number of the members of both houses regard it with some awe. Many of Legislators are addicted to the use of the little roll of paper and tobacco, and while they do not wish to openly antagonize the moral element who are seeking its passage, yet they view its presence on the calendar with a feeling that they are between the devil and the deep sea. If they oppose it the wrath of its projectors will descend on their heads, if they support it their position will be highly inconsistent inasmuch as most of them think the cigarette is not as bad as pictured, and if they fail to stand either one way or the other, they will be subject to condemnation for a lack of moral courage.

The appropriation bills already introduced in the Legislature this year aggregate more than a quarter of a million dollars and most of them are likely to pass both houses. The measures in the Senate provide for $140,000 for an armory in Camden; $50,000 for the Rahway Reformatory; $30,000 for the Jamesburg Reform School; $15,000 for an epileptic colony; $10,000 for an examination of the valley of the Passaic; $6,500 for a State Board of Animal Industry, and $6,000 for a house for women nurses at the Soldiers' Home. Aside from the usual appropriation for inaugural expenses, the House of Assembly has voted $500 to the commissioners who are to report on the advisability of establishing a home for old soldiers and their wives. It will soon be called upon to consider measures appropriating $5,000 for tablets on the battlefield of Chicamuga and $500 for the commissioners; and $1,000 for investigating the San Jose scale pest and its extermination. There are also other appropriation bills waiting for a favorable time for introduction.—Trenton True American.

Nothing Like It.

Time brings many changes, but the climate of California, "The Italy of America," and the attractions of the many famous health and pleasure resorts, are the same yesterday, today and forever.

Tourists never will tire of speaking in praise of the soft and balmy air, the profusion of flowers, the magnificent display of fruits, the luxury of seabathing and the beautiful walks and drives.

Then, too, it must be conceded that with such excellent equipment, consisting of Reclining Chair Cars, Pullman Palace Sleepers and Pullman Dining Cars, all heated by steam and lighted with Pintsch Light, the Union Pacific, "The Overland Route," is the tourists favorite. Ask your agents for tickets via this route.

E. L. Lomax, General Pass. and Ticket Agent, Omaha, Neb.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for rheumatism and neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75c. Sold by H. P. Reynolds, druggist, Park and North avenues. 2 12 y —A regular meeting of John Hand Camp, No. 28, S. of V., will be held tomorrow evening.

"Give me a liver regulator and I can regulate the world," said a genius. The druggists handed him a bottle of DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. J. Phelan, of Long Branch, is visiting friends in this city.

Mrs. Denton, of East Front street, is convalescing from a severe illness.

Mrs. Sampson, of Dunellen, has returned home after visiting Plainfield friends.

Miss Bertha Needham, of Jackson avenue, is the guest of New York friends.

Mrs. S. P. Brown, of Dunellen, was the guest of Plainfield relatives on Saturday.

Stone Square Lodge, No. 10, F. and A. M., will hold an important meeting this evening.

H. S. Mason, of East Sixth street, is able to be out again after a long and severe illness.

Miss Jessie Hiltner, of New York, is visiting Miss Matguerite Yerkes, of Central avenue.

Miss May Anderson, daughter of John L Anderson, is confined to her home by illness.

Miss Joy, of Philadelphia, is a guest at the home of her brother, J. R. Joy, of Willow avenue.

Emil Woltman, of West Seventh street, arrived home yesterday from his European trip.

Miss Haynes, who has been visiting friends in this city, has returned to her home in Dunellen.

Miss Provost, of Trenton, is a guest at the home of Chief Engineer T. O. Doane and family, of West Fifth street.

Miss Emma C. Taylor, of Trenton, spent Sunday with her friend, Miss Mary E. Robinson, of East Fifth street.

Harry Brokaw, of Duer street, is now in the employ of George J. Tobin, the North avenue plumber, as bookkeeper.

Mrs. George Bedford, of Prescott place, returned home today after a week's visit with relatives at New Brunswick.

Walter Walker, of Chatham street, has secured a lucrative position with the National Storage Company at Bergen Point.

Mrs. G. M. Rittenhouse and daughter Frances, of East Sixth street, returned home Saturday after a visit in Philadelphia.

R. Percy Fish, Jr., of Chicago, returned home Saturday, after visiting at the home of his uncle, F. K. Fish, of First place.

Rev. Mr. Mitchell, who is preaching in Canada, has returned to Plainfield, where he will remain with his family until April 1st.

Charles Graves, Jr., and family, of Liberty street, returned last evening from New York where they were the guests of relatives.

Contractor E. C. Morse, of the borough, has the contract for the painting of V. W. Nash's new houses on South Second street.

The marriage of Miss Maggie Page, of Elmwood place, to George Firstbrook, will take place Wednesday evening of this week.

The Lady Cyclers will hold a card party at the home of Miss Langdon, of East Ninth street and Second place, on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mountfort, of Somerset street, are the proud parents of a young daughter, who made her debut on Lincoln's Birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Broadway, of LaGrande avenue, have returned to their home after a prolonged stay in New York. They will remain here until April, when they will make New York their permanent residence.

Wm. Roberts and Rev. Dr. Green, of Scranton, have been visiting at the home of Dan Roberts, of North avenue. Rev. Dr. Green has traveled extensively, but was especially delighted with Plainfield. The fire department headquarters particularly pleased him by its neat appearance and handy arrangement. He thought the chemical engine a very good thing and said that although Scranton had two already she was going to get two more.

How Are Your Kidneys?

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills

are endorsed by physicians and druggists. They cause the kidneys to filter all uric acid and other poisons or impurities from the blood.

Cure Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Anaemia, Pimples, Bad Blood, Bright's Disease, Malaria, Backache, Kidney Pains, Dropsy, Pain in the Abdomen, Frequent Urination, Inflammation of Kidneys, etc.

"With Excellent Results."

I received your Sparagus Kidney Pills a few days ago and have given them a trial in Cystitis, with excellent results I have tried many remedies without success, and am glad I can rely on such pleasant and easy giving remedy. R. Ign. Hubert, M. D. Richmond, Torah, P. O. Minn.

Fifty cents a box. A Valuable Book Mailed free. Hobbs Medicine Co., Chicago or San Francisco.

J. W. Pierce, Republic, Ia., says: "I have used One Minute Cough Cure in my family and for myself, with results so entirely satisfactory that I can hardly find words to express myself as to its merit. I will never fail to recommend it to others, on every occasion that presents itself." L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

"Pure and Sure."

Cleveland's BAKING POWDER.

"I have used Cleveland's Baking Powder with entire satisfaction in the preparation of breads, biscuits and cakes." JULIET CORSON, Founder of New York Cooking School.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Thomas Brantingham, of South Plainfield, is entertaining her sister.

Augustus Sutterlin, of Greenbrook road, is dangerously ill at his home.

Miss Florence Barnes, of Grove street, has been entertaining a cousin.

Harry Seymour, of Grant avenue, motorman on the street railway, is ill.

Sheriff Wyckoff, of Somerville, was the guest of friends in town on Saturday.

Mrs. McComas, of the West End, has returned from a visit to Harrisburg.

Fred Barber, of North avenue, spent Sunday in Newark at the home of his mother.

Miss Lizzie Smalley, of Craig place, spent yesterday with relatives in Cranford.

Mrs. H. D. Holly, of Somerset street, returned yesterday from a visit to Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry VanName, of Elmwood place, are visiting relatives at Staten Island.

Miss Rachel Day, of Mercer avenue, has been spending several days with friends in New York.

Edward S. Hooley and family left this morning for Florida, where they will spend several weeks.

D. W. King, of Craig place, will spend a few days this week in Brooklyn at the home of his parents.

Miss Cittel, of New York, was a guest at the home of E. B. Clark, of Crescent avenue, over Sunday.

Mr. Roome, of Staten Island, father of Mrs. Norman Barnes, of the West End, died at his home on Saturday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Thorp, of West Second street, will remove to the Manning flats on West Front street, April 1st.

Miss Huntington, daughter of Samuel Huntington, of Franklin place, has gone to Washington for a stay of some length.

Z. Taylor and daughter, Miss Florrie Taylor, of Philadelphia, have returned home after a pleasant visit with H. M. Jaquett and family, of Westervelt avenue.

Miss Sadie Rockafellow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Rockafellow, of Central avenue, returned yesterday from a five-weeks visit with relatives in Newton, Sussex county.

Abraham Hooley, who suffered a severe accident at Monroe, N. Y., last fall, has been removed to a New York hospital for treatment. It is thought that he will be a paralytic for life.

Miss Anna Miller, daughter of Isaac Miller, of Watchung avenue, gave a circulating library company Saturday evening, each guest impersonating the name of some well known book.

Miss Phœbe Mattox, daughter of Mr and Mrs. W. R. Mattox, of Webster place, left this morning with the Waite Comedy Compauy. She has been engaged to take charge of the Elmore Sisters.

J. Evarts Tracy, of Hillside avenue, was among the representative city architects who were present at the seventh annual dinner given last week in the rooms of the Architectural League, of New York.

It not only is so, it must be so, One Minute Cough Cure acts quickly, and that's what makes it go. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front S

New Market.

Charles Rogers has been entertaining Mr. Turner, of Elizabeth.

Rev. and Mrs. Fletcher are entering Mrs. Fargo, of Jersey City, for a few days.

Miss Cora Dayton will entertain the G. E. club some time this week at her residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Fletcher are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a young son

Elder Huffman, who has been conducting revival services in this place, occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

The right hand of fellowship was extended Sunday morning to the converts baptized last Sunday in the First Baptist church, and communion service was also held.

—The young people's meeting tonight in Trinity Reformed church will be led by Pastor Schenck, and special music will be a feature of the meeting. Visitors are welcome.

Take No Substitute..

Gail Borden Eagle Brand

CONDENSED MILK

Has always stood FIRST in the estimation of the American People. No other is "just as good." Best Infant Food.

Quick in effect, heals and leaves no scar. Burning, scaly skin eruptions quickly cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Applied to burns, scalds, old sores, it is magical in effect. Always cures piles. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

NOTICE.

All hackmen, truckmen and peddlers must make application to renew their licenses before Monday night, February 24th, as all licenses will expire on March 1st, and any person without a license will be required to suspend his business until one is procured.

GEO. W. GRANT,
Chief of Police.

P. MARKEY, Bakery,

144 PARK AVENUE.

A full assortment of bread, cakes, and pies fresh every day. Fig and malt bread a specialty. 2 17 tf

R. H. Rushton. J. C. Hansen. A. Luthman.

Rushton, Hansen & Luthman,

PAINTERS & PAPER HANGERS,

P. O. Box 773, Plainfield, N. J.

Interior decorating a specialty. Our motto—first-class work. Estimates cheerfully given. Orders promptly attended to. 2 11 tf

Drop a Postal to 218 West Front St.

and we will call and repair any make of sewing machines. Needles, oil and parts. The Singer M'f'g Co., 218 W. Front street. 2 17 3 eod

HONEYMAN'S PRIVATE TOURS,

181 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

February 21, to Old Point; Easter week to Washington; June 27, Coaching trip abroad, with Switzerland and Italy; August to New England; December to Mexico.

Edwin B. Maynard,

Hair Cutting and Shampooing.

Tonsorial parlor, 204 Park ave., Plainfield. Ladies' shampooing and children's hair cutting a specialty.

VISIT BOEHM'S

CROCKERY DEPARTMENT,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

Everything in the housefurnishing line up to date. Prices brought down to the lowest possible notch. We guarantee satisfaction in every respect. It is therefore to your own benefit to visit this department—it will pay you.

Novelties in Dress Goods.

AT 19C—30 inch Brilliantines, were 25c.
AT 50C—38 inch extra heavy black mohair sicilians, cheap at 65c.
AT 25C—40 inch new spring novelties, changeable effects, were 35c.
AT 25C—36 inch plaids, silk stripe effects, were 33c.
AT 12 1-2C—A very handsome line of worsted plaids well worth 19c.
AT 50C—The very latest novelties in all-wool dress goods, suitable for spring wear, fully 40in. wide, a bargain at 65c.
AT 32C—38 inch wide black brilliantines.
AT 45C—40 inch black brilliantines, silk finished, regular 59c quality.
AT 50C—Silk finished brilliantine, 40 inches wide, the 65c grade.
AT 65C—Extra fine black brilliantine, 1¼ yards wide, with an extra heavy lustre, the regular 75c quality.
Our leader for this coming season—38 inch wide black figured brilliantine in a number of new and novel designs at the uniform price of 35c a yard, well worth 45c a yard.
AT 25C—Storm serges in black and blue, 38in. wide, were 34c.
AT 45C—Beautiful fine black serges, 1¼ yds wide, a hummer, were 55c.
AT 19C—Light colored brilliantines, the very newest effects, reduced from 25c.

BOEHM'S, 113 WEST FRONT ST.

WISE PEOPLE

are Buying Their Wash Goods and Embroideries at Peck's. The Experience of Former Years Has Warned Them That Disappointment Follows Delay.

THE DALZIEL

GRAMMAR, MANUAL AND

ART SCHOOL, 309 East Front Street.

IS AN ESTABLISHED SUCCESS.

Free-hand drawing from the Antique, Pen and Ink Sketching, Clay Modeling, Painting, Designing and Mechanical Draughting. Directed by John Dalziel, late Professor of Drawing for Illustration, and Engraving at the Women's School of Design, Philadelphia, Pa.

WE are NOW preparing for Spring and Summer Outdoor Work.

EDSALL'S COMMERCIAL PALACE

1,200 Fine Brooms

Direct from the factory to Edsall's Commercial Palace. All the intermediate profits and freight, and even the ten day cash discount saved to our patrons. No such opportunity to buy first-class brooms cheap ever offered to Plainfield people.

15c Atlas 3-Sewed. VALUE 25C

23c Little Maid 3 Sewed. VALUE 33C

21 Champion 3-Sewed. VALUE 30C

24c Little Jewel 3-Sewed. VALUE 34C

26c Liberty 3 Sewed, Value 36c

27c Liberty 4 Sewed, Value 39c.

98 Cut Glass Water BOTTLES.

37 Cut Glass Finger BOWLS.

45 1½ lbs Ox Tongue Special for a Few Days.

8c Prime Shoulders The Best for the Money.

25c—Special Santos coffee, extra flavor.
69c—Ladies' 4-button kid gloves. Black and colored, worth $1.
10c—Ladies seamless black hose. Best at price.
3c—2,000 new papered covered books Popular authors and titles.
7c—Solid packed tomatoes. Finest sold at the price.
29c—Warp print Dresden ribbons, 40, 40,40, big bargains
19c—Pretty new cretones, apple blossoms.
22—New beautiful applique lace 5 in. 22c; 7 in. 28c; 10 in. 43c

Our stocks are filling up rapidly with the finest and most attractive goods for the spring trade we have ever shown. Come in and see them.

EDSALL'S

Shoe Notes.

If You Have Tender Feet Why Not Try a Pair of Our Common Sense Boots,

made on the same lines of the Kahler make. Our price $3 and $5. This is at least $1 a pair under New York City prices on the same goods. A woman's genuine dongola kid button boot for $1.19. One of our specials—woman's rubbers 24c and up. How can we undersell the other fellows? We buy direct from the manufacturers and give you the middleman's profits.

DOANE & EDSALL.

SPORTS

STRIKES AND SPARES.

TEAM POSITIONS IN STANDARD LEAGUE.

	H. S.	Won.	Lost.
Westfield	884	21	9
Roselle	893	18	10
Park	885	20	12
Union C. C. Club	831	9	19
Cranford	837	6	24

TEAM STANDING IN CENTRAL JOURNAL LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	Highest Score.
Crescent Wheelmen	6	4	1618
Elizabeth A. C.	6	4	1789
New Jersey A. C.	4	6	1631
Cranford C. C.	4	6	1557

TEAM STANDING IN DIOCESAN UNION.

	Won.	Lost.	Highest score.
Catholic C	7	2	1597
Elizabeth	5	2	1670
Orange Valley	6	3	1534
Plainfield	4	4	1506
Newark T. A. B.	2	6	1584
Institute	0	8	1516

The Union County bowlers go to Roselle tomorrow night to play the team at the latter place.

The postponed game of Roselle against Westfield in the Standard League will probably be rolled Thursday night of this week.

BASKET BALL.

It was war at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Saturday night and not a particularly merry one. The basket bal team from Company E, Thirteenth Regiment, N. G. S. of N. Y., was composed of heavy well-built men who were experts at the game. When they met the shorter and lighter players of the local Y. M. C. A. the latter had to stand the racket. It was by far the roughest game that has been played in this city and several bloody noses and cuts resulted. The two teams lined up as follows:

Plainfield.		Company E.
C. Colthar	forward	F. Roberts
A. Koechli	right wing	G. Buas
E. Moraller	centre	C. Tate
H. Jessup	left wing	C. Gartzens
M. Moraller	guard	E. Lucius

When the battle was over and the players had retired, the score was announced as 8 to 2 in favor of the military team. The game resembled football more than it did basket ball. Plainfield made one foul and Company E scored a goal on that. The other seven goals of the visitors were made from the field. The soldier boys made eight fouls out of which Plainfield only scored one, which was thrown by Koechli. He missed four, Colthar missed one and E. Moraller missed two. The other goal for Plainfield was thrown from the field by Colthar, who put up an excellent game and kept his antagonist continually on the jump. Plainfield's team play did not help much as the rough game demoralized the players and the superior weight and size of the visitors made the game rather uneven.

CYCLING COMMENT.

A cash prize league is being organized in western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and eastern Ohio for the coming season.

The wheelmen of Washington and Baltimore are arranging to have a cycle path built between the two cities. The next thing will be a similar one between New York and Philadelphia.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

The great event in local clubdom will come off next Thursday night at the Park Club, when the annual contest between that organization and the Union County Country Club at whist, bowling, pool and billiards will take place.

—The second meeting of the new Christian Endeavor Society, of South Plainfield, was held last evening and largely attended, despite the cold weather.

—Beside the regular Wednesday evening prayer meeting in Trinity Reformed church, one will also be held on Friday evening, Feb. 21st, at 8 o'clock, and the pastor, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, will speak on "The New, or Second Birth."

—Readers of The Press are invited to test the bread, cakes, pies, etc., made by P. Markey, at his new bakery, 144 Park avenue. Mr. Markey is a practical baker, does his own work, and a trial of his goods will convince you that he understands his business.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be curred by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We the undersigned have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transaction and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.

West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggist, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

A high liver with a torpid liver will not be a long liver. Correct that liver with DeWitt's Liitle Early Risers, little pills that cure dyspepsia and constipation. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

EARLY INTELLIGENCE

—The Independent Fife and Drum Corps will meet tomorrow evening.

—The last Assembly of the season will be held in the Casino this evening.

—A new "bicycle" engine is now running on the Jersey Central Railroad.

Hood's Pills are easy to take, easy to operate. Cure indigestion, biliousness, headache.

—The new switch-board in the electric light station has been photographed by A. V. Searing.

—"Hang it!" "What?" "Edward Love's wall paper." "Better still get them to hang it for you."

—The case of Lawler against Keely, on contract, will be re-tried this afternoon before Justice Newcorn and a jury.

—The Royal Arcanum and Loyal Addition will hold a special meeting this evening at 7:30 in their rooms on Park avenue.

—The Ladies' Aid Society of Warren chapel will hold its regular monthly meeting tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the chapel.

—Gavett has just received a new line of tinted globes and chimneys for the Welsbach lights. The light grows more popular every day.

—The Waite Comedy Company left town this morning for Trenton where they will fill a week's engagement at the Taylor Opera House.

—The iniatory team of Lucetta Council, No. 28, D. of L., will meet at the residence of W. W. Stratton, of East Third street, this evening.

—Several soldiers will take the oath of allegiance at the Salvation Army meeting Thursday evening. Captain Evans and staff will be in charge.

—Impoverished blood causes that tired feeling. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood, giving new life and increased vigor and vitality.

—The regular meeting of the Young Ladies' Missionary Society of the First Baptist church will be held Tuesday afternoon, the 18th inst., at 2 o'clock, in a Bible class room of the church.

—The Young Men's Association of Monroe Avenue chapel will hold a meeting on Friday evening. Business of importance is to come before the society, and all members are urged to be present.

—The large residence belonging to the estate of the late David M. Moore, on Central avenue, is being wired by Electrician A. D. Phillips. W. F. Dunn, one of Mr. Phillips' men, has the work in charge.

—The young men's Bible class at Monroe Avenue chapel is growing rapidly and has proved very helpful to those who have joined. All the young men in that vicinity are invited to attend next Sunday.

—Rev. Mr. Huffman, who preached in the Seventh-day Baptist church Saturday, will supply that pulpit for the next six weeks. The report that he would conduct evangelistic services during the week was incorrect.

—Mrs. A. B. Simpson and Miss S. A. Lindenberger, of New York, will address the Plainfield branch of the Christian Alliance on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the parlors of the W. C. T. U. on Watchung avenue.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

J. Lyon, of Orchard place, spent yesterday in Newark.

S. S. Swackhamer, of Park avenue, spent Sunday in White House with his wife.

Thomas D. Blair, of Princeton University, spent Sunday at his home on East Second street.

Fred Townsend, of Coddington avenue, having fully recovered from his serious illness, is now able to attend school.

Lawyer S. S. Swackhamer, of the Babcock building, is in New Germantown, Hunterdon county, today, on business.

Councilman William A. Westphal, of West Fourth street is laid up with a bad attack of quinsy sore throat at his home.

Henry Ryder, of Yale, spent Sunday at his home on East Front street, on his way back to college, after playing with the Yale hockey team at Baltimore.

Soothing, healing, cleansing, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the enemy to sores, wounds and piles, which it never fails to cure. Stops itching and burning. Cures chapped lips and cold-sores in two or three hours. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

Dunellen.

Alfred Osmun has collected the most money for the Whittier school flag.

The borough commissioners will hold a special meeting Tuesday evening.

The Building and Loan Association will meet tonight for the payment of dues.

Mr. Adam Seader has moved his family into Goeth's Hall, on North avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. David Runyon, of North avenue, have been entertaining Mr. H. Little, of Newark.

Miss Lillian Slape, of North avenue, has returned home from her visit with her sister, Mrs. Hull, of Sing Sing.

Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Lake, formerly of this place, but now of Blythborne, N. Y., called on friends in town last week.

Mr. Charles Apgar, who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Emily Apgar, of High street, has returned home to Westfield.

Howard Giles will move his hardware business about the first of the month, into the store with George Taylor, North avenue.

One of the jolliest leap year dances of the season was that given Friday evening at the Park Hotel by some of the young ladies. No male assistance was allowed in the arrangement or management, and no young man was allowed to walk in the grand march or glide through the lanciers, except at the invitation of a young women. As a result many of the most popular and handsomest fellows present sat or stood about as wall flowers, nearly the whole evening, the girls mischieviously refusing to ask them to dance. The floor managers, who were two young ladies, need to be praised for the clever way they managed. Also much credit is due to the reception committee and arrangements committee. The dancing was lively and no part of the evening was permitted to drag. The ladies costumes were very swell. About midnight comic valentines torn in two parts and distributed, each gentleman having the part to correspond with the half the lady held, the two going in the grand march to supper. Lots of fun prevailed for all present. Guests were present from New York, Brooklyn, Newark, Netherwood, Plainfield, Bound Brook and Somerville.

Scotch Plains.

A stereopticon exhibiton will be given in the parlors of the Baptist church Friday evening.

Rev. J. S. Braker is still confined to his home with illness. His pulpit in the Baptist church was filled by Rev. J. H. Parks, D. D., yesterday morning, and a native Armenian spoke on the cruelties that are being heaped on his Christian countrymen, in the evening.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Don't invite disappointment by experimenting. Depend upon One Minute Cough Cure and you have immediate relief. It cures croup. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

A Card to the Public

For nearly 20 years the public of Plainfield and vicinity have given me the largest share of their patronage in the purchasing of hats and gent's furnishings, showing that honest effort, low prices and reliable goods are appreciated. I have now associated with me Mr. Charles Clark, of Westfield, N. J., who comes to us highly recommended as a competent, honest young man. We will add to our stock of hats and gent's furnishings, a full line of men's and youth's shoes and rubbers, keeping only reliable goods and selling at the lowest possible prices.

Thankful for past favors, we are yours for business, U. B. CRANE, 120 West Front st.

Succeeded by Crane & Clark.

THE

Camp Fire and the Trail,

By the poet-scout,

Captain Jack Crawford,

IN

Crescent Avenue Church Chapel, SATURDAY, February 29, at 8 p. m.

for the benefit of Marconnier Chapel.

Admission, 50c. Children, 25c.

2 15 17 19 21 26 28

A Corn Cure THAT CURES CORNS

We have never said much about our Corn Cure—though it is one of the best made—because the market is full of cures, so-called. But such positive testimony to its merits has recently been volunteered that we feel justified in "talking-up" this little specialty. Our COLLOID CORN CURE is easily applied, gives relief quickly and will cure every case of corns, hard or soft, that can be cured, if used as directed. Sold in square vials with brush for applying. REYNOLDS' PHARMACY, Park and North Avenues.

MRS. HALL'S ENTERTAINMENTS

Rev. W. Hudson Shaw, M.A.,

of Oxford University,

Illustrated Lecture on VENICE,

Friday Afternoon, February 21st,

at 3:30 o'clock, at

SEMINARY HALL.

Tickets 50c. For sale at drug stores and at the door. 2 17 3 m w t

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 cent a word each insertion. Less than 10 words 10 cents. Cash must accompany adv.

FOR SALE—Quantity of clothes of all kinds, Address M. J., care Press.

FAMILY leaving Plainfield desires to dispose of fine furniture and carpets immediately. Address L. C., care Press.

WANTED—Two good canvassers; salary and commission; steady employment. Address A., care Press. 2 17 2

FOR SALE—The property owned and occupied by W. T. Broadway, 323 LaGrande ave; modern improvements, city water, etc; house has ten rooms also bath and laundry; possession any time; liberal terms. Apply to agents. 2 17 tf-m w f

SWEDISH girl wants place as cook. Call Mrs. Milburg, 212 Spooner avenue.

WANTED—Small girl (white) to take care of child. 817 3d place. 2 17 2

WOMAN would like to take washing at home. 440 East 5th st. 2 17 2

STORE to let. Corner Park avenue and Second street. W. R. Codington. 2 17 6

LOST—Between Grove street and High School, pair of gold eye glasses. Return to 18 Craig place.

WANTED—Man and wife for housework and gardener. Intelligence office, Babcock building.

WANTED—Six good housework girls with good references. Mrs. Kyle's Intelligence office. 2 17 2

WANTED—Manager to represent first-class life insurance company liberal commissions and renewals. Address John A. Pier, 791 Broad st., Newark, N. J.

WASHINGTON Park, North Plainfield; for sale or to let to a small family, No. 19 Sycamore ave., house in perfect order; contains 10 rooms, city water, gas and furnace; terms made to suit. Geo. F. Edwards, 191 Broadway, New York, or 17 Duer st., Plainfield. 2 17 12

WANTED—An experienced young married man as a driver; must understand care of horses and well recommended. Address F., care Press.

VERY handsome flat; all modern improvements. Apply Manning's city marble works. 2 17 tf

WANTED—Position by an experienced butcher young and active. Will work at any kind of employment where good wages will be paid. Address "Work," care Press. 2

LOST—Scotch Terrier dog, weight about twelve pounds, straight uncut ears. His return to 123 East Second street will be suitably rewarded.

A CHANCE to buy a nice little home. Seven-room house on Manning avenue. Lot 52x125; ten minutes from railroad station. Seven-room house near the Pond Tool Works in first class condition. Will be sold on easy terms just to think, all you have to do is to pay your rent each month and you will have a deed to either of these very desirable properties in a little while. Apply C. H. Lyman, 151 North avenue. 2 15 3

LIGHT coupe wanted. Must be in good order and cheap. State price. 60 Sandford avenue. 2 15 2

FOR SALE—Bull and fresh cows. Call Wm. A. Baldwin, Warreville, N. J. 2 12 6

WANTED.—At once, experienced white cook. Apply 949 Central avenue. 2 8 tf

MONEY to loan on bond and mortgage. Charles L. Moffett, att'y, corner Park and North aves. 2 3 2w

GOOD accommodations for horses; horses boarded by the month at reasonable terms. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville, N. J. 12 3 tf

FOR RENT—Two cottages, No. 830 and 832 West 3d st. Inquire of S. B. Wheeler, Netherwood Farm, Mountain avenue, North Plainfield. 10 30 tf

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

133 EAST 2d street to let a large sunny front room; also a hall rooms; furnished, 2 minutes from depot. 12 19 tf-m w t

TO LET—Stores, flats, dwellings. Bargains for sale. Mulford, Broker. 1 6 tf

TO LET—Stable on Sycamore street, from April 1st, seven stalls and a box stall, city water and electric lights, also three rooms over stable suitable for light house-keeping. Apply P. Lynch 1 2 tf

Pargiter Sale

IT MEANS

a dollar does the work of two. Having bought the dry and fancy goods stock of Pargiter, of Park avenue, for 50c. on the dollar, we will place it on sale tomorrow morning. The goods are all new and desirable and everything will be sold at half its value. A few of the many good things:

	Pargiter's price.	Our price
Mens linen collars	13c	7c
" "	18c	8c
Mens cuffs	20c	10c
" "	30c	15c
Mens mixed half hose	15c	8c
Mens balbrigan half hose	25c	10c
Mens black half hose	25c	10c
Mens tan half hose	25c	10c
Mens cashmere half hose	35c	18c
Mens laundered cambric shirts	$1.25	75c
Feather boas	$1.50 and $2	30c
Ladies cambric waists	50c	25c
Mens unlaundered shirts	75c	37c
" " " "	$1	55c
Boys outing shirts	25c	12c
Mens outing shirts	25c	12c
" " "	60c	30c
Mens white wool shirts	50c	25c
Mens colored wool shirts	50c	25c
Mens scarlet "	$1	50c
Mens natural "	$1.25	50c
Mens scarlet double breasted shirts	$1.50	69c
Large Turkish towels	25c	13c
Large huck towels	25c	13c
Extra large h. s. towels	35c	17c
Dinner napkins	$1.50	98c
Cotton towels	10c	5c
Fine white apron checks	12c	6c
Fine Victoria lawn	20c	10c
Fine embroideries	5c	3c
" "	10c	5c
Wide embroideries	25c	10c
Wash crepons	10c	5c
Childrens hose	12c	6c
" "	15c	8c
" "	20c	10c
" "	25c	12c
Ladies hose	15c	8c
" "	20c	10c
" "	30c	18c
Corset covers	18c	9c
Drawers	35c	19c
"	45c	23c
"	65c	37c
"	75c	46c
"	98c	42c
White shirts	75c	39c
" "	$1.00	59c
" "	1.25	69c
Ladies corsets	$1 and 1.25	69c
" kid gloves	1 00	57c
" " "	1.25	69c
" ribbed vests	35c	17c
" " pants	35c	17c
" " "	50c	25c
" " vests	50c	25c
" " "	75c	33c
" " pants	75c	33c

Housefurnishing Department.

STOP A MOMENT?

Self-praise is poor recommendation. It aint necessary to tell you where or how we buy our goods. Its the price that sells them every time—so here goes! MATCH THEM IF YOU CAN!

CUT BRUSH | 500 Bust Brushes, like sample, Wire Fastened, Hardwood Back at | 7c. EACH.

WASH DAY REMINDERS—Smoothing Irons, all sizes, best quality, at 3c. pound. Clothes Pins, all perfect, per 100 7c. Jute clothes line, very strong, at 1-2c. yd. Solid Zinc Wash-Boards, hardwood frame 10c each. Heavy Tin Wash Boilers, No. 7, oval copper bottom, 59c. each. No. 1 size Cedar Wash Tubs, free from knots, 39c. each. No. 2, do. 49c. No. 2 size Clothes Baskets, white willow, 29c. each. Mrs. Pott's patent Smoothing Irons, 3 irons handle and stand, plain, 69c. set. Nickle, 79c. set. Handles extra for Mrs. Pott's Irons, 19c. each. Clothes Wringers, hard rubber rollers, warranted, at $1.37.

WHITE OF PLAINFIELD.

Removal Sale.

These Are the Goods that Must Go.

Boy's reefers $5	now $2.45
Youth's overcoats $8	now $4.75
Youth's overcoats $10	now $6.50
Men's overcoats $10	now $7.75
Men's ulsters $10	now $6.00

SEBRING'S,

Park Avenue. April 1st, West Front Street.

SEE— THAT CURVE IN HATS

on all the new spring styles

Shown in those sold by

HALLOCK, Hatter, 109 West Front St.

Waverley BICYCLES

Are the Most Popular in the World.

Highest of High Grades.

Evidenced by the fact that there were more of them sold in '95 than any other make. Be sure to see sample before purchasing your '96 wheel.

Made by Indiana Bicycle Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

F. L. C. MARTIN, AGENT. 1 27 eod

"He Never New"

We kept Hanan & Son's Shoes,
But what could the poor boy do?
His wife found it out—
He had never been on Park avenue.

A. WILLETT & SON,

107 PARK AVENUE.

THE WEATHER BUREAU.

Good Work Done by the Service During Last Year.

Value of Property Saved Amounts to Many Millions of Dollars—Attention Paid to Sanitary as Well as Meteorological Conditions.

Prof. Willis L. Moore, chief of the weather bureau, has prepared a report of the work done by his department during the year 1895. In it he estimates the value of property saved by warnings of cold waves alone, as indicated by reports of observers, at $2,275,000, but this amount, large as it is, does not, he says, represent ten per cent. of property actually saved throughout the whole country. He thinks $10,000,000 would be a conservative estimate of the value of these warnings. By notice given of approaching hurricanes on two occasions no fewer than 10,305 vessels were kept in port, the value of which, without their cargoes, was $36,283,000. Many of these vessels, had they gone out and encountered the storms which followed the warnings, would doubtless have been lost.

When Prof. Moore assumed charge of the department July 4 last he entered upon a careful review of its work and a close consideration of its scope and purpose. He undertook the duty of reorganizing, consolidating and perfecting the administrative work of the bureau in all its branches. In dispensing with superfluous officials and filling all vacancies, even those outside the classified service, the policy of promoting meritorious employes from the lower grades has been rigidly followed—a procedure that has had a most salutary influence in every branch of the bureau. The judicious lopping off of superfluous officials and incompetents has made it possible to give a material advance in salary to 78 meritorious workers, and at the same time to diminish the expenditures for salaries at the rate of $1,068.50 per annum. The total savings in expenses effected amounted to $10,000 annually.

With the view of presenting the sanitary as well as the meteorological conditions existing throughout the various states of the union, the publication of Climate and Health was begun in the latter part of September. It is presented to the medical and other professions and to the public at large as the most complete and comprehensive publication of contemporaneous meteorological and sanitary data extant either by government or private means. The object is to facilitate an intelligent investigation into the relations existing between meteorological conditions and disease. This publication will be monthly hereafter, and the completion of the data will be in weekly parts. Extensive improvements are contemplated in connection with weather-crop reports, and the determination of the head of the department is to bring it up to the highest state of efficiency in all its branches.

PROF. WILLIS L. MOORE.

One-Armed Tennis Champion.

The champion lady tennis player of New Zealand is Miss Hilda Hitchings. Her performances are remarkable in view of the fact that she was born with only one arm. With the left hand she holds the racquet with three fingers and the ball with the remaining finger and thumb. A slight toss of the ball, followed by a smart, twisty tap with the racquet, results in a fast, low service which her opponents have found anything but easy to take. Miss Hitchings is described as five feet eleven inches in height, of little figure, commanding reach and active movement, which physical qualities, added to accurate placing, won for her the gold champion cup of 1895.

Coffee Culture in California.

An experiment in coffee growing is to be made in the San Joaquin valley, Cal., which, if successful, may mean that coffee planting will become an important industry in the state. Col. Charles F. Crocker, a wealthy rancher of that region, has just secured from various parts of Central America 1,000 yearling coffee plants, and will soon have them set out on his estates in the valley. It will be at least six years before the result of the experiment can be known. Experts are somewhat doubtful of its success. They say the soil and sunlight are all right in the San Joaquin valley, but the moisture necessary to the successful raising of coffee is lacking.

Kites That Can Carry Men.

Five huge kites were used at Christ Church park, Ipswich, by Lieut. Powell a short time ago to demonstrate the possibility of raising a man from the ground for reconnoitering purposes in time of war. A wicker car was attached to the kites and held the aeronauts. During the trial it was prevented from taking too high a flight by an anchorage rope from below and paid out from a windlass. An ascent of about 50 feet was successfully made by three persons separately. It only required the letting out of more rope to have extended this distance.

SCHOOL AND CHURCH.

—Prof. Dubois Reymond, the physiologist, who is now 77 years old, is about to resign his place of perpetual secretary of the Berlin academy of sciences.

—Cardinal Melchers' death, following closely on those of Cardinal Persico and Bonaparte, will keep alive the superstition that cardinals always die in threes.

—Foreigners who are not bachelors of arts or science are to be excluded from the Paris medical schools, as the laboratories are overcrowded, and even enough subjects for dissection cannot be obtained.

—A number of prominent citizens of Philadelphia will give a banquet to Prof. Edmund J. James, of the University of Pennsylvania, before he leaves to assume his new duties at the University of Chicago.

—A "Christian Labor union" was recently organized in Milwaukee, the object of which is "to furnish a bond of reciprocal sympathy and information between the church and working men in their organized movements."

—The Congregational church of Sedalia, Mo., is going to make a grand effort to bring the old sinners into the fold this year. Young women are to act as ushers in place of the young men hitherfo acting in that capacity.

—Presbyterian vigor in invective has not degenerated in Scotland. A Glasgow minister, who opposed total abstinence, was described lately in the pulpit as "A white-chokered blasphemer engaged in raising a signpost to hell."

—Some people have been making a count and find that not one of the state governors in the United States is a Roman Catholic. There are no Roman Catholics in the cabinet and very few in the senate, none in the supreme court, and there never has been one in the white house.

—Miss Ella Wilcox is the highly efficient janitor and sexton of the church of the United Brethren in Marcellus, Mich. She has full care of the church, keeps it in order, rings the bell on Sundays, and attends to all the other duties of a sexton "in every way better than any male janitor ever has," the church-goers say. She is good-looking, as well as accomplished; doubtless another point of superiority over the male janitors.

—A class in ethics is one of the novel educational features of the Massachusetts state reformatory. It is conducted on a plan devised by President Hyde, of Bowdoin college. About 150 of the more intelligent prisoners are members of the class. The usual procedure of the class consists of a lecture by the instructor or a paper by some member, followed by a general discussion of the topic. The debates are said to be spirited and earnest, and the effect on the prisoners excellent.

LAND OF MIGHTY WONDERS.

Bewildering Beauty of the Sublime Scenery in Iceland.

To the botanist and geologist Iceland presents a peculiarly rich field. The flora is plentiful and varied. The mountains have many curious shapes and forms; the outburst of volcanic energy having occurred in closest contact with the realm of ice bears evidence of frost and fire having grappled in sternest conflict, writes Ruth Shaffner. In some cases the nucleus in the basaltic mass alone remains, and looks like monuments or cairns, and it is difficult to believe they are natural. Zeolites, embedded in reddish clay, bits of agate and fragments of chalcedony, are a few of the treasures found strewn in the paths leading to the fjords.

Nothing can be more delightful than a horseback trip of 800 or 1,000 miles through Iceland. The traveler sees thousands of mountains covered with eternal snow, outrivaling the Alps in grandeur; great geysers and innumerable hot wells; waterfalls, one of which—the Gullfoss—is second only to Niagara in size and beauty; crystal streams and dashing rivers; lava beds of fantastic figures, covered with moss that glistens in the sun like hoar frost, and as a crowning glory the atmosphere is so brilliant that objects 80 miles distant appear close at hand.

The effect of light and shadow are the purest I have ever seen, and the contrast of color is truly astonishing; one square foot of a mountain juts out in a blaze of gold against the flank of another dyed of the darkest purple, while up against the azure sky beyond rise peaks of glistening snow and ice.

If within the domain of nature such another region is to be found it must be in the heart of those solitudes which science is unveiling to us amid the untrodded fastnesses of the lunar mountains.—N. Y. Mercury.

How Treasure Is Transported in China.

We have heard much, especially of late, of the diverting of public treasure to private gain by Chinese officials of all ranks, and the pitiable evidence of it in the failure of the Chinese army and navy to be ready for the inevitable struggle with Japan is too recent and convincing to be disputed; but on the other hand, we can only wonder at the power of this law of responsibility which, in such a land, enables the remotest province to transport its dues to Peking in solid silver, by the simplest means, without loss by the way and without the protection of a single soldier. Nothing impresses one more with the absoluteness of this power as applied to transportation than to meet a line of pack-mules, horses, or camels, loaded with silver bullion. The silver is usually confined in rough logs of wood that have been split, hollowed out, and then bound together, and each load is marked with a little flag of imperial yellow, stating the amount and destination. That is all the protection there is except the ordinary drivers, who carry no weapons, and are attended by no guard. In what other land on the face of the globe could the same be done?—Prof. C. M. Cady, in Century.

WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

Taking a Picture of the Interior of a Living Body.

An Improvement in Photography That Will Stop at Nothing, If the Story Is Correctly Told—The Views of Wizard Edison.

What Wizard Edison has qualified as the greatest discovery of the century has just been made public in Vienna. It is a process by which the interior of a living body can be photographed; and its author is Prof. Roentgen, of the University of Wuerzburg, in Bavaria. This remarkable feat is achieved by means of a light that penetrates all organic bodies, such as wood, leather and substances of that class. Radiant heat produces this light, the penetrative power of which is wonderful. The object to be photographed is exposed to a Crooke's tube, which is air-tight, and through which an induction current is led. The rays thrown out by this radiant heat, intense in character, are thrown from the tube upon the object to be photographed.

Several remarkable negatives are shown by Prof. Roentgen. One shows a man's ankle, in which a bullet is imbedded. To the surgeon, therefore, who could only determine the location of bullets with the aid of the probe, this discovery is of extraordinary significance. A leather purse, containing a number of coins, was photographed, and a negative obtained that gives with wonderful accuracy not only the picture of the purse itself, but every coin in its relative position to the others.

A skeleton hand, showing the bone structure of that member, was produced by focusing the heat rays on the hand of a man. The flesh seems to have entirely disappeared. A man in ordinary dress sitting before a young lady was photographed, and the heat rays penetrated clothes and all, and gave a perfect skeleton picture. A spinal vertebra was photographed through the skin of the body, and came out perfect. Into a wooden box were placed objects of iron. In the negative the iron articles appear in exact likeness, but the outer box, like a phantom, has vanished altogether, thus demonstrating that the new process can be subjected to any test.

THE SKELETON HAND.
[From a photograph taken by the new process.]

The wire over which the electric current passes into the tube is attached to a small storage battery in the camera at the rear of the tube, the latter being arranged like the lens in an ordinary camera. A heavy cloth is thrown over the end of the tube, from which the heat rays are focused in such a way that the outline of the tube's end is preserved, so that the operator may focus the rays without difficulty. The photographing is thus done through this heavy cloth, as well as other organic substances described above.

While radiant heat light is not new, the application which Prof. Roentgen has made of it is an entirely new scientific feat, which overturns the theory regarding opaque objects, such as have heretofore been included in the category of those that light would not penetrate. The professor is of the opinion that his discovery will demonstrate that there is no such thing as an opaque body, and that the penetrating power of light may be regulated by its intensity and manner of use.

Thomas A. Edison claims for the new discovery that it will prove almost limitless, and without being as yet acquainted with the materials used by Prof. Roentgen, says that it is doubtless accomplished with plates sensitized with chemicals exposed to radiant heat, or, as Edison calls it, invisible light. The work is done with what we call waves of low refrangibility.

From the standpoint of medical and surgical science, the discovery is invaluable. All diseases and growths of the interior body can thus be photographed and absolutely located. Mr. Edison is also of the opinion that this discovery can be so perfected that there will be no further vivisection of bodies, and that the formation of the brain can be laid bare without any trouble.

For metallurgy and mineralogy the new discovery is as limitless as it is for medical science. By this new process all the dips, spurs and angles of the veins and character of the mineral contents can be discovered without making borings and sinking shafts.

While the cardinal factor of the new process is radiant heat, Mr. Edison is confidenet that special rays thereof and specially prepared chemical plates are necessary to jointly operate with it. Radiant heat is the only energy which fills all space and pervades all bodies when transformed to luminiferous ether. The ether particles are set to vibrate by the hot body, and the vibratory motion travels in all directions like waves at a speed of about 180,000 miles a second.

Prof. Henry Morton, of Stevens' Institute of Technology at Hoboken, is not as enthusiastic in his belief in the new discovery as Prof. Edison. Morton doubts the practicability with regard to some of the experiments, but does not deny the possibility of the process.

Improve
YOUR OPPORTUNITY!

Get Some of the BARGAINS IN FURNITURE and CHINA,

we are offering before removal to

Jackson Building.

G. Q. Packer. Jos. W. Gavett.

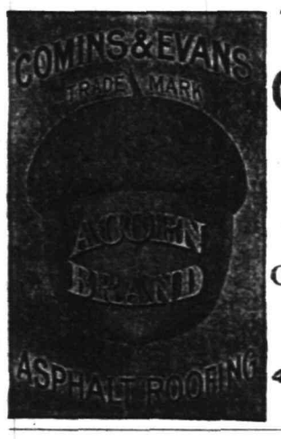
COSTS NOTHING

to see our immense line of wall papers—or to let us estimate on your Spring decorating—We are

GLAD TO DO IT!

Edward Love,

Corner North and Watchung Avenues.



Telephone, Brooklyn, 366.

COMINS & EVANS

Acorn Brand Asphalt Roofing.

Gravel and Metal Roofing, Tile and Brick Roofing, Water-Tight Cellars.

45 WAVERLY AVE, BROOKLYN, N. Y

New York office, 38 Dey st. 1 18 y eod

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

—Dealers in—

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Material, &c

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock
Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.
BOICE, RUNYON & CO

Help the Blind Man!

To restore sight to the sightless is a miracle we do not care to attempt, but where the judicious application of glasses can aid the vision we can be of great assistance. The glasses themselves should be of the best, the lenses that is. The frame may be anything the taste and pocketbook prompt—but it's the fiting of the required glass to the eye that tells the story. Whether you shall continue to suffer pain and annoyance or be relieved rests with yourself. We are ready to do our part.

Collier, 103 Park Avenue.
Established 1869.

Putnam & DeGraw

THIS WEEK WE WILL SELL

SHIRT WAISTS—Ladies laundered shirt waists only 50c.
UMBRELLAS—Fast black, Paragon frame, only 75c.
HOSIERY—Children's 1x1 rib, extra quality, all sizes, 15c; ladies fast black seamless, extra quality, at 10, 15 and 25c; men's mixed half hose, extra quality 10c, 3 for 25c; men's mixed half hose, seamless, extra heavy, 15c, 2 for 25 cents.
WAISTS—Children's corded underwaists 25c; children's outing flannel waists 50c style for 40c.
NECKWEAR—A new and special line at 25 and 50c.
EMBROIDERIES—Our's are the talk of the city.
COTTON CREPONS—Evening shades at 12 and 15c a yard.

Creamery Butter

20c Per Pound at

J. F. MACDONALD'S

Uptown Grocery.

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 NORTH AVENUE.

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Anthracite Coal Used Exclusively, Insuring Cleanliness and Comfort.

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street.
Time Table in Effect Nov. 17, 1895.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 14, 3 37, 5 38, 6 04, 6 29, 6 59, 7 36, 7 30, 7 53, 8 00, 8 15, 8 27, 8 31, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, 10 59 a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 9 23, 10 17, 11 28, p.m. Sunday, 2 14, 3 37, 6 04, 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 10 59, 11 16, a m; 12 33, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17, p m.

Leave New York, Foot Liberty St., at 4 30, 6 00, 7 15, 8 00, 8 40, 9 10, 10 00, 11 45, a m; 1 10, 1 30, 2 30, 3 30, 3 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 15, 5 30, 5 45, 6 00, 6 15, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 30, p m; 12 15, 1 00, night. Sunday, 4 30, 7 15, 9 00, 9 15, a m; 12 00 m; 1 00, 1 30, 2 30, 4 00, 5 30, 7 00, 9 00, 10 00, p m; 12 15 night, 1 00 a m

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield at 5 38, 6 29, 6 59, 7 30, 8 00, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 10 17, 11 28, p m. Sunday 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 11 16 a m; 12 33, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17 p. m.

Leave Newark at 6 15, 7 15, 7 55, 8 39, 9 05, 10 05, 11 35, a m; 1 15, 1 35, 2 35, 3 35, 4 05, 4 40, 5 04, 5 34, 5 50, 6 20, 7 15, 7 35, 8 40, 10 05, 11 25, p. m. Sunday 7 30, 9 05, 9 30, 11 35 a m; 1 10, 1 35; 3 35, 4 05, 5 40, 7 20, 9 25, 10 30

Passengers for Newark please change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 5 45, 7 10, 8 16, 9 54, 11 00 a m; 12 46, 2 11, 2 32, 3 35, 4 36, 5 05, 5 14, 5 34, 6 04, 6 10, 6 38, 7 12, 7 34, 8 21, 10 26, 11 23, p m; 12 38 night. Sunday 5 45, 8 28, 9 55, a m; 2 03, 3 43 5 14, 6 36, 10 15, 11 14 p m.

Leave Somerville at 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 25, 7 35, 7 48, 8 20 9 05, 9 48, 11 40 a. m; 12 50, 1 48, 2 05, 3 25, 4 25, 4 59, 6 35, 8 07, 8 45, 11 05 p. m. Sunday at 8 25, 9 45, 10 35 a m; 12 08, 1 20, 5 10, 6 35, 8 05, 9 40 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield at 5 45, 8 16, 9 54 a m., 12 46, 2 11, 5 05, 5 14, 6 38, 8 21 p. m. Sunday at 5 45, 8 28, a m; 2 03, 6 35 p m.

Leave Easton at 6 05, 7 00, 8 53, a m; 12 32, 3 43, 4 49, 7 00, p. m. Sunday at 7 15, 10 52 a m; 6 40, 7 30 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield at 9 54 a. m.; 5 05 5 14.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

5 45 a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m.—For stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 a. m.—For Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 54 a. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch D. L. & W. R. R., Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Shamokin, Nanticoke, and Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. with buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 46 p m., way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W R. R.

2 11 p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Tamaqua, Sunbury, Williamsport, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

5 05 p m., way for Easton, connecting with High Bridge for stations on High Bridge Branch.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Scranton, Wilkesbarre, Tamaqua, Shamokin. (buffet parlor car to Scranton.)

6 19 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 38 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, and Harrisburg.

8 21 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

5 45 a. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

8 28 a. m. Sundays—For Easton.

2 03 p. m. Sundays—For High Bridge for High Bridge Branch Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading, and Harrisburg.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 35 p. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c., and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

FOR LONG BRANCH, OCEAN GROVE, ETC.

Leave Plainfield at 3 37, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, p. m. Sunday, (except Ocean Grove) 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 3 37, 5 38, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, 7 03, p. m., Sundays 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Atlantic City, 3 37 a. m.; 1 18 p. m.

For Freehold, 3 37, 8 00, 10 27 a. m.; 1 18, 3 51, 5 24 p. m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44 9 46, 10 44 a. m.; 2 17, 5 34*, 6 45, 8 21, 9 37*, 1 17 night. Sundays—5 17, 5 45, 9 55 10 44 a. m., 2 25, 4 55, 5 14* 6 45 p. m. 1 17 night.

For Trenton, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44, 9 46, a. m. 12 46, 2 17, 5 34*, 6 38*, 8 21, 9 37* p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays 5 17, 5 45, 9 55 a. m. 2 25, 4 55, 5 14*, 6 35*, p. m. 1 17 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 8 44, 10 44 a. m. 5 34*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays, 10 44 a. m., 5 14*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points West, week-days at 9 54 a. m., 8 21 p. m. Sunday 6 35 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked (*) change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rates may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN,
General Superintendent.
H. P. BALDWIN,
General Passenger Agent.

Jones & Co., EXCAVATORS.

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.

Cesspools Built.

Sewer Connections Made

Properly and Earth Replaced Carefully.

PLUMBING TESTED.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front street.

CLASSES FOR

Women and Girls

IN

Gymnastic Exercises, Swimming and Fencing.

Miss Elizabeth C. MacMartin, Inst'r.

will meet applicants for membership Wednesday afternoon from 2 until 3, at the Y. M. C. A.

M. Powers & Son. Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75 in the Yard.
A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office 763 South ave. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

E. H. Holmes,

Dealer in

Coal & Wood.

Yard—No. 208 Madison avenue. Office for coal orders with Woolston & Buckle, 145 North ave.

Telephone 49-A.

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the first and third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.
John Fellows, Dictator.
R. A. Frey, Reporter.

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays in the Babcock Building. C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Sec.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Babcock Building, West Front street. D. C. Adams, W. M.
Charles Yeager, Sec.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the second and fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward Building, Park avenue, at 8 p.m.
Harry C. Adams, Regent.
Frederick C. Pope, Secretary.

MONEY

Cannot buy better

Men's Suits,

in fine imported Black and Blue Cheviot, Diagonal or fancy weave, single or double breasted at $9.90.

reduced from $15, $18 and $20.

WERNER'S,

206 West Front st.

Valentines

IN

Lace, Cards, Novelties, and Comics.

R. C. RAND,
140 West Front street.

THIS IS

the season most people need a

TONIC,

and no better can be found than

Leggett's Malt Extract.

It is a pure concentrated extract of malt and hops.
Price 20 cents a bottle, $2 a dozen.

Leggett's Pharmacy,
Y. M. C. Building.

Your Valuables
will be safe in
Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.
Lock boxes from $3.50 to $10 a year.

RANDOLPH RUNYON
Funeral Director and Embalmer.
43 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.
Residence over office. 1 18 m

GERMS.

They Exist Everywhere Now-a-Days.

In the Air and in Our Food and Drink. No One is Free From Them for a Moment.

One reads so much about germs, these days, that he becomes almost afraid to drink a glass of milk or wash his face in a basin of water. Yet those who are most competent to judge tell us that there are many diseases now known to be caused by germs; and probably other diseases will be discovered to be due to germs also.

If you sow wheat in dry dust and keep the soil in that condition, the kernels will not sprout and grow. And if you should sow the grain in very wet soil it will not grow then, but would mould or rot. Therefore we must not only have proper seed, but the soil must also be exactly right for the growth of the seed, if we expect results. Take consumption germs, for instance, you may inhale these germs and yet no harm follow; because the soil in your lungs was in such a healthy condition these disease-germs cannot grow there. Then, again, you may have exactly the right kind of soil in your lungs for the germs of consumption, and yet not have the disease because you have not inhaled the germs. It is certainly true that thousands of persons inhale the germs of consumption, and yet do not have the disease. The fact that this soil must be suitable to germ-life, explains the reason why some children have severe stomach and bowel trouble, and yet others in the same house be unaffected.

There are a number of complaints which may not be due to germs; and yet the principle we wish to establish is the same. Some take cold more easily than others; have frequent attacks of indigestion; become easily exhausted; and show in every way that the body is not strong. What is the best weapon with which to fight germs? A strong constitution. How can you prevent many of the ailments of everyday life? By keeping the body well nourished and the nervous system substantially re-inforced.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites will do all this. It feeds. It nourishes. It builds up. It invigorates. It fortifies. It shields the body from the enemy, and brings victory even in the face of defeat.

It is pleasant to know that such a remedy can be prepared in a form agreeable to the palate and the stomach. It does not nauseate. It does not cause diarrhœa. It does not produce those disagreeable eructations of gas. It does not necessitate bribing or threatening the children. Best of all, it does not have that fishy taste.

Scott's Emulsion contains more pure Norwegian Cod-liver Oil than any other emulsion in the world, that will stand the test of time as being a perfect inseparable emulsion. Ask your doctor

Your Spring Clothing

Rather early to speak of it, but if it needs cleaning or dyeing, it isn't too early to have us do that work for you. This is our dull season—our employes are here ready for work. We'd like to have your goods now. We can give them better attention than in the rush of the spring season. Then we'll have to have more time or rush them at the expense of good work. Now we can take our time, do the work better than if hurried and you'll have the clothing all ready for warm weather.

Look in the closet or trunk and find your spring wear that needs cleaning and dyeing and bring it to us now, or better still, our wagon will call for it if you will send us word.

Hillier & Co.,
179 North ave., Plainfield.

McCullough's STEAM MILL,
21 Steiner place, North Plainfield.
R. H. McCullough, Prop.
Sash, blinds, doors, mouldings, scroll sawing, turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully furnished.

ERNEST BARRETT,
Sanitary Plumbing, Steam and Hot Water Heating
All work guaranteed. Estimates cheerfully given. Jobbing promptly attended to.
325 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

PROSPECT HILL Must Be Sold.

Azalias, Chinese primrose, palms, ferns, begonias and variety of blooming plants. Wedding decorations and floral designs and all equipments for church and house decorations. Southern smilax at 15 days notice
AT DENTON'S.

"I would not that you should hold the riata," said Consuelo, petulantly.

I hesitated. Chu Chu looked certainly very amiable. I let go. She began to amble toward the gate, not mincingly as before, but with a freer and fuller stride. In spite of the incongruous saddle the young girl's seat was admirable. As they neared the gate she cast a single mischievous glance at me, jerked at the rein and Chu Chu sprang into the road at a rapid canter. I watched them fearfully and breathlessly, until at the end of the lane I saw Consuelo rein in slightly, wheel easily and come flying back. There was no doubt about it; the horse was under perfect control. Her second subjugation was complete and final!

Overjoyed and bewildered, I overwhelmed them with congratulations; Enriquez alone retaining the usual brotherly attitude of criticism, and a superior toleration of a lover's enthusiasm. I ventured to hint to Consuelo (what I believed was a safe whisper) that Chu Chu only showed my own feelings toward her.

"Without doubt," responded Enriquez, gravely. "She have of herself assist you to climb to the tree to pull to yourself the berry for my sister."

But I felt Consuelo's little hand return my pressure, and I forgave and even pitied him.

From that day forward, Chu Chu and Consuelo were not only firm friends but daily companions. In my devotion I would have presented the horse to the young girl, but with flattering delicacy she preferred to call it mine. "I shall erride it for you, Pancho," she said. "I shall feel," she continued, with exalted but although somewhat vague poetry, "that it is of you. You lofe the beast; it is therefore of a necessity to you, my Pancho! It is your soul I shall erride like the wings of the wind; your lofe in this beast shall be my only cavalier forever."

I would have preferred something whose vicarious qualities were less uncertain than I still felt Chu Chu's to be, but I kissed the dear girl's hand submissively. It was only when I attempted to accompany her in the flesh, on another horse, that I felt the full force of my instinctive fears. Chu Chu would not permit any one to approach her mistress' side. My mounted presence revived in her all her old blind astonishment and disbelief in my existence. She would start suddenly, face about and back away from me in utter amazement, as if I had been only recently created, or with an affected modesty, as if I had been just guilty of some grave indecorum toward her sex which she really could not stand. The frequency of these exhibitions in the public highway were not only distressing to me as a simple escort, but as it had the effect on the casual spectators of making Consuelo seem to participate in Chu Chu's objections, I felt that as a lover, it could not be borne. Any attempt to coerce Chu Chu ended in her running away. And my frantic pursuit of her was open to equal misconstruction. "Go it, Miss; the little dude is gainin' on you," shouted by a drunken teamster to the frightened Consuelo, once checked me in mid career. Even the dear girl herself saw the uselessness of my real presence, and after a while, was content to ride with "my soul."

Notwithstanding this, I am not ashamed to say that it was my custom whenever she rode out to keep a slinking and distant surveillance of Chu Chu on another horse, until she had fairly settled down to her pace. A little nod of Consuelo's round, black and red toreador hat, or a kiss tossed from her riding whip was reward enough!

I remember a pleasant afternoon when I was thus awaiting her in the outskirts of the village. The eternal smile of the California summer had begun to waver and grow less fixed; dust lay thick on leaf and blade; the dry hills were clothed in russet leather; the trade winds were shifting to the south with an ominous warm humidity; a few days longer and the rains would be here. It so chanced that this afternoon my seclusion on the roadside was accidentally invaded by a village belle, a western young lady somewhat older than myself, and of flirtatious reputation. As she persistently and as I now have reason to believe, mischievously lingered, I had only a passing glimpse of Consuelo riding past at an unaccustomed speed which surprised me at the moment. But as I reasoned later that she was only trying to avoid a merely formal meeting, I thought no more about it. It was not until I called at the house to fetch Chu Chu at the usual hour and found that Consuelo had not returned that a recollection of Chu Chu's furious pace troubled me. An hour passed. It was getting toward sunset, but there were no signs of Chu Chu nor her mistress. I became seriously alarmed. I did not care to reveal my fears to the family, for I felt myself responsible for Chu Chu. At last I desperately saddled my horse and galloped off in the direction she had taken. It was the road to Rosario and the hacienda of one of her relations where she sometimes halted.

The road was a very unfrequented one, twisting like a mountain river—indeed it was the bed of an old water course—between brown hills and wild oats and debouching at last into a broad blue lake-like expanse of alfalfa meadows. In vain I strained my eyes over the monotonous level; nothing appeared to rise above or move across it. In the faint hope that she might have lingered at the hacienda I was spurring on again when I heard a slight splashing to my left. I looked around. A broad patch of fresher-colored herbage and a cluster of dwarfed alders indicated a hidden spring. I cautiously approached its quaggy edges when I was shocked by what appeared to be a sudden vision! Mid-leg deep in the center of a greenish pool stood Chu Chu! But without a strap or buckle of harness upon her—as naked as when she was foaled!

For a moment I could only stare at her in bewildered terror. Far from recognizing me she seemed to be absorbed in a nymph-like contemplation of her own graces in the pool. Then I called: "Consuelo!" and galloped frantically around the spring. But there was no response—nor was there anything to be seen but the all unconscious Chu Chu. The pool—thank Heaven! was not deep enough to have drowned anyone; there were no signs of struggle on its quaggy edges. The horse might have come from a distance. I galloped on, still calling. A few hundred yards further I detected the vivid glow of Chu Chu's scarlet saddle blanket in the brush near the trail. My heart leaped. I was on the track. I called again. This time a faint reply, in accents I knew too well, came from the field beside me.

She was there—reclining beside a manzanito bush which screened her from the road, in what struck me, even at that supreme moment, as a judicious and even picturesquely selected couch of scarlet Indian grass and dry tussocks. The velvet hat with its balls of scarlet plush was laid carefully aside; her lovely blue black hair retained its tight coils undisheveled; her eyes were luminous and tender.

Shocked as I was at her apparent helplessness, I remember being impressed with the fact that it gave so little indication of violent usage or disaster.

I threw myself frantically on the ground beside her.

"You are hurt, Consita! For heaven's sake—what has happened?"

She pushed my hat back with her little hand and tumbled my hair gently.

"Nothing. You are here, Pancho—ett is enef! What shall come after thees—when I am perhaps gone among the grave—make nothing! You are here—I am happy. For a little perhaps—not mooch."

"But," I went on desperately, "was it an accident? Were you thrown? Was it Chu Chu?" for somehow, in spite of her languid posture and voice, I could not even, in my fears, believe her seriously hurt.

"Beat not the poor beast, Pancho. It is not from her comes thees thing. She have make nothing—believe me! I have come upon your assignation with Miss Essmith! I make but to pass you—to fly—to never come back! I have say to Chu Chu: 'Fly!' We fly many miles. Sometimes not so mooch! Sometimes in the saddle, sometimes on the neck! Many thing remain in the road; at the end, I myself remain! I have say: 'Courage, Pancho will come!' Then I say: 'No, he is talk with Miss Essmith!' I remember not more. I have creep here on the hands. Et is feenish!"

I looked at her distractedly. She smiled tenderly and slightly smoothed down and rearranged a fold of her dress to cover her delicate little boot.

"But," I protested, "you are not much hurt, dearest. You have broken no bones. Perhaps," I added, looking at the boot, "only a slight sprain. Let me carry you to my horse; I will walk beside you home. Do, dearest Consita!"

She turned her lovely eyes towards me sadly. "You comprehend not, my poor Pancho! It is not of the foot, the ankle, the arm or the head that I can say: 'She is broke!' I would it were even so. But," she lifted her sweet lashes slowly, "I have derrange my inside. It is an affair of my family. My grandfather have once toomble over the bull at a rodeo. He speak no more; he is dead. For why? He has derrange his inside. Believe me it is of the family. You comprehend? The Saltellos are not as the other peoples for this. When I am gone you will bring to me the berry to grow upon my tomb, Pancho; this berry you have picked for me. The little flower will come too, the little star will arrive, but Consuelo, who lofe you—she will not come more! When you are happy and talk in the road, to the Essmith, you will not think of me. You will not see my eyes, Pancho—these little grass," she ran her plump little fingers through a tussock—"will hide them, and the small animals in the black coats that lif here will have much sorrow, but you will not. It ess better so! My father will not that I, a Catholique, should marry into a camp-meeting, and lif in a tent, and make howl like the coyote." (It was one of Consuelo's bewildering beliefs that there was only one form of dissent—Methodism.) "He will not that I should marry a man who possess not the many horses, ox and cow like him. But I care not. You are my only religion, Pancho! I have one of the horse, and ox and cow, when you are with me! Kiss me, Pancho; perhaps it is for the last time—the feenish! Who knows?"

There were tears in her lovely eyes; I felt that my own were growing dim; the sun was sinking over the dreary plain to the slow rising of the wind; an infinite loneliness had fallen upon us, and yet—I was miserably conscious of some dreadful unreality in it all. A desire to laugh—which I felt must be hysterical, was creeping over me—I dared not speak. But her dear head was on my shoulder, and the situation was not unpleasant.

Nevertheless something must be done! This was the more difficult as it was by no means clear what had already been done. Even while I supported her drooping figure I was straining my eyes across her shoulder for succor of some kind. Suddenly the figure of a rapid rider appeared upon the road. It seemed familiar. I looked again. It was the blessed Enriquez! A sense of deep relief came over me. I loved Consuelo, but never before had lover hailed the interruption of one of his beloved's family with such complacency.

"You are safe, dearest. It is Enriquez!"

I thought she received the information coldly.

Suddenly she turned upon me her eyes—now bright and glittering. "Swear to me at the instant, Pancho, that you will not again look upon Miss Essmith even for once."

I was simple and literal. Miss Smith was my nearest neighbor, and unless I was stricken with blindness compliance was impossible. I hesitated—but swore.

"Enofe—you have hesitate—I will no more."

She rose to her feet with grave deliberation. For an instant, with the recollection of the delicate internal organization of the Saltello on my mind, I was in agony lest she should totter and fall even then—yielding up her gentle spirit on the spot. But when I looked again she had a hairpin between her white teeth, and was carefully adjusting her toreador hat. And beside us was Enriquez, cheerful, alert, voluble and undaunted.

"A Eureka! I have found! We are all here! Eet is a leetle public—eh, a leetle too much of a front seat for a tete-a-tetee, my yonge friends," he said, glancing at Consuelo's bower, "but for the accounting of tastes there is none. What will you? The meat of the one man shall envenom the meat of the other. But" (in a whisper to me), "as to thees horse, thees Chu Chu, which I have just pass—why is she undress? Surely you would not make an exposition of her to the traveler to suspect! And if not, why so?"

I tried to explain, looking at Consuelo, that Chu Chu had run away, that Consuelo had met with a terrible accident, had been thrown, and I feared had suffered serious internal injury. But to my embarrassment Consuelo maintained a half-scornful silence and an inconsistent freshness of heathful indifference, as Enriquez approached her with an engaging smile. "Ah yes, she have the headache, and the molligrubs. She will sit on the damp stone when the gentle dew is falling. I comprehend. 'Meet me in the lane when the clock strike nine!' But," in a lower voice, "of the undress horse I comprehend nothing! Look you, it is sad and strange."

He went off to fetch Chu Chu, leaving me and Consuelo alone. I do not think I ever felt so utterly abject and bewildered before in my life. Without knowing why, I was miserably conscious of having in some way offended the girl for whom I believed I would have given my life, and I had made her and myself ridiculous in the eyes of her brother. I had again failed in my slower western nature to understand her high romantic Spanish soul! Meantime she was smoothing out her riding habit and looking as fresh and pretty as when she first left her house.

"Consita," I said, hesitatingly, "you are not angry with me?"

"Angry?" she repeated, haughtily, without looking at me. "Oh no! Of a possibility eet is Mees Essmith who is angry that I have interroopt her tete-a-tete with you, and have send here my brother to make the same with me."

"But," I said eagerly, "Miss Smith does not even know Enriquez."

Consuelo turned upon me a glance of unutterable significance. "Ah!" she said, darkly, "you think!"

Indeed I knew. But here I believed I understood Consuelo and was relieved. I even ventured to say gently: "And you are better?"

She drew herself up to her full height, which was not much. "Of my health—what is it? A nothing. Yes! Of my soul—let us not speak."

Nevertheless when Enriquez appeared with Chu Chu she ran towards her with outstretched arms. Chu Chu protruded about six inches of upper lip in response, apparently under an impression which I could quite understand, that her mistress was edible. And, I may have been mistaken, but their beautiful eyes met in an absolute and distinct glance of intelligence.

During the home journey Consuelo recovered her spirits and parted from me with a magnanimous and forgiving pressure of the hand. I do not know what explanation of Chu Chu's original escapade was given to Enriquez and the rest of the family; the inscrutable forgiveness extended to me by Consuelo, precluded any further inquiry on my part. I was willing to leave it a secret between her and Chu Chu. But, strange to say, it seemed to complete our own understanding, and precipitated, not only our love-making, but the final catastrophe which culminated that romance. For we had resolved to elope. I do not know that this heroic remedy was absolutely necessary from the attitude of either Consuelo's family or my own; I am inclined to think we preferred it, because it involved no previous explanation or advice. Need I say that our confident and firm ally was Consuelo's brother — the alert, linguistic, the ever-happy ever-ready Enriquez! It was understood that his presence would not only give a certain mature respectability to our performance—but I do not think we would have contemplated this step without it. During one of our riding excursions we were to secure the services of a Methodist minister in the adjoining county, and later that of the Mission Padre—when the secret was out. "I will gif her away," said Enriquez confidently, "it will on the instant propitiate the old shadbelly who shall perform the affair, and withhold his jaw. A little chin music from your onkle 'Arry shall finish it! Remain tranquil! and forget not a ring! One does not always in the agony and dissatisfaction of the moment, a ring remember. I shall bring two in the pocket of my dress."

If I did not entirely participate in this roseate view it may have been because Enriquez, although a few years my senior, was much younger looking, and with his demure deviltry of eye and his upper lip—close shaven for this occasion—he suggested a depraved acolyte rather than a responsible member of a family. Consuelo had also confided to me that her father—possibly owing to some rumors of our previous escapade—had forbidden any further excursions with me alone. The innocent man did not know that Chu Chu had forbidden it also, and that even on this momentous occasion both Enriquez and myself were obliged to ride in opposite fields like outflankers. But we nevertheless felt the full guilt of disobedience added to our desperate enterprise. Meanwhile, although pressed for time and subject to discovery at any moment, I managed at certain points of the road to dismount and walk beside Chu Chu, who did not seem to recognize me on foot, holding Consuelo's hand in my own, with the discreet Enriquez leading my horse in the distant field. I retain a very vivid picture of that walk, the ascent of a gentle slope towards a prospect as yet unknown but full of glorious possibilities; the tender dropping light of an autumn sky, slightly filmed with the promise of the future rains, like foreshadowed tears, and the half-frightened, half-serious talk into which Consuelo and I had insensibly fallen. And then—I don't know how it happened—but as we reached the summit Chu Chu suddenly reared, wheeled, and the next moment was flying back along the road we had just traveled at the top of her speed. It might have been that after her abstracted fashion, she only at that moment detected my presence—but so sudden and complete was her evolution that before I could regain my horse from the astonished Enriquez, she was already a quarter of a mile on the homeward stretch, with the frantic Consuelo pulling hopelessly at the bridle. We started in pursuit. But horrible despair seized us. The attempt to overtake her—to even follow at the same rate of speed—would only excite Chu Chu and endanger Consuelo's life. There was absolutely no help for it—nothing could be done—the mare had taken her determined, long, continuous stride—the road was straight, steady decent all the way back to the village—Chu Chu had the bit between her teeth, and there was no prospect of swerving her. We could only follow hopelessly, idiotically, furiously—until Chu Chu dashed triumphantly into the Saltello's courtyard, carrying the half-fainting Consuelo back to the arms of her assembled and astonished family.

It was our last ride together. It was the last I ever saw of Consuelo before her transfer to the safe seclusion of a convent in southern California. It was the last I ever saw of Chu Chu, who, in the confusion of that rencounter was overlooked in her half loosed harness, and allowed to escape through the back gate to the fields. Months afterwards it was said she had been identified among a band of wild horses in the Coast range, as a strange and beautiful creature who had assumed the brand of the rodeo and had become a myth. There was another legend that she had been seen—sleek, fat and gorgeously caparisoned—issuing from the Rosario patio, before a lumbering Spanish cabriole, in which a short, stout matron was seated—but I will have none of it. For there are days when she still lives, and I can see her plainly still climbing the gentle slope toward the summit, with Consuelo on her back and myself at her side—pressing eagerly forward toward the illimitable prospects that open in the distance.

BRET HARTE.

NOTICE OF ASSIGNMENT.

Notice is hereby given that Henry A. Voehl, of the Borough of North Plainfield, County of Somerset and State of New Jersey, carrying on the business of baker, at No. 84 Somerset street, in the Borough of North Plainfield aforesaid, hath this day made an assignment to the subscriber of his estate for the equal benefit of his creditors, and that the said creditors must exhibit their respective claims under oath or affirmation to the subscriber, at his house No. 65 Somerset street, North Plainfield, New Jersey.
Dated Feb. 7, A. D. 1896.
JACOB VOEHL, Assignee.
2 10 3-caw

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscribers, executors of Elizabeth Edgar, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphan's Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the fourth day of March next.
Dated December 28th, 1895.
CHARLES H. EDGAR,
FREDERIC A. BOOTH.
12 30 10-o a w

F. A. DUNHAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor
109 Park ave. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas. Telephone 87—F.

L. L. MANNING, Marble AND Granite Works,
Corner Central avenue and West Front street, opp. First Baptist Church.
Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

EX-SUPT. FORD'S PLEA.

Throwing Himself on the Court's Mercy—When He Will Be Sentenced.

Trenton, February 17th.—Bernard J. Ford, ex-Superintendent of the State Capitol building, appeared in court here this morning with his counsel, ex-Senator Barrett, of Newark, and retracted his former plea of not guilty on five indictments, and then pleaded non vult.

Ford will be sentenced on the regular sentence day of the court, which has not yet been fixed. At this time it is expected that counsel for Ford will make an appeal for clemency.

The two indictments against John Mullins, which it was thought would be nolle prossed this morning, were not moved.

LOST HIS HORSE OVER NIGHT.

Michael Welch Thrown From His Buggy and the Steed Disappears.

Michael Welch, of 622 South Second street, has a large grey horse which he has not been using very much of late. Last evening Welch took the horse out for exercise, and while jogging along South avenue, near the Scott Press Works, the animal took fright at a passing bicycle and shied, throwing Welch from the wagon into the road. Welch lost hold of the reins, and as soon as the horse found itself free, it started to run away. Welch was unable to keep track of it, although he pursued for some distance. This morning he learned that his horse was in Frank Hedden's stable and he went there and claimed his property. Which was not injured.

Illustrated Lecture on Venice.

Through the liberality of the Society for the Extension of University Teaching, under whose auspices Dr. W. Hudson Shaw lectures, illustrations will be provided for his lecture on Venice, to be given on Friday afternoon, at Seminary Hall, at 3:30 p. m. As Dr. Shaw's illustrations are very fine, this feature will add much to the attractiveness of the occasion.

A New Musical Club.

The musical club which was organized by the members of the Independent Fife and Drum Corps two weeks ago will meet tonight for practice. It is the intention of the members to give a concert sometime during the spring if possible. Already twenty have joined the club.

He'll Make a Good One.

Charles Dodwell, conductor of the 8:27 a. m. New York train, who resides at Dunellen, is one of the candidates spoken of for the office of chief of the fire department of that place. The Press is glad to recommend so suitable and popular man as Mr. Dodwell for the position.

Surprised The Nurses With Money.

Peter Gayety, who is at Muhlenberg hospital, being treated for a chronic disease, surprised the nurses on Saturday when he disclosed $276, which he had in his pockets. It was his hard earned savings and will be taken care of until he is able to leave the hospital.

Justice Newcorn's Court.

Justice Newcorn has issued summons in the following contract cases which are returnable February 24th: Frazee vs. Sharp; Schorb vs. Myers; Feller vs. Myers. The case of Lawler vs. Keeley has been adjourned to February 25th. It will be a jury trial.

A Wedding Anniversary.

A number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Miller, of East Third street, tendered them a surprise Saturday evening, the occasion being their wedding anniversary.

James McCann, of South Second street, will hereafter reside in Newark.

Mrs. T. E. H. Curtiss, of West Eighth street, is seriously ill with pneumonia.

S. C. J. Randolph, of this city, is visiting his brother, Manning Randolph, at Piscataway.

—The Rosebud Social Club will hold in invitation dance in T. A. B. Hall tonight.

SCIENTIFIC GATHERINGS.

Sir John Herschel proved that an icicle 45 miles in diameter and 200,000 miles long would melt in one minute should it fall into the sun.

The skin turns blue when exposed to cold because, by a low temperature the circulation is impeded at the surface, the arterial blood is partially prevented from flowing beneath the skin, and the venous blood, which is almost purple, gives color to the skin.

Experiments made last summer in Europe show that the amount of radiation received from the sun on the surface of the earth in a clear day is greater with a dark blue than with a light blue sky. In the latter case there is a higher tension of the water vapor in the air.

A Truthful Boy.

Mrs. De Fad (in bric-a-brac shop)—You have a beautiful collection of antiques here.

New Boy—Yes'm, we have all the latest novelties.—N. Y. Weekly.

DIED.

TITSWORTH—At Dunellen, Saturday, February 15th, 1896, Mary Maxson, youngest daughter of Lewis T., and Emily B. Titsworth, aged 2 years, 3 months and 1 day. Funeral services from the residence of her parents on Prospect avenue, Dunellen, Tuesday, February 18th, at 2 p. m.

OUR BOY LEFT HOME TO-DAY.

Our boy left home to-day!
How full of sorrow is my lonely, quivering heart;
For many days we shall not see his smiling face;
How shall we pass the hours from him apart?

He left his childhood's home to-day!
Things never can be quite as they have been before.
His room is dark and desolate to-night,
His hat and coat hang not behind the kitchen door.

We miss his boyish face so much.
Backward o'er months and years our sad thoughts turn;
Did we appreciate our boy when he was here,
We ask, as now our hearts for him so fondly yearn.

I try to think he will be back,
And for a visit he will only plan:
But then the thought that hurts comes back to me,
Our boy hereafter is a "business man."

He'll labor and gain wealth,
And then a wife and home he'll have; I must not mind,
But then the ties of childhood's home will break,
And we—oh, 'tis so lonely for those left behind!

This is the way of all the world,
One cannot have all pleasure sweet without alloy;
Sad partings come; and I can only pray to-night,
Thank God I have so good, so true a boy.
—Lenora Allen, in Good Housekeeping.

FOR HER SAKE.

It wanted less than an hour to high water when Miss Marty Lear heard her brother's boat take ground on the narrow beach below the garden, and set the knives and glasses straight while she listened for the click of the garden latch.

A line of stunted hazels ran along the foot of the garden and hid the landing-place from Miss Lear as she stood at the kitchen window gazing down steep alleys, of scarlet runners. But above the hazels she could look across to the fruit-growing village of St. Kits, and catch a glimpse at high tide of the intervening river, or towards low water of the mud banks shining in the sun.

It was Miss Lear's custom to look much on this landscape from this window; had, in fact, been her habit for close upon 40 years. And this evening, when the latch clicked at length, and her brother in his market-suit came slouching up the path between the parallels of garden-stuff, her eyes rested all the while upon the line of gray water above and beyond his respectable hat.

Nor, when he entered the kitchen, hitched this hat upon a peg in the wall—where its brim accurately fitted a sort of dull halo in the whitewash—did he appear to want any welcome from her. He was a long-jawed man of 65, she a long-jawed woman of 61; and they understood each other's ways, having kept this small and desolate farm together for 30 years—that is, since their father's death.

A cold tunip pasty stood on the table, with the cider jug that Job Lear regularly emptied at supper. These suggested no small-talk, and the pair sat down to eat in silence.

It was only while holding out his plate for a second helping of the pasty that Job spoke with a full mouth.

"Who d'ee reckon I ran across to-day, down in Troy?" Miss Marty cut the slice without troubling to say that she had not a notion.

"Why, that fellow Amos Trudgeon," he went on.

"Yes?"

"'Pears to me you must be failin' if you disremembers 'en; son of old Sal Trudgeon, that used to keep the jumble-shop 'cross the water; him that stoile our eggs back-along, when father was livin'."

"I remember."

"I thought you must. Why, you gave evidence, to be sure. Be dashed! now I come to mind, if you wasn' the first to wake the house an' say you heard a man hollerin' out down 'pon the mud."

"Iss, I was."

"An' saved his life, though you did get 'en two months in Bodmin Gaol by it. Up to the armpits he was, an' not five minutes to live, when we hauled 'en out, an' wonderin' what he could be doin' there, found he'd been stealing our eggs. He inquired after you to-day."

"Did he?"

"Iss. 'How's Marty?' says he. 'Open' rapidly,' says I. The nerve that some folks have! Comes up to me as cool as my lord and holds out a hand. He've agrown into a sort of commercial, stomach like a bow-window, with a watchguard looped across. I'd a mind to say 'Eggs' to 'en, it so ennoyed me."

"I hope you didn't."

"No. 'Twould have seemed like bearin' malice. 'Tis an old tale, after all, that feat of his."

"Nine and thirty year, come 17th of September next. Did he say any more?"

"Said the weather-glass was risin', but too fast to put faith in."

"I mean, did he ask any more about me?"

"Iss; wanted to know if you was married. I reckon he meant that for a bit o' pleasntness."

"Not that! Ah, not that!"

Job laid down knife and fork with their points resting on the rim of his plate, and, with a lump of pasty in one cheek, looked at his sister. She had pushed back her chair a bit, and her fingers were plucking the edge of the tablecloth.

"Not that!" she repeated once more, and hardly above a whisper. She did not lift her eyes. Before Job could speak—

"He was my lover," she said, and shivered.

"Mar—ty—"

She looked up now, hardened her ugly, twitching face, forced her eyes to meet her brother's, and went on, breathlessly—

"I swear to you, Job—here, across the table—he was my lover, and I ruined 'en. He was the only man, 'cept you and father, that ever kissed me, and I betrayed 'en. As the Lord liveth, I stood up in the box and swore away his name to save mine. An' he made me."

"Mar—ty Lear!"

"Don't hinder me, Job. It's God's truth I'm telin' 'ee. His folks were a low lot, an' father'd have broken every bone o' me. But we used to meet in the orchard most every night. Don't look so, brother. I'm past 60, an' nothin known; an' now evil an' good's the same to me."

"Go on."

"Well, the last night he came over 'twas spring tides, an' past the flood. I was waitin' for 'en in the orchard, down in the corner by the Adams' pearmain. We could see the white front o' the house from there, and us in the dark shadow, and there was the gap handy that Amos could snip through at a pinch—you fenced it up yourself the very summer that father died in the fall. That night Amos was late an' the dew heavy, and no doubt I lost my temper waitin' out there in the long grass. We had words, I know, an' I reckon the tide ran far out while we quarreled. Anyway, he left me in wrath, an' I stood there under the apple tree, longin' for 'en to come back an' make friends again. But the time went on, an' I didn't hear his footsteps—no, nor his oars pullin' away—though hearkenin' with all my ears.

"An' then I heard a terrible sound." Miss Marty paused and drew the back of her hand across her dry lips before proceeding. "A terrible sound—a sort of low breathin', but fierce; an' something worse, a suck-suckin' of the mud below, an' I ran down. I suppose, in his anger, he took no care how he walked round the point (for he al'ays moored his boat round the point out o' sight) an' went wide an' was taken. There he was, above his knees in it, and far out it seemed to me, in the light of the young moon. For all his fightin', he heard me, and whispered out o' the dark:

"'Little girl, it's got me. Hush! don't shout, or they'll catch you.'

"'Can't you get out?' I whispered back.

"'No,' says he, 'I'm afraid I can't unless you run up to the linhay an' fetch a rope.'

"It was no more I stayed to hear, but ran up hot-foot to the linhay and back inside the minute, with the wagon rope.

"'Hold the end,' he panted, 'and throw with all your strength.' And I threw, but the rope fell short. Twice again I threw, but missed each time by a yard or more. He wouldn't let me near the mud.

"Then I fell to runnin' to and fro on the edge of the firm ground, an' sobbin' between my teeth because I could devise nothin'. And all the while he was fightin' hard.

"'I'll run an' call father an' Job,' says I.

"'Hust 'ee now! Be you crazed? Do you want to let 'em know all?'

"'But it'll kill you, dear, won't it?'

"'Likely it will,' said he. Then, after awhile of battlin', he whispers again: 'Little girl, I don't want to die.' Death is a cold end. But I reckon you shall save me an' your name as well. Take the rope, coil it as you run and bring it back on the linhay, quick! Then run you to the henhouse an' bring me all the eggs you can find. Be quick, and ask no questions, for it's little longer I can hold up. It's above my waist,' he—

"I didn't know what he meant, but ran for my life to the linhay and up the rope, an' then to the hen-house. I could tell pretty well where to find dozen eggs or more in the dark, an' three minutes I'd groped about and gathered 'em in the lap o' my dress. Then back I ran. I could just spy out a dark spot out there in the mud.

"'How many?' he axed, his voice like a rook's.

"'A dozen, or near.'

"Toss 'em here. Don't come too nigh, an' shy careful, so's I can catch.'

"I stepped down pretty nigh to the brim o' the mud an' tossed 'em out to him. Three fell short in my hurry, but the rest he got hold of somehow.

"'That's right,' he calls, hoarse and low; 'they'll think egg-stealin' naterel to a low family like ourn. Now back to your room—undress—an' cry out, sayin' there's a man shoutin' for help down 'pon the mud; and, dear, be quick! When you wave your candle twice at the window I'll shout like a Trojan.'

"An' I did it, Job; for the cruelty in a fearful woman passes knowledge. An' you rescued 'en, an' he went to gaol. For he said 'twas the only way. An' his mother took it as quite reasonable that her husband's son should take to the bad—'twas the way of all them Trudgeons. Father to son, they was of no account. Egg-stealin' was just the little hole-an'-corner wickedness that'd come nateral to 'em."

"I rec'lect now," said Job Lear, very slowly, "that the wain-rope was wet i' my hands when I unhitched 'en that night from the hook, an' I wondered it bein' the end of a week's dryth. But in the dark an' the confusion o' savin' the wastrel's life it slipped my thoughts. else—"

"Else you'd ha' wetted it wi' the blood o' my back, Job. But the rope's been frayed to powder this many year. An' you needn't look at me like that. I'm past 60, an' I've done my share of repentin'. He didn't say if he was married, did he?"—From "The Delectable Duchy."

Didn't Worry Him.

An old man and his wife were last summer sailing on a steamship between Blackpool and the Isle of Man. As the sea was rather rough, and the old woman unaccustomed to sailing, she said to her husband:

"Oh, John, this ship is going down!"

"Well, never mind," said her husband, "it isn't ours."—Tit-Bits.

—An Unsafe Insurance Risk.—"Any insanity in your family?" asked the examining physician. "Well," said the man who was applying for life insurance, "my wife says she must have been crazy to have married me."—Indianapolis Journal.

VAN EMBURGH & SON,

Corner Store, Babcock Building.

We work for the GOOD WILL as well as the patronage of our customers.

Our prices are plain blunt arguments.

New Spring Flouelettes, 10c. yd.
Spring colors in Figured Valours, 12c yd.
New Mourning Sateens, 12c yd.
New spring figured Cambrics, 12c yard.
We are the people for nice Outings, 10c. yd.
Boys' Derby Ribbed Hose, 10c., 15c., 18c. pair.
Plain colors, Windsor Ties 10c.
Extra Wind Windsor Ties. 25c.
Extra size Windsor Ties, (hemstitched, 50c each.
Our Corset Covers are selling at 15c, 19c, 25c, 30c, 42c, 54c, 59c, 72c, 89c each.
P. N. Corsets, perfect fit, 50c. 75c. $1.00 pair.
2 Turkish Bath Towels for 19c.
Roll Tape, all widths, 2c. each.
Attachable Corset Clasps, 5c pair.
Attachable Corset Clasps, (cork protector) 8c. pair.
Japanned Dress Steels, 5c. dozen
Covered Dress Steels, 6c. set.
Safety Pins, all sizes, 3c. dozen.
Tooth Brushes, good ones, 5c. each
Fast Black Darning Cotton, 2c. ball
Zephyr Worsted, all colors, 4c. lop
100 yards Best Spool Silk, black and colors, 7c. Spool.

Read Sheeting Muslins. Read

1 yard wide, bleached, 6c. yard.
1 1-8 yards wide, " 6 1-2c. "
1 1-4 " " " 7 1-2c. "
1 1-2 " " " 11c. "
1 3-4 " " " 13c. "
2 " " " 14 1-2c "
2 1-4 " " " 16c. "
2 1-2 " " " 17 1-2c "

INSURANCE.

C. C. Pope & Co.,
INSURANCE AGENTS,
110 East Front st.,
Plainfield, N. J.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,
Real Estate and Insurance,
197 North avenue

INSURANCE.

WM. H. ABBOTT,
171 North Ave.

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter, 22c.
Best Dairy Butter 18c.
V. L. FRAZEE
151 West Front st.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

New York Mails.
Arrive—7:30, 8:40, 11:15 a.m., 2:45, 5, 5:30 p. m.
Close—7 15 and 9:20 a. m., 1:30, 4 30 and 7:30 p. m.

Somerville and Easton Mails.
Arrive—8:40 a. m., 2:40, 6:00 p. m.
Close—7:15 a. m., 4:30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arr. 12 m; closes 9:30 a. m.

Sunday Mails.
Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6:15 p. m.

J. M. HETFIELD, P. M.

Dogs
IRON AND BRASS
FIRE-DOGS.
Curtis M. Thorpe,
Y. M. C. A. Building
"Everything for the Fireplace."

HEATH & DRAKE.
Established 1841. Newark's first-class Dry Goods House.

New Embroideries, Laces, Flouncings, etc.

Our assortment of these goods for the coming season is handsomer, more varied and complete than any we have yet shown, and embraces regular Cambric, Nainsook and Swiss Edges, Insertions and match sets in all grades and styles and a line of Exquisite Novelties which for new and original effects, exclusive and unique designs, are unsurpassed if not unequalled by any in the market.

Pretty Edgings and Embroideries Very Cheap.

A thousand lines could not tell the story any better. Great heaps of snowy Embroideries that first saw light in far off Switzerland are here.

In connection with our regular line we have purchased, direct from the manufacturers in St. Gaul, Switzerland, three large lots of Embroideries, which we will place on sale at one-third less than regular prices.

Lot 1, 4c Yd. Lot 2, 8c Yd. Lot 3, 12c Yd

The wise ones ask no questions, but take them away in huge quantities.

777 and 779 Broad Street,
Newark, N. J.

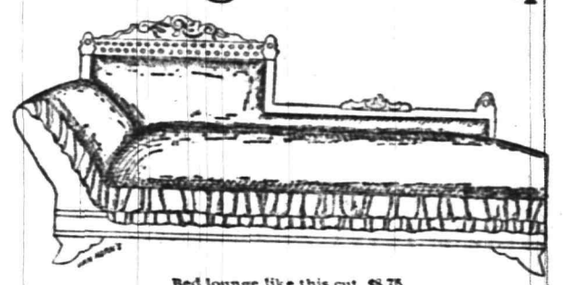
AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd.

2½ Acres Of Furniture

ASK TO SEE THE FAMOUS "PORTLAND RAGE"

Carpets, Stoves, etc.,—that's what we have—every square foot of it's well covered—no chance for goods to go to seed here—all new lines, new designs, new everything. All unique prices—here's an instance or two:

Bed Lounges $5.00 up

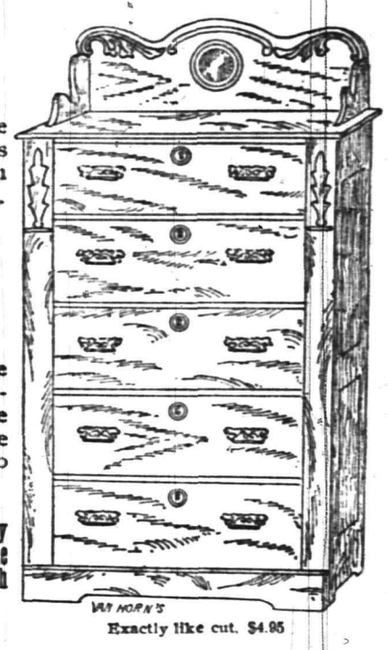


Bed lounge like this cut. $5.75

Built for comfort, wear and effect. Made for bed and lounge. Variety of coverings.

Chiffoniers at $4.95

We've a real good line—many patterns—this especial one is worth every cent of $10.00. It's yours for $4.95.



Exactly like cut. $4.95

Carpets All Weaves

It's true gospel that we're selling a mulitude of Carpet patterns never to be duplicated again—they're at prices low enough to make them go.

Goods delivered Free of Charge to any part of the State. Purchases made now held until wanted—no cash needed

AMOS H. VAN HORN Ltd. Note the Name "AMOS"
Carpets, Stoves, Furniture, Etc.
Low Prices, Easy Terms
TELEPHONE 380.
73 MARKET ST. Near Plane St. NEWARK, N. J.

STILLMAN MUSIC HALL.
Rich & Maeder.....Lessees and Managers.
John Daly.....Resident Manager.

Saturday, February 22d,
WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.
One performance. The beautiful romantic Comedy,

The Westerner,

with its original New York cast.

An Idylic Holiday Play.

Prices 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c and $1 Seats on sale at Leggett's drug store.

LAST EDITION.

THE DAILY PRESS

LAST EDITION.

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1896. TWO CENTS A COPY—$5 A YEAR

THE GAY MASQUERADERS

THE ANNUAL EVENT OF RELEGATING ETIQUETTE TO THE REAR.

Frolicsome Dancers and Fantastic Costumes Make a Merry Scene in the Gesang and Turn Verein Hall Last Night.

What the French ball is to the urbane citizen of the metropolis the masquerade ball of the Gesang and Turn Verein Society is to those Plainfielders who once a year like to don a mask, attire themselves in fantastic costume, and relegate all conventional manners to the rear for the time being. This eighth annual event was held in the Saengerbund Hall last night and was attended by about five hundred merry makers.

The grand entree was delayed in starting, owing to the lateness of the costumes for the committee in arriving. It was 10:15 when O'Reilly's orchestra struck up the tuneful march "Peerless" and the committee, composed of H. Haurand, C. F. Meyer, G. Houseman, H. Vogel, J. Wirth, O. Keller, I. Kohner, M. Meissner, C. Kegler, and A. Wolffe, preceded by two young lads as courtiers, started the march. From that time on fun of a kind that recognized no such thing as etiquette was participated in by those whose features and, in most cases, identity were concealed by the masks. The masqueraders accosted the onlookers about the hall, and with assumed pose and walk, and squeaky or unduly harsh voices, jibed original puns and pithy observations into the auditor's ears, never discriminating as to whether or not previous acquaintance warranted their conduct.

They were out for a rollicking time and they rode on the high wave of incognito until the unmasking time came, and then there was many a surprised ejaculation by those who had been deceived as to the identity of some near friend. But the immutable inclinations of the masqueraders was not to be changed by the lifting of masks, and the spirit of brisk action and talk, accentuated by frequent visits to the refreshment room below, continued to mark the conduct of the dancers until the final waltz brought the event to an end. The costumes and dancers were as follows:

Baker, F. Burke; Martha, Irish Washerwoman, C. Schantz, Clown, G. Greader; Nigger Wench, T. H. Parkinson; West Point Cadets, Miss Jennie Waters and Mrs. F. S. Moore; Napoleon Bonaparte, F. Haurand; Demetoe Paris, John Ratzer; Evening Star, Miss Minnie Kiely; Fireman's Lassie, Lillian Woodland; Spanish Dancer, Allie Moore; Snowdrop, Mamie Kiely; Alpine, W. Pearson; Clown, B. Boe; School Girl, Mrs. J. Wilson; Cards, Lena Weber; Fancy Dancer, Miss L. Garvey, Westfield; Lillian Russell, Kate Mulhearn; Carmencita, Gladys Delvis; Frolic, Annie Anderson; Queen Elizabeth, Annie Price, Trenton; Gypsy, J. Wilson; Two Johns, H. Pugh and J. Smith; Dominoe, Miss M Fiering; Marie Antoinette, Mrs. C. Myers; Tambourine Girl, Mrs. J. Schlick, Mexican, Wm. Gray; Sailor, J. McGinley; Minstrel E. Stevenson; Soldier, D. Gray; Coachman, J. Conway; Fisherman, Teddy Roosevelt Smith; Sweet Marie, Eunice Morecraft; Ballet Dancer, Mrs. S. Tunison; Spanish Dancer, Miss S. Pearson, Peasant Girl, Della Cassidy; Empress, Annie Haurand; Engineer, L. Fiering; Clown, Otto Kellar; Gypsy, Julian McKay; Trilby, Eleanor M. Parkinson; Cadet, W. Mosher; Barber, Pete Fiering; Diana, Miss Steer; Topsy, Mrs. Hill; Pop Corn Girl, Miss S. Luhman; Negro, J. Anderson; Ballet Dancer, Jennie Kilpatrick; Chorus Girl, Miss M. Purcell; Spanish Girls, Mollie Feller, Edith Weigman, Miss N. Creager; Baby Esther, Josie Feller; Greenbrook Peasant, Burt Vail; Mount Bethel Hunter, W. Heidloff; Spanish Girl, Mrs. Theodore Vroom; Clown, T. Meadows; Hobo, J. Schlick; Sailor, Wm. Trembath; French Girl, Ida Perry; "Sports From Gotham," J. Rafferty, F. Hale, J. Griffen, B. Ayers; Ballad Singer, Mrs. Hugo Weigman; Ballet Dancers, Miss Motley and Miss Goff; Spanish Dancer, Maggie Falconer; Bloomer Girls, Miss M. Stevens and Mrs. A. Johnson; Negro Target Bearer, Rudolph Spiegel; Mother Hubbard, L. Schleelein; Sporty Boy, H. Dreier; Sailor, G. Schleelein; Indian-Elk, W. Trust; Clown, D. McInnes.

Thirty-Seventh Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Dobbins, of Elmwood place, celebrated the thirty-seventh anniversary of their marriage last evening in a very enjoyable manner. About twenty friends and neighbors were present and an evening of genuine pleasure was spent in singing and listening to excellent instrumental music on the piano and violin. During the evening the guests were served with refreshments, after which the time was passed in social intercourse.

In the Sawdust Ring.

Orange is going to have a circus of her own early in April. The performers will all be amateurs drawn from the ranks of the Orange Riding and Driving Club and the Orange Athletic Club. Those who remember the success of the circus held by the Orange Athletic Club, will expect great things from the new enterprise.

The little daughter of Mr. Fred Webber, Holland, Mass, had a very bad cold and cough which he had not been able to cure with any thing. I gave him a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says W. P. Holden, merchant and postmaster at West Brimfield, and the next time I saw him he said it worked like a charm. This remedy is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases such as colds, croup and whooping cough, and it is famous for its cures. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

THE HOSPITAL WINS ALL.

WILL RECEIVE $10,000 BY A COURT DECISION MADE YESTERDAY.

Wins The Contest Over The Will of Henry F. Stites and its Appeal From The Orphan's Court to The Chancellor.

Muhlenberg hospital has won its appeal from the judgment of the Union County Orphan's Court by the decree of the Prerogative Court filed at Trenton yesterday. It will be remembered that after a protracted contest over the will of Henry F. Stites, late of Fanwood, the Hospital defeated the heirs, and became entitled to the residue of the estate after the payment of certain legacies. No appeal was taken from this judgment. The next contest grew out of a dispute between the administratrix of Mrs. Stites and the Hospital as to who was entitled to certain dividends on railroad stock, etc., and whether the widow was entitled to an exemption of $200 in addition to her life estate.

All those questions were argued before the Orphans' Court and all but one were decided in favor of the Hospital.

Craig A. Marsh, who was counsel for the Hospital, advised the Board of Governors that, in his opinion, the Court was wrong in the only question decided against the Hospital and advised that an appeal be taken to the Prerogative Court, held by the Chancellor. The Board of Governors followed the advice and directed counsel to take the appeal. It was this appeal which has been decided in favor of the Hospital as stated above.

Elias R. Pope is the administrator appointed on motion of the Hospital, and he says that the land and personal property together, which the Hospital will get all told, will in round numbers be $10 000.

STATE CONVENTION OF RED MEN.

The Council Fire Will Be Kindled in Trenton, February 27th.

The Great Council, Improved Order of Red Men, of New Jersey, will meet in annual session at Trenton, Thursday, February 27th, when the council fire will be kindled in the Y. M. C. A. hall. The session gives promise of being one of the most important and interesting ever held. Besides the election of great chiefs, action will be taken in regard to the establishment of a funeral benefit fund under the auspices of the Great Council, permission for which was granted at the session held at Providence, R. I., last September. Efforts will also be made to make the body a representative one. The representatives from this city include Past Sachems D. C. Allen, of Miantonomah Tribe, 118; W. A. Westphal, of Iona Council; Charles J. Young, of Paugh Caugh Naugh Sinque Tribe, 193. The following members of No. 118, will also attend: Past Sachems Newcorn, Holstein, Mague, Stiglitz and Newman, and from No. 193, Past Sachems Carney, Conover and Odam.

Denied by Mayor and Sheriff.

The story which appeared in a New York paper yesterday stating that the bill introduced in the Legislature to change the system of selecting juries was inspired in Elizabeth by friends of Mayor Rankin, in order to "do" Sheriff George Kyte, of Union county, is denied by the parties interested. It stated that Senator Voorhees is supposed to have drafted the bill, at the solicitation of Mayor Rankin, so that no more such grand juries as the last one could be drawn. This grand jury is said to have been antagonistic to the Mayor and to have turned in so many indictments against disorderly houses and saloon-keepers because these reflected discredit on the Mayor's regime. Sheriff Kyte says that he did not know that such matters were to be considered, and so could not have intentionally drawn a jury which would be antagonistic to the Mayor.—Newark Advertiser.

A Tumor Taken From a Boy.

George Allen, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Allen, of Somerset street, has about recovered from a recent operation performed by Dr. Zeglio. A tumor had grown on his right shoulder to a considerable size and gave him much trouble. The operation was very successful and young Allen is doing nicely.

Died at Brookside Retreat.

A man named Kellogg, who has been at Brookside Retreat for sometime under medical care, died at that place Sunday. The body was taken in charge by A. M. Runyon & Son, the undertakers, and yesterday an undertaker from Montclair, came to Plainfield and removed the body to the former place, where the decedent has relatives.

Gymnastic Ladies.

The ladies gymnasium class opened at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon under most favorable circumstances. The attendance was good, and a large class, it is expected, will be formed.

SOCIAL SEASON ENDED.

THE LAST ASSEMBLY QUIETS SOCIETY UNTIL AFTER LENT.

The Event Was Well Attended, Notwithstanding the Cold Weather—The Patronesses and the Names of Guests.

Tomorrow Lent begins and society will remain quietly at home until after Easter. As a fit closing for the social season the last Assembly was held in the Casino last night and was well attended. The decorations were about the same as at the other Assemblies except perhaps more elaborate. The front of the stage was filled with palms and made a charming background to the kaleidoscopic picture of the beautiful gowns, pretty faces and the conventional black of the escorts' suits.

The patronesses that received were Mrs. J. W. Reinhart, Mrs. O. T. Waring, Mrs. J. T. Scott, Mrs. L. G. Timpson, Mrs W. L. Saunders, Mrs. M. S. Ackerman and Mrs. W. J. Roome.

Among those present during the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Reinhart, Mr. and Mrs. Marion S Ackerman, Mr. and Mrs. James T Scott, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Roome, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis G. Timpson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Van-Buren, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Wharton, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel W. Serrell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Craig A. Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Raymond, Mrs. O. T. Waring, Mrs. A. C. Vail, Mrs. W. L. Saunders, the Misses Wilson, Sprague, Holly, Abbett, Waring Vail, Murphy and Marsh, the Misses Richardson and Snediker, of Brooklyn, Miss Walsin, of New York, and Messrs. Bull, Murray, Erickson, McGee, Hutchins, Patton, Waring, Huntinton, and Drs. Hedges and Hallock and Messrs. Bigelow, of Elizabeth, and Morgan, of New York.

Christian Endeavor Activity.

The Christian Endeavor service at the Trinity Reformed church last evening was one of the best held in a long time. It was led by the pastor, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, and the meeting was one of power, all the time being taken up for prayer and testimony. A male quartette, composed of Messrs. Ezra Loomis, Chas. M. Hummer, H. J. Martin and L. A. Hummer, were present and rendered excellent music. Their efforts were very pleasing to the large company present, and it was the desire of all that they come again. At the close of the meeting several persons signed cards of membership to the society. These services are always interesting and profitable, and one can do no better than to spend an hour at this place every Monday evening.

How to Make Use of Musical Voices.

As usual, there was a large attendance at the meeting of the Primary Teachers' Union meeting held yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. building. The devotional exercises were conducted by Miss Haff, and Mrs. Powlison taught the lesson on the subject of "Faith," using the blackboard for illustration. The latter part of the meeting was devoted to a discussion of singing, and as to the best methods in conducting this portion of the session in the Sunday-school. Next week Miss May E. Howlett will have charge of the devotional exercises, and Mrs. Mosher will teach the lesson.

A Leap Year Party.

A very pleasant leap year dance was given in T. A. B. hall last night by the Rosebud Social Club. The affair was attended by about twenty-five couples, who seemingly enjoyed themselves until early this morning. The music was under the direction of Chas. Wendell, of Bound Brook. The committee in charge who made the affair the success it was, consisted of Miss Maggie Revelle, Miss Maggie Lawlor, C. McCarthy and P. Mack. Admission was by invitation.

A Literal Silver Reception.

Friday, Feb. 28th, is the time appointed by the Boston Board for the recall of the silver boxes distributed in the autumn to the Women's Missionary Societies throughout the State, when silver receptions will be held. The Women's and Young Ladies Missionary Societies of the First Baptist church will hold a reception on the afternoon of that date in the lecture room of the church.

—The Misses Giles entertained a few of their friends very pleasantly at their home on East Sixth street, last evening. Before the guests departed dainty refreshments were served and all present spent a pleasant evening.

Our people are growing more and more in the habit of looking to Reynolds' pharmacy for the latest and best of everything in the drug line. They sell Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds, croup and whooping cough. When in need of such a medicine give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result.

NIPPING WEATHER THIS.

EXPOSED PORTIONS OF THE BODY FEEL THE TOUCH OF JACK FROST.

Many Ears Frozen, While in Some Cases Careless People Almost Froze to Death—Incidents Gathered Here and There.

There was still the same crowd of half-frozen individuals that streamed into the waiting-rooms at the North avenue station this morning, for the cold wave is still with us. The thermometer stood at one degree above zero at seven o'clock this morning, but the cold seemed just as intense as yesterday. There was no wind and the warm rays of the sun tempted many to come out but Jack Frost was on the lookout and those who did not wrap up well soon felt his touch.

As the sun set yesterday it began to grow cold. Several commuters reached home last evening with either frozen ears or nose Those, who ventured out in the evening, were glad to desert the cold streets and reach their destinations.

The cold weather made excellent skating. Wilson's pond is in fine condition and smooth as glass. Smalley's pond and New Market pond also furnished very good skating. A party of young men went to Ohl's pond last night to enjoy the sport, but the icy wind thoroughly chilled them and they turned and went home faster than they came.

There were several victims of the extreme cold. On Sunday night Geo. W. Monfort, of West Front street, froze both ears. Yesterday afternoon a tramp went through Plainfield with both of his ears badly frozen. A man in Bound Brook went out with some of his friends on Sunday night. They drank more than was good for them and then started for home. This man did not know where his home was and mistook a barn for his residence. As he could not get in he laid down and went to sleep. When he awoke in the morning he found his hands and feet badly frozen. It is thought that he will have to have them amputated.

Charles Hall was returning from a Sunday afternoon bicycle ride yesterday morning and froze his ears.

While returning from South Plainfield on his bicycle Sunday night Eugene O'Reilly found a man lying alongside the road in a drunken stupor. He was almost stiff with the cold, and it was only by incessant kicking and pounding that Mr. O'Rielly finally aroused him to a realization that if he did not awake and move on, that he would freeze to death. Just at this point a party of men came along who knew the unfortunate individual and took him in charge. Mr. O'Rielly then came on home.

A man in the employ of Samuel Lederer & Son, wholesale fruit dealers in New Brunswick, stopped at Benjamin Crane's butcher shop on Park avenue, yesterday afternoon, with his hand frozen. He was taken to Dr. M. B. Lang's where his frozen member was dressed. He was then sent home to New Brunswick on the train and his horse and wagon put up in a local livery stable. The man did not give his name. A clerk in A. B. Thorn's hardware store on Somerset street had his ear frozen last night.

Entertained the Minstrel Men.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Runyon, of West Fourth street, entertained those who are to take part in the Crescent Wheelmen's Minstrel show at their home last evening. After the members had rehearsed their several parts, the balance of the evening was pleasantly passed in a social manner during which time refreshments were served: Among those present were: G. O. Stevens, William Stephenson, W. N. Runyon, Clarence Teel, Charles Lyman, S. P. T. Wilbur, William Thiers, T. U. Smith and Blanchard Randolph. They will meet again at the same place tomorrow evening.

Jersey Central Earnings.

The New Jersey Central Railroad reports for the year 1895 gross earnings of $13,568,023, an increase of $908,082; expenses and taxes, $8,295,053; and net earnings of $5,272,969; increase $1,051,334. There were $277,893 expended for construction. There was a balance, after fixed charges and dividends on the capital stock, of $703,437, a gain of $1,346,140 as compared with a deficit of $642,702 in 1894.

Sons of Ham Getting Ready.

Those who are to participate in the minstrel show of the Crescent Wheelmen met to rehearse last evening at the home of Charles Runyon, of East Fourth street. There was a good attendance. Another rehearsal will be held Friday evening. Those in charge are making every possible effort to push the plan through and will have a minstrel show worthy of the club and of Plainfield.

SUPREME COURT OPENS.

CRAIG A. MARSH HAS AN IMPORTANT ACTION TO CONDUCT BEFORE IT.

A Decision Favorable to His Clients Will It is Said, Bankrupt Long Branch—The Bird-Johnson Case to Come Up Soon.

The Supreme Court opened at Trenton today with an unusually large attendance of lawyers, owing to the pending constitutional amendments before the legislature.

Among the Plainfield cases on the calender is Bird vs. Johnson which is expected to be argued during the present week.

Two important cases brought by a Plainfield lawyer are those of George Bliss, of New York, and Edward T. Dobbins, of Philadelphia, against Long Branch, to set aside assessments for asphalt paving. The Long Branch newspapers say that if the assessments are set aside it will bankrupt the city. Craig A. Marsh is counsel for Col. Bliss and Mr. Dobbins, and Long Branch is represented by three New Jersey lawyers, and one from New York city.

Judge VanSyckel has filed opinion in favor of the plaintiffs in Johnson against Smith, Gibbs and the C. N. J. Land Improvement Company. Craig A. Marsh was the successful counsel in this case also.

The fight against the Land Improvement Company was to have a mechanics lien for $1,200 put ahead of a $10.000 mortgage held by the company.

Winfield S. Angleman was admitted to the examination for counselor's license and Charles J. McNabb to the attorney's examination.

Ex-Chancellor Runyon's funeral is to take place next Monday and it is expected that Court will adjourn in honor of his memory.

A WITNESS FAINTS IN COURT.

Beginning of the Trial of Henderson for Killing a Man at a Picnic.

Theophilus Henderson was placed on trial for killing John Miller before Judge McCormick, in the Quarter Sessions Court, at Elizabeth yesterday. The men were at a picnic given by the Minnehaha Club last August. In a fight Miller was struck on the head with a brick, and died soon afterward. His widow, sons and daughters were in court today, as well as the mother and father of the prisoner.

At the afternoon session Miss Collie Nolan, one of the most important witnesses for the State, was called. In going from the witness-room she fell into a hysterical fit, and did not regain consciousness for some time. She was not allowed to go on the stand, and on motion of the Prosecutor the trial was adjourned until today.

STREET RAILWAY CONTRACT.

It is Understood That L. W. Serrell, Jr., Will Do the Work.

It is understood that the Board of Directors of the Plainfield Street Railway have awarded the contract for building the extensions of the street railway, authorized by the ordinance recently passed, to Lemuel W. Serrell, Jr., of this city. The price for the work is not yet given out.

Mr. Serrell will probably commence the work just as soon as the weather permits. He is engaged in electrical construction in New York, and will doubtless make a job satisfactory to both the city and company.

They Seem to Want Bradley.

Senator James A. Bradley, despite reports to the contrary, is said in Asbury Park to be the candidate for Mayor. Many details in connection with license regulations, liquor prohibition and improved sewerage will engage the attention of the new government, and it seems to be the opinion that Mr. Bradley is the man who can bring order out of chaos.

The Oldest Woman in Roselle Dead.

Mary Webster, said to be the oldest woman in the town of Roselle, died yesterday morning at her home on Sixth avenue there, aged nine-two. She had resided in Roselle thirteen years, and was a native of this country.

—VanEmburgh & Son will sell tomorrow "only" Wednesday, February 19th, one lot of large embossed tea trays at 6 cents each. Sale will commence at 8 o'clock a. m.

Threw Away His Canes.

Mr. D. Wiley, ex-postmaster, Black Creek, N. Y., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that he was only able to hobble around with canes, and even then it caused him great pain. After using Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was so much improved that he threw away his canes. He says this liniment did him more good than all other medicines and treatment put together. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

DARING SNEAK THIEF.

ALMOST MADE AWAY WITH MR. AND MRS. ROWLEY'S JEWELRY.

Entered Their Apartments While Both Were in the Store and Then Ran Into Mrs. Rowley on Her Return.

A sneak thief came very near carrying off all the valuables of Frank Rowley, proprietor of the drug store at the corner of Somerset street and Craig place, last Friday night. Mr. Rowley resides in the rooms over the pharmacy. At about five o'clock Friday night Mrs. Rowley came down to the store and remained there about an hour. When she went up-stairs again she went to the bath room after the keys which she had left on a window ledge there. Just as she opened the door, a man rushed out of the room, pushed her against the wall and fled down the stairs. Mrs. Rowley was badly frightened and called her husband. The two searched the rooms and found, on the bed, a pillow-case packed full of silverware, jewelry and other valuables. Among them were Mrs. Rowley's diamond rings which she prizes very much. The only articles missing were a pair of ear-rings, a necklace and a bracelet. It is supposed that the thief made his way upstairs while Mrs. Rowley was in the store, opened the door with a skeleton key and selected what he wanted. He was disturbed in his work by Mrs. Rowley and hid in the bath-room expecting that she would pass on to her room. She was unable to give any description of the thief as the shock of his sudden appearance was so great.

GETTING DOWN TO WORK.

A New Law for the Publication of Laws Introduced in the Assembly.

The Legislature got to work almost on time last night. The house went vigorously into the business on hand, but the abscence of Senator Voorhees made the Senate's session very slow, and it will not seriously take up the week's business until to-day.

Mr. Minch, of Cumberland, introduced a bill providing for the publication of the laws in new shapes. It provides that the Governor and Comptroller shall each year select the newspapers to publish the laws and that the newspapers shall publish only the general acts and those which effect their respective counties. The selection of the counties shall be upon the basis of the county representation in the Legislature, and not more than eight papers shall be designated for any county. The work shall be equally divided between Republican and Democratic papers; there shall not be more than ninety papers selected altogether. The papers must be at least two years old; they must publish laws within ten days after their passage, and the rate of compensation shall be 10 cents per 100 words.

A spirited debate occurred on Mr. Lloyd's bill, which makes it unlawful to hold an election in a barroom, inn or other place where liquor is licensed to be sold. Mr. Queen said the phrase "or other place" made it impossible to hold an election even in a club house. He and Mr. Skinner poked so much fun at the measure that it was voted down. Mr. Lloyd rescued it by moving that it be placed back on third reading, and his motion prevailed. Mr. Lloyd will probably amend by striking out the objectionable clause.

Mr. Skinner introduced a bill prohibiting trolley and other street car companies from carrying freight. A bill by Mr. Robertson authorizes the Governor to appoint three citizens to consider the pollution of the Passaic river and a general system of sewage disposal for the Passaic Valley. An appropriation of $10,000 is made for the expenses by the investigation.

The Senate in executive session last night confirmed Eugene Emley and J. S. Voorhees as Prosecutors of the Pleas for Passaic and Middlesex counties, respectively; W. I. Lewis, District Court Judge of Paterson; Thomas N. McCarter and Frederick F. Guild, District Court Judges in Newark; Woodbridge Strong, Presiding Judge of Middlesex county; John C. Eisele, of Newark, to the State Hospitals Board; Frank Gaskill, of Ocean, and Moses Bigelow, of Newark, to the State Reform School for Boys. The only nominations not confirmed are those of Roderick B. Seymour and Joseph D. Bedle, which had not been reported by the Judiciary Committee.

Another Hotel for Scotch Plains.

John Benner, owner of the Fanwood Road House, recently purchased the tract of land to the east of it on South avenue, and expects to soon erect a hotel there. The cellar will be excavated in a novel manner. Michael Welch and Michael Uhdal will each be allowed two men and one cart. They will be given five days and the man carting away the most earth will receive all the money.

NO ARCTIC CURRENTS

Impossible for Nansen To Have Drifted to the Pole.

DR. DALL STICKS TO HIS STATEMENT

He May Be Returning By Way of Siberia, and Has Exceeded Others Only in Returning To Tell the Tale.

Washington, Feb. 18.—"Nansen knew that no Jeannette relics had ever been found in Greenland and whatever thought he may have given to Arctic currents must have demonstrated to him that a drift across the Pole was utterly impracticable." This was Dr. Dall's comment to-day when his attention was called to the fact that surprise had been expressed at his statement discrediting the long accepted Jeannette relic theory. Dr. Dall is the Arctic expert of the Smithsonian institute and has devoted most of a long life to scientific research in the north frozen ocean. He believes that should the reported return of Nansen by way of Siberia be verified, it will be found that he has not been to the Pole and that his expedition was a failure, though to some extent more successful than others entering the ice in the same vicinity, through the fact that some one has returned to tell the tale. In that case it will be a repetition of the Jeannette expedition. That Nansen would return in the Tram, Dr. Dall has never for an instant believed, and in this he is supported by Melville, Greely, Nordenskiold and a host of other great explorers. He declares that there are records of more than a hundred ships going into the ice between Point Harros and the Lena delta and not a single relic of one of them has ever been found. All the wood that reaches Greenland, he says, is treasured as if it were gold. In that treeless land the sleds are frequently made of small bits of wood pegged together with the most rigid economy of material and yet scientists examining those sleds have found nothing from any Siberian source. Records of unquestioned accuracy demonstrate that no system of currents exists in the North Polar ocean such as are well known in temperate or tropical waters.

The Jeannette Relic Hoax.

In regard to the Jeannette relic story, Dr. Dall says this fiction was totally exploded the moment it gained currency. He had associated with him in the Smithsonian institute, Dr. Emil Bessels, surgeon of the Polaris expedition under Dr. Dall, when the announcement came from Europe that fifty-eight objects from the Jeannette had been found on an ice floe on the southwest coast of Greenland and had been exhibited by the Danish government at Amsterdam. This was so totally at variance with all knowledge of Arctic matters that Dr. Bessels and himself proceeded to investigate it. They questioned a number of seamen who had been on the United States man-of-war Yantic under Commander Wilde to that portion of Greenland at the time the relics were said to have been discovered. Among these were Ninderman and Novoe of the Jeannette party. The Yantic had been to the north looking for clues of De Long's party, under the supposition that survivors might possibly make their way south through Greenland. Those sailors united in the statement that some of the younger officers on the ship, the midshipmen or ensigns, had gotten up a lot of alleged relics and put them on an ice floe near the ship to fool some of their superior officers. It was simply intended as a naval academy prank, a boyish joke and wholly without seriousness. The floe drifted off, the Yantic's officers did not find the "relics," but as subsequently appeared they fell into the hands of Esquimos and passed thence to the Danish government. After the joke miscarried its seriousness became apparent to the perpetrators, and for their own safety and to avoid probable courtmartial they pledged to secrecy all the sailors who knew about the affair.

Simply Blown Along.

None of the systematic currents that Nansen relied upon to take him to the Pole exist, according to Commodore Melville's experience. As drift expert of De Long's expedition, he became more familiar, perhaps, than any other man with the supposed currents. "On that expedition," he said, "we drifted twenty-two months after entering the ice near where Nansen entered it and went only 1,300 miles. In March of our first winter we came almost to the point where we put in the previous October, in sight of Wrangell land—not fifty miles' difference in five months. Every mile we went for nearly two years we dredged and got Siberian river mud between sixteen and thirty fathoms. We never found a current in all that time—we were simply blown along by the prevailing winds. Along the edge of the ice cap we found thirty fathoms of water. Everywhere else the water was shallow. No currents could have existed in it. The great equatorial currents toward the Pole run in water 4,000 to 5,000 fathoms deep, and when they reach shallows they dissipate. None ever enters the Arctic."

Bayard Calls on Salisbury.

London, Feb. 18.—The Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, the American ambassador, had a half hour interview at the foreign office last evening with Lord Salisbury. He declines to say anything relative to the subject of the interview.

Lehigh Coal Company's Earnings.

Philadelphia, Feb. 18.—The annual report of the Lehigh Coal & Navigation company for 1895 shows a net surplus over all expenses of $134,556.64.

ANGUS GILBERT'S EXECUTION.

Everything in Readiness To Kill the Murderer in Boston Next Friday.

Boston, Feb. 18.—Sheriff O'Brien has completed the details for the execution on Friday of Angus Gilbert, the murderer of little Alice Sterling. The sheriff has already sent out invitations to the jurors who found Gilbert guilty, to two members of the grand jury which found the indictment, to the jailor, and to the medical examiner, Dr. Harris. Others who have received cards of admission, besides members of the press, are sheriffs of all the counties of the state, Attorney General Knowlton, District Attorney Stevens and Assistants Sprague and McLaughlin, Clerk of Courts Manning, Special Sheriff Leavey, United States Marshal Swift, the warden of the state prison and his deputies, the members of the board of police of Boston, with several inspectors and about twenty physicians. One official from outside of the state has sent a request for admission. It was from the sheriff of Providence, R. I., and was complied with. The prisoner's counsel will also be present, and certain clergymen whom Gilbert may desire. The father of little Alice Sterling applied for a ticket some time ago, but the sheriff persuaded him that his presence would not be fitting at that time. Gilbert will make no statement from the scoffold.

MISS CATHERINE FULLER WED.

Daughter of the Chief Justice Is Now Mrs. T. S. Beecher.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Miss Catherine Marten Weston Fuller, daughter of the chief justice of the United States supreme court, was married to Theodore Smith Beecher of Buffalo, N. Y., last night at St. John's Episcopal church, Rev. Dr. Mackay-Smith and Bishop Taurence of Massachusetts officiating. C. F. Keating of Buffalo was best man, and Richard D. Ware of Boston, Dr. H. H. Haskell of Massachusetts, Mr. Wells of Detroit, and Mr. Clifford of Portland, Me., were the ushers. Miss Fanny Fuller was maid of honor and Misses Pauline Aubrey and Jane Fuller were the bridesmaids. The church was crowded with the social leaders of the capitol, a handsome reception at the residence of the chief justice following the ceremony. The young couple will go to Buffalo to live.

HAZEN SCHOOL ROBBERY.

Now Known That Fully $1,000 Worth of Jewelry Was Stolen.

Pelham Manor, N. Y., Feb. 18.—There is absolutely no clue to the identity of the thieves who entered Mrs. John Cunningham Hazen's school in this village during the absence of Mrs. Hazen and her pupils. It is now known that fully $1,000 worth of jewelry was stolen. Among those who lost valuable jewelry were Miss Helen Furman of New York, Miss Edna Granger of Buffalo, Miss Helen Langhren of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Miss Anna King, daughter of Vice-President King of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. Mrs. Hazen's seminary is well known through the Atlantic states, and the daughters of many millionaires from all sections of the country are attendants there.

THE CASE OF REV. MR. KNAPP.

Minister Terrell Will Try the Accused Missionary at Constantinople.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Alexander Terrell, United States minister to Constantinople, cabled Secretary Olney that he had secured a suspension of the proceedings against Rev. Mr. Knapp, the American missionary at Bitlis, who is charged by the Turkish government with being concerned in the alleged Armenian insurrectionary movement. Mr. Terrell also says that he has secured safe conduct for Mr. Knapp when the mountains can be crossed to Constantinople, and an agreement that Mr. Terrell shall examine the case of the missionary. Mr. Knapp will bring with him to Constantinople three women and five children.

AIMED AT PRUSSIA.

Husted's Bill Against Foreign Insurance Companies Signed by Gov. Morton.

Albany, Feb. 18.—Gov. Morton has signed Assemblyman Husted's bill requiring the state superintendent of insurance to refuse to issue licenses to insurance companies of foreign countries to transact business in this state whose countries have shut out New York state companies from doing business therein and also to revoke the licenses of companies of such countries already doing business in this state.

Elections in Barrooms.

Trenton, Feb. 18.—House bill 61, making it unlawful to hold elections in barrooms, was opposed in the senate on the third reading by Messrs. Duncan, Benedict, Queen, Hoos and Mullins, it being contended that in the big cities the saloons were the only places large enough to contain the election booths. Mr. Skinner said the wording of the bill would prevent the holding of any election of any kind in a saloon. After a lively debate the bill was put to a vote and was lost, 28 to 29. A motion to reconsider was agreed to and the bill was put back on second reading for amendment.

Mine Inspector's Report.

Shamokin, Pa., Feb. 18.—Mine inspector Edward Brennan, of the seventh anthracite mining district, makes the following official statement for 1895: Total output of the collieries comprising this district, 6,184,542 tons. During the twelve months there were fifty-nine fatal accidents and 114 non-fatal accidents.

Manderson in the Hands of His Friends.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Ex-Senator Manderson of Nebraska, in an interview last night, admitted that he was in the hands of his friends as a candidate for the presidency before the republican convention at St. Louis.

MR. DUPONT'S CASE

Senate To Push the Matter to a Speedy Settlement.

MINORITY REPORT EXPECTED TO-DAY

Another Proposition for a National Holiday Presented by Senator Hoar—Secretary of Agriculture Morton Attacked in the House.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The senate will to-day receive the minority report of the committee on privileges and elections adverse to the seating of Mr. Dupont as senator from Delaware, the majority report favoring his claim having been reported yesterday. It is the understanding that the Delaware case is to be pushed to a speedy settlement and may be taken up this afternoon. Another proposition for a national holiday was presented yesterday afternoon by Mr. Hoar, rep., Mass., in the form of a memorial. It is to be the 24th of June, and is to commemorate the first sighting of the north Atlantic coast by John and Sebastian Cabot in 1497. It was referred to the judiciary committee to which had already been referred Mr. Hill's, dem., N. Y., bill for a "Jackson Day"—the 15th of March. The resolution heretofore reported from the committee on foreign relations for the application and enforcement of the Monroe doctrine was taken up so as to allow Mr. Davis, rep., Minn., its author, to address the senate in support of it. He did so in a speech which occupied about an hour and a half in its delivery. He spoke of the conditions of our foreign relations having ameliorated within the last month, and said that if that amelioration was the result of any concession of the principles of the Monroe doctrine, the American people would rise up in condemnation of it. The United States, he said, under the Monroe doctrine and under the resolution, assumed no responsibility whatever for the conduct of South American or Central American states towards foreign nations; and none of those governments was to expect exemption from the chastisement of war by any foreign power. The intervention of the United States was to be when, and only when, the the act threatened or proposed by a foreign power might be dangerous to the peace and safety on the United States. These were the general lines on which Mr. Davis' speech was constructed. Its delivery was listened to with great interest by senators and by crowded galleries. No action was taken on the resolution.

Secretary Morton Attacked.

The house resumed the consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill, and the attack upon Secretary Morton and his policy filled in most of the time of the session. These led Mr. Pearson, rep., N. C., to ask if there were not some one in the house to defend the secretary. "Is there not," he queried, "a democrat, republican or populist, who can stoop thus low?" The committee recommendation dispensing with a chief clerk of the department was agreed to and the appropriation was restored. Amendments were agreed to as follows: For printing the book on diseases of the horse; reducing from $50,000 to $30,000 the amount for publishing farmers' bulletins; appropriating $15,000 for irrigation investigations.

GOODE MUST GO TO PRISON.

The Right To Employ Decoy Letters Sustained by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Boston, Feb. 18.—The supreme court of the United States has affirmed the decision and sentence in the case of George Goode, the Roxbury letter carrier, who last May was convicted of stealing letters and sentenced to state prison for three years. Goode was detected by means of two decoy letters prepared by Inspector Boynton, and the case is considered of great importance by the postoffice authorities, inasmuch as the supreme court by its decision recognizes the right to employ decoy letters in such cases.

MRS. MANLEY DEAD.

The Wife of Hon. Jos. H. Manley Passes Away of Pneumonia.

Augusta, Me., Feb. 18.—Susan Cony Manley, wife of Hon. Jos. H. Manley, died in this city yesterday afternoon after a short illness of pneumonia. She was born in Oldtown, Me., March 5, 1839, and was a daughter of the late ex-Gov. Samuel Cony. Four children survive her. The funeral will be private and will occur at the residence in this city Thursday morning.

Meat Producers Want Reciprocity.

Washington, Feb. 18.—A delegation from Chicago representing meat producers and exporters yesterday afternoon appeared before the sub-committee of the house ways and means committee having charge of the subject of reciprocity, and urged the committee to restore to the tariff laws the reciprocity clause of the McKinley tariff law.

Mrs. Haun on Trial for Murder.

Fonda, N. Y., Feb. 18.—The taking of testimony in the trial of Mrs. Florence Haun, charged with the murder of Charles Laudry in Amsterdam on November 6 last, was begun before Justice Stover here this morning. The defense will be self-defense. Mrs. Haun, it is said, shot and killed Laudry because he desired to cast her off.

The Catalonia Reaches Liverpool.

Liverpool, Feb. 18.—The Cunard line steamer Catalonia, Capt. Atkin, which sailed from Liverpool January 16, via Queenstown, for Boston, and was picked up by the German steamer Braunschweig and towed into St. Michaels January 28 with her shaft broken, has arrived here in tow. She will undergo repairs at this port.

Mrs. Mary Hinkley
Frederika, Iowa.

Goitre 31 Years

Tenacious Chronic Case Gives Way to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Thirty-one years ago, after dangerous illness, my neck began to swell. It did not give me any trouble, except the deformity, for many years. About ten years ago it commenced to pain me and if I took cold I would have Terrible Choking Spells.

Even my people thought my last hour had come. I read of a lady in Kalamazoo, Mich., who had been cured of goitre by Hood's Sarsaparilla and immediately began to take this medicine, using several bottles. My neck measured 21 inches last May against 16 inches now. It is a wonder and astonishment to my friends and neighbors, for I was growing worse all the time and no one thought I could live through the winter. All thought a cure impossible as I am 64 years of age." MRS. MARY HINKLEY, Frederika, Iowa.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Take only Hood's.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, biliousness, headache. 25c.

GEO. O. STEVENS
COAL
747 WEST FRONT ST.

Branch office with

G. A. HALLOCK,

109 West Front st.

C. L. MANNING, Marble AND Granite Works,

Corner Central avenue and West Front street, opp. First Baptist Church.
Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

Telephone 29b. Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON,

Plumbing and Hot Water Heating.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system
Opposite Roberts's Livery. 132 North ave.

W. L. & J. M. Smalley,

—DEALERS IN—

HIGH GRADE

Meats,

& Meat Specialties

Beef, Lamb, Mutton, Veal and Pork
Poultry and Game in season.

94 Somerset st., Plainfield N. J.
Telephone Call 42-B.

NOTICE.

Special Reductions

—AT—

Neuman Bros.

on fancy brands goods. Full quart bottles table oil 60c, finest quality; whole canned ox tongue 45c; lunch tongue, whole, 25c; a special reduction given on Curtis' strawberry and assorted jams, 16c; fresh roasted coffees received every week, quality unexcelled.

NEUMAN BROS.

What! $30.00?

Yes, thirty dollars will buy a piano, in first-class condition, at

W. R. BROKAW'S

Piano Parlors, 311 Madison ave.
Tuning and regulating a specialty

Advertised Letters.

Plainfield, February 10, 1896.

Adams J H	Leonard A W
Barton A J	Neugem Agnes Miss
Codlington B	McMann Thos
Duchene E Miss	Moore Elmer
Feil A F S	McEvoy Kate J 3
Fisk Clinton B	McKeef Lara Mrs
Hustner Jno	Palmberg Elen Miss 2
Johnson Charlie	Perine Chas
Johnson Hilder Miss	Prentiss S S
Kline Mellie Miss	Storme G W
King T P 2	Snediker Dare

Holiday Millinery Goods.

MRS. L. ADAMS,

114 EAST FRONT STREET,

Opp. First National Bank.
Dressmaking and Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns.

S. D. FRAZEE,

DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF

FRESH FISH.

Fresh every day. Terms cash. Goods delivered.
230 Park ave., 000. North ave
Music furnished for all occasions.

California IN THREE DAYS

without change of cars. All meals served in dining cars. Palace drawing-room sleeping cars and tourist sleepers are run through to San Francisco and Los Angeles without change, leaving Chicago daily via

THE NORTH-WESTERN LINE

Through Tourist sleeping cars Chicago to California daily and personally conducted excursions every Thursday. Variable route tourist tickets at

VERY LOW RATES.

Detailed information and descriptive pamphlets will be mailed free on application to W. B. Kniskern, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago. Agents of connecting lines sell tickets via the

Chicago & North Western Railway,

or address: H. A. Gross, G. E. P. A., 423 Broadway, New York, or T. P. Vaille, S. E. P. A., 112 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

FOR GIFTS and LIGHT buy "MILLER" LAMPS

Elegant designs (a thousand styles), Beautiful finishes, and the best lamp made—up-to-date in every respect. Call and see it, also our Fine Brass and Onyx Tables. Buy only "Miller" lamps from dealers. We have been manufacturers since 1844.——made "The Rochester" Lamp.

EDWARD MILLER & CO., 28 & 30 WEST BROADWAY, (66 Park Pl.) bet. Park Pl. & Barclay St., N. Y.

Convenient to all "down-town" Ferries, and Elevated Stations at Park Place and Barclay St.

For Cool Weather buy a "MILLER" OIL HEATER.

FOR SALE BY W. L. GAVETT & CO.

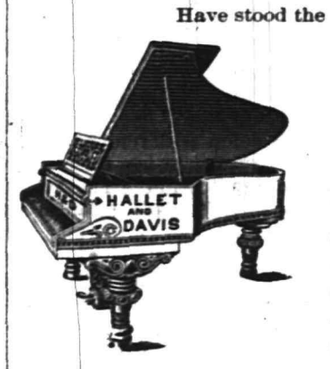
Freshest Oysters

will be found at

Rogers' Sea-Food Market.

THE HALLET & DAVIS PIANOS

Have stood the test of over fifty-five (55) years



and are not surpassed by any in the world. Prices, $300 and upwards. Our special 3-year payment plan makes purchase easy. We have other makes of new pianos at $200. Good squares at $75, and we give a full 5-year warranty with everything we sell. Old instruments taken in exchange. Send for illustrated catalogue giving full information.

The Tway Piano Co.,

88 FIFTH AVE.,

near 14th st., New York.

"Tway's Musical Guest," containing 8 pages of music, interesting reading matter and theatrical news, mailed free on application. 10 3 6m

COAL

F. W. HAND,

132 North avenue.
929 South avenue.
197 North avenue.
Telephone No. 139

"Ever Ready" PREPARED

Buckwheat Flour.

Home-made and sold on its merits. Sold by all grocers and made by

FRENCH BROTHERS,

City Mills. 24 Somerset street. Plainfield, N. J.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 WATCHUNG AVE.,

—DEALERS IN—

Lumber, Coal Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement for Walls and Ceilings.

Leech, Stiles & Co.,

EYE SPECIALISTS.

1413 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa.,

formerly with Queen & Co. H. A. Stiles will be at

107 East Front Street,

Dunham's real estate office,

EVERY THURSDAY

from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Skilful attention given to all cases of eye strain, headache, etc. No charge for examination. All glasses guaranteed.

Bargains in Real Estate For sale or to let.

MONEY to loan on first mortgage.

E. C. Mulford,

No. 169 North avenue.
Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.
BROKER.

Communications pertaining to the business mentioned, either by letter or otherwise, will receive prompt attention. Carriage service supplied.

THE
Bee Hive

Men's Unlaundered Shirts.

Lot 1—The Cast Iron Shirt, made of good heavy muslin, good 3 ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, patent facings, 38c.
Lot 2—New York mills muslin, 3-ply, fine linen bosoms, reinforced front and back, patent facing, 48c.
Lot 3—Our New York mills shirt, made of New York mills muslin, 2 and 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, continuous facings and hand made buttonholes, equal to the best custom-made shirt, 69c.
Boys' unlaundered shirts 38 cts. Laundered shirts 50c 75c and $1.

Louis Callman,
222 West Front st.

CLEANER COAL.
L. A. Rheaume
Agent,
Watchung Ave., Corner 4th St.,
Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.
Upper Lehigh and Honeybrook Coal in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.
Rough and Dressed Lumber.
He would also announce recently increased facilities for turning and scroll sawing, and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner and at short notice.

H. Eggerding,
121 Park ave.,
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars

CODDINGTON'S
Furniture and Freight
EXPRESS.
Offices 24 West Front st; 33 Park ave. Postoffice box 329. Piano moving a specialty. Large covered trucks; goods sent to any part of the country; charges reasonable; satisfaction guaranteed

PLAINFIELD SEMINARY
re-opened
SEPTEMBER 19, 1895.
(28th year.) Miss E. E. Kenyon, Principal.

Finest Assortment
of Lace, Celluloid and Card
Valentines
in the city.
HARPER'S,
411 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.

W. N. Pangborn,
LICENSED AUCTIONEER, Residence, 33 Linden Ave.
Personal attention. Prompt service.
1 14 tf

GREAT SACRIFICE SALE.
The remainder of Fur Capes, Jackets and Boas from H. Kohn, 318 West Front street, will be sold at Karet's Fur Parlor,
49 Craig Place. All fur repairing done.

William Hand & Son.
STAGES
For Picnics and Parties, 518 Park ave.

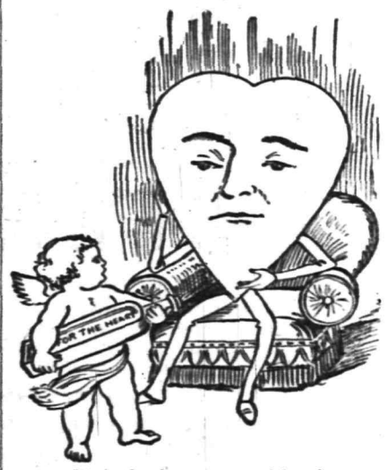
GEO J. TOBIN,
187 North Avenue.
Practical Plumber.
Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer.
Telephone Call 158a

TOWNSEND'S
Marble and Granite Works,
SOMERSET STREET.
Our motto—Good work, good material at fair prices.

THE GRANDVIEW
Meat Market.
George Egel, Manager.
Dealer in Fresh and Salted Meats. Game in season. Orders called for and delivered promptly. Cor. Grandview ave. and Somerset street.
6 12 tf

Special Sale
—OF—
Muslins
SATURDAY ONLY.

Fruit of Loom, Hill Lonsdale and other standard brands, 10 yards 65c.
The best brands unbleached muslins at 6 cents per yard.
Good quality in bleached and unbleached at 5 cents per yard.
The standard brands of white sheetings at lower prices than quoted elsewhere.
LEDERER'S.



Give the heart pure blood.
Randolph's
Sarsaparilla,
A great blood cleanser.
Only 50c Per Bottle.
L. W. RANDOLPH,
Prescription Druggist,
143 West Front st.

PIANOS.
You can buy the best in the market at Factory Prices, at
J. C. DYER'S, 218 WEST FRONT ST.

New Fish Market,
125 Park Ave.
E. P. THORN
solicits a share of the public patronage. First quality
Fish, Oysters, Clams, &c
TERMS CASH. 11 7 tf

See Our Name,
Take Our Number,
Call and See Our Goods.
Woolston & Buckle,
141 and 145 North ave.

Eagle Meat Market,
35 Somerset Street.
Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Orders called for and delivered free of charge.
C. ARNOLD, Prop.

Miss Fawcett's School
And Kindergarten,
25 WASHINGTON AVENUE.
North Plainfield, N. J.
Re-opened Thursday, Sept. 12.
Primary, Intermediate and Academic Dept's. Boys received until 10 years of age.

FISCHER PIANOS.
56 YEARS ESTABLISHED.
GRAND AND UPRIGHT.
Nearly 100,000 Manufactured.
EASY TERMS. EXCHANGED.
REASONABLE PRICES.
FISCHER PIANO WAREROOMS,
110 Fifth Ave., cor. 16th St., N. Y
Write for Catalogue.

Stubborn
✲ Ulcers
due to disease, or an impoverished condition of the blood, are a source of annoyance to the medical fraternity. While continually growing deeper and larger the circle of diseased flesh surrounding them is all the time extending, closing up the ducts through which replenishment of tissue should come. For such troubles physicians everywhere are praising the results obtained by the use of Bovinine
In the first place the system needs re-invigorating, new flesh tissue should be formed, new and pure blood created, in fact, a new and well nourished body where room for disease does not exist. Food is the thing, and Bovinine, that greatest concentration of the vitalizing elements of lean beef, is the most fitting nourishment of all for speedy results. Then applied externally it nourishes by absorption, where the disease is most apparent, thus striking the enemy on all sides. Ask any Druggist.

Carpenters and Builders.
JOHN P. EMMONS,
Mason and Builder,
Washington avenue and Prospect place,
North Plainfield, N. J.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

PEARSON & GAYLE,
Carpenters and Builders.
Residence—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine st, H. E. Gayle, No. 18 Vine st.
All work promptly attended to.

GEO. W. STUDER,
Carpenter and Builder.
985 Arlington avenue.
Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given. charges reasonable.

C. W. LINES.
Mason and Builder,
Plainfield, N. J.
Residence, 18 Elm place.
Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to

HOTEL Grenada,
NORTH AVENUE.
Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.

CITY HOTEL,
Plainfield, N. J.
Corner Park avenue and Second street.
Stables attached J. E. Beerbower, Prop

J. W. VanSickle, Dealer in all kinds of
FRESH AND SALTED MEATS.
Game in season. No. 122 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Telephone 148b. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

L. A. HUMMER'S
VARIETY MARKET.
Meats, fruits, vegetables, poultry, eggs, etc. Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge.
120 Park avenue. Telephone call 29-A

No Place Like Home

on Christmas day. No day like Christmas at home. Christmas will be merrier the more home like the home. Our great holiday sale of wall paper should attract all whose houses need papering.
Marsh, Ayers & Co.

DANGEROUS SUBJECT

House of Commons Drops Discussion of Venezuelan Matter.

ARBITRATION GENERALLY FAVORED

Appeals of Government Leaders for Silence Finally Prevail—Michael Davitt Severely Attacks the Prime Minister.

London, Feb. 18.—Discussing the Venezuelan matter in the house of commons, Mr. Atherley-Jones declared that Great Britain had seven times changed the boundary between British Guiana and Venezuela, and asked how it could be claimed that the territory in dispute could be outside the pale of arbitration. He reviewed the question in all its respects since 1814. The Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour, first lord of the treasury and government leader in the house, interposed and appealed to the house on his responsibility as a minister of the crown not to continue the debate. He declared that he was of the opinion that the continuation of the debate would not serve the purpose Mr. Atherley-Jones had in view as it would not make an honorable solution of the difficulty easier. He therefore hoped that the house, realizing how grave the issues were that were at stake, would not further discuss on this occasion the policy that had been pursued or would be pursued.

Dillon Attacks Salisbury.

Mr. Dillon, anti-Parnellite, member for East Mayo, followed Mr. Balfour. He said he trusted that no appeal from the government would induce the mover of the amendment to withdraw his motion. The American people, he added, ought to have some indication of the intensity of the feeling existing in the house of commons against the mere suggestion of a war with the United States. The action of the American government had been most patient and forbearing, and it ought to be made known to the Americans that Lord Salisbury's dispatch to Secretary Olney did not represent the feeling of the people of this country. He was glad to note the recent improved tone of public opinion. Even Lord Salisbury had turned his attention to insulting a somewhat smaller nation than the United States. In the view of nine-tenths of the people of Ireland the whole question ought to be submitted to unlimited arbitration. If the ministry tried to plunge the country into a war for an unjust cause by refusing to grant arbitration he had the right to claim that there would arise from millions of Englishmen and Irishmen a voice of the strongest possible condemnation. (Cries of "Hear!" "Hear!")

Danger of Great Strife.

Sir William Vernon-Harcourt, the liberal leader in the house, said that he was glad that the amendment had been moved in the interests of arbitration, but he did not think he could insist that the amendment was the best way to attain the end in view. Of course, such an amendment could not be accepted by the government, and must, if pressed to a division, be lost by a large majority. If that happened it would go forth to America that the house had pronounced against arbitration, although he was convinced that that was the end that all wished to be attained. (Cries of "Hear!" "Hear!") What the house had to do was to show that there was no difference of opinion on the subject. He was perfectly certain that both inside and outside of the house the consensus of opinion was in favor of peaceful arbitration. Their main object ought to be to express such opinion. It could not be done by joining issue on the amendment. He took the opportunity to deprecate the language sometimes used, alleging that President Cleveland had acted from election motives. There seemed to be a tendency in certain quarters to think that the United States had acted in a sudden, offensive manner. As a matter of fact, they had been pressing for a settlement of the question for the past ten years, always in a most friendly spirit. (Cries of "Hear!" "Hear!") The points of difference between Great Britain and the United States were insignificant, and could easily be settled by the cabinets of both countries, but if the populace on both sides were allowed to raise excitement through ignorance of the real matters at issue there would be great danger of strife. He appealed to Mr. Atherley-Jones to withdraw his amendment, which was done.

Against Bond-Aided Railroads.

Washington, Feb. 18.—In the senate, Mr. Allen, pop., Neb., offered a resolution requesting the secretary of the interior to suspend the further issuance of patents for lands of bond-aided railroads who are in arrears to the government until their accounts have been settled.

Crew Rescued by Life Savers.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The life saving service is informed that the schooner Gertie S. Winsor, from the fishing banks, bound for Provincetown, Mass., stranded yesterday off Peaked Hill bars Cape Cod, Mass. The crew of sixteen were saved in breeches buoys.

Belated Schooner Arrives.

Plymouth, Mass., Feb. 18.—Schooner Maggie J. Chadwick, for the safety of which there has been so much anxiety, has arrived here from Perth Amboy with her foretopmast gone. Her captain reports having encountered fierce weather during the entire passage.

"Pop" Davis Murder Trial.

Elizabeth, N. Y., Feb. 18.—The selection of a jury to try "Pop" Davis for the murder of George Tankard at Keeseville was resumed this morning with one juror in the box.

AWFUL HOLOCAUST

Troy Collar Girls Cremated in a Burning Factory.

PROBABLY TWENTY IN THE RUINS

Three Crushed to Shapeless Masses by Jumping from Windows—Wild Panic To Escape from the Flames.

Troy, N. Y., Feb. 18.—There is mourning in the homes of Troy collar girls to-day. An untimely and fearful death overtook many of them late yesterday afternoon. Working girls, whose day's labor was almost over, were cut down almost without warning by fire. Three girls jumped to their death from a burning building. Distracted, agonized mothers waited for the return of daughters at night, but they waited in vain. Bright, pretty collar girls who had left their homes in the morning full of life and health and spirits, never lived to tell their tale of agony, torture and pain. Their poor, charred bodies are now being hunted for under tons and tons of red-hot embers, stone and brick. Identity even when found will probably be impossible. The scene was one that Trojans will never forget. It is a black page in the city's history, unparalleled in its century of existence.

300 Girls Imprisoned by Flames.

There were 300 girls at work in the Van Zandt & Jacobs collar factory, where the fire started. The flames spread so rapidly that the narrow stairway, which was the only exit on one side of the fire escapes in the rear, was almost immediately cut off, and during the panic that followed five girls jumped from the windows, three of them to their death, and many others were injured.

Thirty May Have Perished.

It is believed by everybody, even the proprietors and employes in the shops that about twenty girls were overcome before they reached the street and were burned up in the building. People who are familiar with the interior of the building and know how limited were the means of escape, place the loss at least at thirty. The scene of the catastrophe was at the corner of Broadway and River street, a portion of the city characterized for its immense buildings. The structure is known as the Burdette building. The building is six stories in height. It was occupied by J. Stetheimer & Co., manufacturer of ladies shirt waists, whose factory was situated on the fifth floor; Van Zandt & Jacobs, manufacturers of collars and cuffs, who occupied the three floors below, and a restaurant and saloon on the ground floor. There were also several other minor enterprises carried on in the building. The fire, which ended so disastrously, started in the fifth story, in the part occupied by the Van Zandt & Jacobs collar factory.

A Heroine Rescued by Firemen.

About 5:30 o'clock a little boy attempted to light the gas in what is known as the cutting department. He threw the match, which was still burning, to the floor and it ignited a pile of scrap cambric. In an instant there was a crackling of fierce uncontrollable flames and the room was filled with smoke. Lilia Kreiger, a girl, realized the imminence of the peril, and at the risk of her own life rushed through the different departments of the building and warned the employes of their danger. Nothing but the bravery of a volunteer fireman save her from death. Then the employes of the fifth story realized that the fire was beyond control and a great panic ensued.

Wild Scramble at All Exits.

The girls rushed about the room, some of them finding their way down the stairway, others succumbed to the dense smoke and sank to the floor, and others jumped from the dizzy height of the River street windows to the pavement below. About half of the girls who were employed on the top floors did think of the fire escape, and found their way to the ground in safety. For twenty minutes after the fire started the scene was the most exciting ever witnessed in Troy. During this time there was a continuous panic, and in the rush for a place of safety many were injured. The crush on the stairway was frightful. About 200 men and girls attempted to make their escape by this exit at the same time. Many were trampled under foot. The majority of the employes finally reached the street overcome and excited. Quite a number found their way out by means of the fire escapes. The girls fairly threw themselves down the ladders to reach the ground quickly, and the firemen had their hands full in carrying the girls down the ladders from the terminus of the escape.

Heartrending Scenes on the Street.

Probably the most heartrending scenes were those witnessed on the streets. The mothers and other relatives of the girls who were at work in the factory soon learned of the disastrous fire and hurried to the scene. They gathered around the burning building, distracted with grief and fear, making anxious inquiries for their loved ones. Some of them attempted to rush up into the burning building, and the officers and bystanders found it difficult to restrain them. A number of women were soon on their knees on the ice-covered pavements piteously crying to heaven for assistance.

Rapid Spread of the Flames.

The spread of the flames was remarkable. There was a strong wind blowing at the time, and in less time than it takes to tell it the building was afire from top to bottom. Twenty streams of water seemed to have no effect. The fire extended into the big structure north, gutted it; the Western Union building was burned out, and it was not until about four hours after the fire started that it was under control. The loss will probably reach $400,000. The three girls who were killed by jumping from the windows were almost unrecognizable when picked up, so fearfully were their heads crushed.

Ten Sweet Caporal Little Cigars for 5 cts.
SOLD BY ALL DEALERS.

NO STRIKE EXPECTED.

Waltham Watch Finishers Decide Not To Accept Reduction of Wages.

Waltham, Mass., Feb. 18.—The finishers of the American Watch company at a secret meeting at which about seventy-five were present, voted by a large majority not to accept the proposed reduction of wages on certain sizes of the work. Some months ago an increase of from 10 to 12 per cent. was allowed the finishers on this job, but recently a decrease in the selling price caused the company to ask the finishers to accept a reduction to the old scale of wages. The finishers took the matter under consideration and have finally decided not to accept. The finishers are about the only branch of the watchmaking trade that is firmly united and the national union is one of the strongest of any labor organization in this country. The work is extremely difficult and is correspondingly highly paid, and another thing which keeps up the wages is that an iron clad rule forbids the teaching of the art to any woman. There is only one woman finisher in this country, so far as is known. The American Waltham Watch company always has been liberal to its employes and in consequence there has never been a strike in the history of the concern. Just what will be the outcome of this matter is uncertain, but a strike is not expected.

YALE NEWS STAFF.

Names of the Board of Editors for the Coming Year.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 18.—The following board of editors for the Yale Daily News is announced to conduct the paper the coming year: Thatcher M. Browne, New York; George P. Day, New York city; Robert P. Gilmore, Rutland, Vt.; Charles R. Hemingway, Manchester, Vt.; Robert S. Hinks, Bridgeport; Albert B. Kerr, Washington; Francis W. Pyle, Bridgeport; Graham Sumner, New Haven; Frank C. Yeomans, New York city; Fred T. Murphy, Junction City, Kansas; Robert H. Gay, Burlington, Vt.; John Jay, New York city; Alex. I. Lewis, Detroit; Jordan S. Mason, Chicago; Darius Peck, Hudson, N. Y.; David F. Rogers, New Canaan, Conn.; John S. Rogers, New York city; Fred Williamson, Cleveland, O.; Dwight Huntington, Indianapolis; Arthur S. Hamlin, Canandaigua, N. Y.

ST. PAUL NOT DAMAGED.

Examination of the Vessel at Newport News Completed.

New York, Feb. 18.—The examination of the hull and engines of the St. Paul, which was dry-docked at Newport News on Friday last has been completed, and the International Navigation company announces that there is practically no damage to the hull of the ship. Portions of the machinery will be taken apart to clear away the accumulated sand and the parts worn by working in the sand renewed. The ship will sail from New York February 26, unless detained in dry-dock by lack of water to float her.

TREASURY GOLD.

Over $71,000,000 Received for Bonds and the Reserve Only Above $86,000,000.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The treasury gold reserve at the opening of business to-day stood at $86,203,499. The withdrawals yesterday amounted to $1,456,000. So far $71,430,643 in gold on account of bond purchases has been paid in, and since January 6, about $29,000,000 in gold has been drawn out.

Erie Railroad Earnings.

New York, Feb. 18.—The statement of the Erie railroad company, including the Erie and branches, the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio and the Chicago & Erie, for December shows: Gross earnings, $2,618,728, an increase of $284,306; working expenses, $1,912,846, an increase of $179,976; net earning, $606,242, an increase of $104,390.

American Claims to Fiji Lands.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The president has sent to the senate the report of the special agent sent to investigate the claims of B. H. Henry and other American citizens for compensation for lands wrongfully taken from them in the Fiji islands.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Wheat—Spot market is dull, prices weak. February, 70½c.; March, 74½c.; May, 72 c.
Corn—Spot inactive; prices irregular.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

Published Daily, except Sunday, at 3:30 p. m.

108 North avenue. Telephone Call 61.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., FEB. 18, 1896

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Tuesday. Threatening, With Possibly Light Snow Tonight. Wednesday. Fair, Warmer.

At 2 o'Clock Leggett's Thermometer Registered 23 Degrees.

COMING EVENTS.

Announcements of all meetings, etc., will be made in this column, free of charge, if copy is furnished by 10 a. m.

February 20—Annual supper of the ladies of of Monroe Avenue Chapel.
February 21—Second lecture in Mrs. D. P. Hall's series at the Seminary by Prof. W. Hudson Shaw.
February 21—Martha Washington tea at First Presbyterian church.
February 21—Sociable at Grace M. E. church.
February 21—"Westerner" at Music Hall.

Talk about silver being one of the most valuable products of this country, why the average annual product of silver is about one-third the value of hen's eggs produced in the barn yards of this country.

Real estate trade in this vicinity has already felt the renewed confidence of the people and shows signs of quickening. The assurance that the trolley road is to be extended is also a good thing for the realty market.

Assemblyman Reed may soon expect to be known as the humorist-assemblyman. Last night he introduced a bill prohibiting the use of X or cathode ray opera glasses in any theatre in the Senate. The Speaker declared the bill out of order.

Senator Voorhees has a Jury Commission bill which provides for the appointment of two persons not of the same political party, by the Circuit Court Judge in each county, to select the jurors for each term of the court. The jurors, as usual, will be summoned by the Sheriff.

A marriage license bill has been introduced and is intended to stop the free marriages at Camden. A fee of one dollar is fixed, and the minister performing the ceremony is required to return a duplicate of the license, fully filled out, to the clerk issuing the same. Severe penalties are provided for any false affidavit.

When it comes to charity, Plainfield leads the van. This city, with 18,000 people, gave to the Muhlenberg hospital over $4,000 in profits from the Kirmess. Elizabeth, with 50,000 people, has just held a carnival for the city hospital which cleared only $3,000. Elizabeth has almost three times the population of Plainfield, yet this city contributed one-third as much again for similar institutions under like circumstances.

The Elizabeth Board of Trade has arranged for a big dinner which all the progressive business men of the city will attend, and at which speeches will be made concerning the growth of the city and its possibilities for the future. The Press likes to see Plainfield original in all phases of life, but nevertheless it commends the Elizabeth affair to the local Board of Trade as something desirable to emulate. Activity is a quality that the Plainfield Board of Trade does not possess to any astonishing degree.

In an interview published on Saturday, Senator Sherman expressed his belief that in the next Congress both Senate and House would be sound-money bodies. The test vote in the Senate a fortnight ago was 42 to 85 in favor of the free coinage of silver, with six pairs which, if voted, would have completed the total of 89 votes. The Delaware vacancy stands for a sound-money vote whenever it is filled; so that the present division may be said to be 48 to 42. Of the thirty Senators whose terms expire March 4th, 1897, twenty-one are for free coinage, and their successors must number enough sound-money men to raise the vote on that side to 45 or 46.

Because Washington's birthday falls on Saturday this year, many merchants are in doubt as to whether or not they will observe the day by closing their stores. Generally speaking, business will be mostly suspended on that day and storekeepers, as a rule, when questioned as to their probable action, remark that they "will do as the rest do." While competition must dictate the policy of business men nowadays, yet it seems that storekeepers ought to get together and observe the holiday other than in the breach. The time which the average clerk has for his own diversion is not overabundant, and to be compelled to work on a holiday, when most of humanity is taking a rest, seems a little rough. It would be an admirable thing if Plainfield merchants would act in unison, and close their stores on Saturday.

"Give me a liver regulator and I can regulate the world," said a genius. The druggists handed him a bottle of DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. F. H. Wills, of LaGrande avenue, has gone to Lakewood.

Will Havens, of New York, spent Sunday with friends in town.

Mrs. Charles Schaffer, of Brooklyn, is the guest of her sister on Liberty street.

Miss Mary Parcell, of New York, is visiting Miss Mollie Feller, of Pearl street.

Miss Emma Angleman, of East Fourth street, is detained at home by illness.

Miss Helen Duffy, of Philadelphia, is the guest of Miss Minnie Wilson, of Tunlaw.

Mr. Oliver Pearson, of Manson place, entertained a party of friends last evening.

Miss Martha Cook, of Duer street, has returned from a visit with relatives at Flemington.

Miss Porter, of New Brunswick, is the guest of Miss Georgie Fountain, of Jackson avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charland and baby, of New York, are visiting George Feller, of Pearl street.

Miss Goodman, of Newark, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Monroe B. Long, of Park avenue.

Clarence Mundy, of West Ninth street, is home from a business trip to to Western Pennsylvania.

Walter Lane, of West Front street, attended the funeral of his brother at Long Branch, yesterday.

S. E. Hill, superintendent of Chas. 's machine works, has resigned to take a better position elsewhere.

Miss Sophia Schaffer, of Liberty street, has returned home after a two-months visit at Titusville, Pa.

Miss Elsie Smith, of Westervelt avenue, has improved so rapidly that her recovery is almost assured.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Drake, of Stelton, spent Sunday at the home of John Ross, of East Sixth street.

Miss Flora Case, of Copper Hill, is visiting her cousin, Miss Emma Angleman, of East Fourth street.

Miss Delia Runyon, of West Fourth street, has been engaged by VanEmburgh & Son at their dry goods store.

Miss Suzelle Howett, of Philadelphia, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wilson, of Fairview avenue.

Herbert N. Stover and family, of East Ninth street, have moved to One Hundred and Twentieth street, New York.

Dr. Frank Hallock has entirely recovered from his recent severe illness and is now able to look after his practice.

Mrs. E. P. Williams, of West Seventh street, returned yesterday afternoon after a several days visit in New York.

Miss Sadie Blimm, of Somerset street, returned yesterday after a several weeks visit with Miss Sophie Rudd, of New York.

Miss Graham, of Newark, has returned home after a pleasant visit with Mr and Mrs. T. E Hazell, of Westervelt avenue.

Miss Josie Feller, of New York, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Feller, of Pearl street, has returned home.

William Case and Miss Rita Smith, of Neshanic, who have been visiting their aunt, Mrs. H. W. Angleman, of East Fourth street, have returned home.

Miss Carrie Hoffman, of West Front street, who is employed at Edsall's, had part of her face frozen, yesterday morning, by the intense cold while on her way to work.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mundy, of Boston, who have been in this city for several days, left yesterday for Philadelphia where Mr. Mundy has business to look after Miss Cutter, teacher of the senior class at the North Plainfield Public School, is ill at her home on Grove street. Miss Shaeffer is teaching the class in her absence.

Charles M. Ulrich, of East Fifth street, is able to resume his duties at his market on West Front street again after being confined to the house for several weeks with painful injuries.

No miracle

about them—they are simply the result of a lifetime study and practice by the one man in America who is best qualified to treat diseases of the stomach and bowels.

Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills

Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills have a greater sale on less advertising, where best known, than any other pill in the world. Eat good food, and take one of Dr. Deane's pills after each meal. Your stomach, liver, and bowel troubles will disappear. White wrapper if constipated, yellow if bowels are loose.

DR J. A. DEANE CO., Kingston, N. Y.

J. W. Pierce, Republic, Ia., says: "I have used One Minute Cough Cure in my family and for myself, with results so entirely satisfactory that I can hardly find words to express myself as to its merit. I will never fail to recommend it to others, on every occasion that presents itself." L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

A POSSIBLE EVENT

Rich and Maeder Trying to Arrange For "Midsummer's Night's Dream."

Negotiations are pending between Rich and Maeder, managers of Music Hall, and Augustin Daly, looking tooking toward a production here on the evening of March 2nd of Mr. Daly's enchanting spectacle of "Midsummer Night's Dream" in the same sumptuous manner Shakespeare's fanciful magical comedy was done by the famous manager at his important revivals of it in New York and London. This will mean that in case the negotiations are satisfactorily completed, that all the wonderful scenery and musical accompaniments will be used—the choruses, large orchestra and the general paraphernalia in electric effects, etc., that distinguished the original production. To comprehend all the requirements will necessitate the employment of some fifty people.

But Mr Daly will not risk any possible loss. If there is any encouragement whatever from the people of Plainfield a book of subscription will be opened in advance. Then the presentation here will be provisional. It would hardly seem possible that such an opportunity would be neglected. Due notice will be given as to place of booking.

Dunellen.

The Junior League will meet Friday afternoon at half-past three.

John Weber, who has been visiting friends in town, has returned home to Newark.

Miss Millicient Vail, who has been visiting her aunt at Hasbrook Heights, has returned home.

Mrs. N. Hetfield, of North avenue, has returned home from her visit with friends in New York.

The Young People's meeting was led by Mrs. Williams, Sunday evening, at the Methodist church.

Mrs. Slape, of North avenue, has returned home from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Hull, of Sing Sing.

Rev. A. Todd occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church Sunday morning, owing the illness of the pastor, Rev. S. F. Custard.

A meeting was held Saturday evening in the W. C. T. U. rooms, on North avenue, for the purpose of discussing the future building of a new hall

Evangelist Huffman, who has been conducting revival services in New Market, occupied the pulpit in the Presbyterian church, Sunday morning and in the evening he occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church.

The funeral of Willie K. Lindsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lindsey, was held at the residence of his parents Sunday afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock. Rev. Frank Fletcher had charge of the funeral services. Interment was made in Hillside cemetery, Samptown.

New Market.

Mr. Penrose, of Philadelphia, has been visiting in town

Miss Clark, who has been visiting in town, has gone to Pluckamin for a few days.

Mrs. Newhall, who has been visiting Mrs. Titsworth, of Prospect avenue, has returned home to New York.

About eighteen of the converts who were baptised last Sunday were taken in the Baptist church Sunday morning.

Rev. Frank Fletcher, of New Market, occupied the pulpit of the Seventh-day Baptist church, Saturday morning, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. F. Peterson

LESSON OF WATERLOO.

The Terrible Story of the Sunken Road.

And Its Awful Meaning to the Great Napoleon.

He Had Most Carefully Planned Everything.

BUT DID NOT KNOW THE DANGER OF THE SUNKEN ROAD.

Which Proved His Utter Ruin and Destruction.

Victor Hugo in that matchless word picture of Waterloo, wherein he paints with such realistic vividness the awful carnage of the sunken road, tells the tragic story of a fatal mistake. In his moment of anticipated victory when he thought the field was won, Napoleon ordered an advance only to see the flower of his army disappear in the bloody ravine of which he was ignorant. So sudden and unexpected was the shock, that when the voice of the cannon has ceased and the great battle was ended he wandered across the blood field leading his tired horse by the bridle, buried in thoughtful meditation, as Hugo paints him, the 'somnambulist of the shattered dream still striving to advance."

Can we not apply this story to ourselves?

The weaknesses we disregard are our sunken roads and bring often our Waterloo of ill health.

Ignorance or neglect of some apparently little symptom may plunge us into fatal disease. Remember all dangerous diseases have a beginning. If you look to the little aches and pains, the nervousness, weakness, the tired exhausted feeling, the sleepless nights the indigestion, constipation, poor condition of the blood, the slight kidney or liver trouble, the spring debility, so sure to come at this season, as soon as you discover them, you can easily, by using that great curer of disease, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, make yourself perfectly strong and well again.

It gave perfect health to Mr. Daniel L. Billington of 29 Hammond street, Providence, R. I., who says:—

"Some time ago I was completely run down. I was weak, tired and debilitated all the time and good for nothing. My digestive organs became fearfully damaged and I could eat scarcely anything. What little food I could take caused me great distress. My sleep also troubled me, and I would wake tired and unrefreshed. I got almost no rest at night.

"Hearing of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, I could not resist the temptation to try it. After taking it a short time I began to feel much better.

"I continued to steadily improve and am now entirely cured of all my troubles, thanks to Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It is a wonderful medicine and I advise everyone who is not in perfect health to use it."

Take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy this spring, for now of all times it is most dangerous to neglect your health, and the system is always made strong and vigorous by this perfect spring medicine. It is the prescription and discovery of Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th street, New York City, who can be consulted without charge personally or by letter.

It not only is so, it must be so, One Minute Cough Cure acts quickly, and that's what makes it go. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front S

KEATING, The world's lightest—19 lbs.

SEE THAT CURVE?

FOWLER, Truss frame—17 to 24 lbs.

Chas. C. Lister,

134 North Avenue.

Guaranteed Bicycles For $49.50.

OUTING and APOLLO.

Repairing, Renting, and Storing.

VISIT BOEHM'S CROCKERY DEPARTMENT,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

Everything in the housefurnishing line up to date. Prices brought down to the lowest possible notch. We guarantee satisfaction in every respect. It is therefore to your own benefit to visit this department—it will pay you.

Novelties in Dress Goods.

AT 19C—30 inch Brilliantines, were 25c.
AT 50C—38 inch extra heavy black mohair sicilians, cheap at 65c.
AT 25C—40 inch new spring novelties, changeable effects, were 35c.
AT 25C—36 inch plaids, silk stripe effects, were 33c.
AT 12 1-2C—A very handsome line of worsted plaids well worth 19c.
AT 50C—The very latest novelties in all-wool dress goods, suitable for spring wear, fully 40in. wide, a bargain at 65c.
AT 32C—38 inch wide black brilliantines.
AT 45C—40 inch black brilliantines, silk finished, regular 59c quality.
AT 50C—Silk finished brilliantine, 40 inches wide, the 65c grade.
AT 65C—Extra fine black brilliantine, 1¼ yards wide, with an extra heavy lustre, the regular 75c quality.
Our leader for this coming season—38 inch wide black figured brilliantine in a number of new and novel designs at the uniform price of 35c a yard, well worth 45c a yard.
AT 25C—Storm serges in black and blue, 36in. wide, were 34c.
AT 45C—Beautiful fine black serges, 1¼ yds wide, a hummer, were 55c.
AT 19C—Light colored brilliantines, the very newest effects, reduced from 25c.

BOEHM'S, 113 WEST FRONT ST.

WISE PEOPLE

are Buying Their Wash Goods and Embroideries at Peck's. The Experience of Former Years Has Warned Them That Disappointment Follows Delay.

THE DALZIEL

GRAMMAR, MANUAL AND

ART SCHOOL, 309 East Front Street.

IS AN ESTABLISHED SUCCESS.

Free-hand drawing from the Antique, Pen and Ink Sketching, Clay Modeling, Painting, Designing and Mechanical Draughting. Directed by John Dalziel, late Professor of Drawing for Illustration, and Engraving at the Women's School of Design, Philadelphia, Pa.

WE are NOW preparing for Spring and Summer Outdoor Work.

EDSALL'S COMMERCIAL PALACE

1,200 Fine Brooms

Direct from the factory to Edsall's Commercial Palace. All the intermediate profits and freight, and even the ten day cash discount saved to our patrons. No such opportunity to buy first-class brooms cheap ever offered to Plainfield people.

15c Atlas 3-Sewed. VALUE 25C

23c Little Maid 3 Sewed. VALUE 33C

21 Champion 3-Sewed. VALUE 30C

24c Little Jewel 3-Sewed. VALUE 34C

26c Liberty 3 Sewed, Value 36c

27c Liberty 4 Sewed, Value 39c.

98 Cut Glass Water BOTTLES.

37 Cut Glass Finger BOWLS.

45 1½ lbs Ox Tongue Special for a Few Days.

18c Prime Shoulders The Best for the Money.

25c—Special Santos coffee, extra flavor.
69c—Ladies' 4-button kid gloves. Black and colored, worth $1.
10c—Ladies seamless black hose. Best at price.
3c—2,000 new papered covered books Popular authors and titles.
7c—Solid packed tomatoes. Finest sold at the price.
29c—Warp print Dresden ribbons, 40, 40,40, big bargains
19c—Pretty new cretones, apple blossoms.
22—New beautiful applique lace 5 in. 22c; 7 in. 28c; 10 in. 43c

Our stocks are filling up rapidly with the finest and most attractive goods for the spring trade we have ever shown. Come in and see them.

EDSALL'S

Shoe Notes.

If You Have Tender Feet Why Not Try a Pair of Our Common Sense Boots,

made on the same lines of the Kahler make. Our price $3 and $5. This is at least $1 a pair under New York City prices on the same goods. A woman's genuine dongola kid button boot for $1.19. One of our specials—woman's rubbers 24c and up. How can we undersell the other fellows? We buy direct from the manufacturers and give you the middleman's profits.

DOANE & EDSALL.

SPORTS

STRIKES AND SPARES.

TEAM POSITIONS IN STANDARD LEAGUE.

	H. S.	Won.	Lost.
Westfield	884	21	9
Roselle	893	18	10
Park	885	20	12
Union C. C. Club	831	9	19
Cranford	837	6	24

TEAM STANDING IN CENTRAL JOURNAL LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	Highest Score.
Crescent Wheelmen	6	4	1618
Elizabeth A. C.	6	4	1789
New Jersey A. C.	4	6	1631
Cranford C. C.	4	6	1557

TEAM STANDING IN DIOCESAN UNION.

	Won.	Lost.	Highest score.
Catholic C.	7	2	1597
Elizabeth	5	2	1670
Orange Valley	6	3	1534
Plainfield	4	4	1506
Newark T. A. B.	2	6	1584
Institute	0	8	1516

Two games were to be rolled on the Crescent Wheelmen's alleys last night between the Crescent Wheelmen Juniors and the Westfield Y. M. C. A. The game was postponed at the last moment, however.

The Plainfield Y. M. C. A. five men team will go to Westfield Thursday night to roll the deciding game with the Y. M. C. A. team of that town. When the Plainfield team went to Westfield some time ago they broke even. On the return games rolled here they did the same thing.

The Union County Country Club team will roll two postponed games in the Standard League tonight at Roselle. If the Counties can manage to capture even one of the games, the Park Club will have a good show to getting second place alone. Otherwise the best the Parks can do is to tie Roselle for second.

The team that will defend the honors of the Crescent Wheelmen at Bergen Point this evening against the New Jersey Athletic Club, will consist of the following: VanEmburg, Kiely, Buckle, Baker, Lyman, Wilbur, Petrie, Maltby, Stephenson and Thiers. A crowd of rooters will accompany the team which leaves on the 7.03 train, among whom will be the famous double quartette of the Crescent Wheelmen.

Two more games will be rolled in the Central Journal League tonight and on those games depend the position of the Crescent Wheelmen at the close. The Crescent Wheelmen go to Bergen Point to roll the team from the New Jersey Athletic Club while the Elizabeth Athletic Club famous ten will meet the Cranford County Club's team on the latter's alleys. Elizabeth and Plainfield are now tie for first place with six victories and four defeats. The E. A. C. team is rolling a winning game and will probably win their game. The Crescents will have a hard fight with their old rivals, the Jerseys, but as the latter would rather see Plainfield win than Elizabeth, they may not put up their best team against the wheelmen tonight. So good luck to the Crescent Wheelmen. A week from tonight the league is concluded. That night Cranford rolls in this city and Elizabeth at Bergen Point. Then will come the greatest battle of all.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Frank Havens will re-open his agency for the Barnes wheel in this city this year.

Frank Hand, of Park avenue, is riding a Columbia, Model 44, recently purchased from the Eldridge Bicycle Company.

WHIST.

The North End Whist Club will come to Plainfield tonight to play the champion four of the Park Club for the State whist trophy.

The annual contest in whist, bowling, billiards and pool, between the Park Club and the Union County Country Club, which was to be held at the Park Club house on Thursday evening, has been postponed until a later date.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

A live bird shoot wil be held at Benner's road house Saturday afternoon.

The game of basket ball in the business men's class yesterday was an exciting one. The Plainfield team defeated the borough team.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be curred by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We the undersigned have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transaction and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.

West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggist, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

A high liver with a torpid liver will not be a long liver. Correct that liver with DeWitt's Little Early Risers, little pills that cure dyspepsia and constipation. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

PUNTS AND KICKS.

A meeting of the Football Association of the Y. M. C. A. will be held on next Monday evening to act on the report of the committee, which was appointed to look into the question of an indoor athletic meet. The meeting is called for eight o'clock. All, whether members of the association or not, who are interested in the project are invited to be present.

BASKET BALL.

The Plainfield Y. M. C. A. basket ball team will try it again next Saturday with the Orange Y. M. C. A. The latter team is a strong one and the local players will have to hustle to win, but they are going to try it at any rate.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE

Hood's Pills cure live ills, constipation, jaundice, sick headache, biliousness. 25c.

—H. S. Thatcher, the contractor, has purchased a horse and wagon for his business.

—A movement is on foot among the law students of this city to organize a club for their benefit.

—Eczema, boils, pimples, old sores, and other blood troubles are all cured by "Pura Blood." Try it.

—There is considerable talk among the students of Leal's School of reorganizing the old Leal's cadets.

—Apron and necktie sale and a lunch box sociable will be held by the Sons of Temperance in their hall tonight.

—Washington's Birthday will be celebrated at the North Plainfield Public School Friday morning with appropriate exercises.

—A musical will be given in Trinity Reformed church, Friday evening, March 6th, under the direction of the music committee of the church.

—The Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church made $136 at the supper given in the church last Thursday evening.

—It is thought that more than $3,000 will be realized for the benefit of the Elizabeth City Hospital from the carnival given by the Ladies' Crib-Side Association.

—Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., will hold a camp fire Tuesday evening, February 25th, at which time visitors will be present. A large time is expected.

—Pure Blood is the safeguard of health. Keep your blood. rich and full of vitality by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and you will not need to fear the attacks of disease.

—Irvington is to have a town clock through the public spiritedness of one of her citizens, Louis Loehnberg. Another citizen is going to donate a firebell. Good for Irvington.

—Charles W. McCutchen intends building a handsome residence on Central avenue between Ninth street and Stelle avenue. He will not occupy it himself but expects to sell it.

—Justice Nash has issued summons in the two cases for demand of premises, West against Drake, returnable on February 18th, and Thickstun against Killoran, returnable on February 20th.

—The Westfield Townthip Committee, in its annual report, will suggest to the voters that the sum of $12 100 be voted to run the township the coming year. This is an increase of $100 over the sum appropriated last year.

—Services will be held at St. Stephen's church, Rev. S. P. Simpson, rector, on Ash Wednesday, as follows: Holy communion, 7:30 a.m.; morning prayer and holy communion, 10:30; evening prayer and sermon, 7:45. Stages will leave railroad station at 10 a. m., and 7:15 p. m.

—One of the largest auction sales in the vicinity of Plainfield, for many a day will occur on Thursday, Feb. 20, on the farm belonging to John Ross, in Piscataway township, Middlesex county, near Samptown. A full list of machinery, stock, etc., is found in the advertising columns of The Press today.

—Edward Love, the North Avenue wall paper dealer and decorater, compliments the Press on the showy and attractive way in which his advertisements have been set. So far this spring it has been the means of sending many customers to the store and hundreds of rolls of wall paper from the store.

Soothing, healing, cleansing, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the enemy to sores, wounds and piles, which it never fails to cure. Stops itching and burning. Cures chapped lips and cold-sores in two or three hours. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The "Ys" will hold their regular meeting to-morrow afternoon at 3.30 at 511 Central avenue.

—Peck says that if any flying squadron is on its way to America, it is rushing here for some of his spring goods.

—To a stranger there is nothing gives so favorable an opinion as a nicely written letter, and that depends on the stationery. Rand has all kinds of this.

—The Plainfield Branch of the Christian Alliance will be addressed this evening by Mrs. A B. Simpson and Miss S. A. Lindenberger, of New York, in the W. C. T. U. rooms on Watchung avenue.

—The Cranford Board of Education has come to the conclusion that the Cranford School facilities are not sufficient, and that it is not practicable to remodel the present building. The board will therefore, at the next school meeting, ask for an appropriation of $25,000 to build a new schoolhouse.

—The thermometer registered ten degrees below zero at 8 o'clock yesterday morning in Flemington, which surpasses any previous record. The peach growers fear that in some sections the buds were nipped, owing to their advanced state. Truckmen say that the blackberry vines were injured.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Don't invite disappointment by experimenting. Depend upon One Minute Cough Cure and you have immediate relief. It cures croup. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

PUBLIC SALE

—OF—

Stock, Machinery, Wagons, Implements, &c.

Wm. K. Hope, Auctioneer, has been instructed by the undersigned (who has leased his farm) to sell at public sale, on the premises in Piscataway township, county of Middlesex, about one mile south from Samptown, on Clinton avenue, on all his stock, machinery, etc., consisting in part as follows: 3 horses, 4 cow, 2 of them registered Jerseys, calf, 50 fowls, 2 nearly new Osborne mowers, new Osborne binder, hay tedder, 2 drills 1 of them new, hay rake, new American harrow, seed sower and cultivator, combined, new iron spring tooth harrow, double slanting tooth harrow, double straight tooth harrow new solid comfort riding plow, 5 plows, 2 horse Keugler cultivator, 2 1-horse cultivators, 1-horse corn harrow, roller, two hand corn shellers Cannon corn sheller, 2-horse tread power and thresher, potato planter, new potato sprinkler, potato digger, corn and potato weeder, Perpetual iron derrick hay press, hay loader, 2-horse corn planter, hay cutter, furrowing sled, 3 farm wagons, carriage, grocery wagon, buggy, market wagon, 2 hay raggings, 2 sleighs, sled, whiffletrees, 2 sets double and 2 sets single harness, fly nets, clover huller, windmill, potato sorter, seed potato cutter, wheelbarrow, grindstone, work bench and vice, cat forks, pitching forks, manure forks, crowbars, rakes, shovels, spades, bags, platform scales, 100 bushels potatoes, 6 tons first-class timothy hay, household and kitchen furniture, Oriental stove, cook stove, etc.

Thursday, Feb. 20, 1896,

Everything to be sold. Sale positive, rain or shine, and to commence at 10 a. m. sharp. A long credit given. Terms made known on day of sale. JOHN ROSS

NOTICE OF ASSIGNMENT.

Notice is hereby given that Henry A. Voehl, of the Borough of North Plainfield, County of Somerset and State of New Jersey, carrying on the business as baker, at No. 81 Somerset street, in the Borough of North Plainfield County and State aforesaid, hath this day made an assignment to the subscriber of his estate for the equal benefit of his creditors, and that the said creditors must exhibit their respective claims under oath or affirmation to the subscriber, at his house No. 65 Somerset street, in the Borough of North Plainfield, Somerset county, New Jersey, within three months from the date of said assignment or be forever barred from coming in for a division of said estate.

Dated Feb. 7, A. D. 1896.

JACOB VOEHL, Assignee.

2 18 5-oaw

A Card to the Public

For nearly 20 years the public of Plainfield and vicinity have given me the largest share of their patronage in the purchasing of hats and gent's furnishings, showing that honest effort, low prices and reliable goods are appreciated. I have now associated with me Mr. Charles Clark, of Westfield, N. J., who comes to us highly recommended as a competent, honest young man. We will add to our stock of hats and gent's furnishings, a full line of men's and youth's shoes and rubbers, keeping only reliable goods and selling at the lowest possible prices.

Thankful for past favors, we are yours for business, U. B. CRANE,

120 West Front st.

Succeeded by Crane & Clark.

A Corn Cure THAT CURES CORNS

We have never said much about our Corn Cure—though it is one of the best made—because the market is full of cures, so-called. But such positive testimony to its merits has recently been volunteered that we feel justified in "talking-up" this little specialty. Our COLLOID CORN CURE is easily applied, gives relief quickly and will cure every case of corns, hard or soft, that can be cured, if used as directed. Sold in square vials with brush for applying. REYNOLDS' PHARMACY, Park and North Avenues.

Quick in effect, heals and leaves no scar. Burning, scaly skin eruptions quickly cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Applied to burns, scalds, old sores, it is magical in effect. Always cures piles. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

NOTICE.

All hackmen, truckmen and peddlers must make application to renew their licenses before Monday night, February 24th, as all licenses will expire on March 1st, and any person without a license will be required to suspend his business until one is procured.

GEO. W. GRANT,
Chief of Police.

Drop a Postal to 218 West Front St.

and we will call and repair any make of sewing machines. Needles, oil and parts. The Singer M'f'g Co., 218 W. Front street. 2 17 3 eod

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 cent a word each insertion. Less than 10 words 10 cents. Cash must accompany adv.

WANTED—Two good canvassers; salary and commission; steady employment. Address A., care Press. 2 17 2

SEAMSTRESS wanted by the week. Mrs. Cruikshank, Belvidere road, corner Watchung avenue.

WANTED—Small girl (white) to take care of child. 817 3d place. 2 17 2

TO LET—Store on Park avenue now occupied by G. Q. Packer, with or without floors above; a great chance to start a furniture business. Apply to C. A. Marsh, or Wm. M. Stillman. 2 4 tf-law

WOMAN would like to take washing at home. 440 East 5th st. 2 17 2

STORE to let. Corner Park avenue and Second street. W. R. Codington. 2 17 6

FRONT room to let; terms reasonable. 207 East Front st. 2 18 2

WANTED—Six good housework girls with good references. Mrs. Kyle's Intelligence office. 2 17 2

DRESSMAKER wishes customers or position with dressmaker. Address Employment, care Press.

LOST—A brown collie dog with white around neck; answers to name of Dan; had on metal collar. Finder return to 731 West 8th st. and receive reward.

WANTED—Washing and ironing at home or will go out by day. Apply 355 Cottage place.

FOR SALE—Horse, wagon and harness Inquire Hunter ave., third house from Front street, Fanwood.

A BRIGHT boy of about 14, who can write a fair hand and spell accurately might find employment. Address in own handwriting, Lock Box F., post-office. 2 18 2

WASHINGTON Park, North Plainfield; for sale or to let to a small family, No. 19 Sycamore ave., house in perfect order; contains 10 rooms, city water, gas and furnace; terms made to suit. Geo. F. Edwards, 191 Broadway, New York, or 17 Duer st., Plainfield. 2 17 12

VERY handsome flat; all modern improvements. Apply Manning's city marble works. 2 17 tf

LOST—Scotch Terrier dog, weight about twelve pounds, straight uncut ears His return to 123 East Second street will be suitably rewarded.

A CHANCE to buy a nice little home. Seven room house on Manning avenue. Lot 52x125; ten minutes from railroad station Seven-room house near the Pond Tool Works in first class condition. Will be sold on easy terms just to think, all you have to do is to pay your rent each month and you will have a deed to either of these very desirable properties in a little while. Apply C. H. Lyman, 151 North avenue. 2 15 3

FOR SALE—Bull and fresh cows. Call Wm. A. Baldwin, Warneville, N. J. 2 12 6

WANTED.—At once, experienced white cook. Apply 949 Central avenue. 2 8 tf

MONEY to loan on bond and mortgage. Charles L. Moffett, att'y, corner Park and North aves. 2 3 2w

GOOD accommodations for horses; horses boarded by the month at reasonable terms. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville, N. J. 12 3 tf

FOR RENT—Two cottages, No. 830 and 832 West 3d st. Inquire of S. B. Wheeler, Netherwood Farm, Mountain avenue, North Plainfield. 10 30 tf

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

133 EAST 2d street to let a large sunny front room; also a hall rooms; furnished, 2 minutes from depot. 12 19 tf-m w t

TO LET—Stores, flats, dwellings. Bargains for sale. Mulford, Broker. 1 6 tf

TO LET—Stable on Sycamore street, from April 1st, seven stalls and a box stall, city water and electric lights, also three rooms over stable suitable for light house-keeping. Apply P. Lynch 1 2 tf

Pargiter Sale

IT MEANS

a dollar does the work of two. Having bought the dry and fancy goods stock of Pargiter, of Park avenue, for 50c. on the dollar, we will place it on sale tomorrow morning. The goods are all new and desirable and everything will be sold at half its value. A few of the many good things:

	Pargiter's price.	Our price
Mens linen collars	13c	7c
" "	18c	8c
" "	20c	10c
" "	30c	15c
Mens mixed half hose	15c	8c
Mens balbrigan half hose	25c	10c
Mens black half hose	25c	10c
Mens tan half hose	25c	10c
Mens cashmere half hose	35c	18c
Mens laundered cambric shirts	$1.25	75c
Feather boas	$1.50 and $2	30c
Ladies cambric waists	50c	25c
Mens unlaundered shirts	75c	37c
" " " "	$1	55c
Boys outing shirts	25c	12c
Mens outing shirts	25c	12c
" " "	60c	30c
Mens white wool shirts	50c	25c
Mens colored wool shirts	50c	25c
Mens scarlet "	$1	50c
Mens natural "	$1.25	59c
Mens scarlet double breasted shirts	$1.50	69c
Large Turkish towels	25c	13c
Large huck towels	25c	13c
Extra large h. s. towels	35c	17c
Dinner napkins	$1.50	98c
Cotton towels	10c	5c

Fine white apron checks	12c	6c
Fine Victoria lawn	20c	10c
Fine embroideries	5c	3c
" "	10c	5c
Wide embroideries	25c	10c
Wash crepons	10c	5c
Childrens hose	12c	6c
" "	15c	8c
" "	20c	10c
" "	25c	12c
Ladies hose	15c	8c
" "	20c	10c
" "	30c	18c
Corset covers	18c	9c
Drawers	35c	19c
"	45c	23c
"	65c	37c
"	75c	46c
"	98c	42c
White shirts	75c	39c
" "	$1.00	59c
" "	1.25	69c
Ladies corsets	$1 and 1.25	69c
" kid gloves	1 00	57c
" " "	1.25	69c
" ribbed vests	35c	17c
" " pants	35c	17c
" " "	50c	25c
" " vests	50c	25c
" " "	75c	33c
" " pants	75c	33c

Housefurnishing Department.

STOP A MOMENT?

Self-praise is poor recommendation. It aint necessary to tell you where or how we buy our goods. Its the price that sells them every time—so here goes! MATCH THEM IF YOU CAN!

CUT BRUSH | 500 Bust Brushes, like sample, Wire Fastened, Hardwood Back at | 7c. EACH.

WASH DAY REMINDERS—Smoothing Irons, all sizes, best quality, at 3c. pound. Clothes Pins, all perfect, per 100 7c. Jute clothes line, very strong, at 1-2c. yd. Solid Zinc Wash-Boards, hardwood frame 10c each. Heavy Tin Wash Boilers, No. 7, oval copper bottom, 59c. each. No 1 size Cedar Wash Tubs, free from knots, 39c. each. No. 2, do. 49c. No. 2 size Clothes Baskets, white willow, 29c. each. Mrs. Pott's patent Smoothing Irons, 3 irons handle and stand, plain, 69c. set. Nickle, 79c set. Handles extra for Mrs. Pott's Irons, 19c. each. Clothes Wringers, hard rubber rollers, warranted, at $1.37.

WHITE OF PLAINFIELD.

Removal Sale.

These Are the Goods that Must Go.

Boy's reefers $5.....now $2.45
Youth's overcoats $8.....now $4.75
Youth's overcoats $10.....now $6.50
Men's overcoats $10.....now $7.75
Men's ulsters $10.....now $6.00

SEBRING'S,

Park Avenue. April 1st, West Front Street.

SEE THAT CURVE IN HATS

on all the new spring styles

Shown in those sold by

HALLOCK, Hatter, 109 West Front St.

Telephone, Brooklyn, 366.

COMINS & EVANS.

Acorn Brand Asphalt Roofing.

Gravel and Metal Roofing, Tile and Brick Roofing, Water-Tight Cellars.

45 WAVERLY AVE, BROOKLYN, N. Y.

New York office, 38 Dey st. 1 18 y-eod

"He Never New"

We kept Hanan & Son's Shoes,
But what could the poor boy do?
His wife found it out—
He had never been on Park avenue.

A. WILLETT & SON,

107 PARK AVENUE.

THE GERMAN ARMY.

A Perfect and Thoroughgoing Military Organization.

Every German Is Liable to Service After He Reaches the Age of Seventeen —Method of Recruiting and Maintaining the Army.

The German emperor may declare war, though such declaration is subject to the consent of the federal council. If, however, the country is invaded, then what the emperor says prevails, without federal ratification.

An American may think that the young kaiser talks a good deal about his function as war lord, and takes a good deal of room in discharging it, but, by the imperial constitution of 1871, after the Franco-Prussian war had ended in German unity, the emperor is rightfully the first soldier in the empire, the entire forces of which, in war and peace, are under his command. It is his to see that the army is kept in fighting trim, and his to secure this end by imperial legislation. The Bavarian army is, however, a distinctive contingent, by itself, though practically coordinated and subordinated in the imperial army system. Saxony and Wurtemburg, also, preserve a certain military identity, in that each puts up an army corps for itself.

It is provided that the entire land forces of the empire shall consist of 21 army corps.

Every German is liable to service. No substitute is allowed. No one escapes unless a member of a sovereign house, and he would deem it proper to serve voluntarily. So the army of Germany is the people's army.

When a German boy has finished his 17th year he finds a drill master waiting for him. When he puts away the tools of war for good he is 46 years old. But practically his service will begin in his 20th and close in his 39th year. During this period he will serve actively three years in the ranks, four in the reserve, five in the first levy of the Landwehr, then, until he is 39 in the second levy of the Landwehr, and finally until he is 45 in the Landsturm. A young fellow, however, of means and education, who bears all expenses and passes an examination gets off with one year's service in the ranks. The duty of the Landsturm is to take part in the defense of the country. Neither the Landsturm nor the second levy of the Landwehr is called out in peace, but the men in the Ersatz (relief) reserve share in annual exercises covering 20 weeks.

The institution of the one-year volunteers is an advantageous exception to what an American might call a military despotism.

Under this exception, young men of professional inclinations, not only receive the military training that prepares them for duty in the reserve, but also continue their studies with less detriment to their educaton than if they devoted three valuable years to a soldier's life exclusively. But a fellow must pay for this one-year privilege, his legitimate military expenses amounting to from $350 to $500.

The military forces of the several German states are administered through their own war ministries, which are all subject to the Prussian war ministry. To control this vast military system there are, besides the war ministries, the emperor's military cabinet, the commission for the defense of the country, the general staff, the head of which is directly responsible to the emperor, and the great general staff, which in the most scientific sense is intrusted with the defense of the empire.

Generally speaking, an army corps is recruited in the district where it is garrisoned, but the Prussian guard corps is recruited throughout the country. In the case of Alsace-Lorriane, the province taken from the French, Germany discreetly takes no chances of disaffection among her troops there garrisoned. The men she raises in this province of French antecedents are soldiers of unquestioned loyalty.

The cavalry of the German army is the only branch which has been increased since the French war. Its strength is 93 regiments, or 465 squadrons. France has 45 squadrons less, but of field matteries she has 45 more. Germany's field batteries is smaller than that of any standing army.

As regards uniform, the infantry, artillery, dragoons and pioneers wear the helmet, the officers the "kaeppi," the Uhlans the "czapka," the hussars the fur cap, the cuirassiers the steel helmet. The cuirass nowadays is only worn on parade. The infantry coat is dark blue. In color, style and equipment there is much dissimilarity in the German army, but there is complete uniformity in marks of rank distinction.

A German officer finds a private income a useful adjunct. A second lieutenant's monthly income is about $30. When a man has nothing he may perhaps get a stipend from special funds or from the emperor. A captain of the first class draws annually about $1,250; a major or lieuteant colonel, $1,650; a colonel, $2,250. There is also an allowance for outside lodgings. A young officer cannot possibly live up to his social station if he has a family to support. If a young officer wants to marry he must get the emperor's permission, and satisfactorily prove that his income is at least (in Prussia) $450 a year. The future wife of an officer must be worthy the army—she must be of unblemished reputation, and be of a family of unquestioned respectability.

There are pensions for the old and infirm, though no age limitation exists as with us.

When a German recruit takes the oath the act is made as solemn as possible. No criminal is allowed to wear the uniform of the German army.

A German soldier's pay is between seven and eight cents a day, and he is allowed one and two-thirds pounds of bread.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

WENT HOME TO DIE.

The Old Man's Face Was Wreathed in Smiles When They Found Him.

They told me in the dining car of a train on the Louisville & Nashville road that in the smoking car was an old colored man who was going south to see his old plantation home again before death claimed him. By and by I went in to have a talk with him. He was wrinkled and white haired, and evidently very old, and when I expressed wonder that his friends in Kentucky should have let him set out on such a long journey he replied:

"Dey just couldn't help deirselves, sah. I tole de chill'en I was bound to cum, an' dey jes had to let me."

"And how long since you left the old plantation?"

"Way back in wah times, sah. I dun went right off wid some Yankee sogers, an' dat's de last I eber did see of Mars. Thomases folks. Ize gwine down to 'sprise 'em."

"Where is it?"

"Jest a leetle ways out o' Selma. Dey tell me da' am great changes 'bout Selma, but I reckon I kin walk right down de road an' find de plantashun in de night. Bress de Lawd, sah, but I doan' reckon I could hev closed my eyes in death if dey hadn't let me cum. Dar's bin sich a longin' to see de ole place agin dat I couldn't stand it."

Three or four of us chipped in to get his meals and make him comfortable, but we saw that the journey was telling on his strength. On the morning of the day we were to reach Selma I could see that he was weak and nervous, and when I sat down beside him he said:

"Ize feelin' sort o' skeart 'bout myself dis mawnin'. I had a dream last night dat I was walkin' long de road an' met a funeral, an' when I axed who was gwine to be buried a white man spoke up and said:

"'Pon my soul, if dat hain't Mars Thomases old nigger Job, who runned off doorin' de wah! Heah, boy, let me tole you somethin'. Yo' has cum too late to see yo'r ole mars; dat's him in de coffin, an' he was a axin' 'bout yo' jes de day befo' he died.'"

I told him that dreams did not signify, and after a bit had him quite chirped up. I got him some tobacco for his pipe, saw that he had breakfast, and as I left him he smiled all over with happiness, as he said:

"Only two hours mo' to Selma! Ize moas dun got dere!"

Thirty minutes later the conductor beckoned to three or four of us to come into the smoker. The old man sat in his chair, leaning against the side of the car, and seemed to be sleeping.

"He's been dead ten minutes," quietly observed the conductor, "and he died as peacefully as a child falling asleep!"

So he had. There was a smile on his old black face—a smile of anticipation, and the pipe had not fallen from his fingers. Death had come like a soft and fleeck mantle, and its touch had been painless.—Detroit Free Press.

PRETTY JAPANESE INTERIOR.

How the Effect Can Be Obtained at Little Cost.

A Japanese interior will always be in favor with persons of moderate means, because so good an effect may be obtained at so slight a cost. Hang the wall from baseboard to ceiling with cartridge paper of dull old red, simulating a frieze by setting the bamboo picture rail 18 inches below the ceiling. Form a dado and panels with bamboo, and stencil both dado and frieze with Japanese designs in bronze and copper. Put a greenish white cream matting on the floor, and spread it with jute rugs in imitation of Daghestan and Kazac, and some of these imitations are really wonderful.

There must not be a single picture on the walls. The divan must be low—a spring mattress laid directly on the floor. Cover this with a Japanese print, and have pillows covered with Chiami cloth, cotton crepe, and Japanese prints.

Over the head of the divan suspend a big Japanese umbrella, and also over the head, but more to the right, hang a Japanese lamp, or, better still, use a standard lamp of terra cotta, with dragon decorations. Dark reddish brown denin will answer admirably for hangings in this room.

Have very few chairs, and let these be of bamboo, but let the big pillows, covered with Japanese chintzes, take their place. If this is a parlor, let the tea table be of bamboo and covered with a bit of Japanese drapery; use a Japanese tea service, and a gong of Japanese bronze. If it is a library let the desk be of bamboo, as well as such book-cases as are not built into the walls.

For a square hall a few touches in the way of a Moorish iron hanging lantern, a bit of oriental drapery—if only of chintz, hung over a spear—a rug thrown over the balustrade above, a jute rug on the floor, or a seat built under the stairs and covered with Japanese chintz or a Bagdad rug, will give the effect of a newly-furnished hall.—N. Y. World.

Necessary Preparation.

Little Miss de Fashion (meeting noted author in the park)—How-de do, Mr. Finemind! Mamma is awful glad you is coming to her reception.

Great Author—I am delighted to learn that she is pleased.

"Yes, she says you is the biggest society lion of the season, and she's so glad she got ahead of that Mrs. De Style. Mamma has told everybody you are comin', and they is all worked 'most to death. Mamma's head aches awful this morning.

"Um—to what do you refer, my dear?"

"Why, you know, everybody is nearly killin' theirselves tryin' to read your books, so they can talk to you about 'em."—Los Angeles Herald.

—Before we passionately desire anything which another enjoys, we should examine as to the happiness of its possessor.—Rochefoucauld.

Munyon!

Convincing Statements In Favor of His Improved Homoeopathic Remedies.

INVESTIGATE FOR YOURSELF

Your Druggist Will Give You the Names of Hundreds of His Customers Who Have Been Cured by These Wonderful Little Pellets.

Why Pay Big Fees to Doctors When You Can Cure Yourself With a 25 Cent Bottle of Munyon's Remedies?

Mr. J. Laurencel, 302 Hamburg st., Buffalo, N. Y., says: "I have been afflicted with asthma and bronchial troubles in their worst form for 16 years and tried all sorts of remedies without benefit, until we gave up in despair, waiting for the end which seemed very near. But, thank God, I read of Munyon's little pills, and, after taking them, found not only relief, but, in less than three months' time, a complete cure. I hope my statement will lead some sufferer to restored health, as I have such great confidence in Munyon's Improved Homoeopathic Remedies."

Munyon's Rheumatism Cure never fails to relieve it in 1 to 3 hours, and cures in a few days. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure is guaranteed to cure all forms of indigestion and stomach troubles. Price 25c.

Munyon's Catarrh Remedies positively cure. Price, 25c. each.

Munyon's Kidney Cure speedily cures pains in the back, loins or groins, and all forms of kidney disease. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Female Remedies are a boon to all women. Price 25c.

Asthma Cure, with Asthma Herbs, $1.

Munyon's Nerve Cure stops nervousness and builds up the system. Price 25c.

Munyon's Headache Cure stops headache in 3 minutes. Price 25c.

Munyon's Pile Ointment positively cures all forms of piles. Price 25c.

Munyon's Blood Cure eradicates all impurities of the blood. Price 25c.

Munyon's Vitalizer restores lost powers to weak men. Price, $1.00.

A separate cure for each disease. At all druggists, 25c a bottle.

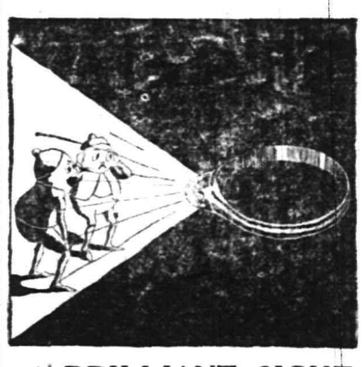
Personal letters to Professor Munyon, 1505 Arch st., Philadelphia, Pa., answered with free medical advice for any disease.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT. Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, administrator of Augustus D. Holmes, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the first day of April next.
Dated January 27, 1896.
1 28 10-oaw JOHN G. FAXON.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, executor of John Harris, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the county of Union, on Wednesday, the twenty-sixth day of February, next. WILLIAM W. HARRIS.
Dated December 16, 1895. 12 24 9-oaw

F. A. DUNHAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor
109 Park ave. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas. Telephone 87—F.

A. Lusardi,
120 North Ave.,
will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c a qt. Branch store, corner Front and Somerset streets.



A BRILLIANT SIGHT.

is afforded everyone who looks through our stock of diamonds and other precious stones—and their setting is only second to them in beauty. You can't think of anything in the jewelry line you can't get here. If you can, let us know and we'll get it at short notice.

COLLIER, 103 Park Avenue.
Established 1869.

P. MARKEY, Bakery,
144 PARK AVENUE.
A full assortment of bread, cakes, and pies fresh every day. Fig and malt bread a specialty. 2 17 tf

R. H. Rushton. J. C. Hansen. A. Luthman.
Rushton, Hansen & Luthman,
PAINTERS
& PAPER HANGERS,
P. O. Box 773, Plainfield, N. J.
Interior decorating a specialty. Our motto—first-class work. Estimates cheerfully given. Orders promptly attended to. 2 11 tf

Removal Sale!

Will remove to the much larger store, 129 East Front st., now occupied by Mr. Gavett, on or about March 25, 1896. I will therefore offer the following lines at Greatly Reduced Prices.

Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing,

also Neckwear, to reduce stock previous to removal.

Men's Overcoats $4 05, $7 20, $9.00, $10.80, $12.60 and Upward.

Men's Suits $4.05 $5.40, $6.30, $7.20, $9, $10.80 and Up

Boys' and Children's Clothing in proportionately low prices. 50c Neckwear in four-in-hand and tecks at 25C. A beautiful assortment. All the above goods are new this season. Watch this ad.

HARRY M. JAQUETT,
123 East Front Street, Plainfield, N. J.

One Price CASH One Price
and money refunded if goods are not satisfactory.

Improve
YOUR OPPORTUNITY!

Get Some of the BARGAINS IN FURNITURE and CHINA,

we are offering before removal to

Jackson Building.

G. Q. Packer. Jos. W. Gavett.

COSTS NOTHING

to see our immense line of wall papers—or to let us estimate on your Spring decorating—We are

GLAD TO DO IT!

Edward Love,
Corner North and Watchung Avenues.

Putnam&DeGraw

THIS WEEK WE WILL SELL

SHIRT WAISTS—Ladies laundered shirt waists only 50c.
UMBRELLAS—Fast black, Paragon frame, only 75c.
HOSIERY—Children's 1x1 rib, extra quality, all sizes, 15c; ladies fast black seamless, extra quality, at 10, 15 and 25c; men's mixed half hose, extra quality 10c, 3 for 25c; men's mixed half hose, seamless, extra heavy, 15c, 2 for 25 cents.
WAISTS—Children's corded underwaists 25c; children's outing flannel waists 50c style for 40c.
NECKWEAR—A new and special line at 25 and 50c.
EMBROIDERIES—Our's are the talk of the city.
COTTON CREPONS—Evening shades at 12 and 15c a yard.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO., —Dealers in—

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Material, &c.

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.
BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

Creamery Butter
20c Per Pound at
J. F. MACDONALD'S
Uptown Grocery.

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,
177 NORTH AVENUE.

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Anthracite Coal Used Exclusively, Insuring Cleanliness and Comfort.

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street.
Time Table in Effect Nov. 17, 1895.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 14, 3 37, 5 38, 6 04, 6 29, 6 59, 7 28, 7 30, 7 53, 8 00, 8 15, 8 27, 8 31, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, 10 59 a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 9 23, 10 17, 11 28, p.m. Sunday, 2 14, 3 37, 6 04, 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 10 59, 11 16 a m; 12 33, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17, p m.

Leave New York, Foot Liberty St., at 4 30, 6 00, 7 15, 8 00, 8 40, 9 10, 10 00, 11 45, a m; 1 10, 1 30, 2 30, 3 30, 3 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 15, 5 30, 5 45, 6 00, 6 15, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 30, p m; 12 15, 1 00, night. Sunday, 4 30, 7 15, 9 00, 9 15, a m; 12 00 m; 1 00, 1 30, 2 30, 4 00, 5 30, 7 00, 9 00, 10 00, p m; 12 15 night, 1 00 a m

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield at 5 38, 6 29, 6 59, 7 30, 8 00, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 10 17, 11 28, p m. Sunday 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 11 16 a m; 12 33, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17 p. m.

Leave Newark at 6 15, 7 18, 7 55, 8 39, 9 03, 10 05, 11 35, a m; 1 15, 1 35, 2 35, 3 35, 4 05, 4 40, 5 04, 5 34, 5 50, 6 20, 7 15, 7 35, 8 40, 10 05, 11 25, p. m. Sunday 7 30, 9 05, 9 30, 11 35 a m; 1 10, 1 35; 2 35, 4 05, 5 40, 7 20, 9 25, 10 20

Passengers for Newark please change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 5 45, 7 10, 8 16, 9 54, 11 00 a m; 12 46, 2 11, 2 32, 3 35, 4 36, 5 05, 5 14, 5 34, 6 04, 6 19, 6 38, 7 12, 7 34, 8 21, 10 26, 11 23, p m; 12 38 night. Sunday 5 45, 8 28, 9 55, a m; 2 05, 3 43 5 14, 6 25, 10 15, 11 14 p m.

Leave Somerville at 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 25, 7 30, 7 48, 8 20 9 05, 9 48, 11 40 a. m; 12 50, 1 48, 2 05, 3 25, 4 25, 4 59, 6 35, 8 07, 8 45, 11 05 p. m. Sunday at 8 25, 9 45, 10 35 a m; 12 08, 1 20, 5 10, 6 35, 8 05, 9 40 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield at 5 45, 8 16, 9 54 a m., 12 46, 2 11, 5 05, 5 14, 6 38, 8 21 p. m. Sunday at 5 45, 8 28, a m; 2 05, 6 35 p m.

Leave Easton at 6 05, 7 00, 8 53, a m; 12 32, 3 42, 4 49, 7 00, p. m. Sunday at 7 15, 10 52 a m; 6 40, 7 30 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield at 9 54 a. m.; 5 05 5 14.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

5 45 a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m.—For stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 a. m.—For Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 54 a. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch D. L. & W. R. R., Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Shamokin, Nanticoke, and Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. with buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 46 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 11 p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Tamaqua, Sunbury, Williamsport, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

5 05 p. m., way for Easton, connecting with High Bridge for stations on High Bridge Branch.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Scranton, Wilkesbarre, Tamaqua, Shamokin. (buffet parlor car to Scranton.)

6 19 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 38 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, and Harrisburg.

8 21 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

5 45 a. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton

8 28 a. m. Sundays—For Easton,

2 05 p. m. Sundays—For High Bridge for High Bridge Branch Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading, and Harrisburg.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 35 p. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c., and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

FOR LONG BRANCH, OCEAN GROVE, ETC.

Leave Plainfield at 3 37, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, p. m. Sunday, (except Ocean Grove) 8 52 a. m; 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 3 37, 5 38, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, 7 03, p. m., Sundays 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Atlantic City, 3 37 a. m.; 1 18 p. m.

For Freehold, 3 37, 8 00, 10 27 a. m.; 1 18, 3 51, 5 24 p. m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44 9 46, 10 44 a. m.; 2 17, 5 34*, 6 45, 8 21, 9 37*, 1 17 night. Sundays—5 17, 5 45, 9 55 10 44 a. m., 2 25, 4 55, 5 14* 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night.

For Trenton, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44, 9 46, a. m. 12 46, 2 17, 5 34*, 6 38*, 8 21, 9 37* p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays 5 17, 5 45, 9 55 a. m. 2 25, 4 55, 5 14*, 6 35*, p. m., 1 17 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 8 44, 10 44 a m., 5 34*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays, 10 44 a. m., 5 14*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points West, week-days at 9 54 a. m., 8 21 p. m. Sunday 6 35 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked (*) change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rates may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN,
General Superintendent.
H. P. BALDWIN,
General Passenger Agent.

Jones & Co., EXCAVATORS.
Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.
—Cesspools Built.

Sewer Connections Made
Properly and Earth Replaced Carefully.
PLUMBING TESTED.
A. M. GRIFFEN,
119 East Front street.

CLASSES FOR Women and Girls
IN
Gymnastic Exercises, Swimming and Fencing.
Miss Elizabeth C. MacMartin, Inst'r.
will meet applicants for membership Wednesday afternoon from 2 until 3, at the Y. M. C. A.

M. Powers & Son. Superior quality of
LEHIGH COAL.
No. 2 Coal Only $3.75 in the Yard.
A No. 1 Kindling Wood.
Yard and office 763 South ave. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

E. H. Holmes,

Dealer in

Coal & Wood.

Yard—No. 208 Madison avenue. Office for coal orders with Woolston & Buckle, 145 North ave.

Telephone 49-A.

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the first and third Thursday eveningsof each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.
John Fellows, Dictator.
R. A. Frey, Reporter.

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays in the Babcock Building. C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Sec.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Babcock Building, West Front street. D. C. Adams, W. M.
Charles Yeager, Sec.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the second and fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward Building, Park avenue, at 8 p.m.
Harry C. Adams, Regent.
Frederick C. Pope, Secretary.

MONEY

Cannot buy better

Men's Suits,

in fine imported Black and Blue Chevlot, Diagonal or fancy weave, single or double breasted at $9.90.

reduced from $15, $18 and $20.

WERNER'S,

206 West Front st.

EXTRA FINE

Jersey Poultry

AT LOWEST PRICES.

Turkeys, Chickens and Ducks

Genuine Philadelphia Scrapple, Taylor's Prepared Ham, Pork Tenderloins.

Great Reduction

in price of all kinds of

MEAT

Headquarters for Jersey pork, bologna and Delacatessen. Jersey pork and Sausage 10c lb.

A. G. Vogeler.

131 West Front st.

THIS IS

the season most people need a

TONIC,

and no better can be found than

Leggett's Malt Extract.

It is a pure concentrated extract of malt and hops.

Price 20 cents a bottle, $2 a dozen.

Leggett's Pharmacy,

Y. M. C. Building.

Your Valuables

will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

Lock boxes from $3.50 to $10 a year.

RANDOLPH RUNYON

Funeral Director and Embalmer.

43 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.
Residence over office. 1 18 m a million killed

would make no impression on the number of the germs of consumption that exist in one affected lung. All germs are little enough, but those which cause consumption are very minute. Cod-liver oil won't kill them. We don't know a remedy which will. The germs float in the air and we can't keep from breathing them into our lungs. Then why don't all of us have consumption? Because a healthy throat, sound lungs, and a strong constitution won't allow the germs to gain a foothold.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, restores and maintains the strength, increases the weight, heals inflamed membranes and prevents serious lung trouble. This is why it is the food-medicine in coughs, colds, loss of flesh, and general debility.

SCOTT'S EMULSION has been indorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. (Ask your doctor.) This is because it is always palatable—always uniform—always contains the purest Norwegian Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Put up in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes. The small size may be enough to cure your cough or help your baby. All druggists.

Just as Good is not SCOTT'S EMULSION.

Your Spring Clothing

Rather early to speak of it, but if it needs cleaning or dyeing, it isn't too early to have us do that work for you. This is our dull season—our employes are here ready for work. We'd like to have your goods now. We can give them better attention than in the rush of the spring season. Then we'll have to have more time or rush them at the expense of good work. Now we can take our time, do the work better than if hurried and you'll have the clothing all ready for warm weather.

Look in the closet or trunk and find your spring wear that needs cleaning and dyeing and bring it to us now, or better still, our wagon will call for it if you will send us word.

Hillier & Co.,

179 North ave., Plainfield.

McCullough's STEAM MILL,

21 Steiner place, North Plainfield.

R. H. McCullough, Prop.
Sash, blinds, doors, mouldings, scroll sawing, turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully furnished.

ERNEST BARRETT,

Sanitary Plumbing, Steam and Hot Water Heating

All work guaranteed. Estimates cheerfully given. Jobbing promptly attended to.

325 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

PROSPECT HILL Must Be Sold.

Azalias, Chinese primrose, palms, ferns, begonias and variety of blooming plants. wedding decorations and floral designs and all equipments for church and house decorations. Southern smilax at 15 days' notice

AT DENTON'S.

[COPYRIGHT, 1894.]

It was in the days when the German armies had broken their way across France, and when the shattered forces of the young republic had been swept aside to the north of the Rhone and to the south of the Loire. Three broad streams of armed men had rolled slowly but irresistibly from the Rhine, now meandering to the north, now to the south, dividing, coalescing, but all uniting to form one great lake round Paris. And from this lake were welled out smaller streams, one to the north, one southward to Orleans, and a third westward into Normandy. Many a German trooper saw the sea for the first time when he rode his horse girth deep into the waves at Dieppe.

Black and bitter were the thoughts of Frenchmen when they saw this weal of dishonor slashed across the fair face of their country. They had fought and they had been overborne. That swarming cavalry, those countless footmen, the masterful guns—they had tried and tried to make head against them. In battalions their invaders were not to be beaten. But man to man, or ten to ten they were their equals. A brave Frenchman might still make a single German rue the day that he had left his own bank of the Rhine. Thus, unchronicled amid the battles and the sieges, there broke out another war, a war of individuals, with foul murder upon the one side and brutal reprisal upon the other.

Col. von Gramm, of the Twenty-fourth Posen infantry, had suffered severely during this new development. He commanded in the little Norman town of Les Andelys, and his outposts stretched amid the hamlets and farmhouses of the district round. No French force was within fifty miles of him, and yet morning after morning he had to listen to a black report of sentries found dead at their posts, or of foraging parties which had never returned. Then the colonel would go forth in his wrath, and farm steading would blaze and villages tremble, but next morning there was still that same dismal tale to be told. Do what he might he could not shake off his invisible enemy. And yet it should not have been so hard, for from certain signs in common, in the plan and in the deed, it was certain that all these outrages came from a single source.

Col. von Gramm had tried violence and it had failed. Gold might be more successful. He published it abroad over the countryside that five hundred francs would be paid for information. There were no responses. Then eight hundred. The peasants were incorruptible. Then, goaded on by a murdered corporal, he rose to a thousand, and so brought the soul of Francois Rejane, farm laborer, whose Norman avarice was a stronger passion than his French hatred.

"You say that you know who did these crimes?" asked the Prussian colonel, eyeing with loathing the blue-bloused, rat-faced creature before him.

"Yes, colonel."

"And it was——"

"Those thousand francs, colonel——"

"Not a sou until your story has been tested. Come! who is it who has murdered my men?"

"It is Count Eustace, of Chateau Noir."

"You lie!" cried the colonel, angrily. "A gentleman and a nobleman could not have done such crimes."

The peasant shrugged his shoulders. "It is evident to me that you do not know the count. It is this way, colonel. What I tell you is the truth, and I am not afraid that you should test it. The Count of Chateau Noir is a hard man—even at the best time he was a hard man. But of late he has been terrible. It was his son's death, you know. His son was under Donay, and he was taken, and then in escaping from Germany, he met his death. It was the count's only child, and indeed we all think that it has driven him mad. With his peasants he follows the German armies. I do not know how many he has killed, but it is he who cuts the cross upon the foreheads, for it is the badge of his house."

It was true. The murdered sentries had each had a saltire cross slashed across their brows, as by a hunting knife. The colonel bent his stiff back and ran his forefinger over the map which lay upon the table.

"The Chateau Noir is not more than four leagues," he said.

"Three and a kilometer, colonel."

"You know the place?"

"I used to work there."

Col. von Gramm rang the bell.

"Give this man food and detain him," said he to the sergeant.

"Why detain me, colonel? I can tell you no more."

"We shall need you as guide."

"As guide! But the count! If I were to fall into his hands! Ah, colonel——"

The Prussian commander waved him away. "Send Capt. Baumgarten to me at once," said he.

The officer who answered the summons was a man of middle age, heavy-jawed, blue eyed, with a curving yellow mustache and a brick-red face which turned to an ivory white where his helmet had sheltered it. He was bald with a shining, tightly-stretched scalp, at the back of which, as in a mirror, it was a favorite mess joke for the subalterns to trim their mustaches. As a soldier he was slow, but reliable and brave. The colonel could trust him where a more dashing officer might be in danger.

"You will proceed to Chateau Noir to-night, captain," said he. "A guide has been provided. You will arrest the count and bring him back. If there is any attempt at rescue, shoot him at once."

"How many men shall I take, colonel?"

"Well, we are surrounded by spies, and our only chance is to pounce upon him before he knows that we are upon the way. A large force will attract attention. On the other hand, you must not risk being cut off."

"I might march north, colonel, as if to join Gen. Goeben. Then I could turn down this road which I see upon your map, and get to Chateau Noir before they could hear of us. In that case with twenty men——"

"Very good, captain. I hope to see you with your prisoner to-morrow morning."

It was a cold December night when Capt. Baumgarten marched out of Les Andelys with his twenty Posenors and took the main road to the northwest. Two miles out he turned suddenly down a narrow, deeply-rutted track and made swiftly for his man. A thin, cold rain was falling, swishing among the tall poplar trees and rustling in the fields on either side. The captain walked first, his Moser at his side, the sergeant, beside him. The sergeant's wrist was fastend to that of the French peasant, and it had been whispered in his ear that in case of the ambush the first bullet fired would be through his head. Behind them the twenty infantrymen plodded along through the darkness with their faces sunk to the rain and their boots squeaking in the soft, wet clay. They knew where they were going, and why, and the thought upheld them, for they were bitter at the loss of their comrades. It was a cavalry job, they knew, but the cavalry were all on with the advance, and besides, it was more fitting that the regiment should avenge its own dead men.

It was nearly eight when they left Les Andelys. At half-past eleven their guide stopped at a place where two high pillars crowned with some heraldic stone work, flanked a huge iron gate. The walls in which it had been the opening had crumbled away, but the great gate still towered above the brambles and weeds which had overgrown its base. The Prussians made their way round it, and advanced stealthily under the shadow of a black tunnel of oak branches up the long avenue which was still cumbered by the leaves of last autumn. At the top they halted and reconnoitred.

The black chateau lay in front of them. The moon had shone out between two rain clouds, and threw the old house into silver and shadow. It was shaped like an L, with a low-arched door in front, and lines of small windows like the open ports of a man-of-war. Above was a dark roof breaking at the corners into little round overhanging turrets, the whole lying silent in the moonshine with a drift of ragged clouds blackening the heavens behind it. A single light gleamed in one of the lower windows.

The captain whispered his orders to his men. Some were to creep to the front door, some to the back. Some were to watch the east and some the west. He and the sergeant stole on tiptoe to the lighted window.

It was a small room into which they looked, very meanly furnished. An elderly man in the dress of a menial was reading a tattered paper by the light of a sputtering candle. He leaned back in his wooden chair, with his feet upon a box, while a bottle of white wine stood with a half-filled tumbler upon a stool beside him. The sergeant thrust his needle gun through the glass and the man sprang to his feet with a shriek.

STAGGERED OUT INTO THE RAIN.

"Silence for your life! The house is surrounded, and you cannot escape. Come round and open the door or we will show you no mercy when we come in."

"For God's sake, don't shoot! I will open it! I will open it!" He rushed from the room with his paper still crumpled up in his hand. An instant later, with a groaning of old locks and a rasping of bars, the low door swung open and the Prussians poured into the stone-flagged passage.

"Where is Count Eustace de Chateau Noir?"

"My master! He is out, sir."

"Out at this time of night? Your life for a lie!"

"It is true, sir."

"Where?"

"I do not know."

"Doing what?"

"I cannot tell. No, it is no use cocking your pistol, sir. You may kill me, but you cannot make me tell you that which I do not know."

"Is he often out at this hour?"

"Frequently."

"And when does he come home?"

"Before daybreak."

Capt. Baumgarten rasped out a German oath. He had had his journey for nothing, then. The man's answers were only too likely to be true. It was what he might have expected. But at least he would search the house and make sure. Leaving a picket at the front door and another at the back, the sergeant and he drove the trembling butler in front of them, his shaking candle sending strange flickering shadows over the old tapestries and the low oak-rafted ceilings. They searched the whole house from the huge stone flagged kitchen below to the dining hall on the second floor with its gallery for musicians and its panelling black with age, but nowhere was there a living creature. Up in an attic they found Marie, the elderly wife of the butler, but the owner kept no other servants, and of his own presence there was no trace.

It was long, however, before Capt. Baumgarten had satisfied himself upon the point. It was a difficult house to search. Thin stairs, which only one man could ascend at a time, connected lines of tortuous corridors. The walls were so thick that each room was cut off from its neighbor. Huge fire-places yawned in each, while the windows were six feet deep in the wall. Capt. Baumgarten stamped with his feet, and tore down curtains, and struck with the pummel of his sword. If there were secret hiding-places he was not fortunate enough to find them.

"I have an idea," said he at last, speaking in German to the sergeant. "You will place a guard over this fellow and make sure that he communicates with no one."

"Yes, captain."

"And you shall [illegible] the front and at the back. It is likely enough that about daybreak our bird may come back to the nest."

"And the others, captain?"

"Let them have their suppers in the kitchen. This fellow will serve you with meat and wine. It is a wild night, and we shall be better here than on the country road."

"And yourself, captain?"

"I will take my supper up here in the dining-hall. The logs are laid, and we can light the fire. You will call me if there is any alarm. What can you give me for supper—you?"

"Alas, monsieur, there was a time when I might have answered 'what you wish.' But now it is all that we can do to find a bottle of new claret and a cold pullet."

"That will do very well. Let a guard go about with him, sergeant, and let him feel the end of a bayonet if he plays us any tricks."

Capt. Baumgarten was an old campaigner. In the eastern provinces and before that in Bohemia he had learned the art of quartering himself on the enemy. While the butler brought his supper in he occupied himself in making his preparations for a comfortable night. He lit the candelabrum of ten candles upon the center table. The fire was already burning up, crackling merrily and sending spurts of blue pungent smoke out into the room. The captain walked to the window and looked out. The moon had gone in again, and it was raining heavily. He could hear the deep sough of the wind, and see the dark gloom of the trees, all swaying in one direction. It was a sight which gave a zest to his comfortable quarters, and to the cold fowl and the bottle of wine which the butler had brought up for him. He was tired and hungry after his long tramp as he threw his sword, his helmet and his revolver belt down upon a chair, and fell to eagerly upon his supper. Then, with his glass of wine before him, and a cigar between his lips, he tilted his chair back and looked about him.

He sat within a small circle of brilliant light which gleamed upon his silver shoulder straps and threw out his terra cotta face, his heavy eyebrows and his yellow mustache. But outside that circle things were vague and shadowy in the old dining-hall. Two sides were oak panelled and two were hung with faded tapestry, across which huntsmen and dogs and stags were still dimly streaming. Above the fireplace were rows of heraldic shields, with the blazonings of the family and its alliances, the fatal saltire cross breaking out on each of them.

Four paintings of old Seigneurs of Chateau Noir faced the fireplace, all men with hawk noses and bold high features, so like each other that only the dress could distinguish the crusader from the cavalier of the Fronde. Capt. Baumgarten, heavy with his repast, lay back in his chair looking up at them through the cloud of his tobacco smoke, and pondering over the strange chance which had sent him, a man from the Baltic coast, to eat his supper in the ancestral hall of these proud Norman chieftains. But the fire was hot and the captain's eyes were heavy. His chin sank slowly upon his chest, and the ten candles gleamed upon the broad, white scalp.

Suddenly a slight noise brought him to his feet. For an instant it seemed to his dazed senses that one of the pictures opposite had walked from its frame. There, beside the table, and almost within arm's length of him, was standing a huge man, silent, motionless, with no sign of life, save his fierce, glinting eyes. He was black-haired, olive-skinned, with a pointed tuft of black beard and a great fierce nose, toward which all his features seemed to run. His cheeks were wrinkled like a last year's apple, but his sweep of shoulder, and bony, corded hands told of a strength which was unsapped by age. His arms were folded across his arching chest, and his mouth was set in a fixed smile.

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

AMERICANS.

Congressman William A. Smith, of Michigan, began his career as a newsboy and street popcorn seller.

Chief Justice Beasley, of New Jersey, at the age of 80, is deemed one of the brightest minds on the American bench.

Mrs. Mercy Thorndike, of Rockland, Me., has been a pilgrim here below for 92 years. She has moved her place of residence 57 times, and isn't permanently settled even now.

Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, widow of Gen. Anderson, of Fort Sumter fame, has the flag which her husband planted over the fortfication locked in a fireproof vault in her house in Washington. She expects eventually to present it to the government.

Evidence of Her Intention.

"Mrs. Van Millions is going on the stage."

"Why, who told you so?"

"Nobody. But she's just begun suit for a divorce."—Chicago Record.

New Blood.

Cross—What does Sellers mean by advertising "New blood in the business?"

Blackwell—Why, didn't you hear? He's taken his wife's rich old grandfather into the firm.—N. Y. World.

A Chain of Persecution.

George—No matter how things go, the poor always suffer.

Jack—Yes, the nabobs who own railroads think nothing of running over a poor man's horse.

"Yes, and the man who can afford to own a horse runs down a poor fellow on a bicycle."

"Just so. And the poor fellow on the bicycle runs down the poor fellow who has to walk."

"That's it. And the man who walks stumbles against the cripple who goes on crutches."

"That's the way. And the cripple on crutches spends most of his time jamming his sticks down on other people's corns. It's really a selfish world!"—N. Y. Clipper.

A Hunting Item.

Usually a hunter manages to kill something. Jinks is a great hunter, but he never kills anything. Recently while out hunting, a rabbit sprang up near the corner of a fence. Instead of firing he merely raised his hat.

"What do you mean by taking off your hat instead of shooting at him?" asked his companion.

"You see, I've shot at that rabbit so often and missed him that we are old acquaintances," replied Jinks.—Texas Siftings.

Demands of the Season.

In the spring, a deeper crimson
Comes upon the robin's breast;
In the spring, the wanton lapwing
Gets himself another nest;
In the spring the balmy zephyr
Whispers through the leafy pine;
In the spring our torpid livers
Call for blue pills and quinine.

How Are Your Kidneys?

Does Your Back Ache?

Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills

MAKE the Kidneys strong and healthy.

THEY cause the kidneys to filter all uric acid and other poisons or impurities from the blood.

Cure Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Anæmia, Pimples, Bad Blood, Bright's Disease, Malaria, Backache, Kidney Pains, Dropsy, Pain in the Abdomen, Frequent Urination, Inflamation of Kidneys, etc.

Are not a secret remedy, but contain highly concentrated extracts of Asparagus, Juniper Berries, Buchu, Corn Silk, Pareira Brava and Uva Ursa (all kidney healers) and are scientifically compounded.

Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills are endorsed by physicians and druggists. 50 cents a box. Valuable Book Free.
Hobbs Medicine Co., Chicago or San Francisco

In Buying a Piano or an Organ

do not fail to examine the latest Mason & Hamlin models. Recent improvements render them unexcelled. Old pianos or organs taken in exchange. Instruments sold for cash or easy payments.

Catalogues and full information free.

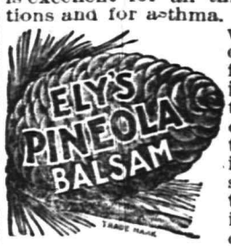
Pianos of reliable makers from $200 upwards.

Mason & Hamlin Co.

136 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK.

Pineola Cough Balsam

is excellent for all throat inflammations and for asthma. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from its use, as it quickly abate the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. There is a large percentage of those who suppose their cases to be consumption who are only suffering from a chronic cold or deep seated cough, often aggravated by catarrh. For catarrh use Ely's Cream Balm. Both remedies are pleasant to use. Cream Balm 50c per bottle; Pineola Balsam 25c, at druggists. In quantities of $2.50 will deliver on receipt of amount. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren st., N.Y.



PARTICULAR MENTION.

D. P. Hicks, of 824 West Third street, is very ill.

Edward Garrison, of West Front street, leaves tonight for Trenton.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Brower, of Park avenue, are the proud parents of a child.

Charles Lauterette, of North Plainfield, has returned from a visit to Brooklyn.

A social will be held at the home of Victor Lorton, on Friday evening of this week.

Mr. Saxton, of East Fourth street, was in Rahway yesterday on important business.

John Trainor, of Liberty street, who has been quite ill with pneumonia, is much improved today.

Charles Baker and family, of Chatham street, expects to move about March 1st to Connecticut.

George Vanderhoff and family, of East Front street, will spend Friday and Saturday with friends in Newark.

An evening social will be held at the residence of Miss Carrie Howard, of West Seventh street, tomorrow night.

Bertram Mundy, of this city, and Miss Sadie Johnson, of South Plainfield will be married at that place tomorrow.

Mrs. G. H. Carpenter, formerly of East Sixth street, but lately of Brooklyn, died at the latter place yesterday after a long illness.

Councilman Westphal, of West Fourth street, was somewhat improved this morning from his attack of quinsy sore throat.

J. Steven Higham, of West Fourth street, has gone to Trenton attend the meeting of the Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias.

Georgie, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Doeringer, of Duer street, is very ill with membranous croup. Dr. Davis is in attendance.

Mrs. Charles Kiederling, of East Front street, who is confined to the house with pneumonia is no better. Her condition has been growing worse.

Captain J. E. Flannery, First Lieut. M. Turton, Second Lieut. Jacob Blimm, Jr., and John H. Tier, Jr., of Crescent Company, No. 13, Uniformed Rank of Knights of Pythias, went to Trenton today to attend the regimental and brigade meetings of that society.

Mrs. Vermeule, aged 82, of West Second street, fell while walking in her yard yesterday afternoon and sustained a severe fracture of the thigh. Dr. T. H. Tomlinson was called and succeeded in making Mrs. Vermeule as comfortable as possible. Today she is resting very well.

Fanwood.

A. D. Shepard's house is advancing rapidly.

F. K. Clark is running a special stage to church Sundays.

E. S. Finnessey, baggage-master, is at his home sick.

Services will be held in All Saints P. E. church, Fanwood, Wednesday.

A dance will be given in the Fanwood club-house, Friday evening, Feb. 21st.

One of the prominent hackmen of Fanwood was taken home in his own carriage Sunday night.

The Scoth Plains base ball club are to have a strong team this year. Challenges will be accepted the first of April.

Presentation of a Picture.

Mrs. Fackler, of Trenton, a member of the Women's Relief Corps, of that place, recently forwarded a very handsomely framed picture to Commander L. L. McVoy, of Post 73, G. A. R., to be presented to the Post. The picture is a faithful reproduction of the memorable G. A. R. parade held in Washington in 1894, showing Post 73 in the lead in charge of Post Commander W. C. Smith and Commander L. L. McVoy. It will be presented to the Post at the next meeting by Mr. McVoy.

Florida—America's Riviera—"Clyde Line."

Always anxious to give their patrons best possible facilities, the "Clyde Line" have built new, elegant, fast, steel steamships to accommodate their increasing passenger traffic between New York and Jacksonville, Fla. The traveling public always appreciate the fact that by taking the "Clyde Line" they do not have to change between New York and Jacksonville, Fla., thus avoiding heat, dust and transfers incidental to all rail or other routes. Write "Clyde Line," New York, for descriptive matter, mailed free.

Fell in the Pond.

Eva Killoran, 11 years old, of Washington street, while crossing the brook near Tier's dam yesterday, stepped on a stone which turned and threw her into the water. She fell in a considerable depth and a man passing in the vicinity assisted her to the bank. While she was going home her clothes became stiffened with the extreme cold, but no serious results are anticipated.

—The bid of Seymour G. Smith's company was the lowest yesterday for cremating the garbage of New York city.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The case of Lawler against Keely, on contract, was postponed by Justice Newcorn yesterday for one week.

—Queen City Lodge, No. 226, I. O. O. F., received two propositions for membership at their meeting last evening.

—The contract case of Brooks against Conklin has been adjourned in Justice Newcorn's court for one week.

—The second rank was conferred on three candidates at the meeting of Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F., last evening.

—The annual session of the Grand Lodge, K. of P., will be held in Trenton tomorrow. A number from this city will attend.

—VanEmburgh & Son will have a special sale tomorrow, Febrary 19th. You will find what they have to say in the ad columns.

—Harry Cottrell, of Prospect place, lost a valuable New Foundland pup Sunday. The dog was run over by a carriage and his neck broken.

—Leggett, the East Front street druggist, now keeps open all day Sunday and every holiday. A night clerk is also on duty every night.

—Armenita, the Italian, who assaulted Mrs. Hobby, of Grove street, several months ago, comes before the Grand Jury at Somerville this afternoon.

—Friday evening, Feb. 21st, the Ladies Aid Society of the Grace M. E. church will hold a sociable in the church. A fine programme has been arranged.

—The Plainfield Ice and Cold Storage Company is carting fifteen tons of salt hay today from the meadows five miles beyond Metuchen to Plainfield.

—VanEmburgh & Son will sell tomorrow "only" Wednesday, February 19th, about 500 yards of best 8 cent dress crints at 3½ cents a yard. Sale will commence at 8 o'clock a. m.

—Special Master in Chancery John H. VanWinkle was yesterday appointed by Chancellor McGill to take testimony in the divorce suit of George Voehl against his wife, Adelia.

—Surrogate Leonard Furman, of Middlesex county, probated the will of the late Isaac W. Laing, today. Mrs. Mary H., the surviving wife, Mrs. Amelia Sandford, the daughter, and Isaac W. Laing, the grandson, are made executors of the estate.

THEATRICAL.

The Stillman Music Hall will have for its Washington birthday attraction that stirring comedy-drama, "The Westerner," which will be produced by the original New York cast headed by that romantic young actor, Mr. A. H. De Lisser. "The Westerner" is said to be a strong, well-connected play, full of the most laughable comedy, yet touching the most tender chords of the human heart. The story is so well written and the piece will be so effectually presented that not a thread of the plot will be forgotten or lost sight of. The play is said to be built on the order of the "Henrietta" and is not as one would suppose from its title "a wild and woolly drama." The staging will be magnificently done and not the minutest detail will be neglected to give the theatre goers an enjoyable evening.

Death of Mrs. Curtis.

After a week's illness with pneumonia Mrs. Thomas E. H. Curtis died at her home on West Eighth street this afternoon at 1:20. She was about thirty years of age. She leaves a husband and three children.

Stealing Coal.

Officer McCue caught an Italian stealing coal on the Jersey Central railroad this morning near Cottage place, and lodged him in thee station house to await trial.

BE STRONG AND HEARTY.

How to Be Strong and Full of Life and Vigor.

If you starved for two days you would feel as weak as a cat.

Proof enough that your food is the cause of you strength.

If your stomach is sick, your starving away your strength. Slowly perhaps, but none the less surely.

You feel it yourself.

You have nausea, loss of appetite, headache, giddiness, pain in the stomach, loss of strength, spirits and ambition.

What do you think? That its your head?

But it's not. It's simply your stomach.

Food is strength. Stomach makes it available. If stomach won't work, food does not become available strength.

Shaker Digestive Cordial will, in a few doses, make your stomach well and help your food make you strong.

Who wouldn't be strong? Whoever won't take Shaker Digestive Cordial.

Sick, tired, weary men and women, those who are working their bodies and brains too hard, will find relief and strength in Shaker Digestive Cordial.

It makes strength. It makes health. It makes happiness.

It's not an ordianry medicine, it's a cordial.

It's pleasant to take, and more than pleasant in its results.

For sale by all druggists at 10, 25, 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle.

Pura Blood!

PARALYSIS.

Under Grant From the United States Government.

PARALYSIS.—This disease was formerly considered hopeless, but the treatment which patients have received at Hot Springs, Arkansas, has cured so many cases that it has made Hot Springs, Arkansas, Famous the world over. Those who cannot visit this celebrated sanitarium can afford to buy "Pura Blood," which contains the healing waters of Hot Springs, Arkansas, under grant from the United States Government. "Pura Blood" will effectually cure Paralysis and all blood diseases, and can be bought for one dollar per bottle at druggists. Billups & Co., of 26 Cortlandt street, N. Y., are sole agents, and will send descriptive book free to any address.

Nothing Like It.

Time brings many changes, but the climate of California, "The Italy of America," and the attractions of the many famous health and pleasure resorts, are the same yesterday, today and forever.

Tourists never will tire of speaking in praise of the soft and balmy air, the profusion of flowers, the magnificent display of fruits, the luxury of seabathing and the beautiful walks and drives.

Then, too, it must be conceded that with such excellent equipment, consisting of Reclining Chair Cars, Pullman Palace Sleepers and Pullman Dining Cars, all heated by steam and lighted with Pintsch Light, the Union Pacific, "The Overland Route," is the tourists favorite. Ask your agents for tickets via this route.

E. L. Lomax, General Pass and Ticket Agent, Omaha, Neb.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for rheumatism and neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75c. Sold by H. P. Reynolds, druggist, Park and North avenues. 2 12 y —A writ of attachment was issued yesterday by Justice Newcorn in the contract case of Coddington against Chestersmith, and Constable W. R. Mattox levied on goods belonging to the defendant, now in Cranford, to satisfy the claimant.

The usual treatment of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as thousands can testify. Proper local treatment is positively necessary to success, but many if not most, of the remedies in general use afford but temporary relief. A cure certainly cannot be expected from snuffs, powders, douches and washes. Ely's Cream Balm, which is so highly commended, is a remedy that combines the important requisities of quick action, specific curative power, with perfect safety and pleasantness to the patient.

The Annual Supper and Sale

of Monroe Avenue Chapel

will take place on Thursday, Feb. 20, 1896, from 6 to 8 o'clock. A short programme has been prepared which will take place after supper. Admission, including supper, 25c. 2 18 2

AN ORDINANCE.

An Ordinance for the suppression of Vice and Immorality.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Sec. 1. That no person or persons shall on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, sell dispose of or offer or expose for sale or cause or permit to be sold, disposed of or offered or exposed for sale any cider of any description, under penalty of a fine not exceeding Twenty Dollars for each and every offense.

Sec. 2. That all ordinances and parts of ordinances so far as they are inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Adopted by the Common Council Feb. 3d, 1896.

Approved by the Mayor Feb. 7th 1896.

A. GILBERT, Mayor.

Attest—J. T. MacMurray, City Clerk.

May Change Her Mind

and her stationery. This unwritten law may be observed just as often as she desires, and then, if not thoroughly satisfied, can get her money back for the asking. However, we find few who do not like our 25c box of paper and envelopes when desiring the medium grade.

R. C. RAND,

140 West Front st

HONEYMAN'S PRIVATE TOURS,

181 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

February 21, to Old Point; Easter week to Washington; June 27, Coaching trip abroad, with Switzerland and Italy; August to New England; December to Mexico.

Edwin B. Maynard,

Hair Cutting and Shampooing.

Tonsorial parlor, 204 Park ave., Plainfield. Ladies' shampooing and children's hair cutting a specialty.

Van Emburgh & SON.

Corner Store, Babcock Building.

We work for the GOOD WILL as well as the patronage of our customers.

Our prices are plain blunt arguments.

New Spring Flannelettes, 10c. yd.
Spring colors in Figured Valours, 12c yd.
New Mourning Sateens, 12c yd.
New spring figured Cambrics, 12c yard.
We are the people for nice Outings, 10c. yd.
Boys' Derby Ribbed Hose, 10c., 15c., 18c. pair.
Plain colors, Windsor Ties 10c.
Extra Wind Windsor Ties. 25c.
Extra size Windsor Ties, (hemstitched, 50c. each.
Our Corset Covers are selling at 15c, 19c, 25c, 30c, 42c, 54c, 59c, 72c, 89c each.
P. N Corsets, perfect fit, 50c. 75c, $1.00 pair.
2 Turkish Bath Towels for 19c.
Roll Tape, all widths, 2c. each.
Attachable Corset Clasps, 5c pair.
Attachable Corset Clasps, (cork protector) 8c. pair.
Japanned Dress Steels, 5c. dozen.
Covered Dress Steels, 6c. set.
Safety Pins, all sizes, 3c. dozen.
Tooth Brushes, good ones, 5c. each
Fast Black Darning Cotton, 2c. ball
Zephyr Worsted, all colors, 4c. lop
100 yards Best Spool Silk, black and colors, 7c. Spool.

Read Sheeting Muslins. Read

1	yard wide,	bleached,	6c.	yard.
1 1 8	yards wide,	"	6 1-2c.	"
1 1-4	"	"	7 1-2c.	"
1 1-2	"	"	11c.	"
1 3-4	"	"	13c.	"
2	"	"	14 1-2c	"
2 1-4	"	"	16c.	"
2 1-2	"	"	17 1-2c	"

VAN EMBURGH & SON,

INSURANCE.

. C. Pope & Co.,

INSURANCE AGENTS,

. East Front st.,
nfield, N. J.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance.

197 North avenue

INSURANCE.

WM. H. ABBOTT,

171 North Ave.

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter, 22c.

Best Dairy Butter 18c.

V. L. FRAZEE

151 West Front st.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

New York Mails.

Arrive—7:30, 8:40, 11:15 a.m., 2:45, 5, 5:30 p. m.
Close—7 15 and 9:20 a. m., 1:30, 4 30 and 7:30 p. m.

Somerville and Easton Mails.

Arrive—8:40 a. m., 2:40, 6:00 p. m.
Close—7:15 a. m., 4:30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arr. 12 m; closes 9:30 a. m.

Sunday Mails.

Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6:15 p. m.

J. M. HETFIELD, P. M.

Dogs

IRON AND BRASS

FIRE-DOGS.

Curtis M. Thorpe,

Y. M. C. A. Building

"Everything for the Fireplace."

HEATH & DRAKE.

Established 1841. Newark's first-class Dry Goods House.

New Embroideries, Laces, Flouncings, etc.

Our assortment of these goods for the coming season is handsomer, more varied and complete than any we have yet shown, and embraces regular Cambric, Nainsook and Swiss Edges, Insertions and match sets in all grades and styles and a line of Exquisite Novelties which for new and original effects, exclusive and unique designs, are unsurpassed if not unequalled by any in the market.

Pretty Edgings and Embroideries Very Cheap.

A thousand lines could not tell the story any better. Great heaps of snowy Embroideries that first saw light in far off Switzerland are here.

In connection with our regular line we have purchased, direct from the manufacturers in St. Gaul, Switzerland, three large lots of Embroideries, which we will place on sale at one-third less than regglar prices.

Lot 1, 4c Yd. Lot 2, 8c Yd. Lot 3, 12c Yd

The wise ones ask no questions, but take them away in huge quantities.

777 and 779 Broad Street,

Newark, N. J.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd.

EVER SEE THE "PORTLAND RANGE?"

Elastic Dollars

—we are "dollar stretchers"—we make every hundred cents do twice and sometimes thrice the work it does elsewhere—to instance:

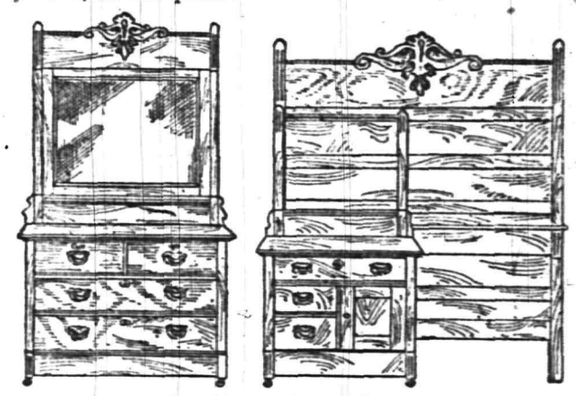
Solid Oak Sideboard $10.50

Exactly like this cut, 10.50.

bevelled mirror, fine make, solid and attractive in every detail—it's been marked $18.00.

Bedroom Suit Flyer—

it's at a price free from extravagance—$11.75—worth every bit of $20.00, its old price!



This Solid Oak Bedroom Suit, 11.75.

Our Carpet Dept. is always awake—Ingrains, all wool, at 63c per yard—made and laid with lining, free. We have ingrains as low as 35c—all regular carpet weaves.

Buy goods NOW—we'll hold them 'til wanted—no cash needed and Deliveries made free of charge all parts of the state.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd. Note the Name "AMOS"

Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, Bedding, Etc.
Low Prices, Easy Terms
TELEPHONE 580.

73 MARKET ST. Near Plane St. NEWARK, N. J.

STILLMAN MUSIC HALL.

Rich & Maeder.....Lessees and Managers.
John Daly.....Resident Manager.

Saturday, February 22d,

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

One performance. The beautiful romantic Comedy,

The Westerner,

with its original New York cast.

An Idylic Holiday Play.

Prices 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c and $1 Seats on sale at Leggett's drug store.

LAST EDITION.

THE DAILY PRESS

LAST EDITION.

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1896. TWO CENTS A COPY—$5 A YEAR

SAVE THE PALISADES.

That is The Cry Heard on all Sides at Present.

Members of the Joint Palisades Committee, appointed by the Governors of New York and New Jersey, having solicited co-operation from the women of both States, this accompanying petition has been formulated, and it is hoped that as many individual clubs or individual members thereof as are in sympathy with the movement will in every way endorse and further the proposed bills, ceding to the Federal government the strip of Palisades scenery, and providing for its maintenance as a National Reservation:

To the Governor and Legislature of New Jersey and to the Members of House Committee on Military Affairs at Washington:
The undersigned, representing the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs, impressed with the importance of bills before you, do most earnestly express the hope of a favorable hearing and prompt action looking toward the prevention of further defacement and the establishment of a National Park and pleasure ground. The advantages of which would be enjoyed by a vast and incre sing p pulation and the unique and beautiful features of which serve to be thus honored and protected.
The Officers of N. J. Fed. of Women's Clubs.

Apropos to the petition the following from the Baltimore News is opportune: Not only the inhabitants of New York and New Jersey, but every American who knows the Palisades of the Hudson, must feel a pang of sorrow and mortification when he hears, that their unique beauty is in danger of speedy destruction. Sorrow that one of the gems of the earth, the most distinctive feature of our loveliest river, a scene whose charm lies in its unparalleled combination of natural loveliness with a situation overlooking the great centre of American commerce, should be in danger of irrepairable defacement. Mortification that this defacement should be possible for the sake of a few thousand dollars' worth of broken stone.

A Lunch Box Sociable.

Howell Division, No. 97, Sons of Temperance, gave one of their enjoyable lunch box sociables last evening, which was well attended. Miss Alice Scribner, Mrs. Wm. Koyer and Mrs. Emma Cox were the committee in charge and arranged a programme which included a reading by Miss Scribner; vocal solo, Mrs. Emma Cox; vocal solo, Miss Try Mattox; remarks, Mrs. Corwin; vocal solos, the Misses Mamie and Bessie Richards, Mrs. Emma Cox and Miss Try Mattox. Mr. Scribner then sold the lunch boxes, and a good sum was realized. The rest of the evening was passed in sociability and enjoying the excellent refreshments provided.

Plans for General Runyon's Funeral.

Owing to the limited seating capacity of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church in Newark, admission to the funeral services of the late Ambassador Theodore Runyon, which takes place next Monday, will be by ticket only. Seats will be reserved for the Governor, a delegation of the State Legislature, members of the Diplomatic Corps at Washington and organizations and institutions with which deceased was connected.

Knights Off to Trenton.

A. D. Pope, Edward Garretson, Theodore Mason, Jacob Blimm, Jr., J. E. Flannery, Stephen Higham and Joseph C. Blimm, of Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, and Jeremiah VanWinkle, Jr., J. W. A. Bauersachs, Frank Humpston and Bateman Thatcher, of Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., went to Trenton this morning to attend the annual session of the Grand Lodge, K. of P.

An Earnest Meeting.

Mrs. A. B. Simpson and Miss S. A. Lindenberger were unable to be present at the meeting of the Plainfield Branch of Christian Alliance last evening, and Rev. Mr. Giles and wife, of Portland, Me., gave their experiences on the lines of the four-fold Gospel. There was a large number present and all listened with interest to the earnest speakers.

Escaped a Conflagration.

The old residence of the late William B. T. Lane, now occupied by Percy C. Ohl, was in danger of being consumed by fire on Sunday last. The chimney caught fire but was extinguished by the aid of a fire extinguisher and the neighbors who came to the rescue.

In Honor of Washington's Birthday.

An invitation sociable and dance will be held at the Olympia on Friday evening, Washington's Birthday eve. The committee in charge consists of A. R. Johnson, I. Pearson, and G. W. Scribner. Prof. Frazee will furnish the music. A number of guests will be present from Rahway and Westfield.

In Justice Sperry's Court.

United States flags against Press and News, in tort. After four flags had testified that they were unfurled to the breeze on Grandview avenue, Lincoln's Birthday, statements of defendants to the contrary notwithstanding, judgment was rendered for the plaintiffs.

AN ABSOLUTE DESPOTISM

TURKEY'S GOVERNMENT IS THUS CHARACTERIZED BY DR. RIGGS.

The Ruling Head is Not a Civil Officer or Hereditary King, But a Military Leader and Ecclesiastical Prelate

"The Ottoman Empire" was the subject of the University Extension lecture delivered last night by Dr. James F. Riggs in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church. The subject is an especially interesting one at this day, and a large audience was in attendance.

The Selyook race, with whom the Crusaders fought, said Dr. Riggs, must not be confounded with the Ottomans. The history of the Selyook dynasties is aptly compared to a series of violent thunder storms. But after the race of Osman took the lead the course of events was quite different. The early Sultans exhibited real military genius.

Osman, who gave a name to the race, died in 1326, and the same year Orkhan captured Brusa, and made it the capital of the empire. Murad I., 1359-1389, conquered large sections of territory in Europe, sweeping all around Constantinople, while that city remained in the hands of the Greek emperors. His successor, known as the "thunderbolt," Byazeed I., 1389-1403, made an unsuccessful attack on Constantinople, but was compelled to hasten back to the east to meet the army of Tamerlane. Mohammed II, 1451-1481, was the final conqueror of the city, which was occupied by the Turks, May 29, 1453. Mohammed was anxious to retain the Greek population in the city, and he showed them every kindness. While the finest churches were converted into mosques, many were left to the Christians, and are still churches of the Greek faith.

For more than a century after the fall of Constantinople the Turks were the terror of Christendom. The reign of Sohman I., "the magnificent," 1520-1566, marks the highest point of Ottoman glory, and was a period of military achievements and architectural triumphs. During the reign of Selin II, son of Sohman, the Ottoman naval power was shattered at the battle of Sepanto, 1571, and from that time the terror of Europe was relieved.

A long line of Sultan's followed, but the story is a painful one, of corruption and decay. Extravagance and vice increased, while the original vigor of the race steadily diminished. That which was the scourge of nations is now the object of derision.

The government of Turkey is an absolute despotism. The head of the state is not a civil officer, or hereditary king, but a military leader an an ecclesiastical prelate.

Besides the Ottoman population, there are in the country Jews, Greeks and Armenians. The Jews came from Spain, being expelled during the reign of Ferdinand and Isabella. The Greeks pride themselves upon being the true owners of the soil, and say that the time will come when Constantinople will be again a Greek city.

The Armenians are an especially interesting people to us, just now. They have a very interesting ecclesiastical history, having been very early identified with Christianity. Their church is Episcopal in form, with bishops and a liturgy. They have quite an extensive literature, both in the classic and the modern Armenian language. The greater part of the Armenian population are shepherds and farmers, but many in the large cities have become prosperous merchants.

Lenton Sermons.

The following are the Lenton sermons at St. Mary's church: Feb. 19—Subject, "Mortification." Rev. F. J. Murphy; Feb. 26—Subject, "Mortal Sin." Rev. C. H. Mackel, Seton Hall College; Mar. 4—Subject, "Contrition," Rev. J. A. Stafford, Seton Hall College; Mar. 11—Subject, "Satisfaction." Rev. J. J. Synnott, D. D., Seton Hall College; Mar. 18—Subject, "The Justice of God." Rev. W. A. Brothers, St. John's church, Paterson, N. J.; Mar. 25—Subject, "The Mercy of God." Rev. D. J. Cerley, Church of the Holy Name, N. Y. City; April 1—Subject, "The Love of God." Rev. G. D. O'Neill, Seton Hall College.

The little daughter of Mrs Fred Webber, Holland, Mass, had a very bad cold and cough which he had not been able to cure with any thing. I gave him a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says W. P. Holden, merchant and postmaster at West Brimfield, and the next time I saw him he said it worked like a charm. This remedy is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases such as colds, croup and whooping cough, and it is famous for its cures. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

YOUNG MEN ENTERTAIN.

Monroe Avenue Chapel Young People Get Together and Enjoy Themselves.

The Young Men's Association of Monroe chapel is noted for its progressiveness and last night one of the members, Allen Taylor, turned his home on West Seventh street over to the association for the evening and the members of the Young Ladies' Association were pleasantly entertained. The evening passed rapidly in conversation, games and dancing, while a pleasant interruption came in the shape of refreshments served by the young men. About forty were present during the evening. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Pond, the Misses Nellie Taylor, Sarah Douglass, Hattie King, Kittie King, Lillian King, Charlotte Aldrich, Bertha Wenzel, Georgie Beekman, Mary Beekman, Charlotte Beekman, Caroline Frazee, Lydia Ackerman, Kittie Ackerman, Susan Pound, Anna Littell, Edith L. Burt, Amy Burt, Grace Phillips, Grace Palmer, E. Manning, Miss Saums, the Messrs Allen Taylor, J. Frank Richards, Webster Littell, Walter Arthur, Raymond A. McGee, Henry Apgar, Clarence Brouard, Samuel Beekman, William Beekman, Clifford Manning, Harry Pound, Blanchard E. Randolph, Walter Douglass and Fred Phillips.

The committed in charge consisted of Allen Taylor, Blanchard E. Randolph and Charles Randolph.

The evening was a most enjoyable one and all invited in thanking Mrs. Taylor for her kindness and hospitality.

A GLOBE TROTTER IN JAIL.

Plainfield Does Not Care For Such Celebrities.

City Judge DeMeza held court yesterday afternoon and dispensed justice to two culprits. The first was a traveller, the story of whose arrest was told in yesterday's Daily Press. He gave his name as John Mahon and his occupation as "globe trotter." The Judge thought that such characters should give Plainfield a wide berth and as a remembrance to keep away and behave himself, the stranger was given sixty days in jail.

An Italian, whose English was not of the best, appeared before the Judge charged by Patrolman McCue with stealing coal. The Judge looked surprised when the man gave his name, but Chief Grant translated the gibberish into Samuel Kitchen. He was given his choice between a fine of $5 and twenty days in jail. He paid the fine.

For Students.

The following books are in the Public Library concerning the Ottoman Empire and the Armenians in the University Extension lecture:

Bishop, Persia and Kirdustan.
Bryce, Trans-Caucasia and Ararat.
*Creasy, Ottoman Turks.
Dwight, Turkish Life in War-time.
Holland, European concert on the Eastern Question.
Lavely, Balkan Peninsula.
Malan, Summary of the Armenian Church and People. In St. Gregory, the Illuminator.
*Poole, People of Turkey, 2 v.
Poole, Story of Turkey.

Note—The student is also referred to the following reference books:

Appleton's annual encyclopaedia, various volumes.

Article on Armenia in Encylopaedia Brittanica.

Armenian massacres, since October, 1895, in Review of Reviews, February, 1896.

See also the various articles on Armenia referred to in Poole's index of periodical literature.

A City Missionary for Plainfield.

Some of the Christian workers of Plainfield contemplate securing the services of an experienced mission worker as city missionary in Plainfield during the summer months to work among the non-church goers. The amount required to support such a missionary has already been pledged.

Star Course Event Postponed.

The fifth entertainment in the Y. M. C. A. star course in which Miss Addie Parker Jackson and Conde's young men's orchestra take part, and which was to be given next Monday evening, has been postponed to Tuesday, March 3d.

Skating Again.

New Brooklyn pond is in fine condition for skating and was visited yesterday by a number of young men from this city. Hyde's pond has also greatly improved and a goodly number spent yesterday afternoon there.

Our people are growing more and more in the habit of looking to Reynolds' pharmacy for the latest and best of everything in the drug line. They sell Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds, croup and whooping cough. When in need of such a medicine give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result.

IS IT A GANG WORKING?

Looks as Though the Borough Was Afflicted With Sneak Thieves.

Another bold attempt at robbery was committed in the borough last evening about 7 o'clock, at the home of Assemblyman Charles A. Reed. The family were at dinner when a servant in the employ of Mrs. Roome was sent to the home of the former on an errand.

The burglars had placed a ladder at the side of the house, hoping to reach the upper part of the dwelling and secure whatever they could while the family were downstairs. The approach of the servant frightened them, while they were getting ready to make an entrance, and they escaped before she could get an opportunity of recognizing them.

Mr. Reed was informed at once of the attempted robbery, but it was too late to make a capture.

The police have no clue as to who the robbers are and it is not likely that they will be caught.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Mrs. Elizabeth Waldron Pleasantly Entertains a Party of Friends.

An enjoyable birthday party was held at the residence of Mrs. Elizabeth Waldron, of Greenbrook road, last evening. It was Mrs. Waldron's thirty-sixth birthday, and the party was arranged by a few of her friends The affair was a very pleasant one and will be remembered with much pleasure by all who attended. During the evening some excellent music was rendered by Oscar Vaughan on the harmonica and guiter; Herman Smith on the accordion; Will Murray on the violin, and George Perry on the violin.

It was not until long after midnight that the merry party thought of dispersing, having in the meantime partaken of a generous repast, which had been prepared by the young women.

Among those present were: The Misses Teansi McInnes, Reta McInnes, Lizzie Waldron, Minnie Pickett, Ida Perry, Faunie Overland, and Mrs. Annie Overland and Mrs. Waldron, and the Messrs. Herman Smith, Gustave Sezear, George Pickett, George Wilson, Al Springer, Oscar Vaughan, Will Murray and George Perry.

Westfield House Warming.

A house warming was given to E. C. Winters, at his new house on First street and New York avenue in Westfield, Monday. Music was by S. D Frazee. Those present included Miss May Miller, Miss Mary Michaels, Miss May Fogerty, Miss Mary Attridge, Miss Maggie Attridge, Miss Kattie McCormick, Miss M. A. McCormick, Miss Julia Kennedy, Miss Katie Kennedy, Miss Maggie Loughlin, Miss Nora Fogerty, Miss Nora Foley, Miss Belle Brennan, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fogerty, Wm. J. T. Burke, Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy, Mr. W. O. Littlefield, James Fogerty, George Michaels, Charles Foley, Thos. McDonnell, of Westfield, George Scheelane, Joseph Scheelane, Frank Long, Chas. Browne, of Plainfield, Gus Scheelane and Chas. Scheelane, of Fanwood.

Two Fresh Damsels.

Two young girls created quite a scene at the corner of Plainfield avenue and West Fourth street yesterday afternoon. A peddler, with a pack upon his back, was spied by one of them and they at once made him the object of their attention. They pulled on the pack till they nearly upset him. Then they punched and pummeled him in quite an artistic manner, all the while, making use of objectionable language. Finally the man broke away and succeeded in escaping from his tormentars.

Bought a Building for His Own Use.

Ernest Barrett, the Watchung avenue plumber, has purchased from John Ross, of East Sixth street, the latter's brick building on East Fifth street, near Watchung avenue, and will remodel the same. He will use the first floor for a plumbing shop, and the upper part will be turned into dwelling rooms where he will reside. The work will be started at once.

A New Borough Residence.

C. Frank French, the Somerset street grain dealer and wholesale grocer, has purchased the lot on Washington avenue adjoining the Park Club, where he has several men engaged in removing the large trees, preparatory to breaking ground for the erection of a three thousand dollar residence which he will occupy, when completed, about May 1st.

Quarantine Removed.

The quarantine has been removed from the house, 145 Duer street, where there has been a case of diphtheria for the past five weeks. The patient has fully recovered, and the house thoroughly fumigated by the borough health inspector.

MAKING APPOINTMENTS.

GOVERNOR GRIGGS SELECTS TWO UNION COUNTY MEN.

Robert S. Green, of Elizabeth, Made a Member of the State Board of Assessors—One of Mr. Reed's Bills Has Passed.

Gov. Griggs yesterday afternoon nominated Robert S. Green, of Elizabeth, a son of the late Gov. Green, and Stephen J. Meeker, of Newark, as members of the State Board of Assessors, says the Sun. Both are Democrats, the law providing for two assessors of each party. He also appointed Major Carl Lentz, of Newark, a member of the State Board of Taxation, and reappointed Charles C. Black and and Albert H. Slope. Major Lentz is Chairman of the Essex County Republican Committee, and he had been seeking the Chancery or Supreme Court clerkship in payment of services he rendered last fall. These were a little too rich for the Major, who gets a place worth $2,000 a year. Other appointments were: Edward S. Atwater, City District Court Judge for Elizabeth; H. Burdett Herr, Law Judge of Hunterdon, and Walter F. Hayhurst, Prosecutor of Hunterdon.

The legislative day was given up mainly to committee hearings, the important one being that accorded to lawyers interested in the reorganization of the Court of Errors and Appeals. Two score or more lawyers spoke, and agreed that what was wanted was a court separated from the influence of Judges who hear the cases originally. But they differed as to the methods by which the result was to be reached. Wm. H. Corbin made a proposition which startled some of the other lawyers. It was to abolish all courts except the Supreme Court That court he would divide into three sections, with law equity and appeals jurisdiction. Samuel H. Grey submitted a proposed amendment for a court of five Judges, to be appointed by the Governor, and who were to have no connection with any other court. Senator Williams has another proposition which would make the new court consist of the Chancellor and Chief Justice, a Vice-Chancellor and Associate Justice to be designated by them, and three new Judges to be appointed by the Governor. This makes four separate amendments on the subject now before the committee, and others are to be prepared. Another hearing will be given next week.

The Senate yesterday afternoon passed the following bills: Ceding to the National Government jurisdiction over the Hunson River palisades as a military park; giving municipalities power to adopt uniform ordinances governing bicycles; permitting the use of revised copy of fall registry lists at spring elections in cities of over 40,000 population.

Bills were introduced by Senator Voorhees, giving to the widow of an intestate all the personal property after debts are paid; by Stokes, increasing the annual appropriation for public schools from $200,000 to $300,000. The bill authorizing Newark to issue $300,000 in bonds for a new library was defeated.

The House passed bills requiring official envelopes used at elections to be of yellow paper, which was introduced by Assembyman Reed of of Somerset, and providing for the erection by the State of tombstones over the graves of soldiers and sailors who died previous to 1884. Bills were introduced by Mr. Allen requiring railroad companies to carry as baggage all bicycles, and be liable for damage to them the same as other personal property, and imposing a penalty of $50 on personal conviction of throwing into the road anything that will injure bicycle tires; by Mr. Wildes, providing for a reduction in salary of all public officers who get more than $1,000.

Eyesight is Priceless.

Good eyesight is priceless. Many people do not realize this, or seem to appreciate it until they are in imminent danger of losing this precious sense. Cheap and inferior glasses are positively injurious. Leech, Stiles & Co. make only the best. If you are in need of glasses call on their specialist, who will be in Plainfield at 107 East Front street, tomorrow, (Thursday), from 10 a. m. to 5 p.m.

Threw Away His Canes.

Mr. D. Wiley, ex-postmaster, Black Creek, N. Y., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that he was only able to hobble around with canes, and even then it caused him great pain. After using Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was so much improved that he threw away his canes. He says this liniment did him more good than all other medicines and treatment put together. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

IS A CALL A CAMP.

The Sons of Veterans Yearly Average is Ninety Per Cent.

An interesting meeting of John Hand Camp, No. 28, S. of V., was held in their rooms last evening. The report of Division Inspector Fremont Tietze was received, showing the Camp's yearly average to be ninety per cent, and is accordingly in Call A. The Inspector also complimented the Camp on its fine condition and military style of transacting business.

A committee of three on paraphernalia was appointed and is composed of Raymond McVoy, Fred Sutton and C. F. Stephens.

The Camp is now a member of the Funeral Benefit Association, having received its credentials at the meeting last evening.

The Division Encampment will convene in Trenton tomorrow, and this Camp will be represented by H. J. Martin and C. F. Stephens. They will be accompanied by Fred Sutton, H. C. McVoy, Willard V. Sutton, Raymond McVoy and James Stryker.

It was decided by the good and welfare committee to arrange for an informal entertainment and smoker for the next meeting.

HENDERSON CONVICTED.

Found Guilty of Manslaughter by the Jury After Ten Minutes Deliberation.

The trial of young Theophilus Henderson, which was begun in the Elizabeth Court on Monday, was unexpectedly closed yesterday, the defense putting in very little testimony. The jury, after ten minutess deliberation, returned with a verdict of manslaughter.

Henderson, who had struck and killed a farmer with a brick during a picnic quarrel last summer, was remanded to the jail to await sentence. The trial has been a sensational one throughout, owing to the hysterical grief of the several girl companions of the prisoner, who were called to testify unwillingly.

Took Steam for Fire.

A steam pipe burst in the residence of Mrs. George H. Babcock, of West Eighth street, this afternoon at 2:30, filling the parlors with steam An alarm was sent in from box 26. The fire department was on the scene in less than three minutes after the alarm, but were not needed.

Sentence of Mrs. Lane Postponed.

The Somerset County Court is in session today, and transacted little business. Sentence in the case of Mrs. Lane, colored, who attempted to shoot ex Senator Calvin N. Corle some time ago, was postponed till next Wednesday.

Canines at The Dog Show.

William Palmer Smith, of Netherwood, will exhibit two of his high bred dogs from Fridhem Kennels at the dog show next week in Madison Square Garden. They are "Brigand," No. 31,998, and "Earl Melac," No. 33,227.

Johnston May Be Tried Again.

Chancellor McGill yesterday favorably considered an application for a writ of error for Jacob Johnston, the minister who killed Annie Rogers at Somerville, and he has now a chance for a new trial.

Take it Away.

Since Sunday last, the body of a dog has been laying on Steiner place, much to the annoyance of the residents. The disgusting sight ought to be removed by the borough authorities.

Cars Jump the Track.

Two or three cars on a Jersey Central freight jumped the track near Finderne between 8 and 9 o'clock and delayed trains for some time. No serious damage was done.

—The Young Men's Association of Monroe avenue will hold an important business meeting on Friday evening, —An effort will be made at an early date to have either Queen City or Plainfield Lodge, I. O. O. F., change their meeting night so that the members can exchange fraternal greetings by visiting one another.

—The Junior Auxiliary and its Chapter of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, will meet in the parish house, Saturday afternoon, at a quarter past two o'clock. All the young girls are requested to be punctual.

—A horse driven by W. C. Smith's son was attacked with blind staggers on Central avenue, near Second street, at 5:30 o'clock last night, and fell to the ground. After some trouble the animal got on his feet again, with no other damage than a few broken parts of the harness.

—The friends of S. W. Reese, of Westfield, announce that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Freeholder. The Westfield Republicans are anxious to send a man to the county board in place of A. S. Clark, who is a Democrat, and will undoubtedly be renominated by his party.

PLANS FOR RELIEF

Clara Barton Presented at the Porte at Constantinople.

FURTHER ASSURANCE OF PROTECTION

The Many Obstacles in the Way of the Suggested Scheme for Colonizing the Suffering Armenians in Our Southern States.

Washington, Feb. 19.—A cable dispatch received at the state department last evening from Alex. W. Terrell, United States minister to Turkey, dated at Para, the European quarter of Constantinople, contained the intelligence that the efforts of Miss Clara Barton, president of American National Red Cross society, to obtain the permission of the Turkish government to distribute relief to the suffering Armenians, had been successful. The decision of the sublime porte not to allow relief measures to be extended by the Red Cross as an organization or by its officers as such, made it doubtful whether Miss Barton and her party would succeed in their object. It appears from Mr. Terrell's dispatch that Miss Barton had been presented by the minister at the porte and had received renewed assurances of full protection and aid for her agents in dispensing charity. Her assistants, says Mr. Terrell, go at once to the interior. Miss Barton's headquarters will be at Para. The dispatch ends with these words: "The door is thus opened wide for charity."

Southern Colonization Scheme Difficulties.

Baltimore, Feb. 19.—The Southern States Magazine recently addressed a letter to M. H. Gulesian, secretary of the United Friends of Armenia, asking if, in view of the conditions of the Armenians, of the high character of these people and their great success as farmers, it would not be possible to undertake some plan of relief by colonizing many thousands of them in such portions of the south as, in climate and productions, are very similar to Armenia. In reply, Mr. Gulesian says: "I sincerely wish it were possible, or could be made possible to bring large numbers of Armenian farmers for colonization purposes in the south. It would seem to our people like paradise; but as to the feasibility of the plan, I am afraid there are a great many obstacles. In the first place, it is almost certain that the Turk would not let them out. In the second place, the people of Armenia have not only been butchered, but the survivors have been stripped of everything, and the richest farmers of six months ago are to-day depending on charity. They have absolutely nothing left, not even the wherewithal to buy bread to keep them from starving, and thousands are to-day starving and perishing. I have letters before me from all the different parts of Armenia showing how complete the ruination of the people has been by the barbarous Turk. In the third place, if the privilege of coming to this country were granted, the roads are unsafe, as the Turks are blocking every channel, and they would be too dangerous to travel. The only way the Armenians could safely travel the road would be to have an escort of foreigners. Of course, all these things might be made possible by a sufficiently strong popular interest throughout the country, as the sympathy of the country is already greatly drawn towards Armenians. If enough money could be raised to send a ship to the Mediterranean and Black seas to receive those families that might come from the interior, if the way could only be made clear, I am sure a great many would come. Such a movement would surely draw the attention of the civilized world and might bring sufficient pressure on the sultan to induce him to help the people to leave the country."

Murad Bay Sentenced to Death.

London, Feb. 19.—A dispatch to the Central News from Constantinople says that the surrender of arms by the Armenians who for months held the city of Zeitoun against the Turks has been completed. The dispatch adds that Murad Bay, late imperial commissioner of the Ottoman debt, who fled for his life from Constantinople about the time "Little" Said Pasha sought refuge at the British embassy and who has sought refuge in Egypt, has been sentenced to death for issuing attacks on the sultan. Murad Bay, after issuing a pamphlet in Paris against the sultan, took up his residence in Cairo, there to direct the Arabic press campaign against the Ottoman ruler. The sultan recently demanded that the Egyptian government turn Murad Bay over to him for punishment. The government consulted with Lord Cromer, the British diplomatic agent at Cairo, and then refused to extradite a man who, the government said, was guilty of no crime against common law.

Davis Jury Not Yet Completed.

Elizabethtown, N. Y., Feb. 19.—The third day of the trial of William Howard Davis, alias "Pop" Davis, charged with the murder of George Tankark at Keesville, was resumed here this morning with only eight jurors in the box. The jury will probably be completed to-day.

Leitch To Be Retired.

Washington, Feb. 19.—The president has approved the findings of the naval examining board in the case of chief engineer Robert R. Leitch, United States navy, and he will be placed on the retired list.

Society of the War of 1812.

Philadelphia, Feb. 19.—The Society of the War of 1812 at its annual meeting yesterday afternoon elected John Cadwalader, president; Adam Stull, treasurer, and James Varnum Peter Tanner secretary.

POSTAL PATENT SUPPLIES.

The Right of Employes Who Perfect Inventions To Receive Royalties.

Washington, Feb. 19.—February 10th last the senate passed a resolution directing the postmaster-general to inform the senate if any employe of the postoffice department had received a patent for any invention since his employment by the government touching any article used by such department, and whether such employe had received a royalty on the same. The information just sent to the senate shows that on Jan. 31, 1893, a patent was issued to R. D. S. Tyler, then and now chief of the equipment division, for a metal label case-holder, a clip for mailbag and other straps. It is claimed by Tyler that Second Assistant Postmaster-General Whitfield suggested that he apply for a patent, which he at first declined to do, but afterwards did and secured the same at an expense of between $400 and $500. Mr. Tyler says that he was told the department would do what was right in remunerating him for the use of the patented device, but Postmaster-General Wilson says that Tyler has asked at different times to be permitted to receive a royalty, but so far it has not been accorded him. A committee appointed by the postmaster-general recommended that Tyler be reimbursed for the money actually expended in receiving the patent, but no action had been taken.

VIVISECTION IN SCHOOLS.

Joint Hearing on the Bill in New York Legislature Against the Practice.

Albany, Feb. 19.—The senate and assembly committees on public education gave a joint hearing last evening on a bill making vivisection and the exhibition of vivisected animals in the public schools a criminal offense. Theodore Whitaker of Saugerties spoke for the bill. Vivisection in the public schools perverted the morals of the young. "Jack the Ripper" is an example of the modern vivisectionist. Assemblyman Sanger said the committee ought to be shown that vivisection had been practiced in the presence of public school pupils before legistation was asked. Rev. Dr. George E. Hite of Albany said cases were known to have occurred in high schools and he promised that evidence of exhibitions of vivisection would be presented to the committee. Rev. Dr. Battershall of Albany spoke for the bill. He protested against degrading the minds of children by unnecessary experiments for the sake of superficial education which created morbid sensibilities.

THE MORTONS RECEIVE.

Last Social Entertainment of the Season at the Executive Mansion.

Albany, Feb. 19.—Gov. and Mrs. Morton gave their last public reception of the season at the executive mansion last night. A large number of invitations had been issued to people in Albany and the immediate vicinity who have called on Mrs. Morton. The affair was a social function entirely and was very delightful. Mrs. Morton was assisted in receiving by her daughter, Miss Lina Morton, and her guests, Mrs. Stewart of New York city and Mrs. Landon. Mrs. Morton was robed in white satin embroidered with pearls, and diamond ornaments. Miss Lina Morton's costume was pink satin trimmed with pink roses. Mrs. Landon's costume was mauve satin and Mrs. Stewart's white satin.

To Investigate Charges Against Tamsen.

Albany, Feb. 19.—Gov. Morton, in the matter of the charges preferred against Sheriff Tamsen of New York, has appointed the Hon. Wm. H. Robertson of Katonah commissioner to take testimony and report to him the material facts which may be established by the evidence. He has also directed the attorney general to conduct the prosecution of the charges.

Civil Service Examinations.

Albany, Feb. 19.—Open competitive civil service examinations for the positions of deputy factory inspector, bakery inspector and mine inspector will be held as follows: At Syracuse on March 3 at 10 a. m.; at New York city on March 5 at 10 a. m.

Reed Endorsed for President.

Lowell, Mass., Feb. 19.—The Billerica republican caucus adopted resolutions endorsing Thomas B. Reed for the presidency.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Wheat—Spot market is quiet, prices weak. February, 70¼c.; March, 73¼c.; May, 71¼c.

Corn—Spot dull; values uncertain. February, 36⅝c.; May, 36½c.

Oats—Spot demand poor; steady. February, 25½c.; March, 25½c.; May, 25¾c.

Pork—Spot steady; trade moderate. Extra prime nominal, short clear, $11.50@$12.50; family, $10.75@$11.00; mess, $11.00@$11.25.

Lard—Contracts are dull and flat. May, $5.90.

THE ILLITERACY TEST

Senate Committee's Plan To Restrict Immigration.

WILL HEAD OFF ALL THE SCUM

The Committee Sanguine That It Would Prove a Solid Safeguard Against Undesirable Foreigners Landing on Our Shores.

Washington, Feb. 19.—The senate committee on immigration has reported a bill providing for the illiteracy test. In the report accompanying the bill, the committee states that there is a general and earnest desire to restrict immigration. The committee believes that the country is not yet ready for a capitation tax on immigrants, and it is convinced that the consular classification plan is impracticable. The committee therefore recommends it as the best proposition yet advanced. The committee presents a mass of statistics which shows that the illiteracy test will affect almost entirely those races whose immigration to this country has begun in very recent times and which are most alien in language and origin to the people who founded the thirteen colonies and have built up the United States; that it will tell most heavily on those classes which now furnish the paupers, diseased and criminals excluded by existing laws, and is therefore a continuance of the present policy of the United States; that the immigrants who would be excluded by the illiteracy test do not go into the western and southern state, where immigration is needed, and become an agricultural population, but remain almost entirely in the Atlantic states and the great centres of population, where the labor market is overcrowded; that the proposed measure would exclude a larger number of undesirable immigrants and a smaller number of desirable immigrants, so far as statistics can be relied on, than any restriction which could be devised.

MINING ENGINEERS.

Delegates to the Convention at Pittsburg on a Tour of Inspection To-day.

Pittsburg, Feb. 19.—The annual meeting of the American Institute of Mining Engineers convened in Pittsburg last evening. President Joseph D. Weeks delivered the annual address, in which he considered at length the claim that the late William Kelley was the inventor of the Bessemer steel process. The engineers will visit Homestead, Duquesne and East Pittsburg to-day to see the Carnegie and Westinghouse works. Papers will be read this evening and at the Thursday sessions. The annual banquet of the institute will be held Thursday evening.

KOREAN MINISTER PRESENTED.

An Interesting Ceremony at the White House This Morning.

Washington, Feb. 19.—An interesting ceremony took place at the White House at 11 o'clock this morning when the new minister from Korea to the United States was formally presented to President Cleveland and was officially recognized in his diplomatic capacity. Secretary Olney made the presentation. The minister was accompanied by members of his suite, and the quaint gowns and unique hats of the Koreans gave the proceeding an oriental air.

THE DEFAULTED BONDS.

Secretary Carlisle May Announce the Award To-day.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Secretary Carlisle will probably announce to-day his decision as to whether he will award the defaulted bonds to J. P. Morgan. Several defaulting bidders are reported to have been found in St. Louis and Chicago, but there are other sub-treasuries where reports are not yet in and until all are heard from no decision will be announced.

Vaughn Guilty of Manslaughter.

Albany, Feb. 19.—James Vaughn of Cohoes, who on the night of Dec. 21 last fatally shot his brother-in-law, William Watson, in the latter's saloon, was found guilty of manslaughter in the second degree, the jury being out four hours. Vaughn will be sentenced to-morrow morning.

Joint Caucus of Republicans.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Notice has been given that a joint caucus of republicans of the house and senate will be held in the hall of the house to-morrow evening. It is understood that the caucus is called for the purpose of selecting a congressional campaign committee.

Chess Tournament.

New York, Feb. 19.—Lasker, Steinitz, Tschigorin, Tarrasch and Pillsbury have entered the international chess tournament to be played under the auspices of the German Chess association at Nuremberg in July.

The Finest Cake

In the World is made with

Horsford's Baking Powder.

Use one-third less quantity than other powders require and the Cake will be remarkably light, of fine texture, and will retain its fresh condition longer than when any other powder is used.

TWO

NEW YORK NEWSPAPERS

PAY A

CLEAR PROFIT

OF OVER

A MILLION DOLLARS

A YEAR EACH.

For the purpose of increasing the circulation of the New York Daily and Sunday Mercury, established 58 years ago, the Mercury Printing Co. offers the best inducement in the world to small investors.

Alert investors now have an opportunity to secure some of the stock of this great enterprise. They can buy New York Mercury stock at the very low price of $10 per share. The Mercury Printing Company is incorporated under the laws of the State of New York. The capital is $500,000, divided into 50,000 shares of $10 each, full paid and non-assessable. Stockholders have no individual liability whatever. This stock is a safe, solid and highly profitable security that is certain to pay large dividends and rapidly increase in value. It gives the small investor an equal chance with the capitalist, as a person with a small sum to invest can buy from one share upward at the same price a capitalist buys thousands of shares. When one considers the very high prices that stock in other New York newspapers commands, it is apparent that this present opportunity to buy New York Mercury stock at $10 is one of those chances that occur only once in a lifetime, for at the present rate of increase shown in the past six months in the circulation and in the advertising, the stock is absolutely sure to pay enormous dividends and rapidly rise in value.

The advertising receipts of the Mercury have doubled since Aug. 1, 1895, and the circulation has increased at the rate of 150 per cent. since April 1, 1895, or the Daily, Weekly and Sunday editions and is continuing to increase at the same rate.

We will send one copy of the Daily and Sunday Mercury free to every shareholder as long as the stock is held by him or his assigns. For example, if a subscriber purchases ten shares of stock he will be entitled to ten copies of the Daily and Sunday Mercury free to his own or any other address as long as he continues to be a stockholder of the corporation. These copies of the paper may be disposed of by subscribers to the capital stock in any way desired by them.

There will be only a limited amount of this stock disposed of in this way. Those who are lucky enough to obtain these shares will find that in a very short time they will be worth 300 per cent. premium.

For further particulars address the SUPERINTENDENT OF CIRCULATION, NEW YORK MERCURY, 2 Park Row, New York.

As an advertising medium the New York Mercury is unexcelled.

L. MANNING, Marble AND Granite Works,

corner Central avenue and West Front street, opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

Telephone 29b. Established 1868.

ADDIS & SON,

Plumbing and Hot Water Heating.

Have your plumbing system tested with the smoke process under pressure, preparatory to the sewerage system.

Opposite Roberts's Livery. 139 North ave.

W.L. & J. M. Smalley.

—DEALERS IN—

HIGH GRADE

Meats,

& Meat Specialties

Beef, Lamb, Mutton, Veal and Pork Poultry and Game in season.

94 Somerset st., Plainfield N. J.

Telephone Call 42-B.

NOTICE.

Special Reductions

—AT—

Neuman Bros.

on fancy brands goods. Full quart bottles table oil 60c, finest quality; whole canned ox tongue 45c; lunch tongue, whole, 25c; a special reduction given on Curtis' strawberry and assorted jams, 10c; fresh roasted coffees received every week, quality unexcelled.

NEUMAN BROS.

What! $30.00?

Yes, thirty dollars will buy a piano, in first-class condition, at

W. R. BROKAW'S

Piano Parlors, 311 Madison ave.

Tuning and regulating a specialty

Advertised Letters.

Plainfield, February 10, 1896.

Adams J H	Leonard A W
Barton A J	Neugem Agnes Miss
Coddington B	McMann Thos
Duchene E Miss	Moore Elmer
Feil A F S	McEvoy Kate J 3
Fisk Clinton B	McKeef Lara Mrs
Hostner Jno	Palmberg Elen Miss 2
Johnson Charlie	Perine Chas
Johnson Hilder Miss	Prentiss S S
Kline Mellie Miss	Storme G W
King T P 2	Sneiker Dare

Holiday Millinery Goods.

MRS. L. ADAMS,

114 EAST FRONT STREET,

Opp. First National Bank.

Dressmaking and Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns.

S. D. FRAZEE,

DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF

FRESH FISH.

Fresh every day. Terms cash. Goods delivered.

230 Park ave., 000. North ave

Musicfurnished for all occasions.

California IN

THREE DAYS

without change of cars. All meals served in dining cars. Palace drawing-room sleeping cars and tourist sleepers are run through to San Francisco and Los Angeles without change, leaving Chicago daily via

THE NORTH-WESTERN LINE

Through Tourist sleeping cars Chicago to California daily and personally conducted excursions every Thursday. Variable route tourist tickets at

VERY LOW RATES.

Detailed information and descriptive pamphlets will be mailed free on application to W. B. Kniskern, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago. Agents of connecting lines sell tickets via the

Chicago & North Western Railway,

or address: H. A. Gross, G. E. P. A., 423 Broadway, New York, or T. P. Vaille, S. E. P. A., 112 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

FOR GIFTS and LIGHT buy "MILLER" LAMPS

Elegant designs (a thousand styles), Beautiful finishes, and the best lamp made—up-to-date in every respect. Call and see it, also our Fine Brass and Onyx Tables. Buy only "Miller" lamps from dealers. We have been manufacturers since 1844.—made "The Rochester" Lamp.

EDWARD MILLER & CO., 28 & 30 WEST BROADWAY, (66 Park Pl.) bet. Park Pl. & Barclay St., N. Y.

Convenient to all "down-town" Ferries, and Elevated Stations at Park Place and Barclay St.

For Cool Weather buy a "MILLER" OIL HEATER.

FOR SALE BY W. L GAVETT & CO.

Freshest Oysters

will be found at

Rogers' Sea-Food Market.

THE HALLET & DAVIS PIANOS

Have stood the test of over fifty-five (55) years

and are not surpassed by any in the world. Prices, $300 and upwards. Our special 3-year payment plan makes purchase easy. We have other makes of new pianos at $200. Good squares at $75, and we give a full 5-year warranty with everything we sell. Old instruments taken in exchange. Send for illustrated catalogue giving full information.

The Tway Piano Co.,

88 FIFTH AVE.,

near 14th st., New York.

"Tway's Musical Guest," containing 8 pages of music, interesting reading matter and theatrical news, mailed free on application. 10 3 6m

COAL

F. W. HAND,

132 North avenue.
929 South avenue.
197 North avenue.
Telephone No. 139

"Ever Ready" PREPARED

Buckwheat Flour.

Home-made and sold on its merits. Sold by all grocers and made by

FRENCH BROTHERS,

City Mills. 24 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.

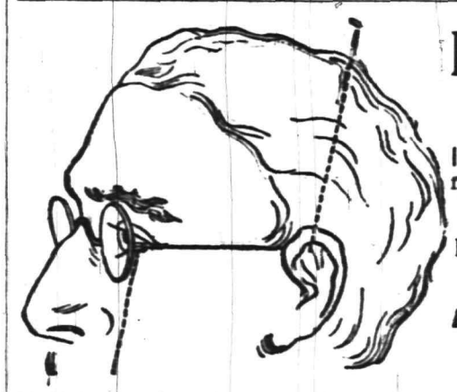
DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 WATCHUNG AVE.,

—DEALERS IN—

Lumber, Coal Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement for Walls and Ceilings.



Leech, Stiles & Co.,

EYE SPECIALISTS,

1413 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa.,

formerly with Queen & Co. H. A. Stiles will be at

107 East Front Street,

Dunham's real estate office,

EVERY THURSDAY

from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Skilful attention given to all cases of eye strain, headache, etc. No charge for examination. All glasses guaranteed.

Bargains in Real Estate

For sale or to let.

MONEY to loan on first mortgage.

E. C. Mulford,

No. 169 North avenue.
Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.
BROKER.

Communications pertaining to the business mentioned either by letter or otherwise, will receive prompt attention. Carriage service supplied.

THE
Bee Hive

Men's Unlaundered Shirts.

Lot 1—The Cast Iron Shirt, made of good heavy muslin, good 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, patent facings, 38c.
Lot 2—New York mills muslin, 3-ply, fine linen bosoms, reinforced front and back, patent facing, 48c.
Lot 3—Our New York mills shirt, made of New York mills muslin, 2 and 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, continuous facings and hand-made button holes, equal to the best custom-made shirt, 69c.
Boys' unlaundered shirts 38 cts. Laundered shirts 50c, 75c and $1.

Louis Callman,
222 West Front st.

CLEANER COAL.
L. A. Rheaume
Agent,
Watchung Ave., Corner 4th St.,

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

Upper Lehigh and Honeybrook Coal
in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

Rough and Dressed Lumber.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for turning and scroll sawing, and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner and at short notice.

H. Eggerding,
121 Park ave.,
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars

CODDINGTON'S
Furniture and Freight
EXPRESS.
Offices 24 West Front st; 33 Park ave. Post-office box 329. Piano moving a specialty. Large covered trucks; goods sent to any part of the country; charges reasonable; satisfaction guaranteed

PLAINFIELD SEMINARY
re-opened
SEPTEMBER 19, 1895.
(28th year.) Miss E. E. Kenyon, Principal.

Finest Assortment
of Lace, Celluloid and Card
Valentines
in the city.
HARPER'S,
411 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.

W. N. Pangborn,
LICENSED AUCTIONEER.
Residence, 33 Linden Ave.
Personal attention. Prompt service.
1 14 tf

GREAT SACRIFICE SALE.
The remainder of Fur Capes, Jackets and Boas from H. Kohn, 318 West Front street, will be sold at Karet's Fur Parlor,
49 Craig Place. All fur repairing done.

William Hand & Son.
STAGES
For Picnics and Parties, 518 Park ave.

GEO J. TOBIN,
187 North Avenue.
Practical Plumber.
Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer.
Telephone Call 158a

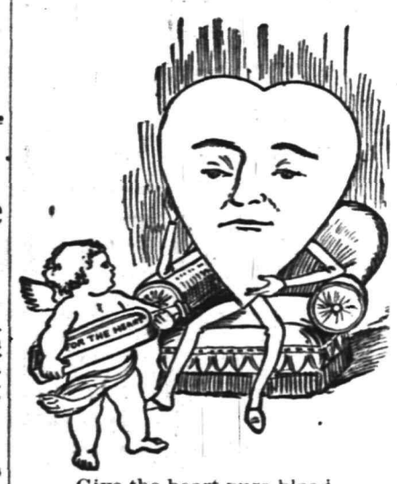
TOWNSEND'S
Marble and Granite Works,
SOMERSET STREET.
Our motto—Good work, good material at fair prices.

THE GRANDVIEW
Meat Market.
George Egel, Manager.
Dealer in Fresh and Salted Meats. Game in season. Orders called for and delivered promptly. Cor. Grandview ave. and Somerset street.
6 12 tf

Special Sale
—OF—
Muslins
SATURDAY ONLY.

Fruit of Loom, Hill Lonsdale and other standard brands, 10 yards 65c.
The best brands unbleached muslins at 6 cents per yard.
Good quality in bleached and unbleached at 5 cents per yard.
The standard brands of white sheetings at lower prices than quoted elsewhere.

LEDERER'S.



Give the heart pure blood.
Randolph's
Sarsaparilla,
A great blood cleanser.
Only 50c Per Bottle.
L. W. RANDOLPH,
Prescription Druggist,
143 West Front st.

PIANOS.
You can buy the best in the market at Factory Prices, at
J. C. DYER'S, 218 WEST FRONT ST.

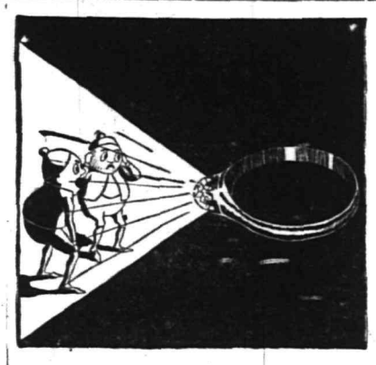
New Fish Market,
125 Park Ave.
E. P. THORN
solicits a share of the public patronage. First quality
Fish, Oysters, Clams, &c
TERMS CASH. 11 7 tf

See Our Name,
Take Our Number,
Call and See Our Goods.
Woolston & Buckle,
141 and 145 North ave.

Eagle Meat Market,
35 Somerset Street.
Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Orders called for and delivered free of charge.
C. ARNOLD, Prop.

Miss Fawcett's School
And Kindergarten,
25 WASHINGTON AVENUE.
North Plainfield, N. J.
Re-opened Thursday, Sept. 12.
Primary, Intermediate and Academic Dept's. Boys received until 10 years of age.

FISCHER PIANOS.
56 YEARS ESTABLISHED.
GRAND AND UPRIGHT.
Nearly 100,000 Manufactured.
EASY TERMS. EXCHANGED.
REASONABLE PRICES.
FISCHER PIANO WAREROOMS,
110 Fifth Ave., cor. 16th St., N. Y.
Write for Catalogue.



A BRILLIANT SIGHT.
is afforded everyone who looks through our stock of diamonds and other precious stones—and their setting is only second to them in beauty. You can't think of anything in the jewelry line you can't get here. If you can, let us know and we'll get it at short notice.
COLLIER, 103 Park Avenue.
Established 1869.

GEO. O. STEVENS
COAL
747 WEST FRONT ST.
Branch office with
G. A. HALLOCK,
109 West Front st.

Carpenters and Builders.
JOHN P. EMMONS,
Mason and Builder,
Washington avenue and Prospect place,
North Plainfield, N. J.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

PEARSON & GAYLE,
Carpenters and Builders.
Residence—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine st. H. E. Gayle, No. 18 Vine st.
All work promptly attended to.

GEO. W. STUDER,
Carpenter and Builder.
985 Arlington avenue.
Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given, charges reasonable.

C. W. LINES.
Mason and Builder,
Plainfield, N. J.
Residence, 18 Elm place.
Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to

F. A. DUNHAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor
109 Park ave. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas. Telephone 87—F.

HOTEL
Grenada,
NORTH AVENUE.
Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.

CITY HOTEL.
Plainfield, N. J.
Corner Park avenue and Second street.
J. E. Beerbower, Prop
Stables attached

J. W. VanSickle, Dealer in all kinds of
FRESH AND SALTED MEATS.
Game in season. No. 122 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Telephone 148b. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

L. A. HUMMER'S
VARIETY MARKET.
Meats, fruits, vegetables, poultry, eggs, etc. Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge.
20 Park avenue. Telephone call 29-A

No Place Like Home

on Christmas day. No day like Christmas at home. Christmas will be merrier the more home like the home. Our great holiday sale of wall paper should attract all whose houses need papering.
Marsh, Ayers & Co.

FRIENDLY SOLUTION

The Venezuelan Trouble Probably Nearing the End.

TALK OF A JOINT COMMISSION

Certain Movements Among British Officials Strengthen the Belief That Negotiations to That End Are Now Under Way.

Washington, Feb. 19.—That negotiations are under way for the appointment of a joint British and American commission to settle the Venezuelan boundary dispute is now the general belief in public circles here, but among officials who know just what is going on in the matter nothing, of course, can be gleaned. Ambassador Bayard's audience with Lord Salisbury at the foreign office in London the other evening is thought possibly to have been connected with the matter in dispute, and the action of the government leaders in the house of commons in appealing so urgently to have the Atherley-Jones motion withdrawn and discussion of the whole matter dropped, intimating at the time that an adverse vote might upset negotiations now under way, clearly indicates that something looking to a settlement of the dispute is being advanced. That the British government is anxious to get out of the difficulty without disrupting the feeling of friendship in the United States and at the same time avoiding humiliation on her own part is now generally accepted. A joint commission would undoubtedly be satisfactory to this country, as it would mean almost an arbitration board.

Board of Conciliation.

London, Feb. 19.—The Daily News to-day says that the negotiations now in progress between the United States and Great Britain will result, according to the expectation of the best informed circles, in a satisfactory settlement of the Venezuelan boundary dispute. The paper gives the lines on which the negotiations are proceeding. They are virtually identical with the suggestions made by G. W. Smalley, the American correspondent of the Times, for the appointment of a joint commission. The News adds that the commission will serve rather as a board of conciliation than as an arbitration board. It is understood that before agreeing to the scheme which as a last resort would involve arbitration, Lord Salisbury would require an agreement regarding the settled districts.

Not Yet in Definite Shape.

London, Feb. 19.—The Central News says that the appointment of a joint British and American commission to settle the Venezuelan boundary dispute was suggested diplomatically a week ago. The matter has not yet assumed definite shape.

TO PROTECT FUR SEALS.

Prof. Elliott and Secretary Hamlin Before the House Committee.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Assistant Secretary Hamlin and Prof. Elliott, the fur seal expert, formerly of the Smithsonian institute, appeared before the ways and means committee yesterday in behalf of the measure for the protection of fur seal life known as the Dingley bill. This bill provides for a commission to visit the Pribyloff islands and also authorizes the governments interested, Great Britain, Japan, Russia and the United States, to patrol the seal islands, awaiting more substantial agreements. Prof. Elliott told the committee that if this congress failed to act in the matter there would be no seals left in two years to quarrel about. Assistant Secretary Hamlin recommended that the committee confer with the state department in preparing the necessary legislation.

TRIAL MAY END TO-DAY.

Believed That Mrs. Haun Will Be Convicted of Murder in the Second Degree.

Fonda, N. Y., Feb. 19.—All the testimony in the trial of Mrs. Florence Haun, charged with the murder of Charles Landry in Amsterdam on Nov. 6 last, being in the lawyers on both sides will make their closing arguments to-day. The plea of the defendant has been self defense, and the impression prevails among those who have heard the testimony that she will be convicted of murder in the second degree.

Experiments with Roentgen Rays.

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 19.—The latest success obtained by professors McLennan, Wright and Keele at the University of Toronto in experimenting with Roentgen rays was the taking yesterday of a shadowgraph of a coin through a piece of black covered paper by a single flash of rays. The paper was of the kind that any one sheet would totally exclude the sunlight. The experiment demonstrates the possibility of obtaining instantaneous pictures by the new process.

Sale of Food on Sunday.

Albany, Feb. 19.—The assembly committee on codes will report favorably the bill of Assemblyman Malone allowing the sale of food upon Sundays before 10 a. m. The bill has been amended so as to permit the sale of fuel by the pail or sack and also the sale of flowers.

Sexton Retires from Parliament.

London, Feb. 19.—Thomas Sexton, member of parliament for North Kerry, whom the anti-Parnellites vainly sought to accept the leadership of that party, has retired from parliament.

The Raines Excise Bill.

Albany, Feb. 19.—Senator Raines' liquor tax bill will be submitted to the entire committee to-day, and it is expected that it can be reported to the senate to-morrow.

PHILADELPHIA ELECTION.

It Passed Off Quietly with the Usual Republican Sweep.

Philadelphia, Feb. 19.—The municipal election here yesterday passed off quietly and the republicans made their usual sweep of the candidates for county offices. The officers voted for were city solicitor and two police magistrates. There was no fight on the police magistrates, as under the law both the republicans and democrats are each entitled to one, and Edward A. Devlin and Maurice F. Wilhere were respectively re-elected on the republican and democratic tickets. John L. Kinsey, the present city solicitor, was re-elected over Arthur Riddle, the democratic candidate, by a majority of probably 60,000. The democratic vote was light, but the republican vote was heavy for an "off" year. The Quayites did not make a fight in every ward in the city against the regular candidates of the party, but only in certain wards. In some instances in these wards the Quayites and democrats united on the same candidate and in others the "combiners" and the democrats were arrayed against the Quayites. Again in other of the wards three straight tickets were nominated. Charges of wholesale fraud in some of the wards were freely made.

The Result at Harrisburg.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 19.—John D. Patterson, republican, has been elected mayor by a majority of at least 1,500 over Walter, democrat, and Ellenberger, citizens reform. The entire republican ticket is elected with the possible exception of C. C. Schriver for controller. Republican majorities in both branches of councils are increased. The democrats have held the mayor's office nine years.

Democrats Sweep Johnstown.

Johnstown, Pa., Feb. 19.—The democrats swept the city yesterday, electing Wagoner for mayor by a majority of 589. The rest of the ticket was elected by slightly smaller majorities.

Democrats Lose Easton.

Easton, Pa., Feb. 19.—An unusually large vote was polled here. The entire city republican ticket was elected by a majority of 500. Three years ago the democratic majority for mayor was 46.

NIAGARA'S ICE BRIDGE.

A Most Remarkable Incident in the History of the Falls.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Feb. 19.—A remarkable incident in the history of the falls, made possible by the present "dry" condition, is reported. Under the guidance of John Barlow, the Cave-of-the-Winds guide, a party of thirty gentlemen, including Superintendent Welsh of the state reservation, Hon. A. P. Porter and several newspaper men, yesterday made an exploration of the Cave-of-the-Winds, which could be reached by reason of the remarkable ice formation, though the bridges and stairways heretofore always necessary had been crushed to pieces. The cave, as they found it, presented a remarkable appearance. In some places the ice formed on the rocks towered from sixty to eighty feeet above the heads of the spectators. Instead of the immense volume of water ordinarily coming over there was scarcely more than a mist. Following this the entire party, starting from this spot which is within the circle of the Horse Shoe falls, walked east on the ice bridge to the Incline railway directly before the American falls and within full sweep of it, following almost the line of the course taken by the Maid of the Mist steamer in the navigable season. This is the first time in the history of the falls that the bridge has been known to extend so far east, and no one in the memory of living man has travelled over the route taken yesterday.

A RUSSIAN PRINCESS NOW.

Amelie Rives Chanler Married to Prince Troubelskey.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 19.—At Castle Hill, Albermarle county, the home of the bride, Mrs. Amelie Rives Chanler, the authoress, was at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon married to Prince Troubelskey, a Russian prince. The affair was very quiet, and great efforts were made to keep the time of the event from the public. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Paul Menzel, D. D., of this city, a German Lutheran minister. Only the immediate family of the bride and the white and colored tenants of Col. Rives witnessed the ceremony.

AN INFORMER REWARDED.

Paid $1,000 by Uncle Sam for the Conviction of an Alien Labor Importer.

Washington, Feb. 19.—The treasury department has just paid an informer $1,000 as his one-third share of the fine imposed on a Rhode Island manufacturer who imported twenty-eight men under contract to work in his factory.

Murphy Arraigned for Embezzlement.

Salem, Mass., Feb. 19.—Clarence Murphy was brought into court late yesterday afternoon and pleaded not guilty to embezzlement from the Salem Savings bank on 129 counts, and one count for larceny. His bail was fixed at $20,000. He appeared perfectly cool, smilingly recognizing Marshal Hart as he entered.

Another Theatre for Nixon & Zimmerman

Philadelphia, Feb. 19.—Messrs. Nixon & Zimmerman have closed a contract with John W. Albaugh, proprietor of the new Lafayette square opera house, Washington, by which that magnificent theatre passes under their management.

Minister's Residence Burned.

Mount Vernon, N. Y., Feb. 19.—Fire yesterday afternoon badly damaged the residence of the Rev. Samuel T. Graham, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, this city.

MINERS' AWFUL FATE

Fifty Entombed by an Explosion in a Colorado Colliery.

ALL PROBABLY DIED TOGETHER

Names of Thirty-eight of the Unfortunate Men Known—With the Exception of a Few Bosses, the Victims All Italians.

Newcastle, Col., Feb. 19.—The names of thirty-eight of the miners who lost their lives by the explosion at noon yesterday in the Vulcan coal mine just below this town, are now known and as near as can be estimated this morning the list will be swelled to fifty. The names of all of the men were only known to the pit boss, James Harrison, whose body lies with his dead comrades in the bottom of the ill-fated mine and can only be ascertained by the recovery of the bodies. With the exception of a few bosses the men killed were mostly Italians.

Shook the Entire Neighborhood.

The town of New Castle was shaken as if by an earthquake by the explosion and a dense black cloud obscured the site of the Vulcan mine workings, indicating only too plainly what had occurred. The entire population rushed to the scene to behold the surface workmen in the midst of a thick cloud of dust, trying in vain to start the work of rescuing their unfortunate fellow laborers within. The earth had settled perceptibly near the hillside, and the dense volume of black smoke issuing from crevices in the upheaved mass gave evidence that the coal vein had surely been set afire by the explosion. Women and children rushed shrieking and screaming to the scene, adding to the confusion.

Fully Fifty Victims.

Rescuers soon arrived on the scene, but it was quickly seen that little could be done. One leader with several men had torn away the broken timbering at the landing and had rushed into the slope soon after the explosion had occurred with wet sponges on their nostrils, only to be driven back again by the deadly fumes. The force of the explosion may be imagined when it is known that the buildings and trestle at the mouth of the slope were completely wrecked, a hole 100 feet square carved out of the hillside at the mouth of the incline, while timbers two feet square were blown into the Grand river, 400 feet away. There were 140 men employed in and about the mine and fully fifty were at work under ground when the explosion occurred.

HUDSON RIVER BRICKMAKERS.

A Meeting To Consider the Question of Organizing an Association.

Newburgh, N. Y., Feb. 19.—Fifty of the 140 brickmakers along the Hudson river met here yesterday afternoon to consider the question of organizing an association. The committee appointed two weeks ago to consider the matter reported, recommended the formation of an organization to be named the Consolidated Brick company and its object is to manufacture, sell, purchase and transport bricks, the capital stock to be $25,000 in common stock of 1,000 shares at $25 each, the company to have a duration of fifty years, with their principal office in New York. The report also recommends that the company, if organized, have seven directors. The yards are to be allowed one share of stock for every million of brick produced. The committee said that this was a mere outline of what they believed should be done. This plan is, however, without authority from the other manufacturers but constitute what would be the legal requirements in such action as is proposed. The meeting then adjourned for one week, when the same committee, which was continued, will have all the necessary legal papers, by-laws, etc., prepared for final action to complete the new organization.

THE TROY DISASTER.

Search in the Ruins of the Collar Factory Begun.

Troy, N. Y., Feb. 19.—The constant streams of water which have been poured into the ruins of the Stetheimer collar factory since Monday night has cooled the debris sufficient to allow the search for the missing to begin. Besides the three dead already reported, Miss Amelia Brock and Mrs. Morton are missing and are almost certainly dead in the ruins, and it is feared that there are other bodies in the ruins.

Stay of Execution for Murderer Johnson.

Trenton, Feb. 19.—Chancellor McGill has granted a writ of error carrying to the supreme court the case of Jacob S. Johnson of Somerville, found guilty of the murder of Annie Rogers by the Somerset county court. One of the chief grounds of the application was that the court of oyer and terminer was abolished by the Voorhees elective judiciary law. The writ acts as a stay of execution until the supreme court and court of oyer and appeals have passed on the points carried up. Johnson is under sentence to be executed March 11.

For Mayor of Burlington, Vt.

Burlington, Vt., Feb. 19.—The democrats in caucus last night nominated Hon. Senaca Hazleton, ex-minister to Venezuela, for mayor. Mr. Hazleton has served as mayor for three years and is very popular. This means a very spirited campaign.

Washington's Birthday in London.

London, Feb. 19.—A reception under the auspices of the American society in London will be given at the Grosvenor gallery on Washington's birthday. The members of the American embassy and consulate will attend.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

Published Daily, except Sunday, at 3:30 p. m.

106 North avenue. Telephone Call 61.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., FEB. 19, 1896

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Snow Tonight; Thursday, Clearing and Decidedly Colder; Probably With Cold Wave.

At 2 o'Clock Leggett's Thermometer Registered 40 Degrees.

COMING EVENTS.

Announcements of all meetings, etc., will be made in this column, free of charge, if copy is furnished by 10 a. m.

February 20—Annual supper of the ladies of of Monroe Avenue Chapel.
February 21—Second lecture in Mrs. D. P. Hall's series at the Seminary by Prof. W. Hudson Shaw.
February 21—Martha Washington tea at First Presbyterian church.
February 21—Sociable at Grace M. E. church.
February 21—"Westerner" at Music Hall.

The Daily Press will not be published on Washington's birthday.

The cider-joints are doomed. The ordinance prohibiting them from conducting inebriating incubators has received the signature of Mayor Gilbert.

Assemblyman Reed's yellow colored ballot envelope bill was passed by the Assembly yesterday. The genial Charles knows how to get them through.

Here is an opportunity for some literary cuss. Coin a word to designate the cathode ray and your fame will be made. No one has yet originated a desirable word to apply to the science of the new process of photography.

Senator Voorhees proposes an amendment to the Naturalization Law, abolishing the thirty-day limit to special or local elections. It is held that the present law is unnecessarily harsh, and disfranchises many people.

The Muhlenberg Hospital needs all the financial aid it can get, and the decision of the Prerogative Court which gives it a $10,000 bequest from the late Henry F. Stites comes at an opportune time. There is no public institution in Plainfield that deserves more than the Muhlenberg Hospital.

Assemblyman Reed, of Somerset, is classed among the quiet members of the House, but this afternoon he made a remarkably strong speech before the Railroads and Canals Committee in favor of his bill to make trolley companies pay for the right of way. He was logical, sarcastic and humorous, and he poured out Latin and Shakesperian quotations until the committee was speechless. "Repeat that speech on the floor of the House and the bill will pass," a listener said to him.—Tribune.

The outlook in regard to constitutional changes is a good deal improved, says a letter from Trenton. The persons foremost in pressing the anti gambling amendment take a perfectly reasonable view of the subject now, and concede the inadvisability of submitting it this year if doing so will postpone all judiciary reform for five years. If, therefore, the judiciary amendments are changed for submission to the next Legislature, the other amendments will probably go over with them.

THEATRICAL.

"The Westerner," fresh from the rolling prairie and as broad and liberal in the treatment of his fellowman, will make his bow to the theatregoers of Plainfield next Saturday night at the Stillman Music Hall. Many people will expect pyrotechnical dramatics, judging from the flamboyant title which seems suggestive of red shirts and pistols, but they will be agreeably disappointed as the scenes are laid in and around New York, resembling more "The Henrietta" than anything else. It savors of the genuine wit of the baseball field, the racetrack and fin de sicle Broadway. The serious scenes are said to be pleasing, not too long and touch some of the most tender chords of the human heart. The company that will present the play is said to be a very strong and dramatically capable one and is headed by that sterling young romantic actor, A. H. De Lisser. The effects are strong and the staging will be superbly done.

—Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M., met last evening.

—Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., held a meeting Monday evening.

—The Grace P. E. church choir will sing at Mrs. Curtis' funeral tomorrow.

—Paugh Caugh Naugh Sinque Tribe, No. 193, I. O. R. M., will meet this evening.

—A special meeting of the Rathbone Sisters will be held in the Lodge room on Thursday, at 2:30 o'clock.

—The Columbia Cycle Academy has been rented by a number of society people, who will every Friday evening during Lent indulge in the healthful exercise of bicycle riding.

"Give me a liver regulator and I can regulate the world," said a genius. The druggists handed him a bottle of DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Petrie, of Craig place, is suffering with throat trouble.

Harry Fulper, of East Second street, is out after a slight illness.

Mrs. Charles Graves, of Liberty street, is visiting relatives in Newark.

Mrs. Charles Newman, of Richmond street, is detained at home by illness.

Mr. Britton, of New Brunswick, was the guest of Plainfield friends last evening.

Calvin McMurtry, of Somerville, was the guest of Plainfield friends yesterday.

Miss Cora Laire, of East Fifth street, is kept at home with an attack of the grip.

Mrs. Ransom, of this city, has returned home after a pleasant visit at Hemstead, L. I.

Miss Margaret Coriell, of Church street, has returned from a visit out town with friends.

Miss Laura Holder, of West Fifth street, has entirely recovered from her recent illness.

Miss Margaret Cave, of Sandford avenue, has returned from a visit with Brooklyn friends.

Miss Tinsman, of Lumberville, is the guest of her cousins, the Misses Livezey, of Park avenue.

Miss Florence Thorn, of Elizabeth, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Bertha M. Thorn, of Craig place.

Edward O. Clark, of Newark, is spending a few days at his summer home in Washingtonville.

William Newmiller and Clifford J. Compton, of Walter Scott's, left today for Pittsburg on business.

The engagement of Mr. Oscar Vaughn and Miss Lizzie Waldron, both of Greenbrook road, is announced.

James Coddington, of Mt. Horeb, has returned home after visiting Plainfield friends for a few days.

Asa Pope has gone to Trenton today as representative of Perserverence Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., at the Grand Lodge meeting.

Miss Mattie Cole, of Madison, has returned home after a weeks' visit with her aunt, Mrs. C. B. Stephens, of South Second street.

Mrs. F. W. Perry, of Willow avenue, is visiting friends on St. Nicholas avenue, New York. Mrs. Perry will return home on Saturday.

The marriage of Miss Johnson of South Plainfield, to Bert Mundy, of this city, will take place this evening at the home of the bride.

Daniel Fulper, of Flemington, spent yesterday with W. F. Fulper, of East Second street, on his way home after a business trip to the West.

I. N. Wyckoff, the representative of Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., goes to Trenton today to attend the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias.

Mrs. Oliver B. Leonard, of Madison avenue, will give a reception Saturday evening in honor of her niece, Miss Edna Leonard, of Bolton, Mass., who is visiting at her home.

Miss Edna Leonard, daughter of Rev. William J. Leonard, formerly of this city, but now a resident of Bolton, Mass., is visiting her uncle, O. B. Leonard and family, of Madison avenue.

Miss Fannie, the four-year-old daughter of August Utzinger, of Jackson avenue, is seriously ill with scarlet fever. The house has been quarantined and Dr. Hedges is in attendance.

The quartette composed of Harry Roberts, Al. Springer, George Wilson and Oscar Vaughn is attracting much attention by the excellent music which they have rendered lately at several social functions.

Letter-carrier J. W. A. Bauersachs left this morning for Trenton to attend the session of the Grand Lodge, K. of P., which convened there today. During Mr. Bauersach's absence substitute Charles G. Gleantzer will cover his district.

Mrs. Israel C. Pierson, of Watchung avenue, was a patroness at the University Heights reception last week, when the Zeta Pei society of the University of the City of New York, threw open Pit's new chapter house for the inspection of the faculty and other friends.

Your Liver

HOOD'S PILLS Cure LIVER ILLS

Is out of order if you have bitter taste, offensive breath, sick headache, slight fever, weight or fullness in the stomach, heartburn, or nausea. Hood's Pills rouse the liver, cure biliousness, restore proper digestion, expel accumulated impurities, cure constipation. 25 cents. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

J. W. Pierce, Republic, Ia., says: "I have used One Minute Cough Cure in my family and for myself, with results so entirely satisfactory that I can hardly find words to express myself as to its merit. I will never fail to recommend it to others, on every occasion that presents itself." L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

"Pure and Sure."

Cleveland's BAKING POWDER

"The results obtained by the use of Cleveland's Baking Powder have always been satisfactory."

FANNIE M. FARMER, Principal Boston Cooking School.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Nate Laing is connected with the News during Editor Runyon's absence.

Mrs. Isaac Taynor, of East Third street, has recovered from a recent illness.

Mrs Houseman, of East Third and Washington streets, has improved somewhat from her recent illness.

Will Angleman, of Chatham street, will take the position April 1st, as manager of Baker's grocery store at Fanwood.

Plainfield Council, No. 60, L. A. B. A., installed officers last Monday night. The officers were the same as the previous year.

Howard Perkins, superintendent of the county prison of Philadelphia spent Sunday with Charles R Norman, of Watchung avenue.

Editor Frank W. Runyon and wife left today for a southern trip. They will take a tour through Florida, going as far south as Tampa.

Miss Mattie Sloan and Miss Jennie Perkins, of Philadelphia, have been guests at the home of Charles R. Norman, of Watchung avenue.

Miss Anna Stephenson and her brother, Thomas Stephenson, of this city, will attend a large masquerade ball in Brooklyn this evening.

Superintendent E. W. Pepper, formerly of the Prudential Insurance Company, of this city, but now of Lawrence, Mass., was in town today.

Representing Miantonomoh Tribe, No. 118, I. O. R. M., Wm. Nrwcorn attended the funeral of Mrs. George Carpeeter held in Brooklyn today.

This is Certainly a Chance Which Should Not be Lost.

We are aware that our people who suffer from nervous, chronic or long-standing complaints do not have the same opportunity to be cured as do the residents of the great cities where the most eminent physicians and specialists reside. In other words our people are debarred from seeking a cure by the great and skilled physicians owing to the cost of travel to the large city and the high fees charged by such physicians.

Here, therefore, is a chance for the sick of our community which should not be lost. Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York City, who has the largest practice in the world and who is without doubt the most successful specialist in curing all forms of nervous and chronic diseases, offers to give free consultation by mail to all sufferers whom their local physician has failed to cure. You have the privilege of consulting Dr. Greene by letter, describing your complaints, send you a letter fully explaining all your symptoms, telling you everything about your complaint so plainly that you will understand exactly what ails you. He will also give you his advice, based upon his vast experience and wonderful success in treating such cases, as to just what to do to get cured. All this will cost you nothing and you can thus have consultation with the best known physician and acknowledged most successful specialist in the world, without leaving home and at no expense whatever. The doctor is the discoverer of that greatest of all known medicines, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and he has discovered many other most valuable remedies. Write to him now, for this is a chance to get cured which you may never have again.

Dunellen.

The Dunellen Gun Club will shoot all day Washington's Birthday at live birds.

Mrs. Charles Dodwell, who has been visiting at Manasquan, has returned home.

Mrs. R. J. Swackhamer, of Dunellen avenue, has been receiving a visit from Mrs. Combe, of New York.

Mrs. Hamilton, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. T. C. Bodine, of Church street, has returned home to East Orange.

Mrs. Batcheller, formerly of this place, but now of New York, has leased the Milliken property on Prospect avenue, for three years, and will take possession by May 1st.

The following officers have been elected in the Ladies Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Martine; vice-president, Mrs. Louis Schneider; secretary, Mrs. T. C. Bodine; treasurer, Mrs. Martin Rarick; selector of literature, Mrs. Touzeau.

New Market.

Mrs. Vanderbeck, of East Orange, is spending a few days with friends in town.

Miss Mary Werner, of New York, who has been spending a few days in town, has returned home.

Miss Fannie White, of Scotch Plains, was the guest of friends in town Monday —The Ladies Aid Society of Monroe Avenue chapel will give a supper and sale at the chapel tomorrow evening. An enjoyable entertainment has been provided.

Always FIRST

Gail Borden Eagle Brand

CONDENSED MILK

For 35 years the leading brand. It is the Best and the most economical.

A PERFECT FOOD FOR INFANTS

It not only is so, it must be so, One Minute Cough Cure acts quickly, and that's what makes it go. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front S

THE Camp Fire and the Trail,

By the poet-scout,

Captain Jack Crawford,

IN

Crescent Avenue Church Chapel,

SATURDAY,

February 29, at 8 p. m.,

for the benefit of Marconnier Chapel.

Admission, 50c. Children, 25c.

2 15 17 19 21 26 28

MRS. HALL'S ENTERTAINMENTS

Rev. W. Hudson Shaw, M.A.,

of Oxford University,

Illustrated Lecture on

VENICE,

Friday Afternoon, February 21st,

at 3:30 o'clock, at

SEMINARY HALL.

Tickets 50c. For sale at drug stores and at the door. 2 17 3 m w t

VISIT BOEHM'S

CROCKERY DEPARTMENT,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

Everything in the housefurnishing line up to date. Prices brought down to the lowest possible notch. We guarantee satisfaction in every respect. It is therefore to your own benefit to visit this department—it will pay you.

Novelties in Dress Goods.

AT 19C—30 inch Brilliantines, were 25c.
AT 50C—38 inch extra heavy black mohair sicilians, cheap at 63c.
AT 25C—40 inch new spring novelties, changeable effects, were 35c.
AT 25C—36 inch plaids, silk stripe effects, were 33c.
AT 12 1-2C—A very handsome line of worsted plaids well worth 19c.
AT 50C—The very latest novelties in all-wool dress goods, suitable for spring wear, fully 40in. wide, a bargain at 65c.
AT 32C—38 inch wide black brilliantines.
AT 45C—40 inch black brilliantines, silk finished, regular 59c quality.
AT 50C—Silk finished brilliantine, 40 inches wide, the 65c grade.
AT 65C—Extra fine black brilliantine. 1¼ yards wide, with an extra heavy lustre, the regular 75c quality.
Our leader for this coming season—38 inch wide black figured brilliantine in a number of new and novel designs at the uniform price of 35c a yard, well worth 45c a yard.
AT 25C—Storm serges in black and blue, 38in. wide, were 34c.
AT 45C—Beautiful fine black serges, 1¼ yds wide, a hummer, were 55c.
AT 19C—Light colored brilliantines, the very newest effects, reduced from 25c.

BOEHM'S, 113 WEST FRONT ST.

WISE PEOPLE

are Buying Their Wash Goods and Embroideries at Peck's. The Experience of Former Years Has Warned Them That Disappointment Follows Delay.

THE DALZIEL

GRAMMAR, MANUAL AND

ART SCHOOL, 309 East Front Street.

IS AN ESTABLISHED SUCCESS.

Free-hand drawing from the Antique, Pen and Ink Sketching, Clay Modeling, Painting, Designing and Mechanical Draughting. Directed by John Dalziel, late Professor of Drawing for Illustration, and Engraving at the Women's School of Design, Philadelphia, Pa.

WE are NOW preparing for Spring and Summer Outdoor Work.

EDSALL'S COMMERCIAL PALACE

1,200 Fine Brooms

Direct from the factory to Edsall's Commercial Palace. All the intermediate profits and freight, and even the ten day cash discount saved to our patrons. No such opportunity to buy first-class brooms cheap ever offered to Plainfield people.

15c Atlas 3-Sewed. VALUE 25C

23c Little Maid 3 Sewed. VALUE 33C

21 Champion 3-Sewed. VALUE 30C

24c Little Jewel 3-Sewed. VALUE 34C

26c Liberty 3 Sewed, Value 36c

27c Liberty 4 Sewed, Value 39c.

98 Cut Glass Water BOTTLES.

37 Cut Glass Finger BOWLS.

45 1½ lbs Ox Tongue Special for a Few Days.

18c Prime Shoulders The Best for the Money.

25c—Special Santos coffee, extra flavor.

7c—Solid packed tomatoes. Finest sold at the price.

69c—Ladies' 4-button kid gloves. Black and colored, worth $1.

29c—Warp print Dresden ribbons, 40, 40,40, big bargains

10c—Ladies seamless black hose. Best at price.

19c—Pretty new cretones, apple blossoms.

3c—2,000 new papered covered books Popular authors and titles.

22—New beautiful applique lace 5 in. 22c; 7 in. 28c; 10 in. 43c

Our stocks are filling up rapidly with the finest and most attractive goods for the spring trade we have ever shown. Come in and see them.

EDSALL'S

Shoe Notes.

If You Have Tender Feet Why Not Try a Pair of Our Common Sense Boots,

made on the same lines of the Kahler make. Our price $3 and $5. This is at least $1 a pair under New York City prices on the same goods. A woman's genuine dongola kid button boot for $1.19. One of our specials—woman's rubbers 24c and up. How can we undersell the other fellows? We buy direct from the manufacturers and give you the middleman's profits.

DOANE & EDSALL.

SPORTS

STRIKES AND SPARES.

TEAM POSITIONS IN STANDARD LEAGUE.

	H. S.	Won.	Lost.
Westfield	884	21	9
Roselle	893	20	10
Park	885	20	12
Union C. C. Club	831	9	21
Cranford	837	6	24

TEAM STANDING IN CENTRAL JOURNAL LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	Highest Score.
Elizabeth A. C	7	4	1789
Crescent Wheelmen	6	5	1619
New Jersey A. C	5	6	1671
Cranford C. C	4	7	1557

TEAM STANDING IN DIOCESAN UNION.

	Won.	Lost.	Highest score.
Catholic C	7	2	1597
Elizabeth	5	2	1670
Orange Valley	6	3	1534
Plainfield	4	4	1506
Newark T. A. B	2	6	1584
Institute	0	8	1516

The match between the Y. M. C. A. team of Plainfield and Westfield which was to be rolled this week, has been indefinitely postponed.

The Elizabeth Athletic Club won their game at Cranford last night by twelve pins. The hoodoo of the Cranford alleys was with both teams and the totals were only slightly over 1,400.

The deciding game in the Standard League between Westfield and Roselle will be rolled at Westfield next Tuesday evening. The Park's only chance for second place is that Westfield wins both games, then the Parks will tie with Roselle for second in the league. Westfield will roll the game of her life as two victories more for Roselle would make the latter team champion in the league.

The Roselle Casino bowling team defeated a team from the Union County Country Club last evening in two postponed games in the Standard League. The scores were: Roselle, 834, Union County, 629; Roselle, 749, Union County, 696. The Union Countys were badly crippled in that only two of the regular team bowled. Six went from that club, Messrs. Fleming, Jackson, Conklin, O. G. Waring, John Murray, Jr., and Burnett. After the games were over, the Roselles invited their adversaries. Peter Matthews, of the Park Club, Messrs. Smith and Love, of Westfield, who were present at the game, to Van Court Inn where a delightful supper was served. Charles Burnett, of the County's, made the hit of the evening and showed that the visitors could speak even if they could not bowl. There were several other speeches made.

After running along in the rear of the column in the Central Journal League, the Elizabeth Athletic Club started off at that famous lively pace of theirs and now stand at the head of the league, which position they are assured of at the end. If the Crescent Wheelmen win their game next Tuesday and the New Jersey's defeat the Elizabeth boys, then the Crescent Wheelmen will tie them for first place, otherwise Elizabeth gets the trophy.

The Y. M. C. A. bowlers had a cinch on their alleys last night when the Hope chapel team met them. The home team led all the way in both games. The individual scores were as follows:

Y. M. C. A.

	1ST GAME.	2D GAME.
A. Lederer	147	123
B. Cargoll	172	160
M. Sutphen	150	147
C. Sutphen	179	153
E. Laing	147	147
	795	730

HOPE CHAPEL.

	1ST GAME.	2D GAME.
Stewart	117	138
Mundy	138	125
Meyer	182	121
Cose	108	106
Page	130	90
	675	580

It was not any second-class team that pulled the Crescent Wheelmen down from the lead last night at the New Jersey Athletic Club alleys. It was in all probability the best team the Jerseys have put up since the beginning of the Central Journal Bowling League, and they broke the Jerseys high score by 40 pins. The Crescents felt the importance of the game and broke their high score by 1 pin in their efforts to win. The defeat of the visitors was due mainly to one thing, the superior bowling of their antagonists, but still they ran in hard luck. The pins laid down for strikes for the home team in a most surprising manner, while several Plainfielders enjoyed more than their share of splits. "Doc" Theirs would have undoubtedly captured high score in the league had not three splits destroyed his chances. Wilbur suffered from a split thumb, but still held his own. The team was weakened by the absense of Captain VanEmburgh who missed his train. The game itself was one of the best that has been rolled in the league, as the scores were unusually high and very close. Plainfield led in the first frame, and then the home team kept it until the end. They did not have to spare, however, for the visitors hugged them close. In the sixth, they were only 6 pins behind, and then they began to fail. Had both teams rolled as well in the second half as in the first, both would have scored nearly 1800. The Jerseys did not let up as much as their opponents, and gradually increased their lead until the finish when it reached 52 pins. The scores of the two teams were as follows:

CRESCENT WHEELMEN.

	TOTAL PINS.	ST.	SP.	B
Lyman	147	3	3	4
Kiely	172	2	5	3
Baker	147	1	5	4
Buckle	181	3	6	1
Petrie	133	1	4	5
Teel	173	4	3	3
Maltby	186	1	9	:
Wilbur	170	4	1	5
Stephenson	116	1	2	7
Thiers	194	5	1	3
	1619	26	39	35

NEW JERSEY ATHLETIC CLUB.

	TOTAL PINS.	ST.	SP.	B.
Cobb	173	4	4	2
Wilmerding	193	4	6	1
Barnard	132	3	1	6
Coleman	167	3	5	2
Wright	156	4	2	4
Genet	193	4	5	1
Cooper	180	5	2	3
Blanchard	154	2	4	4
VanWinkle	160	2	4	4
Lewis	174	3	5	2
	1671	33	38	29

BY FRAMES.

C. W.....179 343 512 690 898 1040 1198 1344 1484 1619
N. J. A. C..172 349 544 701 891 1046 1214 1380 1546 1671

To the Editor of The Daily Press.—An article in your paper of February 18th stated that, "As the N. J. A. C. would rather see Plainfield win than Elizabeth, they may not put in their best team."

We consider this a very unjust statement, both to the N. J. A. C. and to ourselves, as there are no grounds for such a statement; the N. J.'s have much more at stake than the outcome of this bowling tournament, and for them to act in this un-sportsmanlike manner would not only be to their discredit as a bowling team, but to the whole club, as it is one of the leading athletic clubs in this country. Owing to illness, two members of the regular team were obliged to be absent, but their absence did not materially effect the team, as will be noted by the scores.

Had we won the game, there would have been a likely suspicion that they had thrown it to us, but as an observer, I would say that the game was played and won by them on its merits. H. C. VanEmburgh.
Captain Plainfield Crescent Wheelmen.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Harry L. Maxson has placed an order for a Columbia, Model 44.

Prof. "Ike" Johnson and his troupe of bicycle riders, who entertain at the Columbia Cycle Academy on Washington's Birthday, will give an entertainment in New York Thursday.

The largest shipment of wheels ever received in this city came yesterday for the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company. There were 79 in all, including Crescents and Clevelands. The increased trade has made this necessary.

The National Assembly has come to an end and the delegates have again returned to their respective divisions. The recommendation to reinstate Cabanne and Titus, by the racing board, after one year's suspension, was the principal act of the closing day.

Zimmerman, the champion professional bicycle rider, arrived in San Francisco Monday from Australia. He did not come back with an unbeaten record. His defeats in Australia were a great surprise to his friends in this country, who thought with good reason that "Zimmy" was invincible on the wheel. He won nineteen races in the antipodes, and was defeated several times, twice at New Castle just before his departure. Zimmerman attributes his poor showing to the Australian climate, and says no one could expect to win races over there right along until he has lived long enough in the country to become acclimated.

—While at work yesterday afternoon at Swain's art store, Arthur Drake sustained a slight injury to his eye. A small piece of wood struck the eye causing considerable pain. He was not detained from work, however.

—Friday evening, Feb. 21st, the Ladies Aid Society of the Grace M. E. church will hold a sociable in the church. A fine programme has been arranged.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.
F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We the undersigned have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.
West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggist, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

A high liver with a torpid liver will not be a long liver. Correct that liver with DeWitt's Little Early Risers, little pills that cure dyspepsia and constipation. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U.S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

WHIST.

Again the State whist trophy has resumed its travels, and this time in the direction of Newark. The team of four from the North End Whist Club, of Newark, which consists of Messrs. Reynolds, Smith, Cameron and Eagles, came to this city last night. They met the team from the Park Club, Messrs. Rogers, McCutchen, Howell and Townsend, and defeated them, and bore away the handsome silver cup. It was very simple, the way the Parks were defeated. They put up their usual excellent game, but the visitors played better, that was all. The history of the game by rounds was as follows:

	North Ends.	Parks.
First round	4	2
Second round	5	5
Third round	5	0
Total	14	7

So it was that victory perched on the banners of the North Enders by a margin of 7 points. There are several challenges already in, but the Park Club will not try for it again until the State Whist convention, which is to be held at Jersey City, March 12th. Then the trophy will be played for by all the clubs in the State, among which will be the Park Club.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

Charles Krewson played Mr. Todd, of Newark, Monday evening in the State Pool Championship tournament. The contest was very exciting and close. Mr. Krewson made 124 and Mr. Todd 125.

The Sportsmen's Game and Fish Protective and Propogative Society will meet again on next Monday evening at 8 o'clock, in the office of Percy C. Ohl, Babcock building. The election of officers will be held.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE

—An organ concert will be given in the First Presbyterian church next Tuesday evening.

—William Lee Simmonds and family, of West Front street, moved yesterday to New York.

—All the local jewelers will close their stores on Saturday on account of Washington's Birthday.

—The front of Powlison & Jones' new building is almost completed. It is one of the handsomest in town.

—Conductor John Hyler, of the street railway, has been changed to the position of motorman on car No. 5.

—There will be an Ash Wednesday service in the Mission Church of the Heavenly Rest this evening at 7:45.

—George Snediker, of Grove street, has been presented with a valuable thoroughbred black and tan puppy.

—Howard B. Waters and family, of Somerset street, will move to Mariner's street, near West Front street.

—The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church will hold an interesting meeting Friday evening.

—At the meeting in the W. C. T. U. rooms Thursday, 3:30 p. m., the subject of department work will be taken up. All are cordially invited.

—The many friends of Harry Bartling, of Sycamore avenue, will regret to learn that he will move with his family to Boston about April 1st.

—Great preparations are being made by the members of the Woman's Relief Corps for their supper in G. A. R. Hall, Saturday evening.

—Next Thursday evening, Stone Square Lodge, No. 10, F. & A. M., will be the guest of Bethany Lodge in Newark at a grand reception and drill.

—Matters of interest will be considered at the meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, J. O U. A. M., tomorrow evening. A full attendance is desired.

—Under the direction of President E. R. Pope, of the First National Bank, the work on the new building is being rapidly pushed. There yet remains considerable to be done.

—The Young Ladies Missionary Society of the First Baptist church held a meeting in the church yesterday afternoon. The society intend giving an entertainment in the near future.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Don't invite disappointment by experimenting. Depend upon One Minute Cough Cure and you have immediate relief. It cures croup. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

A Corn Cure THAT CURES CORNS

We have never said much about our Corn Cure—though it is one of the best made—because the market is full of cures, so-called. But such positive testimony to its merits has recently been volunteered that we feel justified in "talking-up" this little specialty. Our COLLOID CORN CURE is easily applied, gives relief quickly and will cure every case of corns, hard or soft, that can be cured, if used as directed. Sold in square vials with brush for applying. REYNOLDS' PHARMACY, Park and North Avenues.

—The Women's prayer meeting and Bible study will be held Friday, at 3 p. m., in the Park Avenue Baptist church.

—Councilman J. H. Howell, of Willow avenue, has leased the house now being erected by J. Manning & Son on Myrtle avenue, into which he will move with his family about April 1st.

DIED.

CURTIS—In this city, Tuesday, Feb. 18, 1896, Ada, wife of Thomas E. H. Curtis.
Funeral services at her late residence, 511 West 8th street, Thursday, Feb. 20, at 8 p. m. 2

Trick and Fancy Riding, RACING and Polo Playing Washington's Birthday,

—AT—

COLUMBIA CYCLE ACADEMY.

Matinee at 3. Evening at 8,

—BY—

Prof. "Ike" Jonnson and Company.

Admission 25c. 2 19 3

List of Advertised Letters

Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 17, 1896.

Bates Geo Mrs	Lilly Geo
Bancroft Sarah J Miss	Lynet Ellen Miss
Connelly Peter	McKlellan Rose Miss
Hanshaw S W Mrs	Marie (nurse girl)
Haffner Frank P	Mairy Jas
Hustner John	O'Donne l Huge Mrs
Jeffries J W Rev	Philen Mary
King T P	Randolph Alfred

NOTICE.

All hackmen, truckmen and peddlers must make application to renew their licenses before Monday night, February 24th, as all licenses will expire on March 1st, and any person without a license will be required to suspend his business until one is procured.

GEO. W. GRANT,
Chief of Police.

Drop a Postal to 218 West Front St.

and we will call and repair any make of sewing machines. Needles, oil and parts. The Singer M'f'g Co., 218 W. Front street. 2 17 3 eod

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 cent a word each insertion. Less than 10 words 10 cents. Cash must accompany adv.

STORE to let. Corner Park avenue and Second street. W. R. Codington. 2 17 6

WANTED.—A neat girl (colored preferred) for general housework; references. Call this evening at 329 East 3d street. 2

WANTED—Situation as gardener by experienced man; best of city references. Address G. M., P. O box 383, city. 2 19 6

FRONT room to let; terms reasonable. 207 East Front st. 2 18 2

FOR SALE—The property owned and occupied by W. T. Broadway, 323 LaGrande ave; modern improvements, city water, etc; house has ten rooms also bath and laundry; possession any time; liberal terms. Apply to agents. 2 17 tf-m w f

A BRIGHT boy of about 14, who can write a fair hand and spell accurately might find employment. Address in own handwriting, Lock Box F., post-office. 2 18 2

WASHINGTON Park, North Plainfield; for sale or to let to a small family, No. 19 Sycamore ave., house in perfect order; contains 10 rooms, city water, gas and furnace; terms made to suit. Geo. F. Edwards, 191 Broadway, New York, or 17 Duer st., Plainfield. 2 17 12

VERY handsome flat; all modern improvements. Apply Manning's city marble works. 2 17 tf

WANTED.—At once, experienced white cook. Apply 949 Central avenue. 2 8 tf

WILL the person, who, on Sunday, found a small Scotch Terrier dog, weight about twelve pounds, return the same to 123 East Second street, and be suitably rewarded.

GOOD accommodations for horses; horses boarded by the month at reasonable terms. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville, N. J. 12 3 tf

FOR RENT—Two cottages, No. 830 and 832 West 3d st. Inquire of S. B. Wheeler, Netherwood Farm, Mountain avenue, North Plainfield. 10 30 tf

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker 2 21 tf

133 EAST 2d street to let a large sunny front room: also a hall rooms; furnished, 2 minutes from depot. 12 19 tf-m w t

TO LET—Stores, flats, dwellings. Bargains for sale. Mulford, Broker. 1 6 tf

TO LET—Stable on Sycamore street, from April 1st, seven stalls and a box stall, city water and electric lights, also three rooms over stable suitable for light house-keeping. Apply P. Lynch 1 2 tf

Pargiter Sale

IT MEANS

a dollar does the work of two. Having bought the dry and fancy goods stock of Pargiter, of Park avenue, for 50c. on the dollar, we will place it on sale tomorrow morning. The goods are all new and desirable and everything will be sold at half its value. A few of the many good things:

	Pargiter's price.	Our price
Mens linen collars	13c	7c
" "	18c	8c
Mens cuffs	20c	10c
" "	30c	15c
Mens mixed half hose	15c	8c
Mens balbrigan half hose	25c	10c
Mens black half hose	25c	10c
Mens tan half hose	25c	10c
Mens cashmere half hose	35c	18c
Mens laundered cambric shirts	$1.25	75c
Feather boas	$1.50 and $2	30c
Ladies cambric waists	50c	25c
Mens unlaundered shirts	75c	37c
" " " "	$1	55c
Boys outing shirts	25c	12c
Mens outing shirts	25c	12c
" " "	60c	30c
Mens white wool shirts	50c	25c
Mens colored wool shirts	50c	25c
Mens scarlet "	$1	50c
Mens natural "	$1.25	50c
Mens scarlet double breasted shirts	$1.50	69c
Large Turkish towels	25c	13c
Large huck towels	25c	13c
Extra large h. s. towels	35c	17c
Dinner napkins	$1.50	98c
Cotton towels	10c	5c
Fine white apron checks	12c	6c
Fine Victoria lawn	20c	10c
Fine embroideries	5c	3c
" "	10c	5c
Wide embroideries	25c	10c
Wash crepons	10c	5c
Childrens hose	12c	6c
" "	15c	8c
" "	20c	10c
" "	25c	12c
Ladies hose	15c	8c
" "	20c	10c
" "	30c	18c
Corset covers	18c	9c
Drawers	35c	19c
"	45c	23c
"	65c	37c
"	75c	46c
"	98c	42c
White shirts	75c	39c
" "	$1.00	59c
" "	1.25	69c
Ladies corsets	$1 and 1.25	69c
" kid gloves	1 00	57c
" " "	1.25	69c
" ribbed vests	35c	17c
" " pants	35c	17c
" " "	50c	25c
" " vests	50c	25c
" " "	75c	33c
" " pants	75c	33c

Housefurnishing Department.

STOP A MOMENT?

Self-praise is poor recommendation. It aint necessary to tell you where or how we buy our goods. Its the price that sells them every time—so here goes! MATCH THEM IF YOU CAN!

CUT BRUSH | 500 Bust Brushes, like sample, Wire Fastened, Hardwood Back at | 7c. EACH.

WASH DAY REMINDERS—Smoothing Irons, all sizes, best quality, at 3c. pound. Clothes Pins, all perfect, per 100 7c. Jute clothes line, very strong, at 1-2c. yd. Solid Zinc Wash-Boards, hardwood frame 10c each. Heavy Tin Wash Boilers, No. 7, oval copper bottom, 59c. each. No 1 size Cedar Wash Tubs, free from knots, 39c. each. No. 2, do. 49c. No. 2 size Clothes Baskets, white willow, 29c. each. Mrs. Pott's patent Smoothing Irons, 3 irons handle and stand, plain, 69c. set. Nickle, 79c set. Handles extra for Mrs Pott's Irons, 19c. each. Clothes Wringers, hard rubber rollers, warranted, at $1.37.

WHITE OF PLAINFIELD.

Removal Sale.

These Are the Goods that Must Go.

Boy's reefers $5.....now $2.45
Youth's overcoats $8.....now $4.75
Youth's overcoats $10.....now $6.50
Men's overcoats $10.....now $7.75
Men's ulsters $10.....now $6.00

SEBRING'S,

Park Avenue. April 1st, West Front Street.

SEE THAT CURVE IN HATS

on all the new spring styles

Shown in those sold by

HALLOCK, Hatter, 109 West Front St.

KEATING, The world's lightest—19 lbs.

SEE THAT CURVE?

FOWLER, Truss frame—17 to 24 lbs.

Chas. C. Lister,

134 North Avenue.

Guaranteed Bicycles For $49.50. OUTING and APOLLO. Repairing, Renting, and Storing.

"He Never New"

We kept Hanan & Son's Shoes.
But what could the poor boy do?
His wife found it out—
He had never been on Park avenue.

A. WILLETT & SON,

107 PARK AVENUE.

SOME CAPITAL STORIES.

Congressman Cummings' Experience in Missouri.

How Dan Wiley Secured Admission to the Floor of the House—Four Kansas Governors in the Senate.

[Special Washington Letter.]

Congressman Amos J. Cummings, of New York, fertile journalist, a voluminous and always interesting writer, is a keeper of scrap-books. They contain all the wit and wisdom of a generation; for Amos Cummings has been long in the land. He was a gallant union soldier, and after the civil war he was a tramp printer in the Mississippi valley. He "stuck type" in nearly every city between St. Louis and St. Paul, and walked over many of the public roads from town to town. Railroad passes were hard to obtain, and only the great men who edited papers were allowed such luxuries.

LOST HIS WAY.

But to return to those scrap-books. They are all indexed, and contain his own stories as well as the pencilings of leading contemporary writers. One of the best stories in one of the oldest of the books is illustrative of the manner in which the people of the southwest return evasive answers to direct questions. One evening about dusk a man rode up to a fence surrounding a lot near the roadside and thus addressed a woman who was attempting to persuade a few drops of milk from a muley cow:

"Madam, I am lost."

"Waal, that's whut the preacher says is the matter with the most of us, an' I reckon the best thing to do is to git 'ligion an' then do the best we kin under the sarcumstances," she replied, giving the cow an artful jerk.

"I mean that I have missed the road to Dabney's Ferry."

"Wall, I shouldn't wonder, fur it is a mighty matter fur some folks to foller these roads here, they air so crooked. You air trav'lin', I reckon?"

"Yes, I want to go to Dabney's ferry."

"Got kinfolks livin' down thar, I reckon?"

"No; I have no relatives living in this part of the country. Will this road lead me to the ferry?"

"Wall, you'll hatter ax pap about that. He tromps roun' all over the neighborhood while I'm doin' the work, an' he oughter know whar the roads go to."

"Where is he?"

"Who, pap?"

"Yes."

"Wall, Lawd on'y knows. But I reckon the yaller dog kin take you whar he is."

"Where is the yellow dog?"

"I don't know that nuther. You'll hatter ax one of the chilun."

"Where are the children?"

"The Lawd in Heaven only knows, stranger, fur I don't. Jest wait awhile an' mebby one of 'em will holler, for it's about time for one of 'em to get snakebit."

"I haven't time to wait."

"Wall, then, I reckon you'll have to jog along the best way you kin."

"I wish you would give me some information."

"Yas, I reckon so, fur I hearn tell that information is a mighty fine thing when a pusson is pushed right hard fur it."

"Where does that road over there lead to?"

"Right to Dadney's ferry."

"Why, that's the road I want. Why didn't you tell me?"

"Wall, you didn't ax me about that road. You kep' on talkin' about sithin' else. Wall, good-day. Ef you travel 'round here much you'll l'arn to ax fur whut you want without beatin' about the bush."

How John Wiley Won a Bet.

It is practically impossible for anyone to gain admission to the floor of the house of representatives when that body is in session. Under the rules no one is entitled to admission but representatives, ex-representatives and members-elect; that is, those who have been elected as member of the next congress. John Wiley, of New York, managed to gain admission one day, however, by a clever trick. Congressman Dan Lockwood, of Buffalo, and his friend Wiley were strolling about the capitol, and when they approached the main door of the house, Mr. Lockwood said: "Well, John, I must leave you here. I go in as an ex-member, but you are barred."

"I bet you a fine lunch that I am in on the floor three minutes after you enter," said Mr. Wiley.

"Done," said the great orator. Then he walked up to Doorkeeper Coakley and said: "Lockwood, of Buffalo, ex-member." That was enough. He passed right in.

Within a minute Wiley approached Coakley, who had never seen Wiley up to that time. "Did my predecessor enter this door just now?" inquired Mr Wiley.

"What's his name, sir?" said Coakley, in reply.

"Daniel N. Lockwood, of Buffalo," was the answer.

"Yes, sir; he's right there in the main aisle, walk right in," and the doorkeeper turned away to attend to another visitor.

Wiley walked in. Ten minutes later he had marched Lockwood to the restaurant and compelled him to pay for a costly little banquet, in which nearly a score of friends participated.

A Story of Four Governors.

"There are four governors of Kansas on the floor of the senate," said Frank Flenniken, private secretary to Senator Plumb, one day when Ingalls was making a great speech. It happened that there were several distinguished citizens of Kansas in the city, and all of them wanted to hear their brilliant senator speak; but the galleries were crowded, and they could not go upon the floor of the senate, for the rules of that body are exceedingly strict. But either Flenniken or Plumb had taken those gentlemen, one at a time, to the four different doors of the senate, and passed each of them into the senate, as "the governor of Kansas," although not one of them had ever held that office.

Politicians and public men in Washington are not always sticklers for truth, when they want to accomplish any desirable end.

A Noted Man's Humble Lunch.

There is an elderly gentleman—he would resent being called an old man, for he is not more than 72 or 73 years of age—who enters the senate restaurant every day exactly at one o'clock and takes a seat in an obscure corner. Paul, the oldest waiter in the room, immediately brings him a nubbin of a loaf of bread and a big bowl of milk. The elderly gentleman sops his crust in the milk, eats it by degrees, and, at the end of about 20 minutes' deliberate mastication of his food, lifts the bowl and drinks the remainder of the milk. He pays the waiter, slowly arises, departs from the restaurant without having said a word to the waiter or to anybody else. He proceeds to a little room in the basement and sits down before a desk which is covered with lots of little drawings which look like plans for a building of some kind. His name is Edward Clark, and he is the supervising architect of the capitol, a position which he has held for a quarter of a century or more. He is one of the most popular and competent public officials in the national capital.

A Reporter's Ready Wit.

Every day at noon a large square-shouldered man, weighing about 200 pounds, walks out of the treasury department, crosses Pennsylvania avenue, and enters a dairy lunch room where he liberally supplies the demands of an enviable appetite. He is unpretentious, quiet, but everybody knows him and calls him "Biv." He was a confederate cavalryman and a good one, when only 16 years of age. After the war he completed his education and then engaged in newspaper work. He quit reporting several years ago and accepted a government position. He was at Elberon when President Garfield died. He saw Mrs. Garfield, interviewed Gen. Swaim, rushed to the telegraph office, seized the key, and sent the news to the papers which he represented. Just as he was concluding his dispatch Attorney General Wayne MacVeagh entered and said: "I take possession of this telegraph line, in the name of the United States government." The reporter, who was a splendid telegraph operator, as well as a stenographer and all-'round newspaper man, said: "All right, sir," and closed the key.

"WHAT HAVE YOU BEEN SENDING OVER THAT WIRE?"

"What have you been sending over that wire?" inquired the attorney general.

"I have been announcing the death of the president," replied the correspondent.

The attorney general had intended to suppress the news until after Vice President Arthur had taken the oath of office; but the newspaper man was too quick for him. James Gordon Bennett paid him for his services, and made him a present of $500 besides. His name is Tom Bivins. He is usually called "Biv," for that was his natural nom de plume when he was a reporter.

SMITH D. FRY.

Skunk Farming in Maine.

Skunk farming has proved unprofitable on the ranch at Dixfield, Me., about which much has been written. The skunks took an off turn recently and died so rapidly that there was no profit in caring for those remaining; so the proprietor killed the survivors.

Heavy Postal Robbery.

A post cart was attacked in the most central part of Belgrade one morning recently, and 200,000 francs that were in it were carried off. Part of the booty was a 20-pound box containing 40,000 francs in gold napoleons. No trace of the thieves.

Nothing Like It.

Time brings many changes, but the climate of California, "The Italy of America," and the attractions of the many famous health and pleasure resorts, are the same yesterday, today and forever.

Tourists never will tire of speaking in praise of the soft and balmy air, the profusion of flowers, the magnificent display of fruits, the luxury of seabathing and the beautiful walks and drives.

Then, too, it must be conceded that with such excellent equipment, consisting of Reclining Chair Cars, Pullman Palace Sleepers and Pullman Dining Cars, all heated by steam and lighted with Pintsch Light, the Union Pacific, "The Overland Route," is the tourists favorite. Ask your agents for tickets via this route.

E. L. Lomax, General Pass. and Ticket Agent, Omaha, Neb.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for rheumatism and neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75c. Sold by H. P. Reynolds, druggist, Park and North avenues. 2 12 y

Quick in effect, heals and leaves no scar. Burning, scaly skin eruptions quickly cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Applied to burns, scalds, old sores, it is magical in effect. Always cures piles. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

Soothing, healing, cleansing, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the enemy to sores, wounds and piles, which it never fails to cure. Stops itching and burning. Cures chapped lips and cold-sores in two or three hours. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

NOTICE

Estate of Sarah C. Hanford, deceased.

Pursuant to the order of George T. Parrot, Surrogate of the county of Union, made on the application of the undersigned administratrix of said deceased, notice is hereby given to the creditors of said deceased to exhibit to the subscribers under oath or affirmation their claims and demands against the estate of said deceased within nine months from the fourteenth day of Dec., 1895, or they will be forever barred from prosecuting or recovering the same against the subscribers.

ANNA AUGUSTA GODWIN
12 18—o a w Administratrix

INSURANCE.

J. C. Pope & Co.,
INSURANCE AGENTS,
110 East Front st.,
Plainfield, N. J.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,
Real Estate and Insurance.
197 North avenue

INSURANCE.
WM. H. ABBOTT,
171 North Ave.

A Card to the Public

For nearly 20 years the public of Plainfield and vicinity have given me the largest share of their patronage in the purchasing of hats and gent's furnishings, showing that honest effort, low prices and reliable goods are appreciated. I have now associated with me Mr. Charles Clark, of Westfield, N. J., who comes to us highly recommended as a competent, honest young man. We will add to our stock of hats and gent's furnishings, a full line of men's and youth's shoes and rubbers, keeping only reliable goods and selling at the lowest possible prices.

Thankful for past favors, we are yours for business, U. B. CRANE,
120 West Front st.
Succeeded by Crane & Clark.

Edwin B. Maynard,
Hair Cutting and Shampooing.
Tonsorial parlor, 204 Park ave., Plainfield. Ladies' shampooing and children's hair cutting a specialty.

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter, 22c.
Best Dairy Butter 18c.
V. L. FRAZEE
151 West Front st.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

New York Mails.
Arrive—7:30, 8:40, 11:15 a.m., 2:45, 5, 5:30 p. m.
Close—7 15 and 9:20 a. m., 1:30, 4 30 and 7:30 p. m.

Somerville and Easton Mails.
Arrive—8:40 a. m., 2:40, 6:00 p. m.
Close—7:15 a. m., 4:30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arr. 12 m; closes 9:30 a. m.

Sunday Mails.
Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6:15 p. m.

J. M. HETFIELD, P. M.

Dogs
IRON AND BRASS
FIRE-DOGS.
Curtis M. Thorpe,
Y. M. C. A. Building
"Everything for the Fireplace."

Improve
YOUR OPPORTUNITY!
Get Some of the BARGAINS IN FURNITURE and CHINA.
before removal to Jackson Building.
Heat Your Rooms With the
Surio Gas Globe Heater.

Goes on any Gas Jet.
J. W. GAVETT.
G. Q. Packer. Jos. W. Gavett.

Putnam & DeGraw
THIS WEEK WE WILL SELL
SHIRT WAISTS—Ladies laundered shirt waists only 50c.
UMBRELLAS—Fast black, Paragon frame, only 75c.
HOSIERY—Children's 1x1 rib extra quality, all sizes, 15c; ladies fast black seamless, extra quality, at 10, 15 and 25c; men's mixed half hose, extra quality 10c, 3 for 25c; men's mixed half hose, seamless, extra heavy, 15c, 2 for 25 cents.
WAISTS—Children's corded underwaists 25c; children's outing flannel waists 50c style for 40c.
NECKWEAR—A new and special line at 25 and 50c.
EMBROIDERIES—Our s are the talk of the city.
COTTON CREPONS—Evening shades at 12 and 15c a yard.

COSTS NOTHING
to see our immense line of wall papers—or to let us estimate on your Spring decorating—We are GLAD TO DO IT!
Edward Love,
Corner North and Watchung Avenues.

Are the Most Popular in the World.
Highest of High Grades.
Are Built in the Largest and Best Equipped Factory in the World. They are the Most Popular and Best Selling Wheels Made.
Evidenced by the fact that there were more of them sold in '95 than any other make. Be sure to see sample before purchasing your '96 wheel.
Made by Indiana Bicycle Co., Indianapolis, Ind.
F. L. C. MARTIN, AGENT. 1 27 eod

BOICE, RUNYON & CO., —Dealers in—
Lumber, Coal, Masons' Material, &c
Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.
BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

Creamery Butter
20c Per Pound at
J. F. MACDONALD'S
Uptown Grocery.

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,
177 NORTH AVENUE.

May Change Her Mind
and her stationery. This unwritten law may be observed just as often as she desires, and then, if not thoroughly satisfied, can get her money back for the asking. However, we find few who do not like our 25c box of paper and envelopes when desiring the medium grade.
R. C. RAND,
140 West Front st.

HONEYMAN'S PRIVATE TOURS,
181 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.
February 21, to Old Point; Easter week to Washington; June 27, Coaching trip abroad, with Switzerland and Italy; August to New England; December to Mexico.

A. Lusardi,
120 North Ave.,
will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c a qt. Branch store, corner Front and Somerset streets.

P. MARKEY, Bakery,
144 PARK AVENUE.
A full assortment of bread, cakes, and pies fresh every day. Fig and malt bread a specialty. 2 17 tf

R. H. Rushton. J. C. Hansen. A. Luthman.
Rushton, Hansen & Luthman,
PAINTERS & PAPER HANGERS,
P. O. Box 773, Plainfield, N. J.
Interior decorating a specialty. Our motto—first-class work. Estimates cheerfully given. Orders promptly attended to. 2 11 tf

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Anthracite Coal Used Exclusively, Insuring Cleanliness and Comfort.

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street.
Time Table in Effect Nov. 17, 1895.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 14, 3 37, 5 38, 6 04, 6 29, 6 59, 7 26, 7 30, 7 53, 8 00, 8 15, 8 27, 8 31, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, 10 59 a m; 12 05, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 05, 8 30, 9 23, 10 17, 11 28, p.m. Sunday, 2 14, 3 37, 6 04, 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 10 59, 11 16 a m; 12 39, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17, p m.

Leave New York, Foot Liberty St., at 4 30, 6 00, 7 15, 8 00, 8 40, 9 10, 10 00, 11 45, a m; 1 10, 1 30, 2 30, 3 30, 3 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 15, 5 30, 5 45, 6 00, 6 15, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 30, p m; 12 15, 1 00, night. Sunday, 4 30, 7 15, 9 00, 9 15, a m; 12 00 m; 1 00, 1 30, 2 30, 4 00, 5 30, 7 00, 9 00, 10 00, p m; 12 15 night, 1 00 a m

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield at 5 38, 6 29, 6 59, 7 30, 8 00, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 05, 8 30, 10 17, 11 28, p m. Sunday 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 11 16 a m; 12 39, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17 p. m.

Leave Newark at 6 15, 7 18, 7 55, 8 39, 9 03, 10 05, 11 35, a m; 1 15, 1 35, 2 25, 3 35, 4 05, 4 40, 5 04, 5 34, 5 50, 6 20, 7 15, 7 25, 8 40, 10 05, 11 25, p. m. Sunday 7 30, 9 05, 9 20, 11 35 a m; 1 10, 1 35; 2 35, 4 05, 5 40, 7 20, 9 25, 10 20

Passengers for Newark please change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 5 45, 7 10, 8 16, 9 54, 11 00 a m; 12 46, 2 11, 3 32, 3 35, 4 36, 5 05, 5 14, 5 34, 6 04, 6 38, 7 12, 7 34, 8 21, 10 36, 11 23, p m; 12 38 night. Sunday 5 45, 8 28, 9 55, a m; 2 03, 3 43 5 14, 6 38, 10 15, 11 14 p m.

Leave Somerville at 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 25, 7 30, 7 48, 8 20 9 05, 9 48, 11 40 a. m; 12 50, 1 48, 2 05, 3 25, 4 25, 4 59, 6 35, 8 07, 8 45, 11 05 p. m. Sunday at 8 25, 9 45, 10 35 a m; 12 08, 1 20, 5 10, 6 35, 8 05, 9 40 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield at 5 45, 8 16, 9 54 a m., 12 46, 2 11, 5 05, 5 14, 6 38, 8 21 p. m. Sunday at 5 45, 8 28, a m; 2 03, 6 35 p m.

Leave Easton at 6 05, 7 00, 8 53, a m; 12 32, 3 43, 4 49, 7 00, p. m. Sunday at 7 15, 10 02 a m; 6 40, 7 30 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield at 9 54 a. m.; 5 05 5 14.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

5 45 a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m.—For stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 a. m.—For Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 54 a. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch D. L. & W. R. R., Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Shamokin, Nanticoke, and Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. with buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 46 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 11 p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Tamaqua, Sunbury, Williamsport, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

5 05 p. m., way for Easton, connecting with High Bridge for stations on High Bridge Branch.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Scranton, Wilkesbarre, Tamaqua, Shamokin, (buffet parlor car to Scranton.)

6 19 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 38 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, and Harrisburg.

8 21 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

5 45 a. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

8 28 a. m. Sundays—For Easton.

2 03 p. m. Sundays—For High Bridge for High Bridge Branch Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading, and Harrisburg.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 35 p. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c., and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

FOR LONG BRANCH, OCEAN GROVE, ETC.

Leave Plainfield at 3 37, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, p. m. Sunday, (except Ocean Grove) 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 3 37, 5 38, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, 7 03, p. m., Sundays 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Atlantic City, 3 37 a. m.; 1 18 p. m.

For Freehold, 3 37, 8 00, 10 27 a. m.; 1 18, 3 51, 5 24 p. m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44 9 46, 10 44 a. m.; 2 17, 5 34*, 6 45, 8 21, 9 37*, 1 17 night. Sundays—5 17, 5 45, 9 55 10 44 a. m., 2 25, 4 55, 5 14* 6 45 p. m. 1 17 night.

For Trenton, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44, 9 46, a. m. 12 46, 2 17, 5 34*, 6 38*, 8 21, 9 37* p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays 5 17, 5 45, 9 55 a. m. 2 25, 4 55, 5 14*, 6 35*, p. m. 1 17 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 8 44, 10 44 a. m. 5 34*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays, 10 44 a. m., 5 14*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points West, week-days at 9 54 a. m., 8 21 p. m. Sunday 6 35 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked (*) change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rates may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN,
General Superintendent.
H. P. BALDWIN,
General Passenger Agent.

Jones & Co.,
EXCAVATORS.
Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.
—Cesspools Built.

Sewer Connections Made
Properly and Earth Replaced Carefully.
PLUMBING TESTED.
A. M. GRIFFEN,
119 East Front street.

CLASSES FOR Women and Girls
IN
Gymnastic Exercises, Swimming and Fencing.
Miss Elizabeth C. MacMartin, Inst'r.
will meet applicants for membership Wednesday afternoon from 2 until 3, at the Y. M. C. A.

M. Powers & Son.
Superior quality of
LEHIGH COAL.
No. 2 Coal Only $3.75 in the Yard.
A No. 1 Kindling Wood.
Yard and office 763 South ave. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

E. H. Holmes,

Dealer in

Coal & Wood.

Yard—No. 208 Madison avenue.
Office for coal orders with Woolston & Buckle, 145 North ave.

Telephone 49-A.

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the first and third Thursday eveningsof each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.
John Fellows, Dictator.
R. A. Frey, Reporter.

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays in the Babcock Building. C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Sec.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Babcock Building, West Front street. D. C. Adams, W. M.
Charles Yeager, Sec.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the second and fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward Building, Park avenue, at 8 p.m.
Harry C. Adams, Regent.
Frederick C. Pope, Secretary.

MONEY

Cannot buy better

Men's Suits,

in fine imported Black and Blue Cheviot, Diagonal or fancy weave, single or double breasted at $9.90.

reduced from $15, $18 and $20.

WERNER'S,

206 West Front st.

EXTRA FINE

Jersey Poultry

AT LOWEST PRICES.

Turkeys, Chickens and Ducks

Genuine Philadelphia Scrapple, Taylor's Prepared Ham, Pork Tenderloins.

Great Reduction

in price of all kinds of

MEAT

Headquarters for Jersey pork, bologna and Delacatessen. Jersey pork and Sausage 10c lb.

A. G. Vogeler.

131 West Front st.

THIS IS

the season most people need a

TONIC,

and no better can be found than

Leggett's

Malt Extract.

It is a pure concentrated extract of malt and hops.
Price 20 cents a bottle, $2 a dozen.

Leggett's Pharmacy,

Y. M. C. Building.

Your Valuables

will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

Lock boxes from $3.50 to $10 a year.

RANDOLPH RUNYON

Funeral Director and Embalmer.

43 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.
Residence over office. 1 18 m

WORK AND WEAR.

Repairs to Machinery While in Motion.

How Waste May Be Prevented and Energy Maintained.

If a machine works, it must wear out. It matters not whether it is the common plow of the field or the most complicated printing press. Work means waste. It is certain that these machines would last much longer if they did not wear out. Then only some accident would necessitate the purchase of new parts.

The human body is a complicated piece of machinery which is constantly at work. There is not an activity of the body, from the movement of a muscle to the digestion of food, which does not cause waste. Physiology teaches that we are constantly being supplied with new material to take the place of that which is worn out.

When the body is debilitated by disease, how quickly it could be built up, provided we could only allow all the parts complete rest. But, of course, this is impossible, for the changing of the foods into the various organs and tissues of the body means work, and this work means waste. However, we can aid the body in its work and save it much labor.

We can take especial care to use only those foods which are easily digested, and yet are highly nourishing. When it is necessary to add some valuable food which is also a medicine, as cod-liver oil, then we can save the body an immense amount of work by digesting the oil before giving it. How can an oil be digested? If you will consult some work on physiology you will learn that an oil is digested when it is broken up into minute globules, so small that high powers of the microscope are necessary to see the little drops of fat. When the oil has been digested in this way it is called an "emulsion."

This is why Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites is so easily borne by delicate stomachs, does not cause diarrhœa and never produces gas in the stomach. When persons are ill, the digestion is also weak. But Scott's Emulsion is already digested, hence the body is not obliged to expend strength in preparing it for absorption. You at once see the advantage of Scott's Emulsion over raw cod-liver oil. It also contains the hypophosphites which every one recognizes as such strong tonics to the nervous system.

Scott's Emulsion has been indorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. Ask your doctor. Because it is always palatable—always uniform—always contains the purest Norwegian Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites. Insist on Scott's Emulsion with trade-mark of man and fish. Put up in 50c. and $1.00 sizes. The small size may be enough to cure your cough or help your baby.

Your Spring Clothing

Rather early to speak of it, but if it needs cleaning or dyeing, it isn't too early to have us do that work for you. This is our dull season—our employes are here ready for work. We'd like to have your goods now. We can give them better attention than in the rush of the spring season. Then we'll have to have more time or rush them at the expense of good work. Now we can take our time, do the work better than if hurried and you'll have the clothing all ready for warm weather.

Look in the closet or trunk and find your spring wear that needs cleaning and dyeing and bring it to us now, or better still, our wagon will call for it if you will send us word.

Hillier & Co.,

179 North ave., Plainfield.

McCullough's STEAM MILL,

21 Steiner place, North Plainfield.

R. H. McCullough, Prop.
Sash, blinds, doors, mouldings, scroll sawing, turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully furnished.

ERNEST BARRETT,

Sanitary Plumbing, Steam and Hot Water Heating

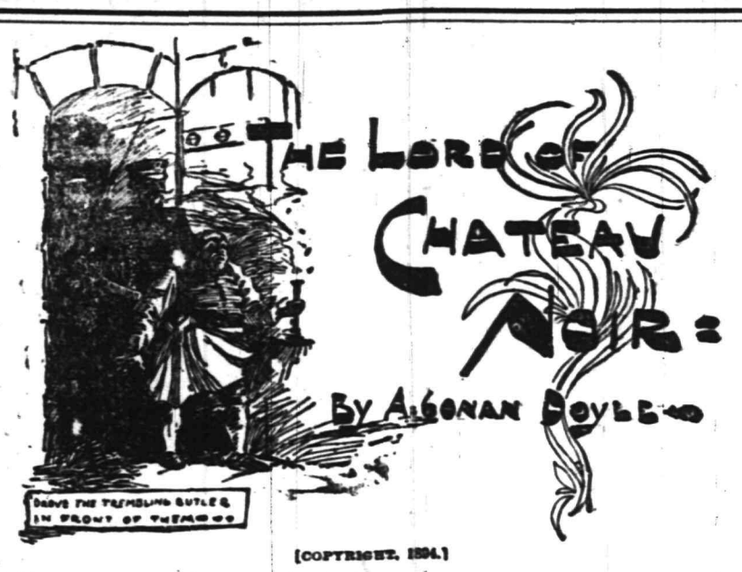
All work guaranteed. Estimates cheerfully given. Jobbing promptly attended to.

325 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

PROSPECT HILL Must Be Sold.

Azalias, Chinese primrose, palms, ferns, begonias and variety of blooming plants. Wedding decorations and floral designs and all equipments for church and house decorations. Southern smilax at 15 days notice

AT DENTON'S.



[COPYRIGHT, 1894.]

"Pray do not trouble yourself to look for your weapons," he said, as the Prussian cast a swift glance at the empty chair in which they had been laid. "You have been, if you will allow me to say so, a little indiscreet to make yourself so much at home in a house every wall of which is honeycombed with secret passages. You will be amused to hear that forty men were watching you at your supper. Ah! What then!"

Capt. Baumgarten had taken a step forward with clenched fists. The Frenchman held up a revolver which he grasped in his right hand, while with his left he hurled the German back into his chair.

"Pray keep your seat," said he. "You have no cause to trouble about your men. They have already been provided for. It is astonishing with these stone floors how little one can hear what goes on beneath. You have been relieved of your command, and have now only to think of yourself. May I ask what your name is?"

"I am Capt. Baumgarten, of the Twenty-fourth Posen regiment."

"Your French is excellent, though you incline, like most of your countrymen, to turn the p into a b. I have been amused to hear them cry: 'Avez bitie sur moi!' You know, doubtless, who it is who addresses you?"

"The count of Chateau Noir."

"Precisely. It would have been a misfortune if you had visited my chateau and I had been unable to have a word with you. I have had to do with many German soldiers, but never with an officer before. I have much to talk to you about."

Capt. Baumgarten sat still in his chair. Brave as he was there was something in this man's manner which made his skin creep with apprehension. His eyes glanced to right and to left, but his weapons were gone, and in a struggle he saw that he was but a child with this gigantic adversary. The count had picked up the claret bottle and held it to the light.

"Tut! Tut!" said he. "And was this the best that Pierre could do for you? I am ashamed to look you in the face. Capt. Baumgarten, we must improve upon this."

He blew a call upon a whistle which hung from his shooting-jacket. The old man servant was in the room in an instant.

"Chamberlin from Bin fifteen," he cried, and a minute later a grey bottle, streaked with cobwebs, was carried in as a nurse bears an infant. The count filled two glasses to the brim.

"Drink," said he. "It is the very best in my cellars, and not to be matched between Rome and Paris. Drink, sir, and be happy! There are cold joints below. There are two lobsters fresh from Honfleur. Will you not venture upon a second and more savory supper?"

The German officer shook his head. He drained his glass, however, and his host filled it once more, pressing him to give an order for this or that dainty.

"There is nothing in my house which is not at your disposal. You have but to say the word. Well, then, you will allow me to tell you a story while you drink your wine. I have so longed to tell it to some German officer. It is about my son, my only child Eustace, who was taken and died in escaping. It is a curious little story, and I think I can promise you that you never will forget it.

"You must know then, that my boy was in the artillery, a fine young fellow, Capt. Baumgarten, and the pride of his mother. She died within a week of the news of his death reaching us. It was brought by a brother officer who was at his side throughout, and who escaped while my lad died. I want to tell you all that he told me.

"Eustace was taken at Weissenburg on the 4th of August. The prisoners were broken up into parties and sent back into Germany by different routes. Eustace was taken upon the fifth to a village called Lauterburg, where he met with kindness from the German officer in command. This good colonel had the hungry lad to supper, offered him the best he had, opened a bottle of good wine, as I have tried to do for you, and gave him a cigar from his own case. Might I entreat you to take one from mine?"

The German again shook his head. His horror of his companion had increased as he sat watching the lips that smiled, and the eyes that glared.

"The colonel, as I say, was good to my boy. But unluckily, the prisoners were moved next day across the Rhine to Ettlingen. They were not equally fortunate then.

"The officer who guarded them was a ruffian and villain, Capt. Baumgarten. He took a pleasure in humiliating and ill treating the brave men who had fallen into his power. That night, upon my son answering fiercely back to some taunt of his, he struck him in the eye like this."

The crash of the blow rang through the hall. The German's face fell forward, his hand up, and blood oozing through his fingers. The count settled down in his chair once more. "My boy was disfigured by the blow, and this villain made his appearance the object of his jeers. By the way, you look a little comical yourself at the present moment, captain, and your colonel would certainly say that you had been getting into mischief. To continue, however, my boy's youth and his destitution—for his pockets were empty—moved the pity of a kind-hearted major and he advanced him ten napoleons from his own pocket without security of any kind. Into your hands, Capt. Baumgarten, I return these ten gold pieces, since I cannot learn the name of the lender. I am grateful from my heart for this kindness shown to my boy.

"The vile tyrant who commanded the escort accompanied the prisoners to Durlach, and from there to Carlsruhe. He heaped every outrage upon my lad, because the spirit of the Chateaux-Noirs would not stoop to turn away his wrath by a feigned submission. Aye, this cowardly villain, whose heart's blood shall still clot upon this hand, dared to strike my son with his open hand, to kick him, to tear hairs from his mustache—to use him thus—and thus——and thus!"

The German writhed and struggled. He was helpless in the hands of this huge giant, whose blows were raining upon him. When at last, blinded and half senseless, he staggered to his feet it was only to be hurled back again into the great oaken chair. He sobbed in his impotent anger and shame.

"My boy was frequently moved to tears by the humiliation of his position," continued the count. "You will understand when I say that it is a bitter thing to be helpless in the hands of an insolent and remorseless enemy. On arriving at Carlsruhe, however, his face, which had been wounded by the brutality of his guard, was bound up by a young Bavarian subaltern, who was touched by his appearance. I regret to see that your eye is bleeding so. Will you permit me to bind it with my silk handkerchief?"

He leaned forward, but the German dashed his hand aside. "I am in your power, you monster!" he cried. "I can endure your brutality, but not your hypocrisy."

The count shrugged his shoulders. "I am taking things in their order, just as they occurred," said he. "I was under vow to tell it to the first German officer with whom I could talk tete-a-tete. Let me see, I had got so far as the young Bavarian at Carlsruhe. I regret extremely that you will not permit me to use such slight skill in surgery as I possess. At Carlsruhe my lad was shut up in the old caserne, where he remained for a fortnight. The worst pang of his captivity was that some unmannerly curs in the garrison would taunt him with his position as he sat by his window in the evening. That reminds me, captain, that you are not quite situated upon a bed of roses yourself, are you now? You came to trap a wolf, my man, and now the beast has you down with his fangs in your throat. A family man, too, I should judge, by the well-filled tunic. Well, a widow the more will make little matter, and they do not usually remain widows long. Get back into the chair, you dog!

"Well, to continue my story, at the end of a fortnight my son and his friend escaped. I need not trouble you with the dangers which they ran or the privations which they endured. Suffice it to say that to disguise themselves they had to take the clothes of two peasants, whom they waylaid in a wood. Hiding by day and traveling by night, they had got as far into France as Remilly, and were within a mile—a single mile, captain—of crossing the German lines, when a patrol of Uhlans came right upon them. Oh, it was hard, was it not, when they had come so far and were so near to safety!" The count blew a double call upon his whistle, and three hard faced peasants entered the room.

"These must represent my Uhlans," said he. "Well, then, the captain in command, finding that these men were French soldiers in civilian dress within the German lines, proceeded to hang them without trial or ceremony I think, Jean, that the center beam is the shortest."

The unfortunate soldier was dragged from his chair to where a noosed rope had been flung over one of the huge oaken rafters which spanned the room. The cord was slipped over his head, and he felt its harsh grip round his throat. The three peasants seized the other end, and looked to the count for his orders.

The officer, pale but firm, folded his arms and stared defiantly at the man who tortured him.

"You are now face to face with death, and I perceive from your lips that you are praying. My son was also face to face with death and he prayed also. It happened that a general officer came up and he heard the lad praying for his mother, and it moved him so—he being himself a father—that he ordered his Uhlans away and he remained with his aide de camp only beside the condemned man. And when he heard all the lad had to tell, that he was the only child of an old family, and that his mother [illegible] failing health, he threw off the rope as I throw off this, and he kissed him on either cheek as I kiss you, and he bade him go as I bid you go, and may every kind wish of that noble general, though it could not stave off the fever which slew my son, descend now upon your head."

And so it was that Capt. Baumgarten, disfigured, blinded and bleeding, staggered out into the wind and the rain of that wild December dawn.

ALMOST A SENSATION.

Fate of a Man Who Didn't Believe a Baby Had Three Teeth.

He is very prominent in business circles, is this friend of the Gleaner, and a very busy man; but he finds time occasionally to get acquainted with his clerks, and even chat with them occasionally. One of his bright young men, finding himself favored with a few words from the boss the other day sought to make the most of the opportunity by introducing domestic affairs. Now the most important factor in the bright young man's domestic affairs just now is a new baby, and this baby was lugged into the chat with the boss, and the important information imparted by the fond father that the little one had three new teeth.

"How old did you say it was?" asked the employer, assuming great interest in the case.

"Five months, sir," was the reply.

"Oh, come, now, Ed; that won't do. Five-months-old babies don't have teeth. You must be mistaken about the age."

"No, I'm not, sir. I guess I ought to know."

Then followed an animated conversation in which the employer endeavored to impress upon the employe that it was an utter impossibility for a five-months-old child to have three teeth, while the fond young father insisted that it was his child and he ought to know. The controversy concluded by the employer dismissing the subject with the remark: "You may be right about the child's age, but you must be wrong about the teeth."

Having thus indulged in a little sociability the employer thought no more of the matter. Not so the fond father. He didn't feel good over what had passed, especially as a number of his fellow-employes had heard the debate. On going home at the close of the day's work he told his wife of the discussion, and she, like the fretful porcupine, had all quills set instantly. "I'll prove it to him," she muttered that night just before going to sleep.

Next day the big business man's wife called on him with a lady friend, and the two ladies were sitting in the private office chatting with the big business man when the office boy announced:

"A lady with a baby to see you, sir."

Before anything could be said she walked right in, and, without noticing the ladies, she said:

"Here's my baby, Mr. Blank. I am its mother, and I know it is just five months and three days old."

Then she grabbed the astonished man's hand, and, thrusting one finger into the infant's mouth, she continued: "Feel the teeth? There are three of 'em. So there, now!"

He felt, and then it dawned on him who she was and why she had brought her baby to his private office.

But it was different with his aristocratic wife and her female friend. The former gave just a little scream and then started to faint. The latter said, in a cold, hard voice:

"Be calm, Jane. Control yourself."

Then began an explanation, it being necessary to call in the baby's father to prove himself and testify to the controversy of the previous day. When the tangle was all untangled the baby was made much of. But the big business man shivered all the rest of the day over his narrow escape from being the central figure in a great sensation.—Detroit Free Press.

Trouble Caused by a Parrot.

Constable A. R. Taylor, of Columbus, O., is angry at a parrot which is rapidly alienating his wife's affections. He took the bird on an attachment at a house owned by a woman known to her friends as "Lottie," and where the surroundings were not elevating. The bird mixed the names of "Lottie" and Mr. Taylor in a manner which is proving extremely offensive to Mrs. Taylor, and the domestic relations in the Taylor household are becoming more and more strained in consequence.

Had Not Grown Cold.

Wife—We've been married now for more than three years. Do you know, John, before our wedding I feared sometimes that when I lost all my beauty and grew old and withered you might cease to love me.

Husband—But you see you were mistaken, my dear, as I love you just as much as I ever did.—N. Y. Advertiser.

The Prefix "Un."

"Are you married or single?" said a school director to an applicant for a teacher's place.

"I've been unmarried, sir."

"Eh, what's that?" asked the director, mystified by the construction of the sentence.

"In other words, I've been divorced."—Judge.

A Superior Hand at the Game.

Footpad Jim—So you'se held up dat guy I just saw comin' down this dark street, did you? Who was he?

Sandbag Charlie—He was a ward politician.

Footpad Jim (promptly)—How much did he take from you?—Chicago Record.

Fashionable Philanthropy.

Englishman—Why is it you Hamericans copy the Hinglish?

American—We are in hopes you Englishmen will see how it looks, and get disgusted with yourselves.—N. Y. Weekly.

In Gotham.

Uncle Forecorners (who has just returned from a visit to New York)—Down ter yer Cousin Tiptop's they hev a little pair o' silver tongs ter pick up the sugar with ef yer fingers are dirty.

FACTS FOR FARMERS.

It is claimed that five times as much fruit of the first-class quality was yielded by seckel pear trees at the New York station that were sprayed twice after blossoming, as by the unsprayed. The bordeaux mixture was used to prevent pear scab.

If the farmer had something to sell every month in the year, either of crops or stock, he would find it less difficult to manage on a limited capital. Cows and poultry bring in daily returns, and farmers who make a specialty of milk, butter and eggs are usually prosperous.

It has been demonstrated during the year that one bushel of wheat will make 13 pounds of pork. Allowing five cents per pound for the pork, the wheat will return 65 cents per bushel. The item of manure must be considered also, as it should more than pay for the labor.

Ewes whose lambs are weaned late in the fall are not so liable to udder troubles as when the feed is rank and abundant. If it be necessary to wean ewes in large milk, see to it that they have poor feed for a week, and milk them two or three times, 48 hours apart.

The yearly growth of 50 apple trees upon an acre of ground is worth $50, at a very low estimate. At bearing age a good tree will make a good dividend upon such a value. Considering the earning power of an acre, the orchard should be given credit for more worth than is usually the case.

Fruit growing promises a good reward in the near future. An increasing export demand affords a market for selected products. Evaporation is a recognized auxiliary, and affords an outlet for the sulphusage and the defective fruit. Horticulture is not extending as rapidly as our increase in population.

The Indiana experiment station finds that, other things being equal, steers fed on cut clover hay will make a better growth than those fed on the whole hay, and in their experiment of 100 days the grain was nearly two per cent. A slight amount of exercise was found beneficial during the fattening process.

PERSONAL AND LITERARY.

Mr. Edison says: "Our present patent laws, which, as interpreted by the courts, encourage perjury and put a premium on fraud, are worse than a farce."

The pope is not overcareful of his health. He has a habit of getting up in the middle of the night, putting on a large flannel gown and sitting down at his desk to write.

Prof. Cesare Lumbroso, who advises that children and youths of habitual criminal tendencies be isolated as lunatics, says there is scarcely a child who does not abuse his power over those who are weaker than he.

George Moore, a working miner of Grand Ronde, Wash., will celebrate his 102d birthday on December 20. He is in perfect health, and does as good a day's work at his placer as many of the younger miners.

Senator Sherman has outlived all but one of the men who were his rivals in the convention of 1880. Of that great army—Grant, Blaine, Windom, Garfield, Elihu B. Washburn and Edmunds—Edmunds alone survives.

An old lady of 85, known as Mme. Brice, recently died in Paris and left her entire fortune to her two women servants. As she died possessed of over $120,000, the heiresses feel convinced that they also serve who only stand and wait.

John Russell Young, of Philadelphia, is collecting material for a life of Gen. Grant, which he frequently promised the latter he would write. Mr. Young is now traveling in the west seeking data and will extend his trip into Mexico.

Some one with a taste for figures has noticed the fact that Miss Braddon, the novelist, has in the 33 years since she began to write produced just 60 romances. Each of them is in three volumes, making 180 in all. She has, therefore, made copy enough for six printed pages on each day in all these years.

THINGS TO THINK OF.

There are 4,500 species of bees.

Tall persons enjoy greater longevity than small ones.

Young snails come from their eggs with a shell upon their backs.

The population of the earth doubles itself in 265 years.

A single nerve, the pneumogastric, supplies the heart, lungs, stomach and bowels.

A certain sign of death is when the temperature of the body in the armpits is 68 degrees.

The making of lucifer matches is a state monopoly in France, Spain, Portugal, Italy, Greece, Roumania and Servia.

The muscle of the calf of the leg has been found, when removed from a dead body, to be capable of sustaining a weight equal to seven times the weight of the entire body.

A bit of borax, the size of a small pea, allowed to dissolve in the mouth, will remove hoarseness for a considerable time, and is very useful for those who have to sing or speak in public.

ARMY AND NAVY.

There is but one military company in existence in South Idaho. The town of Caldwell is talking just now of organizing a second.

Trinity almshouse at Mile End, a picturesque group of buildings erected by Sir Christopher Wren 200 years ago, are threatened with destruction, as the admiralty wants the ground for other purposes.

Two Russian battle ships, the Rurik and the Dimitri Donskoi, on their way to the Mediterranean put into Portsmouth harbor recently, being the first Russian vessels to whom the privilege had been allowed in over a quarter of a century.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Herbert H. Shutt, of Leland avenue, is putting a two-story extension on his house.

—Goodwill Lodge, No. 101, Knights of Pythias, of Scotch Plains, meets tomorrow night.

—Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner pill; assist digestion, cure headache. 25 cents.

—It is probable that the Bird-Johnson collectorship contest will be argued by brief.

—Ivanhoe Council, No. 1074, American Honor, met last evening and transacted routine business.

—William Van Horn and family, have moved from Richmond and East Third street to Manning avenue.

—The funeral of Mrs. T. E. H. Curtis will be held from her late home at 511 West Eighth street tomorrow evening at eight o'clock.

—Justice Newcorn issued summons yesterday in the landlord and tenant case of Kimball against Rowley, which is returnable February 24th.

—A delegation from Incas Tribe, No. 143, I. O. R. M., will pay a fraternal visit to Miantonomoh Tribe, No. 118, I. O. R. M. Friday night.

—A choir of native African singers will sing in English and in their native tongues at an entertainment to be given at Y. M. C. A. hall on February 22nd.

—A party of young people from Dunellen, North Plainfield and Plainfield are planning a skating party for tonight. They will probably go to New Market pond.

—The Lehigh Valley railroad for about one-quarter of a mile each side of the South Plainfield station, is now lighted by electric lights which are placed on the telegraph poles.

—Drive out the impurities from your blood and build up your system by creating an appetite and toning the stomach with Hood's Sarsaparilla, if you would keep yourself well.

—Garret Q. Packer, the furniture dealer, is making very heavy reductions on odds and ends of stock, preparatory to moving. Some are going as low as 50 per cent of their value.

—Those who are to take part in the minstrel show to be given by the Crescent Wheelmen will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Runyon, East Fourth street, this evening.

—The one hundred and second Westfield Township report, which will be published to-morrow, will contain the largest list of delinquent taxpayers known in the history of the township.

—The First National directors met yesterday and passed resolutions of condolence on the death of the late Daniel Dodge Fitz Randolph, who was also a director. They will be published in a few days

Mrs. W. H. Griffin, of Washington avenue, is quite ill with the grip.

Jack Chandor, of the American liner St. Paul, is visiting at his home on East Fifth street.

Elston Leonard, the Plainfield theatrical critic for the Dramatic Mirror, is now a member of the News staff.

Mrs. H. F. Bower, of 169 East Front street, has been called to Somerville by the illness of her sister, Mrs. Geo. K. Henry.

Charles Latourette, of this city, has received a position with the Postal Telegraph Company and will take charge of a new office at Port Jervis, N. Y.

Councilmen Schutt, Lounsbury and Howell, of the borough, audited the books of Tax Collector H. N. Spencer, last evening and found them correct in every particular.

Mr. Reynolds, chief clerk to Superintendent C. G. Cochrane, of the Postal telegraph company, was in this city yesterday inspecting the company's office, which is under the management of W. E. Martin.

S. P. Brown, of Dunellen, and brother of Miss Mary Brown, of East Fourth street, has been changed from a local run on the Central railroad to a through train from Jersey City to Easton, with the idea of his learning the road for promotion.

Benefits of Lying

Yeast—I saw that old maid in front of you at the performance take off her hat. How did you manage that?

Crimsonbeak—Why, I remarked to my wife, loud enough to have the old hen hear me, that it was a shame for mothers to compel their young daughters to wear such old-looking hats.—Yonkers Statesman.

Horse Raising in Texas.

Kentuckian—In my fertile state, if you leave a horse over night in a newly-mown field, in the morning the grass will have grown over his hoofs.

Texan—In my state, if you leave a horse in a field over night, you will not be able to find him at all next morning.—Tammany Times.

A Realistic Thought.

Manager—You want to put a little realism into it, Miss Footlites. Think of something you can hardly hope for, that would make you very happy indeed.

Miss Footlites—All right. I'll think of those four weeks' back salary you owe me.—Puck.

ANITA.

She's a pretty puss in boots,
With a saucy name that suits
Every glance.
Is it whispered, is it sung,
Still it ripples on the tongue
In a dance.

Oh, she walks so pit-a-pat,
And she talks of this and that Such a way,
Just to watch her witching blush
Even Socrates would hush
Half a day.

She is not an angel: no!
They are out o' place below,
Let us grieve.
Yet perchance there is a wing
Hid beneath that puffy thing
Styled a sleeve.

Her singing makes me think
Of a tricksy bobolink
All delight,
With his silver strain aflow
Where the apple blossoms blow
Pink and white.

Like a wild rose, newly born,
Bursting into bloom at morn,
Dew agleam,
So entrancing is her smile,
Lo, it haunts me all the while
In a dream.

—Samuel Minturn Peck, in Century.

RACE FOR A BRIDE.

IT was in those days when Sharp's island, which divides the mouth of the Choptank and the Chesapeake bay, was the site of three large farms of more than four hundred acres. But the ceaseless roll of the tides of the bay and river on the two sides and the numerous ice gorges of the northern rivers of the bay have caused the island to be worn away to a mere shadow of its former self.

The lighthouse, which is now more than a half-mile away from the northern end of the island, was then on solid ground, one hundred or two hundred yards from the water. But the Choptank has not been changed.

It is still one of the most picturesque rivers in the state. In fact, it puts one more in mind of the interior of a West Indian island than that of a middle Atlantic state. The growth of vegetation is so luxuriant and dense that in some cases it is with great difficulty that passage is made in going through the woods which line its bank. The water is of a beautiful dark blue and has that freshness and saltness of air about it which is only possessed by the ocean itself.

On this particular day the sky was radiant with flooded sunshine, and a gentle breeze was blowing redolent with summer's fragrances. There was a delightful calmness on the river and bay, which persuaded one to spend his time in idly dreaming. A number of fishermen were indulging in this occupation under the shady trees after several hours of sport. Suddenly from one end of the island came a swiftly-rowed boat, in which were a number of young people, steered by a benevolent and elderly-looking man. Closely following, and seemingly in pursuit of it, came a second boat, streered by a middle-aged man, and propelled by two sturdy young men.

"Well! If there ain't Nellie Barnes and Dick Wilson running away to get married!" exclaimed one of the fishermen.

"And there goes old man Roche, Nellie's stepfather, in pursuit. Now, won't Rome howl?"

"I bet on the lovely bride!"

"And I on the stern parent!"

"Come, boys, come! Jump into the boat and let's see the fun out."

Dick Wilson's father had died some years ago, and left his son a fine farm of one hundred and fifty acres. Adjoining the Wilson farm was that of John Roche. For years there had been bad blood between the neighbors. It was all on account of a point of land projecting into the Choptank. Both Wilson and Roche claimed it, and when it was taken to law, it was decided in favor of Wilson. About two years ago Roche married a pretty widow named Barnes. She had a daughter whose name was Nellie. It was love on the first sight when Dick and Nellie accidentally met in the church on the mainland. From that time on the affection grew stronger. They fondly thought that no one knew it but themselves, but they were mistaken, for

THE GOOD PARSON SAT IN THE STERN.

Mr. Roche had seen it at the very start, and tried by every means to keep them separated.

But love will always find a way.

Dick and Nellie put their heads together one Sunday at church and agreed to run away and get married on the sly. And what was more fortunate for them was the fact that the good parson of the church resided on the island and was in full sympathy with the young couple.

The expectant bride was seated beside her betrothed, near the middle of the foremost boat. She was a sprightly, beautiful, black-eyed young woman, whose cheeks rivaled the peach in their color. There was a world of mischief lurking near her pretty mouth. But to-day her cheeks were pale with apprehension and her smiles were sad.

The expectant groom was a stalwart and resolute young man. His mouth was concealed from view by a very heavy mustache. And as he sat in the boat he looked straight ahead.

He seemed perfectly cool, and ever and anon, by means of a large bundle which held the all-important veil and wreath, tried to assure and comfort Nellie with numerous squeezes of the hand and endearing words, which he fondly thought were not seen. But such was not the case. For the giggling, sharp-eyed bridesmaids, who were seated in the bow of the boat, discovered them. They revealed their knowledge by numerous outbursts of laughter in the intervals left from charming the young rowers by their conversation.

The good parson was the elderly man, and he it was who would tie the knot. He sat in the stern, steering with studied precision.

And as the second boat approached, Mr. Roche arose from his seat, and cried, with a string of oaths:

"What do you mean, Dick Wilson, by stealing my girl?"

"I'm not stealing her," Dick replied. "She comes of her own free will, and with her mother's consent. You've nothing against me in reason, and, besides, she's of age."

This was followed by outbursts of laughter and hurrahs from the boys in the boat. The only thing Mr. Roche did was to glare and swear. After recovering himself, he finally said:

"I have this against you, that you're your father's son, and you'll not have Nell. I'm the head of the house. Come out of that boat, Nell, or I'll shoot."

At these words he leveled a shotgun at Dick. Nellie screamed with terror. "Oh! Dick, let me go to him or he will kill you!"

"He'd like to, no doubt," said Dick, "but he's afraid of shooting the rest, and, besides, he's too much of a coward. Do you think I'll give you up, darling, with the happiness that will be ours so near!" The last sentence was uttered to her alone, but the party heard the rest, and cheered him as before. But though they laughed, they did not cease rowing. Yet, they did not increase their lead, for the Roche boys pulled as lustily as ever.

"Once more I say stop and give her up or I'll fire in another minute," roared Roche again.

What the issue might have been it is impossible to say, but in their excitement neither party had paid any attention—at least the Roches had not—to the fishermen's boat. For, just as his sons had by extraordinary efforts almost touched the bridal boat, his boat dashed plump against their prow and overturned their craft in a second.

THE GOOD PARSON COMMENCED THE CEREMONY.

"Now's our chance," cried Dick, and away they sped.

Meanwhile Roche and his sons, who all swam like fish, showered angry imprecations upon the awkward fishermen. The latter apologized profusely, and helped to right the boat. They had no idea but what they could pass between the boats; just did it for a lark, etc. Roche threatened dire vengeance on all of them, but his gun was now tranquilly reposing on the white sands, twenty feet below. There was no time to be lost, since the fugitives were now nearly across, and Roche and his party soon left the fishermen far behind.

The bridal party saw them coming, and their triumph bade fair to be short-lived. However, the parson took the dilemma by the horns.

"Children," said he, "it's an irregular thing to do, though perfectly legal; but I propose to marry you right here and now. That old fellow will not be ten minutes behind us when we reach the shore, and, besides, those boys have pistols."

"Oh, parson, you surely would not spoil a wedding like that," said the younger bridesmaid.

"My dear, I can bind their hearts and hands just as firmly under this blue sky as in the most holy church ever built."

So Nellie was assisted to arise and was helped in her efforts by the steadying arm of Dick. As she stood in the middle of the boat, under the clear sky, she made a demure-looking bride. The roses came back to her cheeks, and she was herself once more.

As the good parson commenced the ceremony, one of the bridesmaids managed to put the wreath and veil upon Nellie. Although it was somewhat ruffled, it made quite a pretty appearance. The parson afterwards remarked that it was the shortest marriage ceremony in his experience. When they reached the shore a carriage was waiting there before the church in which the ceremony was to have taken place. It was a work of a few moments to go into the carriage and drive to the steamer, which was about to leave.

Just as the steamer pulled out, Mr. Roche and his sons, looking a little the worse for wear from their bath, struggled up from the beach. They were just in time to see Nellie waving her handkerchief from the lower deck.

And the race for the bride had been won.—St. Louis Republic.

The Telephone's Rival.

Twynn—Telephones are the most expensive things ever contrived to talk through.

Triplett—I don't know about that. My wife talks through a forty dollar hat, and gets a new one three times a year.

No Male Friend of Hers.

Mrs. Amsterdam—When I hired you, you said you didn't have any male friends, and now I find a colored man in the kitchen more than half the time.

Matilda Snowball—Why, ma'am, bress your soul, dat man ain't no male fren' ob mine; no indeedy, he ain't no male fren'.

Mrs. A.—Who is he then?

Matilda—Huh, dat man's only my husban'.—Texas Siftings.

A Lightning Phonographer.

Business Man—Can you write shorthand?

Applicant—Yes, sir.

"How many words a minute?"

"I never counted 'em; but the other day, when my wife found in my overcoat pocket a letter which she gave me to mail last fall, I took down every word she uttered as fast as she said them."

"You'll do."—Golden Days.

Wise Man.

"Who was the wisest of the wise?"
The teacher asked, and then
His stupid pupils he observed
With fierce and threatening ken.
A little fellow raised his hand—
"'Twas Noah, sir," he explained.
"Why?" "'Cause," he answered, prompt and clear,
"He went in when it rained."

How Are Your Kidneys?

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills

are endorsed by physicians and druggists. They cause the kidneys to filter all uric acid and other poisons or impurities from the blood

Cure Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Anaemia, Pimples, Bad Blood, Bright's Disease, Malaria, Backache, Kidney Pains, Dropsy, Pain in the Abdomen, Frequent Urination, Inflammation of Kidneys, etc.

"They Seem to Hit the Right Spot."

Your favored kidney pills have arrived just in time, as I had a case of kidney trouble and commenced the pills right away, and in three days there was a big improvment. I intend keeping them on hand from this time on. I can cheerfully recommend them to all. They seem to hit the right spot. I think my patient will be all well in a short time. Dr. W. D. Smith, Calistoga, Cal.

Fifty cents a box. A Valuable Book Mailed free Hobbs Medicine Co., Chicago or San Francisco.

Van Emburgh & SON.

Corner Store, Babcock Building.

We work for the GOOD WILL as well as the patronage of our customers.

Our prices are plain blunt arguments.

New Spring Flannelettes, 10c. yd.
Spring colors in Figured Valours, 12c yd.
New Mourning Sateens, 12c yd.
New spring figured Cambrics, 12c yard.
We are the people for nice Outings, 10c. yd.
Boys' Derby Ribbed Hose, 10c., 15c., 18c. pair.
Plain colors, Windsor Ties 10c.
Extra Wind Windsor Ties. 25c.
Extra size Windsor Ties, (hemstitched, 50c. each.
Our Corset Covers are selling at 15c, 19c, 25c, 30c, 42c, 54c, 59c, 72c, 89c each.
P. N. Corsets, perfect fit, 50c. 75c, $1.00 pair.
2 Turkish Bath Towels for 19c.
Roll Tape, all widths, 2c. each.
Attachable Corset Clasps, 5c pair.
Attachable Corset Clasps, (cork protector) 8c. pair.
Japanned Dress Steels, 5c. dozen.
Covered Dress Steels, 6c. set.
Safety Pins, all sizes, 3c. dozen.
Tooth Brushes, good ones, 5c. each
Fast Black Darning Cotton, 2c ball
Zephyr Worsted, all colors, 4c. lop
100 yards Best Spool Silk, black and colors, 7c. Spool.

Read Sheeting Muslins. Read

1	yard wide, bleached,	6c.	yard.
1 1-8	yards wide, "	6 1-2c.	"
1 1-4	" " "	7 1-2c.	"
1 1-2	" " "	11c.	"
1 3-4	" " "	13c.	"
2	" " "	14 1-2c	"
2 1-4	" " "	16c.	"
2 1-2	" " "	17 1-2c	"

VAN EMBURGH & SON,

The Annual Supper and Sale
of Monroe Avenue Chapel
will take place on Thursday, Feb. 20, 1896, from 6 to 8 o'clock. A short programme has been prepared which will take place after supper. Admission, including supper, 25c. 2 18 2

HEATH & DRAKE.

Established 1841. Newark's first-class Dry Goods House.

New Embroideries, Laces, Flouncings, etc.

Our assortment of these goods for the coming season is handsomer, more varied and complete than any we have yet shown, and embraces regular Cambric, Nainsook and Swiss Edges, Insertions and match sets in all grades and styles and a line of Exquisite Novelties which for new and original effects, exclusive and unique designs, are unsurpassed if not unequalled by any in the market.

Pretty Edgings and Embroideries Very Cheap.

A thousand lines could not tell the story any better. Great heaps of snowy Embroideries that first saw light in far off Switzerland are here.

In connection with our regular line we have purchased, direct from the manufacturers in St. Gaul, Switzerland, three large lots of Embroideries, which we will place on sale at one-third less than regular prices.

Lot 1, 4c Yd. Lot 2, 8c Yd. Lot 3, 12c Yd

The wise ones ask no questions, but take them away in huge quantities.

777 and 779 Broad Street,
Newark, N. J.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd.

EVER SEE THE "PORTLAND RANGE?"

Elastic Dollars

—we are "dollar stretchers"—we make every hundred cents do twice and sometimes thrice the work it does elsewhere—to instance:

Solid Oak Sideboard $10.50

bevelled mirror, fine make, solid and attractive in every detail—it's been marked $18.00.

Exactly like this cut, 10.50.

Bedroom Suit Flyer—

it's at a price free from extravagance—$11.75—worth every bit of $20.00, its old price!

This Solid Oak Bedroom Suit, 11.75.

Our Carpet Dept. is always awake—Ingrains, all wool, at 63c per yard—made and laid with lining, free. We have ingrains as low as 35c—all regular carpet weaves.

Buy goods NOW—we'll hold them 'til wanted—no cash needed and Deliveries made free of charge all parts of the state.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd. Note the Name "AMOS"

Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, Bedding, Etc.
Low Prices, Easy Terms
TELEPHONE 580.

73 MARKET ST. Near Plane St. NEWARK, N. J.

STILLMAN MUSIC HALL.

Rich & Maeder.....Lessees and Managers.
John Daly.....Resident Manager.

Saturday, February 22d,

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

One performance. The beautiful romantic Comedy.

The Westerner,

with its original New York cast.

An Idylic Holiday Play.

Prices 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c and $1 Seats on sale at Leggett's drug store

LAST EDITION.

THE DAILY PRESS

LAST EDITION.

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1896. TWO CENTS A COPY—$5 A YEAR

OF DEMOCRATIC INSTINCTS.

Dr. W. Hudson Shaw Interests All Sorts and Conditions of Men.

One of the great recommendations of Dr. Hudson Shaw's lectures is that they are not only of interest to cultured people, but seem to take hold of all persons alike. Thus, in England he has lectured at a Workingmen's Centre at Oldham for eight or nine successive years, with an average attendance of over one thousand. One of these students has within the last six months won a scholarship at Balliol College thus showing the advantage of the new and popular system of University Extension teaching a truly Democratic system.

As the slides with which Dr. Shaw illustrates his lecture on Venice are especially fine, his lecture here on Friday afternoon at Seminary Hall, will be of exceptional interest. He will lecture in Orange, New Jersey, on the same evening.

ANOTHER BICYCLE STORE.

A. D. Thompson's Building to Be Remodeled for Geo. H. Cobb's Use.

A. D. Thompson is making preparations to make extensive improvements in his building on North avenue now occupied by the Metropolitan livery stables. The small store on the lower side of the building and the driveway to the stable will be torn out and the whole space half way back to West Second street will be remodeled into a big store, which will be occupied by George H. Cobb as a bicycle emporium. The rear end of the building will still remain a livery stable, and if A. C. Blair does not continue to manage it, Mr. Thompson will endeavor to secure some other responsible man to continue the business.

Across The State by Trolley.

New Jersey has little to fear from the plan to cris-cross the State with a trolley line from Philadelphia to Jersey City—nothing to fear unless it be the increased steam railroad accommodations which such a local competition would of necessity bring. The proposed line of the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company would pass through Trenton, Princeton, New Brunswick, Plainfield, Elizabeth and Newark and would tap the shore and the neighborhood about Paterson with branch lines from Monmouth Junction. The Trenton Company has gained the rights through Princeton and the New Brunswick Company proposes to extend its lines to Perth Amboy and to Bound Brook. At Dunellen the Plainfield Company will meet it and go along the Union County road to Elizabeth. Elizabeth, Newark and Jersey City are already connected. When these plans are completed, the entire State will be girdled by a working system.—New York Press.

The Newest Women.

A very novel club has recently been organized at New Market, composed entirely of women. They have adopted the name "The Newest Women," and the objects of the club are for the advancement of everything that the name implies. At present the membership is limited to a few, but there is no doubt others will join. They meet at the home of the members, and a meeting was held yesterday afternoon at New Market. Among the members are Miss Addie Weaver and Miss Etta Raybert, of this city. The young club gives promise of being a flourishing one, both socially and financially.

Monument to Washington.

The Scandinavian residents of Perth Amboy have erected a monument to Washington. February 22d, Washington's Birthday, the unique monument will be unveiled in the Public Square at Perth Amboy. It is intended as a tribute to American freedom and independence and as a pledge of loyalty to American institutions by Scandinavians who work in the terra cotta works.

Amateur Actors Preparing.

Great progress is being made by the members of the dramatic association of the Plainfield Catholic Club in preparing for their new drama, "Shamrock and Rose," which is to be given at Music Hall next month. The rehearsals are being held every Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Jumped The Track.

An engine attached to a coal train jumped the track at Bound Brook this morning at about three o'clock. Very little damage resulted. All of the east bound early morning trains were delayed some time. The 7:53 train was seven minutes late.

Our people are growing more and more in the habit of looking to Reynolds' pharmacy for the latest and best of everything in the drug line. They sell Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds, croup and whooping cough. When in need of such a medicine give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result.

THREE HOME WEDDINGS.

TWO WERE IN THIS CITY AND ONE IN ROSELLE.

But the Grooms Were All From Plainfield—All Were Quiet Events—The Names of The Bridal Parties and Guests

A very pretty home wedding took place last evening when Miss Maggie Page, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Page, of Elmwood place, and George E. Firstbrook, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Firstbrook, of Essex street, were united in marriage by Rev. G. Kennedy Newell, pastor of Hope chapel.

The bride wore a traveling gown of blue serge cloth, trimmed with velvet and hat to match. Alex. Muir acted as best man. There was no bridesmaid. After the ceremony refreshments were served and Mr. and Mrs. Firstbrook left later for a trip through Conneticut and Massachusetts. They will return in about two weeks and reside at the home of the bride's parents.

Many useful and handsome presents were received, including a dinner and tea set, silver ware, lamp, berry set, porcelaine clock and cut glassware. A beautiful gift was a pair of vases with the pictures of the bride and groom adorning the front.

Those present included the families of the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Page, Harry Page, Mr. and Mrs. George Firstbrook and family, Miss Lizzie Firstbrook, and Rev. Mr. and Mrs. G. Kennedy Newell.

The groom has an excellent position as traveling salesman for William H. Spowers & Co., of New York, dealers in iron and steel.

Mr. and Mrs. Firstbrook have the best wishes of a large number of friends and acquaintances for a happy and prosperous journey through life

The marriage of Miss Sarah C. Johnson, daughter of Peter C. Johnson, and Bertram E. Mundy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Mundy, of Ninth street and Arlington avenue, took place last evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride, on Plainfield avenue. Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes performed the ceremony in the presence of only the immediate families. Miss Mary E. Johnson, sister of the bride, who celebrated the anniversary of her birthday yesterday, was bridemaid, and George H. Rockfellow was best man. The bride wore a traveling gown and a hat to match. Supper was served after the ceremony and the bride and groom left on the 10:17 train for a short bridal tour. On their return they will reside with Mr. Mundy's parents for awhile previous to going to housekeeping. They received a large number of choice presents from their many friends.

Miss May Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Cummings, of Roselle, was united in marriage to Charles Taynor, of Chatham street, yesterday afternoon at four o'clock at the home of the bride's parents.

Rev. Mr. McCrea, pastor of the Roselle M. E. church, performed the ceremony.

Miss Alice Wenz, of Elizabeth, and Miss Helen Banister, of Cranford, were the bridemaids, while Fred and William Cummings, brothers of the groom, acted as best men.

The bride wore a gown of white cashmere trimmed with lace and ribbon. The bridemaids were gowned in the same material. An excellent supper was served after the ceremony.

A choice collection of handsome wedding presents were received. Mr. and Mrs. Taynor returned to Plainfield last evening and will reside at Mr. Taynor's home on Chatham street.

Those present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Coombs, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Adams and family, Mrs. Devine, John Devine, Misses Taynor, Plainfield; Mrs. Carlisle, Mrs. Rupp and daughter, Mendam; Mrs. Helen Guerion and son, Mrs. Parcell, Morristown; Mrs. Thompson, Somerville; Mrs. Anna Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Wenz, Misses McCloud, Elizabeth; Mr. and Mrs. Wenz and daughter Union; Mrs. Banister and daughter, Fred Frost, Cranford; Mr. and Mrs. Turner, Misses Woodruff, Miss Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and daughter, Leon Swick, Miss Hattie Swick, Roselle; Mr. and Mrs. Day, Mr. and Mrs. Quimby, Mr. and Mrs. Carleton, Newark.

Registered Drug Clerk Now.

Frank Fulton, who has been a clerk in Howard Leggett's drug store for the past four years, received word this morning from the New York City Board of Pharmacy that he had successfully passed an examination last week Monday which entitles him to practice in New York State.

—The North Plainfield Township Committee have audited the books of Township Collector H. N. Spencer and report that they are correct.

MRS. ROCHE SAW THE SIGHTS.

A Plainfield Woman's Sunday Experiences in Brooklyn.

Mrs. Mary Roche, of Plainfield, N. J., visited her brother in Jackson avenue, Long Island City, on Saturday. While there on Sunday afternoon Robert Wallace, a friend of the brother, called. Wallace expressed a wish to take Mrs. Roche out and show her the sights in Brooklyn. They called at several saloons. When they got to North Third street and Bedford avenue Mrs. Roche became drowsy. Wallace took her into the house of Mrs. Carrie Hunt at 183 North Third street and asked Mrs. Hunt to let her stay a while. Mrs. Roche gave her $25 gold watch and chain and $19 to Wallace. Then she fell asleep. When she wakened, Wallace had left. Mrs. Roche caused his arrest, and in the station house she became so demonstative that she was held for being drunk. Wallace gave the woman's property to the police. When the two were arraigned in the Lee Avenue Police Court Monday, Mrs. Roche withdrew the charge against Wallace, who was discharged, and the woman, on her promise to go back to Plainfield, was also discharged.—New York Sun.

G. A. R. Men to Meet at Asbury Park.

The state G. A. R. encampment has always been held at Trenton during February. Last year the encampment was held at the time of the great snow blockade. After numerous unpleasant experiences with the snow, the war veterans decided it was best to change the date. The matter was left in the hands of the Council of Administration, and the post in this city have just received notification that the encampment will be held this year at Asbury Park during the second week in June. The change promises to be a beneficial one.

Small Wreck at Bound Brook.

A small wreck occured on the Central railroad at "R K" tower, East Bound Brook, last night. The accident was caused by a bent axle, which threw the pony trucks of the engine, No. 315, off the track. Two or three loaded coal jimmies were somewhat demolished. After the engine had been put back on the track and had gone about thirty feet, she went off again. Traffic was somewhat delayed by the accident.

A Wagon Axle Broke.

As one of Rheaume's lumber wagons was passing the Climax Stopper Works on East Fourth street, Tuesday afternoon, the axle broke. Herbert Alberts, a small boy of East Fourth street, who was riding on the wagon when the accident happened, had a very narrow escape from being thrown under it. Had this occurred, he might have been seriously injured, as the wagon was heavily loaded with lumber.

Endeavorers' Day Exercises.

Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock the Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church will hold exercises appropriate to Christian Endeavor Day. Miss Currie, a mission worker in New York city, and who had charge of the Fresh-Air Work at Westfield last summer, will speak. All Endeavorers and their friends are cordially invited.

Getting Down to Work.

The next rehearsal of the Crescent Wheelmen's minstrels will be held in their clubhouse Tuesday evening. Twenty-five people will participate in the entertainment. Negotiations are now going on with Eugene Ross, of the Lyceum Theatre, of New York, looking to him for furnishing the music.

A Young Life Cut Short.

Gustave A. Sutterlin, aged twenty three years, died at the home of his parents on Greenbrook road yesterday afternoon. He has been sick for two months with consumption. His funeral will be held from his late home next Saturday afternoon.

After Effects at Bound Brook.

Bound Brook has long ago recovered its usual appearance after the flood of several weeks ago. The storekeepers have not, however, quite recovered from the effects, and special bargains of goods, slightly damaged by water, are still the thing.

Court in Session.

The criminal term of the Union County Court was convened in Elizabeth today. The list is principally of assault and battery cases. The saloon-keepers indicted for selling on Sunday will be tried on Monday

Most Stores Will Close.

The grocers and most all other merchants of the city will close at noon on Saturday, in order to give their clerks a portion of the holiday. Persons who desire to trade should do so before Saturday noon.

Fell From the Engine.

Wm. Addis, Jr., of North avenue, fell off the chemical engine yesterday afternoon when responding to the alarm yesterday. He cut his knee.

WHERE BOARD IS FREE.

And Yet No One is Ever Pleased to be a Sojourner There.

At an enormous outlay The Daily Press is today able to present to its readers a brief sketch of life as it is lived in the Union and Somerset County jails. The article is true because it is written by a man who has been "on the spot" several times at the invitations of Judges Crosley, Coddington or De Meza, and he knows whereof he talks. The writer's observations are as follows:

The Union county jail, under the management of its present warden, John C. Blore, and his estimable assistant, Matron Hook, is a picture of neatness and cleanliness. The prisoners are well fed and strict discipline is observed. The average number of prisoners in the Union county jail at present is sixty.

The Somerset county jail at Somerville, under the management of the new Sheriff, William H. H. Wyckoff, is in better sanitary condition at present than it has been in a number of years past. Sheriff Wyckoff has had new mattresses and blankets placed in each cell, and the inside is at present getting a new coat of whitewash. The cell doors and iron work has had a new coat of black paint, and the ceiling, window frames and sash are to have a coat of light paint.

The prisoners in the Somerset County jail get plenty to eat, although they only get two meals a day. Breakfast at eight o'clock and dinner at twelve, noon. The following is the bill of fare for the week:

Breakfast, bread and coffee every morning in the week. Monday Dinner, beef stew, composed of beef, potatoes and turnips, with one loaf bread; Tuesday—Dinner, soup, composed of meat and vegetables, with loaf bread; Wednesday—Dinner, bread, beans, soup and pork; Thursday—Dinner, cabbage, potatoes and onions, in stew form, with bread; Friday—Dinner, bread and bean soup; Saturday—Dinner, bread, mashed potatoes and boiled meat; Sunday—Dinner, bread and pork and beans in soup form. Any prisoner who happens to get ill can get all the medicine he wants on application to the sheriff.

There are twenty-eight prisoners confined there at the present time. Sheriff Wyckoff had measurements taken last Monday for erecting the gallows which is to hang Johnson, the negro murderer, on March 11th, 1896. The measurements are as follows: Heighth of ceiling from floor, 14½ feet; length of corridor, 41½ feet; width, 10½ feet.

Union County jail furnishes three meals a day to their prisoners. Their breakfast and supper is always the same. Breakfast, coffee and bread supper, mush and molasses.

The bill of fare for dinner is as follows: Sunday—bread, cold meat, rice and molasses, with cold water; Monday—bread, vegetable soup, meat, oat meal; Tuesday—bread and clam chowder; Wednesday—bean soup, bread and pork and oat meal; Thursday—vegetable soup, bread, meat and oat meal; Friday—fresh fish, boiled, bread, rice and molasses; Saturday, beef and vegetable soup, bread, meat and oat meal.

The prisoners are all locked in their cells during the day at Elizabeth, with the exception of about four hours, when they are allowed out in the corridors for excercise and to eat their meals. The prisoners do all the work about the institution, such as cooking the meals and scrubbing. The prisoners at Somerville are only locked up at night. During the day they enjoy themselves at playing games, singing and dancing.

An Elaborate Dinner.

R. M. Dawson, superintendent of the Prudential Insurance Company in this city, was in attendance at the annual banquet of the company to its employes at the Hotel Savoy in New York last night. There were 226 present. It was one of the most elaborate dinners ever served in New York. The menu cards was in a most unique and costly form. Each course was painted on a celluloid card and the whole enclosed in a case of like material, bound with white kid and trimmed with white satin on the interior. The menu cards cost about $12 each.

Threw Away His Canes.

Mr. D. Wiley, ex-postmaster, Black Creek, N. Y., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that he was only able to hobble around with canes, and even then it caused him great pain. After using Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was so much improved that he threw away his canes. He says this liniment did him more good than all other medicines and treatment put together. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

NEW SORT OF AN APPEAL

NOW THE FRENCH HUGUENOTS WANT HELP FROM AMERICANS.

Rev. Robert Favre, of Paris, Tells of Their Work and the Conditions That Surround Them—Other Observations.

The history of the Huguenots in France has been a sad one and it was briefly reviewed by Rev. Robert Favre, of Paris, before a small but greatly interested audience in the parlors of the Crescent Avenue church last evening.

After a few words about the close connection of France and America, he told of the terrible effects of the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes and how nearly one-fourth of the population of France was driven out and spread all over the world. Twenty thousand of them came to this country and Mr. Favre said that he was constantly meeting their descendants. "The other day in New York," he said, "I met Mr. Roosevelt, president of the police commissioners, and he said, 'I have Huguenot blood in my veins and I am proud of it. It is that which made me police commissioner.'"

He next discussed the great growth during the last century in the line of Protestant publications, educational institutions and societies. The country was, he said, still full of superstition and materialism, and he told of some ignorant people who, at the present day, still hide copies of the Fourth Gospel in their stalls to keep their horses from distemper, who apply printed prayers to the cheek to cure toothache and the like.

He said that the Huguenots are exercising a power in France all out of proportion to their numbers, and gave examples, telling of the large number of Protestants in positions of power.

He next introduced the subject of the Huguenot societies and their great work. Their first line of work is, he said, not only to convert individuals, but to establish self-supporting churches. His accounts of the efforts of the poor villagers to build chapels for themselves were listened to with great interest. He told of one instance in a country place, where a man earning only $240 a year, headed a subscription for a chapel with $100 of it and how another man, earning only thirty cents a day, gave $20 toward the same object, while others gave just as liberally. Another line of work is to visit the scattered Protestants who are almost lost among other sects.

Another part of the work is the bringing of the gospel to those that do not know anything about it. He told of the work of the evangelists and how one, who was conducting meetings in five towns, had to ride two hours on the train and two hours on his bicycle to get to different places. He gave an outline of the financial condition of the societies and how there was an annual deficit of $20,000. "A small amount in America, but a large one for us." He said that he was told that America would do nothing for France, but he did not believe that a country which gave so many millions to Africa and other places in their excellent work, would refuse to help France. He closed by reading an appeal written by Huguenot miners. After a prayer, a collection was taken up for the benefit of the work.

A Growing Council.

Next Wednesday night Lucetta Council, No. 28, Daughters of Liberty, will meet in their new quarters, the Fireman's Hall on Park avenue, at which time six new candidates will be initiated and several applications for membership will be received. The initiatory work will be done by the new team recently organized which was highly complimented for it excellent work by the State Councilor at Bound Brook several weeks ago. It is expected that several of the National and State officers and several Councils in this vicinity will be present.

New Brunswick's Suicide Identified.

The mystery of the suicide of the colored man who was found naked and frozen to death in a farmer's barn near New Brunswick Monday night, was partly solved yesterday by Rev. James Earl, superintendent of the People's Mission. He viewed the body at the morgue and identified it as that of Henry Ray. Ray, who came from Freehold, worked in the woodyard of the People's Mission a few days ago. His body was buried in the potter's field yesterday afternoon.

Beer to Be Bottled Over the Mountain.

George Stewart's property in Washingtonville was sold at an executor's sale by Auctioneer Pangborn, Tuesday afternoon. It was purchased by W. A. Stratton for $1,250. The property had been in the possession of the Stewart family for several years. Stratton expects to start a beer bottling establishment there.

AGAINST THE CIGARETTE.

Plainfield Women Corner Assemblymen And Argue With Them.

The New York Herald this morning contained the following from Trenton concerning two Plainfield women:

The Committee on Education gave a hearing yesterday afternoon on Mr. Fleming's bill, which prohibits the manufacture of cigarettes in this State. Two women were exceedingly anxious to be heard upon the subject, and after some skirmishing they succeeded in getting Messrs. Stanger, Smith and Codington of the committee in the little cubby hole, off the municipal corporation's committee room, which is allotted to the Postmaster of the House.

Assemblyman Smith, of Essex, thought that nothing would be accomplished by the measure. There was already a law on the statute books prohibiting the sale of cigarettes to all persons less than sixteen years of age, which was practically a dead letter.

Mrs. Krom, of Plainfield, who was here in the interest of the bill, at this point spoke up and said that the reason that law was not enforced was that it required the parents or guardians to bring suit against the offenders. There were two classes of parents, she said—one that did not care whether their children smoked cigarettes or not and would therefore not take the trouble to bring suit; the other, composed of those who took an interest in their children, but did not wish to bring suit against the violators of the law because of the publicity and advertising it would give the cigarettes.

Mr. Smith did not consider Mrs. Krom's argument a particularly strong one and said that the bill, if adopted, would do a great injury to those who were engaged in manufacturing cigarettes in this State.

Mr. Fleming said that there were very few persons engaged in making cigarettes in New Jersey, and the bill could not work the harm Mr. Smith feared. Mrs. Coard, of Plainfield, thought that the cigarettes ought to be tabooed in the State on account of the pictures which are given away with them, which do as much harm to the morals of the boys as the cigarettes themselves do to their health. Mr. Coard got in a slap at Elizabeth, Plainfield's rival, by declaring that the pictures were made in the former city.

After considerable discussion by the members of the committee it was resolved to report the measure favorably, after amending it so as to forbid the manufacture and sale of all kinds of cigarettes in which tobacco is used, under a penalty of $1,000 fine or one year's imprisonment, or both. The original bill only referred to paper cigarettes.

A Modern Chronicle.

And it came to pass that in the reign of Gilbert, the Good, the hyperborean ice-preserves humped themselves and swooped down on the place called Plainfield, so that the dwellers therein were sorely smitten with the shakes and the chattering of their teeth could be heard far into the land of the ungodly that dwelt in the marsh-pits of Somerville. But there was one among them who stood out in the glacial air as he were swathed in the robes of impenetrable comfort; so much so that those who were sore skaken with the ague did gather about him and beseech him to tell them whence came his exemption from the pangs of the polar pestilence. And as they besought him he transpired as with the glow of a mid-June noon, and with a tone of voice about seventy in the shade he replied—"Lo! I am never penotrated by these arctic zephers, for I am securely shielded against their attacks by the warmth inherent in the coal which I buy from George O. Stevens."

A. Vanderbeek's Condition Serious.

The many friends of A. Vanderbeek, of Third place, who has been ill for several weeks, first at his home, then at Dr. Cooley's sanitarium and now at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John J. Shotwell, College place, will be saddened to learn that his condition is very critical and very little hope is entertained of his recovery.

The little daughter of Mr. Fred Webber, Holland, Mass, had a very bad cold and cough which he had not been able to cure with any thing. I gave him a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says W. P. Holden, merchant and postmaster at West Brimfield, and the next time I saw him he said it worked like a charm. This remedy is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases such as colds, croup and whooping cough, and it is famous for its cures. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

PURIFYING THE MAILS

Proceedings To Begin Against Improper Publications.

FOUR PAPERS ALREADY ON THE LIST

The Conviction in Chicago of J. R. Dunlop Greatly Encourages the Department —Fourth-class Postal buses Also To Be Removed.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The postoffice department, seconded by the department of justice, is making an effort to cleanse the mails of "flash" newspapers, which print obviously indecent literature or advertisements. The verdict obtained in Chicago the other day against Joseph R. Dunlop, publisher of the Dispatch, has given them great encouragement. Proceedings will be directed next against the Police Gazette and Police News of New York city, a paper of corresponding character in Boston, and the Sunday Sun of Kansas City. The documentary proofs procured by postoffice inspectors have been turned over to the attorney-general for his action. Dunlop, who was sentenced to pay $2,000 fine and be imprisoned for two years, and who has appealed his case, has been thoroughly frightened, and his paper has been cleansed of every objectionable feature. He announces that hereafter he will give no cause for offense. The greatest difficulty in dealing with this sort of offenders heretofore has arisen from the reluctance of the average district-attorney to invite the enmity of "flash" editors and publishers.

TO REMEDY A POSTAL ABUSE.

A Bill in the Senate Defining Fourth Class Mail Matter.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The senate committee on postoffices has reported favorably a bill defining fourth-class mail matter as that not embraced in the first, second and third classes, which is not liable to destroy, deface or otherwise damage the contents of a mailbag or harm the person handling it, and not above four pounds in weight (except single books). The bill is the outcome of a recommendation of the postmaster-general to cure an abuse that has grown up in the executive departments of sending by mail various articles more or less bulky, which the postal authorities think should be transported by other means and charged to the department sending them.

W. H. IAMS FATALLY SHOT.

He Is the Man Who Was Drummed Out of Camp at Homestead.

Baltimore, Feb. 20.—William H. Iams, who was fatally shot here yesterday during a quarrel, is the Pennsylvania militiaman who was drummed out of camp at Homestead during the recent strike riots.

Death of Frank R. Kasper.

Pittsburg, Feb. 20.—Frank R. Kasper, for several years past night agent for the United Press at Buffalo, N. Y., and who died at the general hospital in that city at 6 o'clock last evening of purlient pericarditis, following an attack of pneumonia and pleurisy, was born in this city 38 years ago. He entered the telegraph profession in which he was widely known, having worked at various times in nearly all the large cities of the country. Mr. Kasper was justly credited with being one of the finest telegraphers in the country, while as a news gatherer he earned a reputation second to none.

Delegates to Junior Mechanic Convention.

Philadelphia, Feb. 20.—The delegates from Pennsylvania to the National Funeral Benefit Association of the Junior Order of American Mechanics have engaged accommodation at the Maltby house, Baltimore, for 150 men. The delegation will leave Philadelphia at 3:30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. New Jersey, Virginia and Delaware councils have also written for accommodations at the Maltby.

Sad Death of Miss Van Rensselaer.

New York, Feb. 20.—Miss Catherine Van Rensselaer, who died yesterday in Roosevelt hospital after an operation for appendicitis, was 21 years old and an extremely pretty brunette. She made her entree into society three years ago and at once took her place among the most charming of the year's debutantees.

Pension for Mrs Schwatka.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The house committee on pensions favorably reported senate bill giving to Ada J. Schwatka, the widow of Lieut. Frederick Schwatka, of Polar expedition fame, a pension of seventeen dollars a month, instead of thirty dollas, as provided by the senate bill.

Bought by the Lehigh Valley Road.

Philadelphia, Feb. 20.—Officials of the Lehigh Valley Railroad company state that the Elmira, Cortland & Northern railroad has been bought by the Lehigh Valley company. The purchase price could not be learned, nor could any of the terms of the sale.

Mr. Bissell at Washington.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Ex-Postmaster General Bissell yesterday afternoon paid his respects to his successor, Postmaster General Wilson, at the department. He is here for a few days on private business.

New Pension Departure.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The house pensions committee has inaugurated a new departure in agreeing to report favorably a bill restoring to the pension rolls a widow who had re-married.

Treasury Gold Reserve.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The treasury gold reserve at the opening of business to-day stood at $91,442,820.

CONNECTICUT G. A. R.

The 29th Annual Encampment Now Being Held at Norwich.

Norwich, Conn., Feb. 20.—The 29th annual encampment of the department of Connecticut, G. A. R., opened here yesterday afternoon. Commander-in-chief Ivan N. Walker of Indiana was presented to the meeting and made an informal congratulatory speech. Department commander John M. Brewer of Norwich made his annual address, in the course of which he said: "The report of the assistant adjutant generals shows a membership of 6,208, a loss of 435 over last year. Three posts have surrendered charters. This reduction in number of posts has not materially diminished our strength numerically, for members formerly belonging to such posts have joined others in this vicinity. The report of the assistant quartermaster general shows a cash balance in banks to the credit of the department of $3,635.07, a gain of $277.72 over last year. During the past year we have lost by death 121 comrades, a decrease of twenty-one from the last yearly report.

EX-GOV. ROBINSON DYING.

Cannot Survive the Sudden Stroke of Apoplexy Received Tuesday Evening.

Springfield, Mass., Feb. 20.—Ex-Gov. George D. Robinson, who was stricken with apoplexy Tuesday evening, is lying critically ill at his Chicopee home. Death may come at any time, but the doctors think he may live a few days. The news of his affliction came as a great surprise to the community. Gov. Robinson was trying a case in the superior court Tuesday afternoon and raised a point of law, which Judge Dewey took under consideration. While walking to his office from the court-room with his son, Walter S. Robinson, he became confused and acted so ill that his son summoned a carriage and took him home. Doctors were summoned, but the serious nature of the case did not appear until twenty-four hours later.

BLACKBURN MEN ANGRY.

Senator Carlisle's Letter Has Widened the Breach at Frankfort, Ky.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 20.—The supporters of Senator Blackburn, while not surprised at the tenor of Secretary Carlisle's letter declining to assist Blackburn, are very angry over the cool and deliberate rebuff they have received. The result of it is to widen the breach between the respective factions on the financial question in this state and also to intensify the animosity between the friends of the secretary of the treasury and of the present senator. The gold men are jubilant over Mr. Carlisle's course. The twenty-sixth joint ballot for senator resulted: Hunter, 60; Blackburn, 60; scattering, 6; necessary to a choice, 66.

BARTLETT-BIGELOW CASE.

Second Hearing of the Famous Breach of Promise Suit Now On.

Boston, Feb. 20.—The new trial in the famous Bartlett-Bigelow breach of promise case was begun before Judge Dunbar in the Middlesex county superior civil court yesterday afternoon. This is the second trial of this case, the first having took place in 1894, resulting in a disagreement. Miss Mary E. Bartlett, the plaintiff, seeks to recover $175,000 from the executors of the will of the late Dr. Henry J. Bigelow on the ground of breach of promise of marriage. Dr. Bigelow was for many years professor of chemical surgery at Harvard.

MORGAN'S SHARE OF THE BONDS

With Yesterday's Forfeited Award the Syndicate Captured About $38,000,000.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The award yesterday to J. P. Morgan, of the forfeited bonds, amounting to about $4,700,000, gives the syndicate about $38,000,000 of the new issue. There has been paid in on account of the bond sales $75,791,258, of which amount $56,546,324 has been covered into the treasury, leaving $19,244,934 in the banks and sub-treasuries. The treasury department does not include gold or legal tender of special depository banks in the daily statement. No gold is credited to reserve until the metal is actually delivered at the sub-treasury.

Renewed Efforts To Extradite Alice Jones.

Trenton, Feb. 20.—A representative of the district attorney's office in New York renewed his application before Gov. Griggs yesterday afternoon for a requisition for Alice Jones of Orange, N. J., who is under indictment in New York for obtaining jewelry by alleged forgery from J. B. Yates & Co. of Maiden lane. The governor said he would have to have clear proof that the accused is a fugitive from justice before granting a requisition and further consideration of the matter was postponed for a week.

Florida Fruit Not Damaged.

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 20.—Dispatches from various sections of Florida indicate that little damage has been done to the truck and fruit by the cold spell which prevailed yesterday and to-day. Very young vegetables in exposed places were nipped, but beyond this truckers and fruit growers report no injury.

Postoffice Changes.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Postmaster General Wilson has issued an order that on April 1 next the postoffices at Ayers village and East Haverhill, Mass., be consolidated with the postoffice at Haverhill, Mass., and in lieu thereof establish sub-stations at these points.

Snow Blockade at Buffalo.

Buffalo, Feb. 20.—The blizzard which struck here yesterday morning continued away into the night and piled the snow in great drifts. Railroads are badly blocked and trains from all directions are delayed.

UPRISING REPORTED

Tremendous Dynamite Explosion in a Suburb of Johannesburg.

THE UITLANDERS ARE SUSPECTED

Many Houses Blown Down and Hundreds of Windows Shattered in the Transvaal Capital—Loss of Life Feared.

Johannesburg, Feb. 20.—A large quantity of dynamite exploded at Viedendorp, a suburb of this city, last evening, wrecking hundreds of houses in the vicinity. All the windows in Johannesburg were broken by the concussion. It is feared that great loss of life was caused by the explosion and the police and inhabitants are engaged in the work of searching the ruins of the demolished buildings for bodies of victims of the disaster.

Uitlander Uprising Reported.

London, Feb. 20.—A dispatch from Johannesburg this morning says that the dynamite explosion in the suburb last night is believed to have been the work of Uitlanders, and that another uprising is in progress. The utilization of the explosives by the discontented Uitlanders was never for a moment expected. A call to arms has been issued. The Boers are swearing dire vengeance if their suspicions are verified. Bloodshed is feared, and a revolt a thousand times more dangerous than the last is imminent. Cooler heads are urging peaceful action, but it is doubtful whether their advice will be acted upon. Another dispatch says the explosion was not caused by the Uitlanders, but was caused by carelessness or other accident in a building containing a large amount of dynamite belonging to a mining company.

LUTHER'S MEMORY HONORED.

The 350th Anniversary of His Death Celebrated in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Feb. 20.—Honor and reverence to the name of Martin Luther, the great reformer, was done in the Academy of Music last night by a gathering of people that filled every available space. The celebration was a distinctively Lutheran service arranged by Lutheran churches, and the occasion was the celebration of the 350th anniversary of the death of Luther. Besides addresses by leading Lutheran ministers and religious exercises, the feature of the celebration was the singing by a choir of 200 voices of hymns of the Lutheran church. The audience joined in the singing and the union of so many voices was especially grand and impressive.

ENGLAND WILL ARBITRATE.

Resolves To Settle the Venezuelan Dispute Directly with the United States.

London, Feb. 20.—The Daily Chronicle to-day announces the actual situation between Great Britain and the United States in connection with the Venezuelan boundary difficulty thus: Great Britain is resovled to arbitrate the Venezuelan boundary dispute directly with the United States. The method to be adopted and the details of the settlement are alone under consideration. The government is being urged by persons of influence to conclude the settlement as speedily as possible.

BILL NYE SINKING.

His Physicians This Morning Say the Humorist's Case Is Hopeless.

Asheville, N. C., Feb. 20.—News from the bedside of the humorist "Bill Nye" this morning is that he is sinking. Mr. Nye's physicians say their patient's condition is such that he may live a few weeks or that he may die at almost any hour. No hopes can be entertained that he will survive long. His daughters, Misses Minnie and Bessie Nye, who have been at school in Washington, reached here yesterday and left for their father's bedside last night.

Urban Allan Myers
Windom, Kan.

Scrofula From Birth

Other Medicines Utterly Failed

But Hood's Sarsaparilla Cured.

"Some time since, our boy then four years old was in the hands of the family doctor for treatment for scrofula. He had been afflicted with this trouble from birth and we had been unable to give him

Only Temporary Relief.

We decided to give him Hood's Sarsaparilla and are glad to say 6 bottles of Hood's entirely cured him. Our oldest daughter has been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for rheumatism with good results. We have used from first to last some $10 worth of the medicine and have received the equivalent of several hundred dollars' worth of doctor's treatment and good health to boot. We cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. It is all that is claimed for it." C. E. MYERS, Windom, Kansas.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Pills act harmoniously with Hood's Sarsaparilla. 25c.

Nausea, Sea-Sickness.

Both due to an unnatural condition of the vital organs, caused by unwonted surroundings or excesses, either an unnecessary generation of the gastric juices or a partial suspension of the natural functions of the life-generating parts, in other words a state of mal-nutrition with its ever accompanying unpleasant sensations. For such a sickness get nourishment, take the weakest stomach retains it. It's a concentration into the least possible bulk of the vital elements of lean beef, it nourishes and starts every organ of the body on its normal duty with no apparent effort; this done, bad feelings vanish. Mr. J. A. Blackman, 123 E. 88th St., N. Y., writes: "Sailing from here last August for Europe, tried every antidote for sea-sickness, and I found yours the only successful one. On my return also used it when I suffered no ill effects at all."

Bovinine

In Buying a Piano or an Organ

do not fail to examine the latest Mason & Hamlin models. Recent improvements render them unexcelled. Old pianos or organs taken in exchange. Instruments sold for cash or easy payments.

Catalogues and full information free.

Pianos of reliable makers from $200 upwards.

Mason & Hamlin Co.
136 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK.

L. L. MANNING, Marble AND Granite Works,

Corner Central avenue and West Front street, opp. First Baptist Church.
Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

Telephone 29b. Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON,

Plumbing and Hot Water Heating.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system
Opposite Roberts's Livery. 132 North ave.

W.L. & J. M. Smalley,

—DEALERS IN—

HIGH GRADE

Meats,

& Meat Specialties

Beef, Lamb, Mutton, Veal and Pork
Poultry and Game in season.

94 Somerset st., Plainfield N. J.
Telephone Call 42-B.

NOTICE.

Special Reductions

—AT—

Neuman Bros.

on fancy brands goods. Full quart bottles table oil 60c, finest quality; whole canned ox tongue 45c; lunch tongue, whole, 25c; a special reduction given on Curtis' strawberry and assorted jams, 16c; fresh roasted coffees received every week, quality unexcelled.

NEUMAN BROS.

What! $30.00?

Yes, thirty dollars will buy a piano, in first-class condition, at

W. R. BROKAW'S

Piano Parlors, 311 Madison ave.
Tuning and regulating a specialty

Advertised Letters.

Plainfield, February 10, 1896.

Adams J H	Leonard A W
Barton A J	Neugem Agnes Miss
Codlington B	McMann Thos
Duchene E Miss	Moore Elmer
Feil A F S	McEvoy Kate J 3
Fisk Clinton B	McKeef Lara Mrs
Hustner Jno	Palmberg Elen Miss 2
Johnson Charlie	Perine Chas
Johnson Hilder Miss	Prentiss S S
Kline Mellie Miss	Storme G W
King T P 2	Snedeker Dare

Holiday Millinery Goods.

MRS. L. ADAMS,

114 EAST FRONT STREET,

Opp. First National Bank.
Dressmaking and Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns.

S. D. FRAZEE,

DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF

FRESH FISH.

Fresh every day. Terms cash. Goods delivered.

230 Park ave., 000 North ave

Musicfurnished for all occasions.

California IN

THREE DAYS

without change of cars. All meals served in dining cars. Palace drawing-room sleeping cars and tourist sleepers are run through to San Francisco and Los Angeles without change, leaving Chicago daily via

THE NORTH-WESTERN LINE

Through Tourist sleeping cars Chicago to California daily and personally conducted excursions every Thursday. Variable route tourist tickets at

VERY LOW RATES.

Detailed information and descriptive pamphlets will be mailed free on application to W. B. Kniskern, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago. Agents of connecting lines sell tickets via the

Chicago & North Western Railway,

or address: H. A. Gross, G. E. P. A., 423 Broadway, New York, or T. P. Vaille, S. E. P. A., 112 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

FOR GIFTS and LIGHT buy "MILLER" LAMPS

Elegant designs (a thousand styles), Beautiful finishes, and the best lamp made—up-to-date in every respect. Call and see it, also our Fine Brass and Onyx Tables. Buy only "Miller" lamps from dealers. We have been manufacturers since 1844.——made "The Rochester" Lamp.

EDWARD MILLER & CO., 28 & 30 WEST BROADWAY, (66 Park Pl.) bet. Park Pl. & Barclay St., N. Y.
Convenient to all "down-town" Ferries, and Elevated Stations at Park Place and Barclay St.
For Cool Weather buy a "MILLER" OIL HEATER.

FOR SALE BY W. L. GAVETT & CO.

Freshest Oysters

will be found at

Rogers' Sea-Food Market.

THE HALLET & DAVIS PIANOS

Have stood the test of over fifty-five (55) years

and are not surpassed by any in the world. Prices, $300 and upwards. Our special 3-year payment plan makes purchase easy. We have other makes of new pianos at $200. Good squares at $75, and we give a full 5-year warranty with everything we sell. Old instruments taken in exchange. Send for illustrated catalogue giving full information.

The Tway Piano Co.,

88 FIFTH AVE.,

near 14th st., New York.

"Tway's Musical Guest," containing 8 pages of music, interesting reading matter and theatrical news, mailed free on application. 10 3 6m

COAL

F. W. HAND,

132 North avenue.
929 South avenue.
197 North avenue.
Telephone No. 130.

"Ever Ready" PREPARED

Buckwheat Flour.

Home-made and sold on its merits. Sold by all grocers and made by

FRENCH BROTHERS,

City Mills. 24 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.

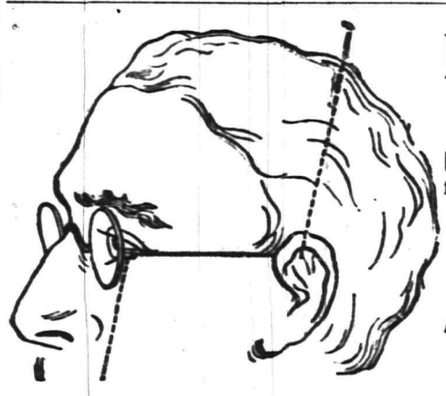
DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 WATCHUNG AVE.,

—DEALERS IN—

Lumber, Coal Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement for Walls and Ceilings.



Leech, Stiles & Co.,

EYE SPECIALISTS,

1413 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa.,

formerly with Queen & Co. H. A. Stiles will be at

1o7 East Front Street,

Dunham's real estate office,

EVERY THURSDAY

from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Skilful attention given to all cases of eye strain, headache, etc. No charge for examination. All glasses guaranteed.

Bargains in Real Estate For sale or to let.

MONEY to loan on first mortgage.

E. C. Mulford,

No. 169 North avenue.
Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.
BROKER.

Communications pertaining to the business mentioned, either by letter or otherwise, will receive prompt attention. Carriage service supplied.

THE
Bee Hive

Men's Unlaundered Shirts.

Lot 1—The Cast Iron Shirt, made of good heavy muslin, good 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, patent facings, 38c.
Lot 2—New York mills muslin, 3-ply, fine linen bosoms, reinforced front and back, patent facing, 48c.
Lot 3—Our New York mills shirt, made of New York mills muslin, 2 and 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, continuous facings and hand-made button holes, equal to the best custom-made shirt, 69c.
Boys' unlaundered shirts 38 cts. Laundered shirts 50c, 75c and $1.

Louis Callman,
222 West Front st.

CLEANER COAL.
L. A. Rheaume
Agent,
Watchung Ave., Corner 4th St.,

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

Upper Lehigh and Honeybrook Coal
in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

Rough and Dressed Lumber.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for turning and scroll sawing, and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner and at short notice.

H. Eggerding,
131 Park ave.,
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.

The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars

CODDINGTON'S
Furniture and Freight
EXPRESS.

Offices 24 West Front st; 33 Park ave. Post-office box 329. Piano moving a specialty. Large covered trucks; goods sent to any part of the country; charges reasonable; satisfaction guaranteed

PLAINFIELD SEMINARY
re-opened
SEPTEMBER 19, 1895.
(28th year.) Miss E. E. Kenyon, Principal.

Finest Assortment
of Lace, Celluloid and Card
Valentines
in the city.
HARPER'S,
411 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.

W. N. Pangborn,
LICENSED AUCTIONEER.
Residence, 33 Linden Ave.
Personal attention. Prompt service.
1 14 tf

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter, 22c.
Best Dairy Butter 18c.
V. L. FRAZEE
151 West Front st.

William Hand & Son.
STAGES
For Picnics and Parties, 518 Park ave.

GEO J. TOBIN,
187 North Avenue.
Practical Plumber.

Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer.
Telephone Call 158a

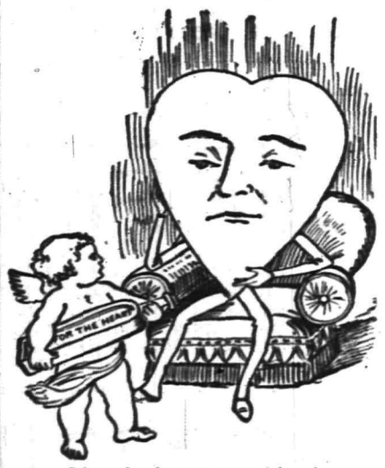
TOWNSEND'S
Marble and Granite Works,
SOMERSET STREET.
Our motto—Good work, good material at fair rices.

THE GRANDVIEW
Meat Market.
George Egel, Manager.
Dealer in Fresh and Salted Meats. Game in season. Orders called for and delivered promptly. Cor. Grandview ave. and Somerset street.
6 12 tf

Special Sale
—OF—
Muslins
SATURDAY ONLY.

Fruit of Loom, Hill Lonsdale and other standard brands, 10 yards 65c.
The best brands unbleached muslins at 6 cents per yard.
Good quality in bleached and unbleached at 5 cents per yard.
The standard brands of white sheetings at lower prices than quoted elsewhere.

LEDERER'S.



Give the heart pure blood.
Randolph's
Sarsaparilla,
A great blood cleanser.
Only 50c Per Bottle.
L. W. RANDOLPH,
Prescription Druggist,
143 West Front st.

PIANOS.
You can buy the best in the market at Factory Prices, at
J. C. DYER'S, 218 WEST FRONT ST.

New Fish Market,
125 Park Ave.
E. P. THORN
solicits a share of the public patronage. First quality
Fish, Oysters, Clams, &c
TERMS CASH. 11 7 tf

See Our Name,
Take Our Number,
Call and See Our Goods.
Woolston & Buckle,
141 and 145 North ave.

Eagle Meat Market,
35 Somerset Street.
Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Orders called for and delivered free of charge.
C. ARNOLD, Prop.

Miss Fawcett's School
And Kindergarten,
25 WASHINGTON AVENUE.
North Plainfield, N. J.
Re-opened Thursday, Sept. 12.
Primary, Intermediate and Academic Dept's. Boys received until 10 years of age.

FISCHER PIANOS.
56 YEARS ESTABLISHED.
GRAND AND UPRIGHT.
Nearly 100,000 Manufactured.
EASY TERMS. EXCHANGED.
REASONABLE PRICES.
FISCHER PIANO WAREROOMS,
110 Fifth Ave., cor. 16th St., N. Y.
Write for Catalogue.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

Do not be deceived by infringements of name, package or cigarette.
THE ONLY GENUINE
Sweet Caporal Cigarettes
Bear the fac simile signature of
Kinney Bros
on the package and on each cigarette.
TAKE NONE WITHOUT.

GEO. O. STEVENS
COAL
747 WEST FRONT ST.
Branch office with
G. A. HALLOCK,
109 West Front st.

Carpenters and Builders.
JOHN P. EMMONS,
Mason and Builder,
Washington avenue and Prospect place,
North Plainfield, N. J.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

PEARSON & GAYLE,
Carpenters and Builders.
Residence—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine st. H. E. Gayle, No. 18 Vine st.
All work promptly attended to.

GEO. W. STUDER,
Carpenter and Builder.
985 Arlington avenue.
Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given, charges reasonable.

C. W. LINES.
Mason and Builder,
Plainfield, N. J.
Residence, 18 Elm place.
Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to

HOTEL
Grenada,
NORTH AVENUE.
Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public

CITY HOTEL,
Plainfield, N. J.
Corner Park avenue and Second street.
J. E. Beerbower, Prop
Stables attached

J. W. VanSickle, Dealer in all kinds of
FRESH AND SALTED MEATS.
Game in season. No. 122 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Telephone 148b. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

L. A. HUMMER'S
VARIETY MARKET.
Meats, fruits, vegetables, poultry, eggs, etc. Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge.
120 Park avenue. Telephone call 29-A

No Place Like Home

on Christmas day. No day like Christmas at home. Christmas will be merrier the more home like the home. Our great holiday sale of wall paper should attract all whose houses need papering.
Marsh, Ayers & Co.

CUBAN RESOLUTION

The Principal Subject of Discussion in the Senate To-day.

BOND INVESTIGATION AISO ON

The Reform Wave at Last Reaches the National Legislature and the Crusaders Are Severely Criticized by Senator Hill.

Washington, Feb. 20.—After the Lodge resolution for an investigation as to the issue of bonds in 1894-'95-'96 has been disposed of in the senate today, Mr. Morgan, dem., Ala., will bring up the Cuban resolution for consideration. This will not be reached before the middle of the afternoon, and as the subject is expected to call forth considerable debate probably the remainder of the day's session will be occupied with the subject. The reform wave which is sweeping over the country has at last reached the national legislature and the crusaders in the cause of temperance reform and of Sunday rest laws were severely criticized in the senate yesterday afternoon by Mr. Hill dem., N. Y., in connection with a sheaf of petitions, in printed form, emanating from the Women's Christian Temperance union, against the sale of beer to immigrants landing on Ellis island, in New York harbor, and to the men on Bedloe's island; and in connection with other petitions for a Sunday rest law in the District of Columbia. Mr. Hill could not see how a glass of beer could be of great injury to the temperance cause, or have any serious effect on the health and lives of immigrants. He thought, on the contrary, that it was a very welcome thing; and he referred to the efforts of the well-meaning but misguided people who flooded congress with such petitions as extreme paternalism or extreme Rooseveltism. As to the Sunday rest law for the District of Columbia, he did not see what interest people in New York could have in it, unless to regulate the conduct of their senators and representatives.

The House Gets Down to Business.

The house was "strictly business" yesterday and in a five-hour session disposed of two important measures. The first was the bill under consideration yesterday to extend for ten years the time within which the government may institute suit to annul land patents illegally or erroneously issued. Mr. Hepburn's amendment to restrict the law officers to cases of fraud was rejected, as was also the amendment proposed by the committee on public lands to reopen Mexican and Spanish grants. An amendment proposed by Mr. Loud, rep., Cal., was agreed to restricting the operations of the law to patents issued under railroad and wagon road grants. A substitute offered by Mr. McRae, dem., Ark., to repeal all legislation on the subject was voted down—149 to 72—which was a test vote on the bill. The army appropriation bill was also passed without much discussion, but most of the new legislation proposed by the committee on military affairs went out on points of order. Among the propositions thus rejected was the one to compel the president to appoint paymasters from the line officers of the army alone, shutting out civilians. The unanimous report of the committee on ways and means against the passage of the bill to regulate the issue of liquor licenses was submitted by Mr. Evans, rep., Ky., and ordered printed.

Gale on Colombia Coast.

Colon, Colombia, Feb. 20.—Heavy weather prevails here and a northerly gale is threatening. The barometer has fallen to 29.80 inches and the vessels lying in the harbor are preparing to leave their berths and put to sea. The steamer Finance, from New York, broke from her moorings and went adrift.

Three Men Asphyxiated.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 20.—George Maxwell and Samuel Maxwell, all married and employed at the works of the Consumers' Gas company, were suffocated by escaping gas yesterday afternoon. They were not discovered until late in the evening, when they were found dead on the floor. They all have large families.

Against Double Taxation.

Boston, Feb. 20.—The state board of trade has adopted petitions to be presented to the legislature against double taxation and in opposition to the taxing of bonds issued by the state, cities and towns as a great injustice to many thousands of citizens who are thereby debarred from investing in such securities.

Sues the City for Removal from Office.

Hartford, Feb. 20.—At New Britain papers have been served upon the city clerk in a suit against the city brought by Dr. Enlind, ex-chairman of the board of health. Dr. Enlind claims $200 for salary and $300 as damages for removal.

Withdraws from the Race for Congress.

Gloversville, N. Y., Feb. 20.—Rev. J. W. Thompson has withdrawn from the race for congress in the twenty-second district. This insures Mr. Littauer's nomination by republicans, as St. Lawrence county will support him.

To Protect Salmon Fisheries.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Secretary Carlisle has sent to the house the draft of a bill for the protection of the salmon fisheries of Alaska, recommending its passage.

Ballot Reform Law.

Albany, Feb. 20.—There will be a final hearing this afternoon before the senate judiciary committee on the amedments to the ballot reform law.

YALE-HENLEY REGATTA.

Information Regarding Rules Governing the Events on Their Way from England.

London, Feb. 20.—The only communication received by the Henley Regatta committee from the Yale Rowing club is one asking for information in regard to the rules governing the regatta and other details. The committee, in reply to this communication, sent a copy of the rules, with a letter to President di Sibour of the Yale club, which was mailed on the 12th inst. and should be received shortly. In this letter President di Sibour is informed that the dates fixed for the regatta are July 7, 8 and 9, and that entries must be made before March 31. A list of the names of twenty-five men may be given by the Yale club, from which the crew shall be selected. It is advisable, President di Sibour is told, that the men shall arrive three weeks prior to the opening of the regatta and shall come by the way of Southampton. The events in which the Yale oarsmen can compete are the races for the grand challenge cup, eight oars; the stewards' challenge cup, four oars; the pair-oar race and the race for the diamond sculls. The letter also says that the Cornell oarsmen expressed regret that they did not enter the four-oared race when they took part in the Henley regatta last year, and assures the Yale club that its representatives will meet with a hearty welcome.

PRIZE-FIGHT TALK.

Little Prospect of Maher and Fitzsimmons Meeting To-morrow.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 20.—Notice was issued from headquarters of the alleged prizefighters this morning directing ticket holders and all who contemplate witnessing the contest to report for information at 5 o'clock this afternoon, but nobody believes there is a ghost of a show of the fight taking place. Not a single bet on the result has been heard of for several days. The money went away with the train loads of sports that left between Friday and Monday. Fitzsimmons says he will be at the ringside to-morrow ready to fight for a kingdom. If Maher's backers say, "well, Fitz, here is a blind man and if you insist on fighting, go ahead," he says he will say to the referee: "Please call time."

TO EXTERMINATE STAR FISH.

Connecticut Growers' Expensive Battle Against the Oyster's Enemy.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 20.—It is estimated that the New Haven oyster growers will spend at least $50,000 in keeping their oysters from being exterminated by star fish. Last year the New Haven beds were quite free from "stars," which were more prolific up at the west end of the sound, but this season the oyster farms in this vicinity are suffering the most. The beds of the American Oyster company, being on the outside tier, or the farthest out in the sound, get the worst of these ravages, and it is said that for the last five months it cost the company on an average fifty dollars per day to fight this great enemy of the oyster family.

ARRESTED FOR STEALING WATER

A Very Wealthy Danielson, Conn., Man Accused of Tapping Water Mains.

Danielson, Conn., Feb. 20.—E. W. Scott, proprietor of the largest whipsocket manufactory in the United States and reputed to be very wealthy, was arrested yesterday charged with illegally taking water from the Crystal Lake company of this place. He made connections in a tenement which he owns with the pipes of the company, the pipes running thence to a fountain or well on his land, keeping the well full and giving him force enough to supply his house and barn. He pleaded not guilty, though the evidence, it is claimed, against him is very strong. The case was adjourned to Tuesday next.

Licensed To Do Business in New York.

Albany, Feb. 20.—Superintendent Kilburn of the state banking department has licensed the Security Investment company of Bridgeport, Conn., to transact a mortgage, loan or investment company business in this state for the current year.

Maine's New G. A. R. Commander.

Banger, Me., Feb. 20.—In the state convention of the G. A. R. last evening Col. D. Carver of Rockland was elected commander.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Wheat—Spot market is quiet, fair demand. February, 72¼c.; March, 73c.; May, 71¼c.

Corn—Spot dull; values are steady February, 36⅝c.; May, 36c.

Oats—Spot demand quiet; steady. February, 25¼c.; March, 25⅜c.; May, 25⅝c.

Pork—Spot steady at former prices. Extra prime nominal, short clear, $11.50@$12.50; family, $10.75@$11.00; mess, $11.00@$11.25.

Lard—Contracts are dull and easier. May, $5.85.

Butter—Receipts not large in fancy creamery, but the tone of the market is firm, at previous figures. Creamery, western extras, 19c. State and Pennsylvania, seconds to best, 14@18c.; creamery, western, seconds to firsts, 14@17½c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, fancy, 17c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, seconds to firsts, 11@15c.

Cheese—Fancy September is held firmly with demand good. State, full cream, large size, September colored, choice, 10¼c.; September white fancy, 9@10¼c.; large common to choice, 7¼@10c.

Eggs—Quiet; fair receipts. State and Pennsylvania, 14@14½c.; southern, 13@13½c.; ice house, case, $1.75@$3.00; western, fresh, 13¾@14c.; limed, 11½@12c.; do., case, $2.00@$2.50.

Potatoes—The demand for choice grades slow; large supply; market quiet. State Burbank, per 180 pounds, 85c.@$1.10, and state rose and Hebron, per 180 pounds, 60@75c.

SPANISH VICTORIES

Insurgents in Cuba Suffer Several Slight Losses.

MACEO AND GOMEZ'S MEN ATTACKED

Rebels Lose Eleven Killed and Thirty Wounded; Government's Loss, Four Killed—Orders Given To Resume the Grinding of Cane.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Havana, Feb. 20.—Gen. Linares reports that the column under his command had an encounter on the 17th inst. with the rear guard of the rebel force commanded by Maceo and the advance guard of Gomez in the hills of Porvenir, near Chimborazo, east of Bejucal. The Spaniards first attacked Maceo's force, killing five and wounding three of the rebels, and then engaged the insurgents under Gomez, killing six of them and wounding tweny-seven. The Spanish cavalry made a brillian charge and their artillery did effective work against the enemy. The loss to the government was four killed and one wounded. Senor Adolfo Porset, governor of the Matanzas province, has issued a circular directing the owners and managers of sugar estates in his jurisdiction to begin the work of cane grinding with the least possible delay. This circular is the result of verbal instructions given Gov. Porset by Captain-General Weyler at a recent conference. The planters are expected to hire guards for their estates, as the government troops are being withdrawn in order to aid in the carrying on of military operations against the insurgents. That province contains several hundred sugar estates, including some of the finest on the island. Gov. Porset declares to the planters that it is a patriotic duty they owe to Spain to begin grinding operations at once. J. FRANK CLARK.

Weyler's Version of the Situation.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The following is a copy of a dispatch just received here by the Spanish minister, signed by the new commandant of the Spanish forces in Cuba: "Habana, Feb. 19.—The reports of the last military operations are as follows: Maceo had crossed the line between Rubana and Batabano by the village called Vapor with sixty horses. Later other troops joined him, in number of about 600, but the enemy was under fire of the troops commanded by Col. Segura, which killed three rebels and wounded twelve. The insurgents joined their forces at San Antonio de las Vegas, abandoning their route towards Matanzas, that had been to the south of the railroads of San Felipe to Guines, fearing the columns which were closing the line between the railroad and the sea. A train conducting Gen. Echague, who, with his command, was going to place himself between San Felipe and Guines, met in Molina, between the railroad station of Melena and Palenque, 800 cavalrymen of the enemy, which approached the train, thinking that it was a freight train. The column fired on them without alighting and arrived safely at Guines.

Several Rebel Defeats Reported.

"The column of Col. Seguera, forming the extreme left, came upon the enemy in San Felipe de las Vegas, where it found and dislodged Maceo, Miro, Diaz and Castillo with 1,500 mounted men. The cavalry troop of Camajuani charged and defeated them in the Culebra and Culebrite hills. The enemy retreated towards Navio. Several columns follow them in a combined movement, encircling them. Gen. Lineras has also defeated Maximo Gomez in Lomas del Porvenir, capturing four horses. The troops had three wounded. Reconoitering the camp after the engagement they saw the rear guard of the enemy and mistook them for Spanish forces, but seeing that they had no answer to the countersign opened artillery and Mauser rifle fire, killing six and wounding twenty-seven. The column suffered four wounded. The troops follow and encircle the enemy. In the province of Santiago de Cuba the guerrillas of Cobre defeated on the, 11th, on Paso Lajas, a small band, killing one and wounding another. The same guerrillas in Loma Norvejo, defeated the 16th, the rebels in Petrero Cruz. WEYLER."

DYNAMITERS AT MADRID.

Several Bombs Exploded in the Palace Gardens, But No One Injured.

Madrid, Feb. 20.—A bomb was exploded at about 9 o'clock last evening in the garden of the royal palace in this city. An energetic search was at once instituted by the palace guard and while this was being carried on three other bombs were exploded at different points in the garden. No one was injured by the explosions, which are believed to have been the work of anarchists.

Hamlin To Speak at St. Paul.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Assistant Secretary Hamlin will leave here today for St. Paul, Minn., where he will deliver an address on Washington's birthday before the Minnesota democratic association.

New Jersey Knights of Pythias.

Trenton, Feb. 20.—The twenty-ninth annual session of the grand lodge Knights of Pythias last night elected Dr. W. E. Hitchcock of Newark grand chancellor.

Ferdinand Recognized by All the Powers.

London, Feb. 20.—Constantinople advices state that all of the powers have assented to the recognition of Prince Ferdinand as the lawful ruler of Bulgaria.

Movements of War Vessels.

Fort Monroe, Va., Feb. 20.—The flagship New York from Newport News and cruiser Montgomery from Norfolk have arrived here.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

Published Daily, except Sunday, at 3:30 p. m.

108 North avenue. Telephone Call 61.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., FEB. 20, 1896.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Fair; Colder Tonight; Friday Fair; Continued Cold.

At 2 o'Clock Leggett's Thermometer Registered 28 Degrees.

COMING EVENTS.

Announcements of all meetings, etc., will be made in this column, free of charge, if copy is furnished by 10 a. m.

February 20—Annual supper of the ladies of of Monroe Avenue Chapel.
February 21—Second lecture in Mrs. D. P. Hall's series at the Seminary by Prof. W. Hudson Shaw.
February 21—Martha Washington tea at First Presbyterian church.
February 21—Sociable at Grace M. E. church.
February 22—"Westerner" at Music Hall.

The latest addition to Presidential aspirants is turning up every day. But they will all be turned down in one day.

Matt Quay's friends say that he is in the field to stay—referring to the canvass for the Republican Presidential nomination. He will probably stay right there.

Philadelphia is bound to stick to old methods. The Quakerites even went as far as to roll up its usual 60,000 plurality for the Republican municipal ticket.

With half a dozen dances occurring in this city last night, who will say that New Brunswick is quiet?—New Brunswick Times.

And with fights, murders, suicides, etc., etc., who will say New Brunswick is not wicked.

Judge Harker, President of the Illinois Bar Association, points out that while the progress in every department of science and of art has been amazing, it now takes a lawsuit longer to travel from the judgment in the trial court to the execution of the judgment than it did fifty years ago.

Mr. Croker's criticism of The World, published in his interview on New York politics yesterday morning, seems to be a case of you abuse-me-and I'll-abuse-you. There was nothing dignified in Mr. Croker's words. The effect sought for is lost by the inflamed sentiments resorted to.

All contracts for whiskey advertisements in The Ledger have expired, and from this date no whiskey advertisement shall appear in these columns at any price. If the saloon people desire to expatiate on the merits (?) of any peculiar brand of their damnation, they can look elsewhere for a medium through which to extoll its virtues. The Ledger makes no claim to sanctification, but when a saloonkeeper tells us that a $6 ad in The Ledger has sold for him $1,200 worth of whiskey, it makes us feel that we have been in a small measure responsible for the damage done, and we promise to "sin no more."—Murray (Ky.,) Ledger.

Dunellen.

Mrs. Fred Nelson, of North avenue, is entertaining relatives from New York.

Charles Dodwell, of this place, has been appointed chief of the fire department.

Washington's Birthday will be celebrated at the Whittier High School tomorrow morning.

All the business places in town close every night this week at 7:30 o'clock, owing to the revival services.

Miss Julia Johnson, of Newark, is visiting the family of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Conover, of Front street.

Mr. Drymple, who has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. J. B. Sprowl, of Jersey City, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Runyon, of Washington avenue, have been entertaining Mrs. Smalley from out of town.

Mrs. P. Harman, of High street, has been entertaining her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Bolton, of Somerville, for a few days.

John Herbert, Jr., who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Herbert, of Dunellen avenue, has returned home.

Joel Giddis is digging the cellar for John Hunt's new house to be erected on Front street. Mundy Bros. have the contract for the carpenter work and N. B. Snell the painting.

—George L. VanEmburgh will lead the meeting at the East Third street mission tonight.

—During the Lenten season a series of Bible talks on "The Ministry of the Holy Spirit" will be given at the Y. M. C. A. building on each Monday evening at 8 o'clock by Wm. D. Murray. Ladies as well as men are invited.

—The committee having in charge the supper to be given Saturday afternoon and evening by the Women's Relief Corps met last night at the home of Mrs. Bryan on Chatham street and completed arrangements for the supper.

"Give me a liver regulator and I can regulate the world," said a genius. The druggists handed him a bottle of DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Joe Daley, of West Third street, is very low with pneumonia.

John Kitchen, of Oxford place, is laid up at home with a heavy cold.

Miss Mary McCoy, of West Third street, is detained at home by illness.

Mrs. John Cashman, of Halsey street, is detained at home by a heavy cold.

August Saltzman, of Westervelt avenue, is confined to his home with illness.

Michael Higgins, of West Third street, has recovered from a recent illness.

Albert P. Simonds, of Watchung avenue, has joined the reportorial staff of the News.

John Traynor, of Liberty street, has returned to work at Pond's after a week's illness.

Miss Billings, a teacher in the Franklin school building, is confined to her home by illness.

Councilman W. H. Moore and family, of Watchung Park, will move in their new house March first.

Mrs. D. N. Force, of LaGrande avenue, has entirely recovered from a severe attack of the grip.

Councilman Wm. A. Westphal is recovering rapidly from his recent attack of quinsy sore throat.

John V. Beekman, of West Eighth street, leaves in a short time for the south on account of his health.

During Captain Jacob Crawford's stay in this city he will be the guest of Gen. Schenck of Park avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Tammon, of New York, who have been staying at the Revere House, have returned to their home.

Miss Bessie Titsworth entertained a number of her friends at her home on West Seventh street yesterday afternoon.

E. W. Pepper, of Boston, who was formerly prominent among Plainfield insurance men, is visiting friends in town.

L. B. Dowley, of Hyde Park, Mass., spent last night with his sister, Mrs. J. W. Murray, Jr., of West Fourth street —Members of the Camera Club will assist Dr. W. Hudson Shaw in his coming lecture in this city on "Venice."

Wm. Harrison and Harry Todd, of Newark, who have been visiting in this city for a month past, returned home today.

William A. French, of St. Paul, is making a short visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. French, of Somerset street.

Miss Clara Petrie, teacher of the Junior class at the North Plainfield Public School, was ill at her home on Grove street, yesterday.

Messrs. Willard and LeRoy Sneckner, of New York, will spend Washington's Birthday with J. F. Boone, of West Seventh street.

Ex-Councilman V. L. Frazee and wife of West Front street will take posession of their new house near Grant avenue March first.

Mrs. G. F. Hummer and daughter, Miss Anna Hummer, of New York State, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Force, of LaGrande avenue.

Miss Kate Zahn, of New Brunswick, will give a reception and dance at her home this evening which will be attended by a party of twelve young people of this city.

Harry Flannery, son of E. J. Flannery, who has been under treatment at the hospital for appendicitis, is about recovered and will be taken to his home tomorrow.

Dr. Ida B. Hunt, of East Fifth street, has recovered from her recent severe illness, and is able to resume her practice again. She can be seen at her office daily from 9 to 1.

S. Clinton Crane, of Columbia College, spent yesterday afternoon at his home on East Second street. As yesterday was Ash Wednesday all the students in the college were given a holiday.

Councilman W. C. Smith and wife, of the borough, will give a reception tomorrow evening at their home on Grandview avenue in honor of their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Baglin, who were recently married.

Rev. John DeWitt, D.D.

of the THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY, New Brunswick, N. J., writes: "I am satisfied that Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills are all right. They have mastered my case."

Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills.

Clergymen, college professors, physicians, and lawyers, universally find them, as do all others the one great remedy for dyspepsia. Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills are scientifically prepared, and cure. That's why they have so large a sale. White wrapper if constipated, yellow if bowels are loose. Send for a free sample.

DR. J. A. DEANE CO., Kingston, N. Y.

J. W. Pierce, Republic, Ia., says: "I have used One Minute Cough Cure in my family and for myself, with results so entirely satisfactory that I can hardly find words to express myself as to its merit. I will never fail to recommend it to others, on every occasion that presents itself." L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

W. F. Bartlett, of West Front street, is seriously ill

The butchers will close at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Miss Florence E. White, of West Front street, is ill at her home.

Robert Douglass, of Sycamore avenue, is studying at Pennington Seminary.

Miss Lizzie Waldron says that the report that she is engaged to Oscar Vaughn is untrue.

Captain Doane of La Grande avenue has returned from a visit with relatives in New York.

Mrs. G. Sargeant, of Brooklyn, is a guest at the home of her niece, Mrs. S. P. Craig, of College place.

Miss Ada Wilbur, of Brooklyn, is visiting at the home of her uncle, M. M Dunham, of Arlington avenue.

Wm. Morrison, of the New York World, visited his uncle, Thomas Morrison, of Mountain avenue, yesterday.

Oscar Campbell, of the University of West Virginia, is spending the day at his home on Netherwood avenue.

Dr. Utter and family, of East Sixth street, will move on April 1st to Central avenue, between Fifth and Sixth streets.

Harry Brokaw, of Duer street, has secured a position with Swift & Co., at Swift Brothers establishment in Philadelphia.

Mr. Littell and family, of Brooklyn, have taken possession of J. E. Martine's house at the corner Ninth street and Third place

Miss Suzella Howitt, of Germantown, who is visiting Miss Jennie Simpson, of Craig place, will return to her home Saturday.

THEATRICAL.

True comedy in its most refined form will be presented at the Stillman Music Hall on Washington's Birthday, when that beautiful romance, "The Westerner," will be presented. The play savors of the base ball field, the race track and the stock exchange, yet withal is as broad and liberal in its treatment of human frailties as the boundless prairies. The comedy is claimed to be of a high order, wit keen as a razor, rapartee swift as a bullet's flight, pathos that touches the inner man and humor that will keep its audience in constant laughter abounding. The piece will be presented by a strong and thoroughly acceptable company of metropolitan players, all of whom have been selected with their adaptability to the parts each essays. The staging will be handsome and the effects beautiful.

The Somerville Social Club will give a dance at Germania Hall, Somerville, tonight. Several Plainfield young people will attend.

—Eugene A. Laing will move his gentlemen's furnishing goods store from its present situation on Park avenue to his new store in the Thorn building on Park avenue next week.

The Westfield Y. M. C. A. bowling team tried to arrange a game with the Crescent Wheelmen Juniors for Saturday. The Crescents were unable to roll on that date and selected Monday evening, March 2d, instead.

shortness of breath—a sensation of dryness and heat in the throat. Neglect is dangerous.

HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR

Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar acts like a charm on the throat and bronchial tubes. Use it before it's too late. Sold by druggists.

Pike's Toothache Drops cure in one minute.

DEAD WEIGHT.

The Old Man of the Sea a Fact, Not a Fiction.

How He Has Fastened Himself Upon Thousands of People.

The Only Way to Successfully Get Rid of Him.

The well-known story in the Arabian Nights of the Old Man of the Sea who fastened himself on Sinbad and was constantly with him, is one of the few fairy fictions that can be applied to every day life. What resembles this terrible Old Man more than these most painful of all maladies, rheumatism and neuralgia.

There is listlessness, depression of spirits, general debility, disturbed sleep, indigestion, and more or less trouble with the bowels. Then come sudden twinges of pain in different parts of the body and finally, rheumatism or neuralgia of a severe form sets in. The real trouble is in the blood and nerves Therefore, in order to rid yourself of this Old Man of the Sea who is making your life a burden, you must get your nerves and blood in good condition. How this can be done is shown by the following letter from Mr. C L Kelly, of Bangor, Maine:

MR. CHAS. L. KELLY.

"Last year I was troubled with the rheumatism so badly that I was unable to walk, and suffered all the pain that I think it is possible for any one to be afflicted with and live.

"I thought I would give Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy a trial. I took two bottles only and was completely restored to my former vigor and enabled to attend to business with my usual activity. I can thank God with a sincere heart that I thoroughly believe in the virtues of Nervura, and advise all sufferers from the the terrible fiend, rheumatism, to follow my example. Just think of it. My appetite was gone and after the sixth dose, I could feel its cheering effects by becoming hungry, and finally when the rheumatism deserted me, I could eat ravenously and today I am a perfectly well man."

Can you afford to live in pain and misery when such a marvelous cure is close at hand? The spring is the easiest and best time to cure these complaints. This wonderful remedy was discovered by the eminent specialist, Dr Greene, of 35 West 14th st, New York City, who can be consulted free of charge, either personally or by letter.

Soothing, healing, cleansing, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the enemy to sores, wounds and piles, which it never fails to cure. Stops itching and burning. Cures chapped lips and cold-sores in two or three hours. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

Trick and Fancy Riding, RACING and Polo Playing Washington's Birthday, —AT— COLUMBIA CYCLE ACADEMY.

Matinee at 3. Evening at 8.

—BY—

Prof. "Ike" Jonnson and Company.

Admission 25c. 2 19 3

VISIT BOEHM'S CROCKERY DEPARTMENT, 113 WEST FRONT STREET.

Everything in the housefurnishing line up to date. Prices brought down to the lowest possible notch. We guarantee satisfaction in every respect. It is therefore to your own benefit to visit this department—it will pay you.

Novelties in Dress Goods.

AT 19C—30 inch Brilliantines, were 25c.
AT 50C—38 inch extra heavy black mohair sicilians, cheap at 65c.
AT 25C—40 inch new spring novelties, changeable effects, were 35c.
AT 25C—36 inch plaids, silk stripe effects, were 33c.
AT 12 1-2C—A very handsome line of worsted plaids well worth 19c.
AT 50C—The very latest novelties in all-wool dress goods, suitable for spring wear, fully 40in. wide, a bargain at 65c.
AT 32C—38 inch wide black brilliantines.
AT 45C—40 inch black brilliantines, silk finished, regular 59c quality.
AT 50C—Silk finished brilliantine, 40 inches wide, the 65c grade.
AT 65C—Extra fine black brilliantine, 1¼ yards wide, with an extra heavy lustre, the regular 75c quality.

Our leader for this coming season—38 inch wide black figured brilliantine in a number of new and novel designs at the uniform price of 35c a yard, well worth 45c a yard.

AT 25C—Storm serges in black and blue, 38in. wide, were 34c.
AT 45C—Beautiful fine black serges, 1¼ yds wide, a hummer, were 55c.
AT 19C—Light colored brilliantines, the very newest effects, reduced from 25c.

BOEHM'S, 113 WEST FRONT ST.

Always Ahead!

and Peck Proposes to Stay there if Good Goods Count for Anything.

THE DALZIEL GRAMMAR, MANUAL AND ART SCHOOL, 309 East Front Street.

IS AN ESTABLISHED SUCCESS.

Free-hand drawing from the Antique, Pen and Ink Sketching, Clay Modeling, Painting, Designing and Mechanical Draughting. Directed by John Dalziel, late Professor of Drawing for Illustration, and Engraving at the Women's School of Design, Philadelphia, Pa.

WE are NOW preparing for Spring and Summer Outdoor Work.

EDSALL'S COMMERCIAL PALACE

1,200 Fine Brooms

Direct from the factory to Edsall's Commercial Palace. All the intermediate profits and freight, and even the ten day cash discount saved to our patrons. No such opportunity to buy first-class brooms cheap ever offered to Plainfield people.

15c Atlas 3-Sewed. VALUE 25C

23c Little Maid 3 Sewed. VALUE 33C

21 Champion 3-Sewed. VALUE 30C

24c Little Jewel 3-Sewed. VALUE 34C

26c Liberty 3 Sewed, Value 36c

27c Liberty 4 Sewed, Value 39c.

98 Cut Glass Water BOTTLES.

37 Cut Glass Finger BOWLS.

45 1½ lbs Ox Tongue Special for a Few Days.

8c Prime Shoulders The Best for the Money.

25c—Special Santos coffee, extra flavor.
7c—Solid packed tomatoes. Finest sold at the price.
69c—Ladies' 4-button kid gloves. Black and colored, worth $1.
29c—Warp print Dresden ribbons, 40, 40,40, big bargains
10c—Ladies seamless black hose. Best at price.
19c—Pretty new cretones, apple blossoms.
3c—2,000 new papered covered books Popular authors and titles.
22—New beautiful applique lace 5 in. 22c; 7 in. 28c; 10 in. 43c

Our stocks are filling up rapidly with the finest and most attractive goods for the spring trade we have ever shown. Come in and see them.

EDSALL'S

Shoe Notes.

If You Have Tender Feet Why Not Try a Pair of Our Common Sense Boots,

made on the same lines of the Kahler make. Our price $3 and $5. This is at least $1 a pair under New York City prices on the same goods. A woman's genuine dongola kid button boot for $1.19. One of our specials—woman's rubbers 24c and up. How can we undersell the other fellows? We buy direct from the manufacturers and give you the middleman's profits.

DOANE & EDSALL.

SPORTS

STRIKES AND SPARES.

TEAM POSITIONS IN STANDARD LEAGUE.

	H. S.	Won.	Lost.
Westfield	884	21	9
Roselle	893	20	10
Park	882	20	12
Union C. C. Club	831	9	21
Cranford	837	6	24

TEAM STANDING IN CENTRAL JOURNAL LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	Highest Score.
Elizabeth A. C.	7	4	1789
Crescent Wheelmen	6	5	1619
New Jersey A. C.	5	6	1671
Cranford C. C.	4	7	1557

TEAM STANDING IN DIOCESAN UNION.

	Won.	Lost.	Highest score.
Catholic C	7	2	1597
Elizabeth	5	2	1670
Orange Valley	6	3	1534
Plainfield	4	4	1506
Newark T. A. B.	2	6	1584
Institute	0	8	1516

While bowling on the Y. M. C. A. alleys yesterday afternoon George Snediker made 219 and Artur Lederer 201.

CYCLING COMMENT.

George Rockfellow, of Park avenue and Ninth street, rides a Columbia wheel.

George Saunders, of the Crescent Wheelmen, will ride a '96 Spalding wheel this year.

The Cleveland wheel will be ridden by almost almost all the members of the Riverside Wheelmen this year.

George W. Rockfellow and son George, have both ordered new Columbia wheels, which they will ride this year.

Dr. Long, of Park avenue, has purchased a Union wheel, which he will ride this summer. Dr. D. C. Adams will ride a Union.

One of the best equipped bicycle stores in town is conducted by Charles Lister on North avenue. He handles the celebrated Keating and Fowler wheels, besides several other standard makes. He is also agent for the Franklin typewriter.

Stahl's non-puncturable tire, for which the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company is agent, had a very efficient test several days ago. A well known rider purchased a pair of the tires and put them on his wheel. His coachman tried their use by pouring tacks over the path and then riding over them. The tire stood the test without puncturing, and the coachman was so pleased that he took his old reliable cushion tire wheel and wanted the new style of tires put on.

BASKET BALL.

The next game of basket ball played by the Y. M. C. A. team will be on Saturday, February 29th, with the team from the Central Y. M. C. A. of Brooklyn.

The local Y. M. C. A. basket ball team will play a return game at the gymnasium of the Twenty-sixth Ward Branch of the Brooklyn Y. M. C. A. in March.

The basket ball game scheduled for next Saturday night between the Y. M. C. A. teams of Plainfield and Orange, has been postponed owing to the inability of the Orange team to be present.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

Among the entries for the indoor games of the Long Island Interscholastic Association to be held on Saturday evening, Feb. 29th, at the 13th Regiment Armory, Brooklyn, is that of George P. Smith, of the Plainfield High School. He will contest in putting the shot, and is already in fine form, easily outputting his former record.

WHIST.

The annual contest for the State whist trophy between the different clubs in the State of New Jersey will take place at Jersey City, March 12th, 13th and 15th. The silver challenge cup is now in the custody of and on exhibition at the North End clubhouse in Newark.

—Three cases of arms arived at the freight house this morning for the High School Cadets, shipped from the State Arsenal at Trenton.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.
F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props.,
Toledo, O.

We the undersigned have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transaction and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.
West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggist, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

A high liver with a torpid liver will not be a long liver. Correct that liver with DeWitt's Little Early Risers, little pills that cure dyspepsia and constipation. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

EARLY INTELLIGENCE

—Edward Harding will soon start in business on Liberty street.

—Columbia Lodge, No. 58, A. O. U. W., will meet on Friday night.

—A sociable will be held at the Congregational church this evening.

—Noah Dove Encampment, No. 28, I. O. O. F., will meet this evening.

—After all other remedies fail, try "Pura Blood." It's a sure cure for blood troubles.

—Hood's Pills cure nausea, sick headache, indigestion, biliousness. All druggists, 25c.

—Arthur P. Miller has opened a law office on North avenue over the U. S. express company's office.

—The Crescent Wheelmen's minstreel show will be given in Music Hall, Thursday evening, March 26th.

—A meeting of the boys of Leal's school will be held this afternoon to discuss the question of a cadet company.

—The Woman's Relief Corps will meet in regular session this evening and a full attendance of members is desired.

—The Boys Mission Band of the Crescent Avenue church met in the church parlors yesterday. Their subject was "China."

—The social which was to have been held at the residence of Miss Carrie Howard, of West Seventh street, last evening, was postponed indefinitely.

—A meeting of the Bricklayers' Union, No. 14, was held last evening. John Lamberting and John Devine, of Elizabeth, were present as visitors.

—John Sebring, of Piscataway township, is a candidate for the nomination as a town committeeman on the Republican ticket at the approaching caucus.

—Several of the delegates to the Grand Lodge, K. of P., held at Trenton, returned home early yesterday afternoon. The others came home last night.

—Out of weakness comes strength when the blood has been purified, enriched and vitalized, the appetite restored and the system built up by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

—According to a recent bill passed by Congress the Sons of Veterans are now classed with the United States reserve army, and they are permitted to wear their badge in an official capacity on all occasions.

—The steam heating apparatus in in Powlison & Jones' new building has been completed and the furnace will be ready for firing today or tomorrow. The plate glass front will be put in position in a few days.

—A very interesting and amusing entertainment is being held in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church this afternoon and will be continued this evening. The photographs of a large number of prominent Plainfield people taken in youth is an attraction well worth seeing.

—The art and loan exhibition to be given by the Camera Club will be held March 14th to 21st, inclusive. The opening night will be a special one for the press representatives and art critics. The loan committee met last evening and completed arrangements for the exhibition.

—More than fifty Cranford women have organized a village improvement association whose object is to beautify the town. The association proposes to cooperate with the town authorities in accomplishing its ends, and it will in no wise interfere with them in the discharge of their duties.

—The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Crescent Avenue church will hold its regular meeting for sewing tomorrow afternoon in the parlors of the church. At 4 o'clock there will be interesting readings, to which all who cannot come earlier are welcome, even without thimbles.

—The young ladies of the Mission Band of the Crescent Avenue church will entertain their friends in the parlors of the church this evening from 4 until 10 o'clock. Candy and cream will be on sale and the loan collection of photographs on exhibition. At 8 o'clock a programme, consisting of music and tableaux, will be given.

—A meeting of the citizens of Cranford, will be held on Tuesday next for the purpose of determining the question of rebuilding the public school. The accommodations of the present building are inadequate for the primary classes. The trusteees are unanimously in favor of a new building, which it is estimated would cost $25,000.

It not only is so, it must be so, One Minute Cough Cure acts quickly, and that's what makes it go. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front S

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—One of the long iron chimneys of the Crescent flats blew down last night.

—A stay-at-home—a corset which has been discarded for one of Peck's perfect fitting kind.

—Charles Sprague, of Howard street, trapped twelve muskrats along Stony Brook yesterday.

—James Kane and John McMahon have secured positions as traveling salesmen for a Chicago firm.

—The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Hoffman died Tuesday. The funeral will be held this evening.

—D. A. Mac Phie, who leaves for Massachusetts next will conduct the Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday at 4:15 p. m.

—Large flocks of black birds have been seen flying over this city in the last few days, going in a northeasterly direction.

—Edward Mulford is soon to begin the erection of a $3,000 residence at the corner of East Second and Richmond streets.

—A social will be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Schunk, corner of West Fourth street and Rock avenue, next Friday night.

—At the meeting of Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., last evening, J. W. Bauersachs was presented with a handsome past commander's jewel.

—The Welsbach light with colored globes and tinted chimneys, and the Surio gas globe for heating rooms, are luxuries easily had these days by calling on Gavett.

—A concert will be held at Masonic Hall, Elizabeth, this evening. Among those who will take part in it are Richard Menzel, of this city, and the gifted Miss Rosa Stults, of New Brunswick, who is well known here in musical circles.

—Lenten services in St. Stephen's church on Friday evening at 7:45. The Rev. Dr. Stocking, of East Orange, whose sermon before the Commandery last Ascension day elicited such favorable comment, will preach. Stages leave the railroad station at 7:15 p. m.

—When Mrs. C. E. Ryder, of East Front street, reached home last night, she found she had lost her key and it was impossible for her to get into the house. She sent for Edward Thorn, of East Second street, and he forced open a cellar window and made his way through the house and unlocked the front door.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for rheumatism and neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75c. Sold by H. P. Reynolds, druggist, Park and North avenues. 2 12 y

Don't invite disappointment by experimenting. Depend upon One Minute Cough Cure and you have immediate relief. It cures croup. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

THE
Camp Fire and the Trail,
By the poet-scout,
Captain Jack Crawford,
IN
Crescent Avenue Church Chapel,
SATURDAY,
February 29, at 8 p. m..
for the benefit of Marsonnier Chapel.
Admission, 50c. Children, 25c.
2 15 17 19 21 26 28

MRS. HALL'S ENTERTAINMENTS
Rev. W. Hudson Shaw, M.A.,
of Oxford University,
Illustrated Lecture on VENICE,
Friday Afternoon, February 21st,
at 3:30 o'clock, at
SEMINARY HALL.
Tickets 50c. For sale at drug stores and at the door. 2 17 3-m w t

A Corn Cure THAT CURES CORNS

We have never said much about our Corn Cure—though it is one of the best made—because the market is full of cures, so-called. But such positive testimony to its merits has recently been volunteered that we feel justified in "talking-up" this little specialty. Our COLLOID CORN CURE is easily applied, gives relief quickly and will cure every case of corns, hard or soft, that can be cured, if used as directed. Sold in square vials with brush for applying. REYNOLDS' PHARMACY, Park and North Avenues.

CONCERT to be given in
Vincent Chapel,
under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society,
TUESDAY EVENING,
Feb. 25, at 8 o'clock, by the Ladies' Chorus assisted by other talent. Mr. Fitzhugh, conductor. Tickets 50c. 2 20 3-t m t

H. DeMott,
Undertaker and Embalmer,
59 Somerset st., Plainfield, N. J.
Calls promptly attended to day or night. White and black hearses. Coaches latest style.

DIED.

CURTIS—In this city, Tuesday, Feb. 18, 1896, Ada, wife of Thos. E. H. Curtis.
Funeral services at her late residence, 511 West 8th street, Thursday, Feb. 20, at 8 p. m. 2

SUTTERLIN—In North Plainfield, Thursday, Feb. 20, 1896, Gustave A. Sutterlin, aged 23 years, 7 months and 3 days.
Funeral services Saturday, Feb. 22, from his parents residence, No. 11 Greenbrook road at 2 o'clock p. m. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend. 2

HOFFMAN—In this city Tuesday, Feb. 18, 1896, Raymond, infant son of Mary and Henry H. Hoffman, aged 7 months and 7 days.
Funeral services Thursday, Feb. 20 from his parents residence, 688 West Front st., at 7:30 p. m. Interment Friday, at German Valley, N. J.

Drop a Postal to 218 West Front St.

and we will call and repair any make of sewing machines. Needles, oil and parts. The Singer M'f'g Co., 218 W. Front street. 2 17 3 eod

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 cent a word each insertion. Less than 10 words 10 cents. Cash must accompany adv.

WOMAN wants washing at home or will go out by day. Call 355 Cottage place.

WANTED—Half or part of store on Front street to display a household article and for office purposes. Address M., care Press. 2 20 2

WANTED—A salesman with horse and harness to sell a household article; salary and commission. Address A. L. B., care Press.

MEAT market for sale; good paying business; owner has good reason for selling. Inquire of Van Herwerden & Nichols, No. 153 North avenue.

WANTED—Ten girls for housework and cook's places. Room 209 Babcock Building.

WANTED—At 612 Park avenue, an experienced woman for general housework. 2 20 2

WANTED.—A situation by two young girls (white) to help with light housework or take care of children. Call Friday or Saturday at 653 South 2d st.

HORSEMAN or coachman wishes a position in handling trotters or as coachman. Can show six years A. 1 reference. Address Horseman, care Press.

WANTED—A competent girl to do general housework in family of two. Apply 410 Central ave. J. L. Edsall.

STORE to let. Corner Park avenue and Second street. W. R. Codington. 2 17 6

WANTED.—A neat girl (colored preferred) for general housework; references. Call this evening at 329 East 3d street. 2

WANTED—Situation as gardener by experienced man; best of city references. Address G. M., P. O. box 383, city. 2 19 6

FOR SALE—The property owned and occupied by W. T. Broadway, 323 LaGrande ave; modern improvements, city water, etc; house has ten rooms also bath and laundry; possession any time; liberal terms. Apply to agents. 2 17 tf-m w f

WASHINGTON Park, North Plainfield; for sale or to let to a small family, No. 19 Sycamore ave., house in perfect order; contains 10 rooms, city water, gas and furnace; terms made to suit. Geo. F. Edwards, 191 Broadway, New York, or 17 Duer st., Plainfield. 2 17 12

VERY handsome flat; all modern improvements. Apply Manning's city marble works. 2 17 tf

WANTED.—At once, experienced white cook. Apply 949 Central avenue. 2 8 tf

WILL the person, who, on Sunday, found a small Scotch Terrier dog, weight about twelve pounds, return the same to 123 East Second street, and be suitably rewarded.

GOOD accommodations for horses; horses boarded by the month at reasonable terms. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville, N. J. 12 3 tf

FOR RENT—Two cottages, No. 830 and 832 West 3d st. Inquire of S. B. Wheeler, Netherwood Farm, Mountain avenue, North Plainfield. 10 30 tf

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

133 EAST 2d street to let a large sunny front room: also a hall rooms; furnished, 2 minutes from depot. 12 19 tf-m w t

TO LET—Stores, flats, dwellings. Bargains for sale. Mulford, Broker. 1 6 tf

TO LET—Stable on Sycamore street, from April 1st, seven stalls and a box stall, city water and electric lights, also three rooms over stable suitable for light house-keeping. Apply P. Lynch 1 2 tf

Pargiter Sale

Think of coming to a store where a dollar goes as far, buys double the amount of goods that it will in other stores. It isn't every day that we can buy good seasonable dry goods for 50c on the dollar, but some one's loss is your gain and we sell as we buy. It's two for one.

NEW ADDITION TO THE SALE.

Short lengths wash goods 3c yd, men's laundred shirts 39c, all-silk ribbon Nos. 12, 16, 22, 14c yd, do No. 40, 20c yd, do Nos. 4, 5, 7, 9, 5c yd, men's suspenders were 50c now 25c, fine umbrellas $1 kind, 50c, all our short length dress goods were 50 and 75c, now 25c yard.

	Pargiter's price.	Our price
Mens linen collars	13c	7c
" "	18c	8c
Mens cuffs	20c	10c
" "	30c	15c
Mens mixed half hose	15c	8c
Mens balbrigan half hose	25c	10c
Mens black half hose	25c	10c
Mens tan half hose	25c	10c
Mens cashmere half hose	35c	18c
Mens laundered cambric shirts	$1.25	75c
Feather boas	$1.50 and $2	30c
Ladies cambric waists	50c	25c
Mens unlaundered shirts	75c	37c
" " " "	$1	55c
Boys outing shirts	25c	12c
Mens outing shirts	25c	12c
" " "	60c	30c
Mens white wool shirts	50c	25c
Mens colored wool shirts	50c	25c
Mens scarlet "	$1	50c
Mens natural "	$1.25	59c
Mens scarlet double breasted shirts	$1.50	69c
Large Turkish towels	25c	13c
Large huck towels	25c	13c
Extra large h. s. towels	35c	17c
Dinner napkins	$1.50	98c
Cotton towels	10c	5c

Fine white apron checks	12c	6c
Fine Victoria lawn	20c	10c
Fine embroideries	5c	3c
" "	10c	5c
Wide embroideries	25c	10c
Wash crepons	10c	5c
Childrens hose	12c	6c
" "	15c	8c
" "	20c	10c
" "	30c	18c
Corset covers	18c	9c
Drawers	35c	19c
"	45c	23c
"	65c	37c
"	75c	46c
"	98c	42c
White shirts	75c	39c
"	$1.00	59c
"	1.25	69c
Ladies corsets	$1 and 1.25	69c
" kid gloves	1 00	57c
" " "	1.25	69c
" ribbed vests	35c	17c
" " pants	35c	17c
" " "	50c	25c
" " vests	50c	25c
" " "	75c	33c
" " pants	75c	33c

Housefurnishing Department.

STOP A MOMENT?

Self-praise is poor recommendation. It aint necessary to tell you where or how we buy our goods. Its the price that sells them every time—so here goes! MATCH THEM IF YOU CAN!

CUT BRUSH | 500 Bust Brushes, like sample, Wire Fastened, Hardwood Back at | 7c. EACH.

WASH DAY REMINDERS—Smoothing Irons, all sizes, best quality, at 3c. pound. Clothes Pins, all perfect, per 100 7c. Jute clothes line, very strong, at 1-2c. yd. Solid Zinc Wash-Boards, hardwood frame 10c each. Heavy Tin Wash Boilers, No. 7, oval copper bottom, 59c. each. No 1 size Cedar Wash Tubs, free from knots, 39c. each. No. 2, do. 49c. No. 2 size Clothes Baskets, white willow, 29c. each. Mrs. Pott's patent Smoothing Irons, 3 irons handle and stand, plain, 69c. set. Nickle, 79c set. Handles extra for Mrs Pott's Irons, 19c. each. Clothes Wringers, hard rubber rollers, warranted, at $1.37.

WHITE OF PLAINFIELD.

Removal Sale.

These Are the Goods that Must Go.

Boy's reefers $5.....now $2.45
Youth's overcoats $8.....now $4.75
Youth's overcoats $10.....now $6.50
Men's overcoats $10.....now $7.75
Men's ulsters $10.....now $6.00

SEBRING'S,

Park Avenue. April 1st, West Front Street.

SEE THAT CURVE IN HATS
on all the new spring styles
Shown in those sold by
HALLOCK, Hatter, 109 West Front St.

KEATING, The world's lightest—19 lbs. | SEE THAT CURVE? | FOWLER, Truss frame—17 to 24 lbs.

Chas. C. Lister,
134 North Avenue.

Guaranteed Bicycles For $49.50. | OUTING and APOLLO. | Repairing, Renting, and Storing.

"He Never New"

We kept Hanan & Son's Shoes,
But what could the poor boy do?
His wife found it out—
He had never been on Park avenue.

A. WILLETT & SON,
107 PARK AVENUE.

ELLEN OSBORN'S LETTER.

Frivolity Is the Word for the Fashions of the Spring.

Lenten and Post-Lenten Gowns—Figured Muslin for the Future, for Now the Velvet Brocades—Early Designs for Blouses.

[COPYRIGHT, 1896.]

"About this time"—so say the ominous words straggling down the page of April in fashion's almanac—" look out for frills."

The modes for the time of showers are well within prophetic view, and they are all compact of furbelows and flutterings. Even the plain skirt, badge, for so long, of correct dress, is in danger. There are hints of drapery; there is the certainty of figured goods and braiding and ruffling. And there is talk of sleeves miraculously less. In one of the new models shown a plain skirt is worn with a waist of dotted muslin. Save in the sleeves, it is not unlike the waists of 1895. There is a fichu-shaped front of crackled planting crossed by bands of dark embroidery and bordered with lace. There is a stock collar picked out with pearl ornaments and a square collarette, lace edged. There are epaulets of the dark embroidered straps, and at the bottom of the elbow sleeves huge full double ruffles raying out almost horizontally; but the sleeves themselves are close fitting and look, to eyes accustomed to balloonery, of almost pipestem slenderness. The collarette and the fichu edging of lace over the shoulders help to mask the fact, but the fact is there. It may be symptomatic. The fabric of the puff sleeve may go to pieces all at once. No one can tell.

I spoke of braiding. One of the spring blouses—simple things, cheap and pretty as is the way of blouses, bless them!—uses a jabot front of white chiffon with lace edging, and very wide collarettes of lace. About the square yoke is a black braid edging and farther out upon the shoulder runs another strip of braiding which forms a queer point like a lapel and then runs to below the waist, followed by the lace edging which is in two hanging ends. This costume has big sleeves of the leg-o'-mutton variety. There are others, among them the hateful British device of a mass of knife plaiting, biggest at the elbow, where it is drawn in squarely.

MRS. LANGTRY'S SKATING GOWN.

In many lines of goods for spring and early summer, dealers are preparing for a large demand for bizarre and striking figure efferts, of almost Dolly Vardenesque eccentricity. (Of course it is terrible to remember the Dolly Varden! None of us really can. But we have seen scraps in the piece-bags.) Yet, whatever the dealer commands, it will be as unwise as ever it was for any but large and showy women to choose the large and showy figures.

The winter is still with us, but Lent is only a few days away. An Easter neither very late nor very early leaves a fair margin for festivity before the season's breakup, and it is perfectly safe to make for this period party gowns upon the present lines—plain skirt, chiffon fluted-waist, big sleeves, round or square decolletage; or one can meet half way the spring styles with frocks of more fantastic material. If one have the gift for frivolity perhaps the latter course is better.

I might recommend, in that case, a plain cut skirt of China silk with fantastic figures running up and down the lengths; say ecru ground with flower sprays of pink; a pink muslin fichu and vest with plaited collarette, gorgeous cherry velvet puff sleeves, belt, rosettes and ribbon straps down the front; and there you are! The cornflower blond girl might make use of the same idea in light blue flowers and blue velvet.

Another ball or dinner costume employs an arabesque design in silk which forms a zouave, with vest front of velvet and chiffon sleeves.

Another uses with a plain skirt sleeves and vest of figured China silk over which is worn a plum-colored velvet corselet and velvet straps upon the shoulders.

In Lent one does not need to wear sackcloth or strew ashes; it is sufficient to improve the [illegible] by attending classes or taking lectures—Browning, Delsarte. First aid to the Injured, American history, almost anything will do, so that women are by it brought together to discuss things to them of greater moment. The proper Lenten gown is a plain tailor-made—well, perhaps, not exactly plain; a little trimming of dark brown down the lapels will not break the spirit of the law. And its material is appropriately dark—well, perhaps, not quite all dark; a little vest front of light silk or chiffon will do no harm; and, of course, one really must have an embroidered stock, cuffs and belt, and those cunning bows at the back of the neck and an appropriate toque with plumes—what could be more sadly appropriate?

In New York, Philadelphia and Chicago municipal politics will be a favorite topic of Lenten study in the women's classes. Perhaps this, too, is prophetic, prophetic of the day when woman takes the business end of the broom as a means of conviction to civic scoundrels.

Hardly could I leave the subject of Lent without remarking that it should be chastening to the proud soul to go abroad clad in one of the smart English coats, the shape whereof is parallelopipedonic and their buttons huge and their rough surface pestiferous.

But not all is ugly that out of Britain comes. A skating gown worn recently by Mrs. Langtry was extremely beautiful for a fancy dress at any time. The pale satin gown with raised designs in velvet, golden brown and rich blue formed bodice and skirt open all the way down and edged with fur. Vest and petticoat of white satin, covered with yellowish lace filled the opening. The ends of a blue chiffon sash hung well down at the left. From the puff elbow sleeves hung long angel sleeves of golden gauze, and the bodice was tricked out with golden epaulets and hussar straps. A blue velvet cap with two tiny black tips, a great aigrette rising from an emerald clasp was held in place—who would not be an actress?—by three great strings of pearls.

Fur edging is the last recommendation of a skirt in which one is to walk much. It raises a tremendous dust and is to this extent uncleanly and not nice. Yet fur holds its favor.

Velvet is quite the favorite material for the darker element in combination gowns. Velvet skirts are worn with light waists of chiffon or silk. Velvet wraps are very common. Velvet is perhaps seen in half the smart costumes for children.

Fichu and collarette combined will mark many of the new spring frocks.

The little basque seen so commonly awhile ago are not increasing in number or growing in esteem.

Printed and striped velvets, presenting a somewhat garish appearance for a material so rich, are unaccountably popular. One even sees velvet marked in huge plaids, generally used for long cloaks and wraps.

Happy she who can go to Bermuda or Florida and escape the first coy approaches of the northern spring, especially if she may go clad in light serge, and have plenty of light afternoon and evening bodices in her trunk. The Florida hotels shelter plenty of beautiful gowns.

And still in grim and threatening prospect the draped skirt!

ELLEN OSBORN.

Blue Blood in Philadelphia.

A well-known Philadelphia physician, whose name need not be mentioned for obvious reasons, is in a fair way to greatly increase his already large income through a discovery which he claims to have recently made. The doctor comes of good old stock, and is quite a figure in Philadelphia's most exclusive society. His discovery, brought about by experiments made upon his own person, is nothing less than the existence of a distinct and separate corpuscle of blue blood. When the result of his researches gets noised about the doctor will doubtless be overrun by Sons of the Revolution, Colonial Dames and members of other similar patriotic organizations in which ancestry is necessary. In the near future we may expect to hear: "I say, old chap, come take a peep through my microscope and see my blue blood corpuscle."

How Are Your Kidneys?

Does Your Back Ache?

Dr Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills

MAKE the Kidneys strong and healthy.

THEY cause the kidneys to filter all uric acid and other poisons or impurities from the blood.

Cure Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Anæmia, Pimples, Bad Blood, Bright's Disease, Malaria, Backache, Kidney Pains, Dropsy, Pain in the Abdomen, Frequent Urination, Inflamation of Kidneys, etc.

Are not a secret remedy, but contain highly concentrated extracts of Asparagus, Juniper Berries, Buchu, Corn Silk, Pareira Brava and Uva Ursa (all kidney healers) and are scientifically compounded.

Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills are endorsed by physicians and druggists. 50 cents a box. Valuable Book Free.

Hobbs Medicine Co., Chicago or San Francisco

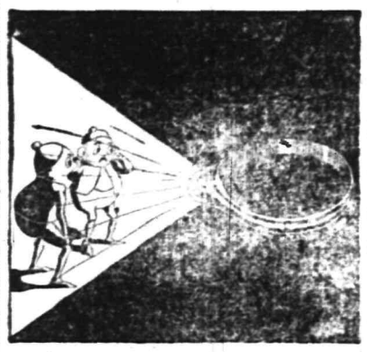
Nothing Like It.

Time brings many changes, but the climate of Calfornia, "The Italy of America," and the attractions of the many famous health and pleasure resorts, are the same yesterday, today and forever.

Tourists never will tire of speaking in praise of the soft and balmy air, the profusion of flowers, the magnificent display of fruits, the luxury of seabathing and the beautiful walks and drives.

Then, too, it must be conceded that with such excellent equipment, consisting of Reclining Chair Cars, Pullman Palace Sleepers and Pullman Dining Cars, all heated by steam and lighted with Pintsch Light, the Union Pacific, "The Overland Route," is the tourists favorite. Ask your agents for tickets via this route.

E. L. Lomax, General Pass and Ticket Agent, Omaha, Neb.



A BRILLIANT SIGHT.

is afforded everyone who looks through our stock of diamonds and other precious stones—and their setting is only second to them in beauty. You can't think of anything in the jewelry line you can't get here. If you can, let us know and we'll get it at short notice.

COLLIER, 103 Park Avenue.

Established 1869.

INSURANCE.

J. C. Pope & Co.,

INSURANCE AGENTS,

110 East Front st.,
Plainfield, N. J.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,
Real Estate and Insurance,
197 North avenue

INSURANCE.

WM. H. ABBOTT,
171 North Ave.

A Card to the Public

For nearly 20 years the public of Plainfield and vicinity have given me the largest share of their patronage in the purchasing of hats and gent's furnishings, showing that honest effort, low prices and reliable goods are appreciated. I have now associated with me Mr. Charles Clark, of Westfield, N. J., who comes to us highly recommended as a competent, honest young man. We will add to our stock of hats and gent's furnishings, a full line of men's and youth's shoes and rubbers, keeping only reliable goods and selling at the lowest possible prices.

Thankful for past favors, we are yours for business, U. B. CRANE,
120 West Front st.
Succeeded by Crane & Clark.

F. A. DUNHAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor
109 Park ave. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas. Telephone 87—F.

Dogs

IRON AND BRASS

FIRE-DOGS.

Curtis M. Thorpe,

Y. M. C. A. Building

"Everything for the Fireplace."

Improve YOUR OPPORTUNITY!

Get Some of the BARGAINS IN FURNITURE and CHINA.

before removal to Jackson Building.

Heat Your Rooms With the

Surio Gas Globe Heater.

Goes on any Gas Jet.

G. Q. Packer. Jos. W. Gavett.

Putnam & DeGraw

THIS WEEK WE WILL SELL

SHIRT WAISTS—Ladies laundered shirt waists only 50c.
UMBRELLAS—Fast black, Paragon frame, only 75c.
HOSIERY—Children's 1x1 rib, extra quality, all sizes, 15c; ladies fast black seamless, extra quality, at 10, 15 and 25c; men's mixed half hose, extra quality 10c, 3 for 25c; men's mixed half hose, seamless, extra heavy, 15c, 2 for 25 cents.
WAISTS—Children's corded underwaists 25c; children's outing flannel waists 50c style for 40c.
NECKWEAR—A new and special line at 25 and 50c.
EMBROIDERIES—Our's are the talk of the city.
COTTON CREPONS—Evening shades at 12 and 15c a yard.

COSTS NOTHING

to see our immense line of wall papers—or to let us estimate on your Spring decorating—We are

GLAD TO DO IT!

Edward Love,

Corner North and Watchung Avenues.

Telephone, Brooklyn, 366.

COMINS & EVANS

Acorn Brand Asphalt Roofing.

Gravel and Metal Roofing, Tile and Brick Roofing, Water-Tight Cellars.

45 WAVERLY AVE, BROOKLYN, N. Y

New York office, 38 Dey st. 1 18 y eod

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

—Dealers in—

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Material, &c.

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

Creamery Butter

20c Per Pound at

J. F. MACDONALD'S

Uptown Grocery.

J. T. VAll, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 NORTH AVENUE.

May Change Her Mind

and her stationery. This unwritten law may be observed just as often as she desires, and then, if not thoroughly satisfied, can get her money back for the asking. However, we find few who do not like our 25c box of paper and envelopes when desiring the medium grade.

R. C. RAND,

140 West Front st.

HONEYMAN'S PRIVATE TOURS,

181 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

February 21, to Old Point; Easter week to Washington; June 27, Coaching trip abroad, with Switzerland and Italy; August to New England; December to Mexico.

A. Lusardi,

120 North Ave.,

will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c a qt. Branch store, corner Front and Somerset streets.

P. MARKEY, Bakery,

144 PARK AVENUE.

A full assortment of bread, cakes, and pies fresh every day. Fig and malt bread a specialty. 2 17 tf

R. H. Rushton. J. C. Hansen. A. Luthman.

Rushton, Hansen & Luthman,

PAINTERS & PAPER HANGERS,

P. O. Box 773, Plainfield, N. J.

Interior decorating a specialty. Our motto—first-class work. Estimates cheerfully given. Orders promptly attended to. 2 11 tf

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Anthracite Coal Used Exclusively, Insuring Cleanliness and Comfort.

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street.
Time Table in Effect Nov. 17, 1895.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 14, 3 37, 5 38, 6 04, 6 29, 6 59, 7 26, 7 30, 7 53, 8 00, 8 15, 8 27, 8 31, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, 10 59 a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 9 23, 10 17, 11 28, p.m. Sunday, 2 14, 3 37, 6 04, 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 10 59, 11 16, a m; 12 53, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17, p m.

Leave New York, Foot Liberty St., at 4 30, 6 00, 7 15, 8 00, 8 40, 9 10, 10 00, 11 45, a m; 1 10, 1 30, 2 30, 3 30, 3 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 15, 5 30, 5 45, 6 00, 6 15, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 30, p m; 12 15, 1 00, night. Sunday, 4 30, 7 15, 9 00, 9 15, a m; 12 00 m; 1 00, 1 30, 2 30, 4 00, 5 30, 7 00, 9 00, 10 00, p m; 12 15 night, 1 00 a m

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield at 5 38, 6 29, 6 59, 7 30, 8 00, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 10 17, 11 28, p m. Sunday 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 11 16 a m; 12 36, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17 p. m.

Leave Newark at 6 15, 7 18, 7 55, 8 39, 9 08, 10 05, 11 35, a m; 1 15, 1 35, 2 25, 3 35, 4 05, 4 40, 5 04, 5 34, 5 50, 6 20, 7 15, 7 35, 8 40, 10 05, 11 25, p. m. Sunday 7 30, 9 05, 9 30, 11 35 a m; 1 10, 1 35, 2 35, 4 05, 5 40, 7 20, 9 25, 10 20 Passengers for Newark please change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 5 45, 7 10, 8 16, 9 54, 11 00 a m; 12 46, 2 11, 2 32, 3 35, 4 36, 5 05, 5 14, 5 34, 6 04, 6 12, 6 38, 7 12, 7 34, 8 21, 10 26, 11 23, p m; 12 38 night. Sunday 5 45, 8 28, 9 55, a m; 2 03, 3 43 5 14, 6 35, 10 35, 11 14 p m.

Leave Somerville at 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 25, 7 30, 7 48, 8 20 9 05, 9 48, 11 40 a. m; 12 50, 1 48, 2 05, 3 25, 4 25, 4 59, 6 35, 8 07, 8 45, 11 05 p. m. Sunday at 8 25, 9 45, 10 35 a m; 12 08, 1 20, 5 10, 6 35, 8 05, 8 05, 9 40 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield at 5 45, 8 16, 9 54 a m., 12 46, 2 11, 5 05, 5 14, 6 38, 8 21 p. m. Sunday at 5 45, 8 28, a m; 2 03, 6 35 p m.

Leave Easton at 6 05, 7 00, 8 53, a m; 12 32, 3 43, 4 49, 7 00, p. m. Sunday at 7 15, 10 52 a m; 6 40, 7 30 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield at 9 54 a. m.; 5 05 5 14.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

5 45 a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m.—For stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 a. m.—For Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 54 a. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch D. L. & W. R. R., Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Shamokin, Nanticoke, and Upper Lehigh. Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. with buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 46 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 11 p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Tamaqua, Sunbury, Williamsport, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

5 05 p. m., way for Easton, connecting with High Bridge for stations on High Bridge Branch.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Easton, Bethlehem Bangor, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Scranton, Wilkesbarre, Tamaqua, Shamokin, (buffet parlor car to Scranton.)

6 19 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 38 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, and Harrisburg.

8 21 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

5 45 a. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

8 28 a. m. Sundays—For Easton.

2 03 p. m. Sundays—For High Bridge for High Bridge Branch Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading, and Harrisburg.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 35 p. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c., and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

FOR LONG BRANCH, OCEAN GROVE, ETC.

Leave Plainfield at 3 37, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, p. m. Sunday, (except Ocean Grove) 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 3 37, 5 38, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, 7 03, p. m., Sundays 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Atlantic City, 3 37 a. m.; 1 18 p. m.

For Freehold, 3 37, 8 00, 10 27 a. m.; 1 18, 3 51, 5 24 p. m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44 9 46, 10 44 a. m.; 2 17, 5 34*, 6 45, 8 21, 9 37*, 1 17 night. Sundays—5 17, 5 45, 9 55 10 44 a. m., 2 25, 4 55, 5 14* 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night.

For Trenton, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44, 9 46, a. m. 12 46, 2 17, 5 34*, 6 38*, 8 21, 9 37* p. m., 1 17 night, Sundays 5 17, 5 45, 9 55 a. m. 2 25, 4 55, 5 14*, 6 35*, p. m. 1 17 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 8 44, 10 44 a m., 5 34*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays, 10 44 a. m., 5 14*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points West, week-days at 9 54 a. m., 8 21 p. m. Sunday 6 35 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked (*) change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rates may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN,
General Superintendent.
H. P. BALDWIN,
General Passenger Agent.

Jones & Co.,

EXCAVATORS.

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.

—Cesspools Built.

Sewer Connections Made

Properly and Earth Replaced Carefully.

PLUMBING TESTED.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front street.

CLASSES FOR

Women and Girls

IN

Gymnastic Exercises, Swimming and Fencing.

Miss Elizabeth C. MacMartin, Inst'r.

will meet applicants for membership Wednesday afternoon from 2 until 3, at the Y. M. C. A.

M. Powers & Son.

Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75 in the Yard.
A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office 763 South ave. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

E. H. Holmes,

Dealer in

Coal & Wood.

Yard—No. 208 Madison avenue. Office for coal orders with Woolston & Buckle, 145 North ave.

Telephone 49-A.

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the first and third Thursday eveningsof each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.
John Fellows, Dictator.
R. A. Frey, Reporter.

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays in the Babcock Building. C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Sec.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Babcock Building, West Front street. D. C. Adams, W. M.
Charles Yeager, Sec.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the second and fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward Building, Park avenue, at 8 p.m.
Harry C. Adams, Regent.
Frederick C. Pope, Secretary.

MONEY

Cannot buy better

Men's Suits,

in fine imported Black and Blue Cheviot, Diagonal or fancy weave, single or double breasted at $9.90.

reduced from $15, $18 and $20.

WERNER'S,

206 West Front st.

EXTRA FINE

Jersey Poultry

AT LOWEST PRICES.

Turkeys, Chickens and Ducks

Genuine Philadelphia Scrapple, Taylor's Prepared Ham, Pork Tenderloins.

Great Reduction

in price of all kinds of

MEAT

Headquarters for Jersey pork, bologna and Delacatessen. Jersey pork and Sausage 10c lb.

A. G. Vogeler.

131 West Front st.

THIS IS

the season most people need a

TONIC,

and no better can be found than

Leggett's

Malt Extract.

It is a pure concentrated extract of malt and hops.

Price 20 cents a bottle, $2 a dozen.

Leggett's Pharmacy,

Y. M. C. Building.

Your Valuables

will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

Lock boxes from $3.50 to $10 a year.

RANDOLPH RUNYON

Funeral Director and Embalmer.

43 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.
Residence over office. 1 18 m

A Great Battle.

Do consumptives recover? Yes, thousands of them. Even after the disease has a firm hold? Yes, no doubt about it. After cavities have been formed and hemorrhages have occurred? Yes, even then. If the system is too weak, the disease will probably conquer, but if the body can be reinforced there is a fair chance for a winning fight. For twenty years, thousands have testified how they gained the victory.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil with the Hypophosphites is still coming to the rescue. Out-door life, fresh air, and good pluck are of immense value. But in addition to these the body must be supplied with that peculiar kind of fat which is found only in cod-liver oil; combined with valuable medicinal agents; and there must be the tonic effect which comes from the hypophosphites. It is a great battle, and a great victory is often gained.

"Just as Good" is not SCOTT'S EMULSION.

50c. and $1.00 at all druggists.

SCOTT & BOWNE. New York

Your Spring Clothing

Rather early to speak of it, but if it needs cleaning or dyeing, it isn't too early to have us do that work for you. This is our dull season—our employes are here ready for work. We'd like to have your goods now. We can give them better attention than in the rush of the spring season. Then we'll have to have more time or rush them at the expense of good work. Now we can take our time, do the work better than if hurried and you'll have the clothing all ready for warm weather.

Look in the closet or trunk and find your spring wear that needs cleaning and dyeing and bring it to us now, or better still, our wagon will call for it if you will send us word.

Hillier & Co.,

179 North ave., Plainfield.

McCullough's STEAM MILL,

21 Steiner place, North Plainfield.

R. H. McCullough, Prop.
Sash, blinds, doors, mouldings, scroll sawing, turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully furnished.

ERNEST BARRETT,

Sanitary Plumbing, Steam and Hot Water Heating

All work guaranteed. Estimates cheerfully given. Jobbing promptly attended to.

325 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

PROSPECT HILL Must Be Sold.

Azalias, Chinese primrose, palms, ferns, begonias and variety of blooming plants. Wedding decorations and floral designs and all equipments for church and house decorations. Southern smilax at 15 days' notice

AT DENTON'S.

A TRAP FOR WAR SHIPS.

The Might Be Caught By a Chain of Great Magnets.

One of the Possibilities of Electrical Coast Defenses—How to Protect New York Harbor—Col. W. R. King's Invention and Its Uses.

[COPYRIGHT, 1896.]

So many people have been talking and thinking within the past few weeks, and even nervous about the ways and means of defending the coasts of the United States against attack by a foreign power that the progress of electrical experiments in this matter may be of interest.

Since the last war in which the United States was at all practically interested, applied electricity has done so much to change the methods of communication and locomotion both on land and sea that more may be expected from it. We had the Atlantic cable in 1868, which condensed weeks into days as far as commerce is concerned between the old world and the new; also the telephone, which cuts into the mail methods for moderate distances, shortening the time of supply from days to minutes; then the street trolley car, which is an example of machinery propelled by electricity that has so greatly facilitated the transportation of passengers and mails in cities—to say nothing of the electric light. All of which is applied electricity.

Out of what was at first mere idle curiosity I took the trouble to find out how far electricity can be relied upon as an aid or a single factor in defending our coasts and harbors, and the result is here given.

In November, 1894, Col. W. R. King, then commanding engineer at the United States engineering school at Willet's Point, on Long Island, tried to see how powerful a magnet he could make, and of what use it would be. He took the largest steel cannon he had (of which it is unnecessary to give the dimensions here), plugged up the muzzle with soft metal, then wrapped the barrel with copper wire, thereby making an instrument that could be greatly magnetized by a current of electricity. When the current was turned on all small pieces of iron lying near the cannon began to leave their places and cling to the great magnet. A man took a dinner tray loaded with pieces of scrap iron weighing from an ounce to a pound, and when he was within 100 feet of the magnet the pieces began to leave the tray and cling to the cannon, and a little nearer the platter was as clean as that of Jack Sprat and his wife after they were through eating. Next a crowbar weighing 25 pounds was taken near the cannon. It flew out of the man's hands and stuck with such force that two strong men were required to pull it away, and this could be done only by a sudden jerk.

THE PIECES LEFT THE TRAY AND CLUNG TO THE CANNON.

It was noticed also that the magnetic compasses in the immediate neighborhood were appreciably depleted by this, the greatest magnet in the world. Some newspaper reports at the time quoted Col. King as saying that a ship's compass could be deflected six miles at sea; but this was an injustice to the colonel, and herewith is given an extract from a private letter written by him at the time to show what was really done. After deprecating the wrong statements by certain newspapers, Col. King wrote:

"U. S. ENGINEERING SCHOOL, Willet's Point, "Queens County, N. Y., Nov. 27, 1894.

"DEAR SIR:

* * * * * * *

"It may be of interest to you to know exactly what the effect is on the needle, and this I had carefully tested just before your letter came, viz., at distances of 50, 100, 150 and 200 feet. In a line nearly east and west through the magnet the deflections of the compass were 85 degrees, 16 degrees, 8 degrees and 2½ degrees, which shows the rate at which the force tapers off, so to speak.

"You may also be interested in some pictures recently taken, showing the magnet holding up five 320-pound projectiles, and how the force will pass through a man and cause iron to stand out from his body 'like quills upon the fretful porcupine.'

* * * * * * *

"Respectfully, W. R. KING."

The pictures show a number of large spikes attached horizontally to the body of a man standing near the magnet.

To illustrate the practical use of the force in this great magnet, as it might be applied to coast and harbor defenses at New York and other places, I shall give the result of a talk with Prof. W. Hallock, of the department of natural physics, Columbia college, in relation to the effect that a combination of these great magnets might have upon battle ships approaching harbors and coasts. Prof. Hallock said:

"I know of Col. King's great magnet The magnetic power in it could not be transmitted through copper or any kind of wire running out from the shore to small receiving magnets lying at the bottom of the channel entrance to a harbor, because the currents slope off, as it were, into air or water as they proceed from the great magnet, thereby losing force. But there is nothing to hinder the planting of a line of these great magnets across the entrance to a harbor several miles at sea and magnetizing them through cables from the shore at short notice. They could be sunk to the bottom of the sea, and would act just as efficiently under water as on land.

"For instance, take the entrance to New York harbor. The chart here, as you see, shows that the channel is very narrow, and that is one great advantage. If we should take a few old cannon barrels and make magnets of them, like Col. King's, they could be dropped in a line across the channel a few hundred feet apart, and here and there around Sandy Hook, connecting them each with a powerful battery on shore. The apparatus would be comparatively inexpensive and simple. Each one would be what we call a temporary magnet, that is, one which could be magnetized temporarily by a current of electricity trasmitted through the cable from the shore. A permanent magnet, or one retaining constant power, could hardly be made large enough to be efficient, and if it were, its constant force would endanger all incoming vessels all the time. But a magnet, or line of magnets like Col. King's could be magnetized and made active in a minute, and the current could be shut off quickly. The power of the magnet would depend upon the strength of the current received from the shore.

"Now suppose a battle ship were coming up the channel into New York harbor. The ship is made almost entirely of iron and steel. The line of great magnets lying under and across its headway, could be powerfully magnetized. When the ship approached within 200 feet of a magnet, the latter would leave its bed and cling to the forward keel, and if the ship should pass directly over one of the magnets, the depth of water below the keel is so slight that the magnet would come up to the ship with great force. Having once touched the keel, the electric current from the shore would either stop the ship, or the magnet would be dragged along the keel until it would strike the propellers, which would be done with such force as to crush them.

"In case the first magnet should not be strong enough, and the ship should cross a second, the second would seek the end of the ship opposite the first, forming the two poles and magnetizing the entire ship. Then it would be impossible for the ship's steam power to overcome this force, while all movable iron would be stuck solid.

"All this is very plausible and could be made practical. Of course, what is done in New York harbor and along the immediate coasts could be done elsewhere. It would cost very little to try this first on one of our own battle ships entering the harbor, and little harm could be done, for the current from the shore could be shut off immediately at a signal from the ship.

"As to the deflection of the compass of the ship, when one of these magnets should strike the keel, the compass could be made to whirl like a school boy's top, for it would be an almost direct contact with the magnet."

After investigating the subject thus far, one of my own wild ideas is that, in a sudden emergency, the submarine cable connecting these deep-sea magnets with the shore could be connected with a trolley-car power house, and the magnetic power could be quickly run away up to the top of the alphabet, and a battle ship would hardly realize what had struck it.

WASHINGTON DAVIS.

Heavy Tax for Bicycles.

One of the suggestions recently made to the chamber of deputies in Paris was by a commercial traveler, who proposed that women's bicycles should be subjected to a yearly tax of $80, and that none should be permitted to wear rational costume without taking out a license every year at a cost of $200.

No Cause for Fear.

She—The last man that asked father for my hand got thrown out.

He—But you are more of a job lot now than you were then.—Town Topics.

TRAGEDY AND SAWDUST.

EVANTS' circus was at one time the most popular of any. And the most popular member of it was Rosie Marton. Even now the people hold her up as a standard by which to judge merit. Bill Berrill was the clown, and a good clown he was. Everyone said that up in London or any of the big towns Bill—"Little Bandy," as he was christened on the bills—could have made three times the money. But Bill preferred to remain with Levants—and near Rosie.

Leo Corello was the lion tamer. The man who had held the post ever since Levants first took the road was dead. Leo came over from the continent after the vacancy. He gave a rehearsal, and was offered the post on the spot. But the salary was too low. Leo prepared to return. Then he saw Rosie—and stayed. With all the troupe Rosie was a favorite. When her mother had died, leaving her a mere helpless infant, the company had held a solemn meeting to decide as to her fate. The manager solved the problem.

"We're none of us rich enough to adopt her entirely," said he. "We'll limit the liability, and collectively act as her parents. Rosie shall be the daughter of the troupe."

As it was his own idea that had secured Rosie to the troupe, old Ted Passmore, the manager, had been informally constituted her guardian. And one rule that he made was: "No getting engaged or anything of that sort till she's 20 and knows her own mind."

It was on the very day that she attained her score of years that Bill Berrill made his formal application for her hand. Thankful he was that the time had arrived. Leo Corello had grown to be a veritable nightmare to him. Not that he doubted Rosie—the truest little girl man could love. But the lion-tamer's growing admiration was so very ardent that Bill felt all the easier when she was promised to him. For, of course, the application was granted.

That evening Leo Corello was in grand form. They were performing in one of the most important towns on their list, and the circus was packed. Leo outdid himself. Unarmed, without even whip or stick, he played with his lions as if they had been kittens, and sent cold shivers through his audience with his intrepidity.

"Isn't he splendid!" It was Rosie herself who said so.

The clown, standing beside her, frowned.

"Fate has given him a better part than mere fooling to make people laugh," said he, with a touch of bitterness in his tones. "Do you admire him so very much?"

Rosie turned. Her cheeks reddened with her indignation. She held out the hand on which glistened the ring he had just given her.

"You haven't much faith in me," she said, her pretty face looking pained. "We shan't be very happy together after all if you are jealous because I give a brave man his due."

"Forgive me, Rosie!" exclaimed the clown fervently, as he kissed her hand, and, hearing the bell, bounded into the ring.

Then came Leo's chance. "Little Bandy's" turn was a long one. As the thunders of applause subsided the lion-tamer moved to where the clown had stood beside her. His flashing eyes glowed with excitement as he asked:

"Mlle. Rosie, how was that?"

"Splendid!" said Rosie, again.

"Do you know why?" asked he, as, delighted to hear her words, he came closer to her. "I was thinking of you, and love made me laugh at lions."

"Sig. Corello, you must not talk to me like that."

And, playfully, she held out her hand once more to show her ring, and pointed archly to the man in the sawdust circle.

Leo's face darkened.

"Have you given yourself to that?" he sneered, looking contemptuously in the direction of the grotesque figure posturing in the ring, and added: "I love you. I will leave here to make more money. Soon I can have a circus of my own. You shall be its mistress, with no need to work, a carriage to ride in, and everything else your heart can want. Throw over this clown. Think of all that I am offering to you. Mlle. Rosie—be my wife!"

Rosie Marton, her eyes shining, stepped back from him, shaking her head.

"Thank you very much, Sig. Corello, for your magnificent offer. I decline it."

"You want your tackle left up after the performance is over, so that you may practice in the morning? Only mind what you're doing, Bill Berrill. This lofty tumbling that you've taken to is a bit more dangerous than clowning, and now it's fixed we don't want your wedding day postponed."

So said Teddy Passmore. The clown promised to be cautious, and in the morning repaired to the circus to have a turn on the ropes.

Rosie was waiting for him. Profitable as it was, she had a dread of this new item that her lover had added to his repertoire, and so went with him, "so that he might be safe," as she said.

"Sig. Corello passed me coming along," remarked she, as the clown let himself into the great wooden building with his key. But when they got inside and no one appeared both felt easier. Merely discarding his coat, up he went on the ropes and in midair went through his perilous tricks. Rosie sat on a sack of sawdust below, trying to read a newspaper and wishing that the rehearsal was finished.

Suddenly from above came a shout. She started to her feet.

"Run, Rosie, run! To the window! The lions are loose!"

Run! She was rooted to the spot. In the doorway by which they had entered crouched a great, tawny, yellow mass, that, flat upon the boards, came wriggling without a sound toward them.

Down the rope Bill Berrill slipped, as Rosie, recovering her strength, started to the back of the hall. The lion rose up. It took five quick strides, then stopped as, with a thud, Bill Berrill dropped on to his feet.

"It is locked, and I cannot reach it," cried the terrified girl, as she stretched in vain for the fastening of the great window.

The clown turned. As he took his eyes from its face the lion came on. If he fled it would be upon him in a moment.

Then, close at hand, he saw the sponge set on a stick, the matches and parraffine, used by the gasman with which to light up at night time.

"I dare not move!" he cried. "Bring me the tin of oil and the matches."

The escaped lion saw the movement. It crouched as if to spring, its great tail sweeping the floor from time to time.

Tottering in her fear, Rosie dragged to him the precious tin. The clown, never taking his eyes from the great yellow orbs that glared at him, pulled out the cork. The liquid oil ran freely. Bill Berrill struck a match and threw it down. A stream of flame shot across the boards. A low growl issued from the throat of the startled lion as it backed before the wall of fire.

"Now! The window!"

In a second he had hoisted Rosie up. The catch was undone. She scrambled out. Bill Berrill followed and closed the casement after him, just as the lion, dodging round the fire, leaping to the place where a second before they had been standing.

"Be careful, Will. Somehow I do dread to-night's performance. There is something the matter with Corello. The house is crowded, but he is not himself to-night. Do be careful, Will, dear."

Bill Berrill promised as he squeezed

BILL BERRILL SWUNG FAR OUT INTO SPACE.

the little, cold hand of the girl who, to-morrow, would be his wife. After the lion-tamer's performance there was one more turn, and then he went on.

"That's funny," observed Ted Passmore as the clown passed him. "Close by where your trapeze ropes are fixed two panes of glass are gone from the roof!"

Directly his portion of the programme had come to an end Leo Corello hurried from the building. Round to the back he went, where, in a narrow street full of gaunt, tall houses, he rented a top-story bedroom. To this room he ascended.

From the mattress under the bed he drew forth a long, dagger-like knife contained in a leather sheath. Testing its keenness, he cut easily through a stick of wood he drew from the ready-laid fire.

Armed with the knife, he threw up the window and passed out on the leads. Before him, almost on a level, was the glass roof of the hippodrome.

Through the open window the first notes of a merry tune came from the band.

A cheer of welcome greeted "Little Bandy" as, for the second time, he bounded into the ring. In a trice he was hoisted to the trapeze far above.

One or two graceful evolutions, and then, hanging by his hands from the bar, he commenced to swing to and fro for a long flight in midair.

Suddenly there was a cry from above, a shriek from a woman and a chorus of alarm from the crowd. One rope had snapped. Still grasping the wooden bar Bill Berrill swung far out into space, where, if he fell, no friendly net would catch him.

"Hold for your life," shouted Ted Passmore, as, with a dozen others, he ran into the ring to try and seize the end of the fallen rope as it swished furiously here and there.

Then, as all eyes were turned upon the figure of the man swinging and revolving with dangerous violence in the air, another cry went up.

Through the second small opening in the roof a human arm was protruded—an arm whose hand grasped a gleaming blade.

The rope, stretched at tension, lengthened. The knife had cut one strand.

Crash! Down came a pane of glass. An iron support gave way, and then, with a clatter and a smash, a hole opened in the roof and the body of a man fell headlong down—down on the sawdust of the ring. The body rolled over, revealing the dead face of Leo Corello.

A minute later, as hand in hand Bill Berrill and Rosie stood together in the ring, a thunder of applause went up, and their fingers pressed unseen as they bowed their acknowledgments, and in their hearts returned thanks to Providence for the strange passing of this shadow from their lives.—Illustrated Bits.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The delegates to the Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias from the local lodges returned last night.

—The large pane of plate glass was placed in position in the window of the new First National Bank building today.

—The members of the Watchung Lodge have changed their meeting night from the second and fourth Thursdays to every Tuesday. They meet in Red Men's Hall.

—At a meeting of Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., the invitation of Perseverance Lodge to attend service in the First Presbyterian church next Sunday evening, was accepted.

A Malicious Sneak Thief.

A sneak thief has been making the rounds of the residences on Watchung avenue. He seemed to have a special fondness for thermometers. A new and valuable combination thermometer and barometer disappeared from the piazza of Rev. S. P. Simpson, of Watchung avenue last night, while a very expensive one that was similarly located on Councilman S. A. Ginna's piazza was utterly ruined. The thermometer and barometer were secured to the house so that they could not be taken away and the thief, in his disgust, maliciously destroyed them.

Want a State Council.

Iona Council, Degree of Pocohontas, met last night and elected one candidate and instructed the representative to the Great Council to advocate the establishment of a State Great Council for the Degree of Pocahontas, also the establishment of a funeral death benefit fund. The attendance at the meeting was large and considerable interest manifested in the proceedings.

Field Estate to be Developed.

The Field estate in the vicinity of lower Central avenue will be thrown on the market and developed as a residential section by its owners, New York capitalists, this coming summer. The lots will be sold with such restrictions that nothing but a high grade of residences can be erected thereon.

A Select Dance.

At the meeting of Paugh-Caugh-Naugh-Singue Tribe, I. O. R. M., last night, a committee was appointed to decide whether or not it would be advisable to give a select dance on the occasion of their second anniversary, April 16th. They made an immediately favorable report.

Sat On the Car Tracks.

A horse, attached to a milk wagon, was frightened at the corner of Front and Somerset streets yesterday afternoon at a piece of paper and sat down on the car tracks, breaking his harness. He then started to run away when a passerby stopped him.

A Trespasser In Court.

A colored individual named Peter Huff appeared in the city court this morning charged with trespassing on the railroad. City Judge DeMeza suspended sentence on him.

The following scores were made yesterday at the live bird contest between members of the IndependentScheutzen Corps: Williams 3; Wood 4; J. A. Bee 5; Fredricks 2; Wekemeyer 2; Haurand 4. Two sweepstake matches followed. In the first Williams, Wood and Wedemeyer tied for first money; Bee, secured second, and Fredericks third. In the second contest Wood got first and Wedemeyer second. On Saturday there will be rifle shooting at blue rocks.

Senor Pulan Must Apologize.

London, Feb. 20.—The Standard today prints a dispatch from its Madrid correspondent saying that Senor Canovas del Castillo, the Spanish minister, will request Senor Coucas y Pulan, who recently read before a geographical society a paper to which United States Minister Taylor took exceptions, to write an apology to the minister, and thus terminate the incident.

Mrs. Haun Must Serve Life Sentence.

Fonda, N. Y., Feb. 20.—The trial of Mrs. Florence Haun, charged with the murder of Charles Laudry in Amsterdam on November 6 last, was concluded here last night, the verdict of the jury being murder in the second degree, as predicted in thesedispatches. Judge Stover remanded the prisoner for sentence.

Murderer Dalton Wants a New Trial.

Providence, Feb. 20.—Martin Dalton, who was convicted January 3, this year, of the murder of Anthony E. Haswell, has petitioned for a new trial. He claims error in the rulings of the judge, also that the verdict was against the evidence and that the court had no jurisdiction.

Will Address the Young People.

Carlisle, Pa., Feb. 20.—Rev. Dr. George E. Reed, president of Dickinson college at this place, will address the annual convention of the New Haven district Young People's Union of the Methodist Episcopal church to be held at Waterbury, Conn., next Wednesday.

Raines Bill To Be Reported To-day.

Albany, Feb. 20.—The Raines liquor tax bill which the committee on taxation and retrenchment agreed yesterday afternoon, by a vote of 5 to 2, to report favorably will be presented to the senate to-day.

To Be Avoided.

As the young man entered the reading-room of the club there was a sudden exodus in the direction of the billiard-room.

"Wilbur seems to have become suddenly unpopular," said one of the men in the far corner, as he noticed it.

"Well, the boys do rather avoid him," returned the other.

"For what reason?"

"Why, his first baby has just reached the age where it says bright things."—Chicago Evening Post.

Live Art.

"You really have no art development in America, have you?" said the Englishman to the Chicago girl at Interlaken.

"Why, certainly," she replied.

"Have you a Louvre, or a national gallery, or an Uffizi?" he asked.

"Well—no, not exactly," said she. "Fact is, we don't bank much on the past, but our living pictures are out of sight."—Harper's Bazar.

By a Woman Suffragist.

Alas that we a man should meet
In this progressive land,
Who will in congress take a seat,
And let a lady stand!
—Washington Star.

THE CURSE OF HEREDITY.

"Yes, Patsey MacManus O'Flaherty, yer pa may be rich and able ter give yer stylish clothes, but he's not able to change yer face, so there!"—Life.

A Cold World.

"What brought you to this place, my friend?" inquired a visitor at the penitentiary of a convict.

"A mere matter of opinion got me here, sir."

"Impossible!"

"No, sir. I expressed the opinion that I was innocent, and the jury expressed the opinion that I wasn't. It's a cold world, sir."—Bay City Chat.

Feminine Inconsistency.

You may call a girl a kitten, but you may not call her "cat,"
Compliment her rounded figure, but you must not mention fat.
She may steal your heart unhindered, but you may not steal a kiss,
For the greatest of all wonders is a dainty, darling miss.
—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

Surely an Error.

"That's a curious printer's error," said Mrs. Partridge. "The title of this new book is printed 'The Viking Age.'"

"Well, why not?" asked Mr. Partridge. "What ought it to be?"

"Why—'Biking Age,' oughtn't it?"—Boston Globe.

Nothing to Go By.

Mrs. Gabb—What sort o' folks are those new neighbors of yours?

Mrs. Gadd—Well, I've been watching their back yard for two weeks, but as they send their wash to a laundry I can't tell anything about them.—N. Y. Weekly.

Sympathy.

Mrs. Swelle (whose hip has been broken)—Oh, doctor, I am so afraid one leg will become shorter than the other. What shall I do if it does?

Dr. Gruffe—Limp, madame.—To Date.

Are All Enemies.

"You are acquainted in Boomtown?"

"Oh, yes."

"Have friends there, I suppose?"

"Well, no; you see, I'm a real estate agent, and I sold the town lots.—Chicago Record.

The State of Trade.

"Well, Mr. Bergelmann, how is trade with you?"

"Vy, it peesness been as good dis week as est vas next vook, vy, I dells you vat, dat's all dere is about id!"—Judge.

Just Severity in Dakota.

"Your crime," said the South Dakota judge, "is absolutely inexcusable. A man who will not take the trouble to get a divorce deserves no mercy."

And he gave the convicted bigamist the full penalty of the law.—Puck.

Pura Blood!

CATARRH.

Under Grant From the United States Government.

In all catarrhal troubles the effect of "Pura Blood," which contains the healing waters of Hot Springs, Arkansas, under grant from the United States Government, is truly wonderful.

Abandon the idea that there is no relief for you, as many miraculous cures have been effected with this treatment at Hot Springs, Arkansas, as thousands of patients can testify who have there been permanently cured. "Pura Blood" is indorsed by physicians, and is for sale by druggists, price $1 per bottle. Billups & Co., of 26 Cortlandt street, New York, are sole agents, and will send free to any address descriptive book.

He Was Entirely Disinterested.

Uncle—And what are you going to give your little sister for a birthday present?

"I'm going to ask father to get her a football, and then I'll show her how to play."—Pearson's.

He Had His Wish.

"I'd love to list to you all night!" he said.
Kissed good-by at the door, then homeward sped.
A year had passed since she became his bride,
He came home late—his wish was gratified.
—Judge.

NOT JUST WHAT HE MEANT.

Patient (cured and leaving the hospital, to nurse)—I thank you kindly, miss, for all your goodness—I shall never forget it! If ever there was a fallen angel, you're one!—London Punch.

It Needed Soaking.

Mrs. Jackson—Do you call this sponge cake? Why, it is as hard as a stone.

Cook—Yes, mum, that's the way a sponge is before it is wet. Soak it in your tea.—Truth.

There Was.

He (resuming his seat after a brief visit outside)—What an atmosphere of realism there is about this play!

She—Yes. Smells like cloves.—Chicago Tribune.

A New Symptom.

Invalid—I am getting tired of this monotonous state of things. Even a new symptom would be a relief.

Doctor—Well, then, why not pay me something on account?—N. Y. Herald.

Still Suspicious.

Burglar (just acquitted by his counsel)—I will shortly call and see you at your office, sir.

"Very good; but in the daytime, please."—Blumenlese.

Quick in effect, heals and leaves no scar. Burning, scaly skin eruptions quickly cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Applied to burns, scalds, old sores, it is magical in effect. Always cures piles. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

The usual treatment of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as thousands can testify. Proper local treatment is positively necessary to success, but many if not most of the remedies in general use afford but temporary relief. A cure certainly cannot be expected from snuffs, powders, douches and washes. Ely's Cream Balm, which is so highly commended, is a remedy that combines the important requisities of quick action, specific curative power, with perfect safety and pleasantness to the patient.

Edwin B. Maynard,
Hair Cutting and Shampooing.
Tonsorial parlor, 204 Park ave., Plainfield. Ladies' shampooing and children's hair cutting a specialty.

Pineola Cough Balsam

is excellent for all throat inflammations and for asthma. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from its use, as it quickly abate the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. There is a large percentage of those who suppose their cases to be consumption who are only suffering from a chronic cold or deep seated cough, often aggravated by catarrh. For catarrh use Ely's Cream Balm. Both remedies are pleasant to use. Cream Balm 50c per bottle; Pineola Balsam 25c. at druggists. In quantities of $2.50 will deliver on receipt of amount. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren st., N.Y.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

New York Mails.
Arrive—7:30, 8:40, 11:15 a.m., 2:45, 5, 5:30 p. m.
Close—7:15 and 9:20 a. m., 1:30, 4:30 and 7:30 p. m.

Somerville and Easton Mails.
Arrive—8:40 a. m., 2:40, 6:09 p. m.
Close—7:15 a. m., 4:30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arr. 12 m; closes 9:30 a. m.

Sunday Mails.
Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6:15 p. m.

J. M. HETFIELD, P. M

NOTICE.

All hackmen, truckmen and peddlers must make application to renew their licenses before Monday night, February 24th, as all licenses will expire on March 1st, and any person without a license will be required to suspend his business until one is procured.

GEO. W. GRANT,
Chief of Police.

List of Advertised Letters

Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 17, 1896.

Bates Geo Mrs	Lilly Geo
Bancroft Sarah J Miss	Lynet Ellen Miss
Connelly Peter	McKlellan Rose Miss
Hanshaw S W Mrs	Marie (nurse girl)
Haffner Frank P	Mairy Jas
Hustner John	O'Donnell Huge Mrs
Jeffries J W Rev	Philen Mary
King T P	Randolph Alfred

Munyon!

Wins the Medical Profession.

Strong Indorsements From Well-Known Physicians.

Rheumatism, Catarrh, Dyspepsia and the Most Obstinate Diseases Cured By Munyon's Improved Homoeopathic Remedies.

B. D. Brown, M. D., of Solomon, Kansas, says: "My kidneys were very sore and ached most of the time. The pain was severe when I stooped over, or lay on my back, and it was almost impossible to straighten up after sitting down. I had much trouble with my water and bladder. In three days after beginning Munyon's Kidney Cure and Bladder Cure I was relieved, and since that time I have felt like a new man. I have been practicing medicine for 30 years, and have used all kinds of drugs, but found with such wonderful curative powers as those of Munyon's Remedies."

Munyon's Rheumatism Cure never fails to relieve it in 1 to 3 hours, and cures in a few days. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure is guaranteed to cure all forms of indigestion and stomach troubles. Price 25c.

Munyon's Catarrh Remedies positively cure. Price, 25c. each.

Munyon's Kidney Cure speedily cures pains in the back, loins or groins, and all forms of kidney disease. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Female Remedies are a boon to all women. Price 25c.

Asthma Cure, with Asthma Herbs, $1.

Munyon's Nerve Cure stops nervousness and builds up the system. Price 25c.

Munyon's Headache Cure stops headache in 3 minutes. Price 25c.

Munyon's Pile Ointment positively cures all forms of piles. Price 25c.

Munyon's Blood Cure eradicates all impurities of the blood. Price 25c.

Munyon's Vitalizer restores lost powers to weak men. Price, $1.00.

A separate cure for each disease. At all druggists, 25c a bottle.

Personal letters to Professor Munyon, 1505 Arch st., Philadelphia, Pa., answered with free medical advice for any disease.

Van Emburgh

& SON.

Corner Store, Babcock Building.

We work for the GOOD WILL as well as the patronage of our customers.

Our prices are plain blunt arguments.

New Spring Flannelettes, 10c. yd.
Spring colors in Figured Valours, 12c yd.
New Mourning Sateens, 12c yd.
New spring figured Cambrics, 12c yard.
We are the people for nice Outings, 10c. yd.
Boys' Derby Ribbed Hose, 10c., 15c., 18c. pair.
Plain colors, Windsor Ties 10c.
Extra Wind Windsor Ties, 25c.
Extra size Windsor Ties, (hemstitched, 50c. each.
Our Corset Covers are selling at 15c, 19c, 25c, 30c, 42c, 54c, 59c, 72c, 89c each.
P. N. Corsets, perfect fit, 50c. 75c, $1.00 pair.
2 Turkish Bath Towels for 19c.
Roll Tape, all widths, 2c. each.
Attachable Corset Clasps, 5c pair.
Attachable Corset Clasps, (cork protector) 8c. pair.
Japanned Dress Steels, 5c. dozen.
Covered Dress Steels, 6c. set.
Safety Pins, all sizes, 3c. dozen.
Tooth Brushes, good ones, 5c. each
Fast Black Darning Cotton, 2c. ball
Zephyr Worsted, all colors, 4c. lop
100 yards Best Spool Silk, black and colors, 7c. Spool.

Read Sheeting Muslins. Read

1	yard wide,	bleached,	6c.	yard.
1 1-8	yards wide,	"	6 1-2c.	"
1 1-4	"	"	7 1-2c.	"
1 1-2	"	"	11c.	"
1 3-4	"	"	13c.	"
2	"	"	14 1-2c	"
2 1-4	"	"	16c.	"
2 1-2	"	"	17 1-2c	"

VAN EMBURGH & SON,

HEATH & DRAKE.

Established 1841. Newark's first-class Dry Goods House.

New Embroideries, Laces, Flouncings, etc.

Our assortment of these goods for the coming season is handsomer, more varied and complete than any we have yet shown, and embraces regular Cambric, Nainsook and Swiss Edges, Insertions and match sets in all grades and styles and a line of Exquisite Novelties which for new and original effects, exclusive and unique designs, are unsurpassed if not unequalled by any in the market.

Pretty Edgings and Embroideries Very Cheap.

A thousand lines could not tell the story any better. Great heaps of snowy Embroideries that first saw light in far off Switzerland are here.

In connection with our regular line we have purchased, direct from the manufacturers in St. Gaul, Switzerland, three large lots of Embroideries, which we will place on sale at one-third less than regular prices.

Lot 1, 4c Yd. Lot 2, 8c Yd. Lot 3, 12c Yd

The wise ones ask no questions, but take them away in huge quantities.

777 and 779 Broad Street,
Newark, N. J.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd.

EVER SEE THE "PORTLAND RANGE?"

Elastic Dollars

—we are "dollar stretchers"—we make every hundred cents do twice and sometimes thrice the work it does elsewhere—to instance:

Solid Oak Sideboard $10.50

bevelled mirror, fine make, solid and attractive in every detail—it's been marked $18.00.

Exactly like this cut, 10.50.

Bedroom Suit Flyer—

it's at a price free from extravagance—$11.75—worth every bit of $20.00, its old price!

This Solid Oak Bedroom Suit, 11.75.

Our Carpet Dept. is always awake—Ingrains, all wool, at 63c per yard—made and laid with lining, free. We have ingrains as low as 35c—all regular carpet weaves.

Buy goods NOW—we'll hold them 'til wanted—no cash needed and Deliveries made free of charge all parts of the state.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd. Note the Name "AMOS"

Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, Bedding, Etc.
Low Prices, Easy Terms
TELEPHONE 580.

73 MARKET ST.
Near Plane St.
NEWARK, N. J.

STILLMAN MUSIC HALL.

Rich & Maeder.....Lessees and Managers.
John Daly.....Resident Manager.

Saturday, February 22d,

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

One performance. The beautiful romantic Comedy,

The Westerner,

with its original New York cast.

Wednesday, Feb. 26.=====Better Than Ever.

THE GORMANS,

John, James and George, late of Gorman's minstrels. The Kings of Farcial Comedy, in the new and funny play,

"THE GILHOOLYS ABROAD."

Second trip. A good company, good singing, good dancing. Funny Comedians and pretty girls.

Prices 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c and $1 Seats on sale at Leggett's drug store

LAST EDITION.

THE DAILY PRESS

LAST EDITION.

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1896. TWO CENTS A COPY—$5 A YEAR

ART OF TELLING FACES.

NOVEL FORM OF ENTERTAINMENT IN TWO CHURCHES LAST NIGHT.

Photographs of Plainfielders Taken When They Were Young, Show Changes That Time Has Worked in Features.

With an art gallery on the first floor of the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church and another art gallery of "living pictures" on the second floor, the members of the Mission Band, of the Presbyterian churches entertained their friends last evening. The entertainment was a very successful one throughout and was largely attended. It began at four o'clock in the afternoon and continued until late in the evening. At eight o'clock a programme was given in the main Sunday-school room. A large frame occupied the front of the platform and in it were shown various pretty tableaux.

The programme was as follows: Piano solo, Miss Helen A. Hasbrouck; picture, "Soap Bubbles," Miss Ethel Holmes; song and picture, "I Don't Want to Play in Your Yard," two little girls; picture, "The Daughters of the Rages," Miss Florence Abbott; picture, 'Once Upon a Time," George O. Stevens, Donald Bechtel, Miss Lydia Cave, Miss Wilcox and Miss Helen Moody; vocal solo, William N. Runyon; picture, "Old Ladies Over Their Teacups," the Misses Etta Blish, Madge Sutphen and Sarah Schuyler; picture "Peg Woffington," Miss Sallye Swayze; picture, "Lullaby," Miss Helen Moody, with song by Miss Julia J. Ketcham and violin obligato by J. Z. Petrie; picture, 'A Song Without Words," Miss Agnes Blair; picture, "Corn Sheller," a little colored girl; picture, "Cherubs," William N. Runyon and Edward Petrie. They were all very good and called forth loud applause, especially the last.

The church parlors on the first floor were the centre of attraction when the entertainment upstairs was not in progress, and very pretty it looked with its drapings of orange bunting on the while walls. As the visitor made his entrance through the main door, he was greeted by the sight of a table to his right groaning under a bountiful display of delicious candies, many of them home-made.

A short distance beyond it was a square booth artistically trimmed with straw and yellow bunting. Here lemonade was sold to a crowd of thirsty visitors.

The committee, that looked after the affair in general and the programme in particular, consisted of the Misses Mary Brunson, chairman, Hattie Gardner, Etta Blish, Josephine Petrie and May Sebring. The committee in charge of the candy table consisted of the Misses Emily Tracy, chairman, Hallie VanDeventer and Bessie Brower. The refreshments, which were served in one of the side rooms at daintly arranged tables, were under the charge of a committee composed of Mrs. William Murray, chairman, and the Misses Bessie Blair, Margaret Yerkes, Estelle Smalley, Hattie Goddard, Sarah Richards and Cornelia Miller. The pretty lemonade booth was looked after by the Misses May Sebring, Lulu Patton and Mattie Covert. The decorating committee consisted of the Misses Mabel VanDeventer, Agnes Blair and Ethel Holmes.

The loan exhibition of youthful pictures of prominent Plainfield people was the most important sight, however, and it showed that a great amount of work had been done by the committee in charge, which consisted of the Misses Josephine Petrie, chairman, Mary Martine, Mary Miller and Harriet Halloway. The pictures, which consisted of photographs, daguerreotypes and ambrotypes, were exhibited on a long table, and on large cards, fastened to the wall. They were all numbered, and catalogues, giving the names of the orignals, were rented by the committee. The first face to catch the eye at the end of the table was that of the borough's mayor, B. A. Hegeman, Jr. The photograph was younger looking than he is at present, but it was a very good likeness. Most of the other pictures on the table were daguerreotypes. A youthful looking soldier boy was catalogued as W. D. W. Miller. The "Farmer Orator" and his sister, Miss Kate Martine, were represented there as two little children, standing hand in hand, the lad wearing a grave expression as he wondered whether the photographer was a Democrat.

A prim little girl with clasped hands had the familiar features of Mrs. Isaac L. Miller. There were two of Rev. Dr. Yerkes, both showing him a young man dressed in the old fashioned style. Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Andrews were side by side, a very young looking couple and scarcely recognizable. A quiet little boy with turn down collar and scarf tied in a bow was a youthful view of C. W. McCutchen. Mayor Alex. Gilbert was there, looking much younger, with hair worn in the old style. A little curly headed child in a pink dress, with his mouth open, was E. E. Anthony, while a lively looking young man was marked Mason Tyler. Among the other pictures were George Goddard, a little boy in a low necked suit with a very youthful and frightened look about him; Harry Munger, a small lad dressed in white with a wheelbarrow and hoe beside him; Charles Dewey and Miss Dewey, two little children in short dresses and with open mouths; Councilman Harold Serrell, a youngster in a plaid dress; Rev. A. H. Lewis, D. D., an excellent likeness, only much younger; John Bushnell, a little boy wearing a soldier's cap and coat; Mr. Groendyke, a very intellectual looking young man with large neck scarf; Mrs. W. R. Richards, a quaint little girl with head tipped to one side and hands clasped; Miss Yates, a chubby baby, with a woe begone expression on her face.

On the cards hung around the room there were distinguished charac unumerable. An angry looking little lad wearing an old straw hat and long coat was Fred Yates. H. B. Newhall's picture was of a young man greatly resembling his son. There were two of S. F. Kimball, two of Mason Tyler, one of which showed him in uniform The ministers were most of them there, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Rev. C. B. Barnes, D. D., Rev. G. Kennedy Newell, and Rev. C. E. Herring. The last was the best though, for he was shown as a small boy in a suit resembling a zouave uniform.

An excellent likeness of E. E. Runyon was drawn on paper and bore the initials of the artist W. R. R. W. D. Murray, as a small child, was almost extinguished in a large cape overcoat A small baby, with a head like Will Runyon, was Will himself, when only several years old. Another face with that well known smile was to be found on another card. George O. Stevens began practicing for the minstrels early in life as was seen by his picture, a small boy in a high silk hat, a coat several miles too large for him and a cane almost as tall as he.

Miss J. J. Ketcham's picture was that of a pretty girl and fluffy hair. Clad in a somewhat abbreviated costume, Max Munger's youthful form was seen. A dashing young medical student was Dr. E. W. Endicott, while the watchful eye of that handsome young man, now Councilman E. T. Barrows, watched his companions as befitted a member of the police board. There were many more but it would take a large volume to describe them all. There were, altogether, nearly 140.

The room in which the pictures were arranged was very pretty. A tastefully arranged tea table at one end of the room was presided over by Mrs. Walter Peterson and Miss F. F. Clark, while Miss M. G. Morse and Miss A. B. Parsons passed the light refreshments.

In one of the other rooms there was another art gallery under the direction of Miss Ellis, assisted by Miss Annie Ellis, Miss Nella Whiton and Miss May Kirkner. Here the visitors had their profile outlined and received a large silhouette on white paper. Some of the likenesses were very good.

Willing hands, guided by artistic taste, transformed the parlors of the Congregational church last night into an artist's studio for the Ladies Aid Society's sociable, the principal attraction of which was the collection of early photographs of members of the congregation. All of the pictures, of which there were 218, were numbered, and the visitors were supposed to see who could guess correctly the greatest number. Dainty blank catalogues were sold, in which to record the guesses.

The sociable was under the direction of a committee, composed of Mrs. C. L. Goodrich, Miss Mary A. Ellis, Miss Nella Whiton, Miss Jessie Stewart, Miss May Kirkner, Miss Annie Ellis and Rev. C. L. Goodrich.

The arrangement of the room was done under the direction of Miss Ellis. An informal programme was rendered during the evening and consisted of violin solos by Miss Nella Whiton, and P. Ludwig Conde and vocal solos by Miss M. E. Meredith.

The loan exhibition, of course, attracted the attention of all and caused lots of fun. It scarcely seemed possible that a little child in a low necked dress could be W. B. Wadsworth. Captain William Hand was easily recognizable in his uniform, but a smooth faced young man did not resemble C. E. Boss, principal of the North Plainfield public school, in the slightest. A young dandy in long coat was catalogued G. W. Rockfellow.

There were several pictures of Rev. C. L. Goodrich, ranging from a mischievious looking boy to an earnest student. Prof. Conde was to be seen but not to be recognized as a German lad with short hair parted in the middle. A picture of a lad dressed in the old fashioned manner was six-year-old Chas. Steiner. One of the most striking of all the pictures was a large crayon of a little boy dressed in Colonial style. It was John W. Kirkner. One of the daguerrotypes that attracted considerable attention was of J. S. Powlison at twenty-eight years and a dulcimer, made by himself. Among the others whose likenesses were on exhibition were J. A. Robinson, Chas. Powlison, J. M. Whiton, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Morse, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Laboyteau, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brower, Mrs. E. K. Miller, John V. Beekman, Jr., Lyman R. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan and Mrs. W. L. Patton.

Miss Lulu Fuller was the most successful in guessing, getting eighty-three correct. Mrs. B. T. Barnes had eighty-one correct, while Miss Hattie Messersmith had seventy-four, and Miss Nellie Rockfellow seventy.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., meet tonight.

—Somerset Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will meet tonight.

—Both the First and City National Banks will be closed all day tomorrow.

—W. H. Morrow, of Princeton N.J., will preach at Bethel chapel Sunday at 8 p. m.

—A public dance will be given in the Fanwood club house tonight. O'Reilly will furnish the music.

—An evening social will be held at the residence of J. Schunk, of West Fourth street and Grant avenue, tonight.

—Edsall's Commercial Palace will close tomorrow at 12 noon. See his new advertisement of great bargains for Saturday morning.

—A team of horses attached to a lumber wagod started to run away on West Front street last evening, but were stopped by Prof. O'Reilly.

—A beautiful representation of the Brooklyn Bridge is being built of Castile soap in one of the large show windows of Edsall's Commercial palace.

—A. G. Vogeler, the popular West Front street butcher, will take possession on April 1st of his new store, 207 West Front street, formerly occupied by Fulper.

—The case of Jeremiah Rowe against the North Plainfield Board of Health, has been appealed from Justice Crosley's court to the circuit court at Somerville.

—Miss Currie, a missionary worker in New York city, and who had charge of the Fresh Air Work at Westfield last summer will speak at the Park avenue Baptist church this evening.

—An enjoyable time is promised all who attend the dance to be given in the Olympia tonight by Messrs. A. R. Johnson, I. Pearson and George Scribner. Prof. Frazee will furnish the music.

—At Crane & Clark's cut-price sale, 15 cents will buy a heavy wool cloth cap, with double band, regular 50 cent grade. 120 West Front street. Other goods at U. B. Crane's hat store at reduced prices.

Sons of Veterans' State Officers.

Delegates Horace J. Martin and C. F. Stephens, James Stryker, and W. V. Sutton, who attended the encampment of the Sons of Veterans yesterday in Trenton, returned last night. H. J. Martin was appointed Division Captain to succeed H. C. McVoy, whose term expired. James B. Adams, of Atlantic City, was elected Commander; Fremont Tietze, of Riverside, senior-vice, and J. R. Dungan, of Somerville, junior-vice. The remaining officers were appointed. The encampment was one of the largest ever held and the most successful.

A Fraternal Visit.

Incas Tribe, I. O. R. M., of Newark, will pay Miantonomah Tribe a fraternal visit this evening. They will be received by a committee from the latter. The adoption degree will be worked for the visitors, after which a programme will be rendered and a collation served.

Notice.

VanEmburg & Son will close tomorrow, Saturday, at twelve o'clock, noon. VanEmburg & Son will be open until 9 o'clock this, Friday, evening.

Our people are growing more and more in the habit of looking to Reynolds' pharmacy for the latest and best of everything in the drug line. They sell Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds, croup and whooping cough. When in need of such a medicine give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result.

THE LADIES ENTERTAIN.

SOCIABLE TIME PROVIDED FOR THE MONROE AVENUE CHAPEL

The Ladies Aid Societies Give Their Annual Supper and Entertainment Which a Large Number Attend and Enjoy.

Monroe Avenue Chapel presented a bright, cheery appearance last evening, when the annual supper, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society, was enjoyed by a large number of people.

The chapel was decorated with red, white and blue bunting, and the tables were artistically arranged with the same colors. Supper was served from six to 9:30 o'clock. Those in charge were: Candy table—Misses Wenzel; fancy table—Mrs. Haff, Mrs. Burt; novelties—Mrs. Rogers; ice-cream—Miss Aldrich. The waitresses were: Mrs. LaRue, Misses Brouwer, Miss Haff, Mrs. Hayes, Miss Beekman, Miss Sadie Randolph, while Miss Bertha LaRue was the cashier. After the inner man had been well supplied, the following programme was rendered by the Juniors:

Recitation, Alice Pugh; song, "Lost Child," Sadie Brouwer; recitation, "Old Moses," Robert Morgan; Evening Song," May Brouwer, Lulu Brouwer, Sadie Elliot, Alice Pugh, Carrie Brouwer, Sadie Brouwer, Louisa Hayes; recitation, Sadie Brouwer; song, "Lullaby," Sadie Elliot; recitation, Albert Cowling; drill and song of nations, Germany, Steven Aldrich, May Brouwer; France, Clarence VanDoren, Lulu Randolph; Italian, Robert Morgan, Alice Pugh; Switzerland, Aaron Brouwer, Lulu Hayes; Ireland, Alfred Cowling, Sadie Elliott.

Rev. Mr. O'Donnell called on John Pread for a three minute speech on "Ice-cream, ten cents per plate." He responded in a very happy manner. Altogether the affair was very successfully carried out, and a good sum was realized.

Stole a Flat-Iron and Dress.

On complaint of Erasmus Harris, colored, Anna Jackson, also colored, was arrested last night on a warrant issued by Justice Newcorn and served by Constable Rockafellow. She was arraigned before Justice Newcorn this morning, and remanded to the custody of the constable for examination this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. She is charged with a stealing a flat-iron valued at fifty cents and a dress valued at $1.50, which belongs to Mrs. Harris.

A Turkey Supper.

The Woman's Relief Corps committee, having in charge the supper to be given tomorrow afternoon and evening in G. A. R. hall, met last evening at Mrs. Bryan's home on Chatham street and completed all arrangements for the supper, and they decided to include turkey in the bill of fare. It is hoped that all G. A. R. men and Sons of Veterans' who can, will attend, and an invitation is extended to everyone to be present and assist the women.

A Red Hot Republican Borough.

A Republican primary for local officers of Mountainside was held at Klopf's hotel on Tuesday night. Nearly all the voters were on hand. At a Democratic meeting on Saturday night last only seventeen voters were present, and nine of these were Republicans. There are eighty voters in this borough, and seventy-two are Republicans.

A New Store for Endress.

Owing to the recent increase in his business, Fred. Endress, of the Excelsior Market, will establish a downtown market on April 1st. He will be located in the store now occupied by A. G. Vogeler, butcher. He will have an ice plant there and manufacture all the necessnry ice for his two markets.

The Election Amendment Signed.

The Governor has signed the bill making the 1895 amendment to the Werts Ballot law applicable to charter or municipal elections.

Will be a Jolly Affair.

The annual dinner of the passengers of the club car Evona will be given in the Casino this evening. It will be a jolly affair.

To Close at Noon.

The dry goods stores will all close at noon tomorrow.

Threw Away His Canes.

Mr. D. Wiley, ex-postmaster, Black Creek, N. Y., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that he was only able to hobble around with canes, and even then it caused him great pain. After using Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was so much improved that he threw away his canes. He says this liniment did him more good than all other medicines and treatment put together. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

GAME COCKS AND A FIGHT.

Prominent New Brunswick and Plainfield Men Row at a Main.

Game cocks and angry men were mixed up in a fight at a well-known resort near Fanwood Wednesday night. A cocking main between New Brunswick, Plainfield and Bayonne birds had been arranged and at 11 o'clock there was a crowd of excited sports around the pit. Two stages had conveyed the New Brunswickers to the place. Among them were several prominent business men.

Much ill feeling was shown between the New Brunswick men and the other visitors over some of the decisions, and at the end of the fourth battle several men who were under the influence of liquor began to fight. This started a general row, in which revolvers and knives were drawn.

For a few minutes it looked as if there might be a tragedy, but the Plainfield men made a hasty retreat, leuving the New Brunswick men in possession.

Sunday Music at the Y. M. C. A.

The orchestra which is to furnish the music at the Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday afternoon is composed of the following: Arthur Mosher, Ernest Higham and Dr. W. P. Gaston, first violins; W. P. Henderson and G. W. V. Moy, second violins; Dr. J. F Berg, 'cello; Miss Sue Berg, cornet; James Hewitt, clarionet; Garrett T. Dunham, trombone; Howard Case, pianist; William Townsend, conductor. Three selections will be rendered, one of which will be a trombone solo with orchestral accompaniment.

Musical Young Men.

The musical to be given under the auspices of the Young Men's Association of Monroe avenue chapel next Thursday evening will be a novel affair from the fact that the programme will be as varied as possible. It will include singing by Raymond Mc Gee, W. E. MacClymont, Wyatt Barnes and F. J. Pope, the new quartette, topical songs by Wm N. Runyon, zither solos by Mr. Van Eps, alto solos by Miss Nancy Randolph, and violin solos by Clarence Mills. The admission will be 15 cents or two for 25 cents.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

Physical Director MacPhie, who leaves for Massachusetts on Monday, will speak to men at the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday at 4:15 p. m. An orchestra of ten pieces will render musical selections.

The Boys Bible Class will meet at the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday at 9:30 a. m., and the boys meeting at 4:15.

Mr. MacPhie will meet the Gymnasium Men's Bible Class for the last time on Sunday evening at 5:30.

Pleasantly Surprised.

An enjoyable surprise was given to the Misses Mabel and Lottie Wilson, of West Fourth street, last evening by a few friends. The time was spent in playing games and some excellent music was rendered. There were about twenty present. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

Mr. Spaulding Resigns.

At a special meeting of the board of directors of the American Engine Company, of Bound Brook, yesterday, the resignation of E. F. Spaulding as a director, vice-president and general manager, was accepted. Frank H. Ball, of Elizabeth, will fill the offices vacated by Mr. Spaulding.

Went to Church Instead.

A party of young people from Plainfield, North Plainfield and Dunellen, started to go skating on New Market pond last night. They found the night colder than they had expected and gave up their skate and spent the evening at the revival meetings which are being held at New Market.

Knights to Attend Church.

The Knights of Pythias of Plainfield and Scotch Plains will attend the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening in a body. They will meet at the rooms of Perseverence Lodge at 7 o'clock. Rev. C. E. Herring will preach a special sermon.

Skating at New Brooklyn.

New Brooklyn pond was crowded with skaters yesterday afternoon who came from all the surrounding towns. The wind blew most of the snow off the ice and what remained was swept off by the early arrivals.

A New Dentist.

Frank Linbarger, of Elizabeth, formerly of Plainfield, and a pupil of Dr. C. R. Thiers, has passed his examinations and is now a full fledged dentist. He will practice in the office of Dr. Alberg, of Elizabeth.

Postoffice Hours.

The postoffice will be open from 7 to 10 o'clock in the morning, and from 5:30 to 7 o'clock in the evening. There will be, however, only one delivery and that in the morning.

—Putnam & DeGraw will close their store tomorrow at 12 o'clock noon.

NO FATHER OR MOTHER.

EIGHT CHILDREN LEFT ORPHANS BY MR. AND MRS. TERRY'S DEATH.

The Father Died Last Night After a Brief Illness and the Mother Followed Him to the Grave Several Hours Later.

Father and mother both dead and eight little children, ranging from fifteen years down, to mourn their loss and miss the guiding hand of a parent.

Only last Monday Daniel Terry was laughing and joking with his comrades of the Climax Gun Club at their shoot, and now both he and his wife lay dead at their late home near Alton.

Mr. Terry had been feeling slightly unwell for several days before the shoot, and that night he was taken with a chill. He grew rapidly worse, and last evening at 10 o'clock passed away. Pneumonia was the cause of his death.

Mr. Terry was a native of Dog Corners, and owned a farm there near that of his father's who still survives him. He was about forty years of age, and was well known in this city as one of the leading milk dealers. He held the office of tax collector in Fanwood township, was secretary and treasurer of the Climax Gun Club and was also well and favorably known among the trap shooters of the State.

Mrs. Terry was stricken down with pneumonia a week ago, and had been hovering between life and death until 10 o'clock this morning when she followed her husband over the great divide—not knowing of his death. Ever since yesterday she had been in somewhat of a comatose state, rallying and regaining consciousnsss at times for a few minutes, but after the death of Mr. Terry she did not revive sufficiently to become acquainted with the sad event.

Eight small children are left. Mr. Terry's life was insured for $2,500.

His brothers, Winfield Scott Terry and William Terry, own farms, the former near that of the father and the other in the vicinity of Westfield.

The funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Terry will be held at the same time in the Scotch Plains Baptist Church, at two o'clock Sunday afternoon.

BAPTIZED AT A FUNERAL.

Impressive Services at the Funeral of Mrs. T. E. H. Curtis.

One of the saddest and most impressive funerals held in Plainfield for a long time, took place last evening at the residence of T. E. H. Curtis, of 503 West Eighth street, when the last sad rites were held over the remains of his beloved wife. Rev. E. M. Rodman conducted the solemn Episcopal service while the choir boys of the Grace P. E. Church sang the hymns. The mantel back of the casket was banked with flowers, while other floral designs were arranged all about the casket. At the close, the three little daughters of the deceased woman were all baptized by Rev. Mr. Rodman. A large number of sorrowing relatives and friends were present.

A handsome floral offering representing a displaced bicycle from the Plainfield Lady Cyclists, of which deceased was a member, made from pinks, roses and carnations, a masterpiece by Frank W. Miles, the Somerset street florist, was the central piece of the floral display.

The Big Fight.

El Paso, Tex. Feb. 21.—The train bearing Maher and Fitzsimmons and the crowd to witness the fight for the championship left El Paso at 11:15 o'clock last night. The crowd was smaller than had been expected.

The number of passengers from here was only 230, but enough came from the West to make the total about 300.

Every effort was made to keep the destination a secret, but the tip flew about that it was Langtry. Others said Del Rio.

Gen. Runyon's Remains.

The body of Theodore B. Runyon, late Ambassador to Germany, is expected to arrive today on the Bremen steamship Havel. As soon as the steamship reaches port the Federal authorities will take charge of the body, which will be taken to Newark.

The little daughter of Mr. Fred Webber, Holland, Mass, had a very bad cold and cough which he had not been able to cure with any thing. I gave him a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says W. P. Holden, merchant and postmaster at West Brimfield, and the next time I saw him he said it worked like a charm. This remedy is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases such as colds, croup and whooping cough, and it is famous for its cures. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

CUPID'S BUSY SEASON

Rumors of Engagements in High Social Circles.

W. W. ASTOR AND LADY CHURCHILL

Their Betrothal Soon To Be Publicly Announced in England—H. Maitland Kersey and Miss Virginia Fair Also To Be Made One, It Is Said.

New York, Feb. 21.—Several weddings of unusual importance are already announced, by rumor, to take place soon after the lenten season, and society in this country and England is looking forward to these events with much interest. That Cupid has started his work well for the new year must be admitted, but just how much easier has been his task on account of '96 being a leap year, cannot, of course, be stated.

Astor-Churchill.

From London comes the rumored engagement of William Waldorf Astor to Lady Randolph Churchill. The public announcement of their betrothal will, it is said, soon be made. Lady Randolph Churchill was Miss Jennie Jerome, the daughter of Leonard Jeorme of this city, and Lord Randolph married her in January, 1874. She is a woman of southern beauty. She first met her late husband at a dinner party in Paris and was introduced to him by the Prince of Wales. They were married just before Lord Randolph entered parliament. She is said to be a special favorite with Queen Victoria, who formally decorated her on her return from India with her husband with the Order of the Crown of India. Lord Randolph Churchill died on January 24, 1895, leaving her a widow with two children, Winston Leonard, 20 years of age, and John Winston, 14 years old. Mr. Jerome settled the modest sum of $10,000 a year upon his daughter when she was married, and the Duke of Marlborough made a like settlement upon his son. William Waldorf Astor is the head of the Astor family, being the only son of Jahn Jacob Astor the third, and as such he inherited the bulk of the great Astor fortune. His wealth has been variously estimated at from $100,000,000 to $150,000,000. Almost the whole of this immense fortune consists of real estate in and about New York city. Mr. Astor was born in 1853. He served one term in the state senate in 1880 and 1881, and the following year he ran for congress, but was defeated by Roswell P. Flower. Subsequently he was appointed by President Arthur, minister to Italy, and he held that position till 1885. His wife died January 24, 1895.

Kersey-Fair.

Another reported engagement that has stirred social circles is that of H. Maitland Kersey, the personal representative of the Earl of Dunraven in his yacht races in this country, to Miss Virginia Fair, daughter of the late California senator. Kersey is an Englishman and grass widower, and while it has been generally known that he has been paying a great deal of attention to Miss Fair for some time, it was also rumored that the young heiress was prejudiced against marrying a divorced man. Consequently the reported engagement has caused somewhat of a surprise in fashionable circles. Miss Fair is an extremely good catch, being handsome, young, cultured and possessed of a fortune of about $15,000,000.

Congressman Miner on the List.

An announced engagement, which, however, does not concern members of the 400, but has caused a stir in theatrical circles, is that of H. Clay Miner, theatrical manager and congressman, to Annie O'Neill, the actress, who is at present playing the principal feminine role in "The Governor of Kentucky," Mr. Crane's new play, at the congressman-manager's Fifth Avenue theatre. A short time ago Mr. Miner announced that he was going to dispose of his vast theatrical interests with one exception, and that was to be the Fifth Avenue playhouse. He said he was tired of hard work and contemplated an extended trip abroad. Mr. Miner is largely interested in valuable theatre property, and in addition to this he has large investments in real estate, coal companies and other good things, and is worth probably two or three million dollars. He is a widower, and several years ago bought the very commodious mansion at the northwest corner of Madison avenue and Twenty-fifth street, paying therefor $370,000. He fitted it up lavishly and went there to live. Sickness came with it all, and his wife died. His duties as congressman might be made largely social in Washington, and last month he purchased a handsome residence at the capital. A bachelor congressman doesn't cut much of a figure, anyhow. Miss O'Neill is young and pretty. She has supported Salvini and Mansfield, but for some years past has been with W. H. Crane. As a hostess, she ought to shine, even in the gay and brilliant social life of the nation's capital.

Gen. Harrison Starts for New York.

Indianapolis, Feb. 21.—Ex-President Harrison left here to-day for New York where he goes to make final arrangements for his approaching marriage, this being his last trip east before his engagement will be consummated. He has not yet said to his friends on what day the nuptials will be solemnized, and for this reason it is not believed that the day has been finally fixed.

To Examine a Murderer's Sanity.

New York, Feb. 21.—District Attorney Fellows, with a commission of insanity experts, went to Sing Sing this morning to examine Carl Fiegenbaum, who was sentenced to death for the murder of Juliana Hoffman on Aug. 31, 1894. Gov. Morton directed that a commission be appointed to examine into the man's sanity.

BROCKWAY'S TRIAL.

The Counterfeiter's Case May Go to the Jury This Afternoon.

Trenton, Feb. 21.—The trial of Brockway for counterfeiting United States notes is nearing its end. The case may go to the jury this afternoon or to-morrow at the latest. Contrary to general expectation, Brockway made a good witness for himself. While he may not have convinced the jury of his innocence, he succeeded in covering up fairly well several of the points which the government expected to use with telling effect against him. The only testimony elicited from Secretary Carlisle yesterday was that he had never authorized any one to use a distinctive fibre paper. In consideration of his high position, he was not subjected to cross-examination. In giving his direct testimony Brockway, who said that he was 74 years old, that his real name was Spencer, and that he was called Brockway because he had been adopted by a family of that name when he was very young. He admitted being sent to prison twice, once in 1847 and again about ten years ago for counterfeiting, but later records were produced showing that he had pleaded guilty in Brooklyn in 1880 to forgery. As to the oil cloth which was found in his room he neatly turned it off by saying that Dr. Bradford, the dentist, his alleged accomplice, brought it to his room full of teeth, for which he had an order from Cleveland, O. He said the wax was used for obtaining impressions of teeth, and not for any illegal practices. Brockway was in a talkative mood, and his counsel had some difficulty in compelling him to keep silent at difficult points. During his cross examination, which lasted an hour, he was not so much at his ease, but nevertheless he made a somewhat favorable impression.

INTERNATIONAL SYMPATHIES.

A Wise Thought To Inculcate It in Schools of England and America.

London, Feb. 21.—The Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, the American ambassador, in acknowledging the receipt of a copy of the prologue of an entertainment of the Brighton grammer school, dwelling upon the necessity of friendship between Great Britain and the United States, has written a letter, in which he says: "It is a wise thought to inculcate international sympathies in the schools of each country. The way the twig is bent the tree inclines, and I hope that the British oak and American hickory will always incline towards mutual friendship."

BIG FIRE AT PROVIDENCE.

The Union Depot Burned to the Ground at Midnight.

Providence, Feb. 21.—One of the largest conflagrations this city has ever known started in the Worcester division of the Union depot at 12 o'clock last night. It gained such rapid headway, aided by the high wind, that the fire department, though every piece of apparatus was called into play, could not cope with it. Ten minutes after the alarm came in half the structure was a mass of flames and within an hour was burned to the ground. The damage will be heavy.

Shot His Sweetheart and Himself.

Johnstown, Pa., Feb. 21.—Daniel Ressler of Cramer, Indiana county, aged 28 years, shot and fatally wounded his cousin, Ella Ressler, aged 18, and then killed himself, while walking along the highway between Cramer and Conemaugh furnaces yesterday afternoon. Ressler died instantly and the girl's death is momentarily expected. The cause of the tragedy is supposed to have been the girl's continued rejection of Ressler's offers of marriage.

Bills of Health Abolished.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The Italian ambassador has informed the treasury department that the Italian government will no longer require American vessels entering Italian ports to present consular bills of health.

Gen. Douglass Frazier Dead.

Boston, Feb. 21.—Gen. Douglass Frazier, the soldier, traveler and story writer died last evening at his residence, 26 Walnut street, Somerville, aged 60 years.

Shoe Strike Ended.

Newburyport, Mass., Feb. 21.—The strike at Dodge Brothers' shoe factory has ended. The lasters obtained an advance in the price list and returned to work.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Wheat—Spot market is steady, poor demand. February, 72¼c.; March, 73¼c.; May, 71¼c.

Corn—Spot dull; values unsettled. February, 36⅛c.; May, 36⅝c.

Oats—Spot quiet; demand steady. February, 25¼c.; March, 25⅝c.; May, 25⅝c.

Butter—Arrivals are light in fancy creamery, but the tone of the market is firm, at a slight advance. Creamery, western extras, 20c. State and Pennsylvania, seconds to best, 15@18½c.; creamery, western, seconds to firsts, 14@17½c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, fancy, 17c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, seconds to firsts, 11@15c.

Cheese—High grades are now held firmly with demand good. State, full cream, large size, September colored, choice, 10¼c.; September white fancy, 9@10¼c.; large common to choice, 7¼@10c.

Eggs—Arrivals are smaller. State and Pennsylvania, 14¼@14½c.; southern, 13@14c.; ice house, case, $1.75@$1.00; western, fresh, 13½@14¾c.; limed, 11@12c.; do., case, $2.00@$2.50.

Potatoes—Offers liberal for choice grade; demand slow; fair supply; market quiet. State Burbank, per 180 pounds, 85c.@$1.10, and state rose and Hebron, per 180 pounds, 60@75c.

OVER 100 VICTIMS

Searching for the Dead in the Ruins at Viedendorp.

MANY WERE BLOWN TO ATOMS

Thousands of Poor People Rendered Homeless By the Explosion—Cause of the Accident Still Unsolved—Relief Measures Begun.

London, Feb. 21.—As predicted in these dispatches yesterday, the dynamite explosion in Viedendorp, a suburb of Johannesburg, Wednesday evening, turns out to have been an accident, and not the work of the Uitlanders. There is no uprising in the Transvaal republic and no signs of trouble. As yet nothing is positively known as to what actually caused the explosion. Twenty tons of the dynamite which was on cars to be transported to the mines had been exposed to the direct rays of the sun for three days. The latest estimate places the number of the killed at over one hundred. Many persons are missing, and there is scarcely a doubt that they were blown to pieces. The principal victims were poor Boers, very few foreigners living at Viedendorp.

Searching for the Dead.

Johannesburg, Feb. 21.—Work of recovering bodies of victims of the dynamite explosion at Viedendorp and caring for the thousands of homeless people is being pushed as rapidly as possible. It is feared that many of the victims will never be found as some of the bodies were undoubtedly blown to atoms. The explosion tore a hole 200 feet long and eighty feet wide on the spot where the eight trucks of dynamite stood. The whole of that part of Johannesburg was literally blown to pieces. The effects of the explosion could be seen over a radius of more than a mile, and almost everything within a half mile of the spot was destroyed or injured. The bodies of victims, terribly mutilated, were literally heaped upon the ground. The bodies of over sixty persons have been found. More than 200 severely injured persons have been cared for in Johannesburg.

Subscription for the Sufferers.

A popular subscription has been opened for the relief of the injured and homeless. Already more than $300,000 has been raised, and the amount will probably reach $500,000 before night. Steps have already been taken to clear away the debris from the razed ground. A portion of the money subscribed will be invested in building materials and the work of rebuilding the suburb will begin at once. The Boers and the Uitlanders are co-operating harmoniously in the relief work.

BANKRUPTCY BILL.

House Committee Will Probably Report the Torrey Measure.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The sub-committee of the house judiciary committee having charge of the subject of bankruptcy have about agreed to a measure on the subject. A number of bills regarding bankruptcy have been introduced in the the house and referred to the committee. The sub-committee in taking up the subject decided to consider both "voluntary" and "involuntary" bankruptcy. After a careful consideration of the various measures the sub-committee has practically agreed to report a bill on the lines of the Torrey bill. This provides for both voluntary and involuntary bankruptcy, defines who may become bankrupts, the duties of bankrupts, the protection of bankrupts and their extradition.

Connecticut Typothetae.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 21.—At the annual meeting of the Connecticut Typothetae last night, forty members being present, these officers were chosen: President, C. S. Moorehouse, New Haven; vice-president, J. H. Near, Bridgeport; secretary, George M. Atkins, New Haven; treasurer, O. A Dorman, New Haven. An executive committee and delegates to the national convention were also chosen. The convention of the national body will be held in Rochester, N. Y., in September.

Cable Chess Match.

New York, Feb. 21.—Appended are the names of the men who will represent the United States in the cable chess match against Great Britain on March 13: D. G. Baird, John F. Barry, C. F. Burille, Eugene Delmar, Herman Helme, A. B. Hodges, Edward Hymes, Sidney C. Johnson, judge Leon L. Labott, H. N. Pillsbury, Walter Penn Shipley and Jackson W. Showalter.

Gold Reserve Creeping Up.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The treasury gold reserve has jumped to $92,418,987. The withdrawals yesterday aggregated $1,099,987. It is expected that to-day the gold reserve will exceed $100,000,000.

Promotion for Thomas Flynn.

New York, Feb. 21.—Thomas Flynn, who was appointed starter yesterday by the stewards of the Jockey club, is an ex-speaker of the New Jersey assembly

Perfect Digestion

Is secured by taking Hood's Pills after dinner, or if digestion is impeded by change of diet, overeating or chills and congestion in changeable weather. They break up a cold, prevent a fever, and restore healthy action of the liver and bowels. At home or abroad Hood's Pills are a safeguard and a friend.

HOOD'S PILLS Cure Indigestion

BOATS FOR A DOLLAR.

A Fleet That Carries the Life of the World.

Millions of Tiny Craft With Human Blood for Their Sea.

The microscope has revealed many wonderful things, but none more wonderful than the minute bodies which exist in the blood. They are called corpuscles or cells, and are of two kinds, the white and the red. Just a few words about these red cells. They are so minute that there are countless numbers of them in the tiniest drop of blood. Yet each one has a peculiar shape, for which none of them ever vary.

An adult of medium weight has about twelve pints of blood in the body, and yet every small drop of this contains millions of red corpuscles. The number of them in the blood cannot be comprehended by the human mind. Of what use are they?

One great object of breathing is to bring the oxygen of the air in close contact with the blood which is in the lungs, for oxygen is necessary for the support of life. It is the business of these little red cells in the blood, to carry the oxygen which we breathe in the lungs to every part of the body. The most minute part of every organ and tissue in the body must have its supply of oxygen or it will perish, and the only way the oxygen can reach all these parts is by means of these little red cells. No matter how pure the air may be which we breathe, if there are not enough red cells in the blood to carry a sufficient amount of oxygen through the body we will surely suffer. Plenty of fresh air is essential, and so is an abundant supply of these little "oxygen-carriers" necessary. These little red bodies have been called "boats for carrying oxygen." Certainly not a very bad name for them.

Oxygen starvation is shown by poor circulation, loss of appetite, debility, anaemia, nervousness, neuralgia, sleeplessness, repeated colds, muscular and mental weakness, and many other symptoms. What is the remedy? Something which will make more of these oxygen-carrying "boats." Nothing will accomplish this quicker than Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites. It goes to the foundation of things. It greatly increases the number of red corpuscles in the blood. What follows? More oxygen is carried through the system, and new life and vigor are imparted. The oil nourishes the body, and the hypophosphites gives stability and strength to the nervous system. As the large size of Scott's Emulsion sells for one dollar, so you can get "oxygen boats for one dollar."

Scott's Emulsion contains more pure Norwegian Cod-liver Oil than any other emulsion in the world, that will stand the test of time as being a perfect inseparable emulsion. Ask your doctor.

W.L. & J. M. Smalley,

—DEALERS IN—

HIGH GRADE

Meats,

& Meat Specialties

Beef, Lamb, Mutton, Veal and Pork
Poultry and Game in season.

94 Somerset st., Plainfield N. J.
Telephone Call 42-B.

NOTICE.

Special Reductions

—AT—

Neuman Bros.

on fancy brands goods. Full quart bottles table oil 60c, finest quality; whole canned ox tongue 45c; lunch tongue, whole, 25c; a special reduction given on Curtis' strawberry and assorted jams, 16c; fresh roasted coffees received every week, quality unexcelled.

NEUMAN BROS.

What! $30.00?

Yes, thirty dollars will buy a piano, in first-class condition, at

W. R. BROKAW'S

Piano Parlors, 311 Madison ave.
Tuning and regulating a specialty

Advertised Letters.

Plainfield, February 10, 1896.

Adams J H	Leonard A W
Barton A J	Neugem Agnes Miss
Coddington B	McMann Thos
Duchene E Miss	Moore Elmer
Feil A F S	McEvoy Kate J 3
Fisk Clinton B	McKeef Lara Mrs
Hustner Jno	Palmberg Elen Miss 2
Johnson Charlie	Perine Chas
Johnson Hilder Miss	Prentiss S S
Kline Mellie Miss	Storme G W
King T P 2	Sneliker Dare

Holiday Millinery Goods.

MRS. L. ADAMS,

114 EAST FRONT STREET,

Opp. First National Bank.
Dressmaking and Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns.

S. D. FRAZEE,

DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF

FRESH FISH.

Fresh every day. Terms cash. Goods delivered.

230 Park ave., 000 North ave

Musicfurnished for all occasions.

California IN

THREE DAYS

without change of cars. All meals served in dining cars. Palace drawing-room sleeping cars and tourist sleepers are run through to San Francisco and Los Angeles without change, leaving Chicago daily via

THE NORTH-WESTERN LINE

Through Tourist sleeping cars Chicago to California daily and personally conducted excursions every Thursday. Variable route tourist tickets at

VERY LOW RATES.

Detailed information and descriptive pamphlets will be mailed free on application to W. B. Kniskern, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago. Agents of connecting lines sell tickets via the

Chicago & North Western Railway,

or address: H. A. Gross, G. E. P. A., 423 Broadway, New York, or T. P. Vaille, S. E. P. A., 112 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

FOR GIFTS and LIGHT buy "MILLER" LAMPS

Elegant designs (a thousand styles), Beautiful finishes, and the best lamp made—up-to-date in every respect. Call and see it, also our Fine Brass and Onyx Tables. Buy only "Miller" lamps from dealers. We have been manufacturers since 1844.—made "The Rochester" Lamp.

EDWARD MILLER & CO., 28 & 30 WEST BROADWAY, (66 Park Pl.) bet. Park Pl. & Barclay St., N. Y.

Convenient to all "down-town" Ferries, and Elevated Stations at Park Place and Barclay St.

For Cool Weather buy a "MILLER" OIL HEATER.

FOR SALE BY W. L GAVETT & CO.

Freshest Oysters

will be found at

Rogers' Sea-Food Market.

THE HALLET & DAVIS PIANOS

Have stood the test of over fifty-five (55) years

and are not surpassed by any in the world. Prices, $300 and upwards. Our special 3-year payment plan makes purchase easy. We have other makes of new pianos at $200. Good squares at $75, and we give a full 5-year warranty with everything we sell. Old instruments taken in exchange. Send for illustrated catalogue giving full information.

The Tway Piano Co.,

88 FIFTH AVE.,

near 14th st., New York.

"Tway's Musical Guest," containing 8 pages of music, interesting reading matter and theatrical news, mailed free on application. 10 3 6m

COAL

F. W. HAND.

132 North avenue.
929 South avenue.
197 North avenue.
Telephone No. 139.

"Ever Ready" PREPARED

Buckwheat Flour.

Home-made and sold on its merits. Sold by all grocers and made by

FRENCH BROTHERS,

City Mills. 24 Somerset street. Plainfield. N. J.

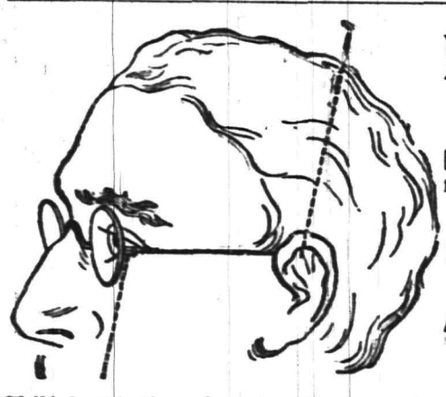
DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 WATCHUNG AVE.,

—DEALERS IN—

Lumber, Coal Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement for Walls and Ceilings.



Leech, Stiles & Co.,

EYE SPECIALISTS,

1413 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa.

Formerly with Queen & Co. H. A. Stiles will be at

1o7 East Front Street,

Dunham's real estate office,

EVERY THURSDAY

from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Skilful attention given to all cases of eye strain, headache, etc. No charge for examination. All glasses guaranteed.

Bargains in Real Estate

For sale or to let.

MONEY to loan on first mortgage.

E. C. Mulford,

No. 169 North avenue.
Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.
BROKER.

Communications pertaining to the business mentioned, either by letter or otherwise, will receive prompt attention. Carriage service supplied.

THE
Bee Hive

Men's Unlaundered Shirts.

Lot 1—The Cast Iron Shirt, made of good heavy muslin, good 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, patent facings, 38c.
Lot 2—New York mills muslin, 3-ply, fine linen bosoms, reinforced front and back, patent facing, 48c.
Lot 3—Our New York mills shirt, made of New York mills muslin, 2 and 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, continuous facings and hand-made button holes, equal to the best custom-made shirt, 69c.
Boys' unlaundered shirts 38 cts. Laundered shirts 50c, 75c and $1.

Louis Callman,
222 West Front st.

CLEANER COAL.
L. A. Rheaume
Agent,
Watchung Ave., Corner 4th St.,

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

Upper Lehigh and Honeybrook Coal
in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

Rough and Dressed Lumber.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for turning and scroll sawing, and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner and at short notice.

H. Eggerding,
121 Park ave.,
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars

CODDINGTON'S
Furniture and Freight
EXPRESS.
Offices 24 West Front st; 33 Park ave. Post-office box 329. Piano moving a specialty. Large covered trucks; goods sent to any part of the country; charges reasonable; satisfaction guaranteed

PLAINFIELD SEMINARY
re-opened
SEPTEMBER 19, 1895.
(28th year.) Miss E. E. Kenyon, Principal.

Finest Assortment
of Lace, Celluloid and Card
Valentines
in the city.
HARPER'S,
411 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.

W. N. Pangborn,
LICENSED AUCTIONEER, Residence, 33 Linden Ave.
Personal attention. Prompt service.
1 14 tf

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter, 22c.
Best Dairy Butter 18c.
V. L. FRAZEE
151 West Front st.

William Hand & Son.
STAGES
For Picnics and Parties, 518 Park ave.

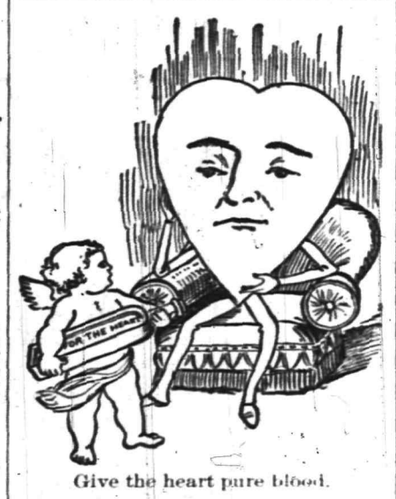
GEO J. TOBIN,
187 North Avenue.
Practical Plumber.
Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer.
Telephone Call 158a

TOWNSEND'S
Marble and Granite Works,
SOMERSET STREET.
Our motto—Good work, good material at fair rices.

THE GRANDVIEW
Meat Market.
George Egel, Manager.
Dealer in Fresh and Salted Meats. Game in season. Orders called for and delivered promptly. Cor. Grandview ave. and Somerset street.
6 12 tf

Special Sale
—OF—
Muslins
SATURDAY ONLY.

Fruit of Loom, Hill Lonsdale and other standard brands, 10 yards 65c.
The best brands unbleached muslins at 6 cents per yard.
Good quality in bleached and unbleached at 5 cents per yard.
The standard brands of white sheetings at lower prices than quoted elsewhere.
LEDERER'S.



Give the heart pure blood.
Randolph's
Sarsaparilla,
A great blood cleanser.
Only 50c Per Bottle.
L. W. RANDOLPH,
Prescription Druggist,
143 West Front st.

PIANOS.
You can buy the best in the market at Factory Prices, at
J. C. DYER'S, 218 WEST FRONT ST.

New Fish Market,
125 Park Ave.
E. P. THORN
solicits a share of the public patronage. First quality
Fish, Oysters, Clams, &c
TERMS CASH. 11 7 tf

See Our Name,
Take Our Number,
Call and See Our Goods.
Woolston & Buckle,
141 and 145 North ave.

Eagle Meat Market,
35 Somerset Street.
Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Orders called for and delivered free of charge.
C. ARNOLD, Prop.

Miss Fawcett's School
And Kindergarten,
25 WASHINGTON AVENUE.
North Plainfield, N. J.
Re-opened Thursday, Sept. 12.
Primary, Intermediate and Academic Dept's. Boys received until 10 years of age.

FISCHER PIANOS.
56 YEARS ESTABLISHED.
GRAND AND UPRIGHT.
Nearly 100,000 Manufactured.
EASY TERMS. EXCHANGED.
REASONABLE PRICES.
FISCHER PIANO WAREROOMS,
110 Fifth Ave., cor. 16th St., N. Y.
Write for Catalogue.

BE STRONG AND HEARTY.

How to Be Strong and Full of Life and Vigor.

If you starved for two days you would feel as weak as a cat.

Proof enough that your food is the cause of you strength.

If your stomach is sick, your starving away your strength. Slowly perhaps, but none the less surely.

You feel it yourself.

You have nausea, loss of appetite, headache, giddiness, pain in the stomach, loss of strength, spirits and ambition.

What do you think? That its your head?

But it's not. It's simply your stomach.

Food is strength. Stomach makes it available. If stomach won't work, food does not become available strength.

Shaker Digestive Cordial will, in a few doses, make your stomach well and help your food make you strong.

Who wouldn't be strong? Whoever won't take Shaker Digestive Cordial.

Sick, tired, weary men and women, those who are working their bodies and brains too hard, will find relief and strength in Shaker Digestive Cordial.

It makes strength. It makes health. It makes happiness.

It's not an ordianry medicine, it's a cordial.

It's pleasant to take, and more than pleasant in its results.

For sale by all druggists at 10, 25, 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle.

Carpenters and Builders.

JOHN P. EMMONS,
Mason and Builder,
Washington avenue and Prospect place,
North Plainfield, N. J.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

PEARSON & GAYLE,
Carpenters and Builders.
Residence—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine st. H. E. Gayle, No. 18 Vine st.
All work promptly attended to.

GEO. W. STUDER,
Carpenter and Builder.
985 Arlington avenue.
Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given. charges reasonable.

C. W. LINES.
Mason and Builder,
Plainfield, N. J.
Residence, 18 Elm place.
Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to

HOTEL Grenada,
NORTH AVENUE.
Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public

CITY HOTEL,
Plainfield, N. J.
Corner Park avenue and Second street.
J. E. Beerbower, Prop
Stables attached

PROSPECT HILL Must Be Sold.
Azalias, Chinese primrose, palms, ferns, begonias and variety of blooming plants. Wedding decorations and floral designs and all equipments for church and house decorations. Southern smilax at 15 days notice
AT DENTON'S.

J. W. VanSickle, Dealer in all kinds of
FRESH AND SALTED MEATS.
Game in season. No. 122 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Telephone 148b. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

L. A. HUMMER'S
VARIETY MARKET.
Meats, fruits, vegetables, poultry, eggs, etc. Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge.
20 Park avenue. Telephone call 22-A

No Place Like Home

on Christmas day. No day like Christmas at home. Christmas will be merrier the more home like the home. Our great holiday sale of wall paper should attract all whose houses need papering.
Marsh, Ayers & Co.

VICTORY FOR REBELS

Capture a City, Release Prisoners and Burn a Jail.

GOVERNMENT FORCES TOO SLOW

The Train on Which They Were Being Conveyed to the Scene Delayed—Volunteers Make No Resistance and Join the Insurgents.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Havana, Feb. 21.—An official report just issued states that Captain-General Weyler, learning that the insurgents intended to make an attack on Jaruco, an important town on the railroad midway between Havana and Matanzas, sent a body of troops from this city at 4 o'clock yesterday morning to protect the town. His measures to meet the rebels were, however, fruitless, for the attacking party, which was made up of men from the combined bands of Gomez and Maceo, moved so rapidly that by the time the troops arrived the rebels had done their work and disappeared. They attacked the town at 9 o'clock Tuesday night, meeting with very slight resistance. In fact, the volunteers surrendered to the enemy. The insurgents marched to the jail and released the prisoners therein, after which they set fire to the structure and a number of other buildings, all of which were destroyed.

Rebels Tore Up the Tracks.

The train conveying the troops from this city was delayed en route, the rebels having torn up the track in several places. When the troops finally arrived at Jaruco the rebels refused to fight and retreated. They left one of their number dead in the streets, and a wounded rebel was subsequently discovered. It is believed that more were wounded but were carried away by their companions. The Spanish loss was one volunteer killed and six regular troops wounded. Yesterday a soldier killed an unknown man who was seated in a restaurant on Reina street, this city. The victim was wounded in the head, body and legs. The soldier was placed under arrest. The authorities say he is demented.

J. FRANK CLARK.

AUGUSTA MOURNS.

Large Attendance at the Funeral of Mrs. Joseph H. Manley.

Augusta, Me., Feb. 21.—The funeral of Mrs. J. H. Manley took place yesterday. The attendance was the largest seen at any funeral in Augusta for many years. Prominent citizens were present not only from Augusta and surrounding places, but from many distant towns and cities. Business was generally suspended during the hour of service and burial. The employes of the Maine Farmer, of which paper Mr. Manley is part owner, were present in a body, as were nearly all of the officials and employes of the Augusta postoffice. Many members of the republican state committee and leading politicians of both parties attended as a mark of respect to the afflicted family. The remains of Mrs. Manley were placed in the tomb at Riverside cemetery.

CAUCUS OF REPUBLICANS.

Congressional Campaign Committee for 1896 To Be Organized.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The republican congressional caucus last night adopted a resolution, offered by Senator Chandler of New Hampshire, providing for the formation of a congressional campaign committee for the 54th congress. The resolution provides that each state having republican representation in congress shall be entitled to a member of the campaign committee, and authorizes the various state congressional delegations to nominate members therefor. These are to be named within ten days. The following are among those chosen last night: Connecticut, representative C. A. Russell; Massachusetts, L. D. Apsley; New Hampshire, Senator Gallinger; New York, J. S. Shorman; Pennsylvania, J. E. Reyburn.

Exploring in Labrador.

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—Prof. Charles E. Hite of the University of Pennsylvania is to conduct in June another Labrador exploring expedition. It is possible that he may search on this occasion the northern border of Ellsmere's land. The main purpose of the expedition, however, is directed towards Labrador alone.

Fire Escapes for Troy Collar Shops.

Troy, N. Y., Feb. 21.—In the common council last night a new ordinance was proposed requiring all collar shops to be equipped with fire escapes of such size and strength as should be approved by the fire marshal. A penalty of $50 a week is provided for failure to comply with the law after March 16.

Weather Prophets' Success.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The official report furnished to Secretary Morton shows the percentage of verifications of the official morning forecasts of the weather bureau for the district east of the Rocky Mountains was for the month of January, 1896, 81.9.

Candidate for Congress.

Erie, Pa., Feb. 21.—Hon. Samuel A. Davenport of this city has announced himself as a candidate for congressman at large from this state. Mr. Davenport has been a delegate to several national republican conventions.

Shot a Boy Companion.

Ware, Mass., Feb. 21.—Louis Shaw, 15 years old, of Otis avenue, shot and probably fatally injured Traffley Charboneau last evening while fooling with a revolver. Both boys work at Castevens & Co.'s mill.

WESTERN CONGRESSMEN.

Lafe Pence Points Out How They May Elect a Free Coinage President.

New Rochelle, N. Y., Feb. 21.—Ex-Congressman Lafe Pence of Colorado spoke here last evening at the town hall, before a large assemblage, on "The great west; its people, resources and future." After speaking to his subject for some time, Mr. Pence touched upon the silver question and gave his opinion as to how it would effect the coming presidential election. "There is a strong probability," said he, "that the substantial and decisive power of the west in political matters will be called to the attention of the country and the world in an effective manner this year. If the republican party nominates a gold standard candidate upon a gold standard platform, as seems probable, and the democratic party nominates an equivocal candidate upon an equivocal platform, as seems probable, the free coinage question will be presented as the paramount issue by the union of the free coinage forces of all parties, and a campaign will follow that will 'fire the woods' in the west and south. The chances for its success will rest in the possibility of keeping the republican candidate from receiving a majority in the electoral college. That accomplished the election of president will fall to the present house of representatives, on a roll call of the states, each state casting one vote. On such a roll call, the congressmen from ten western states can make the president, and the free coinage candidate may win. The centre of population in our country is now west of Ohio. The centre of political power in 1896 may be found west of the Mississippi."

BENEFIT PAYMENTS.

Supreme Court Decision of Interest to Members of the Golden Eagle.

Trenton, Feb. 21.—Among the opinions filed in the supreme court yesterday was one by Justice Garrison, settling a matter that will be of interest to all members of the knights of the Golden Eagle. B. Smith was a member of Ocean Castle No. 11 in good standing and in receipt of weekly benefits on account of illness under a beneficial provision of the castle, which by an error in bookkeeping stopped payment. The court of common pleas established the right of Smith to the arrears of benefits, and the only question was now whether he could maintain this suit in the civil courts without first having had recourse to the tribunals of the association itself. By the sylabus the court holds that the members of fraternal benevolent associations may lawfully agree, as part of the scheme of the organization, to submit their domestic grievances, in the first instance, to the internal tribunals of the order; and, having so agreed, cannot against the protest of the association maintain a civil action against it until the condition precedent has been, in legal contemplation, complied with. The judgment below is reversed, the record remitted and a judgment of non-suit entered.

CENTRAL RESERVE CITY.

Efforts To Induce Philadelphia Banks To Take Hold of the Scheme.

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—The first step toward inducing the Philadelphia banks to recognize the advantage to be gained by making this a central reserve city was taken yesterday afternoon, when a resolution was introduced in city councils asking the city solicitor an opinion as to the authority of councils to direct City Treasurer Oellers to withdraw city deposits from the banks which voted recently against the proposition. There is a feeling in financial and commercial centres that Philadelphia would be benefited if made a reserve city. Considerable stress is laid upon the fact that the banks in favor of a central reserve, though in the minority, represent the financial standing as much if not more than those who voted against it. The statement is made that thirteen banks voting in favor of central reserve have 50 per cent. of the combined capital of all the Philadelphia banks, 45 per cent. of the deposits and 60 per cent. of the cash reserve. An early opinion from the city solicitor is expected.

Smallpox in a New Haven Hospital.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 21.—A case of what is believed to be smallpox was discovered in the New Haven hospital yesterday and last night the patient, Miss Anna Burr of Meriden, was taken to the hospital for contagious diseases at the Springfield home. She will remain there under observation until the disease develops or proves to be something else.

Morton's Campaign at Washington.

Albany, Feb. 21.—Congressman J. W. Wadsworth of Geneseo was among the governor's callers yesterday afternoon. He assured the governor, from the Washington point of view—the standpoint of the New York congressional delegation—the Morton campaign is making very gratifying progress.

Car Inspectors Killed.

Bethlehem, Pa., Feb. 21.—Through a collision of trains last evening Levi Worst was instantly killed and Elmer Kunsman so badly injured that he cannot recover. The men were car inspectors and were inspecting a side tracked Reading train here when a shifter bumped into the cars.

McCarron's Body Washed Ashore.

Newburyport, Mass., Feb. 21.—The body of steward Andrew McCarron, of the wrecked steamer Allianza, was found under a piece of wreckage on Plum island yesterday and brought to this city. All the victims of the wreck are now accounted for.

Irving Van Wart Dead.

London, Feb. 21.—Irving Van Wart, who was the favorite nephew of Washington Irving, died yesterday at Edgbaston. He was 87 years old.

WILL NOT INTERFERE

Russian Protectorate for Korea of Little Concern to Uncle Sam.

MAY TENDER HIS GOOD OFFICES

The Statement from Shanghai That the United States Would Join England in Resisting Russia's Contemplated Action Denied.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The rumor of the reported intention of Russia to proclaim a protectorate over Korea reached the state department in a cable message sent several days ago by Mr. Sill, the minister of the United States to Korea, as a newspaper statement. Beyond this, nothing on the subject has come to the attention of Secretary Olney. The statement in the dispatch from Shanghai to the London Globe, that the United States and Great Britain would probably "strenuously resist such action," has no basis of authority, so far as this government is concerned. The friendly feeling of the United States towards Korea is well known, and our interest is intensified by the fact that many Americans hold concessions there. There is no likelihood that this country will offer any "resistance" or proceed to anything "strenuous" with regard to any proposed Russian protectorate. If any part should be taken by the United States in the matter, it will be merely in the form of tendering its good offices to secure the best results for the Korean people.

HER INTERESTING HISTORY.

The Monadnock at Last an Up to Date War Ship.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The commissioning yesterday at Mare Island, Cal., of the monitor Monadnock, practically added another harbor defense vessel to the United States navy. The Monadnock has an interesting history. She was one of the war time monitors of the Ericsson type and was the first of these vesseis to make a long sea voyage. Despite predictions of disaster the navy department decided to send her from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and Commander (now rear admiral) Bunce successfully piloted her through the straits of Magellan and around to the Mare Island navy yard. In Secretary Robeson's administration the Monadnock was ordered to be repaired. Material for her reconstruction was sent to the Pacific, but while the Monadnock was being conveyed to San Francisco by the vessel containing her new fittings, both sank in a storm. The Monadnock remained under water for a long time, but was finally raised, as was the material. Secretary Herbert decided that the vessel was worth converting into a monitor of the modern type, and now, after nearly twenty years have elapsed since this was first contemplated, she has become an up-to-date war ship.

RELIEF WORK BEGUN.

$25,000 Sent by Cable To Miss Clara Barton at Constantinople.

New York, Feb. 21.—The national Armenian relief committee in response to a cable message from Clara Barton has just sent $25,000 by cable to Constantinople, and will send forward other sums immediately.

Millers Working for Reciprocity.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Augustus Miller of Kansas City, representing the National Millers' association, yesterday addressed the ways and means subcommittee in support of re-enacting the reciprocity clause of the McKinley law. He gave figures showing how the flour trade with Brazil, Cuba, the Argentine Republic and other countries had increased under reciprocity and had fallen off soon after the reciprocity agreement had been annulled.

Mrs. Foltz Seeks Admission to the Bar.

New York, Feb. 21.—Gen. Benj. F. Tracy, ex-secretary of the navy, presented Mrs. Clara Shortlidge Foltz yesterday afternoon to the appellate division of the supreme court as a candidate for admission to the New York bar. Mrs. Foltz has been a lawyer practicing in California since 1879, and is prominent in legal and social circles in San Francisco, and since 1890 a member of the bar of the supreme court of the United States.

Abbott and Sheehan Matched.

South Bethlehem, Pa., Feb. 21.—"Johnny" Dunn has matched Stanton Abbott, the English lightweight champion, to meet "Paddy" Sheehan, the lightweight champion of the Lehigh valley, in a six-round bout at catch weights, the contest to take place on February 24 in this city. On March 4 the Britisher will deliver a descriptive lecture on the art of self-defense before the Brown university students, at Providence, R. I.

Death of Benjamin Marston Watson.

Plymouth, Mass., Feb. 21.—Bejamin Marston Watson, who died yesterday, aged 76, was well-known in literary circles, having been an intimate friend of Ralph Waldo Emerson and Henry D. Thoreau. He was graduated from Harvard college in the class of 1830, and was much interested in historical subjects and was a trustee of the Pilgrim society.

Railroads Snowbound at Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Feb. 21.—Another wind and snow storm set in here last evening and raged all night. Railroad traffic is almost entirely blocked to-day.

Good Government Club Meeting.

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—The next annual meeting of the Municipal league and the fourth national conference for good city government will be held in Baltimore on May 6, 7 and 8, next.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

Published Daily, except Sunday, at 3:30 p. m.

105 North avenue. Telephone Call 61.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., FEB. 21, 1896.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Friday Fair and Warmer, Tonight and Saturday.

At 2 o'Clock Leggett's Thermometer Registered 40 Degrees.

COMING EVENTS.

Announcements of all meetings, etc., will be made in this column, free of charge, if copy is furnished by 10 a. m.

February 21—Second lecture in Mrs. D. P. Hall's series at the Seminary by Prof. W. Hudson Shaw.
February 21—Martha Washington tea at First Presbyterian church.
February 21—Sociable at Grace M. E. church.
February 22—"Westerner" at Music Hall.
February 22—African singers at Y. M. C. A. Hall.

The speaker has appointed Assemblymen Skinner and Reed, the House members of the joint committee to revise and codify the District Court laws, It is to be a service of love, says the Newark Advertiser.

City Attorney E. S. Atwater, of Elizabeth, who has been appointed Judge of the District Court by Gov. Griggs, will resign his position as city attorney next month. Judge Gilhooly will be his successor.

All who have been interested in the departure to Turkey of Clara Barton, the President of the American Red Cross Society, will read with interest that a cable despatch from Constantinople, received at Washington from A. W. Terrill, American Minister to Turkey, contained the intelligence that the efforts of Miss Barton to secure the permission of the Turkish Government to distribute relief to the suffering Armenians have been successful. Miss Barton has been presented to the Minister and has received full assurance of protection and aid for her agents to distribute relief. The despatch ends with these words: "The door is thus opened wide for charity." Several literary societies in the vicinity are showing their appreciation of Miss Barton's courageous kindness by contributing to the Red Cross Society, whose funds Miss Barton will distribute as a privare individual.

Albany is not to have the monopoly of freak legislation. The bill which is to be introduced at Trenton by request of Farmer Hutchinson, of New Brunswick, is altogether exceptional. His aim and object is to improve the schools of the State. These institutions are suffering from a lack of pupils. The agriculturist proposes to remedy the evil in a roundabout way; but at any rate his reasoning process is sound upon the face of it. "The State fosters other industries by bounties and premiums. Why may we not try a bounty on children? And then the small districts which lack their quote of pupils might have them, and our dilapidated schoolhouses would be repaired from the increase of taxable parents. Let us boom New Jersey, and try and make her new school law a success." Of course it is rather a novelty, and reversal of the ordinary process, to provide the children for the sake of the schools, but then as the whole scheme is for the honor and glory of New Jersey, the farmer's plan may be received with favor.—Evening Sun.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Jeanie L. Savage, of New York, is visiting friends in Westfield and Plainfield.

Joseph Daley, who was at death's door with pneumonia, has shown a slight change for the better.

Stephen Moore, of Liberty street, who has been ill for some time, has shown a slight change for the worse.

D. H. Robinson, the eastern agent of the Baltimore Steam Packet Company, Bay Line, was the guest of A. V. D. Honeyman, yesterday.

Among the Plainfield lawyers in Trenton today are Judge DeMeza, Corporation Counsel C. A. Marsh, H. O. Hance, Charles McNabb and W. S. Angleman.

Wm. Morrison, of the staff of the New York World, returned to New York this morning after a short visit at the home of his uncle, Thos. Morrison, of Mountain avenue.

Dr. D. C. Adams, W. H. Sebring and Harry Marshall, of Trinity Commandery No 17, K. T., attended a grand reception given last evening by Cyrene Commandery of Camden.

Mr. and Mrs. George K. Henry, of Somerville, are happy over the arrival of a daugnter to brighten their home. Mother and daughter are doing quite well. Mrs. Henry is the sister of Mrs. H. F. Brower, of East Front street.

Harry McGee, of Orchard place, Washington Park, and his college friend, Robert Hincks, of Bridgeport, Conn., both students at Yale, will spend tomorrow and Sunday at the home of the former.

"Give me a liver regulator and I can regulate the world," said a genius. The druggists handed him a bottle of DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. J. H. Tier, Jr., of Bank place, is kept at home by slight illness.

Elsie Tier, of Bank place, is improving nicely from her slight illness.

Mrs. H. A. McGee, of Orchard Place, is visiting friends in New York.

Mrs. Isaac Taynor, of East Third street, is improving from her recent illness.

David Demarest, of Watchung avenue, has recovered from a few days illness.

Miss May Baxter, of Clinton avenue, is entertaining friends from out of-town.

Mrs. Linderman, of West Front street, is detained at home slightly indisposed.

Miss Lanning, of Central avenue, has returned from a pleasant visit in Brooklyn.

Miss Emma Buckle, of Westerivet avenue, will entertain a few friends this evening.

Dr. Whitford, of New Market, continues to steadily improve from his severe illness.

Mrs. J. C. VanDyke, of East Front street, is now able to walk with the aid of crutches.

Mrs. Charles Newman, who has been very sick for the past few days, is improving.

Miss Lizzie Shay is quite ill at her home on Linden avenue, suffering with bronchitis.

H. Compton, of West Front street, will spend the month of March at the Bermuda Islands.

A. R. Johnson, of West Front street, will spend Washington's Birthday in Newark with friends.

Miss Lulu Randolph, of South Plainfield, has returned home after visiting relatives in Plainfield.

Mrs. Meeker and Mrs. Kershaw, of Dunellen, have returned home after a short visit in Plainfield.

Miss L. J. Bunting, of Crosswicks, N. Y., is visiting her aunt Mrs. J. A. Bunting of Mercer avenue.

Richard Williams, of West Seventh street, is off on a business trip to Bridgeport and New Haven.

Mrs. John Donnelly, of Brooklyn, is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Armstrong Mulford, of East Fifth street.

Miss Cora Richardson, of East Sixth street, entertained a few friends at her home last evening with whist.

William Mullon, formerly of this city, but now of Long Island, was the guest of friends in town yesterday.

The many friends of Elsie Smith, of Westervelt avenue, will be pleased to learn that she is improving rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Hooley, of Rockview avenue, are registered at Clarendon Hotel, Glen Cove Springs, Fla.

Edward S. Hicken, of Brooklyn, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs George P. Dupee, of Parkview avenue.

Miss M. J. Elliott, of Grove street, is visiting at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Garrett Conover at Hawthorne, N. J.

Willis R. Moore, of Brooklyn, will spend Washington's Birthday with his father, William Moore, of New street.

Miss Edith Day, of Rockview avenue, is visiting friends at Albany. Miss Day will be absent about two weeks.

There is no improvement in the condition of Mrs. Kiederling, of Front street, who is very low with pneumonia.

Ethel White, of West Front street, is able to attend school again, having recovered from a slight attack of the measles.

Mrs. Lizzie Compton, of Perth Amboy, who has been visiting Mrs. Hoffman, of Grove street, has returned to her home.

The family of the late Judge Martine, of New York, will be the guests of James E. Martine, at Cedar Brook Farm, tomorrow.

Patrick Kieley is building a large addition to his house on Steiner Place, and making other improvements around his property.

Mrs. F. W. Perry, of Willow avenue, who has been visiting friends in New York for the past week, is expected to arrive home tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Gaston, of Somerville, who have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. O. W. Dunham, of East Fifth street, have returned to their home.

Miss Ada Benham, the assistant telegraph operator at the North Avenue station, will spend tomorrow and Sunday at her home near White Haven, Pa.

Mrs. Yerkes, wife of the Rev. Dr. Yerkes of West Seventh street, has returned from Greenville, South Carolina, where she has been spending several weeks at the home of her son-in-law, William Flanners.

J. W. Pierce, Republic, Ia., says: "I have used One Minute Cough Cure in my family and for myself, with results so entirely satisfactory that I can hardly find words to express myself as to its merit. I will never fail to recommend it to others, on every occasion that presents itself." L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

"Pure and Sure."

Cleveland's BAKING POWDER

is uniform and reliable.

THEATRICAL.

An exchange says: The Gormans, of minstrel fame, pleased a big house at White's Saturday night, with their new musical comedy, "The Gilhoolys Abroad." The piece is meritorious, full of ginger, and affords the individual members of the company plenty of opportunities for artistic work. Aside from the eccentric dancing and singing turns of John and George Gorman, the costuming was elaborate and the tricks lent a charm to the last act. The Venetian drill and trio singing were specialties far above the average. The Gormans will be the attraction at Music Hall Wednesday night.

"The Westerner," an American comedy drama in four acts, will be the bill at the Stillman Music Hall Washington's Birthday. The play is said to be entirely different from the ordinary run of dramas and very little akin to what its name would suggest. "The Westerner" is a broad minded hard working honest miner from Nevada, who coming to the metropolis plunges in the excitement of the stock exchange and seeks recreation on the race track, in the base ball field, and incidently touches the softer throbs of the human heart where woman plays a conspicuous part. The company playing the Westerner is said to be a thoroughly capable one and unusually strong from a dramatic standpoint and is headed by that sterling young actor Mr. Albert DeLesser.

Dunellen.

The Whittier School raised their new flag today.

Mrs. Giles, of Church street, has been entertaining friends from Bound Brook.

Mr. W. H. Wilson, of Roselle, who has been visiting in town, has returned home.

Mr. A. D. Pope has finished papering the hall of Mr. Joel Giddes' house on North avenue.

Miss Lilian Stape has returned home a pleasant visit with her sister, Mrs. Hull, of Sing Sing.

Mrs. Reed, of New York, is spending a few days with her son, Mr. Fred Reed, of New Market.

Mrs. Peter Quick, of Front street, is receiving a visit from her sister, Mrs. Cole, of Phillipsburg.

Miss Julia Johnson has returned to her home in Newark from a short visit with Mr. and Mrs J B Conover, of Front street.

—The Borough Council will meet this evening in adjourned session.

—A sociable will be held at the Grace M. E church this evening.

—Don't fail to hear the African singers ot the Y. M. C. A. Hall tomorrow evening.

—Edward Love is closing out the largest and finest selected stock of wall paper in the city.

—White of Plainfield will place on sale tomorrow morning from 8 to 12 one case of fine ——— at 6 cents per yard. Actual value 12 cents.

Gail Borden Eagle BRAND Condensed Milk HAS NO EQUAL

THE CATHODE RAY.

There's another new invention
Which these scientific crimps
Discovered, just to help along
Old Satan and his imps:
It is worse than all the others
They have brought out in our day.
And the name of this new demon
Is
the cathode
ray.

With this new-fangled lightning
They can look a man right through.
And see what he is thinking.
Tell you what he wants to do.
Count the money in his pocket;
Then with laughter they will bray
When they only find a nickel
With their cathode
ray.

Just suppose you have a dollar
And you start out for a feed:
But you meet that bill collector
Who is wont with you to plead:
You have stood him off so often
That you think 'twill be but play.
But the fellow finds that dollar
With his cathode
ray.

—Chicago Herald.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Will DeMeza, of West Second street, visited friends in Brooklyn yesterday.

Samuel Fenner, of East Fifth street, will spend tomorrow at Franklin Park with friends.

The Misses Cottrell, of Asbury Park, are visiting their sister, Mrs. J. P. Emmons, of Prospect place.

George A. Horne, of Willow avenue, is expected home from Lehigh University tonight to spend Saturday and Sunday in Plainfield.

John C. Whiting, secretary of the Westfield Y. M. C. A., spent yesterday afternoon with friends in town.

Will VanDyke, of West Second street, is very ill and in a critical condition.

Mr. Allen Hazen, who was consulted by the city on the material at the disposal beds, stopped off at Plainfield today on his way to Altoona, Pa. He visited the beds and expressed himself as much pleased with the working of them.

New Market.

Mr. Will Carpenter has accepted a position with Harry Gaskill.

There will be no revival meeting in the First Baptist church Saturday evening.

Mr. Penrose, who has been visiting friends in town, has returned home to Philadelphia

Miss Vanderbeck, who has been visiting among friends, has returned home to East Orange.

Miss Mamie Wright has returned home to Rochester, N. Y., after a pleasant visit with Miss Anthony.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adair and children, of Aldene, who have been visiting among friends, have returned home.

The members of the G. E. Club were delightfully entertained Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Miss Cora Dayton.

Trick and Fancy Riding, RACING and Polo Playing Washington's Birthday,
— AT —
COLUMBIA CYCLE ACADEMY.
Matinee at 3. Evening at 8,
— BY —
Prof. "Ike" Jonnson and Company.
Admission 25c. 2 19 3

VISIT BOEHM'S
CROCKERY DEPARTMENT,
113 WEST FRONT STREET.

Everything in the housefurnishing line up to date. Prices brought down to the lowest possible notch. We guarantee satisfaction in every respect. It is therefore to your own benefit to visit this department—it will pay you.

Novelties in Dress Goods.

AT 19C—30 inch Brilliantines, were 25c.
AT 50C—38 inch extra heavy black mohair sicilians, cheap at 63c.
AT 25C—40 inch new spring novelties, changeable effects, were 35c.
AT 25C—36 inch plaids, silk stripe effects, were 33c.
AT 12 1-2C—A very handsome line of worsted plaids well worth 19c.
AT 50C—The very latest novelties in all-wool dress goods, suitable for spring wear, fully 40in. wide, a bargain at 65c.
AT 32C—38 inch wide black brilliantines.
AT 45C—40 inch black brilliantines, silk finished, regular 59c quality.
AT 50C—Silk finished brilliantine, 40 inches wide, the 65c grade.
AT 65C—Extra fine black brilliantine, 1¼ yards wide, with an extra heavy lustre, the regular 75c quality.
Our leader for this coming season—38 inch wide black figured brilliantine in a number of new and novel designs at the uniform price of 35c a yard, well worth 45c a yard.
AT 25C—Storm serges in black and blue, 38in. wide, were 34c.
AT 45C—Beautiful fine black serges, 1¼ yds wide, a hummer, were 55c.
AT 19C—Light colored brilliantines, the very newest effects, reduced from 25c.

BOEHM'S, 113 WEST FRONT ST.

Always Ahead!

and Peck Proposes to Stay there
if Good Goods Count for Anything

THE DALZIEL
GRAMMAR, MANUAL AND
ART SCHOOL, 309 East Front Street.
IS AN ESTABLISHED SUCCESS.

Free-hand drawing from the Antique, Pen and Ink Sketching, Clay Modeling, Painting, Designing and Mechanical Draughting. Directed by John Dalziel, late Professor of Drawing for Illustration, and Engraving at the Women's School of Design, Philadelphia, Pa.

WE are NOW preparing for Spring and Summer Outdoor Work.

DO NOT THINK
EDWARD LOVE
IS Giving Away Wall Paper,

But he is doing the next thing to it.
Let him do your spring decorating.

EDSALL'S
Commercial Palace, Babcock Building.

STORE WILL CLOSE TOMORROW AT 12 NOON.

Notice!

Last Tuesday morning we received notice from The H. B. Caflin Company that they had purchased the entire stock of one of the largest corset manufacturers in the world, and were offering them for sale at prices far below "Bankrupt" stock prices. One of our buyers took the first train to the city and was able to secure only one case, so rapidly were they bought up. There are only 12 dozen but include all sizes and are now on sale at

Only 35c
FOR A FRENCH CORSET.

Perfectly clean, new, fresh and right up to date, and a good 90c corset. In connection with the sale of these corsets we will offer

500 Dozen Pure Olive Castile Soap
2 CAKES FOR 5 CENTS.

See unique representation of Brooklyn Bridge in our large show window made of the soap. The latest sensation in Plainfield.

MUSIC.

3c—300 copies of vocal and instrumental music by the best composers, bought at the assignee sale of the well known music publishing house of Hitchcock & Co., New York. Over 500 titles, regular prices, 40, 50 and 75c per copy.

5c—Extra size cotten towels.

7c—Shell side combs, worth 15c.

9c—Mens suspenders, worth 20c.

20c—Ladies all leather pocket books, worth 30c.

29c—Warp print ribbons, 4 inches wide, worth 39c.

9c—Men's linen cuffs, worth 20c a pair.

6c—Men's linen collars, newest shapes, worth 13c.

10c—Men's fast black half hose, double heel ahd toe, seamless, worth 18c a pair.

65c—Ladies' kid gloves in black and leading shades of tan, excellent wearers, worth $1.00 a pair.

9c—Ladies' fast black seamless cotton hose, double heel and toe, worth 15c.

7c—Extra large size honey-comb towel, worth 15c.

Housefurnishing Dep't.

1 lot patent foot holder dust pans 10c.
1 lot 50 foot hand twist clothes lines 5c.
1 lot best G. and S. water pails 18c.
1 lot ash sifters 5c.
1 lot wood chopping bowls 5c.
1 lot galvanized wash bowls 5c.
1 lot kerosene glass lamps complete with fluted chimney 17c.

Grocery Depatment.

10c Boston potato chips—fresh.
13c Plymouth Rock gelatine.
7c mustard sardines.
20c pound good butter.
50c bushel fine Jersey potatoes.
12c Cape Cod cranberries.

EDSALL'S.

Shoe Notes.

If You Have Tender Feet Why Not Try a Pair of Our Common Sense Boots,

made on the same lines of the Kahler make. Our price $3 and $5. This is at least $1 a pair under New York City prices on the same goods. A woman's genuine dongola kid button boot for $1.19. One of our specials—woman's rubbers 24c and up. How can we undersell the other fellows? We buy direct from the manufacturers and give you the middleman's profits.

DOANE & EDSALL.

SPORTS

STRIKES AND SPARES.

TEAM POSITIONS IN STANDARD LEAGUE.

	H. S.	Won.	Lost.
Westfield	884	21	9
Roselle	893	20	10
Park	885	20	12
Union C. C. Club	831	9	21
Cranford	837	6	24

TEAM STANDING IN CENTRAL JOURNAL LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	Highest Score.
Elizabeth A. C.	7	4	1789
Crescent Wheelmen	6	5	1619
New Jersey A. C.	5	6	1671
Cranford C. C.	4	7	1557

TEAM STANDING IN DIOCESAN UNION.

	Won.	Lost.	Highest score.
Catholic C	7	2	1597
Elizabeth	7	2	1670
Orange Valley	6	3	1534
Plainfield	4	4	1506
Newark T. A. B.	2	6	1584
Institute	0	8	1516

The deciding games between the Y. M. C. A. teams of Plainfield and Westfield will be rolled at Westfield tomorrow afternoon.

Next Tuesday evening the Crescent bowling team will meet the Cranfords in this city, and the N. J. A. C., will bowl the E. A. C., at Bergen Point. These are the two last games in the tournament, and should the Crescents and the N. J. A. C. win, it will make a tie for first place and will necessitate another games being rolled.

Two games were rolled on the Crescent Wheelmen's alleys last night between the Westfield Y. M. C. A. and the Crescent Wheelmen Juniors, and each team took one victory. The first game was a cinch for the home team and they won by 130 pins after rolling a good game. Baker was high man. Condit, the Westfield crack, could not find the head pin and only scored 131 while his comrades were not much better off. The second game was not as good an exhibition of bowling as the first, but it was much more exciting. The two teams alternated in the lead down to the eighth frame when Westfield took it and held it to the end. Baker made a double header in the eight frame but the umpire called a foul on line and he only scored nine. The decision did not suit the Plainfield boys and their wind up was weak. Chaptain Whitehead and Wright were accountable for Westfield's victory. The frames were as follows:

CRESCENT WHEELMEN JUNIORS.

	First game.	Second game.
Clarkson	171	138
Ulrich	150	149
Smith	147	132
Baker	180	160
Giles	169	132
Total	817	711

WESTFIELD Y. M. C. A.

	First game.	Second game.
Whitehead	128	165
Rice	130	121
Wright	139	168
Manning	159	146
Condit	131	129
Total	687	728

AT THE TRAPS.

The first monthly shoot of the New Jersey Trap Shooters League will be held at Dunellen on Thursday, Feb. 27th.

The Climax Gun Club will send a team of twenty men to Dunellen Saturday for a team shoot with the Dunellen Gun Club.

A live bird shoot will be held at Campbell's tomorrow between Cornelius Teeple, of Park avenue, and Mr. Galloway, of Valentine street.

There will be a pigeon match at Benner's club house tomorrow at 10 o'clock between John Singer, of Westfield, and Jack Benner, of Fanwood, at 25 birds for $25 a side. There will also be a free clam bake to which Mr. Benner invited his friends.

—Franklin Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., met last evening and transacted routine business.

—The sale of the Pargiter stock at White's is giving all who have taken advantage of it great bargains. The prices an underwear, hosiery and dry goods of all kinds are cut in half. It means that $1 buys $2 worth of good seasonable goods.

—William A. Boe, who drives a wagon for Patterson Bros, and who travels considerably through the country, says this is the coldest winter he has seen for many years. He started on his route Monday morning and returned to this city yesterday. He said he never felt the cold so much as he did on that trip.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be curred by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We the undersigned have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transaction and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.

West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggist, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

A high liver with a torpid liver will not be a long liver. Correct that liver with DeWitt's Little Early Risers, little pills that cure dyspepsia and constipation. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

CYCLING COMMENT.

Edward H. Field, of West Seventh street, will ride a Cleveland wheel this year.

Wm. R. Larkin has taken the Dunellen sub-agency for the Cleveland bicycle.

The F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company shipped one Crescent and four Cleveland wheels to Brooklyn yesterday to customers in that city.

The famous Hunter wheel which has just been placed on the market can be seen at Lister's Cycle emporium on North avenue. It's a beauty.

Fred Woodruff and Charles Grieb, of the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company, went to Newark Tuesday and fitted up the shop for the Kerr & Martin Cycle Company.

The Memorial Day century run of the Associated Cycling clubs of Philadelphia from that city to Newark will take place over the old Newark-Philadelphia course, which with one exception is flat. Medals will be given to all survivors of the run. Quite a few of the local clubs have signified their intention to take part in the run.

The writer attended Prof. Johnson's exhibition at Murray Hill Lyceum in New York last night and saw one of the finest bicycle exhibitions to be seen this season. This exhibition consists of fancy trick riding on both safeties and high wheels, miniature unicycles, wagon wheels, umbrellas, etc. The polo playing is very clever, and it is wonderful how a person can knock the ball so accurately with the front wheel of the bicycle. This entertainment is to be repeated here at the Columbia Cycle Academy afternoon and evening tomorrow at the low price of 25 cents admission, and should be well patronized by all lovers of sport.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE

—Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., will meet in regular session this evening.

—Hood's Pills are purely vegetable and do not purge, pain or gripe. All druggists, 25c.

—Noah Dove Encampment conferred the first rank on several candidates last evening at their meeting.

—A "Martha Washington" tea will be given in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church this evening.

—Justice Nash has issued summons in the case of Green against Coddington, landlord and tenant, returnable on Feb 25th.

—John D. Higgins and family, of Howard street, moved yesterday into the house 15 Stone street, belonging to Miss M. E. McLoughlin.

—Three sermons will be preached at the Mt. Olive Baptist church on Sunday. The Sunday-school session will be dispensed with in consequence.

—Ninety per cent of all the people need to take a course of Hood's Sarsaparilla at this season to prevent that run-down condition of the system which invites disease.

—The postoffice at Califon, Hunterdon county, was entered by robbers on Wednesday night. The thieves only secured $5 worth of postage stamps for their trouble.

—James Tilby and family, of 27 Duer street, have rented the house on Stone street belonging to J. C. Bovey, of Brooklyn. Mr. Tilby will take possession about March first.

—The committee who had in charge the masquerade ball at the Gesang and Turn Verein Hall last Monday evening will have their picture taken in a group Sunday afternoon.

—Unity Lodge, K. of P., are requested to meet at Perseverance Lodge rooms, West Second street, Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, to attend divine services in the First Presbyterian church.

—Manager Charles W. Runyon, of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, is busily engaged both at Somerville and Westfield. At the latter place an exchange will be established.

—Special exercises appropriate to the celebration of Washington's Birthday were held this morning in the North Plainfield public school, also in the Bryant school on East Sixth street.

—There will be a prayer meeting tonight in the lecture room of the Trinity Reformed church at 8 o'clock to which all are invited. The subject of the pastor, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, will be, "The New, or Second Birth."

It not only is so, it must be so, One Minute Cough Cure acts quickly, and that's what makes it go. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front S

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The members of Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F., are planning for a big time Monday evening, March 9d.

—A turkey supper will be given in the G. A. R. hall tomorrow evening.

—B. W. Hand will preach in Liberty Street Mission this evening on the Widow of Name's Son.

—E. E. Marshall, the North avenue wall paper dealer, will erect a handsome residence on Fairview avenue in the spring.

—A consecration service will be held by the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church this evening.

—If you are in need of shoes and rubbers call on Doane & Edsall to morrow morning, as the store will be close at 15 o'clock noon.

—A. L. C. Marsh is the architect for the remodelling of the City National Bank, and it is the intention to commence work April 1st, when the contracts are given out.

—Washington's Birthday being a legal holiday, the circulating department will not be open. Books due on that day may be left at the desk if desired. The reading room will be open from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 6 and 7 to 10 p. m. Art gallery, 10 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m.

—Seven vessels are in course of construction at the Nixon ship yards at Elizabethport and 500 men are employed. Four of the big steam barges for the lake service are nearly ready for launching. The cruising yacht Josephine will be launched about March 10th.

—Apropos of Dr. Jameson's raid, the newspapers lately have been filled with dispatches from the Transvaal, bnt it is safe to say that few people know anything about its inhabitants. An article in the March Forum, by Captain T. Boraine White, a fourteen years' resident of South Africa, throws a flood of light on the "Manners and Customs of the Boers"—an extremely interesting and entertaining paper.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for rheumatism and neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75c. Sold by H. P. Reynolds, druggist, Park and North avenues. 2 12 y

Don't invite disappointment by experimenting. Depend upon One Minute Cough Cure and you have immediate relief. It cures croup. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership lately subsisting between William L. Gavett and Joseph W. Gavett, of the city of Plainfield, county of Union and State of New Jersey, under the firm name of William L. Gavett & Co., was dissolved on the fourteenth day of February, 1896, by mutual consent. All debts owing to the said partnership are to be received by said Joseph W. Gavett, and all demands on the said partnership are to be presented to him for payment.

Dated at Plainfield, N. J., this 14th day of February A. D., 1896.

W. L. GAVETT.
2 14 4-caw JOSEPH W. GAVETT.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.

Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, executor of Elizabeth A. Wet, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the county of Union, on Wednesday, the fifteenth day of April next.

Dated Feb. 13th, 1896.

WILLIAM A. SHOTWELL,
JOHN H. VAN WINKLE.
2 14 10-caw

List of Advertised Letters

Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 17, 1896.

Bates Geo Mrs	Lilly Geo
Bancroft Sarah J Miss	Lynet Ellen Miss
Connelly Peter	McKlellan Rose Miss
Hanshaw S W Mrs	Marie (nurse girl)
Haffner Frank P	Mairy Jas
Hustner John	O'Donnel Huge Mrs
Jeffries J W Rev	Philen Mary
King T P	Randolph Alfred

THE

Camp Fire and the Trail,

By the poet-scout,

Captain Jack Crawford,

IN

Crescent Avenue Church Chapel,

SATURDAY,

February 29, at 8 p. m.,

for the benefit of Marconnier Chapel.

Admission, 50c. Children, 25c.
2 15 17 19 21 26 28

A Corn Cure THAT CURES CORNS

We have never said much about our Corn Cure—though it is one of the best made—because the market is full of cures, so-called. But such positive testimony to its merits has recently been volunteered that we feel justified in "talking-up" this little specialty. Our COLLOID CORN CURE is easily applied, gives relief quickly and will cure every case of corns, hard or soft, that can be cured, if used as directed. Sold in square vials with brush for applying. REYNOLDS' PHARMACY, Park and North Avenues.

UNION

Meat Market,

IS THE PLACE

where you can buy during Lent all kinds of Smoked Fish, Salt and Pickled Herring, Imported Cheese of all kinds, Russian Caviar. Try the Waldorf Cheese. Imported and Domestic Sardines. Native Steers sold only at low prices. Jersey Lamb, Veal, Mutton, Pork, Turkeys and Chickens always on hand. My Sausage can't be beat. Genuine Philadelphia Scrapple and Taylor's Hams. Headquarters for Bologna and Delecatessen.

A. G. Vogeler.

131 West Front st.

NOTICE.

Comrades of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, Major Anderson Post, No. 19, and John Hand Camp, Sons of Veterans, No. 28, are cordially invited to attend the G. A. R. turkey supper at G. A. R. Hall on Saturday evening from 5 to 11 p. m., Washington's Birthday. Supper 25c.

H. DeMott,

Undertaker and Embalmer,

59 Somerset st., Plainfield, N. J.

Calls promptly attended to day or night. White and black hearses. Coaches latest style.

DIED.

SUTTERLIN—In North Plainfield, Thursday, Feb. 20, 1896, Gustave A. Sutterlin, aged 23 years, 7 months and 3 days.

Funeral services Saturday, Feb. 22, from his parents residence, No. 11 Greenbrook road at 2 o'clock p. m. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend. 2

WANTS AND OFFERS.

FRESH cow for sale. Inquire Geo. H. Neuman, Martinsville, N. J.

WANTED—By Feb. 29, two capable girls to do the work of a small family between them. Address with references, etc., F., care Press.

STORE to let. Corner Park avenue and Second street. W. R. Codington. 2 17 6

TO LET—Store on Park avenue now occupied by G. Q. Packer, with or without floors above; a great chance to start a furniture business. Apply to C. A. Marsh, or Wm. M. Stillman. 2 4 tf-law

RELIABLE Swedish girl wants situation, chambermaid or nurse. Address for references Box 36, South Bound Brook, N. J. 2 14 24

YOUNG woman wants place at upstairs work and waiting; good reference. H., care Press.

GOOD dressmaker wants more engagements by the day; terms reasonable. D., care Press.

TO exchange for lots, new 6 room house; price $1650; mortgage $800. Address P. O. Box 285. 2 21 4

WANTED.—A neat girl (colored preferred) for general housework; references. Call this evening at 329 East 3d street. 2

WANTED—Situation as gardener by experienced man; best of city references. Address G. M., P. O. box 383, city. 2 19 6

FOR SALE—The property owned and occupied by W. T. Broadway, 323 LaGrande ave; modern improvements, city water, etc; house has ten rooms also bath and laundry; possession any time; liberal terms. Apply to agents. 2 17 tf-m w f

WASHINGTON Park, North Plainfield; for sale or to let to a small family, No. 19 Sycamore ave., house in perfect order; contains 10 rooms, city water, gas and furnace; terms made to suit. Geo. F. Edwards, 191 Broadway, New York, or 17 Duer st., Plainfield. 2 17 12

VERY handsome flat; all modern improvements. Apply Manning's city marble works. 2 17 tf

WANTED.—At once, experienced white cook. Apply 949 Central avenue. 2 8 tf

WILL the person, who, on Sunday, found a small Scotch Terrier dog, weight about twelve pounds, return the same to 123 East Second street, and be suitably rewarded.

GOOD accommodations for horses; horses boarded by the month at reasonable terms. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville, N. J. 12 3 tf

FOR RENT—Two cottages, No. 830 and 832 West 3d st. Inquire of S. B. Wheeler, Netherwood Farm, Mountain avenue, North Plainfield. 10 30 tf

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker 2 21 tf

133 EAST 2d street to let a large sunny front room; also a hall rooms; furnished, 2 minutes from depot. 12 19 tf-m w t

TO LET—Stores, flats, dwellings. Bargains for sale. Mulford, Broker. 1 6 tf

TO LET—Stable on Sycamore street, from April 1st, seven stalls and a box stall, city water and electric lights, also three rooms over stable suitable for light house-keeping. Apply P. Lynch 1 2 tf

Pargiter Sale

Think of coming to a store where a dollar goes as far, buys double the amount of goods that it will in other stores. It isn't every day that we can buy good seasonable dry goods for 50c on the dollar, but some one's loss is your gain and we sell as we buy. It's two for one.

NEW ADDITION TO THE SALE.

Short lengths wash goods 3c yd, men's laundred shirts 39c, all-silk ribbon Nos. 12, 16, 22, 14c yd do No. 40, 20c yd, do Nos. 4, 5, 7, 9, 5c yd, men's suspenders were 50c now 25c, fine umbrellas $1 kind, 50c, all our short length dress goods were 50 and 75c, now 25c yard.

	Pargiter's price.	Our price
Mens linen collars	13c	7c
" "	18c	8c
Mens cuffs	20c	10c
" "	30c	15c
Mens mixed half hose	15c	8c
Mens balbrigan half hose	25c	10c
Mens black half hose	25c	10c
Mens tan half hose	25c	10c
Mens cashmere half hose	35c	18c
Mens laundered cambric shirts	$1.25	75c
Feather boas	$1.50 and $2	30c
Ladies cambric waists	50c	25c
Mens unlaundered shirts	75c	37c
" " " "	$1	55c
Boys outing shirts	25c	12c
Mens outing shirts	25c	12c
" " "	60c	30c
Mens white wool shirts	50c	25c
Mens colored wool shirts	50c	25c
Mens scarlet "	$1	50c
Mens natural "	$1.25	59c
Mens scarlet double breasted shirts	$1.50	69c
Large Turkish towels	25c	13c
Large huck towels	25c	13c
Extra large h. s. towels	35c	17c
Dinner napkins	$1.50	98c
Cotton towels	10c	5c

Fine white apron checks	12c	6c
Fine Victoria lawn	20c	10c
Fine embroideries	5c	3c
" "	10c	5c
Wide embroideries	25c	10c
Wash crepons	10c	5c
Childrens hose	12c	6c
" "	15c	8c
" "	20c	10c
" "	25c	12c
Ladies hose	15c	8c
" "	20c	10c
" "	30c	18c
Corset covers	18c	9c
Drawers	35c	19c
"	45c	23c
"	65c	37c
"	75c	46c
"	98c	42c
White shirts	75c	39c
" "	$1.00	59c
" "	1.25	69c
Ladies corsets	$1 and 1.25	69c
" kid gloves	1.00	57c
" " "	1.25	69c
" ribbed vests	35c	17c
" " pants	35c	17c
" " "	50c	25c
" " vests	50c	25c
" " "	75c	33c
" " pants	75c	33c

Housefurnishing Department.

STOP A MOMENT?

Self-praise is poor recommendation. It aint necessary to tell you where or how we buy our goods. Its the price that sells them every time—so here goes! MATCH THEM IF YOU CAN!

CUT BRUSH | 500 Bust Brushes, like sample, Wire Fastened, Hardwood Back at | 7c. EACH.

WASH DAY REMINDERS—Smoothing Irons, all sizes, best quality, at 3c. pound. Clothes Pins, all perfect, per 100 7c. Jute clothes line, very strong, at 1-2c. yd. Solid Zinc Wash-Boards, hardwood frame 10c each. Heavy Tin Wash Boilers, No. 7, oval copper bottom, 59c. each. No. 1 size Cedar Wash Tubs, free from knots, 39c. each. No. 2, do. 49c. No. 2 size Clothes Baskets, white willow, 29c. each. Mrs. Pott's patent Smoothing Irons, 3 irons handle and stand, plain, 69c. set. Nickle, 79c set. Handles extra for Mrs Pott's Irons, 19c. each. Clothes Wringers, hard rubber rollers, warranted, at $1.37.

WHITE OF PLAINFIELD.

Removal Sale.

These Are the Goods that Must Go.

Boy's reefers $5.....now $2.45
Youth's overcoats $8.....now $4.75
Youth's overcoats $10.....now $6.50
Men's overcoats $10.....now $7.75
Men's ulsters $10.....now $6.00

SEBRING'S,

Park Avenue. April 1st, West Front Street.

SEE THAT CURVE IN HATS

on all the new spring styles

Shown in those sold by

HALLOCK, Hatter, 109 West Front St.

KEATING, The world's lightest—19 lbs.

SEE THAT CURVE?

FOWLER, Truss frame—17 to 24 lbs.

Chas. C. Lister,

134 North Avenue.

Guaranteed Bicycles For $49.50.

OUTING and APOLLO.

Repairing, Renting, and Storing.

"He Never New"

We kept Hanan & Son's Shoes,
But what could the poor boy do?
His wife found it out—
He had never been on Park avenue.

A. WILLETT & SON,

107 PARK AVENUE.

MENTAL, PHYSICAL DIFFERENCE

Woman's strength is about two-thirds that of man, while her height is as 16 to 17 and her weight as nine to ten.

Woman's lung capacity is in proportion to her size much less than man's The pulse beat is from eight to ten faster than in man.

Woman are more alike than men and more normal. Most geniuses are of the male sex. Woman is naturally conservative, while man explores new fields.

In perception woman is decidedly quicker than man. She grasps a written paragraph in much less time than does he. Her perception of details however, is less accurate than is man's.

Among all civilized races woman is both shorter and lighter than man Her form is more rounded and graceful, less bony and angular, having relatively less fat and more muscle.

Woman's head is carried less upright than man's. The greater length of the first finger as compared to the third is a feminine peculiarity. The vocal cords in woman are shorter and the voice higher and shriller.

In respect to memory woman are superior. In slow, logical reasoning they are deficient. The arts, science and philosophy owe their advancement more to men than to women. What woman loses in profundity she gains in quickness. In languages she is more apt than man.

Differences in habits of thought between the two sexes is shown by the fact that if 50 men and 50 women were required to write 100 words as rapidly as possible without time for thought, in the woman's list will be found more words relating to the concrete than the abstract, the whole rather than the part, the particular rather than the general.

FIRST THINGS.

Modern needles came into use in 1545

The first almanac was printed in 1460.

Post offices were established in 1464.

The first watches were made at Nuremburg, Germany, in 1477.

The first printing press is claimed for Copenhagen, in 1493.

The first English newspaper was published in 1588.

The first copper cent was coined in New Haven in 1687.

The first steam engine in America came from England in 1753.

Omnibuses were introduced in New York city in 1830.

Glass windows were first used in England in the 18th century.

The first American newspaper was published at Boston in 1790.

The first telegraphic instrument was operated by Morse in 1835.

George Washington was first in war and first in peace.

The first railroad in the United States was opened in 1829.

The first iron steamship was built in 1830.

THE COST OF WAR.

Even Belgium spends every year 46,000,000 francs on her army.

In the last 200 years France has spent £993,000,000 in war.

Italy spends every year 14,000,000 lire ($2,800,000) on her army and navy.

In less than 300 years Great Britain alone has spent £1,339,000,000 in war.

The huge guns of modern navies can only be fired about 75 times, when they are worn out.

The peace footing in the Russian army calls for the services of 170,000 horses.

The estimated cost to both sides of our own great civil war was $6,500,000,000.

The army of Bolivia costs the people of that impoverished country £360,000 a year.

The French army costs every year 675,000,000 francs; the navy, 209,000,000 francs.

At Waterloo there were 115,000 men on both sides, of whom 51,000 were killed or disabled.

BREVITIES OF FUN.

Dora—"Mr. Spooner says he always feels like a fish out of water when he is with me." Cora—"Then you've hooked him, have you?"—Tit-Bits.

Uncle George—"Did you see the eclipse of the moon the other night?" Little Ethel—"No; we sat up late to see it, but the sky was so cloudy they didn't have it."—Chicago Record.

"Have you seen the portrait of Miss Dawkins by Marulous Boran? It looks just like an old master." "Do you think so? I thought it looked more like an old maid."—Harper's Bazar.

Jayson—"Say, Wilson, do you ever expect to pay me that ten dollars you got from me some months ago?" Wilson—"Certainly not. Don't you remember you said not to pay it till it was convenient?"—Life.

An Illustrious Family.—"The young man whom I wish to present," said the hostess, "belongs to one of the oldest, best-known families in the world." "Indeed!" "Yes. His name is Smith."—Washington Star.

SPICY POINTS.

After being peeled from the tree the cinnamon bark is piled in heaps in order that it may ferment and thus enable it to be more readily cleaned of the epidermis.

The name of the clove is derived from a Latin word, signifying little nail. It is a remarkable fact that in every civilized language the name of the clove has this signification.

The nutmeg tree was distributed all over the east by the nutmeg pigeon, this bird being fond of the fruit and transporting the seed to many quarters where the plant took root and grew.

In the West Indies red pepper is a favorite remedy for many ailments. In all cases of sore throat it is used as a gargle, while it is regarded also as a specific for scarlet fever and scarlatina

Your Spring Clothing

Rather early to speak of it, but if it needs cleaning or dyeing, it isn't too early to have us do that work for you. This is our dull season—our employes are here ready for work. We'd like to have your goods now. We can give them better attention than in the rush of the spring season. Then we'll have to have more time or rush them at the expense of good work. Now we can take our time, do the work better than if hurried and you'll have the clothing all ready for warm weather.

Look in the closet or trunk and find your spring wear that needs cleaning and dyeing and bring it to us now, or better still, our wagon will call for it if you will send us word.

Hillier & Co.,

179 North ave., Plainfield.

THIS IS

the season most people need a

TONIC,

and no better can be found than

Leggett's Malt Extract.

It is a pure concentrated extract of malt and hops.

Price 20 cents a bottle. $2 a dozen.

Leggett's Pharmacy,

Y. M. C. Building.

E. H. Holmes,

Dealer in

Coal & Wood.

Yard—No. 208 Madison avenue. Office for coal orders with Woolston & Buckle, 145 North ave.

Telephone 49-A.

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the first and third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.
John Fellows, Dictator
R. A. Frey, Reporter.

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays in the Babcock Building. C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Sec.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Babcock Building, West Front street. D. C. Adams, W. M.
Charles Yeager, Sec.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the second and fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward Building, Park avenue, at 8 p.m.
Harry C. Adams, Regent.
Frederick C. Pope, Secretary.

McCullough's STEAM MILL,

21 Steiner place, North Plainfield.

R. H. McCullough, Prop.

Sash, blinds, doors, mouldings, scroll sawing, turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully furnished.

ERNEST BARRETT,

Sanitary Plumbing, Steam and Hot Water Heating

All work guaranteed. Estimates cheerfully given. Jobbing promptly attended to.

125 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

L. L. MANNING, Marble AND Granite Works,

Corner Central avenue and West Front street, opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

Telephone 29b. Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON.

Plumbing and Hot Water Heating.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.

Opposite Roberts's Livery. 132 North ave.

MONEY

Cannot buy better

Men's Suits,

in fine imported Black and Blue Cheviot, Diagonal or fancy weave, single or double breasted at $9.90.

reduced from $15, $18 and $20.

WERNER'S,

206 West Front st.

Your Valuables

will be safe in

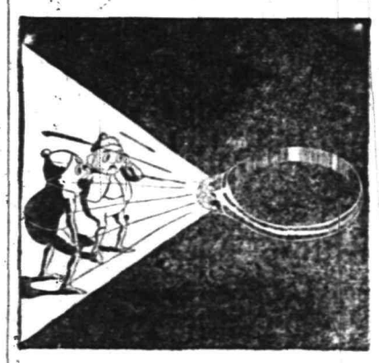
Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

Lock boxes from $3.50 to $10 a year

RANDOLPH RUNYON

Funeral Director and Embalmer.

43 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.
Residence over office. 1 18 m



A BRILLIANT SIGHT.

is afforded everyone who looks through our stock of diamonds and other precious stones—and their setting is only second to them in beauty. You can't think of anything in the jewelry line you can't get here. If you can, let us know and we'll get it at short notice.

COLLIER, 103 Park Avenue.

Established 1869.

INSURANCE.

J. C. Pope & Co.,

INSURANCE AGENTS.

110 East Front st.,
Plainfield, N. J.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance,

197 North avenue

INSURANCE.

WM. H. ABBOTT,

171 North Ave.

A Card to the Public

For nearly 20 years the public of Plainfield and vicinity have given me the largest share of their patronage in the purchasing of hats and gent's furnishings, showing that honest effort, low prices and reliable goods are appreciated. I have now associated with me Mr. Charles Clark, of Westfield, N. J., who comes to us highly recommended as a competent, honest young man. We will add to our stock of hats and gent's furnishings, a full line of men's and youth's shoes and rubbers, keeping only reliable goods and selling at the lowest possible prices.

Thankful for past favors, we are yours for business, U. B. CRANE,
120 West Front st.
Succeeded by Crane & Clark.

F. A. DUNHAM,

Civil Engineer and Surveyor

109 Park ave. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas. Telephone 87—F.

Dogs

IRON AND BRASS

FIRE-DOGS.

Curtis M. Thorpe,

Y. M. C. A. Building

"Everything for the Fireplace."

Improve YOUR OPPORTUNITY!

Get Some of the BARGAINS IN FURNITURE and CHINA.

before removal to Jackson Building.

Heat Your Rooms With the

Surio Gas Globe Heater.

Goes on any Gas Jet.

G. Q. Packer. Jos. W. Gavett.

Putnam & DeGraw

THIS WEEK WE WILL SELL

SHIRT WAISTS—Ladies laundered shirt waists only 50c.
UMBRELLAS—Fast black, Paragon frame, only 75c.
HOSIERY—Children's 1x1 rib extra quality, all sizes, 15c; ladies fast black seamless, extra quality, at 10 15 and 25c; men's mixed half hose, extra quality 10c, 3 for 25c; men's mixed half hose, seamless, extra heavy, 15c, 2 for 25 cents.
WAISTS—Children's corded underwaists 25c; children's outing flannel waists 50c style for 40c.
NECKWEAR—A new and special line at 25 and 50c.
EMBROIDERIES—Our s are the talk of the city.
COTTON CREPONS—Evening shades at 12 and 15c a yard.

COSTS NOTHING

to see our immense line of wall papers—or to let us estimate on your Spring decorating—We are

GLAD TO DO IT!

Edward Love,

Corner North and Watchung Avenues.

Telephone, Brooklyn, 366.

COMINS & EVANS

Acorn Brand

Asphalt Roofing.

Gravel and Metal Roofing, Tile and Brick Roofing, Water-Tight Cellars.

45 WAVERLY AVE, BROOKLYN, N. Y

New York office, 38 Dey st. 1 18 y eod

BOICE, RUNYON & CO., —Dealers in—

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Material, &c

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.
BOICE, RUNYON & CO

Creamery Butter

20c Per Pound at

J. F. MACDONALD'S

Uptown Grocery.

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 NORTH AVENUE.

May Change Her Mind

and her stationery. This unwritten law may be observed just as often as she desires, and then, if not thoroughly satisfied, can get her money back for the asking. However, we find few who do not like our 25c box of paper and envelopes when desiring the medium grade.

R. C. RAND,

140 West Front st.

HONEYMAN'S PRIVATE TOURS,

181 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

February 21, to Old Point; Easter week to Washington; June 27, Coaching trip abroad, with Switzerland and Italy; August to New England; December to Mexico.

A. Lusardi,

120 North Ave.,

will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c a qt. Branch store, corner Front and Somerset streets.

P. MARKEY, Bakery,

144 PARK AVENUE.

A full assortment of bread, cakes, and pies fresh every day. Fig and malt bread a specialty. 2 17 tf

R. H. Rushton, J. C. Hansen, A. Luthman.

Rushton, Hansen & Luthman, PAINTERS & PAPER HANGERS,

P. O. Box 773, Plainfield, N. J.

Interior decorating a specialty. Our motto—first-class work. Estimates cheerfully given. Orders promptly attended to. 2 11 tf

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Anthracite Coal Used Exclusively, Insuring Cleanliness and Comfort.

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street.

Time Table in Effect Nov. 17, 1895.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 14, 3 37, 5 38, 6 04, 6 29, 6 59, 7 26, 7 50, 7 53, 8 00, 8 15, 8 37, 8 51, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, 10 59 a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 9 25, 10 17, 11 28 p m. Sunday, 2 14, 3 37, 6 04, 8 01, 8 58, 10 08, 10 59, 11 16 a m; 12 35, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17, p m.

Leave New York, Foot Liberty St., at 4 30, 6 00, 7 15, 8 00, 8 40, 9 30, 10 00, 11 45 a m; 1 30, 1 00, 2 30, 3 30, 3 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 15, 5 30, 5 45, 6 00, 6 15, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 30 p m; 12 15, 1 00, night. Sunday, 4 30, 7 15, 9 00, 9 15, a m; 12 00 m; 1 00, 1 30, 2 30, 4 00, 5 30, 7 00, 9 00, 10 00, p m; 12 15 night, 1 00 a m

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield at 5 38, 6 29, 6 59, 7 30, 8 00, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 10 17, 11 28 p m. Sunday 8 01, 8 58, 10 08, 11 16 a m; 12 35, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17 p. m.

Leave Newark at 6 15, 7 18, 7 55, 8 39, 9 03, 10 05, 11 35, a m; 1 15, 1 35, 2 35, 3 35, 4 05, 4 40, 5 04, 5 34, 5 50, 6 29, 7 15, 7 35, 8 40, 10 05, 11 25, p. m. Sunday 7 30, 9 05, 9 30, 11 35 a m; 1 10, 1 35; 2 35, 4 05, 5 40, 7 20, 9 25, 10 20

Passengers for Newark please change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 5 45, 7 10, 8 16, 9 54, 11 00 a m; 12 46, 2 11, 2 32, 3 35, 4 36, 5 05, 5 14, 5 34, 6 04, 6 38, 6 38, 7 12, 7 34, 8 21, 10 26, 11 23, p m; 12 38 night. Sunday 5 45, 8 28, 9 55, a m; 2 03, 3 43 5 14, 6 35, 10 15, 11 14 p m.

Leave Somerville at 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 25, 7 30, 7 48, 8 20 9 05, 9 48, 11 40 a. m; 12 50, 1 48, 2 05, 3 25, 4 25, 4 59, 6 35, 8 07, 8 45, 11 05 p. m. Sunday at 8 25, 9 45, 10 35 a m; 12 08, 1 20, 5 10, 6 35, 8 05, 8 05, 9 40 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield at 5 45, 8 16, 9 54 a m., 12 46, 2 11, 5 05, 5 14, 6 38, 8 21 p. m. Sunday at 5 45, 8 28, a m; 2 03, 6 35 p m.

Leave Easton at 6 05, 7 00, 8 53, a m; 12 22, 3 42, 4 49, 7 00, p. m. Sunday at 7 15, 10 52 a m; 6 40, 7 30 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield at 9 54 a. m.; 5 05 5 14.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

5 45 a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m.—For stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 a. m.—For Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 54 a. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch D. L. & W. R. R., Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Shamokin, Nanticoke, and Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. with buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 46 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 11 p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Tamaqua, Sunbury, Williamsport, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

5 05 p. m., way for Easton, connecting with High Bridge for stations on High Bridge Branch.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Easton, Bethlehem Bangor, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Scranton, Wilkesbarre, Tamaqua, Shamokin. (buffet parlor car to Scranton.)

6 19 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 38 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, and Harrisburg.

8 21 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

5 45 a. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

8 28 a. m. Sundays—For Easton.

2 03 p. m. Sundays—For High Bridge for High Bridge Branch Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading, and Harrisburg.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 35 p. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c., and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

FOR LONG BRANCH, OCEAN GROVE, ETC.

Leave Plainfield at 3 37, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, p. m. Sunday, (except Ocean Grove) 8 52 a. m; 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 3 37, 5 38, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, 7 03, p. m., Sundays 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Atlantic City, 3 37 a. m.; 1 18 p. m.

For Freehold, 3 37, 8 00, 10 27 a. m.; 1 18, 3 51, 5 24 p. m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44 9 46, 10 44 a. m.; 2 17, 5 34*, 6 45, 8 21, 9 37*, 1 17 night. Sundays—5 17, 5 45, 9 55 10 44 a. m., 2 25, 4 55, 5 14* 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night.

For Trenton, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44, 9 46, a. m. 12 46, 2 17, 5 34*, 6 38*, 8 21, 9 37* p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays 5 17, 5 45, 9 55 a. m. 2 25, 4 55, 5 14*, 6 35*, p. m. 1 17 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 8 44, 10 44 a. m. 5 34*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays, 10 44 a. m., 5 14*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points West, week-days at 9 54 a. m., 8 21 p. m. Sunday 6 35 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked (*) change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rates may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN,
General Superintendent.
H. P. BALDWIN,
General Passenger Agent.

Jones & Co., EXCAVATORS.

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.
—Cesspools Built.

Sewer Connections Made

Properly and Earth Replaced Carefully.

PLUMBING TESTED.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front street.

CLASSES FOR

Women and Girls

IN

Gymnastic Exercises, Swimming and Fencing.

Miss Elizabeth C. MacMartin, Inst'r.

will meet applicants for membership Wednesday afternoon from 2 until 3, at the Y. M. C. A.

M. Powers & Son. Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75 in the Yard.
A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office 763 South ave. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

QUALITY COUNTS.

Representatives, Senators, and Statesmen Speak.

The Best and Safest Advisers of the People

Agree Unanimously on this One Point.

For the People's Good. No Difference of Opinion.

Important Decision Arrived At on All Sides.

Senator Victor L. Spear, of Braintree, Vt., who has filled every high position in the gift of his State, says:—"I have used Dr. Greene's Nervura in my family with good results. My wife was troubled with nervous debility bordering on nervous prostration, and at the same time a trouble on her hands like eczema. The use of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy produced very satisfactory results, healing the eczema and greatly improving the nervousness. We think very highly of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy."

HON. SAMUEL B. PAGE'S TRIBUTE.

The Word of a Twenty-Five Years' Member of the New Hampshire Legislature.

Hon. Samuel B. Page, of Haverhill, N. H., states:—"I have used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and take pleasure in recommending its use to all sufferers from any derangement or disturbance of the nervous system. It is peculiarly valuable as a nerve tonic, and I can recommend it to all as an excellent tonic for the system."

SENATOR FRANK PLUMLEY SPEAKS.

Delegate to Republican National Convention, His Word is Weighty.

Senator Frank Plumley, of Northfield, Vt., is a man of national reputation. The able senator says: "In the fall of 1892, I came out of the presidential campaign with my nervous system almost broken. Rest and the ordinary remedies did not assist me. Some of my personal friends advised me to take a special course of Dr. Greene's medicines, which I did, with entire success. I use Dr. Greene's Nervura and find it an excellent remedy for that exhaustion caused by long continued mental work, and think well of it."

JUDGE CHARLES J. NOYES.

Ex-Speaker Massachusetts House of Representatives, Advises Nervura.

Judge Noyes says: "Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy reinvigorated and recreated my severely taxed nerves and debilitated vitality. To all needing an invigorating and permanent restorative. Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the very best medicine within my knowledge or observation."

WITH HEART AND SOUL

Our Ministers Proclaim a Gospel of Health.

Show to Weak, Tired and Debilitated People How Health and Strength Can Be Easily Obtained—The Glad Tidings Echoed Far and Near.

There are no words so strong as these spoken by the true minister of the Gospel. One knows and feels, instinctively, that such words come from the heart, and are uttered only with the earnest purpose of doing good to humanity.

The boundless influence for good for those who are weak, nervous, debilitated, and run down in health, of the strong and powerful words of these well-known clergymen is an assurance of cure for sufferers. These great preachers thus proclaim a new Gospel of Health to the sick and discouraged, which means renewed health, hope, happiness.

Rev. F. H. Buffum, of Winchester, N. H., who is Grand Army Chaplain for the state of New Hampshire, says:—

"I consider it a serious matter to arouse a hope in the mind of a sufferer. I understand that it is the intent of a recommendation to inspire that hope. With this view I could not take the responsibility of uttering a testimonial to the worth of a remedy where there is room for doubt.

"In the case of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy there is no ground left me for hesitation, and the results of its use in my own family have been so conclusive that I feel sure no ailing one can be misled by my certifying to its efficacy.

"The remedial effect of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy on the weaknesses and nervous prostration of my wife, was so positive and speedy that we can heartily testify to its undoubted merits."

Rev. G. L. Wells, of Hardwick, Vt., writes: "I have used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy with most excellent results. My wife has had the grip twice very severely.

"I heard of and procured a bottle of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and afterwards got more of the same, and believe that the medicine did great good for her, and believe it prevented her from having the grip again this winter. We think highly of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and cordially recommend it."

Rev. C. D. R. Meacham, pastor Baptist Church, Townshend, Vt., states: "I am very glad to say in regard to Dr. Greene's great remedy that when my blood was badly impoverished by an old scrofula humor, and my nervous system was greatly impaired, Dr. Greene's medicine gave me wonderful relief.

"At the present time my health is as good as at any time in my life, and my confidence in Dr. Greene's remedy is constantly increasing."

Rev. Henry Langford, of Weston, W. Va., says: "For ten years I have been nervous and growing worse all these years. During the last four or five years I became so nervous I could scarcely sign my name so it could be read. I was so nervous that I could not read my own sermon notes after they had been laid aside awhile.

"I was unable to hold my head steady in the pulpit, nor could I hold or handle my books and papers without embarrassment owing to the trembling and weakness of my hands and arms. I was so nervous that I could scarcely feed myself. In fact, my nervous system was wrecked.

"I took two bottles of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and found so much relief that I bought two more bottles, and now I am wonderfully improved in health and strength. Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy did it. I can heartily and truthfully recommend it to the sick. Too much cannot be said in praise of this splendid medicine. I say this for the good of other sufferers from nervous and prostrating diseases who can be cured by this remedy. For myself I am thankful to God that I found Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and for what it has done for me."

Doubtless the same heartfelt sympathy and great desire to see the sick made well, inspired the Rev. Dr. J. W. Walker, Presiding Elder of the Methodist Church, Fort Dodge, Ia., to also recommend Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to the sick. He too has used it himself; he too knows that it cures, that it is sure to make the sick well if they use it. He says:—

"I have given Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy a fair test, and am free to say that I consider it rightly named. I have recommended its use to several."

DR. GREENE'S NERVURA.

Mayors of Two Cities Enthusiastically Recommend Dr. Greene's Nervura.

Mayor Wing, of Montpelier Vt., and Mayor Robinson, of Concord, N. H., Advise Use of Dr. Greene's Nervura.—The Best Spring Medicine.

HON. GEO. W. WING, MAYOR OF MONTPELIER, VT.

HON. GEORGE W. WING.

Mayor of the Capital City of Vermont, Says in regard to the wonderful curative powers of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy: "I have used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy in my family, with marked and decided benefit.

"Especially has it been useful in insomnia, arising from indigestion and its attendant evils. I think well of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and freely grant permission to use this letter in advertising it."

When such a man, occupying so high a position in community, endorses the great curative powers and recommends the sick and suffering to use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, no one should hesitate to use this grand medical discovery, this great restorer of health and strength.

ENTHUSIASTIC MAYOR ROBINSON.

Hon. Henry Robinson, Mayor of Concord, N. H., Emphatic in Praise of Nervura.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
CITY OF CONCORD, N. H.,
HENRY ROBINSON, MAYOR.

"Let me certify my appreciation of Dr. Greene's blood and nerve remedy.

"As a medicine it is a crown jewel.

"As a remedy I believe it to be unequalled in efficacy.

"I have found health, strength, buoyancy, courage in its use, which I began as a mere experiment.

"I commend it and recommend it to every depressed man and woman.

"It is a benefaction to the diseased and disordered, a charming solace to tired and nervous workers in every field of useful endeavor.

"I give permission to print this unqualified testimonial whenever and wherever desired: the sterling character of the proprietors and the superior merits of Dr. Greene's Nervura warrant and deserve all that I can say in its praise." HENRY ROBINSON.

Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy will surely cure you if you take it. It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of one of the most successful specialists in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York City. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that his medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by any one, at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

BY WILLIAM ROSSER COBBE.

The father of his country took the greatest possible interest throughout his life in all matters relating to internal improvements, and busied himself in furthering measures designed for the public good. There is now in existence in Norfolk, Va., or was a short time ago, an organization known as the Dismal Swamp company, of which George Washington was the first president, and its existence has been continuous since his time. This company has for its object the drainage of the vast and fertile swamp lands of eastern North Carolina and Virginia, and the present Dismal Swamp canal was the outcome of that movement. Washington, in the enumeration of his assets, in a paper attached to his last will, mentions a large amount of stock held by him in the Dismal Swamp company, which had purchased a very large tract of the swamp land, all of which has not yet passed out of its hands. He more than once visited the property, which was then almost inaccessible, and which lies in near proximity to picturesque Lake Drummond, made immortal by Thomas Moore.

The fifteen years following his marriage are usually termed years of seclusion by the historian; yet Washington took a most active part in political affairs in these years, was a member of the house of burgesses, and probably more than any other man contributed to the universal sentiment of hostility to the stamp act. Like Jefferson, he was not gifted in oratory, but he was regarded as a man of the most profound knowledge upon affairs of state, and his counsels were received with the highest favor by his associates. The last nine years of the fifteen referred to, that is, from 1765 to 1774, were marked by almost constant agitation, ending in his election to congress, where he at once became chairman of the committee on military affairs. These alleged years of quiet and seclusion were a season of reflection, study, preparation and experience, a making ready for the trying times of 1775-1783, through which he passed with such honor as to win imperishable renown.

WASHINGTON MONUMENT.

A story has been published several times within very recent years, to the effect that Washington, immediately after his retirement from the office of president, sent a friend to demand an apology from Jefferson for alleged defamation of character, under threat of a challenge to fight a duel. This account, which adds that Jefferson, in craven spirit, made abject submission, is as direct a libel upon the heroic author of the Declaration of Independence as it is a slander upon the character of Washington. The latter was undoubtedly opposed to dueling throughout his life. His views upon this subject were clearly set forth in a letter to La Fayette, evoked by a request from the latter for permission to "call out" some official who had offended him. The courage of Washington was so invincible and so universally admitted that, even in his young manhood, he dared to apologize to a neighbor who had knocked him down, rather than to do himself and his assailant the gross wrong of engaging in a deadly combat.

Washington was an example in temperance. Charitable as was his nature he could with difficulty find excuse for extravagance in conduct or appetite. In his boyhood he adopted a rule which he followed through life, namely: "Make no show of taking great delight in your victuals, neither find fault with what you eat." He was always a man of simple tastes at the table, eating cheerfully of what was set before him. His views on excess in drinking were frequently embodied in writing, and always in condemnation of the evil habit. His chief cause for grievance against a distinguished general of the army was the weakness of that officer in this direction, which was only too plainly shown upon a certain memorable occasion. Tobacco he literally abominated, not only never having used it himself, but also finding no excuse for others who persisted in smoking or chewing. It was a maxim of the illustrious man that the human creature owed it to himself and God to keep clean the body and the brain, that both might attain best possible results and do best possible work.

A GLIMPSE OF MOUNT VERNON.

Washington was never a bright scholar at school and never was a learned man. He did not attempt to acquire a knowledge of the ancient classics, but did obtain a most intimate acquaintance with figures and was trained to methodical practical work, as the diary and detailed accounts he kept of his affairs throughout his life clearly proved. That he profited by his schooling and that he was a youth of far more than average ability are clearly proven in the fact that Lord Fairfax employed him at the age of sixteen to make surveys of his immense landed possessions in upper Virginia; a task that involved three years of arduous and dangerous labor.

Washington was a thoroughly practical and successful farmer, deviating from a universal rule of Virginia planters in being his own overseer and director, although, like them, he had a man who nominally filled that position. As a legislator Patrick Henry said of him, in 1774, that "for solid information and sound judgment he was the greatest man in congress." He was the master spirit of the continental convention of 1787 and to his efforts almost solely are due the unification of the several states under a common government. Admittedly he would have saved Braddock, had his counsels been heeded, and as general of the American army his military genius excited the astonishment and admiration of the world. His career as civil ruler of the new nation won for him the applause of all rulers and the approval of an entire country. Washington's was a character that was nearly perfectly poised; yet great in everything, withal.

Like Lincoln, Washington was tall, and unlike him was very handsome. He was also possessed of great strength, that continued through life; and in his youth he excelled in all manly exercises. Throughout life he was an expert horseman and always attracted attention and excited admiration when riding a spirited animal.

No man could be more reasonable than Washington, or readier to give in when public interest was best subserved thereby; yet none could be more insistent than he, none more firm, when duty led in this direction.

A peculiarity of Washington was his ornate handwriting, which does violence to a commonly accepted idea that character and general individuality may be determined by one's chirography. As a fact Washington's personal tastes were very simple. When he became president there was some show of official display, but herein he followed a universal custom and one that in no sense reflected his own wishes and feelings. He believed that reserve and display are necessary to the preservation of proper regard for the high office of chief magistrate. The courtesy and deference he exacted as president he invariably accorded his successor when he became a private citizen.

FLY AN IMPORTANT FACTOR.

Jefferson was fond of telling a story which illustrates in a forcible manner the importance that absurdly insignificant matters may sometimes assume. When the deliberative body that gave the world the Declaration of Independence was in session its proceedings were conducted in a hall close to which was situated a livery stable. The weather was warm, and from the stable came swarms of flies that lighted on the legs of the honorable members, and biting through the thin silk stockings then in fashion gave infinite annoyance. It was no uncommon sight, said Jefferson, to see a member making a speech with a large handkerchief in hand and pausing at every moment to thrash the flies from his thinly protected calves. The opinion of the body was not unanimous in favor of the document, and, under other circumstances, discussion might have been protracted for days, if not weeks, but the flies were intolerable. Efforts were made to find another hall, free from the pests, but in vain. As the weather became warmer the flies grew worse, and the flapping of handkerchiefs was heard all over the hall as an accompaniment to the voices of the speakers. In despair at last some one suggested that matters be hurried so that the body might adjourn and get away from the flies. There were a few mild protests, but no one heeded them, the immortal declaration was hurriedly copied, and, with the handkerchiefs in hand fighting flies as they came, the members hastened up to the table to sign the authentic copy and leave the flies in the lurch. Had it not been for the livery stable and its inmates there is no telling when the document would have been completed, but it certainly would not have been signed on the Fourth.

WASHINGTON LIVED HERE.

The little state of New Jersey, as every schoolboy knows, was the scene of many stirring events during the revolution, and almost every city, town and hamlet has, or claims to have, a landmark of which its inhabitants are very proud and delight to point out to visitors. While there is no doubt of the authenticity of the claims made for many of these places, they have certainly lost nothing by the traditions with which they are surrounded. As in many other parts of the country, however, some of these monuments which should have the greatest claims on the American people from a historical point of view have been neglected, apparently forgotten and allowed to go to decay and ruin. In the march of history and progress they have been lost sight of.

One of these is the old Berrian house at Rocky Hill. It was in this house that Washington resided for many months, and among other acts wrote his farewell address to the continental army. The house is an old-fashioned structure, with large square rooms and low ceilings to retain the heat from the hickory and oak logs burned in the big open fireplaces. At the time that Gen. Washington occupied the house it was the homestead of the family of Judge John Berrian, one of the oldest families in the state, which at that time owned vast tracts of land, obtained by grants from the crown. Judge Berrian, when the clash came, remained loyal to the American cause, and his house became a refuge for Gen. Washington on more than one occasion.

WHERE WASHINGTON WROTE THE FAREWELL ADDRESS.

Squelched.

I started out most earnestly
To imitate great George's grit.
I cut my father's cherry tree.
But was well spanked for it.

He Had.

Dominie—My dear sir, have you anything laid by for a rainy day?

Rakeson—Oh, yes; a collection of 22 borrowed umbrellas.—N. Y. World.

An Untuneful Lyre.

"Is DeForest a musician?"

"Yes; he plays upon words."—Detroit Free Press.

THE MAKING OF SAFES.

Paper is made out of almost everything which can be pounded into a pulp. It is said that at present over 50 kinds of bark are used.

Leaves make strong paper, and nearly every kind of moss can be utilized. There are patents for making paper from shavings and sawdust, from thistles and tan bark.

Among the incongruous substances which have been used for pulp may be mentioned banana skins, bean stalks, pea vines, clover, timothy hay, straw, weeds, fur, hair, wool, asbestos and husks of every kind of grain.

By way of an experiment the proprietors of a newspaper recently undertook to find the length of time necessary to make the paper and put it to use. A poplar tree was selected, and to chop, strip and load the necessary quantity of wood on a boat took three hours; manufacturing the pulp, 12 hours; making the pulp into paper, five hours; taking the paper to the newspaper office, 80 minutes, and to print 10,000 copies of the paper, ten minutes, making a total of 22 hours.

ART AND MUSIC.

Prince Edward of York being now a year and a half old is to be reproduced in a life-size marble statue.

Jules Cheret's posters have procured for him the commission to decorate one of the committee rooms of the Paris Hotel de Ville.

Mozart's "Don Juan" is to be given soon at the Munich Hof theater, in exact accordance with the original score, which was in the possession of Mme. Viardot-Garcia.

From the discovery of the remaining fragments of the hymn to Apollo at Delphi, imploring the protection of the Roman government for Adelphi and Athens, the date is fixed as being not earlier than the taking of Corinth by Memmius in the year 146 B. C.

INDUSTRY AND COMMERCE.

Diamonds have been discovered at Nullagine, in northwest Australia.

German exports to the United States during the last quarter of 1895 showed an increase of 50 to 100 per cent.

Alaska's output of gold last year is estimated at $3,000,000. Of this, $800,000 came from the Yukon placer mines.

The exports from Sheffield, England, to the United States during the year 1895 show an increase of £150,000 ($750,000) over those of 1894

GATHERED ABROAD.

The king of Corea has ordered the use of the Gregorian calendar, beginning with this year.

Eight hundred fishermen were carried off on an ice floe in the Sea of Azow recently, but were all rescued.

For the first time the Finster-Aarhorn, the highest of the Bernese Alps, has been climbed in winter. Prof. Fischer, with the guide Almer, accomplished the feat a short time ago.

When a handsome man visits the northeastern portion of Tartary, the inhabitants kill him because he is good looking. They don't want his clothes or his money; they simply want his soul to remain among them.

Camel's flesh is the latest addition to the Parisian bill of fare, Algerian butchers undertaking to provide the supply. The meat is said to taste like beef, though white like veal. The hump is considered a great delicacy by the Arabs.

Telegram post cards have been sent for some years past in Paris by pneumatic tuber. It is now proposed to use the pneumatic system to convey letters not only from the sub-stations to the main office but also to the railroad stations.

PRODUCERS OF MIRTH.

Kilduff—"Glanders is a singularly conscientious man." Mullins—"Ah?" Kilduff—"He was never known to lie, even about his thermometer."—Judge.

"If I only knew whether the policeman is standing there because nothing is happening, or whether nothing is happening because he is standing there!"—Fliegende Blaetter.

Uncle Hays—"'Member the Hawkins boys who ran away to jine a theater company?" Aunt Marthy—"Why, yes! What about 'em?" Hays (quietly)—"They've walked back."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

First New Woman (at the club)—"What makes you so blue?" Second Ditto—"My father-in-law has come to stay with us, and John and he sit at their knitting all day, and cry about my treatment of John."—Philadelphia Record.

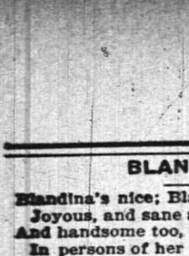
She—"Come, dear, here are some nice fresh biscuits I cooked myself. Put on your slippers and come to the table." He—"Excuse me, dear; I don't think I'll put on my slippers. I've always made the boast that I'd die with my boots on!"—Yonkers Statesman.

BLANDINA.

Blandina's nice; Blandina's fat,
Joyous, and sane and sound and sweet,
And handsome too, and all else that
In persons of her years is meet.
Behold Blandina!
She's alive, and testifies
With all the emphasis that lies
In busy hands and dancing eyes
That life's a prize—
That all the mischief that provokes
Doubt in the matter lies in folks,
And that, provided folks are fit,
Life's not a failure; not a bit.

Blandina loves a picture-book,
Blandina dearly loves a boy;
She loves her dinner, loves the cook,
Her nurse, her doll, her brother's toy;
And best of all she loves a joke,
And laughs at it—
And laughing at it testifies
With all the emphasis that lies
In joyous tones and beaming eyes,
That life's a prize—
That all the mischief that provokes
Doubt in the matter lies in folks,
And that, provided folks are fit,
Life's not a failure; not a bit.
—Edward S. Martin, in Scribner's Magazine.

AN ODD PAIR.



"FRIENDS is harder to git than money er fame," said the Village Philosopher, as he finished settling a quarrel between two of the boys and made them shake hands. "Yes, sir; a troo, genooine friend is a mighty skeerce article, so keep all yo've got. Sometimes a friend ull help a man through a tight place when all the money in the world wudn't be no use."

"Thet's so; thet's so," said Uncle Jerry, as he rocked slowly back and forth on the vine-covered porch. "Ef you want to know what reel friendship is, you want to watch the dumb creeturs. It seems ez though the very fact that they can't speak out their feelin's makes 'em show 'em in their actions plainer than folks ever can."

We all quieted down and curled our bare legs under us, for the old man spoke in that measured, reminiscent tone we had learned to recognize as the precursor of a story. It should be known that Uncle Jerry and the Village Philosopher were the chief beguilers of the waking hours of all the boys in our quiet, western New York village. The former's stories were more interesting than those of the most absorbing book, and the latter's moralizing was of the eminently practical kind which appeals even to the boyish intellect.

When the eager listeners were all in the circle about the two old men and had relapsed into complete silence, Uncle Jerry resumed.

"Love and friendship are sut'nly cur'us things. Et seems ez though the more unlike two folks, er two creeturs, is, the more they think of each other. You all know how affectionit a horse er a dog can be, even to the ugliest mates er the meanest masters. Well, it's jest the same among the wild animals. I've seen a old bear lose her life tryin' to save her cubs. I've seen deer and even wildcats thet thought ez much of each other ez any humans ever did. Thet's nature, uv course, but sometimes you'll find two creeturs thet you'd think ought to be born enemies ez affectionit an' devoted ez the sickest pair uv lovers you ever see. The strangest case uv thet kind, an' the one I shall never fergit, wuz the case uv a big Newfoundland dog an' an old gray wolf thet stuck to each other through all kinds uv hard luck till death separated 'em; a good deal better'n some folks thet is reg'larly married an' pledged before the altar.

"Now some folks say that dogs an' wolves is related, but everybody knows thet they ain't gener'ly much love lost atween 'em. Howsumever, this wuz a true love affair. Mebbe you've heerd tell uv it, cuz I know at the time it wuz the talk uv the hull country round. Ef the newspapers uv them times hed bin like they are now they wudn't a given them two eny rest till they wuz photographed an' put in print, for they surely looked like the most ill-mated couple you ever see."

"THERE WAS MR. DOG A HANGING."

The old man hitched to a more comfortable position, and we knew that he was coming to the story at last.

"Et wuz jest a few years after the war uv '12 when the Britishers burned most uv Washington and all uv Buffalo, but wuz licked out uv their boots by young Commodore Perry and his American sailor boys. Lots uv folks wuz comin' to western New York, an' the wolves an' bears wuz gettin' cleared out sum, but they wuz still enough left to make trouble fer the farmers' pigpens an' sheep folds. The county officers wanted to git rid uv all the varmints, cuz they thought et ud bring more settlers ef they did, so they offered $25 fer every wolf's pelt brought to the courthouse.

"Twenty-five dollars wuz a lot more money then than it is now, an' all the young fellers got out their rifles an' polished 'em up. Many a chilly winter's night hev I set under a haystack an' watched a sheep-pen waitin' fer the wolves to show up. In the first winter I shot three wolves, so that when spring come I had $75 to jingle in my pocket. I reely hadn't much to complain uv, but I wuzn't satisfied. They wuz one old gray wolf I had tried my best to git, but et seemed ez though a bullet cud go right through her without any effeck more'n et wud have on Old Nick himself. She wuz big an' gant an gray an' always hungry. Everybody knew her, er hed seen her, an' she hed robbed half the barnyards in the country, but never got caught. She wuz shaper'n chain lightnin', an' her mate wuz jest ez cunning. He wuz the big Newfoundland dog I spoke uv. He had belonged to Jabez Ball, an' hed eloped with the old wolf. The dog never did any killin'. His part uv the work wuz to go along, an' look over the ground to see ef et wuz safe fer the old girl to step in an' nab a lamb.

"The dog led a wild life, but he wuz tame enuff, and wud come up to a doorstep when he wuz alone, an' beg fur suthin' to eat. He cud a bin shot easy enuff, but Jabez thought a better plan 'ud be to tie a bell on his neck so's he cud be heard. He thought in that way we cud keep track on the old wolf, an' get a shot at her. But what do you s'pose that old wolf did? She wuz too smart to get caught in thet way. After the dog wuz belled she went around with him same as ever, except that they never passed a house together.

"On lots uv winter nights when the snow wuz sparklin' with the cold, the bell wud be heard comin' along the road. The men wud jump up and run to the door, rifle in hand, but the dog wud go trottin' by alone. Next morning', ef they looked in their back lot, they wud see where the wolf made a wide circle round the house, comin' back in the road on the other side.

A DOZEN BULLETS WERE IN HER HIDE.

"Every kind uv scheme wuz tried to ketch that pair uv robbers, but it cud'n't work. They went right on stealin' an' killin', stealin' an' killin', ez ef they wuz never goin' to stop. After the bell wuz put on the dog he got scary tew, an' wudn't come round the house when eny men folks wuz there. It seemed ez though he cud tell, fer he never made a mistake. Ef the men folks wuz all away the old dog wud come eround ez nice ez you please, an' beg fer suthin' to eat. He acted so perlite the wimmen didn't hev heart to shoot him, even ef they hed nerve enuff to hold a gun. But the dog fin'ly cum to his end becuz he miscalculated in dealin' with one woman.

"One Sunday he come to Sam Cranston's house when all the fam'ly, 'ceptin' Sam's growed-up darter Celindy, wuz away at church. Celindy knowed the dog all right, an' though she wuz afraid uv him some, she made up her mind to trap him ef she cud.

"Right in front uv the house stood the big well sweep. It wuz pulled down an' held with a ketch, an' the rope from the long end wuz hangin' down to the ground. Celindy kep' the dog around by throwin' him a bone to pick. Then she made a slippin' noose in the end uv the rope an' laid the coil on the ground. Then she set a plate uv the nicest kind uv vittuls inside thet coil. She sed afterwards thet she wuz so excited an' nervous she cud hardly stand, but the dog didn't suspect nuthin' wrong. When he put his head down to eat, Celindy unfastened the ketch an' ez quick ez a wink there wuz Mr. Dog a-hangin' 'bout four feet in the air. He wuz hangin' there when the folks come home frum church, an' I tell you they wuz some surprised.

"After the dog wuz gone the folks made up their minds to git rid uv his wife, so they sent a rider round to give notice uv a huntin' bee. More'n a hundred men an' boys turned out, an' they hed a regular beatin' in fer thet old wolf. They wuz ez many dogs ez men, a-barkin' to beat all. They wudn't never track the old boy, but, when he wuz out uv the way they took the wolf's trail all right. Well, the old wolf wuz hemmed in on all sides, an' fin'ly she wuz located on the edge uv a big swamp. She wuz full uv fight to the last, an' after she hed laid out a couple uv the dogs the others backed away. But thet settled her fate, cuz ez soon ez she wuz clear uv the dogs a dozen bullets wuz in her hide an' she dropped in her tracks, leavin' behind her the record uv hevin' killed the most sheep uv any wolf ever seen in western New York.

"She left four uv the funniest-lookin' little whelps you ever see, too. Some uv the men wanted to keep 'em, but bein' neither wolf ner dog, they wuz uglier than either, an' hed to be killed ez soon ez they began to grow up.

"They wuz some discushun ez to who should git the $25 bounty fer the old wolf, cuz et wuz hard to say who hed killed her, but it wuz fin'ly settled thet et should go to Celindy Cranston fer gittin' the old dog out uv the way. Everybody wuz pleased with thet, speshully me, cuz Celindy wuz my girl, an' thet $25 went part uv the way to settin' us up at housekeepin'."—N. Y. Sun.

—A great man may be the personification and type of the epoch for which God destined him, but he is never its creator.—D'Aubigne.

How Are Your Kidneys?

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills

are endorsed by physicians and druggists They cause the kidneys to filter all uric acid and other poisons or impurities from the blood.

Cure Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Anaemia, Pimples, Bad Blood, Bright's Disease, Malaria, Backache, Kidney Pains, Dropsy, Pain in the Abdomen, Frequent Urination, Inflammation of Kidneys, etc.

A Gentleman of Seventy Cured.

I have rather an interesting case to report. About one year ago, a gentleman about 70 years old had a severe attack of inflammation of the bladder, complicated with some enlargement of the prostate gland. For about one month no urine was avoided except as it was drawn off by the catheter, and during the past year he has been greatly troubled with difficult urination—occasionally bloody urine. Some three weeks ago I commenced giving him Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills, and after using one box the trouble seems to have been overcome, and today he reports himself quite well, thanks to the pills. I shall certainly continue their use in all similar cases. I regard them as a most valuable addition to the Materia Medica. I. Stinson Harrison, M. D., 1008 H st., N. W., Washington, D. C.

Fifty cents a box. A Valuable Book Mailed free Hobbs Medicine Co., Chicago or San Francisco.

Quick in effect, heals and leaves no scar. Burning, scaly skin eruptions quickly cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Applied to burns, scalds, old sores, it is magical in effect. Always cures piles. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

New York Mails.

Arrive—7:30, 8:40, 11:15 a.m., 2:45, 5, 5:30 p. m
Close—7 15 and 9:20 a. m., 1:30, 4 30 and 7:30 p. m.

Somerville and Easton Mails.

Arrive—8:40 a. m., 2:40, 6:00 p. m.
Close—7:15 a. m., 4:30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arr. 12 m; closes 9:30 a. m.

Sunday Mails.

Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m
Mail closes at 6:15 p. m.

J. M. HETFIELD, P. M

GEO. O. STEVENS OAL 747 WEST FRONT ST.

Branch office with

G. A. HALLOCK,

109 West Front st.

NOTICE.

All hackmen, truckmen and peddlers must make application to renew their licenses before Monday night, February 24th, as all licenses will expire on March 1st, and any person without a license will be required to suspend his business until one is procured.

GEO. W. GRANT,
Chief of Police.

Van Emburgh & SON.

Corner Store, Babcock Building.

We work for the GOOD WILL as well as the patronage of our customers.

Our prices are plain blunt arguments.

New Spring Flannelettes, 10c. yd.
Spring colors in Figured Valours, 12c yd.
New Mourning Sateens, 12c yd.
New spring figured Cambrics, 12c yard.
We are the people for nice Outings, 10c. yd.
Boys' Derby Ribbed Hose, 10c., 15c., 18c. pair.
Plain colors, Windsor Ties 10c.
Extra Wind Windsor Ties. 25c.
Extra size Windsor Ties, (hemstitched, 50c each.
Our Corset Covers are selling at 15c, 19c, 25c, 30c, 42c, 54c, 59c, 72c, 89c each.
P. N Corsets, perfect fit, 50c. 75c, $1.00 pair.
2 Turkish Bath Towels for 19c.
Roll Tape, all widths, 2c. each.
Attachable Corset Clasps, 5c pair.
Attachable Corset Clasps, (cork protector) 8c. pair.
Japanned Dress Steels, 5c. dozen.
Covered Dress Steels, 6c. set.
Safety Pins, all sizes, 3c. dozen.
Tooth Brushes, good ones, 5c. each
Fast Black Darning Cotton, 2c. ball
Zephyr Worsted, all colors, 4c. lop
100 yards Best Spool Silk, black and colors, 7c. Spool.

Read Sheeting Muslins. Read

1	yard wide,	bleached,	6c. yard.
1 1-8	yards wide,	"	6 1-2c. "
1 1-4	"	"	7 1-2c. "
1 1-2	"	"	11c. "
1 3-4	"	"	13c. "
2	"	"	14 1-2c "
2 1-4	"	"	16c. "
2 1-2	"	"	17 1-2c "

VAN EMBURGH & SON,

Edwin B. Maynard,
Hair Cutting and Shampooing.
Tonsorial parlor, 204 Park ave., Plainfield. Ladies' shampooing and children's hair cutting a specialty.

Removal Sale!

Will remove to the much larger store, 129 East Front st., now occupied by Mr. Gavett, on or about March 25, 1896. I will therefore offer the following lines at Greatly Reduced Prices.

Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing,

also Neckwear, to reduce stock previous to removal.

Men's Overcoats $4 05, $7.20, $9.00, $10.80, $12.60 and Upward.

Men's Suits $4.05 $5.40, $6.30, $7.20, $9, $10.80 and Up

Boys' and Children's Clothing in proportionately low prices. 50c Neckwear in four-in-hand and tecks at 25C. A beautiful assortment. All the above goods are new this season. Watch this ad.

HARRY M. JAQUETT,

123 East Front Street, Plainfield, N. J.

One Price CASH One Price

and money refunded if goods are not satisfactory.

Waverley BICYCLES. Are the Most Popular in the World.

Highest of High Grades.

Are Built in the Largest and Best Equipped Factory in the World. They are the Most Popular and Best Selling Wheels Made.

Evidenced by the fact that there were more of them sold in '95 than any other make. Be sure to see sample before purchasing your '96 wheel.

Made by Indiana Bicycle Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

F. L. C. MARTIN, AGENT. 1 27 eod

HEATH & DRAKE.

Established 1841. Newark's first-class Dry Goods House.

New Embroideries, Laces, Flouncings, etc.

Our assortment of these goods for the coming season is handsomer, more varied and complete than any we have yet shown, and embraces regular Cambric, Nainsook and Swiss Edges, Insertions and match sets in all grades and styles and a line of Exquisite Novelties which for new and original effects, exclusive and unique designs, are unsurpassed if not unequalled by any in the market.

Pretty Edgings and Embroideries Very Cheap.

A thousand lines could not tell the story any better. Great heaps of snowy Embroideries that first saw light in far off Switzerland are here.

In connection with our regular line we have purchased, direct from the manufacturers in St. Gaul, Switzerland, three large lots of Embroideries, which we will place on sale at one-third less than regglar prices.

Lot 1, 4c Yd. Lot 2, 8c Yd. Lot 3, 12c Yd

The wise ones ask no questions, but take them away in huge quantities.

777 and 779 Broad Street,
Newark, N. J.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd.

EVER SEE THE "PORTLAND RANGE?"

Elastic Dollars

—we are "dollar stretchers"—we make every hundred cents do twice and sometimes thrice the work it does elsewhere—to instance:

Solid Oak Sideboard $10.50

bevelled mirror, fine make, solid and attractive in every detail—it's been marked $18.00.

Exactly like this cut, 10.50.

Bedroom Suit Flyer—

it's at a price free from extravagance—$11.75—worth every bit of $20.00, its old price!

This Solid Oak Bedroom Suit, 11.75.

Our Carpet Dept. is always awake—Ingrains, all wool, at 63c per yard—made and laid with lining, free. We have ingrains as low as 35c—all regular carpet weaves.

Buy goods NOW—we'll hold them 'til wanted—no cash needed and Deliveries made free of charge all parts of the state.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd. Note the Name "AMOS"

Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, Bedding, Etc.
Low Prices, Easy Terms
TELEPHONE 580.

73 MARKET ST. Near Plane St. NEWARK, N. J.

STILLMAN MUSIC HALL.

Rich & Maeder.....Lessees and Managers.
John Daly.....Resident Manager.

Saturday, February 22d,

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

One performance. The beautiful romantic Comedy,

The Westerner,

with its original New York cast.

Wednesday, Feb. 26.=====Better Than Ever,

THE GORMANS,

John, James and George, late of Gorman's minstrels. The Kings of Farcial Comedy, in the new and funny play,

"THE GILHOOLYS ABROAD."

Second trip. A good company, good singing, good dancing. Funny Comedians and pretty girls.

Prices 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c and $1 Seats on sale at Leggett's drug store

LAST EDITION.

THE DAILY PRESS

LAST EDITION.

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., MONDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1896. TWO CENTS A COPY—$5 A YEAR

RECEIVING THE REPORTS

BOROUGH OFFICERS SHOW WHAT THE PAST YEAR'S WORK IS.

The Streets Have Been Greatly Improved, and Now That the Work Has Been Started It Will Be Continued.

An adjourned meeting of the Borough Council was held Friday evening, at which time Councilmen Schutt, Smith and Peck were present. Mayor Hegeman called the meeting to order, after which Clerk Arnold read a petition from E. S. Emerson and other residents of Stone street, asking that the name of the street be changed to Lennox place. It was referred to the street committee. Clerk Arnold then read the reports of the various departments for the past year. Below will be found a summary of them:

Dr.	Borough Account.	Cr.
$12,462.40		$12,462.40
	Fire Department.
$5,620.16		$5,620.16
	Light.
$7,855.12		$7,855.12
	Road.
$8,688.57		$8,688.57
	Poor.
Overseer of Poor		$1,200.00
J. H. Carman		168.50
		$1,368.50
Taxes collected		$1,156.85
Balance Deficit		211.65
		$1,368.50

	Balance.	Liabilities.
Borough	$4,016.16	$2,210.00
Fire department	645.08	795.00
Light	1,054.49
Roads	408.12	36.00
Poor		3,041.50
		211.65
	$5,928.36
	3,253.15	$3,253.15

$2,675.21 total balance.

The overseer of the poor reported the expenditure from Feb. 1st to be $91.16, and the townships's share is $10.14, leaving $81.02. Collector Spencer reported collections for 1895, $34,399.00.

The street committee then presented the following report:

Acting in harmony with the suggestions made by His Honor, the Mayor, in his annual message to this Council last spring, relative to the introduction of sewers, your committee did not enter upon the permanent improvement of more than two streets during the year, and these were undertaken as works of positive necessity, namely: the macadamizing of Prospect place, a short street, connecting Washington avenue and Grove street, both of which were paved with stone, and thus completing a paved thoroughfare from the Park district to the city and depot. The net expense of this improvement was $326.20.

The other was the macadamizing of Harrison street; this street running through a well populated part of the borough, was impassable during the spring and fall months, and the residents were put to much inconvenience and trouble in getting to and from their homes; the street is now in good condition, and with the addition of a small amount of work, which your committee were unable to do on account of the lateness of the season, will be fully up to any other like work done in other parts of the borough. The net expense of this improvement was $990.18.

In both of the improvements mentioned, the residents, with their usual public spiritedness, contributed to defraying the expense incurred.

The other work done during the year has consisted of the scraping, cleaning and resurfacing of Somerset street, the re-grading of Mountain avenue from Westervelt avenue to the borough side, and the general repair of all of the borough streets and avenues which required it. This consisted of filling ruts and depressions with crushed stone in our paved streets, namely: Grove and Emily streets, Washington, Willow and Myrtle avenues, Park place and Greenbrook road; cleaning gutters and culverts, trimming trees and turnpiking the dirt roads.

We submit herewith a detailed statement of the streets and avenues repaired, together with the cost of such work; this does not include crushed stone where used:

Geraud ave.	$ 30.50	Pearl street	$ 11.75
Magnolia ave.	10.25	Chatham st.	9.00
Green B'k road.	98.58	Harmony st.	14.07
Stone st.	3.00	Race st.	19.50
Watchung ave.	21.75	Manning ave.	29 12
Regent st.	4.25	Jackson ave.	20.75
Mountain ave.	309 74	Grandview ave.	11.75
West End ave.	48.99	Warren st.	25.75
Craig place.	19.00	Westervelt ave.	48.25
Linden avenue.	7.00	Summit ave.	4.00
Fairview ave.	20,25	Grove street.	44.37
Rockview Terrace.	17.50	Duer st.	17.24
Brook ave.	20.08	Washington ave	29 50
Johnston's Dr'e	16.89	Emily st.	13 25
Trimming trees	65.50	Vine st.	3.58
Cleaning snow.	4.25	Mercer ave.	16.50
Washout, Clinton avenue, on acct of flood.	20.25	Park place.	28.63
Myrtle ave.	45.25	Willow ave.	20.37
Steiner place.	8.00	Sycamore ave.	2.50
Rockview ave.	64.75	Orchard place.	4.50
Somerset street, labor.	472.83
Somerset street, stone.	550.73
	$1,023.56

Agreeable to the policy of the Mayor to secure better sidewalks in the borough than has hitherto been maintained, your committee has caused either by request or legal notice, 12,250 feet of stone sidewalk to be laid during the past year; there is much yet to be done in this direction, but your committee has only taken hold of such an amount of work as it could handle at any one time. We would highly commend the citizens of the borough for the prompt and cheerful way with which they have responded to our efforts to secure better sidewalks.

Mr. Peck, of the fire, water and lamps committee, stated that three bids had been received for building the fire tower and after due consideration the committee recommended that W. T. Kirk's bid of $524 be accepted. He stated that they desired more time to decide about the bell, and that the tower and bell would not exceed in cost over $1,120, the payment of which could be arranged through the issuance of fire department bonds, the same to mature separately each year till paid. The report further stated that only six fire alarms had been given during the year, three of which were false.

Mr. Peck then offered a resolution that W. T. Kirk's bid be accepted and that the committee be authorized to enter into a contract. The resolution was adopted.

An ordinance was offered by Mr. Peck which provides for the residents of Warren street vacating the property as requested by them at the last meeting. The ordinance was passed on first and second readings and laid over till next meeting for final action. This action is taken to allow for the opening of Watchung avenue.

AT AN APPROPRIATE TIME.

A Martha Washington Tea Given on the Eve of Her Husband's Birthday.

The chapel of the First Presbyterian Church presented a very pretty sight Friday afternoon and evening, when the Sunday School of the church held a Martha Washington tea party. The chapel was profusely decorated for the occasion with bunting of the National colors, long steamers of which hung from the ceiling to the the sides of the room, while more covered the walls, and pictures of George Washington hung in prominent places about the walls. Although red, white and blue were very much in evidence, red was the predominating color of the evening.

The tea was given for the benefit of the Sunday School of the church, and was held between the hours of five and ten o'clock.

The committee in charge who deserve to be commended for their efforts in making the affair the success that it was, consisted of Miss Ella Blish, chairman; Mrs. Howard Pope, Miss Lettie Remsen, Miss Estelle Bittenbender and Miss Chrisie Maag. Mrs. J. M. Bettman poured coffee, and Mrs. J. A. Haynes, assisted by Miss Hayes, poured tea. The waitresses were: Miss Mabel Pruden, Miss Lottie Messerschmidt, Miss Lizzie Bittenbender, Miss Katherine Glen, Miss Etta Blish, Miss Luela Mills, Miss Pansy Herring, Miss Evelyn Searing, Miss Kate Overton, Miss Edith Laing, Miss Arnold, Miss Schenck, Miss Overton, Miss Edith Pruden, Miss Jennie Abbott, Miss Eva Drayton and Miss Margaret Cave. Each of the waitresses and those who had charge appeared in the garb of our forefather's day.

EARNING DOLLARS.

Grace M. E. Church Women Told How They Did It.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of Grace M. E. church, together with their friends, had a delightful time Friday night in the church when an excellent programme was rendered and a social time enjoyed.

The following programme was finely given:

America, by the choir; Piano solo, Miss May Conroy; a reading, Miss Emma Stevens; Piano duett by Miss Size and Miss Pangborn; Recitation, Miss Agnes Morse; Singing, Miss Bertha Hoffman; Recitation by Winie Voehl; Singing by Miss Agnes Tingly; Reading by Miss Lizzie Hoagland; Whistling John by Boy Quarttee; Dialogue, Nellie Valient, Mary Hoagland, Mable Stevens and C. Hummer; Singing, Miss Grace Carrol; Recitation, Miss Lizzie Haberly; Reading, Mrs. Taft.

A feature of the event was that each woman brought a dollar and she had to tell how it was earned.

This was accomplished by one of the women of the church putting into poetry, in attractive style, how each dollar was secured, and Miss Grace Carroll read the verses in an interesting manner, and it afforded much amusement.

Some of the dollars were earned by walking to save carriage hire, baking cakes, washing dishes, making fancy articles, keeping boarders, etc.

This was followed with an amusing game. Those present formed sides and photographs taken in early years were passed along. Each person was given a chance to guess who they were, and if they could not, they went to the rear end of the line.

This part of the entertainment brought the event to a close which was thoroughly successful in every respect.

A Reception of Young People.

A delightful reception was given Saturday evening by Mrs. O. B. Leonard, of Madison avenue, to her nieces, Miss Edna Leonard, daughter, of Rev. W. J. Leonard, of Bolton, Mass., and Miss Edith Marsh, daughter of ex-Councilman Francis E. Marsh. Mrs. Leonard was assisted in receiving by her sisters, the Misses Anna O., Florence I. and Minnie S. Marsh, and Mrs. Samuel St.J. McCutchen, and her nieces, the Misses Edna Leonard and Edith Marsh. More than fifty guests were present. Music was furnished for dancing and the supper was served by Stevenson, of this city.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following transfers of property have been recorded in the Union County Clerk's office from February 13th to 19th, inclusive: William G. Morse, Plainfield, to Catherine Honan, lot, West Fourth street, 150 feet, $576; Patrick Muldoon, Plainfield, to Peter Galbraith, two tracts, West Fourth street, $1.

Threw Away His Canes.

Mr. D. Wiley, ex-postmaster, Black Creek, N. Y., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that he was only able to hobble around with canes, and even then it caused him great pain. After using Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was so much improved that he threw away his canes. He says this liniment did him more good than all other medicines and treatment put together. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

MOLLIE AND HER GANG.

THE NOTORIOUS STEVENS GIRL AND HER FRIENDS ARRESTED.

They Were Having a Jolly Time When John Barleycorn Stepped in and Raised a Rumpus.—Mollie Went Down to Jail.

The holiday made lively times for the police department, and the city court was in consequence a busy place Saturday and this morning.

A scrap on Liberty street Saturday morning at about one o'clock was aired in the court room later in the morning. The racket occurred at the home of Mrs. Frank Fine. Mrs. Annie Johnson, better known as Annie McDonald, and John Collins quarreled over something and started a lively fracas. Collins ungallantly punched the young woman in the eye, giving it a rather dark appearance, while she pitched into him. Mary Stevens, alias "Mollie," was in the house and joined in the fun, poker in hand. She afterwards went downtown and notified Roundsman Fredrickson who arrested them all and locked them up. While in jail they patched up their differences and pleaded not guilty at trial Mrs. Fine appeared against them, and all were given their choice between $10 fine and twenty days in jail "Mollie" was escorted to Elizabeth by Chief Grant, while the other two paid.

Mrs. Utzinger and her colored neighbor, Mrs. Raden, both residents of "Paradise Alley," as the police lovingly term Cottage place, fought with words the other day. Mrs. Raden was arrested and paid a fine of three dollars rather than go to jail for ten days.

David McClearn was the first of the prisoners to appear this morning. He was charged with trespassing on the railroad. Sentence was suspended on him. "Jim" Emmons celebrated "the glorious occasion" on West Fourth street Saturday night. After telling him to go home Patrolman Cooney arrested him. Judge Demeza gave him his choice between a fine of eight dollars or twenty days at Elizabeth.

An Italian named Michael Donko visited "Paradise Alley" Saturday night in a rather unstable condition. Patrolman Mattox arrested him but the man from over the sea wanted to fight and resisted the officer. He punch Mattox a heavy one in the neck and broke his nippers. Special Policeman Carney came to the assistance of good government and the prisoner was lodged in jail. "I don't know nothing 'bout it," said Donko to Judge Demeza, "I was drunk." Resisting an officer is a serious offence and the Judge made the punishment a fine of fifteen dollars or sixty days in jail.

MOST POPULAR PAST PRESIDENT.

Mrs. M. C. Dobbins of the Relief Corps so Declared by a Voting Contest.

The Women's Relief Corps, No. 10, Auxiliary to Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., gave a supper Saturday afternoon and evening in G. A. R. hall, which was one of the best ever served there. The women had planned for a successful event and they were well repaid, both from a social and financial standpoint. The menu was first class and included everything to suit the taste. Over one hundred persons called and took supper, which was served by the women in the best of style.

An attractive feature of the event was the voting contest for the most popular past president in the corps. A large handsome well-made quilt had been made by the women for the occasion, and Mrs. Lealand and Miss Ada Nash received votes at five cents each on the quilt. The one receiving the highest number of votes was awarded the quilt.

The contest was very exciting and everyone present became interested. It finally centered between Mrs. W. C. Smith and Mrs. M. C. Dobbins. After a very lively contest, it was learned that the former had received 127 votes and the latter 210. Mrs. Dobbins was accordingly awarded the quilt. The contest netted almost $20 and nearly $50 was cleared in all from the supper.

—See advertisement of two beautifully illustrated lectures on Chaldea and Egypt, by Dr. Baum, of New York, who uses the finest views ever shown to present historical work. These lectures are under the patronage of all the Plainfield clergy. Among the lay patrons are: Mrs. C. F. Abbott, Mrs. A. Gilbert, E. R. Pope, Mrs. Charles Potter, Mrs. Kirtland Meyers, Mrs. Isaac L. Miller, Miss Ella Serrell, Mrs. J. W. Yates.

Our people are growing more and more in the habit of looking to Reynolds' pharmacy for the latest and best of everything in the drug line. They sell Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds, croup and whooping cough. When in need of such a medicine give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result.

WEDDING MADE UP FOR.

AN EVENING RECEPTION TENDERED TO MR. AND MRS. H. T. BAGLIN.

The Event Held at the Home of the Bride's Parents, Councilman and Mrs. W. C. Smith, Attended by Many Friends.

The dim gray light that precedes the dawn saw the last of the guests depart from the wedding reception tendered to the recently married couple, Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Baglin, by Mrs. Baglin's father, Councilman William C. Smith, of Grandview avenue, on Friday evening. The young people were quietly married at New York on January 26th, as was told in the Daily Press at the time. Their engagement had been announced before and preparations were being made for a grand wedding. Councilman Smith decided to make up for the loss of the wedding by giving the young couple a reception on the eighteenth birthday of the bride, which was Friday.

The reception was held at the residence of Councilman Smith, which was charmingly decorated for the occasion. Smilax was draped from the chandelier in the centre of each of the lower rooms to the four corners and festooned about the walls, while pinks and roses were artistiely intermingled with the green. Large bouquets were arranged about the rooms. A large American flag, gracefully draped, was among the other decorations.

As soon as the guests arrived and had removed their wraps, they were ushered into the brilliantly lighted parlors and their introduced to Mr. and Mrs. Baglin by Edward Smith, brother of the bride. The bride wore a beautiful evening gown of white, trimmed with smilax and white roses. Councilman and Mrs. Smith assisted in receiving the guests. At 11:30 o'clock a long procession headed by Mr. and Mrs. Baglin, started for another house close by owned by Councilman Smith, where a collation was served. A large wedding cake was placed at each end of the prettily decorated table. The newly married couple sat at the head.

The older people began to depart as the hour of midnight passed, but the younger generation remained until the wee sma' hours of the morning to dance.

There were those that did not forget that the premature wedding brought the young people no presents, and one of the upper rooms was devoted to the gifts of friends and relatives. One of the most beautiful of all was an onyx banquet lamp with an onyx table to support it. These were presented by the employes of Baglin & Company, hat manufacturers, of which company Mr. Baglin is a salesman and also has an interest in the firm. Another handsome onyx table was the gift of Charles Rively. The younger brothers and sisters of the bride gave a silver coffee set, while her brother, William C. Smith, Jr., presented them with an onyx clock. Alphonso Baglin, brother of the groom, brought two large paintings. The gifts of the parents of the couple were too large to be placed with the rest of the presents. Councilman and Mrs. W. C. Smith gave a bed room suite, while Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Baglin gave all the necessary furnishings for the dining room. There were numerous other gifts consisting of silverware, glassware, china, table linen, brick-a-brac, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Baglin leave for Washington, D. C. tomorrow where they will spend a week and then return here while their new home in Newark is being arranged.

Among those present during the evening were:

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Baglin, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rively, George Rice, H. Marker, Joseph Phelps, Mrs. Totten and Alphonso Baglin, Newark; Joseph Clarkson and Fred Slater, Rahway; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sutton, Brooklyn; Eugene Stout, Miss Emma Wooley and Miss Mary Waite, Key Port; Rev. T. Logan Murphy, ex-Mayor and Mrs. L. V. F. Randolph, Captain and Mrs. William Hand, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Coriell, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Boss, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Westphal, Mrs. Vodemere, the Misses Vodemere, Mrs. Kroff, Mr. and Mrs. I. L. McVoy, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Brokaw, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Doud Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bird, H. N. Spencer, Miss Fannie Spencer, Mrs. James Radin, Mr. Philpott. Miss Bertha Philpott, Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Smalley, Miss Lena Smalley, Miss Minnie Smalley, William Jeffery, Mrs. D. Dennis, Mrs. G. Summers, Miss Maggie Summers, William C. Smith, Jr., Miss Jennie Smith, Mr. Schomp, Miss Westphal, Edward Smith, and Arthur Smith, Plainfield and North Plainfield.

THOUGHT HE WAS TO BE MURDERED

A Colored Man Removes His Shoes and Stockings and Has His Feet Frozen.

Patrolman Totten was rather surprised Sunday afternoon when a colored man, barefooted and with a frightened expression on his face, came to the officer's house and begged him as an officer to protect him from the men who were trying to kill him. Totten found the man completely exhausted and his feet badly frozen, and turned him over to Chief Grant and Sergeant Kiely who lodged him in a cell. The negro was Jefferson Johnson, who lives on Cottage place. He has been employed by Seaman Williams, of Sandford avenue, to look after his house and grounds. He is an example of one who has been driven insane by the continual jokes of a set of young men. Johnson is about thirty two years old. A number of young men have thought it a good joke to keep telling him that he was going to be murdered. "Ah, not murdered yet?" they would say when they saw him. The continual thought of it unsettled the man's mind and he became fearful of every sound. Saturday night at about 9 o'clock he started from his home on a dead run crying that "they" were chasing him. He removed his shoes and stockings so that his pursuers would not him. He ran to New Brooklyn, New Market, Somerville, and returned Sunday afternoon and went to Patrolman Totten's house.

Dr. Simpson dressed his frozen feet, but they both will probably have to be amputated. Johnson was taken to his home this morning in a hack. He is still afraid that "they" will catch and murder him.

A BOOK SOCIABLE.

All Souls Church Members Enjoy a Novel Form of Entertainment.

Washington's Birthday was celebrated at All Souls Church, with a "book sociable," given by the women of the church, which was largely attended. The room was pleasingly decorated with flags and bunting, while a large picture of Washington occupied a prominent place. All of those who came represented a book and its name was guessed by the rest. One of the best was "Our Mutual Friend" by Miss M. B. Brown, who wore a picture of the pastor, Rev. Hobart Clark, on the front of her dress. Among the other especially good ones were "Prince and Pauper," Mrs. David Horr; "The Caxtons," Mrs. Adams; "Through Darkest Africa," J. D. Patton; 'The White Company," Henry Wells; "American Notes," Miss Mary Wells; "The Four Georges," Mrs. H. Clark; "Woman's Reason," Miss Caroline Haviland; "Pathfinder," Miss Anna Haviland; "American Politician," Mrs. F. E. Hebard; "The Man With the Broken Ear," F. E. Hebard; "Middle Much," Rev. Hobart Clark. The winners of the prizes were decided upon by Miss Caroline Haviland, Samuel Huntington and Mrs. Ruth C. Leonard. Miss Leonard won first prize for guessing the most. Rev. Hobart Clark was second prize winner. Elmer Walker took the consolation prize.

The sociable was arranged by a committee compased of the Misses Caroline and Anna Haviland. Refreshments were served after the guessing was over.

STORY OF JONATHAN AND DAVID.

Used to Illustrate the Friendship in the Knights of Pythias.

Rev. C. E. Herring preached a very forcible sermon last evening at the First Presbyterian church before the Knights of Pythias. A large number were present.

Mr. Herring spoke chiefly on the ideal of the order, "Friendship," and illustrated it by using the story of David and Jonathan. He showed the sacrifice made by Jonathan, which was very much like that offered by Pythias. A strong point was made of friendship-love, which means that we must love our neighbor more than ourselves, also that love never changes by public opinion.

His closing words were that friendship shall endure forever, though all else fail. The Knights retired from the church in a body at the close of the sermon.

Two Alarms of Fire.

The alarm of fire given from box 12 early Friday evening was occasioned by the chimney of Charles Smith's house, corner of Front and Somerset streets, being on fire. The department responded promptly and soon put an end to the fire with the aid of chemicals. There was no damage.

The second alarm of fire was Sunday morning shortly after 2 o'clock when the fire department was called to a house owned by James Day, at 544 West Third street, where the bed had been set on fire by John Blanchard smoking in bed. The damage was $12.

WERE CALLED TOGETHER

DOUBLE FUNERAL OF MR. AND MRS. DANIEL TERRY YESTERDAY.

Attended by Over a Thousand Friends—Consoling Words Spoken by Rev. Mr. Braker—Buried at Scotch Plains.

A cloud of sadness settled in the little village of Scotch Plains yesterday, and every resident from the smallest child to the aged persons felt its effects. The occasion was the funeral services of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Terry which were held from the Baptist church at 2 o'clock, and a greater assemblage at such an event has not been seen since the death of John Hand, which occurred at the breaking out of the war.

Fully one thousand persons were present yesterday at the extremely sad obsequies. The church was not large enough to accommodate all who desired an entrance.

It was indeed a most touching sight when with measured tread the departed loved ones were borne to the altar followed by the grief-stricken relatives and friends. Their bodies were placed adjoining each other, while large handsome floral pillows with the names "Papa" and "Mamma" were placed on each casket, besides several wreathes and bunches of choice flowers.

A quartette, consisting of Mrs. Braker, Mrs. McGuire, H. E. Cramer and Thomas Cuming, rendered impressive music appropriate to the solemn occasion.

Rev. Mr. Braker, the pastor of the church, officiated and spoke in part as follows:

Today we stand face to face with a most wonderful experience. Never in my life have I been called upon to officiate in an event of this kind. Here is a husband and wife thirty-nine and thirty-five years of age, during the same week, twelve hours apart, are claimed by the angel of death. I did not know these two personally. Mr. Terry was highly respected generally and particularly regarded. May you have as big a heart as Daniel Terry. As a neighbor he would say "Believe me, I am your friend." He was a helpful neighbor. He was also a good son and father, and loved his children. As a husband there was the endearing respect and mutual sympathy in the home. His life is an example that many can follow with profit. Of the wife I can say she was a domestic woman of great influence and so far as her husband's power reached her's did also. Many of you here knew her better than I did and words would be fruitless at this time.

A selection was then rendered by the quartette, after which the large number of persons present were given an opportunity of looking for the last time on the forms of the departed.

Interment was in the cemetery back of the church.

The pall-bearers were: Charles Smith, T. H. Kellar, August Trust, Charles Dodd, Charles Payne, Edward Watters, Joseph Hyland, John Nichols, Samuel Lee, Benjamin Woodruff, S. Lambert and Phillip Cottrell.

WHISTERS DINE.

Evona Club Car Members Eat and Joke With One Another.

A party of whist players who meet every day on the club car "Evona" for their favorite game held their annual dinner at the Union County Country Clubhouse Friday night. Informal speaking followed the sumptuous repast and several songs were given by Messrs. Kirchoff, Knight and Schoonmaker. The unique menus were very prettily gotten up and contained a number of hits and jokes only understood by those present. The table decorations were also appropriately arranged in an artistic manner. F. C. Kirchoff presided. The others present were: John T. Baker, E. T. Barrows, W. C. Baker, George B. Schoonmaker, H. Bartling, Emil Woltmann, F. E. Knight and W. A. Pinto.

A Professor Speaks.

At the Congregational church yesterday morning, after Rev. C. L. Goodrich had concluded his sermon, Rev. Mr. Sinclair, of Howard University, the leading educational institution for colored people at Washington, D. C., made a plea in behalf of the University for funds to supply a deficit for the last year. Rev. Mr. Sinclair is a well educated colored man.

—William Kriss, of East Third street, was struck on the head by a piece of slate falling from a house at the corner of Church and Third streets, Friday afternoon, and sustained a severe cut on his head. No serious results are anticipated.

The little daughter of Mr. Fred Webber, Holland, Mass, had a very bad cold and cough which he had not been able to cure with any thing. I gave him a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says W. P. Holden, merchant and postmaster at West Brimfield, and the next time I saw him he said it worked like a charm. This remedy is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases such as colds, croup and whooping cough, and it is famous for its cures. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

SEVEN LIVES LOST

Fatal Fire in Baltimore's Fashionable Residence District.

PROMINENT MAN'S HOME BURNED

Mr. Armiger, His Daughter, Mrs. Jennie Champlin, Wm. Brieley and Harold Manuel, a New York Broker, Among the Dead.

Baltimore, Feb. 24.—A Sunday fire in the fashionable district of North Baltimore was the cause of eight deaths and sent a feeling of horror into hundreds of homes in the city where most of the unfortunate victims were well known and highly respected. Flames were seen breaking from the basement of 1896 North Charles street, the residence of James R. Armiger, one of the best known men in the city, by a policeman who at once sent in an alarm. When the engines arrived a large crowd was before the burning building. They were looking up at the windows, where the occupants of the house, aroused from slumber, appeared one after the other at the windows in their night robes. Lou Whiting, a colored servant who was employed next door to Armiger residence, gained an entrance over the rear fence and dashed through the building arousing the inmates, most of whom were still in their beds. But quick as he was the flames were more rapid, and egress by the stairs was shut off before half of the sixteen occupants of the dwelling had left their rooms. With all possibility of escape by the stairs cut off owing to the flames and smoke which then filled the passageways, Mr. Armiger and other members of his family rushed to the windows of their apartments seeking relief in front from what appeared certain death in the background.

Fourteen Penned in by Flames.

The servants on the fourth floor rushed down stairs but could not get lower than the second story, where they were driven into the sleeping rooms of the other inmates of the house. With closed doors behind them to keep out the flames and smoke the servants, too, rushed to the windows crying piteously for help. Two maid servants who were in the kitchen at the time the fire was discovered, escaped by the rear door. There were then penned up in the building fourteen persons crying or shrieking for assistance whereby to get out of the death trap. As soon as the fire department arrived nets were stretched beneath the windows and the firemen called to the terror-stricken persons at the windows to jump. The crowd in the street, not realizing the extent of the fire and smoke within the house yelled "don't jump." The bewildered inmates held back and some of them disappeared from the windows. Apparently they went back for clothing, or perhaps, for some treasured valuable possession. It was a fatal move and in most instances cost a life.

Daring Fireman's Peril.

Policemen Carlos and Cross in an attempt to rescue those whose lives were in danger, broke in the front door. It was a mistake, for it only gave the fire, which had begun in the basement, the draught it needed and it roared through the hallways and up the stairs with greater fierceness. The policemen could not reach the imperilled people, for the stairs were then in a mass of flames and the smoke blinding. The firemen had by this time thrown up ladders in the front of the house and District Chief McAfee climbed up to the second story window where Mrs. Armiger was crying for help. The ladder did not quite reach the window and there was the wildest excitement in the audience below as McAfee stood on the upper round of the ladder and grasped the window sill for support. He encouraged Mrs. Armiger to swing herself out of the window. As the chief grasped her with one arm he steadied himself with the other and had taken one step down the ladder when it slipped and McAfee with the woman in one arm and with the other holding to the window frame, dangled in the air. A cry of horror went up from the crown as it saw the peril of the daring fireman and his human burden. Fortunately for them McAfee caught the top round of the ladder on his toe and pulling it back into place, released his hold upon the window and quickly descended with the woman to the sidewalk.

Dead with a Child in His Arms.

Meantime the smoke poured from the open windows and the crowd around the building had increased to hundreds. At one time at one of the third story windows appeared the face of a man wearing a look of agony. He raised the window, and reaching out his hands, shouted to the multitude below. It sent him back an encouraging shout, and he a moment later, before a ladder could be run up, disappeared. When the firemen reached the window the body of the man was found lying beneath it, suffocated and badly burned. It was Harold Mannel, a New York stock broker and banker. In his arms was little Richard Riley, grandson of Mr. Armiger, also dead.

A Young Woman's Presence of Mind.

While these scenes of excitement were being enatted in the front of the burning residence other acts of bravery were being performed in the rear. Mr. Armiger's two daughters, Virginia, aged 25, and Eleanor, 14, occupied the second story back room. With the greatest presence of mind, Miss Virginia, assisted by her young sister, made a rope of their bed linen, and with this Eleanor was lowered to the ground. Fearing to trust her weight upon the slender cord Virginia dashed backed to the bed, grasped the mattress, pushed it through the window to the ground twenty feet below. She then jumped and landed thereon uninjured with the exception of a slight shock.

List of the Victims.

The only other person of the sixteen who were in the ill-fated house to be rescued was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Armiger, Mrs. Letitia Riley. She was carried down the ladder by the firemen, having been overcome by the smoke. When the fire had been gotten under control and the firemen made a search of the ruined residence. Mr. Armiger was found in the hallway. He had been overcome by the smoke and flames, and breathed his last as he was carried into the open air. William B. Riley, a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Armiger, was found dead nearby with his two children clasped in his arms. On the floor above were found the bodies of Mrs. Marion Chamberlin, a widowed daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Armiger, and her 3-year-old child, James. The last person to be found in the wrecked building was Harold Manuel, aged 50, a guest who arrived from New York last Thursday. He was a member of the broker firm of Turner & Manuel of 35 Wall street.

JAMESON IN ENGLAND.

The Leader of the Recent Raid into the Transvaal Arrives.

Plymouth, Feb. 24.—The transport Victoria anchored in the sound at midnight. As soon as it was learned that she had arrived a boat that had been chartered by the press representatives put out to her. When the press boat attempted to run alongside the transport she was warned off, the warning being accompanied by the information that no communication would be allowed with the prisoners. Several officers of the Victoria were on deck and they were questioned at long distance regarding Dr. Jameson and his officers. They declined to give any information beyond the statement that all the prisoners were well, and that Dr. Jameson was asleep. Dr. Jameson and the other officers of the recent raid will be taken to London this morning.

Jameson's Troopers in London.

London, Feb. 24.—The reception tended the 305 troopers who took part in Dr. Jameson's raid into the Transvaal in this city was far different from that accorded them on their arrival at Plymouth yesterday. When they arrived at the Paddington station a moderate sized crowd was in the street, but none of its members, even though they were relations of the men, were allowed to enter the station. When the cabs and carriages conveying the men issued from the station the crowd cheered them lustily. The troopers enjoyed their reception and waved their hats in response to the cheers. As they proceeded eastward their uniforms attracted attention, and large crowds followed the vehicles cheering and roaring for Dr. Jameson. There was a big demonstration in Piccadilly circus, where the crowd was so dense that the carriages proceeded with difficulty. The enthusiasm displayed here showed that Dr. Jameson is a popular hero in London. A majority of the troopers were attired in the police uniform of the British South African company, but a number of them wore nondescript garments. They are a swart hardy-looking lot of men. Their ages range from 20 to 35 years. Many of them belong to some of the best families in England, having gone to South Africa where they could do work, which had they done here, would have caused them to have been looked down upon by their acquaintances.

GEN. HARRISON IN NEW YORK.

He Calls on Mrs. Dimmick, and Declines To Receive Visitors.

New York, Feb. 24.—Gen. Harrison is still at the Fifth Avenue hotel and will probably remain in the city for the next ten days. He denies himself to all callers. Yesterday afternoon he called upon Mrs. Dimmick and again in the evening he visited her at her home. E. F. Tibbetts, the ex-president's private secretary, says that Gen. Harrison, as soon as he had completed his plans for his marriage, would make public the arrangements, but until then he wished to avoid all publicity.

Mrs. Amelia C. Waite's Funeral.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The funeral services over Mrs. Amelia C. Waite, widow of the late chief justice of the United States, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence on Rhode Island avenue. They were simple and impressive. The chief justices and associate justices of the supreme court acted as pallbearers. The casket was covered with floral offerings and the mantelpiece was banked with others. Interment will be made at Toledo, alongside the grave of her husband. The condition of Miss Waite, who is now the only surviving member of the family, was such that the physicians decided it was best for her not to attempt the journey.

Overdue Schooner Arrives.

New Bedford, Mass., Feb. 24.—The overdue schooner General Scott, which sailed from this port November 11 for Brava, Cape Verde islands, has arrived at the latter port. She reached there on January 9, having lost her sails.

Death of Jere S. Allen.

Newburyport, Mass., Feb. 24.—Jere S. Allen, one of the oldest newspaper men in New England, died yesteaday afternoon, aged 88 years. He was a bachelor and a Mason. He leaves two brothers and one sister.

Slavin Challenges Fitzsimmons.

London, Feb. 24.—Frank Slavin has issued a challenge to fight Bob Fitzsimmons for $6,000 a side. He offers to back himself for $5,000 to stop Corbett in six rounds Cincinnati at Fort Monroe.

Fort Monroe, Va., Feb. 24.—The U. S. S. Cincinnati, from New York, arrived here at noon yesterday and joined the fleet.

GOD AND THE KAISER

To Whom the German People Alone Are Indebted.

NO REFERENCE AT ALL TO BISMARCK

The Young Ruler Favors His Subjects with Two Characteristic Oratorical Performances—Dr. Peters Condemned.

Berlin, Feb. 24.—The emperor favored the nation with two of his characteristic oratorical performance last week. The first and most notable one was given upon the occasion of the annual dinner given by the governor of Brandenburg to the members of the Brandenburg diet, a function which his majesty always graces with his presence and platitudes. On this occasion, apropos of the silver jubilee of the empire, the kaiser, after making flowery and sentimental references to Heaven's special grace to the empire and the imperial house, proceeded to inculcate in the minds of his hearers the lesson of the duty of the nation in the future. "What we have witnessed," said his majesty, "and what has been effected, we owe solely to the great Emperor William and his trust in God. The entire celebration in commemoration of the victories of the German arms, which were held in 1895, culminated in the glorification of his personality, which has become nothing less than holy to us. It is our sacred duty to preserve his personality and hallowed memery against all comers." The kaiser's adulation of his grandfather has never run to greater length than upon this occasion, nor has his exclusion of all reference to Prince Bismarck and the exchancellor's co-workers in the foundation of the empire been more marked. Nevertheless, his majesty's utterances were dutifully and fervently acclaimed.

Ament the German Navy.

The address delivered by the emperor upon the occasion of his swearing in of the naval recruits at Wilhelmhaven was modeled after his remarks upon similar occasions in the past. Speaking to the German navy the kaiser said that although it was small as compared with the navies of some of the other powers it was still in progress of growth. The absence from his remarks of anything more encouraging to the hopes of the Chauvinists than the foregoing utterance caused great disappointment, especially to those who are exerting every possible effort to extend the colonial possessions of Germany. Those standing foremost in the endeavor to forward Germany's colonial interests, led by Dr. Peters, the African explorer, have entered into an agitation for an unlimited increase of the German navy. Some of the speakers of the budget committee, which was dealing with the colonial estimates last week, strongly condemned the attitude assumed by Dr. Peters. His defenders in the committee

Prince Bismarck Refers to 1870.

Prince Bismarck received at Friedrichsruhe on Saturday a deputation of conservatives and others styling themselves the parties of law and order, from the Saale district. The ex-chancellor was in his usual health and in reply to an address presented by the deputation reviewed the events of the Franco-Prussian conflict, an epoch, he said, which was unavoidable as paving the way for ulterior achievements. He was rejoiced, he said, to see that the parties representing law and order were co-operating with the government to complete what had been gained by the war of 1870, instead of forming into separate factions.

FUNERAL OF BILL NYE.

The Humorist's Remains To Be Laid to Rest Near Asheville.

Asheville, N. C., Feb. 24.—The hour for the funeral services over the body of Edgar Wilson Nye is fixed for 10 o'clock to-morrow morning, and the interment will be at Episcopal church cemetery at Fletchers, twelve miles south of Asheville. Many telegrams have been received by Mrs. Nye from people prominent in the literary world expressing their condolements over her bereavement.

Foster's Shortage May Reach $30,000.

Concord, N. H., Feb. 14.—The examination of the books of Tax Collector Foster, conducted by Auditor Lyford, is proceeding slowly. Further irregularities are already apparent and it is not improbable that the embezzlement will aggregate upwards of $30,000. A special meeting of the city government has been called for this afternoon, at which Mr. Foster's resignation will be accepted.

Missing Cashier Suddenly Returns.

Providence, R. I., Feb. 24.—Charles H. Baeny, formerly cashier of the Western Union Telegraph company, who mysteriously disappeared three weeks ago, has suddenly reappeared here. He refuses to talk about his journey west and south until he has had an understanding with his former employers. Baeny declares that no bookkeeper could plunder the Western Union as it was intimated he did.

Biliousness

Is caused by torpidity of the liver. This prevents the digestion of food, which ferments and decomposes in the stomach and causes distress, dizziness, headache, insomnia, nervousness. Hood's Pills invigorate the liver, cure biliousness, constipation, jaundice, sick headache, etc. 25c; all druggists.

HOOD'S the Best After Dinner PILLS

starving children

There are children without food. They cry for it, and are not answered. The pity of it! But often nature cries out in other ways that her children need nourishment. Is your child thin; actually poor in flesh? Does it get no benefit from its food? Then give something which produces flesh and makes rich blood.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites does more than this. It changes the unhealthy action to one of health, thus removing the cause. It acts on the nervous system, which controls all the processes of the body, toning it up into sound and vigorous activity. It is food for growing bone and brain. It makes the thin plump; the pale, ruddy; the weak, strong; it feeds and cures.

SCOTT'S EMULSION has been indorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. (Ask your doctor.) This is because it is always palatable—always uniform—always contains the purest Norwegian Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Put up in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes. The small size may be enough to cure your cough or help your baby. All druggists.

JUST AS GOOD IS NOT SCOTT'S EMULSION.

W. L. & J. M. Smalley,

—DEALERS IN—

HIGH GRADE

Meats,

& Meat Specialties

Beef, Lamb, Mutton, Veal and Pork Poultry and Game in season.

94 Somerset st., Plainfield N. J.

Telephone Call 42-B.

NOTICE.

Special Reductions

—AT—

Neuman Bros.

on fancy brands goods. Full quart bottles table oil 60c, finest quality; whole canned ox tongue 45c; lunch tongue, whole, 25c; a special reduction given on Curtis' strawberry and assorted jams, 16c; fresh roasted coffees received every week, quality unexcelled.

NEUMAN BROS.

What! $30.00?

Yes, thirty dollars will buy a piano, in first-class condition, at

W. R. BROKAW'S

Piano Parlors, 311 Madison ave.

Tuning and regulating a specialty

Advertised Letters.

Plainfield, February 10, 1896.

Adams J H	Leonard A W
Barton A J	Neugem Agnes Miss
Codington B	McMann Thos
Duchene E Miss	Moore Elmer
Fell A F S	McEvoy Kate J 3
Fisk Clinton B	McKeef Lara Mrs
Hustner Jno	Palmberg Elen Miss 2
Johnson Charlie	Perine Chas
Johnson Hilder Miss	Prentiss S S
Kline Mellie Miss	Storme G W
King T P 2	Snediker Dare

Holiday Millinery Goods.

MRS. L. ADAMS,

114 EAST FRONT STREET,

Opp. First National Bank.

Dressmaking and Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns.

S. D. FRAZEE,

DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF

FRESH FISH.

Fresh every day. Terms cash. Goods delivered.

230 Park ave., 000. North ave

Musicfurnished for all occasions.

California IN

THREE DAYS

without change of cars. All meals served in dining cars. Palace drawing-room sleeping cars and tourist sleepers are run through to San Francisco and Los Angeles without change, leaving Chicago daily via

THE NORTH-WESTERN LINE

Through Tourist sleeping cars Chicago to California daily and personally conducted excursions every Thursday. Variable route tourist tickets at

VERY LOW RATES.

Detailed information and descriptive pamphlets will be mailed free on application to W. B. Kniskern, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago. Agents of connecting lines sell tickets via the

Chicago & North Western Railway,

or address: H. A. Gross, G. E. P. A., 423 Broadway, New York, or T. P. Vaille, S. E. P. A., 112 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

FOR GIFTS and LIGHT buy "MILLER" LAMPS

Elegant designs (a thousand styles), Beautiful finishes, and the best lamp made—up-to-date in every respect. Call and see it, also our Fine Brass and Onyx Tables. Buy only "Miller" lamps from dealers. We have been manufacturers since 1844.——made "The Rochester" Lamp.

EDWARD MILLER & CO., 28 & 30 WEST BROADWAY, (66 Park Pl.) bet. Park Pl. & Barclay Sts., N. Y.

Convenient to all "down-town" Ferries, and Elevated Stations at Park Place and Barclay St.

For Cool Weather buy a "MILLER" OIL HEATER.

FOR SALE BY W. L GAVETT & CO.

Freshest Oysters

will be found at

Rogers' Sea-Food Market.

THE HALLET & DAVIS PIANOS

Have stood the test of over fifty-five (55) years

and are not surpassed by any in the world. Prices, $300 and upwards. Our special 3-year payment plan makes purchase easy. We have other makes of new pianos at $200. Good squares at $75, and we give a full 5-year warranty with everything we sell. Old instruments taken in exchange. Send for illustrated catalogue giving full information.

The Tway Piano Co.,

88 FIFTH AVE.,

near 14th st., New York.

"Tway's Musical Guest," containing 8 pages of music, interesting reading matter and theatrical news, mailed free on application. 10 3 6m

COAL

F. W. HAND,

132 North avenue.
929 South avenue.
197 North avenue.
Telephone No. 130.

"Ever Ready" PREPARED

Buckwheat Flour.

Home-made and sold on its merits. Sold by all grocers and made by

FRENCH BROTHERS,

City Mills. 24 Somerset street. Plainfield, N. J.

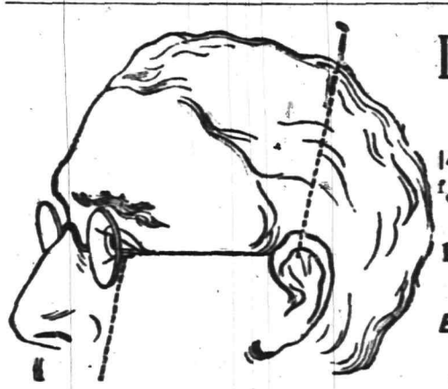
DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 WATCHUNG AVE.,

—DEALERS IN—

Lumber, Coal Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement for Walls and Ceilings.



Leech, Stiles & Co.,

EYE SPECIALISTS,

1413 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa.

Formerly with Queen & Co. H. A. Stiles will be at

1o7 East Front Street,

Dunham's real estate office,

EVERY THURSDAY

from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Skilful attention given to all cases of eye strain, headache, etc. No charge for examination. All glasses guaranteed.

Bargains in Real Estate

For sale or to let.

MONEY to loan on first mortgage.

E. C. Mulford,

No. 169 North avenue.
Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.

BROKER.

Communications pertaining to the business mentioned, either by letter or otherwise, will receive prompt attention. Carriage service supplied.

THE
Bee Hive

Men's Unlaundered Shirts.

Lot 1—The Cast Iron Shirt, made of good heavy muslin, good 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, patent facings, 38c.
Lot 2—New York mills muslin, 3-ply, fine linen bosoms, reinforced front and back, patent facing, 48c.
Lot 3—Our New York mills shirt, made of New York mills muslin, 2 and 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, continuous facings and hand-made button holes, equal to the best custom-made shirt, 69c.
Boys' unlaundered shirts 38 cts. Laundered shirts 50c, 75c and $1.

Louis Callman,
222 West Front st.

CLEANER COAL.
L. A. Rheaume
Agent,
Watchung Ave., Corner 4th St.,

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

Upper Lehigh and Honeybrook Coal
in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

Rough and Dressed Lumber.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for turning and scroll sawing, and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner and at short notice.

H. Eggerding,
131 Park ave.,
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars

CODDINGTON'S
Furniture and Freight
EXPRESS.
Offices 24 West Front st; 33 Park ave. Post-office box 329. Piano moving a specialty. Large covered trucks; goods sent to any part of the country; charges reasonable; satisfaction guaranteed

PLAINFIELD SEMINARY
re-opened
SEPTEMBER 19, 1895.
(26th year.) Miss E. E. Kenyon, Principal.

Finest Assortment
of Lace, Celluloid and Card
Valentines
in the city.
HARPER'S,
411 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.

W. N. Pangborn,
LICENSED AUCTIONEER, Residence, 33 Linden Ave.
Personal attention. Prompt service.
1 14 tf

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter, 22c.
Best Dairy Butter 18c.
V. L. FRAZEE
151 West Front st.

William Hand & Son.
STAGES
For Picnics and Parties, 518 Park ave.

GEO J. TOBIN,
187 North Avenue.
Practical Plumber.
Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer.
Telephone Call 158a

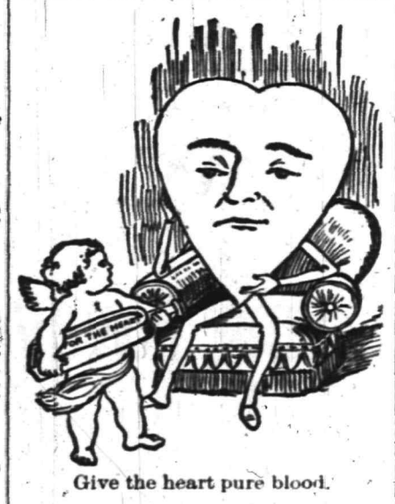
TOWNSEND'S
Marble and Granite Works,
SOMERSET STREET.
Our motto—Good work, good material at fair prices.

THE GRANDVIEW
Meat Market.
George Egel, Manager.
Dealer in Fresh and Salted Meats. Game in season. Orders called for and delivered promptly. Cor. Grandview ave. and Somerset street.
6 13 tf

Special Sale
—OF—
Muslins
SATURDAY ONLY.

Fruit of Loom, Hill Lonsdale and other standard brands, 10 yards 65c.
The best brands unbleached muslins at 6 cents per yard.
Good quality in bleached and unbleached at 5 cents per yard.
The standard brands of white sheetings at lower prices than quoted elsewhere.

LEDERER'S.



Give the heart pure blood.
Randolph's
Sarsaparilla,
A great blood cleanser.
Only 50c Per Bottle.
L. W. RANDOLPH,
Prescription Druggist,
143 West Front st.

PIANOS.
You can buy the best in the market at Factory Prices, at
J. C. DYER'S, 218 WEST FRONT ST.

New Fish Market,
125 Park Ave.
E. P. THORN
solicits a share of the public patronage. First quality
Fish, Oysters, Clams, &c
TERMS CASH. 11 7 tf

See Our Name,
Take Our Number,
Call and See Our Goods.
Woolston & Buckle,
141 and 145 North ave.

Eagle Meat Market,
35 Somerset Street.
Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Orders called for and delivered free of charge.
C. ARNOLD, Prop.

Miss Fawcett's School
And Kindergarten,
25 WASHINGTON AVENUE.
North Plainfield, N. J.
Re-opened Thursday, Sept. 12.
Primary, Intermediate and Academic Dept's. Boys received until 10 years of age.

FISCHER PIANOS.
56 YEARS ESTABLISHED.
GRAND AND UPRIGHT.
Nearly 100,000 Manufactured.
EASY TERMS. EXCHANGED.
REASONABLE PRICES.
FISCHER PIANO WAREROOMS,
110 Fifth Ave., cor. 16th St., N. Y.
Write for Catalogue.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Don't invite disappointment by experimenting. Depend upon One Minute Cough Cure and you have immediate relief. It cures croup. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

UNION
Meat Market,
IS THE PLACE
where you can buy during Lent all kinds of Smoked Fish, Salt and Pickled Herring, Imported Cheese of all kinds, Russian Caviar. Try the Waldorf Cheese. Imported and Domestic Sardines. Native Steers sold only at low prices. Jersey Lamb, Veal, Mutton, Pork. Turkeys and Chickens always on hand. My Sausage can't be beat. Genuine Philadelphia Scrapple and Taylor's Hams. Headquarters for Bologna and Delecatessen.
A. G. Vogeler.
131 West Front st.

Carpenters and Builders.
JOHN P. EMMONS,
Mason and Builder,
Washington avenue and Prospect place,
North Plainfield, N. J.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

PEARSON & GAYLE,
Carpenters and Builders.
Residence—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine st. H. E. Gayle, No. 18 Vine st.
All work promptly attended to.

GEO. W. STUDER,
Carpenter and Builder.
985 Arlington avenue.
Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given, charges reasonable.

C. W. LINES.
Mason and Builder,
Plainfield, N. J.
Residence, 18 Elm place.
Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to

HOTEL
Grenada,
NORTH AVENUE.
Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.

CITY HOTEL.
Plainfield, N. J.
Corner Park avenue and Second street.
J. E. Beerbower, Prop.
Stables attached

PROSPECT HILL
Must Be Sold.
Azalias, Chinese primrose, palms, ferns, begonias and variety of blooming plants. Wedding decorations and floral designs and all equipments for church and house decorations. Southern smilax at 15 days notice
AT DENTON'S.

L. A. HUMMER'S
VARIETY MARKET.
Meats, fruits, vegetables, poultry, eggs, etc. Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge.
120 Park avenue. Telephone call 29-A

No Place Like Home

on Christmas day. No day like Christmas at home. Christmas will be merrier the more home like the home. Our great holiday sale of wall paper should attract all whose houses need papering.
Marsh, Ayers & Co.

ALL TURKS NOT BAD

Six Heroes Save the Life of an American Woman.

THEIR ACTION PRAISED BY TERRELL

Faced a Mob and Put the Murderous Villains To Flight—Miss Barton Anxious To Go Zeitoun To Assist the Distressed There.

Constantinople, Feb. 24.—The Italian consul at Zeitoun, the city which was lately surrendered to the Turks after having been held for months by the Armenians who captured it, has written here describing the wretched condition of the people at Zeitoun. Many of them, he says, are naked. Starvation is scouring hundreds of them in the face and there is much sickness. Baron von Calice, the Austrian ambassador, has started a subscription for the relief of the sufferers. Miss Clara Barton, of the Red Cross society, who is now here, is eager to go to Zeitoun to help alleviate the distress of the wretched inhabitants. It is probable, however, that her presence here will be necessary for some time, but through her aid will be sent to the Zeitoumlis. She has telegraphed inquiring whether Marash would be a good place to establish her base of supplies. Marash is only a short distance from Zeitoun, and is situated on the very borders of the roughest country of the Taurus.

American Woman Defended by Turks.

It has been learned that an angry mob on January 1 made an attack on the American misson at Oorfa, an out station of Aintab. Death or a worse fate might have overtaken the missionary there, Miss Corinna Shattuck, had it not been for the heroism of six Turkish officials. These men faced the mob declaring that they would defend the American lady with their lives. The mob paid little ateention to them and attempted to continue their attack when the officials fired upon them scattering them like sheep.

Recorded as Heroes.

Minister Terrell declares that the names of these men should be known to the world, for they are heroes. He requested the representative of the United Press to cable their names to America, and it is accordingly done. They are Bezak Effendi, Said Effendi, Mustafa Effendi, Haszan Effendi, Issa Effendi and Durak Effendi.

Cannot Go to Zeitoun.

London, Feb. 24.—The Daily News will to-day publish a dispatch from Constantinople saying that Miss Clara Barton and the members of the Red Cross party are not going to Zeitoun, owing to the refusal of the porte to grant them permission to do so.

LI HUNG TO VISIT AMERICA.

Will Travel Through This Country on His Return from Russia.

Washington, Feb. 24.—When it was announced some days ago that Li Hung Chang, the famous Chinese statesman and for many years viceroy, had been appointed to represent the emperor at the coronation of the czar and czarina of Russia at Moscow in May, Hon. John W. Foster of this city, who was associated with Li as counsel in the peace negotiations with Japan last summer, invited him to visit the United States enroute to Russia. Mr. Foster has received a cablegram from Li acknowledging the receipt of the invitation and stating that he had decided to return to his home from Russia by way of Europe and the United States. No date was fixed for his coming, but a visit to this country may be expected from the distinguished foreigner some time during the summer.

KOREA AGITATED.

The King's Father Continues To Trouble the Country.

New York, Feb. 24.—A special dispatch to the Herald from St. Petersburg says: A special dispatch from Vladivostock to the Novoe Vremya says that the Tai-Won-Kun, father of the king of Korea, continues to trouble the country. He is carrying on an agitation in favor of his son-in-law, Palon. Complete disorder reigns in Korea. The people are agitated and government is powerless to stifle the growing trouble. The Japanese press is calling for the restoration of the Japanese regime, but to this the Russian party are strongly opposed.

A Monument to the Confederate Dead.

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 24.—The state of Florida is to be presented with a monument to its confederate dead which will be the third largest Confederate monument in the south. The donor is Charles C. Heming of Gainesville, Texas, vice-president of the Texas Bankers' association. Mr. Heming is a native of Jacksonville, and the monument, which is to cost $20,000, will be erected in this city.

Favor an Arbitration Tribunal.

Woonsocket, R. I., Feb. 24.—The Universalist church congregation of this city last evening gave a public patriotic service and adopted resolutions in favor of a tribual for the arbitration of differences between the United States and Great Britain, this tribunal to be permanent, in the sense of always being available. The resolutions will be sent to the Rhode Island legislators.

A. R. U. Delegates Admitted.

Philadelphia, Feb. 24.—At the weekly meeting of he United Labor league yesterday there was a lengthy discussion relative to the application of delegates from the American Railway union for admission to the league. A protest agaasnt their admission was entered, but it was finally decided by a large majority to admit the delegates.

NEW YORK LEGISLATURE.

Liquor Subject Likely To Consume a Large Portion of the Present Week.

Albany, Feb. 24.—Excise legislation will consume a large portion of the time of the senate this week. Senator Raines expects that the Raines liquor tax bill will be reported favorably to the senate by Wednesday at the latest without amendment. The senate taxation committee last week decided to report the bill favorably, but owing to the objection of the minority members of the committee that they had not had sufficient time to examine the bill, it was recommitted. Senator Raines expects that the bill will pass the senate this week, but some of the senators do not think it will make such rapid progress. The bill will be reported favorably in Assembly by Tuesday. Greater New York legislation having been planned by the majority leaders, it is expected that the question will receive early consideration at the hands of the legislature. The cities committee of the two houses will to-morrow afternoon consider the report of the sub-committee and bill prepared by Senator Lexow through which it is intended to establish a Greater New York. It is expected, however, that the committee themselves will have several hearings upon the question before they make their final report to the legislature. In the judiciary committee of each house it is expected that the bills reported by the attorney general, which are intended to give him power to investigate and restrict the operations of the alleged coal trust, will be considered this week.

MR. HARTER'S FUNERAL.

His Remains Taken to Mansfield, O., for Interment.

Fostoria, O., Feb. 24.—The remains of the late M. D. Harter, who committed suicide Saturday, were taken to Mansfield last evening. The body was embalmed and almost every trace of the terrible bullet hole was removed. The pallbearers were Hon. Charles Foster, F. Brown, C. E. Palmer, J. B. Graham, W. H. Bannister and L. Harbaugh. The regular funeral services will occur at Mansfield and interment will take place in that city, the date not yet being determined. There is no question now that the deed was committed at 5 o'clock in the morning as Mrs. Pinot, residing in the adjoining house, heard a sound like the report of a gun or pistol at that hour. A heavy freight train was passing at that time and it would seem that Mr. Harter took this time so that the sound of the report would be drowned. Secretary Foster stated in a conversation that a few weeks ago when he rode to Philadelphia with Mr. Harter, he noted actions on the part of Mr. Harter which he thought decidedly queer.

DROWNED AT SEA.

A New York Banker Supposed To Have Fallen Overboard.

New York, Feb. 24.—The Ward line steamer Niagara, in port from Cuba, via Nassau, reports that one of her passengers, A. Ladenburg, aged 37, a banker, was missed from the ship on the morning of the 20th, and no trace of him could be found. It is surmised that he fell overboard during the night. He was a passenger from Nassau, and was connected with the banking house of Ladenburg, Thalman & Co., of this city.

EX-GOV. ROBINSON'S FUNERAL.

To Be Held Wednesday Afternoon at the Congregational Church, Chicopee.

Springfield, Mass., Feb. 24.—The funeral of ex-Gov. Robinson will be held in the Third Congregational church at Chicopee, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and the burial will be in Fairview cemetery. A short service for the family will be held at the house at 1:30 o'clock. Rev. C. H. Abbott of Chicopee and Rev. E. F. Hayward of Marlboro will conduct the services which will be simple.

TO RELEASE MRS. MAYBRICK.

English Home Secretary May Announce the Decision This Week.

London, Feb. 24.—There is excellent reason to believe that the home secretary has decided to liberate Mrs. Maybrick who was convicted some years ago of poisoning her husband. An official announcement to this effect will probably be made this week.

Pettebone Mine Fire Subdued.

Wilkesbare, Pa., Feb. 24.—The officers of the Pettebone mine say that they have subdued the fire in the mine. The idleness and the vast amount of coal consumed for the past five weeks, since the fire started, have been very costly to the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad company.

Much Nearer Arbitration.

London, Feb. 24.—It is believed that the past week has brought the reference of the Venezuelan boundary dispute much nearer to arbitration. It is said that the only remaining obstacle is the definition of the term "settled districts" in regard to which negotiations are proceeding.

Death of Hon. George Davis.

Wilmington, N. C., Feb. 24.—Hon. George Davis died yesterday, aged 76 years. He once represented North Carolina in the confederate senate and was also attorney general of the confederate states. He was one of the most prominent lawyers of the state.

Against the Saxon Franchise Bill.

Berlin, Feb. 24.—The socialist newspapers declare that if the diet of the kingdom of Saxony passes the franchise which is now before that body the socialist deputies in the Saxon diet will resign and withdraw from the chamber.

Defaulter Friedman Arrested.

Paris, Feb. 24.—Dr. Friedman, the famous Berlin defaulter, was arrested in Bordeaux yesterday.

WEEK IN CONGRESS

Programme of the Work Before Both Branches.

CUBAN RESOLUTION IN THE SENATE

A Protracted Discussion of the Subject Promised—Mr. Morgan the Orator Today—Members of the House Confident of Early Adjournment.

Washington, Feb. 24.—When the Cuban resolutions were made the unfinished business of the senate a prolific subject for debate was laid before that body. The general opinion is that most of this week will be devoted to that matter. Mr. Morgan began a speech Friday in which he only gave the senate his introductory. He will probably consume most of the time today, and may not even conclude then. Mr. White of California will also speak on the Cuban question the first opportunity he can get, and Mr. Gray of Delaware, who is looked upon as in a manner representing the administration, is preparing a speech in reply to Mr. Morgan. The committee on public lands will occupy the morning hour the early part of the week in pressing to a vote the bill unanimously reported from the committee to provide for the extension of the time within which suits may be brought to annul land patents. This is a matter that has been called to attention of congress by the president and there is need for early action. The bill has already passed the house, but the senate committee has made some amendments which may not meet the approval of the house. Senator Carter of Montana has changed the date of his promised speech on his resolution to recommit the tariff bill from Monday to Wednesday. It is probable that after Mr. Carter has explained his reason for voting recently against Mr. Morrill's motion to take up the tariff bill and thus put himself on record, Senators Teller and Mantle may do likewise. All of the appropriation bills so far reported to the senate are out of the way. The army and agricultural bills now before the appropriations committee will be reported by the middle of the week, and if necessary these measures can be called up so as to consume the balance of the week.

House of Representatives.

"Early adjournment" is confidently predicted on the house side of the capitol. Six of the thirteen general appropriation bills have been passed by the house, one other has been debated and recommitted with instructions, one is now under consideration, one is on the calendar, and two more are practically finished by committees and ready for the house's action whenever desired. In thus disposing of these bills the present house has broken all records for the long session. The appropriation bills that have passed the house are the pension bill, reported Jan. 9 and passed Jan. 17; the military academy bill, reported Jan. 14 and passed on the 20th; the urgent deficiency bill, reported Jan. 20 and passed on the 21st; the diplomatic and consular bill, reported Jan. 27 and passed on the 28th, and the army bill, reported Feb. 3 and passed on the 19th. The District of Columbia appropriation bill has been considered and recommitted, with but one item to be disposed of. The Indian bill is now under consideration, and the legislative, executive and judicial bill is now on the calendar and will be taken up soon after the Indian bill has been disposed of. This leaves for consideration only six appriation bills, including the river and harbor bill, which may be postponed to the next session. The house will enter upon this work with the Indian appropriation bill as unfinished business, but its further consideration may be postponed for some time.

Death of John Waldron.

New York, Feb. 24.—John Waldron, known to the theatrical world as Paul Allen, and also known as "The Mayor of Ohio River," died at Bellevue hospital yesterday afternoon. Mr. Waldron was taken to the hospital on January 29, his ailment being alcoholism. Mr. Waldron was 43 years old and in his time played many parts. He was particularly well known to Tony Pastor and during John L. Sullivan's pugilistic successes was one of his backers and best friends.

No Longer a Methodist Minister.

Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 24.—Rev. William Peck of Wallingford was to occupy Dr. Pullman's pulpit at the First Methodist church yesterday, but yesterday the church committee was notified by the presiding elder that he had withdrawn his license as a Methodist preacher, as he had adopted the Unitarian faith. The church was instructed not to allow him to preach, and therefore secured two local ministers to officiate at the services.

Protection Against X Rays.

Berlin, Feb. 24.—In consequence of experiments with the Roentgen rays enabling the reading of the contents of enclosed letters, a Berlin chemist is making experiments with a substance for the manufacture of envelops which will be impervious to the rays.

Lucy Jennings Renshaw Dead.

Albany, Feb. 24.—Lucy Jennings Renshaw, wife of Alfred H. Renshaw and daughter of the late Commodore Cicero Price, died at Troy yesterday. She was a sister of the dowager Duchess of Marlborough, formerly Mrs. Hammersley, who was born Lilian Price,

A Judge's Son Convicted of Murder.

Poplar Bluff, Mo., Feb. 24.—Charles E. Wear, son of Circuit Judge Wear, was Saturday night convicted of murder in the second degree and sentenced to thirty-five years in the penitentiary.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

Published Daily, except Sunday, at 3:30 p. m.

108 North avenue. Telephone Call 61.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., FEB. 24, 1896.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Monday Threatening with Light Rain Tonight, Tuesday, Probably Fair, Colder. At 2 o'Clock Leggett's Thermometer Registered 53 Degrees.

COMING EVENTS.

Announcements of all meetings, etc., will be made in this column, free of charge, if copy is furnished by 10 a. m.

February 24—Sportsmen Game and Fish Protective and Propogative Society elect officers.
February 25—Concert in Vincent chapel.
February 25—Organ recital in First Presbyterian church.
February 25—Sociable of Old Glory Council, Daughters of Liberty, in Red Men's Hall.
February 26—Gorman Brothers at Music Hall.
February 27—Birthday social in W. T. T. U. rooms.
February 29—Capt. Jack Crawford at the Crescent Avenue church chapel.

The Legislature is expected to adjourn in three weeks.

Nearly every man deplores the prize fight, but who can truthfully say that he wasn't anxious to know who had won the Fitzsimmons-Maher battle?

The Republican calculate that they shall not be judged by sins of commission at any rate. It has taken them six weeks to allow three bills to become laws.

Assemblyman Reed, of Somerset county, is a figure of note in the present House. He pas a strongly marked countenance, a tall figure and a good command of language, and has courage of opinion. He is likely to be a leader of the next House, unless he bounds into the Senate as successor to Senator Thompson, whose term expires this year.—Newark Call.

To the thousands of people in this country, who, though not directly connected with the Salvation Army, yet realize its great power for good, the trouble between the Booths over the matter of the younger one leaving his post in this country, is sincerely regretted. Such conflicts between leaders cannot but help to impair the efficiency of their work, reflecting as it does on the professed principles of self-sacrifice with the leaders.

Entertaining and Instructive.

The Assembly hall at "The Chestnuts" was filled Friday afternoon last with a large and cultured audience when Rev. W. Hudson Shaw, M. A., delivered his intensely interesting illustrated lecture on "Venice".

No one had any doubt as to the interest, but such a rare taeat was not dreamed of. Mr. Shaw is a scholar of the highest degree and his admirable way of treating his subject, together with his mastery of the English language made the event one of great delight to all. Frequently his charming picture and his perfect diction brought the heartiest applause from his audience.

He gave in a most concise manner, the history, geographically and politically of Venice, and especially interesting was his remarks on "Florence" as a number present have been making a study of the subject.

Should Mr. Shaw return to Plainfield a much larger auditorium would be necessary to hold all who would desire to hear him.

The last lecture of the course will take place Friday afternoon, March 6th, when Mrs. Hall will read a paper entitled "General Marion and the Huguenots of South Carolina."

The Hospital Thanked.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Permit me through the columns of your valuable paper to publicly express my deep feeling of appreciation and gratitude towards the staff of the Muhlenberg Hospital. The operation, performed by Dr. Hedges and his assistants, and his subsequent treatment, have been such as would stamp him a capable and efficient surgeon, while the care and attention as administered by the matron and the excellent corps of nurses, have been even more than one could wish.

J. E. Flannery.

Death of a Young Man.

William Van Dyke, aged nineteen years, son of Louis M. Van Dyke, of West Second street, died at the home of his father, Saturday afternoon of consumption.

The funeral services were held this afternoon at two o'clock from the house.

Rev. Cornelius Schenck officiated and interment was in Plainfield avenue cemetery.

Steals $800 in Jewelry.

When all were at dinner at the residence of Mrs. Abbey, widow of the late Commodore Abbey, in Cranford, Saturday night, a sneak thief entered the second story and carried off six hundren dollars worth of jewelry. The robbery was reported yesterday in Elizabeth.

"Give me a liver regulator and I can regulate the world," said a genius. The druggists handed him a bottle of DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

William Havens, of New York, is visiting friends in town.

Miss Amie Dryden, of West Seventh street, is visiting in the south.

Miss Launa Johnson, of Arlington avenue, has gone to Somerville for a visit.

Daniel Runkle and family, of Eighth street, are stopping at Lakewood for awhile.

Joel Ryno, of West Front street, rode to Mt. Bethel on his wheel Saturday.

William Callahan, of Woodland avenue, has recovered from a recent illness.

Miss Maud French, of Craig place, entertained a few friends Friday evenevening.

Louis Chase, of Yale, visited at his home on East Front street, Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Emma Buckle, of Westervelt avenue, entertained a few friends Friday evening.

W. Lee Simmonds, of Watchung avenue, is sojourning for the winter at New Orleans.

Miss Mary Johnson, of the West End, spent the past few days in Newark with friends.

Mrs. Joel P. Ryno, of West Front street, went to Somerville yesterday for a short visit.

Miss Smalley, of East Front street, spent Washington's Birthday with Philadelphia friends.

Miss Mary Brown, of East Fourth street, was the guest of her sister in Brooklyn yesterday.

Miss Amy Hyer, of East Fourth street, spent Saturday and Sunday with Brooklyn friends.

Miss Vine Gerhold, of Plainfield avenue, has gone for a short stay with her parents at Summit.

Mrs. L. J. Denton, of Prospect Hill, spent yesterday in Brooklyn with her sister, Mrs. J. T. Armstrong.

Mrs. George Vanderhoff, of East Front street, visited relavtves in Newark on Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Todd and Harry Todd, of Newark, returned home Friday night after a visit with friends in this city.

Miss Mabel Watson, of New York, is the guest of Miss Maud VanBoskerck, of West Seventh street.

J. V. Rittenhouse, of East Sixth street, spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives at Morris Plains.

Mr. Cox, of the University of Pennsylvania, has been a guest at the home of E. G. Pope, of Park avenue.

Miss Florence Burt, of West Seventh street, visited friends at Hackettstown on Washington's Birthday.

Miss Grant is filling Miss Billings' position as teacher in the Franklin School during the latter's illness.

Robert Clark and son, Bert, returned to their home in Newark yesterday after visiting friends in this city.

Joseph Anguerbauer and wife, of New York, have returned home after a few day's visit with relatives in town.

The engagement is announced of Mrs. Lillian A. Ditson, of Boston, to J. Louis Harberger, formerly of New York.

Sheriff Kyte, of Fanwood, left Saturday with a party of politicians for Niagara Falls. They will return tomorrow.

The Misses Annie and Minnie Martin, of Manson place, spent Saturday and Sunday with friends at Newark.

Miss Carrie Kellogg, who is teaching school at Bernardsville, spent Saturday and Sunday at her home at Mt. Pleasant.

Miss Lillie McCready, of Brooklyn, was the guest on Saturday and Sunday of Miss Jessie Coddington, of Somerset street.

Miss Della Duvier, of West Fifth street, is able to be out again after having been confined to the house for sometime by illness.

Miss Suzella Howitt, of Germantown, who has been visiting Miss Jennie Simpson, of Craig place, returned to her home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gray, of Brooklyn, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Gray's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Westphal, of South Second street.

Mrs. Frank Sargent Grant, of Jackson avenue, who is spending the winter in New York, has gone to Bermuda with her daughter, Miss Smock, who has been ill.

Mrs. J. H. Havens, the Misses Emma and Etta Havens and Will Havens, all formerly of this city, spent Friday in this city. Yesterday Mr. Havens was the guest of Messrs. Russell Johnson and Bert Woodland, of Duer street.

J. W. Pierce, Republic, Ia., says: "I have used One Minute Cough Cure in my family and for myself, with results so entirely satisfactory that I can hardly find words to express myself as to its merit. I will never fail to recommend it to others, on every occasion that presents itself." L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

"Pure and Sure."

Cleveland's BAKING POWDER

Bread and cake raised with it keep their freshness and flavor. The reason is, the leavening power comes from pure cream of tartar and soda, nothing else whatever.

Receipt book free. Send stamp and address. Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

William Titus, of Mountain avenue, is out again after an illness.

Mrs. Charles Ammerman, of Stone street, is recovering from her recent illness.

Abner Wilcox, of East Ninth street, is entertaining his mother and brother from New York.

Benjamin Newell, of Brooklyn, has been the guest of J. V. Beekman, Jr., of West Eighth street.

Mrs. W. C. Jenkins, of Philadelphia, is visiting her mother, Mrs. W. B Ayers, of Spooner avenue.

Wallie Nichols, of New York, spent Sunday at the home of his uncle, B. J. Shreve, of Grove street.

Allen Hartley, of New York, is visiting at the home of George P. Mellick, of LaGrande avenue.

George A. Horne, of Lehigh University, spent Saturday and Sunday at his home on Willow avenue.

Miss Louise Everett, formerly of this city, is stopping for several weeks at the Revere House on Park avenue.

Miss Madeline Day, of Mercer avenue, returned from boarding school in Morristown to spend Saturday and Sunday at home.

Miss Eva Mattox, of Newark, and Miss Rosa Farlie, of East Orange, have been visiting at the home of W. J. Mattox, of Webster place.

Mrs. Mary Ann Myers, who died Saturday at New Providence, was burried at 11 o'clock this morning from the Stony Hill M. E. church.

Harry McGee, of Yale, spent his Washington's Birthday vacation at the home of his father, Henry McGee, of Orchard place, Washington Park.

Miss Edith Marsh, daughter of Frank E. Marsh, a student at the Young Ladies' Seminary of Freehold, spent Sunday at her home on Madison avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Swalm, who have been visiting at the home of C. W. Ulrich, of East Fifth street, returned to their home at Stamford, Conn., this morning.

Entertained at Progressive Euchre.

The Misses Barrett entertained a few friends at their home in North Plainfield Friday evening in a very enjoyable manner. Progressive euchre occupied part of the evening. The first prizes were won by Miss Emma Marlow and Robert Carpenter. Miss Jessie Haynes and Oscar Runyon were the winners of the consolation prizes. The tallies were quite novel, consisting of card board hatchets and flags. The rest of the evening passed very pleasantly with singing, dancing and refreshments, while a celebrated palmist told the fortunes of all the party.

Danced the Night Away.

The dance which was given at the Olympia Friday night by Messrs. Ivan Pierson, George Scribner and A. Johnson, was a very enjoyable affair. About fifty couples took part in the grand march, which was led by Ivan Pierson and Miss Laura VanNess. Prof. Frazee furnished the music. Refreshments were partaken of about midnight.

Disorderly in a Station.

William Perrine appeared before Justice Nash, Friday, charged with disorderly conduct at the Westfield railroad station. He was sent to Elizabeth for twenty days.

Dunellen.

F. Bogardus has been elected president of the Board of Education in the place of Rev. F Fletcher.

Mrs. John Runyon, of Washington avenue, is entertaing her daughter, Mrs. Manning, of Trenton.

At the meeting of W. G. Holton Council Tuesday evening, Eugene Leach was initiated into the order.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius VanMiddlesworth, of Cuber avenue, Jersey City, spent Friday with relatives on Front street.

Mundy Bros have finished building the large barn at Greenbrook, which is owned by Mr. Lavanda, the great Spanish horse trainer.

A live bird shoot took place all day on the grounds of the Dunellen Gun Club. Twenty men from the Climax Gun Clnb, of Plainfield, also took part.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church will hold a dime sociable at the residence of George Giles on the evening of Thursday, Feb. 27th. A musical programme will be the feature of the evening.

The Whittier school and Lincoln school held appropriate exercises Friday afternoon at the raising of their new flags. The Lincoln school raised about $10 for their new flag, and the Whittier school raised about $25.

N. B. Snell, of West Dunellen, narrowly escaped being shot with his rifle a few nights ago. On retiring he went to get the firearm from the corner of the room, and as he lifted it the hammer caught on the moulding causing the gun to go off. The cartridge went into the ceiling.

New Market.

Miss Anna Doyle, of Jersey City, is visiting among friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Haynes have been entertaining friends from East Orange.

Two candidates were initiated last Thursday evening into Lakeside Council, D. of L.

Saturday afternoon at the Seventh-Day Baptist church a covenant meeting was held, and all the converts who were recently baptized were received into the full communion of the church by the Rev. F. E. Peterson.

Nothing Like It.

Time brings many changes, but the climate of California, "The Italy of America," and the attractions of the many famous health and pleasure resorts, are the same yesterday, today and forever.

Tourists never will tire of speaking in praise of the soft and balmy air, the profusion of flowers, the magnificent display of fruits, the luxury of seabathing and the beautiful walks and drives.

Then, too, it must be conceded that with such excellent equipment, consisting of Reclining Chair Cars, Pullman Palace Sleepers and Pullman Dining Cars, all heated by steam and lighted with Pintsch Light, the Union Pacific, "The Overland Route," is the tourists favorite. Ask your agents for tickets via this route.

E. L. Lomax, General Pass. and Ticket Agent, Omaha, Neb.

GAIL BORDEN EAGLE Brand ..CONDENSED MILK.. Has No Equal SOLD EVERYWHERE

VISIT BOEHM'S CROCKERY DEPARTMENT, 113 WEST FRONT STREET.

Everything in the housefurnishing line up to date. Prices brought down to the lowest possible notch. We guarantee satisfaction in every respect. It is therefore to your own benefit to visit this department—it will pay you.

Novelties in Dress Goods.

AT 19C—30 inch Brilliantines, were 25c.
AT 50C—38 inch extra heavy black mohair sicilians, cheap at 65c.
AT 25C—40 inch new spring novelties, changeable effects, were 35c.
AT 25C—36 inch plaids, silk stripe effects, were 33c.
AT 12 1-2C—A very handsome line of worsted plaids well worth 19c.
AT 50C—The very latest novelties in all-wool dress goods, suitable for spring wear, fully 40in. wide, a bargain at 65c.
AT 32C—38 inch wide black brilliantines.
AT 45C—40 inch black brilliantines, silk finished, regular 59c quality.
AT 50C—Silk finished brilliantine, 40 inches wide, the 65c grade.
AT 65C—Extra fine black brilliantine, 1¼ yards wide, with an extra heavy lustre, the regular 75c quality.
Our leader for this coming season—38 inch wide black figured brilliantine in a number of new and novel designs at the uniform price of 35c a yard, well worth 45c a yard.
AT 25C—Storm serges in black and blue, 3 in. wide, were 34c.
AT 45C—Beautiful fine black serges, 1¼ yds wide, a hummer, were 55c.
AT 19C—Light colored brilliantines, the very newest effects, reduced from 25c.

BOEHM'S, 113 WEST FRONT ST.

Always Ahead!

and Peck Proposes to Stay there if Good Goods Count for Anything.

THE DALZIEL GRAMMAR, MANUAL AND ART SCHOOL, 309 East Front Street.

IS AN ESTABLISHED SUCCESS.

Free-hand drawing from the Antique, Pen and Ink Sketching, Clay Modeling, Painting, Designing and Mechanical Draughting. Directed by John Dalziel, late Professor of Drawing for Illustration, and Engraving at the Women's School of Design, Philadelphia, Pa.

WE are NOW preparing for Spring and Summer Outdoor Work.

DO NOT THINK EDWARD LOVE IS Giving Away Wall Paper,

But he is doing the next thing to it. Let him do your spring decorating.

EDSALL'S Commercial Palace, Babcock Building.

Notice! Last Tuesday morning we received notice from The H. B. Caflin Company that they had purchased the entire stock of one of the largest corset manufacturers in the world, and were offering them for sale at prices far below "Bankrupt" stock prices. One of our buyers took the first train to the city and was able to secure only one case, so rapidly were they bought up. There are only 12 dozen but include all sizes and are now on sale at

Only 35c FOR A FRENCH CORSET.

Perfectly clean, new, fresh and right up to date, and a good 90c corset. In connection with the sale of these corsets we will offer

500 Dozen Pure Olive Castile Soap 2 CAKES FOR 5 CENTS.

See unique representation of Brooklyn Bridge in our large show window made of the soap. The latest sensation in Plainfield.

MUSIC.

3c—300 copies of vocal and instrumental music by the best composers, bought at the assignee sale of the well known music publishing house of Hitchcock & Co., New York. Over 500 titles, regular prices, 40, 50 and 75c per copy.

5c—Extra size cotten towels.

7c—Shell side combs, worth 15c.

9c—Mens suspenders, worth 20c.

20c—Ladies all leather pocket books, worth 30c.

29c—Warp print ribbons, 4 inches wide, worth 39c.

9c—Men's linen cuffs, worth 20c a pair.

6c—Men's linen collars, newest shapes, worth 13c.

10c—Men's fast black half hose, double heel ahd toe, seamless, worth 18c a pair.

65c—Ladies' kid gloves in black and leading shades of tan, excellent wearers, worth $1.00 a pair.

9c—Ladies' fast black seamless cotton hose, double heel and toe, worth 15c.

7c—Extra large size honey-comb towel, worth 15c.

Housefurnishing Dep't.

1 lot patent foot holder dust pans 10c.
1 lot 50 foot hand twist clothes lines 5c.
1 lot best G. and S. water pails 18c.
1 lot ash sifters 5c.
1 lot wood chopping bowls 5c.
1 lot galvanized wash bowls 5c.
1 lot kerosene glass lamps complete with fluted chimney 17c.

Grocery Depatment.

10c Boston potato chips—fresh.
13c Plymouth Rock gelatine.
7c mustard sardines.
20c pound good butter.
50c bushel fine Jersey potatoes.
12c Cape Cod cranberries.

EDSALL'S.

Shoe Notes. If You Have Tender Feet Why Not Try a Pair of Our Common Sense Boots, made on the same lines of the Kahler make. Our price $3 and $5. This is at least $1 a pair under New York City prices on the same goods. A woman's genuine dongola kid button boot for $1.19. One of our specials—woman's rubbers 24c and up. How can we undersell the other fellows? We buy direct from the manufacturers and give you the middleman's profits.

DOANE & EDSALL.

SPORTS

STRIKES AND SPARES.

TEAM POSITIONS IN STANDARD LEAGUE.

	H. S.	Won.	Lost.
Westfield	884	21	9
Roselle	893	20	10
Park	885	20	12
Union C. C. Club	831	9	21
Cranford	837	6	24

TEAM STANDING IN CENTRAL JOURNAL LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	Highest Score.
Elizabeth A. C.	7	4	1789
Crescent Wheelmen	6	5	1619
New Jersey A. C.	5	6	1671
Cranford C. C.	4	7	1557

TEAM STANDING IN DIOCESAN UNION.

	Won.	Lost.	Highest score.
Catholic C	7	2	1597
Elizabeth	5	2	1670
Orange Valley	6	3	1534
Plainfield	4	4	1506
Newark T. A. B.	2	6	1584
Institute	0	8	1516

The Y. M. C. A. bowling team, of this city, lost three games to the Westfield Y. M. C. A. on the latter's alleys Saturday night. The Plainfield boys did not seem to have the best of luck and rolled rather poorly at time. In the last game the Westfield boys rolled a score that has not been equalled in a match game by either men or boys in this district for a long time. It was 917. Condit was high man with 217. The individual scores were as follows:

PLAINFIELD.

	First.	Second.	Third.
Snediker	149	125	118
Lederer	145	199	148
Sutphen, M.	110	122	122
Laing	127	153	131
Sutphen, C.	190	141	189
	721	740	708

WESTFIELD.

	First.	Second.	Third.
Whitehead	169	193	170
Rice	126	186	147
Wright	134	165	192
Manning	181	147	191
Condit	149	149	217
	759	840	917

CYCLING COMMENT.

Edgar Serrell, of Plainfield avenue, has purchased a Cleveland Model 22, from the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company.

Plainfield's new cycling organization, the Plainfield Wheeling Club, held the first of its weekly "rides" at the Columbia Cycle Academy Friday evening. The club, which now consists of about sixty members, was gotten up by Mrs. J. Parker Mason and Miss Maud VanBoskerck, who are both enthusiastic cyclists, and the members have taken the academy for all the Thursday nights during Lent when they will enjoy a spin on their wheel despite the weather. The announcement that the "ride" was to be held Friday night was only given on Thursday so the attendance was not as large as it otherwise would have been. The members came in cycling costume and the evening passed very quickly, concluding with a simple drill on wheels. Among the members who were in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. Abner Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. David Pond, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Roome, Mr. and Mrs. Machardo, Mrs. W. L. Saunders, Mrs. J. P. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Rogers, Mrs. Lowrie, the Misses VanBoskerck Murphy, Marsh, Kirkner, Randolph and Miller, Miss Mabel Watson of New York, Messrs. Thomas VanBoskerck, Sherwood West, Harry West and George Taggart. An orchestra of several pieces furnished music during the evening.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

The gymnasium classes at the Y. M. C. A. will be taught for the present by C. W. Nichols.

Thomas Flynn, ex-Speaker of the New Jersey Assembly, and former starter at the Gloucester race-track, has been appointed starter of the New York Jockey Club, to succeed James Rowe.

BASKET BALL.

A game of basket ball was played in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Saturday evening between junior teams from Plainfield and North Plainfield. The bity boys finally defeated the borough representatives by a score of 5 to 3.

New Firm of Plumbers.

Dennis J. Galbraith and Thomas J. Walsh today purchased and took possession of the plumbing business of David T. Kenney on North avenue. Mr. Galbraith has been an employe of Mr. Kenney for three years, and is a thoroughly practical plumber, as is also Mr. Walsh. The new firm are well known in this city and will no doubt continue to maintain and increase the prosperous business built up by Mr. Kenney.

—VanEmburgh & Son will sell tomorrow, Tuesday, February 25th, full size oval wash boilers, No. 7, 43 cents each; No. 8, 47 cents each.

—A team of horses belonging to Hand & Son started to run away at the freight house Saturday morning, but were caught before any damage was done.

A high liver with a torpid liver will not be a long liver. Correct that liver with DeWitt's Little Early Risers, little pills that cure dyspepsia and constipation. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Woodland avenue is in a very muddy condition at present.

—The Sportsmen Club will meet this evening and elect officers.

—The City Council will hold an adjourned meeting this evening.

—The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter G. Doeringer died yesterday.

—Hoodis Pills are the best family cathartic and liver medicine. Harmless, reliable, sure.

—Special musical service was rendered at the Grace M. E. church last evening by the choir.

—James B. Guttridge is building a new residence for himself on South avenue, near his store.

—Steps are to be taken after election to put the borough of Mountain side back into Westfield township.

—Visitors are always welcome at the Art Department of the Plainfield Business College, Babcock Building.

—The hotel at Mt. Bethel will be re-opened this evening under new management, and a large time is anticipated.

—Dr. K. K. Carroll preached a strong and impressive sermon in the Trinity Reformed church yesterday morning.

—The entertainment in the Y. M. C. A. Star Course, which was to have taken place tonight, has been postponed to March 3d.

—The next regular meeting of Lucetta Council, No. 28, Daughters of Liberty, will be held in Fireman's Hall, Wednesday evening.

—Justice Nash issued summons Friday in the case of Dencklau against Dunavan, demand for premises, returnable on February 25th.

—Rev. Frank S. C. Wicks, of the Unitarian church at Passaic, exchanged pulpits with Rev. Hobart Clark, of All Souls church, yesterday.

—Do not despair because you have tried many medicines and have failed to receive benefit. Remember that Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail to do any good whatever.

—Lawyer S. S. Swackhamer has purchased three lots on Summit avenue between Watchung and Westervelt avenues. He will erect two handsome houses thereon in the spring.

—A ball was held in the Fanwood Club house Friday night. A large number from this city attended. The music was furnished by Prof. O'Reilly, of this city, and dancing was continued until the early morning hours.

—Lenten services at the Church of the Holy Cross on Mondays, Tuesdays, Fridays and Saturdays at 4:30 p. m.; Wednesdays at 7:45 p. m.; Thursdays, with celebration of the Holy Communion, at 11 a. m.; Sundays at 11 a. m. and 4:30 p. m.

—The series of Bible talks on "The Ministry of the Holy Spirit" to be given each Monday evening during the Lenten season at the Y. M. C. A. by William D. Murray, will begin this evening at 8 o'clock. Women as well as men are invited.

—Through the courtesy of the publishers the Public Library is receiving Printers' Ink, a journal for advertisers. This journal is devoted to the theory, practice and science of advertising. It will be found upon the first table in the reading room.

—Rev. W. H. McBride, the singing evangelist, assisted by Miss Noah Herdon, a Southern evangelist, will conduct the meeting of the Plainfield Branch of the Christian Alliance on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the parlors of the W. C. T. U. on Watchung avenue.

—A number of the young women of the Seminary gave a leap year straw ride on Friday night to their masculine friends. The snow was absent so a large box wagon was used. The gay party went to Cranford where they were entertained by friends of the young women.

—The funeral services of the late Gustave Sutterline, Jr., were held Saturday afternoon from his late residence on Greenbrook road, Rev. Mr. Hauser officiating. The members of the Gesanng and Turn Verein Society were present. Interment was made in the Evergreen cemetery.

—The Somerset Board of Freeholders has decided not to rebuild the Finderne bridge at once, but to let it remain as it is until after May, when the appropriation for it will come in the new year. There is not very much travel over it, and it was thought best not to run into too much debt this year.—Somerville Democrat.

It not only is so, it must be so, One Minute Cough Cure acts quickly, and that's what makes it go. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front S

Champions of the Wheel.

Although there was but a small attendance at the entertainment given in the Columbia Cycle Academy Saturday afternoon and evening by Prof. "Ike" Johson and his troupe of bicycle riders, it was deserving of a crowded house. The entire entertainment was of the highest class and Prof. Johnson and Prof. Robins performed wonders in the line of trick riding. Bicycle polo, in which the ball is driven by a blow from the front wheel of a bicycle and the goal is between the legs of a chair, was played and proved very interesting and exciting.

Told of Her Fresh Air Work.

Owing to the evangelistic meetings the celebration of Christian Endeavor day was not observed in the Christian Endeavor society of the Park Avenue Baptist church until last Friday night. The meeting was led by Miss Florence G. Hawkins and consisted mainly of poetical responses by the chairmen and members of the different committees. Miss Currie, of Westfield, made the address and told of her work as city missionary in the fresh air fund camp at Westfield last summer. There was a large attendance at the meeting which was a very interesting one.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for rheumatism and neuralgia, radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75c. Sold by H. P. Reynolds, druggist, Park and North avenues. 2 12 y

—Coal stealing along the Central Railroad has reached such proportions that there is a regular patrol of railroad police between Roselle and Fanwood.

Soothing, healing, cleansing, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the enemy to sores, wounds and piles, which it never fails to cure. Stops itching and burning. Cures chapped lips and cold-sores in two or three hours. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

RANDOLPH RUNYON,

Funeral Director and Embalmer.

43 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.
Residence over office. 2 24 m

H. DeMott,

Undertaker and Embalmer,

59 Somerset st., Plainfield, N. J.

Calls promptly attended to day or night. White and black hearses. Coaches latest style.

DIED.

DOERINGER—In North Plainfield Monday, Feb. 23d, 1896, George P., youngest son of Peter G. and Ida Doeringer, aged 3 years, 1 month and 3 days.
Funeral strictly private.

CONCERT to be given in

Vincent Chapel,

under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society.

TUESDAY EVENING,

Feb. 25, at 8 o'clock, by the Ladies' Chorus assisted by other talent. Mr. Fitzhugh, conductor. Tickets 50c. 2 20 3-t m t

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscribers, executors of Elizabeth Edgar, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphan's Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the fourth day of March next.
Dated December 28th, 1895.
CHARLES H. EDGAR,
FREDERIC A. BOOTH.
12 30 10-o a w

Two Magnificently

Illustrated Lectures,

CHALDEA AND EGYPT,

By the Rev. Henry Mason Baum, D. C. L.,

recent marvelous discoveriss in these ancient centres of civilization, confirming the Bible. Many reproductions of Dore's famous paintings from the Life of Christ.

Y. M. C. A. HALL,

Thursday & Saturday

evenings, Feb. 27 and 29, at 8 o'clock. Tickets for two lectures 50c: single admission 35c. For sale at Randolph's and Reynold's. 2 24 2 m w

THE

Camp Fire and the Trail,

By the poet-scout,

Captain Jack Crawford,

IN

Crescent Avenue Church Chapel,

SATURDAY,

February 29, at 8 p. m.

for the benefit of Marsonnier Chapel.

Admission, 50c. Children, 25c.
2 15 17 19 21 26 28

A Corn Cure THAT CURES CORNS

We have never said much about our Corn Cure—though it is one of the best made—because the market is full of cures, so-called. But such positive testimony to its merits has recently been volunteered that we feel justified in "talking-up" this little specialty. Our COLLOID CORN CURE is easily applied, gives relief quickly and will cure every case of corns, hard or soft, that can be cured, if used as directed. Sold in square vials with brush for applying. REYNOLDS' PHARMACY, Park and North Avenues.

On the Blades of Steel.

For the past week Tier's lake has been thrown open to the public for skating. Saturday the lake was crowded. The ice was in a fair condition, though there were some rough spots, but the crowd didn't care for that. It was a holiday crowd and they were out for fun. Although the ice was thin in some places, no accidents are known to have taken place.

Drop a Postal to 218 West Front St., and we will call and repair any make of sewing mackines. Needles, oil and parts. The Singer M'f'g Co., 218 W. Front st.

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 cent a word each insertion. Less than 10 words 10 cents. Cash must accompany adv.

STORE to let. Corner Park avenue and Second street. W. R. Codington. 2 17 6

TO LET—Store on Park avenue now occupied by G. Q. Packer, with or without floors above; a great chance to start a furniture business. Apply to C. A. Marsh, or Wm. M. Stillman. 2 4 tf-law

FOR SALE—Prime hay, oat straw, potatoes turnips for sale at Brookside Farm, South Plainfield, N. J. W. E. Smith.

WANTED.—Competent girls for cooks and general housework. Apply Mrs. Day's office, 134 East Front street.

WANTED—Situations for two sisters, Protestant, for cook and chambermaid; reference first-class. Room 209 Babcock Building.

A CONVENIENT six-room cottage in a good neighborhood to let. Apply at 35 Grandview avenue.

WANTED—Ten girls as cooks and for general housework. Room 209 Babcock Building.

$2,000 TO LOAN on first mortgage on improved property at 5 per cent; state property and address X., care Press.

WANTED—By Feb. 29, two capable girls to do the work of a small family between them. Address with references, etc., F.P., care Press.

WANTED—A young girl to learn dressmaking. Call at once at 320 West 2d st. 2 24 2

WANTED—Laundress. Swede preferred. Apply at 449 West 7th st; references required.

TO LET—Neat cottage, 9 rooms; would divide, 4 for one, 5 for the other. making rent cheap. Address 131 New street. 2 24 3

WANTED—Two German or Swedish girls; one as cook and laundress, other chambermaid and waitress. Apply 113 Park place. 2 24 2

DRESSMAKER wants more engagements by the day. Address D, care Press.

YOUNG girl wants upstairs work; good reference. Address S., care Press.

TO LET—From April 1, the desirable residence No. 917 Madison ave. Wm. D. Thickstun, 197 North ave. 2 21 tf

WANTED—Half or part of store on Front street to display a household article and for office purposes. Address M., care Press.

RELIABLE Swedish girl wants situation, chambermaid or nurse. Address for references Box 36, South Bound Brook, N J. 2 14 24

TO exchange for lots, new 6 room house; price $1650; mortgage $800. Address P. O. Box 283. 2 21 4

WANTED—Situation as gardener by experienced man; best of city references. Address G. M., P. O. box 383, city. 2 19 6

FOR SALE—The property owned and occupied by W. T. Broadway, 323 LaGrande ave; modern improvements, city water, etc; house has ten rooms also bath and laundry; possession any time; liberal terms. Apply to agents. 2 17 tf-m w f

WASHINGTON Park, North Plainfield; for sale or to let to a small family, No. 19 Sycamore ave., house in perfect order; contains 10 rooms, city water, gas and furnace; terms made to suit. Geo. F. Edwards, 191 Broadway, New York, or 17 Duer st., Plainfield. 2 17 12

VERY handsome flat; all modern improvements. Apply Manning's city marble works. 2 17 tf

WANTED.—At once, experienced white cook. Apply 949 Central avenue. 2 8 tf

WILL the person, who, on Sunday, found a small Scotch Terrier dog, weight about twelve pounds, return the same to 123 East Second street, and be suitably rewarded.

GOOD accommodations for horses; horses boarded by the month at reasonable terms. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville, N. J. 12 3 tf

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker 2 21 tf

133 EAST 2d street to let a large sunny front room: also a hall rooms; furnished, 2 minutes from depot. 12 19 tf-m w t

TO LET—Stores, flats, dwellings. Bargains for sale. Mulford, Broker. 1 6 tf

TO LET—Stable on Sycamore street, from April 1st, seven stalls and a box stall, city water and electric lights, also three rooms over stable suitable for light house-keeping. Apply P. Lynch 1 2 tf

Pargiter Sale

Think of coming to a store where a dollar goes as far, buys double the amount of goods that it will in other stores. It isn't every day that we can buy good seasonable dry goods for 50c on the dollar, but some one's loss is your gain and we sell as we buy. It's two for one.

NEW ADDITION TO THE SALE.

Short lengths wash goods 3c yd, men's laundred shirts 39c, all-silk ribbon Nos. 12, 16, 22, 14c yd, do No. 40, 20c yd, do Nos. 4, 5, 7, 9, 5c yd, men's suspenders were 50c now 25c, fine umbrellas $1 kind, 50c, all our short length dress goods were 50 and 75c, now 25c yard.

	Pargiter's price.	Our price
Mens linen collars	13c	7c
" "	18c	8c
Mens cuffs	20c	10c
" "	30c	15c
Mens mixed half hose	15c	8c
Mens balbrigan half hose	25c	10c
Mens black half hose	25c	10c
Mens tan half hose	25c	10c
Mens cashmere half hose	35c	18c
Mens laundered cambric shirts	$1.25	75c
Feather boas	$1.50 and $2	30c
Ladies cambric waists	50c	25c
Mens unlaundered shirts	75c	37c
" " " "	$1	55c
Boys outing shirts	25c	12c
Mens outing shirts	25c	12c
" " "	60c	30c
Mens white wool shirts	50c	25c
Mens colored wool shirts	50c	25c
Mens scarlet "	$1	50c
Mens natural "	$1.25	59c
Mens scarlet double breasted shirts	$1.50	69c
Large Turkish towels	25c	13c
Large huck towels	25c	13c
Extra large h. s. towels	35c	17c
Dinner napkins	$1.50	98c
Cotton towels	10c	5c

	Pargiter's price.	Our price
Fine white apron checks	12c	6c
Fine Victoria lawn	20c	10c
Fine embroideries	5c	3c
" "	10c	5c
Wide embroideries	25c	10c
Wash crepons	10c	5c
Childrens hose	12c	6c
" "	15c	8c
" "	20c	10c
" "	25c	12c
Ladies hose	15c	8c
" "	20c	10c
" "	30c	18c
Corset covers	18c	9c
Drawers	35c	19c
"	45c	23c
"	65c	37c
"	75c	46c
"	98c	49c
White shirts	75c	39c
" "	$1.00	59c
" "	1.25	69c
Ladies corsets	$1 and 1.25	69c
" kid gloves	1.00	57c
" " "	1.25	69c
" ribbed vests	35c	17c
" " pants	35c	17c
" " "	50c	25c
" " vests	50c	25c
" " "	75c	33c
" " pants	75c	33c

Housefurnishing Department.

STOP A MOMENT?

Self-praise is poor recommendation. It aint necessary to tell you where or how we buy our goods. Its the price that sells them every time—so here goes! MATCH THEM IF YOU CAN!

CUT BRUSH | 500 Bust Brushes, like sample, Wire Fastened, Hardwood Back at | 7c. EACH.

WASH DAY REMINDERS—Smoothing Irons, all sizes, best quality, at 3c. pound. Clothes Pins, all perfect, per 100 7c. Jute clothes line, very strong, at 1-2c. yd. Solid Zinc Wash-Boards, hardwood frame 10c each. Heavy Tin Wash Boilers, No. 7, oval copper bottom, 59c. each. No 1 size Cedar Wash Tubs, free from knots, 39c. each. No. 2, do. 49c. No. 2 size Clothes Baskets, white willow, 29c. each. Mrs. Pott's patent Smoothing Irons, 3 irons handle and stand, plain, 69c. set. Nickle, 79c set. Handles extra for Mrs Pott's Irons, 19c. each. Clothes Wringers, hard rubber rollers, warranted, at $1.37.

WHITE OF PLAINFIELD.

Removal Sale.

These Are the Goods that Must Go.

Boy's reefers $5.....now $2.45
Youth's overcoats $8.....now $4.75
Youth's overcoats $10.....now $6.50
Men's overcoats $10.....now $7.75
Men's ulsters $10.....now $6.00

SEBRING'S,

Park Avenue. April 1st, West Front Street.

SEE on all the new spring styles THAT CURVE IN HATS

Shown in those sold by

HALLOCK, Hatter, 109 West Front St.

KEATING, The world's lightest—19 lbs. SEE THAT CURVE? FOWLER, Truss frame—17 to 24 lbs.

Chas. C. Lister,

134 North Avenue.

Guaranteed Bicycles For $49.50. OUTING and APOLLO. Repairing, Renting, and Storing.

"He Never New"

We kept Hanan & Son's Shoes,
But what could the poor boy do?
His wife found it out—
He had never been on Park avenue.

A. WILLETT & SON,

107 PARK AVENUE.

THE STORY OF LINCOLN.

How He Rose from Obscurity to the Highest Honors.

Probably the Most Unique and Lovable Character in American History—His Birthday, February 12, to Be Generally Observed.

[Written for This Paper.]

America has no royal roads to success for her sons save such as are cut out and laid by the tireless hands of those who travel them. The accident of birth may yield one wealth and the comfort and luxuries which are supposed to be associated with such a condition. But they have read the history of this country in vain who have failed to discover that those whom America has honored most have been they who exacted that honor by the excellence of their own merit. Entail of governmental honors is a tree of foreign growth that has never been transplanted to these shores. If this country deserves chiefest credit for any one thing it is this, that all of her children are dear to her, and honors are given out unprejudicedly to those who first conquer them. Far more of the presidents of these United States were born in cottages or cabins than in palaces. Probably the most striking, unique and lovable character in American history is that man who in the midst of a great internecine struggle, characterized by intense bitterness and bloody battles, uttered the immortal sentiment, "with malice towards none, but charity for all."

Born in extreme poverty of most humble parentage, Abraham Lincoln not only became president of the United States, but he also was its head during the hours of the greatest peril of the republic, and in his death the universal nation wept as for a father or a brother dearly loved. His life and his work teach, not that everyone may become great and illustrious as well as good, but that,

"Honor and shame from no condition rise"—

He who does his part well and truly, as he understands his duty, must and will receive not only the approval of his own conscience, but also the commendation and esteem of all who know him.

LINCOLN MONUMENT AT SPRINGFIELD, ILL.

Abraham Lincoln, the son of Thomas Lincoln and his wife Nancy, both natives of Virginia, was born in Hardin county, Ky., February 12, 1809. Thus it is that the savior of the union not only came of southern stock, but was himself a native of a southern state. However, at the age of eight the parents, because of the difficulty of maintaining themselves in that region, removed to Spencer county, Ind., where they settled in a wilderness, the ax of the father providing a rough log cabin for the shelter of those he loved. In the following year the worthy mother of the future 16th president of the United States died; but in 1819, scarcely a year later, his father again married. Fortunately for the son, his choice was a worthy and good woman who sought, as far as she was able, to replace her who was gone.

Not only were schools scarce, as well in Kentucky as in Indiana, in those days, but such teachers as could be found were only able to teach the rudiments of English; and it is not surprising that Mr. Lincoln should have himself said, when he was of age, he "did not know much, but could read, write and cipher to the rule of three, but that was all. What I have gained since then I have picked up from time to time under pressure of necessity."

After a residence of ten years in Spencer county, Mr. Lincoln, at the age of 19, made a journey as a hired man on a flat-boat to New Orleans and return. Later, in 1830, his father emigrated with his family to Mason county, Ill., the future president accompanying him and assisting in building the log cabin in which the family subsequently lived, as well as in clearing a field for cultivation and splitting rails to fence it. The location chosen was an unfortunate one, that section of country being decidedly unhealthy, and sickness prostrating every member of the household. This condition of things prompted Thomas Lincoln to remove to a more promising region; and, at this time, Abraham Lincoln, being now of age, hired out for himself to one Offutt, in Sangamon county, Ill., whom he helped to build a flat-boat and accompanied him down the Sangamon, the Illinois and Mississippi rivers to New Orleans, [illegible] the return.

Subsequently he [illegible] the store [illegible] where he had some leisure, which he improved in study and mental discipline, borrowing a grammar and other books, which he mastered before he laid them aside. Here in this humble position he soon gained the entire confidence of the community because of his sterling honesty, accommodating spirit, sociability and high sense of right and justice. Hence, scarcely a year later, when the Blackhawk war broke out, he volunteered in one of the Sangamon county companies and was promptly made captain. Just before his departure for the war, which lasted three months, he had announced himself a candidate for the legislature, but was defeated, owing to the fact that the legislative district was a very large one and he was a comparative stranger, outside of the immediate section in which he lived. His defeat, however, was soon salved in a measure by his appointment as postmaster at New Salem.

Mr. Lincoln ambitiously entered into business for himself, but either the commercial spirit was not strongly developed in him or else extraneous influences were too potent to be overcome and he soon failed, entailing upon himself a burden of debt under which his spirit groaned until he had liquidated it to the last dollar. While he was in this financial strait, the county surveyor of Sangamon made him one of his deputies; which position, it is needless to say, he filled with that conscientious regard for duty which so strongly stamped his conduct throughout life.

He had scarcely recovered from the distress of his business failure, when in 1834, at the age of 25, he was elected to the legislature; to which body he was reelected in 1836, 1838 and 1840, at the end of the latter term declining a renomination. In the same year that he was first elected to the legislature he entered earnestly upon the study of law and was admitted to the bar in the autumn of 1836. Six months later, or April 15, 1837, he left New Salem and removed to Springfield, then the county seat of Sangamon and later the capital of the state, to begin the practice of law.

Nine years passed, in which Mr. Lincoln studied unremittingly, improving himself in the literature of his language, as well as acquainting himself with the intricacies of the law, traveling the extended circuit which was embraced within his practice and forming wide acquaintance, which served him in excellent stead in future years.

He was elected to congress in 1846 as a whig; in 1854 the opposition of four members of the legislature alone prevented his election to the United States senate. When, two years later, the republican pary was organized in Illinois, Mr. Lincoln became its recognized leader and in 1858 occurred his memorable contest with Mr. Douglas for the United States senatorship, which resulted in the election of his adversary, but also gave him a national reputation, which culminated in his nomination over Mr. Seward in 1860 and his accession as president of the United States.

Mr. Lincoln's life in connection with the war is a part of the history of the country itself. Probably the most memorable events in which he was prime factor were his proclamation of emancipation, January 1, 1863, and his Gettysburg address in the same year. In all the years of the peril of the republic he inspired general confidence, because of his master genius and the sublime patriotism which animated him. The eyes of all loyal men were turned toward him and in no case did he disappoint their expectations. His administration in those trying times was cautious, yet brave, and efficient to all the ends had in view. Reelected in 1864, he was assassinated April 14, following, in Ford's theater, by John Wilkes Booth.

Mr. Lincoln was married in 1842 to Mary Todd, and one son, Robert T. Lincoln, survives. Mr. Lincoln was six feet, four inches in height, spare in build, yet muscular; he had a homely and sad, yet attractive face; his spirit was one of kindness and gentleness towards all—enemies as well as friends. His virtues were legion; his faults were trifles. He was too great that he should have been other than magnanimous, and those whom duty compelled him to overcome lost in his death a friend that would have shown love for them in the hour of their adversity. Because of the nobility of his life and the greatness of his deeds, his name is a household one and will be so as long as the nation continues a republic and esteems virtue, honor and patriotism as the highest qualities of American citizenship.

ROSSER COBB.

BRIEF AND INTERESTING.

Almost the only monument of the Roman dominion in Egypt, the fortress of Babylon, at Old Cairo, is being torn down to make way for modern buildings.

The latest story of the kind is of a needle which a woman in South Surry, Me., swallowed 72 years ago, and which prodded its way out of her elbow a week or two ago.

Beverage is the suggestive, appropriate, but noncommittal name of the man elected president of a temperance society in North Haven, Me., a few days ago.

Eighty varieties of microbes, some entirely new, have been discovered by M. Van de Steen in Amsterdam drinking water. None of them are cholera bacilli.

A German antarctic expedition has been decided upon and 950,000 marks allotted to it. It will consist of two vessels, will last three years and will start south from Kerguelen island.

Kildare and Wicklow have been justly termed the garden of Ireland, for nowhere is nature more profuse in her display of the picturesque and the beautiful.

The nettle is put to a useful purpose in some parts of Europe by being converted into various textile fabrics. In Dresden a thread from it has been produced so fine and silky that a length of 60 miles weighs only 40 ounces.

Down to the depth of 200 fathoms where daylight appears, the eyes of a fish get bigger and bigger. Beyond that depth small-eyed forms set in, with long feelers developed to supplement the eyes.

Frederick Thompson, aged 75, sat in a bootblack's chair in a San Francisco street, and was having his boots polished, when a fatal attack of heart disease closed his career. The man had been dead three minutes before the bootblack was aware of the tragedy.

An interesting duel was witnessed in Pike county, Pa., not long ago. The duelists were prize rams, and their method of combat was unique. They would repeatedly back off from each other to a distance of about 40 feet, and then dash madly forward until their heads collided. This plan they continued until one ram dropped dead.

NOTES OF VENEZUELA.

Liberty of worship is guaranteed by law.

The standing army consists of a little over 3,000 men.

The republic claims an area of 632,807 square miles.

The constitution is modeled on that of the United States.

The emancipation of slaves took place on March 24, 1854.

The national militia consists of all males between the ages of 18 and 45.

From 1550 until early in this century the country was under Spanish dominion.

The coast of Venezuela was the first part of the American mainland sighted by Columbus.

The monetary system of Venezuela is that of the Latin convention, the franc being represented by the bolivar.

Don Guzman Blanco was dictator from 1870 until Februrary 20, 1873, when he was elected constitutional president.

It was not until 1845 that the independence of the republic was recognized by Spain in the treaty of Madrid.

In 1810 Venezuela rose against the Spanish yoke, and in the following year the independence of the territory was proclaimed.

The pure white population is less than three per cent. The vast majority of the people are negroes, Indians, mulattoes and zambos.

Elementary education is well provided for under the law. There are two universities, 19 federal colleges and various other public and private institutions for higher education.

HISTORY REPEATED.

From the date of the creation to that of the flood, the Hebrew version calculates 1,656 years; the Septuagint 2,262; the difference being 606 years.

Dishes of gold and silver used in table service in 900 B. C., were found at Troy by Dr. Schliemann. One of these was about the size now employed.

The League of Armed Neutrality was a convention originally formed in 1780, between Russia, Denmark and Sweden. The states general subsequently entered this league, and it was also joined by the king of Prussia on May 8, 1871, and by the kaiser on October 9 of the same year.

Nova Scotia was discovered by Cabot, 1497, visited by Verrazzani, 1524, and named Acadia. Settled in 1622 by the Scotch under Sir William Alexander, in the reign of James I. of England, from whom it received the name of Nova Scotia. Since its first settlement it has more than once changed proprietors, and was not confirmed to England till the peace of Utrecht in 1713.

ABOUT THE WOMEN.

One of the richest heiresses in the world is Lady Mary Hamilton Douglas, the 11-year-old daughter of the late duke of Hamilton, whose income is now about £160,000 a year, and will be well above £200,000 by the time she is of age.

Ex-Empress Eugenie has recently deposited her will with a prominent London attorney, in which, true to her pledge, she has left a legacy to each of the 5,834 male persons of France born on the birthday of her son, Prince Louis.

One of the maids of honor to the young empress of Russia was married a few months ago. On bidding her good-by the empress congratulated her warmly, adding: "I shall indeed be sorry to lose you, but I am so happy myself that I wish every one to be married, too."

Improve YOUR OPPORTUNITY!

Get Some of the BARGAINS IN FURNITURE and CHINA.

before removal to Jackson Building.

Heat Your Rooms With the

Surio Gas Globe Heater.

Goes on any Gas Jet.

G. Q. Packer. Jos. W. Gavett.

Putnam & DeGraw

THIS WEEK WE WILL SELL

SHIRT WAISTS—Ladies laundered shirt waists only 50c.
UMBRELLAS—Fast black, Paragon frame, only 75c.
HOSIERY—Children's 1x1 rib, extra quality, all sizes, 15c; ladies fast black seamless, extra quality, at 10, 15 and 25c; men's mixed half hose, extra quality 10c, 3 for 25c; men's mixed half hose, seamless, extra heavy, 15c, 2 for 25 cents.
WAISTS—Children's corded underwaists 25c; children's outing flannel waists 50c style for 40c.
NECKWEAR—A new and special line at 25 and 50c.
EMBROIDERIES—Our's are the talk of the city.
COTTON CREPONS—Evening shades at 12 and 15c a yard.

COSTS NOTHING

to see our immense line of wall papers—or to let us estimate on your Spring decorating—We are

GLAD TO DO IT!

Edward Love,

Corner North and Watchung Avenues.

Waverley BICYCLES. Highest of High Grades. Are the Most Popular in the World.

Are Built in the Largest and Best Equipped Factory in the World. They are the Most Popular and Best Selling Wheels Made.

Evidenced by the fact that there were more of them sold in '95 than any other make. Be sure to see sample before purchasing your '96 wheel.

Made by Indiana Bicycle Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

F. L. C. MARTIN, AGENT. 1 27 eod

BOICE, RUNYON & CO., —Dealers in—

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Material, &c

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

Creamery Butter

20c Per Pound at

J. F. MACDONALD'S

Uptown Grocery.

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 NORTH AVENUE.

May Change Her Mind

and her stationery. This unwritten law may be observed just as often as she desires, and then, if not thoroughly satisfied, can get her money back for the asking. However, we find few who do not like our 25c box of paper and envelopes when desiring the medium grade.

R. C. RAND,

140 West Front st.

HONEYMAN'S PRIVATE TOURS,

181 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Easter week to Washington; June 27, Coaching trip abroad, with Switzerland and Italy; August to New England; December to Mexico.

A. Lusardi,

120 North Ave.,

will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c a qt. Branch store, corner Front and Somerset streets.

P. MARKEY, Bakery,

144 PARK AVENUE.

A full assortment of bread, cakes, and pies fresh every day. Fig and malt bread a specialty. 2 17 tf

R. H. Rushton. J. C. Hansen. A. Luthman.

Rushton, Hansen & Luthman,

PAINTERS & PAPER HANGERS,

P. O. Box 773, Plainfield, N. J.

Interior decorating a specialty. Our motto—first-class work. Estimates cheerfully given. Orders promptly attended to. 2 11 tf

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Anthracite Coal Used Exclusively, Insuring Cleanliness and Comfort.

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street.

Time Table in Effect Nov. 17, 1895.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 14, 3 37, 5 28, 6 04, 6 29, 6 50, 7 26, 7 30, 7 53, 8 00, 8 15, 8 27, 8 31, 8 48, 9 22, 10 07, 10 27, 10 59 a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 9 23, 10 17, 11 28, p.m. Sunday, 2 14, 3 37, 5 04, 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 10 59, 11 14 a m; 12 55, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 28, 10 17, p m.

Leave New York, Foot Liberty St., at 4 20, 6 00, 7 15, 8 00, 8 40, 9 10, 10 00, 11 45, a m; 1 10, 1 30, 2 30, 3 30, 3 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 15, 5 30, 5 45, 6 00, 6 15, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 30, p m; 12 15, 1 00, night. Sunday, 4 30, 7 15, 9 00, 9 15, a m; 12 00 m; 1 00, 1 30, 2 30, 4 00, 5 30, 7 00, 9 00, 10 00, p m; 12 15 night, 1 00 a m

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield at 5 38, 6 29, 6 59, 7 26, 8 00, 8 48, 9 22, 10 04, 10 27, a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 10 17, 11 28, p m. Sunday 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 11 16 a m; 12 55, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17 p. m.

Leave Newark at 6 15, 7 18, 7 55, 8 30, 9 05, 10 05, 11 35, a m; 1 15, 1 35, 2 05, 2 35, 4 05, 4 40, 5 04, 5 24, 5 50, 6 20, 7 15, 7 55, 8 40, 10 05, 11 25, p. m. Sunday 7 30, 9 05, 9 30, 11 35 a m; 1 10, 1 35; 2 35, 4 05, 5 40, 7 20, 9 25, 10 30

Passengers for Newark please change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 5 45, 7 10, 8 16, 9 54, 11 09 a m; 12 46, 2 11, 2 22, 3 35, 4 36, 5 05, 5 14, 5 34, 6 04, 6 35, 6 38, 7 12, 7 34, 8 21, 10 26, 11 23, p m; 12 38 night. Sunday 5 45, 8 28, 9 55, a m; 2 03, 3 42, 5 14, 6 05, 10 15, 7 14 p m.

Leave Somerville at 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 25, 7 30, 7 48, 8 20 9 05, 9 48, 11 40 a. m; 12 50, 1 48, 3 05, 3 25, 4 25, 4 59, 6 35, 8 07, 8 45, 11 05 p. m. Sunday at 8 25, 9 45, 10 35 a m; 12 08, 1 20, 5 10, 6 35, 8 05, 8 05, 9 40 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield at 5 45, 8 16, 9 54 a m., 12 46, 2 11, 5 05, 5 14, 6 38, 8 21 p. m. Sunday at 5 45, 8 28, a m; 2 03, 6 35 p m.

Leave Easton at 6 05, 7 00, 8 53, a m; 12 32, 2 45, 4 49, 7 00, p. m. Sunday at 7 15, 10 03 a m; 6 40, 7 30 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield at 9 54 a. m.; 5 05 5 14.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

5 45 a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m.—For stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 a. m.—For Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 54 a. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch D. L. & W. R. R., Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Shamokin, Nanticoke, and Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. with buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 46 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 11 p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Tamaqua, Sunbury, Williamsport, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

5 05 p. m., way for Easton, connecting with High Bridge for stations on High Bridge Branch.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Scranton, Wilkesbarre, Tamaqua, Shamokin, (buffet parlor car to Scranton.)

6 19 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 38 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, and Harrisburg.

8 21 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

5 45 a. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

8 28 a. m. Sundays—For Easton.

2 03 p. m. Sundays—For High Bridge for High Bridge Branch Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading, and Harrisburg.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 35 p. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c., and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

FOR LONG BRANCH, OCEAN GROVE, ETC.

Leave Plainfield at 3 37, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, p. m. Sunday, (except Ocean Grove) 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 3 37, 5 38, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, 7 03, p. m., Sundays 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Atlantic City, 3 37 a. m.; 1 18 p. m.

For Freehold, 3 37, 8 00, 10 27 a. m.; 1 18, 3 51, 5 24 p. m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44 9 46, 10 44 a. m.; 2 17, 5 34*, 6 45, 8 21, 9 37*, 1 17 night. Sundays—5 17, 5 45, 9 55 10 44 a. m., 2 25, 4 55, 5 14* 6 45 p. m. 1 17 night.

For Trenton, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44, 9 46, a. m. 12 46, 2 17, 5 34*, 6 38*, 8 21, 9 37* p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays 5 17, 5 45, 9 55 a. m., 2 25, 4 55, 5 14*, 6 35*, p. m. 1 17 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 8 44, 10 44 a. m., 5 34*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays, 10 44 a. m., 5 14*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points West, week-days at 9 54 a. m., 8 21 p. m. Sunday 6 35 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked (*) change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rates may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN, General Superintendent.
H. P. BALDWIN, General Passenger Agent.

Jones & Co., EXCAVATORS.

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.

Cesspools Built.

Sewer Connections Made

Properly and Earth Replaced Carefully.

PLUMBING TESTED.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front street.

CLASSES FOR Women and Girls IN Gymnastic Exercises, Swimming and Fencing.

Miss Elizabeth C. MacMartin, Inst'r.

will meet applicants for membership Wednesday afternoon from 2 until 3, at the Y. M. C. A.

M. Powers & Son. Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75 in the Yard.
A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office 763 South ave. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

Your Spring Clothing

Rather early to speak of it, but if it needs cleaning or dyeing, it isn't too early to have us do that work for you. This is our dull season—our employes are here ready for work. We'd like to have your goods now. We can give them better attention than in the rush of the spring season. Then we'll have to have more time or rush them at the expense of good work. Now we can take our time, do the work better than if hurried and you'll have the clothing all ready for warm weather.

Look in the closet or trunk and find your spring wear that needs cleaning and dyeing and bring it to us now, or better still, our wagon will call for it if you will send us word.

Hillier & Co.,

179 North ave., Plainfield.

THIS IS

the season most people need a

TONIC,

and no better can be found than

Leggett's

Malt Extract.

It is a pure concentrated extract of malt and hops.

Price 20 cents a bottle, $2 a dozen.

Leggett's Pharmacy,

Y. M. C. Building.

E. H. Holmes,

Dealer in

Coal & Wood.

Yard—No. 208 Madison avenue. Office for coal orders with Woolston & Buckle, 145 North ave.

Telephone 49-A.

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the first and third Thursday eveningsof each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.
John Fellows, Dictator.
R. A. Frey, Reporter.

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays in the Babcock Building. C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Sec.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Babcock Building, West Front street. D. C. Adams, W. M.
Charles Yeager, Sec.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the second and fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward Building, Park avenue, at 8 p.m.
Harry C. Adams, Regent.
Frederick C. Pope, Secretary.

McCullough's STEAM MILL,

21 Steiner place, North Plainfield.

R. H. McCullough, Prop.

Sash, blinds, doors, mouldings, scroll sawing, turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully furnished.

ERNEST BARRETT,

Sanitary Plumbing, Steam and Hot Water Heating

All work guaranteed. Estimates cheerfully given. Jobbing promptly attended to.

325 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

L. L. MANNING, Marble AND Granite Works,

Corner Central avenue and West Front street, opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

Telephone 29b. Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON,

Plumbing and Hot Water Heating.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.

Opposite Roberts's Livery. 132 North ave.

MONEY

Cannot buy better

Men's Suits,

in fine imported Black and Blue Cheviot, Diagonal or fancy weave, single or double breasted at $9.90.

reduced from $15, $18 and $20.

WERNER'S,

206 West Front st.

J. W. VanSickle, Dealer in all kinds of

FRESH AND SALTED MEATS.

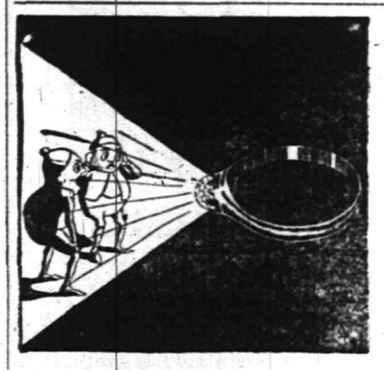
Game in season. No. 122 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Telephone 148b. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

Your Valuables

will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

Lock boxes from $3.50 to $10 a year.



A BRILLIANT SIGHT.

is afforded everyone who looks through our stock of diamonds and other precious stones—and their setting is only second to them in beauty. You can't think of anything in the jewelry line you can't get here. If you can, let us know and we'll get it at short notice.

COLLIER, 103 Park Avenue.

Established 1869.

INSURANCE.

I. C. Pope & Co.,

INSURANCE AGENTS,

110 East Front st., Plainfield, N. J.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance,

197 North avenue

INSURANCE.

WM. H. ABBOTT,

171 North Ave.

A Card to the Public

For nearly 20 years the public of Plainfield and vicinity have given me the largest share of their patronage in the purchasing of hats and gent's furnishings, showing that honest effort, low prices and reliable goods are appreciated. I have now associated with me Mr. Charles Clark, of Westfield, N. J., who comes to us highly recommended as a competent, honest young man. We will add to our stock of hats and gent's furnishings, a full line of men's and youth's shoes and rubbers, keeping only reliable goods and selling at the lowest possible prices.

Thankful for past favors, we are yours for business, U. B. CRANE, 120 West Front st.

Succeeded by Crane & Clark.

F. A. DUNHAM,

Civil Engineer and Surveyor

109 Park ave. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas. Telephone 87—F.

Dogs

IRON AND BRASS

FIRE-DOGS.

Curtis M. Thorpe,

Y. M. C. A. Building

"Everything for the Fireplace."

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.
F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We the undersigned have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transaction and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.
West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggist, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

VanEmburgh & SON.

Corner Store, Babcock Building.

We work for the GOOD WILL as well as the patronage of our customers.

Our prices are plain blunt arguments.

New Spring Flannelettes, 10c. yd.
Spring colors in Figured Valours, 12c yd.
New Mourning Sateens, 12c yd.
New spring figured Cambrics, 12c yard.
We are the people for nice Outings, 10c. yd.
Boys' Derby Ribbed Hose, 10c., 15c., 18c. pair.
Plain colors, Windsor Ties 10c.
Extra Wind Windsor Ties. 25c.
Extra size Windsor Ties, (hemstitched, 50c. each.
Our Corset Covers are selling at 15c, 19c, 25c, 30c, 42c, 54c, 59c, 72c, 89c each.
P. N. Corsets, perfect fit, 50c. 75c, $1.00 pair.
2 Turkish Bath Towels for 19c.
Roll Tape, all widths, 2c. each.
Attachable Corset Clasps, 5c pair.
Attachable Corset Clasps, (cork protector) 8c. pair.
Japanned Dress Steels, 5c. dozen.
Covered Dress Steels, 6c. set.
Safety Pins, all sizes, 3c. dozen.
Tooth Brushes, good ones, 5c. each
Fast Black Darning Cotton, 2c. ball
Zephyr Worsted, all colors, 4c. lop
100 yards Best Spool Silk, black and colors, 7c. Spool.

Read Sheeting Muslins. Read

1	yard wide, bleached,	6c.	yard.
1 1-8	yards wide, "	6 1-2c.	"
1 1-4	" " "	7 1-2c.	"
1 1-2	" " "	11c.	"
1 3-4	" " "	13c.	"
2	" " "	14 1-2c	"
2 1-4	" " "	16c.	"
2 1-2	" " "	17 1-2c	"

VAN EMBURGH & SON,

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

New York Mails.
Arrive—7:30, 8:40, 11:15 a.m., 2:45, 5, 5:30 p. m.
Close—7 15 and 9:20 a. m., 1:30, 4 30 and 7:30 p. m.

Somerville and Easton Mails.
Arrive—8:40 a. m., 2:40, 6:00 p. m.
Close—7:15 a. m., 4:30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arr. 12 m; closes 9:30 a. m.

Sunday Mails.
Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6:15 p. m.

J. M. HETFIELD, P. M.

GEO. O. STEVENS COAL. 747 WEST FRONT ST.

Branch office with

G. A. HALLOCK,

109 West Front st.

Edwin B. Maynard,

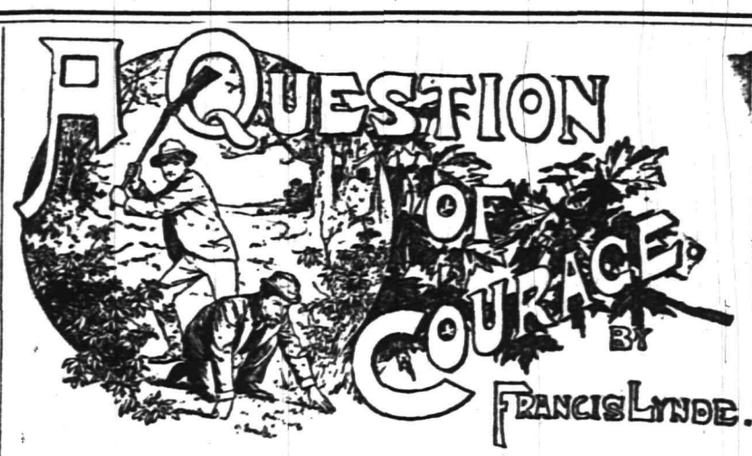
Hair Cutting and Shampooing.

Tonsorial parlor, 204 Park ave., Plainfield. Ladies' shampooing and children's hair cutting a specialty.

NOTICE.

All hackmen, truckmen and peddlers must make application to renew their licenses before Monday night, February 24th, as all licenses will expire on March 1st, and any person without a license will be required to suspend his business until one is procured.

GEO. W. GRANT,
Chief of Police.



[Copyright, 1895, by J. B. Lippincott Co.]

I.

A VACATION VAGARY.

"Whatever brought you to Tregarthen, Mr. Ringbrand? It seems to me to be the last place in the world where an author could hope to find material."

"Who has been accusing me of any such intention, Mrs. Ludlow?"

"Why, an accusation isn't necessary; everyone knows that when an author can be induced to exchange the literary atmosphere of his respected Boston, or his beloved New York, for the prosaic surroundings of a dingy little coal-mining village in the Tennessee mountains, there must be a stronger motive than a mere sightseer's curiosity."

"Perhaps you are right. And yet I think you are a little severe; if one were seeking inspiration, what could be more uplifting than that?"—waving his hand with a comprehensive gesture toward the moonlit picture of valley and mountain framed by the pillars of the veranda. "But I assure you, as I said a moment ago, I couldn't give a sensible reason for coming here—inasmuch as I did not know that you were hibernating in Tregarthen. I'm not sure which was the more surprised when we met this morning, Ludlow or myself. I had lost track of you years ago."

"But we hadn't of you—thanks to the magazines. And that brings me back; what can you find worth studying here?"

Ringbrand laughed. "You positively refuse to be diverted, don't you? Perhaps I couldn't find anything, but from the little I've seen of place and people I should say there was a perfect mine of story-telling material if one would take the trouble to develop it."

"I can't see where you would find it."

"That's because you live here; you're unable to get the perspective of unfamiliarity on the quaintness of the people or the beauty of the scenery. The things that are curious and interesting to a newcomer are commonplace to you, because you see them every day."

"I'm sure it's very nice of you to put it in that way; one likes to be told that one comes short of genius only in—unfamiliarity. But you haven't told me yet why you came to Tregarthen."

"Mrs. Ludlow, you're positively incorrigible. I assure you I left New York a week ago with only one clearly-defined idea; that was that I was overworked and weary and needed a vacation. Everybody goes to Europe and to the resorts in summer, and I wanted to get away from the crowd; if you please, you may call that a reason for my coming south. My ticket ran out at Nashville, but the quiet of your beautiful capital city didn't compensate for the unspeakable heat, so I took to the road again, with Asheville for a destination."

"That's all beautifully clear and reasonable up to a certain point, Mr Ringbrand. Now, if you will only tell me what possessed you to leave your comfortable parlor car to come away up here on a coal train, I'll be satisfied."

The shadow on the veranda prevented the lady from seeing the look of embarrassment that flitted across the face of her visitor, and his hesitation in replying was fortunately covered by the entrance of his host. "Sit down here, Ludlow," he said; "Mrs. Ludlow has had me in the confessional for the last half hour, and I was just upon the point of concocting a pure fabrication to account for my being in Tregarthen. Can't you explain to her that a man may sometimes do unaccountable things?"

"One would think an explanation wouldn't be necessary," replied Ludlow, cynically, tossing his hat into the hall and drawing up a chair. "Let's see, how long have we been married, Helen?"

"Long enough to make me very curious and inquisitive, as Mr. Ringbrand is just finding out. He confesses that he didn't know we were here, and he can't give any plausible reason for giving up his trip to Asheville."

"I'm not surprised; if the Tregarthen Coal & Iron company could get along without a superintendent for a month or such matter, I believe I'd go off and do something unaccountable myself; it's a part of my creed that a man should be totally irresponsible on a vacation. But see here, Ringbrand, if you're going to stay in Tregarthen you've got to come to us; I'm not going to have you put up at that miserable excuse for a hotel down in the village. You'll die of dyspepsia in a week."

"You are Good Samaritans," replied Ringbrand, laughing; "I've got it already—dyspepsia, I mean. Why, Mrs. Ludlow, you've no conception of what they've been making me eat down there! For breakfast I had salt bacon, biscuits and potatoes; for dinner there were potatoes, biscuits and salt bacon; and for supper they varied the bill of fare by leaving out the potatoes. And the biscuits—upon my soul, you never saw anything like them in your life!"

"Oh, yes, I have," responded the lady, cheerfully; "let me describe them: they were about half an inch thick, and when you took one between your thumb and finger, so, you could press the grease out of the edge. But didn't they give you any coffee?"

"I think not; I certainly had some thing to drink, but I'm quite positive it wasn't coffee. Indeed, now that you mention it, I remember having made a note of it with the intention of asking the landlord to define it for me."

"I don't know what we've been thinking of, to let you stay there at all," interposed Ludlow. "If you'll excuse us for a few minutes, my dear, we'll just step down and get Ringbrand's luggage to-night—I suppose you travel in a grip, don't you, Hugh?"

"Yes, or at least in two of them; they're not heavy, though."

Two days earlier, while his train was stopping at Chilwanee Junction to transfer passengers to the Harmony Valley branch, Hugh Ringbrand had seen a girl descend from the through train and cross the platform to the accommodation. She was strikingly beautiful, after a type quite unfamiliar to the student; and the passing glimpse he had of her face made him wish that he might study it at leisure. It suddenly occurred to him that there was nothing in his purposeless plans to prevent it; and he hastily transferred himself and his belongings to a seat in the other train, whence he could continue his observations. The study once begun, the beauty of her face grew upon him, pushing him swiftly to the conclusion that nothing short of acquaintance would enable him to complete his character-sketch; and, not being a commercial traveler, the simpler method of obtaining the desired degree of intimacy did not suggest itself. On the contrary, he could think of no better expedient than to leave the train at the young lady's destination, trusting to the chapter of accidents for further help. The absurdity of this hastily-approved design appealed to his sense of humor when the conductor asked for his fare and he was unable to tell the official where he wanted to go.

"I have no ticket," he said, "but I will pay to the end of the line. How much is it?"

"To Kingville, sah?"

"Yes, that's the place—Kingville. It's singular how these names escape one, isn't it?"

"Oh, I dunno," replied the man; "I forgit sometimes, m'self. Two dollars and fo'ty cents. There's your change."

The accommodation was a mixed train of empty coal and iron cars towing a single passenger coach; and on its slow progress up the valley Ringbrand had ample opportunity to analyze his subject so far as simple observation would serve him. Before they reached Tregarthen he had a fair mental picture of the oval face, lighted by eyes of a dusky hue rarely seen in the Anglo-Saxon types; and he had even gone so far as to try to transfer it from his mental camera to a leaf of his note book. The pencil-picture was fairly good, from a technical point of view, but when he saw how the black-and-white suggestion failed to give even a hint of the transparency of her complexion, or of the changeful expression that came and went on her face as she turned the leaves of her book, he tore it up and dropped the fragments out of the window. The book suggested an idea, and he got up and walked down the aisle, catching the title in passing. "'St. Elmo,'" he mused; "that's healthy, but it's no indication of character; I suppose every young woman reads Miss Evans. She's reading intelligently, though; anyone can see that; she doesn't look as if she'd be guilty of skimming. How the mischief am I ever to find out who she is? Hello! she's putting the book away; this must be her stopping-place."

The train was slowing into Tregarthen, and Ringbrand got his luggage ready for a strategic pursuit. It was quite dark by this time, and he did not mean to lose sight of her until he was quite sure of her destination. When the train stopped she tripped lightly up the aisle, and Ringbrand followed, reaching the car door in time to see the conductor help her down the steps; but when he attempted to get off, the man stopped him.

"Hold on," he exclaimed; "this ain't your town; we ain't half way there yet."

"That's all right. I want to stop here. I've changed my mind," protested Ringband, trying to get past him.

"Well, jest hold on a minute; don't be in sich a turrible rush; I collected your fare to Kingville, an' I've got too much of your money."

"Hang your fare! I don't want it. Let me get off."

"All right, cap'n; jest as you say," replied the over-zealous conductor, swinging Ringbrand's valise to the platform. "There you are, right side up with care."

As he had feared, the slight delay lost him his opportunity; when his glance searched the small platform, his traveling companion had disappeared, and he was not the man to make hap-hazard inquiries about her of the straggling loungers at the station. When the train had departed, he saw the glare of an iron furnace a short distance farther up the track, and the twinkling lights of a town on the hillside above the station. While he was wondering if there was a hotel, a decrepit old negro hobbled up to him, hat in hand.

"Cyar' yo' baggage up to de hotel sah? Yes, sah; t'ank yo', sah. Right 'long dish yere way, sah."

"Got a good hotel here, uncle?" inquired Ringbrand, as they toiled up the steep hillside.

"Right sma't good hotel, sah; yes, sah; t'ank yo', sah. Hit's de one what Gin'ral Jackson yoosted to stop at when he's gwine to Washin'ton, fo' de wah."

Ringbrand had not been long enough in east Tennessee to know that every hostelry within 100 miles of the crossing of the Clinch river made a similar claim, but the conceit struck him as being a quaint one, and it occurred to him that the ancient negro was probably an old resident and therefore acquainted with most of the families in the neighborhood.

"Did you see Miss—Miss—Montague get off the train just now, uncle?" he inquired, nonchalantly, hazarding a guess at the name in the hope that his guide would correct him.

"Who, me? No, sah; thank yo', sah. I doesn't know any lady o' dat name, sah. Didn't see no lady git off de train; no, sah."

That grappling hook having come up empty, Ringbrand was compelled to await further developments; and as he smoked his after-supper cigar in the dingy little office of the hotel, he tried to convince himself that the present adventure was only another example of the persistent obstinacy with which he had pursued other quests in the study of his art. The effort may have been wholly successful, but the conclusion did not enable him to banish the picture of the girl's face, which haunted him even after he had gone to sleep amid the dismal furnishings of Gen. Jackson's room.

The following morning he was fortunate enough to stumble upon Ludlow who was an old friend and one of his college classmates. The meeting afforded the plainest possible solution of the author's problem, but he seemed somehow quite unable to frame the simple inquiries which would have solved it. He reasoned that Ludlow would misunderstand his motives; that he would be accused of falling in love with a pretty face; that if it would be indelicate to question strangers about the girl's identity, it would be impertinence to ask his friend. So it happened that two days slipped by without bringing him any nearer to the object of his visit to Tregarthen, and he was beginning to hold himself in derision, when a lucky chance brought him the opportunity for which he was waiting. It was on the day following his installation at Ludlow's, and he was returning from a visit to the furnace with his host. They stepped aside at a narrow place in the hill side road to let a buggy pass. Ringbrand lifted his hat in deference to his friend's salutation to the occupants of the vehicle, and nearly let it fall when he realized that he was face to face with the object of his search.

"Cyar' yo' baggage up to de hotel, sah?"

"Who are they?" he asked, as soon as they had driven on.

"That's Col. Latimer and his daughter Hester," replied Ludlow. "By the way, if you want to make character studies, there's a good chance for you. The colonel's an old-time southern gentleman of the school that you authors are always attempting to portray and can't. Here's the opportunity of your life to get a picture that'll be as good as a photograph."

"I should be delighted to improve it," responded Ringbrand; "can you suggest the means?"

"Nothing easier; though I fancy it'll be to our detriment. The colonel's one of our directors, and he was the original owner of the Tregarthen coal lands; his hospitality is as wide as the heavens. If I introduce you he'll be carrying you off to 'The Laurels,' and we'll lose you."

"Don't be too sure of that; I'm pretty comfortable where I am. But I should like to make the colonel's acquaintance. Where is 'The Laurels?'"

"It's up on the mountain, just where you see that clear space beyond the mine-opening. It's an old-fashioned Tennessee home—wide verandas, big rooms, immense fireplaces, and all that. You could get a lot of good material out of the place—not to mention the colonel and his son and Miss Hester."

"Yes, I suppose I could; but, Ludlow, be a good fellow, now, and drop the iden that I'm an animated interrogation-point, going about with a Paul Pry nose and a reporter's note-book. Don't you see that a hint of such a thing would be likely to prejudice her from the start?"

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

Quick in effect, heals and leaves no scar. Burning, scaly skin eruptions quickly cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Applied to burns, scalds, old sores, it is magical in effect. Always cures piles. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

GREEN AND WHITE TEA.

Followed by a Salamagundi Party at the Home of Mrs. H. K. Carroll.

One of the most delightful social events of the season was enjoyed Saturday afternoon from four to seven o'clock at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. K. Carroll, of Westervelt avenue, when Mrs. Carroll gave a green and white tea. She was assisted in receiving by Mrs. John H. Valiant.

In the reception room Miss Carroll, Miss Grace Carroll and Mrs. H. F. Randolph received, while Miss Barnes, of Brooklyn, and Mrs. Most poured tea in the dining room.

Those assisting as waitresses were: Miss Jessie Carroll, Miss Lottie Carroll, of Maryland, Mrs. Harry Stillman, of Newark, Miss Clara Steiner, Miss Mamie Steiner, Miss Alice Loomis, Miss Marguerite Schuck and Mrs. Elmer Winckler.

The rooms were beautified with a choice arrangement of smilax, pink roses and broad bands of green and white ribbon. The table was prettily decorated in the same colors.

The house was thronged with guests who thoroughly enjoyed the bountiful hospitality of the hostess.

In the evening a salamagundi party was given to those who assisted at the tea. The first and second ladies' prizes were awarded to Miss Marguerite Schuck and Mrs. Most, while John McLoughlin and Mr. Carroll, of Maryland, secured the first and second prizes for the men.

FUNERAL OF AMBASSADOR RUNYON.

The Services at the Church Will be Simple and Devoid of Display.

The funeral of the late Theodore Runyon, Ambassador to Germany, at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, Newark, today, will be simple in character and will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Henry Baker, rector of the church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Jacob Todd, of Philadelphia, formerly pastor of St. Paul's. Bishop Andrews, of the Newark Methodist Conference, will read the services as the funeral party enters the church, and Presiding Elder Hammond will offer a prayer. Addresses will be made by the Rev. Dr. Todd and the Rev. Dr. Baker.

After these services the body will be taken to Mount Pleasant Cemetery and placed in a vault.

THEATRICAL.

The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette says: The Gorman Brothers' farewell performances will be given this afternoon and tonight. Their production of "The Gilhoolys Abroad" has made a most pleasing impression on the patrons of the Fountain this week, and their return to this city will be eagerly looked forward to by their many friends and admirers. At Music Hall Wednesday night.

Miss Rachelle Renard, supported by her own company of competant players, will appear at Music Hall, Feb. 28, 29, presenting Ingomar on Friday night, a grand revival of East Lynn on Saturday, Matinee, and Jack Sheppard on Saturday evening. The prices for this engagement only have been placed at 25, 35 and 50 cents, with the matinee at 10 cents to all.

Saloon Keepers on Trial.

Nearly two hundred subpoenas have been sent out to witnesses in the cases of the twenty saloon-keepers of Elizabeth who have been indicted for violating the Sunday law and whose trials were set for this morning. Those belonging to the Liquor Dealer's League will be defended by Samuel Kalisch and ex-Senator Barrett, of Newark, and Louis A. Graff, of Elizabeth. Ex-City Attorney Connolly, of Elizabeth, will appear for some of the others.

Arrested for Assault.

Sullivan Velard and John Wilson, of the borough, were arrested Saturday night for being drunk and assaulting an eighteen-year-old boy named Mears on Grove street. Marshals Lines, Dowd and Hansen arrested them. Today the men were given a hearing by Justice Crosley and fined $7 each. They claimed the boy called them names and insulted them.

Home Mission Day.

Home Mission Day was observed yesterday afternoon by the Crescent Avenue Church Sunday School. Dr. Lewis gave an interesting address and told in a very pleasing manner the kind of people we are helping when we give our money in the Home Mission cause.

In Odd Costumes.

A delightful masquerade party was given at the home of Victor Lorton, of 436 West Fifth street, Friday night. Victor Lorton was one of the best of the comical characters. Mrs. Fred Haberle, as an old lady, wore a very fine costume, a century and a half old, valued at over $300.

—A stereopticon exhibition will be given in the Seventh-day Baptist church next Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. John Neagle is engaged in making one hundred new slides for the occasion.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE

—Anna Jackson, colored, charged with stealing a flatiron and dress from Erasmus Harris, had an examination before Justice Newcorn Friday afternoon, and for lack of evidence, was discharged.

—The native African singers, direct from Kaffirland, S. A., who appeared at the Y. M. C. A., Saturday night, will be present at the prayer service in the Trinity Reformed church Wednesday evening.

—A valuable horse belonging to Charles Barker, of Bernardsville, was stolen yesterday morning about 1 o'clock from his stable. A reward of $200 is offered for the arrest and conviction of the thief or thieves.

—Rev. Cornelius Schenck, of the Trinity Reformed church, occupied the pulpit of the Grace M. E church yesterday morning. Mr. Randolph, the pastor, who has just recovered from his recent illness, was unable to preach.

—The case on contract of Horton and Bradley versus Chase was adjourned in Justice Newcorn's court this morning for one week. Judgment was rendered for the plaintiff in the case of Schorb versus Myers, and Feller versus Myers. The Justice issued a venure for a six men jury in the case of Lawler versus Keely which will be tried tomorrow afternoon.

—Important business was transacted at the meeting of Miantonomah Tribe, No. 118, I. O. R. M., held Friday evening. Messrs McCarty, William Newcorn and D. C. Allen were appointed a committee to draft suitable resolutions to present to G. H. Carpenter, who recently lost his wife by death, and a warrant for $100 was ordered drawn in favor of Mr. Carpenter. Routine business occupied the rest of the evening.

Assemblyman Reed is in Newark this afternoon attending the funeral of the late Ambassador Runyon. He is one of the delegation sent from the Legislature.

A Future Convenience.

Diggles had been working hard for a long time with a refractory heating apparatus. He came out of the basement with blue fingers and a red nose, and an expression of repressed emotion on his face.

"Maria," he said, "there's one comfort about it."

"What is it?"

"We needn't worry about ice next summer. I think I have struck a plan that's entirely reliable. If we want to get anything good and cold we'll take it down and put it into that heating apparatus. Only we must be careful not to leave it too long, or it'll freeze."—Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette.

One Interpretation.

"Josiar," said Mrs. Corntossel, as her husband came in from feeding the pigs, "what is the Monroe doctrine?"

"The Monroe doctrine, Mandy," he replied after a moment's thought, "is a principle which lays down thet jes' because we don't put both feet in the trough ourselves is no sign thet we're goin' to incourage others to do it."—Washington Star.

The Reason.

Mrs. Sharp—I can't see why Mrs. Biggar makes so much fuss over her baby, and neglects her husband so shamefully.

Mr. Sharp—But her baby is greater than its father.

Mrs. S.—What do you mean?

Mr. S.—Well, its a little Biggar.—To Date.

A Reasonable Inference.

Manchester—I think Snaggs has concluded that it is about time some of his daughters were getting married.

Birmingham—Did he tell you so himself?

Manchester—No; but he has given away his two dogs.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Her Gentle Hint.

"If you love me," he said, impressively, "you will never chew gum under any circumstances. I am satisfied that it is injurious."

"But, Alfred," she protested, "you know, I haven't any caramels."

It was only then that he realized what a mistake he had made.—Chicago Post.

The Exaggerative Agent.

"Now as to salary—"

"Fifty per cent. is what I shall expect."

"What! Fifty per cent. of the gross?"

"Dear me, no. Fifty per cent. of what your press agent will say you are paying me."

"Oh!"—Indianapolis Journal.

Change for the Worse.

Birdie McGinnis—You have changed very much of late.

Gus DeSmith—To my advantage, I suppose?

Birdie—Well, the change hasn't been for my advantage. You used to bring a box of candy every evening; now you don't.—Dallas (Tex.) Sifter.

Its Usual Effect.

Jones—I've just been doing something that always makes me feel cheap.

Smith—What is that?

Jones—Comparing my salary with what I think it ought to be.—Brooklyn Life.

Grateful Man.

"Didn't I loan you ten dollars a month or so ago?"

"Yes, I believe you did. I'm ever so much obliged for your kindness. I feel that I can never repay you."—Yonkers

THE COLLECTORS.

The finest collection of Burns (Robert) MSS. in the world is in Lord Rosebery's collection.

The famous collection of coins which the late Mr. William Bayne spent 60 years in getting together is to be sold at auction in London.

An expedition under Prof. Sollas will leave Sydney soon for the South Sea islands to make deep borings in coral atolls.

An English dealer in stamps has laid away 100 8½ pence Nova Scotia stamps in a safe deposit vault, not to be opened for three years. Then he expects to reap a reward of perhaps 1,000 per cent. on his original investment of $15. This beats gold mining.

Victor Robert, of Paris, has paid $30,000 for the collection of postage stamps—all new—of Count Primoli, Princess Mathilde's nephew. The stamps were valued one by one; Moldavia's, $1,000. Reunions, $1,000; Tuscany, three lire, $600, and so on. M. Robert is a famous "timbrophile."

A two-shilling stamp of the 1883 type, printed in light emerald-green, on white paper, watermark "V & Crown," was issued in Victoria on August 12, and withdrawn on the 20th of the same month, owing to its color being so much like the current nine pence as to cause mistakes.

The Transvaal republic is about to issue a commemorative penny stamp. It is not stated what the stamp is to commemorate, but as the issue is to be limited to one year, it is quite certain that the republic can rely on the sale of several millions to the dealers, quite irrespective of what may be sold for postal purposes or private collection in the country.

BOOKWRITERS AND COOKS.

Mark Twain writes to a friend in Hartford that he went away in debt and will come back in a first cabin.

Ruskin is very fond of gems and usually carries a number of diamonds loose in his pockets.

Edward W. Townsend, author of "Chimmie Fadden," has been giving readings from his books at San Francisco.

Paul Bourget is to be sent to Japan for impressions of travel by the Revue des Deux Mondes, and Pierre Loti to Persia and India.

Princess Helena of England (Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein) is writing a book of etiquette for women in good society.

Miss Balfour says in her book that she saw in Dr. Jameson the hardest working man in South Africa, a firm ruler and a humane reclaimer of the native race.

William Morris says the poet laureateship of England is a mere court office, a business affair, and that it was only by accident that it happened to be held by two great poets.

The late Paul Verlaine, the French poet, lited as a social outcast, but his funeral was attended by distinguished men of letters, including many academicians. Francois Coppee spoke at the grave and said that Verlaine had won immortality in letters.

BITS AND BREVITIES.

In A. D. 394 the breeches makers were expelled from Rome, and all persons were ordered to discontinue wearing breeches.

During the reign of Charles I. of England, everybody wore boots and spurs, whether he ever mounted a horse or not.

A naturalist, who sewed bits of red silk to swallows caught in England, identified one of the same birds in the neighborhood of the Pyramids.

Prof. Hebra, of Vienna, asserts that the sun does not produce freckles. They never appear, he says, in children under the age of six or eight years, whether exposed to the sun or not.

It is said that the ameer of Afghanistan has been devoting considerable study to the subject of electricity, and has determined to personally superintend the introduction of the electric lighting system into Cabul.

John Alden's house at Duxbury, Mass., which was built in 1650, and in which he lived during the latter part of his life, is now occupied by the ninth John Alden in direct descent from the famous magistrate of Plymouth colony.

The quiet but beautiful town of Oxford, in Worcester county, Mass., claims the honor of having produced three persons now prominent in public view, namely, Secretary Olney, Miss Clara Barton and Senator Wolcott, whose mother was a native of that town.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Last year the mines of Alaska yielded $3,000,000 in gold.

The average life of a tortoise is from 100 to 150 years. Some have been known to live 250 years.

Birds which construct hanging nests carefully select limbs or twigs which are thoroughly secure.

Over 130,000 canaries are sent every year to the United States and Canada from the Hartz mountains, Prussia.

A wonderful well exists in Olympia, Washington. The bottom is gradually ascending, and is likely to soon reach the surface of the earth.

A lady in Covington, Ky., makes a living by managing a cat farm. Only Angora cats are raised, and the price of these is about $25 each.

The rattle of machinery on English warships prevents the satisfactory working of speaking-tubes, so they are to be equipped with telephones.

At the Stadt theater in Leipsic no person is permitted to go to his seat after the performance has begun, unless during the intermissions between the acts.

The sultan of Turkey has a mania for collecting carriages. He has nearly 500 of them, and often loses half an hour before deciding in which one he will ride.

MIND DEVELOPMENT.

The Dalziel School Merits the Consideration of Plainfield People.

Mental education is the process of mind development which produces the habit of reflection, also, the analysis and application of knowledge, attained from observation, reading or oral instruction, to the expression of thought in language.

Manual education trains the hand and eye to a ready and exact obedience to the will, enabling the operator to produce a tangible representation of the thought, be it the invention of original designs or the manufacture of forms already in use.

The corelation of these two branches of education is the only system which gives the student a well-rounded intelligence.

The practical application of this system is in operation at The Dalziel School, 309 East Front street.

A Pleasant Event.

A sociable was held at the residence of John Schunk, West Fourth street and Rock avenue, Friday night which was attended by a number of young people from this city. Dancing was in order all night and it was daylight before the last guests had departed.

—There will be a consecration meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Trinity Reformed church this evening at 8 o'clock in the lecture room of the church. The topic will be, "What faith can do for us." Everybody is welcome.

How Are Your Kidneys?

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills

are endorsed by physicians and druggists. They cause the kidneys to filter all uric acid and other poisons or impurities from the blood.

Cure Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Anaemia, Pimples, Bad Blood, Bright's Disease, Malaria, Backache, Kidney Pains, Dropsy, Pain in the Abdomen, Frequent Urination, Inflammation of Kidneys, etc.

Doctors Endorse Them.

"Please find letters enclosed from parties who have kidney troubles. I consider your pills the ne plus ultra in remedies for the above trouble.

Dr. Anderson, Carthage, Mo."

Fifty cents a box. A Valuable Book Mailed free Hobbs Medicine Co., Chicago or San Francisco.

One Minute Cough Cure touches the right spot. It also touches it at the right time if you take it when you have a cough or cold. See the point? Then don't cough.

Always Open is Leggett's Pharmacy in Y.M.C.A. Building

Expert Opinion

The Canadian Government recently sent an appraiser to the principal bicycle factories in this country, to determine the exact value of various makes for import into Canada. After an exhaustive investigation, his report to his Government rated

Columbia Bicycles

7½ per cent. higher than any other make and they pay duty accordingly. This but confirms the popular verdict. Columbias are

STANDARD OF THE WORLD.

Unequalled, Unapproached.

Beautiful Art Catalogue of Columbia and Hartford Bicycles is free if you call upon any Columbia agent; by mail from us for two 2-cent stamps.

POPE MANUFACTURING CO.

Factories and General Offices, Hartford, Conn.

Branch Stores and Agencies in almost every city and town. If Columbias are not properly represented in your vicinity let us know.

HEATH & DRAKE.

Established 1841. Newark's first-class Dry Goods House.

New Embroideries, Laces, Flouncings, etc.

Our assortment of these goods for the coming season is handsomer, more varied and complete than any we have yet shown, and embraces regular Cambric, Nainsook and Swiss Edges, Insertions and match sets in all grades and styles and a line of Exquisite Novelties which for new and original effects, exclusive and unique designs, are unsurpassed if not unequalled by any in the market.

Pretty Edgings and Embroideries Very Cheap.

A thousand lines could not tell the story any better. Great heaps of snowy Embroideries that first saw light in far off Switzerland are here.

In connection with our regular line we have purchased, direct from the manufacturers in St. Gaul, Switzerland, three large lots of Embroideries, which we will place on sale at one-third less than regglar prices.

Lot 1, 4c Yd. Lot 2, 8c Yd. Lot 3, 12c Yd

The wise ones ask no questions, but take them away in huge quantities.

777 and 779 Broad Street,
Newark, N. J.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd.

EVER SEE THE "PORTLAND RANGE?"

Elastic Dollars

—we are "dollar stretchers"—we make every hundred cents do twice and sometimes thrice the work it does elsewhere—to instance:

Solid Oak Sideboard $10.50

bevelled mirror, fine make, solid and attractive in every detail—it's been marked $18.00.

Exactly like this cut, 10.50.

Bedroom Suit Flyer—

it's at a price free from extravagance—$11.75—worth every bit of $20.00, its old price!

This Solid Oak Bedroom Suit, 11.75.

Our Carpet Dept. is always awake—Ingrains, all wool, at 63c per yard—made and laid with lining, free. We have ingrains as low as 35c—all regular carpet weaves.

Buy goods NOW—we'll hold them 'til wanted—no cash needed and Deliveries made free of charge all parts of the state.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd. Note the Name "AMOS"

Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, Bedding, Etc.
Low Prices, Easy Terms
TELEPHONE 580.

73 MARKET ST. Near Plane St. NEWARK, N. J.

STILLMAN MUSIC HALL.

Rich & Maeder ..... Lessees and Managers.
John Daly ..... Resident Manager.

Wednesday, Feb. 26.=====Better Than Ever.

THE GORMANS,

John, James and George, late of Gorman's minstrels. The Kings of Farcial Comedy, in the new and funny play,

"THE GILHOOLYS ABROAD."

Second trip. A good company, good singing, good dancing. Funny Comedians and pretty girls.

Prices 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c and $1 Seats on sale at Leggett's drug store

2 Nights, February 28th and 29th,

MATINEE SATURDAY. The talented actress,

Miss RACHELLE RENARD,

supported by her own company, presenting Friday—Ingomar, the Barbarian: Saturday matinee—Superb Allegorical Revival of East Lynne; Saturday night—The great Historical Drama, Jack Sheppard. Prices—15, 25 and 35c. Matinee 10c to all parts of the house.

LAST EDITION.

THE DAILY PRESS

LAST EDITION

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1896. TWO CENTS A COPY—$5 A YEAR

MR. MARX CONFIRMED.

MAJORITY OF THE COUNCIL THINK THAT HE IS BEST QUALIFIED.

All the Applications for Liquor Licenses Granted—Mr. Frost Talked and Voted Against Them, but It Was to No Avail.

The prospects of the thirteen applications for liquor licenses being granted last evening, previous to the city Council meeting, was very shaky, as the license members of the Council were not certain as to how one of the members was going to vote, and the fact that Councilmen Fisk, Ginna and Moore were away, left the matter temporarily in the balance, but when it came to a vote the requisite number, seven, was found and all passed off harmoniously, each applicant receiving his license.

President See, and Councilmen Barrows, Dumont, Stebbins, Frost, Tolles, Serrell and Westphal answered to the roll call.

Mrs. Anna E. Serrell asked Council to continue the use of the present city court room on West Front street owned by her, at $12 per month and on resolution of Mr. Dumont, the council voted to lease it for another year.

A communication from the Fanwood borough council asked the City Council to co-operate with them in the adoption of the wide tire ordinance It was referred to the street committee.

The Minister's Association in a petition remonstrated against the granting of liquor licenses and urged that if any were granted the number be reduced, especially in the heart of town where five are located near each other, also that the one opposite the Mt. Olive Baptist church be not granted. It was signed by Rev. D. J. Yerkes and Rev. G. Kennedy Newell for the Association. The petition was filed, as was also another signed by Ethan Lamphear and others.

E. C. Mulford, Joseph Sandford and J. Fred MacDonald, the Madison avenue commissioners, communicated with Council in regard to their work, stating that it had been done correctly and no money should be held back.

Mr. Dumont said later that their report did not include Engineer Dunham's, and accordingly it was sent back for correction. The matter was laid on the table till the report was complete.

J. P. Emmons and other property owners on New street and Orchard place asked for a crosswalk at the junction of these two streets. It was referred with power on motion of Mr. Tolles.

Dennis Carney and other residents of Cottage place, between Washington and Richmond streets, asked for an electric light. It was referred to the light and trees committee.

On recommendation of the Board of Engineers, Patrick Marron, of No. 2 Company, was placed on the exempt list. Stelle Randolph was dismissed from the same company as was also Aaron Marsh for being a non-resident.

Delinquent Tax Collector E. H. Bird's bond was presented and later ordered received and filed with the County Clerk.

Mr. Dumont stated that the license applications to sell liquor had been carefully examined and conformed to the requirements of the law. He said it had been the object of the Council to get the saloons in the city close together, as it would facilitate matters in regard to the limited police force, and that so far as the people were concerned it was not a fact that the majority opposed licenses. He saw no reason why they should not be granted, and then considerable revenue was received from this source.

President See then called for the applications in their order, J. J. Sullivan's being first.

Before the vote was taken Mr. Frost made a strong speech against granting them, and said he would vote against everyone, not because he was opposed to the men, but because he did not believe in joining hands in the traffic. There were other ways of getting money and the city would not miss a dollar.

The following applications were then presented: J. J. Sullivan, Jacob Blimm, John Goff, Alexander D. Findlay, Charles Smith, John Wellborn, John Beerbower, John Rafferty, W. V. Miller, Henry Haurand, James Day, Frank Linke and Fred Caspar. Those voting to grant them were: Councilmen Barrows, Dumont, Stebbis, Serrell, See, Tolles and Westphal. Councilman Frost voted in the negative on each one.

The following hack and cart licenses were granted: Cartmen—T. J. Carey, Page Finney, Cyrus Binn, William Phillips, Arthur Venable and S. Bolden. Peddlers, horse and wagon—C. H. Lippincott and W. Willis. Truckmen—L. B. Coddingtan, A. E. Hoagland, C. H. Farlee, Elwood Staats, A. B. Dunavan and Thomas Finney. Hackmen—P. Keely & Son, C. Guinee, M. Carey, H. Hansen, T. Burns, C. Barry, W. Callahan, Max Neumann, two, P. Lynch, Morris Higgins, J. Kenneky, T. Newman. Auctioneers—T. J. Carey, W. N. Pangborn.

Mr. Dumont then moved that Ernest Marx be confirmed as Overseer of the Poor. Mr. Westphal objected on the grounds that there were other citizens more entitled to the position. Mr. Dumont stated that Mr. Marx had been connected with such work in England, and was well fitted for the place. Messrs. Barrows and Frost concurred in what Mr. Dumont said, and Mr. Marx was then confirmed, all voting aye except Mr. Westphal.

Chairman Barrows, of the police committee, reported the following appointments: Chief of police, G. W. Grant; sergeant, P. Kiely; roundsmen, C. Fredrickson and W. J. Mattox. The Council confirmed the same.

The Council then adjourned.

HENRY C. BOWEN DEAD.

Editor of The Independent and Well Known in This City.

Henry C. Bowen, father of H. E. Bowen, of Watchung avenue, this city, and the veteran proprietor of The Independent, died yesterday at his home, Willow street, corner of Clark, Brooklyn. Mr. Bowen was eighty-two years of age, and had not been in the best of health for some time past. During the last three weeks he steadily grew worse.

Mr. Bowen was born at Woodstock, Conn., September 11th, 1813, and, at the age of twenty went to New York and entered the dry goods house of Arthur Tappan & Co, one of the leading mercantile establishments of the metropolis. At the end of five years he founded, with a companion clerk, the firm of Bowen & McNamee. He subsequently became the head of the firm of Bowen, Holmes & Co.

At the outbreak of the war of the rebellion the firm suspended, and later on Mr. Bowen was appointed collector of internal revenue for the Third District of New York. He took great interest in church matters, and was one of the founders of the Broadway Tabernacle, NewYork, and of the Church of the Pilgrims and Plymouth church, Brooklyn. He was also active in the anti-slavery cause, and with a view to providing a Congressional exponent of such principles, established in 1848 The Independent.

Mr. Bowen's three associates in the publication of the paper soon withdrew, and for a quarter of a century he was the sole owner. He was at one time owner of the Brooklyn Union. His annual Fourth of July celebrations at Woodstock were matters of national interest.

Mr. Bowen was well known in this city.

WILLING TO PUSH THE TROLLEY.

Line from Elizabeth to Plainfield if Consents Can Be Secured.

Silas D. Drake in a letter to the Elizabeth Journal anent the trolley from Elizabeth to Plainfield, says:

Much has been said and written in the past two years on the above subject. I am now prepared to satisfy all parties interested that I have a responsible party who is willing to commence in ten days the building and completion of this line if the franchises can be obtained from the cities, boroughs and towns; and while they prefer Westfield avenue (which should not be used for this purpose,) still they would build on the south side of the C. R. R. of N. J. While the business men of Elizabeth and residents in outlying towns are in favor of this enterprise, permit me the use of your valuable columns to ask your many readers in Lorraine, Roselle and Cranford to "push the good thing along" by giving it their moral support, and when asked for their consent to give it freely, and when this enterprise is completed they will have the direct benefit. I would like to hear the sentiment of the property-owners and others from these live towns on this subject.

Aided by a Sand Map.

The regular meeting of the Primary Teachers Union was held yesterday. Miss May E. Howlett conducted the devotional exercises, and Mrs. Mosher taught the lesson with the aid of the sand map.

A profitable discussion followed in regard to rewards for the children. An effort is now being made to raise $50, Plainfield's share of the summer school expenses and it is thought that the amount will be easily secured.

Money for the Oppressed.

Fifty-five dollars has been collected from members of the Monday Afternoon Club for the relief of the Armenian sufferers and will be forwarded for distribution to the New York Branch of the Armenian Red Cross Society.

Threw Away His Canes.

Mr. D. Wiley, ex-postmaster, Black Creek, N. Y., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that he was only able to hobble around with canes, and even then it caused him great pain. After using Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was so much improved that he threw away his canes. He says this liniment did him more good than all other medicines and treatment put together. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

GAVE WATER FOR BEER.

THE BOTTLES EMPTIED OF THE AMBER FLUID CAUSE TROUBLE.

A West End Boarding House Keeper Gets Into a Scrap Over an Original Action on His Part—Now in Court.

A West End scrap has assumed such proportions that the city will have to settle it in court. A man named Ramsberger lives on Essex street with his family. Sometime ago he took a man named Frank as a boarder. Frank used to keep a supply of beer of his own down cellar. One day he went down to get some and found that the beer was all gone and the bottles filled with water. He was very angry at this and accused Ramsberger of having changed the liquids. The quarrel grew rather exciting and Mrs. Ramsberger took a hand At last the boarder left, leaving his trunk behind. He tried to come after it but Mrs. Ramsberger objected strongly. Frank claimed that his boarding house master and mistress treated him rather roughly and started to place the matter in the hands of the law. The trunk was finally given up, and it is now Ramsberger that made the complaint this afternoon against his former boarder for assault and breaking into the house.

INDICTMENTS MUST STAND.

The Saloon Keepers in Elizabeth Will Have to Stand Trial.

The trials of the nineteen indicted liquor dealers of Elizabeth who are charged with selling liquor on Sunday and keeping disorderly houses were begun yesterday morning in the Union County Court. George Hirtzel's was the first case called. His counsel, Michael Barrett, of Newark, moved to quash the indictment as defective, etc. Judge McCormick denied the motion. He then announced that out of respect to the memory of the late Ambassador Runyon the court would adjourn in order to allow the members of the bar to attend the funeral. It was privately agreed by Prosecutor Marsh and Mr. Barrett to let the cases go over until Wednesday. The Prosecutor announced that for all witnesses who failed to appear a bench warrant would be issued. The court room was crowded. The witnesses are reputable business men, and in consequence there is much interest in the trials. The Christian Citizenship Union secured all of the evidence.

SALE OF VARIED ARTICLES.

Topped Off With a Lunch Box Sociable at a West Front Street Home.

An apron, necktie and lunch-box sociable was held at the residence of John Devine, 441 West Front street, last night. The sociable was arranged by John Devine and Will Ross and was greatly enjoyed by all present. The hours were spent in playing games, singing, and dancing, and it was long after midnight when the party broke up. A repast was partaken of. Among those present were: Miss Lillie Sutton, Miss Emma Gibbs, Miss Try Mattox, Miss Carrie White, Miss Ella Baker, Miss Lillie Marx, Misses Mamie and Jennie Devine, Mrs Kline, Mrs. Whitely, Mr. and Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Taynor, Mrs. Devine, Mrs. Mattox, and Messrs. Will Ross, John Overland, Fred Meeker, Charles Hartfelder, Sylvanus Hoffman, Francis Whitely, Spencer Scribner, Charles Davie, John Devine and Daniel Teller.

Young Men to Entertain.

An entertainment will be held at the Epworth House on Thursday night under the auspices of the Young Men's Association of Monroe Avenue chapel. The programme will be mostly musical Among the selections will be several by a quartette composed of Charles H. Angleman, William M. Miner, William M. MacClymont and Raymond A. McGee.

Plainfield as a Subject.

Councilman Frost, on Wednesday evening of this week, will address the Ohio Society of Surveyors and Civil Engineers, at Dayton, Ohio, on the subject of Plainfield sewers and the disposal of sewage, illustrating his remarks with photographs, maps and detail drawings, prepared by Engineer Gavett, of the sewer department.

Along Legal Lines.

The landlord and tenant case of Kimball against Rowley was tried yesterday afternoon before Justice Newcorn. Judgment was rendered for the plaintiff and possession of premises given. In the contract case of Brooks, administratrix, against Conklin, which was tried yesterday, a non-suit was granted.

To be Opened To-Night.

The Epworth House, near Monroe Avenue Chapel, will be opened this evening. The opening excercises will be held in the chapel, after which those present will be entertained at the new house.

—Great sale of wall paper going on at Love's, North avenue.

SOMETHING BACK OF IT.

BRIGADIER EVANS TALKS MYSTERIOUSLY OF THE S. A. TROUBLE.

He Hints That Ballington Booth Was Recalled for Some Other Reason Than Has Yet Been Made Public—His Words.

The recent changes in the American Division of the Salvation Army that has caused world wide discussion on the part of all classes is not yet settled in a manner satisfactory to those interested.

A Daily Press representative met Brigadier Evans, who is an influential officer of the Army in this section of the country, who lives on East Second street, and Brigadier Fielding, of Chicago, this morning, and inquired of them what they thought of the case. At first neither of the officials were inclined to say much and in fact they would not commit themselves on the subject. Brigadier Evans said that the whole matter seemed to be shrouded in mystery, and an explanation was what the American Army wanted and they intended to have it. "Commander Booth," said Mr Evans, "wants to stay in this country, and he will remain. For the present he has retired to private life, but will again in the future be identified with the Army. Certain remarks made by him have led us to believe that there is something more behind the case than the mere calling him back to England. Through the difficulty which we are now passing we want nothing more than is right and the Spirit of God is ruling our actions." Mr. Evans was asked what he thought of the American Army being under its own control, instead of being subjected to the powers in England. "That," he said, "is a matter on which I have nothing to say at present. We are waiting patiently for the light and when the gloom is dispelled we shall understand each other better. Both Mr. Fielding and myself are true Americans and we love this country. I was not born here but I am loyal, and if there is any higher step to be taken whereby I can be a better American I want to take it."

Mr. Fielding endorsed what Mr. Mr. Evans said and voiced his sentiments throughout.

AFTER A SECOND REWARD.

But Pat Donnelly Raised a Rumpus and Landed in the Rookery.

Patrick Donnelly brought a little dog to A. D. Finley, proprietor of the saloon on East Second street, yesterday, which Mr. Finley recognized as the dog that had strayed away from his place some time ago. He rewarded Donnelly, but later in the afternoon the man returned in an intoxicated state, and demanded a much larger reward. He caused quite a disturbance until Mr. Findley called Sergeant Kiely. The man fled with the officer after him. It was a case of liberty or jail with Donnelly, but it did not make any difference, for the vigorous hand of the law was felt on his shoulder at Richmond street. This morning he paid $10 in preference to thirty days in jail.

There was another victim at the City Court this morning, charged with tresspassing on the railroad cars. He gave his name as Thomas Sheridan and paid a fine of $5 instead of spending fifteen days in jail.

Plainfield's Busiest Store.

This house has made February, usually a dull month, one of the busiest, and have done it by offering such inducements throughout every department that you could not help buying. They say that this week will be still better. In the China department they will sell forty English porcelain toilet sets at a price never before heard of.

Bought Out Stevens & Overbaugh.

William Warnock, formerly of this city, but later of Englewood, has purchased the bakery and confectionery business conducted by Stevens & Overbaugh, of North avenue, and is in possession. Mr. Warnock is well known as a first-class baker and no doubt will receive liberal patronage.

Choral Rehearsals.

A rehearsal for the women of the Choral Society will be held at the First Baptist church on Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. One for the men will be held at 9 o'clock in the evening.

—There was an exciting race on Park avenue last night between two strangers in buggies. They had several narrow escapes from smashing up other vehicles.

Our people are growing more and more in the habit of looking to Reynolds' pharmacy for the latest and best of everything in the drug line. They sell Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds, croup and whooping cough. When in need of such a medicine give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result.

TAKEN BY SURPRISE.

A Number of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Hand's Friends Pay Them a Visit.

A very complete and enjoyable surprise party was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Hand, of 736 West Front street, last evening, by a party of their married friends. The party was arranged by Mrs. W. Schomp and Mrs. John Morton, and so successful were they that Mr. and Mrs. Hand did not have the first intimation of the affair until they opened the front door last night in response to a ring of the bell, and found the porch full of their friends. The evening was spent in playing games, singing and general sociability. A generous repast which the ladies had prepared, was served.

Among those present were Miss Anna Wooden, Miss Nellie Bittle, Miss Grace Dayton, Miss Esther Debau, Mrs. Cutting, Mrs. H. Fraleigh, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Drake, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. VanFleet, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Compton, Mr. and Mrs. John Morton, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boice, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Wyckoff, Mr. and Mrs. W. Schomp, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Storr, and Messrs. Jules Williams, Herbert Corey, Henry Bittle, George Wooden, Albert Schomp, George and Wallace Morton, George Wyckoff and Miss Mary Drake, Mr. and Mrs Wm Clawson, of Samptown; and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dayton, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Garrison, of New Market.

CANDIDATES FOR SHERIFF.

Wires Already Being Laid by Republicans to Secure the Nomination.

Certain Republican politicians, feeling confident of carrying Union county next fall, are busily engaged in laying plans to capture the convention. Very little is said about the Senatorship, although Sheriff Kyte and ex-Assemblyman Codding are talked of for the position, if Senator Voorhees refuses re election.

The Shrievalty, however, is the most coveted, and for this easy berth a dozen men are willing to sacrifice themselves. Among those whose names are prominently mentioned for Sheriff are Deputy Sheriff Miller, of Fanwood, Deputy Sheriff Clark, of Rahway, Alderman Houston, of the Third ward, Freeholder Hulskamper, of the First ward, and ex Alderman Joseph G. Ogden, of the Ninth ward, of this city.

The Elizabeth Republicans feel that if the Senatorship is given to an out-of-town man, the Shrievalty should be awarded to the city, and from now on the battle will rage.—Elizabeth Leader.

Busy and Interesting.

The meeting of Lucetta Council, Dughters of Liberty, to be held tomorrow dight, promises to be an interesting one for the members and a busy one for the team. Eleven candidates are to be initiated, and there have been several applications for membership. It is expected that the State Councillor and State Secretary, both of Newark, will be present, and also a delegation from Rahway. The Council will meet for the first time in its new quarters, Exempt Firemen's hall, on Park avenue. A banquet will follow the meeting.

To Florida via "Clyde Line."

Low rates; quick time; no change. Steamers sail from Pier 29, East River, New York, every other week-day. The new, fast, steel steamships of the "Clyde Line" not only reduce the time twenty-four hours between New York and Florida, but are the finest specimens of naval architecture on the Atlantic Coast. A trip by the "Clyde Line" is a combination of safety, comfort and pleasure. Write "Clyde Line," New York, for descriptive matter, mailed free.

Counsellor and Attorney.

Winfield S. Angleman went to Trenton Friday and yesterday and successfully passed the examinations for Counsellor. Charles McNabb was also at Trenton and passed the examinations for Attorney.

—One of the handsomest buildings in town is the one about completed for Powlison & Jones. The front was exposed to view yesterday for the first and is attracting the attention of everyone for its beauty and arrangement.

The little daughter of Mr. Fred Webber, Holland, Mass, had a very bad cold and cough which he had not been able to cure with any thing. I gave him a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says W. P. Holden, merchant and postmaster at West Brimfield, and the next time I saw him he said it worked like a charm. This remedy is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases such as colds, croup and whooping cough, and it is famous for its cures. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

COURT REORGANIZATION.

SENATOR VOORHEES HAS A SCHEME TO ALLAY JUDICIAL JEALOUSY.

A New Constitutional Amendment Proposed for the Reorganization of the Court of Errors and Appeals.

Trenton, Feb. 25—Senator Voorhees tonight introduced a new constitutional amendment providing for the reorganization of the Court of Errors and Appeals. It is a combination of the amendments proposed by Gilbert Collins and Charles L. and William H Corbin, and abolishes the present Court of Errors and Appeals, the Chancery and Supreme courts, and makes a Supreme Court composed of the present nine Supreme Court Justices, the Chancellor, and four Vice-Chancellors, and one judge to be appointed by the Governor. These fifteen judges are to be on an equal footing, with the same salary, after the terms of the incumbents have expired. The Governor is to assign five of them as a Court of Appeals, and the other ten are to be divided into law and equity divisions. Senator Voorhees believes that unless complications arise over the rules of the court this amendment will reconcile the diff rences of the lawyers and allay the jealousy of the present judges. The next hearing on the amendments has been postponed until Tuesday of next week.

Senator Daly also submitted an amendment reorganizing the courts, making eight propositions now pending. Senator Daly's scheme abolishes the Errors and Appeals, Chancery, Prerogative, and Circuit courts and establishes a Court of Errors and Appeals of five Judges, of whom the Chief Justice shall be one, and the others are to be assigned from the Supreme Court Judges, and serve not longer than five years. The Supreme Court is to be composed of not less than four Judges, and is to have the jurisdiction and powers of the Chancery and Prerogative courts, with law and equity jurisdiction. The Board of Pardons is to consist of the Governor, Chief Justice, and Attorney-General.

Committees of the two houses were busy all the afternoon with public hearings on pending bills. The most important was over Senator Rogers's bill requiring every applicant for a liquor license to secure the signatures of twelve property owners in the ward or township to his petition, and prohibiting any one from signing more than one such application within a year. The liquor dealers and brewers were to have been heard today in opposition to the bill, but they had not been notified in time, and the committee will hear them next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. At the hearing today it developed that Camden now requires twelve property owners to sign license applications, Trenton makes no such requirement, while Elizabeth requires six such signatures. All are second-class cities, operating under the same excise law, and no one was able to explain the difference in practice.

In the House tonight Bullock's three cent fare bill was adversely reported, but on appeal by Mr. Bullock the House overruled its committee and sent the bill back for further consideration. There was a long bebate over the Senate bill appropriating $10,000 for an investigation of the Passaic River pollution, which ended in the bill being laid over.

Among the bills introduced in the Senate were: By Rogers—Providing for the pensioning of firemen incapacitated for duty, and pensioning the widow where a fireman is killed or dies from injuries received while on duty. By Engle—Prohibiting hitching of horses to ornamental or fruit trees, or within six feet of the same, under penalty of $10 fine. By Kuhl—Reorganizing Boards of Chosen Freeholders by reducing the number to five in second-class counties, and three in the third and fourth-class counties. By Staats—Giving veterans of the war preference as laborers on any public works. By Voorhees—Making the endorser of a promissory note liable, whether his endorsement be written on the face er back of the note. By Ross—Imposing a penalty of one year's imprisonment on any person convicted of engaging in a puglistic encounter with or without gloves, for a prize or purse, or at which admission fee is charged.

The Senate passed by unanimous vote Senator Voorhees' bill abolishing the fee system in the Chancery and Supreme Court offices, and giving to the clerks of those courts a salary of $6,000. Senator Kuhl objected to the provision imposing a penalty on the clerks for failure to collect the fees from lawyers and make monthly reports to the Comptroller, but he voted for the bill under protest.

Frank Linbarger, of Elizabeth, visited friends in town Sunday.

BETWEEN TWO FIRES

Gomez and Maceo Reported To Be Hemmed In.

REBELS LEAVE HAVANA PROVINCE

Two Cuban Prisoners Claim To Be American Citizens—Patriots Burn a Small Town—Two Bands Dispersed—Havana's Defenses.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Havana, Feb. 25.—An official report states that the forces of Gomez and Maceo left the province of Havana, passing between Bagaez and Lima on the south coast, going in the direction of Bolondron, after an engagement on February 22, when they left three dead on the field. The columns of Gens. Prato, Arolus and Galvia are in front of the enemy. Gen. Echague and Col. Frances are in immediate pursuit of the insurgents. The rebel leader "El Inglesito," who was captured Saturday, claims to be an American citizen whose real name is Alfred Gold. The authorities are investigating the claim. Among the prisoners in the jail at Mariano, taken there after the Punta Brava engagement Saturday, is Ladislao Quintero, who also claims to be an American citizen.

A Small Town Burned.

Forty-six political prisoners, who arrived here from Cabanas, Mariel, Guanajay and Cayajabos, will be sent to Ceuta and the Isle of Pines. The station at San Miguel, on the Matanzas line, was burned Saturday. The telegraph line has been destroyed between San Miguel and Jaruco, the insurgents removing the poles. The station at Ibarra, on the Matanzas line, was burned yesterday. An unimportant engagement is reported to have occurred near San Jose de los Ramos. The bands of Vidal and Sanguilly have burned Estante, a small town in Matanzas.

Dispersed Two Bands of Rebels.

Havana, Feb. 25.—The commander of a detachment of Spanish troops who have arrived at Mariano, a suburb of Havana, reports that he met and dispersed the bands of rebels led by Villanueva and Baldomero Acosta, who had been operating in the vicinity of Punta Brava, province of Havana, about twenty miles southwest of Mariano. People living in the neighborhood of Punta Brava carried into the town twenty dead rebels. Fifteen of the insurgents were captured. No mention of the Spanish losse is made in the report. Additional troops have been sent to Mariano. The rebel leader known as "El Inglesito" has been captured between Guines and San Nicolas, in the southwestern part of this province. He was made a prisoner by Col. Segara's column. A court-martial has been ordered to try him.

Adding to Havana's Defences.

Senor Jover of Barcelona, the owner of a steamship line plying between that city and Cuba, has offered to transport to Spain all sick and wounded soldiers from Cuba free of charge. The government of Spain has accepted his offer. The medical attendance will be under the direction of the army medical department. Two twenty-inch bore breach-loaders have been sent from Spain to the island. The sea forts and batteries facing the sea arebeing put on an effective footing, and they will soon be ready for any contingency, domestic or foreign.

FITZSIMMONS-CORBETT.

The Bolingbroke Club of London Offers $8.000 for a Fight.

London, Feb. 25.—Sporting Life says that the Bolingbroke club has replied to William Brady, Corbett's manager, offering a purse of $8,000 for a fight between Corbett and Fitzsimmons. The club will also allow each man $500 for expenses. The fight, if arranged, is to take place during the Derby week.

Rev. Wm. H. Boole Dead.

New York, Feb. 25.—Rev. William H. Boole, one of the founders of Prohibition park on Staten Island, died at his home there yesterday. He was 60 years old. He was born in this city and became a Methodist preacher. His first pastorial charge was at Clinton in 1854. He was stationed afterward at Saybrook, Milford and New Britain, Conn,, and at Mount Vernon, N. Y.

To Maintain Perpetual Peace.

Philadelphia, Feb. 25.—As a result of the conference of the advocates of international arbitration instead of war, which was held here Saturday, a permanent tribunal, whose object will be the maintaining of a peruetual union of peace between the United States and Great Britain will probably be formed.

Deaf Mute Killed by a Car.

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 25.—Mrs. Frances A. Grant, 60 years old, of Manchester, was killed by an electric car last evening in Manchaster. Mrs. Grant was deaf and dumb, and accidentally stepped on the track in front of the car.

Cholera at Rio Janeiro.

Paris, Feb. 25.—A dispatch from Rio Janeiro states yellow fever has broken out on the Italian cruiser Lombardia, at that port. The dispatch adds that 150 cases of the disease and fifty deaths have been reported in the city.

$9,000 Fire at Torrington.

Torrington, Conn., Feb. 24.—Fire which started yesterday afternoon in the block on Main street owned by Henry J. Allen, damaged the building and its contents about $9,000.

Naval Movements.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The Marion has arrived at Arica, Peru. The Alliance has arrived at Santa Cruz, West Indies.

CARLISLE DINED.

His Health Proposed and Enthusiastically Drunk.

New York, Feb. 25.—Christopher Columbus Baldwin, the naval officer of the port of New York, gave a dinner last night at the Metropolitan club in honor of the Hon. John G. Carlisle, secretary of the treasury. The dinner was held in what is known as the red room, and covers were laid for thirty guests. The decorations were in pink and white. The table at which the guests were seated was oblong. Mr. Baldwin presided. On his right sat Secretary Carlisle and on his left Senator Vilas; directly opposite were seated Perry Belmont and Frederic R. Coudert. It was announced that the proceedings would be perfectly private and that no speeches would be made. The only information that could be obtained as to what took place at the dinner was that Chairman Baldwin proposed the health of Secretary Carlisle when the covers were removed, and that it was drank with enthusiasm. Secretary Carlisle then thanked those present for the reception given him. It was rumored that invitations to attend the dinner had been declined by several prominent New York bankers. Messrs. Woodward, Flower, Lanier, Tappan, McCall and Morgan were the only prominent bankers present at last night's dinner.

AFFAIRS IN NICARAGUA.

Another Uprising Reported as Imminent in That Country.

Washington, Feb. 25.—According to news received from San Juan del Norte, Nicaragua, an uprising is again imminent in that country. Newspapers have been suppressed, but reports brought to San Juan by passengers from the interior are to the effect that the city of Leon has declared itself in favor of Baca against President Zelaya, and demands Zelaya's resignation. Zelaya considers himself strong enough to put down the movement, trusting for the support of the conservatives and the friendly government of Honduras. He has discharged all citizens of Leon from his service and demands of the city the surrender of arms and full submission. He is endeavoring to obtain the assistance of ex-President Zavala of Granada. Great excitement prevail throughout Nicaragua, especially as most of the national arms and ammunition are in Leon. The latest advices are that Zelaya has declared himself "dictator," and that all his ministry have left him. At last reports the people of Leon were up in arms and a fight was imminent.

NAVAL AFFAIRS.

Members of the House Committee Think Six Battleships Necessary.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The sub-committee of the house naval committee were in session four hours yesterday preparing the naval appropriation bill. While the committee did not definitely decide as to the number of battleships or torpedo boats that should be provided for, it is known that some of the members insisted upon the necessity of six, and that if that number could not be agreed upon at least four should be provided for. The number of torpedo boats, it was declared, would depend upon the decision concerning the construction of battleships. That is to say, if six battleships are determined upon the number of torpedo boats should be lessened accordingly.

NATCHAUG SILK COMPANY.

Depositions To Be Taken Before a Commissioner This Week.

Willimantic, Conn., Feb. 25.—Depositions of former officers of the Natchaug Silk company will be taken here this week before Commissioner Briscoe of Hartford in the injunction case now in the United States court in New York, that of Hadden & Co., China & Japan Silk company, Morimura, et al, raw silk dealers, heavy creditors of the Natchaug company, against G. W. Pangborn, who claims to be the present owner of manufactured goods in New York, transferred to the receiver of the First National bank before the appointment of a receiver for the Natchaug company.

Hon. Orlando D. Murray Dead.

Nashua, N. H., Feb. 25.—Hon. Orlando D. Murray died yesterday at the age of 74 years. He was one of Nashua's oldest residents, having resided here over half a century. He was for years a prominent republican politician and had served in the legislature. He was one of the oldest Odd Fellows in the state and a prominent Mason.

Pleaded for Cuban Recognition.

New York, Feb. 25.—Chickering hall was crowded with enthusiastic sympathizers of the Cuban rebellion. The speakers were mainly Cubans, and they pleaded for recognition as belligerents at the hands of the United States, as the present movement was initiated just one year ago. The speakers were greeted with great cheering.

Col. Terrell Retired.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Col. Charles M. Terrell, assistant paymaster-general, United States army, was 64 years old yesterday, and was accordingly placed on the retired list on account of age. He is a brother of A. W. Terrell, United States minister to Turkey.

New York Legislature for Arbitration.

Albany Feb. 25.—In the assembly last evening a resolution by Mr. Kempner was passed urging congress and the president to submit the Venezuelan boundary dispute to arbitration.

Knocked Out in the Second Round.

Paterson, N. J., Feb. 25.—In the glove contest last night between Jimmie Handler of Newark and Charles Johnson of Minneapolis, the latter was knocked out in the second round.

"WAR TO THE KNIFE"

Salvation Army Stirred Up Over Gen. Booth's Removal.

DECIDED ANTI-ENGLISH FEELING

The Stars and Stripes Displace the British Union Jack on the Army Headquarters in New York—May Declare Independence.

New York, Feb. 25.—Unquestionably a decided anti-English feeling has strongly manifested itself in the ranks of the Salvation Army over the removal of Ballington Booth and his wife from the command of the army. Gen. Booth's friends are numerous and, above all, very loyal to him. They were about the army headquarters in goodly numbers all day and were open in their avowal that unless the English officials of the army left Ballington Booth in command there would be a revolution in the ranks. All day an excited throng surged about the corridors of the armory and discussed the condition of affairs. The Ballington Booth element was largely in evidence and they roundly denounced the whole English regime. The Salvation lassies are almost as one with Commander Booth, and particularly his wife, whom they love as a mother. Many of them were in tears to-day and would not be comforted when they learned that their beloved leaders were to leave them.

"War to the Knife."

It is undoubtedly a "war to the knife" between Ballington Booth and his adherents and the new faction. The relations between them are so strained that when Eva Booth, the acting commissioner of the army in this country, sent a letter to Mr. Ballington Booth's office the door was slammed in the messenger's face and he was rudely told to "get away." There seems no possibility of an amicable adjustment of the difficulty now. "The Englishmen will have to recede," said one Salvation official, "America never will. The adherents of Ballington Booth will be loyal to the bitter end." A representative of the United Press put the question to Ballington Booth last evening, if his decision to accept the situation and retire from the army was final. The ex-commander paused a moment and then said: "Well, that is my decision to-day. I do not know what will be my decision to-morrow."

An American Salvation Army.

It is claimed by many Salvationists that if the commissioned officers of the army in American should decide to rebel against English domination, and summon to lead an American Salvation Army Ballington Booth and his wife they will willingly respond. Many leaders of the auxiliary division of the army, who are not members, but contributors to its support, openly discussed this proposition to-day, and declared it the only course to pursue in the event of the final deposing of Commander Booth and his wife. It was noticeable at the armory to-day that the English union jack did not float from the flag pole of the building as it did for the past few days, but in its place were the Stars and Stripes.

OHIO RETALIATES.

Massachusetts and Pennsylvania Insurance Companies Barred.

Boston, Feb. 25.—A special from Columbus says that the state insurance commissioner of Ohio has issued an order debarring the Cotton & Wool Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Boston, the Old Colony Mutual Insurance company of Boston, the Rubber Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Boston, the Keystone Mutual Insurance company of Philadelphia and the Philadelphia Manufacturers' Mutual Fire Insurance company of Boston, from doing business in Ohio. The action, it is said, is in retaliation for the refusal of the insurance authorities of Massachusetts and Pennsylvania to admit certain Ohio companies.

Mrs. Ella Brillhart
Abilene, Kan.

Strength and Vigor

Given by Hood's Sarsaparilla

Abscess, Varicose, Veins, and Other Troubles.

"I wish to testify in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Different physicians and my friends had given me up. I was treated for spinal disease, consumption and varicose, and an abscess on my left hip. I was simply awful and I could not walk for many months. I had to be carried and handled like a child. I became reduced in weight from 132 to 70 pounds. At last a friend persuaded me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and I have Gained in Several Ways and now weigh 125 pounds. The abscess on my hip is almost well and I have gained strength and vigor. I gladly recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to other sufferers." MRS. ELLA BRILLHART, Abilene, Kansas.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Pills are tasteless, mild, effective. All druggists. 25c.

PROFIT AND LOSS.

It Is Not Enough to Merely Hold Your Own.

Hard Times in Health as Well as Business. How to Attain Physical Prosperity.

Every successful merchant keeps two columns, one for "Profit" and another for "Loss." At the close of each year a balance is taken and the true condition of things revealed.

Unwise purchases or too many charges on the books may easily make the balance show on the wrong side. In dull and hard times the merchant often thinks he is fortunate if the books do not show a loss, even if there is no gain. He is almost satisfied if he "holds his own."

A great many young people, especially school girls, seem to be living in "dull and hard times," for they do not improve and develop as they should. They just hold their own, and that is all. They should be growing and making advances all along the line. Every day should show a balance on the Profit side of the health column. They should gain in weight, increase in height, and steadily develop in muscular and mental strength.

If there is a stand-still, just holding your own, then an effort should be made to aid nature. You only have to give her a little start in the right direction. Some good reinforcements will easily help her over the hill, then everything will prosper again. Give her power and vigor by supplying her with a nourishing food, a reconstructive, and strong nerve tonics.

All three of these are found in Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites.

The trouble with a great many is that they think one preparation of cod-liver oil is as good as another. Hence, if they try some clear oil and receive no benefit, then they are discouraged and give up in despair. When the body is weak and you wish to give it strength, what wisdom is there in making it do an extra amount of work? When you take raw cod-liver oil, this is what you do. The body has to digest the oil, and this work of digestion takes vital energy. Why not digest the oil before taking it, and thus save the body all this expenditure of force?

Physiology teaches that an oil is digested when it is emulsified, or broken up into most minute globules. An "emulsion" is a preparation of a digested oil. Therefore, in Scott's Emulsion the oil is digested. There is no loss of force in preparing it for absorption. Everything is on the Profit side. The body has the full benefit of the whole dose. The hypophosphites makes you hungry, and they give tone and stability to the nerves and brain.

Scott's Emulsion contains more pure Norwegian Cod-liver Oil than any other emulsion in the world, that will stand the test of time as being a perfect inseparable emulsion. Ask your doctor.

W.L. & J. M. Smalley,

—DEALERS IN—

HIGH GRADE

Meats,

& Meat Specialties

Beef, Lamb, Mutton, Veal and Pork Poultry and Game in season.

94 Somerset st., Plainfield N. J.
Telephone Call 42-B.

NOTICE.

Special Reductions

—AT—

Neuman Bros.

on fancy brands goods. Full quart bottles table oil 60c, finest quality; whole canned ox tongue 45c; lunch tongue, whole, 2 c; a special reduction given on Curtis' strawberry and assorted jams. 16c; fresh roasted coffees received every week, quality unexcelled.

NEUMAN BROS.

What! $30.00?

Yes, thirty dollars will buy a piano, in first-class condition, at

W. R. BROKAW'S

Piano Parlors, 311 Madison ave.
Tuning and regulating a specialty

Advertised Letters.

Plainfield, February 10, 1896.

Adams J H	Leonard A W
Barton A J	Neugem Agnes Miss
Codlington B	McMann Thos
Duchene E Miss	Moore Elmer
Feil A F S	McEvoy Kate J 3
Fisk Clinton B	McKeef Lra Mrs
Hustner Jno	Palmberg Ellen Miss 2
Johnson Charlie	Perine Chas
Johnson Hilder Miss	Prentiss S S
Kline Mellie Miss	Storme G W
King T P 2	Sneliker Dare

Holiday Millinery Goods.

MRS. L. ADAMS,

114 EAST FRONT STREET,

Opp. First National Bank.
Dressmaking and Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns.

S. D. FRAZEE,

DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF

FRESH FISH.

Fresh every day. Terms, cash. Goods delivered.

230 Park ave., ooo. North ave

Musicfurnished for all occasions.

California IN

THREE DAYS

without change of cars. All meals served in dining cars. Palace drawing-room sleeping cars and tourist sleepers are run through to San Francisco and Los Angeles without change, leaving Chicago daily via

THE NORTH-WESTERN LINE

Through Tourist sleeping cars Chicago to California daily and personally conducted excursions every Thursday. Variable route tourist tickets at

VERY LOW RATES.

Detailed information and descriptive pamphlets will be mailed free on application to W. B. Kniskern, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago. Agents of connecting lines sell tickets via the

Chicago & North Western Railway,

or address: H. A. Gross, G. E. P. A., 423 Broadway, New York, or T. P. Vaille, S. E. P. A., 112 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

FOR GIFTS and LIGHT buy "MILLER" LAMPS

Elegant designs (a thousand styles), Beautiful finishes, and the best lamp made—up-to-date in every respect. Call and see it, also our Fine Brass and Onyx Tables. Buy only "Miller" lamps from dealers. We have been manufacturers since 1844.——made "The Rochester" Lamp.

EDWARD MILLER & CO., 28 & 30 WEST BROADWAY, (66 Park Pl.) bet. Park Pl. & Barclay St., N. Y.

Convenient to all "down-town" Ferries, and Elevated Stations at Park Place and Barclay St.

For Cool Weather buy a "MILLER" OIL HEATER.

FOR SALE BY W. L. GAVETT & CO.

Freshest Oysters

will be found at

Rogers' Sea-Food Market.

THE HALLET & DAVIS PIANOS

Have stood the test of over fifty-five (55) years

and are not surpassed by any in the world. Prices, $300 and upwards. Our special 3-year payment plan makes purchase easy. We have other makes of new pianos at $200. Good squares at $75, and we give a full 5 year warranty with everything we sell. Old instruments taken in exchange. Send for illustrated catalogue giving full information.

The Tway Piano Co.,

88 FIFTH AVE.,

near 14th st., New York.

"Tway's Musical Guest," containing 8 pages of music, interesting reading matter and theatrical news, mailed free on application. 10 3 6m

COAL

F. W. HAND,

132 North avenue.
929 South avenue.
197 North avenue.
Telephone No. 139.

Putnam&DeGraw

THIS WEEK WE WILL SELL

SHIRT WAISTS—Ladies laundered shirt waists only 50c.
UMBRELLAS—Fast black. Paragon frame, only 75c.
HOSIERY—Children's 1x1 rib. extra quality, all sizes, 15c; ladies fast black seamless, extra quality, at 10. 15 and 25c; men's mixed half hose, extra quality 10c, 3 for 25c; men's mixed half hose, seamless, extra heavy, 15c, 2 for 25 cents.
WAISTS—Children's corded underwaists 25c; children's outing flannel waists 50c style for 40c.
NECKWEAR—A new and special line at 25 and 50c.
EMBROIDERIES—Our's are the talk of the city.
COTTON CREPONS—Evening shades at 12 and 15c a yard.

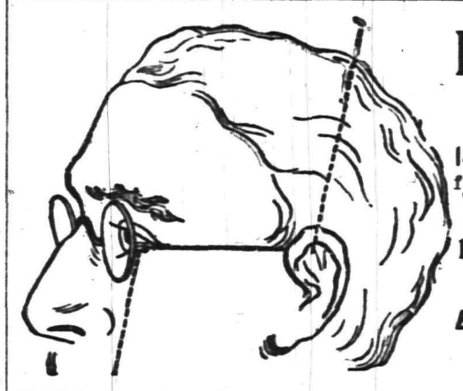
DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 WATCHUNG AVE.,

—DEALERS IN—

Lumber, Coal Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement for Walls and Ceilings.



Leech, Stiles & Co.,

EYE SPECIALISTS,

1413 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa.,

Formerly with Queen & Co. H. A. Stiles will be at

107 East Front Street,

Dunham's real estate office,

EVERY THURSDAY

from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Skilful attention given to all cases of eye strain, headache, etc. No charge for examination. All glasses guaranteed.

Bargains in Real Estate For sale or to let.

MONEY to loan on first mortgage.

E. C. Mulford,

No. 169 North avenue.
Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.
BROKER.

Communications pertaining to the business mentioned, either by letter or otherwise, will receive prompt attention. Carriage service supplied.

THE
Bee Hive

Men's Unlaundered Shirts.

Lot 1—The Cast Iron Shirt, made of good heavy muslin, good 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, patent facings, 38c.
Lot 2—New York mills muslin, 3-ply, fine linen bosoms, reinforced front and back, patent facing, 48c.
Lot 3—Our New York mills shirt, made of New York mills muslin, 2 and 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, continuous facings and hand-made button holes, equal to the best custom-made shirt, 69c.
Boys' unlaundered shirts 38 cts. Laundered shirts 50c, 75c and $1.

Louis Callman,
222 West Front st.

CLEANER COAL.
L. A. Rheaume
Agent,
Watchung Ave., Corner 4th St.,

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

Upper Lehigh and Honeybrook Coal
in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

Rough and Dressed Lumber.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for turning and scroll sawing, and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner and at short notice.

H. Eggerding,
121 Park ave.,
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.

The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars

CODDINGTON'S
Furniture and Freight
EXPRESS.

Offices 24 West Front st; 33 Park ave. Post-office box 329. Piano moving a specialty. Large covered trucks; goods sent to any part of the country; charges reasonable; satisfaction guaranteed

PLAINFIELD SEMINARY
re-opened
SEPTEMBER 19, 1895.
(28th year.) Miss E. E. Kenyon, Principal.

Finest Assortment
of Lace, Celluloid and Card
Valentines
in the city.
HARPER'S,
411 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.

W. N. Pangborn,
LICENSED AUCTIONEER.
Residence, 33 Linden Ave.
Personal attention. Prompt service.
1 14 tf

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter, 22c.
Best Dairy Butter 18c.
V. L. FRAZEE
151 West Front st.

William Hand & Son.
STAGES
For Picnics and Parties, 518 Park ave.

GEO J. TOBIN,
187 North Avenue.
Practical Plumber.

Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer.
Telephone Call 158a

TOWNSEND'S
Marble and Granite Works,
SOMERSET STREET.
Our motto—Good work, good material at fair rices.

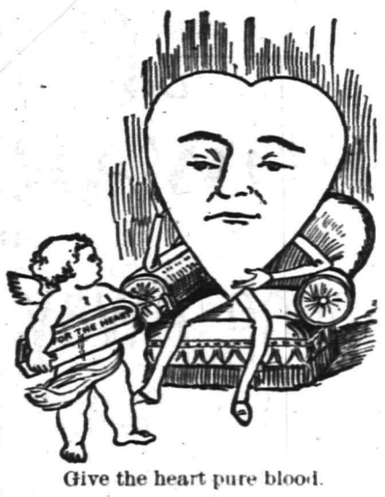
THE GRANDVIEW
Meat Market.

George Egel, Manager.
Dealer in Fresh and Salted Meats. Game in season. Orders called for and delivered promptly. Cor. Grandview ave. and Somerset street.
6 12 tf

Special Sale
—OF—
Muslins
SATURDAY ONLY.

Fruit of Loom, Hill Lonsdale and other standard brands, 10 yards 65c.
The best brands unbleached muslins at 6 cents per yard.
Good quality in bleached and unbleached at 5 cents per yard.
The standard brands of white sheetings at lower prices than quoted elsewhere.

LEDERER'S.



Give the heart pure blood.
Randolph's
Sarsaparilla,
A great blood cleanser.
Only 50c Per Bottle.
L. W. RANDOLPH,
Prescription Druggist,
143 West Front st.

PIANOS.
You can buy the best in the market at Factory Prices, at
J. C. DYER'S, 218 WEST FRONT ST.

New Fish Market,
125 Park Ave.
E. P. THORN
solicits a share of the public patronage. First quality
Fish, Oysters, Clams, &c
TERMS CASH. 11 7 tf

See Our Name,
Take Our Number,
Call and See Our Goods.
Woolston & Buckle,
141 and 145 North ave.

Eagle Meat Market,
35 Somerset Street.
Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Orders called for and delivered free of charge.
C. ARNOLD, Prop.

Miss Fawcett's School
And Kindergarten,
25 WASHINGTON AVENUE.
North Plainfield, N. J.
Re-opened Thursday, Sept. 12.
Primary, Intermediate and Academic Dept's. Boys received until 10 years of age.

FISCHER PIANOS.
56 YEARS ESTABLISHED.
GRAND AND UPRIGHT.
Nearly 100,000 Manufactured.
EASY TERMS. EXCHANGED.
REASONABLE PRICES.
FISCHER PIANO WAREROOMS,
110 Fifth Ave., cor. 16th St., N. Y.
Write for Catalogue.

Ten Sweet Caporal Little Cigars
for 5 cts.
SOLD BY ALL DEALERS.

A. Lusardi,
120 North Ave.,
will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c a qt. Branch store, corner Front and Somerset streets.

Edwin B. Maynard,
Hair Cutting and Shampooing.
Tonsorial parlor, 204 Park ave., Plainfield. Ladies' shampooing and children's hair cutting a specialty.

Carpenters and Builders.
JOHN P. EMMONS.
Mason and Builder,
Washington avenue and Prospect place,
North Plainfield, N. J
Jobbing promptly attended to.

PEARSON & GAYLE.
Carpenters and Builders.
Residence—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine st. H. E. Gayle, No. 18 Vine st.
All work promptly attended to.

GEO. W. STUDER.
Carpenter and Builder.
985 Arlington avenue.
Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given, charges reasonable.

C. W. LINES.
Mason and Builder,
Plainfield, N. J
Residence, 18 Elm place.
Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

HOTEL Grenada,
NORTH AVENUE.
Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.

CITY HOTEL.
Plainfield, N. J.
Corner Park avenue and Second street.
J. E. Beerbower, Prop
Stables attached

PROSPECT HILL Must Be Sold.
Azalias, Chinese primrose, palms, ferns, begonias and variety of blooming plants. Wedding decorations and floral designs and all equipments for church and house decorations. Southern smilax at 15 days notice
AT DENTON'S.

L. A. HUMMER'S
VARIETY MARKET.
Meats, fruits, vegetables, poultry, eggs, etc. Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge.
120 Park avenue. Telephone call 29-A

No Place Like Home

on Christmas day. No day like Christmas at home. Christmas will be merrier the more home like the home. Our great holiday sale of wall paper should attract all whose houses need papering.
Marsh, Ayers & Co.

RELIEF FOR ARMENIA

Description of the Work of Dr. Grace Kimball at Van.

9,000 PERSONS FED IN ONE DAY

More Than 1,000 People Employed by the Industrial Bureau—Untold Suffering Relieved—2,800 Killed and More Than 70,000 Destitute.

New York, Feb. 25.—The following letter, dated January 22, from Dr. Grace Kimball, American missionary at Van, has been received at the office of the Christian Herald: "As soon as we had the assurance of the first $10,000 from the Christian Herald we pushed forward the relief with new vigor and more commensurately to the present needs of the people. This involved the need of larger quarters and we found a very admirably adapted house of three stories with large halls that will hold several hundred people and give convenient office rooms for the various departments—all for the magnificent sum of $6.60 a month rent. Applicants for help are required to bring a letter of recommendation from the "district men" of the quarter in which they live, or from the village "refugee committee." The demand for work does not abate and we are adding daily to the thousand workers in the industrial bureau at the rate of from ten to twenty persons. Last week's pay roll shows 1,210 persons paid in total $445. The cost of the raw material is slightly less than the wages so that with the rent and other expenses we may put the cost of the industrial bureau at $900 a week. This work furnishes a living to considerably more than 5,000 people."

Distributing 6,000 Pounds of Bread Daily.

"The Christian Herald bakeries are forging along magnificently and are the great famine breakwater to the entire community. There is no other source of supplies to the people, as the contributions of the Armenians themselves were exhausted before the Armenian Christmas, and they turned all their beneficiaries over to us. We are now distributing over 6,000 pounds of bread daily, at a cost of $480 a week, and the demand is constantly increasing. Last Saturday was the Armenian Christmas, and on the day before 9,000 persons were actually provided for through the different relief departments, and untold suffering relieved."

"The Distress Indescribable."

Rev. W. R. Chambers, missionary at Erzeroum, writes acknowledging receipt of $2,000 for relief work in that city and in Erzinjian. "In Erzeroum province over 200 towns and villages comprising 11,000 houses were plundered; 2,800 persons were killed, and between 70,000 and 100,000 people left destitute. With the Christian Herald and other relief moneys, the missionaries are feeding 2,600 persons daily. The distress is indescribable."

FOR AIDING THE CUBANS.

True Bills Against the Officers of the Steamships Horsa and Leon.

Philadelphia, Feb. 25.—In the United States district court yesterday the grand jury found true bills against Capt. Wiborg and Mates Peterson and Johansen of the steamship Horsa, and Capt. Svanoe and Mate Christiansen of the steamship Leon, charging them with organizing military organizations in this country to convey aid to the Cuban insurgents. The above captains and mates were arrested some time ago on this charge and have been given a hearing before a United States commissioner and held for trial.

THE COAL TRUST BILLS.

Attorney-General Hancock Intends To Submit Certain Amendments.

Albany, Feb. 25.—Attorney-General Hancock intends submitting certain amendments to the coal trust bills. At the department it is stated that the changes are intended to have the effect of making the bills more sweeping. The original drafts of these measures merely referred to articles of common use in the preservation of life and health, but now it is proposed that the bills shall refer to everything of common use.

NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE.

Bullock Three Cent Car Fare Bill Referred Back to the Committee.

Trenton, Feb. 25.—The legislature met at 8 o'clock last night. In the house Mr. Lower, chairman of the railroads and canals committee, reported adversely the Bullock three cent street car fare bill. The author of the measure wanted the committee to explain their reason for making the report. No member volunteered any explanation and the house refused to concur in the report. Later the bill was referred back to the committee.

Population of British Guiana.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The British Guiana registrar-general of births and deaths at the time of the departure of the last mail had just completed his report for 1894, from which it appears that the population of the colony was 288,130, of whom 110,856 were East Indians.

Murdered by an Unknown Person.

Waltham, Mass., Feb. 25.—At an inquest yesterday a verdict was rendered that the child whose body was found here yesterday was murdered by some unknown persons. The child had been born but a short time when it was suffocated.

Ship Captain Dies at Sea.

London, Feb. 25.—The British steamer Glenloig, at Falmouth, while on a voyage from Charleston for Bremen and Hamburg, reported that Capt. Hay, her commander, had died at sea.

GEN. RUNYON'S FUNERAL.

Brief and Simple Ceremonies Over the Late Ambassador's Remains.

Newark, N. J., Feb. 25.—The funeral of Gen. Theodore Runyon, late ambassador of the United States to Germany, was held from St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church yesterday afternoon. Services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Henry Baker, pastor of the church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Jacob Todd of Philadelphia, Bishop Andrews and Presiding Elder Hammond of the Newark diocese. The church was crowded with persons prominent in various walks of life. Admission was by card, and hundreds were unable to get into the building. The services were brief and simple. Dr. Hammond made the opening prayer, Bishop Andrews read the service, and Drs. Todd and Baker each spoke briefly on the life of the dead man. The Mendelsohn quartette sang, "Lead, Kindly Light," and "There's a Wideness in God's Mercy." The last hymn was a favorite with the dead man and was sung in Berlin at the funeral. The wreaths presented by Emperor William and the empress and the ambassadors of other nations in Berlin before the body was removed were placed in the coffin just as they were laid on it in Berlin. The body was taken to Mount Pleasant cemetery, where it was placed in the receiving vault. Many of the public buildings in Newark were closed at noon out of respect to the dead general. The city hall was draped in black, and on the principal buildings flags were displayed at half mast.

"POP" DAVIS MURDER TRIAL.

Witnesses Testify to Insane Actions on the Part of the Prisoner.

Elizabethtown, N. Y., Feb. 25.—The trial of William Howard Davis, alias "Pop" Davis, charged with the murder of George Tankard at Keeneville, was continued here this morning. Several witnesses for the defense testified that the defendant had been subject to fits and insane actions. It was shown that he was in the habit of turning out to permit persons to pass when no one was near him on the street. Witnesses also testified that Davis had hallucinations, delusions and illusions, viz.: that people were plotting against him and that his wife was unfaithful; that he had burned buildings where there had been no fires, and that he had committed crimes when no crimes had been committed. Some of the witnesses examined to-day became badly confused upon cross-examination.

HENRY C. BOWEN DEAD.

Proprietor of the Independent Expires at His Brooklyn Residence.

New York, Feb. 25.—Henry C. Bowen, the veteran proprietor of the Independent, died at his residence in Brooklyn last night. Eight children and his second wife survive him. Mr. Bowen was born at Woodstock, Conn., September 11, 1813. He was active in the anti-slavery cause, and with a view to providing a Congregational exponent of such principles, established in 1848 the Independent. He had a beautiful country home at Woodstock, Conn., and was famous for his 4th of July celebrations, at which leading statesmen delivered orations.

NATIONAL LEAGUE MEETING.

Baseball Magnates in Session To-day at New York.

New York, Feb. 25.—The annual spring meeting of the National League of Professional Baseball Players is in session this morning at the Fifth Avenue hotel. The principal business of the meeting will be the publication of the schedule, which has been drawn up by president Nick Young. A great deal of work has to be waded through before the league will pass on the schedule, and it is doubtful if it will be reached before to-night or to-morrow morning.

TREASURY GOLD.

$90,000,000 of the $111,000,000 Bid for Bonds Paid In.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The treasury gold reserve at the opening of business to-day stood at $106,749,756. The withdrawals yesterday amounted to over $800,000. So far about $90,000,000 of the $111,000,000 for which the bonds were sold have been put into the treasury and the national bank depositories. Up to this morning $65,000,000 of the new bonds have been delivered.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Wheat—Spot quiet, but held firmly. February, 73½c.; March, 73⅝c.; May, 72½c.

Corn—Spot dull; values unsettled. February, 37⅛c.; May, 36⅝c.

Oats—Spot quiet; demand steady. February, 26½c.; March, 25⅝c.; May, 26c.

Pork—Spot steady at easy prices. Extra prime nominal, short clear, $11.50@$12.50; family, $10.75@$11.00; mess, $10.25@$11.75.

Lard—Contracts dull, but steady. May, $5.90.

Butter—Arrivals are light in fancy creamery, but the tone of the market is firm, at a slight advance. Creamery, western extras, 20½c. State and Pennsylvania, seconds to best, 15@18½c.; creamery, western, seconds to firsts, 13@19c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, fancy, 18c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, seconds to firsts, 10½@13c.

Cheese—High grades are now held firmly with demand good. State, full cream, large size, September colored, choice, 10¾c.; September white fancy, 9@10¼c.; large common to choice, 7¼@10c.

Eggs—Outlook considered uncertain. State and Pennsylvania, 13½c.; southern, 13@13¼c.; ice house, case, $1.65@$2.90; western, fresh, 13@13¼c.; limed, 10@11c.; do., case, $1.85@$2.25.

Potatoes—Offers liberal for choice grade; demand slow; fair supply; market quiet. State Burbank, per 180 pounds, 60@75c., and state rose and Hebron, per 180 pounds, 85c.@$1.10.

SECTARIAN SCHOOLS

House Refuses To Appropriate Money for Their Support.

ONLY CATHOLICISM IS AFFECTED

The Matter Came Up in Debate on the Indian Bill—Mr. Morgan's Speech Fails To Arouse Any Enthusiasm in the Senate.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The perennial contest over the appropriation of money for the education of Indian children at contract sectarian schools came up in the house in the course of the consideration of the Indian appropriation bill and was fought out in an hour and a half. The result was that by a vote of 93 to 64 the provision that the secretrry of the interior shall make contracts with present contract schools for the education of Indian pupils to an extent not exceeding sixty per centum of the amount so used for the fiscal year of 1895 was stricken out on motion by Mr. Linton, rep., Mich., and an amendment inserted prohibiting the secretary of the interior from spending any of the money appropriated for education in a sectarian institution. Under existing conditions only Catholic schools are in contract relations with the interior department, the other churches having abandoned their claims to public money. In his speech in support of the amendment Mr. Linton attributed the overwhelming change in the personnel of the house by the election of 1894, to the sentiment in the country against the appropriation of public funds for sectarian schools or institutions. Consideration of the bill was concluded with the exception of the paragraph directing the purchase of the title of the Ogden Land company to the lands within the Alleghany and Catteraugus reservations in New York and that was postponed until to-day. Speaker Reed announced that he had signed the urgent deficiency and diplomatic and consular appropriations bills and at 5:10 o'clock the house adjourned.

In the Senate.

The continuation of the speech of Senator Morgan, dem., Ala., in the senate in support of the concurrent resolution for the recognition of Cuban belligerency, did not arouse a particle of the excitement and enthusiasm which the first part of the speech, last Thursday, together with the other speeches of that day, aroused. It was too much of a historical review, and was interspersed with the reading of too many letters and reports to attract attention or to arouse enthusiasm. The only forcible parts of it were these: Mr. Morgan expressed his astonishment that, in view of the Spanish atrocities in the island, "This grand free republic could sit indifferently by, knowing the facts, and not unsheath the sword and strike to death the brutal monarch who inflicted them," and he declared that the American people could go no further in their forbearance without a stain on the national honor. He will finish his speech to-day. The resolution of Mr. Lodge, rep., Mass., for an inquiry into the circumstances of the recent bond issues was taken up and discussed till the close of the morning hour, when it went to the calendar without action. In opposing it Mr. Hill, dem., N. Y., characterized it as a stab in the dark and as having no foundation but "the wails and complaints of disappointed bidders." The senate at 5:45 adjourned.

HIS GRAND FORTUNE.

A Haverhill, Mass., Man Said To Be Heir to $75,000,000.

Haverhill, Mass., Feb. 25.—It is reported in this city that by the will of Caspar Cronk, a fortune is awaiting the Cronk family. The testator died in Holland in April, 1796, and in his will was the proviso that the document should not take effect until 100 years had elapsed. The principal heir now resides in this city in the person of Winslow Cronk, a painter, who is of the fourth generation. His sons are Frank, Arthur, Harry and George, all of whom reside in this city and Bradford. The estate is believed to approximate $75,000,000 and an investigation is being made by the local members of the family in connection with relatives now residing in Canada.

HERMAN CONVICTED.

Found Guilty of Murder in the First Degree at New York.

New York, Feb. 25.—The trial of Louis Herman, accused of shooting and killing his wife on July 15 last at 104 East 105th street, ended last night, the jury finding him guilty of murder in the first degree. He was remanded for sentence until Friday. Herman is a cripple and an ex-convict. His wife refused to live with him when he returned from the penitentiary, and he claimed that she had taken up with another man.

New York State Railroads.

Albany, Feb. 25.—The state board of railroad commissioners gave a hearing yesterday on an application of the Syracuse & Oneida Lake Electric Railroad company for an increase of its capital stock from $300,000 to $500,000. The application was taken under consideration, but no decision was given. The board granted an application of the Watkins & Havana Electric railroad for a certificate under section 59 of the railroad laws permitting it to build its line.

Rev. R. F. Parshall Dead.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Rev. R. F. Parshall, an Evangelist of national reputation in the Baptist church, is dead at his home here. His ministry included charges from Otsego county, New York, where he was born 73 years ago, to Sacramento, Cal.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

Published Daily, except Sunday, at 3:30 p. m.

105 North avenue. Telephone Call 61.

PLAINFIELD N. J., FEB. 25, 1896.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Fair and Colder Tonight; Wednesday, Fair and Warmer.

At 2 o'Clock Leggett's Thermometer Registered 37 Degrees.

COMING EVENTS.

Announcements of all meetings, etc., will be made in this column, free of charge, if copy is furnished by 10 a. m.

February 25—Concert in Vincent chapel.
February 25—Sociable of Old Glory Council. Daughters of Liberty, in Red Men's Hall.
February 26—Gorman Brothers at Music Hall.
February 27—Birthday social in W. T. T. U. rooms.
February 29—Capt. Jack Crawford at the Crescent Avenue church chapel.

The city will receive $9 100 before March first by the action of the Common Council last night in granting the liquor licenses.

Lawyer Reed assures The Press that there is but little doubt that John Johnson will be continued in the office of City Collector.

The confirmation of Mr. Marx as Overseer of the Poor by the Common Council last night will not be conducive to Republican harmony.

Senator Voorhees is now said to be looking with longing eyes on the Clerk in Chancery. His term as Senator expires with this session of the Legislature.

A bill drawn for the reorganization of the higher courts of the State, one of whose confessed objects is to allay judicial jealousy, is a sad commentary on the officials whom it affects.

No Assemblyman at Trenton is mentioned in the newspaper proceedings more than Mr. Reed of Somerset. This is a pleasing fact to Plainfielders, and indicates that he wields unusual influence for a first-termer, and has a bright future before him in a political and official way.

An amusing discovery was made last week in the Assembly, says The Sun. Heretofore it has been customary to employ anywhere from one to two score of boys as pages in the House. This year the Republican caucus limited the number to ten. A curious reporter, who noticed the same four boys sitting in front of the Clerk's desk day after day, made an investigation, and found that there are really but four boys. The other six places are held by voters whose identity is known only to the Sergeant at-Arms and the State Treasurer, and as they do nothing for the $200 salary, it is not apparent to the ordinary observer. It might be added that the four boys do all the work required and have lots of time to spare.

The women who came to Trenton from Plainfield to present their views on Mr. Fleming's anti-cigarette bill to the Committee on Education, showed by the arguments they advanced that one of the strongest feminine objections to the cigarette is to be found in the pictures that accompany it. The manufacture of these pictures have been laid at the door of Elizabeth. The bill as amended and reported favorably to the House, is specious to the verge of intolerance. It forbids the manufacture and sale of all kinds of cigarettes in which tobacco is used, rolled either in paper or leaf, under a penalty of fine or imprisonment. It is hard to see how such a bill, even if passed, would accomplish anything, when a law already on the statute books prohibiting the sale of cigarettes to all persons under sixteen years of age, has been allowed to become a dead letter without protest. It is hard to see, also, why the women do not begin with a crusade against the noxious pictures, which might meet with success, rather than by a sweeping raid against the entire industry whose intemperance can only defeat itself.—New York Press.

Washingtonville.

Miss Annie Speer, of Washingtonville, is out after a weeks illness.

Miss Annie Bleasur, of Newark, spent Sunday with her friend, Miss Etta Acker.

Charles S. Taylor, of Harlem, spent Saturday and Sunday with his friend, Henry Rogers.

Robert Clark and his son, Bert Clark, of Newark, spent Saturday and Sunday at their summer home.

The engagement of Miss Annie Speer to William Titus, of North Plainfield, is announced.

Miss Byird Howat, of Germantown, left Saturday for her home after a pleasant visit with friends and relatives for three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bloom and and Miss Carrie Spencer, of New York, where the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Demler, Jr., Saturday and Sunday.

"Give me a liver regulator and I can regulate the world," said a genius. The druggists handed him a bottle of DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Peter Weaver, of Orchard place, visited friends in Rahway Saturday.

Harold Wills, of LaGrande avenue, entertained a few friends Saturday night.

Mr. Hoagland and family, of West Front street, have moved to Summit avenue.

Bronson H. Smith, of West Eighth street, spent Sunday with relatives in New York.

George P. Mellick, of LaGrande avenue, left Sunday for Chicago on a business trip.

Mrs. J. T. MacMurray, of East Front street, is kept at home by a slight illness.

Miss Frankie Demarest, of Park avenue is out again after a several weeks illness.

Louis Bennett, of the borough, has resigned his position at Werner's clothing store.

Miss Elizabeth Cornwell, of Waynewood place, is visiting relatives at Scarsdale, N. Y.

Miss Emelie Hines, of Brooklyn, is the guest of Miss Luella Mills, of East Fifth street.

Miss Lucie P. Davis, of East Fifth street, has returned after a visit with friends in Brooklyn.

Mrs. W. V. White, of West Front street, entertained friends from Brooklyn on Sunday.

William Collins, of Brooklyn, is visiting his brother, Jerome Collins, of Manning avenue.

Miss Cora Laire, of East Fifth street, is visiting relatives at Annandale, Hunterdon county.

Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Jenkins, of East Front street, are entertaining their niece from Philadelphia.

M. J. Cashin, of Watchung avenue, spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives at Poughkeepsie.

Miss Nettie Wilson, of Craig place, is making preparations for a trip to Scotland during the summer.

The Misses McLoughlin, of Brooklyn, have returned to their home after a short visit in Plainfield.

Miss Edith S. Marsh, of Madison avenue, returned yesterday to her studies at boarding school at Freehold.

Miss Lizzie Huff, of Centreville, Hunterdon county, is visiting at the home of Horace Huff, of West Fifth street.

Mrs. Fisher, of West Fourth street, who has been very ill for the past two years, was able to take a long walk on Sunday.

Paul May, of Brooklyn, was a guest at the home of P. C. Johnson, of Plainfield avenue, on Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Havens and her daughter returned to their home in New York yesterday after a pleasant visit in Plainfield.

Edward Hincken, of Brooklyn, who has been visiting at the home of Geo. Dupee, of Rockview avenue, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Linderman, of West Front street, who have been visiting for a few days in New York, have returned home.

Clarence S. Johnson, of New York, visited at the home of his father, P. C. Johnson, of Plainfield avenue, on Saturday and Sunday.

Augustus Compton, formerly of the borough, and now traveling for a Kansas City hardware house, was in town for a few days last week.

Charles Cochran, of Virginia, who is visiting his sister, Mrs. M. F. Elderton, of East Front street, has gone to New York for a few days visit.

Frank Brown and family, of Crescent avenue, will move into their new residence on Sycamore avenue, which was recently completed, on Saturday next.

Eric Erickson, Jr., and friend, Mr. Haley, of St. John's School, Sing Sing, spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of the former on West Eighth street.

Mr. and Mrs. James VanDyke, of Morristown, attended the funeral services of the late Wm. VanDyke, which were held yesterday. The Misses McBride, of Bound Brook, were also present.

Yellow eyes, sallow complexion, bad taste in the mouth, heavy, dull feeling; miserable, upset—liver out of order. Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills will put it in order.

Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills.

White wrapper if constipated, yellow if bowels are loose.

Send to us for a free sample, or get 25c. worth at your druggist's and see if they don't.

DR. J. A. DEANE CO., Kingston, N. Y.

J. W. Pierce, Republic, Ia., says: "I have used One Minute Cough Cure in my family and for myself, with results so entirely satisfactory that I can hardly find words to express myself as to its merit. I will never fail to recommend it to others, on every occasion that presents itself." L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

THEATRICAL.

The attraction at Music Hall next Wednesday evening will be the new and funny musical comedy, "The Gilhoolys Abroad," written by James Gorman, whose name as author is a guarantee of its excellence and originality. The leading parts will be assumed by John and George Gorman, the latter as a wealthy real estate owner, "Owen Gilhooly," and the former as "Jonathan Tubbs," a legal luminary. Their parts have been created to suit them, and furnish unlimited scope for the display of their humorous talents which have made them favorites everywhere. The company supporting the Messrs. Gorman have been selected with care, all members being remarkably adapted to their respective parts. Plenty of singing, dancing, pretty marches etc., etc., will be introduced, and all those who attend the performance of the Gormans are sure of seeing a new and, above all, a clean entertainment.

Miss Rachelle Renard and her excellent company will appear at Music Hall two nights and a matinee, Feb. 8th and 29th, presenting Ingomar Friday, East Lynn at the Saturday matinee and Jack Sheppard Saturday night. This lady's performance of Lady Isabelle is well-known here. She played that piece here last May, and her performance still remains firm in the memory of the patrons. The company this season is exceptionally strong. Prices for this engagement, 15, 25, 35 cents. Matinee 10 cents to all.

Dunellen.

Mr. Weber, who has been visiting friends in town, has returned home to Newark.

Miss Allie Chesire, of Oyster Bay, is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Huff, of North avenue.

Captain Morrison, of Plainfield, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Hamilton, of East Orange, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bodine, of Dunellen avenue.

Union services were held in the Presbyterian church Sunday evening, Evangelist Huffman occupying the pulpit.

Rev. F. S. Custard, pastor of the Methodist church, was taken Saturday to the Muhlenberg Hospital, at Plainfield, suffering from siatic rheumatism.

Miss Lu Gise presided at the organ in the Methodist Sunday-school Sunday afternoon in the absence of Miss Emma Apgar, who has been visiting at Elizabeth.

Elder Huffman will conduct the week of prayer in the ladies' parlor of the Presbyterian church at 3:30. The Methodist congregation are invited to unite with them.

George Jenkins, the great banjoist, will be present Thursday evening at the dime sociable to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Giles, on North avenue.

Mrs. Week, of Leland avenue, is seriously ill with pneumonia.

Simon Mantz, of Craig place, is able to be out again after an illness

How Are Your Kidneys?

Does Your Back Ache?

Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills

MAKE the Kidneys strong and healthy.

THEY cause the kidneys to filter all uric acid and other poisons or impurities from the blood.

Cure Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Anæmia, Pimples, Bad Blood, Bright's Disease, Malaria, Backache, Kidney Pains, Dropsy, Pain in the Abdomen, Frequent Urination, Inflamation of Kidneys, etc.

Are not a secret remedy, but contain highly concentrated extracts of Asparagus, Juniper Berries, Buchu, Corn Silk, Pareira Brava and Uva Ursa (all kidney healers) and are scientifically compounded.

Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills are endorsed by physicians and druggists. 50 cents a box. Valuable Book Free.

Hobbs Medicine Co., Chicago or San Francisco

QUALITY COUNTS.

Representatives Senators and Statesmen Speak.

The Best and Safest Advisors of the People.

Agree Unanimously on This One Point.

FOR THE PEOPLE'S GOOD—NO DIFFERENCE OF OPINION.

Important Decision Arrived At on All Sides.

Senator Victor I. Spear of Braintree, Vt., who has filled every high position in the gift of his State, says—"My wife was troubled with nervous debility bordering on nervous prostration, and at the same time a trouble on her hands like eczema. The use of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy produced very satisfactory results, healing the eczema and greatly improving the nervousness."

Senator Frank Plumley, of Northfield, Vt., who was Vermont's delegate to the Republican National Convention and who is a man of national reputation, says:

"In the fall of 1892, I came out of the presidential campaign with my nervous system almost broken. Some of my personal friends advised me to take a course of Dr. Greene's medicines, which I did, with entire success. I use Dr. Greene's Nervura and find it an excellent remedy for that exhaustion caused by long continued mental work, and think well of it."

HON. CHAS. J. NOYES.

Judge Charles J. Noyes, of Boston, ex-Speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, states:

"Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy reinvigoraied and recreated my severely taxed nerves and debilitated vitality. To all needing an invigorator and permanent restorative, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the very best medicine within my knowledge or observation."

Hon. Samuel B. Page of Haverhill, N. H., who for twenty-five years has been a member and leader of the New Hampshire Legislature, says:

"I have used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and take pleasure in recommending its use to all sufferers from any derangement or disturbance of the nervous system."

Add to these magnificent testimonials of the great and wonderful curative powers of Doctor Greene's Nervura, the fact that it is a physician's prescription, the discovery of the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th street, New York City, who can be consulted free, personally or by letter, and you have the greatest and grandest endorsement of value and assurance of cure possessed by any remedy in the world.

List of Advertised Letters

Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 24, 1896.

Baker Henry	Murphy Wm
Ballman C A 2	Phelps R A
Bradley Wm	Ryan Jos
Drake Mary Miss	Robeling Mrs
Es mons Peter	Seeger Minnie Miss
Fleischauer H J Mrs	Shipley John R
Hadley Wilbe E	Sheeheen Jos
Irevin Bell Miss	Shorts Eliza Miss
Jonss Geo W	Saunders T
Kitchen Mary Miss	Saunders John
Lenham Hattie Miss	Shierif Miss
McAvoy Katie Miss	Westmore D M Miss
Montrose Lettie	Westwood Isabel Miss

VISIT BOEHM'S CROCKERY DEPARTMENT,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

Everything in the housefurnishing line up to date. Prices brought down to the lowest possible notch. We guarantee satisfaction in every respect. It is therefore to your own benefit to visit this department—it will pay you.

Novelties in Dress Goods.

AT 19C—30 inch Brilliantines, were 2 c.
AT 50C—38 inch extra heavy black mohair sicilians, cheap at 6 c.
AT 25C—40 inch new spring novelties, changeable effects, were 35c.
AT 25C—36 inch plaids, silk stripe effects, were 33c.
AT 12 1-2C—A very handsome line of worsted plaids well worth 19c.
AT 50C—The very latest novelties in all-wool dress goods, suitable for spring wear, fully 40in. wide, a bargain at 65c.
AT 32C—38 inch wide black brilliantines.
AT 45C—40 inch black brilliantines, silk finished, regular 5 c quality.
AT 50C—Silk finished brilliantine, 40 inches wide, the 65c grade.
AT 65C—Extra fine black brilliantine. 1¼ yards wide, with an extra heavy lustre, the regular 75c quality.

Our leader for this coming season—38 inch wide black figured brilliantine in a number of new and novel designs at the uniform price of 35c a yard, well worth 45c a yard.

AT 25C—Storm serges in black and blue, 3 in. wide, were 34c.
AT 45C—Beautiful fine black serges, 1¼ yds wide, a bummer, were 55c.
AT 19C—Light colored brilliantines, the very newest effects, reduced from 25c.

BOEHM'S, 113 WEST FRONT ST.

Always Ahead!

and Peck Proposes to Stay there if Good Goods Count for Anything.

THE DALZIEL GRAMMAR, MANUAL AND ART SCHOOL, 309 East Front Street.

IS AN ESTABLISHED SUCCESS.

Free-hand drawing from the Antique, Pen and Ink Sketching, Clay Modeling, Painting, Designing and Mechanical Draughting. Directed by John Dalziel, late Professor of Drawing for Illustration, and Engraving at the Women's School of Design, Philadelphia, Pa.

WE are NOW preparing for Spring and Summer Outdoor Work.

DO NOT THINK

EDWARD LOVE

IS

Giving Away Wall Paper,

But he is doing the next thing to it.
Let him do your spring decorating.

EDSALL'S

Commercial Palace, Babcock Building.

Notice!

Last Tuesday morning we received notice from The H. B. Caflin Company that they had purchased the entire stock of one of the largest corset manufacturers in the world, and were offering them for sale at prices far below "Bankrupt" stock prices. One of our buyers took the first train to the city and was able to secure only one case, so rapidly were they bought up. There are only 12 dozen but include all sizes and are now on sale at

Only 35c

FOR A FRENCH CORSET.

Perfectly clean, new, fresh and right up to date, and a good 90c corset. In connection with the sale of these corsets we will offer

500 Dozen Pure Olive Castile Soap

2 CAKES FOR 5 CENTS.

See unique representation of Brooklyn Bridge in our large show window made of the soap. The latest sensation in Plainfield.

MUSIC.

3c—300 copies of vocal and instrumental music by the best composers, bought at the assignee sale of the well known music publishing house of Hitchcock & Co., New York. Over 500 titles, regular prices, 40, 50 and 75c per copy.

5c—Extra size cotten towels.

7c—Shell side combs, worth 15c.

9c—Mens suspenders, worth 20c.

20c—Ladies all leather pocket books, worth 3 0c.

29c—Warp print ribbons, 4 inches wide, worth 39c.

9c—Men's linen cuffs, worth 20c a pair.

6c—Men's linen collars, newest shapes, worth 13c.

10c—Men's fast black half hose, double heel and toe, seamless, worth 18c a pair.

65c—Ladies' kid gloves in black and leading shades of tan, excellent wearers, worth $1.00 a pair.

9c—Ladies' fast black seamless cotton hose, double heel and toe, worth 15c.

7c—Extra large size honey-comb towel, worth 15c.

Housefurnishing Dep't.

1 lot patent foot holder dust pans 10c.
1 lot 50 foot hand twist clothes lines 5c.
1 lot best G. and S. water pails 18c.
1 lot ash sifters 5c.
1 lot wood chopping bowls 5c.
1 lot galvanized wash bowls 5c.
1 lot kerosene glass lamps complete with fluted chimney 17c.

Grocery Depatment.

10c Boston potato chips—fresh.
13c Plymouth Rock gelatine.
7c mustard sardines.
20c pound good butter.
50c bushel fine Jersey potatoes.
12c Cape Cod cranberries.

EDSALL'S.

Shoe Notes.

If You Have Tender Feet Why Not Try a Pair of Our Common Sense Boots,

made on the same lines of the Kahler make. Our price $3 and $5. This is at least $1 a pair under New York City prices on the same goods. A woman's genuine dongola kid button boot for $1.19. One of our specials—woman's rubbers 24c and up. How can we undersell the other fellows? We buy direct from the manufacturers and give you the middleman's profits.

DOANE & EDSALL.

SPORTS

STRIKES AND SPARES.

TEAM POSITIONS IN STANDARD LEAGUE.

	H. S.	Won.	Lost.
Westfield	884	21	9
Roselle	893	20	10
Park	885	20	12
Union C. C. Club	831	9	21
Cranford	837	6	24

TEAM STANDING IN CENTRAL JOURNAL LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	Highest Score.
Elizabeth A. C.	7	4	1789
Crescent Wheelmen	6	5	1619
New Jersey A. C.	5	6	1671
Cranford C. C.	4	7	1557

TEAM STANDING IN DIOCESAN UNION.

	Won.	Lost.	Highest score.
Catholic C	7	2	1597
Elizabeth	5	2	1670
Orange Valley	6	3	1534
Plainfield	4	4	1506
Newark T. A. B.	2	6	1584
Institute	0	8	1516

The postponed game in the Standard League between Westfield and Roselle will be rolled tonight at Westfield.

The Standard Bowling League will come to a close tomorrow night when the Union County Country Club will go to Cranford to roll two postponed games.

The bowling match, scheduled for Thursday night between the ten men teams from the Y. M. C. A.'s of Plainfield and New Brunswick, has been declared off.

The Plainfield Y. M. C. A. team, consisting of ten men, will go to New Brunswick on Thursday evening to bowl a game with the Y. M. C. A. team of that city. The journey will be made in one of William Hand's stages, drawn by four horses. A good game is expected as well as a pleasant ride.

Tonight the Central Journal Bowling League comes to a close, that is unless there is a tie in the final result. The Crescent Wheelmen roll on their own alleys against the Cranford County Club team. The latter team brings up in the rear of the procession and is very likely to be defeated by the Plainfield boys. The game of the season will be rolled at Bergen Point tonight when the Elizabeth Athletic Club ten will meet their old rivals of the New Jersey Athletic Club. The Jerseys have promised to put up a strong team, and so has the E. A. C., which means that the fight will be a hot one. If the Jerseys defeat their opponents, then the E. A. C. and the Crescent Wheelmen will be tie for first place. Otherwise Elizabeth is sure of the trophy.

AT THE TRAPS.

There was a very interesting and friendly shooting match yesterday afternoon on the grounds of the Plainfield Scheutzen Club, on Mountain avenue, between Henry Wedemeyer, of the borough, and Ambrose Wood, of this city. The first match was eight live birds each, in which Mr. Wedemeyer won by a score of 5 to 4. In the next two matches clay pigeons were used. Mr. Wood won the first by a score of 6 to 5, and Mr. Wedemeyer won the second by a score of 7 to 5. After the shoot the party proceeded to the Arlington Hotel where a collation was served.

BASKET BALL.

The basket ball team of the Central Y. M. C. A. of Brooklyn, will play in this city next Saturday night.

The local Y. M. C. A. basket ball teams will play return games with the Twenty-third Washington Branch of the Brooklyn Y. M. C A. and Company E., Thirteenth Regiment, on March 7th and 14th.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Fred J. Pope has purchased a blue-rimmed Columbia from the Eldridge Bicycle Company.

Will Kiely has accepted a position in the salesroom of the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company of Park avenue.

PUNTS AND KICKS.

A meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Football Association was held last night. After some discussion it was decided not to hold an indoor athletic meet.

—The Board of Health will meet this evening.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be curred by Hall's Catarrh Cure.
F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props.,
Toledo, O.

We the undersigned have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transaction and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.
West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggist, Toledo, O.
Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

A high liver with a torpid liver will not be a long liver. Correct that liver with DeWitt's Little Early Risers, little pills that cure dyspepsia and constipation. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

VARIOUS SPORTS.

A meeting of the Sportsmen's Game and Fish Protective and Propogative Society was held last evening in the office of Percy C. Ohl, Babcock building. The following officers were elected: President, John Goff; vice-president, Frank Day; secretary, Henry Haurand; treasurer, Alexander McCullough; directors, Aaron Brower, J. A. Blatz, D. F. Blackford, John Dixon, R. H. Rushton and Louis VanDyke. The society is now placed on a firm basis as about thirty members were regularly enrolled and paid their initiation fees. Game will be immediately purchased and liberated on the preserves of the club. Anyone wishing to become a member and enjoy the privileges of one this year, must make his application before March 20th. A committee was appointed to see the farmers and land owners and secure the land for the preserves. The committee consisted of Aaron Brower, John Goff and Frank Day. The preserves will be located partly in this county and in Middlesex, in the vicinity of Samptown and New Market. Justice Wm. Newcorn and Percy C. Ohl were elected honorary members. Percy C. Ohl was appointed a committee of one to see about obtaining game. The meeting then adjourned until March 20th.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE

—Preparatory services will be held in Trinity Reformed church on Friday evening.

—A meeting of the Independent Fife and Drum Corps will be held this evening.

—The women of Monroe Avenue chapel will give a sociable on Friday evening.

Hood's pills are the best after dinner pill; assist digestion, prevent constipation. 25c.

—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational church held a meeting this afternoon.

—Anchor Lodge, No. 40, F. and A. M., will work the third degree at the meeting tonight.

—The musical club of the Independent Fife and Drum Corps held a rehearsal last night.

—Richard Menzel has resigned his position as organist in St. Peter's German Lutheran church.

—The opening exercises for the Epworth House will be held at Monroe Avenue chapel tonight.

—The Ladies' Chorus of the Choral Society will give an entertainment in Vincent chapel tonight —Get one of the Surio gas stoves to heat your room. Easy to put on and quick to heat. Gavett has them.

—A woman's prayer service will be held in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church Friday afternoon.

—All carpenters are requested to be present at the meeting to be held tonight in Exempt Firemen's Hall.

—The trial of Armete, the Italian, who is charged with assault, came up at the Circuit Court at Somerville today.

—The Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church are holding a meeting in the chapel this afternoon.

—The Ladies' Aid Society of the First M. E. church, will hold a sociable on Friday evening next in Vincent chapel.

—All bills against the city for the month of February must be in the hands of the City Clerk by Thursday of this week.

—The regular Wednesday evening prayer meeting of the Monroe Avenue chapel will be held tomorrow night in the Epworth House.

—Dr. Ryman, of Elizabeth, will conduct the service at Grace M. E. church Wednesday evening. An important business meeting will follow.

—The Junior Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed church will hold a consecration service Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

—Leon H. Vincent will lecture at Monroe Avenue chapel on Friday afternoon under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the chapel.

—W. E. MacClymont has changed the date of his organ recital from this evening to Tuesday evening, March 3d, in the First Presbyterian church.

Are you one of those unhappy people suffering with weak nerves? Remember that the nerves may be made strong by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which feeds them upon pure blood.

It not only is so, it must be so, One Minute Cough Cure acts quickly, and that's what makes it go. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front S

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Will Moore, of Liberty street, is ill.

Miss May Ryno, of Rahway, visited friends in Plainfield Saturday.

M. McGraff, of New Brunswick, visited friends in Plainfield Sunday.

Duer Randolph, of Clinton avenue, visited friends at Elizabethport last Saturday.

Miss Cecelia Staats returned yesterday from a delightful visit with friends at Easton.

Miss Daisy Kester, of Westfield, will be the guest Saturday and Sunday of Plainfield friends.

Russell Johnson, of New York, has been visiting his brother, Andrew Johnson, of the borough.

Miss Lizzie Meaney, of East Second street, spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives at Flemington.

Walter Thorn, of Siegfried, Pa., has returned after a few days visit with his parents on Orchard place.

Z. Taylor, of Philadelphia, returned home yesterday after spending a few days with Plainfield relatives.

Frederick Binsell, of Brooklyn, has been spending a few days at the home of J. A. Blatz, of Somerset street.

Adam Fritz, of Somerset street, has returned home from the west. He brings with him a carload of horses.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy VanAlstyne, of New York, have returned home after a pleasant visit with relatives in Plainfield.

W. K. McClure left Sunday night for Portland, to attend a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Megantic Club.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Windham, of Somerset street, visited Mrs. Windham's father, Godfrey Herold, of Brooklyn, on Sunday.

Miss Hobb, of Philadelphia, who has been visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wilson, of the borough, has returned home.

Miss Lizzie Dunn, of West Fourth street, expects to attend the National Christian Endeavor convention to be held in Washington next July.

Oscar Huff, of Centreville, Hunterdon county, has returned to his home, after a week's visit with his brother, Horace Huff, of West Fifth street.

Frank H. Ball, the new superintendent of the American Engine Company, of Bound Brook, will take up his residence on May 1st, in the new house at the corner of Washington and Myrtle avenues.

Mrs. A. D. Shepard, of "The Gables," who is spending the winter in New York, is a patroness of the free exhibit of the Hampton and Turkegee Institutes at the Victoria Hotel, corner of Fifth avenue and Twenty-seventh street.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for rheumatism and neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75c. Sold by H. P. Reynolds, druggist, Park and North avenues. 2 12 y

Soothing, healing, cleansing, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the enemy to sores, wounds and piles, which it never fails to cure. Stops itching and burning. Cures chapped lips and cold sores in two or three hours. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

RANDOLPH RUNYON,
Funeral Director and Embalmer.
43 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.
Residence over office. 2 21 m

H. DeMott,
Undertaker and Embalmer,
59 Somerset st., Plainfield, N. J.
Calls promptly attended to day or night. White and black hearses. Coaches latest style.

CONCERT to be given in
Vincent Chapel,
under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society.
TUESDAY EVENING,
Feb. 25, at 8 o'clock, by the Ladies' Chorus assisted by other talent. Mr. Fitzhugh, conductor. Tickets 50c. 2 20 3-t m t

A Corn Cure THAT CURES CORNS

We have never said much about our Corn Cure—though it is one of the best made—because the market is full of cures, so-called. But such positive testimony to its merits has recently been volunteered that we feel justified in "talking-up" this little specialty. Our COLLOID CORN CURE is easily applied, gives relief quickly and will cure every case of corns, hard or soft, that can be cured, if used as directed. Sold in square vials with brush for applying. REYNOLDS' PHARMACY, Park and North Avenues.

Don't invite disappointment by experimenting. Depend upon One Minute Cough Cure and you have immediate relief. It cures croup. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

Y. M. C. A. Star Course.

Y. M. C. A. HALL.

Three Fine Entertainments in March for 50 cents.

March 3—Miss Addie Parker Jackson assisted by Conde's Young Men's Symphony Orchestra.
March 17—Amphion Ladies Mandolin and Vocal Quartette of New York.
March 24—"Switzerland and Its People," lecture by Prof. Henry M. Maxson.

Tickets on sale now at Association.

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 cent a word each insertion. Less than 10 words 10 cents. Cash must accompany adv.

STRAYED from home on Thursday, Feb. 20 a white and gray cat. Finder will be rewarded by returning to 410 Madison avenue.

PLEASANT front rooms with or without board; all improvements; terms reasonable. 130 North avenue 2 25 6

$5 REWARD—Lost on Monday from Fanwood, a white pointer dog with light red spots on his head. The above reward will be given upon the return of dog to Mrs. Walter Man, Fanwood.

VINES, hedges and shrubbery properly trimmed by practical gardener; charges moderate. Call or address at Blimm's grocery, East 3d and Washington sts. 2 26 28-3 2 4 7

LOST—Feb. 21th, small shell hair pin with gold top on Watchung avenue or Front street, near the Sanfords. Reward if returned to this office.

OFFICE to let, centrally located. Apply 612 Park ave. 2 25 2 t t

SITUATIONS wanted, neat nurse girl, several chambermaids and waitresses. Intelligence office, Babcock Building.

GIRL wanted. Apply at 351 East 3d street.

WANTED—By an English Protestant woman, situation to do general housework in a good private family. Priscilla Negus, Union avenue, Bound Brook, N. J. 2 25 3

WANTED—Six-room house, centrally located; reasonable rent. Address "X. Y. Z." care Press.

STORE to let. Corner Park avenue and Second street. W. R. Codington. 2 17 6

LADY S gold watch and pin lost on or near Willow avenue, Washington Park. Finder will be rewarded by leaving it at 91 Rockview avenue. 1t

WANTED—A young girl to learn dressmaking. Call at once at 320 West 2d st. 2 24 2

TO LET—Neat cottage, 9 rooms; would divide, 4 for one, 5 for the other making rent cheap. Address 131 New street. 2 24 3

WANTED—Two German or Swedish girls; one as cook and laundress, other chambermaid and waitress. Apply 113 Park place. 2 24 2

TO LET—From April 1, the desirable residence No. 117 Madison ave. Wm. D. Thickstun, 197 North ave. 2 21 tf

TO exchange for lots, new 6 room house; price $1650; mortgage $800. Address P. O. Box 283. 2 21 4

WANTED—Situation as gardener by experienced man; best of city references. Address G. M., P. O. box 383, city. 2 19 6

FOR SALE—The property owned and occupied by W. T. Broadway, 323 LaGrande ave; modern improvements, city water, etc; house has ten rooms also bath and laundry; possession any time; liberal terms. Apply to agents. 2 17 tf-m w f

WASHINGTON Park, North Plainfield; for sale or to let to a small family, No. 19 Sycamore ave., house in perfect order; contains 10 rooms, city water, gas and furnace; terms made to suit. Geo. F. Edwards, 191 Broadway, New York, or 17 Duer st., Plainfield. 2 17 12

VERY handsome flat; all modern improvements. Apply Manning's city marble works. 2 17 tf

WANTED.—At once, experienced white cook. Apply 949 Central avenue. 2 8 tf

GOOD accommodations for horses; horses boarded by the month at reasonable terms. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville, N. J. 12 3 tf

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker 2 21 tf

133 EAST 2d street to let a large sunny front room: also a hall rooms; furnished, 2 minutes from depot. 12 19 tf-m w t

TO LET—Stores, flats, dwellings. Bargains for sale. Mulford, Broker. 1 6 tf

TO LET—Stable on Sycamore street, from April 1st, seven stalls and a box stall, city water and electric lights, also three rooms over stable suitable for light house-keeping. Apply P. Lynch 1 2 tf

Such Business

for February never before known. Usually a dull month, we have made it one of the busiest of the year, but only by giving such values that will tempt and bring the business our way. Last week good values we gave but better for

THIS WEEK.

Blankets.

Many cold nights to come. We have a hundred pair of fine all wool blankets that we are closing out at a discount of 15 per cent from regular prices. 500 pair of white and gray blankets at 55c the pair.

Shirt Waists.

New styles made of fine percale, all colors, laundered collars and cuffs, 49c

Embroideries.

From far off Switzerland they come to you and at such little prices that you wonder how they can make them and live. 3, 5, 7, 10 and 15c the yard. See them whether you wish to buy or not.

Silks and Dress Goods

in all the newest and prettiest effects and in many instances there is less to pay than you would imagine. Special in black 36 inch all wool cashmere and serges 25c, 45 inch do serge 41c, 38 inch do fancies 39c, 38 inch do novelties 50c.

The balance of the Pargiter stock will be cleaned out regardless. Many good things left in ladies', gentlemen's and children's heavy underwear, ladies' muslin underwear and hosiery.

	Pargiter Price.	Our price.
Fine India lawn	25c	10c
Men's natural wool shirts	$1	59c
Men's scarlet wool shirts	$1	50c
Men's white wool shirts	50c	25c
Men's colored half hose	15c	8c
Men's black half hose	25c	13c
Ladies' black hose	15c	8c
" "	20c	10c
Children's black hose	20c	10c
" "	25c	15c
Ladies' black and colored kid gloves	$1	59c
" " " "	$1.25	69c
Ladies' night robes	75c	39c
Ladies' white shirts	$1	59c
Ladies' ribbed vests	75c	33c
" "	50c	25c
Fine huck towels	25c	13c

CHINA DEPARTMENT.

COMPARE PRICES.

We want you to compare our prices on the following items. If you can do better, enough said. These are a few of the many good things for this week. Plenty more on sale all through the department. 25 best quality English porcelain tea sets decorated and new shape, imported to sell at $4, 56 pieces, at $2.69 set. 40 toilet sets consisting of 6 pieces, Byron shape, choice of 3 colors, new shape at 98c set. English porcelain dinner set, Old Hall, 112 pieces, good judges know the name and goods, worth $9, at $6.87 set.

AT HALF PRICE--Framed Pictures.

250 framed pictures at just half price, manufacturer's stock. We close out on most of them. We only ask you the price of the glass. 100 12x20 white enameled frames, assorted subjects, worth 75c; your choice 29c each.

WHITE OF PLAINFIELD.

Removal Sale.

These Are the Goods that Must Go.

Boy's reefers $5.....now $2.45
Youth's overcoats $8.....now $4.75
Youth's overcoats $10.....now $6.50
Men's overcoats $10.....now $7.75
Men's ulsters $10.....now $6.00

SEBRING'S,

Park Avenue. April 1st, West Front Street.

SEE THAT CURVE IN HATS

on all the new spring styles
Shown in those sold by
HALLOCK, Hatter, 109 West Front St.

KEATING, The world's lightest—19 lbs. SEE THAT CURVE? FOWLER, Truss frame—17 to 24 lbs.

Chas. C. Lister,
134 North Avenue.

Guaranteed Bicycles For $49.50. OUTING and APOLLO. Repairing, Renting, and Storing.

"He Never New"

We kept Hanan & Son's Shoes,
But what could the poor boy do?
His wife found it out—
He had never been on Park avenue.

A. WILLETT & SON,
107 PARK AVENUE.

ALASKA'S GOLD FIELDS.

Vast Auriferous Deposits in the Yukon River Country.

Formation of a New Transportation Company Which Will Make the Territory Accessible to Miners and Prospectors—A Miner's Story.

[Special Chicago Letter.]

Capt. D. M. Swain, master of the steamer Borealis Rex, which plies on the Illinois river, is interested in a company which will operate a line of steamers on the Yukon river, Alaska, to the gold fields. The route from Seattle, Wash., to Juneau, Alaska, is now covered by the vessels of the Pacific Coast Steamship company. From Juneau the Yukon Transportation company will have two separate routes to Circle City, the objective point. The freight route, by way of the Berhing sea and mouth of the Yukon, is 4,780 miles; the passenger route by way of the Chilkoot pass and the source of the Yukon is 2,093—the distances computed from Seattle.

This enterprise is advanced to facilitate traffic into the gold regions of the far north. Intercourse with miners who have made their fortunes in the Yukon country first drew Mr. Swain's attention to this field, and he is much interested in its resources and possibilities, and has made a thorough study of the country. He is assured of the navigability of the Yukon and its tributaries, and says if transportation facilities for passengers and supplies are made adequate and rapid, the country will develop wonderfully.

Alaska contains 617,000 square miles and has an extent of over 1,000 miles north and south and over 2,000 miles east and west. A range of high mountains parallel with the Pacific coast, about 60 miles inland, divides the country into two unequal parts—the narrow coast strip, which has a mild, moist climate, and the interior Yukon basin where humidity is an unknown quality. Zero weather makes one less uncomfortable than 40 degrees above zero in the central states. The coast dirtinct is easily accessible, being reached at all seasons of the year by ocean vessels, and is well known, being visited by many tourists. The Yukon river basin is accessible less than half the year and then with great difficulty.

The Yukon river basin, comprising more than two-thirds of the entire territory of Alaska, contains over 500,000 square miles, and is one of the most remarkable regions in the world. The climate is dry and healthful and has two seasons—four months of warm weather, the mining season, when the sun shines 20 hours a day, and eight months of dark, cold winter, when all mining operations cease.

The discoveries of the last two seasons in this new country show that it is probably the largest and richest placer gold field in the world, while all along the route, from the source to the mouth of the river, the close observer can see vast treasures of coal, quartz, marble, iron, copper, etc., only waiting for capital to develop the country and furnish means of transportation to bring them within reach of the outside world. Although a hasty exploration of the numerous tributaries of the river during the short season has proved that every stream, large or small, is gold bearing; yet that part of the field thus far developed is of insignificant area. All streams carry flour gold, which increases in its coarseness as the river is ascended. Thus it is evident that the surrounding gulches must furnish exceedingly rich diggings. All these gold-bearing streams are navigable for suitably constructed boats, and the territory cut by the waters of Alaska is almost unlimited. One hundred thousand men could prospect the Yukon basin and be lost to one another.

During the two months last summer the few hundred men in the diggings took out over $1,000,000 worth of gold. Miller creek, a gulch four miles long, alone produced $350,000 in 50 days, and but few of the claims were developed. Not a few men took out $5,000 and $10,000 during the season, and some took out $25,000, and one man from Milwaukee $80,000.

It is asserted there is a bright future for the entire Yukon basin as a mining region, not only in the auriferous deposit, but in the vast leads of quartz found everywhere.

But the gold and other minerals are not the only wealth that has remained hidden in this ice-bound treasure-box for ages. The streams contain salmon and other fish in untold quantities. Salmon canning, yet unattempted on the Yukon, could be made exceedingly profitable, and, together with the rich quartz, would furnish a valuable cargo for freight boats returning from taking supplies up the river. The annual output of furs is worth hundreds of thousands of dollars, and for years to come will continue to be a source of big revenue to any company giving its attention to that trade.

The Yukon is the second largest river in the world, being next to the Amazon in size. It is 60 miles wide at its mouth, and at a distance of 1,500 miles from its mouth has a width of seven to ten miles. The river is too shallow for ocean steamers, but is navigable the entire length for flat-bottom river boats of 400 to 500 tons burden. The navigable tributaries of the Yukon are the Lewis, Pelly, Stewart, Tahkenna, Hootalinqua, Porcupine, Tannana, Avik, White, Birch and the Salmon, and many others, to the extent of several thousand miles. Prospectors can penetrate by boat the most remote parts of the gold fields without hardships, get supplies without fail, work during the entire mining season, and coming out at the close of the summer spend their winter in milder climates. All this will be made possible by the line of boats now in contemplation.

Until two years ago comparatively few miners ever visited this region of wealth where nature had been so lavish. In 1893 about 300 men went, in 1894, 600 entered, and last year over 3,000. If proper transportation facilities are furnished and made known in 1896 20,000 probably would be a low estimate of the number that will seek riches in this new country. The movement toward the coast, on the way of their long journey, would remind the Californians of '49.

The Seattle Post-Intelligencer is authority for the statement that the mines were short 2,000 tons of provisions this year, and that many were on the verge of starvation, with money to burn in their pockets. This shows the vast importance of a line of freight steamers.

The company now forming in Chicago proposes to put one or two large freighters on the Yukon, to run from its mouth to Circle City, the supply point for the bold fields; five swift launches of 75 to 125 passengers capacity to ply on the upper course of the river to carry passengers in and out, and to take prospectors and supplies up tributary streams.

The change in conditions and prices to be brought about by the company is summed up in their prospectus as follows:

	Now.	Proposed.
Freight rates, per ton..	$150 to $250	$50 to $75
Pass'g'r rates per head	100 to 125	50
Time for round trip...	65 days	11 days
Hardships and danger.	Num'r'us	None

The company will be strictly a transportation company, without any trading interests to protect.

Mr. C. K. Zilly, of Seattle, Wash., in an interview some few weeks ago said:

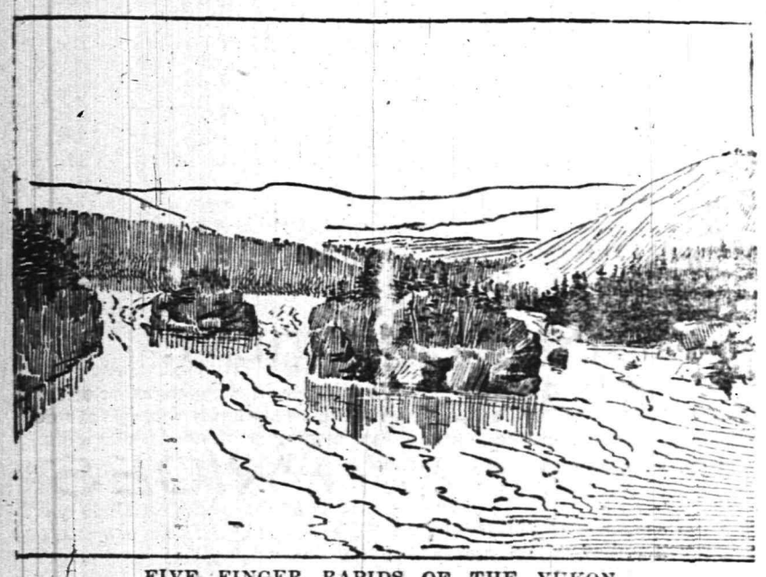
"I have been working in a mine on Mastodon creek, and I should judge of Birch creek. There are 54 claims on Mastodon creek, and I should judge 20 or 25 are opened up. This is the first season on that creek, and I estimate that the miners took out about $150,000 to $200,000 of gold. It is all placer mining. They began early in June, and worked until about September 10, when the night frosts began to interfere. It is a fact little known that one company has been operating a mine on Ungla island, the output of which is $60,000 per month."

"Did you bring any dust?"

"Yes, a little. But I didn't work any claim for myself. I worked for wages—$15 a day. No; I wouldn't advise anybody to go there unless he has money. He ought to have at least $500, so that he can get out if he strikes bad luck."

Provisions are not plentiful and many miners had to quit early and return to Seattle. On one boat 200 men left at the same time after 50 days' work. There was not a man that did not have money, the entire 200 averaging $1,000 each. Two had over $20,000, and the sacks ranged from that figure down to $1,000. If these men could have staid 50 days more they would have doubled their wealth. With the advent of the boats of the Yukon Transportation company, it will be made possible for more days of labor, plenty of provisions, no danger in the trip, no exposure or hardships—in reality a pleasant summer's jaunt.

W. B. POWELL.



FIVE FINGER RAPIDS OF THE YUKON.

[From a Photograph, Copyrighted, 1896, by Calvert Co., Seattle, Wash.]

Meanest Trick on Record.

A certain married lady of Hope, Ill., sat up till 12 o'clock the other night waiting for her husband to come home. At last, weary and worn out with waiting, she went to her bedroom to retire and found the missing husband there fast asleep. Instead of going downtown, he had gone to his room. She was so mad that she wouldn't speak to him for a week.

BE STRONG AND HEARTY.

How to Be Strong and Full of Life and Vigor.

If you starved for two days you would feel as weak as a cat.

Proof enough that your food is the cause of you strength.

If your stomach is sick, your starving away your strength. Slowly perhaps, but none the less surely.

You feel it yourself.

You have nausea, loss of appetite, headache, giddiness, pain in the stomach, loss of strength, spirits and ambition.

What do you think? That its your head?

But it's not. It's simply your stomach.

Food is strength. Stomach makes it available. If stomach won't work, food does not become available strength.

Shaker Digestive Cordial will, in a few doses, make your stomach well and help your food make you strong.

Who wouldn't be strong? Whoever won't take Shaker Digestive Cordial.

Sick, tired, weary men and women, those who are working their bodies and brains too hard, will find relief and strength in Shaker Digestive Cordial.

It makes strength. It makes health. It makes happiness.

It's not an ordianry medicine, it's a cordial.

It's pleasant to take, and more than pleasant in its results.

For sale by all druggists at 10, 25, 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle.

Nothing Like It.

Time brings many changes, but the climate of Calfornia, "The Italy of America," and the attractions of the many famous health and pleasure resorts, are the same yesterday, today and forever.

Tourists never will tire of speaking in praise of the soft and balmy air, the profusion of flowers, the magnificent display of fruits, the luxury of seabathing and the beautiful walks and drives.

Then, too, it must be conceded that with such excellent equipment, consisting of Reclining Chair Cars, Pullman Palace Sleepers and Pullman Dining Cars, all heated by steam and lighted with Pintsch Light, the Union Pacific, "The Overland Route," is the tourists favorite. Ask your agents for tickets via this route.

E. L. Lomax, General Pass and Ticket Agent, Omaha, Neb.

NOTICE OF ASSIGNMENT.

Notice is hereby given that Henry A. Voehl, of the Borough of North Plainfield, County of Somerset and State of New Jersey, carrying on the business as baker, at No. 84 Somerset street, in the Borough of North Plainfield County and State aforesaid, hath this day made an assignment to the subscriber of his estate for the equal benefit of his creditors, and that the said creditors must exhibit their respective claims under oath or affirmation to the subscriber, at his house No. 65 Somerset street, in the Borough of North Plainfield, Somerset county, New Jersey, within three months from the date of said assignment or be forever barred from coming in for a division of said estate.

Dated Feb. 7, A. D. 1896.

JACOB VOEHL, Assignee.

2 18 5-oaw

AN ORDINANCE.

An Ordinance for the suppression of Vice and Immorality.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Sec. 1. That no person or persons shall on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, sell dispose of or offer or expose for sale or cause or permit to be sold, disposed of or offered or exposed for sale, any cider of any description, under penalty of a fine not exceeding Twenty Dollars for each and every offense.

Sec. 2. That all ordinances and parts of ordinances so far as they are inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Adopted by the Common Council Feb. 3d, 1896.

Approved by the Mayor Feb. 7th 1896.

A. GILBERT, Mayor.

Attest—J. T. MacMurray, City Clerk.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT. Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, administrator of Augustus D. Holmes, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the first day of April next.

Dated January 27, 1896.

1 28 10-oaw JOHN G. FAXON.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, executor of John Harris, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the county of Union, on Wednesday, the twenty-sixth day of February, next. WILLIAM W. HARRIS.

Dated December 16, 1895. 12 24 9-oaw

May Change Her Mind

and her stationery. This unwritten law may be observed just as often as she desires, and then, if not thoroughly satisfied, can get her money back for the asking. However, we find few who do not like our 25c box of paper and envelopes when desiring the medium grade.

R. C. RAND,

140 West Front st.

HONEYMAN'S PRIVATE TOURS,

181 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Easter week to Washington; June 27, Coaching trip abroad, with Switzerland and Italy; August to New England; December to Mexico.

P. MARKEY, Bakery,

144 PARK AVENUE.

A full assortment of bread, cakes, and pies fresh every day. Fig and malt bread a specialty. 2 17 tf

R. H. Rushton. J. C. Hansen. A. Luthman.

Rushton, Hansen & Luthman,

PAINTERS & PAPER HANGERS,

P. O. Box 773, Plainfield, N. J.

Interior decorating a specialty. Our motto—first-class work. Estimates cheerfully given. Orders promptly attended to. 2 11 tf

Removal Sale!

Will remove to the much larger store, 129 East Front st., now occupied by Mr. Gavett, on or about March 25, 1896, I will therefore offer the following lines at Greatly Reduced Prices.

Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing,

also Neckwear, to reduce stock previous to removal.

Men's Overcoats $4.05, $7.20, $9.00, $10.80, $12.60 and Upward.

Men's Suits $4.05, $5.40, $6.30, $7.20, $9, $10.80 and Up

Boys' and Children's Clothing in proportionately low prices. 50c Neckwear in four-in-hand and tecks at 25C. A beautiful assortment. All the above goods are new this season. Watch this ad.

HARRY M. JAQUETT,

123 East Front Street, Plainfield, N. J.

One Price CASH One Price

and money refunded if goods are not satisfactory.

Telephone, Brooklyn, 366.

COMINS & EVANS.

Acorn Brand Asphalt Roofing.

Gravel and Metal Roofing, Tile and Brick Roofing, Water-Tight Cellars.

45 WAVERLY AVE, BROOKLYN, N. Y

New York office, 38 Dey st. 1 18 y eod

Improve YOUR OPPORTUNITY!

Get Some of the BARGAINS IN

FURNITURE and CHINA.

before removal to Jackson Building.

Heat Your Rooms With the

Surio Gas Globe Heater.

Goes on any Gas Jet.

G. Q. Packer. Jos. W. Gavett.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

—Dealers in—

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Material, &c

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

Creamery Butter

20c Per Pound at

J. F. MACDONALD'S

Uptown Grocery.

J. T. VAll, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 NORTH AVENUE.

Are the Most Popular in the World.

Are Built in the Largest and Best Equipped Factory in the World. They are the Most Popular and Best Selling Wheels Made.

Evidenced by the fact that there were more of them sold in '95 than any other make. Be sure to see sample before purchasing your '96 wheel.

Made by Indiana Bicycle Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

F. L. C. MARTIN, AGENT. 1 27 eod

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Anthracite Coal Used Exclusively, Insuring Cleanliness and Comfort.

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street.

Time Table in Effect Nov. 17, 1895.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 14, 3 37, 5 38, 6 04, 6 29, 6 59, 7 26, 7 30, 7 53, 8 00, 8 15, 8 27, 8 31, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, 10 59 a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 9 23, 10 17, 11 28, p.m. Sunday, 2 14, 3 37, 6 04, 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 10 59, 11 16, a m; 12 33, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17, p m.

Leave New York, Foot Liberty St., at 4 20, 6 00, 7 15, 8 00, 8 40, 9 10, 10 00, 11 45, a m; 1 10, 1 40, 2 30, 3 30, 3 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 15, 5 30, 5 45, 6 00, 6 15, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 30, p m; 12 15, 1 00, night. Sunday, 4 30, 7 15, 9 00, 9 15, a m; 12 00 m; 1 00, 1 30, 2 30, 4 00, 5 30, 7 00, 9 00, 10 00, p m; 12 15 night, 1 00 a m

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield at 5 38, 6 29, 6 59, 7 30, 8 00, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 10 17, 11 28, p m. Sunday 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 11 16 a m; 12 33, 1 45, 3 31, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17 p. m.

Leave Newark at 6 15, 7 18, 7 55, 8 38, 9 03, 10 05, 11 35, a m; 1 15, 1 35, 2 35, 3 35, 4 05, 4 40, 5 04, 5 34, 5 50, 6 20, 7 15, 7 35, 8 40, 10 05, 11 25, p. m. Sunday 7 30, 9 05, 9 30, 11 35 a m; 1 10, 1 35; 2 35, 4 05, 5 40, 7 20, 9 25, 10 20

Passengers for Newark please change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 5 45, 7 10, 8 16, 9 54, 11 00 a m; 12 46, 2 11, 2 32, 3 35, 4 36, 5 05, 5 14, 5 34, 6 04, 6 19, 6 38, 7 12, 7 34, 8 21, 10 26, 11 23, p m; 12 38 night. Sunday 5 45, 8 28, 9 55, a m; 2 03, 3 43, 5 14, 6 35, 10 15, 11 14 p m.

Leave Somerville at 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 25, 7 30, 7 48, 8 20, 9 05, 9 48, 11 40 a. m; 12 50, 1 48, 2 05, 3 25, 4 25, 4 59, 6 35, 8 07, 8 45, 11 05 p.m. Sunday at 8 25, 9 45, 10 35 a m; 12 08, 1 20, 5 10, 6 35, 8 05, 9 40 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield at 5 45, 8 16, 9 54 a m., 12 46, 2 11, 5 05, 5 14, 6 38, 8 21 p. m. Sunday at 5 45, 8 28, a m; 2 03, 6 35 p m.

Leave Easton at 6 05, 7 00, 8 53, a m; 12 32, 3 43, 4 49, 7 00, p. m. Sunday at 7 15, 10 52 a m; 6 40, 7 30 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield at 9 54 a. m.; 5 05 5 14.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

5 45 a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m.—For stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 a. m.—For Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 54 a. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch D. L. & W. R. R., Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Shamokin, Nanticoke, and Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. with buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 46 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 11 p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Tamaqua, Sunbury, Williamsport, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

5 05 p. m., way for Easton, connecting with High Bridge for stations on High Bridge Branch.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Scranton, Wilkesbarre, Tamaqua, Shamokin, (buffet parlor car to Scranton.)

6 19 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 38 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, and Harrisburg.

8 21 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

5 45 a. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

8 28 a. m., Sundays—For Easton.

2 03 p. m. Sundays—For High Bridge for High Bridge Branch, Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading, and Harrisburg.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 35 p. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c., and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

FOR LONG BRANCH, OCEAN GROVE, ETC.

Leave Plainfield at 3 37, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, p. m. Sunday, (except Ocean Grove) 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 3 37, 5 38, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, 7 03, p. m., Sundays 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Atlantic City, 3 37 a. m.; 1 18 p. m.

For Freehold, 3 37, 8 00, 10 27 a. m.; 1 18, 3 51, 5 24 p. m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44 9 46, 10 44 a. m.; 2 17, 5 34*, 6 45, 8 21, 9 37*, 1 17 night. Sundays—5 17, 5 45, 9 55 10 44 a. m., 2 25, 4 55, 5 14* 6 45 p. m. 1 17 night.

For Trenton, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44, 9 46, a. m. 12 46, 2 17, 5 34*, 6 38*, 8 21, 9 37* p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays 5 17, 5 45, 9 55 a. m., 2 25, 4 55, 5 14*, 6 35*, p. m, 1 17 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 8 44, 10 44 a. m., 5 34*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays, 10 44 a. m., 5 14*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points West, week-days at 9 54 a. m., 8 21 p. m. Sunday 6 35 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked (*) change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rates may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN, General Superintendent.

R. P. BALDWIN, General Passenger Agent.

Jones & Co., EXCAVATORS.

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.

—Cesspools Built.

Sewer Connections Made

Properly and Earth Replaced Carefully.

PLUMBING TESTED.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front street.

CLASSES FOR

Women and Girls

IN

Gymnastic Exercises, Swimming and Fencing.

Miss Elizabeth C. MacMartin, Inst'r.

will meet applicants for membership Wednesday afternoon from 2 until 3, at the Y. M. C. A.

M. Powers & Son.

Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75 in the Yard.

A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office 763 South ave. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

Your Spring Clothing

Rather early to speak of it, but if it needs cleaning or dyeing, it isn't too early to have us do that work for you. This is our dull season—our employes are here ready for work. We'd like to have your goods now. We can give them better attention than in the rush of the spring season. Then we'll have to have more time or rush them at the expense of good work. Now we can take our time, do the work better than if hurried and you'll have the clothing all ready for warm weather.

Look in the closet or trunk and find your spring wear that needs cleaning and dyeing and bring it to us now, or better still, our wagon will call for it if you will send us word.

Hillier & Co.,

179 North ave., Plainfield.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

New York Mails.

Arrive—7:30, 8:40, 11:15 a.m., 2:45, 5, 5:30 p. m.
Close—7 15 and 9:20 a. m., 1:30, 4 30 and 7:30 p. m.

Somerville and Easton Mails.

Arrive—8:40 a. m., 2:40, 6:00 p. m.
Close—7:15 a. m., 4:30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arr. 12 m; closes 9:30 a. m.

Sunday Mails.

Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6:15 p. m.

J. M. HETFIELD, P. M.

GEO. O. STEVENS
OAL
147 WEST FRONT ST.

Branch office with

G. A. HALLOCK,

109 West Front st.

NOTICE.

All hackmen, truckmen and peddlers must make application to renew their licenses before Monday night, February 24th, as all licenses will expire on March 1st, and any person without a license will be required to suspend his business until one is procured.

GEO. W. GRANT,
Chief of Police.

E. H. Holmes,

Dealer in

Coal & Wood.

Yard—No. 208 Madison avenue. Office for coal orders with Woolston & Buckle, 145 North ave.

Telephone 49-A.

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the first and third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.
John Fellows, Dictator.
R. A. Frey, Reporter.

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays in the Babcock Building.
C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Sec.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Babcock Building, West Front street.
D. C. Adams, W. M.
Charles Yeager, Sec.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the second and fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward Building, Park avenue, at 8 p.m.
Harry C. Adams, Regent.
Frederick C. Pope, Secretary.

McCullough's STEAM MILL,

21 Steiner place, North Plainfield.

R. H. McCullough, Prop.
Sash, blinds, doors, mouldings, scroll sawing, turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully furnished.

ERNEST BARRETT,

Sanitary Plumbing, Steam and Hot Water Heating

All work guaranteed. Estimates cheerfully given. Jobbing promptly attended to.

325 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

L. L. MANNING, Marble AND Granite Works,

Corner Central avenue and West Front street, opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

MONEY

Cannot buy better

Men's Suits,

in fine imported Black and Blue Cheviot, Diagonal or fancy weave, single or double breasted at $9.90.

reduced from $15, $18 and $20.

WERNER'S,

206 West Front st.

J. W. VanSickle, Dealer in all kinds of

FRESH AND SALTED MEATS.

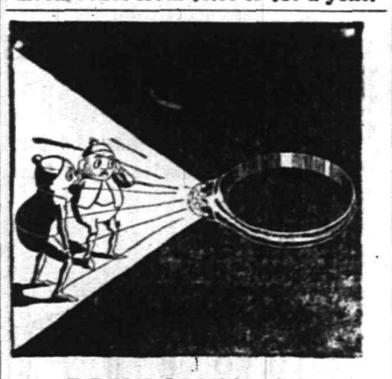
Game in season. No. 122 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Telephone 148b. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

Your Valuables

will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

Lock boxes from $3.50 to $10 a year.



A BRILLIANT SIGHT.

is afforded everyone who looks through our stock of diamonds and other precious stones—and their setting is only second to them in beauty. You can't think of anything in the jewelry line you can't get here. If you can, let us know and we'll get it at short notice.

COLLIER, 103 Park Avenue.

Established 1869.

INSURANCE.

C. C. Pope & Co.,

INSURANCE AGENTS,

110 East Front st.,
Plainfield, N. J.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance,

197 North avenue

INSURANCE.

WM. H. ABBOTT,

171 North Ave.

A Card to the Public

For nearly 20 years the public of Plainfield and vicinity have given me the largest share of their patronage in the purchasing of hats and gent s furnishings, showing that honest effort, low prices and reliable goods are appreciated. I have now associated with me Mr. Charles Clark, of Westfield, N. J., who comes to us highly recommended as a competent, honest young man. We will add to our stock of hats and gent's furnishings, a full line of men's and youth's shoes and rubbers, keeping only reliable goods and selling at the lowest possible prices.

Thankful for past favors, we are yours for business, U. B. CRANE,
120 West Front st.
Succeeded by Crane & Clark.

F. A. DUNHAM,

Civil Engineer and Surveyor

109 Park ave. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas. Telephone 87—F.

Dogs

IRON AND BRASS

FIRE-DOGS.

Curtis M. Thorpe,

Y. M. C. A. Building

"Everything for the Fireplace."

Don't let the Baby Die from want of nourishment. Thousands of them succumb from this cause daily. No fault of the parents either, simply they are unable to find food that can be retained by the poor, weak stomachs, and then that continual decrease in weight, that pinched and forlorn look on the little face with the inevitable end. Try while there is yet life and be rewarded with happy success, as thousands have done before you, that greatest of food products

Bovinine

It is a concentration in the least possible bulk of the life-maintaining elements of lean, raw beef, prepared by a special cold process. A few drops added to babies' milk will make rich, new blood, create flesh and bone, and give the necessary strength to the vital organs to start them on their long life's work Cholera infantum and bowel troubles are prevented by its use. Over 25000 physicians endorse it.

CATARRH

COLD IN HEAD

ELY'S Cream Balm

Is quickly absorbed, cleanes the nasal passages allays pain and inflammation, heals the sores, protects the membrane from additional cold, restores the senses of taste and smell.

It will cure. A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50c. at druggists or by mail. ELY BOTHERS, 56 Warren st., New York.

In Buying a Piano or an Organ

do not fail to examine the latest Mason & Hamlin models. Recent improvements render them unexcelled. Old pianos or organs taken in exchange. Instruments sold for cash or easy payments.

Catalogues and full information free.

Pianos of reliable makers from $200 upwards.

Mason & Hamlin Co.

136 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK

Always Open is Leggett's Pharmacy in Y.M.C.A. Building

UNION

Meat Market,

IS THE PLACE

where you can buy during Lent all kinds of Smoked Fish, Salt and Pickled Herring, Imported Cheese of all kinds, Russian Caviar. Try the Waldorf Cheese, Imported and Domestic Sardines. Native Steers sold only at low prices. Jersey Lamb, Veal, Mutton, Pork. Turkeys and Chickens always on hand. My Sausage can't be beat. Genuine Philadelphia Scrapple and Taylor's Hams. Headquarters for Bologna and Delecatessen.

A. G. Vogeler.

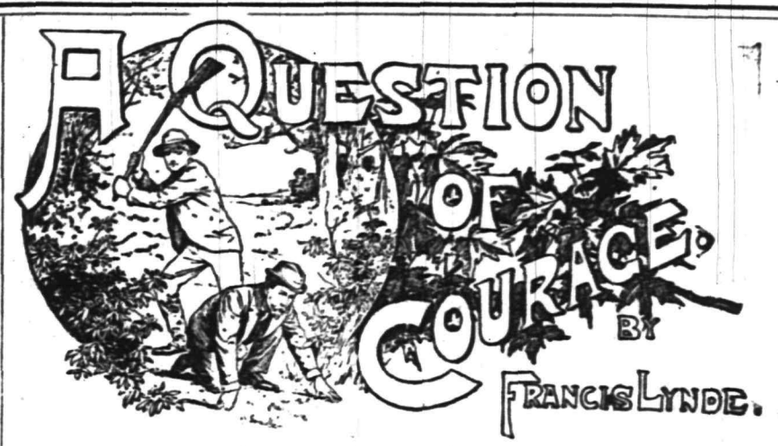
131 West Front st.

Telephone 29b. Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON,

Plumbing and Hot Water Heating.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.
Opposite Roberts's Livery. 132 North ave.



[Copyright, 1895, by J. B. Lippincott Co.]

"Prejudice whom? Miss Hester? What's she got to do with it?"

"Why, nothing, of course—that is, nothing that I—that she—Hang it all, Ludlow, I believe I'm about to make a fool of myself!"

Ludlow stopped and gazed in open-mouthed wonder at his friend. "Well, I'm blest if you don't break the record, Hugh! I thought it struck me pretty suddenly, but pshaw! my case wasn't a circumstance to this. I've heard of love at first sight, but this is the instantaneous photography kind. Why, you couldn't have got more than a glimpse of her as they passed us!"

"I—we—that is to say—I've seen her before," stammered Ringbrand.

"Oho! now I begin to understand; that's what brought you to Tregarthen. I thought Helen's prophetic soul didn't mislead her. Well, tell me the rest of it; I've got your fate in my hands, and you might as well make an ally of me at the start."

Ringbrand told his small story frankly, concluding with a plea for secrecy. "I'd rather you wouldn't tell even Mrs. Ludlow," he added. "It's such a piece of ridiculous absurdity in its present stage, you know."

"I'll promise not to tell her of my own accord," assented Ludlow, "but that isn't saying much. It's only fair to warn you that she'll get it out of me sooner or later. Best thing you can do is to get the affair into presentable shape as soon as possible; then you won't mind."

"Presentable shape!" groaned Ringbrand, "and I haven't even had an introduction! Ludlow, I believe I left my wits behind me when I came away from New York. I haven't been wholly accountable since I crossed the Ohio river."

"Oh, I don't know about that," rejoined Ludlow, reflectively. "You might have gone farther and fared a good deal worse; Hester Latimer's well worth any man's winning—only I'll tell you beforehand that she has all of her father's prejudices, magnified by the emotional nature of an impulsive young woman."

"What sort of prejudices?"

"Southern, mostly; pride of race and loyalty to section, with a lingering trace of bitterness as a result of the war. But there are compensating virtues that will warm the very cockles of your heart; such open-handed hospitality as you never dreamed of; a loyalty to kith and kin and friends that takes you right back to the days of chivalry; and another pleasant thing about them is that they reverse our social rule, and take a man for what he appears to be until he proves himself unworthy."

They walked along in silence for awhile, and then Ringbrand said: "I don't know but I overstated it a moment ago, after all. My first impulse when I saw Miss Latimer was merely a strong desire to study the type; it's unusual, and she is uncommonly beautiful. Just where the artistic sense merged into the erotic, I can't tell; I don't know enough of the symptoms to be able to diagnose my own case."

Ludlow laughed heartily: "That's a damaging admission for a story-writer. Why, you fellows are supposed to be able to analyze the tender passion in all its stages, from start to finish, and here you can't apply the first tests of your art to your own case! I shouldn't write any more love-tales, if I were you."

"I fancy it's another case of the sick doctor, Tom. You know a physician never trusts himself to treat his own malady."

Ringbrand was decidedly preoccupied at the supper table that evening, and Mrs. Ludlow did not fail to rally him unmercifully. So many of the sharp thrusts found the joints in his armor that he pleaded the need of exercise when they left the table, and went out for an evening stroll. When he was out of earshot, Mrs. Ludlow promptly attacked her husband.

"What is the matter with Mr. Ringbrand this evening?" she inquired.

"Nothing that I know of," replied Ludlow, dropping into a veranda chair and burying himself, ostrich-like, in the newspaper.

"But I know there is," insisted the lady. "He is distrait and embarrassed, and he seems to be afraid I'll find out something. Where have you been today?"

"Nowhere, except down to the furnace."

Mrs. Ludlow rocked gently in her chair, watching the figure of Ringbrand appear and disappear in the windings of the road leading to the summit of the mountain. She was silent so long that her husband had time to relax his vigilance in the interest of the newspaper, and her next question caught him off his guard.

"What do you suppose he's going away up on the mountain for at this time of day?" she asked.

Ludlow heard the question with his outward ears and answered it mechanically: "I don't know; perhaps he's going up to see if he can get a sight of her."

There was another interval of silence, and then Mrs. Ludlow rose and stood before her husband. "Tom," she said, impressively, "please put that paper down and tell me all about it. I want to know whom he's going to see."

Ludlow dropped the paper and looked up in ludicrous alarm. "Whom he's going to see?—what did I say just now?"

She repeated his answer word for word.

"Oh, Lord! I've let the cat out of the bag after all, and I promised him I wouldn't!" he exclaimed. "But then I told him you'd get it out of me. Pull up your chair, and I'll tell you all I know. I might as well do it first as last."

Mrs. Ludlow listened eagerly while her husband recounted the meager facts of Ringbrand's sudden infatuation, the color coming and going in her cheeks and her eyes sparkling with the keenest appreciation. When he had finished, she clasped her hands over his knee and looked up at him in rapt ecstasy. "Oh, Tom! isn't that perfectly splendid? Just to think of it!—and after I've been shut up in this dead little village without a breath of excitement for four years. Of course, there'll be difficulties; they're just as different as they can be; and what would they do without some one to plan for them?"

Helen Ludlow had been the pretty girl of her set, and she had thrown away the chances of matrimonial preferment which come naturally to pretty girls for the sake of the struggling young mining engineer, whose first opening had condemned the young couple to social exile. There was a touch of pathos in her enthusiasm, and Ludlow answered it with an affectionate smile. "You are a born match-maker, Helen; it's a pity you couldn't have a wider field. But if I were you, I shouldn't interfere too much in the present case; they are not children, and the difficulties you apprehend will not be the common misunderstanding of a pair of foolish young lovers."

"What will they be, Tom?"

"They'll be much more serious, I imagine. You know Hester, perhaps better than I do; she is the incarnation of the southern ideal—impetuous, self-willed, high-strung and impulsive, with a temperament that will be antagonistic at many points to the more thoughtful turn of mind of our story-writer. And as for Ringbrand, he must be greatly changed from the man I used to know at the university if he can't make himself believe that Hester Latimer embodies his ideal."

The wife's laugh had a ripple of derision in it. "That shows how ridiculous you men can be when you apply your ponderous methods of logic to things you don't understand," she said. "The very things you call obstacles are the best reasons in the world why there should be no difficulties. Don't you see they are perfect opposites?"

"Perhaps you are right; but it doesn't look reasonable. And then, besides, there is the feud."

"I don't see how a foolish quarrel between the colonel and his neighbors can have anything to do with Hugh and Hester."

"I do. If Ringbrand marries into the family, he'll have to shoulder his share of the fight; and, as I remarked a moment ago, he'll have to be changed very much from the man I used to know if he consents to assume any such responsibilities."

Mrs. Ludlow laughed again. "You'll see," she said, "he'll do anything that's necessary."

II.

A LOVER ON HORSEBACK.

It is curious to observe how easily the strands of repetition become twined into the strong yarn of habit, and how, almost of its own volition, the thread thus twisted weaves itself into the fabric of human life. When Mrs. Ludlow introduced Hugh Ringbrand at "The Laurels," Hester Latimer's first impressions of the young author were rather unpleasant than otherwise. She said to herself, after Mrs. Ludlow had departed with her guest, that he was too stiff and conventional; that he seemed ill at ease; that he was too well-bred to be congenial. Though she did not in the least suspect it, the source of her dissatisfaction lay in the fact that she had been prepared to lionize him because he was an author, and it was a trifle disappointing to be forced to the conclusion that he was, after all, only a man, like other men, differing from other gentlemen of her acquaintance in no remarkable degree, and wearing none of the insignia and regalia of the Ancient and Honorable Guild of Story-Tellers. When she visited Mrs. Ludlow the following day, some mention of this disappointment came out in the conversation, and the self-elected ambassadress laughed joyously at the tentative suggestion of the girl.

"Why, my dear Hester, did you expect to find him wearing a uniform, with a coat of arms and a pen trenchant for a crest?" she inquired.

"N—no, not exactly that, of course: but I did expect to find him differing somehow from other gentlemen."

"In what way?"

"Oh, in lots of ways. I have a little collection of idols—like most other people, I suppose—and one of them has a separate niche and is labeled 'an author.' He has smashed that one beyond the hope of repair."

"What a ridiculous idea! Poor Hugh! he'd be broken-hearted if he knew how sadly he had failed to realize your ideal."

"There it is again, you see. An author—my author—ought to be so far above

"Poor Hugh! He'd be heart-broken if he knew."

common things that he wouldn't care in the least what a foolish girl thought or said about him."

Mrs. Ludlow smiled. "If you knew him as well as I do—if you could have seen him when he was struggling for recognition, with everything against him and no encouragement outside of his own conviction that the gift of authorship was in him; when every fresh disappointment only made him more determined to succeed—if you could have known him in those days, you wouldn't have thought him commonplace. And even now, if you'll give him a hint of the superhuman part you expect him to play, he'll make a brave attempt to rise to the occasion. I'm quite sure I shouldn't do it, though, for I fancy that in gaining your demi-god you might lose a pleasant every-day acquaintance."

"Then I'll not do it, I promise you; pleasant acquaintances are not so plentiful in Tregarthen that one can afford to experiment with them, not even for the sake of restoring a cherished idol."

Having obtained a foothold at "The Laurels," Ringbrand made good use of his opportunities; and as Hester came to know him better she began to forgive him for breaking the idol. As Ludlow had foretold, there was no limit to the colonel's hospitality; and from strolling up to the plateau at irregular intervals after supper, Ringbrand soon fell into the habit of spending the greater number of his afternoons at the home of the Latimers, and Hester soon found herself looking forward to his visit as to something without which the day would be incomplete.

One afternoon, when he had been invited to come at a certain hour, he found Hester in riding-habit and hat, and the colonel's boy leading two saddled horses up and down before the veranda steps.

"I'm going to carry you horseback-riding, Mr. Ringbrand," she said, running down the steps to meet him.

He looked askance at the two thoroughbreds, and tried to summon the courage to say that he knew less than nothing about horsemanship. "I'm afraid you'll find me a sorry cavalier, Miss Hester," he remonstrated.

"Oh, Pluto is gentle; anybody can ride him," she rejoined, gathering her skirt and standing beside her horse. "Will you give me a hand please?"

Having, in his stories, had frequent occasion to describe the dexterous manner in which a gentleman assists a lady to mount, Ringbrand knew precisely what was required of him; but, unfortunately, the ability to portray dexterity in virile English does not necessarily imply its possession by the artist. He took his place rather awkwardly beside Hester and made a step of his hand, holding it so high that she hesitated. "Just a little bit lower, if you please," she said, demurely, and his last shred of self-possession took flight as he complied. Since Miss Latimer was anything but ethereal, the first attempt broke his hold and covered him with confusion; putting his strength into the next, he lifted so vigorously that nothing but Hester's ready agility saved her from falling out of the saddle on the opposite side. It was too much for her equanimity, and she burst into a ringing laugh.

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

Mrs. Popkin's Thanksgiving

is the title of a story written for the manufacturers of

NONE SUCH MINCE MEAT,

by one of the most humorous writers of the day. It will be sent free to anyone sending address and naming this paper.

MERRELL-SOULE CO., Syracuse, N. Y.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Emma Hart, of Watchung avenue, is ill with pneumonia.

Miss Jennie Ross, of Park Place, is entertaining friends from out of town.

Forrest Green, of Long Branch, spent Sunday with friends in Plainfield.

Miss Marguerite Coriell, of Church street, is the guest of Rahway relatives.

Fred Barker, of the telephone exchange, spent Sunday at his home in Newark.

Miss Maria Toohey, of Orchard place, has gone to New York for a few days.

Harry Lovell, of Yale, spent Saturday and Sunday at his home on Crescent avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Roswell G. Horr, of this city, left town today for Defenix Springs, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Baglin left this morning for a bridal tour to Washington.

Mrs. Hallock and her son, James Hallock, went to Philadelphia today to visit friends.

Miss Mertie Gaskill, of Edsall's Commercial Palace, is ill at her home on Somerset street.

A young daughter has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lade on Grandview avenue.

Miss Lottie DeMeza, of West Second street, has returned from a brief visit with relatives at Paterson.

J. W. Coddington, of Somerset street, left this afternoon for a few weeks pleasure trip in Texas.

Miss Carrie Tomlinson, of Bridgeton, is visiting at the home of Dr. T. H. Tomlinson, of LaGrande avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Ryder, of Central avenue, spent last Saturday with friends in New York and Brooklyn.

Miss Lizzie Long, of Somerville, has been spending a few days with her cousin, Miss Clara Long, of Park avenue.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Welch and daughter, of Brooklyn, are guests of Mrs. James R. Joy, of Washington Park.

Victor Christofferson is at Perth Amboy today placing burglar alarms in several of the residences and stores there.

J. A. Smith, of Central avenue, has returned after a short stay at Washington, D. C. Mrs. Smith will remain a week longer.

Mrs. Vanderhoff and her daughter, Miss Mabel Vanderhoff, are still visiting in Newark, owing to the illness of Mrs. Vanderhoff's mother.

Miss Stella Apgar, of East Front street, has been unable to attend to her duties at Edsall's Commercial Palace on account of illness.

Mrs. Bryan and the Misses Lulu and May Bryan, of East Orange, have been guests at the home of Dr. O. L. Jerkins, of East Front street.

The many friends of Mrs. Kiederling will be pleased to learn of her improved condition and hopes of her recovery are almost assured.

Frank Doty, formerly of Plainfield, but now of Orange, has returned home after visiting his brother, Horace Doty, of the borough.

Miss Lizzie Creamer, of Brooklyn, who has been spending a few weeks with her friend, Mrs. W. Carson, of West Third street, has returned home.

John J. Cauley and his friend, Thos. J. McCarthy, both of Glen Gardner, spent Washington's Birthday at Mr. Canley's late home, 121 Washington street.

Elsie Tier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Tier, Jr., of Bank place, has entirely recovered from her recent illnefs, and the quarantine has been removed.

Mr. and Mr. Maxson Dunham are moving from their home at South Plainfield, which they have leased, to Dunellen where they will make their home.

Charles Palmer, of Clinton avenue, has secured the position of chief musician in the Mamie Carroll Comedy Company, and will join the Company April 1st.

Albert Runyon, Miss Carrie B. Runyon, Alex. M. Runyon and Theodore I. Runyon, of this city, and cousins of the late Ambassador Runyon, attended the funeral services held in Newark yesterday.

President and Mrs. Arthur Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Pierce and Mr. and Mrs. Kendall, of the Megantic Fish and Game Club, all of Boston, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. McClure, of Crescent avenue, on Sunday night.

Use It in Time.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat, and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucus discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Queen City Lodge, No. 226, I. O. O. F., met last night and received two propositions.

—Crescent Division, No. 13, Uniformed Rank of Knights of Pythias, meet tomorrow night to drill.

—Rathbone Sisters of Minerva Temple, No. 4, meet this evening. Supreme officers will be present.

—The case of Keely vs. Lawlor, on contract, is being tried this afternoon before Justice Newcorn and a jury.

—The Honeyman tourist party to Old Point Comfort arrived home on time this afternoon after enjoying a very pleasant time.

—It is easy to point out the mistakes of other people and it is quite as easy to avoid mistakes ourselves—in one line at least—by trading at Peck's.

—The Kaffir choir, from South Africa, is engaged for a song service at the Trinity Reformed church Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Admission free.

—Tomorrow and Friday evenings the session of the First Presbyterian church will meet to arrange with those who are about to unite with the church.

—Eugene M. Laing, dealer in gentlemen's furnishing goods, is moving from his old store to-day to his new one in the Thorn building, on Park avenue.

—Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I.O.O.F., sent an invitation to Queen City Lodge last night to attend their meeting next Monday. The invitation was accepted.

—The Misses Scudder, of Fanwood, gave an "at home" yesterday afternoon. It was a delightful event and largely attended. Miss Marguerite Schuck, of Vine street, was among the guests.

—Mark Lees, of Pearl street, was taken with a fit today noon while he was working at the home of James McGee, Washington Park. The ambulance was sent for and conveyed him to his home.

—Miss Noah Herndom, of Columbia, S. C., favorably known in Plainfield, will sing at the meeting of the Plainfield Branch of the Christian Alliance tonight, which will be conducted by Rev. W. H. McBride.

—At a meetings of the directors of the Gremton Drug and Chemical Company, of New Jersey, Willard M. Miner, of East Sixth street, was elected vice-president. W. E. Grump, of New York, is president.

—Queen City Lodge, No. 225, I. O. O. F., received three propositions for membership last evening. An invitation was accepted from Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F., to attend their meeting next Monday evening. District Deputy Pocock and staff also received and accepted an invitation to be present.

Cuban Filibusters Taken.

New York, February 25—The British steamship Bermuda, which has been lying at anchor off Bedlow's Island, since Saturday, did not sail for Cuba last night with a party of filibusters and a large cargo of ammunition, as was intended, because she was kept in port by a body of United States marshals and their assistants, aided by fifteen from Pinkerton's Detective Agency.

The steamer was not actually seized but the crew were detained with the ship, and about 127 men were arrested either on the steamer or on tugs on their way to it. The detention was under section 5286 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, known as the neutrality act; and although the ship was cleared for the U. S. of Columbia, and flying the British flag, she will not be permitted to sail until she can do so without violating the neutrality laws.

New Market.

Mrs. William Ayers, of New York, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Randolph.

Miss May Wheeler, of Nyack, N. Y., is spending a few days with friends on Prospect avenue.

Elmer Blackford, of New York, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Blackford.

Mrs. Fargo, who has been visiting the family of Rev. and Mrs. Fletcher, has returned home to Jersey City.

The funeral of Mrs. Abram Smalley is being held today at her late residence at West Dunellen. Rev. Mr. Fletcher will officiate.

The ordinance of baptism was performed Sunday morning in the First Baptist church. Those baptized were Frank Nelson, Runyon Clawson, Mrs. Hancock, Albert Boice and Mrs. Brown.

The Unemployed.

The office of the employment committee of the Organized Aid Association is open daily from 9 to 11 in the morning at the corner of Park and North avenues. The references of persons of either sex, seeking employment, will be investigated, and placed at the disposal of employers.

L. L. Martin, of Hunter, returned to his home to-day, after visiting at the home of his son, F. H. Martin, of Sandford avenue.

Went to an Oculist.

Friend—Did you go to that fashionable oculist, as I suggested?

Nearsight—Yes. He examined my eyes and gave me a piece of paper showing the sort of glasses I needed.

"Why don't you get the glasses?"

"No money left."—Golden Days.

Putting Him Down.

She—I can't help thinking I have seen your portrait in the newspapers somewhere.

He—Oh, no doubt, it's often been published.

She—Then I am not mistaken. What were you cured of?—Judge.

Looked Like It.

Caller—Is Miss Sweetie at home?

New Girl—Yis, sor.

Caller—Is she engaged?

New Girl—Wull, from th' crushed-up look thim big sleeves had phwin Oi wint in to stir th' foire, Oi shud say she wuz.—N. Y. Weekly.

How to Be Happy Though Rich.

A.—What are you going to do, now that you have amassed a large fortune?

B.—I shall retire from business and tell everybody what a burden wealth is, and how happy I was when I possessed nothing.—Der Schalk.

A Well Tried Rule.

The actions, not the words, must count;
The proof quite simple is:
Compare the man who talks and talks
With him who sticks to biz.
—Merchant Traveller

AFTER THE DOMESTIC TILT.

"If there's one thing I hate, it's being photographed."

"Yes, dear, it must be hard for you to look pleasant."—Once a Week.

When Triplets Are Welcome.

Tom—There's one time in a man's life when he is glad to see triplets, all girls.

Dick—When is that, pray?

Tom—When he's playing poker and is dealt three queens.—Town Topics

Well Preserved.

Boy—Mr. Dunn called to see about that bill of his.

Mr. Short—Well, if he comes in again tell him his bill is in a good state of preservation and is likely to reach a good old age.—Boston Transcript.

All or None.

She—I'm told you want to marry me only for my money.

Count le Broke—Nor, nor; I shall vant your father's money as vell.—Judy.

In Chicago.

Mrs. Hamfat—Your daughter sings beautifully. Is she studying music?

Mrs. Sparerib—Indeed she is! She is studying to be a bella-donna!—Puck.

The Law of Nature Defied.

Methinks it is the only bird
That lives without a flock:
No sleep, no fool, no home he needs,
He is the—weather-cock.
—N. Y. World

A Sign a Girl.

Men like a modest, gentle sprite
Who, when her fair cheek flushes,
Turns very low the parlor light
That she may hide her blushes.
—L. A. W. Bulletin.

IN LAW.

"But how can you break it, Mr. Brief?"

"Remember, 'where there's a will there's a way.'"—Brooklyn Life.

His Career.

He says he is pursuing art,
With paint he tries to make it;
But here is where the trouble lies;
He cannot overtake it.

a speedy cure for the most obstinate cough. It cannot fail

HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR

Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar acts like magic for a cough or any throat or bronchial trouble. Ask your druggist.

Pike's Toothache Drops cure in one minute.

Quick in effect, heals and leaves no scar. Burning, scaly skin eruptions quickly cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Applied to burns, scalds, old sores, it is magical in effect. Always cures piles. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

MUNYON'S

Improved Homœopathic Remedies Combine the Best in All Symptoms.

THEY CURE PROMPTLY

In the Most Obstinate Cases Where All Other Remedies Fail.

If You Are Sick Ask Your Druggist for Munyon's Guide to Health. Buy a 25 Cent Munyon Remedy and Cure Yourself.

Mr. Chas. Becker, manufacturer of fine cigars, at 911 Robinson st., Scranton, Pa., says: "I have spent hundreds of dollars in buying useless medicines for my catarrh, yet when I began to use Munyon's Remedies I found that the use of the Catarrh Cure and the tablets made a perfect cure in less than two weeks."

Munyon's Rheumatism Cure never fails to relieve it in 1 to 3 hours, and cures in a few days. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure is guaranteed to cure all forms of indigestion and stomach troubles. Price 25c.

Munyon's Catarrh Remedies positively cure. Price, 25c. each.

Munyon's Kidney Cure speedily cures pains in the back, loins or groins, and all forms of kidney disease. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Female Remedies are a boon to all women. Price 25c.

Asthma Cure, with Asthma Herbs, $1.

Munyon's Nerve Cure stops nervousness and builds up the system. Price 25c.

Munyon's Headache Cure stops headache in 3 minutes. Price 25c.

Munyon's Pile Ointment positively cures all forms of piles. Price 25c.

Munyon's Blood Cure eradicates all impurities of the blood. Price 25c.

Munyon's Vitalizer restores lost powers to weak men. Price, $1.00.

A separate cure for each disease. At all druggists, 25c a bottle.

Personal letters to Professor Munyon, 1505 Arch st., Philadelphia, Pa., answered with free medical advice for any disease.

Van Emburgh & SON.

Corner Store, Babcock Building.

We work for the GOOD WILL as well as the patronage of our customers.

Our prices are plain blunt arguments.

New Spring Flannelettes, 10c. yd.
Spring colors in Figured Valours, 12c yd.
New Mourning Sateens, 12c yd.
New spring figured Cambrics, 12c yard.
We are the people for nice Outings, 10c. yd.
Boys' Derby Ribbed Hose, 10c., 15c., 18c. pair.
Plain colors, Windsor Ties 10c.
Extra Wind Windsor Ties. 25c.
Extra size Windsor Ties, (hemstitched, 50c. each.
Our Corset Covers are selling at 15c, 19c, 25c, 30c, 42c, 54c, 59c, 72c, 89c each.
P. N. Corsets, perfect fit, 50c. 75c, $1.00 pair.
2 Turkish Bath Towels for 19c.
Roll Tape, all widths, 2c. each.
Attachable Corset Clasps, 5c pair.
Attachable Corset Clasps, (cork protector) 8c. pair.
Japanned Dress Steels, 5c. dozen.
Covered Dress Steels, 6c. set.
Safety Pins, all sizes, 3c. dozen.
Tooth Brushes, good ones, 5c. each
Fast Black Darning Cotton, 2c. ball
Zephyr Worsted, all colors, 4c. lop
100 yards Best Spool Silk, black and colors, 7c. Spool.

Read Sheeting Muslins. Read

1	yard wide, bleached,			6c.	yard.
1	1-8 yards wide,	"		6 1-2c.	"
1	1-4 "	"	"	7 1-2c.	"
1	1-2 "	"	"	11c.	"
1	3-4 "	"	"	13c.	"
2	"	"	"	14 1-2c	"
2	1-4 "	"	"	16c.	"
2	1-2 "	"	"	17 1-2c	"

VAN EMBURGH & SON,

HEATH & DRAKE.

Established 1841. Newark's first-class Dry Goods House.

New Embroideries, Laces, Flouncings, etc.

Our assortment of these goods for the coming season is handsomer, more varied and complete than any we have yet shown, and embraces regular Cambric, Nainsook and Swiss Edges, Insertions and match sets in all grades and styles and a line of Exquisite Novelties which for new and original effects, exclusive and unique designs, are unsurpassed if not unequalled by any in the market.

Pretty Edgings and Embroideries Very Cheap.

A thousand lines could not tell the story any better. Great heaps of snowy Embroideries that first saw light in far off Switzerland are here.

In connection with our regular line we have purchased, direct from the manufacturers in St. Gaul, Switzerland, three large lots of Embroideries, which we will place on sale at one-third less than regglar prices.

Lot 1, 4c Yd. Lot 2, 8c Yd. Lot 3, 12c Yd

The wise ones ask no questions, but take them away in huge quantities.

777 and 779 Broad Street,
Newark, N. J.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd.

BOTTOM PRICES—COMFORTABLE TERMS

Every Reason For Success

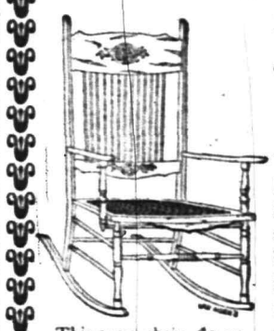
Exists at 73 Market St.—our many years' experience tells us that nothing pleases buyers better than right prices and liberal terms—they're always found here—to instance:

This Parlor Suit $19.50

A single illustration of what our reductions mean—five pieces, brocatelle or plush, mahogany finish frames.

This same Suit, $19.50.

Rocking Chair at $1.95



This same chair, $1.95.

Exactly like cut—solid oak, cane seat—roomy and comfort giving—worth far more.

Extension Tables

We've new lines by the score in in dining room tables—one special in solid oak is at $4.85—match it if you can!

This table, $4.85.

Our Bargain Room

is packed full of real bona-fide bargains, new patterns, silghtly soiled, marked half price, in plain figures. Don't forget our grand Portland Range.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd. 73 MARKET ST.
Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, Etc. Near Plane St.
Telephone 580. NEWARK, N. J.
GOODS DELIVERED FREE TO ANY PART OF STATE.

STILLMAN MUSIC HALL.

Rich & Maeder ..... Lessees and Managers.
John Daly ..... Resident Manager.

Wednesday, Feb. 26.—Better Than Ever.

THE GORMANS,

John, James and George, late of Gorman's minstrels. The Kings of Farcial Comedy, in the new and funny play,

"THE GILHOOLYS ABROAD."

Second trip. A good company, good singing, good dancing. Funny Comedians and pretty girls.

Prices 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c and $1 Seats on sale at Leggett's drug store

2 Nights, February 28th and 29th,

MATINEE SATURDAY. The talented actress,

Miss RACHELLE RENARD,

supported by her own company, presenting Friday—Ingomar, the Barbarian; Saturday matinee—Superb Allegorical Revival of East Lynne; Saturday night—The great Historical Drama, Jack Sheppard. Prices—15, 25 and 35c. Matinee 10c to all parts of the house.

LAST EDITION.

THE DAILY PRESS

LAST EDITION.

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1896. TWO CENTS A COPY—$5 A YEAR

THREE DAYS' PLEASURE.

RETURN FROM A DELIGHTFUL TRIP TO OLD POINT COMFORT.

The Tourists of A. V. D. Honeyman's Party Enjoy Themselves in the Balmy Air of Virginia—Arrangements Complete

The private tour of our fellow-townsman, A. V. D. Honeyman, to Old Point Comfort, Va., left Plainfield Friday morning last at 9:46 and returned yesterday afternoon at 1:12. The party numbered nineteen, four of whom were Plainfielders.

On arrival at the Reading terminal in Philadelphia, the electric road was taken to the B. & O. station, Twenty-fourth and Chestnut streets, where a first-class lunch was served. At 1:50 the party boarded one of the Royal Blue Line trains for Baltimore. Although the tourist tickets only called for the regular coaches of the train, Manager Honeyman showed his generosity by providing seats for the entire party on the Abigail, one of the Royal Blue Line parlor cars, and the trip was one of solid comfort, such as only a Pullman car can furnish. On arrival at Baltimore the party left their baggage at the office of the Bay Line Steamboat Company and started out to do Baltimore in an hour and a half. Conveyances were provided and the party driven to the dock of the Bay Line Steamboat Company and comfortably quartered in steam-heated berths on the steamer Georgia. Soon after leaving Baltimore, at 6:30 p. m., the entire party were taken to the large dining room of the boat and a most delectable course dinner was served.

The moonlight trip down the Chesapeake bay to Old Point Comfort was a delightful one and the steamer ran so smoothly that not a person on board was affected with sea sickness. At 5:30 Saturday morning the party was awakened and preparations made for leaving the boat at Old Point Comfort An hour later the party arrived at the world-renowned Hygeia hotel, with its magnificient water frontage of 600 feet. All were given rooms large and airy, containing a cheerful grate fire and with conviences to make life pleasant. After the morning meal, sight-seeing was the order of the day. The weather was just perfect and all thoroughly enjoyed being out-of-doors. The principal places of interest, and there are many of them here, were visited and the day passed pleasantly. Five of "Uncle Sam's" white squadron war ships are at anchor in the bay opposite the hotel, and the party was rowed out and boarded one or another of these magnificient vessels during the day and were guided about by some of the Jack Tars.

Saturday evening the large ball room of the Hygeia was brilliantly illuminated and opened to the guests of the hotel and dancing indulged in by all who desired. Handsome young ladies, charmingly attired, attended by gallant young men, combined to make a pretty sight for the several hundred guests, who assembled in the spacious parlors adjoining to view the beautiful scene and listen to the sweet strains of music from the orchestra.

Sunday proved to be another balmy day, and nearly every member of the party attended the morning divine service in the little Episcopal chapel—the Church of the Centurion—inside Fortress Monroe, and were spiritually refreshed by the excellent sermon delivered by the rector, Rev. Charles W. Freeland. Sunday afternoon was spent at the Hampton Institute, (colored), a most excellent and well conducted institution, and all enjoyed the sermon delivered by the preacher and the singing by the choir of the church that followed the services of worship. Newport News was also visited on Sunday afternoon by a number of the party, an electric road conveying them to that growing city. Here the magnificent American liner St. Paul was seen in the great dry docks, the largest of their kind in America, waiting for a high tide to float her out. A fine view of the historic Hampton Roads, the battle ground of the Merrimac and Monitor, was one of the sights to look upon, as well as the noble James river. The return to the hotel was made about 5 o'clock, and another of the Hygeia's elaborate dinners was served.

Monday was another ideal southern day, and a number of the party took the steamer Luray for Norfolk, Va., and spent the day visiting that old southern city, several going as far south as Virginia Beach, all returning to the Hygeia about 5 o'clock. Those who did not go to Norfolk enjoyed the balmy air and sunshine of Old Point or visited one or more of the many places of interest nearby.

Monday evening at 7:30 the tourists reluctantly said good-bye to Old Point and sailed for Baltimore on another of the Bay Line steamers, the Alabama. An unexpected but very grand spectacle was presented the party just before sailing by the five war ships giving an exhibition or drill of the powerful electric search lights. It was an impressive sight. The early part of the evening was enjoyed on deck by many, the perfect moonlight night on the Chesapeake being a great treat. Baltimore was reached, however, at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning, and the 8:50 Royal Blue line, the finest in the land, left the B. and O. station on time for New York, the Plainfielders arriving home at 1:12 p m.

A more congenial or satisfied party was never gathered together, and Mr. Honeyman should feel gratified at the many compliments he received as a manager, every member of his party being thoroughly pleased with every detail of this enjoyable trip, arranged and carried out without a break under his personal supervision.

CHORAL MUSICALITIES.

A Pleasing and Artistic Programme Rendered in the M. E. Church.

A delightful musical programme was presented at Vincent chapel last evening to an appreciative audience which was not as large, however, as the entertainment deserved. The first part consisted of short selections by different talent, and the second of the cantata, "The Lady of Shalott," by the ladies' chorus of the society, the solo parts of which were sung by Miss Bessie Blair, Mrs. Asa Collier and Mrs. Collins. The chorus has sung the cantata before, but it did not lose anything by repetition. The other numbers were all excellently rendered, while P. Ludwig Conde was especially fine and showed his wonderful control over the violin. Miss May Whitney is a talented pianist, as was shown by her selections. The vocal selections were also particularly pleasing. The programme was as follows:

Duett, piano, Miss Utter and Mr. Fitzhugh; trio, vocal, Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Collier and Miss Carroll; solo, tenor, L. S. Bond; solo, piano, Miss May Whitney; duett, vocal, Elmer Runyon and B. T. Barnes; solo, violin, P. Ludwig Conde; solo, piano, Miss May Whitney; trio, vocal, Mrs. Collins, Miss J. J. Ketcham, E. E. Runyon; cantata by Ladies Chorus "The Lady of Shalott."

The entertainment was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First M. E. church, who, at the conclusion of the programme, furnished light refreshments, which were passed among the audience by the young people. Mrs. Noah Pike was in general charge of the good things. There was no regular committee in charge of the affair, but Mrs. Asa Collier looked after the arranging of the programme.

POST OFFICE SUBSTITUTES

Names and Averages of Those That Passed the Civil Service Averages.

The results of the recent civil service examinations for positions in the postoffice as mail carriers were posted in the postoffice yesterday. Only those receiving an average of over 70 were eligible. The following were posted: Frank L. Lancaster, 84.04; F. J. Quass, 71.28; L. F. Wadsworth, 83.15; Charles F. Glaentzer, 74.49; W. H. Milliken, 73.69; Jules Stephany, 73.38; H. R. Conklin, 83.70, and Joseph L. Bennett, 79.20. All, except the last two, took their examinations on February 18th, those two being examined on December 7th.

Before any of them can do any work they must file a bond of $1.000. Charles Glaentzer is senior substitute and is first choice. After that, the others are taken according to their averages, highest coming first.

MUST PAY FOR DOCTORING HORSES.

A Jury in Justice Newcorn's Court Renders a Verdict for Dr. Lawler.

The case of Lawler against Keely was tried before Justice Newcorn yesterday afternoon. Lawyer S. S. Swackhamer represented the defendant, and Lawyer H. C. Runyon the plaintiff. The suit was brought for professional services for two horses who were injured by falling into a sewer trench some time ago, and $13 was the amount claimed for seven visits and medicine. The defendant claimed that the plaintiff did not do as he promised. The case was given to the following jurors after being tried: H. A. Holder, C. E. Post, James Alpaugh, Joseph Noel, Wm. Boe, and David VanBuskirk. They were only out ten minutes, when they returned a verdict for the plaintiff for the full amount.

Pleasantly Surprised.

A surprise party was given to Percy McVoy, of East Front street, last night and a very pleasant evening was spent. The young people who arranged the party were the Misses Bessie Trembath and Lillian Thorn and Arthur McVoy and Will Thorn. Dancing and games occupied the attention of the guests for most of the evening, while refreshments were passed toward the close.

—Lewis VanNest is improving his residence on Duer street by enlarging his piazza.

FOR THE YOUNG PEOPLE

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE HOUSE FORMALLY OPENED LAST EVENING.

The Principle Address Was Delivered by Presiding Elder Ryman—Remarks by Rev. Mr. O'Donnell and Mr. McGee.

The opening of the Epworth House, the new building adjacent to the Monroe Avenue chapel, took place last evening in a most auspicious manner.

The exercises were held in the chapel, after which all present adjourned to the house for inspection. James McGee was in charge, and announced that the first number on the programme as a piano solo by E. Arthur Janke. The rendition was perfect and brought forth hearty applause. This was followed with a pleasing vocal solo by W. N. Runyon. Mr. McGee then made a few remarks in regard to the Epworth House which he said was suggested by the rectory in England bearing that name. That which is attractive and comely about it, he said, was due to Architect Charles H. Smith It will give an opportunity for social and religious growth in all branches, and that they commended the work to the Master Builder for His blessing. Dr. Barnes then offered a brief prayer, after which Mr. Runyon sang another solo Dr. Ryman, of Elizabeth, was then introduced and made an address. In part he said:

"I feel highly honored on this occasion. The Epworth House will afford a grand opportunity for mental and social improvement.

"This is the age of young people and we should not dispise youth. If we should remove the young merchants, editors and lawyers it would be a great mistake. The church that makes the highest bid for the young people and sets them to work is the one that grows and becomes a power. It used to be that young people should be seen and not heard, but the order is now reversed. The twentieth century is rapping at our doors for entrance and will soon be here. In connection with this new building with its facilities, systematic training is needed. The social feature must be looked after. Men gather in saloons for social reasons. They want companionship. A man living in Boston attended church and heard a remarkable sermon from the subject 'The Recognition of Friends in Heaven.' After the sermon he spoke to the pastor and asked him if he would preach a sermon on "The Recognition of Friends on Earth" He had been a member of the church for a year and he had not been recognized by anyone. I wish you God speed in your work."

Another piano solo by Mr. Janke, preceded a short address by Rev. W. C. O'Donnell. He said: "'Blessed is the man who having nothing to say wastes no time in saying it.' There is nothing left for me to say, but I think that systematic development should predominate.

"The religious, social and intellectual sides of a person should be looked after and then through the aid of God's Spirit we will have men as God intended. This should be the idea, the growth of men and women, and we should see that this house is not built in vain." Mr. McGee followed in a few well-chosen words in which he said that the value of this chapel and house will be just what we put on it. They are not intended for the young alone, but for the aged as well and what is here of chapel and house is the outcome of work done years ago by faithful men and women and we should take courage by experience. All were then invited to inspect the new building.

The structure is a handsome and attractive one. It is one story and a half high and contains two large rooms, beside several smaller ones. It is finished in the most approved and latest style and will be of great value to those for whom it was intended. A place for a library has also been provided. A bright open fire gave the interior a very cheery appearance.

Those present then went back to the chapel, where chocolate, coffee and wafers were served by the following: Chocolate table—Miss King, assisted by the Misses Edith Burt, Grace King, Bertha LaRue.

Coffee table—Miss Florence Burt, assisted by Misses Hattie King and Grace Palmer.

Refreshment table—Miss Emily Haff and Miss Lottie Aldrich.

Our people are growing more and more in the habit of looking to Reynolds' pharmacy for the latest and best of everything in the drug line. They sell Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds, croup and whooping cough. When in need of such a medicine give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result.

GEO. WATSON A SUICIDE.

THE CLOTHIER CUT HIS THROAT IN A NEW YORK HOTEL.

His Wife Heard His Death Moans But Was Unable to Open the Door—Worry of Business Said to Have Been the Cause.

George Watson, the well-known and prosperous clothing merchant of Newark, cut his throat at the Gilsey House this morning and died while his wife was calling for help. He had locked the door of his room to prevent his being disturbed. No other cause for his suicide is assigned or discoverable than that needless worry had driven him to sudden insanity.

Mr. Watson was fifty-seven years old. He began life in New Jersey and built up a large and successful business by his unaided efforts. For several years he was a resident of this city, residing on Park avenue and Seventh street and on Second place. He left there two years ago. Last fall, his sons George and Clarence having grown to man's estate, he capitalized the business and handed it over to a corporation of which Clarence, the elder, was made the head.

The father then went to New York to live. He did not give up interest in the business, though he left the management of it to his sons. Perhaps if he had, he would now be alive. And yet it is hard to tell.

The worry that led to his suicide would have been as needless in one case as in the other. It was fate apparently—the fate of a busy man whose life has been given to the rearing of a great interest which, when everything in that life has grouped itself about it, or about its centre and kernel, is suddenly abandoned. The worry that consumes such a life, disappointed in its hope of rest, is the hopeless grouping after its lost anchor, hopeless because the true nature of the ailment is not recognized.

Whether or not this was Mr. Watson's special case, his friends noticed soon after he had come to live at the Gilsey House last October that he was often in low spirits. He was a man of a peculiar nervous organization, always subject to periods of depression, which in his idleness became aggravated.

DROWNED WHILE SKATING.

Ward Went Through the Ice and His Companion Could Not Rescue Him.

Charles A. Ward and Elmer Wyckoff were playing yesterday on the ice on the Millstone river, eight miles from Somerville. Young Ward was learning to skate, and as he struck out over the ice he encountered an air hole, which he was unable to steer clear of. He went through the ice into deep water and then began to struggle for his life. His companion, who is a very small boy, attempted to rescue him with a board, but had not the strength to pull him from the water. After repeated attempts to crawl out, Ward became exhausted and was drawn under the ice by the swift current. His dead body was found a short distance from the place.

Epworth League House Events.

Devotional exercises will be held in the Epworth House of the Monroe Avenue chapel this evening. Friday afternoon at three o'clock an address will be made by Leon Vincent and in the evening at eight o'clock a social will be held by the young women.

Tuesday evening W. D. Murray will give a talk on the "Resources of the English Bible" and on the following two Tuesday evenings, Dr. Barnes will give talks on the Bible. Everyone is invited to any or all of these meetings.

This is a Corporation Legislature.

Let the citizens of New Jersey keep their eyes on the present legislation, and see how the railroad and water bosses run it. Read the reports from Trenton today and see how Boss Hobart, the Water King, forces through his schemes, to the detriment of the people. Senatorial conferences are always sure to take in Boss Hobart, and in the end to do his bidding. J. E. M.

Borough Republican Primary.

The North Plainfield Republican primary will be held Friday night at 8 o'clock in the basement of the school house.

Threw Away His Canes.

Mr. D. Wiley, ex-postmaster, Black Creek, N. Y., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that he was only able to hobble around with canes, and even then it caused him great pain. After using Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was so much improved that he threw away his canes. He says this liniment did him more good than all other medicines and treatment put together. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

PLEASANT TO ANTICIPATE.

Programme to be Rendered at Monroe Avenue Chapel Tomorrow Night.

The following is the programme that will be rendered at Monroe Avenue Chapel tomorrow evening:

Part First—Orchestra, first violins, E. Highm. Dr. Gaston, Arthur Mosher; second violins, Mr. Henderson, W. V. Moy; cello, Dr. Berg; clarionet, James Hewitt; cornet, Miss Berg; trombone, Garrett Dunham; accompanist, Howard Case. Quartette, Charles H. Angleman, Williard M. Miner, W. E. MacClymont, Raymond A. McGee; zither solo, John VanEps; song, W. N. Runyon; instrumental duet, Miss Berg and Garret Dunham; violin solo, Clarence Mills; vocal solo, Miss Grace Carrol; instrumental trio, Dr. Berg, Miss Berg, Garret Dunham.

Part two—Orchestra; song, W. N. Runyon; zither solo, John VanEps; instrumental trio, Dr. Berg, Miss Berg, Garret Dunham; quartette, selection; violin solo, Clarence Mills; vocal solo, Miss Grace Carroll; duet, Miss Berg and Garret Dunham; piano solo, Miss Aldrich.

The admission is 15 cents or two for 25 cents.

OLD GLORY'S FIRST DANCE.

A Pleasant Time Spent by the New Organization Last Night.

The first sociable and dance given by the recently organized Old Glory Council, Daughters of Liberty, was held last evening in Red Men's hall. No entertainment was held last night, but dancing was the chief feature of the evening.

The music, under the direction of Prof. Frazee, was excellent. The ladies of the Council had prepared an excellent repast for the dancers and all enjoyed it about midnight. The committee who had charge of the affair consisted of Mrs. Walter Walker, chairman; Mrs. Snyder, Miss Dunlap, Mr. Pangborn and Mr. Scribner, Frank Wyckoff and Mr. Scribner were floor managers.

COULTER GUILTY.

Though It Took a Day to Convince One Juryman of It.

Thomas Coulter, who stabbed a man by the name of Casey with a knife in this city last September, has been on trial for the crime at Elizabeth. The jury was charged Monday but could not agree until yesterday morning, when they brought in a verdict of guilty. It is reported that they stood 11 to 1 for conviction at the beginning.

Speeches, Coffee and Crackers.

Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G.A.R., held one of their highly enjoyable campfires last evening, which was largely attended. After the business of the evening, the rooms were thrown open and with songs, recitatons and speeches the time passed away pleasantly, intermingled with hot coffee and crackers. Comrade E. C. Morse on behalf of Mrs. Fackler, of Trenton, presented the Post with the handsome picture, of which mention was made in these columns. Commander I. L. McVoy received the picture in a few well chosen words. At the next meeting another campfire will be held, and the Woman's Relief Corps and Sons of Veterans will be invited to be present.

Skating Still Good.

The skating is still good on Tier's pond. The light thaw experienced on Sunday was not sufficient to break up the ice, and the recent cold weather has made a new, hard surface on the ice, which makes it as good, if not better, than it was before. The light snow which fell today was not enough to materially interfere with skating.

Exterminating Unhealthy Spots.

On complaint of the Borough Board of Health, Chief Marshal VanHorn served a summons on Ira Mundy, of Summit avenue, yesterday, charging him with emptying cesspool matter on the ground near his house. A hearing will be given Saturday next.

Paid $5 for Boisterous Conduct.

For being drunk and disorderly, John Murphy was arrested yesterday afternoon by Constable Geo. Stewart, near Rowley's drug store, on Somerset street. Justice Crosley fined him $5. He preferred a vacation, however, and was taked to Somerville.

Settled Before Trial.

Two cases were to come before Justice Nash yesterday. The case of Green against Coddington, landlord and tenant, was settled in court, while the settlement in the case of Denecklau against Dunavan, landlord and tenant, was made out of court.

Pleaded Non Vult.

The case of Antoinio Armite, the Italian who assaulted a woman in the borough sometime ago, came up this morning in the Somerville Court. The Italian plead non vult. Judge George W. DeMeza, of this city, is the Italian's lawyer.

THE LAND OF ROMANCE.

DR. RIGGS TALKED INTERESTINGLY OF EGYPT LAST NIGHT.

It Was Once Known as the Land of Mystery. But Now Many of Its Geographical Problems Have Been Solved.

A large and deeply interested audience enjoyed the lecture on Egypt which was delivered last night by Dr. James F. Riggs, as part of the supplementary University Extension course, in the lecture room of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church.

Egypt, said Dr. Riggs, is the land of strange romance. For a long time it was the land of mysteries which it was apparently impossible to solve. There was that strange river, the Nile; it was incomprehensible that it should at one time of the year have a volume thirty times as great as at another season. There was the mystery of the hieroglyphic language; no one knew whether it was a Hamitic or a Semitic language. There was the mystery of Egypt's being an almost literally rainless country. But now science has solved these problems. We all know that the annual rise of the Nile is caused by the melting of snow on the mountains of Abyssinia, which causes a vast amount of water to flow through the Blue Nile into the White Nile.

Egypt consists of two parts, the river valley and the delta. The river valley is like a trench dug through the centre of the Sahara desert, with the river at the bottom. The life of the country is dependent upon the river. The water begins to rise about the time of the summer solstice, and is at its height at the time of the autumnal equinox. Before it subsides the people go out and sow their seed; they literally cast their bread upon the waters. After the fall of the river, the fields are watered by a very laborious hand process.

Mohammed Ali, though he was an upstart and usurper, getting possession of the throne of the country by a coup d'etat, was a great thinker. He rid himself of the Mamelukes, irregular troops which he could not manage, by such a proceeding as the extermination of the Janizaries under the Ottoman sultans. He also cleared out many old canals, making them available for the part in the gigantic system of irrigation.

During the reign of Ismail Pasha came two great enterprises, the Suez railway and the Suez Canal. The mail from England to India had to be carried around the cape, which occupied a great deal of time. It is only 88 geographical miles across the isthmus, and there was tried the experiment of having the mail carried by camels across from port to port. The success of this scheme was demonstrated immediately; less than half the time was occupied by this method. The Suez railway was then built, establishing unbroken steam communication between England and India. But Ferdinand de Lesseps, of France, determined on having a maritime canal across the isthmus, through which vessels could sail without any detention. It was a gigantic undertaking, and more expensive than any other canal building enterprise that has proved successful. But it was a success, and the trade which passes through the canal is second only to the trade between New York and Liverpool.

For Students.

The following books are in the Free Public Library for students on the Egypt and the Egyptian Question and the University Extension:

*Keary, Spoiling the Egyptians.
Klunginger, Upper Egypt.
*Latimer, Europe in Africa in Nineteenth Century.
*Lesseps, Suez Canal.
Loftie, Ride in Egypt.
*Loring, Confederate Soldier in Egypt.
McCarthy, England under Gladstone.
*McCoan, Egypt as it is.
Morris, Napoleon.
Poole, Story of Turkey.
Rawlinson, Ancient Egypt, [and other histories of ancient Egypt.]
*Wallace, Egypt and the Egyptian Question.

Also see the article on Egypt in The Annual Cyclopædia for 1882, and the various magazine articles on this subject referred to in Poole's Index.

—Townley Bros. masons, have received the contract for and commenced work yesterday on E. E. Mulford's new house at the corner of Second and Richmond streets.

The little daughter of Mr. Fred Webber, Holland, Mass, had a very bad cold and cough which he had not been able to cure with any thing. I gave him a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says W. P. Holden, merchant and postmaster at West Brimfield, and the next time I saw him he said it worked like a charm. This remedy is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases such as colds, croup and whooping cough, and it is famous for its cures. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

VAN HORN-TARSNEY

Consideration of the Contested Election Case in the House.

TWO VERY INTERESTING SPEECHES

Attempt To Take Up the Tariff Bill in the Senate Again Defeated—Mr. Morgan and Mr. Gray Speak on Cuban Recognition.

Washington, Feb. 26.—There is a prospect that the house will spend a day or two more in the consideration of the Van Horn-Tarsney contested election case. When the house entered upon the consideration of that case there was, besides the division of the committee upon the political lines, the separation of one of the members of the majority—Mr. Taylor, rep., Ohio—from the recommendation that the contestant, Van Horn, be seated, instead of Tarsney, who now holds the seat. He agreed with the minority, which did not express an opinion, but recommended that the case be reopened for a count of the ballots in the disputed precincts in Kansas City, where alleged frauds were committed, upon which the majority based its recommendation. The adoption of the committee recommendation was advocated by Mr. Strode, rep., Neb., in an interesting speech of nearly two and a half hours, in which he set forth in detail the extent and character of the frauds committed, and contended that the conditions were such that the returns from the precincts in question could not be purged of its taint of fraud, but, as the committee had found, must be rejected entirely. Mr. Taylor defended his position in an hour's speech, which held the attention of the house throughout, and at the close of which won him many encomiums from the older members. He contended that the fraudulent ballots could be segregated from the honest ones and that it was the duty of the house to have this done before passing upon the contest. He admitted his belief that if the count were made as he recommended, it would result in demonstrating the fact that Van Horn had received a majority of the legal votes cast. Before taking up the election case, the house passed the Indian appropriation bill without further discussion, the paragraph relating to the purchase of the title of the Ogden Land company to lands in the Alleghany and Cattaraugus Indian reservations in the state of New York having been stricken out by unanimous consent.

In the Senate.

There was quite an animated scene in the senate over the second attempt to have the house tariff bill taken up for consideration. Notwithstanding the defeat of that proposition on the 13th of February by a vote of 21 to 29, Mr. Morrill, rep., Vt., chairman of the finance committee, felt it his duty to renew the attempt; but the action was defeated by a still larger majority—22 to 33. The democratic votes were all against the motion, and they were backed up by the votes of five republican senators—Messrs. Cannon of Utah, Carter and Mantle of Montana, Dubois of Idaho and Teller of Colorado; and by the votes of five populists—Messrs. Allen of Nebraska, Jones of Nevada, Stewart of Nevada, Kyle of South Dakota and Peffer of Kansas. After the announcement of the vote Mr. Morrill stated that he would make no further attempt to get up the bill; that it was hopelessly defeated and that it now was perfectly obvious that the republican party was in a minority in the senate. Mr. Morrill's remarks were construed by Mr. Teller, rep., Col., as indicating a purpose to read the republican silver senators out of the party, and Mr. Teller made an angry and defiant speech on that point. Mr. Sherman, rep., O., tried to relieve the question of all partisan consideration, and appealed to senators not to inflict such a disgrace on the country and on civilization as to adjourn congress without making provision to supply the treasury with sufficient revenue, and said that he would favor, and the people would willingly pay, a tax on tea and coffee, or on anything else, for that purpose. The discussion flowed into the cross-channel of bimetallism and monometallism, and in the course of it Mr. Platt, rep., Conn., expressed the belief that the republican party would go into the next campaign on the doctrine of bimetallism as laid down in the last platform of the party, and that when the silver monometallists proposed to antagonize protection with the unlimited coinage of silver the death knell of that delusion and craze had struck. The last three hours of the day's session were given up to the consideration of the Cuban belligerency resolution. Mr. Morgan, dem., Ala., concluded his three-day speech in support of the resolution as reported from the committee on foreign relations. Mr. Gray, dem., Del., another member of the same committee, while denouncing Spanish rule in Cuba and declaring the warmest sympathy with the revolutionists, argued that the declaration of belligerency was solely an executive function and outside of the constitutional powers of congress. Without action on the resolution, the senate adjourned.

Pope-Columbia Poster Winners.

Boston, Feb. 26.—The prize-winners in the Pope-Columbia Poster contest have been decided. They are Maxfield Parrish of Philadelphia, first; O. Rohn of Mount Claire, N. J., second; A. Romes of New York, third, and H. S. Haines of Boston, fourth. The prizes aggregated $10,000.

Russia's Siberian Railway.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 26.—The Gazette intimates that Russia will conclude a treaty with Korea which will enable the former to carry the Siberian railway to a Pacific coast.

BICYCLES AS BAGGAGE.

Hearing on the Bill To Compel Railroad Companies to Carry Them Free.

Albany, Feb. 26.—One of the interesting hearings of the session was that held last evening before the railroad committee of the assembly upon the Armstrong bill compelling railroad companies to carry bicycles as baggage. The hearing was opened by the opposition. Lewis E. Carr, representing the Delaware & Hudson Canal company's railroad, claimed that the bill was manifestly unjust. Bicycles were not baggage but were vehicles. The wheelmen claimed rather unreasonably that their wheels were vehicles when they could ride them upon good roads. When, however, they came across a road over which they could not ride they flew to the railroads and claimed that the wheels were baggage. Legitimate baggage consisted not of a machine, but of wearing apparel—of the necessities of life. As a representative of the Long Island railroad, W. J. Kelly protested against the favorable report by the committee. His road had, when bicycle riding first came into vogue, agreed to carry the wheels free. The scheme had, however, soon to be abandoned. It had been discovered that the road had in one year carried 32,173. The argument in behalf of the bill was opened by Assemblyman Armstrong. The bicycle was not now recognized as a flitting institution. The wheel had come to stay. It had become now one of the very necessities of life. He was a devotee of the wheel and in his every day life he used the wheel continually. The railroads had imposed upon the riders of the wheel, and it was about time something was done to prove that the railroads could not control without opposition.

TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT.

Mrs. Haun Receives Her Sentence Cooly and Expresses Hope of a Pardon.

Fonda, N. Y., Feb. 26.—Justice Stover yesterday afternoon sentenced Mrs. Florence Haun, who was convicted a few days ago of the murder of Charles Laudry in Amsterdam, to life imprisonment in Auburn penitentiary. Mrs. Haun was calm while the sentence was being pronounced and afterwards stated to a reporter that she believed she had already been punished enough. She also said that she firmly believed that she would be pardoned in the course of time. Mrs. Haun will be taken to-day to begin her sentence.

In Memory of Samuel Seabury.

New London, Conn., Feb. 26.—At St. James' church in this city to-day will be celebrated religious services commemorative of the death of Samuel Seabury, the first American bishop. He was born in Ledyard, town of Groton, was a son of a congregational minister, but became an Episcopalian and rose to the highest honor in that church. He was one time rector of St. James' church and died February 26, 1796, having been bishop of Rhode Island and Connecticut several years. More than fifty clergymen of this and other states will be present at the services to-day.

Greater New York Minority Report.

Albany, Feb. 26.—Assemblyman Audett said this morning that he and Senator Brush would submit the minority report on Greater New York in each house of the legislature some time to-day. The remarks of Senator Brush made before the joint cities' committee yesterday in opposition to Senator Lexow's majority report on Greater New York is to be made the minority report, said Mr. Audett.

New York Lithographers' Strike.

New York, Feb. 26.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the employing lithographers held last night a resolution was passed to the effect that, providing the artists who are now on strike return to work at once under former conditions, the employing lithographers are willing to confer with a committee from the Artists' association in regard to any grievances that may exist.

All Bids Rejected.

Washington, Feb. 26.—The treasury has rejected all bids for the isolation ward of the Marine hospital at Chelsea, Mass.; also for laundry and attendants' building at Chelsea, as bids in both cases were in excess of appropriation available for the purpose.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Wheat—Spot quiet, but held firmly. February, 75½c.; March, 75⅝c.; May, 73⅝c.

Corn—Spot quiet; values unsettled. February, 37¼c.; May, 37c.

Oats—Spot firmer; demand steady. February, 26¼c.; March, 25⅝c.; May, 26¼c.

Pork—Spot steady at easy prices. Extra prime nominal, short clear, $11.50@$12.50; family, $10.75@$11.00; mess, $10.25@$10.75.

Lard—Contracts dull, but steady. May, $5.85.

SPANIARDS PLEASED

News of the Capture of Filibusters Causes a Sensation at Havana.

PRAISE OUR NAVY'S VIGILANCE

Consul Williams Visits Gen. Weyler in the Interest of Charles Michelson, the New York Reporter Under Arrest in Cuba.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Havana, Feb. 26.—The news of the capture at New York of the filibustering expedition under Garcia caused a sensation here. The Spaniards praise the vigilance of the American navy. Charles Michelson, the correspondent of the New York Journal, who was arrested here yesterday, has been placed in Morro castle. Consul General Williams has visited Capt.-Gen. Weyler in his behalf, stating that the case is one of mistaken identity. The prisoners taken at Guatao and Punta Brava Saturday have also been placed in Morro castle. The rebels have resumed the burning of cane in the province of Matanzas. Three hundred thousand arrobas have been burned on El Trionfo estate, at Cabezas. Cane has also been burned on El Combate estate, at San Francisco de Colonia, in the same locality, and at the Dolores estate, at Santo Domingo, in Santa Clara. J. F. CLARK.

The Junta Downcast.

New York, Feb. 26.—The Spanish officials are jubilant, and the Cuban junta is correspondingly downcast over the seizure of the British steamer Bermuda and cargo of rifles and ammunition and the arrest of 127 men composing the filibustering expedition destined to aid the Cuban revolutionists in their struggle for indepence. Gen. Garcia is particularly disappointed at the failure of the ship to get away, as this is the second expedition he has headed which has come to grief, the other being on steamer J. W. Hawkins, which founded off Barnegat a short time ago. The detention of the Bermuda was under section 5,285 of the revised statutes, commonly known as the neutrality act, and although the ship was cleared for the United States of Colombia and was flying the British flag, she will not be permitted to sail until she can do so without violating the neutrality laws. United States marshals are still in charge and will so remain until the case is disposed of.

SALVATION ARMY TROUBLE.

Efforts To Induce Ballington Booth To Resist the British Commissioner.

New York, Feb. 26.—Strong pressure is being brought to bear on Ballington Booth to induce him to hold the Salvation Army headquarters and other property in this city against the claims of the British commissioner. An incident which showed the feeling of the officers at the headquarters occurred early in the day. A New Yorker, who had been connected with one of the auxiliaries, went to the headquarters and declared that he was not willing that money which he had contributed to aid in the erection of the building should be diverted for the benefit of any Englishmen. "I gave the money to aid Commander and Mrs. Ballington Booth," he said, "and I am not willing that any other persons should have the benefit of it. The commander," continued the speaker, "has influential friends whom he has decided to consult. There is one man in New York who offered the commander $1,000,000 on his note of hand, if on Saturday next he decides to declare independence and start what will be known as the American army."

CARLISLE DINED.

The New York Manhattan Club Entertains the Secretary of the Treasury.

New York, Feb. 26.—One of the most notable receptions ever given to a public official in this city was that accorded John G. Carlisle, secretary of the treasury, by the Manhattan club last night at the club house on Fifth avenue. A more representative body of men than those assembled to honor the secretary could hardly have been gathered together. Bankers, merchants, presidents of corporations, lawyers, politicians and men of affairs vied with each other to do honor to the distinguished guest. There was an immense round of applause as the secretary entered the rooms, and he was at once conducted to the east room, where the reception was held. This continued until nearly 10:30 o'clock, when President Coudert, linking arms with the secretary, went to the dining room, where luncheon was spread

The Tamsen Inquiry.

Albany, Feb. 26.—The inquiry into the charges filed with Gov. Morton against Sheriff Tamsen of New York city will not be commenced for several days yet.

Economize.

One and a half teaspoonfuls

Horsford's Baking Powder.

gives better results than two full teaspoonfuls of any other. TRY IT.

To Kill Thistles

It is not necessary to kill all the seeds of the thistles in order to exterminate these undesirable weeds. You can so cultivate the ground that they will not thrive; and at last will disappear altogether. It might be better to kill the seeds, but we cannot do it. It would be the wisest course to destroy all the germs, or seeds, of consumption, could we do so. But this cannot be done. So we must keep the tissues of the lungs, the soil, in such a condition that the germs will not thrive the of Cod-liver Oil with the Hypophosphites has remarkable power to maintain a healthy condition of the throat and lungs. It is also the best remedy to restore these parts to health when diseased. Treat your coughs and colds early; heal the inflamed membranes; and thus prevent the germs of consumption from gaining a strong foothold.

Scott's Emulsion

"Just as Good" is not SCOTT'S EMULSION.

50c. and $1.00 at all druggists.

SCOTT & BOWNE, New York.

W.L. & J. M. Smalley,

—DEALERS IN—

HIGH GRADE

Meats,

& Meat Specialties

Beef, Lamb, Mutton, Veal and Pork. Poultry and Game in season.

94 Somerset st., Plainfield N. J.

Telephone Call 42-B.

NOTICE.

Special Reductions

—AT—

Neuman Bros.

on fancy brands goods. Full quart bottles table oil 60c, finest quality; whole canned ox tongue 45c; lunch tongue, whole, 25c; a special reduction given on Curtis' strawberry and assorted jams, 16c; fresh roasted coffees received every week, quality unexcelled.

NEUMAN BROS.

What! $30.00?

Yes, thirty dollars will buy a piano, in first-class condition, at

W. R. BROKAW'S

Piano Parlors, 311 Madison ave.

Tuning and regulating a specialty

Advertised Letters.

Plainfield, February 10, 1896.

Adams J H	Leonard A W
Barton A J	Neugem Agnes Miss
Codington B	McMann Thos
Duchene E Miss	Moore Elmer
Feil A F S	McEvoy Kate J 3
Fisk Clinton B	McKeef Lara Mrs
Hustner Jno	Palmberg Elen Miss 2
Johnson Charlie	Perine Chas
Johnson Hilder Miss	Prentiss S S
Kline Mellie Miss	Storme G W
King T P 2	Snediker Dare

Holiday Millinery Goods.

MRS. L. ADAMS,

114 EAST FRONT STREET,

Opp. First National Bank.

Dressmaking and Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns.

S. D. FRAZEE,

DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF

FRESH FISH.

Fresh every day. Terms cash. Goods delivered.

230 Park ave., opp. North ave

Musicfurnished for all occasions.

California IN

THREE DAYS

without change of cars. All meals served in dining cars. Palace drawing-room sleeping cars and tourist sleepers are run through to San Francisco and Los Angeles without change, leaving Chicago daily via

THE NORTH-WESTERN LINE

Through Tourist sleeping cars Chicago to California daily and personally conducted excursions every Thursday. Variable route tourist tickets at

VERY LOW RATES.

Detailed information and descriptive pamphlets will be mailed free on application to W. B. Kniskern, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago. Agents of connecting lines sell tickets via the

Chicago & North Western Railway,

or address: H. A. Gross, G. E. P. A., 423 Broadway, New York, or T. P. Vaille, S. E. P. A., 112 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, Pa. t.

FOR GIFTS and LIGHT buy "MILLER" LAMPS

Elegant designs (a thousand styles), Beautiful finishes, and the best lamp made—up-to-date in every respect. Call and see it, also our Fine Brass and Onyx Tables. Buy only "Miller" lamps from dealers. We have been manufacturers since 1844.——made "The Rochester" Lamp.

EDWARD MILLER & CO., 28 & 30 WEST BROADWAY, (66 Park Pl.) bet. Park Pl. & Barclay St., N. Y.

Convenient to all "down-town" Ferries, and Elevated Stations at Park Place and Barclay St.

For Cool Weather buy a "MILLER" OIL HEATER.

FOR SALE BY W. L GAVETT & CO.

Freshest Oysters

will be found at

Rogers' Sea-Food Market.

THE HALLET & DAVIS PIANOS

Have stood the test of over fifty-five (55) years

and are not surpassed by any in the world. Prices, $300 and upwards. Our special 3-year payment plan makes purchase easy. We have other makes of new pianos at $200. Good squares at $75, and we give a full 5-year warranty with everything we sell. Old instruments taken in exchange. Send for illustrated catalogue giving full information.

The Tway Piano Co.,

88 FIFTH AVE.,

near 14th st., New York.

"Tway's Musical Guest," containing 8 pages of music, interesting reading matter and theatrical news, mailed free on application. 10 3 6m

COAL

F. W. HAND,

132 North avenue.
929 South avenue.
197 North avenue.
Telephone No. 139.

Putnam&DeGraw

THIS WEEK WE WILL SELL

SHIRT WAISTS—Ladies laundered shirt waists only 50c.
UMBRELLAS—Fast black, Paragon frame, only 75c.
HOSIERY—Children's 1x1 rib, extra quality, all sizes, 15c; ladies fast black seamless, extra quality, at 10, 15 and 25c; men's mixed half hose, extra quality 10c, 3 for 25c; men's mixed half hose, seamless, extra heavy, 15c, 2 for 25 cents.
WAISTS—Children's corded underwaists 25c; children's outing flannel waists 50c style for 40c.
NECKWEAR—A new and special line at 25 and 50c.
EMBROIDERIES—Our's are the talk of the city.
COTTON CREPONS—Evening shades at 12 and 15c a yard.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 WATCHUNG AVE.,

—DEALERS IN—

Lumber, Coal Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement for Walls and Ceilings.

Leech, Stiles & Co.,

EYE SPECIALISTS,

1413 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa.

Formerly with Queen & Co. H. A. Stiles will be at

107 East Front Street,

Dunham's real estate office,

EVERY THURSDAY

from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Skilful attention given to all cases of eye strain, headache, etc. No charge for examination. All glasses guaranteed.

Bargains in Real Estate For sale or to let.

MONEY to loan on first mortgage.

E. C. Mulford,

No. 169 North avenue.
Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.
BROKER.

Communications pertaining to the business mentioned, either by letter or otherwise, will receive prompt attention. Carriage service supplied.

THE
Bee Hive

Men's Unlaundered Shirts.

Lot 1—The Cast Iron Shirt, made of good heavy muslin, good 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, patent facings, 38c.
Lot 2—New York mills muslin, 3-ply, fine linen bosoms, reinforced front and back, patent facing, 48c.
Lot 3—Our New York mills shirt, made of New York mills muslin, 2 and 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, continuous facings and hand-made button holes, equal to the best custom-made shirt, 69c.
Boys' unlaundered shirts 38 cts. Laundered shirts 50c, 75c and $1.

Louis Callman,

222 West Front st.

CLEANER COAL.

L. A. Rheaume

Agent,

Watchung Ave., Corner 4th St.,

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

Upper Lehigh and Honeybrook Coal

in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

Rough and Dressed Lumber.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for turning and scroll sawing, and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner and at short notice.

H. Eggerding,

121 Park ave.,
Manufacturer of the Celebrated

C. O. D. CIGAR.

The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars

---

CODDINGTON'S
Furniture and Freight

EXPRESS.

Offices 24 West Front st; 33 Park ave. Post-office box 329. Piano moving a specialty. Large covered trucks; goods sent to any part of the country; charges reasonable; satisfaction guaranteed

---

PLAINFIELD SEMINARY
re-opened
SEPTEMBER 19, 1895.
(28th year.) Miss E. E. Kenyon, Principal.

Finest Assortment
of Lace, Celluloid and Card

Valentines

in the city.

HARPER'S,

411 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.

W. N. Pangborn,

LICENSED AUCTIONEER. Residence, 33 Linden Ave.

Personal attention. Prompt service. 1 14 tf

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter, 22c.

Best Dairy Butter 18c.

V. L. FRAZEE

151 West Front st.

William Hand & Son.

STAGES

For Picnics and Parties, 518 Park ave.

GEO J. TOBIN,
187 North Avenue.
Practical Plumber.

Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer.

Telephone Call 158a

TOWNSEND'S
Marble and Granite Works,

SOMERSET STREET.

Our motto—Good work, good material at fair prices.

THE GRANDVIEW
Meat Market.

George Egel, Manager.

Dealer in Fresh and Salted Meats. Game in season. Orders called for and delivered promptly. Cor. Grandview ave. and Somerset street. 6 12 tf

---

Special Sale

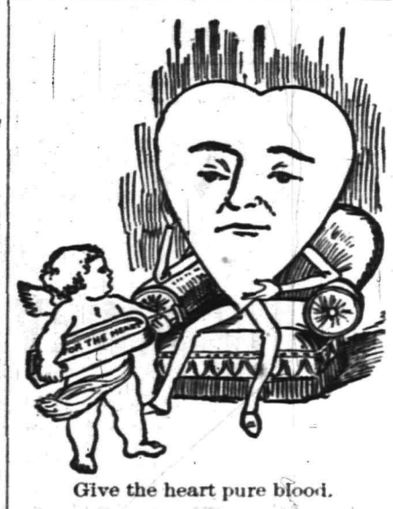
—OF—

Muslins

SATURDAY ONLY.

Fruit of Loom, Hill Lonsdale and other standard brands, 10 yards 65c.
The best brands unbleached muslins at 6 cents per yard.
Good quality in bleached and unbleached at 5 cents per yard.
The standard brands of white sheetings at lower prices than quoted elsewhere.

LEDERER'S.



Give the heart pure blood.

Randolph's Sarsaparilla,

A great blood cleanser.

Only 50c Per Bottle.

L. W. RANDOLPH,
Prescription Druggist,
143 West Front st.

PIANOS.

You can buy the best in the market at Factory Prices, at

J. C. DYER'S, 218 WEST FRONT ST.

New Fish Market,

125 Park Ave.

E. P. THORN

solicits a share of the public patronage. First quality

Fish, Oysters, Clams, &c

TERMS CASH. 11 7 tf

See Our Name,

Take Our Number,

Call and See Our Goods.

Woolston & Buckle,

141 and 145 North ave.

Eagle Meat Market,

35 Somerset Street.

Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Orders called for and delivered free of charge.

C. ARNOLD, Prop.

Miss Fawcett's School

And Kindergarten,
25 WASHINGTON AVENUE,
North Plainfield, N. J.
Re-opened Thursday, Sept. 12.

Primary, Intermediate and Academic Dept's. Boys received until 10 years of age.

FISCHER PIANOS.

56 YEARS ESTABLISHED.

GRAND AND UPRIGHT.

Nearly 100,000 Manufactured.

EASY TERMS. EXCHANGED.

REASONABLE PRICES.

FISCHER PIANO WAREROOMS,
110 Fifth Ave., cor. 16th St., N. Y.
Write for Catalogue.

May Change Her Mind

and her stationery. This unwritten law may be observed just as often as she desires, and then, if not thoroughly satisfied, can get her money back for the asking. However, we find few who do not like our 25c box of paper and envelopes when desiring the medium grade.

R. C. RAND,

140 West Front st.

HONEYMAN'S PRIVATE TOURS,
181 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Easter week to Washington; June 27, Coaching trip abroad, with Switzerland and Italy; August to New England; December to Mexico.

A. Lusardi,

120 North Ave.,

will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c a qt. Branch store, corner Front and Somerset streets.

P. MARKEY, Bakery,

144 PARK AVENUE.

A full assortment of bread, cakes, and pies fresh every day. Fig and malt bread a specialty. 2 17 tf

---

Carpenters and Builders.

JOHN P. EMMONS.
Mason and Builder,
Washington avenue
and Prospect place,
North Plainfield, N. J

Jobbing promptly attended to.

PEARSON & GAYLE.
Carpenters and Builders.

Residence—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine st.
H. E. Gayle, No. 18 Vine st.

All work promptly attended to.

GEO. W. STUDER.
Carpenter and Builder.

985 Arlington avenue.

Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given, charges reasonable.

C. W. LINES.
Mason and Builder,
Plainfield, N. J.

Residence, 18 Elm place.
Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

HOTEL Grenada,

NORTH AVENUE.

Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.

CITY HOTEL,

Plainfield, N. J.

Corner Park avenue and Second street.

J. E. Beerbower, Prop

Stables attached

PROSPECT HILL Must Be Sold.

Azalias, Chinese primrose, palms, ferns, begonias and variety of blooming plants. Wedding decorations and floral designs and all equipments for church and house decorations. Southern smilax at 15 days notice

AT DENTON'S.

L. A. HUMMER'S VARIETY MARKET.

Meats, fruits, vegetables, poultry, eggs, etc. Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge.

220 Park avenue. Telephone call 29-A

No Place Like Home

on Christmas day. No day like Christmas at home. Christmas will be merrier the more home like the home. Our great holiday sale of wall paper should attract all whose houses need papering.

Marsh, Ayers & Co.

LITTERED WITH DEAD

Road from San Cristobal to Candelaria Strewn with Corpses.

AN UNRECORDED SPANISH DEFEAT

Col. Hernandez, with 1,200 Men, Attacked on Both Flanks and Rear and the Command Nearly Annihilated.

Patriots Destroy a Town.

Havana, Feb. 22, via Tampa, Fla., Feb. 26.—Refugees from San Cristobal and Candelaria, towns on the Western railroad in Pinar del Rio province, bring news from a region that is without telegraphs, railroad trains and regular mails. It is also a province without salt, and in which inhabitants are shut up in towns in a starving condition, and guards of Spanish troops threaten to shoot any one passing in or out. It appears that a battle has taken place which has not figured in the official government reports. It was at San Cristobal on the 13th inst. The town had been occupied by the rebels from January 6 to that date. Antonio Maceo had fought with Gen. Luque at Paso Real on one side of the town, and later with Gen. Cannella on the other side. Col. Segura and 600 men had a narrow escape from annihilation on the main road between Candelaria and San Cristobal on the 6th, but no fight in San Cristobal has been announced by the government. An eye witness of the affair to-day said that a Spanish column 1,200 strong under Col. Hernandez arrived at San Cristobal on the 13th, supposing that the insurgents had gone further east, for Maceo was near Artenesia. The rebel leader Zayas and five of his men were in the town and 900 of his followers were camped just east of the town. Hernandez came from the west, entering the main street. Zayas and his companions ran, firing their revolvers to warn their men of the approach of the troops.

Attacked on Flanks and Rear.

Zayas reached the rebel camp and took command. He divided his men men into three batallions of 300 men each. Two of these remained at the east end of the town and attacked Hernandez's column as they came down the narrow street. With 300 mounted men Zayas rode around the town and entered it at Hernandez's rear, attacking the troops and driving them in between the cross fire of the other rebel bands. Hernandez fought desperately and used several cannon, but the rebels had him in a disadvantageous position. He fought on, moving slowly along the road east from San Cristobal to Candelaria. Zayas' men fought him on each flank and from the rear. It is said that the road was littered with dead soldiers for the entire six miles to Candelaria. The informant said he saw in the ruins of a house which had been burned on the road, the heads of six Spanish soldiers, the bodies having been burned to prevent identification.

Two Bridges and a Town Burned.

The rebels burned two large government bridges on the highway at Hagassa and Rio Hondo to prevent Spanish cannon being again taken to Pinar del Rio province. After Hernandez retreated the rebels re-entered San Cristobal. On the 19th the rebels burned the town of Cabanas on the north coast, twenty miles west of Havana. The garrison was driven out of the town, and the torch was applied. While the insurgents were in the town the gunboat Alerta, which once before fired upon the rebels, shelled the town. That completed the work of destruction. The Diario de la Marina publishes the following account of the destruction of an insurgent hospital near Bolondron, which is semi-official, since all matter passes through the censor's hands before publication: Receiving confidential notice that in the place called Mayea there existed a hospital of the enemy, Count Lersunda went in that direction and ordered an advance of a section of his troops commanded by Senors Pozo and Gonzalez, directed by the scout Ramirez. Hardly had the sentinel of said hospital seen our troops than there were seen coming out of the same eight unarmed individuals, who immediately fled. There were captured a medicine case, cartridges, one Mauser rifle and sundry other effects. The hospital was destroyed, with everything which could not be transported.

MISS FLAGLER PLEADS GUILTY.

Fined $500 and Sentenced to Three Hours in Jail for Manslaughter.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Miss Elizabeth M. Flagler, daughter of Gen. D. W. Flagler, chief of ordnance, U. S. A., pleaded guilty to involuntary manslaughter in the criminal court of the District of Columbia yesterday and was sentenced to a fine of $500 and three hours' imprisonment in the District jail. On August 2, last, Miss Flagler, who was in charge of her father's suburban residence, fired a small revolver at a colored boy named Ernest Green, who she thought was stealing fruit from her father's grounds. The boy died in a few moments from his wound. Immediately after the sentence Miss Flagler spent the three hours in jail, accompanied by her aunt. She was very nervous and agitated when released.

Dupont Senatorial Case.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Senator Mitchell, chairman of the senate committee on privileges and elections, will today probably give notice that on next Monday or Tuesday he will call up the Dupont election case, involving the legality of the election of a senator from the state of Delaware.

Treasury Gold Reserve.

Washington, Feb. 26.—The treasury gold reserve stood at the opening of business to-day at $123,113,978.

COAL OUTPUT REGULATED

Meeting in Philadelphia Represented by the Six Bituminous Districts.

Philadelphia, Feb. 26.—Representatives of the six bituminous coal districts composing the new tide water association, known as the Bituminous Coal Trade association, met here yesterday afternoon in the office of the Berwind-White Coal Mining company, and, with one exception, signed the new pooling agreement regulating the production of the various districts and the tide water prices. The districts and companies composing the association are as follows: No. 1, Clearfield and other adjacent mines shipping by the Pennsylvania railroad; No. 2, Cumberland, Meyersdale and all shippers by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad; No. 3, Norfolk & Western railroad (Pocahontas); No. 4, Chesapeake & Ohio railroad; No. 5, Beech Creek & Reynoldsville regions; No. 6, West Virginia Central railroad. T. K. Stuart, representing the Cumberland district, was the one who refused to sign the new agreement. It is expected that he will soon join the others and unanimous action will be taken in all the districts. In substance the new agreement is as follows: The pooling of all tonnage to be equitably divided monthly with a forfeit of fifty cents a ton for over shipments or cutting of prices. No coal is to be sold at a delivered price nor is any shipper to guarantee a rate of vessel freights for future delivery. The percentage of tonnage alotted to each road or district is based upon the average shipments made by each during the past three years. In the Clearfield district there are many small operators. To provide for these and to prevent outsiders from securing this coal and underselling the market a central purchasing company has been organized for the purpose of buying the coal of the small operators.

BASEBALL MAGNATES ADJOURN.

Schedules for the Season To Open in April Given Out.

New York, Feb. 26.—The annual spring meeting of the National league of professional baseball clubs was brought to a close last night at the Fifth Avenue hotel. The league's schedule, the formation of which is always the most important business of the spring, or "schedule meeting" as it is generally known, was given out for publication at a late hour. The opening days of the season are the same for all clubs—April 16, 17 and 18. In the east Boston will open the season with "Quakers" at Philadelphia, Brooklyn will set the ball rolling with the champions at Baltimore and the giants will start the game by playing Washington at the capital city. The western cities open as follows: Pittsburg vs. Cincinnati, at Cincinnati; Cleveland vs. St. Louis, at St. Louis, and Chicago vs. Louisville, at Louisville. The league magnates took up the report of the rules committee as their first business. In future umpires must immediately remove from the game and field any player guilty of improper or indecent conduct or language, instead of having the option of fining the offender as heretofore.

MRS. VALOIS SURRENDERS.

Will Be Tried at Providence for the Murder of Her Father.

Providence, Feb. 26.—Mrs. Clara Valois, a farmer's daughter, who has been a fugitive for three months, surrendered to the authorities yesterday afternoon. She is wanted on the charge of killing her father, John W. Rosseler, who was found dead in his own bed under mysterious circumstances on November 7. Mrs. Valois wanted to run the farm according to her ideas of agriculture and this caused trouble which the old man tried to drown with hard cider. A bill of sale of the place was made over to the accused the day before the shooting, and Mrs. Valois had borrowed a revolver previously. The woman was paroled until Sheriff Colvin arrives from up country with the warrant.

HOLDRIDGE T. OWEN DEAD.

Third Member of One Family To Die Within a Month.

Norwich, N. Y., Feb. 26.—Holdridge T. Owen of this place died yesterday afternoon from grip-pneumonia. He was chairman of the democratic county committee and was a delegate many times to state and national democratic conventions. He was eminent as a Knight Templar and a Mason and held many prominent county offices. His death was the third that has occurred in his family from grip-pneumonia within a month. His wife died last week and his father-in-law, Hon. George Rider, died three weeks ago.

Aged Sister of Charity Killed.

Buffalo, Feb. 26.—Ursuta Haugh, 85 years of age, at one time a sister of charity in Ireland, was killed by a Lehigh Valley passenger train at the Louisiana street crossing yesterday afternoon. She attempted to cross the street after the safety gates had been lowered and was run down by the train. She came to this country twenty-six years ago.

Charles S. Ridgway Dead.

Camden, N. J., Feb. 26.—Charles S. Ridgway, who in former years was a prominent democratic politician in New Jersey, died yesterday at his home here. Mr. Ridgway was 62 years of age. He was a member of the city council and police commissioner. He was defeated for the state senate in 1875.

Given Up as Lost.

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 26.—The British ship Munster, which has been given up as lost, was in Halifax two years ago from Iloilio, and Capt. Graham was married while in this port. The vessel was bound from Rio Janeiro to New South Wales when given up for lost. The captain's wife and child were on board.

JAMESON IS LIONIZED

Great Reception Accorded the Defeated Raider in London.

CHEERED REPEATEDLY BY THE PEOPLE

Many Members of the Aristocracy Present in Court When the Prisoners Were Arraigned — Little Chance of Their Punishment Being Heavy.

London, Feb. 26. — Although Dr. Jameson and his followers in the recent raid into the Transvaal will be tried on the charge of having made war upon a friendly state, there is not the slightest chance of their punishment being very severe—a small fine, probably, and the matter will end. Were it not for the fact that the government must keep its word with the Transvaal government when the prisoners were turned over to the British authorities, there would very likely be no trial at all. That Jameson and his men are all classed as heroes, and their raid approved by the English people, was made fully apparent when the defeated raiders were arraigned in the Bow street court last night. The transport Victoria, which brought Dr. Jameson and his party from South Africa, left Plymouth Monday, her destination then being unknown, but there was a strong suspicion that she was bound for London. She passed the North Foreland at 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning and the fact that she had geen signalled off that point, showing that she was bound for London, was soon known in the city. The approaching arrival of Dr. Jameson and his party caused some excitement and preparations began to be made to receive them. It was known that they would be arraigned in the Bow street police court and thither proceeded the Duke of Abercorn and others of the directors of the British South African company and a number of members of the aristocracy. Many of Dr. Jameson's troopers, who came to England on the steamer Harlech Castle, assembled in the vicinity of the court to greet their old commander Cheered An American by Mistake.

At half-past 1 o'clock the Victoria dropped her anchor in the Thames off Purfleet, fifteen miles below London. A tug ran alongside the steamer and took off a passenger and landed him at Erith, two miles above the Victoria's anchorage. There the passenger, who was supposed to be Dr. Jameson, took a train and proceeded for London, where he arrived about 5 o'clock. A large crowd had assembled outside the station, and as he emerged he was greeted with enthusiastic cheers and cries of "Bravo, Dr. Jim!" He was followed by the crowd from the Fenchurch street station to the Mark lane station of the Underground railway, being cheered again and again. Arrived at the latter station the passenger was joined by a number of friends and disappeared from public view. The enthusiasm of the crowd had been manifested for the wrong man, for the passenger, instead of being Dr. Jameson, was Capt. Heany, an American, who formerly held a commission in the Bechuanaland Horse, and had acted as a scout for Dr. Jameson in his filibustering expedition.

Greeted by Aristocracy.

In the meantime Dr. Jameson and his officers were taken off the Victoria by a police launch, which reached the Waterloo pier at half-past 6 o'clock. A large crowd had gathered at the pier and when Jameson and his party appeared they were loudly cheered. The party entered two omnibuses, which conveyed them to the Bow street police court. The crowd, cheering and yelling and in other ways manifesting their approbation of the raiders, ran alongside the omnibuses for the entire distance from the Waterloo pier to the court. The party was given a most tumultuous welcome by the great crowd that gathered about the court. In anticipation of Dr. Jameson's arraignment a large crowd of people, composed principally of members of the aristocracy, assembled in the court-room before noon and awaited Dr. Jameson's arrival. Seated upon the bench with the magistrates were Duke of Abercorn, Lord and Lady Abingdon, Gen. Sir St. George Gerald Foley and Lady Foley, Viscount Chealsea and Hon. Robert Arthur Ward, members of the house of commons respectively for Bury St. Edmunds and the Crew division of Cheshire.

Released on Their Own Recognizances.

The prisoners were promptly arraigned before the magistrate upon the formal charge of having made war upon a friendly state. Jameson and his companions were loudly cheered as they entered the court room and there was a renewal of the popular enthusiasm after the party got inside the room. So carried away were the people by their enthusiasm that the magistrate and court officers were unable to put a stop to the demonstration. After hearing evidence briefly, the magistrate adjourned the examination for a fortnight, releasing Jameson and the others upon their own recognizances of £2,000 each. The party were again cheered as they left the court room and were followed after they got outside by a great crowd, who repeatedly gave vent to their enthusiasm in cheers.

Wilmington Public Building.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Bids have been opened at the treasury for interior finishing of the Wilmington, Del., public building. Arment Eckman of Wilmington, Del., was the lowest bidder, at $47,505.

Rhode Island Republican Convention.

Providence, R. I., Feb. 26.—The executive committee of the republican state central committee has decided to call the state convention for March 10 in Music hall, this city.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

Published Daily, except Sunday, at 3:30 p. m.

105 North avenue. Telephone Call 61.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., FEB. 26, 1896.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Light Snow Tonight; Thursday Threatening and Possibly Rain and Warmer. At 2 o'Clock Leggett's Thermometer Registered 29 Degrees.

COMING EVENTS.

Announcements of all meetings, etc., will be made in this column, free of charge, if copy is furnished by 10 a. m.

February 26—Stereopticon exhibition in the Seventh-day Baptist church.
February 26—Gorman Brothers at Music Hall.
February 27—Musical in the Monroe Avenue chapel.
February 27—Illustrated lecture in Y. M. C. A. Hall.
February 27—Birthday social in W. C. T. U. rooms.
February 29—Capt. Jack Crawford at the Crescent Avenue church chapel.

No selection has yet been made of the member for New Jersey of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee. The New Jersey member on the Democratic Campaign Committee will be Senator Smith.

Trolleys gay and grave are now in vogue. Excursion and ice cream parties on board the trolley car are matters of record, and now New Brunswick has an innovation in the form of a funeral party using the electric street car as a conveyance to the grave of the departed.

A girl, pretty and young, the daughter of influential parents, shot and killed a colored boy who was stealing pears from the orchard of her father. She was arrested, indicted, tried, and sentenced to pay a $500 fine and spend three hours in jail. And all this was enacted at the seat of government—Washington. Suppose it had been a colored boy who had killed a white girl under the same provocation and circumstances. Why, before this time curiosity hunters would have had dangling from their amateur museums pieces of the rope that Judge Lynch had used.

Dunellen.

Miss I. Smith spent Saturday in New York.

Mrs. P. Quick is visiting out of town friends.

Miss Ethel Holmar, of High street, is ill at her home.

Mrs. W. Craig is slowly recovering from her recent attact of pneumonia.

Mrs. R. Lowrie, of North avenue, has been visiting friends at Bayonne.

Mrs. E. Apgar has about recovered from her recent attact of rheumatism.

Miss Jennie Taylor, of Trenton, is spending a few days with friends on Front street.

Mrs. J. Manning, of Weston, who has been visiting friends in town has returned home.

About forty people, old and young, rose for prayer at the revival meeting Monday evening.

Miss Della Fritz, of Front street, is visiting her cousin, Miss Lizzie Struddle, of High Bridge.

The meetings of the Junior Christian Endeavor Society will be held at 9:30 Sunday mornings instead of on Saturday afternoons.

Several members of the Knights of Pythias attended services Sunday evening in the First Presbyterian church at Plainfield.

The dime sociable which was to have been held tomorrow evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Giles, has been postponed on account of the revival services.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Justice Crosley fined an Italian junkman $5 yesterday for not having a license. The junkman left town soon after.

—The dispute between Andrew Frank and Mr. and Mrs. Ramsberger will be settled in the city court Saturday. Frank was arrested yesterday.

—Unity Lodge, No. 102, Knights of Pythias, will meet tonight. I. N. Wyckoff, representative to the Grand Lodge at Trenton, is expected to make his report.

—The Plainfield Lady Cyclers will be entertained tomorrow afternoon at the home of Miss Grace Langdon, of East Ninth street, with progressive euchre.

—E. C. Mulford, the broker, has sold the Aaron Keyser mansion on Watchung avenue, including the twenty-seven acres of land, to Thomas Munford, of East Front street.

—Twenty-five horses will be sold to the highest bidder, without reserve, at Emery's Hotel, Scotch Plains, tomorrow, commencing at 1 o'clock. Every person in need of a horse should attend.

—Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. and A. M., worked the third degree on Edward Cooley last evening. W. C. Williams, of Elizabeth, presided at the organ. A grand banquet was served later in the evening.

"Give me a liver regulator and I can regulate the world," said a genius. The druggists handed him a bottle of DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. John Albert, of East Fourth street, is very ill at her home.

Mr. Barry, of Elizabeth, is visiting Michael J. Higgins, of Plainfield avenue.

Mrs. Lowry, of Dunellen, is visiting her son, Clark Lowry, of West Second street.

Miss Mattie Rodgers, of Westfield, spent Monday in this city with friends.

Mrs. Taynor, of East Third street, is much improved from her severe illness.

James Coddington, of Mt. Horeb, was the guest of Plainfield friends yesterday.

Mrs. A. V. Heely, of Brooklyn, is the guest of Mrs. J. R. Joy, of Willow avenue.

Mrs. Michael Higgins, of West Third street, is confined at home by a severe illness.

A slight improvement is noticed in the condition of Miss Ida Demler, of Washingtonville.

W. S. Carey, of Castleton, N. Y., is visiting friends at his former home, Scotch Plains.

Mrs. J. H. Snyder, who has been confined to her home for the past few days, is improving.

James Keegan, of New York, spent Sunday with his father, John Keegan, of Manning avenue.

Mr. McGee and the Misses McGee, of Westervelt avenue, will move to Brooklyn April 1st.

Councilman W. H. Moore and family, of West End Park, will move into their new home today.

Miss Edith Roseberry, of the West End, has secured the position of cashier at Scheuer's grocery.

G. Blumm, of New York, is the guest of Henry Wiedemeyer, proprietor of the Hotel Arlington.

Mrs. Kelcey, of New Brunswick, has returned home after visiting Mrs. L. C. Dunn, of Park avenue.

Mr. Horton and family, of Westervelt avenue, will take up their residence in New York April 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. George Demarest, of Race street, spent Sunday at Fanwood, at the home of R. Walpole.

Harry Bush, a driver in the fire department, has recovered from a ten days' illness, and is on duty again.

Henry Collins, of Boonton, State agent for the Kaduha Manufacturing Company, is the guest of Plainfield friends.

Miss M. E. Holton has returned to her home on Grove street after a two-months visit with friends in Philadelphia.

Isaac Smalley, of East Front street, attended the funeral of the late Mrs Abram Smalley, held at New Market yesterday.

Mr. Vanderhoff, of East Front street, was in Newark yesterday, being called there by the illness of his mother-in-law.

Mrs. Henry McGee returned to her home yesterday on Orchard place, in the borough, after a ten-days visit with friends in New York.

Mrs F. W. Perry returned to her home on Willow avenue, Saturday, after a weeks visit with friends on St. Nicholas avenue, New York.

Ray McCutchen, the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. S. St. J. McCutchen, of Rockview avenue, is a victim to measles, happily in a mild form.

Miss Elizabeth Angell, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. George D. Halleck, of Willow avenue, returned to her home at Gilbert, N. Y., yesterday.

Joe Daley, of West Third street, who was so very low a short time ago with pneumonia that his friends had given up all hope of his recovery, is very much improved today.

Physical Director D. A. MacPhie, of the Y. M. C. A., and family, left town yesterday for Boston, where the former will enter upon his new duties as an Assistant State Secretary of Massachusetts.

Miss Laura L. Worthington entertained a party of New York friends over Sunday at the home of her aunt Mrs. Talmage, of Central avenue. A number of her Plainfield friends were invited to meet them Saturday evening at a progressive euchre party.

Silent but Certain There is no discomfort, no disturbance of business or pleasure, no loss of sleep, after taking Hood's Pills. They assist digestion, so that natural, healthy habit is brought about. Hood's Pills are silent but nevertheless certain in their effect. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. 25c. Sold by all druggists.

Take HOOD'S PILLS only

J. W. Pierce, Republic, Ia., says: "I have used One Minute Cough Cure in my family and for myself, with results so entirely satisfactory that I can hardly find words to express myself as to its merit. I will never fail to recommend it to others, on every occasion that presents itself." L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

"Pure and Sure."

Cleveland's BAKING POWDER

"I have used Cleveland's Baking Powder exclusively for several years, because I have found it what it claims to be—pure and wholesome and uniformly satisfactory."

MRS. MARY J. LINCOLN, Author Boston Cook Book.

For Weak Men With Nervous Debility This is Certainly the Chance of a Lifetime.

Weak men suffering from nervous debility, weakened powers and exhausted vigor, can now take new hope. Here is something which will powerfully interest them. It is a fact that until now sufferers have been debarred from seeking a cure by the great specialists in these complaints owing to the cost of travel to the large city and the high fees charged by these eminent physicians.

Here, therefore, is a chance for weak men in our community which should not be lost. Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York City, who has the largest practice in the world, and who is without doubt the most successful specialist in curing this class of diseases offers to give free consultation by mail to all weakened, vigorless and nerve-exhausted men. You have the privilege of consulting Dr. Green by letter describing your complaint and he will, after carefully considering your condition, send you a letter fully explaining all your symptoms, telling you everything about your complaint so plainly that you will understand exactly what ails you. He will also give you his advice, based upon his vast experience and wonderful success in treating and curing such cases, as to just what to do to get cured. All this will cost you nothing and you can thus have consultation with the best known physician and acknowledged most successful specialist in the world, without leaving home and at no expense whatever. The doctor is the discoverer of that greatest of medicines; Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and he has discovered many other most valuable special remedies. Write to him now, for this is the chance of a lifetime to get cured which you may never have again.

New Market.

Mr. and Mrs. Osmum have been entertaining friends from Finderne.

Miss Nellie Biddle, of Somerville, is spending a few days with relatives in town.

Miss Simpson who has been visiting friends in town, has returned home to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Rogers are receiving the congratulations over the arrival of a little girl.

There will be a union service in the First Baptist church this evening and in the Seventh-day Baptist church Friday evening.

—John Wiedemeyer and family, of Stone street, will move about March 1st to the house at the corner of Central avenue and Third street.

Infant Health

SENT FREE

It is a matter of vast importance to mothers. The manufacturers of the GAIL BORDEN EAGLE BRAND CONDENSED MILK issue a pamphlet, entitled "INFANT HEALTH," which should be in every home. Address, NEW YORK CONDENSED MILK CO., 71 Hudson Street, New York.

One Minute Cough Cure touches the right spot. It also touches it at the right time if you take it when you have a cough or cold. See the point? Then don't cough.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, executor of Hiram Hornish, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the county of Union, on Wednesday, the twenty-ninth day of April next.
Dated February 25, 1896.
L. WARREN RANDOLPH,
2 26 10-05w MATTHIAS C. DOBBINS.

THEATRICAL.

The Woonsocket Reporter says of "The Gormans": "An appreciative audience enjoyed 'The Gilhooly's Abroad' in the opera house Thursday night. George Gorman as 'Owen Gilhooly' and John E. Gorman as 'Jonathan Tubbs' in their acting, singing and dancing were the cause of uproarious laughter and tremendous applause. The audience seemed never to get enough of the laughable absurdities introduced by these favorites, as encore after encore was kept up almost without limit. 'The Gilhoolys' is a farce-comedy of the most brilliant type, and was written by James Gorman, with the end in view of giving his brothers George and John full scope for high standard specialties. That he has admirably succeeded was fully demonstrated at this performance. The supporting company is well selected, everyone fitting into the part assigned with neatness and ability." At Music Hall tonight.

Miss Rachelle Renard, supported by her own company of players, will play a two-nights engagement at Music Hall, February 28th and 29th. The company comes highly recommended from the press, and should prove a welcome attraction, inasmuch as they present a list of plays never before attempted by a popular price organization, and upon a scale of magnificence as yet new to such organizations. The time has come when the public expect the same standard of entertainment for 15, 25 and 35 cents as they pay $1 for, and it is the aim of this management to give it to them. Remember a high-class attraction for all thinking and intelligent people.

THE

Camp Fire and the Trail,

By the poet-scout.

Captain Jack Crawford,

IN

Crescent Avenue Church Chapel,

SATURDAY,

February 29, at 8 p. m..

for the benefit of Marconnier Chapel.

Admission, 50c. Children, 25c.
2 15 17 19 21 26 28

Two Magnificently

Illustrated Lectures,

CHALDEA AND EGYPT.

By the Rev. Henry Mason Baum, D. C. L., recent marvelous discoveriss in these ancient centres of civilization, confirming the Bible. Many reproductions of Dore's famous paintings from the Life of Christ.

Y. M. C. A. HALL,

Thursday & Saturday

evenings, Feb. 27 and 29, at 8 o'clock. Tickets for two lectures 50c; single admission 35c. For sale at Randolph's and Reynold's. 2 24 2 m w

List of Advertised Letters

Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 24, 1896.

Baker Henry	Murphy Wm
Ballman C A 2	Phelps R A
Bradley Wm	Ryan Jos
Drake Mary Miss	Robeling Mrs
Emmons Peter	Reeger Minnie Miss
Fleischauer H J Mrs	Shipley John R
Hadley Wilber E	Sheeheen Jos
Irevin E H Miss	Shorts Eliza Miss
Jones Geo W	Saunders T
Kitchen Mary Miss	Saunders John
Lemham Hattie Miss	Shierif Miss
McAvoy Katie Miss	Westmore D M Miss
Montrose Lettie	Westwood Isabel Miss

VISIT BOEHM'S

CROCKERY DEPARTMENT,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

Everything in the housefurnishing line up to date. Prices brought down to the lowest possible notch. We guarantee satisfaction in every respect. It is therefore to your own benefit to visit this department—it will pay you.

Novelties in Dress Goods.

AT 19C—30 inch Brilliantines, were 25c.
AT 50C—38 inch extra heavy black mohair sicilians, cheap at 63c.
AT 25C—40 inch new spring novelties, changeable effects, were 35c.
AT 25C—36 inch plaids, silk stripe effects, were 33c.
AT 12 1-2C—A very handsome line of worsted plaids well worth 19c.
AT 50C—The very latest novelties in all-wool dress goods, suitable for spring wear, fully 40in. wide, a bargain at 65c.
AT 32C—38 inch wide black brilliantines.
AT 45C—40 inch black brilliantines, silk finished, regular 59c quality.
AT 50C—Silk finished brilliantine, 40 inches wide, the 65c grade.
AT 65C—Extra fine black brilliantine, 1¼ yards wide, with an extra heavy lustre, the regular 75c quality.
Our leader for this coming season—38 inch wide black figured brilliantine in a number of new and novel designs at the uniform price of 35c a yard, well worth 45c a yard.
AT 25C—Storm serges in black and blue, 34in. wide, were 34c.
AT 45C—Beautiful fine black serges, 1¼ yds wide, a hummer, were 55c.
AT 19C—Light colored brilliantines, the very newest effects, reduced from 25c.

BOEHM'S, 113 WEST FRONT ST.

Always Ahead!

and Peck Proposes to Stay there

if Good Goods Count

for Anything.

THE DALZIEL

GRAMMAR, MANUAL AND

ART SCHOOL, 309 East Front Street.

IS AN ESTABLISHED SUCCESS.

Free-hand drawing from the Antique, Pen and Ink Sketching, Clay Modeling, Painting, Designing and Mechanical Draughting. Directed by John Dalziel, late Professor of Drawing for Illustration, and Engraving at the Women's School of Design, Philadelphia, Pa.

WE are NOW preparing for Spring and Summer Outdoor Work.

DO NOT THINK

EDWARD LOVE

IS

Giving Away Wall Paper,

But he is doing the next thing to it.
Let him do your spring decorating.

EDSALL'S

Commercial Palace, Babcock Building.

Notice!

Last Tuesday morning we received notice from The H. B. Caflin Company that they had purchased the entire stock of one of the largest corset manufacturers in the world, and were offering them for sale at prices far below "Bankrupt" stock prices. One of our buyers took the first train to the city and was able to secure only one case, so rapidly were they bought up. There are only 12 dozen but include all sizes and are now on sale at

Only 35c

FOR A FRENCH CORSET.

Perfectly clean, new, fresh and right up to date, and a good 90c corset. In connection with the sale of these corsets we will offer

500 Dozen Pure Olive Castile Soap

2 CAKES FOR 5 CENTS.

See unique representation of Brooklyn Bridge in our large show window made of the soap. The latest sensation in Plainfield.

MUSIC.

3c—300 copies of vocal and instrumental music by the best composers, bought at the assignee sale of the well known music publishing house of Hitchcock & Co., New York. Over 500 titles, regular prices, 40, 50 and 75c per copy.

5c—Extra size cotten towels.

7c—Shell side combs, worth 15c.

9c—Mens suspenders, worth 20c.

20c—Ladies all leather pocket books, worth 39c.

29c—Warp print ribbons, 4 inches wide, worth 39c.

9c—Men's linen cuffs, worth 20c a pair.

6c—Men's linen collars, newest shapes, worth 13c.

10c—Men's fast black half hose, double heel and toe, seamless, worth 18c a pair.

65c—Ladies' kid gloves in black and leading shades of tan, excellent wearers, worth $1.00 a pair.

9c—Ladies' fast black seamless cotton hose, double heel and toe, worth 15c.

7c—Extra large size honey-comb towel, worth 15c.

Housefurnishing Dep't.

1 lot patent foot holder dust pans 10c.
1 lot 50 foot hand twist clothes lines 5c.
1 lot best G. and S. water pails 18c.
1 lot ash sifters 5c.
1 lot wood chopping bowls 5c.
1 lot galvanized wash bowls 5c.
1 lot kerosene glass lamps complete with fluted chimney 17c.

Grocery Depatment.

10c Boston potato chips—fresh.
13c Plymouth Rock gelatine.
7c mustard sardines.
20c pound good butter.
50c bushel fine Jersey potatoes.
12c Cape Cod cranberries.

EDSALL'S.

Shoe Notes.

If You Have Tender Feet Why Not Try a Pair of Our Common Sense Boots,

made on the same lines of the Kahler make. Our price $3 and $5. This is at least $1 a pair under New York City prices on the same goods. A woman's genuine dongola kid button boot for $1.19. One of our specials—woman's rubbers 24c and up. How can we undersell the other fellows? We buy direct from the manufacturers and give you the middleman's profits.

DOANE & EDSALL.

SPORTS

STRIKES AND SPARES.

TEAM POSITIONS IN STANDARD LEAGUE.

	H. S.	Won.	Lost.
Westfield	884	22	10
Roselle	893	21	11
Park	885	20	12
Union C. C. Club	811	9	21
Cranford	837	6	24

TEAM STANDING IN CENTRAL JOURNAL LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	Highest Score.
Elizabeth A. C.	8	4	1789
Crescent Wheelmen	7	5	1619
New Jersey A. C.	5	7	1671
Cranford C. C.	4	8	1557

TEAM STANDING IN DIOCESAN UNION.

	Won.	Lost.	Highest score.
Catholic C	7	2	1597
Elizabeth	5	2	1670
Orange Valley	6	3	1534
Plainfield	4	4	1506
Newark T. A. B.	2	6	1584
Institute	0	8	1516

A bowling game is being arranged between the young men of Elizabeth port and the Catholic Club, of this city, the game to take place on the latter's alleys on March 3rd.

It is all over and the Elizabeth Athletic Club is the winner of the trophy in the Central Journal Bowling League, while the Crescent Wheelmen, who set the pace from the start, have to be content with second place. There is some consolation in the fact that there are two other clubs below them. The Elizabeth boys deserve the victory, however, as they won it fairly, and they have Plainfield's congratulations. The tournament came to an end last night and it was necessary for Plainfield to win and Elizabeth to lose to put the Crescents tie with the athletic club down the road. The Crescents won but so did Elizabeth, defeating the New Jersey Athletic Club on the latter's alleys by a score of 1614 to 1513.

It was a narrow escape for the Crescent Wheelmen last night in the game with the Cranford Country Club on the Crescents alleys, for had the good bowling of the visitors continued in the second half of the game, there would have been another lost game for the home team. The Cranford boys took a lead of 2 pins in the first frame. That was increased to 33 pins in the second, and then in the next the visitors rolled 193, making 7 strikes and 3 spares. The prospect looked rather black for Plainfield, but Captain VanEmburgh's cheery words encouraged them, and 4 strikes, 5 spares and 1 break netted 176 for the Crescents in the fourth frame, thus bringing Cranford's lead down from 71 to 37 pins. Cranford rolled well until the sixth frame, and then break followed break in rapid succession. Forty-eight pins separated them in the fifth which was reduced to 10 in the next, while in the seventh, amid great enthusiasm, Plainfield jumped forty pins ahead. It was a cinch for the home bowlers after that and they did not exert themselves but won easily by 75 pins. Out of Cranfords 48 breaks, 29 of them were made in the last half of the game. The bowling of the different men may be seen from the following:

CRESCENT WHEELMEN

	TOTAL PINS.	ST.	SP.	B.
VanEmburgh	133	0	4	6
Lyman	191	5	3	2
Kiely	160	3	3	4
Baker	139	2	3	5
Buckle	132	2	2	6
Petrie	134	1	3	6
Maltby	148	1	5	4
Wilbur	143	2	4	4
Stephenson	143	0	6	4
Thiers	159	2	5	3
	1482	18	38	44

CRANFORD C. C.

	TOTAL PINS.	ST.	SP.	B.
Dohrman	145	2	4	4
Vorhees	131	2	2	6
Stratton	127	1	3	6
Royce	137	3	2	5
Coleman	140	2	3	5
Wood	147	3	3	4
Gudebrood	117	2	1	7
Rogers	165	3	4	3
Laurence	159	1	6	3
Sharp	149	3	2	5
	1407	22	30	48

BY FRAMES.

Crescents 139 261 416 592 720 878 1036 1199 1356 1482
Cranfords 141 294 487 629 768 888 996 1132 1273 1407

Umpires—Robert Meeker and Charles E. Vail; scorers—F. H. Clarkson and George E. Sanders.

Three hundred bowling enthusiasts witnessed the bowling game between the Westfields and Roselles at Westfield last night, and saw the home club win one game, thereby finishing first in the Standard League. The first game, however, was won by Roselle, and this put the Westfieldians on the qui vive for fear that the second might result likewise and thus blast their chance for first place. Besides finishing first, the Westfields secured two individual prizes. The scores follow:

WESTFIELD.

	1ST GAME.	2D GAME.
Baker	206	195
Voehl	159	177
Alpers	137	126
Love	139	190
Smith	129	174
	770	862

ROSELLE.

	1ST GAME.	2D GAME.
Harris	135	162
Patterson	175	169
Hibbard	160	185
Greves	183	143
Warner	196	142
	849	801

Roselle finishes second in the league and the Parks third.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.
F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We the undersigned have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transaction and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.
West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggist, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

A high liver with a torpid liver will not be a long liver. Correct that liver with DeWitt's Little Early Risers, little pills that cure dyspepsia and constipation. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

AT THE TRAPS.

The February shoot of the New Jersey State Trap Shooters' League will be held at the grounds of the Dunellen Gun Club tomorrow afternoon.

The first bi-monthly tournament of the year and the sixth in the history of the Elizabeth Gun Club took place yesterday on the club grounds. The weather in the morning was quite favorable, but about noon a heavy northwesterly wind set in and worried the competitors considerably. Still some very good scores were made, noticeably by Squad No. 1, composed of Apgar and "Dutchy" Smith, of Plainfield, Brientnall, of Newark, Miller, of Westfield, Edwards, of Elizabeth, and Piercy, of Jersey City. These shooters made the remarkable score of eighty-six out of a possible ninety, or nearly ninety-six per cent. The visiting shooters were well entertained and a number of them will return today to engage in the live bird shooting, for which an attractive programme has been arranged, including a twenty-five-bird handicap; $10 entrance; birds extra.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Wm. Klein, of East Second street, has a new wheel, which was a present to him.

An important business meeting of the Crescent Wheelmen will be held in their club house tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

The cycle show is now open at Lister's cycle emporium and a better line of wheels cannot be found in the city. This house has the reputation of standing by their word.

Frank Havens, who was agent for the Barnes wheel in Plainfield last year, will re establish himself here this year at his quarters in Rand's store. Charles Rydell will be his partner this year as agent for the "White Flier." They expect to open this week.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

Wesley Abbott is now among the candidates for the freshman crew at Yale. He has been pulling on the first boat until lately when some of the other candidates have been given a chance. The chances that he will make the crew are said to be very good, however. He is the heaviest of all the candidates of the crew.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE

Hood's Pills are easy to take, easy to operate. Cure indigestion, biliousness, headache.

—James Voorhees, of Clinton avenue, has opened a cycle store at 60 Somerset street.

—The lantern slide at the Seventh-Day Baptist church tonight will commence at 8 o'clock, sharp.

—Justice Nash issued summons yesterday in the case of Hetfield against Cramer, on contract, returnable March 2d.

—The Ladies Orchestra of Plainfield, Dunellen and New Market, will give an entertainment Thursday evening.

—The last of the series of subscription dances given at the Olympia, will be held on Thursday evening, March 26th.

—Perseverence Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., will hold a dress rehearsal of the third rank initiating team at their meeting Friday evening.

—Impoverished blood causes that tired feeling. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood, giving new life and increased vigor and vitality.

—The next regular meeting of Lucetta Council, No. 28, Daughters of Liberty, will be held in Fireman's Hall, this evening. Several candidates will be initiated.

It not only is so, it must be so, One Minute Cough Cure acts quickly, and that's what makes it go. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front S

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The Plainfield musicians will hold a dance in Central Hall Thursday night.

—Business meeting of the W. T A. S. in Reform Hall on Thursday afternoon at 2:30.

—A stereoption entertainment will be given this evening in the Seventh-day Baptist church.

—A farmer with a fractious team of horses caused considerable excitement on West Front street yesterday afternoon.

—A stated meeting of Union County Branch of the State Charities Aid Association of New Jersey will be held in All Souls church, Park avenue, Plainfield, on Monday, March 2d, at 8 p. m.

—Miss Alletta Lent, of New York, who for many years has been prominent in McAll mission work, will address the Plainfield Auxiliary on Thursday, February 27th, at 4 o'clock, in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church.

—The meeting of the Young People's Progressive Euchre Club of Dunellen and North Plainfield, which was to have been held Friday night, has been postponed until Thursday evening of next week on account of the revival services at New Market.

—There will be a County Loyal Temperance Legion conference of W. C. T. U. workers in the Marshall Street church, Elizabeth, Friday afternoon, February 28th, at 3:30, and will be addressed by Mrs. Helen G. Rice, of Boston, Mass., National Superintendent of Loyal Temperance Legions. Every one interested in temperence work for the children are cordially invited to attend.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for rheumatism and neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75c. Sold by H. P. Reynolds, druggist, Park and North avenues. 2 12 y

Soothing, healing, cleansing, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the enemy to sores, wounds and piles, which it never fails to cure. Stops itching and burning. Cures chapped lips and cold-sores in two or three hours. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

IN THE South

Increased attractions for the winter. Opening of the magnificent Hotel Jefferson,
at Richmond, Va., and the superb
Hotel Chamberlin,
at Old Point Comfort, Va. The Winter service at the beautiful hotel at Hot Springs, Va.,
added to the usual attractions of the famous
Hygeia Hotel,
at Old Point Comfort, the Princess Anne
at Virginia Beach. The new Southern Health Resort,
Piney Woods Inn,
Southern Pines, N. C., and the celebrated hotels at Asheville and Hot Springs
North Carolina, all reached by the beautiful new steamers of the Old Dominion Line
direct or by their railroad connections. Send for full information
Old Dominion S. S. Company,
Pier 26, North River, New York. W. L Guillaudeu, Vice-President and Traffic Manager.

RANDOLPH RUNYON,
Funeral Director and Embalmer.
43 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.
Residence over office. 2 24 m

H. DeMott,
Undertaker and Embalmer,
59 Somerset st., Plainfield, N. J.
Calls promptly attended to day or night. White and black hearses. Coaches latest style.

A Corn Cure THAT CURES CORNS

We have never said much about our Corn Cure—though it is one of the best made—because the market is full of cures, so-called. But such positive testimony to its merits has recently been volunteered that we feel justified in "talking-up" this little specialty. Our COLLOID CORN CURE is easily applied, gives relief quickly and will cure every case of corns, hard or soft, that can be cured, if used as directed. Sold in square vials with brush for applying. REYNOLDS' PHARMACY, Park and North Avenues.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the firm of Stevens & Overbaugh, bakers and confectioners, 138 North avenue, has this day been dissolved by mutual consent, and the business sold to Mr. Wm. W. Warnock, who will conduct the business at the above number, and who is also entitled to receive all moneys due the late firm and pay all bills owing by the said firm, subject to agreement. Signed,
CHAS. B. OVERBAUGH,
JOHN G. STEVENS.
Dated Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 25, 1896.
2 26 2

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 cent a word each insertion. Less than 10 words 10 cents. Cash must accompany adv.

PLEASANT front rooms with or without board; all improvements; terms reasonable. 130 North avenue. 2 25 6

TO LET.—From April 1st, brick dwelling and stable No. 413 Central avenue. W. D. Thickstun, 197 North avenue. 2 26 tf

WANTED.—A man for general work; must understand care of horses. Apply 73 Leland avenue.

FLATS and offices to let in Babcock Block; elevator, heat, water, electric light, gas, all improvements. 2 26 tf-w s

THREE houses for sale or rent, one with improvements; central. Owner, 41 Duer st.

LOST—Feb. 24th, small shell hair pin with gold top on Watchung avenue or Front street, near the Sanfords. Reward if returned to this office.

A CONVENIENT six-room cottage in a good neighborhood to let. Apply at 35 Grandview avenue.

BRAHMAS—1 cockeral, 7 pullets, for sale cheap. Beardsley, Berkeley Heights.

LEGHORNS.—4 roosters wanted. Beardsley, Berkeley Heights.

GOOD dressmaker would like more spring engagements; terms reasonable. D., care Press.

WANTED—White girl for general housework. 440 East 6th st.

TO LET—9-room house near Netherwood station; rent $15 a month. Inquire 705 Berckman st. 2 26 2

WANTED.—Two boarders in private family. Inquire 705 Berckman street.

WANTED—Protestant girl for general housework in family of two. Mrs Leader, 63 Duer st.

WANTED—White girl for general housework. Apply 41 Willow ave., between 4:30 and 6.

WATCHUNG park lots for sale. I have only a few lots left in Watchung Park and am going to close them out. Come and see me if you want a bargain. A. D. Thompson, 151 North avenue. 2 26 5

WANTED—By an English Protestant woman, situation to do general housework in a good private family. Priscilla Negus, Union avenue, Bound Brook, N. J. 2 25 3

WANTED—Six-room house, centrally located; reasonable rent. Address "X. Y. Z." care Press.

STORE to let. Corner Park avenue and Second street. W. R. Codington. 2 17 6

TO LET—Neat cottage, 9 rooms; would divide, 4 for one, 5 for the other, making rent cheap. Address 131 New street. 2 24 3

TO exchange for lots, new 6 room house; price $1650; mortgage $800. Address P. O. Box 286. 2 21 4

WANTED—Situation as gardener by experienced man; best of city references. Address G. M., P. O. box 383, city. 2 19 6

FOR SALE—The property owned and occupied by W. T. Broadway, 323 LaGrande ave; modern improvements, city water, etc; house has ten rooms also bath and laundry; possession any time; liberal terms. Apply to agents. 2 17 tf-m w f

WASHINGTON Park, North Plainfield; for sale or to let to a small family, No. 19 Sycamore ave., house in perfect order; contains 10 rooms, city water, gas and furnace; terms made to suit. Geo. F. Edwards, 191 Broadway, New York, or 17 Duer st., Plainfield. 2 17 12

VERY handsome flat; all modern improvements. Apply Manning's city marble works. 2 17 tf

WANTED.—At once, experienced white cook. Apply 949 Central avenue. 2 8 tf

GOOD accommodations for horses; horses boarded by the month at reasonable terms. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville, N. J. 12 3 tf

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

133 EAST 2d street to let a large sunny front room: also a hall rooms; furnished, 2 minutes from depot. 12 19 tf-m w t

TO LET—Stores, flats, dwellings. Bargains for sale. Mulford, Broker. 1 6 tf

TO LET—Stable on Sycamore street, from April 1st, seven stalls and a box stall, city water and electric lights, also three rooms over stable suitable for light house-keeping. Apply P. Lynch 1 2 tf

Such Business

for February never before known. Usually a dull month, we have made it one of the busiest of the year, but only by giving such values that will tempt and bring the business our way. Last week good values we gave but better for

THIS WEEK.

Blankets.

Many cold nights to come. We have a hundred pair of fine all wool blankets that we are closing out at a discount of 15 per cent from regular prices. 500 pair of white and gray blankets at 55c the pair.

Shirt Waists.

New styles made of fine percale, all colors, laundered collars and cuffs, 49c

Embroideries.

From far off Switzerland they come to you and at such little prices that you wonder how they can make them and live. 3, 5, 7, 10 and 15c the yard. See them whether you wish to buy or not.

Silks and Dress Goods

in all the newest and prettiest effects and in many instances there is less to pay than you would imagine. Special in black 36 inch all-wool cashmere and serges 25c, 45 inch do serge 41c, 38 inch do fancies 39c, 38 inch do novelties 50c.

The balance of the Pargiter stock will be cleaned out regardless. Many good things left in ladies', gentlemen's and children's heavy underwear, ladies' muslin underwear and hosiery.

	Pargiter Price.	Our price.
Fine India lawn	25c	10c
Men's natural wool shirts	$1	59c
Men's scarlet wool shirts	$1	50c
Men's white wool shirts	50c	25c
Men's colored half hose	15c	8c
Men's black half hose	25c	13c
Ladies' black hose	15c	8c
" "	20c	10c
Children's black hose	20c	10c
" "	25c	15c
Ladies' black and colored kid gloves	$1	59c
" " " "	$1.25	69c
Ladies' night robes	75c	39c
Ladies' white shirts	$1	59c
Ladies' ribbed vests	75c	33c
" "	50c	25c
Fine huck towels	25c	13c

CHINA DEPARTMENT.

COMPARE PRICES.

We want you to compare our prices on the following items. If you can do better, enough said. These are a few of the many good things for this week. Plenty more on sale all through the department. 25 best quality English porcelain tea sets decorated and new shape, imported to sell at $4, 56 pieces, at $2.69 set. 40 toilet sets consisting of 6 pieces, Byron shape, choice of 3 colors, new shape at 98c set. English porcelain dinner set, Old Hall, 112 pieces, good judges know the name and goods, worth $9, at $6.87 set.

AT HALF PRICE--Framed Pictures.

250 framed pictures at just half price, manufacturer's stock. We close out on most of them. We only ask you the price of the glass. 100 12x20 white enameled frames, assorted subjects, worth 75c; your choice 29c each.

WHITE OF PLAINFIELD.

Removal Sale.

These Are the Goods that Must Go.

Boy's reefers $5.....now $2.45
Youth's overcoats $8.....now $4.75
Youth's overcoats $10.....now $6.50
Men's overcoats $10.....now $7.75
Men's ulsters $10.....now $6.00

SEBRING'S,

Park Avenue. April 1st, West Front Street.

SEE THAT CURVE IN HATS

on all the new spring styles
Shown in those sold by
HALLOCK, Hatter, 109 West Front St.

KEATING, The world's lightest—19 lbs. SEE THAT CURVE? FOWLER, Truss frame—17 to 24 lbs.

Chas. C. Lister,
134 North Avenue.

Guaranteed Bicycles For $40.50. OUTING and APOLLO. Repairing, Renting, and Storing.

The Centre of Attraction

for Shoes is our store—so our customers say, and if you are not one of our customers you are cheating your feet. Just give them their own way and they will bring you right to our counters. We keep all kinds of shoes for all sorts of people. But no poor shoes.

A. Willett & Son, 107 Park Avenue.

NEW CONGRESSMEN'S WIVES.

How They Struggle Through Their First Season at the Capital.

Snubbed by the Old Members—The Country Legislator's Wife Is Appalled at Her Visiting List, and the City Woman Calls Upon Everybody.

[COPYRIGHT, 1896.]

The usual rush of newly-elected members has brought to Washington the usual army of new women—not the new women of the comic papers, but the women who are new to Washington—the new congressmen's wives.

While they are objects of the liveliest interest to themselves and their friends at home, the women are a source of perennial amusement to Washington society.

There are many types, each interesting in its own way.

The woman from a far western state, who, perhaps, in her own home has led a quiet life, with only such mild dissi pations as country fairs or church festivals, becomes the envy of all her friends when her husband is elected to congress. Possibly as the wife of the mayor of the town, or the daughter of its leading merchant, she has been a woman of some prominence and a leader of its social gatherings. She looks forward to taking a conspicuous part in the gayety of Washington, as in that of her own town. She leaves her home with her head in a whirl of giddy anticipation.

SHE GETS A FORMAL SHAKE OF THE HAND.

She and her husband have only vague ideas as to where they will live, but look forward to luxurious quarters in a hotel as the proper thing for people in their position. It takes them but a short time to discover that a congressman's $5,000 a year will not support a great degree of luxury, and they settle down very likely in a boarding house with the privilege of the parlor.

Washington is full of these places. Most of them are kept by representatives of decayed gentility. The landlady regales her boarders at table with stories of her former wealth and elegance "befo' the wah." She is perhaps employed in one of the departments, and leaves the management of the house to slipshod negro servants.

In the depth of this typical Washington boarding house, the first dream of congressional luxury is dissolved.

On her arrival the new member's wife feels a little timid at what she has taken the first decisive step into Washington society.

But she is not long in realizing that the dress that was considered a triumph of the dressmaker's art at home is almost dowdy by contrast with the gorgeous costumes she sees about her.

She finds that instead of sitting down and "visiting" with Mrs. Senator Blank from her own state, she gets a formal shake of the hand and is passed on without a word into a room filled with strange people. She knows nobody and apparently nobody wants to know her. She makes a speedy exit past her indifferent hostess, and goes back to the dingy boarding house to tell her husband of her experience.

She isn't quite sure whether she likes Washington or not, but feels a bit consoled the next morning when she sees her name in the list of "those who were calling yesterday."

This list is compiled carefully each day by the good-natured society reporters for the daily papers. It has consoled many a woman for the snubs and disappointments of a first round of calls.

A white house reception is something the new congressman's wife has long looked forward to. She starts with less trepidation than when she made her first calls, for her husband is with her, and he has that breezy air of self-confidence that is typical to the new congressman. He has not had time to realize what a small figure an every-day congressman cuts in Washington.

She soon finds herself in the midst of a crowd made up of everybody who is prominent in the capital, either socially or politically.

The resident society is well represented. So is the foreign element, and the army and navy. She looks enviously at the women about her, so well-dressed, so graceful, so entirely at ease. Every moment she realizes more the need of experience and training for her new position.

After a few experiences she feels more at home, and even learns to "patronize" some less experienced sister. This is a common type.

The woman who can afford to have quarters at a hotel is just as amusing in her way. She thinks the "reception" given every week by the proprietor of the house is a very brilliant affair, and the attention she receives as the wife of Congressman Blank completely turns her head.

The wife of the member from the large city is less open to such [illegible] social, but she frequently makes blunders through her ignorance of certain rules of etiquette peculiar to Washington.

NOT AS MUCH "UP TO DATE" AS SHE THOUGHT SHE WAS

First calls have no terrors for her, and she makes them on anybody and everybody she meets, tearing breathlessly from house to house. Before the season is half over her visiting list is as long as the moral law. Her receptions are well attended, for her table is liberally supplied with dainties, and her punch bowl is warranted never to run dry.

In her second season she is a little toned down. She learns to discriminate in her giving and receiving social favors before her. The unwritten laws of Washington society are an enigma which she cannot solve for herself. She seeks the wife of an older member, who pities her ignorance, and patronizes her with an air of superior wisdom born of experience, and offers perhaps to pilot her through the uncertain shoals of society as she has found it.

The new member's wife is dismayed when she finds she is expected to make calls on the wives of the president and vice president, the eight cabinet officers, the nine supreme court justices and the 88 senators before they call on her. She hesitates, but finally gains courage and sallies forth with her new cards and her best gown. She feels as she goes from house to house that she has realized her ambition; that she has

MARCISSE NIEL.

TIPS ABOUT PEOPLE.

A monument to the late Bishop Wayman (colored) will be erected in Baltimore.

It is not generally known that the wife of Sir Philip Currie, the British ambassador in Constantinople, is the lady known to the world as Violet Fane.

Capt. Thomas Morley, a survivor of the charge of the Light brigade, Libby prison and Ford's theater disaster, is living in Washington and is in good health.

Mrs. Mary Rochester (colored) died in Newcastle, Del., county almshouse a few days ago at the reputed age of 104 years. She had lived in that vicinity during most of her life.

Mrs. Samuel Craft, living near McGee's, Simson county, Miss., is just 47 years old, and has had 20 children, 14 of whom are living. This is considered something of a record in that section.

Sandow, the strong man, has a big brain as well as a big body. He is quite an ingenious fellow, and among his inventions are an improvement on the bicycle and a combination trunk and bathtub for travelers.

Dr. Thalburg, the physical director, and Miss Ballentine, the gymnasium director, at Vassar college, have forbidden the students there from engaging in long distance running matches. They say such contests are more likely to be hurtful than helpful.

Baring Gould, the novelist, lecturer and historian, is a keen antiquary. One who knows him writes that "he wallows in it. You should see him on Dartmoor with his shovels and wheelbarrows, unearthing some forgotten domicile, and then you would see the real man. Give him an old church register, and he'll spin you yarns about it by the hour."

RINGS AND RING LORE.

Cromwell's signet ring bore his crest, a lion rampant.

The finger ring was the earliest ornament adopted by man.

Every Roman freeman was entitled to wear an iron ring.

Wedding rings were used in Egypt 3,000 years before Christ.

Augustus wore a ring charm to protect him from thunderstorms.

Betrothal rings came into use in Europe as early as the ninth century.

The ring of Childeric is still preserved in the Imperial museum in Paris.

After Hugh Capet every French king wore a ring as part of the royal regalia.

Rings with bangles attached have been worn in India from the earliest times.

Chaucer in more than one place alludes to the thumb ring as common in his time.

Roman ambassadors sent abroad wore gold rings as part of their state dress.

Early Celtic rings were executed in interlaced work, often of very intricate patterns.

The state ring of the pope is set with a large cameo bearing a portrait of Christ.

The ring of the Jewish high priest was invested, by tradition, with many mystic powers.

Luther habitually wore a small ring, in which the setting represented a death's head.

In many female religious orders the ring is used during the ceremony of receiving a novice.—Globe-Democrat.

BITS OF HUMOR.

His Wife—"Algernon, run for the doctor, quick; baby's just suffering awful with the colic." The Artist—"Er—wait a minute till I sketch him. That is the very attitude I have been trying to get for my next magazine poster."—Indianapolis Journal.

Merchant (on discovering a man in his cellar)—"Who are you?" Stranger—"The gas man. I have come to see by your meter how much gas you have used during the last month." Merchant—"Good gracious! I was hoping you were only a burglar!"—Le Progress de Bolbec.

A Sign.—"I am sure I do not feel a day older than I did when I came out," said Miss Sevenseasons, "and I didn't think I looked any older. But of late I have noticed that the young men who are having trouble with their sweethearts all seem to drift to me to tell their sorrows."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

MINES AND MINING.

The gold exports from British Guiana for the first ten months of 1895 are reported to be 99,416 ounces, valued at $1,763,312.

A large gold-bearing vein is reported to have been found near Moose lake, 16 miles from Philipsburg, Granite county, Mon.

Advices from Juneau, Alaska, say that a good showing has been made in the Bald Eagle this summer, both in the mine and in the expense of handling and milling the ore, which has been greatly reduced.

A good strike is reported at the Thorpe mine at a depth of 300 feet. The ore is said to average $60 free gold, while the sulphurets are very rich. The mine is in Calaveras county, Cal., about one mile south of the Calaveras mine

NATURAL MODELS.

The first needle was the bill of the tailor bird, which sews together leaves in order to make its nest and form a shelter over its young.

The common garden slug has the means of spinning a gelatinous thread by which he can let himself down from dangerous heights.

The swallow, in preparing its nest, drives its tunnel first upward and then downward, in order that the nest may be properly drained.

The flesh hook used by cooks to draw pieces of meat from the pot is obviously modeled after the claws of an eagle or other bird of prey.

DRINKS OF MANKIND.

Tea, which rivals coffee in favor, is a native of China, where it has been grown for over 1,000 years. Pepys mentions having drank it in 1660, showing that it was then a novelty.

Ale, which is more used in England than in America, is a heavier malted liquor than beer, and contains a small proportion of hops. It was a favorite drink of the Anglo-Saxons and Danes.

Coffee, the drink more highly regarded to-day than any other, was first used in Abyssinia in 875. Thence it was brought to Arabia. A Greek first introduced it to England, and made himself famous by the act.

Whisky, which is more democratic than wine, is distilled from various grains, from potatoes and from malted barley. It was named by the Celts in Ireland and Scotland. Brandy, a drink not so universally used, is distilled from wine.

So-called beer was made in England a long time ago by tapping spruce, fir, birch, maple and ash trees and using their juices. This process is still kept up in England and in this country where homemade beers from roots are much used.

Among the Egyptians, Greeks, Romans and Athenians beer was made from barley, while in Spain and Britain wheat was used for malting. Tacitus in the first century said that beer was the usual drink of the Romans, and the soldiers of Caesar introduced it into Britain.

A more aristocratic drink is wine, the use of which is as old as civilization. Its origin is ascribed to the gods. The culture of the vine began in Armenia and Pontus and speedily spread. The most famous of Asiatic wines was that of Chalyb, which furnished the tables of the Persian kings. Wine was not used by the most ancient Romans.

It will surprise those who like beer to hear that it is not a modern invention. It was made by the Egyptians many hundreds of years before the Christian era, as well as by the Greeks and Romans. We have received it from the ancient Gauls, who were great drinkers as well as feeders. Undoubtedly the use of beer was common as early as the use of wine.

FOR MY LADY'S EYE.

Long waistcoats with pocket flaps are stylish with Louis XV. coats of velvet or cloth.

Ribbon and chiffon ruffs are very full and deep. Immense directoire bows finish these dainty little affairs.

Velveteen wears well for waists. Green and claret are the most durable colors and are quite becoming.

Tailor gowns of royal blue, Lincoln green or chestnut brown have smart vests of yellow suede embroidered in jet or gold.

Fichus of chiffon or mousseline de soie are edged with ruffles of the same or of lace. They are dainty fresheners for an old gown.

Velvet skirts are worn with coats of brocaded silk in delicate colors. Peau de soie is one of the most popular materials for bodices.

Gowns seen at the opera are of satin of ivory white. Square-neck bodices are coming in with the pompadour modes and are very flattering to thin necks.

Sleeves are slowly but surely growing smaller. The most fashionable shape at present is the bishop, with the fullness gathered into a flaring cuff.

DEVOTEES OF THE BRUSH.

London society people have been besieging the rooms of the Fine Arts association to see Edwin A. Abbey's paintings. He himself is much sought after socially.

A society of men of art is being formed in Paris to watch over the interests of artists. At the head of the movement are such well-known men as Fleury, De Chevannes, Bouguereau and Dubufe. Foreigners will be admitted.

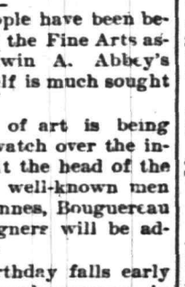
Alma-Tadema's birthday falls early in January and he yearly arranges in honor of it a dinner party resembling in matter of dresses sometimes a classical or medieval banquet. This year he requested all the guests to come in costumes of date prior to the tenth century.

It is reported that Aubrey Beardsley, who is responsible for the weird-woman poster craze, has invented a new style of feminine horror. This new one is almost pretty, with a nose that is partially human. The figure still leaves room for amendment, as it suggests two women rolled into one.

BEYOND THE AGE LIMIT.

Mr. and Mrs. Durgin are hale and active people living near Portland, Me. Mr. Durgin is 102 years of age and his wife 99.

Improve
YOUR OPPORTUNITY!
Get Some of the BARGAINS IN FURNITURE and CHINA.
before removal to Jackson Building.
Heat Your Rooms With the
Surio Gas Globe Heater.
Goes on any Gas Jet.



G. Q. Packer. Jos. W. Gavett.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,
—Dealers in—
Lumber, Coal, Masons' Material, &c
Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock
Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.
BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

Creamery Butter
20c Per Pound at
J. F. MACDONALD'S
Uptown Grocery.

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,
177 NORTH AVENUE.

Waverley BICYCLES.
Highest of High Grades.
Are the Most Popular in the World.
Are Built in the Largest and Best Equipped Factory in the World. They are the Most Popular and Best Selling Wheels Made.
Evidenced by the fact that there were more of them sold in '95 than any other make. Be sure to see sample before purchasing your '96 wheel.
Made by Indiana Bicycle Co., Indianapolis, Ind.
F. L. C. MARTIN, AGENT. 1 27 eod

Central Railroad of New Jersey.
Anthracite Coal Used Exclusively, Insuring Cleanliness and Comfort.
Station in New York foot of Liberty Street.
Time Table in Effect Nov. 17, 1895.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 14, 3 37, 5 38, 6 04, 6 29, 6 50, 7 26, 7 30, 7 53, 8 00, 8 15, 8 27, 8 31, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, 10 59 a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 9 23, 10 17, 11 28, p.m. Sunday, 2 14, 3 37, 6 04, 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 10 59, 11 14 a m; 12 23, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17, p m.

Leave New York, Foot Liberty St., at 4 30, 6 00, 7 15, 8 00, 8 40, 9 10, 10 00, 11 45, a m; 1 10, 1 30, 2 30, 3 30, 3 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 15, 5 30, 5 45, 6 00, 6 15, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 30, p m; 12 15, 1 00, night. Sunday, 4 30, 7 15, 9 00, 9 15, a m; 12 00 m; 1 00, 1 30, 2 30, 4 00, 5 30, 7 00, 9 00, 10 00, p m; 12 15 night, 1 00 a m

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield at 5 38, 6 29, 6 50, 7 30, 8 00, 8 48, 9 22, 10 04, 10 27, a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 10 17, 11 28, p m. Sunday 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 11 16 a m; 12 23, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17 p. m.

Leave Newark at 6 15, 7 18, 7 55, 8 20, 9 03, 10 05, 11 35, a m; 1 15, 1 35, 2 35, 3 35, 4 05, 4 40, 5 04, 5 34, 5 50, 6 20, 7 15, 7 35, 8 40, 10 05, 11 25, p. m. Sunday 7 30, 9 05, 9 30, 11 35 a m; 1 10, 1 35; 2 35, 4 05, 5 40, 7 20, 9 25, 10 20

Passengers for Newark please change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 5 45, 7 10, 8 16, 9 54, 11 09 a m; 12 46, 2 11, 2 22, 3 35, 4 36, 5 05, 5 14, 5 34, 6 04, 6 19, 6 38, 7 12, 7 34, 8 21, 10 26, 11 23, p m; 12 38 night. Sunday 5 45, 8 28, 9 55, a m; 2 03, 3 43, 5 14, 6 38, 10 15, 11 14 p m.

Leave Somerville at 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 25, 7 30, 7 48, 8 20 9 05, 9 48, 11 40 a. m; 12 50, 1 46, 3 05, 3 25, 4 25, 4 59, 6 35, 8 07, 8 45, 11 05 p. m. Sunday at 8 25, 9 45, 10 35 a m; 12 08, 1 20, 5 10, 6 35, 8 05, 8 05, 9 40 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield at 5 45, 8 16, 9 54 a m., 12 46, 2 11, 5 05, 5 14, 6 38, 8 21 p. m. Sunday at 5 45, 8 28, a m; 2 03, 6 35 p m.

Leave Easton at 6 05, 7 00, 8 53, a m; 12 32, 3 43, 4 49, 7 00, p. m. Sunday at 7 15, 10 52 a m; 6 40, 7 30 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield at 9 54 a. m.; 5 05 5 14.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

5 45 a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m.—For stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 a. m.—For Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 54 a. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch D. L. & W. R. R., Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Shamokin, Nanticoke, and Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. with buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 46 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 11 p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Tamaqua, Sunbury, Williamsport, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

5 05 p. m., way for Easton, connecting with High Bridge for stations on High Bridge Branch.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Scranton, Wilkesbarre, Tamaqua, Shamokin. (buffet parlor car to Scranton.)

6 19 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 38 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, and Harrisburg.

8 21 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

5 45 a. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

8 28 a. m. Sundays—For Easton.

2 03 p. m. Sundays—For High Bridge for High Bridge Branch Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading, and Harrisburg.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 35 p. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c., and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

FOR LONG BRANCH, OCEAN GROVE, ETC.

Leave Plainfield at 3 37, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, p. m. Sunday, (except Ocean Grove) 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 3 37, 5 38, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, 7 03, p. m., Sundays 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Atlantic City, 3 37 a. m.; 1 18 p. m.

For Freehold, 3 37, 8 00, 10 27 a. m.; 1 18, 3 51, 5 24 p. m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44 9 46, 10 44 a. m.; 2 17, 5 34*, 6 45, 8 21, 9 37*, 1 17 night. Sundays—5 17, 5 45, 9 55 10 44 a. m., 2 25, 4 55, 5 14* 6 45 p. m. 1 17 night.

For Trenton, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44, 9 46, a. m. 12 46, 2 17, 5 34*, 6 38*, 8 21, 9 37* p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays 5 17, 5 45, 9 55 a. m., 2 25, 4 55, 5 14*, 6 35*, p. m. 1 17 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 8 44, 10 44 a. m., 5 34*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays, 10 44 a. m., 5 14*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points West, week-days at 9 54 a. m., 8 21 p. m. Sunday 6 35 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked (*) change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rates may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN,
General Superintendent.
H. P. BALDWIN,
General Passenger Agent.

Jones & Co.,
EXCAVATORS.
Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.
—Cesspools Built.

Sewer Connections Made
Properly and Earth Replaced Carefully.
PLUMBING TESTED.
A. M. GRIFFEN,
119 East Front street.

CLASSES FOR Women and Girls
IN
Gymnastic Exercises, Swimming and Fencing.
Miss Elizabeth C. MacMartin, Inst'r.
will meet applicants for membership Wednesday afternoon from 2 until 3, at the Y. M. C. A.

M. Powers & Son.
Superior quality of
LEHIGH COAL.
No. 2 Coal Only $3.75 in the Yard.
A No. 1 Kindling Wood.
Yard and office 763 South ave. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

Your Spring Clothing

Rather early to speak of it, but if it needs cleaning or dyeing, it isn't too early to have us do that work for you. This is our dull season—our employes are here ready for work. We'd like to have your goods now. We can give them better attention than in the rush of the spring season. Then we'll have to have more time or rush them at the expense of good work. Now we can take our time, do the work better than if hurried and you'll have the clothing all ready for warm weather.

Look in the closet or trunk and find your spring wear that needs cleaning and dyeing and bring it to us now, or better still, our wagon will call for it if you will send us word.

Hillier & Co.,

179 North ave., Plainfield.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

New York Mails.

Arrive—7:30, 8:40, 11:15 a.m., 2:45, 5, 5:36 p. m.
Close—7 15 and 9:20 a. m., 1:30, 4 30 and 7:30 p. m.

Somerville and Easton Mails.

Arrive—8:40 a. m., 2:40, 6:00 p. m.
Close—7:15 a. m., 4:30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arr. 12 m; closes 9:30 a. m.

Sunday Mails.

Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6:15 p. m.

J. M. HETFIELD, P. M.

GEO. O. STEVENS
OAK.
747 WEST FRONT ST.

Branch office with

G. A. HALLOCK,

109 West Front st.

J. W. VanSickle, Dealer in all kinds of

FRESH AND SALTED MEATS.

Game in season. No. 122 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Telephone 148b. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

Your Valuables

will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

Lock boxes from $3.50 to $10 a year.

E. H. Holmes,

Dealer in

Coal & Wood.

Yard—No. 208 Madison avenue. Office for coal orders with Woolston & Buckle, 145 North ave.

Telephone 49-A.

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the first and third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.
John Fellows, Dictator.
R. A. Frey, Reporter.

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays in the Babcock Building.
C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Sec.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Babcock Building, West Front street.
D. C. Adams, W. M.
Charles Yeager, Sec.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the second and fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward Building, Park avenue, at 8 p.m.
Harry C. Adams, Regent.
Frederick C. Pope, Secretary.

McCullough's STEAM MILL,

21 Steiner place, North Plainfield.

R. H. McCullough, Prop.

Sash, blinds, doors, mouldings, scroll sawing, turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully furnished.

ERNEST BARRETT,

Sanitary Plumbing, Steam and Hot Water Heating

All work guaranteed. Estimates cheerfully given. Jobbing promptly attended to.

325 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

L. L. MANNING, Marble AND Granite Works,

Corner Central avenue and West Front street, opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

MONEY

Cannot buy better

Men's Suits,

in fine imported Black and Blue Cheviot, Diagonal or fancy weave, single or double breasted at $9.90.

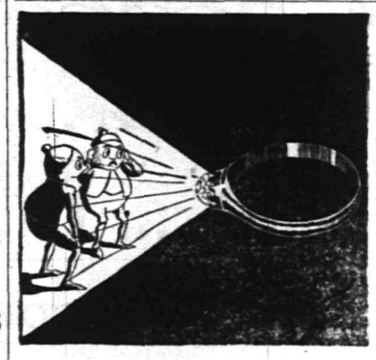
reduced from $15, $18 and $20.

WERNER'S,

206 West Front st.



A BRILLIANT SIGHT.

is afforded everyone who looks through our stock of diamonds and other precious stones—and their setting is only second to them in beauty. You can't think of anything in the jewelry line you can't get here. If you can, let us know and we'll get it at short notice.

COLLIER, 103 Park Avenue.

Established 1869.

INSURANCE.

C. C. Pope & Co.,

INSURANCE AGENTS,

East Front st., Plainfield, N. J.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance,

197 North avenue

INSURANCE.

WM. H. ABBOTT,

171 North Ave.

A Card to the Public

For nearly 20 years the public of Plainfield and vicinity have given me the largest share of their patronage in the purchasing of hats and gent's furnishings, showing that honest effort, low prices and reliable goods are appreciated. I have now associated with me Mr. Charles Clark, of Westfield, N. J., who comes to us highly recommended as a competent, honest young man. We will add to our stock of hats and gent's furnishings, a full line of men's and youth's shoes and rubbers, keeping only reliable goods and selling at the lowest possible prices.

Thankful for past favors, we are yours for business, U. B. CRANE, 120 West Front st.

Succeeded by Crane & Clark.

R. H. Rushton, J. C. Hansen, A. Luthman.

Rushton, Hansen & Luthman,

PAINTERS & PAPER HANGERS,

P. O. Box 773, Plainfield, N. J.

Interior decorating a specialty. Our motto—first-class work. Estimates cheerfully given. Orders promptly attended to. 2 11 tf

F. A. DUNHAM,

Civil Engineer and Surveyor

109 Park ave. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas. Telephone 87—F.

Dogs

IRON AND BRASS

FIRE-DOGS.

Curtis M. Thorpe,

Y. M. C. A. Building

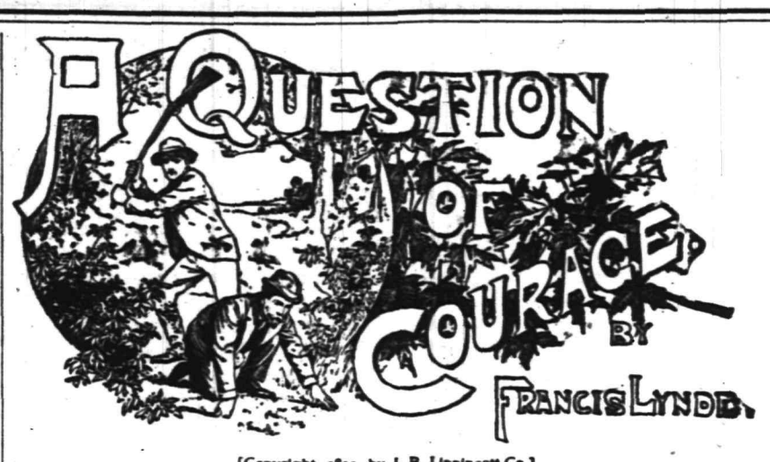
"Everything for the Fireplace."

Telephone 29b. Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON,

Plumbing and Hot Water Heating.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system. Opposite Roberts's Livery. 132 North ave.



[Copyright, 1895, by J. B. Lippincott Co.]

Ringbrand straightened up and wiped the perspiration from his face. "I beg your pardon—indeed I do; I told you I was but an indifferent horseman," he apologized.

"Please don't mention it," she said, as soon as she could speak. "It's awfully mean in me to laugh, but I couldn't help it. I shall have an immense respect for your strength after this."

Ringbrand took Pluto's bridle from the grinning boy and tried to mount, forgetting, in his embarrassment, that well-trained saddle-horses are prone to object to approaches from the wrong side. He did not realize his mistake until he had one foot in the stirrup and was hopping about breathlessly in a desperate endeavor to make Pluto stand still long enough to enable him to spring into the saddle; but with the knowledge came a sudden access of obstinacy, and he determined to succeed if it took the remainder of the afternoon. Hester was convulsed with laughter, and it was some moments before she could find breath to suggest that Pluto was unaccustomed to receiving his rider form the off side.

"I—know—it isn't—custom—ary," gasped Ringbrand, making violent efforts to keep near the plunging animal, "but—I—usually—do it—this way."

Just then his foot slipped out of the stirrup, and Pluto's enthusiastic and reproachful protests ceased. The discomfited cavalier mopped his steaming face again, and beckoned to the boy.

"Just hold him a second, will you?" he said, and, backing away for a short run, he vaulted into the saddle before the astonished charger knew what was happening.

"Bravo! bravo!" exclaimed Hester, clapping her hands in delighted approval. "That was certainly original. Where did you learn to vault, Mr. Ringbrand?"

"I used to do a little of it at the university," he replied, modestly forbearing to add that he had held the record for the running high jump in his class.

"Do—do gentlemen usually mount that way in New York?" she inquired, innocently.

"I can't say they do—not always," he responded, as they ambled down the long avenue and turned into the mountain road. "Now that you speak of it, I'm not sure that I ever saw anyone do it in just that way—at least not outside of a circus."

She laughed again, a sweet bubbling over of unrestained merriment that made him think of happy children and singing birds. "Didn't you know, sure enough, that you were on the wrong side?" she asked, naively.

"Honestly, I didn't at first," he confessed, "but I began to suspect some such dreadful thing before you spoke. Then it occurred to me that Pluto was unreasonably particular about such a small thing, and I thought it might be well to convince him of the fact."

"I think you've succeeded; but I'm afraid you have hurt his sense of the proprieties beyond recovery. He is almost as conventional as I used to think you were."

"I hope you don't think it any more, after seeing my interpretation of 'boots and saddles,'" he protested. "And while we're on the subject of horseback riding, let me make an open confession; I know less than nothing about it, experimentally, and I shall be deeply indebted to you if you'll teach me how to behave in a becoming manner."

She leaned over and disengaged her skirt from its entanglement in his stirrup. "May I?" she asked.

"I shall be very grateful."

"Well, then, I—I believe it is customary for a gentleman to ride on the other side," she began.

Ringbrand had quite recovered his self-possession by this time, and he pulled Pluto around to her right. "Of course. I should think that would suggest itself naturally to anyone but a book worm like myself; I assure you I shouldn't have made my hero in a story guilty of such awkwardness. Now, how about these stirrups? they seem to me to be too short, or too long, or something."

She looked at them critically: "I think they are a little too short. Shall I hold Pluto while you dismount to let them down?"

"No, thank you; I think I can manage it from the deck," he replied, slipping his feet from the stirrup irons and adjusting the straps to a more comfortable length. "There, how is that?"

"That looks better. Now, shall we try a little gallop?"

"If you please. I'll do anything you tell me to."

They swept along the level road at an easy canter, and Ringbrand profited by Hester's suggestions as well as he could in the short intervals which his furtive admiration of her graceful carriage and radiant beauty spared him from a consideration of his own shortcomings. The road led them finally to the western brow of the mountain, and they pulled up at the edge of the cliff to enjoy the view spread out before them.

"Your surroundings are a perpetual inspiration, Miss Hester," said Ringbrand, feasting his eyes with the keen appreciation of an artist upon the magnificent panorama of the mountains and valleys and forests stretching away to the westward.

"I am glad you like Tennessee," replied the girl, with a touch of pathos in her voice. "So many people—especially northerners—seem to think it an unprofitable wilderness."

"Who could be so unappreciative as to say that?"

"Miss Bradfern, for one. She is from Boston, and she visited friends in Dunbar last summer. She was continually pining for New England in general and Boston in particular. I'm sure I can't understand how she will be able to live here."

"Is she coming here to live?"

"Yes; as the wife of our rector in Tregarthen. I tell him he's setting a bad example by going so far from home."

"Then I presume he is a southerner?"

"He is; he's a Georgian; but I believe he was educated in the north."

"Am I to understand that you think one ought not to marry out of his section?" he asked, making the rector's case a possible opportunity for ascertaining his own standing.

"Oh! I wouldn't say anything so radical as that," she replied, stroking her horse's mane; "only, it seems to me, there are many reasons against it. You don't understand—you can't understand—how much sectional feeling there is in the south."

"I know there used to be, but I thought it was a thing of the past, since the war."

"It is, in some senses, I suppose, and in others I think it is as strong as ever. My father fought for the south; and if you could know how strongly my sympathies are enlisted upon the side of some of the things which you think are dead issues, there would be only one word in your vocabulary that would fit me—an ugly little word of five letters."

"I hope I am broad enough not to apply it, Miss Latimer. I think I can put myself in your place sufficiently to understand that there may be many and honest differences of opinion."

"It's right kind of you to say that—especially as your side has the better of the argument; though I'm not so sure about that, either. It's one thing to starve people into submission and quite another to subjugate them."

"I believe I can appreciate that, too."

Neither of them spoke again for a few moments, and then Hester called his attention to a jutting crag projecting far out from the cliff-line at their feet. "Do you see that point over yonder to the right?" she asked.

"Yes; and I was going to ask you if it has a name."

"It has; it is called 'Tom's Jump.' It's not a very poetic name, and it could hardly be called a 'Lover's Leap,' although the story is dreadful enough."

"Tell me about it."

"It's short and quite prosaic. There used to be a moonshiner's still somewhere in this neighborhood, and one of the men was young Tom Cragin, the son of the mountaineer who owned the still. One day the revenue men were trying to arrest the party, and they chased young Cragin out into this road. He ran down that way, and two more officers came out into the road ahead of him. When he saw he was surrounded, he climbed out to the point of that rock and flung himself down."

Ringbrand looked surprised. "I didn't know the penalties were severe enough to warrant a man in doing that," he said.

"I'm not sure that they are," replied the girl, "though a long term in the penitentiary is hard enough after the free life of the mountain. But in Cragin's case I think there were other things; there was a long story of bloodshed and violence leading up to the tragedy, and perhaps he had reason to fear something worse than a prison. You don't know anything about the savage history of these mountains, Mr. Ringbrand," she added, turning her horse's head homeward. "Nearly every family in the neighborhood is or has been mixed up in some dreadful trouble; even our own has not escaped."

She did not offer any further explanations as they rode back to "The Laurels," and Ringbrand felt instinctively that it was a matter about which he could not ask questions. What she had said, however, made him thoughtful, and he resolved to ask Ludlow if he knew the story.

When they reached the house Hester asked Ringbrand to stay to tea, and after the meal they sat together on the veranda while the colonel and his son rode to Tregarthen. Since they were well beyond the period of acquaintanceship in which young lovers take each other seriously and talk upon abstruse subjects, the conversaton drifted aimlessly and easily from one topic to another until it finally came back to the rector and his approaching marriage. Hester spoke of it again in terms of disapproval. "It seems to me like a case of infatuation on his part," she said "though I suppose I'm prejudiced. I can't see how they are ever going to be able to make peace between the sections."

"Is Miss Bradfern so very pronounced in her views?" asked Ringbrand.

"I think she is; and I fear she is much the stronger of the two."

"Is that always a misfortune?"

"Possibly not; but it seems so to me. It implies a surrender on the part of the husband, and that's a pitiable thing to contemplate."

"Do you think so? I should say that such a surrender might be very noble—under some circumstances."

"I can't imagine the circumstances. What are they?"

His frank question drew him rather deeper into the subject than he had meant to go, but he laid hold of his courage and spoke the thought that was in him. "I mean when a man has been fortunate enough to find the one woman in the world with whom he can share all things." He said it quietly, trying to keep the vibrant note of passion out of his voice.

She did not reply at once, and when she did there was no sign that she had taken his answer in any sense other than as an abstract statement of fact. "Even then I think you are wrong," she said. "It doesn't seem possible to me that any woman could accept such a sacrifice and retain her respect for the man who made it; does it to you?"

"I had never thought of it as being a sacrifice. It is more like a part of the homage which a loyal subject would give freely to the one whom he had enthroned."

She looked at him in doubt. "I can never tell when you are in earnest and when you are trying to be satirical."

"Oh, I beg you to believe I wouldn't jest upon such a serious subject," he hastened to say.

"Then I can't understand your position at all. You—you write about women, and you should understand them better than that. Isn't it true that even the strongest woman prefers to look up rather than down, if her husband be noble and brave and generally worth looking up to?"

Ringbrand winced, for had he not signed his name to a certain narrative in which the motive turned upon the theory that deep in the heart of every woman there dwells an unspoken desire to be dominated? He smiled at his unconscious mendacity and wondered why it is that a man who chances to be in love cannot apply the wisdom of other days to the solution of his own riddles.

"Perhaps you are right, after all," he said, musingly. "Now that you recall it, it seems quite possible that I may at one time have held and expressed such a view myself. Your proviso, however, helps my side of the question."

"In what way?"

"By asking for a rare combination of virtues in the man."

"How do you mean?"

"You said he should be noble and brave and generally worth looking up to."

"Are those qualities rare?"

"Rare enough, I fear. I think there are not many of us who could fill the requirements. But to return to Miss Bradfern: You think she will be on the governing hand, do you?"

"Perhaps not quite that, but I'm very sure she has some—shall we call them convictions?—that will make Mr. Raleigh very uncomfortable. One of them is the idea that it is a part of her mission to bring about the social recognition of the negroes." She said "niggers," but the provincialism bore no contemptuous accent.

The remark caught Ringbrand off his guard and he said: "There is room for reform along that line, isn't there?"

"That depends very much upon the point of view." Hester drew herself up and a shade of austerity came into her manner. "I'm not quite sure how you regard it in the north, though papa says you make no distinction—or, at least, not very much. With us the question has been definitely settled for a long time."

He was besotted enough to try to argue the point with her. "Don't you think that much of the objection to social equality on the score of the color of a person's skin is prejudice?" he asked.

"You are at liberty to call it that or anything else you please," she answered, with chilly preciseness, "and there is nothing to prevent your putting yourself upon an equality with our servants if you feel so disposed."

Hester asked Ringbrand to stay to tea.

"I'm sure I don't wish to do that, though I'm quite as certain that the question of color or race would not prevent me. I think the negroes in the north are given all the social rights they expect or deserve; they are at least the social equals of white people in their own class."

Hester rose and stood before him with sparkling eyes and flushed cheeks, and he forgot all about the argument in his admiration of her superb loveliness. "That's just it!" she exclaimed; "you all are quite willing to let the negroes take their chances in the north, but you try to compel us to accept them as equals, without regard to class, whether we want to or not."

It was not their first difference, and Ringbrand smiled. "You are of the south, aren't you, Miss Hester? I wish you would teach me how to be entnusiastic," he said, mildly.

"It would be a hopeless task," she replied.

"I'm not so sure about that. I think it would depend upon the teacher."

"But you would be enthusiastic on the wrong side, if I did."

"Perhaps you might convert me in the process."

"I am afraid that isn't possible; and then it wouldn't be honest of you to let me," she added, with feminine inconsistency.

Ringbrand smiled complacently. "I like that," he said. "I shall try hereafter to be both enthusiastic and loyal to my section."

Thinking about this conversation when she was braiding her hair before her mirror that night, Hester blushed when she remembered how emphatic she had been. "I hope he didn't think I was inhospitable and rude," she said, speaking softly to herself; "but he doesn't know how his cool way of asserting himself irritates one. And I was almost angry, too; I'm sure I was going to say something spiteful; but there was a look in his eyes that said no, just as plainly as could be. He always looks at me that way when I'm about to say something mean, and then I can't go on. I wonder—but that would be ridiculous; he ought to marry a Vassar girl at the very least; somebody with calm gray eyes and fluffy hair, a girl with advanced ideas and all that, and with plenty of intellect, so she could help him in his work. That isn't much like you, is it?" speaking to the reflection in the mirror; "you're nothing but an enthusiastic, impulsive country girl, with coarse black hair"—she drew one of the shining braids over her shoulder to look at it—"and eyebrows that make me think of the picture of Beatrice in the big Shakespeare downstairs—only she's pretty and you're not."

Mirrors do not always tell the truth, and Hester's must have been a very Ananias of a looking-glass if it reflected any such distorted likeness of the embodiment of sweet, wholesome womanhood standing before it; there were strength and pride in every line of the beautiful face and perfect form, but it was the strength that harmonizes with grace and purity, and it was the pride that abhors mean things and scorns the ignoble arts of deceit and subterfuge.

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

Nothing Like It.

Time brings many changes, but the climate of California, "The Italy of America," and the attractions of the many famous health and pleasure resorts, are the same yesterday, today and forever.

Tourists never will tire of speaking in praise of the soft and balmy air, the profusion of flowers, the magnificent display of fruits, the luxury of seabathing and the beautiful walks and drives.

Then, too, it must be conceded that with such excellent equipment, consisting of Reclining Chair Cars, Pullman Palace Sleepers and Pullman Dining Cars, all heated by steam and lighted with Pintsch Light, the Union Pacific, "The Overland Route," is the tourists favorite. Ask your agents for tickets via this route.

E. L. Lomax, General Pass. and Ticket Agent, Omaha, Neb.

Always Open is Leggett's Pharmacy in Y.M.C.A. Building

UNION Meat Market,

IS THE PLACE

where you can buy during Lent all kinds of Smoked Fish, Salt and Pickled Herring, Imported Cheese of all kinds, Russian Caviar. Try the Waldorf Cheese. Imported and Domestic Sardines. Native Steers sold only at low prices. Jersey Lamb, Veal, Mutton, Pork. Turkeys and Chickens always on hand. My Sausage can't be beat. Genuine Philadelphia Scrapple and Taylor's Hams. Headquarters for Bologna and Delecatessen.

A. G. Vogeler.

131 West Front st.

ASBESTOS CLUB OBSERVATIONS.

A Washington's Birthday Visit Brings Out Some Pithy Sentences.

An invitation to visit the Asbestos Club might properly be classed with angel visits, because they are few and far between, and when a man is fortunate enough to receive one, I would advise its immediate acceptance. You will meet people there that one rarely meets on the public streets. It was my privilege to visit the club on Washington's birthday. After ascending a broad flight of well-lighted stairs (it was daytime and the door at the foot of the stairs was open) I was ushered into what might be known as the cake-room, for the first thing that attracted my attention was the remains of what had evidently, in the past, been a pound cake (weight 22-oz. fhr.). This cake, or its remains, was lying fully to view on an elaborate sideboard which must have cost no less than thirty cents. To protect the highly-polished finish of the sideboard, the cake was laid out in state on a defunct copy of The People's Journal. Passing about four feet by two feet beyond the cake, keeping the sideboard on the port side, one is immediately in the presence of the great assembly room of the club. There may have been some doors or screened archways to pass under, but I do not now recall having seen any. Once in the immediate presence of the club, I glanced around to size up the members collectively and individually. Conversation was not interrupted by my entrance, so I was enabled to fully realize and ponder on the chunks of wisdom that fell in irregular cadences from the various groups as they were sitting in sundry places in the room.

John Ross, the venerable young farmer, who had just sold an anti-chimney cook stove, was expatiating on the merits of the X rays as applied to the scientific game of dominos.

Mr. Stansbury did not know whether a pair of horses he has owned (and now drives) for twenty years were sorrel horses with bay tails or bay horses with sorrel tails, and when I came away he had not found out to a certainty. But this I do know, and that is, he got an opinion from "Doc" Pocock for which opinion the good "Doc" went at once to his office and made an entry with indelible ink as follows:

William Stansbury. Dr.
To saying horses are sorrels. $2.00.

Mr. Stansbury will have this opinion in writing some day; then he will have it framed and think more of it.

I thought I saw Asa Collier there, but it may have been an "optical" illusion on my part. However, the illusion cut off a hunk of the cake to take home to his wife for analysis.

William McClure had some one shut the door as he was afraid of a draft. I thought as McClure was a lawyer, he should have known that he need have no fear of drafts on legal holidays.

Noah Pike was there, but he was not saying anything. I believe he is training as a dime museum freak—"The Silent Man."

"Billy" Campbell, one of the youngest members in point of age, is especially delegated to poke the fire. This he does to the satisfaction of himself, only.

I did not drink any while there, because the cider-joint in the annex had been worked so much, previous to my arrival, that its glory had departed and nothing was left but the faucet and bung-hole, both of which I smelled of, and am prepared to say that it was strictly first-class. I may go again some time if I get an invitation.

S.

A Still Alarm.

A still alarm of fire was sent to fire headquarters by telephone yesterday afternoon about four o'clock from Neumann's grocery store on Watchung avenue. The department responded quickly to Mr. Heyniger's house, 819 First place, where an open grate fire had ignited some wood work causing considerable smoke. The fire was speedily extinguished and the damage was very slight.

A Scrapper to Appear.

Thomas Muldowny will appear before City Judge DeMeza Saturday on the charge of quarreling and being disorderly. He was one of the participants in the little scrap that occurred at Netherwood on a Sunday evening sometime ago as was told at the time in the Daily Press.

Red Men Go to a Conclave.

The following Red Men went to Trenton today, from this city, to attend the annual Grand Lodge session: Wm. Newcorn, W. Westphal, D. C. Allen, N. C. Mague, C. J. Holstein, J. R. Newman, Miantonomah Tribe; C. J. Young, Charles M. Ulrich, E. Odam, and J. H. Carney, Paugh-Caugh-Naugn-Sinque Tribe.

—The large evergreen trees in the lot next to the Park clubhouse on Washington avenue, are being cut down to make room for a new residence for C. Frank French.

Don't invite disappointment by experimenting. Depend upon One Minute Cough Cure and you have immediate relief. It cures croup. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. L. W. Randolph, 113 W. Front St.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Jacob Blimm, of Somerset street, is ill at her home.

Sheriff Wyckoff, of Somerville, was a visitor in town yesterday.

W. C. Kelly, of Oak Tree, left this afternoon on a trip to Florida.

Mrs. C. F. Gullberg, of Soun aves confined at home by illness.

John Grisley, of Arlington avenue, is confined to his home with illness.

Mrs. T. H. May, of Somerset street, is spending a few days with friends in New York.

Assemblyman W. R. Codington, of Sandford avenue, left this morning for Trenton.

Richard V. Penton, of New York, is visiting his brother, T. B. Penton, of 112 Rockview avenue.

A. E. Dawe and family, of Second place, moved yesterday to Harmony street, in the borough.

Mrs. Kate Bird, of Flemington, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Fulper, of East Second street.

Miss Florence R. Racey, of Brooklyn, is visiting at the home of the Misses Brock, on Mountain avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Sheppard, of Central aveuue, are entertaining company from Northern Maine.

Druggist Frank Rowley and wife are rejoicing over the arrival of a bright baby girl into their family.

Miss Sarah O'Connor, of Milford, Conn., was the guest yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Peck, Jr., of West Front street.

Howard B. Waters and family have moved from their old home on Somerset street and taken up their residence on Clinton avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Doane and family are now living in their new home on Norwood avenue, having moved from 120 West Fifth street.

The Misses Cotrell, of Asbury Park, who have been visiting at the home of their sister, Mrs. J. P. Emmons, of Prospect place, returned to their home today.

The funeral of Mrs. Gertrude Farragut, wife of Loyall Farragut, son of the Admiral, took place today at the church of the Incarnation, New York. Mr. Farragut was a resident of Plainfield several years ago, and Farragut avenue was named in his honor.

A Washington Park Tea.

A very informal tea was given by Mrs. James Richard Joy yesterday afternoon at her home on Willow avenue for Miss Joy, of Boston. The dainty-appearing tea table was presided over by Mrs. J. G. Foster and Mrs. A. V. Heely, of Brooklyn. Mrs. Joy was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. D. M. Van Vliet, Miss Harriet French, Mrs. Henry A. McGee, Mrs. Charles E. Horne, Mrs. Walter M. McGee and Mrs. Herbert Welch, of Brooklyn.

The Star Course.

In the Star Course at the Y. M. C.A. there will be three entertainments in March. Miss Addie Parker Jackson assisted by Conde's Young Men's Symphony Orchestra on the 3d; the Amphion Ladies' Quartette, (mandolin and vocal,) of New York, on the 17th; "Switzerland and Its People," a lecture by Prof. Henry M. Maxson on the 24th. The Association has decided to offer for sale to non-members tickets for these three meritorious entertainments at 50 cents for the three Easter Monday Concert.

Two years ago this spring the Amherst College Glee Club gave a concert here, followed by an invitation or private dance at the Casino. On Easter Monday, April 6th, they will give a concert again at the Casino, under the management of Boardman Tyler and Fred Goddard of the class of '98.

Liquor Dealers Make No Defence.

In County Court at Elizabeth this morning the first of the indicted liquor dealers was placed on trial in the person of George Hensler. No defence was put in and he was found guilty. The other indicted ones then retracted their original plea and pleaded non vult. Sentences will be pronounced a week from Saturday.

—Ernest Marx, Overseer of the Poor, entered on his duties today.

—B. W. Western has leased the house at the corner of Washington and Mercer avenues, where he has been living for some time past, for another term of years, and will not remove from the borough as has been reported.

Science and Frivolity.

Old Prof. Starrs—What a wonder and a blessing to us all is the change of the seasons!

Miss Giddy—Yes, indeed. About the time one gets tired of icecream oysters come in.—N. Y. World.

The Survival of the Fittest.

Friend—Have you made any more changes in your farce comedy?

Manager—Yes. I've dropped out the rest of the plot to make room for another song and dance.—Life.

How He Got It.

"Elykins has his own way in his house."

"Yes. But his wife always tells him what it is going to be beforehand."—Washington Star.

WELL KNOWN ABROAD.

The czar of Russia owns a single estate that is 100,000,000 acres in extent, and is said to be the largest in the world.

The duke and duchess of Marlborough are traveling on the Nile in a Dahabeyah which they have hired for six weeks.

President Kruger, of the Transvaal republic, has a fortune of $5,000,000. The income of his office is $40,000 a year in salary and allowances.

Count Henckel von Donnersmarck, the last descendant of Goethe, who died recently in Germany, was the man who married the notorious adventuress at the court of Napoleon III., Mme. de Paiva.

Robert Hesman Schomburgk, the author of the "line" between Venezuela and British Guiana, was a Prussian scientist, who wandered a great deal over the world and lived almost everywhere.

Grand Duchess Marie Valerie, the youngest daughter of Emperor Francis Joseph, has, according to a European rumor, a chance to become empress of Austria upon the death of her father. It is said that the emperor desires to make her his heiress.

Among the presents sent by the sultan to the czar and czaritsa was a piece of the Holy Cross, a relic belonging to the nation, which the sultan had no right to give away. His other presents, a diamond-studdied cigarette case for the czar and a diamond necklace for the czaritsa, seem rather worldly by its side.

Mr. Gladstone, writing in reply to a Catholic gentleman in Derry on the question of municipal inequalities, adds that he fears Irish affairs are not likely to prosper until the deplorable dissensions in the Irish parliamentary party are so far composed as to restore it to what was once its admirable efficiency.

Dr. Fauvel, who recently died in Paris, is said to have had a larger practice in diseases of the throat than any other physician in the world, yet his fee was only ten dollars. Among his patients were Gambetta, Queen Isabella, the emperor of Brazil, Thiers, Emperor Napoleon, Comte de Paris and the late empress of Russia.

PATENT OFFICE STATISTICS.

Boat-building patents number 1,216.

There are 1,580 patented knitting-machines.

The steam engine is covered by 8,237 patents.

There are 1,523 different patented kinds of nails.

There are 459 patents covering masonry work.

There are 2,388 different kinds of velocipedes.

The manufacture of gas is covered by 3,060 patents.

The manufacture of felt is covered by 771 patents.

Patented machines for book-binding number 2,566.

Watch and clock making is encouraged by 3,640 patents.

There are 1,449 different appliances for drawing wire.

Arkansas has one invention in every 19,792 of its population.

There are 2,266 patents and models of sheet metal wire.

There are 5,979 patent locks and latches for doors and gates.

There are 4,299 different kinds of saws and sawing apparatus.

North Carolina has one inventor to every 18,597 of its people.

The patent office has issued 7,633 patents on laundry appliances.

New Jersey has one inventor to every 1,557 of its population.

There are 2,188 tools used, or which may be used, in stoneworking.—Globe-Democrat.

TO CARE FOR THE FACE.

[COPYRIGHT, 1896.]

Face Lotion.—Wet the skin with a saturated solution of borax. Allow it to remain three minutes. Then wash it off with soft water.

Face Bath.—One pint of rain water. Half an ounce of tincture of benzoin. This may be used several times a day and allowed to dry upon the face. It will whiten and refine the skin.

To Remove Freckles.—A perfectly harmless remedy for these blemishes, and one which is usually effectual, is a saturated solution of borax in rosewater. Apply five or six times a day and let it dry on the skin.

To Remove Wrinkles.—A preparation which aids massage in the removal of deep lines is made by dissolving one-half teaspoonful of pulverized alum in one tablespoonful of rosewater, beaten with the whites of two eggs.

Bath Powder.—For those who invariably use powder after bathing the following is an excellent preparation: Mix three parts of fine starch with one of orris root. If this is sifted through the bolting cloth it will be beautifully fine and soft.

For Muddy Complexion.—Into one pint of rain water, put one wine glassful of fresh lemon juice. Add a little rosewater to perfume the mixture, and keep it in a tightly-corked bottle. Apply several times a day with a piece of soft linen, allowing it to dry in.

UNCLE SAM'S BONDS.

There were 6,677 separate bids received for bonds in the last issue.

The total amount of bonds subscribed for in the last popular loan was $558,269,850.

One hundred and ten or better was offered for over $400,000,000 worth of bonds in the recent popular issue.

The people of New York city asked for $200,000,000 worth of bonds of the recent issue.

Europeans sent in bids for over $150,000,000 of the recent issue of American bonds.

The recent isssue of $100,000,000 bonds will net the government over $111,000,000.

How Are Your Kidneys?

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills

are endorsed by physicians and druggists. They cause the kidneys to filter all uric acid and other poisons or impurities from the blood.

Cure Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Anaemia, Pimples, Bad Blood, Bright's Disease, Malaria, Backache, Kidney Pains, Dropsy, Pain in the Abdomen, Frequent Urination, Inflammation of Kidneys, etc.

Dr. Ormiston Says:

"I have been trying Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills and am well pleased with the effect. You can send me one half dozen boxes more. Send by return mail, as I want to follow up what I have begun. C F. Ormiston, M D, Guernsey, Ia."

Fifty cents a box. A Valuable Book Mailed free Hobbs Medicine Co., Chicago or San Francisco.

Quick in effect, heals and leaves no scar. Burning, scaly skin eruptions quickly cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Applied to burns, scalds, old sores, it is magical in effect. Always cures piles. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

Y. M. C. A. Star Course.

Y. M. C. A. HALL.

Three Fine Entertainments in March for 50 cents.

March 3—Miss Addie Parker Jackson assisted by Conde's Young Men's Symphony Orchestra.
March 17—Amphion Ladies Mandolin and Vocal Quartette of New York.
March 24—"Switzerland and Its People," lecture by Prof. Henry M. Maxson.

Tickets on sale now at Association.

NOTICE

Estate of Sarah C. Hanford, deceased.

Pursuant to the order of George T. Parrot, Surrogate of the county of Union, made on the application of the undersigned administratrix of said deceased, notice is hereby given to the creditors of said deceased to exhibit to the subscribers under oath or affirmation their claims and demands against the estate of said deceased within nine months from the fourteenth day of Dec., 1895, or they will be forever barred from prosecuting or recovering the same against the subscribers.

ANNA AUGUSTA GODWIN
12 18—o a w Administratrix

Insurance at Lowest Rates.

Wm. H. Abbott,

Insurance, 171 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Van Emburgh & SON.

Corner Store, Babcock Building.

We work for the GOOD WILL as well as the patronage of our customers.

Our prices are plain blunt arguments.

New Spring Flannelettes, 10c. yd.
Spring colors in Figured Valours, 12c yd.
New Mourning Sateens, 12c yd.
New spring figured Cambrics, 12c yard.
We are the people for nice Outings, 10c. yd.
Boys' Derby Ribbed Hose, 10c., 15c., 18c. pair.
Plain colors, Windsor Ties 10c.
Extra Wind Windsor Ties. 25c.
Extra size Windsor Ties, (hemstitched, 50c. each.
Our Corset Covers are selling at 15c, 19c, 25c, 30c, 42c, 54c, 59c, 72c, 89c each.
P. N. Corsets, perfect fit, 50c. 75c, $1.00 pair.
2 Turkish Bath Towels for 19c.
Roll Tape, all widths, 2c. each.
Attachable Corset Clasps, 5c pair.
Attachable Corset Clasps, (cork protector) 8c. pair.
Japanned Dress Steels, 5c. dozen.
Covered Dress Steels, 6c. set.
Safety Pins, all sizes, 3c. dozen.
Tooth Brushes, good ones, 5c. each
Fast Black Darning Cotton, 2c. ball
Zephyr Worsted, all colors, 4c. lop
100 yards Best Spool Silk, black and colors, 7c. Spool.

Read Sheeting Muslins. Read

1	yard wide, bleached,	6c.	yard.
1 1-8	yards wide, "	6 1-2c.	"
1 1-4	" " "	7 1-2c.	"
1 1-2	" " "	11c.	"
1 3-4	" " "	13c.	"
2	" " "	14 1-2c	"
2 1-4	" " "	16c.	"
2 1-2	" " "	17 1-2c	"

VAN EMBURGH & SON,

Edwin B. Maynard,

Hair Cutting and Shampooing.

Tonsorial parlor, 204 Park ave., Plainfield. Ladies' shampooing and children's hair cutting a specialty.

HEATH & DRAKE.

Established 1841. Newark's first-class Dry Goods House.

New Embroideries, Laces, Flouncings, etc.

Our assortment of these goods for the coming season is handsomer, more varied and complete than any we have yet shown, and embraces regular Cambric, Nainsook and Swiss Edges, Insertions and match sets in all grades and styles and a line of Exquisite Novelties which for new and original effects, exclusive and unique designs, are unsurpassed if not unequalled by any in the market.

Pretty Edgings and Embroideries Very Cheap.

A thousand lines could not tell the story any better. Great heaps of snowy Embroideries that first saw light in far off Switzerland are here.

In connection with our regular line we have purchased, direct from the manufacturers in St. Gaul, Switzerland, three large lots of Embroideries, which we will place on sale at one-third less than regglar prices.

Lot 1, 4c Yd. Lot 2, 8c Yd. Lot 3, 12c Yd

The wise ones ask no questions, but take them away in huge quantities.

777 and 779 Broad Street,
Newark, N. J.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd.

BOTTOM PRICES—COMFORTABLE TERMS

Every Reason For Success

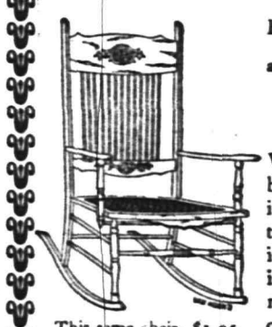
Exists at 73 Market St.—our many years' experience tells us that nothing pleases buyers better than right prices and liberal terms—they're always found here—to instance:

This Parlor Suit $19.50

A single illustration of what our reductions mean—five pieces, brocatelle or plush, mahogany finish frames.

This same Suit, $19.50.

Rocking Chair at $1.95



This same chair, $1.95.

Exactly like cut—solid oak, cane seat—roomy and comfort giving—worth far more.

Extension Tables

We've new lines by the score in in dining room tables—one special in solid oak is at $4.85—match it if you can!

This table, $4.85.

Our Bargain Room

is packed full of real bona-fide bargains, new patterns, slightly soiled, marked half price, in plain figures. Don't forget our grand Portland Range.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd.
Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, Etc.
Telephone 580.

73 MARKET ST.
Near Plane St.
NEWARK, N. J.

GOODS DELIVERED FREE TO ANY PART OF STATE.

STILLMAN MUSIC HALL.

Rich & Maeder.....Lessees and Managers.
John Daly.....Resident Manager.

Wednesday, Feb. 26.=====Better Than Ever

THE GORMANS,

John, James and George, late of Gorman's minstrels. The Kings of Farcial Comedy, in the new and funny play,

"THE GILHOOLYS ABROAD."

Second trip. A good company, good singing, good dancing. Funny Comedians and pretty girls.

Prices 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c and $1 Seats on sale at Leggett's drug store

2 Nights, February 28th and 29th,

MATINEE SATURDAY. The talented actress,

Miss RACHELLE RENARD,

supported by her own company, presenting Friday—Ingomar, the Barbarian; Saturday matinee—Superb Allegorical Revival of East Lynne; Saturday night—The great Historical Drama, Jack Sheppard. Prices—15, 25 and 35c. Matinee 10c to all parts of the house.

LAST EDITION.

THE DAILY PRESS

LAST EDITION

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1896. TWO CENTS A COPY—$5 A YEAR

MET A QUICK DEATH.

FATALITY ON THE RAIL AT STELTON LAST NIGHT.

Gay Party of Five Young People Suddenly Plunged Into the Jaws of Death, But Four Escaped With Injuries.

A striking illustration of the uncertainty of life was enacted last night with all its vividness when a young woman was killed outright, two others seriously injured and two young men, who accompanied them, laid groaning with pain as the result of being run down by a locomotive while driving across railroad tracks.

Early last evening, at about 7 o'clock, Miss Laura and Miss Bertha Giles, daughters of Nelson Giles, who resides about two miles from New Market on the New Brunswick road, and Nelson and Rollie Dunbar and Miss Lydia Dunbar, who reside about three miles south from New Market, also on the New Brunswick road, started to attend a sociable to be tendered to the new pastor of the Stelton Baptist church, Rev. W. T. Dorwood, at his residence on Main street in Stelton.

Rev. Mr. Dorwood's house is situated about 200 feet from the Main street crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad. There is an unobstructed view up and down the tracks at this point for fully half a mile and an approaching train can be easily seen. There is considerable travel over Main street crossing both night and day, as it is the main thoroughfare between Stelton and Dunellen. There are gates at the crossing attended by a gateman, but the latter is not on duty after 8 o'clock in the evening, and drivers of vehicles are forced to use extra vigilance while nearing this crossing.

The reception at the Rev. Mr. Dorwood's lasted until about 12 o'clock, and the Giles and Dunbar young people started for home in their two-seated platform wagon. One of the Dunbar boys was driving. They were undoubtedly talking and joking with each other as they neared the crossing, and did not notice the approach of an east-bound freight train which was coming down on the outside passenger track, known as No 1. They were just on the first track when the train bore down upon them. The locomotive struck the wagon almost square and lifted it clear from the ground. The harness was cut, releasing the horse, which was uninjured, and the animal ran away. As soon as the engineer saw that he had struck the rig he reversed the throttle, bringing the train to a stop about 500 feet from the scene of the accident.

The crew found a body on the pilot of the engine, which was identified as that of Laura Giles. Death must have been instantaneous. The others had been scattered promiscuously about the tracks, and all were unconscious. When the trainmen investigated, they found all four were alive, but seemingly fatally injured.

The body of the girl Laura was taken to the home of her grandfather, Mifford Runyon, in Steltoon. An examination revealed the fact that her head had been badly crushed, and death must have been caused by concussion of the brain.

The two boys and their sister were taken to the Stelton station, and later were taken to the hospital at New Brunswick. Their injuries were not as serious as was at first thought. Nelson suffered from a broken jaw, but beyond this the principle injury was the result of the shock. Bertha Giles was taken to the residence of E. J. Drake, nearby, where it was found that her hip was broken. The body of the dead girl Laura was brought to her late home this afternoon by Undertaker W. G. Runyon and the injured one will be taken home as soon as her condition will permit. Both the Giles and Dunbar families are highly respected and well-known in both this city and the locality where they live. Mr. Giles has a large milk route in this city. The mother of the girls, Laura and Bartha, died last August, and they were the housekeepers for their father.

Coroner McDede, of Middlesex county, will hold an inquest over the body of the dead girl this afternoon.

The little daughter of Mr. Fred Webber, Holland, Mass, had a very bad cold and cough which he had not been able to cure with any thing. I gave him a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says W. P. Holden, merchant and postmaster at West Brimfield, and the next time I saw him he said it worked like a charm. This remedy is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases such as colds, croup and whooping cough, and it is famous for its cures. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

HAND-PICKED BERRIES BY LAW.

A Boon to a Jersey Industry—The Legislators Home for the Week.

If Assemblyman Wildes, of Burlington county, can have his way the people next summer will eat hand-picked huckleberries. He introduced a bill in the House yesterday, says The Sun, providing that huckleberry-pickers shall use their hands only in gathering the fruit. Mr. Wildes says the Italians and Hungarians who flock to the pine barrens of Burlington and Ocean counties every July have invented a contrivance with which they clean the berries from a bush in a few minutes, and take also the green berries and leaves. This injures the bushes, and resident pickers are seeking protection.

In the Senate yesterday afternoon two bills introduced by Senator Voorhees were opposed by Senator Daly, who thought they reflected on the lawyers. One of the bills require lawyers who bring damage suits against corporations to file for public inspection copies of the agreement made between lawyer and client for a division of the money recovered, and the other requires all such suits to be brought within two years of the date that injury is sustained or death occurred. Senator Daly charged that the bills were introduced in the interest of trolley companies which sought to escape payment of damages, and he wanted the bills laid over to give to reputable lawyers an opportunity to be heard in opposition.

Senator Voorhees ridiculed the idea of giving a hearing. Public hearings, he said, amounted to nothing. He denied that the trolley companies were behind the bills, and said they drawn by himself because of the public scandals concerning the manner in which legal Shylocks had robbed their clients in such cases, taking four-fifths of the amount recovered; besides under the present laws, he said, there was an inducement for lawyers to incite the beginning of damage suits. The bills were ordered to a third reading, and Senator Daly promised that he would fight them then.

Both Houses have adjourned for the week. This afternoon there will be a public hearing of the Equal Taxation bill demanded by the Jersey City people.

TOTS UNDER AN ENGINE.

Two Cute Youngsters Lie Close When Run Down by a Locomotive.

James and John Bendar, aged nine and six years respectively, had a thrilling experience at Elizabeth yesterday. They attempted to cross the coal car tracks of the Central Railroad at Park avenue, when they were run down by a drill engine.

Both boys with great presence of mind crouched close to the ground in the middle of the track until the locomotive had completely passed over them. Both escaped alive, but the largest received a bad cut on the head.

Both boys were exhausted by fright and had to be carried to their home.

Stole a Load of Hay.

For some time William Ludlow, of Linden, has been annoyed by thieves who have pillaged his barn and his feed. Tuesday night he and Constable Titus hid in the barn. At 10 o'clock a wagon was backed up to the barndoor and two men began to load it with hay. After the hay was loaded on the vehicle the men started to drive off, but were confronted by the constable with a revolver. He took them in custody. One of the men, who gave his name as Benjamin Tice, was held and later brought to the county jail in Elizabeth. His companion's name could not be learned. He said he could get bail and would later tell his story.

Elizabeth Board of Trade Banquet.

Elizabeth's new Board of Trade will have its first annual dinner tonight in the Drake Opera House. Two hundred guests will be seated. The presidents and secretaries of the Newark, New Brunswick and Plainfield Boards of Trade have been invited. Mayor Rankin will speak for Elizabeth. H. H. Isham, Judge Gilhooly, Judge McCormick and Prosecutor Marsh are named as other speakers.

Visiting Knights Templar.

Dr. D. C. Adams and W. H. Sebring, of Trinity Commandery, Knights Templar, of this city, attended the meeting of the Demolay Commandery, of Washington, N. J., last evening. It was the occasion of the official visit of the grand officers and a very pleasant time was spent.

—There will be baptism at the Mt. Olive Baptist church Sunday afternoon next after Sunday-School.

—A valuable horse belonging to Neuman Brothers was seized with lockjaw yesterday, and it is thought that he will not recover.

WOULDN'T STAND INSULT

ACCUSED, DENIED, AND AFTER ALL GOT A BLACK EYE.

A Couple of Cartmen Get Mixed up in a Quarrel in an Embryo Boarding House and a Lively Time Results.

Louis Coddington, who is in the trucking business, has a number of men working for him who live in his stable on Second street near Park avenue. The most reliable two of his guests are Mike McCarty and Harrison Randolph, colored. Randolph is the cook for the establishment and arranges savory dishes to tempt the inner man, while McCarty does the washing, sweeps the floor once a month and washes the windows every Christmas. They have a patent bed, too, which they shake up every time the moon changes. Willie Murphy, of base ball fame, boarded there until recently, but of late "Gentle Willie" has been giving the place a wide berth but why, no one seems to know.

Tuesday, "Doc" was told that McCarty had been talking about him. "Doc" went down to the stable to look for McCarty with the determination to get satisfaction. When he found McCarty, he accused him of saying ungentlemanly things about him. The latter denied the accusation, but in turn accused Randolph, who was cooking the dinner, of making the alleged remarks. Randolph jumped up, punched McCarty under the eye and closed that member. He also badly cut his face. "Doc" then attempted to take McCarty's part and Randolph picked up a hatchet and chased "Doc" out into the street. Then he went back to find McCarty, to put more force into his argument but the latter had vanished.

DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

Borough Law Under Which Fanwood Exists Condemned by Supreme Court.

A decision handed down by the Supreme Court a day or two ago declares unconstitutional all laws passed subsequent to 1878 providing for the formation of boroughs. The decision was made in case of Benson against the Inhabitants of Bloomfield, and in effect prescribes that the law of 1878 affords ample means fnr the organization of boroughs, while subsequent acts conflicted with its provisions.

The borough of North Plainfield, formed in 1885, under the law of 1878, is, therefore, not affected, but Fanwood, which was organized last fall under one of the subsequent laws, has an unconstitutional government. What the effect will be remains to be seen.

The joint committee of the Legislature appointed to revise the borough laws, of which Assemblyman Reed, of Somerset county, is a member, held a meeting last night and discussed means to relieve the unconstitutional boroughs from their embarrassment. Nothing, however, was definitely settled upon.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The Epworth League of the Scotch Plains M. E. church are arranging for a fancy sale and entertainment to be held in the church Wednesday, March 18th.

—E. M. Laing, the gent's furnisher, is moving today into his new store on Park avenue, adjoining the City Hotel. He will continue to carry a complete line of first-class goods.

—Jeremiah VanWinkle was presented with a very handsome past chancellor's jewel at the meeting of Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., held last evening.

—Tomorrow "only," Friday, February 28th, VanEmburgh & Son will sell table oil-cloth, in colors only, 1¼ yard wide, at the ridiculous low price of 12 cents a yard.

—The orchestra will not be present at the Park Avenue Baptist church this Sunday evening. Next Wednesday evening they will appear at the Seventh-Day Baptist church.

—W. C. Townsend is the conductor of the orchestra that will appear at the Monroe Avenue chapel this evening. By mistake his name was omitted in the programme published yesterday.

—Wm. W. Warnock, well known in Plainfield as the son of the late Alex. Warnock, has bought the bakery and confectionery of Stevens & Overbaugh at No. 138 North avenue, and asks for a portion of the patronage of the citizens of Plainfield and vicinity.

Our people are growing more and more in the habit of looking to Reynolds' pharmacy for the latest and best of everything in the drug line. They sell Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds, croup and whooping cough. When in need of such a medicine give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result.

NO REASON FOR THE ACT

A SOMERVILLE YOUTH'S PRECOCIOUS ATTEMPT TO END HIS LIFE.

A Revolver Was the Weapon, But It Was Pointed at an Angle and the Bullet Only Went Through the Skin.

There has been considerable conjecture over the reason of George Watson's suicide and many theories advanced. An attempted suicide that happened in Somerville Tuesday night is still more remarkable, however, in that the young man, who tried to shoot himself, can give no reason for the act.

The man who tried tried to end his own life so suddenly is a steady, quiet young fellow of about twenty years, named John Dow. He lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dow, at their home in Somerville. John Dow was formerly in the employ of William Hartgrob and then worked at the Somerville Woolen Mills as driver. He left the last place three weeks ago and since then has been doing nothing.

Last Tuesday night Mr. and Mrs. Dow heard the sound of a pistol shot in the direction of their son's room. They found him lying on the floor in an unconscious condition. A physician was called and it was found that he had shot himself in the forehead just above the nose. The revolver must have been pointed at an angle, for the bullet did not penetrate the skull, but glanced along it to the top of the head.

The young man is still suffering from the wound, but the doctor expects that he will recover.

Young Dow cannot give any motive for the act and temporary insanity seems to be the only reason. Dow has never suffered from a similar attack before. He has a number of friends in this city.

Versatile Mr. Honeyman.

The New Jersey Law Journal has gone back to the editorial charge of A. V. D. Honeyman, of Plainfield, although E. Q. Keasbey and C. L. Borgmeyer will remain as contributors. The Journal is valuable to lawyers, as it gives early reports of New Jersey cases, and it is often interesting to laymen. Many similar publications are very profitable, but the Law Journal is probably not a gold mine. Mr. Honeyman used to run it, and no doubt re assumes the duty cheerfully. He has little to do being occupied only in running newspapers, job printing, politics, temperance, church affairs, special excursions, lectures, law publishing, office-holding and a few other odds and ends of employment.—Newark Call.

No Offense Meant.

The communication published in The Press yesterday about the Asbestos Club was written in a jesting form, and in no sense or intent meant to cast ridicule or sarcasm on any of the club members therein mentioned. The members are all respected and substantial citizens, and it would be folly to accept any of the writer's observations as literal truths, and The Press believes that its readers took them as a passing piece of local humor rather than as a mercenary arraignment of the Asbestos Club. It is hoped and desired that the club members who felt offended at the communication will look at it in the same light.

Service Stripes on Police Force.

Another of the up-to-date changes made in the police department is the awarding of the service stripes to the police, one for each five years of service. Chief Grant now wears four gold stripes on the sleeve of his coat, bearing silent witness to his twenty years of faithfulness and strict attendance to duty. One light blue stripe adorns the cuff of our genial Sergeant Kiely. Roundsman Frederickson has a similar one, while the patrolmen that have them are McCue, two, Flanagan, two, and Cooney, one.

A Silver Reception.

A silver reception, celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, of the Eastern and Middle States, will be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the lecture room of the First Baptist church. An interesting programme will be rendered including the story of the years, singing, and brief sketches of China, Japan, Burmah, Telegu and Africa, given by six young girls in native costume.

A Favorable Start.

It is said that over fifty per cent of the property holders on Westfield avenue, from Elizabeth to Plainfield, have signed consent for right of way to trolley companies, two of which are seeking to get a clear field before they petition the Board of Freeholders and the several township committees.—Elizabeth Contractor.

—The Parliamentary Club held its regular meeting in the Y. M. C. A. building this morning.

RUNNING THE SLIDES.

Stereopticon Exhibition Given in the Seventh Day Baptist Church.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Seventh Day Baptist church and their friends had a delightful time last evening, when a large collection of lantern slides, each one a work of art, were shown on a canvas. The principle collection, consisting of thirty-seven slides, was the work of the late George H. Babcock and presented views from various points of interest in the world. There were also views by J. Hervey Doane, Wm. Stillman, Walter Freeman, Franklin Smith, John Neagle and Harry Coward. Among Mr. Neagle's collections were several excellent views of different parts of the church. Mr. Doane, Mr. Coward and Mr. Freeman also had a few local views around Plainfield and vicinity. All the views were very good and the lantern in the hands of Mr. Teal, Mr. Dunham and Mr. Neagle did superb work, while Dr. Lewis in his usual entertaining manner described them.

A pleasing instrumental duet was rendered by Miss Mable Maxson and Miss Maude Mosher in opening the entertainment and during the intermission Miss Mosher gave a delightful vocal solo.

In the forepart of the evening little silk bags were given to each one present and they were expected to respond liberally by placing as much mony in them as possible. The committee in charge consisted of Miss Allis, Miss Mosher, Miss Clawson, Mrs. H. M. Maxson and Dr. Frank Clawson.

SALOON CASES IN ELIZABETH.

Unwillingness of Witnesses to Testify Causes Embarrassment to Both Sides.

The Union County Court, at Elizabeth, was crowded yesterday morning when the adjourned excise cases were called to trial. The seventeen indicted liquor men, who had had half a dozen lawyers, had, since the adjournment last Monday, listened to the pleadings of the 150 subpoenaed witnesses, many of whom belong to Elizabeth's "400" and dreaded the exposurs sure to follow if the cases went to trial, and, after a brief consultation, decided to plead non vult. This course was taken in sixteen of the cases. The other, that of George Hirtzel, was made a test case, to decide the power of the court to try these cases. It was tried before a jury and resulted in the conviction of Hirtzel for illegal selling.

The seventeen saloonmen were admitted to bail to await sentence on March 7th, when it is intended to carry the cases to the higher courts.

It was intended to have gone to trial with all the cases, but the threats of the unwilling witnesses subpoenaed by both sides to "give away" all who had been in the habit of frequenting the various resorts and disclosing sensational developments proved too much for the saloonmen, who understood that it meant ruin to their future business. So they decided to take the chances of going to jail, and pleaded non vult. This action was hailed with joy by the many anxious ones in the court room, who dreaded the outcome of the testimony the State had secured.

A Dangerous Plaything.

A curtain in the residence of Charles H. Hand, of 421 East Fifth street, caught fire this morning at about 8:30 o'clock and an alarm was sent in from box 23. Mrs. Hand pulled down the blazing curtain and threw it into the yard at once, preventing a serious conflagration. The fire was accidently started by little Herbert Hand, who was playing with matches. The damage was slight, a portion of the carpet and a chair being the only things beside the curtain that were burned.

Illustrated Lecture.

The illustrated lectures on Chaldea and Egypt by Dr. Baum, are patronized by all the clergy of Plainfield and many prominent citizens, among whom are Mrs. C. F. Abbott, Mrs J. M. Clark, Mrs. A. Gilbert, Mrs. E. W. Hedges, Mrs. W. W Howland, Mrs. G. F. Opdyke, Mrs. Chas. McCutchen, Mrs. Chas. Potter, Miss Serrell, Mrs. S. Townsend and Mrs. O. T. Waring. The lecture will be delivered in the Y. M. C. A. hall this evening.

Funeral of George Watson.

The funeral of George Watson, whose suicide in New York was reported exclusively in The Daily Press yesterday afternoon, will be held from his late residence in East Orange tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Boards of Registry to Meet.

The boards of registry meet in the borough on Tuesday next at 10 a. m., and remain in session until 7 p. m. In the first district they meet at Powlison's store, 85 Somerset street, and the second in the council chamber.

MR. TITSWORTH'S DEATH

THE RAVAGES OF CONSUMPTION RESULTED IN DEATH THIS MORNING.

Was Well Known and Respected in This City, Where He Had Lived For Many Years—Steel Engraver Until Eyes Failed

Death came silently and peacefully to William Lauson Titsworth this morning at his home at 518 Watchung avenue.

Mr. Titsworth was born at Cincinnati on February 20th, 1839. He lived there until he was five years old when his father brought him east, where he has since lived. He was first in business in Jersey City, but at President Lincoln's call for volunteers, he was one of the first to respond and enlisted in the Second New Jersey Infantry. When he returned from the war after serving his time, he took up the occupation of steel engraving and was one of the most expert in this part of the country. Some specimens of his work may be seen today in many Plainfield homes. His eyes, at last, were unable to bear the strain, and he took a position with H. Schubart & Co., of New York, wholesale tobacconist, where he remained until ill health compelled him to give it up.

Mr. Titsworth was one of the oldest commuters on the road, having resided here for the last twenty-five years. He was a Past-Master in Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M., a member of Plainfield Council, Royal Arcanum, and of the G. A. R.

He has been confined to his home for the last two years with consumption, which finally caused his death. He leaves one brother, J. D. Titsworth, of Madison avenue, and is closely related to a number of other Plainfield people.

He attended the Seventh Day Baptist church until he became an invalid.

AN ENJOYABIE MEEETING.

Lucetta Council, No. 28, Daughters of Liberty, Meet in Their New Rooms.

The regular meeting of Lucetta Council, No. 28, Daughters of Liberty, was held in their new rooms, the Exempt Fireman's Hall, last evening, and was largely attended. Besides the members of the home Council there were representatives present from the several councils in the vicinity, including the State Council Treasurer, E. J. Reining, of Jersey City.

After the routine business was transacted seven new members were initiated into the mysteries of the order by the new team recently organized, which is highly complimented not only by the members of the various councils that have had the pleasure of seeing their excellent work, but by the State officers as well.

During the evening John Bowman, in behalf of the friends and members, in a brief speech appropriate to the occasion, presented the Council with a handsome morocco-bound Bible, and an altar cover which was composed of an elegant pongee silk flag, trimmed with old gold fringe with tassels to match, and he also presented from Mrs. C. L. Stratton four covers for the pedestals, which were also composed of flags of the same material and trimmed in a like manner, and were accepted by ex-Councilor W. W. Stratton, in behalf of the Council in a few well chosen remarks. After the presentation a rising vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Stratton for securing the above-mentioned articles, as she, unaided, and by her own personal efforts, raised the money that purchased them.

An address by the State Council Treasurer followed by remarks by several of the sisters and brothers, intermingled with music and refreshments, brought the meeting to a close.

"Gentlemen, Be Seated."

A rehearsal for the Crescent Wheelmen's minstrels will be held this evening in the club house. The entertainment committee especially request that all those who are to take part in the minstrel show be present at the rehearsal tonight.

Pastor Randolph May Leave.

The many friends of Rev. H. F. Randolph, pastor of Grace M. E. church, will be sorry to learn that there is a possibility of his leaving Plainfield April 1st.

Threw Away His Canes.

Mr. D. Wiley, ex-postmaster, Black Creek, N. Y., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that he was only able to hobble around with canes, and even then it caused him great pain. After using Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was so much improved that he threw away his canes. He says this liniment did him more good than all other medicines and treatment put together. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

MASSACRES RESUMED

About 150 Armenians Slain by Turks at Marsovan.

THEY REFUSED TO ACCEPT ISLAMISM

Five Hundred Gave Up Christianity and Their Lives Were Spared—The News from Asia Minor Again Suppressed.

London, Feb. 27.—The Daily News to-day publishes a dispatch from its Constantinople correspondent, in which he says he learns from private sources that the Turks in Maraovan surrounded the Armenian quarter of that place on Feb. 14 and demanded that the inhabitants accept Islam. About 500 of the Armenians consented, but 150 of them refused, whereupon they were attacked and massacred. The correspondent adds that for weeks past all news from Asia Minor has been carefully suppressed, and this fact has caused great uneasiness in official circles, in which it is feared that news of fresh massacres will hasten Russian occupation of the country.

The Alleged Egyptian Commission.

The Post says that in response to inquiries made at the Turkish embassy here it was learned that Costaki Pasha had made no proposals to Lord Salisbury, the British premier, and was not aware of the existing Egyptian commission. He was also, it was said, completely ignorant of the whole question as reported in the Times. The foreign office, according to the Post, also denies having any knowledge of the matter.

Russia and Turkey.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 27.—Much comment has been caused here by the frequent audiences with the sultan of M. de Nelidoff, the Russian ambassador. These audiences, it is said, are held in compliance with the request of the sultan.

JEERED BY A BIG CROWD.

Windowglass Workers Make Things Unpleasant for President Pro Tem. Winters.

Jeannette, Pa., Feb. 27.—President pro tem, Winters, of the Window Glass Workers' association, and Secretary Campbell of that body spent two anxious hours here yesterday afternoon. The local glassworkers adopted resolutions in favor of Simon Burns, the deposed president, but the new officers came here to persuade the men to recognize their authority. When Winters presented himself at the Chambers-McKee glass factory the men quit work. The acting president, seeing that the best feeling did not exist, left the works. About 200 men and boys followed, jeering and blowing horns. Winters and Campbell stepped into Squire Bethune's office, where they remained until train time, leaving at 4:40 o'clock. On the way to the station mud and sticks were thrown at them, but they escaped uninjured.

SAMUEL EDISON DEAD.

Father of the Great Inventor Expires at the Age of 92 Years.

Norwalk, O., Feb. 27.—Samuel Edison, the father of Thomas Edison the inventor, died here yesterday afternoon. Samuel Edison was born in Nova Scotia, August 11, 1804, and had lived at Milan, O., and Port Huron, Mich., a greater part of his life. It was at Milan that his son Thomas was born. Mr. Edison stopped here for a visit with his niece, Mrs. W. A. Poyer, while en route to Fort Myers, Fla., the winter home of his son. Thomas A. Edison is expected here to-day and until his arrival no definite arrangements will be made.

TO PROTECT AMERICANS.

Secretary Herbert Orders the Alert to Disturbed Nicaragua.

Washington, Feb. 27.—At the request of Mr. Baker, United States minister at Managua, Nicaragua, Secretary Herbert has decided to send the United States ship Alert to Corinto for the protection of American interests. The Alert left San Jose, Guatemala, for Acapulco, Mexico, yesterday, and cannot be communicated with until she arrives at the latter port, probably tomorrow. At Acapulco her commander will find a telegram from Secretary Herbert, directing him to proceed to Corinto without delay.

Not Pledged for McKinley.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Senator Elkins denies the published report from Cleveland that he authorized the statement that the delegation from West Virginia would support McKinley at the St. Louis convention and that he (Elkins) was for him. Mr. Elkins says that southern republicans should send delegates to St. Louis not pledged to any candidate, and then decide on a candidate the most favorable to the interests of the south.

New Consul at Bombay.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Samuel Comfort, nominated yesterday as consul at Bombay, is the present vice consul at that place. He is a New York man who is engaged in business in India. The duty of consul at Bombay is largely a labor of love, as it is a fee office, and last year paid only $571.50.

Killed by a Live Wire.

Washington, Feb. 27.—John McNee, a lineman employed by the Chesapeake & Ohio Telephone company, while engaged in repairing wires in this city last night, received an electric shock, causing his instant death.

Owen Probably Killed Himself.

Roanoke, Va., Feb. 27.—B. H. Owen, aged 27, organizer of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, who was found dead in his room at the St. James hotel yesterday, is now supposed to have committed suicide.

DEATH OF ADMIRAL FYFFE.

Close of the Career of One of the Old Officers of Our Navy.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Rear-Admiral Fyffe, whose death was announced yesterday, would not have attained the highest grade in the naval service before retirement if the ordinary course of changes had not been altered. He was unfortunate in being slated to retire on account of age with the rank of commodore a short time only before the retirement of a rear-admiral whose withdrawal from active service would have given Commodore Fyffe the desired promotion. As it was, the officer in question, Rear-Admiral Joseph Skerrett, voluntarily requested to be placed on the retired list before the day of Commodore Fyffe's retirement, and this was granted, with the result that the latter found himself a commodore, a rear-admiral and a retired officer all in one day, his promotion to the highest grade being followed immediately by being placed on the inactive list. Admiral Fyffe was born in Ohio, July 26, 1832, and was only 13 years of age when he received his appointment as a midshipman. He saw duty against the African slave traders, and led an active life at sea up to the beginning of the late war. His principal war service was on the Numesta, flagship of the North Atlantic blockade squadron. He took part in the destruction of the blockade runners Hebe and Ranger, and engaged a number of batteries and gunboats on the James river and neighboring waters.

NO DAMAGES FOR KENNEDY.

Sued Doctors for Performing an Autopsy on the Body of His Wife.

Boston, Feb. 27.—A verdict for the defendants in the case of Robert Kennedy vs. Doctors Algernon Coolidge of this city and R. D. Perley of Ipswich has been returned in the superior court. The action was brought to recover $5,000 damages for injured feelings which the plaintiff alleged he sustained in consequence of the defendants performing an autopsy on the body of his late wife, Mary J. Kennedy, without his permission. His wife died of a mysterious disease, and the physicians testified that they applied to the plaintiff for permission to perform an autopsy, and received it. After the autopsy, the plaintiff brought this suit, claiming that he had not consented to it being performed. In charging the jury, the court said that, while the plaintiff did not have any property in the body of his late wife, yet, after her death, he had the right to select the place of burial and prepare the body for burial and could maintain this suit should the jury be satisfied that the defendants performed the autopsy without his consent. The case was the first of the kind tried in this state.

ATWOOD SEEKING VINDICATION.

Will Not Only Not Resign, But Is a Candidate for Re-election to Congress.

Boston, Feb. 27.—Congressman Harrison H. Atwood of the Tenth district has not only quietly ignored the petition of certain men of his district for his resignation, but he has, through his friends, announced himself as a candidate for re-election next fall. He says "this is due to him as a complete vindication of his administration of the office of city architect" because the district-attorney has given him his endorsement by refusing to prosecute him for the alleged offenses revealed by the Peabody libel suit for a restoration of the money alleged to have been wrongfully converted.

RAINES LIQUOR BILL.

To Be Discussed To-night by Republican Senators—All Not Satisfactory.

Albany, Feb. 27.—The Raines liquor tax bill will be considered to-night at a caucus of republican senators and it is believed it will be made a party measure, although, if reports of the proceedings at the secret conference held yesterday are true, the measure is not going to have the smooth sailing some of its friends have predicted. The bill, it is understood, was considered section by section and the understanding is that all was not satisfactory.

Postmaster Nomination Confirmed.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The senate has confirmed the nomination of William B. Dayton to be postmaster at Port Jefferson, N. Y.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Wheat—The spot market is steady. February, 74¾c.; March, 74¾c.; May, 73⅛c.

Corn—Spot quiet; values unsettled. February, 37c.; May, 36¾c.

Oats—Spot quiet; demand steady. February, 26¼c.; March, 25⅝c.; May, 25⅜c.

Pork—Spot steady at easy prices. Extra prime nominal, short clear, $11.50@$12.50; family, $10.75@$11.00; mess, $10.25@$10.75.

Lard—Contracts dull, but steady. May, $5.85.

Butter—Arrivals are light in fancy creamery, but the tone of the market is firm, at a slight advance. Creamery, western extras, 21½c. State and Pennsylvania, seconds to best, 15@18½c.; creamery, western, seconds to firsts, 15@19c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, fancy, 18c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, seconds to firsts, 10½@13c.

Cheese—High grades are now held firmly with demand good. State, full cream, large size, September colored, choice, 10¾c.; September white fancy, 9@10¼c.; large common to choice, 7¼@10c.

Eggs—Arrivals are still liberal with only a light demand for the finest western at 12½c. State and Pennsylvania declined to 12½c., while southern were barely sustained at 12c.

Potatoes—Offers liberal for choice grade; demand slow; fair supply; market quiet. State Burbank, per 180 pounds, 60@75c., and state rose and Hebron, per 180 pounds, 85c.@$1.10.

BERMUDA DISABLED

Government Officers Remove Part of the Steamer's Machinery.

AFRAID SHE MIGHT TRY TO SLIP AWAY

Believed That the Accused Filibusters Cannot Be Convicted—Spanish Officers Acted Too Hastily in Ordering the Arrests.

New York, Feb. 27.—Up to this morning no dynamite had been found among the cases of guns and cartridges on the lighter Stranahan, which was seized while conveying supplies to the Cuban filibuster steamer Bermuda in the bay here. The revenue cutter Chandler took out a relief crew of revenue men to the Bermuda this morning and brought back the men who have had charge of her for the last two days. They also brought ashore a part of her machinery—the connecting link—so that she could not by any means get her propeller in motion and slip away with the marshals. It was rumored that the story of the expedition got out through the treachery of a tug boat owner who went to the Spanish consul and sold the plans.

They May Go Free.

It is the general opinion among the federal authorities that there is little chance of convicting the five men arrested as leaders of the filibustering expedition. There is little evidence, the authorities say, upon which to base a conviction. Every one, of course, understands that the expedition was bound for Cuba, but despite these facts there is not a great deal of evidence to prove a violation of the section under which the raid was made. No rifles or ammunition were found on the steamship Bermuda. The firearms were captured on the lighter Stranahan while the boat was on its way down the bay.

Officials Acted Too Hastily.

Although the Spanish officials will push the charges against the captured men they, themselves, it is understood, fear that they acted too hastily in making the arrests, and should have waited until the filibusters had embarked on board the Bermuda. It is expected that within the next few days someone will call at the marshal's office to claim the forty tons of rifles and ammunition now on board the detained tugboat Stranahan. If the person's claim appears to be a sound one, supported by proof that the goods were not intended for Cuba, the firearms will be surrendered, and they may be part of another expedition. The Bermuda was not cleared for Cuba. Her apparent destination was Jamaica. The captain of the Stranahan declares that he did not know the contents of the boxes containing the rifles and ammunition, nor did he know, he says, what ship he was to take them to.

New York Reporter Released.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Havana, Feb. 27.—Charles Michelson, the special correspondent of the New York Journal, and his interpreter, Lorenzo Betancourt, who were arrested at their hotel at an early hour Tuesday morning and confined in Morro castle, were released provisionally last night.

J. FRANK CLARK.

Massacres of Peaceful Citizens.

Havana, Feb. 27.—Refugees from the towns of Punta Brara and Guatao, twelve miles away, have arrived at Havana and state that a reign of terror exists in their locality in consequence of troops having massacred peaceable citizens at Guatao. The Spanish column kept the road and entered Guatao firing right and left. The troops entered the houses and shot men too old or ill to flee. Women and children were not spared. The Spanish papers claim the insurgents took refuge in the houses at Guatao, firing upon the troops from the same. The towns of Guatao and Punta Brara are now deserted.

Beyond Description

Intense Suffering With Muscular Rheumatism.

"I hereby certify that for seven years I was troubled with my knee. I used prescriptions and liniments but all to no purpose. The trouble kept growing worse and the joints began to enlarge. My knee became almost stiff and pained me so I could not rest day and night. I had to use

Mr. Ezra Benedict
Stromsburgh, Neb.

Crutches

at times and often it would seem as if I would have to have my leg amputated as the pain became almost unendurable. I suffered beyond description. Finally, hearing of Hood's Sarsaparilla I concluded to try it. After I had taken one bottle I felt much better and after taking several bottles can say I am well,

My Knee Has Been Cured

and that I can walk and go around as well as any one of my age. I am 63 years old and work my farm, and my ability to do so I attribute to the beneficial effects of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I advise all who are afflicted with rheumatism in any form to take Hood's Sarsaparilla." EZRA BENEDICT, Stromsburgh, Nebraska.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is the Only True Blood Purifier

Prominently in the public eye today.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, biliousness, headache. 25c.

GOLD BRICKS.

Robbery of Life as Well as Money.

One of the Worst of Modern Swindles—Stones for Sufferers Who Want Bread.

If a doctor should prescribe candy and other sweets for each young girl who came under his professional care, he would probably be called, by these patients at least, "an elegant doctor."

If your child was desperately ill, and you knew that only some nauseous mixture would effect a cure, you certainly would not hesitate to give it, simply because of its taste. Suppose the druggist would think only of pleasing your child and should give you some mixture of honey, only labeling it with the name of the disagreeable remedy! What would you think of such a man? You would say he was willing to risk the life of the child simply for the sake of pleasing.

We all know what wonderful power cod-liver oil has over a number of diseases. It is also well known that no human skill can completely remove all its peculiar taste. Yet there are a few unscrupulous manufacturers who are so anxious to have a perfectly "tasteless" mixture, that they will leave out the cod-liver oil. They label their bottles as some "tasteless cod-liver oil," and yet there is not a particle of oil present. That is why it is tasteless. They believe you have confidence in their statements, and so are perfectly willing to deceive you if only they can sell their goods. Is such a course anything but a criminal one?

A perfectly tasteless preparation of cod-liver oil cannot be made. We have been making emulsions for twenty years, and we can speak with authority. The nearest approach to it is found in Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites. This preparation contains the very best cod-liver oil with nearly all the fishy taste removed. Only a trace of it remains; enough to be detected, but not enough to make the mixture disagreeable even to the most sensitive stomach. This is why sick people find no trouble in taking Scott's Emulsion, and it also explains why so many persons recover their health under its use.

Nearly twenty-five years ago the proprietors of Scott's Emulsion discovered a process of emulsifying or partially digesting cod-liver oil, so as to remove from it almost entirely its obnoxious fishy taste and smell, and at the same time increasing its food and remedial properties. They found also that by combining the Hypophosphites with it that they added still further to its power.

Since that time thousands of imitations have come into the field, but the original has never been equalled in its great strengthening, healing and flesh producing powers. The medical profession have obtained results from it probably unequalled by any other remedial agent.

W. L. & J. M. Smalley,

—DEALERS IN—

HIGH GRADE

Meats,

& Meat Specialties

Beef, Lamb, Mutton, Veal and Pork
Poultry and Game in season.

94 Somerset st., Plainfield N. J.
Telephone Call 42-B.

NOTICE.

Special Reductions

—AT—

Neuman Bros.

on fancy brands goods. Full quart bottles table oil 60c, finest quality; whole canned ox tongue 45c; lunch tongue, whole, 2 c; a special reduction given on Curtis' strawberry and assorted jams, 16c; fresh roasted coffees received every week, quality unexcelled.

NEUMAN BROS.

What! $30.00?

Yes, thirty dollars will buy a piano, in first-class condition, at

W. R. BROKAW'S

Piano Parlors, 311 Madison ave.
Tuning and regulating a specialty

Advertised Letters.

Plainfield, February 10, 1896.

Adams J H	Leonard A W
Barton A J	Neugem Agnes Miss
Codington B	McMann Thos
Duchene E Miss	Moore Elmer
Feil A F S	McEvoy Kate J 3
Fisk Clinton B	McKeef Lara Mrs
Hustner Jno	Palmberg Elen Miss 2
Johnson Charlie	Perine Chas
Johnson Hilder Miss	Prentiss S S
Kline Mellie Miss	Storme G W
King T P 2	Snediker Dare

Holiday Millinery Goods.

MRS. L. ADAMS,

114 EAST FRONT STREET,

Opp. First National Bank.
Dressmaking and Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns.

S. D. FRAZEE,

DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF

FRESH FISH.

Fresh every day. Terms cash. Goods delivered.

230 Park ave., 000 North ave

Music furnished for all occasions.

California IN

THREE DAYS

without change of cars. All meals served in dining cars. Palace drawing-room sleeping cars and tourist sleepers are run through to San Francisco and Los Angeles without change, leaving Chicago daily via

THE NORTH-WESTERN LINE

Through Tourist sleeping cars Chicago to California daily and personally conducted excursions every Thursday. Variable route tourist tickets at

VERY LOW RATES.

Detailed information and descriptive pamphlets will be mailed free on application to W. B. Kniskern, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago. Agents of connecting lines sell tickets via the Chicago & North Western Railway.

or address: H. A. Gross, G. E. P. A., 423 Broadway, New York, or T. P. Vaille, S. E. P. A., 112 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

FOR GIFTS and LIGHT buy "MILLER" LAMPS

Elegant designs (a thousand styles), Beautiful finishes, and the best lamp made—up-to-date in every respect. Call and see it, also our Fine Brass and Onyx Tables. Buy only "Miller" lamps from dealers. We have been manufacturers since 1844.—made "The Rochester" Lamp.

EDWARD MILLER & CO., 28 & 30 WEST BROADWAY, (66 Park Pl.) bet. Park Pl. & Barclay St., N. Y.

Convenient to all "down-town" Ferries, and Elevated Stations at Park Place and Barclay St.

For Cool Weather buy a "MILLER" OIL HEATER.

FOR SALE BY W. L GAVETT & CO.

Freshest Oysters

will be found at

Rogers' Sea-Food Market.

THE HALLET & DAVIS PIANOS

Have stood the test of over fifty-five (55) years

and are not surpassed by any in the world. Prices, $300 and upwards. Our special 3-year payment plan makes purchase easy. We have other makes of new pianos at $200. Good squares at $75, and we give a full 5-year warranty with everything we sell. Old instruments taken in exchange. Send for illustrated catalogue giving full information.

The Tway Piano Co.,

88 FIFTH AVE.,

near 14th st., New York.

"Tway's Musical Guest," containing 8 pages of music, interesting reading matter and theatrical news, mailed free on application. 10 3 6m

COAL

F. W. HAND,

132 North avenue.
929 South avenue.
197 North avenue.
Telephone No. 139

Putnam & DeGraw

THIS WEEK WE WILL SELL

SHIRT WAISTS—Ladies laundered shirt waists only 50c.
UMBRELLAS—Fast black. Paragon frame, only 75c.
HOSIERY—Children's 1x1 rib. extra quality, all sizes, 15c; ladies fast black seamless, extra quality, at 10, 15 and 25c; men's mixed half hose, extra quality 10c, 3 for 25c; men's mixed half hose, seamless, extra heavy, 15c, 2 for 25 cents.
WAISTS—Children's corded underwaists 25c; children's outing flannel waists 50c style for 40c.
NECKWEAR—A new and special line at 25 and 50c.
EMBROIDERIES—Our's are the talk of the city.
COTTON CREPONS—Evening shades at 12 and 15c a yard.

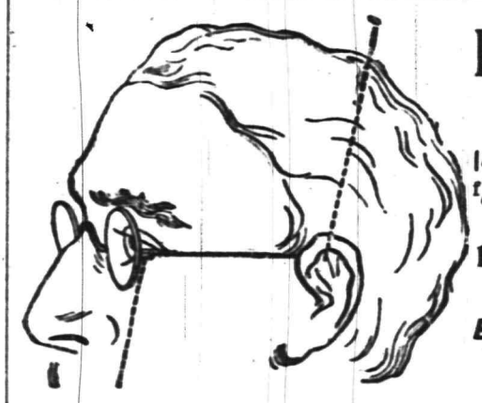
DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 WATCHUNG AVE.,

—DEALERS IN—

Lumber, Coal Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement for Walls and Ceilings



Leech, Stiles & Co.,

EYE SPECIALISTS,

1413 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa.

Formerly with Queen & Co. H. A. Stiles will be at

107 East Front Street,

Dunham's real estate office,

EVERY THURSDAY

from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Skilful attention given to all cases of eye strain, headache, etc. No charge for examination. All glasses guaranteed.

Bargains in Real Estate

For sale or to let.

MONEY

to loan on first mortgage.

E. C. Mulford,

No. 169 North avenue.
Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.

BROKER.

Communications pertaining to the business mentioned, either by letter or otherwise, will receive prompt attention. Carriage service supplied.

THE
Bee Hive

Men's Unlaundered Shirts.

Lot 1—The Cast Iron Shirt, made of good heavy muslin, good 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, patent facings, 38c.
Lot 2—New York mills muslin, 3-ply, fine linen bosoms, reinforced front and back, patent facing, 48c.
Lot 3—Our New York mills shirt, made of New York mills muslin, 2 and 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, continuous facings and hand-made button holes, equal to the best custom-made shirt, 69c.
Boys' unlaundered shirts 38 cts. Laundered shirts 50c, 75c and $1.

Louis Callman,

222 West Front st.

CLEANER COAL.

L. A. Rheaume

Agent.

Watchung Ave., Corner 4th St.,

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

Upper Lehigh and Honeybrook Coal in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

Rough and Dressed Lumber.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for turning and scroll sawing, and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner and at short notice.

H. Eggerding,

121 Park ave.,
Manufacturer of the Celebrated

C. O. D. CIGAR.

The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars

---

CODDINGTON'S
Furniture and Freight

EXPRESS.

Offices 24 West Front st; 33 Park ave. Postoffice box 329. Piano moving a specialty. Large covered trucks; goods sent to any part of the country; charges reasonable; satisfaction guaranteed

---

PLAINFIELD SEMINARY
re-opened
SEPTEMBER 19, 1895.
(28th year.) Miss E. E. Kenyon, Principal

Finest Assortment
of Lace, Celluloid and Card

Valentines

in the city.

HARPER'S,

411 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.

W. N. Pangborn,

LICENSED AUCTIONEER. Residence, 33 Linden Ave.
Personal attention. Prompt service.
1 14 tf

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter, 22c.

Best Dairy Butter 18c.

V. L. FRAZEE
151 West Front st.

William Hand & Son.
STAGES
For Picnics and Parties, 518 Park ave.

GEO J. TOBIN,
187 North Avenue.
Practical Plumber.

Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure: This should be done before connecting with new sewer.

Telephone Call 158a

TOWNSEND'S
Marble and Granite Works,
SOMERSET STREET.
Our motto—Good work, good material at fair prices.

THE GRANDVIEW
Meat Market.

George Egel, Manager.
Dealer in Fresh and Salted Meats. Game in season. Orders called for and delivered promptly. Cor. Grandview ave. and Somerset street.
6 12 tf

Special Sale
OF
Muslins
SATURDAY ONLY.

Fruit of Loom, Hill Lonsdale and other standard brands, 10 yards 65c.
The best brands unbleached muslins at 6 cents per yard.
Good quality in bleached and unbleached at 5 cents per yard.
The standard brands of white sheetings at lower prices than quoted elsewhere.

LEDERER'S.

Give the heart pure blood.

Randolph's
Sarsaparilla,

A great blood cleanser.
Only 50c Per Bottle.

L. W. RANDOLPH,
Prescription Druggist,
113 West Front st.

PIANOS.

You can buy the best in the market at Factory Prices, at
J. C. DYER'S, 218 WEST FRONT ST.

New Fish Market,

125 Park Ave.

E. P. THORN

solicits a share of the public patronage. First quality
Fish, Oysters, Clams, &c
TERMS CASH. 11 7 tf

See Our Name,

Take Our Number,

Call and See Our Goods.

Woolston & Buckle,

141 and 145 North ave.

Eagle Meat Market,

35 Somerset Street.

Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Orders called for and delivered free of charge.

C. ARNOLD, Prop.

Miss Fawcett's School

And Kindergarten,
25 WASHINGTON AVENUE.
North Plainfield, N. J.
Re-opened Thursday, Sept. 12.
Primary, Intermediate and Academic Dept's. Boys received until 10 years of age.

FISCHER PIANOS.

56 YEARS ESTABLISHED.
GRAND AND UPRIGHT.
Nearly 100,000 Manufactured.
EASY TERMS. EXCHANGED.
REASONABLE PRICES.
FISCHER PIANO WAREROOMS,
110 Fifth Ave., cor. 16th St., N. Y
Write for Catalogue.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

Do not be deceived by infringements of name, package or cigarette.

THE ONLY GENUINE
Sweet Caporal Cigarettes
Bear the fac simile signature of
Kinney Bros
on the package and on each cigarette.
TAKE NONE WITHOUT.

A. Lusardi,

120 North Ave.,

will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c a qt. Branch store corner Front and Somerset streets.

P. MARKEY, Bakery,

144 PARK AVENUE.

A full assortment of bread, cakes, and pies fresh every day. Fig and malt bread a specialty. 2 17 tf

---

Carpenters and Builders.

JOHN P. EMMONS.
Mason and Builder,
Washington avenue and Prospect place,
North Plainfield, N. J.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

PEARSON & GAYLE.
Carpenters and Builders.
Residence—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine st. H. E. Gayle, No. 18 Vine st.
All work promptly attended to.

GEO. W. STUDER.
Carpenter and Builder.
985 Arlington avenue.
Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given. charges reasonable.

C. W. LINES.
Mason and Builder.
Plainfield, N. J
Residence, 18 Elm place.
Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to

HOTEL Grenada,

NORTH AVENUE.

Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.

CITY HOTEL,
Plainfield, N. J.
Corner Park avenue and Second street.
J. E. Beerhower, Prop
Stables attached

PROSPECT HILL
Must Be Sold.

Azalias, Chinese primrose, palms, ferns, begonias and variety of blooming plants. Wedding decorations and floral designs and all equipments for church and house decorations. Southern smilax at 15 days notice

AT DENTON'S.

No Place Like Home

on Christmas day. No day like Christmas at home. Christmas will be merrier the more home like the home. Our great holiday sale of wall paper should attract all whose houses need papering.

Marsh, Ayers & Co.

HIS MAIDEN SPEECH

Mr. Carter Congratulated by His Colleagues in the Senate.

DEFENDS HIS ACTION ON TARIFF BILL

An Attack on Certain Members of His Own Party, But His Remarks Warmly Applauded—Contested Election Case in the House.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Friends of Mr. Carter of Montana are to-day congratulating him on the excellent impression he made yesterday in the role of an orator during his maiden speech on the floor of the senate. Holding, as he does, the post of chairman of the republican national committee, much interest and importance attached to his words. His speech, while an attack on certain members of his own party, and which was upheld by Mr. Teller of Colorado, was delivered in slow time and in soft, well-rounded tones, without any undue excitement or passion, and he kept cool till the close, when his peroration was warmly applauded. The speech was made in justification of himself and the other republican senators who had voted against taking up the house tariff bill. For that vote, he said, he had ample justification and no apology. The tariff bill was not a republican measuse. It was a measure to meet an alleged emergency, which, according to the president, did not exist at all. It afforded no protection to the American wool growers while it took good care of the American wool manufacturers. As Senator Morgan a few years ago held up to ridicule the president's democratic cuckoos so Mr. Carter ridiculed the republicans who sustained the president's "sound money policy" as magpies. He appealed to the candid judgment of honest men as to what republicans are regreant to their party—those who resisted the obliteration of the last vestige of legislation in favor of silver from the statute books, or those who sustained President Cleveland in that policy. His speech was followed by a discussion of the money question, in which Senators Sherman, rep., O., and Teller, rep., Col., were the combatants on either side, and in which hard blows were given and received. This parliamentary storm was succeeded by a dead calm in which the Cuban belligerency resolution floated for an hour or two without making any perceptible progress.

Van Horn-Tarsney Contest.

After a long day's discussion in the house of the Van Horn-Tarsney contested election case, a vote on the matter will be taken to-day. Mr. Tarsney made the opening speech in his own behalf advocating the adoption of the recommendation of the minority, that the case be re-opened and the ballots in certain disputed precincts in Kansas City recounted. Messrs. Parker, rep., N. J., and Powers, rep., Vt., also supported the minority report. Mr. Burton, rep., Ills., advocated the majority report, unseating Tarsney, completing his remarks, which were begun yesterday afternoon, this morning.

FILLED CHEESE BILL.

Fears Aroused That the Oleomargarine Law Is To Be Altered

Washington, Feb. 27.—The consideration by the committee on ways and means of the bill to regulate the production of what is called "filled cheese," has aroused a fear throughout the country that an attempt is being made to alter the oleomargarine law. Protests from the New York Mercantile exchange, the Boston chamber of commerce and numerous produce dealers against any amendment to the oleomargarine law have been received, but the passage of the filled cheese bill is urged.

Demands $40,000 for Personal Injuries.

Hartford, Feb. 27.—Anderson R. Lamburth of New York has brought suit in the United States circuit court for the district of Connecticut, against the Winchester Avenue railroad company of New Haven, claiming $40,000 damages. On Feb. 19, 1895, he was thrown from a car of the company. His right arm was crushed and had to be amputated.

Resignation of Arthur Gilman.

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 27.—Arthur Gilman, the well-known Cambridge teacher, who has been connected with Radcliffe college since its organization as the Harvard annex, has resigned the position of regent of that institution because of the pressure of work. The trustees have accepted his resignation with reluctance.

Prison Guards Appointed.

Albany, Feb. 27.—W. E. Phelps of Cortland and H. J. Rhodes of Auburn have been appointed guards in Auburn prison from the civil service list. The salary is $780 per year. Nathan Waring of North Colonton has been appointed a guard in the Elmira reformatory at $360 a year

Press Wheelmen's Club Incorporated.

Albany, Feb. 27.—The Press Wheelmen's club of New York, formed to promote bicycling among members allied to the press and to enable night workers to participate in such club runs as will be most convenient to all concerned, has just been incorporated.

Heavy Gold Withdrawals.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The treasury gold reserve at the opening of business to-day stood at $123,227,119. Since January 6 to February 21, inclusive, the withdrawals have aggregated $32,413,396, or more than $500,000 per day.

Arsene Houssaye Dead.

Paris, Feb. 27.—Arsene Houssaye, the celebrated French litterateur, is dead.

CUBAN BELLIGERENCY.

The House Committee To-Day Discussing Two Propositions Regarding the Rebels

Washington, Feb. 27.—At to-day's meeting of the house committee on foreign affairs, the principal matter under discussion will relate to the attitude to be assumed by this government toward the Cuban insurgents. At that meeting the conclusions reached by the sub-committee to whom the Cuban correspondence was referred, will be reported. This sub-committee consists of Adams of Pa. and Draper of Mass., republicans; and Tucker of Va., democrat. Several hours were spent by them in consultation yesterday afternoon and it is understood that before adjourning, two resolutions were agreed to, one favoring a recognition by this government of the belligerency of the Cubans and another, more pacific in character, but looking ultimately to that end. A member of the full commitee predicted this morning that at to-day's meeting a resolution of belligerency would be adopted. The three members of the sub-committee pledged themselves not to reveal the results reached last evening, but the foregoing statement of their position is believed to be substantially correct.

BIG JUDGMENT AWARDED.

The Startling Robbery of the C. & D. Canal Company in 1886 Recalled.

Philadelphia, Feb. 27.—In the United States court yesterday in the case of the Chesapeake & Delaware Canal company against James A. L. Wilson and Henry D. Lesley judgment was entered in favor of the plaintiff for $1,296,390.54 for want of appearance. The above announcement recalls the startling discoveries made in July 1886, that the Chesapeake & Delaware company had been the victim of systematic swindling on the part of J. A. L. Wilson, the then treasurer, and Henry D. Lesley, his predecessor in that office. The thefts represented a very ingenious overissne of the bonds of the company, amounting to about $615,000, and also the abstraction of a large amount of cash by a manipulation of the books. As soon as the discovery of the fraud was made known Wilson and Lesley became fugitives and took refuge in Brazil. They were brought back and, upon pleas of guilty, were sent to prison.

LAMINGTON BADLY DAMAGED.

Waves Play Havoc with the Steamer While Stranded Near Fire Island.

Stapleton, S. I., Feb. 27.—The British steamer Lamington which was pulled off the bar near Fire island yesterday after laying on the beach since February 5, will be docked to-day at the Merritt Wrecking company's dock here. The Lamington is leaking slightly, and considerable sand has sifted into the holds and in the shaft alley, clogging the machinery. Only two of the steamer's lifeboats are intact, all the others were smashed by the seas, which broke over the steamer while lying on the beach. Rails are broken, bulwarks are stove in, the rudder and rudder frame are gone; otherwise the steamer is in fairly good condition. A portion of the cargo of currants in barrels is in the fore hold, but a greater part is damaged by salt water,

INDIAN SCHOOL EXERCISES.

Gen. Fitz Hugh Lee, Who Shelled Carlisle Thirty Years Ago, Present.

Carlisle, Pa., Feb. 27.—During the commencement exercises at the Carlisle Indian training school last evening several thousand persons were in attendance. The exercises consisted of a gymnastic and calisthenic exhibition and a military drill by the pupils. A special train from Washington brought Gen. Fitz Hugh Lee, who shelled this city thirty years ago, Gen. Howard, Representative Sherman of New York and many other distinguished gentlemen. Gen. Lee will make an extended address to the pupils to-day.

BANK ROBBERS CAPTURED.

The Bandits Who Murdered the Cashier at Wichita Falls Lynched.

Wichita Falls, Tex., Feb. 27.—The two men who murdered Cashier Dorsey of the City national bank here Wednesday and then looted the bank, were captured yesterday. Last night they were taken from the jail by a mob and lynched to a telegraph pole.

Iowa Silver Men's Plans.

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 27.—A conference of leading silver men of the state, nearly all of them democrats, was held here yesterday afternoon. It was secret, but enough has been made public to create something of a sensation. It develops that the Iowa free silverites would, in case it became evident that both the republican and democratic national parties were going to declare against silver, join a national movement for a silver ticket this year and name Boies as their choice for the head of such a ticket.

To Be Buried at Brooklyn.

Boston, Feb. 27.—The remains of Mrs. Laura W. Fulton, wife of Rev. Justin D. Fulton, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist church, Somerville, who died at her residence in that city yesterday, will be taken to Brooklyn, N. Y., for interment.

To Be Sold at Auction.

Hudson, N. Y., Feb. 27.—Russell M. Johnson, as referee, will sell at public auction, at the court house in this city, on the 7th of March next, the real and personal estate and franchises of the Kinderhook & Hudson Railway company.

Gov. Griggs To Speak at Hartford.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 27.—Gov. Griggs of New Jersey has accepted an invitation to be the principal speaker at the annual dinner of the Hartford McKinley club at Hartford early in April.

WILL MAKE NO FIGHT

Ballington Booth Not To Lead an American Salvation Army.

MAY CONDUCT EVANGELICAL MEETINGS

Resignation of Major Glen and Wife a Serious Blow to the English Brigadiers Who Support the Old General.

New York, Feb. 27.—The English brigadiers at the Salvation Army headquarters are still firm in their support of Gen. William Booth of England in his removal of the former commander, Ballington Booth, from his position, but the rank and file of the army, officered by Americans, are still largely in favor of their much-beloved commander and his wife. At the headquarters of the army the situation today is not materially changed from that of yesterday. The resignation of Major Peter Glen and his wife is a serious matter for the army. Major Glen had been in charge of the field department, and was one of the most powerful officers in the work. The following is the text of the letter sent by Major and Mrs. Glen to Eva Booth: "It is with deep regret that we are compelled, after nine and a half years' of faithful service as officers in the ranks of the Salvation Army in America, to herewith tender you our resignations, our reason being, in brief, that we believe Commander and Mrs. Ballington Booth to have been dismissed from its ranks without a just cause. Believe us to be, dear commissioner, faithfully yours for God and right."

May Conduct Evangelical Meetings.

Major Glen expects to stay in the army for a few weeks to settle up the affairs of his department. After that he does not know what he will do. "Ballington Booth will not lead an American army," was the answer major Peter Glen made to-day to questions about Mr. Booth's intentions "He has received a number of invitations to conduct evangelical meetings, and very probably will engage in some such work. He and Mrs. Booth will certainly take a rest of several weeks before engaging in any work."

Offers of Financial Aid.

Mr. Glen also said that the published reports that large sums of money had been promised to Mr. and Mrs. Ballington Booth to carry on any work they might desire, were in a measure true. He said that a committee of prominent citizens had made such offers, but who they were he would not say. Commissioner Eva Booth may possibly make her first public appearance in America at the meeting in the Fourteenth street headquarters this afternoon. She will soon start on a tour of the American cities where the army is a powerful organization. Her first appearance on this trip will be in Newark, but the itinerary has not yet been fully decided upon. Officers of the army have little fear that Ballington Booth will not turn over the funds of the army in this country, which are all deposited in his name in various banks. He has already signed checks for the current expenses of the organization.

Deeply Deplored in England.

London, Feb. 27.—The War Cry, the official journal of the Salvation army, publishes a statement signed by Bramwell Booth, chief of the staff in London, under the caption "The American Sorrow." The statement includes the letter leading up to the resignation of Ballington Booth, commander of the Salvation army in the United States, and concludes as follows: "The resignation of Ballington Booth is deeply deplored, but the general has only given fresh proof of his conscientious and resolute determination to administer the affairs of the Salvation army without regard to family affairs or personal preferences."

WOMAN SUFFRAGE CAMPAIGN.

Susan B. Anthony To Leave Rochester for the Pacific Coast To-morrow.

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 27.—Susan B. Anthony will not leave for California before to-morrow morning and will be accompanied by her secretary, Mrs. Sweet. She will stop at Ann Arbor, Mich., the guest of Mrs. Israel Hall, an ardent worker in the cause. She will be joined at this point by Rev. Anna T. Shaw, who lectures to the university on the day of her arrival. The next stop will be made at Chicago where Miss Gross, a wealthy society lady, who spends much time and money in behalf of the suffragist cause, will entertain the party. The travelers will reach San Francisco Saturday the 7th of March, and will be the guests of Mrs. A. A. Sargent, widow of the late ex-minister to Berlin, and president of the State Suffrage association. The work of the campaign will last three months.

Atlantic Baseball League.

New York, Feb. 27.—At the first schedule meeting of the Atlantic league held at the Fifth avenue hotel the six-club schedule adopted was declared satisfactory to all concerned. The opening day is April 23 and Jersey City will start the season at Newark, Wilmington at Paterson, and New Haven at Hartford. The clubs of the league will play twelve games with each other at home and twelve abroad.

Books for the McGill University.

Montreal, Feb. 27.—A handsome addition has been made to the Peter Redpath library, at McGill university, in the shape of a gift of several hundred books from the British museum. There are now over 61,000 volumes in the library.

Bank Name Changed.

Albany, Feb. 27.—The Queen City bank of Buffalo has filed with the secretary of state a certificate of change of name to the Ellicott Square bank of Buffalo.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

Published Daily, except Sunday, at 3:30 p. m.

105 North avenue. Telephone Call 61.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., FEB. 27, 1896

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Generally Fair and Warmer Tonight and Friday.

At 2 o'Clock Leggett's Thermometer Registered 37 Degrees.

COMING EVENTS.

Announcements of all meetings, etc., will be made in this column, free of charge, if copy is furnished by 10 a. m.

February 27—Musical in the Monroe Avenne chapel.
February 27—Illustrated lecture in Y. M. C. A. Hall.
February 27—Birthday social in W. C. T. U. rooms.
February 29—Capt. Jack Crawford at the Crescent Avenue church chapel.

Government is frequently in vogue for justice in these days.

Richard Olney is now seriously considered as a possible presidential candidate.

Jersey justice is not of the old time brand in the case of a seventeen-year-old boy who has been confined in the Trenton jail for a year on the charge of passing a counterfeit dollar.

The Press trusts that the Plainfielders who attend the Board of Trade dinner at Elizabeth tonight will return home and inculcate a little spirit of progressiveness in the local organization.

Mr. Boss Platt took a fall in New York yesterday. But it was on an icy sidewalk. His political boots are spiked so that he never loses his equilibrium on a lubricated slide of deals constructed by his enemies for his downfall.

A new political party is to be born in Pittsburg next month when a convention of the crank elements of the country will meet to discuss the affairs of the country. Jacob G. Coxey and the women will play important parts in the melo-political event.

Here's a lesson for Plainfield. The little town of Madison, Morris county, owns both its own water and electric light plants, and after six years operation they are now both self-sustaining, with a prospect in the immediate future of a liberal income from these improvements. More and more does it become evident that these necessities in every city and town should be the property of the people.

The Republican State Convention for the selection of delegates to the National Convention at St. Louis, June 16th next, was called yesterday to be held in Trenton, Thursday, April 16th. The number of delegates to which each county is entitled to under this call will be as follows:

Atlantic	19	Middlesex	36
Bergen	30	Monmouth	41
Burlington	37	Morris	30
Camden	64	Ocean	13
Cape May	8	Passaic	58
Cumberland	27	Salem	17
Essex	147	Somerset	17
Gloucester	20	Sussex	13
Hudson	105	Union	42
Hunterdon	17	Warren	17
Mercer	56

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Frank Hedden, of Watchung avenue, is ill at his home.

William Morrisson, of the New York World, was in town yesterday.

W. F. Bartlett, of West Front street, who has been ill, is much improved.

Miss Alice Coard, of East Ninth street, is enjoying a vacation in Florida.

John P. Emmons, of Prospect place, is recovering from an attack of the measles.

Miss Lottie Messrsmith, of Washington street, spent yesterday with friends in Brooklyn.

Robert Wittaker, the famous bareback rider, now of New York, visited relatives on East Fifth street, last week.

Miss Mertie Gaskill, of Somerset street, has returned to her duties in Edsall's Commercial Palace after a short illness.

The engagement has been announced of William Titus, of Mountain avenue and Miss Annie Speer, of Washingtonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill, of East Front street, expect to leave town in a few days. They have not yet decided where they will reside.

—There will be a session of the Mt. Olive Baptist Sunday-school next Sunday afternoon at the usual hour.

—If you want to see some very pretty spring suits made up in the latest pattern and design call on H. M. Jaquett, at his store on East Front street. The prices are just right.

—A musical entertainment is in course of preparation to be given at the M. E. church, Union Village, early in March. The talent will be chiefly from this city.

"Give me a liver regulator and I can regulate the world," said a genius. The druggists handed him a bottle of DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Chapon, of East Front street, is detained at home by illness.

Miss Etta Raybert, of North avenue, is the guest of friends at Westfield.

W. W. Ulmer, of East Third street, is confined to the house by illness.

Miss Minnie Stiglitz, of Elm street, is the guest of friends at Red Bank.

W. A. Addis moved his family from North avenue to East Fourth street, today.

Rev. C. M. Dunham will preach in Grace church Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Campman, of Sandford avenue, has returned from a few days visit in New York.

Harry Jenkins, of Bethlehem, has been visiting at his old home on East Sixth street.

Miss Gertrude Tier, of Bank place, has returned from a visit with Rahway relatives.

Miss Charlotte Ryno, of Dunellen, has returned home after visiting friends in this city.

Mrs. A. L. Fellows, of East Front street, has returned from a visit with Scotch Plains friends.

Miss Nellie McGinnis, of Somerset street, has returned from a pleasant visit at New Brunswick.

Miss Jennie Tingley, of Dunellen, who has been visiting in Plainfield, returned home yesterday.

Miss Florence White, of West Front street, is improving nicely under the care of Dr. D. C. Adams.

Miss Laura Holder, of West Fifth street, has secured a position at Giles' bakery on West Front street.

Mrs. W. W. Stratton, of East Third street, attended the funeral of an aunt at Rahway on Tuesday.

Charles Grieb, of the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company, has been visiting his brother at Bridgeport, Conn.

The condition of Miss Clara Huff, of Plainfield avenue, who has been ill for sometime, remains about the same.

Mr. Brady and family, of Central avenue, have gone to Albany on account of the ill health of Mrs. Brady.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, of New York, have been guests at the home of Thomas J. Mumford, of West Ninth street.

Miss Shreve, daughter of B. J. Shreve, has returned to her home on Grove street, after a month's absence in Philadelphia.

Ex Councilman V. L. Frazee and wife take possession of their new home on West Front street, near Grant avenue, today.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Mundy have returned from their wedding trip and are residing with Mr. Mundy's parents on East Ninth street.

Mrs. John Weir and her daughter, Miss Frances Weir, of East Hamilton N. Y., are stopping for the month at Mrs. Harned's, on Craig place.

Mrs. Lindsey Woolley and daughter, of Westfield, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry VanMiddlesworth, on Liberty street.

Miss Kate Coriell, of New Market, who has been visiting at the home of M. R. VanKeuran, of East Fifth street, has returned to her home.

Mr. Vanderhoff, of East Front street, returned from Newark yesterday, where he was called on account of the illness of his mother-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Passmore, formerly of this city, but now of Norristown, Pa., expect to move to Reading, Pa., soon where Mr. Passmore has a lucrative position.

Dr. F. C. Sutphen and family, of Liberty Corner, will move to Bernardsville at an early date. The doctor will take the late Dr. Stelle's practice at the latter place.

Mr. and Mrs VanNest, uncle and aunt of Rev. Cornelius Schenck, of this city, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Friday evening at their home in Weston, Somerset county.

it's neglect of throat and bronchial troubles that leads to death-dealing disease.

HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR

No wonder Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar is praised by its users. Its curative effects are like magic. Sold by druggists.

Pike's Toothache Drops cure in one minute.

J. W. Pierce, Republic, Ia., says: "I have used One Minute Cough Cure in my family and for myself, with results so entirely satisfactory that I can hardly find words to express myself as to its merit. I will never fail to recommend it to others, on every occasion that presents itself." L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

THEATRICAL.

Miss Rachelle Renard and her excellent company will appear at Music Hall two nights and a matinee, Feb. 28th and 29th. Of a recent performance of "East Lynne" given by this company, the Bridgeport Conn., News says: "A large audience at the Auditorium last evening witnessed the performance of 'East Lynne' and they were amply repaid, as the piece was never given better in this city, if so well. From the beginning to the close the play commanded the strictest attention from the audience, who were wrapped up in it, which, though old, always seems new, no matter how many times one sees it. The cast is evenly balanced, and so well did each member assume his or her role that it is difficult to particularize and do justice."

Cosgrove & Grant's comedians in "The Dazzler" will be seen at Music Hall next Tuesday evening. This famous organization has toured the country for the last five years, playing in every large city, and it is a company that returns each year to the big cities meeting with renewed favor. It has an elaborate, expensive and complete organization for the production of farce comedy, and it has attained a position second to none in its line. The piece is full of fun, good music and brilliant dancing, and the elegant costumes of the ladies add no little to the general brilliancy. Solos, duets and choruses of the latest and most popular music are intermingled with the fun of the comedians in a most artistic manner, the whole forming an evening's entertainment of exceptional variety and strength.

Augustin Daly's company is announced to appear here on the night of Monday at Music Hall, presenting Shakespeare's glorious comedy, "Mid summer Night's Dream," with all the original settings that made Mr. Daly's revival of it equally famous in New York and London. Its production in this town will be welcome news to many, and many will feel that there ought to be a distinct ovation manifested in some way. A recent observer of its performance said that the audience, after listening to the "Oberon" overture, settled itself comfortably to watch for the result, and to see whether Mr. Daly, who has done so much in his time, had also succeeded in the somewhat delicate task of bottling the moonshine and the mist weather shown us. After seeing the performance there is at least to be said one thing in the most emphatic of ways. Mr. Daly has provided the "Midsummer Night's Dream" with a sumptuous setting. In all that pleases the eye and the ear, too, there has been no stint; the royal raiment, the imposing scenery, and the selections from Mendelssohn's music are admirably suited to give to the production the sensuous beauty that the people demand nowadays.

—Reynolds' petroleum hair tonic is a good thing for the hair. It is made in Reynolds' pharmacy and is pure.

—The annual State Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held in St. Paul's M. E. church, Newark, Wednesday, March 25th. Several important changes in regard to pastors are looked for at that time.

—Did you ever know a Legislature to adjourn without some newspaper saying "it had done nothing of value." That's the difference between a Legislature and Peck. He closes his store every night after a record of good done his customers.

Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills.

For thirty years Dr. Deane has made a study of dyspepsia, and in that time has cured more cases of it than probably any other fifty physicians combined. He gave up the study of theology and took to medicine, because the most eminent physicians of that day gave him up as a chronic dyspeptic, with only a short time to live.

Result of this change—a hearty, healthy, useful life, an enormous practice, and a demand for his pills greater than for all others combined wherever known. For sale at all druggists'. Send for a free sample. White wrapper if constipated, yellow if bowels are loose.

DR. J. A. DEANE CO. Kingston, N. Y.

TO BE HEEDED NOW.

In the Spring You Are Always Run Down.

This Will Tell You Just What To Do For Yourself.

And Just Why You Should Follow Exactly This Plan.

In the spring everybody needs, and should take, a spring medicine. Not only is this a common practice, but a very necessary and healthful one. It is a fact which physicians recognize generally.

In the spring there are a great many and important changes going on in the body. Perfect health cannot be maintained while the system is clogged and the organs sluggish, and the person has a languid and weakened feeling, with more or less nervousness and debility.

The best spring medicine, beyond a doubt, is Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. In proof of this, thousands of testimonials are being constantly published in the papers. The following is from Mr. H. M. Burgess, who has care of the Labor Temple in Minneapolis, Minn:

"Several months ago I was taken down with a curious affection, such as I can hardly describe.

MR. H. M. BURGESS.

"I found myself rising late in the morning and I had no wish to undertake my daily routine work. I felt irritable, my eyes were bloodshot and I felt like a man who had been on a protracted spree. My digestion was bad, and in the bargain, I found I could not obtain rest by retiring, but would rouse myself with the same tired, dull logy feeling.

"I was persuaded to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and I was delighted to find that I was going to be well again. I took it faithfully for a few months. I was never better in my life than I am at this time, although I have passed the middle of life. I need not say I feel very grateful for my cure."

No remedy in the world is so sure to bring back bloom and color to the wan and faded cheeks, the brilliancy to the hollow and haggard eyes and the lightness and elasticity to the weak and weary steps, the strength and vitality to the unstrung, shattered and worn-out nerves. It is, indeed, the greatest of all spring medicines, for it makes the sick well and strong.

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful specialist in nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th st., New York City, who can be consulted free of charge, personally or by letter.

—At the meeting of the Borough Council Friday evening of next week a considerable amount of important business will be transacted.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the firm of Stevens & Overbaugh, bakers and confectioners, 138 North avenue, has this day been dissolved by mutual consent, and the business sold to Mr. Wm. W. Warnock, who will conduct the business at the above number, and who is also entitled to receive all moneys due the late firm and pay all bills owing by the said firm, subject to agreement. Signed,

CHAS. B. OVERBAUGH,
JOHN G. STEVENS.

Dated Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 25, 1896.
2 26 2

VISIT BOEHM'S
CROCKERY DEPARTMENT,
113 WEST FRONT STREET.

Everything in the housefurnishing line up to date. Prices brought down to the lowest possible notch. We guarantee satisfaction in every respect. It is therefore to your own benefit to visit this department—it will pay you.

Novelties in Dress Goods.

AT 19C—30 inch Brilliantines, were 25c.
AT 50C—38 inch extra heavy black mohair sicilians, cheap at 63c.
AT 25C—40 inch new spring novelties, changeable effects, were 35c.
AT 25C—36 inch plaids, silk stripe effects, were 33c.
AT 12 1-2C—A very handsome line of worsted plaids well worth 19c.
AT 50C—The very latest novelties in all-wool dress goods, suitable for spring wear, fully 40in. wide, a bargain at 65c.
AT 32C—38 inch wide black brilliantines.
AT 45C—40 inch black brilliantines, silk finished, regular 50c quality.
AT 50C—Silk finished brilliantine, 40 inches wide, the 65c grade.
AT 65C—Extra fine black brilliantine, 1¼ yards wide, with an extra heavy lustre, the regular 75c quality.
Our leader for this coming season—38 inch wide black figured brilliantine in a number of new and novel designs at the uniform price of 35c a yard, well worth 45c a yard.
AT 25C—Storm serges in black and blue, 38in. wide, were 34c.
AT 45C—Beautiful fine black serges, 1¼ yds wide, a hummer, were 55c.
AT 19C—Light colored brilliantines, the very newest effects, reduced from 25c.

BOEHM'S, 113 WEST FRONT ST.

A Wonderful Thing--Values and Prices Meet on the Same Line at Peck's.

THE DALZIEL
GRAMMAR, MANUAL AND
ART SCHOOL, 309 East Front Street.
IS AN ESTABLISHED SUCCESS.

Free-hand drawing from the Antique, Pen and Ink Sketching, Clay Modeling, Painting, Designing and Mechanical Draughting. Directed by John Dalziel, late Professor of Drawing for Illustration, and Engraving at the Women's School of Design, Philadelphia, Pa.

WE are NOW preparing for Spring and Summer Outdoor Work.

DO NOT THINK
EDWARD LOVE
IS
Giving Away Wall Paper,

But he is doing the next thing to it.
Let him do your spring decorating.

EDSALL'S
Commercial Palace, Babcock Building.

Notice! Last Tuesday morning we received notice from The H. B. Caflin Company that they had purchased the entire stock of one of the largest corset manufacturers in the world, and were offering them for sale at prices far below "Bankrupt" stock prices. One of our buyers took the first train to the city and was able to secure only one case, so rapidly were they bought up. There are only 12 dozen but include all sizes and are now on sale at

Only 35c
FOR A FRENCH CORSET.

Perfectly clean, new, fresh and right up to date, and a good 90c corset. In connection with the sale of these corsets we will offer

500 Dozen Pure Olive Castile Soap
2 CAKES FOR 5 CENTS.

See unique representation of Brooklyn Bridge in our large show window made of the soap. The latest sensation in Plainfield.

MUSIC.

3c—300 copies of vocal and instrumental music by the best composers, bought at the assignee sale of the well known music publishing house of Hitchcock & Co., New York. Over 500 titles, regular prices, 40, 50 and 75c per copy.

5c—Extra size cotten towels.

7c—Shell side combs, worth 15c.

9c—Mens suspenders, worth 20c.

20c—Ladies all leather pocket books, worth 30c.

29c—Warp print ribbons, 4 inches wide, worth 39c.

9c—Men's linen cuffs, worth 20c a pair.

6c—Men's linen collars, newest shapes, worth 13c.

10c—Men's fast black half hose, double heel ahd toe, seamless, worth 18c a pair.

65c—Ladies' kid gloves in black and leading shades of tan, excellent wearers, worth $1.00 a pair.

9c—Ladies' fast black seamless cotton hose, double heel and toe, worth 15c.

7c—Extra large size honey-comb towel, worth 15c.

Housefurnishing Dep't.

1 lot patent foot holder dust pans 10c.
1 lot 50 foot hand twist clothes lines 5c.
1 lot best G. and S. water pails 18c.
1 lot ash sifters 5c.
1 lot wood chopping bowls 5c.
1 lot galvanized wash bowls 5c.
1 lot kerosene glass lamps complete with fluted chimney 17c.

Grocery Depatment.

10c Boston potato chips—fresh.
13c Plymouth Rock gelatine.
7c mustard sardines.
20c pound good butter.
50c bushel fine Jersey potatoes.
12c Cape Cod cranberries.

EDSALL'S.

Shoe Notes.

If You Have Tender Feet Why Not Try a Pair of Our Common Sense Boots,

made on the same lines of the Kahler make. Our price $3 and $5. This is at least $1 a pair under New York City prices on the same goods. A woman's genuine dongola kid button boot for $1.19. One of our specials—woman's rubbers 24c and up. How can we undersell the other fellows? We buy direct from the manufacturers and give you the middleman's profits.

DOANE & EDSALL.

SPORTS

STRIKES AND SPARES.

TEAM POSITIONS IN STANDARD LEAGUE.

	H. S.	Won.	Lost.
Westfield	884	22	10
Roselle	893	21	11
Park	885	20	12
Union C. C. Club	831	10	22
Cranford	837	7	25

TEAM STANDING IN CENTRAL JOURNAL LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	Highest Score.
Elizabeth A. C.	8	4	1789
Crescent Wheelmen	7	5	1619
New Jersey A. C.	5	7	1671
Cranford C. C.	4	8	1557

TEAM STANDING IN DIOCESAN UNION.

	Won.	Lost.	Highest score.
Catholic C	7	2	1597
Elizabeth	5	2	1670
Orange Valley	6	3	1534
Plainfield	4	4	1506
Newark T. A. B.	2	6	1584
Institute	0	8	1516

The last two games in the Standard Bowling League were rolled last night at Cranford between the team of the Athletic Club of that place and the Union County Country Club, of this city. The teams broke even. Only two of the regular team of the County's put in an appearance, but Capt. Burnet determined to roll anyhow, and thanks to the good bowling of Stelle and Conkling, two of the substitutes, succeeded in winning the first game by 10 pins. Cranford took the next by 75 pins. The individual scores were as follows:

UNION COUNTY COUNTRY CLUB

	1ST GAME.	2D GAME.
Burnet	151	159
Conkling	133	127
Jackson	100	127
Stelle	180	124
Bye	114	137
	678	674

CRANFORD ATHLETIC CLUB.

	1ST GAME.	2D GAME.
Shaw	127	140
Cox, F.	116	173
Isenmann	138	146
Ussing	138	131
Cox, H.	145	159
	688	749

CYCLING COMMENT.

Ward Bushnell, of Madison avenue, is the proud possessor of a new Crescent wheel.

The Victor Wheelmen will meet at the home of Captain Israel Jones next Thursday evening.

The officers of the Montclair Wheelmen have decided to award to every member riding a thousand miles or more a milage medal.

Edwin H. Frost, of Watchung avenue, now rides a Cleveland wheel, Model 24, purchased from the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company.

E. C. Perkins, of Central avenue, is riding a Cleveland, Model 22. The wheel was purchased from the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company.

Charles C. Lister, the North avenue cycle dealer, has put in an enameling oven, and will be able hereafter to enamel wheels for his customers.

"Charley" Murphy expects to ride a mile against a locomotive at Santa Monica, Cal., on April 20th. Murphy says that he will ride the distance in one minute.

The League of American Wheelmen contemplates creating a committee to investigate and report on a system of road signs and signals to be adopted by the League.

Harry Coddington, of Somerset street, while riding his wheel yesterday, slipped on the ice and was thrown violently to the ground. He escaped with torn clothes and several bruises.

President Elliott, of the the L. A. W., has just appointed the National Committees, and one of the members of the Committee on Rights and Privileges is Herbert W. Knight, of Newark, well known here as a court stenographer in Union county.

It is expected that George Gideon will accept the position of Chairman of the National Racing Board of the L. A. W., for another year. The action of President Elliott in re-appointing him is regarded as a fitting return for Gideon's excellent management of the racing department of the league last year.

BASKET BALL.

One of the strongest basket ball teams in the country, that of the Central Y. M. C. A., will meet the team from the local Y. M. C. A. Saturday evening at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be curred by Hall's Catarrh Cure.
F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props.,
Toledo, O.

We the undersigned have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transaction and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.
West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.
Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggist, Toledo, O.
Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

One Minute Cough Cure touches the right spot. It also touches it at the right time if you take it when you have a cough or cold. See the point? Then don't cough.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

AT THE TRAPS.

The principal event in the month to the New Jersey trap shooting enthusiasts is the monthly shoot of the New Jersey State Trap Shooters' League. This month it is the turn of the Dunellen Gun Club to give the shoot, and it will be held this afternoon at their grounds in Dunellen. The clubs that are expected to be represented at the shoot are the Elizabeth Gun Club, the Endeavor Club, of Jersey City; the Maplewood Gun Club, the South Side Gun Club, of Newark; the Climax Gun Club, of Plainfield; the Dunellen Gun Club, the Union Gun Club, of Springfield; and the Jersey City Heights Gun Club. The Climax Gun Club, of this city, will be represented by the following team: Keller, Apgar, Smith, Manning, Darby and Schortmeire.

Yesterday, the second day of the bimonthly tournament of the Elizabeth Gun Club, was devoted to live-bird shooting. The weather moderated as far as the thermometer was concerned, but the snow continued to fall during the meeting; not enough, however, to hinder the shooting, which was kept up from about noon until dark. Among the participants in the sport were C. H. Zwerlein and Eddie Hill, of Trenton; L. Thomas, W. S. Canon, W. G. Hollis and William H. Hassinger, of Newark; J. L. Brewer and Capt. C. Jones, of New York; Eddie Earl and H. F. Eley, of Elizabeth, and T. W. Morfey and W. Christie, of Paterson. The honors in the sweepstakes were pretty evenly divided, with the balance a trifle in favor of the Trenton contingent. T. W. Morfey, the winner of the first grand American handicap in 1894, captured the big money in the principal event of the day, with a score of twenty-five straight, being closely followed by three others with only one miss. Morfey's work was almost faultless, several of his kills showing good judgment and practice.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

The Y. M. C. A. gymnasium classes are in charge of C. W. Nichols, of North avenue, for the present until other arrangements are made for a physical director.

George P. Smith, of the High School, has entered the shot putting contest at the indoor games of the Berkeley School which will be held in the Twenty-second Regiment Armory, New York, on March 7th.

The first annual indoor games of the Long Island Interscholastic Athletic League will take place at the Fourteenth Regiment Armory, Eighth avenue and Fourteenth street, Brooklyn, next Saturday afternoon. The best athlectic talent from the New York and Brooklyn schools will compete. The Plainfield High School will be represented by George P. Smith in putting the shot. Among the entries in the pole vault from Berkeley School, New York, is Jessie L. Hurlbut, Jr., formerly of this city. The entry list is very large.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE

—Franklin Council, No. 41, J. O. U. A. M., will meet this evening.

Hood's Pills cure live ills, constipation, jaundice, sick headache, biliousness. 25c.

—The regular monthly session of the Board of Education will be held next Monday evening.

—J. P. Laire and John C. Abbott will begin the erection of handsome dwellings on Fairview avenue this spring.

—Marshal Doud, of the borough, filled Chief Marshal VanHorn's place yesterday while the latter was attending court at Somerville.

—The flag sidewalk on Washington street under the railroad bridge is in a bad shape and needs looking after by the proper authorities.

—Don't forget the great wall paper sale going on at Love's, North avenue. Now is the time to do your spring decorating before the rush begins.

—The organ recital which was to have been given by W. E. MacClymont at the First Presbyterian church, will be held at the church next Tuesday evening.

—Pure Blood is the safeguard of health. Keep your blood, rich and full of vitality by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and you will not need to fear the attacks of disease.

A high liver with a torpid liver will not be a long liver. Correct that liver with DeWitt's Little Early Risers, little pills that cure dyspepsia and constipation. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

Dunellen.

Mr. Bartow, of Brooklyn, is spending a few days with friends on Grove street.

Miss Mamie Dineen has accepted a position as saleslady in Edsall's Commercial Palace.

Miss Annie Weber, of Bayonne, is spending a few days with friends on Church street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Taylor, of North avenue, are entertaining Mrs. Doremus, of Paterson.

Mrs. E. Brown, of North avenue, is entertaining her daughter, Mrs. Brown, of Elizabeth.

The Misses Staats, of North avenue, have been entertaining their cousin from Perth Amboy.

Mr. Pennoyer, of Newark, is spending a few days with P. Voorhees and family, of Greenbrook.

Mrs. W. Stites, of Mountain avenue, has been entertaining her daughter, Mrs. Hughes, from Metuchen.

New Market.

Miss Mary Briggs, of Asbury Park, is spending a few days with Miss Randolph.

Miss LaFranc has returned home to Florida, after an extended visit with relatives.

Mrs. Fair, who has been visiting friends in town, has returned homie to California.

A dance will be given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Emery on the evening of March 4th.

Cards are out for the wedding of John Stein, of this place, and Miss Mary Hague, of Clinton avenue.

Benjamin Carpenter, of Newark, is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Carpenter, of Prospect avenue.

The Republicans held a primary meeting in Friendship Hall, Wednesday afternoon, for the nomination of candidates for township offices.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for rheumatism and neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75c. Sold by H. P. Reynolds, druggist, Park and North avenues. 2 12 y

Use It in Time.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucus discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

Soothing, healing, cleansing, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the enemy to sores, wounds and piles, which it never fails to cure. Stops itching and burning. Cures chapped lips and cold sores in two or three hours. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

IN THE South

Increased attractions for the winter. Opening of the magnificent

Hotel Jefferson,

at Richmond, Va., and the superb

Hotel Chamberlin,

at Old Point Comfort, Va. The Winter service at the beautiful hotel at

Hot Springs, Va.,

added to the usual attractions of the famous

Hygeia Hotel,

at Old Point Comfort, the

Princess Anne

at Virginia Beach. The new Southern Health Resort,

Piney Woods Inn,

Southern Pines, N. C., and the celebrated hotels at

Asheville and Hot Springs

North Carolina, all reached by the beautiful new steamers of the Old Dominion Line

direct or by their railroad connections. Send for full information

Old Dominion S. S. Company,

Pier 26, North River, New York. W. L. Guillaudeu, Vice-President and Traffic Manager.

YOUR SCALP! During the heats of summer does it become irritated and invite an occasional friendly scratch? To wash it is well, but not too often, lest your hair become "brash" and stiff. But treat it twice or thrice a week with our Petroleum Hair Tonic---a little rubbed in with your finger ends, and you will find the feeling of comfort and coolness truly delightful. Positively nothing equals it as a balm for the woes of your scalp. Sprinkler bottles 50c. Only at

REYNOLD'S PHARMACY, PARK AND NORTH AVENUES.

—There will be initiation at the meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, J. O. U. A. M., this evening, and other important business will be transacted.

RANDOLPH RUNYON,
Funeral Director and Embalmer.
43 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.
Residence over office. 2 21 m

H. DeMott,
Undertaker and Embalmer,
59 Somerset st., Plainfield, N. J.
Calls promptly attended to day or night. White and black hearses. Coaches latest style.

DIED.

WATSON—On Feb. 26, 1896, George Watson, aged 57 years.
Funeral from his late residence, 31 Hawthorne avenue, East Orange, N. J., on Friday, Feb. 28, at 2 p. m. Interment at Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.
Plainfield papers please copy. 2

HILLYER—In North Plainfield Feb. 26, 1896, Jemima Hillyer, entered into rest, aged 88 years.
Funeral services from her late residence, 30 Duer st., Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.
Friends and relatives, also members of the Women's Relief Corps, No. 10, and Mr. Serrell's Bible class are respectfully invited to attend. 2

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 cent a word each insertion. Less than 10 words 10 cents. Cash must accompany adv.

PLEASANT front rooms with or without board; all improvements; terms reasonable. 130 North avenue. 2 25 6

FOR SALE—A desirable building plot on Fairview ave; will be sold right to make quick sale. Address C., care Press. 2 37 3

WANTED—White girl for general housework. Apply 41 Willow ave., between 4 and 5. 2 27 tf

WANTED—Laundress, Swede preferred. Apply at 449 West 7th st; references required. 2 27 2

TO LET—A corner store, 22x65 feet; suitable for dry goods or grocery; a corner flat of 6 rooms and bath; all improvements; a 12-room house on West 7th st; large lot with stable, chicken house, etc., house recently fitted up with all improvements. City Mills. 2 29-3 7

TO LET.—From April 1st, brick dwelling and stable No. 413 Central avenue. W. D. Thickstun, 197 North avenue. 2 26 tf

WANTED—Washing and ironing at home or will go out by the day. 355 Cottage place.

WANTED—White girl for general housework; small family; must be well recommended. 223 East 5th street. 2 27 2

EGGS for hatching from Barred Plymouth Rocks. Amos Vail, Greenbrook road, Dunellen, N. J. 2 27 m

LOST—A brown alligator skin purse Suitable reward for the return to this office.

TO LET—9 room house near Netherwood station; rent $15 a month. Inquire 705 Berckman st. 2 26 2

WATCHUNG park lots for sale. I have only a few lots left in Watchung Park and am going to close them out. Come and see me if you want a bargain. A. D. Thompson, 151 North avenue. 2 26 5

WANTED—By an English Protestant woman, situation to do general housework in a good private family. Priscilla Negus, Union avenue, Bound Brook, N. J. 2 25 3

WANTED—Six-room house, centrally located; reasonable rent. Address "X. Y. Z" care Press.

STORE to let. Corner Park avenue and Second street. W. R. Codington. 2 17 6

FOR SALE—The property owned and occupied by W. T. Broadway, 323 LaGrande ave; modern improvements, city water, etc; house has ten rooms also bath and laundry; possession any time; liberal terms. Apply to agents. 2 17 tf-m w f

WASHINGTON Park, North Plainfield; for sale or to let to a small family, No. 19 Sycamore ave., house in perfect order; contains 10 rooms, city water, gas and furnace; terms made to suit. Geo. F. Edwards, 191 Broadway, New York, or 17 Duer st., Plainfield. 2 17 12

VERY handsome flat; all modern improvements. Apply Manning's city marble works. 2 17 tf

WANTED.—At once, experienced white cook. Apply 949 Central avenue. 2 8 tf

GOOD accommodations for horses; horses boarded by the month at reasonable terms. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville, N. J. 12 3 tf

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

133 EAST 2d street to let alarge sunny front room; also a hall rooms; furnished, 2 minutes from depot. 12 19 tf-m w t

TO LET—Stores, flats, dwellings. Bargains for sale. Mulford, Broker. 1 6 tf

TO LET—Stable on Sycamore street, from April 1st, seven stalls and a box stall, city water and electric lights, also three rooms over stable suitable for light house-keeping. Apply P. Lynch 1 2 tf

Such Business

for February never before known. Usually a dull month, we have made it one of the busiest of the year, but only by giving such values that will tempt and bring the business our way. Last week good values we gave but better for

THIS WEEK.

Blankets.

Many cold nights to come. We have a hundred pair of fine all wool blankets that we are closing out at a discount of 15 per cent from regular prices. 500 pair of white and gray blankets at 55c the pair.

Shirt Waists.

New styles made of fine percale, all colors, laundered collars and cuffs, 49c

Embroideries.

From far off Switzerland they come to you and at such little prices that you wonder how they can make them and live. 3, 5, 7, 10 and 15c the yard. See them whether you wish to buy or not.

Silks and Dress Goods

in all the newest and prettiest effects and in many instances there is less to pay than you would imagine. Special in black 36 inch all-wool cashmere and serges 25c, 45 inch do serge 41c, 38 inch do fancies 39c, 38 inch do novelties 50c.

The balance of the Pargiter stock will be cleaned out regardless. Many good things left in ladies', gentlemen's and children's heavy underwear, ladies' muslin underwear and hosiery.

	Pargiter Price.	Our price.
Fine India lawn	25c	10c
Men's natural wool shirts	$1	59c
Men's scarlet wool shirts	$1	50c
Men's white wool shirts	50c	25c
Men's colored half hose	15c	8c
Men's black half hose	25c	13c
Ladies' black hose	15c	8c
" "	20c	10c
Children's black hose	20c	10c
" "	25c	15c
Ladies' black and colored kid gloves	$1	59c
" " " "	$1.25	69c
Ladies' night robes	75c	39c
Ladies' white shirts	$1	59c
Ladies' ribbed vests	75c	33c
" "	50c	25c
Fine huck towels	25c	13c

CHINA DEPARTMENT.

COMPARE We want you to compare our prices on the following items. If you can do better, enough said. These are a few of the many good things for this week. Plenty more on sale all through the department. 25 best quality English porcelain tea sets decorated and new shape, imported to sell at $4, 56 pieces, at $2.69 set. 40 toilet sets consisting of 6 pieces, Byron shape, choice of 3 colors, new shape at 98c set. English porcelain dinner set, Old Hall, 112 pieces, good judges know the name and goods, worth $9, at $6.87 set. PRICES.

AT HALF PRICE--Framed Pictures.

250 framed pictures at just half price, manufacturer's stock. We close out on most of them. We only ask you the price of the glass. 100 12x20 white enameled frames, assorted subjects, worth 75c; your choice 29c each.

WHITE OF PLAINFIELD.

Removal Sale.

These Are the Goods that Must Go.

Boy's reefers $5.....now $2.45
Youth's overcoats $8.....now $4.75
Youth's overcoats $10.....now $6.50
Men's overcoats $10.....now $7.75
Men's ulsters $10.....now $6.00

SEBRING'S,

Park Avenue. April 1st, West Front Street.

SEE THAT CURVE on all the new spring styles IN HATS

Shown in those sold by

HALLOCK, Hatter, 109 West Front St.

KEATING, The world's lightest—19 lbs. SEE THAT CURVE? FOWLER, Truss frame—17 to 24 lbs.

Chas. C. Lister,

134 North Avenue.

Guaranteed Bicycles For $49.50. OUTING and APOLLO. Repairing, Renting, and Storing.

The Centre of Attraction

for Shoes is our store—so our customers say, and if you are not one of our customers you are cheating your feet. Just give them their own way and they will bring you right to our counters We keep all kinds of shoes for all sorts of people. But no poor shoes.

A. Willett & Son, 107 Park Avenue.

THE OLD DAVIS MANSION.

The Confederate White House to Be Converted Into a Museum.

Opens on Washington's Birthday—Souvenirs of the Confederacy to Be Preserved by a Society in Richmond—The Secessionists' Constitution.

[COPYRIGHT, 1896.]

The old mansion of Jefferson Davis is to be opened as a museum for relics of the war. It was built about 70 years ago, and after the evacuation of Richmond was used as headquarters for the union army.

Though more than 30 years have elapsed since Lee laid down his sword at Appomattox it is only in the last two years that any movement has been started to perpetuate the memory of the confederacy by the preservation of its famous spots at the capital of the nation which lives but as a memory. And by a wise choice the formal opening of the new museum, the house in which Jefferson Davis lived as president, is to take place on the 22d of this month, the same day on which is celebrated the birth of Washington.

The old Davis mansion stands in Richmond, Va., in a quiet part of the city, on a corner at the intersection of May and Twelfth streets. It is on a high hill, from which one has a view of a deep ravine covered with rambling shanties and waste lots on one side, while on the other the ground rises towards the west, where the street loses itself in the more fashionable quarter of town. The mansion faces the north, and its front covers the entire portion of the occupied block, but just opposite is a long red brick building which completely shuts out the view in that direction.

The house, which is an immense brick one, has been recently painted light gray. It was built about 70 years ago by a Judge Brokenborough, whose family lived there for some time. Here it was that the cabinet of the confederate states met, here that Lee and Davis discussed the fate of the cause, and here, too, were enacted some of the most brilliant, and, later on, some of the most pathetic scenes of the civil strife. It was in '62 that the Davis family took possession of the mansion, and Mrs. Davis set to work to make it a comfortable and attractive home. She gave state dinners, and once a week there was a large reception, for society at the capital was gay, in spite of the thunders of war that echoed from the distant hills.

FRONT HALL IN OLD DAVIS MANSION

THE WHITE HOUSE OF THE CONFEDERACY.

In 1871, the residence, then in possession of the city, was turned into a school known as the "Central." The furniture was sold and thus scattered about the country. Of late years the mansion has fallen into decay and it was fast becoming a desolate ruin, when its aspect attracted the attention of some ladies of the city, who immediately formed an association to restore it and convert it into a museum.

One enters the house by a series of short steps which lead to a small, semicircular hall. On each side of this hall are niches in which stand bronze statues of feminine figures. This entrance has two narrow halls leading off on the right and left, but just in front it opens into a large, lofty room which was one of the parlors used by Davis. At the back of the house and on a level with the second floor is a wide portico whose roof is supported by ten white pillars.

The cost of repairing has so far been about $14,000, which was covered by the $30,000 proceeds of a bazar held in the city several years ago. Half of that fund was donated to the monument erected in honor of the soldiers and sailors, and the rest was kept to work on the museum. A room has been given to each one of the confederate states, a regent from that state being appointed to secure relics and place them in the right chamber. Maryland and Kentucky, though they did not secede, are represented, because of the large number of soldiers which they sent to the southern armies. Miss Mildred Lee and Miss Winnie Davis are among the ladies in charge.

Those who have in their care the collecting of relics have succeeded in securing a large number of valuable curios. These will be catalogued and assigned to the rooms belonging to the states from which the relics came and will be in place within a few weeks, though it is doubtful if all will be within the house by the day of the formal opening on the 22d of this month. The most valuable of any collection possessed by the association is that which was donated by the late Mrs. Du Reunne, of Savannah, Ga. In this collection is the greatest treasure owned by the south—the original draft of the confederate constitution with the interlineations and erasures. It is about the size of the Declaration of Independence and will be kept under glass and carefully guarded.

In the museum also reposes the last missive ever written by Gen. Stonewall Jackson. It was to Lee and was written while Jackson sat on horseback just before the fatal ride in which he lost his life. Gen. Jackson's old sorrel horse, which has been mounted by a taxidermist and is now at the Soldiers' home, will find its way to the museum and so will the saddle of Lee, which is at the same place. Jackson's rusty little quadrant is also shown.

Gen. Curtiss Lee presented to the museum a pistol which was worn by his father, Gen. Robert E. Lee, throughout the war. Of the belongings of Gen Jeb Stuart there are sable plumes which once nodded over his head, and the old haversack which he always took with him on his marches.

An order of Lee's to Pendleton, stained by the blood of the courier who was wounded in carrying the dispatch, will be placed on view and so will the flag of the confederate ship Shenandoah, which cruised about in the waters of the northern Pacific four months after the surrender. Probably the most quaint of all curios is a flag made from the bridal robes of Mrs. Gen. A. P. Hill, who devoted her handsome silken gowns to fashion a pennant for soldiers. Then there is the flag, now all torn and almost falling into pieces, of the famous band of Culpepper "minute men," whose banner shows the coiled rattlesnakes and the familiar legend: "Don't tread on me," in dimmed letters of gold.

A memento of the great Kentucky raider, Morgan, is in the museum, and consists of a small rope formed by plaiting pieces of bedticking. This rope was used by Morgan and seven of his men in their escape from the prison in Ohio, where they were confined. But the most pathetic thing is a little handful of coffee, not more than three tablespoonfuls; yet this was the last of the rations issued to the men under Lee at Appomattox, and on these few grains the whole mess of nine men were to exist during several days' march. The coffee is untoasted and was not used because the men did not have time to dismount and prepare food. The scrap book kept by Mason while he was a prisoner at Fort Warren, Massachusetts will be in one of the cases, and in another is a book containing the autographs of all the confederate generals. About the room in cases will be guns, swords, pistols, old uniforms, photographs, letters, shells, flags, tents and everything which was in any way connected with the war. All over the south people have promised to send in their treasures, and within a few years' time this museum will hold one of the most valuable collections in the world.

The opening exercises will be of an interesting character and will be free to the public, refreshments being served in the house. The museum will be in order by that time, but not absolutely complete till all the various collections are in from those who have promised to make such gifts.

V. STUART MOSBY COLEMAN.

A Drop of Water.

Water that is now in the ocean and in the river has been many times in the sky. The history of a single drop taken out of a glass of water is really a romantic one. No traveler has ever accomplished such distances in his life. That particle may have reflected the palm trees of coral islands and have caught the sun's rays in the arch that spans a cloud clearing away from the valleys of Cumberland or California. It may have been carried by the gulf streams from the shores of Florida, or of Cuba, to be turned into a crystal of ice beside the precipices of Spitzbergen. It may have hovered over the streets of London and have formed a part of murky fog and have glistened on the young grass blade of April in Irish fields. It has been lifted up to heaven and sailed in great wool-packed clouds across the sky, forming part of a cloud mountain echoing with thunder. It has hung in a fleecy veil many miles above the earth at the close of long seasons of still weather. It has descended many times over in showers to refresh the earth and has sparkled and bubbled in mossy fountains in every country in Europe. And it has returned to its native skies, having accomplished its purpose, to be stored once again with electricity to give it new life-producing qualities and equip it as heaven's messenger to earth once more.—Charles S. Whiting, in Museum.

He Had a Relative.

She—Are you a good judge of diamonds?

He (absently)—No, but I have an uncle who is.—N. Y. World.

ODD AND CURIOUS.

A woman of Bowling Green, Ky., with a family of 21 children, is suing her husband for divorce.

A rattlesnake 79 inches long and having 21 rattles was killed near Jefferson, Ga., recently.

The Journal of Fossil, Ore., advertises that it will take coyote scalps for subscription. The scalps are worth two dollars apiece in bounty in that region.

While a lawyer in Rumford Falls was marrying a couple the other day a man was waiting in the outer office to consult him about a suit for divorce.

An arctic owl, measuring a little more than three feet from tip to tip of its wings, was shot on one of the islands in the harbor of Portland, Me., a few days ago.

At an election in a masonic lodge in Richmond, Ky., a few days ago, J. D. Feeney, Jr., was made senior deacon, and his father, J. D. Feeney, Sr., was made junior deacon.

A red rabbit was caught near Eastman, Ga., a few days ago. It is alive and on exhibition in that place, and the farmers living thereabouts say it is the first of the kind they ever saw.

For several winters a seal has visited the waters opposite Field's Point, R. I. It turned up again a few days ago. People who have watched it in successive seasons declare it is the same seal.

A splinter caused the death of Miss Florence Mack, of Detroit, Mich. The splinter passed under her thumb nail, leaving a piece a quarter of an inch long in the flesh. Lockjaw ensued, and four days later she died.

Live bees are sometimes shipped on ice so as to keep them dormant during the journey. This is particularly the case with bumblebees, which have been taken to New Zealand, where they are useful in fertilizing the red clover that has been introduced into the colony.

WELL KNOWN PEOPLE.

J. Milton Turner, ex-minister to Liberia, now in Washington, is said to be the finest negro orator in the United States.

Mavroyeni Bey, the Turkish minister at Washington, is a quiet, mild little man, who dresses in the extreme of fashion and is fond of society.

Commander Miyaoka, of the Japanese legation at Washington, is one of the capital's most popular leaders of the german.

Mrs. Anna R. Aspinwall, a wealthy and eccentric Pittsburgh woman who died in England last December, left almost her entire fortune of $3,000,000 to an orphan asylum in her home city.

Judge Culberson, the Texas congressman, has an unusual record as a criminal lawyer. He has defended 110 men charged with murder in the first degree and has never had a client sentenced to death.

Gov. Wells, of Utah, is a Mormon, and 40 of the 63 members of the legislature are Mormons. The United States senators have, however, been selected one from Mormon following and one from the Gentiles.

Mrs. McKinley, wife of Ohio's ex-governor, has a pretty fad of making dainty bedroom slippers for her friends. During the long years of her invalidism she has made nearly 3,000 pairs of these slippers, every pair of which she has given away.

A pickpocket robbed Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward in Boston the other day, and when the thief was brought before his victim she said: "He doesn't look like a criminal. He has a good face, and perhaps he will give up stealing. I will not prosecute him."

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

British officers in Dublin must wear mustaches, by order of Lord Frankfort de Montmorency, the general in command.

Gen. Ruger, who was born in 1833, will reach the age limit and be obliged to retire from the army in about two years.

Jameson's raid has again brought out the defects of the small caliber bullet; one man is said to have had a hole drilled through his brain by a bullet and to be recovering.

An outbreak of typhoid fever among the officers of the garrison at Rennes, during which two lieutenants died, has been traced to the ice used to cool the champagne at a banquet they gave recently.

Count Okuma, minister of finance in Japan for more than 25 years, has advised the mikado's government to invest one-half of the war indemnity received from China in the purchase of United States bonds and to set them aside as the nucleus of a war fund.

George W. Price, an old sailor, who is living at Providence, R. I., has made an invention whereby the pitching and tossing of a ship by means of a swinging cargo may be utilized to store up energy in the shape of compressed air which is to be used to propel the ship.

TOLD BY THE EYES.

When the upper lid covers half or more of the pupil the indication is of cool deliberation.

Gray eyes are said by some physiognomists to indicate deceit and instability of character.

An eye the upper lid of which passes horizontally across the pupil indicates mental ability.

Gray eyes turning green in anger or excitement are indicative of a choleric temperament.

Eyes which turn green are generally to side, are frequently indicative treacherous disposition.

Unsteady eyes, rapidly jerking from side to side, are frequently indicative of an unsettled mind.

Eyes of any color with weak brows and long, concave lashes, are indicative of a weak constitution.

Eyes that are wide apart are said by physiognomists to indicate great intelligence and tenacious memory.

How Are Your Kidneys?

Does Your Back Ache?

Dr Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills

MAKE the Kidneys strong and healthy.

THEY cause the kidneys to filter all uric acid and other poisons or impurities from the blood.

Cure Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Anæmia, Pimples, Bad Blood, Bright's Disease, Malaria, Backache, Kidney Pains, Dropsy, Pain in the Abdomen, Frequent Urination, Inflamation of Kidneys, etc.

Are not a secret remedy, but contain highly concentrated extracts of Asparagus, Juniper Berries, Buchu, Corn Silk, Pareira Brava and Uva Ursa (all kidney healers) and are scientifically compounded.

Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills are endorsed by physicians and druggists. 50 cents a box. Valuable Book Free. Hobbs Medicine Co., Chicago or San Francisco and her stationery. This unwritten law may be observed just as often as she desires, and then, if not thoroughly satisfied, can get her money back for the asking. However, we find few who do not like our 25c box of paper and envelopes when desiring the medium grade.

May Change Her Mind

R. C. RAND,

149 West Front st

HONEYMAN'S PRIVATE TOURS,

181 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Easter week to Washington: June 27, Coaching trip abroad, with Switzerland and Italy; August to New England; December to Mexico.

M. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance.

197 North avenue

Always Open is Leggett's Pharmacy in Y.M.C.A. Buildiug

UNION Meat Market,

IS THE PLACE

where you can buy during Lent all kinds of Smoked Fish, Salt and Pickled Herring, Imported Cheese of all kinds, Russian Caviar. Try the Waldorf Cheese. Imported and Domestic Sardines. Native Steers sold only at low prices. Jersey Lamb, Veal, Mutton, Pork. Turkeys and Chickens always on hand. My Sausage can't be beat. Genuine Philadelphia Scrapple and Taylor's Hams. Headquarters for Bologna and Delecatessen.

A. G. Vogeler.

131 West Front st.

Improve YOUR OPPORTUNITY!

Get Some of the BARGAINS IN FURNITURE and CHINA.

before removal to Jackson Building.

Heat Your Rooms With the

Surio Gas Globe Heater.

Goes on any Gas Jet.

G. Q. Packer. Jos. W. Gavett.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

—Dealers in—

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Material, &c

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

Creamery Butter

20c Per Pound at

J. F. MACDONALD'S

Uptown Grocery.

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 NORTH AVENUE.

Telephone, Brooklyn, 366.

COMINS & EVANS.

Acorn Brand Asphalt Roofing.

Gravel and Metal Roofing, Tile and Brick Roofing, Water-Tight Cellars.

45 WAVERLY AVE, BROOKLYN, N. Y.

New York office, 38 Dey st. 1 18 y-eod

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Anthracite Coal Used Exclusively, Insuring Cleanliness and Comfort.

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street.

Time Table in Effect Nov. 17, 1895.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 14, 3 37, 5 38, 6 04, 6 29, 6 59, 7 26, 7 30, 7 53, 8 00, 8 15, 8 27, 8 31, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, 10 59 a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 9 23, 10 17, 11 28, p.m. Sunday, 2 14, 3 37, 6 04, 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 10 59, 11 16, a m; 12 33, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17, p m.

Leave New York, Foot Liberty St., at 4 30, 6 00, 7 15, 8 00, 8 40, 9 10, 10 00, 11 45, a m; 1 10, 1 30, 2 30, 3 30, 3 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 15, 5 30, 5 45, 6 00, 6 15, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 30, p m; 12 15, 1 00, night. Sunday, 4 30, 7 15, 9 00, 9 15, a m; 12 00 m; 1 00, 1 30, 2 30, 4 00, 5 30, 7 00, 9 00, 10 00, p m; 12 15 night, 1 00 a m

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield at 5 38, 6 29, 6 59, 7 30, 8 00, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 10 17, 11 28, p m. Sunday 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 11 16 a m; 12 33, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17 p. m.

Leave Newark at 6 15, 7 18, 7 55, 8 39, 9 03, 10 05, 11 35, a m; 1 15, 1 35, 2 35, 3 35, 4 05, 4 40, 5 04, 5 34, 5 50, 6 20, 7 15, 7 35, 8 40, 10 05, 11 25, p. m. Sunday 7 30, 9 06, 9 30, 11 35 a m; 1 10, 1 35; 2 35, 4 05, 5 40, 7 20, 9 25, 10 20

Passengers for Newark please change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 5 45, 7 10, 8 16, 9 54, 11 00 a m; 12 46, 2 11, 2 32, 3 35, 4 36, 5 05, 5 14, 5 34, 6 04, 6 19, 6 38, 7 12, 7 34, 8 21, 10 26, 11 23, p m; 12 38 night. Sunday 5 45, 8 28, 9 55, a m; 2 03, 3 43, 5 14, 6 26, 10 15, 11 14 p m.

Leave Somerville at 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 25, 7 30, 7 48, 8 20, 9 05, 9 48, 11 40 a. m; 12 50, 1 48, 2 05, 3 25, 4 25, 4 59, 6 35, 8 07, 8 45, 11 05 p. m. Sunday at 8 25, 9 45, 10 35 a m; 12 08, 1 39, 5 10, 6 35, 8 05, 8 05, 9 40 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield at 5 45, 8 16, 9 54 a m., 12 46, 2 11, 5 05, 5 14, 6 38, 8 21 p. m. Sunday at 5 45, 8 28, a m; 2 03, 6 35 p m.

Leave Easton at 6 05, 7 00, 8 53, a m; 12 32, 3 48, 4 49, 7 00, p. m. Sunday at 7 15, 10 32 a m; 6 40, 7 30 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield at 9 54 a. m.; 5 05 5 14.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

5 45 a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m.—For stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 a. m.—For Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 54 a m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch D. L. & W. R. R., Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Shamokin, Nanticoke, and Upper Lehigh. Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. with buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 46 p m., way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L & W R R.

2 11 p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Tamaqua, Sunbury, Williamsport, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

5 05 p. m., way for Easton, connecting with High Bridge for stations on High Bridge Branch.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Scranton, Wilkesbarre, Tamaqua, Shamokin, (buffet parlor car to Scranton.)

6 19 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 38 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, and Harrisburg.

8 21 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

5 45 a. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

8 28 a. m. Sundays—For Easton.

2 03 p. m. Sundays—For High Bridge for High Bridge Branch Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading, and Harrisburg.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 35 p. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c., and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

FOR LONG BRANCH, OCEAN GROVE, ETC.

Leave Plainfield at 3 37, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, p. m. Sunday, (except Ocean Grove) 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 3 37, 5 38, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, 7 03, p. m., Sundays 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Atlantic City, 3 37 a. m.; 1 18 p. m.

For Freehold, 3 37, 8 00, 10 27 a. m.; 1 18, 3 51, 5 24 p. m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44, 9 46, 10 44 a. m.; 2 17, 5 34*, 6 45, 8 21, 9 37*, 1 17 night. Sundays—5 17, 5 45, 9 55 10 44 a. m., 2 25, 4 55, 5 14* 6 45 p. m. 1 17 night.

For Trenton, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44, 9 46, a. m. 12 46, 2 17, 5 34*, 6 38*, 8 21, 9 37* p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays 5 17, 5 45, 9 55 a. m., 2 25, 4 55, 5 14*, 6 35*, p. m., 1 17 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 8 44, 10 44 a m., 5 34*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays, 10 44 a. m., 5 14*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points West, week-days at 9 54 a. m., 8 21 p. m. Sunday 6 35 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked (*) change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rates may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN, General Superintendent.

H. P. BALDWIN, General Passenger Agent.

Jones & Co., EXCAVATORS.

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.

Cesspools Built.

Sewer Connections Made

Properly and Earth Replaced Carefully.

PLUMBING TESTED.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front street.

CLASSES FOR Women and Girls IN Gymnastic Exercises, Swimming and Fencing.

Miss Elizabeth C. MacMartin, Inst'r.

will meet applicants for membership Wednesday afternoon from 2 until 3, at the Y. M. C. A.

M. Powers & Son. Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75 in the Yard.

A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office 763 South ave. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

Your Spring Clothing

Rather early to speak of it, but if it needs cleaning or dyeing, it isn't too early to have us do that work for you. This is our dull season—our employes are here ready for work. We'd like to have your goods now. We can give them better attention than in the rush of the spring season. Then we'll have to have more time or rush them at the expense of good work. Now we can take our time, do the work better than if hurried and you'll have the clothing all ready for warm weather.

Look in the closet or trunk and find your spring wear that needs cleaning and dyeing and bring it to us now, or better still, our wagon will call for it if you will send us word.

Hillier & Co.,

179 North ave., Plainfield.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

New York Mails.

Arrive—7:30, 8:40, 11:15 a.m., 2:45, 5, 5:30 p. m.
Close—7 15 and 9:20 a. m., 1:30, 4 30 and 7:30 p. m.

Somerville and Easton Mails.

Arrive—8:40 a. m., 2:40, 6:00 p. m.
Close—7:15 a. m., 4:30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arr. 12 m; closes 9:30 a. m.

Sunday Mails.

Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6:15 p. m.

J. M. HETFIELD, P. M.

GEO. O. STEVENS OAL 747 WEST FRONT ST.

Branch office with

G. A. HALLOCK,

109 West Front st.

J. W. VanSickle, Dealer in all kinds of

FRESH AND SALTED MEATS.

Game in season. No. 122 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Telephone 148b. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

Your Valuables

will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

Lock boxes from $3.50 to $10 a year.

E. H. Holmes,

Dealer in

Coal & Wood.

Yard—No. 208 Madison avenue. Office for coal orders with Woolston & Buckle, 145 North ave.

Telephone 49-A.

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the first and third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.
John Fellows, Dictator.
R. A. Frey, Reporter.

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays in the Babcock Building. C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Sec.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Babcock Building, West Front street. D. C. Adams, W. M.
Charles Yeager, Sec.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the second and fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward Building, Park avenue, at 8 p.m.
Harry C. Adams, Regent.
Frederick C. Pope, Secretary.

McCullough's STEAM MILL,

21 Steiner place, North Plainfield.

R. H. McCullough, Prop.

Sash, blinds, doors, mouldings, scroll sawing, turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully furnished.

ERNEST BARRETT,

Sanitary Plumbing, Steam and Hot Water Heating

All work guaranteed. Estimates cheerfully given. Jobbing promptly attended to.

325 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

L. L. MANNING, Marble AND Granite Works,

Corner Central avenue and West Front street, opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

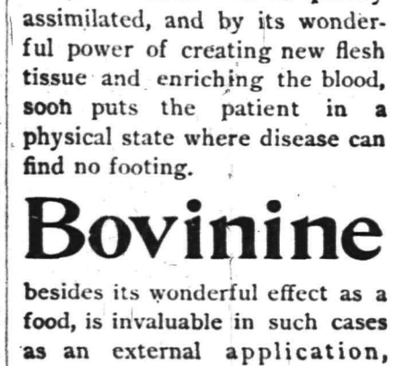
Erysipelas

Yields Quickly

as do other diseases caused by an impoverished condition of the blood, when Bovinine is used. It is not a medicine, but the most perfect food product, containing all the vital principles of lean, raw beef. It is quickly assimilated, and by its wonderful power of creating new flesh tissue and enriching the blood, sooh puts the patient in a physical state where disease can find no footing.

Bovinine

besides its wonderful effect as a food, is invaluable in such cases as an external application, nourishing by absorption, and creating new, healthy flesh, where the disease is manifested. Dr. H. M. Sanger of Providence, R. I., says that he effected very rapid cures with slight spreading and no suppuration in three cases of erysipelas, two by simply applying gauze saturated with, and the third by injecting Bovinine at the border of the inflamed patch. All Druggists.



A BRILLIANT SIGHT.

is afforded everyone who looks through our stock of diamonds and other precious stones—and their setting is only second to them in beauty. You can't think of anything in the jewelry line you can't get here. If you can, let us know and we'll get it at short notice.

COLLIER, 103 Park Avenue.

Established 1869.

In Buying a Piano or an Organ

do not fail to examine the latest Mason & Hamlin models. Recent improvements render them unexcelled. Old pianos or organs taken in exchange. Instruments sold for cash or easy payments.

Catalogues and full information free.

Pianos of reliable makers from $200 upwards.

Mason & Hamlin Co.

136 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK

A Card to the Public

For nearly 20 years the public of Plainfield and vicinity have given me the largest share of their patronage in the purchasing of hats and gent's furnishings, showing that honest effort, low prices and reliable goods are appreciated. I have now associated with me Mr. Charles Clark, of Westfield, N. J., who comes to us highly recommended as a competent, honest young man. We will add to our stock of hats and gent's furnishings, a full line of men's and youth's shoes and rubbers, keeping only reliable goods and selling at the lowest possible prices.

Thankful for past favors, we are yours for business, U. B. CRANE, 120 West Front st.

Succeeded by Crane & Clark.

R. H. Rushton. J. C. Hansen. A. Luthman.

Rushton, Hansen & Luthman,

PAINTERS & PAPER HANGERS,

P. O. Box 773, Plainfield, N. J.

Interior decorating a specialty. Our motto—first-class work. Estimates cheerfully given. Orders promptly attended to. 2 11 tf

F. A. DUNHAM,

Civil Engineer and Surveyor

109 Park ave. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas. Telephone 87—F.

Dogs

IRON AND BRASS

FIRE-DOGS.

Curtis M. Thorpe,

Y. M. C. A. Building

"Everything for the Fireplace."

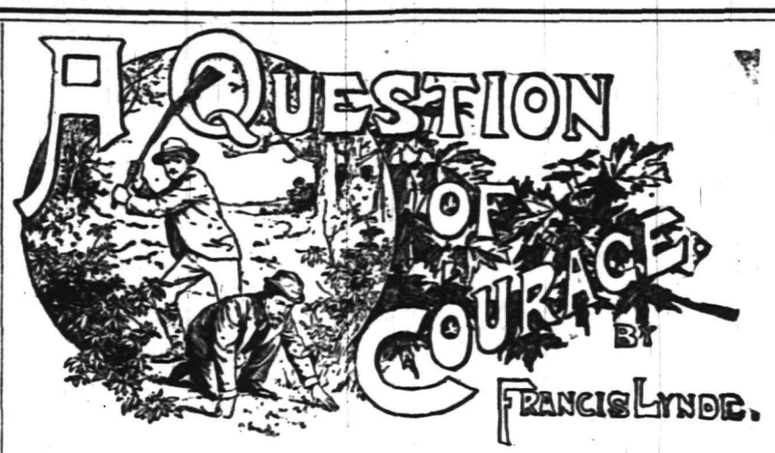
Telephone 29b. Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON,

Plumbing and Hot Water Heating.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.

Opposite Roberts's Livery. 132 North ave.



[Copyright, 1895, by J. B. Lippincott Co.]

III.

THE HISTORY OF A FEUD.

Places, like persons, have characters to keep or to lose. From the time beyond which fireside tradition fades into the less authentic record of legendary tales, McNabb's cove had shared with its scanty population the evil report of a bad neighborhood. Topographically, it is a mere gash in the side of Murphy mountain, with a few acres of arable land in the center shut in on three sides by steep wooded hills, whose summits are the cliffs of the mountain. Practically inaccessible on three sides, entrance by the fourth is scarcely less difficult. A narrow wagon road winds up the sharp ascent which measures the height of the cove above the level of Harmony valley; and besides this there are no means of ingress or egress for vehicles, and none for pedestrians save such as are afforded by two or three rocky trails up the sides of the mountain.

The isolation of McNabb's cove had much to do with its unsavory reputation. For many years the Bynums, whose log farmhouse of "two pens and a passage" was the only human habitation in the small valley, had acted as go-between for the illicit distillers on the mountain and their customers in Harmony valley. In consequence of this, the cove had been the scene of several encounters between the revenue officers and the moonshiners; and although the Bynums had usually maintained an outward show of neutrality, there was little doubt that they had always given the secret aid to their neighbors on the mountain. It was during the life of Col. Latimer's father that the Bynums had first brought themselves within the pale of the law. A revenue officer had climbed the steep road leading to the cove one afternoon, and the next morning his dead body was found at the foot of the declivity with a bullet hole in the skull. Old Squire Latimer was justice of the peace at the time, and he was especially active in pushing the inquiry which finally fixed the crime upon one of the Bynums. As the evidence was mostly circumstantial, the murderers got off with a life sentence; but for the squire's part in the prosecution the Bynums declared war upon the Latimer family, instituting a series of persecutions which culminated in the burning of the manor-house in the valley. The ex-Virginian was a law-abiding man, and, although there was little doubt as to the identity of his enemies, he refused to retaliate in kind. With each fresh depredation he redoubled his efforts to obtain proof which could be produced in court; but his persecuters were shrewd and crafty, and he was never able to get conclusive evidence against them. After the burning of the manor-house the squire built "The Laurels" on the plateau of Murphy mountain; but he did not live long to enjoy his new home. The plateau farm was reached by a road which climbs the face of the ascent from Tregarthen. Beyond the Latimer estate it skirts the brow of the mountain, following the line of the cliffs and doubling around the head of McNabb's cove. One morning when the squire was riding along this road at a point where it comes out upon the edge of an abrupt precipice commanding a view of the cove, a rifle-shot rang out, and the frightened horses galloped riderless back to "The Laurels." When the searchers found him a short time afterwards the squire was quite dead; and before noon John Bynum was in jail at Tregarthen, charged with the commission of the crime. At this distance of time there appears to be at least a reasonable doubt of his guilt. He was seen in the village, and in fact was arrested there, within two hours of the time when the murder was committed; and while the distance from the head of the cove to Tregarthen by the road leading past "The Laurels" is only three miles, it is six by the way he must have gone to avoid meeting the searching party. This, and other facts, might have been brought out in a trial, but the Bynums were unpopular and their feud with the Latimers was well known. The news of the squire's death spread rapidly through the valley during the day, and at night an armed mob broke into the jail and secured the hapless prisoner, who was hurried to the scene of the murder and hanged to the nearest convenient tree.

With the death of John Bynum the feud smoldered for several years. His only brother, Jed, who was absent at the time of the lynching, moved to Texas a short time afterwards, and there were left only the widow and her four children on the small farm in the cove. It is to be supposed that the woman, who was a Bynum by blood as well as by marriage, did not fail to teach her children the catechism of vengeance; but, however this may be, hostilities were renewed as soon as the boys were old enough to follow in the footsteps of their elders.

Col. Latimer, the squire's son and heir, inherited little of the peace-loving temper of his father. The first time he found his fences thrown down and the cattle in his [illegible] armed himself with a heavy riding whip and went about nursing his wrath till his opportunity should arrive. Meeting Jeff Bynum in the street of Tregarthen, the indignant colonel proceeded to mete out to the younger man such a measure of chastisement as he thought the case demanded, paying for his satisfaction a few days later with a broken arm, shattered by the bullet of an ambushed enemy. This incident was conducive to another interval of peace, for two reasons—it taught the colonel that unless he were willing to adopt the unscrupulous tactics of his antagonists he was likely to lose his life in an unequal contest; and the Bynums were restrained from further immediate aggressions by a fear of some such consequences as had overtaken their father. Col. Latimer was quite as popular in his way as had been the squire; and there had been ominous threats of another outburst of public indignation after the breaking of the colonel's arm—threats which were loud enough to cause the elder Bynum to disappear for a time, rumor said in Texas.

The Colonel proceeded to mete out a measure of chastisement.

The fire of enmity, however, was never suffered to die. There were fitful bursts of flame from time to time, and fresh fuel was added when the sleepy village of Tregarthen awoke one morning to find itself the headquarters of the Tregarthen Coal & Iron company. All of the coal and iron land on the mountain belonged originally to the Latimer estate, but the Bynums had disputed with the colonel the ownership to one of the coal veins which cropped out near the boundary of McNabb's cove. They were defeated in the litigation that followed, and the old feud lost none of its rancor by the decision of the courts. When its right to the McNabb vein had been established the company had endeavored to open it, but the overhanging stratum of sandstone proved to be singularly intractable, and the further development of the vein was postponed until such time as the depth of the other workings would make it less costly to timber the Mc Nabb tunnel. Opinions varied as to the cause of the difficulty in the McNabb. Expert mining engineers had declared that the sandstone forming the roof of the tunnel was as tenacious as that overlying the other veins, and that there was no apparent reason why it should require timbering; but the indubitable fact remained. While the work of development was in progress, the miners frequently found the labor of a week undone in a single night by a caving of the roof which filled the tunnel with broken rock. Ludlow had its own theory about these mysterious accidents, but he kept it to himself. It was suggested by the smell of black powder which he detected one morning when he was examining the debris that had fallen during the previous night. It struck him as being curious, because he knew that the miners were using dynamite; and it led to a series of casual inquiries among the dwellers in Harmony Valley nearest to the entrance to McNabb's Cove. The replies were not entirely convincing, because the nocturnal noises heard by the valley folk might have been nothing more than the concussion of the falling rock; but Ludlow heard enough to make him believe that when it became necessary to take coal from the McNabb vein a night-guard at the tunnel would possibly avert disaster more efficiently than the most elaborate system of timbering.

It was during the progress of the law-suit that Jeff Bynum returned to the farm in McNabb's Cove; and the rumor which had pointed to Texas as the objective of his migration was confirmed by his own story of his wanderings. Not contented, however, with this tribute to its veracity, gossip again busied itself with his affairs, and there were vague hints of a lawless sojourn in the Lone Star state, coupled with a still more indefinite intimation that his career in the west had terminated in open crime.

One other element of discord had been added by the passing years to the Latimer side of the feud, in the person of the colonel's son Henry. The boy's mother, to whose gentle influence the fireside gossips of Tregarthen ascribe the cessation of feudal strife during her short life at "The Laurels," died while Hester and Henry were children; and the boy had early learned the lesson of vindictiveness from the lips of overloyal servants. Uniting with a hasty and imperious temper a contempt of restraint curious in a descendant of the conservative old Virginian, his rashness became a constant menace to the precarious truce existing between the two families; and as Henry grew to manhood, the colonel was often reluctantly compelled to take the side of peace for the sake of setting an example before his son.

In the case of the daughter, education in a boarding-school, where she had spent the greater portion of her girlhood, and, later, association with the Ludlows, had done much to modify her childish ideas of feudal vengeance; but she was still enough of a partisan to be very warm in her defense of the Latimer rights, and, in common with her brother, she could never believe that anything but vindictive malice actuated the doings of the family in McNabb's Cove.

"Don't you think you are a little inclined to judge them harshly, my dear?" Mrs. Ludlow had once ventured to ask, when Hester had been expressing her contempt for the Bynums and everything connected with them.

"No, ma'am, I'm not. If you knew them as well as we do, you wouldn't ask such a question."

"I don't know them at all, but from what you tell me I gather that they are poor and ignorant, and that they have had much the worst of the fight all along. Can't you be a generous enemy?"

"They never give one a chance to be generous. You've no idea how mean they are. I've heard old Aunt Betty tell how mamma tried to make peace when old Mrs. Bynum was sick. Mamma sent a basket of jellies and dainties down to the cove, and the next morning the basket and everything in it was found on our doorstep, smashed into bits."

"That was certainly vindictive—and childish. Still I think you might forgive even that."

"It isn't a question of forgiveness. You don't understand, because you've never been brought in contact with such people. And as to their having had the worst of it, there is a question about that. They made poor Grandfather Latimer's life miserable, and I shall always believe that John Bynum killed him at last. Besides that, they've always been annoying and worrying us in ways that forbid retaliation because we couldn't demean ourselves to pay them back in their own coin. No, I don't think they've had the worst of it."

When Mrs. Ludlow reported this conversation to her husband he smiled and said: "I wouldn't meddle with that quarrel, if I were you; it's pretty deeply ingrained on both sides, and I shall be surprised if it doesn't come to a pitched battle some day. If the colonel had a suspicion of what I found out about the trouble in the McNabb tunnel, I wouldn't care to answer for the consequences; and as for Henry, it'll be a miracle if he doesn't get himself killed in the row. He has the courage of a veteran, joined to the rashness of a headstrong boy; and he's as good a hater as any of the Bynums."

"It's a great pity," rejoined peaceable Mrs. Ludlow. "It gives one an uncomfortable feeling of living over a volcano that may burst out at any moment. Isn't there any way to put a stop to it?"

"Only one that I can think of, and that's been tried. It occurred to me some time ago that the family in the cove might be peaceably deported if the Bynum farm could be purchased, and I suggested it to some of our people in New York, with the caution that the colonel mustn't be told of it until the purchase was a fact accomplished. They put the matter in the hands of our attorneys and told them not to haggle about the price. I don't know how the negotiations were conducted, but I imagine the Bynums found out that the company was in the deal and they refused point-blank to sell at any price. That settled it, and it means that they propose to stay and fight it out. There'll be a fight, too, when we try to open the McNabb vein; and I hope we can keep the Latimers out of it."

"But you mustn't get into it yourself, Tom," interposed Mrs. Ludlow.

Ludlow smiled grimly. "You think I wouldn't cut much of a figure as a fire eater, don't you? Well, now, you just wait and see. When the time comes I'll not go out of my way to pick a quarrel or to avoid one; but if those fellows interfere with the work they'll have to stand from under. And they'll find that they haven't a whole-souled, irascible, generous southerner to deal with, either."

It was during the summer of Ringbrand's visit to Tregarthen that the question of resuming work in the abandoned tunnel came up again. Jeff Bynum heard the news in the store in the village, and he told his brother Jed when they were driving back to the cove in the evening.

"Does you-all aim to 'low hit?" asked the younger Bynum.

"Not much!—they-all done beat us out o' the coal mine, but it ain't gwine do them no good."

"What d'ye 'low for to do, Jeff?"

"Nev' you mind; you-all jest wait an' see. Ye can be plum shore o' one thing, though; they-all ain't nev' gwine take no coal out o' that vein."

"Don't ye reckon ol' Latimer's put 'em up to do hit?"

"I dunno an' I don't keer; but I jest tell ye that thar crowd up on the mounting's gwine to let on like they heard somethin' drap; we-all 've kep' quiet for a pretty tol'able spell, now, an' I reckon Latimer 'lows we done forgot."

"I reckon Jule wouldn't let nobody forgit; she does hate the Latimers right; but then she'd ought to—she was big enough to ric'lect when daddy was killed." Jed Bynum was the youngest of the three brothers, and he had never quite shared the bitter animosity of the others.

"I can ric'lect on my own account, I reckon," rejoined Jeff, sullenly, a dull flush reddening his sallow cheeks. "I ain't likely to forgit the day when Latimer put the cowhide on to me, an' I 'low he remembers 'bout the broken arm, too. I nev' could tell what made my han' shake that thar time. I didn't aim to break his arm."

"I s'pect hit's sort o' lucky ye didn't aim no better," replied Jed. "Thar was a heap o' talk about gettin' ye for what ye did do."

The talk was interrupted by their arrival at the farmhouse in the cove, but it was resumed again at the supper table when Jule and Bud were told of the threatened resumption of work in the McNabb tunnel.

"That's some more o' Latimer's doin's, ye can jest chalk that up on the do'!" exclaimed the woman, vindictively. "Thar'll nev' be no peace for we-all 's long as thar's ary one of 'em left!"

"Thar's like to be one more of 'em 'fore they's any less, I reckon," said Jeff, making a harpoon of his fork and spearing another corn pone from the dish on the other side of the table.

"How d'ye make that out?" inquired Bud.

"I done saw a young feller a-ridin' round with the colonel this evenin', an' when I asked Jim Dobles 'bout him he said he was mighty thick with the Latimers—'lowed maybe he's a-shinin' up to the gal."

"I didn't see him," said Jed. "What for kind o' lookin' feller was he?"

"Sort o' biggity-lookin', like he mought 've jest got out of a ban'-box; has a middlin' heavy musstache, an' wears his beard whittled down to a p'int. That's about all I notice', 'ceptin' that he looks at ye mighty hard, sort o' like a catfish. Seem like I done met up with him somewhars afore, but I cayn't ric'lect when 'r whar."

"City feller, I reckon," said Jed, with contempt in his tone.

"Oh, sure; don't believe he ever did a lick o' work in his life; don't look as if he ever did, nohow."

"I don't see what a gal like Hester Latimer 'lows to find in a feller o' that sort," said Jed, passing his cup for more coffee.

"What do you-all know 'bout Hester Latimer's likes an' dislikes?" demanded his sister, pausing with the cup and coffee-pot suspended.

"A good deal less 'n nothin', I s'pose; but I've got eyes, an' I reckon I can use 'em same's anybody."

"Well, don't ye go an' forgit that they ain't no sheep's eyes," retorted Jule, angrily. "You ain't got no call to be th'owin' 'em round at anybody that's kin to the Latimer tribe."

A ravenous silence followed this remark, and when Bud left the table he said to Jeff: "Want to see ye bime-by; come outside when ye get th'oo."

Jeff lighted his pipe a moment later and followed his younger brother to the barn. "What was ye wantin', Buddy?" he asked.

"'Bout that thar city feller—don't ye reckon we-all could give him a sort of a scare that 'd run him back whar he come from?"

"I dunno. Why?"

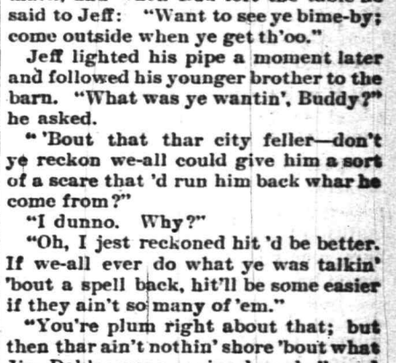
"Oh, I jest reckoned hit 'd be better. If we-all ever do what ye was talkin' 'bout a spell back, hit'll be some easier if they ain't so many of 'em."

"You're plum right about that; but then thar ain't nothin' shore 'bout what Jim Dobles was a-sayin; he only 'lowed maybe that's what was a-goin' on."

"That don't make no difference, nohow," argued Bud. "If he's got any fight in him, he'll stand up for his frien's, an' if we can run him out 'forehan' we're jest that much ahead. You're plum shore he ain't a revenuer?"

"Oh, I reckon not; from what I could pick up down at the settlement, I 'lowed he's some feller that Tom Ludlow 'd knowed back in the north; he's a-stoppin' at Ludlow's now. Talkin' 'bout revenuers, though, hit moughtn't be sich a bad idee to let on like the boys done took him for one; hit 'd sort o' make the scare come more natchel like."

[TO BE CONTINUED.]



Mrs. Popkin's Thanksgiving,

is the title of a story written for the manufacturers of

NONE SUCH MINCE MEAT,

by one of the most humorous writers of the day. It will be sent free to anyone sending address and naming this paper.

MERRELL-SOULE CO., Syracuse, N. Y.

INSURANCE.

I. C. Pope & Co.,

INSURANCE AGENTS,

110 East Front st.,
Plainfield, N. J.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The delegates to the Red Men's annual session at Trenton will return tomorrow morning.

—The last of the series of subscription dances given at the Olympia, will be held on Thursday evening, March 26th.

—Court Pride New Jersey, No. 49, F. of A., will meet next Tuesday evening. All members are requested to be present as business of importance will be transacted.

—Tomorrow "only," Friday, February 28th, VanEmburgh & Son will sell table oil-cloth, in colors only, 1¼ yard wide, at the ridiculous low price of 12 cents a yard.

J. W. Coddington, of Somerset street, president of the Plainfield Ice and Cold Storage Company, has gone on a trip to Houston, Texas. He will be absent nearly two months.

—The floor in White's dry goods store has been treated to a coat of wax gloss floor oil, which is the new preparation that has become so popular, as it prevents the rising of dust. It can be purchased of E. E. Marshall, the paint dealer, on North avenue.

Death of Miss Hillyer.

Miss Jemima Hillyer died at the home of Mrs. Isaac Brokaw, 30 Duer street, last night. She was 88 years of age, and one of the oldest and most respected residents of the borough. She was a devoted member of the First Baptist church and a constant attendant at Mr. Serrell's Bible class. She was also an active member of the Woman's Relief Corps. Her funeral will be held Saturday afternoon.

A Disaster on West Front Street.

A farmer incurred the wrath of George O. Stevens, the popular coal dealer, this morning, by running into Mr. Stevens' electric transparency which stands in front of Hallock's ha, store, with his hay wagon. The transparency was completely demolished and the farmer has disappeared. Perhaps it is better for the farmer, however, that he has gone.

Another Railroad Trespasser.

Detective Blackford arrested John Peter for trespassing on the cars of the Jersey Central Railroad, and this morning the culprit appeared before City Judge DeMeza to answer for the offence. Funds were not flush and Peter took a thirty days free vacation instead of paying $15.

The Trolley Car Fenders Here.

The fenders for the cars of the Plainfield street railway arrived this morning and the cars will be equipped this afternoon. The fenders came from the Field Company, of New York and Providence.

B. Frank Coriell, of West Fifth street, will ride a Union wheel this year.

The New Jersey Division of the League of American Wheelmen is making extraordinary efforts to increase its membership this year. In addition to the usual prizes for members receiving new recruits, the division has appointed a press committee and taken other steps to appeal directly to prospective recruits themselves. One of the extra inducements offered to every one joining the division is a complete road and tour book free.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hervey Doane's young son, Clyde Doane, is suffering with croup.

ABYSSINIAN DEFEAT.

Sixty Natives Killed in an Engagement with Italian Troops.

Rome, Feb. 27.—Advices received by the government from Adigrat, the Italian headquarters in Abyssinia, state that the Italian troops have had another engagement with the force under the command of Ras Sebat, one of the native chiefs who some time since deserted the Italians, taking with him quite a number of his followers. The battle resulted in the defeat of the Abyssinians, who lost sixty killed and a hundred wounded. Nine of the Italian soldiers were killed and twenty-eight were wounded.

Discredited by Republicans.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Philadelphia dispatches foreshadowing the possible defection of the free silver republicans and the nomination by them of Senator Teller of Colorado, or Wharton Barker of Philadelphia, on the free coinage platform, are received by leading republican members of the house with incredulity. The claim that the silver men hold the balance of power in New York and Indiana is absolutely denied.

A Boston Elevated Deal.

Boston, Feb. 27.—It is reported here that J. Pierpont Morgan has purchased the charter of the Boston Elevated Railroad company (the Meigs system). President Little of the West End road says he has heard of the report and does not think the deal at all unlikely.

Favor Enlarging the Navy.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Although the sub-committee which has had the preparation of the naval appropriation bill is reticent concerning its provisions, it is believed the measure provides for six battleships and a number of torpedo boats, not exceeding fifteen.

Don't invite disappointment by experimenting. Depend upon One Minute Cough Cure and you have immediate relief. It cures croup. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

A Labor Saver.

"Do you believe in mind reading, Mr. Slowboy?"

"Why, I don't know, Miss Tryem. I never thought much about it."

"Well, I do. I believe that I could read exactly what you have now in your mind, if I—"

"I—I wish you would," eagerly exclaimed Mr. Slowboy, who had been wondering how he could propose successfully to her. "It 'd save me a heap of trouble."—Harper's Bazar.

Not Longer Exclusive.

"Really," said Mrs. De Porque, "it's very distressing to see how common things are getting."

"Yes," replied her husband; "luxuries are a good deal cheaper than they were."

"It's positively shameful. Why, it's getting so that anybody can afford a diamond-robbery nowadays."—Washington Star.

His Weather Report.

Though she is like a sunbeam,
As happy and as free,
It seems to be her pleasure
To always reign o'er me.
—Puck.

AN EYE TO BUSINESS.

He (who has been standing for a figure in the landscape)—Yes, very good; but you haven't made it much like me.

She—Well, you see, I want to sell it. —Idler.

Well Up in His Business.

"Who is that extraordinarily tall man?" asked the visitor, who had never been in a department store before.

"That's the floor walker," replied the friend that had undertaken the task of showing him about town.

"The floor walker?" exclaimed the other. "He looks more like a ceiling scraper."—Chicago Tribune.

His Unbiased Opinion.

"Now, professor," said the ambitious young man, "you have tried my voice, I want you to tell me frankly what it is best adapted to."

And without a moment's hesitation the eminent musician responded: "Whispering."—Odds and Ends.

One at a Time.

Oh, the man who may feel quite as proud as a king,
While he works his way up to the top,
When his necktie endeavors the very same thing
Will try to induce it to stop.
—L. A. W. Bulletin.

Why, Certainly.

Jeanne—That handsome, impudent fellow staring at us ought to be horsewhipped.

Marie—What for?

Jeanne—Why, for not speaking, of course.—N. Y. World.

Papa Was That Kind.

Van Puff—What I want in life is somebody to elevate me, don't you know.

Lollita—Well, I think if papa finds you here when he comes he will do it.—N. Y. Recorder.

Ethics of the Rail.

"That man over there must be riding on a pass?"

"Why do you think so?"

"He's stretched out in one seat with his foot on another one."—Chicago Record.

Love and Duty.

He—Your father advises me to invest my fortune in Wall street. It would be politic, I suppose.

She—No, don't you do it! After he had won all your money he'd never let me marry.—Life.

—Tomorrow "only," Friday, February 28th, VanEmburgh & Son will sell table oil-cloth, in colors only, 1¼ yard wide, at the ridiculous low price of 12 cents a yard.

It not only is so, it must be so, One Minute Cough Cure acts quickly, and that's what makes it go. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front S

The Plainfield WATER SUPPLY CO.,

Incorporated 1869.

Frank Bergen, President. E. R. Pope, Sec. & Treas.

The Plainfield Water Supply Company supplies the inhabitants of the City of Plainfield and the Borough of North Plainfield with water for domestic use.

In June last the water supplied by the Company was analyzed by Allan Hazen, Esq., a leading hydraulic expert of Boston, and pronounced by him to be "water of great organic purity," and in a letter to one of the Company's patrons he added: "You are to be, congratulated upon having so good a supply, and you need have no anxiety whatever as to the wholesomeness." The completion of the city's sewer system will add to the convenience of the supply of water from the Company's mains. A representative of the Company will be pleased to call on parties who do not at present use water from its mains, and explain rates, terms, methods of service, etc. The work of making connections will be resumed as soon as the weather permits. Address the Company at 207 North ave. 2 27 3w

Scotch Plains.

Harry Flannery is home from Muhlenberg Hospital.

Notices are out for the annual town election to be held on March 10th.

Fanwood Council, Royal Arcanum, met last evening and transacted routine business.

—Jerusalem Chapter, No. 21, R. M. A., meets tonight.

—There will be no meeting of the Exempt Firemen's Association this month.

—The City Council will hold their regular March meeting next Monday evening.

—There will be no programme nor refreshments at the social in Epworth House Friday evening.

—The Paugh-Caugh-Naugh-Sinque Tribe of Red Men met last night and transacted routine business.

—The East Sixth Street Whist Club met Tuesday night at the home of the Misses Giles, of East Sixth street.

—An interesting Christian Endeavor service will be held in the First Baptist church tomorrow evening to which everyone is cordially invited.

—A lecture will be given at Monroe Avenue chapel tomorrow afternoon by Leon H. Vincent. The lecture will be given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society.

Nothing Like It.

Time brings many changes, but the climate of Calfornia, "The Italy of America," and the attractions of the many famous health and pleasure resorts, are the same yesterday, today and forever.

Tourists never will tire of speaking in praise of the soft and balmy air, the profusion of flowers, the magnificent display of fruits, the luxury of sea-bathing and the beautiful walks and drives.

Then, too, it must be conceded that with such excellent equipment, consisting of Reclining Chair Cars, Pullman Palace Sleepers and Pullman Dining Cars, all heated by steam and lighted with Pintsch Light, the Union Pacific, "The Overland Route," is the tourists favorite. Ask your agents for tickets via this route.

E. L. Lomax, General Pass and Ticket Agent, Omaha, Neb.

Quick in effect, heals and leaves no scar. Burning, scaly skin eruptions quickly cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Applied to burns, scalds, old sores, it is magical in effect. Always cures piles. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

List of Advertised Letters

Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 24, 1896.

Baker Henry	Murphy Wm
Ballman C A 2	Phelps R A
Bradley Wm	Ryan Jos
Drake Mary Miss	Robeling Mrs
Emmons Peter	Reeger Minnie Miss
Fleischauer H J Mrs	Shipley John R
Hadley Wilber E	Sheebeen Jos
Irevin E H Miss	Shorts Eliza Miss
Jonss Geo W	Saunders T
Kitchen Mary Miss	Saunders John
Lemham Hattie Miss	Shierif Miss
McAvoy Katie Miss	Westmore D M Miss
Montrose Lettie	Westwood Isabel Miss

CATARRH COLD IN HEAD

ELY'S Cream Balm

Is quickly absorbed, cleanses the nasal passages allays pain and inflammation, heals the sores, protects the membrane from additional cold, restores the senses of taste and smell.

It will cure. A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50c. at druggists or by mail. ELY BOTHERS, 56 Warren st., New York.

MONEY

Cannot buy better

Men's Suits,

in fine imported Black and Blue Cheviot, Diagonal or fancy weave, single or double breasted at $9.90.

reduced from $15, $18 and $20.

WERNER'S,

206 West Front st.

L. A. HUMMER'S VARIETY MARKET.

Meats, fruits, vegetables, poultry, eggs, etc. Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge.

220 Park avenue. Telephone call 29-A

MUNYON'S

Cold and Cough Cures,

Guaranteed to Check a Cold in a Few Hours and Prevent Grip and Pneumonia.

Munyon's Cold Cure will positively break up the grip or a cold in a few hours if taken as soon as the cold appears. When the cold reaches the lungs and there is cough and oppressed breathing Munyon's Cough Cure, used in alteration with the Cold Cure every half hour, will effect an immediate cure. When there is pain in the chest Munyon's Plasters will give great relief and act as a protection. These remedies are a sure preventive of pneumonia and lung troubles.

Munyon's Remedies contain positive cures for all diseases. At all druggists, mostly 25 cents.

Munyon's Remedies are absolutely harmless and effect positive and permanent cures. A separate specific for each disease. At all druggists, mostly at 25c a bottle.

A separate cure for each disease. At all druggists, 25c a bottle.

Personal letters to Professor Munyon, 1505 Arch st., Philadelphia, Pa., answered with free medical advice for any disease.

Y. M. C. A. Star Course.

Y. M. C. A. HALL.

Three Fine Entertainments in March for 50 cents.

March 3—Miss Addie Parker Jackson assisted by Conde's Young Men's Symphony Orchestra.
March 17—Amphion Ladies Mandolin and Vocal Quartette of New York.
March 24—"Switzerland and Its People," lecture by Prof. Henry M. Maxson.

Tickets on sale at Reynolds' and at Association Building. eod

Insurance at Lowest Rates.

Wm. H. Abbott,

Insurance, 171 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Van Emburgh & SON.

Corner Store, Babcock Building.

We work for the GOOD WILL as well as the patronage of our customers.

Our prices are plain blunt arguments.

New Spring Flannelettes, 10c. yd.
Spring colors in Figured Valours, 12c yd.
New Mourning Sateens, 12c yd.
New spring figured Cambrics, 12c yard.
We are the people for nice Outings, 10c. yd.
Boys' Derby Ribbed Hose, 10c., 15c., 18c. pair.
Plain colors, Windsor Ties 10c.
Extra Wind Windsor Ties. 25c.
Extra size Windsor Ties, (hemstitched, 50c. each.
Our Corset Covers are selling at 15c, 19c, 25c, 30c, 42c, 54c, 59c, 72c, 89c each.
P. N. Corsets, perfect fit, 50c. 75c, $1.00 pair.
2 Turkish Bath Towels for 19c.
Roll Tape, all widths, 2c. each.
Attachable Corset Clasps, 5c pair.
Attachable Corset Clasps, (cork protector) 8c. pair.
Japanned Dress Steels, 5c. dozen.
Covered Dress Steels, 6c. set.
Safety Pins, all sizes, 3c. dozen.
Tooth Brushes, good ones, 5c. each
Fast Black Darning Cotton, 2c. ball
Zephyr Worsted, all colors, 4c. lop
100 yards Best Spool Silk, black and colors, 7c. Spool.

Read Sheeting Muslins. Read

1	yard wide, bleached,		6c.	yard.
1 1-8	yards wide,	"	6 1-2c.	"
1 1-4	"	"	7 1-2c.	"
1 1-2	"	"	11c.	"
1 3-4	"	"	13c.	"
2	"	"	14 1-2c	"
2 1-4	"	"	16c.	"
2 1-2	"	"	17 1-2c	"

VAN EMBURGH & SON,

Edwin B. Maynard,

Hair Cutting and Shampooing.

Tonsorial parlor, 204 Park ave., Plainfield. Ladies' shampooing and children's hair cutting a specialty.

HEATH & DRAKE.

Established 1841. Newark's first-class Dry Goods House.

New Embroideries, Laces, Flouncings, etc.

Our assortment of these goods for the coming season is handsomer, more varied and complete than any we have yet shown, and embraces regular Cambric, Nainsook and Swiss Edges, Insertions and match sets in all grades and styles and a line of Exquisite Novelties which for new and original effects, exclusive and unique designs, are unsurpassed if not unequalled by any in the market.

Pretty Edgings and Embroideries Very Cheap.

A thousand lines could not tell the story any better. Great heaps of snowy Embroideries that first saw light in far off Switzerland are here.

In connection with our regular line we have purchased, direct from the manufacturers in St. Gaul, Switzerland, three large lots of Embroideries, which we will place on sale at one-third less than regular prices.

Lot 1, 4c Yd. Lot 2, 8c Yd. Lot 3, 12c Yd

The wise ones ask no questions, but take them away in huge quantities.

777 and 779 Broad Street,
Newark, N. J.

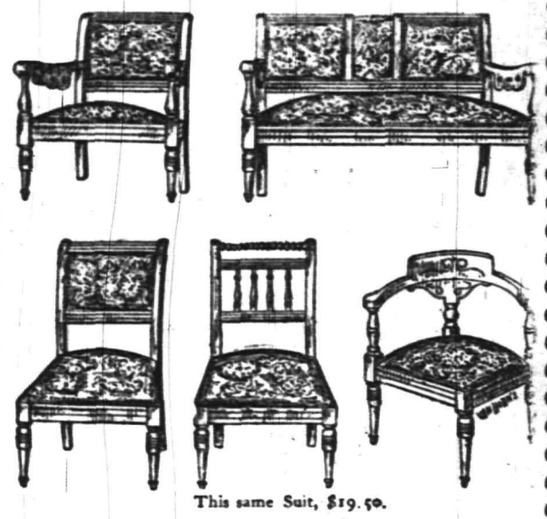
AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd.

BOTTOM PRICES—COMFORTABLE TERMS

Every Reason For Success

Exists at 73 Market St.—our many years' experience tells us that nothing pleases buyers better than right prices and liberal terms—they're always found here—to instance:

This Parlor Suit $19.50



A single illustration of what our reductions mean—five pieces, brocatelle or plush, mahogany finish frames.

This same Suit, $19.50.

Rocking Chair at $1.95

This same chair, $1.95.

Exactly like cut—solid oak, cane seat—roomy and comfort giving—worth far more.

Extension Tables

We've new lines by the score in in dining room tables—one special in solid oak is at $4.85—match it if you can!

This table, $4.85.

Our Bargain Room

is packed full of real bona-fide bargains, new patterns, slightly soiled, marked half price, in plain figures. Don't forget our grand Portland Range.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd. 73 MARKET ST.
Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, Etc. Near Plane St.
Telephone 580. NEWARK, N. J.

GOODS DELIVERED FREE TO ANY PART OF STATE.

STILLMAN MUSIC HALL.

Rich & Maeder.....Lessees and Managers.
John Daly.....Resident Manager.

2 Nights, February 28th and 29th,

MATINEE SATURDAY. The talented actress,

Miss RACHELLE RENARD,

supported by her own company, presenting Friday—Ingomar, the Barbarian: Saturday matinee—Superb Allegorical Revival of East Lynne; Saturday night—The great Historical Drama, Jack Sheppard. Prices—15, 25 and 35c. Matinee 10c to all parts of the house.

Messrs. Rich & Maeder beg to inform the citizens of Plainfield that because of a large response in favor of a public advance subscription as a guarantee, they have made arrangements with Mr. Augustin Daly for the complete presentation here on

THE NIGHT OF MARCH 2.

of Mr. Daly's incomparable production of Shakespeare's fanciful comedy.

"A Mid-Summer Night's Dream,"

with the same sumptuous scenery and exquisite mechanical effects and full music accompaniment that characterized its famous revival at Daly's New York and London Theatres.

LAST EDITION.

THE DAILY PRESS

LAST EDITION

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1896. TWO CENTS A COPY—$5 A YEAR

MISER LEAVES A FORTUNE.

His Will Gives Nothing to the Woman Who Cared for Him.

By search made in an old black trunk it was learned recently that Watson B. Prentiss, who died in South River on February 15th, was worth about $70,000 instead of being a poor man, as all his friends supposed.

For thirteen years Prentiss had lived with a Mrs. Dunham, who, believing him to be poor, cared for him without receiving any money. Prentiss was helpless from old age and had not gone out of the house in months before his death. At times he hinted to Mrs. Dunham that he had a little money and that when he died she should get it all. The only known relative Prentiss had was a brother, Thomas Prentiss, who lived in New York. A few days ago it was learned tha Prentiss had left a will, filed with a lawyer in New York, leaving all his property to his brother and two second nieces. Mrs. Dunham was not mentioned.

In searching the man's property his trunk was opened. In it were found thirty $1,000 bonds having unpaid coupons for from fifteen to seventeen years, in addition to deeds for property in Connecticut worth $10,000, a large sum of money and other valuable papers aggregating in all about $70,000. Thomas Prentiss has filed a caveat against the probate of the will.

TROLLEYS TO PLAINFIELD.

A Capitalist Will Apply for the Necessary Franchises.

The building of a trolley road to Plainfield seems to be nearer a certainty than ever. Yesterday afternoon Silas D. Drake accompanied a capitalist to Lorraine, Roselle, Cranford and Westfield, where residents and property owners were interviewed.

The capitalist, who is said to control the trolley line in Plainfield, talked with the prominent citizens in each town visited, regarding the privilege of securing right of way for a line between this city and Plainfield. He was so impressed with the favorable sentiment of the people that he believes the necessary franchises can be obtained, and decided to make application for franchises to the several town committees.—Elizabeth Journal.

Red Men's Ball Masque.

Paugh-Caugh-Naugh-Sinque, No. 193, of the Improved Order of Red Men, met Wednesday evening. The committee on the second anniversary reported that they proposed holding a grand ball masque, entertainment and Indian peace dance on the evening of April 16th at the Crescent Rink, on which occasion many prominent tribes of New Jersey will be represented. If Columbus could be in the city that evening and witness the beautiful array of costumes he would be compelled to say that Plainfield was indeed in the hands of the primitive Red Men. Tickets can be secured from any of the members at $1 each, including supper.

A Singular Coincidence.

A singular coincident in connection with the recent flood at Bound Brook is related by J. E. Townsend, of Somerst street. He visited the place the morning after the fire and walking about the place picked up a piece of printed matter, which proved to be a leaf from the Bible. Upon reading it the verse that first struck his eye was as follows: "The floods have lifted up their voice; the floods lift up their waves." The verse being so particularly appropriate Mr. Townsend has kept the leaf as a memento of the great event in the history of Bound Brook.

Y. M. C. A.

Native African singers direct from Kaffirland, South Africa, will sing at the meeting, Sunday afternoon. D. E. Titsworth will conduct the meeting and six men from Potter's and Pond's shops will testify. A vocal trio from the choir of the Seventh-day Baptist church will sing at the meeting on Sunday at 4:15 p. m.

—A. G. Vogeler's Union meat market will move next Monday to the store formerly occupied by Fulper, the grocer. The market will be fitted up with the latest appliances.

The little daughter of Mr. Fred Webber, Holland, Mass, had a very bad cold and cough which he had not been able to cure with any thing. I gave him a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says W. P. Holden, merchant and postmaster at West Brimfield, and the next time I saw him he said it worked like a charm. This remedy is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases such as colds, croup and whooping cough, and it is famous for its cures. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

AN EVENING OF MUSIC.

MONROE AVENUE CHAPEL MEMBERS ENTERTAINED BY YOUNG MEN.

Will Runyon Indulges in a Number of Topical Songs and Receives the Applause of His Auditors—The Other Numbers.

A very good attendance greeted the first number on the programme rendered in Monroe Avenue chapel last evening, under the auspices of the Young Men's Association. The throng was an enthusiastic one, and they gave the entertainment the hearty applause that it deserved. Blanchard Randolph, the president of the Association, acted as master of ceremonies. The programme opened with a pleasing selection by the orchestra, which was composed of first violins, E. Highm, Dr. Gaston, Arthur Mosher; second violins, Mr. Henderson, W. V. Moy; cello, Dr. J. F. Berg; clarionet, James Hewitt; cornet, Miss Berg; trombone, Garrett Dunham; accompanist, Howard Case. A quartette from the Lotos Glee Glub, composed of Charles H. Angleman, Willard M. Miner, W. E. MacClymont and Raymond A. McGee, next rendered "We Meet Again Tonight" in a most artistic manner. "Three Litttle Darkeys" was then given as an encore, which caused a general laugh. When President Randolph announced a song to be rendered by William N. Runyon, that popular young man was given a rousing welcome. He sang "The Yaller Gal," but like Oliver Twist, the audience "wanted more," and it took two more selections, "Standing on the Corner" and "She Wanted Something to Play With," to satisfy them. An instrumental duet by Miss Berg and G. T. Dunham, was much enjoyed, and then Clarence Mills rendered a very difficult selection on his violin with pleasing effects. Miss Grace Carroll's sweet clear voice was very effective in a Scotch song, and loud applause was accorded her. The first part closed with a delightful instrumental trio by Miss Berg, Dr. Berg and Mr. Dunham.

Part second was opened by a pretty selection by the orchestra and then Will Runyon took his turn. That most rediculous of songs, "The Irish Jubilee" was given in a manner that drew tears from the audience, that is, from laughing so hard. He responded to the loud applause by giving the song for which he is so justly famous "And the Parrot Said." It was nof until he had also sung "The Band Played On" that he was allowed to escape. "Annie Laurie" and a "Slumber Song" were charmingly sung by the quartette. Another well rendered violin solo by Clarence Mills, and a pleasing vocal selection by Miss Alice Carroll followed, and the programme was concluded by a piano solo by Miss Charlotte Aldrich.

Mission Work in Paris.

A goodly number of the members of the Plainfield Auxiliary of the McAll Mission gathered in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church yesterday afternoon and listened to a highly instructive address by Miss Alletta Lent, of New York. Mrs. Petrie conducted the devotional exercises, and Dr. Rodman offered prayer. Miss Lent related in an interesting manner something of her work and experience in Paris and this country. There are now forty halls in Paris under the auspices of the McAll Auxiliary and all are doing good work as are also the auxiliaries in this country. A collection was taken at the close for the work.

New Market Nominations.

The following are the Republican nominations in Piscataway township: Town clerk, Charles S. Day; freeholder, Calvin Drake; town committee, John Sebring; surveyors of highways, Albert L. Boice, Samuel S. Giles; overseer of poor, John C. Morris; commissioner of appeal, Henry Hummer; constable, Z. P. Osmun. Appropriations: Small bridges, $400; support of poor, $1,000; roads, $4,000.

Gehring's Dog Bites Him.

Philip Gehring, ex-chief of the Rahway fire department, was badly bitten by his bulldog Tuesday night. Mr. Gehring was bitten when he stooped to unchain the dog. Poultices were applied, but the hand is much swollen, and there is fear of blood-poisoning.

Vandals in School Houses.

The district school houses in Union township and Lorraine were broken into Wednesday night. Seats and desks were smashed, the walls defaced and lamps broken. In the Union school house a large American flag was torn to shreds.

Dunbar Boys Improving.

Word was received this morning from the matron of the New Brunswick hospital, stating that the Dunbar boys, who were in the Stelton accident, were getting along nicely, and would eventnally recover from their injuries.

ELIZABETH'S BIG BANQUET

Business Men's Dinner a Gathering of Representative and Eloquent Citizens.

The business mens's dinner, held last evening in the Drake Opera House, Elizabeth, by the Elizabeth Board of Trade, was the most successful affair of this character ever attempted in that city. More than two hundred of its prominent business and professional men participated.

To accommodate the company a platform was erected over the seats in the orchestra and circle of the large auditorium of the Opera House. The five long tables were arranged so that the one at which the toastmaster and the speakers sat faced the others. The interior of the theatre was decorated with flags, bunting, plants, exoties, etc., with prettily arranged electric light effects.

Peter Egenolf, president of the Board of Trade, acted as toastmaster. Henry H. Isham, former president of the New Jersey Agricultural Society, responded to the toast "Elizabeth, Present and Future." In response to the toast, "The City of Elizabeth," Mayor J. C. Rankin spoke. "Ships and Shipyards," was responded to by Lewis Mixon. Comptroller A. B. Carlton responded to "Finances and Taxation." "Our City, Its Development," was responded to by Judge P. H. Gilhooly. "Our New Factories" was responded to by Robert S. Rudd. Thomas F. McCormick responded to the toast, "Law and Lawyers."

J. Fred MacDonald was the only representative present from the Plainfield Board of Trade.

Dancing Musicians.

The Plainfield Orchestra held a dance in Central Hall, North and Park avenues, last night, and it proved in every way an enjoyable affair. About 100 couples were present and enjoyed themselves with dancing until early this morning. The music was furnished by a full orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Guttman. The musicians intend to hold these dances at frequent intervals. The committee in charge of the affair last night consisted of Prof. Guttman, James Hewitt, Prof. Naylor and Whitfield Frazee.

The Legislature.

Before election the cry was Reform. Every question was to be made subservient to the great question of morals. Judiciary and all else was second; but now, since election, what has become of the "Anti-Gambling Amendment," the Bosses, from Governor down to the immuculate Senator from Union? How easily the whole question is side-tracked. Of course, it's all in tke interest of the promises made by the Republican party before election. They called it morals and reform. J. E. M.

Possible Borough Candidates.

J. P. Emmons and George Kirch, of the borough, are among those who are mentioned as possible candidates for Councilmen. There are, however, many dark horses in the race. The residents of the borough are desirous of having representatives in the Council who do business within its borders, and it is said that a strong effort will be made at the primary this evening to nominate such men.

Corsets.

Van Emburgh will sell tomorrow, Saturday, February 29th, a sample line of Dr. Warner's corsets, no two alike, and all twenty-inch. Lot No. 1, white only, that sell for $1, $1.25, $1.50 and $1.75, all at 49 cents a pair. Lot No. 2, black only, that sell for $1, $1.25, $1.50 and $1.75, all at 59 cents a pair. Van Emburgh, corner store, Babcock building, Madison avenue and Front street.

Funeral Arrangements to be Made.

Plainfield Council, Royal Arcanum, will hold a special meeting tonight at seven o'clock in their rooms, to make arrangements for the funeral of W. L. Titsworth. Mr. Titsworth was one of the charter members of the Council.

Crescent Wheelmen Talk Finance.

A meeting of the Crescent Wheelmen was held last evening at which some important financial business was transacted. A small sum of money was raised at the meeting to defray certain expenses.

Appeal Case Postponed.

The appeal case of Hetfield against Bock, which was to have been tried at Somerville yesterday, was adjourned until Monday. This case was tried before Justice Crosley some months ago.

Our people are growing more and more in the habit of looking to Reynolds' pharmacy for the latest and best of everything in the drug line. They sell Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds, croup and whooping cough. When in need of such a medicine give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result.

BIG BICYCLE DEALERS.

The Frank L. C. Martin Bicycle Company Getting Ready for Business.

Enterprise and industry have always been a winning combination for a business house and there is not a better example of it than in the great success of Plainfield's oldest and most reliable bicycle dealers, the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company. In 1889, when the bicycle trade was in its infancy and there were only two or three stores in the State, they started. Mr. Martin is considered an authority on cycling and his interest dates back long before he went into business, for it was his enthusiasm over the sport that started him as a dealer. His popularity has grown ever since and it has reached a high level as was shown last year by the way that he introduced a wheel, scarcely known, and made it the most popular.

The F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company has made a thorough study of the business and aim only to use and sell the best. This year they will be able to serve their patrons better than ever before. In their Park avenue salesrooms, which are among the finest and best equipped in this part of the country, a pretty display of wheels is now arranged, prominent among which are the Cleveland and Crescent wheels which, as last year, will be their leaders. The excellent satisfaction they gave last year and the strong guarantee, made doubly so by the able manner in which this cycle company looks after all irregularities that happen to appear in the wheels, makes their choice an excellent one. The easy payment system is so arranged that almost anyone can buy a wheel of modern pattern.

This spring Mr. Martin associated himself with Frederick Keer, of Newark, and a branch store has been established in that city, where Mr. Martin spends part of his time.

FIRMLY ESTABLISHED.

Methods of the New Jersey Mercantile Agency Accepted by Merchants.

The New Jersey Mercantile Agency have become firmly established in this city, and are doing effective work for local merchants in the matter of collecting debts that are considered of a poor kind. Nearly all the prominent dealers in all lines of business have become members of the agency, though at first they were a little conservative with reference to accepting the methods of the concern because of the many snide and unreliable organizations who had heretofore secured their money and then never did any work in return. But the methods of the New Jersey Mercantile Agency have been accepted by reason of the fact that those connected with it have proved their responsibility and intention to do what they say they will. The agency has become a permanent institution of the town, and will prove a valuable adjunct in removing so far as possible the bad debt element of the town.

Taxation Without Benefits.

Residents in the neighborhood of Rock avenue in the borough desires The Daily Press to call attention to the wretched condition of that thoroughfare. They claim it is a disgrace. In connection with the above it might be stated that in the upper part of the borough there are places where in case of fire it would be impossible to reach, and there is no water at hand with which to extinguish it. The people in the locality are taxed just the same, and without this protection it hardly seems as though the tax rate should be equal to that imposed upon others who have this protection and good roads.

A New Game.

A variation of the regular bowling game that is rapidly becoming popular among the bowlers of the Crescent Wheelmen is the head pin game. There is considerable talk of getting up a tournament for March. The game is somewhat different from the regular game and more difficult although not as hard as 'cocked hat.' There are twelve frames and only one ball is rolled in a frame. If the head pin is not hit, there is no count, otherwise it is the number of pins upset. The highest possible score is 120.

Forty to Be Baptized.

There are forty colored converts to be baptized at the Mt. Olive Baptist church Sunday afternoon as a result of the recent revivals that have been going on in that and the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church for the last few weeks. The service will begin at 3 o'clock.

—Charles Brower and Thomas Brantingham attended the horse sale of Peter C. Kellogg in New York yesterday.

—David Smalley, the North avenue butcher, has a fine line of wild geese for sale. His brother brought them on from North Carolina last night.

TRYING TO BREAK A WILL.

UNCLE PETER WOODEN'S LAST TESTAMENT TO BE CONTESTED.

Mrs. Ann Dickinson, of This City, One of the Contestants—Brought Up This Morning and Adjourned for Two Weeks.

Over a year ago North Plainfield lost her oldest citizen in the person of Peter Wooden. "Uncle Peter," as he was affectionately called by many of those who knew him, owned considerable property, and by his will the greater share of his wealth went to the Seventh-day Baptist church, while some of his less wealthy relatives were not remembered at all.

This morning proceedings were begun in the Surrogate's Court at Somerville by Mrs. Ann Dickinson and other interested parties to contest the validity of the will. Those who are trying to break the will give as a reason why it should be set aside that Peter Wooden was unduly influenced by the Seventh-day Baptists, and that it was his duty to provide for some relatives whose worldly affairs were not in as prosperous condition as his had been. The contest came up this morning and was adjourned for two weeks

FIREBUGS SET ROPE SNARES.

Tried to Hinder Rahway Firemen from Saving the Auditorium.

The outlaws who have been for several months ransacking private residences and frightening the famale occupants in Rahway at midnight into hysterics, have now turned their attention to arson.

About 2 o'clock this morning the Auditorium, on Irving street was discovered on fire. The firemen found that one end of the building had been bespattered with kerosene oil, and that inflamable material had been spreod in several places and set on fire. The flames were put out before much damage was done.

Whoever committed the crime had stretched ropes across the sidewalks in several places to impede the progress of those who would run to the fire. The ropes were arranged about two feet from the ground, and several persons were seriously hurt by being tripped up.

The building is owned by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and the anti-saloon element has been holding meetings in it. The supposition is that the fire is the work of persons who are trying to get revenge for the suppression of the liquor traffic in Rahwas Sundays.

FIFTY DOLLARS IN BAGS.

Birthday Party in the W. C. T. U. Rooms a Success Socially and Financially.

The birthday social held last evening under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., in their rooms on Watchung avenue, was well attended.

The programme opened with a piano duet by Miss Burnett and Miss Cahoone. Its rendition was greeted with hearty applause, as was also the vocal solo by Wm. N. Runyon, which followed.

William McKillop gave a violin solo. A feature of the evening was the appearance of Miss Addie Parker Jackson, whose delightful recitations won admiration and applause from all. Miss Opdycke, of Somerville, closed the programme with a vocal solo. This well-known soloist is always a favorite with Plainfield audiences, and her efforts were very much appreciated last evening.

The small silk bags that had been distributed among the members and their friends were then collected and as a result nearly $50 was realized.

During the balance of the evening refreshments were served and a general social time enjoyed.

SUED FOR DAMAGING A FARM.

Tenant White Accused of Having Denuded an Estate at Summit of Trees.

In the Union County Court Thursday a suit for $2,000 damages was begun against Wm. White, of Summit, by L. Aubrey Martin, executor for the Martin estate, in Summit. White is a tenant on the estate, for which he pays $2,000 a year rent. It is claimed that on July 1st, 1895, White pulled up by the roots off the estate and converted to his own use 50 pine trees, 100 lilac bushes, 50 thorn bushes and 100 other trees, shrubs and bushes. The case will be tried at the next term of court.

Westfield Sewers Completed.

Stratford & Hawkes, the Westfield sewer contractors, will pay off their men next week and discharge them, the sewer work being completed. The people of the town contemplate the going of the Italians with a feeling of relief.

U. B. Crane and Chas. Clark, 120 West Front street, will have an opening sale of fine hats, furnishings and shoes, commencing today, and will give special bargains in all lines.

PROOF OF THE BIBLE.

Rev. Henry Mason Baum Illustrates Facts of Interest to Students.

The Y. M. C. A. Hall contained a select and cultured audience last evening when Rev. Henry Mason Baum, D. C. L., gave his illustrated lecture on Chaldae. Those present included many pastors, Sunday-school teachers and Biblical students who thoroughly enjoyed the remarks and pictures given on this important subject.

The views shown by Mr. Baum are exceedingly beautiful and, in fact, a rare treat from the ordinary ones usually presented. The lecture throughout substantiates the authenticity of the Bible and brings vividly before the hearer many truths to increase his belief in Christianity. It is founded entirely on facts, and as this is the important thing nowadays among active men and women, it was of peculiar interest to the large audience present.

Tomorrow evening Mr. Baum will give what he considers the best of his two lectures. The subject is on Egypt and those who attend will not regret it.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

Bits of News Picked up From All Parts of the City and Borough.

—Rev. Mr. Grobes preached at the Mt. Zion A. M. church last evening.

—Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner pill; assist digestion, cure headache. 25 cents.

—A rehearsal for the Crescent Wheelmen's minstrels will be held on Tuesday evening.

—The Saengerbund will hold its regular monthly meeting on next Thursday evening.

—W. H. Mountford, of 243 Somerset street, lost a valuable Scotch terrier dog yesterday, by death.

—Two elegant neckties for 25 cents is all that H. M. Jaquett is asking and they are all the latest styles.

—The concert in the Union Village M. E. church will be given Friday evening, March 20th, by Miss Kline, Miss Krymer, Mrs. Steiner, H. J. Martin and J. E. Townsend.

—Drive out the impurities from your blood and build up your system by creating an appetite and toning the stomach with Hood's Sarsaparilla, if you would keep yourself well.

—The second annual convention of the State Council, Daughters of Liberty, will convene at Newark on Wednesday, March 10th. Lucetta Council, No. 28, of this city, will be represented by Mrs. C. L. Stratton and N. H. Guttman, and Old Glory Council, No. 62, of North Plainfield, will be represented by Mrs. Lottie Walker and Mrs. M. Heath.

—The regular Friday evening Lenten services will be held in St. Mary's church tonight at 8 o'clock. On Wednesday evenings during Lent there will be sermons by visiting clergymen on subjects appropriate to this penitential season. One of the clergymen who will preach is Rev. Father Stafford, formerly an assistant pastor at St. Mary's church, and now vice-president of Seton Hall College, South Orange.

Going in to Win.

The Rahway Democrats will probably make the following Aldermanic nominations for the spring election: First ward, James Syne. Second ward, George Oliver; Third ward, James Birkett; Fourth ward, Harry Belmer. The Republicans will in all probability renominate Thomas Jardene in the Second, and William Howard in the Third. Bruce Vail, it is said, is slated for the Fourth Ward nomination. The Republicans in the First and Fifth wards have as yet given no indication as to who will be their standard-bearers while the same can be said of the Fifth Ward Democrats.

Mr. Coddington Makes a Denial.

Louis Coddington states that Mike McCarthy did not receive a black eye from a blow at the hands of Harrison Randolph during a fracas at his barn, but that the discolored optic was the result of a barrel hoop snapping and hitting him in the eye. Mr. Coddington believes that somebody circulated the story of the fight to injure his business.

Threw Away His Canes.

Mr. D. Wiley, ex-postmaster, Black Creek, N. Y., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that he was only able to hobble around with canes, and even then it caused him great pain. After using Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was so much improved that he threw away his canes. He says this liniment did him more good than all other medicines and treatment put together. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

OBEYED ALL ORDERS

Ballington and Mrs. Booth Deny Disloyalty to Headquarters.

SIMPLY PEREMPTORILY DISMISSED

May Head a Movement of Their Own Formation, Assisted By Prominent Friends—Brewer's Conduct Denounced.

Montclair, N. J., Feb. 28.—A representative of the United Press who called upon Commander Booth at his home here last night has the commander's authority for saying the following: First—Commander Booth is not organizing a separate Salvation Army. If the commander and Mrs. Booth head any movement at all it will probably be one of their own formation, as prominent friends have said that they have a large field before them for usefulness. Second—It has been said by the commissioners at present in command that Commander and Mrs. Booth have refused to obey orders. This they most emphatically and persistently deny. Moreover, they have not received any orders beyond their peremptory dismissal. Third—It is expected that Commander and Mrs. Booth will make a statement to-morrow or Monday in reference to the method of turning over the many properties and respective banking accounts of the movement to the new commissioner. When asked by the representative of the United Press what he thought of Brigadier Brewer's action in writing against him, the commander simply replied: "I thought the brigadier's statement weak and undignified, and was surprised that the first public stab should have come from Brigadier Brewer, for whom I have done so much."

RAINES LIQUOR TAX MEASURE.

Republican Senators Again Go Over the Bill—All Not Harmonious Yet.

Albany, Feb. 28.—The caucus of republican senators on the Raines liquor tax bill did not break up until long after midnight this morning. The greatest secrecy regurding the proceedings was maintained. The bill was again gone over paragraph by paragraph and numerous amendments discussed at times in a very heated manner. A number of republican senators were absent, not wishing to pledge themselves to the measure. It is understood that at adjournment much dissatisfaction yet existed.

WILL APPEAL TO THE PRESIDENT

The Only Hope Left for Convicted Editor Dunlop.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Joseph Dunlop, editor of the Dispatch, convicted of sending improper matter through the mails and sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 and serve two years in the penitentiary, will now appeal to the president, this being the only course open to him, since approval of the conviction by Judge Grosscup yesterday.

Experimental Engineering Stations.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Mr. Hale, rep., Me., introduced in the senate a bill to establish experimental engineering stations in connection with the state colleges now receiving aid from the government in the establishment and maintenance of agricultural experimental stations. The objects of the engineering stations are to promote investigation and research in the various branches of the science of engineering and naval architecture.

"For the Crown" a Great Success.

London, Feb. 28.—The production of John Davidson's adaptation of Francois Copee's romantic drama, "For the Crown," at the Lyceum theatre last night was a great success. The play was grandly mounted. The two principal female characters were sustained by Mrs. Patrick Campbell and Winifred Emery, while Mr. Robertson played the part of Michel.

Kentucky Senatorial Deadlock.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 28.—A joint caucus of the democratic members of the legislature will be called to-day to consider propositions looking to the withdrawal of Blackburn. The sound money members have partially drawn up a petition to Senator Blackburn's managers asking his withdrawal in favor of some sound money man.

Against the Coal Trust.

Albany, Feb. 28.—The assembly committee on judiciary has decided to report the two bills of Mr. Robbins, one extending the powers of the attorney-general in investigating combinations, and the other, making more stringent the laws against trusts. The bills are aimed against the alleged coal trust recently formed.

Murphy's Bail Increased.

Salem, Mass., Feb. 28.—The bail of Clarence Murphy, who was indicted on 129 counts for alleged embezzlement of $47,000 from the Salem Savings bank, has been increased to $25,000, and in default of sureties he has been remanded to jail.

Opponents of the Anti-Option Bill.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The agricultural committee of the house of representatives will give a hearing to the opponents of the anti-option bill on Wednesday next.

New Jersey Council of Red Men.

Trenton, Feb. 28.—The great council of New Jersey Improved Order of Red Men in annual session here elected William J. Forsyth of Jersey City, prophet.

Marlboroughs at Monte Carlo.

Monaco, Feb. 28.—The Duke and Duchess of Marlborough and W. K. Vanderbilt have arrived at Monte Carlo.

VAN HORN SWORN IN

Heated Discussion Over the Kansas City Contest Case.

HOUSE DECIDES AGAINST TARSNEY

Democrats and Populists and Seventeen Republicans Support the Minority in Favor of Recounting the Ballots in the Disputed Districts.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The debate in the house on the contested election case of Van Horn vs. Tarsney from the fifth Missouri (Kansas City) district, which resulted, just before adjournment last evening, in the unseating of Tarsney, was at times very animated. Messrs. Prince, Ill.; Long, Kas., and Johnson, Ind., all republicans and members of the committee, advocated the adoption of the majority report, and Mr. Maguire, dem., Cal., spoke for the minority. Upon the question of agreeing to the recommendation of the minority, that the contest be reopened and the elections committee instructed to recount the ballots in certain precincts of Kansas City, the vote was yeas 112, nays 164. The democrats and populists unitedly supported the minority, and were joined by the following republicans: Arnold, Penn.; Brown, Burton, Ohio; Codding, Dovenor, Fenton, Huling, Hyde, Kulp, Leighty, Parker, Pitney, Powers, Southwick, Taylor (a member of the committee), Wellington and Wright. The majority report declaring Van Horn entitled to his seat was then adopted. Van Horn was at once sworn in by the speaker.

FREIGHT RATES ON MILK.

Answer to Charges Made at the Interstate Commerce Commission Hearing.

Washington, Feb. 28.—A memorandum of David Wilcox, counsel for the Delaware & Hudson Canal company, in answer to the brief of counsel for the Milk Producers' association, has been filed with the interstate commerce commission. It asserts that "the Delaware & Hudson has been improperly joined as a defendant in this case, as there does not appear to be any complaint of the unreasonableness of the charges on this line." Mr. Wilcox, on his part, complains of the annoyance caused his client by being obliged to defend under these circumstances, and says this voluminous and expensive proceeding is merely a vigorous effort on the part of some residents of Orange county to secure for themselves, at the expense of producers at a distance, and probably consumers as well, the greatest possible amount of advantage in supplying one of the necessaries of life to the city of New York.

Greater New York Bill.

Albany, Feb. 28.—The senate cities committee will report to-day for printing Senator Wray's bill providing for the preparation of a proposed charter for Greater New York and the submission of such charter to a vote of the people. Senator Wray seems to be of the opinion that his bill will pass and has amended it to perfect its provisions. Many other senators differ with him, though, and seem to think that there is no doubt of the passage of the Lexow bill.

New Position for Prof. Woods.

Middletown, Conn., Feb. 28.—Prof. C. D. Woods, vice-director of Storrs Agricultural college station in this city, has been appointed dean of the agricultural department of the Maine State college and director of the Maine experiment station at Orono, Me. He will accept.

To Run on Half Time.

Palmer, Mass., Feb. 28.—The cotton mills of the Boston Duck company at Bondsville, the Thorndyke company at Thorndyke and the Palmer mills at Three Rivers, will commence running on half time on Monday morning on account of the poor trade. About 1,700 operatives are affected.

To Protect Workmen on New Buildings.

Albany, Feb. 28.—The bill for the better protection of mechanics employed upon buildings in the state will be reported favorably in the assembly. The bill is intended to compel contractors to erect temporary floors upon every floor of a building in course of construction.

Warner Miller Delegate Elected.

Little Falls, N. Y., Feb. 28.—Returns from the country towns in Herkimer county show that Albert Story, Warner Miller's candidate for delegate to the St. Louis convention, has defeated Titus Sheard. The vote in the town of Danube is a tie.

Overdue Steamer Heard From.

Galveston, Tex., Feb. 28.—The overdue steamer Maristow has been heard from. She is disabled and her chief officer and several sailors have landed at point Isable, on the southwestern point of Texas, to secure assistance.

Nominated for Assembly.

Gloversville, N. Y., Feb. 28.—At the assembly district convention held in Johnstown yesterday Byron D. Brown was renominated for assemblyman, and the delegates to the congressional convention were instructed for L. N. Littauer.

American Crew Rescued at Sea.

Falmouth, Feb. 28.—The British steamer Sheerness has arrived at this port, short of water and provisions. She brought in the crew of the American brig Hattie M. Bain, which was abandoned at sea on February 11.

Signed by Gov. Morton.

Albany, Feb. 28.—Gov. Morton has signed Assemblyman Bedell's bill changing from spring to fall the time for holding a charter election in Middletown.

CAUSE OF THE CUBANS

Senate To Vote This Afternoon on the Belligerency Resolutions.

SHERMAN TO SPEAK ON THE SUBJECT

Senator Vest a Strong Champion of the Insurgents' Struggle for Independence. Retribution Will Follow If We Do Not Act, He Declares.

Washington, Feb. 28.—After several days of debate the senate will this afternoon at 4 o'clock vote on the Cuban concurrent resolutions and amendments. Much interest is attached to the debate on the subject to-day as Senator Sherman, rep., O., will take part. The cause of the insurgents has a strong champion in the person of Senator Vest, dem., Mo. In his speech yesterday afternoon he spoke of Spain as a toothless old wolf sitting at the door of the cave of despotism and grinning at the procession of free republics, and he denounced the declaration of Capt.-Gen. Weyler, and asked whether the senate should sit silent and dumb while the Cubans were butchered into subjection to the Spanish queen. "If we do," he exclaimed, "God will curse us. The time will come when there will be retribution upon us as a people, because we have not been true to the task assigned us by Providence and have not cherished the legacy of self-government bequeathed to us by our fathers."

House Anxious To Recognize Them.

Mr. Hitt, rep., Ill., from the committee on foreign affairs of the house, said this morning that he would call up for consideration at the earliest possible moment the concurrent resolutions on the Cuban situation reported to the house yesterday afternoon and only on account of objections by Mr. Boutelle, rep., Me., prevented from being adopted by a large majority. The resolutions declare it to be the sense of congress that the government of the United States should recognize the belligerency of the revolutionists in Cuba, maintain an attitude of neutrality between them and the Spanish government, tender its good offices to secure Cuban independence, and to intervene in the conflict progressing on that island, if necessary to protect legitimate American interests there.

War Not Seriously Regarded.

The possibility of war with Spain as a result of the resolutions is not seriously regarded by well informed members of the house. It is argued that the resolutions do not in the first place recognize the belligerency of the rebels, but that they simply show that a state of war exists there, leaving it to the president to make belligerent recognition by proclamation when desirable. That state of war does exist there is, they say, manifest both from the reports of American consular officers in the island and the proclamation of Gen. Weyler, issued since his arrival in Cuba. So far as our right to interfere to protect American property in Cuba is concerned, such right, it is claimed, exists under international usage and the necessity is still stronger since the state department has taken a position which virtually estops us from claiming damages under present conditions.

Spain in No Position To Fight.

It is asserted that no matter how irritating a recognition of belligerency may be to the Spanish government, they are in no position to enter into a war with the United States and would not seriously entertain such a proposition. It is pointed out that when Spain and Great Britain recognized the belligerency of the confederates during the war of the secession we could not resent it because the energies of the government were taxed to their utmost to suppress our own people. Spain, it is asserted, is less prepared for a foreign war at this time than the United States were thirty-four years ago.

Yellow Fever Appears.

Puerto Padre, Feb. 15, via Tampa, Fla., Feb. 28.—The military commander of this city, Major Navarro, died of yellow fever on the 10th inst. His funeral was made a public event. He was an organizer and worker who had made many friends. This very early appearance of yellow fever creates great anxiety in the garrison.

Murder and Robbery.

Middletown, Conn., Feb. 28.—The inquest yesterday afternoon revealed the fact that Timothy Parmelee of Cobelt was most brutally murdered Wednesday night, his skull being fractured by a flatiron in several places, and four ribs on each side broken. He lived alone and was eccentric. Robbery was the cause, $100 and a gold watch being missed. There is no trace of the murderers.

To Recover Land Patented to Michigan.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The secretary of the interior has recommended to the attorney general that suit be speedily brought against the state of Michigan to recover 68,647 acres of land erroneously patented to it to aid in the construction of a harbor and ship canal to connect the waters of lake Superior and Portage lake.

HOOD'S PILLS Cure Sick Headache.

O My Head!

Is the weak, languid cry of the sufferer from sick headache. Hood's Pills cure this condition promptly, and so agreeably that it is like the pleasant change from darkness to daylight. The feeling of utter exhaustion and inability to work is driven off and the digestive organs are toned, strengthened and regulated. Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, safe, reliable. 25c. at all druggists.

Get all You can

Some say that the hypophosphites alone are sufficient to prevent and cure consumption, if taken in time. Without doubt they exert great good in the beginning stages; they improve the appetite, promote digestion, and tone up the nervous system. But they lack the peculiar medicinal properties and the fat found in cod-liver oil. The hypophosphites are valuable, and the cod-liver oil is valuable.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites contains both of these in the most desirable form. The oil is thoroughly emulsified; that is, partly digested. Sensitive stomachs can bear an emulsion when the raw oil cannot be retained. As the hypophosphites, the medicinal agents in the oil, and the fat itself are each good, why not have the benefit of all?

SCOTT'S EMULSION has been indorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. (Ask your doctor.) This is because it is always palatable—always uniform—always contains the purest Norwegian Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Put up in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes. The small size may be enough to cure your cough or help your baby. All druggists.

Just as Good is not SCOTT'S EMULSION.

W. L. & J. M. Smalley,

—DEALERS IN—

HIGH GRADE

Meats,

& Meat Specialties

Beef, Lamb, Mutton, Veal and Pork Poultry and Game in season.

94 Somerset st., Plainfield N. J.

Telephone Call 42-B.

NOTICE.

Special Reductions

—AT—

Neuman Bros.

on fancy brands goods. Full quart bottles table oil 60c, finest quality; whole canned ox tongue 45c; lunch tongue, whole, 25c; a special reduction given on Curtis' strawberry and assorted jams, 16c; fresh roasted coffees received every week, quality unexcelled.

NEUMAN BROS.

What! $30.00?

Yes, thirty dollars will buy a piano, in first-class condition, at

W. R. BROKAW'S

Piano Parlors, 311 Madison ave.

Tuning and regulating a specialty

Advertised Letters.

Plainfield, February 10, 1896.

Adams J H	Leonard A W
Barton A J	Neugem Agnes Miss
Codington B	McMann Thos
Duchene E Miss	Moore Elmer
Feil A F S	McEvoy Kate J 3
Fisk Clinton B	McKeef Lara Mrs
Hustner Jno	Palmberg Elen Miss 2
Johnson Charlie	Perine Chas
Johnson Hilder Miss	Prentiss S S
Kline Mellie Miss	Storme G W
King T P 2	Snediker Dare

Holiday Millinery Goods.

MRS. L. ADAMS,

114 EAST FRONT STREET,

Opp. First National Bank.

Dressmaking and Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns.

S. D. FRAZEE,

DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF

FRESH FISH.

Fresh every day. Terms cash. Goods delivered.

230 Park ave., 'ooo. North ave

Music furnished for all occasions.

California IN

THREE DAYS

without change of cars. All meals served in dining cars. Palace drawing-room sleeping cars and tourist sleepers are run through to San Francisco and Los Angeles without change, leaving Chicago daily via

THE NORTH-WESTERN LINE

Through Tourist sleeping cars Chicago to California daily and personally conducted excursions every Thursday. Variable route tourist tickets at

VERY LOW RATES.

Detailed information and descriptive pamphlets will be mailed free on application to W. B. Kniskern, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago. Agents of connecting lines sell tickets via the

Chicago & North Western Railway,

or address: H. A. Gross, G. E. P. A., 423 Broadway, New York, or T. P. Vaille, S. E. P. A., 112 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

FOR GIFTS and LIGHT buy "MILLER" LAMPS

Elegant designs (a thousand styles), beautiful finishes, and the best lamp made—up-to-date in every respect. Call and see it, also our Fine Brass and Onyx Tables. Buy only "Miller" lamps from dealers. We have been manufacturers since 1844.—made "The Rochester" Lamp.

EDWARD MILLER & CO., 28 & 30 WEST BROADWAY, (66 Park Pl.) bet. Park Pl. & Barclay St., N. Y.

Convenient to all "down-town" Ferries, and Elevated Stations at Park Place and Barclay St.

For Cool Weather buy a "MILLER" OIL HEATER.

FOR SALE BY W. L. GAVETT & CO.

Freshest Oysters

will be found at

Rogers' Sea-Food Market.

THE HALLET & DAVIS PIANOS

Have stood the test of over fifty-five (55) years

and are not surpassed by any in the world. Prices, $300 and upwards. Our special 3-year payment plan makes purchase easy. We have other makes of new pianos at $200. Good squares at $75, and we give a full 5-year warranty with everything we sell. Old instruments taken in exchange. Send for illustrated catalogue giving full information.

The Tway Piano Co.,

88 FIFTH AVE.,

near 14th st., New York.

"Tway's Musical Guest," containing 8 pages of music, interesting reading matter and theatrical news, mailed free on application. 10 3 6m

COAL

F. W. HAND,

132 North avenue.
929 South avenue.
197 North avenue.
Telephone No. 139

Putnam & DeGraw

THIS WEEK WE WILL SELL

SHIRT WAISTS—Ladies laundered shirt waists only 50c.
UMBRELLAS—Fast black, Paragon frame, only 75c.
HOSIERY—Children's 1x1 rib, extra quality, all sizes, 15c; ladies fast black seamless, extra quality, at 10, 15 and 25c; men's mixed half hose, extra quality 10c, 3 for 25c; men's mixed half hose, seamless, extra heavy, 15c, 2 for 25 cents.
WAISTS—Children's corded underwaists 25c; children's outing flannel waists 50c style for 40c.
NECKWEAR—A new and special line at 25 and 50c.
EMBROIDERIES—Our's are the talk of the city.
COTTON CREPONS—Evening shades at 12 and 15c a yard.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 WATCHUNG AVE.,

—DEALERS IN—

Lumber, Coal Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement for Walls and Ceilings.

Leech, Stiles & Co.,

EYE SPECIALISTS,

1413 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa.

Formerly with Queen & Co. H. A. Stiles will be at

107 East Front Street

Dunham's real estate office,

EVERY THURSDAY

from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Skilful attention given to all cases of eye strain, headache, etc. No charge for examination. All glasses guaranteed.

Bargains in Real Estate

For sale or to let.

MONEY to loan on first mortgage.

E. C. Mulford,

No. 169 North avenue.
Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.

BROKER.

Communications pertaining to the business mentioned, either by letter or otherwise, will receive prompt attention. Carriage service supplied.

THE
Bee Hive

Men's Unlaundered Shirts.

Lot 1—The Cast Iron Shirt, made of good heavy muslin, good 3 ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, patent facings, 38c.
Lot 2—New York mills muslin, 3-ply, fine linen bosoms, reinforced front and back, patent facing, 48c.
Lot 3—Our New York mills shirt, made of New York mills muslin, 2 and 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, continuous facings and hand-made button holes, equal to the best custom-made shirt, 69c.
Boys' unlaundered shirts 38 cts. Laundered shirts 50c, 75c and $1.

Louis Callman,
222 West Front st.

CLEANER COAL.
L. A. Rheaume
Agent,
Watchung Ave., Corner 4th St.,

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

Upper Lehigh and Honeybrook Coal
in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

Rough and Dressed Lumber.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for turning and scroll sawing, and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner and at short notice.

H. Eggerding,
121 Park ave.,
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars

CODDINGTON'S
Furniture and Freight
EXPRESS.
Offices 24 West Front st; 33 Park ave. Post-office box 329. Piano moving a specialty. Large covered trucks; goods sent to any part of the country; charges reasonable; satisfaction guaranteed

PLAINFIELD SEMINARY
re-opened
SEPTEMBER 19, 1895.
(28th year.) Miss E. E. Kenyon, Principal.

Finest Assortment
of Lace, Celluloid and Card
Valentines
in the city.
HARPER'S,
411 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.

W. N. Pangborn,
LICENSED AUCTIONEER.
Residence, 33 Linden Ave.
Personal attention. Prompt service.
1 14 tf

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter, 22c.
Best Dairy Butter 18c.
V. L. FRAZEE
151 West Front st.

William Hand & Son.
STAGES
For Picnics and Parties, 518 Park ave.

GEO J. TOBIN,
187 North Avenue.
Practical Plumber.
Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply: testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer.
Telephone Call 158a

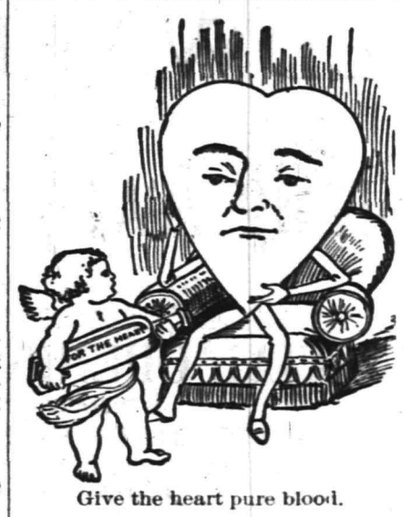
TOWNSEND'S
Marble and Granite Works,
SOMERSET STREET.
Our motto—Good work, good material at fair prices.

THE GRANDVIEW
Meat Market.
George Egel, Manager.
Dealer in Fresh and Salted Meats. Game in season. Orders called for and delivered promptly. Cor. Grandview ave. and Somerset street. 6 12 tf

Special Sale
—OF—
Muslins
SATURDAY ONLY.

Fruit of Loom, Hill Lonsdale and other standard brands, 10 yards 65c.
The best brands unbleached muslins at 6 cents per yard.
Good quality in bleached and unbleached at 5 cents per yard.
The standard brands of white sheetings at lower prices than quoted elsewhere.

LEDERER'S.



Give the heart pure blood.
Randolph's
Sarsaparilla,
A great blood cleanser.
Only 50c Per Bottle.
L. W. RANDOLPH,
Prescription Druggist,
143 West Front st.

PIANOS.
You can buy the best in the market at Factory Prices, at
J. C. DYER'S, 218 WEST FRONT ST.

New Fish Market,
125 Park Ave.

E. P. THORN
solicits a share of the public patronage. First quality
Fish, Oysters, Clams, &c
TERMS CASH. 11 7 tf

See Our Name,
Take Our Number,
Call and See Our Goods.
Woolston & Buckle,
141 and 145 North ave.

Eagle Meat Market,
35 Somerset Street.
Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Orders called for and delivered free of charge.
C. ARNOLD, Prop.

Miss Fawcett's School
And Kindergarten,
25 WASHINGTON AVENUE.
North Plainfield, N. J.
Re-opened Thursday, Sept. 12.
Primary, Intermediate and Academic Dept's. Boys received until 10 years of age.

FISCHER PIANOS.
56 YEARS ESTABLISHED.
GRAND AND UPRIGHT.
Nearly 100,000 Manufactured.
EASY TERMS. EXCHANGED.
REASONABLE PRICES.
FISCHER PIANO WAREROOMS,
110 Fifth Ave., cor. 16th St., N. Y.
Write for Catalogue.

Always Open is Leggett's Pharmacy in Y.M.C.A. Buildiug

A. Lusardi,
120 North Ave.,
will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c a qt. Branch store, corner Front and Somerset streets.

P. MARKEY, Bakery,
144 PARK AVENUE.
A full assortment of bread, cakes, and pies fresh every day. Fig and malt bread a specialty. 2 17 tf

Carpenters and Builders.
JOHN P. EMMONS,
Mason and Builder,
Washington avenue and Prospect place,
North Plainfield, N. J
Jobbing promptly attended to.

PEARSON & GAYLE.
Carpenters and Builders.
Residence—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine st. H. E. Gayle, No. 18 Vine st.
All work promptly attended to.

GEO. W. STUDER,
Carpenter and Builder.
985 Arlington avenue.
Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given, charges reasonable.

C. W. LINES.
Mason and Builder,
Plainfield, N. J.
Residence, 18 Elm place.
Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to

HOTEL Grenada,
NORTH AVENUE.
Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.

CITY HOTEL,
Plainfield, N. J.
Corner Park avenue and Second street.
J. E. Beerbower, Prop
Stables attached

PROSPECT HILL Must Be Sold.
Azalias, Chinese primrose, palms, ferns, begonias and variety of blooming plants. Wedding decorations and floral designs and all equipments for church and house decorations. Southern smilax at 15 days notice
AT DENTON'S.

No Place Like Home

on Christmas day. No day like Christmas at home. Christmas will be merrier the more home like the home. Our great holiday sale of wall paper should attract all whose houses need papering.
Marsh, Ayers & Co.

BE STRONG AND HEARTY.
How to Be Strong and Full of Life and Vigor.

If you starved for two days you would feel as weak as a cat.
Proof enough that your food is the cause of you strength.
If your stomach is sick your starving away your strength. Slowly perhaps, but none the less surely.
You feel it yourself.
You have nausea, loss of appetite, headache, giddiness, pain in the stomach, loss of strength, spirits and ambition.
What do you think? That its your head?
But it's not. It's simply your stomach.
Food is strength. Stomach makes it available. If stomach won't work, food does not become available strength.
Shaker Digestive Cordial will, in a few doses, make your stomach well and help your food make you strong.
Who wouldn't be strong? Whoever won't take Shaker Digestive Cordial.
Sick, tired, weary men and women, those who are working their bodies and brains too hard, will find relief and strength in Shaker Digestive Cordial.
It makes strength. It makes health. It makes happiness.
It's not an ordianry medicine, it's a cordial.
It's pleasant to take, and more than pleasant in its results.
For sale by all druggists at 10, 25, 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle.

Van Emburgh & SON.
Corner Store, Babcock Building.
We work for the GOOD WILL as well as the patronage of our customers.
Our prices are plain blunt arguments.

New Spring Flanelettes, 10c. yd.
Spring colors in Figured Valours, 12c yd.
New Mourning Sateens, 12c yd
New spring figured Cambrics, 12c yard.
We are the people for nice Outings, 10c. yd.
Boys' Derby Ribbed Hose, 10c., 15c., 18c. pair.
Plain colors, Windsor Ties 10c.
Extra Wind Windsor Ties. 25c.
Extra size Windsor Ties, (hemstitched, 50c. each.
Our Corset Covers are selling at 15c, 19c, 25c, 30c, 42c, 54c, 59c, 72c, 89c each.
P. N Corsets, perfect fit, 50c. 75c, $1.00 pair.
2 Turkish Bath Towels for 19c.
Roll Tape, all widths, 2c. each.
Attachable Corset Clasps, 5c pair.
Attachable Corset Clasps, (cork protector) 8c. pair.
Japanned Dress Steels, 5c. dozen.
Covered Dress Steels, 6c. set.
Safety Pins, all sizes, 3c. dozen.
Tooth Brushes, good ones, 5c. each
Fast Black Darning Cotton, 2c. ball
Zephyr Worsted, all colors, 4c. lop
100 yards Best Spool Silk, black and colors, 7c. Spool.

Read Sheeting Muslins. Read

1	yard wide,	bleached,	6c.	yard.
1 1-8	yards wide,	"	6 1-2c.	"
1 1-4	"	"	7 1-2c.	"
1 1-2	"	"	11c.	"
1 3-4	"	"	13c.	"
2	"	"	14 1-2c	"
2 1-4	"	"	16c.	"
2 1-2	"	"	17 1-2c	"

VAN EMBURGH & SON,
UNION
Meat Market,
IS THE PLACE
where you can buy during Lent all kinds of Smoked Fish, Salt and Pickled Herring. Imported Cheese of all kinds. Russian Caviar. Try the Waldorf Cheese. Imported and Domestic Sardines. Native Steers sold only at low prices. Jersey Lamb, Veal, Mutton, Pork. Turkeys and Chickens always on hand. My Sausage can't be beat. Genuine Philadelphia Scrapple and Taylor's Hams. Headquarters for Bologna and Delecatessen.
A. G. Vogeler.
131 West Front st.

Edwin B. Maynard,
Hair Cutting and Shampooing.
Tonsorial parlor, 204 Park ave., Plainfield. Ladies' shampooing and children's hair cutting a specialty.

DUNRAVEN EXPELLED

Suffers Disgrace at the Hands of the New York Yacht Club.

ONLY ONE VOTE AGAINST EXPULSION

Yachtsmen Considered That He Was Given Ample Time To Apologize and Refused To Wait for the Arrival of His Letter of Resignation.

New York, Feb. 28.—Windham Thomas Wyndham-Quin, fourth earl of Dunraven and Mount Earl, better known as the Earl of Dunraven, last night suffered the disgrace of being expelled from honorary membership in the New York Yacht club, the oldest organization of its kind in America. The action had been contemplated by the club for some time past, but it was only the exertion of the strongest influences by certain members that saved his lordship from being summarily expelled months ago. The action of the yacht club last night was taken because Lord Dunraven, they believed, had had sufficient time to either apologize or resign. Word had reached the club late yesterday afternoon that his lordship's resignation was on its way from London, having been mailed on February 19, but did not catch a steamer until Saturday, February 22, when it was included in the Britannic's mail. The yachtsmen, however, had had enough delay, and refused to consent to further delay. Consequently, upon motion of Capt. L. Case Ledyard, Lord Dunraven was expelled from honorary membership in the club by a vote of 39 to 1. Voting members of the yacht club are the members owning yachts.

Stands by His Charges.

The meeting being a special one, only business pertaining to the Dunraven question was discussed and Secretary Oddie immediately proceeded to read the different letters which had passed between Lord Dunraven and members of the club. First he read Dunraven's letter to E. J. Phelps. In it Dunraven said:

"The attitute of assisting the inquiry as a witness and not as prosecutor, which in the nature of the case I had to adopt and which I have consistently maintained, prevents me from presuming to accept or reject or to criticize, affirmatively or negatively, the committee's report officially. But, in view of the many misunderstandings which have occurred, I have felt myself justified in writing to you, as I should be sorry if you or the committee misunderstood my silence, and in saying a few words to which you may give such publicity as you may think fit or necessary. My complaint was made in good faith on the direct evidence of the eyesight of my own and competent men as to the effects or cause of which they did not know or attempt to define. It will in my opinion be impossible to find stronger reasons upon which action could be taken or as justification for a complaint of like nature to that which I most reluctantly made, and I am therefore unable to agree that the complaint was unreasonably originated. I cannot admit that there was a mistake in the observed facts, as suggested by the employment of calculations which were accepted by the committee as mathematically proving that we did not see the actual objects which we did see. The only time for absolute proof or disproof of the claim that the Defender did not sail the race on Sept. 7 under her measured load water line length must have been on the day of the race. My conduct after the first race and my attitude toward the inquiry when I offered to go to New York and before the inquiry when I was present in New York show my belief in that proposition, a proposition which, in my opinion, was self evident and I think admitted in evidence by members of the cup committee. Feeling as I do upon this point, I was unable to adopt toward the judgment of your committee the attitude which I should unhesitatingly have taken had the inquiry been conducted at the proper time by the authority under which I sailed, to which I made my complaint, and whose decision I was bound to accept. I fully realized the difficulty of the situation which had arisen, I think largely through mutual misunderstanding and on the evidence before them. I most willingly accept the main conclusions of your committee and am only too glad to consider the dispute closed."

Thankful for Courtesies Received.

The second is dated Feb. 8 and is addressed to Geo. L. Rives, honorary secretary of the special committee:

"I beg to ackvowledge receipt of a copy of the report of the proceedings of the special committee of inquiry of the New York Yacht club and trust that you will express to the members of the committee my appreciation of the courtesies and patience with which the conduct of so difficult an inquiry has been marked."

The third letter read was addressed to J. V. S. Oddie and was as follows:

Tenders His Resignation.

"In supplementing my cablegram and letter of Feb. 14, I wish to emphasize the fact that my letters to Messrs. Rives and Phelps were written and dispatched before I had heard of the motion of Capt. Ledyard. Without commenting upon the grounds or terms of the motion, as to the justice of which I do not agree, I wish to say, in view of the fact that a motion of such a nature has been made and is a matter of record, I do not desire to remain a member of the club, no matter what the result of the motion may be. I therefore beg that you will lay my resignation before the club, a course which will probably be approved by a majority of the members."

Dunraven's Latest Misstatement.

A letter from the members of the late commission which investigated Dunraven's charges, replying to and enclosing the letter received by Mr. Phelps from Dunraven, was also read. In substance it said: The members of the late committee cannot submit this letter without observing tha Lord Dunraven misstates their report in an important particular. He says that a diagram was "accepted by the committee as mathematically proving that we did not see the actual objects which we did see." It was not denied or doubted that he saw the discharge hole of the bilge pump above the surface of the water on the day before the race, and that it was below the surface of the water on the following day. The fact demonstrated by the evidence and found in this report is, that the hole could not be visible above the water when the vessel was on an even keel and, consequently, that was made visible on the first day by the vessel having a slight list to starboard, the probable cause of which the evidence pointed out."

His Conduct Denounced.

After the reading of these communications, Capt. Ledyard jumped to his feet and asked the unanimous consent of the meeting to the withdrawal of his resolution of February 13, demanding Lord Dunraven's resignation. This was willingly granted. Then Capt. Ledyard read a series of resolutions reciting the charges which Dunraven made and how the earl's communications have shown that he has not accepted the results of this inquiry. "He is still carping, still hedging, still evading and still insisting that he saw with his eyes what we all known that he never did see, and what has been conclusively proved to have been impossible. It further appears that in print and in public speech Lord Dunraven has sought to justify the making of the charge by numerous misrepresentations of fact. The representatives of this club engaged in the international yacht races with Lord Dunraven as the representative of English yachtsmen, upon the footing of mutual confidence and honor. He has requitted their courtesy and confidence by distrust, suspicion, unfounded imputations of fraud and a refusal of reparation. Lord Dunraven by his course has forfeited the high esteem which led to his election as an honorary member of this club, therefore, resolved that he be expelled from membership." The resolutions were carried, as above stated, by a vote of 39 to. Chester C. Monroe, owner of the Oriva, was the man who voted "no." His action was a matter of regret to the yachtsmen as they had hoped to stigmatize Dunraven by unanimously throwing him out of the club. Mr. Monroe's course was heartily condemned by the members, who generally referred to him in uncomplimentary terms.

FRED BRISTOL DEAD.

Consumption Carries Off One of the Rome Boy Train Wreckers.

Utica, N. Y., Feb. 28.—Fred Bristol, one of the four boys indicted Wednesday for murder in the first degree for causing the deaths of two men by wrecking a New York Central train near Rome, died of consumption at the jail in this city yesterday afternoon.

Where Filibusters Might Land.

Baltimore, Feb. 28.—The Monumental Fruit company's steamer Brixham, Captain Durrie, has arrived from Gibara, Cuba. She left the Cuban port last Friday. Capt. Durrie says all was quiet at Gibara. The people were pursuing peaceful vocations and did not seem to manifest much interest in the revolution. He saw no Spanish gunboats anywhere about the island and said a filibustering expedition could land at Gibara without the least trouble or interference.

Buffalo Lithographers on Strike.

Buffalo, Feb. 28.—The lithographic artists of Buffalo to the number of seventy-five, and composing a majority of those employed in this city, have gone out on strike in obedience of an order of the Artists' Protective association. The men demand forty-four hours work per week at the present rate of wages.

Horribly Mangled and Killed.

Corry, Pa., Feb. 28.—By the bursting of a batting saw in the pail factory yesterday afternoon Fred Moffit, 22 years of age, was horribly mangled and killed.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Wheat—Spot higher, checking trade. February, 75½c.; March, 75½c.; May, 73½c.

Corn—Spot held firmly, but dull. February, 37c.; May, 36⅝c.

Oats—Spot steady; light demand. February, 26¼c.; March, 25⅝c.; May, 26c.

Pork—Spot steady at easy prices. Extra prime nominal, short clear, $11.50@$12.50; family, $10.75@$11.00; mess, $10.25@$10.75.

Lard—Contracts steady, but dull. May, $5.77.

Butter—With firm advices from many points and continued light arrivals, prices show improvement. Creamery, western extras, 22c. State and Pennsylvania, seconds to best, 16@19½c., creamery, western, seconds to firsts, 16@20½c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, fancy, 18c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, seconds to firsts, 10½@13c.

Cheese—High grades are now held firmly with demand good. State, full cream, large size, September colored, choice, 10¾c.; September white fancy, 9@10¼c.; large common to choice, 7½@10c.

Eggs—Arrivals are still liberal with only a light demand for the finest western at 12½c. State and Pennsylvania declined to 12½c., while southern were barely sustained at 12c.

Potatoes—Offers liberal for choice grade; demand slow; fair supply; market quiet. State Burbank, per 180 pounds, 65@75c., and state rose and Hebron, per 180 pounds, 85c.@$1.10.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

Published Daily, except Sunday, at 3:30 p. m.

108 North avenue. Telephone Call 61.

PLAINFIELD N. J., FEB. 28, 1896.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Threatning Weather Tonight, Saturday Showers and Colder.

At 2 o'Clock Leggett's Thermometer Registered 54 Degrees.

COMING EVENTS.

Announcements of all meetings, etc., will be made in this column, free of charge, if copy is furnished by 10 a. m.

February 29—Capt. Jack Crawford in Crescent Avenue church chapel at 8 p. m.
March 2—Stated meeting of Union County Branch of State Charities Aid Association in All Souls church at 8 p. m.
March 2—Star Course entertainment in Y. M. C. A. hall.
March 2—Common Council and Board of Education meet.
March —Registry Boards in North Plainfield meet.

Assemblyman Reed gains the attention of the House of Assembly whenever he speaks.—Unionist-Gazette.

Weather Prophet Devoe is good at making predictions. But the atmospheric conditions which follow are not usually indicative of his truthfulness. According to his weather eye we should be in the midst of a blizzard today, but instead a veritable Indian summer breeze makes the air balmy as a May day.

The Somerville Unionist-Gazette advises the Somerset County Board of Freeholders to employ an engineer to superintend the erection of new bridges made necessary by the flood the first of the month. Where an expenditure of $40,000 is involved it would seem that the idea would be an economical one in the end.

If, as reports now seem to indicate, the trolley road is built from Elizabeth to this city, the volume of trade which comes to local merchants would be greatly increased. Even with equal transit facilities to Elizabeth it is most probable that the trade of Westfield and Cranford would come to Plainfield. The merchants in this city have demonstrated that they are the most progressive of any in towns of this size in New Jersey, and there is but little doubt but what they can successfully compete with Elizabeth dealers. The extension of the trolley would be a good thing for Plainfield.

The House Committee on Railroads and Canals gave a public hearing in the Assembly Chamber yesterday afternoon on the so-called Equal Taxation bill, which was introduced in the Legislature at the instance of citizens of Jersey City. The bill provides for an increase in the taxation on railroad property, the main portion of the benefit from the increase going to the communities in whose domain the property is situated. Jersey City has a net public debt of $16,000,000, and claims that if the railroads paid what they should the tax burdens of her citizens would be lighter. Several railroad men spoke in opposition to the measure, and the hearing was adjourned until next Tuesday night.

Scotch Plains.

Mrs. Hart, an old resident, is seriously ill at her home.

W. S. Corey, of Castleton, N. Y., is visiting friends in the place.

Sheriff Kyte and Judge Clark have returned from a trip to Canada and Niagara Falls.

Miss Emma Clark, who has been visiting friends in Bound Brook and New Market, has returned home.

It is reported that Tim Toolan, the Scotch Plains barber, can shave and cut a man's hair in six minutes.

John Hunter, who has been very sick for some time, is able to be out again but not well enough to take up his old position with F. R. Clark, which is now filled by E. L. Humes.

New Market.

Mr. White, who has been visiting in town, has returned home to Red Bank.

Charles Rogers is entertaining his friend, Dr. Turner, of Elizabeth, for a few days.

Miss Annie Haynes, of New Brunswick, is spending a few days with relatives in town.

Mr. Stevens has returned home to Newark after a few days visit with his brother, Eblie Stevens.

How Are Your Kidneys?

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills

are endorsed by physicians and druggists. They cause the kidneys to filter all uric acid and other poisons or impurities from the blood.

Cure Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Anaemia, Pimples, Bad Blood, Bright's Disease, Malaria, Backache, Kidney Pains, Dropsy, Pain in the Abdomen, Frequent Urination, Inflammation of Kidneys, etc.

"I Think Your Formula a Good One."

In reply to your favor of the 9th I can say that as far as the sample you sent me went the two patients I prescribed for had but one fault to find with the Sparagus Kidney Pills. "There were not enough of them." My patients in the trial being ladies, I told them they should have more, which I have already prescribed. I think your formula is a good one and shall try it to the end. Edward Leon, M. D., 1461 H. ave., Washington, D.C.

Fifty cents a box. A Valuable Book Mailed free Hobbs Medicine Co., Chicago or San Francisco.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Josie Fritz, of Somerset street, is stopping with friends in Brooklyn.

Ferdinand Lissignolo is home from Bethlehem, Pa., where he attends school.

Mrs. Peter Van Fleet, of East Third street, has recovered from her recent illness.

Mrs. Saums, of East Second street, has almost recovered from her recent illness.

Miss Ethel Horton, of Westervelt avenue, is the guest of New York friends.

Miss Marguerite Coriell has returned from a short visit with Rahway friends.

James Blair and family have moved from East Fifth street to Jackson avenue.

Miss Nettie Krietling, of West Front street, is visiting relatives in New York.

Miss A. T. Faber, of Willow avenue, is spending a few days with friends in New York.

L. W. Randolph, the druggist, and Mrs. Randolph, left for Philadelphia this morning.

Wm. Dunn, of West Fourth street and Central avenue, is confined to the house by illness.

James Coddington, of Mt. Horeb, has returned home after visiting Plainfield friends.

Miss Susie M. Thompson, of Saco, Maine, is visiting Mrs. Arthur Crane, of Carleton avenue.

Mrs. Kiederling, of East Front street, is improving from a severe attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. George F. Randolph, of West Front street, continues to improve from her recent accident.

Miss Fanny Vail, of Orange, has returned home after an enjoyable visit with friends in Plainfield.

Miss Hammond, of Easton, is a guest at the home of C. T. Nightingale, of Sandford avenue.

Mrs. Vanderhoff and her daughter, Miss Mabel Vanderhoff, of East Front street, have returned from Newark.

Miss Lillian Livingstone, of Somerset street, will spend tomorrow and Sunday in New York with relatives.

Howard Manning, of West Front street, left Plainfield today for Philadelphia, where he will visit friends.

Mrs. Charles Hodge, of Finderne, spent Wednesday night at the home of Peter Hodge, of Plainfield avenue.

Miss Ethel Conkey, of Saratoga, is visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. French, on West Fourth street.

Mrs. L. E. Barkalew, of Lincoln place, wife of Freeholder Barkalew, is convalescing from a three weeks' illness.

Miss Clara Force, of East Front street, has returned from New York where she has been entertained by friends.

Miss Marion S. Simpson, of New ark, Del., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs Charles W. McCutchen, of Rockview avenue.

Miss Cora Laire, of East Fifth street, returned yesterday from Annandale where she has been the guests of relatives.

Mrs. T. H. May, of the borough, who is visiting friends in New York for the past few days, is expected home today.

Mrs. Lowry, of Dunellen, has returned home after a few days visit with her son, Clark Lowry, on West Second street.

Flora Case, of Ringoes, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. H. W. Angleman, of East Fourth street, has returned home.

Mrs. Meeker, of Watchung avenue, mother of Street Commissioner R. A. Meeker, is very much improved from her recent illness.

Miss Carrie Coombs, of Linden avenue, is visiting relatives at Bordentown. Miss Coombs will be absent until about April 1st.

Miss Evona Smith and Alphonso Smith, of Brooklyn, will spend Sunday at the home of Chas. B. Clifton, of West Second street.

Mr. Allen, an employe at the Pond Tool Works, has received word of the death of his father, who resides at Belvidere, Warren county.

Miss Emma Hines, of Brooklyn, who has been the guest of Miss Luella Mills, of East Fifth street, returned to her home yesterday afternood.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ten Eyck, who have been residing at Garwood, will soon take up their residence on South avenue, near Scott's press works.

Rev. George Hauser, the pastor of the German Reformed church, of Craig place, is ill with the grip at his home corner of Duer street and Park place.

Henry S. Mason, of East Sixth street, who has been seriously ill, has recovered sufficiently to be able to go out, and his many friends were glad to see him yesterday.

It not only is so, it must be so, One Minute Cough Cure acts quickly, and that's what makes it go. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front S

"Pure and Sure."

Cleveland's BAKING POWDER

"Finding Cleveland's baking powder to be really the best, I recommended it in Common Sense in the Household' and now use it exclusively." May 5, 1894.

MARION HARLAND, Author of "Common Sense in the Household."

THEATRICAL.

Miss Renard and her supporting company were received last night at the opera house in a manner which must have been extremely gratifying to them and their managers. There were frequent bursts of enthusiastic applause during the action of the play and these were of the most spontaneous sort in every instance. Indeed it would be well-nigh impossible for a performance to receive a more unqualified and energetic indorsement from any audience. The play presented, "Ingomar," is a beautiful and highly finished one, and a great stock favorite—the oftener seen the more attractive; it is of absorbing interest from beginning to end, and the presentation of it was a highly succeseful one.—Bridgeton, N. J. News. This attraction will appear at Music Hall two nights, Feb. 28th and 29th, with a matinee Saturday. Prices—15, 25, 35. Matinee, 10 cents to everybody.

Next Tuesday night Cosgrove & Grant's comedians in "The Dazzler" will be seen at Music Hall. Although an annual visitor to this city for a number of years past, "The Dazzler" has never worn out its welcome, and this season it is confidentially expected that it will be received with renewed favor. The piece has been rewritten and the story itself is now one of the very cleverest that is in use for farce comedy purposes. The list of names, including as it does, Lottie Burke, Raymond Finlay, Ida Marie Rodgers, Bobby Ralston, the Schuman sisters, Will West, and Max Miller, shows that the company is quite up to its former strength in that department, if not a little better than ever before. Entirely new wardrobe and music throughout is promised, and with the success that Messrs Cosgrove & Grant have had in the past in hitting the popular taste with their bright farce comedy and especially pleasing performances, may be expected on next Tuesday evening, with all these changes and additions for the better.

It has been very well said that "Hamlet" may be acted in a barn and the genius of Shakespeare fully comprehended, but if anything for stage purposes were ever devised where scenic arrangements were necessary to illustrate dramatic possibilities, Shakespeare conceived it in a "Midsummer Night's Dream." There have been a number of notable revivals of it in the land that gave it birth but in this country, not in a quarter of a century has there been any serious attempt to put it on the stage with appropriate paraphernalia and to have it appropriately acted, until Augustine Daly saw fit to give it the benefit of his masterful stage craft, his indomitable study and perseverance. His production of the play at his New York Theatre three seasons ago was not only a surprise to the public, but even to those gentlemen of the press whose duty it is seemingly to even pick flaws in the snowflake. Subsequently, when Mr. Daly produced it at his London Theatre, it became the success of the season. In securing this performance no money was spared and certainly it appeared that a profound poetic fancy was linked to the managerial enterprise that carried it out. It was not to be doubted that, in this country at least, could "Midsummer Night Dream" have so deft a handling, so delicate a recital, as Mr. Daly gave it. In presenting this etherial comedy here with all its original scenery and musical accompaniment, under the direction of Mr. Daly with his best resources, there is most assuredly a treat in store for such of us who are theatre goers and for those who are not and who make pretentious of being students, this chance to realize the profitability of Shakespeare ought not to be lost. "A Midsummer Night's Dream" will be given here at Music Hall on the evening of Monday.

Messrs. Primrose & West are now in their twenty-fifth year as copartners in business; the longest period of any two allied acting managers in America, if not in the world, bearing that honorable distinction. They are to be congratulated on such a long and successful reign. They are still young men, full of ambition and energy, and are always alert to the fact that the amusement-loving public must get the worth of their money, and are now carrying with them the largest minstrel company in the world.

"Give me a liver regulator and I can regulate the world," said a genius. The druggists handed him a bottle of DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

J. VanEps, of Park avenue, is ill at his home.

Mrs. George W. Squires, of Somerset street, is confined to the house by illness.

J. P. Emmons, of Prospect place, is out again after an attack of the measles.

David Smalley, Jr., of East Sixth street, is suffering from an attack of the measles.

Miss Mabel Benner, of Orchard place, entertained a few friends at her home last evening.

John Wilcox, of Hebard's pharmacy, is confined to his home on Central avenue with illness.

William Cory, formerly of Fanwood, but now of Cartleton, N. Y., is today the guest of Chief T. O. Doane.

A party of Plainfield young people will be the guests of Miss Daisy Koester, of Westfield, tonight.

Miss Belle Lewis, stenographer in the law offices of Judge DeMeza, is ill at her home on Somerset street.

Miss Mabel Woodruff, of East Second street, has returned from Philadelphia, where she has been the guest of Miss Eva Taylor.

Mrs. C. E. Beeman, of Westfield, and Mrs. A. M. Smith, of Brooklyn, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Townsend, on Coddington avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Y. Martin, of Centreville, Hunterdon county, is visiting at the home of Mr. Martin's brother, G. S. Martin, of LaGrande avenue.

A. I. Smalley and S. B Wheeler returned last evening from North Carolina. They report a heavy fall of snow while stoping there, but it only remained two days.

Dunellen.

D. Aller, of Front street, is entertaining his father from Bound Brook.

Miss Nellie VanRiker, of Brooklyn, is visiting among friends on Front street.

The Progressive Euchre Club have postponed their meeting on account of the week of prayer.

Mr. Hamilton has returned home to Somerville after a visit with John Huff, of North avenue.

Miss Maud Bolton, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Harmon, has returned home to Somerville.

Miss Eva Bodine, of Bayonne, has returned home from a pleasant visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Bodine, of Church street.

The revival meetings which are being held in the Presbyterian church every afternoon at 3 o'clock are well attended and much good is coming from them.

She Cost Him Money.

Mrs. Rhinestone—My daughter is a girl who likes to be well treated.

Van Waffles—Yes, I have noticed that every time I have taken her out.—N. Y. Recorder.

Danger in Misapprehension.

Miss Kittish—Mr. Spudds is quite a reserved gentleman.

Miss Flypp—Yes, but you needn't think he's reserved for you. I've decided to marry him myself.—To Date.

Ne Plus Ultra.

Brown—Ever see such a quarrelsome character as Smith?

Jones—Never. I think he'd provoke a professional pugilist into a fight.—Brooklyn Life.

At the Party.

Miss Maud—What an artless girl Miss Shykes is!

Miss Irene—Yes, dear Minnie has daubed her paint on very carelessly this evening.—Chicago Tribune.

Don't be Foolish and take some other brand of condensed milk, thinking it is "just as good" as the

GAIL BORDEN EAGLE BRAND

It Has No Equal

J. W. Pierce, Republic, Ia., says: "I have used One Minute Cough Cure in my family and for myself, with results so entirely satisfactory that I can hardly find words to express myself as to its merit. I will never fail to recommend it to others, on every occasion that presents itself." L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

HONEYMAN'S PRIVATE TOURS,

181 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Easter week to Washington and Old Point Comfort, June 27, Coaching trip abroad with Switzerland and Italy; August to Gettysburg, Luray, and White Sulphur Springs.

A Wonderful Thing--Values and Prices Meet on the Same Line at Peck's.

THE DALZIEL GRAMMAR, MANUAL AND ART SCHOOL, 309 East Front Street.

IS AN ESTABLISHED SUCCESS.

Free-hand drawing from the Antique, Pen and Ink Sketching, Clay Modeling, Painting, Designing and Mechanical Draughting. Directed by John Dalziel, late Professor of Drawing for Illustration, and Engraving at the Women's School of Design, Philadelphia, Pa.

WE are NOW preparing for Spring and Summer Outdoor Work.

DO NOT THINK

EDWARD LOVE

IS

Giving Away Wall Paper,

But he is doing the next thing to it.
Let him do your spring decorating.

SPECIAL OPENING SALE

SPRING STYLES

HATS, FURNISHINGS AND SHOES.

NEW GOODS AT LOWEST PRICES.

U. B. Crane, 120 West Front street. Chas. Clark.

EDSALL'S

Commercial Palace, Babcock Building.

But few houses in New York city, and none in this part of the state are showing a larger variety of new, fresh, right up to date, reasonable bargains than ours. We employ an expert buyer of long experience, who devotes his time among the manufacturers and importers buying up "closing out lots" and broken stocks at less than half-price; dealing only in new, fashionable goods of the latest and most approved styles. You can always depend on always getting the correct thing of us just the same as if you bought at the most fashionable house in New York. We put on sale

Saturday Morning, 8 O'clock

10C—500 yards cotton moire dress goods, in chamelon effects, exquisite colorings, beautiful designs, silk finish, worth 15c a yard.

SEPERATE SKIRTS.

159 Ladies black brilliantine skirts, (4½ yards wide) lined throughout, full flare, worth 2.59.

PERCALES.

7C—500 yards 36 inch percales in a choice variety of new spring designs worth 11c a yard.

LACE CURTAINS.

45C—Lace curtains in new floral designs, 2½ long, worth 59c.

22C—Ladies' knitted corset covers worth 30c.

12C—Hair brushes worth 19c.

10C—Horn dressing combs worth 16c.

22C—60 inch white table Damask, worth 33c a yard.

BOYS KNEE PANTS.

45C—Boys Navy Serge Knee pants, size 4 to 15 years, double knee worth 69c pair.

5C—Enamel Stick Pins, pretty floral designs, worth 10c.

20C—Triple Extracts, all popular odors, worth 35c.

10C—Silk Ruffle Garter Elastic, in all new colors; worth 25c a yard.

4C—Hair Pins, assorted, (crimped and straight) 80 pins in box, worth 10c.

9C—Cubes of Black Jet Headed Pins and assorted colors (200 pins in cube) worth 15c.

21C—Japanese Crepe Table Covers 27x27 inches, with fringe, worth 35c.

5C—Ladies' White Hemstiched Handkerchiefs, worth 9c.

House Furnishing and China Department in our BIG BASEMENT.

Some of the many things you always need.

Delusion mousetraps, self setting, best trap on the market, 14C

Hard wood folding hat racks, seven hooks, diamond frame, neat and useful, 10C

Coffe pots, hold 3 p't's, 8C

Sheet iron frying pans, 11 inch, 9C

Tea kettles, copper bottoms, 3 quarts, 15C

Glass tumblers, good quality, 25C DOZ.

White iron-stone china cups and saucers, will not craze, 5C

Egg cups only 5C each, six for 28C

Potato knives, good steel, 3C

Stove lifters, never heat, 7C

Chopping knives, double blades, good quality, 4C

GROCERY DEPARTMENT.

Extra fine soda crackers, 5c; condensed milk, 7c; pickles per doz, 8c, butter per pound, 20c; lard per pound, 6c; beans per quart, 8c; peas per quart, 5c.

TO MEN

Who Wear Patent Leather Shoes.

We have just received a nice line of the famous J. & M. make, spring and summer styles, which we guarantee to sell you from one to two dollars a pair less than you will pay for them in New York City.

Drop us a postal and we will send samples to your house for inspection.

Doane & Edsall.

SPORTS

STRIKES AND SPARES.

Three bowling games have been arranged between the Y. M. C. A. team of this city and the Westfield team. They will be rolled next Thursday. This is the second series.

The first and second individual prizes for highest averages in the Standard Bowling League were won respectively by Baker and Love, of the Westfield Athletic Club.

The five-men teams from the Westfield and Rahway Y. M. C. A's met last night on the former's alleys. The scores were low, but the Rahway boys got the lowest, giving Westfield two more victories.

The Elizabeth Journal has the following concerning the windup of the Journal League:

The records made by the teams are particularly creditable. The E. A. C. stands first in every column, and, besides have the honor of record-smashing on their own alleys. Their 1789 will stand for a long time.

There is a difference of 85 pins between the high and low averages, while the Crescents are only 33 behind the E. A. C. The general average is one of the highest ever made, considering the fact that it represents 48 games.

In the individual work, there is a record of which any league might be proud; four teams have 19 men above 150. Karr captured the individual prize, and Vanderveer with 223 has high-man honors.

Tabulated records of the league are given below:

TEAM RECORD.

TEAM.	WON.	LOST.	HIGH SCORE.	AV'GE PINS.	OPPO'TS AV'GE.
E. A. C	8	4	1789	1567.3	1528.4
C. W	7	5	1619	1534.4	1488.2
N. J. A. C	5	7	1671	1523.1	1566.4
C. C. C	4	8	1598	1482.3	1524.0

General average score, 1526.8.

INDIVIDUAL RECORD.

NAME.	GAMES.	HIGH SCORE.	AVE. PINS.
Karr, E. A. C	12	205	174.3
Howard, E. A. C	12	215	169.6
Ogden, E. A. C	8	200	169.1
Blanchard, N.J.A.C	8	190	165.3
Rogers, C. C. C	12	194	162.7
Vanderveer, E. A. C.	11	223	162.5
Wilbur, C. W	11	207	159.8
VanEmburgh, C.W	10	191	159.6
Kelly, C. W	9	173	159.6
Sharp, C. C. C	11	176	158.4
Coleman, N.J.A.C	11	183	157.5
Lewis, N. J. A. C	12	187	157.2
Cooper, N.J.A.C	12	185	156.5
Maltby, C. W	12	186	155.6
Porcella, C. C. C	8	175	155.3
Currie, N.J.A.C	8	194	155.1
Wood, C. C. C	10	185	154.1
Stevenson, C. W	11	186	153.4
VanWinkle, N.J.A.C.	11	200	152.3

AT THE TRAPS.

The Climax Gun Club will hold a monthly club shoot, Tuesday, March 10th.

There is some talk of the Climax Gun Club holding a shooting tournament on Crescent Oval, which will be open to the world.

The March shoot of the New Jersey Trap Shooters League will be held on the grounds of the Climax Gun Club on Thursday, March 12th.

Henry Wiedemeyer, proprietor of the Arlington Hotel, has completed the erection of a large pigeon coop, where the pigeons, intended for the monthly shoots of the Indenpendent Scheutzen Club, will be housed until required. The above club will meet on their grounds on Mountain avenue.

The first tournament of the New Jersey Trap Shooters' League for the season of 1896 took place on the grounds of the Dunellen Gun Club yesterday. Although there are ten clubs in the league only seven were represented at the meeting, the absentees being the Boiling Springs, of Rutherford, the Riversides, of Red Bank, and the Union Hills of Weehawken. The sport began about 11 o'clock with a series of sweepstakes, nine events being on the programme. The weather was almost springlike, but the club grounds are not very well chosen for the making of high scores. The background is a large wood, and the targets thrown in that direction required a lot of good guessing to be scored breaks. The club, being a comparatively new organization, was not well posted in the handling of a large crowd, and some little dissatisfaction was expressed over a few decisions.

The teams of six men from the clubs of the league, twenty-five targets each, known traps and angles, resulted as follows:

South Side Gun Club, of Newark—Isaac H. Terrill, 11; L. Thomas, 15; R. H. Breintnall, 20; C. M. Hedden, 22; Asa Whitehead, 23; E. A. Geoffroy, 17. Total, 108.

Union Gun Club, of Springfield—E. D. Miller, 22; M. Herrington, 18; George H. McAlpin, 15; Dr. T. J. Jackson, 16; T. W. Morfey, 16; E. A. Young, 14. Total, 101.

Maplewood Gun Club, of Maplewood—A. A. Sickley, 20; O. L. Yeomans, 21; E. E. Sickley, 23; W. N. Drake, 19; C. E. Dean, 22; Albert Parry, 18. Total, 125.

Endeavor Gun Club, of Jersey City—Carlvon Lengerke, 19; F. S. Edwards 22; C. Ingram, 18; Al Heritage, 17; G. L. Piercy, 19; Eddie Collins, 15. Total, 110.

Climax Gun Club, of Plainfield—T. H. Keller, 21; C. Smith, 23; L. H. Schortemeir, 17; D. A. Manning, 21; Douglass Darby, 16; Neaf Apgar, 22. Total, 120.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We the undersigned have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transaction and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.

West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggist, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

One Minute Cough Cure touches the right spot. It also touches it at the right time if you take it when you have a cough or cold. See the point? Then don't cough.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U.S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Dunellen Gun Club, of Dunellen—T. H. Brantingham, 22; J. M. Brokaw, 15; C. Henry, 18; Charles Sisty, 12; F. Gray, 13; J. T. Runyon, 15. Total, 95.

Elizabeth Gun Club, of Elizabeth—William M. Parker, 19; N. H. Astfalk, 23; H. E. Folsom, 19; G. Heiny, 17; A. C. Woodruff, 19; R. A. Williams, 21. Total, 118.

There will be an exciting contest at targets on the grounds of the Elizabeth Gun Club next Thursday morning. Astfalk, Parker, Roberts and Woodruff, of the Elizabeth Club; Herrington, Breintnall and Thomas, of the South Sides; T. H. Keller, Schortemeier and Edwards, of the Climax; Dr. Jackson, of the Union, and V. M. Hassinger, of the East Sides, of Newark, will shoot a 100-target race at unknown angles, the losing six men to pay for the targets and suppers.

The regular shoot of the Independent Gun Club will be held next Thursday at Hyde's Grove.

The next State League shoot will be held on the grounds of the Climax Gun Club, Fanwood, next month.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Christian Sorensen and Marcus C. Sorensen, of Webster place, have purchased Cleveland Swell Specials from the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company.

There was a good attendance at the weekly indoor ride of the Plainfield Wheeling Club, held last evening in the Columbia Cycle Academy. The regular bicycle costumes were worn and the academy was a lively place with the crowd of riders, laughing and chatting as they rode, keeping up a never-ending procession. A drill then brought the ride to a close.

The Twentieth Century bicycle head-light, manufactured by the Betts' Light Co., of 10 Warren street, New York, and handled by Hulbert Bros. & Co., of 26 West Twenty-third street, New York, is, from personal experience, the best bicycle lamp made. It is light, being made of aluminum, bronze and nickel, and in addition to presenting a neat and handsome appearance, it throws a blaze of light before a wheel like the locomotive head-light, after which it is named. It burns common kerosene oil, and the breeze has yet to be manufactured that can blow out its flame. With a Majestic bicycle and a Twentieth Century lamp, there's small chance of accidents upon the road, says Edward B. Ryder, of this city, who represents Hulbert Bros. & Co.

BASKET BALL.

The Twenty-third street branch of the Brooklyn Y. M. C. A. defeated the Yale University team last night in the former's gymnasium, by a score of 10 to 9.

Owing to a misunderstanding the basket ball team from the Central Y. M. C. A., of Brooklyn, will not play in Plainfield tomorrow night. No other game has been arranged.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

Ed Campbell and Cornelius Teeple on Wednesday night captured eighteen muskrats.

Leo Smith, so well known in Plainfield as captain and short-stop on the famous Crescent League base-ball team, has signed for the year with the Newark Club in the Atlantic League.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Morgan's beautiful painting "Dreaming," in Truth tomorrow. All newsstands and trains.

—The German Beneficial Society will hold its regular meeting on Monday evening in the Crescent Hotel.

—The regular monthly meeting of the consistory of the German Reformed church will be held on Wednesday evening.

—A large number of invitations are out in this city for a dance to be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Emery, of Dunellen, on March 4th.

—There is at present an epidemic of typhoid and scarlet fever at Liberty Corner and Basking Ridge. Scarcely a home in that vicinity has escaped the dreaded diseases.

—At the services to be held in the Church of the Redeemer, this evening at 8 o'clock, Rev. Harrison B. Wright, the rector of the St. John's church, of will deliver the sermon.

—A sociable will be held in Vincent chapel tonight. All who have cards for the carpet fund are requested to come and bring them or send them. A pleasing programme has been prepared.

A high liver with a torpid liver will not be a long liver. Correct that liver with DeWitt's Little Early Risers, little pills that cure dyspepsia and constipation. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

BLUE AND GRAY.

Gen. Walker's Opposition to the Proposed Parade Causes Much Comment.

New York, Feb. 28.—The general committee in charge of the proposed parade of the veterans of the war of the rebellion does not intend to let the project be defeated by the views of Ivan N. Walker, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. Gen. Walker's statement that the union veterans could not march "with those who fought against the union, clothed in the uniform of a cause that was shot to death by the Grand Army thirty years ago," has aroused much comment. The attempt to hold a parade of the blue and gray will be given up on account it is found not to be feasible. Charles A. Dana, chairman of the general committee on the parade, said today to a reporter, "If the people want to see a parade it will be given. If they do not there will be no parade. There is nothing more to be said."

Walker's Sentiments Disappointing.

Gen. J. J. Garnett, secretary of the committee and organizer of the movement, was in consultation with Mr. Dana yesterday, and a plan of action was decided on. Gen. Garnett said this morning: "We are disappointed over the sentiments of Gen. Walker, but we are forced to recognize that he is only one man, and, so far as we know, expresses only his own opinion. We do not believe that his words are in accord with the general feeling among the Union veterans. Therefore we shall call on all veterans of the war to send to the committee a statement of their willingness to help the movement. If the responses are such as to insure the success of the parade it will be held. We have only the greatest patriotism in mind in advocating such a parade. We want to make a showing of our belief that the old animosities are forgotten, and the people, north and south, are united. I believe there are thousands of veterans on both sides who are in accord with this idea."

MURAD BEY DECLINES.

Sultan Offers Him a Complete Pardon if He Will Quit Attacking Turkey.

London, Feb. 28.—A dispatch from Cairo says that the Sultan has offered to pardon Murad Bey, formerly imperial commissioner of the public debt, and to allow him to return to Constantinople if he will cease to publish attacks upon the sultan and the Turkish government. Murad Bey has rejected the offer and will continue to advocate reforms in the Turkish administration in the Mizan, a journal published in Cairo.

Murad Bey, who belongs to the party of young Turks, who favor a constitutional government for Turkey, fled from Constantinople at the time little Said Pasha took refuge in the British embassy. He went to Cairo, where he has since carried on an active movement in the press against the Turkish government. The porte recently demanded that the Egyptian government surrender him, but, after consultation with Lord Cromer, the British diplomatic agent, this demand was refused. Subsequently he was condemned to death by the Turkish authorities.

VENEZUELA GRATEFUL.

Her Congress Tenders a Vote of Thanks to the United States.

London, Feb. 28.—The Times to-day publishes a dispatch from Caracas saying that the Venezuelan congress has unanimously adopted a vote of thanks to the government and people of the United States for their attitude on the Guiana boundary question. The time allowed by the British government for Venezuela to comply with its demands for the payment of a small indemnity for the arrest of British Police Inspector Barnes expired at midnight Wednesday. Ambassador Bayard paid two visits to the foreign office yesterday, and it is supposed his errends were in connection with the Venezuelan matter, but nothing, of course, is given out.

MACKIN'S AWFUL DEED.

Killed His Wife and Her Mother and Mortally Wounds His Father-in-Law.

Jersey City, Feb. 28.—John Mackin, 32 years old, of 368 Grove street, last night shot and instantly killed Lizzie, his wife, 21 years old, and Mrs. Bridget Connors, aged 54 years, her mother, and mortally wounded Morris Connors, aged 56, his father-in-law.

Present for Cornell's Boat Crew.

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 28.—Edward G. Wyckoff of this city has announced that he will present Cornell university with a building to be used exclusively for the training of crews. The building will be located on the campus and contain a modern rowing tank.

Mrs. Wickes-Ford Sues for Divorce.

St. Louis, Feb. 28.—Mrs. Florence Lillian Wickes-Ford, daughter of Thos. M. Wickes of the Pullman Palace Car company, Chicago, has filed suit for divorce here. The petition is devoid of sensational details and confines its allegation to desertion.

Soothing, healing, cleansing, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the enemy to sores, wounds and piles, which it never fails to cure. Stops itching and burning. Cures chapped lips and cold sores in two or three hours. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

YOUR SCALP! During the heats of summer does it become irritated and invite an occasional friendly scratch? To wash it is well, but not too often, lest your hair become "brash" and stiff. But treat it twice or thrice a week with our Petroleum Hair Tonic---a little rubbed in with your finger ends, and you will find the feeling of comfort and coolness truly delightful. Positively nothing equals it as a balm for the woes of your scalp. Sprinkler bottles 50c. Only at

REYNOLD'S PHARMACY, PARK AND NORTH AVENUES.

RANDOLPH RUNYON,
Funeral Director and Embalmer.
43 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.
Residence over office. 2 24 m

H. DeMott,
Undertaker and Embalmer,
59 Somerset st., Plainfield, N. J.
Calls promptly attended to day or night. White and black hearses. Coaches latest style.

DIED.

TITSWORTH—On Thursday, February 27, 1896, W. Lance Titsworth.
Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend the funeral services at his late residence 518 Watchung avenue, on Sunday, March 1, at 2:30 p. m. For the convenience of friends the casket will also be open from 10 to 12:30.

WATSON—On Feb. 26, 1896, George Watson, aged 57 years.
Funeral from his late residence, 31 Hawthorne avenue, East Orange, N. J., on Friday, Feb. 28, at 2 p. m. Interment at Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.
Plainfield papers please copy. 2

HILLYER—In North Plainfield Feb. 26, 1896, Jemima Hillyer, entered into rest, aged 88 years.
Funeral services from her late residence, 30 Duer st., Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.
Friends and relatives, also members of the Women's Relief Corps, No. 10, and Mr. Serrell's Bible class are respectfully invited to attend. 2

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 cent a word each insertion. Less than 10 words 10 cents. Cash must accompany adv.

PLEASANT front rooms with or without board; all improvements; terms reasonable. 130 North avenue. 2 25 6

FOR SALE—A desirable building plot on Fairview ave; will be sold right to make quick sale. Address C., care Press. 2 37 3

FOR SALE—A coupe Rockaway and canopy top phaeton, both in good condition. Pole and shafts. 47 Washington avenue. 2 28 tf.

HAVE you a farm to sell or lease. We have parties for both. Have you a house or stable to rent. We will rent it. Central Real Estate Company North avenue, over U. S. Express office.

WANTED — A Good Respectable Girl for washing, ironing and general housework. No cooking Apply 201 West Sixth street, corner Arlington avenue.

OFFICE to let, centrally located. Apply 612 Park ave. 2 28 2

WANTED—Laundress, Swede preferred. Apply at 449 West 7th st; references required. 2 27 2

TO LET.—From April 1st, brick dwelling and stable No. 413 Central avenue. W. D. Thickstun, 197 North avenue. 2 26 tf

WANTED—White girl for general housework; small family; must be well recommended. 223 East 5th street. 2 27 2

VINES, hedges and shrubbery properly trimmed by practical gardener; charges moderate. Call or address at Blimm's grocery, East 3d and Washington sts. 2 26 28-3 2 4 7

TO LET—Store on Park avenue now occupied by G. Q. Packer, with or without floors above; a great chance to start a furniture business. Apply to C. A. Marsh, or Wm. M. Stillman. 2 4 tf-1aw

EGGS for hatching from Barred Plymouth Rocks. Amos Vail, Greenbrook road, Dunellen, N. J. 2 27 m

WATCHUNG park lots for sale. I have only a few lots left in Watchung Park and am going to close them out. Come and see me if you want a bargain. A. D. Thompson, 151 North avenue. 2 26 5

WANTED—Six-room house, centrally located; reasonable rent. Address "X. Y. Z." care Press.

FOR SALE—The property owned and occupied by W. T. Broadway, 323 LaGrande ave; modern improvements, city water, etc; house has ten rooms also bath and laundry; possession any time; liberal terms. Apply to agents. 2 17 tf-m w f

WASHINGTON Park, North Plainfield; for sale or to let to a small family, No. 19 Sycamore ave., house in perfect order; contains 10 rooms, city water, gas and furnace; terms made to suit. Geo. F. Edwards, 191 Broadway, New York, or 17 Duer st., Plainfield. 2 17 12

VERY handsome flat; all modern improvements. Apply Manning's city marble works. 2 17 tf

WANTED.—At once, experienced white cook. Apply 949 Central avenue. 2 8 tf

GOOD accommodations for horses; horses boarded by the month at reasonable terms. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville, N. J. 12 3 tf

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

133 EAST 2d street to let alarge sunny front room: also a hall rooms; furnished, 2 minutes from depot. 12 19 tf-m w t

TO LET—Stores, flats, dwellings. Bargains for sale. Mulford, Broker. 1 6 tf

TO LET—Stable on Sycamore street, from April 1st, seven stalls and a box stall, city water and electric lights, also three rooms over stable suitable for light house-keeping. Apply P. Lynch 1 2 tf

Such Business

for February never before known. Usually a dull month, we have made it one of the busiest of the year, but only by giving such values that will tempt and bring the business our way. Last week good values we gave but better for

THIS WEEK.

Blankets.

Many cold nights to come. We have a hundred pair of fine all wool blankets that we are closing out at a discount of 15 per cent from regular prices. 500 pair of white and gray blankets at 55c the pair.

Shirt Waists.

New styles made of fine percale, all colors, laundered collars and cuffs, 49c

Embroideries.

From far off Switzerland they come to you and at such little prices that you wonder how they can make them and live. 3, 5, 7, 10 and 15c the yard. See them whether you wish to buy or not.

Silks and Dress Goods

In all the newest and prettiest effects and in many instances there is less to pay than you would imagine. Special in black 36 inch all-wool cashmere and serges 25c, 45 inch do serge 41c, 38 inch do fancies 39c, 38 inch do novelties 50c.

The balance of the Pargiter stock will be cleaned out regardless. Many good things left in ladies', gentlemen's and children's heavy underwear, ladies' muslin underwear and hosiery.

	Pargiter Price.	Our price.
Fine India lawn	25c	10c
Men's natural wool shirts	$1	59c
Men's scarlet wool shirts	$1	50c
Men's white wool shirts	50c	25c
Men's colored half hose	15c	8c
Men's black half hose	25c	13c
Ladies' black hose	15c	8c
" "	20c	10c
Children's black hose	20c	10c
" "	25c	15c
Ladies' black and colored kid gloves	$1	59c
" " " "	$1.25	69c
Ladies' night robes	75c	39c
Ladies' white shirts	$1	59c
Ladies' ribbed vests	75c	33c
" "	50c	25c
Fine huck towels	25c	13c

CHINA DEPARTMENT.

COMPARE PRICES. We want you to compare our prices on the following items. If you can do better, enough said. These are a few of the many good things for this week. Plenty more on sale all through the department. 25 best quality English porcelain tea sets decorated and new shape, imported to sell at $4, 56 pieces, at $2.69 set. 40 toilet sets consisting of 6 pieces, Byron shape, choice of 3 colors, new shape at 98c set. English porcelain dinner set, Old Hall, 112 pieces, good judges know the name and goods, worth $9, at $6.87 set.

AT HALF PRICE--Framed Pictures.

250 framed pictures at just half price, manufacturer's stock. We close out on most of them. We only ask you the price of the glass. 100 12x20 white enameled frames, assorted subjects, worth 75c; your choice 29c each.

WHITE OF PLAINFIELD.

Removal Sale.

These Are the Goods that Must Go.

Boy's reefers $5.....now $2.45
Youth's overcoats $8.....now $4.75
Youth's overcoats $10.....now $6.50
Men's overcoats $10.....now $7.75
Men's ulsters $10.....now $6.00

SEBRING'S,

Park Avenue. April 1st, West Front Street.

SEE on all the new spring styles THAT CURVE IN HATS

Shown in those sold by

HALLOCK, Hatter, 109 West Front St.

KEATING, The world's lightest—19 lbs. SEE THAT CURVE? FOWLER, Truss frame—17 to 24 lbs.

Chas. C. Lister,

134 North Avenue.

Guaranteed Bicycles For $49.50. OUTING and APOLLO. Repairing, Renting, and Storing.

The Centre of Attraction

for Shoes is our store—so our customers say, and if you are not one of our customers you are cheating your feet. Just give them their own way and they will bring you right to our counters. We keep all kinds of shoes for all sorts of people. But no poor shoes.

A. Willett & Son, 107 Park Avenue.

FASHION CHAT.

Waists of fancy velvet are worn with skirts of black and all colors that do not quarrel with the tints in the upper portion of the dress.

A pretty collarette is made of a frill of wide lace attached to a plain foundation. Over this foundation lace is puffed and ribbon is crossed and re crossed in basket fashion.

The tailor costume of black camel's hair, consisting of flaring skirt, fitted waist and short jacket, is considered an indispensable portion of the wardrobe of the well-dressed woman.

A waist-trimming is of galloon and velvet. Straight, square-cut tabs of velvet fall from a round, turned-over collar. These tabs are trimmed with two rows of galloon edged with lace, and spangled with sequins.

A great deal of ermine will be worn for dressy occasions during the season. As an opera-cloak, it is unapproachable, and when lined with white, cream, pearl, pink or blue satin or brocade, is simply the perfection of material.

A pretty theater dress is made of spotted silk and velvet. The skirt is cut plainly, the bodice is of velvet, very low-cut, and filled in with voluminous folds of chiffon held down by straps. Large chiffon bows are set on the shoulders.

While many authorities are claiming the decadence of ermine, it appears in many of the finest creations of the season. A shoulder cape of velvet has a collar of ermine covering the shoulders and a standing collar of velvet lined with ermine.

A theater jacket of velvet has applique in extremely fine jet and satin wrought over it. It is edged with beaded gimp, made on wires. This turns back around the collar to form a standing collar, and a narrow edging is pressed smoothly around the edge of the garment as a trimming.

Among the novelty vails are those that are drawn around the wide-brimmed hats, falling loosely almost to the waist. This is a revival of a very old fashion, and women with cedar closets and packing trunks are taking out the old vails worn by their ancestors when the fashion raged, many years ago.

DON'TS FOR THE SICK ROOM.

Don't be hurried and bustling and fussy about the patient.

Don't appear anxious, however great may be your anxiety.

Don't let stale flowers remain in the sick room.

Don't allow an accumulation of medicine bottles in sight of the patient.

Don't jar the bed by lifting or sitting upon it. This is always unpleasant to one ill and nervous.

Don't be unmindful of yourself if you are in the responsible position of nurse. To do faithful work you must have proper food and stated hours of rest.

Don't forget that kindness and tenderness are needful to successful nursing. Human nature longs to be soothed and comforted on all occasions when it is out of tune.

Don't throw coal upon the fire. Place it in brown paper bags and lay them upon the fire, thus avoiding the noise, which is shocking to the sick and sensitive.

Don't neglect during the day to attend to necessaries for the night in the way of nourishment and drink; that the rest of the patient and the family may not be disturbed.

Don't light a sick room at night by means of a gas jet or lamp burning low; nothing impoverishes the air sooner. Use sperm candles or tapers which burn in sperm oil.

Don't forget to have a few coffee grains handy to serve as a deodorizer when burnt on the coal. Bits of charcoal placed around the room are also useful in absorbing gases and other impurities.

Don't give a patient a full glass of water to drink from, unless he is allowed all he desires. If he can drain the glass he will be satisfied; so regulate the quantity before handing it to him.—Philadelphia Record.

GEMS OF THOUGHT.

No earnest thinker will borrow from others that which he has not already, more or less, thought out for himself. —Charles Kingsley.

True politeness is perfect ease and freedom. It simply consists in treating others just as you love to be treated yourself.—Chesterfield.

There are braying men in the world as well as braying asses; for what is loud and senseless talking and swearing any other than braying? — L'Estrange.

Consider how much more you often suffer from your anger and grief than from those very things for which you are angry and grieved. — Marcus Antoninus.

A man's fortune is frequently decided by his first address. If pleasing, others at once conclude he has merit; but if ungraceful, they decide against him.—Chesterfield.

IMPERSONAL POINTS.

A woman weighing 509 pounds died at New Middleton, Ind., recently. She was said to be the largest woman in the state.

There is a woman contractor and quarry operator in Buffalo, who has supplied stone for some of the most important structures in the city. She is the only woman who is an active member of the Buffalo Builders' exchange.

Five tramps in Orange county, Cal., made a big mistake a few days ago. They pounced on a peaceable-appearing wayfarer and tried to hold him up. The traveler promptly produced a big revolver, made the tramps put up their hands in lively fashion, formed them in single file ahead of him, and marched them into the county jail. He was a policeman in plain clothes.

HEATH & DRAKE.

Established 1841. Newark's first-class Dry Goods House.

New Embroideries, Laces, Flouncings, etc.

Our assortment of these goods for the coming season is handsomer, more varied and complete than any we have yet shown, and embraces regular Cambric, Nainsook and Swiss Edges, Insertions and match sets in all grades and styles and a line of Exquisite Novelties which for new and original effects, exclusive and unique designs, are unsurpassed if not unequalled by any in the market.

Pretty Edgings and Embroideries Very Cheap.

A thousand lines could not tell the story any better. Great heaps of snowy Embroideries that first saw light in far off Switzerland are here.

In connection with our regular line we have purchased, direct from the manufacturers in St. Gaul, Switzerland, three large lots of Embroideries, which we will place on sale at one-third less than regglar prices.

Lot 1. 4c Yd. Lot 2, 8c Yd. Lot 3, 12c Yd

The wise ones ask no questions, but take them away in huge quantities.

777 and 779 Broad Street,
Newark, N. J.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd.

BOTTOM PRICES—COMFORTABLE TERMS

Every Reason For Success

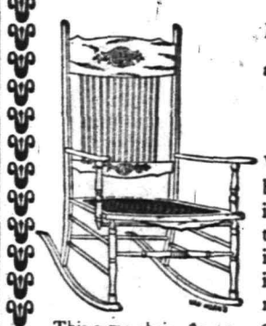
Exists at 73 Market St.—our many years' experience tells us that nothing pleases buyers better than right prices and liberal terms—they're always found here—to instance:

This Parlor Suit $19.50

A single illustration of what our reductions mean—five pieces, brocatelle or plush, mahogany finish frames.

This same Suit, $19.50.

Rocking Chair at $1.95



This same chair, $1.95.

Exactly like cut—solid oak, cane seat—roomy and comfort giving—worth far more.

Extension Tables

We've new lines by the score in in dining room tables—one special in solid oak is at $4.85—match it if you can!

This table, $4.85.

Our Bargain Room

is packed full of real bona-fide bargains, new patterns, slightly soiled, marked half price, in plain figures. Don't forget our grand Portland Range.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd. Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, Etc. Telephone 580.

73 MARKET ST. Near Plane St. NEWARK, N. J.

GOODS DELIVERED FREE TO ANY PART OF STATE.

STILLMAN MUSIC HALL.

Rich & Maeder .....Lessees and Managers.
John Daly.....Resident Manager.

2 Nights, February 28th and 29th,

MATINEE SATURDAY. The talented actress,

Miss RACHELLE RENARD,

supported by her own company, presenting Friday—Ingomar, the Barbarian; Saturday matinee—Superb Allegorical Revival of East Lynne; Saturday night—The great Historical Drama, Jack Sheppard. Prices—15, 25 and 35c. Matinee 10c to all parts of the house.

Messrs. Rich & Maeder beg to inform the citizens of Plainfield that because of a large response in favor of a public advance subscription as a guarantee, they have made arrangements with Mr. Augustin Daly for the complete presentation here on

THE NIGHT OF MARCH 2,

of Mr. Daly's incomparable production of Shakespeare's fanciful comedy,

"A Mid-Summer Night's Dream,"

with the same sumptuous scenery and exquisite mechanical effects and full music accompaniment that characterized its famous revival at Daly's New York and London Theatres.

Prices $1.50, $1, 75c & 50c. Seats now on sale at Leggett's drug store.

VISIT BOEHM'S CROCKERY DEPARTMENT,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

Everything in the housefurnishing line up to date. Prices brought down to the lowest possible notch. We guarantee satisfaction in every respect. It is therefore to your own benefit to visit this department—it will pay you.

Novelties in Dress Goods.

AT 19C—30 inch Brilliantines, were 2 c.
AT 50C—38 inch extra heavy black mohair sicilians, cheap at 6 c.
AT 25C—40 inch new spring novelties, changeable effects, were 35c.
AT 25C—36 inch plaids, silk stripe effects, were 33c.
AT 12 1-2C—A very handsome line of worsted plaids well worth 19c.
AT 50C—The very latest novelties in all-wool dress goods, suitable for spring wear, fully 40in. wide, a bargain at 65c.
AT 32C—38 inch wide black brilliantines.
AT 45C—40 inch black brilliantines, silk finished, regular 5 c quality.
AT 50C—Silk finished brilliantine, 40 inches wide, the 65c grade.
AT 65C—Extra fine black brilliantine, 1¼ yards wide, with an extra heavy lustre, the regular 75c quality.
Our leader for this coming season—38 inch wide black figured brilliantine in a number of new and novel designs at the uniform price of 35c a yard, well worth 45c a yard.
AT 25C—Storm serges in black and blue, 3 in. wide, were 34c.
AT45C—Beautiful fine black serges, 1¼ yds wide, a hummer, were 55c.
AT 19C—Light colored brilliantines, the very newest effects, reduced from 25c.

BOEHM'S, 113 WEST FRONT ST.

Improve YOUR OPPORTUNITY!

Get Some of the BARGAINS IN FURNITURE and CHINA.

before removal to Jackson Building.

Heat Your Rooms With the

Surio Gas Globe Heater.

Goes on any Gas Jet.

G. Q. Packer. Jos. W. Gavett.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

—Dealers in—

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Material, &c

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

Creamery Butter 20c Per Pound at J. F. MACDONALD'S

Uptown Grocery.

J. T. VAll, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 NORTH AVENUE.

Waverley BICYCLES.

Highest of High Grades.

Are the Most Popular in the World.

Are Built in the Largest and Best Equipped Factory in the World. They are the Most Popular and Best Selling Wheels Made.

Evidenced by the fact that there were more of them sold in '95 than any other make. Be sure to see sample before purchasing your '96 wheel.

Made by Indiana Bicycle Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

F. L. C. MARTIN, AGENT. 1 27 eod

Telephone, Brooklyn, 366.

COMINS & EVANS.

Acorn Brand

Asphalt Roofing.

Gravel and Metal Roofing, Tile and Brick Roofing, Water-Tight Cellars.

45 WAVERLY AVE, BROOKLYN, N. Y.

New York office, 38 Dey st. 1 18 y-eod

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Anthracite Coal Used Exclusively, Insuring Cleanliness and Comfort.

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street.

Time Table in Effect Nov. 17, 1895.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 14, 3 37, 5 38, 6 04, 6 29, 6 59, 7 26, 7 30, 7 53, 8 00, 8 15, 8 27, 8 31, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, 10 59 a m; 1 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 9 23, 10 17, 11 28, p.m. Sunday, 2 14, 3 37, 6 04, 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 10 59, 11 16, a m; 12 33, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17, p m.

Leave New York, Foot Liberty St., at 4 30, 6 00, 7 15, 8 00, 8 40, 9 10, 10 00, 11 45, a m; 1 10, 1 30, 2 30, 3 30, 3 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 15, 5 30, 5 45, 6 00, 6 15, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 30, p m; 12 15, 1 00, night. Sunday, 4 30, 7 15, 9 00, 9 15, a m; 12 00 m; 1 00, 1 30, 2 30, 4 00, 5 30, 7 00, 9 00, 10 00, p m; 12 15 night, 1 00 a m

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield at 5 38, 6 29, 6 59, 7 30, 8 00, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 10 17, 11 28, p m. Sunday 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 11 16 a m; 12 33, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17 p. m.

Leave Newark at 6 15, 7 18, 7 55, 8 39, 9 03, 10 05, 11 35, a m; 1 15, 1 35, 2 35, 3 35, 4 05, 4 40, 5 04, 5 34, 5 50, 6 20, 7 15, 7 35, 8 40, 10 05, 11 25, p. m. Sunday 7 30, 9 05, 9 30, 11 35 a m; 1 10, 1 35, 2 35, 4 05, 5 40, 7 20, 9 25, 10 20

Passengers for Newark please change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 5 45, 7 10, 8 16, 9 54, 11 00 a m; 12 46, 2 11, 2 32, 3 35, 4 36, 5 05, 5 14, 5 34, 6 04, 6 19, 6 38, 7 12, 7 34, 8 21, 10 26, 11 23, p m; 12 38 night. Sunday 5 45, 8 28, 9 55, a m; 2 03, 3 43 5 14, 6 35, 10 15, 11 14 p m.

Leave Somerville at 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 25, 7 30, 7 48, 8 20 9 05, 9 48, 11 40 a. m; 12 50, 1 48, 2 05, 3 25, 4 25, 4 59, 6 35, 8 07, 8 45, 11 05 p. m. Sunday at 8 25, 9 45, 10 35 a m; 12 08, 1 20, 5 10, 6 35, 8 03, 8 05, 9 40 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield at 5 45, 8 16, 9 54 a m., 12 46, 2 11, 5 05, 5 14, 6 38, 8 21 p. m. Sunday at 5 45, 8 28, a m; 2 03, 6 35 p m.

Leave Easton at 6 05, 7 00, 8 53, a m; 12 32, 3 42, 4 49, 7 00, p. m. Sunday at 7 15, 10 53 a m; 6 40, 7 30 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield at 9 54 a. m.; 5 05 5 14.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

5 45 a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m.—For stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 a. m.—For Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 54 a. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch D. L. & W. R. R., Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Shamokin, Nanticoke, and Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. with buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 46 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 11 p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Tamaqua, Sunbury, Williamsport, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

5 05 p. m., way for Easton, connecting with High Bridge for stations on High Bridge Branch.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Scranton, Wilkesbarre, Tamaqua, Shamokin, (buffet parlor car to Scranton.)

6 19 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 38 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, and Harrisburg.

8 21 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

5 45 a. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

8 28 a. m. Sundays—For Easton.

2 03 p. m. Sundays—For High Bridge for High Bridge Branch Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading, and Harrisburg.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 35 p. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c., and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

FOR LONG BRANCH, OCEAN GROVE, ETC.

Leave Plainfield at 3 37, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, p. m. Sunday, (except Ocean Grove) 8 32 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 3 37, 5 38, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, 7 03, p. m., Sundays 8 32 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Atlantic City, 3 37 a. m.; 1 18 p. m.

For Freehold, 3 37, 8 00, 10 27 a. m.; 1 18, 3 51, 5 24 p. m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44 9 46, 10 44 a. m.; 2 17, 5 34*, 6 45, 8 21, 9 37*, 1 17 night. Sundays—5 17, 5 45, 9 55 10 44 a. m., 2 25, 4 55, 5 14* 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night.

For Trenton, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44, 9 46, a. m., 12 46, 2 17, 5 34*, 6 38*, 8 21, 9 37* p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays 5 17, 5 45, 9 55 a. m., 2 25, 4 55, 5 14*, 6 35*, p. m., 1 17 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 8 44, 10 44 a. m., 5 34*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays, 10 44 a. m., 5 14*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points West, week-days at 9 54 a. m., 8 21 p. m. Sunday 6 35 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked (*) change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rates may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN,
General Superintendent.
H. P. BALDWIN,
General Passenger Agent.

Jones & Co., EXCAVATORS.

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.

Cesspools Built.

Sewer Connections Made

Properly and Earth Replaced Carefully.

PLUMBING TESTED.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front street.

May Change Her Mind

and her stationery. This unwritten law may be observed just as often as she desires, and then, if not thoroughly satisfied, can get her money back for the asking. However, we find few who do not like our 25c box of paper and envelopes when desiring the medium grade.

R. C. RAND,

140 West Front st.

M. Powers & Son.

Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75 in the Yard.
A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office 763 South ave. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

Your Spring Clothing

Rather early to speak of it, but if it needs cleaning or dyeing, it isn't too early to have us do that work for you. This is our dull season—our employes are here ready for work. We'd like to have your goods now. We can give them better attention than in the rush of the spring season. Then we'll have to have more time or rush them at the expense of good work. Now we can take our time, do the work better than if hurried and you'll have the clothing all ready for warm weather.

Look in the closet or trunk and find your spring wear that needs cleaning and dyeing and bring it to us now, or better still, our wagon will call for it if you will send us word.

Hillier & Co.,

179 North ave., Plainfield.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

New York Mails.

Arrive—7:30, 8:40, 11:15 a.m., 2:45, 5, 5:30 p. m.
Close—7 15 and 9:20 a. m., 1:30, 4 30 and 7:30 p. m.

Somerville and Easton Mails.

Arrive—8:40 a. m., 2:40, 6:00 p. m.
Close—7:15 a. m., 4:30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arr. 12 m; closes 9:30 a. m.

Sunday Mails.

Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6:15 p. m.

J. M. HETFIELD, P. M.

GEO. O. STEVENS OAL 747 WEST FRONT ST.

Branch office with

G. A. HALLOCK,

109 West Front st.

J. W. VanSickle, Dealer in all kinds of

FRESH AND SALTED MEATS.

Game in season. No. 122 North avenue, Plainfield. N. J. Telephone 148b. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

Your Valuables

will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

Lock boxes from $3.50 to $10 a year.

E. H. Holmes,

Dealer in

Coal & Wood.

Yard—No. 208 Madison avenue. Office for coal orders with Woolston & Buckle, 145 North ave.

Telephone 49-A.

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the first and third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.
John Fellows, Dictator.
R. A. Frey, Reporter.

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays in the Babcock Building.
C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Sec.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Babcock Building, West Front street.
D. C. Adams, W. M.
Charles Yeager, Sec.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the second and fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward Building, Park avenue, at 8 p.m.
Harry C. Adams, Regent.
Frederick C. Pope, Secretary.

McCullough's STEAM MILL,

21 Steiner place, North Plainfield.

R. H. McCullough, Prop.

Sash, blinds, doors, mouldings, scroll sawing, turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully furnished.

ERNEST BARRETT,

Sanitary Plumbing, Steam and Hot Water Heating

All work guaranteed. Estimates cheerfully given. Jobbing promptly attended to.

225 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

L. L. MANNING, Marble AND Granite Works,

Corner Central avenue and West Front street, opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

MONEY

Cannot buy better

Men's Suits,

in fine imported Black and Blue Chevlot, Diagonal or fancy weave, single or double breasted at $9.90.

reduced from $15, $18 and $20.

WERNER'S,

206 West Front st.

The Plainfield WATER SUPPLY CO.,

Incorporated 1869.

Frank Bergen, President. E. R. Pope, Sec. & Treas.

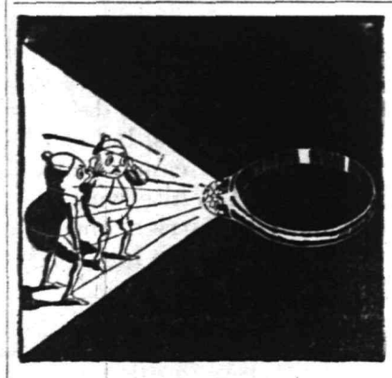
The Plainfield Water Supply Company supplies the inhabitants of the City of Plainfield and the Borough of North Plainfield with water for domestic use.

In June last the water supplied by the Company was analyzed by Allan Hazen, Esq., a leading hydraulic expert of Boston, and pronounced by him to be "water of great organic purity," and in a letter to one of the Company's patrons he added: "You are to be congratulated upon having so good a supply, and you need have no anxiety whatever as to the wholesomeness." The completion of the city's sewer system will add to the convenience of the supply of water from the Company's mains. A representative of the Company will be pleased to call on parties who do not at present use water from its mains, and explain rates, terms, methods of service, etc. The work of making connections will be resumed as soon as the weather permits. Address the Company at 207 North ave. 2 27 3w

List of Advertised Letters

Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 24, 1896.

Baker Henry	Murphy Wm
Ballman C A 2	Phelps R A
Bradley Wm	Ryan Jos
Drake Mary Miss	Röbeling Mrs
Emmons Peter	Reeger Minnie Miss
Fleischauer H J Mrs	Shipley John R
Hadley Wilber E	Sheeheen Jos
Irevin E H Miss	Shorts Eliza Miss
Jonss Geo W	Saunders T
Kitchen Mary Miss	Saunders John
Lemham Hattie Miss	Shierif Miss
McAvoy Katie Miss	Westmore D M Miss
Montrose Lettie	Westwood Isabel Miss



A BRILLIANT SIGHT.

is afforded everyone who looks through our stock of diamonds and other precious stones—and their setting is only second to them in beauty. You can't think of anything in the jewelry line you can't get here. If you can, let us know and we'll get it at short notice.

COLLIER, 103 Park Avenue.

Established 1869.

R. H. Rushton, J. C. Hansen, A. Luthman.

Rushton, Hansen & Luthman,

PAINTERS & PAPER HANGERS,

P. O. Box 773, Plainfield, N. J.

Interior decorating a specialty. Our motto—first-class work. Estimates cheerfully given. Orders promptly attended to. 2 11 tf

F. A. DUNHAM,

Civil Engineer and Surveyor

109 Park ave. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas. Telephone 87—F.

Dogs

IRON AND BRASS

FIRE-DOGS.

Curtis M. Thorpe,

Y. M. C. A. Building

"Everything for the Fireplace."

Telephone 29b. Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON,

Plumbing and Hot Water Heating.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.

Opposite Roberts's Livery. 132 North ave.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Nothing Like It.

Time brings many changes, but the climate of California, "The Italy of America," and the attractions of the many famous health and pleasure resorts, are the same yesterday, today and forever.

Tourists never will tire of speaking in praise of the soft and balmy air, the profusion of flowers, the magnificent display of fruits, the luxury of seabathing and the beautiful walks and drives.

Then, too, it must be conceded that with such excellent equipment, consisting of Reclining Chair Cars, Pullman Palace Sleepers and Pullman Dining Cars, all heated by steam and lighted with Pintsch Light, the Union Pacific, "The Overland Route," is the tourists favorite. Ask your agents for tickets via this route.

E. L. Lomax, General Pass. and Ticket Agent, Omaha, Neb.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for rheumatism and neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75c. Sold by H. P. Reynolds, druggist, Park and North avenues. 2 12 y

Quick in effect, heals and leaves no scar. Burning, scaly skin eruptions quickly cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Applied to burns, scalds, old sores, it is magical in effect. Always cures piles. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership lately subsisting between William L. Gavett and Joseph W. Gavett, of the city of Plainfield, county of Union and State of New Jersey, under the firm name of William L. Gavett & Co., was dissolved on the fourteenth day of February, 1896, by mutual consent. All debts owing to the said partnership are to be received by said Joseph W. Gavett, and all demands on the said partnership are to be presented to him for payment.

Dated at Plainfield, N. J., this 14th day of February A. D., 1896.

W. L. GAVETT.
2 14 4-oaw JOSEPH W. GAVETT.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.

Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, executor of Elizabeth A. Wet, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the county of Union, on Wednesday, the fifteenth day of April next.

Dated Feb. 13th, 1896.

WILLIAM A. SHOTWELL,
JOHN H. VAN WINKLE.

2 14 10-oaw

THE

Camp Fire and the Trail,

By the poet-scout,

Captain Jack Crawford.

IN

Crescent Avenue Church Chapel,

SATURDAY,

February 29, at 8 p. m.,

for the benefit of Marconnier Chapel.

Admission, 50c Children, 25c.
2 15 17 19 21 25 28

L. A. HUMMER'S

VARIETY MARKET.

Meats, fruits, vegetables, poultry, eggs, etc. Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge.

Park avenue. Telephone call 29-A

J. C. Pope & Co.,

INSURANCE AGENTS,

20 East Front st., Plainfield, N. J.

IN THE

South

Increased attractions for the winter. Opening of the magnificent

Hotel Jefferson,

at Richmond, Va., and the superb

Hotel Chamberlin,

at Old Point Comfort, Va. The Winter service at the beautiful hotel at

Hot Springs, Va.,

added to the usual attractions of the famous

Hygeia Hotel,

at Old Point Comfort, the

Princess Anne

at Virginia Beach. The new Southern Health Resort,

Piney Woods Inn,

Southern Pines, N. C., and the celebrated hotels at

Asheville and Hot Springs

North Carolina, all reached by the beautiful new steamers of the Old Dominion Line

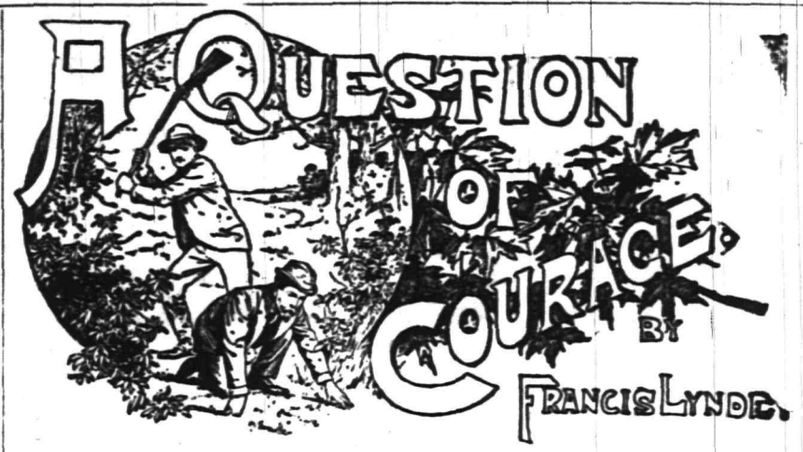
direct or by their railroad connections. Send for full information

Old Dominion S. S. Company,

Pier 26, North River, New York. W. L. Guillaudeu, Vice-President and Traffic Manager.



[Copyright, 1895, by J. B. Lippincott Co.]

The brothers smoked in silence for a few moments, and then began to discuss a plan suggested by the younger. While they talked the stars came out one by one and the shadows deepened in the cove until they lay black and brooding over the thickets on the sides of the mountain. With the drawing of the curtain of darkness the noises of the night began—the drone of the jar fly passing with the fading light into the chirping of the cricket and the shrill song of the tree-toads. Threading the irregular voices of nature with the measured pulse of human effort, the rhythmic beat of the blowing engines at the Tregarthen furnace vibrated upon the still air; and at intervals a dull red glare appearing above the shoulder of the mountain announced the feeding time of the fiery monster of the valley.

The brothers talked on in low tones, pausing only once, when a shadow passed the door-yard and glided toward the forest.

"Who's that?" queried Jeff, peering intently into the darkness.

"Hit's only Jed, I reckon," was the reply.

"What's he goin' at this time o' night?"

"I dunno; goin' to soak his haid in the creek, maybe. I more 'n half believe, sometimes, that he's gettin'' foolish 'bout the Latimer gal; he nev' did have much sense, nohow. But, as I was a-sayin'—" And the talk dropped back into the channel from which Jed's appearance had diverted it.

The two men sat on a log behind the barn, facing the cliff at the head of the cove. Had they been gifted with the visual powers of the owl which hooted dismally from the top of a blasted oak standing in the adjacent corn-field, they might have discerned, half an hour later, a black speck zigzagging up the face of the apparently inaccessible cliff. It was Jed, and when he reached the summit just under the shadow of the tree that years before had borne such ghastly fruit, he turned his face southward and walked rapidly toward "The Laurels."

"Do you know, Mr. Ringbrand, that I've always had a persistent and haunting impression that we've met somewhere before?"

Ringbrand was spending the evening at the Latimers as usual, and they were all sitting in the starlight on the veranda of "The Laurels."

"You mean before I came to Tregarthen, Miss Hester?"

"Yes, it might have been ages ago."

Ringbrand smiled under cover of the darkness. "Perhaps it was. Do you believe in transmigration?"

"I think not," she answered doubtfully. "I believe in the creed."

"May I ask what creed?"

"I'd think you'd be ashamed to, when there is only one—or, at most, two."

"I stand corrected. Would it be heresy if I asked where I might find the one—or two?"

"Of course not; they're in the prayer book; I supposed everyone knew that."

"Going back to your impression again, do you know that I have an exactly similar one? I am almost positive that you are right. Can't you help me solve the mystery?"

"What's that you-all are talking about?" inquired the colonel, knocking the ashes from his long-stemmed pipe and crushing a dry tobacco leaf in the palm of his hand for a fresh charge.

"Miss Hester was just saying she thought we'd seen each other somewhere before I came to Tregarthen, and I'm almost sure she's right. We were trying to locate the time and place."

"Oh, I reckon it's just imagination," replied the colonel, packing the tobacco dust into the bowl of his pipe. "That is, without you've been visitin' the young ladies' schools in Vi'ginia."

"No, I haven't been doing that," said Ringbrand, laughing, "though it would doubtless be a delightful experience."

"That would depend entirely upon your errand," interrupted Hester. "I think most of the visitors used to leave Miss Pelton's with tingling ears; they should have, if there's any truth in the old saying."

As Ringbrand was about to reply, he saw a shadow moving in the bushes a few yards distant. "What's that down there by the laurels?" he asked, rising to get a better view.

At the question Harry Latimer sprang from his chair and ran into the house, appearing a moment later with his rifle. As he came out, the shadow darted from the bushes and glided among the trees on the hillside. Henry saw it, and would have fired if his father had not wrested the gun from his hands. "Seems like you get less sense every day, Henry," gasped the colonel breathlessly. "How do you know who you were going to shoot at?"

"I know well enough, and so do you," replied the young man, nonchalantly, going back to his chair and relighting his cigar. "They-all will get you some day, if you don't get them first."

IV.

A VANISHING POINT OF VIEW.

When Ringbrand left the hospitable mansion on the mountain and began his two-mile walk to Tregarthen, he was distracted by more different kinds of perplexity than usually fall to the lot of a man of his temperment. The friendly footing upon which he was established at "The Laurels" gave him opportunites for constant association with Hester which had swept away all his earlier doubts as to the depth and reality of his attachment for the girl; but, assuming that he could win her—and he was by no means sure that it was so written in the book of possibilities—she was different enough from his ideal to demand a very disconcerting readjustment of the lines upon which he had formed his somewhat indefinite plans for a domestic future. Like most other men, he had painted for his life a possible matrimonial background, but in this picture the colors harmonized artistically with the neutral tints of his own studious habits. There was to be a quiet home, with books and works of art, and an atmosphere of thoughtful refinement whose peaceful calm should be ruffled by no rude blasts of passion; a home which should be a small city of refuge from the din and turmoil of the strenuous battle for existence. The central figure in this ideal retreat had never been quite clearly defined, but she was to be intellectual and endowed with quick sympathy, and she was to embody the artist's ideal of the other half of himself which should divine with sensitive intuition the subtile thread of genius in his work. A hasty review of the results of his acquaintance with Hester Latimer brought out with alarming distinctness the fact that she possessed none of the attributes of this ideal, save that, perhaps, her charming individuality made it impossible to say that she was not intellectual. She was positive and innocently self-assertive; and she had already given him a shock by a very frank and ingenuous criticism of one of his stories which had appeared in a recent number of one of the magazines. She was essentially of her own day and generation; and she apparently knew little and cared less about the subtler distinctions of motives and of character which so torment and perplex the student of his kind. Without in the least suspecting it, and being, on the contrary, quite fully resolved to keep in touch with bristling activity of modern life, Hugh Ringbrand was already beginning to acquire the introspective habit of a closet-student; peace and quietness, and a well-selected library, seemed to comprehend the conditions most necessary to his well-being; and such an environment with the breezy personality of Hester Latimer for the central figure appeared almost laughably incongruous.

To do him full justice, Ringbrand tried very earnestly to reason his way out of the emotional tangle in which he found himself—the more insistently, perhaps, because he felt his powers of resistance slipping away from him in a closer acquaintance with Hester. The experience of those few weeks was entirely without precedent in his well-ordered life. He had said to himself, in certain self-congratulatory moods, that he had successfully passed the age when passion usurps the place of impartial judgment; that an artist must be so far removed from the emotional side of life in his own experience as to be able to look upon it with the cool and dispassionate eye of a critical student; and up to that unlucky moment when he had seen Hester Latimer trip across the platform at Chilwanee Junction he found little difficulty in conforming to the artistic requirement. Now, however, the point of view seemed to have veered so suddenly that it left him groping in a mist of uncertainties, in which he was sure of nothing but an overwhelming desire to possess Hester; a desire which contemptuously pushed aside the arguments of reason as of no weight and quite unworthy of the smallest consideration.

And then the incident of the evening—the indistinct shadow in the bushes,

He appeared a moment later with his rifle.

Henry's hasty and vindictive intention, the colonel's interference, and Hester sitting unmoved through it all. What was the meaning of this warlike episode? Were such things of so little moment in the daily life of the south that they could be passed over without comment? It would appear so, since his hosts had immediately ignored the incident as though it had never been. Even Hester had been able to take up the thread of inconsequent conversation again with no visible sign of perturbation or embarrassment. What was the reason for Henry's sudden and savage wrath? Could the intruder have been a common marauder of chicken-coops, or was he a sneak thief hoping to find the house unoccupied because there were no lights?

The sinister meaning in Henry's careless reply answered these questions before they had taken shape. Could it be possible that the Latimers were involved in one of the cruel vendettas about which he had heard and read?—was that what Hester meant when she said her own family had not escaped? And following closely upon the heels of the latter question came another: If he should enter the family, would he be expected to bear a part in any such irregular warfare? No, that was not quite the way to state it; say, rather, could he reasonably hope to hold the respect and affection of his wife upon any other condition?

The night was cool, and the light air sweeping up the side of the mountain was grateful and refreshing after the heat of the day, and yet Ringbrand grew uncomfortably warm as the inevitable conclusion placed itself like a gigantic exclamation point at the end of his theories. The possession of physical courage in his own proper person is not a necessary qualification for the writer of stories. It is true that he must recognize its existence, and he must be upon sufficiently intimate terms with its outward presentments to be able to imbue his heroes with a proper degree of contempt for their personal safety; beyond this, the exigencies of the art demand nothing, and the artist himself may be the most humble votary of the goddess of common sense. Some such thought as this came to Ringbrand as he made his way down the mountain. The successive scenes of his uneventful life passed in review like the pictures of a retrospective panorama. Now that he thought of it, he saw that all of his lines of conduct had been drawn well upon the hither side of personal antagonism—that he had always been averse to anything approaching an arbitrament of force. With well-meaning sophistry, he had argued himself into the belief that a contempt for mere physical courage was a part of the thoughtful man's protest against brutality and the unconvincing logic of appeals to physical superiority; but he remembered, with a sharp little sting of mortification, that these fine-spun theories had been swept aside like cobwebs on the few occasions when he had been brought face to face with personal danger. It was not necessary to go far for an example; a flush of shame glowed in his face when he recalled the small fit of terror that had seized him but an hour before, when he had stood helplessly watching Henry trying to get the dodging shadow within the range of his rifle.

After that, his thoughts kept him but indifferent company for the rest of his walk, and he reached Tregarthen, and his room at the Ludlows', without having arrived at any more definite conclusion than a determination to ask his friend for an explanation of the incident at "The Laurels," and to get therewith so much of the Latimer history as Ludlow might be able to recite.

The latter enlightened him, cheerfully, on their way to the furnace the next morning. "That was probably one of the Bynums," he said; "though why he should risk his skin at such close quarters I can't imagine. They're a bad lot, though—equal to almost anything, I'm afraid."

"Who are the Bynums, and why—But don't make me pull it out of you by littles; tell me the whole story."

"Is it possible that you've been in Tregarthen all this time and haven't yet heard of the Latimer-Bynum feud?"

"It's more than possible; it's a fact."

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

Don't invite disappointment by experimenting. Depend upon One Minute Cough Cure and you have immediate relief. It cures croup. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

Y. M. C. A. Star Course.

Y. M. C. A. HALL.

Three Fine Entertainments in March for 50 cents.

March 3—Miss Addie Parker Jackson assisted by Conde's Young Men's Symphony Orchestra.
March 17—Amphion Ladies Mandolin and Vocal Quartette of New York.
March 24—"Switzerland and Its People," lecture by Prof. Henry M. Maxson.

Tickets on sale at Reynolds' and at Association Building. eod

Insurance at Lowest Rates.

Wm. H. Abbott,

Insurance, 171 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

M. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance,

197 North avenue

Frank L. C. Martin, President. P. B. Macintyre, Treasurer. George M. Macintyre, Secretary.

Frank L. C. Martin Cycle Company,

Plainfield's Pioneer Bicycle Dealers.

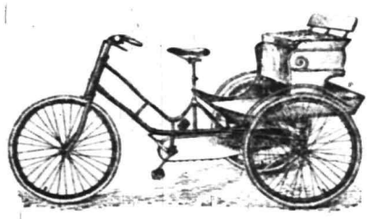
Downtown Agency,

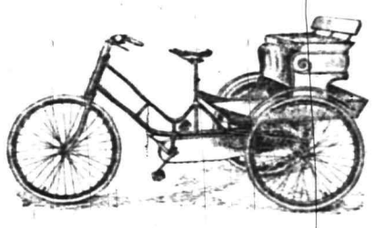
J. Hervey Doane, Park Avenue.

ESTABLISHED 1889.

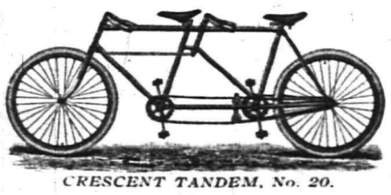
Branch Store.

Keer & Martin Cycle Co., 569 Broad St., Newark, N. J.





You need never walk home if you use Stahl's Puncture Proof Tires. We are sole agents for them.



CRESCENT TANDEM, No. 20.

Price $125.00.

Rental Department.

We shall aim to make this branch of our business unequaled, and feel satisfied our patrons will appreciate our efforts. Only new Clevelands and Crescents will be used. As we keep closed on Sunday, parties wishing wheels for that day can secure them Saturday evening and return Monday morning, when only one day's rental will be charged.

Rates--25c Hour, $1.25 Day. $5.00 Week.

Tandems Double Price.

Intrinsic Value.

When a man parts with a dollar in this glorious nineteenth century he wants to be pretty sure that it will return to him with good interest. Therefore when looking for a wheel he chooses either a

Cleveland Swell Special or a Crescent

for he knows they stand at the head in bicycle construction and are backed with a broad liberal guarantee.

No better value was ever offered than

Crescents at $40, $50 and $75,

Cleveland Swell Specials at $100.

Take the verdict of the public at the recent cycle shows, where it was conceded that the above line stood without a peer.

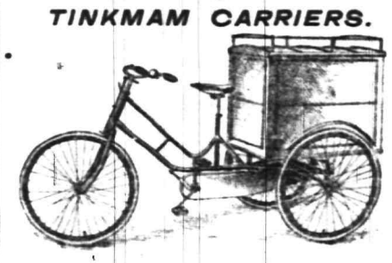
Don't buy a wheel simply because its manufacturers advertise extensively by having paid racing men to make records. Has it ever occurred to you who pays for those expenses? We have made bicycles a study for several years past and when you buy of us you get the benefit of our knowledge.

BUY YOUR WHEELS NOW.

Clearing Out Second-Hand Wheels From $5 Up.

Bicycle instruction on the road has not only proven more thorough, but much more desirable than elsewhere. Learn to ride where you will do your riding. Lessons given by competent instructors by appointment, 25c. Purchasers taught free.

TINKMAM CARRIERS.



For the tradesman in whose business light parcels predominate such as dry goods, druggists, grocers, confectioners, florists, bakers, milliners, butchers, etc., the "Carrier" is capable of effecting an immense saving. Mr. Edward White was the first merchant in town to purchase a Carrier, and it has already become such a valued adjunct to his business that he could not get along without it.

INSTALLMENTS

A Grand Chance to Own a Wheel, as Our Easy Payment System Brings It Within the Reach of All.

Clevelands, $25 Cash,

Balance 10 Months at $8.

Crescents, $15 Cash,

Balance 10 Months at $6.50.

Crescent Specials. $10 Cash,

Balance 10 Months at $4.50.

Dayton, Waverley, Majestic, Punnett Companion.

Cleveland Swell Specials Are Ridden by the "400" of New York, Newport, St. Augustine, Plainfield, &c.

FRANK L. C. MARTIN CYCLE COMPANY,

REPAIRS. 333 PARK AVENUE. ESTABLISHED 1889. SUNDRIES.

LAST EDITION.

THE DAILY PRESS

LAST EDITION.

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 29, 1896. TWO CENTS A COPY—$5 A YEAR

WENT OFF SMOOTHLY.

THE BOROUGH REPUBLICANS NOMINATE FOR THE COMING YEAR.

Mayor Hegeman Thought That $3,000 Was Ample for Borough Purposes, and That Sum Was Appropriated by them.

The North Plainfield Republican primary meeting held last evening in the basement of the Public School was largely attended.

Mayor B. A. Hegeman, Jr., called the meeting to order, and Hon. Chas. A. Place was chosen chairman, and Borough Clerk J. K. Arnold was selected as secretary.

The following nominations were then made, the secretary casting the ballot for each:

Councilmen, John G. McLoughlin, L. B. Woolston; Justices of the Peace, H. S. Thomas, J. A. Karet; Surveyors of Highways, J. H. Lunger, J. H. Worth; Poundkeepers, S. Taynor, P. Eganey; Commissioners of Appeal, R. B. Carson, three years; J. P. Emmons, two years; Isiah Coriell, one year; Constable, three years, Peter Hansen.

Next came the amount of money to be appropriated. Mayor Hegeman stated that $5,000 was raised last year, which was $3,500 in excess of the year previous. In view of the fact that the borough had received their share of apportionment from the township when the two were divided, he thought that $3,000 would be ample to meet all the expenses. He then suggested that the amount for borough purposes be $3,000. It was so ordered. For roads $3,000 was appropriated. In connection with this Mr. Hegeman said he thought that this amount would be sufficient. Last year it was $4,000 but the money received from the township would help out in this department. He did not think it wise to specify any certain amount for any particular part of the borough, such as was done last year in the case of Somerset street.

For the support of the poor, $1,500 was named. Overseer of the Poor David R. Weaver then stated that he thought thal the above amount would really be needed. There was a division in regard to the amount for the Board of Health. Last year the sum was $500, but the Corporation Counsel, C. A. Reed, thought that they should have $600 this year, as the board had been to a considerable expense of late. Dr. Carman thought the same, but N. B. Smalley, another member of the board, said he thought that $500 was enough. A motion by Mr. Reed that $600 be appropriated was lost, and an amendment by N. B. Smalley, that $500 be raised, prevailed.

On motion of Mr. Reed, the chairman appointed B. S. Braider, P. A. Emmons and H. N. Spencer a committee to fill vacancies if there should be any. The meeting then adjourned.

Out Of Season.

"Thunder in winter," used to be a famous expression, as denoting something that was impossible, or, at least, very rare, but that was what was heard in Plainfield last evening about 7 o'clock. Towards the close of the afternoon, it grew dark very rapidly, and finally there were several sharp flashes of lightning, and thunder was also heard. The rain then came in very large drops, but only lasted about a minute, and then the thunder storm decided to wait until spring.

Festival of the Holidays.

The Young Ladies Missionary Society of the First Baptist church have in preparation an event which is called "The Festival of the Holidays." It will be given Monday and Tuesday afternoon and evening, March 16th and 17th, in the lecture room of the church.

To Unite With the Federation.

The Parliamentary Club met Thursday and decided to unite with the New Jersey State Federation of Women's clubs. The next meeting will be held March 12th, to which all the members are requested to be present as important business will come up.

—At the Sunday afternoon W.C.T.U. meeting letters will be read from Miss Rachel Mair, who is a missionary in Africa.

The little daughter of Mr. Fred Webber, Holland, Mass, had a very bad cold and cough which he had not been able to cure with any thing. I gave him a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says W. P. Holden, merchant and postmaster at West Brimfield, and the next time I saw him he said it worked like a charm. This remedy is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases such as colds, croup and whooping cough, and it is famous for its cures. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

PLAYED HOOKEY.

Two Borough Boys Worry Their Parents by Suddenly Disappearing.

There was great consternation in the borough last evening, caused by the disappearance of Amos Stout, aged twelve years, and Gus Kirch, aged ten years. They started for school at noon but did not go, owing to a desire on their part to play hookey. After school they did not return and their families began to worry about them. Supper time came, but the boys were nowhere to be found. Early in the evening the police in the borough and city were notified to look out for the missing youngsters. In the meantime the interested families began a search, assisted by the neighbors, but their efforts seemed fruitless. About ten o'clock Firman Long, of 37 Summit avenue, was returning home, when he discovered Gus Kirch jumping a fence on Grandview avenue. He caught him and took him home, and a half hour later Amos Stout was caught near the same place. Both were unwilling to go home, fearing the rod which might be applied. This is the second time that they have run away, but their experience led them to believe that home is the best place.

MRS. LANE TAKEN TO PRISON.

Tried in the Somerset County Court for Attempting to Shoot Calvin Corle.

Mrs. Pompey Lane, who attempted to shoot ex-Senator Calvin Corle, on Main street, Somerville, several months ago, was taken to the State Prison, at Trenton, yesterday, to serve a term of three years. Mrs. Lane was a leader among the colored population in that locality, and an active church worker. She is a handsome mulatto, about sixty years of age. Her antipathy to Mr. Corle originated in his refusing to turn over money to her from her late husband's estate, which had been left in trust, but which she claimed was due her. When the homestead was sold she refused to leave until she was carried out by the Sheriff.

At the trial Mrs. Lane denied that she purposed killing Mr. Corle. She was, however, found guilty, but a commission was appointed by the Court to examine into her sanity. It reported that she was sane, so Judge Bartine gave her three years. There has never been a blemish on her character before.

WINS HER FRST CASE.

New Jersey's First Woman Lawyer Starts Well on Her Career.

Miss Mary Philbrook, who is a frequent visitor and well known in this city, appeared in the Second District Court, Jersey City, yesterday morning, for the first time in her legal career, prepared to argue the case of J. Hughes & Sons, who are being sued for failure to carry out a contract for making repairs to Percy A. McGeorge's house.

Miss Philbrook was on hand bright and early, and so were a great many curious persons who came to hear the first woman lawyer of New Jersey argue a case. They were disappointed. George Ryerson, the opposing counsel, failed to appear and was nonsuited.

Of course, everybody was disappointed, the court officials included. Miss Philbrook received congratulations, and left the court room soon after.

Kappa Delta Phi Meeting.

The weekly meeting of the Kappa Delti Phi was held yesterday afternoon in the High School building. The meeting was called to order by the President, Henry Eggerding. The programme consisted of a five minute talk, on various subjects, by the members of the society.

The subjects and speakers were as follows: Charles M. Dolliver, "A Sketch of the Government of Russia;" F. Wilbur Cornell, "The Disappearing Gun Carriage;" Henry Eggerding, "Torpedo Boats;" Charles Noble, "The Trouble in Cuba;" S. E. Swayze, "A Study of Human Nature." After the programme the following officers were elected: President, Charles M. Dolliver; Treasurer, Charles Noble. The other officers hold office for another month.

Worth Knowing.

You can get sure relief from such optical troubles as granulation, inflammation, drooping of the lids, headache, pain in the eyeballs, or a feeling as of sand in the eyes, by wearing a pair of properly adjusted glasses. A sure demonstration of this may be had by a call at Collier's, 103 Park avenue, where a skillful test and the best optical goods are guaranteed.

Deputy Grand Chief.

Mrs. Radin, of Iona Council, Degree of Pocohontas, was appointed deputy grand chief, degree of Pocohontas, at the annual session of the council held at Trenton this week. Her district includes Plainfield, Rahway and Elizabeth.

HANDED IN THEIR CARDS.

Reports Heard From Those Who Are Raising Money for a Carpet.

It might just as well have rained last night as far as the sociable at the First M. E. church was concerned, for everybody thought it was going to and the attendance suffered in consequence. A delightful programme had been arranged, but all those who were to take part in it, except J. R. Joy, were unable to be present. George R. Cornwell made a few remarks at the start, saying that they were like the young lady at the dance who, when asked if her dance-card was filled, replied that it took more than two pieces of cake and a plate of ice cream to fill it. Mr. Joy was introduced as the cake and read two humorous poems, and then Mr. Cornwell filled the place of the cream. In a rather novel manner he received the reports from the subscription cards issued to raise the necessary $400 to pay for the carpet. Despite the small number, $150 was received, and a number of cards were not heard from.

The evening closed with doughnuts, coffee and conversation. The first two were served by the Misses Day, Davies, Teel, Davis, Chandler, Douglass and Barnes, and Messrs. Robert and Alvah Davis, D. S. Dunavan, W. F. Cornwell, Will Simmons and Garfield Pike. The conversation was passed around by everybody. The women in charge of the social, which was given by the Ladies' Aid Society, were kept busy in the kitchen. They were Mrs. D. E. Davis, chairman; Mrs. G. R. Cornwell, Miss Rachael Day and Miss Fisher.

LELAND AVENUE SURPRISE.

The Friends of Miss Dora Frederickson Call on Her Unexpectedly.

A pleasant surprise party was given to Miss Dora Frederickson at her home on Leland avenue, last evening, by a number of her young friends. The event was arranged by the Misses Caroline Erickson and Lizzie Burrows. Dancing was the principle pasttime of the evening. Those present were as follows: The Misses Annie Frederickson, Lizzie Burrows, Caroline Erickson, Mamie Nelson, Christina Lorenson, Caroline Burrop, Pauline Shimmin, Annie Burrop, Maggie Ried, Carrie Ried, Dora Frederickson and Ida Mirx; Messrs. Richard Kissam, Ben Frederickson, James Erickson, Alfred Leiwold, Harry Noble, George Reid, Jeppie Lorenson, Marins Lorenson, Christian Lorenson and Louis Henry.

A Morning Runaway.

The team of horses, attached to one of the ice wagons of the Plainfield Ice and Cold Storage Company, ran away today. They were standing in front of McVey's restaurant on North avenue while their driver, John Morton, was busy at the Company's offices. The horses were lively and one of them broke the ring in the bit, thus releasing them. They ran into Park avenue and were stopped in front of Tier's by William Robinson. No damage was done although there were a number of nrrrow escapes for passing vehicles and pedestrians.

Opposition Ticket Proposed.

A Daily Press reporter was assured by a prominent lawyer this morning than an independent ticket will be in the field at the next borough election. The opposition will name a man to run against Karet as justice of the peace, and possibly several others. The councilmanic nominations, it is expected, will not be opposed.

A Strange Injury.

While delivering milk at the home of Mrs. Drayton, of East Ninth street, one day this week, Charles Vail received a strange injury. A briar on a bush entered his ear, injuring the drum and rendering him deaf in that ear. Dr. Berg has performed an operation on it and Vail is slowly recovering his hearing.

Activity Appreciated.

The quickness with which the fire department responded to the alarm Thursday morning was greatly appreciated by Charles H. Hand, at whose home the fire was, and he presented the Firemen's Relief Association with a check for $5.

Another Change.

The court room in the rookery presented a new appearance this morning for Sergeant Kiely was on duty there in his new sergeant's cap and shield which are very becoming to that genial officer.

Our people are growing more and more in the habit of looking to Reynolds' pharmacy for the latest and best of everything in the drug line. They sell Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds, croup and whooping cough. When in need of such a medicine give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result.

TOLD DIFFERENT STORIES

BUT OUT OF THE BABLE OF VOICES FRANK WAS FOUND GUILTY.

The Essex Street Boarding House Scrap Aired in the City Police Court This Morning—Their English All Mixed Up.

The misunderstanding between the Essex street boarding house keeper and the boarder, which was described at the time in The Daily Press, was thoroughly aired in the city court this morning. From the testimony given there must have been two scraps, for the complainant, Charles Ramsberger, and his boarder, Andrew Frank, told stories that did not agree in many points.

The charge against Frank was a long one, and included door and window smashing, indecent language and fighting. Frank represented himself with the aid of an interpreter, for his English was rather unrecognizable. H. B. Reed, of Reed & Coddington, represented the Ramsberger family.

Mrs. Ramsberger was the first to tell her story. She said that her boarder had been drunk on Saturday and Sunday but did not grow abusive until Sunday night about 8 o'clock. Then he used such language that Mrs. Ramsberger held up her hands in horror when she told about him. According to her testimony he followed her upstairs, calling her names and swearing. He went into his room and began to handle a revolver, then he went down stairs and pounded on the table. The husband and wife descended to the kitchen, and there Frank broke a cane over the door and then belabored Ramsberger on the back with it. Ramsberger and his wife "very gently" pushed their boarder out of doors and locked the door. Then Frank smashed the panels of the door with a billet of wood and broke the glass in the window, cutting his face, at least, so Mrs. Ramsberger said.

Theodore VanHorn, a visitor the family in the house was the next witness and told substantially the same story. Of the forced exit of Frank, VanHorn said: "They took him along very gently, much more so than I would." But the witness dodged the question just how gentle they were.

The same story was repeated with variations by Charles Ramsberger who became somewhat excited over it. He is a German, and in the excitement, the mother tongue tried to gain the mastery. He painted Frank's character in flaming colors, and exclaimed in the climax of his speech, "If he is drunk he will do anythings, if he is sober he will run for a boy! I took him by the neck, gave him a couple of punches and pushed him out." Then followed what he would like to have done, told in true jingo style. Miss Maggie Hauser also saw the scrap and described it. She owned up having filled an empty beer bottle with tea.

Frank was next put on the stand, and declared the bottle was emptied by her. Excitement changed his English into German, and he jumped up and down as he tried to explain his case to the Judge. According to him, not a naughty word had passed his lips, while Ramsberger and his wife were just the contrary. He gave a sad account of his exit, and claimed that the cuts on his face were made by Mrs. Ramsberger's nails. There was a general testimony by all in concert, with here and there a solo part, that was finally closed by Judge DeMeza, who adjudged Frank guilty, and made the punishment a fine of $5, or ten days in jail. The fine was paid.

Lady Cyclers Entertained.

The Plainfield Lady Cyclers were entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Langdon, with progressive euchre. The first prizes were won by Mrs. F. S. Green and Miss Ida Clark. Miss Millie Langdon and Miss Arline Crane took the second prizes. A very pleasant afternoon was spent by all.

Little Folks Good Time.

A birthday surprise party is being tendered Master John Doud, at his parents residence on Duer street, this afternoon. All the young maidens and youths will spend the hours between 5 and 7 in a pleasant way as his sister, Miss Doud, is a charming hostess.

Efforts to Establish a Home.

An effort is being made at Somerville among the G. A. R. men and Ladies' Aid Society to establish a home for old soldiers and their wives. Next month an entertainment will be given for three days to start a fund for that purpose.

One More Bridge to Be Repaired.

One end of the large white bridge leading from John Wendell's property to Sterling, has fallen into the Passaic river on the Somerset county side. The last heavy rains weakened the foundations.

SURVIVING VICTIMS RECOVERING.

Miss Bertha Giles and the Dunbar Brothers Considered out of Danger.

Nelson and Ralston Dunbar and Miss Bertha Giles, who were injured in the accident in which Miss Laura Giles lost her life, at a crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad in Stelton, Wednesday night, are recovering. Bertha Giles, who is at the home of her grandfather, in Stelton, was reported dead at two o'clock yesterday afternoon, but the rumor was later denied by Dr. N. Williamson, who is caring for her. He says that the girl is seriously injured, and that her condition has been made worse by her grief for her dead sister, but he has every reason to believe that she will recover.

The two brothers, who are in the Wells Memorial Hospital, in New Brunswick, are still in a critical condition, though their recovery is considered probable. They have not yet been told that Laura Giles is dead. County Physician Carroll gave a permit for burial, deeming an inquest unnecessary. The funeral services for for the dead girl were held in the Stelton Baptist church, at half past two o'clock this afternoon.

DISSATISFIED POLITICIANS.

Borough Republicans Have a Misunderstanding Last Night.

A rumor of slight dissatisfaction has gained currency in the borough today in regard to the Councilmanic honors bestowed last evening at the Republican primary. It appears that a slate had been prepared which bore the names of W. C. Smith, P. A. Emmons and H. J. Martin. It was the intention to have two out of the three nominated. It was generally understood that W. C. Smith would not run again, and as afterward learned, neither Mr. Martin nor Mr. Emmons wanted it. It now appears that Mr. Smith had changed his mind and was willing to stand, but this fact was not known till after the caucus and some of his supporters feel slightly put out.

A VICIOUS HORSE.

Made a Lunge to Bite E. C. Searing's Little Child on Park Avenue.

While walking down Park avenue yesterday afternoon, pushing her little daughter Ethel in the baby carriage ahead of her, Mrs. Edward C. Searing, of West Fifth street, the child had a narrow escape from a vicious horse. She was just passing the side door to J. P. Laire's hardware store and D. S. Dunavan's horse, with wagon attached, was standing by the curb when the horse made a jump and tried to bite the little child in the carriage. Mrs. Searing pushed the carriage beyond the reach of the vicious equine, but not until after the animal's teeth came together just on the edge of the child's coat sleeve. She was out of danger before the horse could try again.

GAVE A BLOW FOR A JOKE.

Hackmen Get in a Quarrel and Arraigned in Police Court.

A hackman's friendly squabble, which resulted in the injury of one of the participants, was the cause of three arrests yesterday, and this morning the three hackmen appeared before Judge DeMeza. Charles Berry has been the butt of the little jokes of Oscar Vaughan and Wm. Callahan, and he took his turn by punching Vaughan in the back. The blow was harder than he meant and he injured Vaughan's back. The three have been repeatedly cautioned not to play about the North avenue station, but paid very little attention to the warning. They all paid $5 in preference to going to jail for fifteen days.

MR. WATSON'S FUNERAL.

Clothiers Paid a Tribute of Respect—Services at the Home.

The funeral of George Watson, the Newark clothier, who committed suicide in the Gilsey House, New York, early last Wednesday morning, wa held at two o'clock yesterday afternoon, at his late home, 31 Hawthorne avenue, East Orange.

The burial was in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

The entire clothing row on Broad street, McGregor and several of the Market street clothiers, closed between the hours of two and four as a mark of respect to Mr. Watson.

Disorderly Young Boys.

A party of lads who gave their names as Lawler, Kiely, Fizpatrick, Kane and Klein, appeared before City Judge DeMeza, this morning, on the charge of being disorderly, and using fire arms on Stelle avenue. They all pleaded not guilty, and when asked why they ran from Officer Totten, Kane said, "We saw a wagon coming along at a fast gait, and we thought we'd run." They were ordered to appear for trial on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

MISSION WOMEN MEET.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY OF THE FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Papers Read on Different Communities by Women Dressed in Garb Representative of Her Subject—$74.48 Collected.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Baptist church celebrated their twenty-fifth anniversary yesterday afternoon in the lecture room of the church in a most interesting manner.

The room was artistically arranged with drapery, representing oriental style as much as possible.

The exercises opened with singing, "The Morning Light is Breaking," by Miss Clawson, Miss Blair, Mrs. Biglow, Mrs. C. H. Smith and Miss Needham. Miss Gussie Runyon was the accompanist. This was followed with prayer by Dr. D. J. Yerkes, and Scripture reading by Mrs D J. Yerkes, who presided. Mrs. Shreve, Mrs. Manning, Mrs. Lowry, Mrs. Biglow and Mrs. Wilson then gave brief sketches of the foreign mission work from 1871 to 1896. It was an interesting feature, telling in general how the society had grown from a few members to a vast army of workers in the cause of Christ.

Loving tribute was paid to the late Mrs. W. C. Butler, who was a leader in the work of the Plainfield society and whose earnest, unwearing zeal resulted in the accomplishment of much good.

Mrs. Alexander Gilbert related in an intesting way the story of how a missionary won the hearts of many savages to Christ by singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name." The hymn was then rendered by the quintette, with violin accompaniment by Lindley Hillman.

The last number in part first was the rendition of a vocal solo by Mrs. DeWitt C. Brokaw.

Part second consisted of a description of "The Work and its Needs," by the following: Japan, Miss Marguerite McCutchen; China, Miss Susie Woodland; Burmah, Miss Hull; Assam, Miss Florence Serrell; Telugu, Miss French; Africa, Miss Shreve. They were attired in the costumes of the various countries and each read a sketch of the country represented.

Mrs. Gilbert then told briefly of the early life and conversion of Judson, the missionary. While the latter was confined in prison he composed a few verses of poetry. The words were set to music by E. J. Fitzhugh, and Miss Blair followed Mrs. Gilbert's remarks by singing them.

The silver offering was then taken, after which Hazel Grant gave a recitation and Ernest and Leslie Powlison sang a duet.

Mrs. Yerkes announced the offering to be $74.48, $3.48 of which was contributed by the women of the Mt. Olive Baptist church.

The exercises closed with the singing of a hymn, after which tea and wafers were served.

Those pouring tea and presiding at the tables were Mrs. W. R. Chapman, Miss Florence Marsh, Miss Ida Yerkes and Mrs. DeWitt C. Brokaw.

During the closing a pleasing violin solo was rendered by Lindley Hillman.

FIRST FLAG FLOATED.

Charles Noel Flys the Cuban Flag at This Country's Recognition.

From the residence of C. J. Noel, of Netherwood, now floats the first flag of the Cuban Republic that has been raised in honor of the granting of belligerent rights to the Cubans. Being in connection with the movement Mr. Noel was duly notified by telegraph from Washington of the news and on the receipt of which, Mrs. Noel at once unfurled the banner to the breeze. The flag is composed of five bars, three blue and two white, at the left hand on top of which is a triangle of red, a little over one-third of the length of the flag, and upon which is a white star occupying one-third of the triangle.

Husband and Wife Die a Week Apart.

Louis Myers, of New Providence, died at his home this morning after a short illness. It will be remembered that one week ago today, within twenty minutes of the same time, Mrs. Myers died. The funeral services will be held Monday morning at 10:20 from the Stony Hill R. C. church.

Threw Away His Canes.

Mr. D. Wiley, ex-postmaster, Black Creek, N. Y., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that he was only able to hobble around with canes, and even then it caused him great pain. After using Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was so much improved that he threw away his canes. He says this liniment did him more good than all other medicines and treatment put together. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by T. S. Armstrong, Manager Reynolds' pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

UPHOLDS DUNRAVEN

One British Paper Stands by the Disgraced Nobleman.

YACHT CLUB'S POSITION RIDICULOUS

Field Says the Earl's Expulsion Is an Unfortunate Ending of a Number of Serious Mistakes and Misunderstandings.

London, Feb. 29.—In its issue to-day the Field, which has always supported Lord Dunraven, says: "The result of the meeting of the New York Yacht club was a foregone conclusion. Still, it cannot be denied that the club has placed itself in a very ridiculous situation. It has virtually barred for the future any protests in international yachting in which the club may be a party. It is an unfortunate ending of a number of mistakes and misunderstandings. We are certain that such a resolution as the New York Yacht club passed Thursday night would never have been entertained by an English club. The only good feature about the incident is that it will not be treated very seriously."

The Effect on Future Races.

The Field will also publish a long article rehearsing the whole dispute, with running comments. It contends that the finding of the committee of inquiry and the evidence tendered conclusively prove that Lord Dunraven had ample and reasonable grounds for believing that the rules had been violated. He, therefore, as the representative of the challenging club, was bound to protest. The evidence clearly showed that the necessity for a committee of inquiry was entirely due to unfortunate blundering of the club's executive in dealing with an ordinary protest by inaction at one time and uncalled for action at another time. The legitimate and not uncommon charge of a breach of the rules has been held to be a charge of fraud and cheating, and has been magnified into an insult to the American nation. The case will doubtless be regarded in America as a precedent, and the consequent position of any future challengers will simply be to ask no inconvenient questions and to lodge no protests, but to provide a yacht to be beaten.

Gentleman, But No Philosopher.

The Daily News says: "Lord Dunraven is a sportsman and a gentleman, but we fear that he is not a philosopher. He has refused to accept the verdict of the committee with the result that he has been expelled from the New York Yacht club, and this because he insists upon believing that the evidence of his senses is incontrovertible. Does he deny the possibility of optical illusions and insist upon the infallibility of the eye? In the meanwhile the wretched dispute is as far from an amicable settlement as the Venezuelan matter. The present chapter ends with each side declaring the other to be no gentleman. At this rate races are likely to breed as much bad blood as any dispute over a South American swamp."

WILL BE NO SECESSION.

Views of Brigadier French on the Salvation Army Trouble.

New York, Feb. 29.—George French, brigadier, Salvation Army, divisional headquarters, St. Louis, makes the following statement: "Having conferred with Miss Eva Booth, America's new commissioner, and the general's representative, and having heard a full explanation from both sides of the issues involved, I am quite satisfied that the general could in no other way sustain the unity of the army, discipline of the organization, as well as further the best interests of America, than by upholding the farewell orders of Commander Booth. There will be no secession National headquarters and field staff are almost to a man solid for the one army, and the salvation of the whole world."

AMERICAN PRISONERS.

Transvaal Government Disposed To Treat Them Leniently.

Washington, Feb. 29.—Secretary Olney has received a cable message from Mr. Manion, the United States consular agent at Johannesburg, South African republic, saying: "The Transvaal government shows every disposition to treat (American) prisoners leniently and has been considerate and friendly toward all United States official representatives. Hammond and other American prisoners now in Johannesburg awaiting legal proceedings."

Against a Marquette Statue.

Washington, Feb. 29.—Mr. Linton of Michigan has prepared and will offer in the house to-day a resolution protesting against the erection of a statue of Pere Marquette in the capitol building. He takes the ground that the law provides for the admittance of statues of citizens of states only, and claims that Marquette was not a citizen of Wisconsin, as it was not a state when he lived and died.

Money To Fight the Raines Bill.

Troy, N. Y., Feb. 29.—The local liquor dealers' asssociation held a special meeting last night at which a fund was created with which to fight the pending Raines excise bill in the legislature. Each member was asked to subscribe to this fund.

Shot by a Rejected Suitor

New York, Feb. 29.—Katherine Flynn, aged 27, was shot five times last night on Second avenue by Thomas Cooley, the woman's former suitor, whom she had discarded on account of his drinking habit. She will probably die.

Many Deaths from Measles.

Colon, Feb. 29.—Measles, in a very fatal form, are epidemic in Port Limon, Costa Rica. The deaths from the disease average twelve daily.

CRITICIZES THE JUDGE.

Counsel for the Convicted Horsa Officers Will Fight to the End.

Philadelphia, Feb. 29.—When Capt. Ker, senior counsel for the three officers of the steamship Horsa, convicted yesterday of aiding in a Cuban filibustering expedition, was asked his opinion of the verdict, he said: "Well, it did not suit me, but I expected it from the manner in which the judge charged the jury. We are going to fight hard to keep the men out of jail. If a popular vote were taken they would be free. If they are convicted at the next trial, I'll have them admitted to honorary membership in the Grand Army of the Republic the moment they are sentenced. There is a clause in one of the laws of that organization that permits the election to honorary membership of any person, no matter what his nationality may be, who has been punished in the cause of freedom. If these men are sentenced they will be entitled to membership. Their conviction will not cause Americans to cease interesting themselves in the cause of Cuban freedom." Regarding the probability of a new trial, Capt. Ker stated: "If Judge Butler refuses the application for a new trial, I shall carry the case to the supreme court of the United States and fight it to the end. The judge went against three other decisions in his charge, and even chose not to follow the precedent set by Judge Wales of Wilmington, Del. What could you expect in such a case? The interpretation of the court was, I believe, contrary to the spirit and meaning of the law."

SPANISH OUTRAGES.

Senator Morgan Receives an Account of the Recent Massacres at Guatao.

Washington, Feb. 29.—Senator Morgan has received the following telegram from Tampa, Fla.: "In Guatao, seven miles from the suburbs of Havana, on Saturday, February 22, at half-past 2 o'clock, the insurgents retired from the town. At 6 o'clock 300 Spanish soldiers entered, murdering non-combatants to the number of twenty-two, among whom were even Spaniards and sick men, a boy of 15 and an old man 72. The violation of young girls was only prevented through the protest of Spanish residents. Fifteen innocent non-combatants have been taken to Mariono for trial. This news has been received through letters from reliable parties and since confirmed by living witnesses who have just arrived from the scene of the butchery. RAFAEL PORTUONDO, FERDINAND FIGURODO.

SANDY HOOK EXPERIMENTS.

Successful Trial of the Hathaway High Explosive at the Proving Ground.

Sandy Hook, N. J., Feb. 29.—The Hathaway High Explosive company had the first test of their product on the United States proving ground at Sandy Hook yesterday. A 6-pounder Driggs-Schroeder rapid-firing rifle was used for the trial, and five shells loaded with the high explosive were fired in succession with a full charge of powder. Four of the shells penetrated the 4-inch plate at which they were fired, and exploded in the sand butt back of it. To show the safety with which this explosive can be fired with a powder charge from a high power gun, the last shell was without a detonator and, penetrating the plate, did not explode. The Hathaway high explosive is claimed to be 5 per cent. more powerful than No. 1 dynamite. Lieut.-Col. Ruggles conducted the test before the board of ordnance. The test was very successful and satisfactory to all present.

CHOLERA GERMS.

They May Be Transmitted Through Mails Under Certain Restrictions.

Washington, Feb. 29.—The order of the postmaster general issued June, 1893, forbidding the use of the mails for the transmission of specimen germs of cholera or other diseased tissues, has just been modified by Postmaster-General Wilson so as to allow admission of such germs for transmission to United States or municipal laboratories. This will be allowed, however, only when the germs are enclosed in mailing packages constructed in accordance with strict specifications now promulgated. These packages will not be allowed to be delivered to any representative of a laboratory until a permit is first issued by the postmaster-general certifying the right of the institution to receive them.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Wheat—Spot held strong, but dull. February, 75¾c.; March, 75¾c.; May, 74c.

Corn—Spot held firm, but dull. February, 37⅛c.; May, 36⅛c.

Oats—Spot higher, checking trade. February, 26¼c.; March, 26c.; May, 26c.

Pork—Spot steady at easy prices. Extra prime nominal, short clear, $11.50@$12.50; family, $10.75@$11.00; mess, $10.25@$10.75.

TO FREE THE CUBANS

The Senate Resolutions Now on Speaker Reed's Desk.

MAY BE CALLED UP NEXT MONDAY

Efforts for the Recognition of the Struggling Patriots Nearing a Successful Finish—Provisions of the Recommendations of the Senate.

Washington, Feb. 29.—The Cuban resolutions that passed the senate just before adjournment of that body last night now lie on the desk of the speaker of the house whence they may be called up at any time, probably on Monday next, as Mr. Hitt said this morning that he would ask the house to dispose of them on that day. The closing debate on these resolutions in the senate were listened to with great interest by crowded galleries, several foreign representatives and their wives occupying chairs in the diplomatic gallery. Up to the hour of 4 o'clock the debate went on—senators vieing with each other in praise of the Cuban patriots and in denunciation of Captain-General Weyler, and Senator Sherman characterizing him rather as a demon than as a general. The cruelties of Pizarro and Cortez in Mexico and Peru, and of the Duke of Alba in the Netherlands were not overlooked and there ran through the debate a hardly concealed contempt for the power of Spain. The debate closed at 4 p. m. and then the voting began. Various amendments were voted down or laid on the table by large majorities, and finally the vote came on the resolution of the committee on foreign relations as amended by the addition to it of Senator Cameron's resolution for the recognition of Cuban independence.

Terms of the Resolution.

The terms of the concurrent resolution are that in the opinion of congress a condition of public war exists between the government of Spain and the government proclaimed and maintained by force of arms by the people of Cuba; that the United States should maintain a strict neutrality between the contending powers, according to each of them all the rights of belligerents in the ports and territory of the United States; and that the friendly offices of the United States should be offered by the president to the Spanish government for the recognition of the independence of Cuba. The six senators who voted against the resolution were: Caffery, dem., La.; Chilton, dem., Tex.; George, dem., Miss.; Hale, rep., Me.; Morrill, rep., Vt., and Wetmore, rep., R. I. Among those present in the diplomatic gallery during the closing debate were two secretaries of the Spanish legation and many other attaches.

BRITISH PRESS VIEWS.

The Standard Believes President Cleveland's Position Is Embarrassing.

London, Feb. 29.—In its issue to-day the Standard says it thinks that the action of the senate on the Cuban question places President Cleveland in a highly embarrassing position. Nevertheless, the throwing of the onus of the decision on him is a high compliment to his judgment. It is much to be hoped that he will feel strong enough to follow the policy of prudence.

Entering Upon a Thorny Road.

The Chronicle says: "If President Cleveland decides to act upon the resolution of congress his action will be one that Spain will perforce regard as hostile to her vital interests. Whatever the rights or wrongs of the case, no power would tolerate a request from another power to give independence to a rebellious colony. The doing so would involve abdicating all position of sovereignty. That Spain will do so is inconceivable yet it is difficult to see what effective opposition she could offer if the United States are determined to follow their good offices by action. The American government, however, is entering upon a thorny road. It must be assumed that it realizes all the responsibilities it proposes to incur."

MURDER IN SECOND DEGREE.

Mrs. Van Wyck's Sex Alone Saved Her from Going to the Gallows.

Paterson, N. J., Feb. 29.—Mary Van Wyck was convicted yesterday in the court of oyer and terminer of murder in the second degree. In August last she threw her five months' old baby, Herbert, into the Passaic river because she could not support it and could find no one to take care of it. Her husband died five years ago, leaving her without means of support. Mrs. Van Wyck heard the verdict without a tremor. Her sex saved her from conviction of murder in the first degree, as the evidence clearly indicated that the murder was deliberate and premeditated.

Nervous

People should realize that the only true and permanent cure for their condition is to be found in having

Pure Blood

Because the health of every organ and tissue of the body depends upon the purity of the blood. The whole world knows the standard blood purifier is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

And therefore it is the only true and reliable medicine for nervous people. It makes the blood pure and healthy, and thus cures nervousness, makes the nerves firm and strong, gives sweet sleep, mental vigor, a good appetite, perfect digestion. It does all this, and cures Scrofula, Eczema, or Salt Rheum and all other blood diseases, because it

Makes Pure Blood

Results prove every word we have said. Thousands of voluntary testimonials fully establish the fact that

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Be Sure to Get Hood's

"I can eat better, sleep better and am better in every way since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla." C. C. DAVIS, Box 625, Salina, Kan.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, constipation, biliousness, sick headache, indigestion. 25c.

Nothing Like It.

Time brings many changes, but the climate of California, "The Italy of America," and the attractions of the many famous health and pleasure resorts, are the same yesterday, today and forever.

Tourists never will tire of speaking in praise of the soft and balmy air, the profusion of flowers, the magnificent display of fruits, the luxury of seabathing and the beautiful walks and drives.

Then, too, it must be conceded that with such excellent equipment, consisting of Reclining Chair Cars, Pullman Palace Sleepers and Pullman Dining Cars, all heated by steam and lighted with Pintsch Light, the Union Pacific, "The Overland Route," is the tourists favorite. Ask your agents for tickets via this route.

E. L. Lomax, General Pass and Ticket Agent, Omaha, Neb.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for rheumatism and neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75c. Sold by H. P. Reynolds, druggist, Park and North avenues. 2 12 y

Quick in effect, heals and leaves no scar. Burning, scaly skin eruptions quickly cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Applied to burns, scalds, old sores, it is magical in effect. Always cures piles. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

C. C. Pope & Co.,
INSURANCE AGENTS.
10 East Front st.,
Plainfield, N. J.

CLEANER COAL.
L. A. Rheaume
Agent.
Watchung Ave., Corner 4th St.,

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

Upper Lehigh and Honeybrook Coal
in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

Rough and Dressed Lumber.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for turning and scroll sawing, and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner and at short notice.

No Place Like Home

on Christmas day. No day like Christmas at home. Christmas will be merrier the more home like the home. Our great holiday sale of wall paper should attract all whose houses need papering.

Marsh, Ayers & Co.

Recommended by Physicians.
Horsford's
Baking Powder is itself a Nutritious Food.
No other powder has this quality.

California IN THREE DAYS

without change of cars. All meals served in dining cars. Palace drawing-room sleeping cars and tourist sleepers are run through to San Francisco and Los Angeles without change, leaving Chicago daily via

THE NORTH-WESTERN LINE

Through Tourist sleeping cars Chicago to California daily and personally conducted excursions every Thursday. Variable route tourist tickets at

VERY LOW RATES.

Detailed information and descriptive pamphlets will be mailed free on application to W. B. Kniskern, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago. Agents of connecting lines sell tickets via the

Chicago & North Western Railway,

or address: H. A. Gross, G. E. P. A., 423 Broadway, New York, or T. P. Vaille, S. E. P. A., 112 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

FOR GIFTS and LIGHT buy "MILLER" LAMPS

Elegant designs (a thousand styles), Beautiful finishes, and the best lamp made—up-to-date in every respect. Call and see it, also our Fine Brass and Onyx Tables. Buy only "Miller" lamps from dealers. We have been manufacturers since 1844.——made "The Rochester" Lamp.

EDWARD MILLER & CO., 28 & 30 WEST BROADWAY, (66 Park Pl.) bet. Park Pl. & Barclay St., N. Y.

Convenient to all "down-town" Ferries, and Elevated Stations at Park Place and Barclay St.

For Cool Weather buy a "MILLER" OIL HEATER.

FOR SALE BY W. L. GAVETT & CO.

Freshest Oysters

will be found at

Rogers' Sea-Food Market.

THE HALLET & DAVIS PIANOS

Have stood the test of over fifty-five (55) years

and are not surpassed by any in the world. Prices, $300 and upwards. Our special 3-year payment plan makes purchase easy. We have other makes of new pianos at $200. Good squares at $75, and we give a full 5-year warranty with everything we sell. Old instruments taken in exchange. Send for illustrated catalogue giving full information.

The Tway Piano Co.,
88 FIFTH AVE.,
near 14th st., New York.

"Tway's Musical Guest," containing 8 pages of music, interesting reading matter and theatrical news, mailed free on application. 10 3 6m

COAL F. W. HAND,
132 North avenue.
929 South avenue.
197 North avenue.
Telephone No. 139.

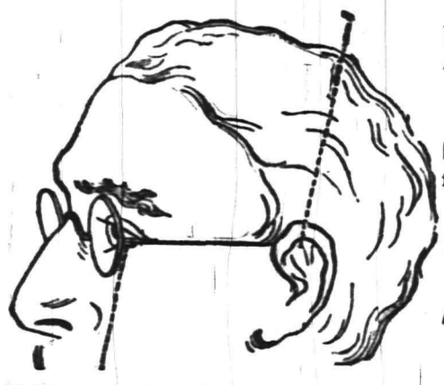
Putnam & DeGraw

THIS WEEK WE WILL SELL

SHIRT WAISTS—Ladies laundered shirt waists only 50c.
UMBRELLAS—Fast black, Paragon frame, only 75c.
HOSIERY—Children's 1x1 rib, extra quality, all sizes, 15c; ladies fast black seamless, extra quality, at 10, 15 and 25c; men's mixed half hose, extra quality 10c, 3 for 25c; men's mixed half hose, seamless, extra heavy, 15c, 2 for 25 cents.
WAISTS—Children's corded underwaists 25c; children's outing flannel waists 50c style for 40c.
NECKWEAR—A new and special line at 25 and 50c.
EMBROIDERIES—Our's are the talk of the city.
COTTON CREPONS—Evening shades at 12 and 15c a yard.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,
301-311 WATCHUNG AVE.,
——DEALERS IN——
Lumber, Coal Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement for Walls and Ceilings



Leech, Stiles & Co.,
EYE SPECIALISTS,
1413 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa.,
formerly with Queen & Co. H. A. Stiles will be at
107 East Front Street,
Dunham's real estate office,
EVERY THURSDAY
from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Skilful attention given to all cases of eye strain, headache, etc. No charge for examination. All glasses guaranteed.

Bargains in Real Estate
For sale or to let.
MONEY to loan on first mortgage.

E. C. Mulford,
No. 169 North avenue.
Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.
BROKER.

Communications pertaining to the business mentioned, either by letter or otherwise, will receive prompt attention. Carriage service supplied.

The Spring is your most dangerous time!

Get your blood pure and your nerves strong.

Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy,

Guaranteed Purely Vegetable and Harmless, IS THE GREATEST AND BEST

Spring Medicine!

Are You Prepared for Spring?

S. W. NOURSE, Esq.

It is necessary to prepare yourself for the advent of spring by taking a spring medicine. Use the remedy which cured S. W. Nourse, Esq., of Hudson, Mass.

"From constant worry over business matters," he said, "I suffered from the loss of sleep, and became so nervous that I was entirely unfitted for my business. In fact, I feared insanity. I used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. The effect was almost magical. I could again sleep, mental composure, appetite, and strength returned. Six bottles of this remedy cured me, and I have remained well to this date. I have recommended Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to many of my friends and neighbors, and have yet to learn of a failure to obtain good results."

He was Cured by Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy.

How to Get Well and Keep Well.

MRS. OLIVER WILSON.

Do You Feel Weak, Tired, and Nervous?

The wonderful cure of Mrs. Oliver Wilson, of Northboro, Mass., will interest you.

"I was suffering from nervousness," she says, "caused by female weakness and nervous prostration. I was so nervous and weak I could not go up a common pair of stairs without stopping to rest, and was troubled to sleep at night. I took Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and have obtained my old elastic step around the house, to the surprise of my friends. After creeping around for two years, hardly able to do anything, it has proved a boon to me truly. I know of many others whom it has cured and who speak most highly in praise of it."

Everybody Should take a Spring Medicine.

Read this and You Will Know What to Use.

Mrs. Elmer Craig, of No. Peoria, Ill., tells you how you can be well and strong:

"I was stricken with nervous disease," she says, "which affected my heart, head, and stomach. I doctored with physicians of our town, but got no relief from the terrible sick headaches, pains in the heart and stomach until I used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Before I used this wonderful medicine the nerves in my eyes were so affected that I feared that I would lose my sight. I would get so nervous and weak I could not walk across the room without terrible palpitation of the heart. I had not taken one bottle of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy before my head and eyes were cleared of their dull aching, and I am growing stronger every day. I cannot do half justice in the praise of this medicine."

MRS. ELMER CRAIG.

Is Your Blood Pure, Are Your Nerves Strong?

Mr. Seth E. Parsons, of 22 Park St., Albany, N. Y., one of Albany's most prominent business men, states:

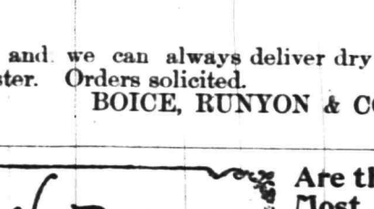
"I was very nervous. I could not hold my hands still, especially my left hand; there was an involuntary contraction of the muscles and movement of the fingers.

"My food troubled me very soon after eating. My kidneys and bladder were affected so it was difficult to urinate freely.

"I used the celebrated medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and without being tedious reciting my experience, I can say that these difficulties have left me, and my nerves are quiet and my food does not distress me.

"I feel without hesitation in saying that I think Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy has produced these favorable results."

Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy Cured Him.



MR. SETH E. PARSONS.

To get well and to keep well, take

Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy.

It is the discovery and Prescription of a successful Physician.

DR. GREENE, 35 West 14th St., New York City, can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle. Accept no substitute. This remedy has no equal.

Finest Assortment of Lace, Celluloid and Card

Valentines

in the city.

HARPER'S,

411 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.

W. N. Pangborn,

LICENSED AUCTIONEER, Residence, 33 Linden Ave.

Personal attention. Prompt service. 1 14 tf

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter, 22c.

Best Dairy Butter 18c.

V. L. FRAZEE

151 West Front st.

William Hand & Son.

STAGES

For Picnics and Parties, 518 Park ave.

GEO J. TOBIN,

187 North Avenue.

Practical Plumber.

Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer.

Telephone Call 158a

Edwin B. Maynard,

Hair Cutting and Shampooing.

Tonsorial parlor, 204 Park ave., Plainfield. Ladies' shampooing and children's hair cutting a specialty.

THE

Bee Hive

Men's Unlaundered Shirts.

Lot 1—The Cast Iron Shirt, made of good heavy muslin, good 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, patent facings, 38c.

Lot 2—New York mills muslin, 3-ply, fine linen bosoms, reinforced front and back, patent facing, 48c.

Lot 3—Our New York mills shirt, made of New York mills muslin, 2 and 3-ply linen bosom, reinforced front and back, continuous facings and hand-made button holes, equal to the best custom-made shirt, 69c.

Boys' unlaundered shirts 38 cts. Laundered shirts 50c, 75c and $1.

Louis Callman,

222 West Front st.

H. Eggerding,

121 Park ave.,

Manufacturer of the Celebrated

C. O. D. CIGAR.

The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars

PLAINFIELD SEMINARY

re-opened

SEPTEMBER 19, 1895.

(28th year.) Miss E. E. Kenyon, Principal.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

— Dealers in —

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Material, &c.

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

Waverley BICYCLES.

Highest of High Grades.

Are the Most Popular in the World.

Are Built in the Largest and Best Equipped Factory in the World. They are the Most Popular and Best Selling Wheels Made.

Evidenced by the fact that there were more of them sold in '95 than any other make. Be sure to see sample before purchasing your '96 wheel.

Made by Indiana Bicycle Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

F. L. C. MARTIN, AGENT. 1 27 eod

Telephone, Brooklyn, 366.

COMINS & EVANS,

Acorn Brand

Asphalt Roofing.

Gravel and Metal Roofing, Tile and Brick Roofing, Water-Tight Cellars.

45 WAVERLY AVE, BROOKLYN, N. Y.

New York office, 38 Dey st. 1 18 y-eod

TRADE STILL QUIET

The Expected Revival of Business Not Yet Realized.

SOME BRANCHES ARE FAIRLY ACTIVE

On the Whole, However, the Situation Is Not So Encouraging as Recent Indications Promised — Few Business Failures.

New York, Feb. 29.—Bradstreets' weekly review of the condition of business will to-day say: Changeable, and at times unseasonable, weather has continued to unfavorably influence the distribution of general merchandise. Relatively, the most active movement has been of shoes, groceries, dry goods, millinery and light hardware, but, on the whole, the merchandise movement has not materially improved. Jobbers at large western centres do not anticipate a heavy spring trade, as the outlook is for retailers carrying over larger stock than expected. Unsatisfactory conditions prevail in the cotton goods, woolen, iron and steel industries. Jobbers in product of cotton mills report that trade drags, notwithstanding cut rates, and that the outlook is that there will be more idle cotton mill machinery. Demand for woolen goods is slower and stocks in hands of retailers are heavier than when last reported. Steel rails, iron pipe and nails are the firmest products of the steel and iron industries, large orders having been placed. Throughout the central western states a large number of iron stacks are idle, which may have an effect on the price of superior ores.

Boot and Shoe Trade Active.

In addition to renewed activity in the glass industry, large orders, spring delivery, are being placed for boots and shoes at the more important delivering centers, and manufacturers report trade active and prospects encouraging. Leading money markets are easier at the close, but mercantile collections south, and particularly west, have fallen off and are unsatisfactory. Unsatisfactory reports from western merchandise markets are the rule, but Omaha reports improvement in business. Price movement of leading staples is more favorable, with advances for wheat, Indian corn and oats. Bank clearings throughout the United States for the five business days ending Feb. 27 aggregate $914,000,000, a favorable exhibit (one holiday), although 16 per cent. smaller than the total last week, inasmuch as it is 20 per cent. larger than the total for the fourth week of February, 1895, and 9 per cent. larger than for the corresponding week of 1894. The falling off in the total number of business failures throughout the United States a week ago is continued, the total number being 271, as compared with 276 last week, 234 in the corresponding week of 1895, 272 in the fourth week of February, 1894, 217 in the like period in 1893, and 247 in 1892.

FOUL PLAY FEARED.

No Trace Yet of Missing Captain Charles M. Gillmour.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 29.—Nothing has yet been heard from Capt. Charles M. Gillmour, whose disappearance was reported Thursday night, and the agents of the schooner Harry Prescott of this port, which vessel Gillmour commanded, are sending out a general alarm to the police departments of Boston, New York, Providence and other of the large ports on the Atlantic. The captain was last seen on the 12th inst. The agents have positive evidence that the captain bought a ticket for Boston and checked his baggage to that city on the date in question. The captain is spoken of in the highest terms by the shipping agents and their only theory is that he has been foully dealt with.

FURTHER SHORTAGE.

Report of Examiners of the Books of Ex-Attorney Moreland of Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Feb. 29.—The city auditors engaged in examining the accounts of ex-City Attorney Moreland against whom a number of indictments for malfeasance in office, embezzlement, etc., are pending, have reported to City Comptroller Gourley a further shortage of $3,726.33. The comptroller's report of the discovery will be given to a special meeting of common council next Tuesday. The new "hold out" was in the street opening account which the ex-city attorney handled himself and never reported to any other city officer. No further informations will be made against Major Moreland until city council takes action on the comptroller's report.

Mrs. Kelso Rapidly Recovering.

New York, Feb. 29.—Mrs. Ethel Kelso, who murdered her two children and then attempted to end her life by taking poison and cutting the arteries in her wrist, was reported this morning to be rapidly recovering. It is said that in a few days she will be able to go to court to answer to the charge against her. It is believed by the physicians that she will never recover the use of one of her arms.

New York-Brooklyn Bridge Plans.

Washington, Feb. 29.—Secretary Lamont has approved the plans recommended by a board of engineer officers for the construction of the new bridge across the East river from New York to Brooklyn.

Tried To Shoot His Wife.

Newton, L. I., Feb. 29.—F. Engelking of Jackson avenue, Woodside, who tried to shoot his wife and two children, is locked up and his mental condition is to be inquired into.

Treasury Gold Reserve.

Washington, Feb. 29.—The treasury gold reserve at the opening of business to-day stood at $122,244,229.

HE IS A BIMETALIST

W. C. Whitney Explains His Position on the Money Question.

GOLD AND SILVER THE CURRENCY

In a Letter to a Southern Paper He Also Disapproves of a Move in Mississippi Looking to His Nomination for the Presidency.

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 29.—The Clarion Ledger to-day publishes the following letter from Hon. W. C. Whitney of New York: "From recent issues of your paper sent me by some friend, I learn that W. S. McAllister has been circulating in your city among prominent democrats a petition requesting me to become a candidate for the presidential nomination of the democratic party. In the course of the controversy which naturally arose from such effort on his part, he speaks of himself as one of the 'principal managers of the Whitney movement in this state (Miss.). If similar proceedings were taken, and similar words employed with regard to another person, I should assume that he was aware of what was being done. I therefore desire to disclaim any knowledge of any such 'movement,' whatever that may mean, and I request any friend of mine not to join it. It is doubtless intended in a friendly spirit, but has not my approval or concurrence.

Gold and Silver for World's Currency.

"From the same source of information I learn that some persons have believed me a supporter of the view that the United States should open its mints to the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 independent of the co-operation and action of other nations, and in that belief have been lead into a false position as regards their own principles. Under these circumstances I ought to say that I do not believe in that theory of finance, but consider it unsound, and, if adopted, likely to lead to most evil consequences to our people and their industries and prosperity. It is, in my opinion, fundamentally wrong and vicious. I am a believer in gold and silver as the metallic basis of values, and of the world's currency, and am confident that within a time not far distant there will be a concurrence of the nations upon the subject, by which the ratios of value of the two metals for coinage and currency purposes will be fixed, and the stability of such values maintained by an international agreement. I am aware that this view is looked upon as financial heresy by some and as visionary by others, but such persons must be themselves ignorant of the latest developments of scientific thought upon this subject, and the rapid advance this view is making where heretofore it has had little support.

Not a Candidate for the Presidency.

"Until that occurs I believe any action by the United States alone would be disastrous to us, would bring general ruin to our present prosperity, and would hinder the true and final solution of the problem. These opinions I do not entertain or express as a candidate for the presidency (for which office I have already said I would not be a candidate), but in order that your people who have views differing from these may not be deceived as to mine.

"WILLIAM C. WHITNEY."

GREAT BRITAIN'S CASE.

Ambassador Bayard Receives the Papers in the Venezuelan Dispute.

London, Feb. 29.—United States Ambassador Bayard last evening received a copy of the British case in the Venezuelan dispute prepared by Sir Frederick Pollock, professor of jurisprudence at Oxford university. Mr. Bayard was given the document in strict confidence and will mail it to the state department in Washington to-day.

Verdict for Personal Injuries Sustained.

Boston, Feb. 29.—The full bench of the supreme court has overruled the demurrer in the case of Jennie A. Gordon against the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad. In the lower court the jury rendered a verdict of $4,000 for the plaintiff, who was injured by reason of a defect in the floor of the company's depot at Holbrook. Plaintiff had bought a ticket and was held to be a passenger. The verdict stands.

Is Osgood a Filibuster?

Philadelphia, Feb. 29.—The story circulated here that W. D. Osgood, the well-known Pennsylvania half-back, was among the band of Cubans captured as they were making for the steamer Bermuda in New York harbor is not credited among his friends. In this city it was stated that he had gone west to train a football eleven.

The Armenian Relief.

Constantinople, Feb. 29.—An imperial irade has been issued permitting Miss Clara Barton, president of the American Red Cross society, and her representatives, to travel in Anatolia and distribute relief to sufferers there. United States Minister Terrell accompanied Miss Barton and her party to Selamlik.

Dunraven's Resignation Arrives.

New York, Feb. 29.—The resignation of Lord Dunraven, which has been expected for some days, but had not arrived up to the time of the earl's expulsion from the New York Yacht club, was received by J. V. S. Oddie, secretary of the club, at 7:10 o'clock last evening.

Prof. Brooks Again Honored.

Geneva, N. Y., Feb. 29.—Prof. Wm. R. Brooks has been awarded the medal of the Astronomical society of the Pacific for the discovery of his latest comet. This is the fifth honor of the kind bestowed upon Prof. Brooks.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

Published Daily, except Sunday, at 3:30 p. m

108 North avenue. Telephone Call 61.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., FEB. 29, 1896

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Rain Tonight, Probably Turning to Snow; Sunday, Decidedly Colder, Probably Cold Wave.

At 2 o'Clock Leggett's Thermometer Registered 53 Degrees.

COMING EVENTS.

Announcements of all meetings, etc., will be made in this column, free of charge, if copy is furnished by 10 a. m.

February 29—Capt. Jack Crawford in Crescent Avenue church chapel at 8 p. m.
March 2—Stated meeting of Union County Branch of State Charities Aid Association in All Souls church at 8 p. m.
March 2—Bible talk for all at the Y. M. C. A.
March 3—Star Course entertainment in Y. M. C. A. hall.
March 2—Common Council and Board of Education meet.
March —Registry Boards in North Plainfield meet.
March 10—Lecture by Miss Elizabeth Yates, of Maine.

The Daily Press today consists of twelve pages.

Today is the date that comes but once in four years.

The Democratic primary will be held in the North Plainfield public school house this evening at eight o'clock.

The hen that leaves her nest after a few days sitting because she does not hear the chirp of chicks, is something like the merchant who quits advertising after the first few "throws" because his first calls haven't filled his store with clamoring customers.—Jed Scarboro.

The action of the Senate yesterday in passing the resolution declaring that Cuba should be accorded belligerent rights meets with general commendation throughout the country. There is a feeling of natural friendship by the citizens of this country towards any class of people like the Cubans whose resources are usurped by government to support the royality.

An incident in the history of the Republic which occurred in 1849 made David R. Atchison, of Missouri, President for a day, and made his name known throughout the country, yet probably very few of the politicians of today remember that such a man ever lived. Atchison was President pro tem of the Senate in 1849. March 4th at the end of President Polk's term and the beginning of the term of President Taylor fell on a Sunday. President Taylor was a strict observer of the Sabbath, and would not take the oath of office until noon on Monday, March 5th.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Adam Blair will take possession on Monday of the stable belonging to F. A. Pope, on West Sixth street, formerly occupied by him. He is already moving some of his stock.

—U. B. Crane and Charles Clark, hatters and furnishers, 120 West Front street, received a carload of fine trunks today, bought at about 60 cents on the dollar. Trunk buyers will get bargains.

—Frederick Menega, of Berkley Heights, formerly a resident of Grove street, died yesterday afternoon at his late home, from dropsy. The funeral will be held Monday afternoon from the house.

—A very enjoyable musicale was given at New Brunswick on Wednesday night by Miss Rosa J. Schults, who is well known in this city. The finest musical talent of New Brunswick was present. Richard Menzel and P. Ludwig Conde, of this city, took part.

Lectured on Charles Dickens.

Leon H. Vincent, whose delightful lectures on the English and American modern authors have been listened to with such interest by Plainfield audiences, gave one on "Charles Dickens" yesterday afternoon at Monroe Avenue chapel. He handled the subject with great clearness and told of that great novelist in a way that deeply interested his audience. His choice of language and the slight thread of humor that was visible here and there in his discourse, make him one of the most accomplished speakers on the lecture platform. He is a nephew of Bishop Vincent.

Profits of the Fair.

Hope chapel cleared $100 out of the Industrial Fair held two weeks ago.

Sallow complexion,

dull yellow eyes, offensive breath, and skin covered with pimples and eruptions are caused by indigestion. Bright eyes, a clear skin and rosy cheek follow the use of Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills. Will not gripe, wrapped in tinfoil, patented, yellow if bowels are bound.

Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills.

Eat good food and avoid all pills and other medicines which simply act on the bowels.

DR. J. A. DEANE CO., Kingston, N. Y.

It not only is so, it must be so, One Minute Cough Cure acts quickly, and that's what makes it go. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front S

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Edna Martin, of Sandford avenue, is ill at her home.

Sheriff Wyckoff, of Somerville, was in the borough today on business.

W. N. Wilkinson, of New York, visited friends in Plainfield on Thursday.

Fred Sandford, of Washington Park, left for Philadelphia today to visit friends.

Miss Hattie Lunger, of Manning avenue, has recovered from her recent severe illness.

E. E. Anthony and family, of Westervelt avenue, will move to Washington street, April 1st.

Edward Mitchell, who married Annie Burke, of this city, last August, died in Colorado last week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Wills, of La Grande avenue, have returned from a visit at Lakewood.

George Douglas and Will Garford who have been visiting friends in Brooklyn, have returned home.

Miss Lizzie Huff, of Centreville, Hunterdon county, is visiting her brother, Horace Huff, of West Fifth street.

Mrs. Kelcey, of New Brunswick, returned home today after a few days visit with Mrs. L. C. Dunn, on Park avenue.

Mrs. W. E. MacClymont, of Washington avenue, has returned from a few days visit with her parents at Westfield.

Miss Jennie Schaeffer, who has been teaching in the North Plainfield public school, is visiting her sister in Bound Brook.

Frank and Walter Wenzelreed and Charles Paterson, of Philadelphia, who have been visiting friends here, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Firstbrook have returned from their wedding trip and have taken up their residence on Elmwood place.

Arthur B. Crane, of East Second street, spent Thursday afternoon and night with his brother, S. C. Crane, of Columbia Law School.

Mrs. H. C. Compton and daughter, of the West End, sailed for Bermuda this morning on the steamship Trinidad to be absent until April.

Mrs. Wesley Hummer, of New York State, has returned home after a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. D.N. Force, of LaGrande avenue.

Miss S. M. Cutter, of Grove street, has resumed her duties as senior class teacher in the North Plainfield public school after a severe illness.

Rev. Mr. Smith, of Somerville, was the guest of Mrs. Wm. White yesterday and attended the missionary reception in the First Baptist church.

Miss Julia Townley, of Manning avenue, has returned from New York, where she was the guest of Julius Henri Brown, the well known writer.

Mrs. Sylvester Randolph and her daughter, Miss Sadie Randolph, of South Plainfield, have returned home after a pleasant visit with Plainfield friends.

Miss Grace Yerkes, daughter of Rev Dr. Yerkes, has returned to her home on Seventh street, after an absence of several weeks in Baltimore, Md., and Greenville, S. C.

Mrs. George Chapman, of Stelle avenue, was ill yesterday and unable to render the solo for which she was down on the programme of the silver reception in the First Baptist church.

The many friends of George L. Bascomb, formerly of East Ninth street, but now of Elmira, will be glad to hear that he is recovering from the attack of typhoid fever that nearly caused his death.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Denithorn, of Brooklyn, will take up their residence on LaGrande avenue in a few days for the summer. Mr. Denithorn is a brother-in law of the celebrated Brookiyn physician, J. W. VanDeuzen.

Mundy Fined.

The case of the Borough Board of Health against Ira Mundy, for maintaining a nuisance, was tried before Justtce Crosley, this morning, and the defendant was fined $10.

The Italian Goes to Prison for a Year.

Antionio Armite, the Italian, who assaulted Mrs. Hobby, of Grove street, sometime ago, was sentenced yesterday at Somerville to a one year's term at State Prison.

Chopped Off His Finger.

While playing in the nearly completed house of Silas Yerkes, on East Sixth street, Paul Collier, of the same thoroughfare, cut off the end o his finger with a hatchet.

Preferred 'Possums to Primaries.

Edward Campbell saw an opposum on his way to the Democratic primary at New Market Thursday night and captured it alive.

—An excellent musical programme is being arranged for next Friday evening in Trinity Reformed church.

Don't invite disappointment by experimenting. Depend upon One Minute Cough Cure and you have immediate relief. It cures croup. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

THEATRICAL.

Cosgrove and Grant's comedians in "The Dazzler" will be the attraction at Music Hall Tuesday night. "The Dazzler" is just what its name implies, a rattling, jolly farce comedy that pleases people and sends them home happy. The name is always the same, what they call the plot never changes: but everything else is different every year, star, comedians, singers and pretty girls. If you want to hear the latest song, or catch the brightest joke of the season, it is in "The Dazzler." If you have an eye for a pretty girl dressed in some delightful and bewildering costume, "The Dazzler" fills the bill. It is always new and interesting, always up-to-date.

It was a pertinent question of the critic who suggested that it was hard to determine whether one was in the presence of Shakespeare or Daly, in speaking of the latter's sumptuous revival of 'Midsummer Night's Dream." When this great comedy was brought out at Daly's Theatre in New York several seasons ago it was really marvelled at that the famous manager—with all his gifts of fancy—had been able to extract from the base lines such an unending lot of material for stage beautifying. It would have been marvelled at even by Shakespeare himself, for it is certainly a fact that in his day he could have had no conception of stage possibilities or else he would have done more than he did. When Mr. Daly brought the comedy forward with the perfect wealth of scenery, costume adornment, and musical accompaniment, it was declared to be the most masterly stage production of Shakespeare ever done in this country. It may have seemed a hard thing to do when Mr. Daly transferred "Midsummer Night's Dream" to his London theatre, but its run there of 100 nights is evidence that the American brains were fully appreciated in teaching the people of the land of Shakespeare how Shakespeare should have done. We have the pleasure of making the announcement today that Daly's Company, with all the original secenery, with an especially well equipped orchestra will present "Midsummer Night's Dream" hear Monday night. This piece of news will certainly be welcome to the lovers of stage art and to all students of the artistic.

The Star Course.

The following take part in the Y. M. C. A. Star Course entertainment next Tuesday evening: Miss Addie Parker Jackson, reader; William McKillop, soloist, and a Ladies String Quartette. The programme will consist in part: "Travels Abroad," Mark Twain, and "Annie Laurie," Elizabeth Ward, by Miss Jackson. Tarantelle Sicilianne and American Fantasia, by Conde's Young Men's Symphony Orchestra.

Death of Peter McLiney.

Peter McLiney, father of Mrs. Wm. Daly and Mrs. Patrick Donahue, died in New York yesterday at the age of 61 years. His remains will be brought to this city tonight and the funeral will be held from Mrs. Donahue's home at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and at 2:30 from St. Mary's church. His remains will be interred in St. Mary's church cemetery.

Capt. Jack Tonight.

Capt. Jack Crawford, the poet scout lectures in the Crescent Avenue Chapel this evening for the benefit of the Marconnier Chapel. Captain Jack gives a most entertaining talk, and when he appeared here earlier in the season, he was greeted with enthusiasm. He will doubtless draw a good crowd this evening, since he will speak for such a worthy cause.

—The Friday evening Lenten service was held in St. Joseph's church, last evening. There was a large attendance, considering the stormy weather. Services are also held Wednesday evenings.

—Letter-carrier John Neighbor, of East Second street, attended the funeral yesterday of his grandmother, Mrs. Anna Baylor, at Hoboken Heights. She was 97 years and two months old, and mother of Mrs. Calvin Neighbor, of East Front street.

the danger is in the neglect—that's why so many colds lead to a fatal disease.

HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR

Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar is made for throat and lung troubles. It acts like magic. Sold by druggists.

Pike's Toothache Drops cure in one minute.

"Give me a liver regulator and I can regulate the world," said a genius. The druggists handed him a bottle of DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills.—L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

Munyon!

Strong Statements from People You Know Who Say They Have Been Cured by Munyon's Remedies.

SAMPLE TESTIMONIALS

Picked at Random from the Thousands Received.

Mrs. Sidney Corby, of Plainfield, N. J., says: "I was troubled with constipation of two years standing, and your Dyspepsia Cure has made me well. My mother is suffering from dreadful pain in the back and side and tenderness across the Kidneys. She has tried a number of other remedies without results, and I have just succeeded in getting her to give your Kidney Cure a trial. I am sure it will benefit her as the Dyspepsia Cure benefited me.

Munyon's Rheumatism Cure seldom fails to relieve it in 1 to 3 hours, and cures in a few days. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure positively cures all forms of indigestion and stomach troubles. Price. 25c.

Munyon's Cold Cure prevents pneumonia and breaks up a cold in a few hours. Price 25 cents.

Munyon's Cough Cure stops coughs, night sweats, allays soreness, and speedily heals the lungs. Price 25.

Munyon's Kidney Cure speedily cures pains in the back, loins or groins, and all forms of kidney disease. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Headache Cure stops headache in 3 minutes. Price 25c.

Munyon's Pile Ointment positively cures all forms of piles. Price 25c.

Munyon's Blood Cure eradicates all impurities of the blood. Price 25c.

Munyon's Female Remedies are a boon to all women. Price 25c.

Asthma Cure, with Asthma Herbs, $1.

Munyon's Catarrh Remedies never fail. The Catarrh Cure—price 25c—eradicates the disease from the system and the Catarrh Tablets—price 25c.—cleanse and heal the parts Munyon's Vitalizer restores lost powers to weak men. Price, $1.00.

Munyon's Remedies at all druggists, mostly at 25c a vial.

Personal letters to Professor Munyon, 1505 Arch st., Philadelphia, Pa., answered with free medical advice for any disease.

Dunellen.

The Board of Education will hold a meeting Tuesday evening.

A meeting of the borough commissioners will be held Tuesday evening of next week.

Robert Carpenter and Dan Richardson have become members of W. G Holton Council.

Mrs. Adams, of Front street, has been entertaining her sister, Mrs. George Shervan, of Newark.

Mr. Bogardus has been chosen president of the Board of Education, in the place of Rev. Mr. Fletcher.

Mrs. Fredricks, of Church street, has returned home from a visit with her sister, Mrs. C. Oakley, of New Brunswick.

Miss Minnie Luckhurst, of Staten Island, is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luckhurst, of Washington avenue.

Mrs E. J. Hughes and daughter, Miss Gertrude, of Metuchen, spent Thursday with her mother, Mrs. William Stites, of Mountain avenue.

A beautiful quartette was sung by Rev. A. I. Martine, E. Teel, M. Barick and Mr. Low, entitled "Drifting Away," at the revival services Wednesday evening in the Presbyterian church.

New Market.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunham have been entertaining Mr. Davis, of Alfred, N. Y

Miss Smalley has returned to her home in Brooklyn after a few days visit with friends in town.

The Schubert Musical Club are planning to hold an entertainment after the revival service are held.

The G. E Club was delightfully entertained Wednesday afternoon by Miss Carrie Davis, one of its members.

Lenten services are being conducted in the Holy Innocents church of this place. Rev. A. S. Phelps conducted services Friday evening to a large congregation.

The funeral of Miss Laura Giles, the young lady who was killed on the Stelton crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad Wednesday evening, on her way home from a sociable held at Stelton, was held this morning at 10:30 from the First Baptist church, Rev. F. Fletcher officiating.

—The Camera Club loan exhibition gives promise of being one of the best of the kind ever witnessed in the State. No pains have been spared to make it an unqualified success.

J. W. Pierce, Republic, Ia., says: "I have used One Minute Cough Cure in my family and for myself, with results so entirely satisfactory that I can hardly find words to express myself as to its merit. I will never fail to recommend it to others, on every occasion that presents itself." L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

HONEYMAN'S PRIVATE TOURS,

181 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Easter week to Washington and Old Point Comfort, June 27, Coaching trip abroad with Switzerland and Italy: August to Gettysburg, Luray, and White Sulphur Springs.

A Wonderful Thing--Values and Prices Meet on the Same Line at Peck's.

EDSALL'S

Commercial Palace, Babcock Building.

But few houses in New York city, and none in this part of the state are showing a larger variety of new, fresh, right up to date, reasonable bargains than ours. We employ an expert buyer of long experience, who devotes his time among the manufacturers and importers buying up "closing out lots" and broken stocks at less than half price; dealing only in new, fashionable goods of the latest and most approved styles. You can always depend on always getting the correct thing of us just the same as if you bought at the most fashionable house in New York. We put on sale

Saturday Morning, 8 O'clock

10C—500 yards cotton moire dress goods, in chamelon effects, exquisite colorings, beautiful designs, silk finish, worth 15c a yard.

SEPERATE SKIRTS.

159 Ladies black brilliantine skirts, (4½ yards wide) lined throughout, full flare, worth 2.59.

PERCALES.

7C—500 yards 36 inch percales in a choice variety of new spring designs worth 11c a yard.

LACE CURTAINS.

45C—Lace curtains in new floral designs, 2¾ long, worth 59c.

22C—Ladies' knitted corset covers worth 30c.

12C—Hair brushes worth 19c.

10C—Horn dressing combs worth 16c.

22C—60 inch white table Damask, worth 33c a yard.

BOYS KNEE PANTS.

45C—Boys Navy Serge Knee pants, size 4 to 15 years, double knee worth 69c pair.

5C—Enamel Stick Pins, pretty floral designs, worth 10c.

20C—Triple Extracts, all popular odors, worth 35c.

10C—Silk Ruffle Garter Elastic, in all new colors; worth 25c a yard.

4C—Hair Pins, assorted, (crimped and straight) 80 pins in box, worth 10c.

9C—Cubes of Black Jet Headed Pins and assorted colors (200 pins in cube) worth 15c.

21C—Japanese Crepe Table Covers 27x27 inches, with fringe, worth 35c.

5C—Ladies' White Hemstiched Handkerchiefs, worth 9c.

House Furnishing and China Department in our BIG BASEMENT.

Some of the many things you always need.

Delusion mousetraps, self setting, best trap on the market, 14C

Hard wood folding hat racks, seven hooks, diamond frame, neat and useful, 10C

Coffe pots, hold 3 p't's, 8C

Sheet iron frying pans, 11 inch, 9C

Tea kettles, copper bottoms, 3 quarts, 15C

Glass tumblers, good quality, 25C DOZ.

White iron-stone china cups and saucers, will not craze, 5C

Egg cups only 5C each, six for 28C

Potato knives, good steel, 3C

Stove lifters, never heat, 7C

Chopping knives, double blades, good quality, 4C

GROCERY DEPARTMENT.

Extra fine soda crackers, 5c; condensed milk, 7c; pickles per doz, 8c, butter per pound, 20c; lard per pound, 6c; beans per quart, 8c; peas per quart, 5c.

TO MEN

Who Wear Patent Leather Shoes.

We have just received a nice line of the famous J. & M. make, spring and summer styles, which we guarantee to sell you from one to wo dollars a pair less than you will pay for them in New York City.

Drop us a posta. and we will send samples to your house for inspection.

Doane & Edsall.

SPECIAL OPENING SALE

SPRING STYLES

HATS, FURNISHINGS AND SHOES.

NEW GOODS AT LOWEST PRICES.

U. B. Crane, 120 West Front street. Chas. Clark.

UNION

Meat Market,

will remove on Monday, March 2d, to

207 West Front Street,

(Fulper's Old Stand)

where you can buy during Lent all kinds of Smoked Fish, Salt and Pickled Herring, Imported Cheese of all kinds, Russian Caviar. Try the Waldorf Cheese. Imported and Domestic Sardines. Native Steers sold only at low prices. Jersey Lamb, Veal, Mutton, Pork, Turkeys and Chickens always on hand. My Sausage can't be beat. Genuine Philadelphia Scrapple and Taylor's Hams. Headquarters for Bologna and Delecatessen.

A. G. Vogeler.

131 West Front st.

Harper's

FINE STATIONERY AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES.

411 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Rushton, Hansen & Luthman,

PAINTERS AND PAPER HANGERS,

Office and shop Sycamore and 4th sts.

Interior decorating a specialty. Our motto—first-class work. Estimates cheerfully given. Orders promptly attended to. 2 11 tf

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO Retail Druggists

WE LEAD!—NEVER FOLLOW!

Commencing March 1st, 1896, the retail price of Dr. Hobbs Little Liver Pills, which has heretofore been 25 cents per vial, will be REDUCED TO 10 CTS.

For every 25-cent package of Dr. Hobbs Little Liver Pills you have in stock, your jobber is authorized to give you in exchange for same two 10-cent packages. The 10-cent vials are put up in precisely the same manner, and contain exactly the same number of pills as the original 25-cent packages.

TAKEAPILL.
Hobb's Little Liver Pills Don't Gripe.

Fac-simile of vial reduced in size.
Each vial contains 50 Pills.

When you make the exchange, it will be to your interest to order two or three dozen or so extra, as you may confidently look for a great boom in the sale of these Little Wonders. Many prominent retail druggists with whom we have talked in regard to this matter, agree with us that the sale of Dr. Hobbs Little Liver Pills will be multiplied indefinitely by this reduction. We KNOW that the public will be with us, and that they will approve of this radical change from the old standard price established nearly a century ago.

HOBBS MEDICINE CO., Chicago and San Francisco.

IN THE South

Increased attractions for the winter. Opening of the magnificent

Hotel Jefferson,
at Richmond, Va., and the superb
Hotel Chamberlin,
at Old Point Comfort, Va. The Winter service at the beautiful hotel at Hot Springs, Va.,
added to the usual attractions of the famous
Hygeia Hotel,
at Old Point Comfort, the Princess Anne
at Virginia Beach. The new Southern Health Resort,
Piney Woods Inn,
Southern Pines, N. C., and the celebrated hotels at Asheville and Hot Springs
North Carolina, all reached by the beautiful new steamers of the Old Dominion Line
direct or by their railroad connections. Send for full information

Old Dominion S. S. Company,
Pier 26, North River, New York. W. L. Guillaudeu, Vice-President and Traffic Manager.

L. A. HUMMER'S
VARIETY MARKET.
Meats, fruits, vegetables, poultry, eggs, etc. Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge.
310 Park avenue. Telephone call 29-A

Y. M. C. A. Star Course.
Y. M. C. A. HALL.
Three Fine Entertainments in March for 50 cents.

March 3—Miss Addie Parker Jackson assisted by Conde's Young Men's Symphony Orchestra.
March 17—Amphion Ladies Mandolin and Vocal Quartette of New York.
March 24—"Switzerland and Its People," lecture by Prof. Henry M. Maxson.

Tickets on sale at Reynolds' and at Association Building. eod

Carpenters an Builders.

JOHN P. EMMONS,
Mason and Builder,
Washington avenue and Prospect place,
North Plainfield, N. J.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

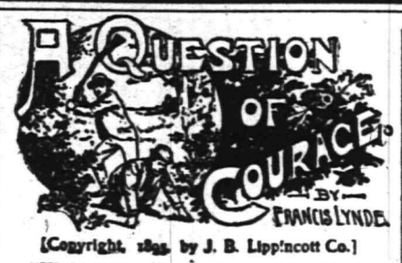
PEARSON & GAYLE,
Carpenters and Builders.
Residence—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine st. H. E. Gayle, No. 18 Vine st.
All work promptly attended to.

GEO. W. STUDER,
Carpenter and Builder.
985 Arlington avenue.
Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given, charges reasonable.

C. W. LINES.
Mason and Builder,
Plainfield, N. J.
Residence, 18 Elm place.
Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to

HOTEL Grenada,
NORTH AVENUE.

Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.



[Copyright, 1895, by J. B. Lippincott Co.]

"Well, it's a long story, but I'll condense it for you. Old Squire Latimer, the colonel's father, was instrumental in bringing one of a former generation of the Bynums to justice for the murder of a revenue officer. Since that time there's been a running fight between the two families; the squire had his house burned, and subsequently lost his life, presumably at the hands of the father of the present family of Bynums. I qualify because there seems to be a little doubt about the murder part, now, although the squire's neighbors were well enough satisfied to hang John Bynum by the summary process of lynch law. Of course the row couldn't be expected to end with a single lynching, and when the boys grew up they began on the colonel. I believe he horsewhipped one of them and got a broken arm for his pains; that was a good while ago, but the feud has lost none of its bitterness with age. It's been stirred up in my time by a lawsuit over the McNabb coal vein, which is situated on a part of the colonel's estate, but was claimed by the family in the cove. Of course the colonel—or rather the company, in this instance—won the lawsuit, and that didn't help matters any. We tried to open the coal vein afterwards, but it's my private opinion that the Bynum boys destroyed the working as fast as we developed it."

"What a frightful story of lawlessness!"

"It is rather savage, when you come to think of it, isn't it? And we haven't seen the end of it yet by several lives, I'm afraid."

"But won't the law protect the colonel in the defense of his rights?"

"It—or public indignation—would avenge his death very promptly, but in regard to the other, you'll remember that you must first catch your hare; these fellows don't go around with a brass band announcing their intentions."

"Still, I should think it would be easy enough to get evidence against them."

"Do you?—then suppose you try it. That's a bright idea, Hugh; you are interested in the family fortunes, and you haven't anything else on your mind. Just turn in and get evidence enough to hang these three Bynum boys, and I'll guarantee the colonel will give you Hester out of hand."

"I?—God forbid!" replied Ringbrand, turning pale. "My gifts don't lie in that direction."

Ludlow glanced at his friend with a look of mingled curiosity and concern. "I was wondering if you'd changed any, Hugh; you used to be a peaceable sort of fellow in college. I can't imagine you in the role of a fire eater."

"Go on and say the rest of it," said Ringbrand, bitterly; "you can't imagine me as an adopted member of a fire-eating family. Well, I don't blame you; I can't do it myself."

"I shouldn't have put it in any such uncharitable form," responded Ludlow, reflectively, "but, since you've mentioned it, I'll say what's been in my mind ever since you told me what brought you to Tregarthen. Hester Latimer's husband will have to do one of two things—help fight the family battles or refuse to have anything to do with them. The first may cost him his life, and the last will be very sure to cost him his happiness. I'm no hand to meddle, as you know, Hugh, but it's well enough to consider these things before it's too late."

"That's the pity of it, Tom," replied Ringbrand, quietly. "I'm afraid it's too late now. I realized two things pretty clearly last night—one was that life without Hester wouldn't be worth living, and the other was that I'd rather die than have her find me out for what I am."

"That's putting it rather harshly; you haven't any good reason for thinking that you are—"

"A coward—say it, Tom; I ought to be able to bear the truth, and that is the truth. I know it; I've known it all along, only I've been trying to make myself believe it wasn't so. That's what was at the bottom of all those little things you remember in the university days; you don't know how I despise myself when I think of it all."

"No, I don't remember anything but what I said a moment ago—that you were always a peaceable sort of fellow."

"That isn't it; it's one thing to be peaceable from principle, and quite another to be restrained by a wholesome fear of consequences. It's always been the latter with me. I can look back over my life and see how I've been continually dodging. When I was a little fellow, the fear of a whipping was the strongest incentive to good behavior, and the same argument has held good ever since. You know that, Tom, if you'd only admit it."

"No, I don't know anything of the kind," protested Ludlow.

"Well, it's true. You remember that affair with Turnbull in the last year—when he went out of his way to insult me. You took occasion to praise my self-control, but I want to tell you now that it was the merest sham; I was afraid to resent it, and that's the truth."

"Nonsense!" retorted Ludlow; "you did just right not to demean yourself by fighting with a cub of an undergraduate."

"I'm not arguing about that—it's the motive; it was cowardice, pure and simple; there's no other name for it. What are you laughing at?"

"It's amusing to hear you vilify yourself. But seriously, Hugh, this is a crisis that's got to be met. I take your word for it that you're properly in love with Hester Latimer; if she does you the honor to return your affection—which, I take it, is not yet a foregone conclusion—why, you're a lucky fellow, and you should be thankful enough to fight her battles, and those of her father and brother if need be. It may not require such a phenomenal degree of physical courage, but it'll ask for some of the moral variety; and there's always a wide possibility that it'll demand both in heroic proportions. If I were in your place I should fight the battle beforehand; then, if you find you're not going to be up to it, the honorable thing is to pull out while the girl is yet fancy free. That's pretty straight talk; but you know me of old, and you have invited frankness."

They were nearing the furnace yard, and Ringbrand did not reply until they reached the gate; then he grasped Ludlow's hand and pressed it warmly. "You're a good friend, Tom. I'll think it over and try to do as you advise. Only if I can't bring myself up to the mark, you mustn't be surprised if I should drop out unexpectedly. I don't believe I could face you or Mrs. Ludlow after that."

"Thinking it over" asked for solitude and quiet surroundings; and after leaving Ludlow, Ringbrand walked on up the valley, skirting the base of the mountain until he came to a rough cart road leading toward the summit. He took it because it plunged into the forest and offered shade; and after that he paid little attention to direction or distance until he found himself before what appeared to be an abandoned mine. The mouth of the opening was choked up with broken timbers and masses of rock, and on a board nailed to a tree growing out of a crevice just above the tunnel arch he read: "McNabb Tunnel, T. C. & I. Co." The name brought back Ludlow's story of the feud and the lawsuit, and he examined the place with awakening interest. From the small cleared space in front of the working he could see the extent of the cove with its shelving sides pitching down toward the yellow fields in the center; and, as there was but one house in sight in the bowllike depression, he concluded at once that it was the home of the Bynums. Turning again to the tunnel, he found that by scrambling over the pile of debris in the entrance he could reach a place where the height of the excavation permitted him to stand upright; and when his eyes became accustomed to the dim half-light, he looked about him with the observant curiosity of one who sees latent possibilities for the collecting of literary material from the most commonplace surroundings. There was little to be seen save the ragged walls of coal and a few rusty mining tools; the heading stopped abruptly about 30 feet from the entrance, and the excavation was a mere irregular gap in the edge of the thick seam of coal. While he was examining a miner's lamp which he found sticking in a crevice, he felt a breath of cold air which seemed to come from above, and, looking up, he saw a narrow rift in the sandstone roof of the tunnel from which the draught appeared to issue. Lighting the lamp and thrusting it up into the aperture on the end of a stick, he could see that the rift widened above the opening and that it extended indefinitely into the mountain at right angles to the direction of the tunnel. The opportunities for further exploration seemed promising, and Ringbrand, yielding to an inquisitive impulse, drew himself up into the crevice by the help of a coal pick. By the smoky flare of the lamp he could see that he was standing in a natural tunnel of considerable height, running crosswise of the coal working and communicating with it by the aperture through which he had entered. As it was evident that the latter opening was artificial or accidental, he determined to ascertain if there was any other means of egress from the cavern. Turning to the left, the exploration came shortly to an end against a wall of broken rock and detritus which that it has been used, too, and some one has taken a deal of trouble to make it available. I wonder if there's any other way out of the place? I suppose there isn't."

He rose and walked across the chamber to the point where the crevice appeared to continue its way into the mountain. There was a narrow slit showing that the cleft extended still farther, but the contracted passage was only a few inches in width. Fastening the hook of the lamp upon one of the points of the pick, he pushed the light into the crevice as far as he could reach, and by this means was able to discern the dim outlines of another chamber completely filled the crevice; retracing his steps, he pushed forward in the opposite direction, meeting with no obstacle for a considerable distance. The cleft was of irregular width, but its walls were perpendicular and smooth, rising above his head until their outlines were lost in the gloom. At several points they approached each other so nearly that he had some difficulty in squeezing through; but after the passage of one of the narrowest of these rocky straits he came out into a large chamber, in which the murky darkness was diluted by a thin stream of sunlight filtering through a hole in the roof. He stood gazing upward at the small aperture far above, wondering if it could be used as an entrance without the help of a rope ladder. The question had scarcely taken shape before its answer appeared in the form of a double row of rude niches cut in the wall and running in irregular lines up to the gash in the roof. In the fine damp sand at his feet he saw the imprint of a man's boot, and there were many more of them just beyond it. The explorer examined them carefully, and then sat down upon a rock to classify his findings. "I wonder if I haven't stumbled upon something that'll help Ludlow out?" he mused. "This is evidently an entrance to the coal mine that he doesn't know about. It's quite clear similar to the one in which he was standing. In moving the light about to get a better view, the lamp tumbled off and rolled out of reach; and in endeavoring to recover it with the pick the point of the latter became so firmly fixed in a crack in the rock that he was unable to extricate it. "That was a bright thing to do," he said, pausing to wipe the perspiration from his forehead. "I suppose it would have been all the same if my life had depended upon that trumpery excuse for a light. Fortunately, I can get out either way without it."

He elected to go back by the way he had come, and when he was once more in the open air he found that he had just time to walk back to Tregarthen before dinner. On the way down the mountain he debated with himself as to whether it were best to tell Ludlow of his discovery at once. There was no apparent reason why he should not do so, but he argued that there was also no occasion for haste; a delay of a few days could make no difference, and in that time he might be able to gather additional information which would fit into the discovery and so make it more valuable. Taking this view of the matter, he determined to say nothing to Ludlow about the existence of the crevice-cave; and in reaching this conclusion he forged the first link in a chain that was to bind him at a time when he would have given life itself for an hour of freedom.

Passing the furnace on his way to the village, he called for Ludlow, and they walked home together. In answer to his friend's question, Ringbrand replied that he had spent the forenoon on the mountain. "I've been thinking about the story you told me this morning," he added. "Can't you give me more of the details?"

"About the feud, you mean?"

"Yes."

Ludlow complied by giving a minute account of the rise and progress of the vendetta, repeating his suspicions about the agency of the Bynums in retarding the work of the McNabb.

"What reasons have you for suspecting them?" asked Ringbrand.

"No one else had any motive for interfering with us, and I am sure that some one blew down the roof of the tunnel more than once."

"How can you be sure of that?"

"I saw the marks of the blasts, and I smelled black powder; our workmen were using nothing but dynamite. Besides I questioned some of the people living in the valley near the McNabb, and several of them had heard the explosions."

"Did you have the tunnel guarded at night?"

"No; I didn't reach any conclusion

By the smoky flare of the lamp he could see that he was standing in a natural tunnel.

about it until just as we had decided to abandon the work. When we begin again, as I expect to within a few days—I shall leave a watchman up there at night."

"The place will ask for a brave man."

"I can find one," rejoined Ludlow, cheerfully. "Don't you want the job?"

"I'm afraid I shouldn't be of much use; but I'll take it, if you say so."

Ludlow looked incredulous. "That doesn't sound much like the line you took this morning."

"No, I know it doesn't; but perhaps I'm a little like the man who wanted a drink of whisky in order to ascertain what effect it would have on him. I've tried moral suasion on my weakness until I'm convinced there's no virtue in that kind of treatment, and it has occurred to me that a heroic dose of carnage may be what is needed."

"It may be, but I shouldn't go around hunting for the occasion if I were you," replied Ludlow, holding the gate open.

"Perhaps I'll have to," said Ringbrand, as they entered the house. "Possibly the occasion will hunt me."

V.

A VENTURESOME VISIT.

The preliminary lines of Mrs. Ludlow's match-making campaign had been drawn with such slight difficulty that the small conspirator began to think that there would be no occasion for a go-between. Ringbrand's hospitable welcome by the colonel, and the easy facility with which he ingratiated himself at "The Laurels," left little to be desired; and his infatuation was so very evident that it needed nothing in the way of encouragement. Since his side of the case was beyond the need of prompting, Mrs. Ludlow directed her efforts toward trying to ascertain his standing with Hester—a praiseworthy endeavor which the young girl appeared to take a perverse delight in frustrating. At one time she would praise him with such outspoken frankness that its very unreserve was a most encouraging symptom; at another she would criticise him in a manner that was equally disheartening. She had ridden down to spend the day with Mrs. Ludlow on the morning following Ringbrand's introspective journey down the mountain; and on that occasion she would allow no word of commendation to pass unchallenged.

"Oh, I don't deny that he's a pleasant companion," she said, in answer to one of Mrs. Ludlow's warm eulogiums. "He could be that and much more without being a genius."

"But don't you think his literary work is good?" asked her hostess, with a shade of deprecation in her voice.

"I don't like it much; he's too abstruse and analytical. I never did like an author who insists upon taking his characters to pieces as if they were watches to be repaired."

"What an idea! I'm sure Hugh never thought of doing such a thing."

"He may not think of it, but he does it just the same. Take that last story in the Miscellany; he covers two whole pages trying to tell why Mary doesn't love Horace, when it's perfectly clear that she does love him; and he does it just at the time when you're positively dying to find out what has become of the hero. It's enough to make one skip everything but his conversation."

"What a merciless critic you are, Hester!"

"I'm not a critic at all, but I know what pleases me in a story; and that's one of the things that doesn't." She went to the piano and ran through a brilliant fantasia while Mrs. Ludlow tried in vain to think of something else to urge in behalf of the much-abused author.

"Then there's another thing I don't like about his stories," resumed Hester, whirling around on the piano-stool. "That's the way he deliberately takes off the top of a character's head so that you can see what the person is thinking about. It's perfectly ridiculous; and I told him so the other evening."

"Why, Hester, that was almost vindictive!"

"No, it wasn't; he invited it, and then tried to defend himself on the score of being explicit. I told him he ought to give his readers credit for at least half a grain of penetration."

"What did he say to that?"

"He covered his retreat with a well-turned compliment about all readers not being so discriminating as—as some others."

Mrs. Ludlow smiled: "I believe he is quite popular."

"Oh, I don't doubt that in the least. I'm only speaking for myself. I like a story with a good strong motive and plenty of life in it; I can go to church when I want to hear sermons."

"Hester, you are actually shrewish this morning. One would think, to hear you talk, that Mr. Ringbrand had mortally offended you."

"He has, in a way; he has spoiled all my pretty fancies about authors. I thought they were a superior race, and here the very first one I meet is simply a well-bred gentleman, who reminds you of all the corrrect qualities of his characters. I think it's too bad."

"It certainly is too bad when you can find nothing worse than that to say against him," replied Mrs. Ludlow. "I was in hopes you would like him."

"I do like him, but I'd adore him if he wasn't quite so correct," rejoined Hester, mischievously. "Just think how delightful it would be if he would only do something dreadfully wicked or absurd—just the very thing one of his handsome heroes wouldn't do."

"You're quite too incorrigible, Hester. I'm not going to say another word. Here comes Mr. Ringbrand with Tom, now, and I shall let him fight his own battles."

At the dinner-table the conversation turned upon Ringbrand's stroll on the mountain.

"Where did you go, Mr. Ringbrand?" asked Hester.

"I'm hardly familiar enough with localities around here to know, but I think I went as far as McNabb's Cove."

"Then you saw the home of our hereditary enemies," she said. "Did you notice a log house in the bottom of the cove?"

"I did."

"I've been telling Hugh the history of the feud," said Ludlow; "he threatens to write it up."

"Why, Ludlow! you know I never hinted at such a thing. Miss Hester, I hope you won't believe anything that he says."

"I'm not at all afraid of your putting the feud into a story," replied Hester, with an air of conviction.

Ringbrand could not let well enough alone, and he asked: "Why?"

"Because the characters are all too dreadfully impulsive and natural. You couldn't possibly tone them down into correctness, if you were to try ever so hard."

Ludlow laughed uproariously: "You don't know how much good that does me, Hester. I've been telling Hugh all along that he didn't know the first principles of story-writing."

"I'm sure I don't know why you should say that," responded the girl, changing front with an easy facility that made Mrs. Ludlow catch her breath. "I think Mr. Ringbrand's stories are perfectly delightful. I only meant that he wouldn't care to use such rough materials."

Ringbrand glanced up gratefully and saw Mrs. Ludlow trying to look reproachfully at Hester; then the unconventionality of it all appealed to him like the turning of a new leaf in the book of experience, and he laughed pleasantly. "Do you know it's quite charming to hear one's self discussed in open meeting?" he said. "In all my life I've never heard so much frank criticism as Miss Latimer and Tom have given me in the last few weeks. It's decidedly refreshing, after half a lifetime of meaningless praise on one hand, set off by an equal amount of spiteful abuse on the other. I'll give fair warning now, though, that I mean to turn the tables some fine day, and you'll hear me telling Ludlow how to run an iron-furnace, and—"

"And Miss Latimer how to hold her [illegible] interrupted Hester, maliciously.

"Indeed, I wasn't going to say any such ungallant thing," protested Ringbrand.

"You might as well say it as to think it," rejoined Hester, meekly. "I know I shall catch myself looking for an impertinent young woman in all your future stories."

After that the talk drifted back to the feud, and Hester related the incident of the evening before. "I suppose it must have been one of the Bynums," she concluded; "though I can't imagine what his object could have been."

"Perhaps it was Uncle Ephraim after a chicken," suggested Mrs. Ludlow.

"Uncle Eph wouldn't come around the front of the house when there were four of us sitting on the veranda," replied Hester.

"May I ask to be introduced to Uncle Ephraim?" inquired Ringbrand.

"You've met him," said Ludlow; "'Yes, sah, please, sah, t'ank yo', sah.'"

"Oh! the old fellow who carried my valise up from the train. Why, I've seen a good deal of him, and he seems to be quite above chicken-stealing. I believe I'd trust him with my pocket-book."

"You could do that safely enough; he'd bring it back; but that isn't saying he wouldn't borrow a fat chicken if Providence threw one in his way. Uncle Eph is as honest as the day is long, but he'll bear watching after dark," replied Ludlow. "However, I agree with Hester; the intruder wasn't a vagrant or a chicken thief."

"No," said Hester; "I suppose it was one of the Bynum boys; and I wanted to ask you, Mr. Ludlow, if there had been any new developments lately; I can't get anything out of father or Henry."

"Nothing that I know of, except—well, yes; we've decided to begin work again on the McNabb vein, but I don't see how that could account for your visitor; that's distinctly a company affair, now."

"You may be sure they won't consider it so. I'm afraid it will mean a return of the old days of cut clotheslines, and broken fences, and border warfare generally."

Ringbrand looked shocked, and Ludlow replied, gravely: "We won't have that, at any cost. I wish there were some way of getting evidence against them."

"Can it be possible that there have been no witnesses to any of their depredations?" asked Ringbrand.

"Oh, I suppose there are a few, only they won't testify, and I don't know that I blame them much; I'd go on the witness stand myself, if I were morally sure of a conviction, but otherwise it would be risky enough. It takes a heroic love of justice for its own sake to make a man willing to incur the enmity of such people as the Bynums."

"What would be necessary to convict them?"

"The testimony of one or more reliable eye-witnesses, or a chain of circumstantial evidence that could not be easily broken."

Ludlow's bantering suggestion that he should turn detective came to Ringbrand with a sober meaning in the light of the threatened danger to the Latimers, and in connection with his discovery of the crevice cave. He saw his opportunity, and how a braver man would have turned it to account; a dozen plans for entrapping the criminals flashed through his mind, but they all asked for more or less personal courage on the part of the person who should execute them. Of course there was the alternative that he could efface himself by turning his information over to those who would make use of it; but Ringbrand was only human, and he had already learned enough of Hester's character to make him fear that she might suspect his motive in shifting the responsibility. As a matter of fact, he did her an injustice in this; but when cowardice, or venality, or vice, or any other human weakness or wickedness once undermines the fortress of character, there are many uncanny shapes standing ready to slip unnoticed through the breach.

After they had left the dining table he excused himself, and spent the early part of the afternoon in wandering aimlessly about the village, trying to devise some scheme which offered a compromise between his weakness and his determination to win Hester's approbation; and with the planning came that curiously insistent urging which finds a parallel in the desire to see how near one can creep to the brink of a precipice without being overbalanced. It is the quality which often leads a timorous man to attempt that which would make a brave one hesitate, and when Ringbrand finally yielded to its importunity he turned his steps toward the road he had taken in the forenoon.

The shadows of the western cliffs were beginning their evening march down the sloping sides of McNabb's cove, and the hush of the summer afternoon brooded over the picturesque landscape of the narrow valley. Eud Bynum's dog, lying in the shadow of the barn, arose yawning, made a canine obeisance, and cocked one ear toward the road leading up from Harmony valley. That his acute sense was not at fault was presently proved by the appearance of a man approaching the farmhouse, and he began to bark furiously at the intruder. Jule Bynum, coming to the back door to find out what had aroused the dog's anger saw a pleasant-faced young man standing at the gate, and she stepped into the yard and spoke sharply to the barking cur. Ringbrand looked up at the sound of her voice, and found himself confronted by a middle-aged woman with unkempt hair and sallow face, whose high cheek bones and flashing black eyes made him wonder if there were not Indian blood in her veins. He touched his hat and opened the gate. "I stopped to ask if you could give me a drink of water," he said.

Politeness is rarely wasted, even on the most unpromising subject, and there was something in the nature of the woman that responded unconsciously to the touch of kindly deference in his voice and manner. "I reckon ye can have a drink," she said, leading the way to the house. The water bucket was empty, and as she took it up she pointed to a bench in the passage: "Set down thar a minute, an' I'll go fetch some from the spring."

"I wouldn't trouble you to do that. Show me where to go, and I'll get it."

"Oh. I reckon ye couldn't find hit," she answered, "an' anyways ye'd be plum shore to get hit riled. Jest set down; I'll be back in a minute."

She went down the path and crossed the road, pausing a moment to glance sharply toward the valley before disappearing in the thicket of willows surrounding the spring. When she returned, Ringbrand drank deeply and lifted his hat as he thanked her.

"That ain't nothin'," she said. "Thar's a plenty o' water in the cove. Ye didn't come plum up yere to get a drink, did ye?"

Ringbrand laughed easily: "No, I can't say that I did; I am just tramping around to amuse myself."

The woman looked at him suspiciously. "You city fellers have tol'able little sense," she said, slowly. "'Pears like ye'd know better'n to come a-pryin' round McNabb's cove."

"Why should I know better?" asked Ringbrand. "I don't see how it can hurt anyone."

"Thar's them that mought hurt you all, if they found you yere. You're the man that's stoppin' at Tom Ludlow's, ain't ye?"

"Yes,"

"I knowed hit, the minute I sot eyes on ye—" she hesitated, and seemed to be weighing her words. "I ain't got no call to be helpin' you all, but I don't believe ye're in with the rest of 'em; ye don't look like hit. But that thar won't help you none, less'n ye stay at home an' min' yer own business. I 'low ye done heard the story 'bout the dog 't got hisself killed 'cause he didn't have no better sense than to run with the wolves?"

"Yes, I've heard it."

"Well, I hain't got nothin' more to say, 'ceptin' that hit's gettin' late an' ye'd better be trampin'. Jest wait a minute."

She disappeared in the house and came out again in a moment with a sunbonnet drawn over her head. "Thar's a short cut over the shoulder o' the mounting, an' I 'low ye'd better take hit; ye'll be a heap less liker to meet up with the folks that 'd ask ye a sight more questions 'n what I have. Come on."

She entered the forest at the rear of the house, and Ringbrand followed her in silence. Half way up the mountain

"I stopped to ask if you could give me a drink of water," he said.

they came to an indistinct trail which led them by many devious windings to the base of the cliffs, and, skirting these, Ringbrand found himself, for the second time that day, standing on the small plateau at the mouth of the McNabb tunnel.

"That's yer way," said Jule, indicating the road leading to the valley. "Jest keep straight on till ye get down the mounting; ye cayn't miss hit, nohow."

Ringbrand lifted his hat again: "I'm sure I thank you very much; it's good of you to take so much trouble on my account."

"Nev' mind 'bout that; but you all take my advice an' don't come prowlin' round this yere cove no more. Yer p'liteness moughtn't get ye out ag'in, next time."

She turned abruptly and left him to make his way back to Tregarthen, and neither of them saw the parting of the bushes at the top of the cliff through which a pair of malevolent eyes watched their movements. Before starting on his homeward walk, a sudden impulse prompted Ringbrand to climb once more into the abandoned coal working. The place was darker, now that the sun had gone behind the mountain, and it was some time before he could see well enough to make out the dim outlines of the interior; when he was able to do so, he saw that the hole in the roof had disappeared. He lighted a match, and, on finding the place, discovered that the aperture had been plugged from above with a fragment of stone which fitted accurately enough to make it appear to be only one of the rough inequalities of the tunnel roof. When he realized that this had been done since his visit of a few hours before—that those who did it might even now be in the upper gallery, or hidden in the dusky shadows near at hand—a very panic of terror seized him, and he thought he should suffocate before he could struggle out into the open air again. Once outside of the tunnel, he fled down the rough mountain road, never looking behind him or stopping to take breath until he was half-way to the valley; then the stimulus of fear suddenly left him, and he sat down upon a fallen tree, covering his face with his hands, and wishing, in his shame and humiliation, that he had never been born. He stayed there until the lengthening shadows warned him that evening was approaching, and then, pulling himself together, he rose, and went slowly back to Tregarthen. It was nearly dark when he reached the village, and he found Mrs. Ludlow sitting on the veranda.

"I'm proud of you, Mr. Ringbrand," she said, as he came up the steps; "you don't deserve to be helped. I persuaded Hester to stay to tea and had it all arranged that you were to see her safely home; and you had to go and spoil it all by staying away! Where in the world have you been?"

"I am very sorry to have failed you. I took a long walk and went farther than I intended to. I hope Miss Latimer did not have to go back alone?" Ringbrand's voice was grave, and his tone was submissively apologetic.

"No; Tom went up with her," replied Mrs. Ludlow, going before him into the dining-room and lighting the lamp. "I'm afraid you won't get much for supper," she added, sitting down to pour his tea.

"More than I need—or deserve," he said, making a brave effort to simulate an appetite for the belated meal.

Mrs. Ludlow, sitting opposite, noticed that he ate next to nothing; and she saw that something was troubling him. They were old friends, and had been well acquainted in the days when Ringbrand was a struggling apprentice in the literary workshop and Ludlow a small-salaried clerk in an engineering office. "What is it, Hugh?" she asked, with kindly sympathy; "is it anything about Hester?"

"No; that is, it is nothing that she has said or done."

"Won't you tell me about it? Perhaps I could help you."

"I can't tell you now," he replied, pushing his chair back at the sound of Ludlow's step on the veranda. "I don't feel equal to talking to-night, and I hope you will excuse me if I go to my room; I know it's ungracious, but I'm in deeper trouble than you imagine. Perhaps I can tell you all about it, some day."

She gave him permission, and stepped before him with delicate tact to enable him to go upstairs without meeting her husband. When he reached his room he dropped wearily into a chair and lighted a cigar; when it was burned out he went methodically to work packing his valises. "It's the only thing there is to do," he mused, "and it's a proper sequel to the thing, anyhow. I don't see why I couldn't have been born with a little blood in my veins, instead of weak tea or ditch water; but I wasn't, and I suppose that's the end of it. By Jove! I believe I'd be willing to change identities with the most ignorant of my forefathers, dirt, peat smoke, bad whisky, bare legs and all, if I could only have a dash of the brute courage along with the rest. Bah! it makes me sick to think of it; and just as I was beginning to believe there might be a chance for me!"

When the packing was finished he sat down to write a letter to Hester; beginning half a dozen and ending by tearing them all up. "That would be acting only half the man," he said. "I can write her a line from New York, thanking her for her hospitality and regretting that I could not see her again. I have no reason to suppose that she cares, yet, and she need never know what it costs me to leave her."

Having completed his preparations, he was anxious to be gone; but, as there was no train until noon of the next day, he was obliged to wait with what patience he could summon, and he went to sleep thinking that he would spend the forenoon with Ludlow, telling him of his intended departure and giving him the facts of his discoveries in the abandoned mine.

VI.

AN UNPREMEDITATED DEPARTURE.

Those who ought to know most about such matters point out the mutability of things terrestrial by showing that the change in position of a single grain of sand may determine the course of a mighty river, or that a chance raindrop trickling down the face of a cliff may mark the line of erosion which shall eventually cut the mountain in twain. If these illustrations prove the subjection of the elements to the universal rule of change, examples are not wanting to show that the same law governs with equal authority in the domain of human affairs.

Ringbrand went downstairs the next morning fully determined to carry out his programme of the previous evening, and he told Ludlow at the breakfast table that he would spend the forenoon at the furnace with him. As they were leaving the house together the colonel overtook them in his buggy and invited Ringbrand to go with him on a drive across the valley to look at a horse which was for sale, promising to get him back to the company's office before noon. There was no good reason for refusing, and the colonel was hospitably insistent; Ludlow added his word, and the upshot of the matter was that the superintendent went to his office alone, while his guest departed upon an excursion which was to demonstrate anew the futility of human plans and purposes.

Making due allowance for the fact that Ringbrand was upon the eve of taking a step which involved the renunciation of the woman he loved, he was less uncompanionable than he might have been. Their route took them over the wooded knolls in the main valley, and each rise in the road brought out new beauties of the landscape. At the top of the highest of the hills the colonel stopped and pointed out the winding course of the Harmony river, its bends and reaches etched among the fields in a sinuous pathway of silver mist, ruffled by the sun into fleecy waves of translucent pearl. In the middle distance, and about half-way from Tregathen to the river, a group of Lombardy poplars crowned one of the knolls overlooking the valley to the southward, and the colonel indicated the small hill with a comprehensive gesture which included the cultivated fields surrounding it. "That's the Manor farm," he said, "and the old square house stood in thah among the poplah's. My father raised it in the second yeah after he moved down from Vi'ginia, and it was a mighty comfo'table old mansion—mighty comfo'table, seh. If you've been in any of the old Vi'ginia plantation homes, you'll know about what sort o' place it was."

"I have passed through Virginia," replied Ringbrand, "and I think I know the type. They certainly look comfortable from the outside, and they give one an idea of stability which is decidedly refreshing in this age of architectural shams."

"Yes, seh, they do that; strong and solid, like a man was buildin' for his child'en and grandchild'en. The old Manor house was built that-a-way; beams and timbers of solid oak, dressed down with the broadax. It was a long time a-burnin'."

"I don't wonder your father didn't rebuild it," said Ringbrand, reflectively. "The associations would always have been painful."

The colonel looked surprised: "I hope you don't allow that he went up on the mountain for that reason! No, seh; he had a better one. Old Doc Rainsfo'd talked right encouragin' about the mountain air for my mother—she was always mighty po'ly in the valley. I reckon the change did help her some," he added, thoughtfully, "but she never did pick up after that mo'nin' when they cyar'd father home."

Col. Latimer pulled the horses into the road again, and they drove on in silence. The reference to the feud brought Ringbrand back to things present, and the thought that he should not see Hester again had a sharper sting as the time of his departure came nearer. He recalled the little incidents of their acquaintance, and tried to get some comfort out of the belief that her heart was still in her own keeping, and that the pain of renunciation was going to be his not hers. The glance backward at the pleasant hours spent at the home of the Latimers reminded him that it would be ungracious to go away without making some acknowledgment of the colonel's kindness, and he wondered how he could manage it without betraying his plans for immediate retreat. Fortunately, the colonel himself opened the way by asking him to become a guest at "The Laurels." "I told Tom Ludlow, day befo' yeste'day, that he was actin' mighty mean about it, and he said he reckoned they-all could send you to us for a spell."

"I'm sure that's very good of you, colonel, and I thank you both for the invitation and for your many kindnesses to me since I came to Tregarthen; you certainly haven't let me feel that I was a stranger among you. I assure you, I would gladly accept the hospitality of 'The Laurels' if—if my time were wholly my own; as it is not, I shall have to ask you to excuse me. I really ought to be in New York now."

"Well, I'm right sorry for that—'deed I am," replied the colonel; "I sort o' got the idea from Tom you'd stay down here and make us a right good visit."

"I have stayed now longer than I should," rejoined Ringbrand, making a mental reservation as to the reasons. "As you probably know, I depend upon my work for a living, and I can't afford to neglect it for very long at a time."

The colonel laughed. "'Pears to me like youh work could be done 'most anywhere; we-all've got a mighty quiet place up on the mountain, and I'm right sure Hester could set you out with pen, ink and paper."

"Thers's no end to your hospitality, colonel," replied Ringbrand, smiling at the thought of literary work in the house with Hester. "I suppose you'd be quite willing to have me turn 'The Laurels' into a workshop; and I almost wish I could take you at your word, selfish as it would be. It would scarcely be possible, though; I shouldn't know how to work if I were out of reach of the printer's boy."

They had left the main road in the valley, and were descending a steep hill to a ford in the river. The driving was difficult, and the colonel gave his entire attention to the horses as they slid down the rocky declivity, talking to them as if they understood his explicit directions. "So-o, now, there, Tolliver—there's a right smart chunk o' rock just ahead of you—step around it, my boy. You, Jane! never you mind about Tolliver; just pick up your own feet a little higher. Steady, now."

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

Mrs. Popkin's Thanksgiving

is the title of a story written for the manufacturers of

NONE SUCH MINCE MEAT,

by one of the most humorous writers of the day. It will be sent free to anyone sending address and naming this paper.

MERRELL-SOULE CO., Syracuse, N. Y.

What is

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

UNITED HOSPITAL AND DISPENSARY, Boston, Mass.
ALLEN C. SMITH, Pres.,

The Centaur Company, 77 Murray Street, New York City.

VISIT BOEHM'S

CROCKERY DEPARTMENT,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

Everything in the housefurnishing line up to date. Prices brought down to the lowest possible notch. We guarantee satisfaction in every respect. It is therefore to your own benefit to visit this department—it will pay you.

Novelties in Dress Goods.

AT 19C—30 inch Brilliantines, were 29c.
AT 50C—38 inch extra heavy black mohair sicilians, cheap at 63c.
AT 25C—40 inch new spring novelties, changeable effects, were 35c.
AT 25C—36 inch plaids, silk stripe effects, were 33c.
AT 12 1-2C—A very handsome line of worsted plaids well worth 19c.
AT 50C—The very latest novelties in all-wool dress goods, suitable for spring wear, fully 40in. wide, a bargain at 65c.
AT 32C—38 inch wide black brilliantines.
AT 45C—40 inch black brilliantines, silk finished, regular 59c quality.
AT 50C—Silk finished brilliantine, 40 inches wide, the 65c grade.
AT 65C—Extra fine black brilliantine, 1¼ yards wide, with an extra heavy lustre, the regular 75c quality.
Our leader for this coming season—38 inch wide black figured brilliantine in a number of new and novel designs at the uniform price of 35c a yard, well worth 45c a yard.
AT 25C—Storm serges in black and blue, 38in. wide, were 34c.
AT 45C—Beautiful fine black serges, 1¼ yds wide, a hummer, were 55c.
AT 19C—Light colored brilliantines, the very newest effects, reduced from 25c.

BOEHM'S, 113 WEST FRONT ST.

Improve YOUR OPPORTUNITY!

Get Some of the BARGAINS IN FURNITURE and CHINA.

before removal to Jackson Building.

Heat Your Rooms With the

Surio Gas Globe Heater.

Goes on any Gas Jet.

G. Q. Packer. Jos. W. Gavett.

Creamery Butter

20c Per Pound at

J. F. MACDONALD'S

Uptown Grocery.

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 NORTH AVENUE.

Special Sale

—OF—

Muslins

SATURDAY ONLY.

Fruit of Loom, Hill Lonsdale and other standard brands, 10 yards 65c.
The best brands unbleached muslins at 6 cents per yard.
Good quality in bleached and unbleached at 5 cents per yard.
The standard brands of white sheetings at lower prices than quoted elsewhere.

LEDERER'S.

Give the heart pure blood.

Randolph's

Sarsaparilla,

A great blood cleanser.

Only 50c Per Bottle.

L. W. RANDOLPH,

Prescription Druggist,
143 West Front st.

PIANOS.

You can buy the best in the market at Factory Prices, at

J. C. DYER'S, 218 WEST FRONT ST.

New Fish Market,

125 Park Ave.

E. P. THORN

solicits a share of the public patronage. First quality

Fish, Oysters, Clams, &c

TERMS CASH. 11 7 tf

See Our Name,

Take Our Number,

Call and See Our Goods.

Woolston & Buckle,

141 and 145 North ave.

Eagle Meat Market,

35 Somerset Street.

Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Orders called for and delivered free of charge.

C. ARNOLD, Prop.

Miss Fawcett's School

And Kindergarten,
25 WASHINGTON AVENUE.
North Plainfield, N. J.
Re-opened Thursday, Sept. 12.
Primary, Intermediate and Academic Dept's. Boys received until 10 years of age.

FISCHER PIANOS.

56 YEARS ESTABLISHED.

GRAND AND UPRIGHT.

Nearly 100,000 Manufactured.

EASY TERMS. EXCHANGED.

REASONABLE PRICES.

FISCHER PIANO WAREROOMS,
110 Fifth Ave., cor. 16th St., N. Y.
Write for Catalogue.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

How They Are Conducted in the German Capital

Voters Divided Into Three Classes—The Mayor Is Selected by the Council and Afterward Accepted by the Government.

[Special Berlin Letter.]

Municipal election in America is something vastly differing from a municipal election in Germany. Not that the interest taken in it by the populace is less; on the contrary, it is a deeper and much more lasting interest in the affairs of the commonwealth which is taken here. Nor are the objects at stake of less importance, and the ambition which impels the candidates here to run the gauntlet of public opinion and to undergo the vicissitudes of a political campaign is fully as great and as lively here as across the water. And it may be believed that the administration of a municipality like Berlin, where an annual budget of close on to 100,000,000 marks or about $25,000,000 lies, so far as its disbursement is concerned, in the hands of the city council and its magistrate, furnishes plenty of opportunity to sterling talent and varied administrative ability. There is, in fact, a deal of similitude between municipal conditions here and those of a fast-growing American city—inasmuch as the fact of a rapid growth and a ceaseless expansion of territory must be taken into account. No, the principal difference lies in the material that offers itself for municipal candidacies.

MAYOR VON FORCKENBECK.

As to the prevailing methods here I am not going to act as their advocate, but shall content myself with stating the facts. The body of the population is divided into three parts—electors of the first, second and third class. These classes are graded solely according to their varying capacity of paying taxes. In other words, the great majority of electors forming the third (or lowest) class are those paying a minimum of taxes. Paupers, criminals, non-taxpayers are excluded from the right to vote. The third class comprise, therefore, the working classes, the small mechanics and trades people. The second class are the moderately well-to-do, paying medium-sized taxes, and the first class is made up of a small body of large employers, capitalists, etc., paying the maximum rate of taxes. The injustice of this system of popular representation — scaled purely according to the material possessions of each class—is the fact that each class elects exactly the same number of members to the municipal council, while it is undeniable that the first class is not over one per cent. of the population as a whole, and the third class is about 95 per cent., yet each class is apportioned as over 33 1-3 per cent. of representation.

But with this system, open to just criticism, it is nevertheless true that excellent results are obtained, the reason being that the candidates offering themselves at the polls for election into the council are, with rare exceptions, men of unimpeachable honor, of ability, and of a ready disposition to sacrifice their time and best efforts for the common good of the city. For it must be remembered that (with the exception of the small number of salaried members of the magistrate—or higher municipal body) the Berlin aldermen, as well as those of all other German cities, are not paid, either directly or indirectly, for their services.

PROF. VIRCHOW.

It is the honor which pays them, for here it is really an honor to be a "stadtverordneter" or municipal delegate. And while it cannot be said that the first step for a successful German politician to take is to be elected into the city council—since the majority of German politicians never sat in such a body—it is true at least that to be or to have been a member of a German city council is a certificate testifying to a man's intellectual and moral worth and to his public-spiritedness. Again, the fact that the three classes of electors have each their own candidates brings out a body of men elected into the council which is very much more varied in its make-up than could be the case in any American city under our prevailing system of election. I will illustrate this by mentioning that just at present—and for some years past and to come—there are three such men of world-wide reputation and of diametrically opposite tendencies serving as Berlin aldermen as Prof. Virchow, the renowned anthropologist and physiologist; Prof. von Treitschke, the historian (both being professors in Berlin university), and Singer, the noted leader of the socialists and member of the reichstag for a score of years past. Of course they were elected by different classes of electors, but each of the three in his own way does much for the good of the city and its citizens. Singer, for instance, has successfully withstood the growing plutocratic tendencies of the administration, and the excellence of the Berlin free public schools is, in some measure, due to his untiring efforts. Virchow, on the other hand, who is politically a radical liberal, has done an immense amount of good for Berlin's hygiene and for everything else which makes for the physical benefit of the population, lending the weight of his scientific opinion and vast experience to that object.

Von Trietschke again has fostered esthetic and scientific aims in the administration of the city, the planning and execution of new public structrees, parks, public baths, instruction, etc. I might, however, extend the list of names among the members of the council of those who have exceptional gifts one way or another, such as Hobrecht, the architect who for 40 years or over has lent the city the benefit of his ripend judgment. It is owing to men like Hobrecht that Berlin has grown into the handsomest city in the world, barring alone Paris.

Another man who has done much—probably more than any other single individual—for Berlin's progress and municipal prosperity is its late mayor—Von Forckenbeck. Mayors of towns and cities in Germany, however, are not elective officers, but are chosen by the council and magistrate jointly, and the government is then asked to approve this choice. Usually the government does approve the choice, but only after careful inquiry into the character and the antecedents of the man proposed, and not infrequently the chosen one is then rejected. Apointment to the mayoralty is for a term of years, and may then be, and usually is, renewed. So that, in any case, a mayor, if he be of the right stuff, can accomplish quite a deal, inaugurate a series of reforms, bend and shape municipal administration in new ways, and leave the impress of his work on a city for generations to come. His position is a salaried one, and salaries for mayors run, in fact, quite high when compared with the salaries of the common run of government officials. Salaries of 10,000 marks in small towns and of 20,000 to 30,000 in large cities are not uncommon. In this German mayors differ radically from the members of their municipal councils, though the term of office of the latter is also a lengthy one and, unless the services rendered were unsatisfactory or a considerable change has taken place in the political complexion of his elective district, is usually followed by reelection.

MUNICIPAL DELEGATE SINGER.

Aldermen often serve for ten, twenty even thirty years. Von Forckenbeck was a man of genius in his line, clearly seeing the vast possibilities in store for Berlin and shaping his whole policy all along in conformity with his conviction that Berlin was to become, in fact as well as in name, the imperial city of New Germany. Hence his programme was not retrenchment, niggardly parsimony and hand-to-mouth financiering for the city in all those things which were necessary in building up its future greatness, but rather lavish, generous expenditure in creating the present admirable system of street cleaning, parks, water supply, sanitation and sewerage. The establishment of the "Rieselfelder"—the 30 square miles of sewerage farms—at a cost of 120,000,000 marks, of the magnificent abattoirs, central and branch market halls, of the filtering of the drinking water, of the municipal gas works and electric light plant, were also mainly due to his influence, though the enlightened cooperation of the council was indispensable to him in this as in anything else. Besides these monumental tasks successfully planned or executed by him during his long incumbency of the office—and any single one of which would suffice for the everlasting glory of an ordinary kind of mayor—there are many handsome statues, single public buildings, etc., which also testify to this extraordinary man's signal abilities as an executive and administrator. In German city administration it is nothing out of the common, yet I will mention the fact that during Forckenbeck's entire administration, although an aggregate of about 1,000,000,000 of marks, or $250,000,000, was paid into and out of the city coffers, not a cent of it was misappropriated and nothing directly wasted. WOLF VON SCHIERBRAND.

He Had Given Him Up.

A brother of Bishop Clark was one of the wittiest men alive. It runs in the family. He once went to see one of his parishioners, a lady with a prodigious family, which had recently been increased. As he rose to leave, the lady stopped him with: "But you haven't seen my last baby."

"No," he replied, "and I never expect to." Then he fled.—London Tit-Bits.

CURIOUS FACTS.

The crocodile's egg is about the size of that of the goose.

The stem side of the orange is not usually so sweet and juicy as the other half.

It is said that stammerers rarely, if ever, show any impedient of speech when speaking in whispers.

In Japan the largest private bank has been in business for more than three centuries, and has over 30 branches.

An antarctic iceberg has been seen that was 20 miles wide, 40 miles in length and 400 feet in height.

A curious fact has been noted by aretic travelers—snow, when at a very low temperature, absorbs moisture and dries garments.

Dijon, France, has a poplar tree with a record that can be traced to 722. It is 122 feet high and 45 feet in circumference at the base.

A doctor claims that a drop of castor oil in the eye to remove a foreign body is as efficacious and more often manageable than the frequently recommended flaxseed.

The largest dammed body of water in the world will be secured by the building of a dam at Cloquet, Minn., on the St. Louis river, 900 feet long and 90 feet high, by which back water will be extended 60 miles.

Lowell has on one of her roadsides a large urn, which is kept constantly filled with fresh flowers at the expense of a wealthy lady who resides in the vicinity, as a memorial to her pet poodle, which was killed by the cars at that point.

PEOPLE.

Mascagni was lately asked in what European city he would like to live, and replied: "From 9 to 11, London; from 11 to 5, Paris; from 5 to 7, Vienna; from 7 to 10, Budapest, and after 10, Berlin."

The statue of Ole Bull, which the Scandinavians of Minnesota are to erect in Minneapolis, is being modeled by Fjelde, the Scandinavian sculptor of that city. It is expected that the bronze statue will be completed in about six months.

Li Hung Chang is now in Pekin, no longer viceroy of the great province of Chihli. Relegated to a little temple at Pekin, a few followers and the members of his numerous family gathered about him, he is, it is said by those on the spot, really shelved. His health is said to be failing and his prestige is nil.

Nelson Dingley, Jr., the chairman of the committee on ways and means, never had any profession other than that of a newspaper proprietor and editor, creating in 20 years of hard work the most influential and widely-read paper in Maine, the Lewiston Journal. Even now he finds time on occasions to write a leading article.

Paul Louis Courier, when bitterly assailed by a French professor, quietly remarked: "I fancy he must be vexed. He calls me 'Jacobin, rebel, plagiarist, thief, poisoner, forger, leper, madman, impostor, libeler, a horrible, filthy, grimacing ragpicker.' I gather what he wants to say. He means that he and I are not of the same opinion, and this is his only way of putting it."

FASHIONS IN RINGS.

In Nero's time there was a fashion prevalent of wearing large rings, the setting of which was carved with the bust of the special divinity who was the wearer's patron.

Paradise rings were greatly worn in Italy three centuries ago. They were very wide and bore on the circumference representations of Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden.

When the tomb of the great Emperor Frederick, who died in 1250, was opened in 1780, his coronation ring, set with a beautiful emerald, was still found upon his finger.

The ring of Edward the Confessor is preserved among the royal regalia of Great Britain. For several centuries it was used in the coronation ceremonies of the English kings.

In the Etruscan tombs of northern Italy gold rings have been found made in the shape of a cord, a large knot of intricate pattern forming the principal part of the ornament.

Mourning rings were greatly used in Europe during the 17th century. After the execution of Charles I. his sympathizers in England wore mourning rings in token of their grief.

The scarabaeus, or sacred beetle of the Egyptians, was a favorite subject for a setting in the early Egyptian rings. It was carved in stone, the work often being exquisitely done.

UNC' EPHRAIM'S WISDOM.

"Dah ain't no heahaftah, chile—de prisint am etahnal.

"Yo' termorrah am tol'able safe ef yo' libs terday ez ef yo' wan't er gwine ter hab none.

"Hit am er ma'v'lis t'ing how brazenlak some o' we uns kin look er good reserlooshin in de face w'ile we's er smashin' hit all ter flindahs.

"De man w'at nebbah teches han' ter shubbel am de man ut meks de mos' rema'ks erbout de condishin ob he neighbah's sidewalks.

"Hit am er ha'd t'ing ter be ez 'dustri's w'en de stockin' am done filled up ez w'en we's er fightin' ob de wolf fum de do', but I don't know no uddah way ob keepin' de stockin' full.

"I's er wishin' hit didn't tax de faith ob some ob yo' niggahs s' much ter be ez good ter de Lawd ez yo' is ter de pa'son.

"Some folks goes frough life on de principle ut dey's de on'y ones w'at's got any feelin's er any right to 'xpec' fa' treatment. Dey kain't qua'l wiv dem ez t'inks dey feelin's ain't wuff rega'din'.

"Ef some o' we uns was ez scrup'lis ob ouah honnah ez we is moufy ertalkin' erbout hit, we'd hab mo' ter talk erbout—'n' we'd do less talkin'."—Chicago Record.

Chronic

* Alcoholism

is a disease hard to cure, as is the morphine habit. Every organ of the body is affected. A continual demand for a stimulant is called for. Food ceases to gratify, in fact, often cannot be retained on the stomach, or when it is the vitiated blood ceases to absorb nourishment from it. Give such sufferers that greatest of food stimulants, blood-enrichers, flesh-creators, a highly concentrated extract of the vital principles of lean beef, it is retained by the weakest stomach and nourishes quickly, so that with renewed tissue and returned strength morbid cravings vanish. Dr. J. B. Mattison of the Brooklyn "Home for Habitues" writes of Bovinine. "It is the best thing on earth of its kind. It is sustaining, nourishing, helpful in every way to patients of my special class."

Bovinine

In Buying a Piano or an Organ

do not fail to examine the latest Mason & Hamlin models. Recent improvements render them unexcelled. Old pianos or organs taken in exchange. Instruments sold for cash or easy payments.

Catalogues and full information free.

Pianos of reliable makers from $200 upwards.

Mason & Hamlin Co.

136 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK.

CATARRH ELY'S Cream Balm

COLD IN HEAD

Is quickly absorbed, cleanes the nasal passages allays pain and inflammation, heals the sores, protects the membrane from additional cold, restores the senses of taste and smell.

It will cure. A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50c. at druggists or by mail. ELY BOTHERS, 56 Warren st., New York.

Always Open is Leggett's Pharmacy in Y.M.C.A. Buildiug

A. Lusardi,

120 North Ave.,

will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c a qt. Branch store, corner Front and Somerset streets.

P. MARKEY, Bakery,

144 PARK AVENUE.

A full assortment of bread, cakes, and pies fresh every day. Fig and malt bread a specialty. 2 17 tf

CITY HOTEL,

Plainfield, N. J.

Corner Park avenue and Second street.

J. E. Beerbower, Prop.

Stables attached

PROSPECT HILL Must Be Sold.

Azalias, Chinese primrose, palms, ferns, begonias and variety of blooming plants. Wedding decorations and floral designs and all equipments for church and house decorations. Southern smilax at 15 days notice

AT DENTON'S.

HEATH & DRAKE.

Established 1841. Newark's first-class Dry Goods House.

New Embroideries, Laces, Flouncings, etc.

Our assortment of these goods for the coming season is handsomer, more varied and complete than any we have yet shown, and embraces regular Cambric, Nainsook and Swiss Edges, Insertions and match sets in all grades and styles and a line of Exquisite Novelties which for new and original effects, exclusive and unique designs, are unsurpassed if not unequalled by any in the market.

Pretty Edgings and Embroideries Very Cheap.

A thousand lines could not tell the story any better. Great heaps of snowy Embroideries that first saw light in far off Switzerland are here.

In connection with our regular line we have purchased, direct from the manufacturers in St. Gaul, Switzerland, three large lots of Embroideries, which we will place on sale at one-third less than regglar prices.

Lot 1, 4c Yd. Lot 2, 8c Yd. Lot 3, 12c Yd

The wise ones ask no questions, but take them away in huge quantities.

777 and 779 Broad Street,

Newark, N. J.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd.

BOTTOM PRICES— COMFORTABLE TERMS

Every Reason For Success

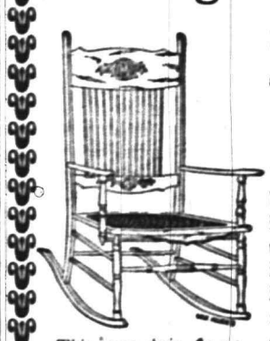
Exists at 73 Market St.—our many years' experience tells us that nothing pleases buyers better than right prices and liberal terms—they're always found here—to instance:

This Parlor Suit $19.50

A single illustration of what our reductions mean— five pieces, brocatelle or plush, mahogany finish frames.

This same Suit, $19.50.

Rocking Chair at $1.95

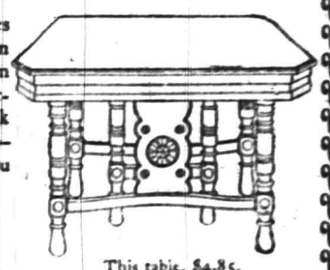


This same chair, $1.95.

Exactly like cut—solid oak, cane seat—roomy and comfort giving—worth far more.

Extension Tables

We've new lines by the score in in dining room tables—one special in solid oak is at $4.85—match it if you can!



This table, $4.85.

Our Bargain Room

is packed full of real bona-fide bargains, new patterns, slightly soiled, marked half price, in plain figures. Don't forget our grand Portland Range

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd. 73 MARKET ST.
Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, Etc. Near Plane St.
Telephone 580. NEWARK, N. J.

GOODS DELIVERED FREE TO ANY PART OF STATE

STILLMAN MUSIC HALL.

Rich & Maeder.....Lessees and Managers.
John Daly.....Resident Manager.

2 Nights, February 28th and 29th,

MATINEE SATURDAY. The talented actress,

Miss RACHELLE RENARD,

supported by her own company, presenting Friday—Ingomar, the Barbarian: Saturday matinee—Superb Allegorical Revival of East Lynne; Saturday night—The great Historical Drama, Jack Sheppard. Prices—15, 25 and 35c. Matinee 10c to all parts of the house.

Messrs. Rich & Maeder beg to inform the citizens of Plainfield that because of a large response in favor of a public advance subscription as a guarantee, they have made arrangements with Mr. Augustin Daly for the complete presentation here on

THE NIGHT OF MARCH 2.

of Mr. Daly's incomparable production of Shakespeare's fanciful comedy,

"A Mid-Summer Night's Dream,"

with the same sumptuous scenery and exquisite mechanical effects and full music accompaniment that characterized its famous revival at Daly's New York and London Theatres.

Prices $1.50, $1, 75c & 50c. Seats now on sale at Leggett's drug store.

LITTLE FOLKS OF JAPAN.

They Study Hard, But They Have Lots of Fun.

No Baby Carriages Used There—Boys and Girls Mind the Baby on Their Backs and Play at the Same Time.

[COPYRIGHT, 1896.]

Among the happiest and most interesting children on the face of the earth are those found in the empire of the mikado. And not the least interesting are the least in size of his majesty's subjects—the babies.

Both boy and girl babies have their heads shaven a week after birth, and this operation is frequently repeated during the early period of their existence. A few stray wisps and tufts are allowed to flourish however, which relieve the head from total baldness. Little girls of three years and older have their tresses caught up and arranged in ridiculous twists and quirls on the top or back of the head. Sometimes the hair is cut off at the sides in a style similar to the American bang. Anything daintier or prettier than one of these wee damsels in their quaint costumes and elaborately-arranged locks, can scarcely be imagined.

The first important event of Baby Jap's life is a celebration which takes place on the 30th day after birth, when the little one is carried to some temple and placed under the protecting care of its patron saint. Baby goes in state, accompanied by the entire family. At the entrance to the temple they all remove their footgear and, passing solemnly within, they make an offering to the chosen deity.

The Japanese baby has no wheeled carriage in which to take his daily outings. When he goes for an airing he is strapped to the back of his brother or sister. It looks funny to see the little boys running around flying kites or playing ball without any regard to the shaking and bumping morsel of humanity attached to their backs. But the babies don't care. They seem to enjoy it as well as their brothers, and the brothers certainly have a better time than some of our American boys whose mammas insist upon their "minding baby" when they want to go and play ball.

"DEMONS DEPART!—GOOD LUCK ENTER."

The little Jap begins to attend school at five or six years of age. The schoolhouse is a one-story building, made of wood and paper, as are all the Japanese houses.

In former days before the schools were under the control of the government, the school-rooms boasted no furniture, excepting some little cabinets, in which were stored the books, sorobans, India ink and brushes not in use. The floors were covered with thick straw mats, and each pupil had a gaily-colored cushion upon which to rest his knees.

Nowadays, however, they have ordinary desks and chairs, such as are used in American school-rooms.

It would frighten an American boy or girl to think of the number of characters these almond-eyed youngsters must learn to pronounce and write, in order to read the most ordinary books. There are from eight to ten thousand in constant use, and many more which are used by the highly-educated.

The little Japs use a brush to write with instead of a pen, and the ink is so generously applied that the copy books are soon wet through and must be hung up, or spread out in the school yard to dry.

In the study of numbers the soroban, or counting-machine, plays an important part. Indeed, not only the little folks but their elders as well are quite dependent upon these gaily-colored balls, strung on wires, in making arithmetical calculations.

If the duties of the school-room appear, as they really are, rather severe and monotonous, it must be remembered that the Japanese boys and girls have plenty of recreation outside of school hours. They are as fond of games as our own little folks.

The girls have their dolls, doll-houses and toy kitchen utensils.

At the beginning of the new year, ball-playing, battledore and shuttlecock are in high favor with both boys and girls, and they are also fond of playing with bean-bags.

Then there are fascinating toys of dried pith which on being dropped into hot water or tea develop into marvelous flowers and figures.

Kite-flying is the boy's special amusement. Kites are made in a variety of shapes, fans, shields, butterflies and figures of men with large sleeves, though the most common shape is square, and from six inches to six feet in breadth.

Fireworks are very popular, and of many kinds, wheels, squibs, crackers, and numerous new kinds that are constantly being invented to amuse the youngsters and consume the pocket-money.

Not the least delightful diversion for the little people is afforded by the festivals which occur annually in their honor.

First comes the doll festival, observed on the third day of the third month. This day is devoted to the girls, large and small, and is a great occasion for the purchase and display of dolls. The houses are decked with flowers, cakes and confections prepared in advance and set out on toy tables, and new robes and girdles are donned for this gala day.

Goseku, on the fifth day of the fifth month, is the boys' festival. This day is devoted to the celebration of the festival of the god of war. Toy armor, swords and dolls in fighting costume, representing ancient heroes, are on exhibition inside the houses. In front of every house where a son has been born during the year, a tall bamboo pole is erected, to which is hung a huge fish made of rice-paper, the mouth distended with a hoop. As the wind blows into the mouth, it inflates these fish-shaped balloons, and they present a strange spectacle as they float gaily in the breeze all over the city. A good feast is set out for the boys, and good wishes are expressed for their success in life and future bravery.

The festival of Tanabata on the seventh day of the seventh month, is also particularly devoted to boys. According to tradition there is a terrible sea-monkey, who at other times is supposed to be able to stretch out his body in one long arm and catch naughty boys who go in swimming without permission. But during this blissful day the dreadful monster is secured and the urchins may indulge in their favorite amusement without fear of being molested.

Of course the Japanese little folks have no Santa Claus, or Christmas celebration, but the first day of the new year is devoted to merry-making by young and old alike, whatever their rank or condition in life.

By way of preparing for the new year, the ceremony called Mame-Maki, or bean throwing, is observed in all well-regulated household on New Year's eve. The house is swept and garnished, the doors and walls are hung with ferns and the house-father, dressed in his best and accompanied by the little ones of the family, makes a tour of the whole establishment. He is provided with a supply of beans which he throws into the corners and recesses to drive out the horned demons, the doors being left open for their exit. As he scatters the beans around, he calls aloud:

"Oni wa soto, fuku wa uchi. (Demons depart! Good luck, enter!" And joining in the cry, the young folks frolic and gambol through the house, till every room has been visited and the supply of beans exhausted. Evil spirits are supposed to have a great antipathy to beans, and lose no time in making their escape.

From what I have told you, it will be seen that the little Japanese children have no lack of amusement, though it must not be supposed that their life is one round of pleasure. In the winter, especially, they have to endure many hardships. Japanese houses being made of wood and paper, of course stoves or ranges are out of the question, and the only means of heating the rooms is by small braziers, with a few pieces of charcoal. Consequently the rooms are cold, and as shoes like ours are not worn, the foot being covered with cotton socks, or often bare, it may readily be imagined the poor little creatures are uncomfortably cold. But they are cheerful little folk, not given to complaining. You may have read that Japanese children never cry, but this is not true. On the whole, however, I will venture to say they are the most amiable and merry little people in the whole world, and I think you would agree with me, if you knew them.

LOUISE LIDDELL.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

It has been decided by an Ohio court that wives are legally responsible for the support of their husbands when the husbands cannot furnish the support.

The Order of the Society of Cincinnati in Philadelphia has decided to place the long-delayed Washington monument at the Green street entrance to Fairmount park.

Five years after a fall through a skylight Daniel McCarthy, of New York, was operated upon and a three-inch piece of glass taken out of his arm.

After several years of tireless warfare, and the payment of many thousands of dollars in bounties, the farmers of Berrien county, Mich., have given up fighting the English sparrow pest.

The night police of Girard, Pa., are instructed to arrest all boys and girls under 18 years of age who are found on the streets without proper escorts after eight o'clock in the evening.

The heaviest horse in New England is said to be one owned in Somerset, Vt., and used in lumbering on the mountains. It is a Clydesdale, is five years old, stands 18 hands high, and weighs 2,100 pounds. A horse weighing 1,500 pounds is noticeably big.

An Arizona prison has an extensive apiary which is under the charge of the inmates. A single hive is said to have produced 200 pounds of honey last year, and it is expected that the industry will prove exceedingly profitable.

FASHION'S DECREES.

The use of contrasting side sections in skirts seems to be increasing. There are also fronts of entirely different material.

A dress of putty-colored cloth has an Eton jacket of wine-colored velvet with velvet sleeves and collar. From beneath the jacket, entirely across the front, is a full-puffed vest of cream-colored crepon.

Hair-dressing has become elaborate in the extreme. Puffs, feathers, combs, aigrets, ornaments and ribbons are mingled in what might become inextricable confusion were the arrangements less artistic.

Shades of yellow are in demand for evening wear. A very rich costume is of a copper-yellow satin, brocaded with small designs in rose color and foliage in natural tints. The trimming is of very open jet passementerie, with a full fringe made of extremely fine jet beads.

A very rich and handsome opera cloak is made of cream-colored velour, elaborately embroidered in silk and pearl beads. A fringe made of ostrich plumes falls from the lower edge, and the shoulder cape is similarly trimmed. The hood is edged with the trimming, and enormous bows of satin ribbon are set on at the front and back.

THE WESTERN STATES.

There are only 360 Chinamen in the whole of New Mexico, according to the registry certificates issued under the new law.

An oil-burning locomotive is running in regular service between Los Angeles and Santa Barbara, Cal., and works perfectly and economically.

San Francisco spent $1,548 in trying to persuade the republican national committee to hold the next republican national convention in that city.

Phoenix, Ariz., is congratulating itself on the metropolitan ways the town is growing into. "Five cent shines have appeared on the streets," a local paper chronicles with much pride.

It was the Chinese laundrymen of Montana that fought and defeated the license law of the state, but Montana is one of the states in which Chinamen are supposed to have no rights.

Idaho's population has increased from 80,000 to 125,000 in five years since the state was admitted, and the assessed valuation of property has increased from $25,756,000 to $29,332,210

THE WORLD OF WHEELS.

Chulalongkorn, king of Siam, has been experimenting with the fashionable toothpick shoes now in vogue. Already he rides a bike.

"Pedaleurs" and "pedaleuses" are the terms which the "Gaulois" now employ to designate cyclists of the two sexes.

French wheelmen have adopted a code of signals by whistle. The whistle is much used in France in preference to the bell.

Maine wheelmen have been experimenting with bicycling on ice, and are said to have had very successful and exhilarating sport in most instances.

A bicyclists' accident insurance company has just been organized in Westfield, Mass. It proposes to insure bicycle riders against all manner of accidents met with while riding their machines.

A man in San Bernardino, Cal., bought a ticket in a raffle for a bicycle recently, paying 50 cents for it. Before the drawing he sold his ticket for a dollar. At the drawing his ticket won the machine.

FROM MANY CONTINENTS.

The sultan of Turkey has just been presented with a sumptuously-equipped horseless carriage.

Miniature Indian corn grows in Brazil. The ears are about the size of a little finger, and the grains are as little as mustard seed.

Norway was visited by 27,139 tourists last summer, 10,869 of them British and 1,876 American; 1,592 foreigners visited the North Cape.

Trilby cannot be used as a trade mark in England, the name being employed too generally. So the court of chancery has just decided.

Telegram post cards have been sent for some years past in Paris by pneumatic tubes. It is now proposed to use the pneumatic system to convey letters from the post offices to the railroad stations. The plant will cost $17,000.

CHEAP PAINT.

The Kind That Soon Fades and Rubs Off.

Good Paint That Should Be Put On from the Inside, Instead of from the Outside.

You can make a very cheap paint by using an ordinary whitewash. It will cling to the house and barns just as well as it does to the upper walls of your rooms. To be sure it does not last very long and it rubs off. Perhaps you have seen young girls, and some not quite so young, try the trick of putting the color of health on their cheeks by using some red powder or paste. But it does not last long and it rubs off. Yet we can hardly blame them, for who does not like to see the rosy color of robust health, and who is not pained at the sight of the white lips and colorless cheeks? We advise all girls, whether old or young, to paint their cheeks if they are pale. But be sure to paint them with something which will last and will not rub off. Put the paint on from the inside, not from the outside.

The elements which give color to the blood are minute bodies, called the red blood corpuscles. If there is not enough of these in your blood, then you are pale, weak, without appetite, probably thin in flesh and quite nervous. In fact, everything seems to go wrong in the body when there is a deficiency in these life-giving red blood corpuscles. An abundance of these little bodies make rich blood, red blood. The circulation is improved and the bright tinge of color comes again to the lips and cheeks.

You have only to consult medical works to learn that cod-liver oil is one of the best remedies known to increase the number of these red corpuscles of the blood. Eminent medical writers declare that this is one of the most marked features of cod-liver oil. We prefer to recommend to you the oil after it has been broken up into minute particles, as in Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with the Hypophosphites. The stomach bears it better in this form, and it makes the oil very palatable also. The hypophosphites are added because the nervous system needs a tonic, something to build it up on a permanent basis. If you are pale, do not get much benefit from your food, mentally and physically unable to work, simply dragging along day after day, take Scott's Emulsion. It puts color on the cheeks. It is a color that comes to stay, and you cannot rub it off.

Scott's Emulsion has been indorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. Ask your doctor. Because it is always palatable—always uniform—always contains the purest Norwegian Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites. Insist on Scott's Emulsion with trademark of man and fish. Put up in 50c. and $1.00 sizes. The small size may be enough to cure your cough or help your baby.

W. L. & J. M. Smalley,

—DEALERS IN—

HIGH GRADE

Meats,

& Meat Specialties

Beef, Lamb, Mutton, Veal and Pork. Poultry and Game in season.

94 Somerset st., Plainfield N. J.

Telephone Call 42-B.

NOTICE.

Special Reductions

—AT—

Neuman Bros.

on fancy brands goods. Full quart bottles table oil 60c, finest quality; whole canned ox tongue 45c; lunch tongue, whole, 25c; a special reduction given on Curtis' strawberry and assorted jams, 16c; fresh roasted coffees received every week, quality unexcelled.

NEUMAN BROS.

What! $30.00?

Yes, thirty dollars will buy a piano, in first-class condition, at

W. R. BROKAW'S

Piano Parlors, 311 Madison ave.

Tuning and regulating a specialty

Insurance at Lowest Rates.

Wm. H. Abbott,

Insurance, 171 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance,

197 North avenue

Holiday Millinery Goods.

MRS. L. ADAMS,

114 EAST FRONT STREET,

Opp. First National Bank.

Dressmaking and Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns.

S. D. FRAZEE,

DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF

FRESH FISH.

Fresh every day. Terms cash. Goods delivered.

230 Park ave., ooo. North ave

Musicfurnished for all occasions.

Your Spring Clothing

Rather early to speak of it, but if it needs cleaning or dyeing, it isn't too early to have us do that work for you. This is our dull season—our employes are here ready for work. We'd like to have your goods now. We can give them better attention than in the rush of the spring season. Then we'll have to have more time or rush them at the expense of good work. Now we can take our time, do the work better than if hurried and you'll have the clothing all ready for warm weather.

Look in the closet or trunk and find your spring wear that needs cleaning and dyeing and bring it to us now, or better still, our wagon will call for it if you will send us word.

Hillier & Co.,

179 North ave., Plainfield.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

New York Mails.

Arrive—7:30, 8:40, 11:15 a.m., 2:45, 5, 6:30 p. m.
Close—7 15 and 9:30 a. m., 1:30, 4 30 and 7:30 p. m.

Somerville and Easton Mails.

Arrive—8:40 a. m., 2:40, 6:00 p. m.
Close—7:15 a. m., 4:30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arr. 12 m; closes 9:30 a. m.

Sunday Mails.

Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6:15 p. m.

J. M. HETFIELD, P. M.

GEO. O. STEVENS OAK 747 WEST FRONT ST.

Branch office with

G. A. HALLOCK,

109 West Front st.

J. W. VanSickle, Dealer in all kinds of

FRESH AND SALTED MEATS.

Game in season. No. 122 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Telephone 148b. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

Your Valuables

will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

Lock boxes from $3.50 to $10 a year.

E. H. Holmes,

Dealer in

Coal & Wood.

Yard—No. 208 Madison avenue. Office for coal orders with Woolston & Buckle, 145 North ave.

Telephone 49-A.

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the first and third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.

John Fellows, Dictator.
R. A. Frey, Reporter.

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays in the Babcock Building.

C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Sec.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Babcock Building, West Front street.

D. C. Adams, W. M.
Charles Yeager, Sec.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the second and fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward Building, Park avenue, at 8 p.m.

Harry C. Adams, Regent.
Frederick C. Pope, Secretary.

McCullough's STEAM MILL,

21 Steiner place, North Plainfield.

R. H. McCullough, Prop.

Sash, blinds, doors, mouldings, scroll sawing, turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully furnished.

ERNEST BARRETT,

Sanitary Plumbing, Steam and Hot Water Heating

All work guaranteed. Estimates cheerfully given. Jobbing promptly attended to.

325 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

L. L. MANNING, Marble AND Granite Works,

Corner Central avenue and West Front street, opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

MONEY

Cannot buy better

Men's Suits,

in fine imported Black and Blue Cheviot, Diagonal or fancy weave, single or double breasted at $9.90.

reduced from $15, $18 and $20.

WERNER'S,

206 West Front st.

The Plainfield WATER SUPPLY CO.,

Incorporated 1869.

Frank Bergen, President. E. R. Pope, Sec. & Treas.

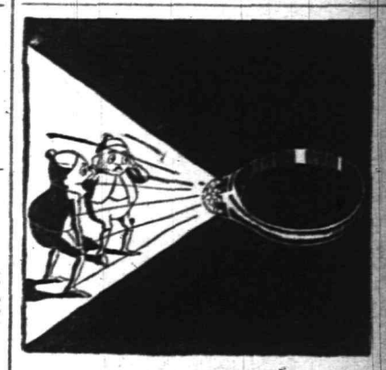
The Plainfield Water Supply Company supplies the inhabitants of the City of Plainfield and the Borough of North Plainfield with water for domestic use.

In June last the water supplied by the Company was analyzed by Allan Hazen, Esq., a leading hydraulic expert of Boston, and pronounced by him to be "water of great organic purity," and in a letter to one of the Company's patrons he added: "You are to be congratulated upon having so good a supply, and you need have no anxiety whatever as to the wholesomeness." The completion of the city's sewer system will add to the convenience of the supply of water from the Company's mains. A representative of the Company will be pleased to call on parties who do not at present use water from its mains, and explain rates, terms, methods of service, etc. The work of making connections will be resumed as soon as the weather permits. Address the Company at 207 North ave. 2 27 3w

List of Advertised Letters

Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 24, 1896.

Baker Henry	Murphy Wm
Ballman C A 2	Phelps R A
Bradley Wm	Ryan Jos
Drake Mary Miss	Robeling Mrs
Emmons Peter	Reeger Minnie Miss
Fleischauer H J Mrs	Shipley John R
Hadley Wilber E	Sheeheen Jos
Irevin E H Miss	Shorts Eliza Miss
Jonss Geo W	Saunders T
Kitchen Mary Miss	Saunders John
Lenham Hattie Miss	Shierif Miss
McAvoy Katie Miss	Westmore D M Miss
Montrose Lettie	Westwood Isabel Miss



A BRILLIANT SIGHT.

is afforded everyone who looks through our stock of diamonds and other precious stones—and their setting is only second to them in beauty. You can't think of anything in the jewelry line you can't get here. If you can, let us know and we'll get it at short notice.

COLLIER, 103 Park Avenue.

Established 1869.

R. H. Rushton. J. C. Hansen. A. Luthman.

Rushton, Hansen & Luthman,

PAINTERS & PAPER HANGERS.

P. O. Box 773, Plainfield, N. J.

Interior decorating a specialty. Our motto—first-class work. Estimates cheerfully given. Orders promptly attended to. 2 11 tf

F. A. DUNHAM,

Civil Engineer and Surveyor

109 Park ave. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas. Telephone 87—F.

Dogs

IRON AND BRASS

FIRE-DOGS.

Curtis M. Thorpe,

Y. M. C. A. Building

"Everything for the Fireplace."

Telephone 29b. Established 1873.

ADDIS & SON.

Plumbing and Hot Water Heating.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.

Opposite Roberts's Livery. 132 North ave.

SPORTS

CYCLING COMMENT.

F. L. C. Martin received twenty-three Cleveland Swell Specials this morning.

A. N. Adams has purchased a Crescent, No. 1, from the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company.

Emil Jearmand, of Clinton avenue, is riding a Liberty "Bogeeman," purchased from the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company.

E. C. Bald, the famous Buffalo bicyclist, has signed a contract with a cycle company of Syracuse, and will ride as a professional this year.

George B. Schoonmaker, of Madison avenue, has purchased a lady's Cleveland, model 23, from the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company, for his daughter.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the National Cycle Board of Trade held yesterday it was decided to sanction no local cycle shows to be held after the 31st day of March for the ensuing year, on account of the many protests which have been received from the cycle trade generally that it is interfering with their spring business.

Extensive alterations are to be commenced at once by the Eldridge Bicycle Company, to make more room for their growing business. They have just made arrangements to connect their present store with one next door formerly occupied by C. F. French. The corner store will be used exclusively for a show room and fitted up in a style to compare with Columbia quality; while the new quarters will be fitted np for rental, storage and repair work. They will rent new 1896 Columbia wheels, and do first-class repairing at reasonable prices. They will also make a special drive on sundries.

H. J. Martin and P. H. Zimmer, of the Plainfield Cycle Manufacturing Company, 28 Somerset street, whose card appears in The Press advertising columns today, announce that they are now prepared to exhibit their '96 samples and invite you to inspect their line before securing your mount for this season. They have the agency for some of the best wheels in the market and are also getting up one of their own to be known as the "Plainfield," which they claim will be the "nattiest" bike sold in this locality and at a price that is just "right." They also handle all kinds of bicycle accessories and sundries and do all branches of repairing, re enameling, etc., at reasonable prices and guarantee first-class work.

The following are the members of the club who ride in the Columbia Cycle Academy every Thursday evening during Lent: Mr. and Mrs. J. Parken Mason, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Atterbury, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Pond, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Roome, Mr. and Mrs. Machardo, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Foote, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Timpson, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Booth, Mrs. Howard Fleming, Mrs. Robert Lowry, Miss Maude Van Boskerck, Miss Elizabeth Van Boskerck, Miss Gertrude Andrews, Miss Whiton, Miss Louise Bushnell, Miss Ada Marsh, Miss Vail, Miss Wood, Miss Randolph, Miss Murphy, Miss Henderson, Dr. F. C. Ard, Dr. Benj. Van D. Hedges, Messrs. Howard Huntington, S. Huntington, Jr., T. R. Van Boskerck, George Van Boskerck, I. C. West, S. West, Howard Beebe, De W. C. Ivins, E. C. Perkins, Clarence Murphy, G. P. Taggart, J. M. Whiton and Arthur Henderson.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

The Police Committee of the Board of Aldermen of Paterson has informally decided to allow no more boxing exhibitions in that city.

—A large willow tree near the residence of Frank Miles, on Somerset street, was blown down by the heavy wind wind last night and wrecked the gable cornice on the house.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be curred by Hall's Catarrh Cure.
F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props.,
Toledo, O.

We the undersigned have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transaction and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.
West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggist, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

One Minute Cough Cure touches the right spot. It also touches it at the right time if you take it when you have a cough or cold. See the point? Then don't cough.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U.S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

STRIKES AND SPARES.

Charles C. Lister now holds the record on the Crescent Wheelmen's alleys in the "head pin" game. His score was 112 out of a possible 120.

The team that will represent the local Y. M. C. A. at Westfield next Tuesday night, will consist of Raymond Carroll, Morris Sutphen, Arthur Lederer, Thomas U. Smith, and Edward Laing. They will roll the Y. M. C. A., of that place.

A friendly game of bowling took place last evening at the Manhattan alleys between teams composed of the employes of Potter's and Scott's Press Works. The individual scores:

POTTERS.		SCOTTS.
Babcock	102	Soden	126
Sherley	132	Bittle	100
Mattox	111	Wilcox	131
Overbaugh	127	Adams	132
Matthews	173	Sherwood	144
Muir	122	Smith	96
Eddy	112	Paugh	91
Gould	77	McLean	127
Mack	138	Sutphen	136
Kief	139	Eick	84
	1233		1169

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Louis Borsum, of this city, has made application for his naturalization papers.

—Hood's Pills cure nausea, sick headache, indigestion, biliousness. All druggists, 25c.

—The Overseer of the Poor will be in his office every morning from 9 to 11, in Central Hall building, corner of Park and North avenues. 3

—The contract for the electrical fittings for French & Vail's new hotel on the mountain has been awarded to Victor Christofferson.

—Rev. Henry Mason Baum, of New York, will give his second illustrated lecture on Egypt in the Y. M. C. A. building this evening at 8 o'clock.

—A "telling effect" is defined at the reporting by one lady to another, "Have you seen the choice goods at Peck's?" The effect is in the increase of trade.

—The Democrats of Westfield and Mountainside held a joint meeting last night in Westfield to make nominations for the coming township elections.

—The Somerset county Board of Freeholders will meet at Neshanic today and receive bids for the construction of the bridge which was recently washed away.

—Out of weakness comes strength when the blood has been purified, enriched and vitalized, the appetite restored and the system built up by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

—W. E. MacClymont, organist at the First Presbyterian church, will present an attractive programme at his organ recital, to be given in the church next Tuesday evening.

—The Somerset county Board of Freeholders have employed Joshua Doughty, Jr., as engineer on a number of bridges which they are going to build. The first bridge to be built is the one over the South Branch at Neshanic.

—The Plainfield representatives to the Great Council of the Improved Order of Red Men, which has been held at Trenton for the last two days, returned from there last night well satisfied that there are many brave chiefs in this State.

—The Woman's Relief Corps committee who had charge of the supper given on Washington's Birthday, met at the home of Mrs. Isaac Brokaw last evening to settle the business connected therewith. The total receipts were $51.05 and the profits $45,15.

—The steamer Bermuda that has been seized by the Government was sold to the Cuban people by Charles H. Day, of Westfield. He says that the steamer is old, hardly seaworthy and in poor condition generally. The bill did not name the price paid.

—The delegates from Plainfield to the Red Men's annual session, returned last evening, previous to the meeting of Miantonomah Tribe, No. 118. I. O. R. M. There was little business transacted, most of the time being taken up with short talks. At the meeting next Friday evening the delegates will make detail reports of the business performed at Trenton.

Tuesday evening W. D. Murray will give a talk on the "Resources of the English Bible" and on the following two Tuesday evenings, Dr. Barnes will give talks on the Bible. Everyone is invited to any or all of these meetings.

A high liver with a torpid liver will not be a long liver. Correct that liver with DeWitt's Little Early Risers, little pills that cure dyspepsia and constipation. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

[Notices under this head are published by The Daily Press free of charge, when supplied fresh each week by authority. Copy must be in hand by 10 a. m. Saturday to insure insertion, and should be supplied Friday when possible.]

W. C. T. U.—Philip Swain will speak at the meeting at 4 p. m.

Reform Hall, 4:15 p. m.—George Newton will lead the meeting.

Boys' Bible class at Y. M. C. A. at 9:30 a. m. Boys' meeting at 4:15 p. m.

Mission Church of the Heavenly Rest—Morning prayer and sermon, 11 a. m.; Sunday-school, 9:45 a. m.

Congregational Church, Rev. C. L. Goodrich, pastor—The Sacrament of Lord's Supper will be administered.

All Souls' Church, Park avenue — Sermon by the pastor, Rev. Hobart Clark, at 10:45 a. m.; Sunday-school at 11:45 a. m.

St. Joseph's (R. C.) Church—Rev. William H. Miller, pastor. Masses at 8:30 and 10:30 a. m.; Sunday-school, 2:30; evening devotions, 8.

St. Mary's (R. C.) Church—Rev. P. E. Smyth, pastor. Masses at 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30 a. m.; evening devotions at 8. Sunday-school, 2:30 p. m.

The Evangelistic Bible class at the Y. M. C. A. will meet at 5:30 p. m. J. W. Gavett will teach the Gymnasium Men's Bible class at the same hour.

Y. M. C. A. Building, 4:15 p. m.—Meeting led by D. E. Titsworth. Native African singers. Testimonies from six men from Potter's Press and Pond Tool Works.

Rev. W. D. Johnson, pastor of the Filmore Avenue Baptist Church, will baptize twenty-seven candidates in the Park Avenue Baptist church tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

First Church of Christ, (Disciples of Christ)—Rev B. W. Hand, pastor. Preaching at 10:45 a. m. Lord's Supper, 12 m. Sunday-school, 3 p. m. Christian Endeavor meeting at 7 p. m.

Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church—Rev. W. R. Richards, D. D., pastor, 10:30 a.m., Communion services; 2:30 p. m., Sabbath-school; 7:30 p. m., preaching. Seats free at the evening service.

Grace Church, Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector—Early Celebration of Holy Communion, 7:30 a. m.; litany, sermon and Holy Communion, 11 a. m.; Sunday-school, 3 p. m.; evening prayer and children's service, 4 o'clock.

Trinity Reformed Church—Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor. 10:30 a. m., the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered. In the evening at 7:30 the pastor will preach. Subject, "Walking in the Light." Sunday-school, 2:30 p. m.

St. Stephen's Church, Rev. S. P. Simpson, rector—Holy Communion, 7:30 a. m.; Sunday-school, 9:45 a. m.; Holy Communion and sermon, 11; evening prayer, 4:30. Free stages from railroad station at 10:30 a. m.

Monroe Avenue M. E. Chapel, Rev. William C. O'Donnell, pastor—Preaching services at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. Morning subject, "A Modern Church;" evening subject, "Selfishness." Sabbath-school, 3 p. m. Epworth League meeting at 7:30.

Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. Herbert F. Randolph, pastor—At 10:30 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. preaching. Morning subject, "Looking Forward;" evening theme, "Forgotten Men." At 2:30 p. m. Sunday-school. Epworth League, 7:15 p. m.

First M. E. Church, Rev. C. R. Barnes, D. D., pastor—10:30 a. m., administration of the Lord's Supper and reception of members; 2:30 p. m., Sunday-school and missionary meeting; 6:45 p. m., Epworth prayer meeting; 7:30 p. m., preaching by pastor.

Church of the Redeemer, Rev. Dr. Jocelyn Johnstone, rector—Early celebration at 7:30 a. m.; morning prayer and Holy Communion at 11:15; evening prayer and sermon, 4:30; Sunday-school, 3 p. m. At the evening service Dr. Johnstone will preach on a sentence of the Creed.

Park Avenue Baptist Church, Rev. J. W. Richardson, pastor—Morning, 10:30, preaching by the pastor, theme, "A New Sepulchre;" evening, 7:30, theme "Jesus Christ Glorified." Sunday-school, 2:30 p. m. Owing to the absence of Miss Coard the orchestra will not be present.

First Presbyterian church music: Morning, Prelude, Communion in E flat, Hamer; anthem, O Jesus Thou Art Standing, Shepard; offertory, The Lord's Prayer, Wilkinson. Communion. Evening, Prelude, offertory on two Christian hymns, Guilmant, Cradle Song, Bartlett; anthem, Teach me Thy way, Moir; "My song shall be of mercy," Wilkinson; offertory cornet solo, selected, Benj. LaVere; Postlude in C, Lewis.

SCHAUS PAINTING COLLECTION

Nearly $200,000 Realized at the Auction Sale in New York Last Night.

New York, Feb. 29.—The auction sale of the private collection of modern pictures by famous painters, owned by the late William Schaus, which took place last night at Chickering hall, brought a total of $187,825. The highest price brought by a single painting was $25,500. This was the price for which "Edge of the Woods," Rousseau (Theodore), was sold. "La Retour a la Ferme," by Troyon (Constantine), brought the next highest amount, $24,500. The former painting was bought by Samuel P. Avery and the latter by Herman Schaus. H. D. Morgan paid $18,900 for "Sunset," by Diaz de la Pena (Narcisse Virgile).

Three Years for Murder.

Dover, Me., Feb. 29.—Judge L. A. Emery, in the supreme judicial court in session here, yesterday afternoon sentenced William Demond, the 19-year-old murderer of John Broderick, to three years with hard labor in state's prison. The crime was committed on September 13, 1895, in the vicinity of Chesuncook lake, during a quarrel over drink.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Soothing, healing, cleansing, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the enemy to sores, wounds and piles, which it never fails to cure. Stops itching and burning. Cures chapped lips and cold sores in two or three hours. L. W. Randolph, 143 W. Front St.

THE Democratic Primary will be held at the North Plainfield
School House Tonight at 8.
By order of the Committee.

YOUR SCALP====== Is it irritable? Does it invite an occasional friendly scratch? To wash it is well, but not too often, lest your hair become "brash" and stiff. But treat it twice or thrice a week with our PETROLEUM HAIR TONIC—a little rubbed in with your finger ends, and you will find the feeling of comfort and coolness truly delightful. Positively nothing equals it as a balm for the woes of your scalp. Sprinkler bottles 50c. Only at

REYNOLD'S PHARMACY, PARK AND NORTH AVENUES.

RANDOLPH RUNYON,
Funeral Director and Embalmer.
43 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.
Residence over office. 2 24 m

H. DeMott,
Undertaker and Embalmer,
59 Somerset st., Plainfield, N. J.
Calls promptly attended to day or night. White and black hearses. Coaches latest style.

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 cent a word each insertion. Less than 10 words 10 cents. Cash must accompany adv.

PLEASANT front rooms with or without board; all improvements; terms reasonable. 130 North avenue. 2 25 6

FOR SALE—A desirable building plot on Fairview ave; will be sold right to make quick sale. Address C., care Press. 2 37 3

FLATS and offices to let in Babcock Block; elevator, heat, water, electric light, gas, all improvements. 2 26 tf-w s

TO LET—Seven room house, one acre of ground, near West End avenue: $12 a month. Address P. O. Box 286.

STORE TO LET—No. 325 Watchung avenue, suitable for plumber or ice cream and candy store, $25 per month. Stable to let, Sycamore street, room for 8 horses and 6 wagons, $12 00. Six room house to let on DeKalb avenue, large lot, $11.00 per month. Five-room Flat to let, new building, Watchung avenue, $12.50. New eleven-room house for sale or to let on Fairview avenue; house has all modern improvements, hot water, heat; rent $40 per month. Enquire of owner Chas. H. Hand, 317 Watchung ave. Office open from 7:30 until 9:30 p. m.

IF you wish your property rented early, leave full particulars with Central Real Estate Co., North ave., over United State Express office.

WANTED—Girl for general housework; must be good cook. Dr. Fritts.

WANTED.—A white woman as cook, washer and ironer at 324 Franklin place.

WANTED—Work by the day; any kind of housework. Call at 121 Washington st.

FOR SALE—A bargain; house with store attached on Front st; lot 125 feet deep, at $4.500. 2 23 4

TO RENT—3 large rooms on Richmond st; rent $8 per month. Inquire Thos. Callahan's, Richmond st. 2 29 2

WANTED—Young girl as nurse. Call at once, 78 Mercer avenue. North Plainfield. 2 29 tf

WANTED—Laundress, Swede preferred. Apply at 449 West 7th st; references required. 2 29 2

TO LET—A corner store, 22x65 feet; suitable for dry goods or grocery; a corner flat of 6 rooms and bath; all improvements; a 12-room house on West 7th st; large lot with stable, chicken house, etc., house recently fitted up with all improvements. City Mills. 2 29-3 7

FOR SALE—A coupe Rockaway and canopy top phaeton, both in good condition. Pole and shafts. 47 Washington avenue. 2 28 tf.

OFFICE to let, centrally located. Apply 612 Park ave. 2 28 2

EGGS for hatching from Barred Plymouth Rocks. Amos Vail, Greenbrook road, Dunellen, N. J. 2 27 m

WATCHUNG park lots for sale. I have only a few lots left in Watchung Park and am going to close them out. Come and see me if you want a bargain. A. D. Thompson, 151 North avenue. 2 26 5

FOR SALE—The property owned and occupied by W. T. Broadway, 323 LaGrande ave; modern improvements, city water, etc; house has ten rooms also bath and laundry; possession any time; liberal terms. Apply to agents. 2 17 tf-m w f

WASHINGTON Park, North Plainfield; for sale or to let to a small family, No. 19 Sycamore ave., house in perfect order; contains 10 rooms, city water, gas and furnace; terms made to suit. Geo. F. Edwards, 191 Broadway, New York, or 17 Duer st., Plainfield. 2 17 12

VERY handsome flat; all modern improvements. Apply Manning's city marble works. 2 17 tf

WANTED.—At once, experienced white cook. Apply 949 Central avenue. 2 8 tf

GOOD accommodations for horses; horses boarded by the month at reasonable terms. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville, N. J. 12 3 tf

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

TO LET—Stores, flats, dwellings. Bargains for sale. Mulford, Broker. 1 6 tf

TO LET—Stable on Sycamore street, from April 1st, seven stalls and a box stall, city water and electric lights, also three rooms over stable suitable for light house-keeping. Apply P. Lynch 1 2 tf

Such Business

for February never before known. Usually a dull month, we have made it one of the busiest of the year, but only by giving such values that will tempt and bring the business our way. Last week good values we gave but better for

THIS WEEK.

Blankets.

Many cold nights to come. We have a hundred pair of fine all wool blankets that we are closing out at a discount of 15 per cent from regular prices. 500 pair of white and gray blankets at 55c the pair.

Shirt Waists.

New styles made of fine percale, all colors, laundered collars and cuffs, 49c

Embroideries.

From far off Switzerland they come to you and at such little prices that you wonder how they can make them and live. 3, 5, 7, 10 and 15c the yard. See them whether you wish to buy or not.

Silks and Dress Goods

in all the newest and prettiest effects and in many instances there is less to pay than you would imagine. Special in black 36 inch all-wool cashmere and serges 25c, 45 inch do serge 41c, 38 inch do fancies 39c, 38 inch do novelties 50c.

The balance of the Pargiter stock will be cleaned out regardless. Many good things left in ladies', gentlemen's and children's heavy underwear, ladies' muslin underwear and hosiery.

	Pargiter Price.	Our price
Fine India lawn	25c	10c
Men's natural wool shirts	$1	59c
Men's scarlet wool shirts	$1	50c
Men's white wool shirts	50c	25c
Men's colored half hose	15c	8c
Men's black half hose	25c	13c
Ladies' black hose	15c	8c
" "	20c	10c
Children's black hose	20c	10c
" "	25c	15c
Ladies' black and colored kid gloves	$1	59c
" " " "	$1.25	69c
Ladies' night robes	75c	39c
Ladies' white shirts	$1	59c
Ladies' ribbed vests	75c	33c
" "	50c	25c
Fine huck towels	25c	13c

CHINA DEPARTMENT.

COMPARE PRICES.

We want you to compare our prices on the following items. If you can do better, enough said. These are a few of the many good things for this week. Plenty more on sale all through the department. 25 best quality English porcelain tea sets decorated and new shape, imported to sell at $4,.56 pieces, at $2.69 set. 40 toilet sets consisting of 6 pieces, Byron shape, choice of 3 colors, new shape at 98c set. English porcelain dinner set, Old Hall, 112 pieces, good judges know the name and goods, worth $9, at $6.87 set.

AT HALF PRICE--Framed Pictures.

250 framed pictures at just half price, manufacturer's stock. We close out on most of them. We only ask you the price of the glass. 100 12x20 white enameled frames, assorted subjects, worth 75c; your choice 29c each.

WHITE OF PLAINFIELD.

NO GUESSING
If You Buy A COLUMBIA,
the strongest, tightest and best wheel on earth.
COPIED BY ALL
Easy Payments
Riding School.
EQUALLED BY NONE.
THE ELDRIDGE BICYCLE CO.,
339 & 341 Park Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

What FINE WALL PAPER
YOU CAN GET AT
EDWARD LOVE'S, NORTH AVENUE.
LET HIM DO YOUR Spring Decorating.

PLAINFIELD CYCLE M'F'G CO.,
28 Somerset Street.
H. J. MARTIN, P. H. ZIMMER, Prop'rs.
Agents for "BEN HUR," "GALES" "MANHATTAN" and "GOTHAM," also wheel of our own, the "PLAINFIELD." Prices ranging from $40 to $1.00.
REPAIRING
Wheels re-enameled $3.00. Second hand wheels.
SUNDRIES
FIRST CLASS WORK GUARANTEED.

MME. MODJESKA'S DEBUT.

A Veteran Journalist Describes Her First Appearance in America.

The Early Struggles of the Young Artiste in Which She Had the Encouragement of Edwin Booth and Other Warm Friends.

[COPYRIGHT, 1896.]

The serious reports of Helene Modjeska's illness bring into vivid relief the associations of her first appearance on the stage of the old California theater, in San Francisco, now over 18 years since. I was then chief editor of the Evening Post of that city. Several months before the persistent appeals of the dramatic writer of that paper, Mr. C. A. Mahany, a brilliant young Irishman, had fastened upon my consciousness the fact that a very gifted actress of Polish birth and antecedents was desirous of studying English and making an entry upon an English-speaking stage. Mr. Mahany secured from her copies of letters from Alexandre Dumas, Jr., of criticisms relating from her work from German and Polish periodicals. The letters and critiques were done into English by Mr. Mahany and published in the Post for the purpose of influencing not only the public but the management of the old California theater in favor of Mme. Bozenter Chlapolski. But that which first and most closely attracted me to this dramatic personality was the accounts given me of the lady by friends of European birth; army comrades and republican societies of Polish and German antecedents. There was also a very handsome, intellectual young man to whom we were all attracted who has since won for himself, as a poet and novelist, the foremost place in modern Polish literature. Several of his novels, one or two dealing with American emigrant life, have been translated into English by Mr. Curtin and published here. This brilliant man was the close friend of the already famous actress, and her talented husband, who was himself a leading journalist of Cracou, and has been a correspondent from the United States of leading European journals. Among the resident Polish citizens was a Capt. Bielau, who lived in the "mission" section of the city. It was at his home that I first met Mme. Modjeska.

MODJESKA AS LA TOSCA.

Some time before, in the latter part of 1876, Edwin Booth was playing his famous engagement at the California. Helena Modjeska Chlapolski had met the great Shakespearean actor, and read to him the part of Ophelia from a French translation. It was reported then that she wished to play that part during the Booth engagement to his Hamlet in English. Of this statement I am personally assured, but madame was certainly advised by him to study English. I was present one evening early in 1877, at Capt. Bielau's residence, with John McCullough, Mr. Baine and Mr. Mahany, both editorial writers and dramatic critics, with two or three other gentlemen, when Mme. Modjeska recited several parts in Polish and French; I think in German also. The one which impressed me most was a Polish poem on "Hagar." The intense and powerful dramatic effect it produced has never faded, and I can still feel the thrills and see the hushed and white, almost awed, faces of that little group. Of the drama ic power and professional capability of this artist, none who were present had thereafter the slightest shadow of doubt. For myself, at least, a campaign commenced which has been gracefully acknowledged as of value. But I confess, also, that besides the controlling admiration of her genius which had been aroused, my interest was personally intensified by the sympathy I felt on account of the associations belonging to her race life. Mme. Modjeska is intensely Polish and it probably has been fortunate for her in the past that she was a native of Gallacia, not Warsaw, and born under the Austrian, not the Russian government. Of course, the artist life always predominates, but those fortunate enough to have the confidence of this brilliant couple know how deeply inwrought are the associations and aspirations of their birth and race. Mr. Chlapolski is especially earnest, but no more sincere or impassioned even than madame herself in this direction. At the time they and their group of friends came to California, Modjeska was a member of the staff of the Imperial (Russian) theater at Warsaw, and procured, it is said, a two years' leave of absence.

LADY MACBETH IN THE SLEEP-WALKING SCENE.

The decision to study English was finally made in February, 1877, and in the latter part of August Helena Modjeska made her debut at San Francisco. She has herself told the facts of that debut in a charming simple paper published by a Boston magazine, so I shall not touch upon that ground, only illustrating the feeling which had been aroused before hand, and the effect on that first night. The men of the press were all friendly; some of them already enthusiastic. Madame had chosen "Adrienne Lecouveur" for her opening part. She has shown a great interest in dramas which turn upon the struggles of the woman and artist, and it was doubtless that which made her first present "Magda" to the American stage, as well as "Mistress Betty" in her recent season.

For the eight months preceding that debut, Mme. Modjeska lived in pleasant but modest quarters on Geary street, San Francisco, studying with an intensity of application that was most remarkable. Of course in the time consumed, the effort was only to so master the new tongue as to enable the actress to both understand and deliver the lines. When the theater was secured for an "off week" for her debut, her command of her own parts was perfect, the only noticeable thing being the peculiar but musical intonation and the inability to master the "r's"—a point which still marks, in a slight degree, Mme. Modjeska's delivery. There was one thing which aided her, and that was the constant study she had previously given to Shakespeare during her career at Warsaw. Her Shakespeare she had to learn from German and French editions. The French stage and drama has had much influence on madame's art, but she has made it all over with her own individuality. In those months of severe study she was fortunate in having as a most competent instructor a lady of Slavic birth and American education with some dramatic faculty also. She possessed just the linguistic and elocutionary capacity that was needed to point the way to this most enthusiastic student. On the night of the debut madame was letter perfect in her notable part, yet she could not carry on an English conversation of any extent. The California theater was then the house, fortunately for the artist and the public, of one of the best and most notable stock companies to be found in America. It was under lease to John McCullough, who, though absent from the city at the time of the debut, had met Mme. Modjeska and her husband in October, 1876, when she first passed through San Francisco, en route to Anahiem. Barton Hill was manager, a most accomplished actor; Thomas Keene the leading man.

HELENE MODJESKA AT 32.

When at last the curtain fell on the first act, those few in the audience who were privileged made their way to the green room to witness an interesting scene, as the company gathered about madame and gave her their enthusiastic congratulations. We, who had waited and worked for months to smooth the way a little, knew, as we sat in front of the curtain and with some anxiety, that within five minutes after Modjeska appeared the stage was hers and the future assured. At the fall of the curtain after the second act, I was besieged in the lobby for introductions and information. The person who managed for madame during a couple of years thereafter was especially persistent. I found Gen. Salomon, her attorney, and made them acquainted. The newspaper men were especially and even youthfully exuberant and when the "play was o'er" we all adjourned to the Palace hotel, to which madame had moved and where we were invited to an informal supper in her apartments.

RICHARD J. HINTON.

THE WOOING OF BETSEY.

BY ED MOTT.

"HOW they do it I can't imagine," said the man from over Sinnemahoning way. "How they just lay back and think it all up and then go and do it is a good many rods beyond me. Bears, I mean. Sinnemahoning bears. There are bears and bears, but when you come right down to bears that are bears, they grow only on the Sinnemahone spread. They're always up to date. There are no back numbers among the Sinnemahoning bears. Nay, nay!

"Is there anybody here who knows Toby Groo—Toby Groo, of Lonesome Hollow? It doesn't matter. Only if anyone wants to buy a nice, snug little place the Toby Groo place is for sale. Easy terms, too. It was put on the market sudden, because Toby Groo went away sudden. All on account o' bears—Sinnemahoning bears. I met Toby when he was going away.

"'Toby,' said I, 'what's up?'

"'It's all up,' said he. 'All up with me!'

"'Meaning Betsey?' said I.

"'The same,' said he.

"'What did it?' said I.

"'Education,' said he.

"'Education?' said I.

"'There's nothing better to have in a district,' said he, 'than education, provided you keep it in bounds. It's all right and proper among the rising generation of human folks, but when you come to spreading it among bears you're carrying it too far. That's my opinion,' said Toby Groo. 'Education is what does me up with Betsey. Education among bears!' said Tobey.

"And away he went from the Sinnemahone; and when a fellow has the heart to leave the Sinnemahone country, you can make up your mind that he's done up bad. And the Toby Groo place is for sale. And what led up to it was this:

"The Bricktons are great people over on the Sinnemahone, you know. Great people. Been there for generations. The greatest of the present generation is Betsey, although she isn't very big and isn't twenty years old yet.

"'Takin' her from the ground up,' as Uncle Jabez Fiddler puts it, 'an' considerin' of her fer gener'l scrumptiousness, Sinnemahone can't turn out the ekal o' Betsey Brickton.'

"I want to give you a pointer on Betsey, though, so that if any of you should happen to buy the Toby Groo place and go over on the Sinnamahone and be somebody, you'll know how to act and keep out o' trouble. Betsey has got a red head. An amazing red head. Now I rather like that red head of Betsey's, and a good many other folks do, but Betsey thinks it's a drawback. She is sensitive about it to a degree. In the soft Sinnamahone tongue, she's as tetchy as nettles about it. And Betsey is so full o' snap and fire that it isn't safe to mention torchlights, or bricks, or anything of that sort around where Betsey is, for she takes it as a personal slur on her topknot, and the way she flares up and gives it to you is something to remember.

"'It's a cortion to peppersass!' Jabez says.

"Everybody knows this, and is careful not to get Betsy's red head between them and her if they want to keep on the right side of her. Betsey Brickton is popular, though. So popular that there ain't a young chap on the Sinnemahone that wouldn't be happier than a bear in a bee tree if he could shine up to her and know that Betsey liked it. Toby Groo, as far as money went, was the best catch for a girl of all the young fellows on the Sinnemahone spread. Not bad looking, and not much over twenty-two. But he wasn't overpopular, because he was what Uncle Jabez calls 'a leetle nigh in his dealin's,' and rather inclined to get the best end of a dicker, even if he had to stretch a point. For all that, old Billy Brickton, Betsey's father, got it into his head some time ago that Toby Groo's money would be a good thing to have in the Brickton family, and so he did his best to help Toby get on the right side o' Betsey, Toby being not only willing but more than eager. He was crazy after Betsey.

"All the same Betsey didn't care for Toby not a little bit, nor for anyone else in particular. Toby kept pestering Betsey to marry him, and her father talked her almost blind about it, until one day, a month or so ago, after Toby had asked her for about the nine hundredth time if she'd marry him, she snapped out:

"'Yes!'

"'When?' said Toby, tickled all but to death.

"'When I find a bear that can spell my name!' said Betsey.

"Then Betsey laughed and laughed, for she judged that she had settled the business then and there, and Toby went away feeling mighty glum and way down in the mouth.

"If none o' you fellows knows Barnaby Beestuffer, of Sinnemahone, there is a large waste place in your life. Barnaby Beestuffer is a citizen to whom all Sinnemahoning points with pride. He has genius such as could only have germinated, sprouted, grown and blossomed on the storied Sinnemahone. Barnaby has a little clearing, but he scorns toil, and devotes all his time to taming bears and snakes and coons and wildcats and porcupines, and such indigenous products of the Sinnemahone soil, and teaching them tricks and capers. About the time that Betsey Brickton told Toby Groo what'd have to happen before she'd marry him there was a show in the hall over to the county seat, and Barnaby went over to see it. One of the actors was an educated pig. It could play cards, spell out things by stringing little blocks on the floor with letters painted on 'em, and do lots of other amazing things. The spelling took Barnaby's eye more than anything else the pig did.

"'Pigs kin l'arn to do that, kin they?' says Barnaby. 'Then I'll bet a farm that b'ars kin l'arn to do it, too, an' durn quick, an' I'll l'arn 'em!'

"When Barnaby got back home he started right in to teach one of his young bears to spell as well as the learned pig could. One day as he was practising his bear on a lesson, Toby Groo happened to be going by Barnaby's clearing. Barnaby was feeling pretty sore against Toby on account of a little dicker in steers they'd had a few days before, in which Toby had got a good deal the best of Barnaby.

"'What are you doing, anyhow, Barnaby?'

"'Givin' my b'ar his spellin' lesson,' said he.

"'Can you teach him anything you want to?' said Toby.

"'Bet ye I kin!' said Barnaby.

"'Could you teach that bear to spell Betsey Brickton?' said Toby, turning hot.

"Barnaby had heard all about the answer Betsey had given Toby, and knew at once what Toby's little game was.

"'Kin I larn that b'ar to spell Betsey Brickton?' said Barnaby. 'I kin l'arn money.'

"'Can you teach that bear to spell Betsey Brickton for ten dollars?' said Toby.

"'I ki n l'arn that b'ar to spell Betsey Brickton fer twenty dollars, spot cash!' said Barnaby.

"'In how long?' said Toby.

"'In two weeks,' said Barnaby.

"Toby tried to get Barnaby to do it for fifteen dollars, but Barnaby stuck out for twenty, and Toby made a bargain with him. When the two weeks were up Toby went over to Barnaby's and was delighted to find that the bear could lay out the blocks that spelled Betsey's name, and could do it in short order without a skip or a break.

"'He danced fer joy an' felt so rippin' good,' says Barnaby, 'that I feel like kickin' myself all around my clearin' an' then rollin' 'round in a bullpen full o' porcupines 'cause I didn't tell him I'd het ter hev five dollars more!'

"Next day Toby drove to the Brickton place.

"'Betsey,' said he, 'don't you want to ride over and see Barnaby Beestuffer's menagerie? It's worth seeing.'

"Betsey said she'd just as lief as not, and she got in the wagon and went along. She was tickled all to pieces at the cute things the animals and the snakes did, and Toby said:

GIVIN' MY BEAR HIS SPELLIN' LESSON.

"'That was pretty hard lines you held me to about marrying, wasn't it, Betsey?'

"'Think so?' said Betsey, laughing. 'Oh, I don't know! I didn't want to hurt your feelings by saying "No," plump out!' said she.

"'I suppose you'll stick to what you said about marrying me?' said Toby. 'If you see a bear that will spell your name you'll stick to what you said?'

"'Certainly,' said Betsey. 'Why not?'

"Then Toby nodded to Barnaby and Barnaby nodded to the bear. The bear jumped for a pile of blocks that lay on the ground, and the next second put a big letter B at Betsey's feet.

"'I guess Betsey must a begun to smell a rat,' Barnaby says, 'fer when she see the letter B she sort o' turned pale.'

"The bear followed the B with an E and then dropped a T after the E, and kept on putting down letters till he had Betsey spelled out as proper as Betsey could have done it herself. Betsey got cold and shivery, and had to take hold of the fence to steady herself. Toby stood by, grinning and gloating. Then the bear brought out another B. The second name was begun right, and it kept on right. Betsey couldn't keep her eyes off the proceedings, although she saw the bear sealing her fate, letter by letter. B-R-I-C-K-T-O the bear laid down, and Betsey was so near fainting that she grabbed both hands on the fence, and Barnaby jumped to catch her if she fell.

"'Only one letter more!' Toby said, 'and the strain'll be over, Betsey. And then you and I'll get married!'

"The bear put down the last letter. It wasn't an N. It was a P. And there was spread out in a line of big black letters that anybody with half an eye could read, 'BETSEY BRICKTOP!' Betsey's face quit being white in a second, and flashed as red, almost, as her hair was. She turned on Toby, and Barnaby says that he actually saw fire shoot out of her eyes. Nobody knows what she would have done to Toby, because he didn't wait to have it done. He jumped the fence and into his wagon, and away he went. And that is why, as near as the facts can be got at, the Toby Groo place is for sale, terms easy.

"They say, over on the Sinnemahone, that Barnaby Beestuffer, seeing a chance to get even with Toby on the steer dicker, had educated two bears and rung the wrong one in on Toby when the time came. Barnaby doesn't deny it nor admit it, but when anyone charges him with it he just sits and grins. But don't you wonder at those bears, those Sinnemahoning bears?"—N. Y. Sun.

Ten Sweet Caporal Little Cigars for 5 cts.

SOLD BY ALL DEALERS.

Use It in Time.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucus discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

Van Emburgh & SON.

Corner Store, Babcock Building.

We work for the GOOD WILL as well as the patronage of our customers.

Our prices are plain blunt arguments.

New Spring Flannelettes, 10c. yd.
Spring colors in Figured Valours, 12c yd.
New Mourning Sateens, 12c yd.
New spring figured Cambrics, 12c yard.
We are the people for nice Outings, 10c. yd.
Boys' Derby Ribbed Hose, 10c., 15c., 18c. pair.
Plain colors, Windsor Ties 10c.
Extra Wind Windsor Ties. 25c.
Extra size Windsor Ties, (hemstitched, 50c. each.
Our Corset Covers are selling at 15c, 19c, 25c, 30c, 42c, 54c, 59c, 72c, 89c each.
P. N. Corsets, perfect fit, 50c. 75c, $1.00 pair.
2 Turkish Bath Towels for 19c.
Roll Tape, all widths, 2c. each.
Attachable Corset Clasps, 5c pair.
Attachable Corset Clasps, (cork protector) 8c. pair.
Japanned Dress Steels, 5c. dozen.
Covered Dress Steels, 6c. set.
Safety Pins, all sizes, 3c. dozen.
Tooth Brushes, good ones, 5c. each
Fast Black Darning Cotton, 2c. ball
Zephyr Worsted, all colors, 4c. lop
100 yards Best Spool Silk, black and colors, 7c. Spool.

Read Sheeting Muslins. Read

1	yard wide, bleached,		6c.	yard.
1 1-8	yards wide,	"	6 1-2c.	"
1 1-4	"	"	7 1-2c.	"
1 1-2	"	"	11c.	"
1 3-4	"	"	13c.	"
2	"	"	14 1-2c	"
2 1-4	"	"	16c.	"
2 1-2	"	"	17 1-2c	"

VAN EMBURGH & SON,

CODDINGTON'S
Furniture and Freight
EXPRESS.

Offices 24 West Front st; 33 Park ave. Post-office box 329. Piano moving a specialty. Large covered trucks; goods sent to any part of the country; charges reasonable; satisfaction guaranteed

TOWNSEND'S
Marble and Granite Works,
SOMERSET STREET.
Our motto—Good work, good material at fair prices.

THE GRANDVIEW
Meat Market.
George Egel, Manager.
Dealer in Fresh and Salted Meats. Game in season. Orders called for and delivered promptly. Cor. Grandview ave. and Somerset street. 6 12 tf

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Anthracite Coal Used Exclusively, Insuring Cleanliness and Comfort.

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street.

Time Table in Effect Nov. 17, 1895.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 14, 3 37, 5 38, 6 04, 6 29, 6 59, 7 26, 7 30, 7 53, 8 00, 8 15, 8 27, 8 31, 8 48, 9 22, 10 04, 10 27, 10 59 a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 03, 8 30, 9 23, 10 17, 11 28, p.m. Sunday, 2 14, 3 37, 6 04, 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 10 59, 11 16, a m; 12 33, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17, p m.

Leave New York, Foot Liberty St., at 4 30, 6 00, 7 15, 8 00, 8 40, 9 10, 10 00, 11 45, a m; 1 10, 1 30, 2 30, 3 30, 3 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 15, 5 30, 5 45, 6 00, 6 15, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 30, p m; 12 15, 1 00, night. Sunday, 4 30, 7 15, 9 00, 9 15, a m; 12 00 m; 1 00, 1 30, 2 30, 4 00, 5 30, 7 00, 9 00, 10 00, p m; 12 15 night, 1 00 a m

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield at 5 38, 6 29, 6 59, 7 30, 8 00, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 48, 5 24, 6 40, 7 05, 8 30, 10 17, 11 28, p m. Sunday 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 11 16 a m; 12 33, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 01, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17 p. m.

Leave Newark at 6 15, 7 18, 7 55, 8 30, 9 03, 10 05, 11 35, a m; 1 15, 1 35, 2 05, 3 35, 4 05, 4 40, 5 04, 5 34, 5 50, 6 20, 7 15, 7 35, 8 40, 10 05, 11 25, p. m. Sunday 7 30, 9 05, 9 30, 11 35 a m; 1 10, 1 35, 2 35, 4 05, 5 40, 7 20, 9 25, 10 20

Passengers for Newark please change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 5 45, 7 10, 8 16, 9 54, 11 00 a m; 12 46, 2 11, 2 32, 3 25, 4 36, 5 05, 5 14, 5 34, 6 04, 6 19, 6 38, 7 12, 7 34, 8 21, 10 26, 11 23, p m; 12 38 night. Sunday 5 45, 8 28, 9 55, a m; 2 03, 3 43, 5 14, 6 35, 10 15, 11 14 p m.

Leave Somerville at 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 25, 7 30, 7 48, 8 20, 9 05, 9 48, 11 40 a. m; 12 50, 1 48, 2 05, 3 25, 4 25, 4 59, 6 35, 8 07, 8 45, 11 05 p. m; Sunday at 8 25, 9 45, 10 35 a m; 12 08, 1 20, 5 10, 6 35, 8 05, 8 05, 9 40 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield at 5 45, 8 16, 9 54 a m., 12 46, 2 11, 5 05, 5 14, 6 38, 8 21 p. m. Sunday at 5 45, 8 28, a m; 2 03, 6 35 p m.

Leave Easton at 6 05, 7 00, 8 53, a m; 12 32, 3 42, 4 49, 7 00, p. m. Sunday at 7 15, 10 52 a m; 6 40, 7 30 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield at 9 54 a. m.; 5 05 5 14.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

5 45 a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m.—For stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 a. m.—For Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 54 a. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch D. L. & W. R. R., Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Shamokin, Nanticoke, and Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. with buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 46 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 11 p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Tamaqua, Sunbury, Williamsport, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

5 05 p. m., way for Easton, connecting with High Bridge for stations on High Bridge Branch.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Scranton, Wilkesbarre, Tamaqua, Shamokin, (buffet parlor car to Scranton.)

6 19 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 38 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, and Harrisburg.

8 21 p. m.—For Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

5 45 a. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton.

8 28 a. m. Sundays—For Easton.

2 03 p. m. Sundays—For High Bridge for High Bridge Branch Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading, and Harrisburg.

5 14 p. m.—For Flemington.

6 35 p. m. Sundays—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c., and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

FOR LONG BRANCH, OCEAN GROVE, ETC.

Leave Plainfield at 3 37, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, p. m. Sunday, (except Ocean Grove) 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 3 37, 5 38, 8 00, 10 27, a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 24, 7 03, p. m., Sundays 8 52 a. m.; 3 30 p. m.

For Atlantic City, 3 37 a. m.; 1 18 p. m.

For Freehold, 3 37, 8 00, 10 27 a. m.; 1 18, 3 51, 5 24 p. m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44, 9 46, 10 44 a. m.; 2 17, 5 34*, 6 45, 8 21, 9 37*, 1 17 night. Sundays—5 17, 5 45, 9 55 10 44 a. m., 2 25, 4 55, 5 14* 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night.

For Trenton, 5 17, 5 45, 8 44, 9 46, a. m. 12 46, 2 17, 5 34*, 6 38*, 8 21, 9 37* p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays 5 17, 5 45, 9 55 a. m., 2 25, 4 55, 5 14*, 6 35*, p. m., 1 17 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 8 44, 10 44 a. m., 5 34*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night. Sundays, 10 44 a. m., 5 14*, 6 45 p. m., 1 17 night.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points West, week-days at 9 54 a. m., 8 21 p. m. Sunday 6 35 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked (*) change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rates may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN, General Superintendent.
H. P. BALDWIN, General Passenger Agent.

Jones & Co., EXCAVATORS.

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.

Cesspools Built.

Sewer Connections Made

Properly and Earth Replaced Carefully.

PLUMBING TESTED.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front street.

May Change Her Mind

and her stationery. This unwritten law may be observed just as often as she desires, and then, if not thoroughly satisfied, can get her money back for the asking. However, we find few who do not like our 25c box of paper and envelopes when desiring the medium grade.

R. C. RAND,

140 West Front st.

M. Powers & Son. Superior quality of

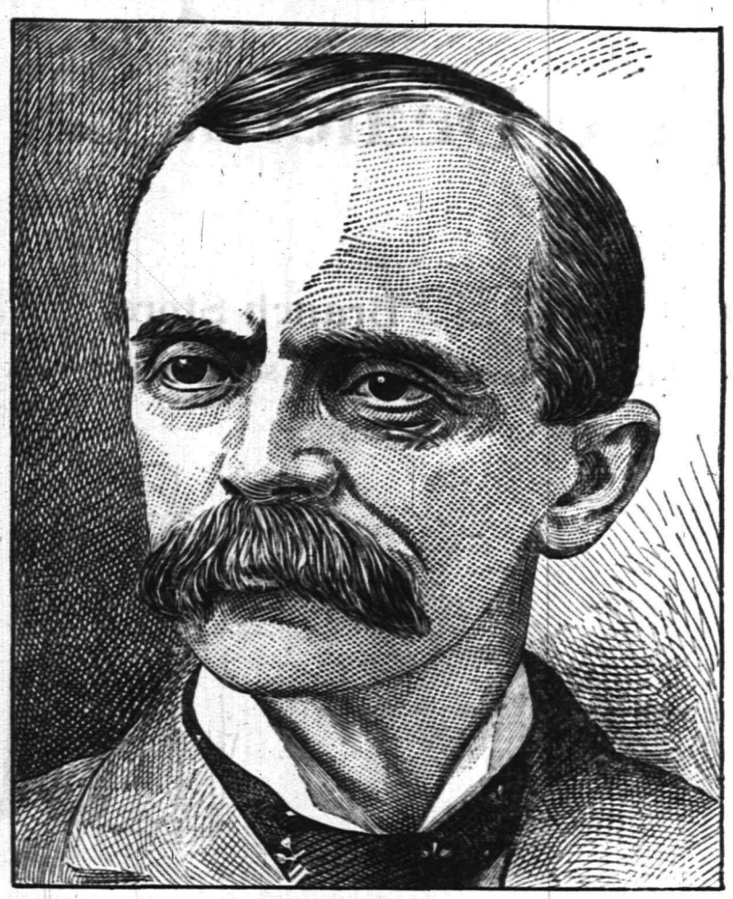
LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75 in the Yard.
A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office 763 South ave. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

ANOTHER COLLEGE PRESIDENT!

Finds in Paine's Celery Compound the Greatest of All Remedies.



President Charles Dole is not the first great college president or great educator who has been outspoken in praise of Paine's celery compound.

The detailed and convincing testimonial of President Cook, of the National Teachers' Association, is fresh in the public mind.

One of the foremost educators in America, Principal L. L. Camp, of the Dwight School, New Haven, has called Paine's celery compound the greatest invigorator in existence.

Such men as State Treasurer Colvin of New York, Mr. Carlisle's private secretary, Mayor McShane, of Montreal, Rev. Mr. Ouellet, Commodore Howell, ex-Minister to Austria, John M. Francis, Edmund Russell, and a host of others whose character and learning are recognized by the world, have publicly stated that when they were sick it was Paine's celery compound that made them well.

Thousands of equally responsible, though perhaps less widely known, men and women, whose word in their own cities and towns is as good as the best in the land, have testified to the merits of this, the greatest of all remedies.

Enough consistent, trustworthy testimony, always of the highest character, is to-day in every one's possession to convince any doubter, if one exists, of the remarkable power of Paine's celery compound to make the sick well again.

President Dole was born in 1843. He graduated from Norwich University in the class of 1869, and became professor of political science in the university. In 1895 he was unanimously elected president, to succeed ex-Secretary of State Hon. George Nichols. He has held, as the public good required, nearly all the public offices in the gift of his townsmen. In a recent letter he says:

"I have used Paine's celery compound for several years, and find it an excellent remedy for nervous exhaustion, especially that caused by long continued mental work."

The use of Paine's celery compound is soon followed by an increase in the active, ruddy blood, quick in its rounds.

Dyspepsia, neuralgia and rheumatism are routed from the body. Diseases due to deranged, under-fed nervous tissues are rapidly cured, and an eagerness to get well will take the place of melancholy, low spirits, morose temper and the fear of approaching calamity, that are the shadows of a rundown nervous system.

Nerve-tired, despondant, enfeebled persons again enjoy living after their feeble, shrunken nerves have been fed by a grand restorative like Paine's celery compound.

Sleeplessness, usually due to an abnormally excited, overworked, but underfed brain, vanishes with the coming of a rich tide of nourishing blood.

Paine's celery compound purifies the blood, stores the nervous system with energy, and hurries along the replacing of worn-out, diseased parts, by healthy, active tissues.

Every city has men and women who praise Paine's celery compound in their homes, talk about it to their neighbors, and rely on it in all cases of threatened or actual sickness.

All persons who keep abreast with the achievements of the day, know the remarable strengthening effects of Paine's celery compound can bring about where the brain or the nerves need refreshing, restoring and regulating. Thousands of persons have been convinced of the power of Paine's celery compound to make them strong and well.

SCIENTIFIC JOTTINGS.

This year is the tercentenary of the birth of Descartes, the father of modern metaphysical speculation.

A Hungarian scientific expedition under the lead of M. E. Szalay has just left Buda-Pesth for Ceylon, where it will collect zoological and ethnographical material.

Twenty-five sarcophagi have been discovered near Angouleme, several of the skeletons in them measuring six feet seven inches in length. They are believed to have been Gauls.

The sun, if hollow, would hold 300,000 earth globes, and an eye capable of hourly viewing 10,000 square miles would require 55,000 years to see all its surface.

One peculiarity of pearls is that, unlike other precious gems, they are liable to decay. Occasionally a valuable pearl changes color, seems to be attacked with a deadly disease and crumbles into dust.

Some idea of the vast extent of the surface of the earth may be obtained when it is noted that if a lofty church steeple is ascended, and the landscape visible from it looked at, 900,000 such landscapes must be viewed in order that the whole earth may be seen.

Neptune, the outermost member of the solar system yet known, is 30 times farther from the sun than the earth is, or 2,780,000,000 miles, and the tremendous line of his orbit, which incloses our comparatively small group of heavenly bodies, is so long that, although his rate of travel is three miles in a second, it takes him 165 years to complete one circuit.

Among the 1,000 persons making up the population of Alfred, Me., are 24 persons between the ages of 80 and 90 years.

Miss Clarissa Stebbins Lawrence, of Marlboro, is another addition to New Hampshire's list of centenarians. She had her 100th birthday recently.

Mrs. Sarah Platt, of Essex, Conn., is 94 years old and has been a persistent smoker for 74 years. She smokes a pipe, and smokes it regularly after each meal.

Mrs. Oldstyle—You people are always talking about freedom for women. What is it you want to be freed from?

Mrs. Emancipus—Well, men, to start with.—Brooklyn Life.

Benham for Instance.

Mrs. Benham—Do you know, dearest, it has been said that "man is a ray of Heaven united to a clod of earth?"

Mr. Benham—Yes, I know it; but that only applies to married men.—To Date.

Good for Others.

Edith—What do you think of patience?

Ethel—A good deal like castor oil—excellent to recommend to other people.—Town Topics.

He Wanted to See.

"Freddie, why did you drop the baby on the floor?"

"Well, I heard everybody say it is a bouncing baby and I wanted to see it bounce."—Truth.

A Misfit.

The man who never rides a wheel
About the busy mart
Is not the proper one, we feel,
To drive a sprinkling cart.
—L. A. W. Bulletin.

VICTOR AND VANQUISHED.

I.

Though the crowded streets returning, at the ending of the day,
Hastened one whom all saluted as he sped along his way;
In his eye a gleam of triumph, in his heart a joy sincere,
And the voice of shouting thousands still resounding in his ear.
Passed he 'neath a stately archway toward the goal of his desire,
Till he saw a woman's figure lolling idly by the fire.

"I have won!" he cried, exultant; "I have saved a cause from wreck,
Crushed the rival that I dreaded, set my foot upon his neck!
Now at last the way is open, now at last men call me great,
I am leader of the leaders, I am master in the state!"

Languidly she turned to listen, and decorous was her pretense,
And her cold patrician features mirrored forth indifference:
"Men are always scheming, striving for some petty end," said she;
Then, a little yawn suppressing: "What is all of this to me?"

II.

Through the shadows of the evening, as they quenched the sunset glow,
Came the other, faring homeward, with dejected step and slow,
Wistful, peering through the darkness, till he saw, as oft before,
Where a woman stood impatient at the threshold of the door.

"I have lost!" he faltered faintly. "All is over," with a groan;
Then he paused and gazed expectant at the face beside his own.
Two soft eyes were turned upon him with a woman's tenderness,
Two white arms were flung about him with a passionate caress,
And a voice of thrilling music to his mutely uttered plea
Said: "If only you are with me, what is all rest to me?"

III.

All night long the people's leader sat in silence and alone,
Dull of eye, with brain unthinking, for his heart was turned to stone;
While the hours passed all unheeded till the hush of night had ceased
And the haggard light returning flecked the melancholy east.

But the other, the defeated, laughed a laugh of merriment,
And he thrust his cares behind him with an infinite content;
Recking not of place and power and the smiles of those above,
For his darkness was illumined by the radiance of love.

Each had grasped the gift of fortune, each had counted up the cost,
And the vanquished was the victor, and the winner he that lost.
—Harry T. Peck, in Bookman.

THE FORCE OF EXAMPLE.

Scene—Drawing-room with French windows opening on a lawn with flower beds. In the distance, woods in the glory of autumnal foliage. Time, six o'clock p. m.

Enter smart maid, ushering two bachelor friends of some 28 and 30 years of age, respectively.

MAID (to First Friend) — Master and missis is in the garden, sir. If you'll please to wait here, I'll go and find them. (Exit.)

First Friend (walking to the window)—What a fortunate fellow Tom Ralston is. They tell me he has got a pretty wife and two lovely children. In such a bower of roses his life must be one long dream of domestic felicity. A summer idyll the year round. (Sighs sentimentally.)

Second Friend—I can't quite see how it can be that in the winter, but (taking a breath as if preparatory to a long-distance dive) I envy him this air; it's like champagne. He's on sand, I fancy, and just see the fall the lucky dog has got for his drains. None of your London fogs, or germs, or bacteria here; 45 minutes by train and he leaves all that behind. When the lease of my little flat runs out, off I pack to the country myself.

First Friend—Nonsense; you make your health a regular fetish.

First Friend—Well; isn't health the first thing in life?

First Friend—Possibly; but you'll never forget your own ailments till you have to think of those of another person. Take a wife, man; depend on't, there's no true happiness outside of matrimony. I've thought a lot about it lately, and I mean—but, there, you would only laugh at me.

"A SUMMER IDYLL THE YEAR ROUND."

Second Friend—Who's talking nonsense now? Take care! You'll recover from a fit of sentiment to find yourself married.

First Friend—And what if I do? When a man gets to a certain age it's his duty to marry.

Second Friend—Well, don't let us quarrel. Just fancy Ralston saying he hoped we shouldn't be bored. Bored in this atmosphere—

First Friend—And with such a picture of domestic felicity!

(Enter Mr. and Mrs. Ralston.)

Ralston—Awfully glad you have come down. Always a pleasure to see old friends, isn't it? Allow me to introduce you to my wife. (Usual introduction effected.)

Ralston (to First Friend)—You haven't seen the gardens; come and have a look at them. (Exit Ralston and First Friend.)

Second Friend—How jaded we Londoners must appear to you, Mrs. Ralston.

Mrs. Ralston—On the contrary: I was thinking how remarkably well you both looked.

Second Friend—You flatter us. How can we compete with you who live in the country, braced by this pure atmosphere and possessing every sanitary advantage.

Mrs. Ralston (sharply)—I consider this the most unhealthy spot in the kingdom.

Second Friend (in great surprise)—You would not say that if you lived in London.

Mrs. Ralston (speaking rapidly)—If I wished to enjoy good health I should always live in a big town. Just now there are two cases of typhoid in the village, and measles among the children keep my darlings in the house. Besides, there's no doctor for miles, and the medicine is made up by the schoolmaster, who is so worried by the radicals on the board that, as he told me only the other day, he hardly knows what he is putting into the bottles. What do you think of that?

Second Friend (visibly paling)—It's as bad as the middle ages.

Mrs. Ralston—Isn't that dreadful?

"ISN'T IT DREADFUL!"

In the house we never know what the plumber will do; he drinks so. Tom says he has his doubts about our well, by-the-bye, will you have some tea?

Second Friend (earnestly)—No, thank you.

Mrs. Ralston—Perhaps it's safer to drink aerated waters in a dry season like this. You see a large town has its advantages.

Second Friend—My dear Mrs. Ralston, you stagger me.

Mrs. Ralston—I thought I should. But here comes Tom and your friend. He hates to hear me talk of village matters; so, as I have lots more to tell you, we might take a turn in the garden ourselves.

(Enter Ralston and First Friend.)

Mrs. Ralston—Tom, dear, we are going for a stroll in the garden. (To Second Friend). There is really quite a pretty view, and the fog won't begin to rise for another hour. (Exit Mrs. Ralston and Second Friend.)

First Friend (heartily)—I am pleased to see you again, old man. I almost lost sight of you after your marriage.

Ralston (gloomily)—Of course; a wife always loathes her husband's bachelor friends (grimly) unless she likes them too much to be pleasant; but a man can pay her back—(with resignation)—by loathing her relations.

First Friend—How bitter you are! But it is always the same; a man never knows when he is happy.

Ralston—He knows when he was happy.

First Friend—Nonsense. What more can a man want than a charming wife, jolly children, a rose covered—

Ralston—Sentimental as ever! You have no idea of married life.

First Friend—I can at least imagine a long, sweet dream—

Ralston (sharply)—Nightmare, you mean. I've lost my liberty, and, according to the rules, should help you to lose yours. But I won't. As an old friend I give you my candid opinion: Matrimony is the very deuce. To begin with, just think of the economies!

First Friend (nervously)—Of course, a man must be prepared to make sacrifices.

Ralston—So might a woman. My wife spends more on dress every year. Then I have given up my club to please her.

First Friend—She wants to have you with her always. How beautiful is true love! (Sighs.)

Ralston—You call it true love; I call it true jealousy. If I stayed in town to dine with one of you boys she would sob she was deserted. Yet, when I'm down here, she merely grumbles. Not that I blame her for that; the place is beastly dull, and its her sole amusement.

First Friend (taking him anxiously by the arm)—Surely, you're joking?

Ralston—Joking! I wish to goodness I were. You want to marry as a sentimental experiment. So did I. My experiment failed. So will yours.

First Friend—By Jove, you stagger me!

Ralston—I thought I should. (Walking to window.) Pretty view, isn't it? Hello, here comes your Fidus Achates. I'm sure he's been talking about his health, he looks so confoundedly miserable.

(Enter Mrs. Ralston and Second Friend. Mrs. Ralston crosses over to speak to her husband and the two friends stand together.)

First Friend (sotto voce)—By the bye, old man, I was joking when I hinted that I contemplated matrimony. You quite understand that?

Second Friend—Oh, of course. And that little flat of mine is very comfortable. We've had some jolly times there, eh? I think I shall renew the lease. It's very healthy.—Black and White.

Removal Sale.

These Are the Goods that Must Go.

Boy's reefers $5.....now $2.45
Youth's overcoats $8.....now $4.75
Youth's overcoats $10.....now $6.50
Men's overcoats $10.....now $7.75
Men's ulsters $10.....now $6.00

SEBRING'S,

Park Avenue April 1st, West Front Street.

DO NOT THINK

EDWARD LOVE

IS

Giving Away Wall Paper,

But he is doing the next thing to it.
Let him do your spring decorating.

KEATING, The world's lightest—19 lbs. SEE THAT CURVE? FOWLER, Truss frame—17 to 24 lbs.

Chas. C. Lister,

134 North Avenue.

Guaranteed Bicycles For $49.50. OUTING and APOLLO. Repairing, Renting, and Storing.

The Centre of Attraction

for Shoes is our store—so our customers say, and if you are not one of our customers you are cheating your feet. Just give them their own way and they will bring you right to our counters We keep all kinds of shoes for all sorts of people. But no poor shoes.

A. Willett & Son, 107 Park Avenue.

Will remove to

No. 129 E. Front St.,

about the 28th of March, where we will have much better facilities to show our customers the large line of Clothing for Spring,

ALSO,

MEN'S FURNISHING GOODS AND HATS.

Special attention will be paid to the Children's Department. Don't loose sight of the fact that we will have many hundred separate trousers and suits for Men and Youths, beside our stock is all new and of the latest style. Call and examine.

One Price--Cash--And Money Refunded if goods are not as Represented.

Harry M. Jaquett.

SEE THAT CURVE IN HATS

on all the new spring styles

Shown in those sold by

HALLOCK, Hatter, 109 West Front St.

THE DALZIEL

GRAMMAR, MANUAL AND

ART SCHOOL, 309 East Front Street.

IS AN ESTABLISHED SUCCESS.

Free-hand drawing from the Antique, Pen and Ink Sketching, Clay Modeling Painting, Designing and Mechanical Draughting. Directed by John Dalziel late Professor of Drawing for Illustration, and Engraving at the Women's School of Design, Philadelphia, Pa.

WE are NOW preparing for Spring and Summer Outdoor Work.

Frank L. C. Martin, President. P. B. Macintyre, Treasurer. George M. Macintyre, Secretary.

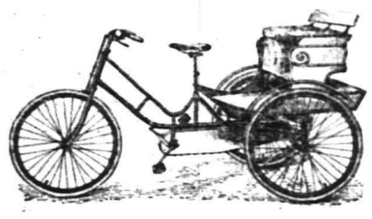
Frank L. C. Martin Cycle Company,

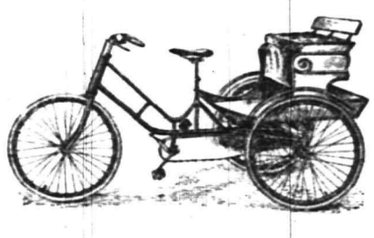
Plainfield's Pioneer Bicycle Dealers.

Downtown Agency,
J. Hervey Doane, Park Avenue.

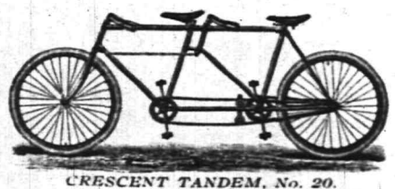
ESTABLISHED 1889.

Branch Store.
Keer & Martin Cycle Co., 569 Broad St., Newark, N. J.





You need never walk home if you use Stahl's Puncture Proof Tires. We are sole agents for them.



CRESCENT TANDEM, No. 20.

Price $125.00.

Rental Department.

We shall aim to make this branch of our business unequaled, and feel satisfied our patrons will appreciate our efforts. Only new Clevelands and Crescents will be used. As we keep closed on Sunday, parties wishing wheels for that day can secure them Saturday evening and return Monday morning, when only one day's rental will be charged.

Rates--25c Hour, $1.25 Day. $5.00 Week.
Tandems Double Price.

Intrinsic Value.

When a man parts with a dollar in this glorious nineteenth century he wants to be pretty sure that it will return to him with good interest. Therefore when looking for a wheel he chooses either a for he knows they stand at the head in bicycle construction and are backed with a broad liberal guarantee.

Cleveland Swell Special or a Crescent

No better value was ever offered than

Crescents at $40, $50 and $75,
Cleveland Swell Specials at $100.

Take the verdict of the public at the recent cycle shows, where it was conceded that the above line stood without a peer.

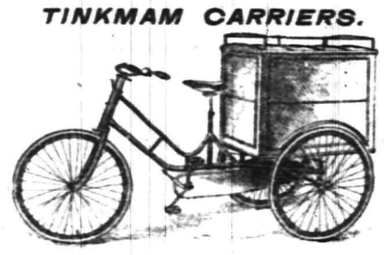
Don't buy a wheel simply because its manufacturers advertise extensively by having paid racing men to make records. Has it ever occurred to you who pays for those expenses? We have made bicycles a study for several years past and when you buy of us you get the benefit of our knowledge.

BUY YOUR WHEELS NOW.

Clearing Out Second-Hand Wheels From $5 Up.

Bicycle instruction on the road has not only proven more thorough, but much more desirable than elsewhere. Learn to ride where you will do your riding. Lessons given by competent instructors by appointment, 25c. Purchasers taught free.

TINKMAM CARRIERS.



For the tradesman in whose business light pareels predominate such as dry goods, druggists, grocers, confectioners, florists, bakers, milliners, butchers, etc., the "Carrier" is capable of effecting an immense saving. Mr. Edward White was the first merchant in town to purchase a Carrier, and it has already become such a valued adjunct to his business that he could not get along without it.

INSTALLMENTS

A Grand Chance to Own a Wheel, as Our Easy Payment System Brings It Within the Reach of All.

Clevelands,
$25 Cash,
Balance 10 Months at $8.

Crescents,
$15 Cash,
Balance 10 Months at $6.50.

Crescent Specials.
$10 Cash,
Balance 10 Months at $4.50.

Dayton, Waverley, Majestic, Punnett Companion.

Cleveland Swell Specials Are Ridden by the "400" of New York, Newport, St. Augustine, Plainfield, &c.

FRANK L. C. MARTIN CYCLE COMPANY,

REPAIRS. 333 PARK AVENUE. ESTABLISHED 1889. SUNDRIES.